Steam-ship Carondelet, for Fernandina; ship New World, for London; barks Byron, for Queenstown; John F. Rottmann, for Gloucester; Eliza Barss, for Bermuda; Emma Frances, for ——; brig G. F. Gerry for Brunswick, Ga. Also, via Long Island Sound, schrs. Maggie, for Harbor Grace, N. F., Delta, for Rockland, N. B.; T. W. Carter, for Boston.

BY TELEGRAPH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—The Pacific Mail steam-ship City of San Francisco, from Sydney, via Honolulu, has arr.

SPOKEN.

By bark Gateshead, Aug. 27, lat. 26 S., lon. 46 44 E., ship St. George, (Br.,) from Taticoria, for London, 60 ds. out; Sept. 6, off the Cape of Good Hop, schr. River Platte, (Br.,) from East London for Table Bay; 9th, no lat. &c., bark Grasmere, (of St. Andrews, N. B.,) from Bombay, for Dunkirk; Nov. 1, lat. 42 47, lon. 72 21, brig Agenora, from Portland, for ——.

MARINE DISASTERS.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 10.—The schr. Henry Gibbs, from Hoboken, for New-Bedford, is ashore between Castle Hill and Fort Adams.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Ship Bertaux, (Br.,) Davis, from Amsterdam, which arr. 9th and anchored at Sandy Hook, was towed to this City this A. M.

Ship Champion, (Br.,) Cook, from Calcutta, which arr. 9th, and anchored at Sandy Hook, was towed to the City this P. M.

Bark Serrano, (Br.,) Edgett, from Dublin, which arr. 7th and anchored at Sandy Hook, was towed to the City this P. M.

FOREIGN PORTS.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Sld. 8th inst., Andrew Jackson, Sarah, Capt. Rice; Sirius, Capt. Moller; 9th inst., Viking, Capt. Rasmusen; Edward Cardwell, Argo, Capt. Anderson; Clydesdale, Berkley Castle, Sarah, Capt. Saunders; Busy Bee, Derby, Teocle, and New-Brunswick.

Arr. 1st inst., Margaret Powrie; 10th inst., Invincible, the latter at Queenstown, and Saracen.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Arr. Nov. 10, at Queenstown, Sovereign of the Seas.

BY CABLE.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—The Anchor Line steamer Australia, Capt. Sidey, from New-York Oct. 28, arr. here to-day.

QUEENSTOWN, Nov. 10.—The Cunard Line steamer Scythia, Capt. Hains, from New-York Nov. 1, arr. off this port, but on account of rough weather did not enter, and proceeded to Liverpool.

TO WHOLESALE BUYERS.
Trade Sale of Clothing.
Prior to Removal to our New Store, cor. Broadway and Grand St., November 25th, we have determined to offer to the Trade our entire Stock of Clothing, manufactured for this Season's Business, for Net Cash, 30 days, at less than cost of production.
The Sale will commence on Tuesday, November 14, at 9 a. m. The prices will be marked plainly on each lot. The attention of close buyers is solicited.
NAUMBURG, KRAUS, LAUER & CO.,
COR. CHURCH & WHITE STS., NEW YORK.

WEBER
PIANO-FORTES
NILSSON. I shall take every opportunity to recommend and praise your instruments.
KELLOGG. For the last six years your pianos have been my choice for the concert-room and my own house.
LUCCA. Your uprights are extraordinary instruments and deserve their great success.
PATTI. I have used the Pianos of every celebrated maker, but give yours the preference over all.
STRAUSS. Your Pianos astonish me. I have never yet seen any Pianos which equal yours.
WEHLI. Madame Parepa called your Piano the finest in the United States. I fully indorse that opinion. They have no rival anywhere.
Prices Reasonable. Terms Easy.
WAREROOMS:
Fifth av., corner Sixteenth st., N. Y.

REMOVAL. WATERS & SONS, No. 481 Broadway, have removed their piano and organ warerooms to No. 40 East 14th st., Union square, where they are prepared to sell pianos and organs, of first-class makers, for cash or on installments, or to let at prices to suit the times. Second-hand instruments at great bargains.
HORACE WATERS & SONS,
No. 40 East 14th st., Union Square.

ESTABLISHED 1820.
C. G. GUNTHER'S SONS,
REMOVED FROM 502-504 BROADWAY TO
184 Fifth Avenue,
invite inspection to their stock of
SEAL-SKIN SACQUES,
FUR-LINED GARMENTS,
FUR TRIMMINGS.
THE LARGEST AND MOST COMPLETE EVER OFFERED.
184 Fifth Avenue,
(BROADWAY AND 23D ST.)

GEO. A. PRINCE & CO.,
BUFFALO, N. Y.
CELEBRATED ORGANS.
BETWEEN
56,000 and 57,000
NOW IN USE.
The oldest, largest, and most perfect Manufactory of Organs in the United States. No other musical instrument ever obtained the same popularity. Have been tested for OVER 30 YEARS in Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia, and North and South America. Testimonials in proof of this statement can be found in our Catalogue, which will be mailed free to any address.
Our success has brought into existence hundreds of imitators. (mostly Stock Companies,) whose want of experience is evident to those who are capable of judging. See and hear our Organs before purchasing any other, and you will thus avoid the annoyance of being incumbered with an instrument which you will find (when too late) is a source of vexation and regret.
All our instruments are warranted for five years.
GEO. A. PRINCE & CO.,
Buffalo, N. Y.

SMITH'S PAT. PERFORATED
BUCKSKIN UNDERGARMENTS.
Greatest protection to chest and lungs ever offered. Prevents colds and cures rheumatism. RECOMMENDED BY FIRST-CLASS PHYSICIANS.
D. C. HALL & CO., Sole Manufacturers,
NO. 633 BROADWAY, NEW-YORK.

The New-York Times.

VOL. XXVI......NO. 7851. NEW-YORK, SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1876.---TRIPLE SHEET. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

THE PRESIDENCY.

A REPUBLICAN ADMINISTRATION ASSURED.

THE LATEST DISPATCHES FROM THE SOUTH—INDICATIONS THAT THE DEMOCRATS GIVE UP SOUTH CAROLINA—NO CHANGE IN THE SITUATION ELSEWHERE, AND NO REASON TO DOUBT GOV. HAYES' ELECTION.

Our dispatches from South Carolina, Florida, and Louisiana, during the last twenty-four hours, leave the situation practically unchanged. We still claim, and with increased confidence, all of these States, by majorities substantially the same as previously published. From South Carolina, even the Democratic dispatches yesterday virtually gave up the State to Hayes by admitting that Tilden's majority, if he had any, would fall below 100. Similar reports from Florida and Louisiana may be expected from the same source in due time. Northern Democracy must be let down easy, and their Southern allies are trying to make their fall as gradual and as light as possible. We print below a table showing the electoral votes for Hayes and for Tilden, and also a table showing the same vote from a geographical point of view.

A telegram from California brings information that ex-Gov. Romualdo Pacheco, the Republican candidate, has been elected to Congress from the Fourth District of that State. We have, heretofore, conceded the district to the Democrats. A Democratic dispatch from New-Orleans claims the election of four Democratic Congressmen in Louisiana. We cannot yet concede to them more than one district.

Complete returns from Suffolk County, this State, show the election of Mr. Francis Brill, Democrat, to the Assembly, instead of the Republican candidate. This reduces the Republican majority in that body to fourteen.

THE ELECTORAL VOTE.

STATES FOR HAYES.

	Electoral Vote.
California	6
Colorado	3
Florida	4
Illinois	21
Iowa	11
Kansas	5
Louisiana	8
Maine	7
Massachusetts	13
Michigan	11
Minnesota	5
Nebraska	3
Nevada	3
New Hampshire	5
Ohio	22
Oregon	3
Pennsylvania	29
Rhode Island	4
South Carolina	7
Vermont	5
Wisconsin	10
Total	185

STATES FOR TILDEN.

Alabama	10
Arkansas	6
Connecticut	6
Delaware	3
Georgia	11
Indiana	15
Kentucky	12
Maryland	8
Mississippi	8
Missouri	15
New-Jersey	9
New-York	35
North Carolina	10
Tennessee	12
Texas	8
Virginia	11
West Virginia	5
Total	184
Whole number of votes	369
Necessary to elect	185

THE VOTE OF THE NORTH.

FOR HAYES.	Electoral Vote.	FOR TILDEN.	Electoral Vote.
California	6	Connecticut	6
Colorado	3	New Jersey	9
Illinois	21	New-York	35
Iowa	11	Indiana	15
Kansas	5
Maine	7
Massachusetts	13
Michigan	11
Minnesota	5
Nebraska	3
Nevada	3
New Hampshire	5
Ohio	22
Oregon	3
Pennsylvania	29
Rhode Island	4
Vermont	5
Wisconsin	10
Total	166	Total	65

THE VOTE OF THE SOUTH.

FOR HAYES.	Electoral Vote.	FOR TILDEN.	Electoral Vote.
Florida	4	Alabama	10
Louisiana	8	Arkansas	6
South Carolina	7	Delaware	3
		Georgia	11
		Kentucky	12
		Maryland	8
		Mississippi	8
		Missouri	15
		North Carolina	10
		Tennessee	12
		Texas	8
		Virginia	11
		West Virginia	5
Total	19	Total	119

REPUBLICAN LOUISIANA.

THE REPUBLICANS CONFIDENT OF AN UNQUESTIONABLE MAJORITY—NO DISTURBANCES OF THE PEACE.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 11.—The situation here has not materially changed since yesterday. The Republicans are still confident, resting upon the justness of their cause and the sale to be told by the ballots. The Democrats rest their hopes on the majorities secured by them in intimated parishes where there was virtually no election. Two years ago the parish of East Faliciana gave a Republican majori y of nearly one thousand. In the same parish on Tuesday last but one Republican vote was cast. In Morehouse, Ouachita, and East Baton Rouge the "bull-dozing" was not so complete, but the plan and purpose were the same. The Republicans here are confident of establishing an unquestionable majority by the count of votes as found in the boxes. If they cannot the case belongs to the people of the Union. Gen. Angur, by a careful disposition of troops, has taken every precaution which seems necessary to preserve the peace. The city is quiet, waiting the issue. There is a feeling among the leaders of the Democratic Party that nothing can be gained by a riot, and the intelligent citizens speak fairly of a willingness to abide by the result, which may be shown to be right.

DISPATCH FROM GOV. KELLOGG—THE LEGISLATURE REPUBLICAN ON JOINT BALLOT—REPUBLICAN GAINS.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 11.—The situation has not materially changed. Very few official returns have been received and no accurate reports from the more remote Red River parishes. We have just received the vote of Catahoula, a Democratic parish, which goes against us on the national ticket by 150, a slight gain for us. We elect a Republican member of the Legislature by three votes. This gives us the lower house, and we are now quite certain of the Legislature on joint ballot.

WILLIAM P. KELLOGG.

THE RESULT IN THE CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS—PACKARD'S MAJORITY NEARLY EQUAL TO THAT OF HAYES.

From a Democratic Source.

NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 11.—Chester B. Darrall, Rep., is re-elected to Congress in the Third District, and J. E. Leonard, Rep., is elected in the Fifth District. The other Congressional Districts elect Democrats. It was claimed by Col. Packard's opponents that he would run behind his ticket, but the figures show only a slight difference between the votes for Hayes and those for Packard.

A LARGE NUMBER OF PROMINENT MEN OF BOTH PARTIES ON THE WAY TO NEW-ORLEANS TO WITNESS THE COUNTING OF THE VOTES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The President has requested the following prominent gentlemen to proceed to New-Orleans to inspect the counting of the votes in Louisiana: Hon. W. M. Evarts, Hon. E. W. Stoughton, Gen. John A. Dix, and Gen. James H. Van Alen, of New-York; Senator Sherman, Gen. Garfield and Hon. Stanley Matthews, of Ohio; Hon. Courtlandt Parker, of New-Jersey; Senator Edmunds, of Vermont; Gen. Ben. Harrison, of Indiana; Senator Logan, of Illinois; Hon. W. D. Kelley and Hon. John Schoenburg, of Pennsylvania, and Hon. J. A. Kasson, of Iowa. These and a few others have been invited, and affirmative answers have been received from nearly all.

DEMOCRATS GOING TO NEW-ORLEANS.

The following-named gentlemen are now en route to New-Orleans, at the request of the National Democratic Committee:

Gov. Theodore F. Randolph, of New Jersey; ex-Gov. Curtin, of Pennsylvania; Judge Stallo, of Cincinnati; Hon. G. W. Julian, of Indiana; Gov. Palmer, of Illinois; Hon. W. F. Coolbaugh, of Illinois; Senator Trumbull, of Illinois; Gov. Carroll, of Maryland; Senator Hamilton, of Maryland; Gov. McCreary, of Kentucky; Senator Stevenson, of Kentucky; Senator Doolittle, of Wisconsin; Gov. Smith, of Wisconsin; P. H. Watson, of Ohio; Prof. Sumner, of Yale College; Senator Bogy, of Missouri; Hon. J. D. McHenry, of Kentucky; ex-Secretary of Navy Fox, of Boston; Hon. S. J. Randall, of Philadelphia; Gov. Bigler, of Pennsylvania; Perry Smith, of Chicago; Mr. Gibson of St. Louis; Hon. Henry Watterson, of Louisville; Hon. W. F. Morrison, of Illinois; Hon. J. Q. C. Lamar, of Mississippi.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 11.—In compliance with an invitation, and at the urgent request of the Executive Committee of the Democratic State Central Committee, Senator Bogy, James O. Brodhead, Erastus Wells, and Charles Gibson, of this city, will start to-night for New-Orleans, to be present at the counting of the vote of Louisiana.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 11.—Hon. Henry Watterson and Henry D. McHenry left for New-Orleans last night. Senator McDonald and Gen. Lane, of Indiana; Gov. McCreery, ex-Gov. Palmer, of Illinois, and others are now here in answer to the call of Hon. Abram S. Hewitt, of New-York. They leave for the South to-night.

BOSTON, Nov. 11.—The Evening Traveller says Charles Francis Adams started for the South to-day.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 11.—Hon. Stanley Matthews, Job E. Stevenson, and ex-Gov. Noyes left for New-Orleans to-night.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 11.—Gov. Carroll left for New-Orleans to-night, to be present at the count of the Returning Board.

THE RESULT IN FLORIDA.

BOTH PARTIES STILL CLAIMING A MAJORITY—THE OFFICIAL COUNT TO BE MADE EARLY THIS WEEK—PROMINENT DEMOCRATS TO BE PRESENT.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 11.—The political situation in Florida remains unchanged. Both parties claim that they have carried the State by from twelve hundred to two thousand votes, and no decision can be reached until an official count has been had. To provide against threatened violence by the Democrats, and possible frauds on the other side, ten companies of United States troops are now on the way to Tallahassee. Three of them will arrive here to-morrow, and the rest are expected on Monday. The count will then be proceeded with as soon as the returns are all in, and it is expected that the result will be declared on Wednesday or Thursday next. Gen. Young and other prominent Democrats, of Georgia, will arrive here to-morrow by a special train, and will remain until the count is over. They come at the request of the National Democratic Committee.

A SPECIMEN DEMOCRATIC OUTRAGE—NEGROES COMPELLED TO VOTE FOR TILDEN BY THREATS OF VIOLENCE—THE REPUBLICANS SURE OF A MAJORITY.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 11.—This morning Joel Niblack, J. McKinney, and Elias Asten were brought to this city by a Deputy United States Marshal from Columbia County, charged with outrageous intimidation of colored voters. The circumstances are these: About a week prior to the election, three or four colored men, having in charge another colored man, under arrest, were met by Niblack and company, mounted and armed with shotguns, and told they must go with them. They were taken to a thick hummock, eight miles distant. On the way their lives were threatened, and on arriving there they were told that they were to be sent to the place where another negro had mysteriously gone. A rope was then placed around the neck of one of the colored men, preparatory to hanging him. The whole party begged piteously for their lives, and after considerable time the men told them that if they would agree to join the Democratic club, and vote the Democratic ticket, with five others, which each man was made to promise they would get, they would be let off. This promise the negroes—not daring to expose the Kuklux party—faithfully adhered to, and on election day a dozen or more of negroes were driven to the polls like cattle, by their persecutors, and compelled to vote for Tilden and the Democracy. When they had voted they were taken into the country several miles, and permitted to go their own ways. This is only a specimen of what is coming to light. Niblack and Asten waived examination, and were held in twenty-five hundred dollars bail, to appear at the next term of the United States Courts.

Troops are coming into the State now, and in a few days the Capital, threats of seizing, which are freely made, will be safe. Nothing has occurred to shake, in the least, the figures which give the State to Hayes. The Republicans are everywhere active, and are promptly supported by the authorities.

Later.—Democratic reports from six precincts in Volusia County give a Democratic majority of ninety-one. Hayes and Wheeler are ahead of the State ticket about five hundred votes. Returns from several counties show gross Democoatic frauds.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA VICTORY.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF STATE CANVASSERS—ONLY TWELVE COUNTIES HEARD FROM OFFICIALLY—THE DEMOCRATIC SHOT-GUN POLICY AND ITS EFFECT.

COLUMBIA, Nov. 11.—The Board of State Canvassers met yesterday at 12 M. It consists of the State Treasurer, F. L. Cardoza, Controller T. C. Dunn, Secretary of State, H. E. Hayne, Adjutant General H. E. Purvis, and Attorney General William Stone. Returns from only twelve counties, out of thirty-two, were received. The board will meet daily until the canvass is completed, which must be in five days for the Electors, and ten days for the State officers, from the time of meeting. One cause of the delay in getting at the result in this State in a close contest is found in the isolation of several counties, as Chesterfield, Horry, and Georgetown, which have no railroads touching them. The precinct managers have three days in which to send the boxes to the County Canvassers, and these again have three days in which they may act, so that a dull set of managers and again a dull set of County Canvassers may keep back the count for a week. There are then ten days to make the State canvass. The official returns of twelve counties now in, with estimates made by the Democrats for the other counties, show a majority for Hampton of 1,428. In the twelve official counties Hayes runs one thousand ahead of Chamberlain. From reports received from other counties it may be safely set down that Hayes will run two thousand ahead of the Republican State ticket, and thus overcome the 1,428 majority claimed by the Democrats for Hampton. No doubt is felt here among prominent Republicans that Hayes has a majority which will be undisputed by any one. This will be after conceding the Democratic count in all the disturbed counties, where terrorism, repeating, and ballot-box smashing have rolled up apocryphal Democratic majorities; but the Republicans do not concede the defeat of their State ticket. The claimed majorities of the Democrats have thus far been cut down in every instance by official returns, and evidence is accumulating daily of frauds, violence, and irregularities which will inevitably prove that the assertions made by Gov. Chamberlin in his call on the President, as to the plans and purposes of the rifle clubs, were based upon accurate information. In spite of the presence of a few Federal troops in the disturbed counties, the overwhelming numbers, the audacity and the thorough military organization of the shot-gun Democracy succeeded in practically wiping out a Republican majority of 25,000—a majority composed not of lukewarm vote s, but of men who would do and dare all that unarmed men anywhere would do and dare—to vote in accordance with their conviction. The forces and tactics of the Democrats were concentrated in Anderson, Abbeville, Edgfield, Aiken, and Barnwell. Thousands of Georgians crossed the shallow Savannah River into these border counties. They boldly rode from precinct to precinct by squads of fifty at a time, voting at each box. In some cases they drove the managers from the boxes and broke up strong Republican precincts. In two cases Since the election the managers on the way to the Court-house with returns of strong Republican boxes have been waylaid, and prevented from arriving in time to have them included in the official count. In more than one case the polling-places have been surrounded by armed men, and held all day, not a Republican being allowed to vote. In one place in Edgefield, the colored Republicans were coralled early in the morning of election day and forced, at the point of the pistol, to vote as desired. To count such returns is to sanction revolution, not to declare the result of an election. Of course there is an overmastering desire to avoid the slightest opportunity for cavil as to the canvass for Electors—what is now regarded as out of danger. It is almost certain also, that the Republican State ticket is equally out of doubt, but the Democrats on the streets of Columbia openly threaten to kill the last one of the Republican canvassers if they do not count to suit the revolutionists. These threats do not come from the riff-raff, but from the very highest. Gen. Hampton more than intimates his readiness to appeal elsewhere than to the lawfully organized canvassers. He said last night, when asked if he was Governor, that he had been elected, and if he was not so declared, he would know the reason why. If there are any reasons for sending a committee of prominent statesmen to Louisiana and Florida, the circumstances here call with equal force for the same kind of moral influence. Indeed, the need may be said to be greater. It seems strange that the only State on which the Executive felt obliged to call upon the Federal Government for aid in keeping the peace before and during the election, should be looked upon as less inflammable than Florida and Louisiana.

PREPARING TO GIVE UP.

THE CLAIMS OF A DEMOCRATIC MAJORITY IN SOUTH CAROLINA GROWING "BEAUTIFULLY LESS."

From a Democratic Source.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 11.—By the latest corrected official returns, Hampton's majority is 1,484. The full returns indicate that Tilden has fallen much more behind Hampton's vote than has been supposed. In ten out of thirty-two counties Tilden's majority is 458 less than Hampton's; an equal ratio of loss in the remaining twenty-two counties would leave Tilden less than one hundred majority in the State.

Dispatch to the Associated Press.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 11.—Gov. Chamberlain still claims the State for the Republicans by from 5,000 to 7,000 majority.

DEMOCRATIC DESPERATION.

AN EXTRAORDINARY PROCLAMATION ISSUED BY THE CHAIRMAN OF THE OHIO DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 11.—The following proclamation extraordinary was issued by John G. Thompson this evening and bulletined in front of the Democratic Head-quarters in this city:

The claim of leading Republican newspapers and committees to the effect that Hayes is elected is without foundation, and a conspiracy to usurp the Government. It is anarchy. It is revolution. It is the desperation of desperate men. It will all fail. The people have declared by their ballots that Tilden is elected President by 203 electoral votes and by a majority of 400,000 of the popular vote, and they will see to it that their voice, expressed at the ballot-bax, shall be respected. Be patient and await the retributive justice that will surely fall on the heads of the men who are advising the conspiracy to break up this Republic.

JOHN G. THOMPSON,
Chairman Democratic Executive Committee.

SENATOR MORTON'S VIEWS.

HE DOES NOT APPREHEND SERIOUS COMPLICATIONS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—Senator Morton is in receipt of dispatches from the East, requesting his return to render assistance, in common with prominent men of both parties, in allaying the excitement over the elections. Senator Morton states that he will not return to the East until the conclusion of the investigation of the Chinese question, in which he is engaged here. He indorses the wisdom of the proposition to obtain the presence of prominent and trusted men of both parties to assist in allaying the present excited feeling in the South, but expresses the belief that no serious complications will ensue, although the situation calls for prudent action.

NEW-YORK.

MAJORITIES BY COUNTIES FOR PRESIDENT AND GOVERNOR.

The following table gives the majorities for Hayes and Tilden and for Morgan and Robinson, respectively, in the several counties of the State. The returns of the Gubernatorial vote are still meagre:

Counties.	Hayes.	Tilden.	Morgan.	Robinson.
Albany	....	1,200	....	....
Allegany	3,100	....	....	....
Broome	1,343	....	1,287	....
Cattaraugus	1,300	....	....	....
Cayuga	3,002	....	....	....
Chautauqua	4,380	....	....	....
Chemung	....	497	....	866
Chenango	1,200	....	....	....
Clinton	750	....	....	....
Columbia	....	512	....	520
Cortland	1,450	....	....	....
Delaware	900	....	....	....
Dutchess	358	....	500	....
Erie	790	....	688	....
Essex	1,500	....	....	....
Franklin	1,167	....	1,100	....
Fulton	284	....	274	....
Genesee	1,000	....	....	....
Greene	....	1,000	....	....
Hamilton	....	50	....	....
Herkimer	750	....	650	....
Jefferson	2,159	....	....	....
Kings	....	18,518	....	15,817
Lewis	....	200	....	....
Livingston	1,239	....	1,212	....
Madison	1,651	....	....	....
Monroe	1,563	....	1488	....
Montgomery	300	....	....	....
New-York	....	53,155	....	51,405
Niagara	....	315	....	357
Oneida	1,308	....	1,262	....
Onondaga	2,478	....	....	....
Ontario	805	....	675	....
Orange	....	261	....	....
Orleans	1,050	....	....	....
Oswego	2,807	....	2,832	....
Otsego	....	161	....	160
Putnam	149	....	157	....
Queens	....	3,011	....	2,952
Rensselaer	....	800	....	....
Richmond	....	1,454	....	1,385
Rockland	....	1,157	....	....
St. Lawrence	7,646	....	....	....
Saratoga	1,267	....	1,144	....
Schenectady	....	306	....	300
Schoharie	....	1,800	....	....
Schuyler	607	....	....	....
Seneca	....	664	....	661
Steuben	1,100	....	....	....
Suffolk	....	359	....	218
Sullivan	....	500	....	....
Tioga	767	....	....	....
Tompkins	1,002	....	707	....
Ulster	....	1,561	....	....
Warren	475	....	448	....
Washington	2,512	....	2,358	....
Wayne	1777	....	1,841	....
Westchester	....	2,485	....	2,400
Wyoming	1,168	....	1,100	....
Yates	1,100	....	....	....
Total	58,204	89,960	....	....

Tilden's majority, 31,756.

MAJORITIES IN SUFFOLK COUNTY.

FLUSHING, Nov. 11.—Suffolk County complete gives Tilden 359 majority and Robinson 218 majority. The Democrats have elected their Sheriff and Francis Brill to the Assembly. The Republicans have elected their candidate for County Clerk and Superintendent of the Poor.

NORTH CAROLINA.

WILMINGTON, Nov. 11.—The Democratic majority in this State will probably range from eleven to thirteeen thousand. There will be no change in the Congressional delegation.

ARKANSAS.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 11.—Additional returns from this district indicate the election of Craveos, Ind. Dem., for Congress, over McClure, Rep., by a small majority.

INDIANA.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 11.—The returns from all the counties in the State have been received, showing Tilden's majority to be 5,424.

PENNSYLVANIA.

THE OFFICIAL VOTE IN NINE COUNTIES.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—The following are the official votes of the counties named:

Counties.	Rep. Maj.	Dem. Maj.	Rep. Gain.	Dem. Gain.
Adams	....	518	14	....
Allegheny	9491	....	4030	....
Clearfield	....	1902	....	448
Clinton	....	1165	....	338
Cumberland	....	911	....	205
Huntindon	511	....	452	....
Juniata	....	462	111	....
Luzerne	....	3475	....	2239
Mifflin	....	175	....	35
Total Majorities	10002	8608	4607	3265

Net Republican gain, 1342.

TENNESSEE.

A REPUBLICAN GAIN OF A CONGRESSMAN—THE DEMOCRATIC MAJORITY 40,000.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 11.—Nearly complete returns from Tennessee give Tilden a majority of not less than 40,000. The majority of Porter for Governor will be something less than 40,000 over Thomas, (Ind. Dem.)

The Democrats elect eight of the ten Congressmen, being a loss of one—McFarland in the First District. The Legislature which elects two United States Senators will have a majority of sixty on a joint ballot, the Senate standing twenty-one Democrats and four Republicans, and the House fifty-seven Democrats, two Independents, and sixteen Republicans.

ILLINOIS.

A REPUBLICAN MAJORITY IN THE LEGISLATURE—HAYES' MAJORITY OVER 20,000—

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—The following are nearly accurate figures in the State of Illinois: The Legislature is composed of 24 Republicans, 22 Democrats, and 5 Independents in the Senate, and 82 Republicans, 71 Democrats in the House, giving a total of 98 Democrats and Independents, and 106 Republicans, and a majority on joint ballot of 8 Republicans. Eighty-six counties in the State give Hayes 22,890 majority, a Democratic gain of 20,290 over the vote of 1872, when Oglesby had 40,690. The sixteen counties to hear from gave 2,812 Democratic majority in 1872. In sixty-one counties, Cullom, Republican, for Governor, leads Stewart, Democrat and Independent, 9,583. There are forty-one counties to hear from on Governor.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—In the Fourth Congressional District the returns thus far obtained, which are semi-official and trustworthy, give Pacheco (Rep.) 623 majority. The small precincts to be heard from will not materially modify these figures.

THE ELECTION EXCITEMENT.

CONSIDERABLE ABATEMENT IN PUBLIC FEELING—THE CROWDS IN THE STREETS GREATLY DIMINISHED—THE PRESIDENT'S ORDERS APPROVED IN WALL STREET.

There was a very perceptible abatement yesterday in the excitement caused by the disputed Presidential election, as compared with the three previous days. This was, perhaps, most noticeable in the neighborhood of Printing-house square, which ever since election day has been almost constantly thronged with an eager crowd anxious to hear the latest news. A large number collected there yesterday morning, but the dispatches published in THE TIMES and displayed upon its bulletins, seemed to have the effect of quieting their ardor, and after remaining a comparatively short time they went away with the conviction that Gen. Hayes was elected to the Presidency beyond all shadow of doubt. Many friends of the Democracy there were who lingered during the entire day, in the vain hope that these dispatches would be denied and the result would be thus changed; but when night came without bringing with it any realization of their hopes, they quietly took their departure and at 6 o'clock the crowd had dwindled down to less than fifty persons. The announcement that the dispatch credited to Senator Conover and stating that Florida had gone Democratic was a bogus one, had the effect of creating a great deal of disgust even among the Democracy, and many persons refused to place any further credence in any telegrams received from the same source.

In Wall street yesterday President Grant's recent orders to Gen. Sherman were commented upon favorably, the majority of the brokers being of the opinion that they were both prudent and well-timed. The custom of posting unreliable and contradictory telegrams in front of the Gold Exchange, which had been in vogue on the three preceding days, was apparently discontinued, for there were none of them to be seen yesterday. The excitement of the previous days had almost entirely abated among the members of the Produce Exchange, only the most partisan being desirous to leave the more profitable pursuit of business for discussion on the political situation. The bogus dispatch purporting to be signed by Senator Conover, which was circulated on the street, received general credence in the earlier part of the day, but being officially contradicted shortly after its issue, the sensation it created was of but brief duration.

There was no sign of political excitement about the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday. The hotel wore almost its accustomed appearance. There was no crowd either inside the hotel or out upon the sidewalks. The bulletins of the stereopticon failed to draw over a hundred spectators, and most of this number seemed to take very little interest in what was displayed. The National Committee rooms, changed to the Twenty-fourth street side of the hotel, were almost deserted. Mr. Clancy remained in charge during the day to receive and answer telegrams asking information about the election returns. He was visited by several local politicians, who cheerfully discussed the situation and expressed their determination to stand by the estimate of THE TIMES of Thursday, giving Gov. Hayes 185 electoral votes, until the Democrats should make some other answer to it than in doctored and fraudulent telegrams. No telegrams were received from either of the States in controversy.

AT THE EVERETT HOUSE.

There were but few Democrats yesterday about Tammany Hall and the Everett House. During the afternoon Mayor Wickham, August Belmont, Commissioner Thomas S. Brennan, Gov. Bedle, ex-Justice Edward Hogan, Corporation Counsel Whitney, ex-Judge James C. Spencer, "Archie" Bliss, ex-Commissioner David V. Freeman, and Major James Haggerty were among the callers. At short intervals during the day and evening "reliable" telegrams from South Carolina, Louisiana, and Florida would be announced or posted for the information of those not tired of hearing or reading such "news." A number of telegrams from Florida were of a boastful character, all claiming the State for Tilden by from one to two thousand majority, and charging all manner of absurd frauds upon the Republicans. Many of them were of such a character as to provoke derisive smiles from many in the rooms. Among the curious communications received by the committee yesterday was a unique epistle to the Chairman of the committee, signed "A Friend of Tilden," and closing as follows:

"Shall we remain quiescent, or what shall we do? Ye men of wisdom, advise, us for we look to you. Preserve us now in this hour of trial, or our country is gone. Better by far we had gone under in the rebellion of Davis."

Information was given at the committee-rooms last evening that of the four gentlemen [Messrs. Charles O'Conor, Oswald Ottendorfer, Howard Patter, and Samuel D. Babcock] of this City invited by Mr. Hewitt to go to New-Orleans, only one, Mr. Ottendorfer, has gone.

THE DELAWARE ELECTION.

HOW THE STATE WAS CARRIED FOR REFORM—PERHAPS IT OUGHT TO BE IN THE HAYES COLUMN AFTER ALL.

From the Wilmington (Del.) Commercial.

Delaware has been stolen; stolen bodily, stolen in defiance alike of law, morals, and common decency. What do you mean? Why this: The Democratic majority in this State is the result and product of fraud. Not of fraud perpetrated by ballot-box stuffing, repeating, or false counting, but by an unlawful, because premeditated, omission of names from the assessment lists. More than thirteen thousand persons have been designedly and purposely disfranchised, and this disfranchisement has been with the knowledge of many of the Democratic leaders, and, we regret to say, with the tacit consent of many citizens. In this county alone 1 600 persons were thus omitted, and in East Dover Hundred 150 were prevented from fulfilling the legal prerequisite to voting. We are not talking wildly; we are not groping in the dark; we know the facts stated as to the number of men left off to be true. Below we give the names of those left off in this hundred. It so many are omitted here, what will be the proportion throughout the county. [Here follows a list of fifty-two names.—Ed. TIMES.] It will not do to say that these men did not pay their taxes and were returned delinquent. The law fixes a time at which these delinquents may be put on the lists, and those named above, with others, were prepared to fulfill the requirements of law and go on the lists, but the Levy Court adjourned before the expiration of the time fixed by law in which they could be restored, and, we believe, with the design and purpose of preventing these persons and others from claiming their legal right. The flimsy excuse given by the Levy Court was that they were without business. Without business, with a delinquent list of over five hundred? No! they made it their business to avoid this business—to adjourn, and by that adjournment to estop a man of his legal right. It may be said, "it is only the vote of a nigger." So much the worse; the strong, the rich, the powerful can protect himself against those who would rob him of his right to vote, but the ignorant, the weak, the poor cannot. Shame upon us all—our county, State, and country—that these wrongs exist without even a seeming remedy!

THE ILLINOIS FOURTH DISTRICT.

The Chicago Journal says that the sharp contest for Congress in the Fourth Illinois District, embracing the counties of Winnebago, Boone, McHenry, Kane, and De Kalb, resulted in a handsome majority for William Lathorp, the regular Republican nominee, who carried every county in the district over both his competitors. The total vote in the district was:

Lathrop, Rep	11,426
Farnsworth, Dem	5,343
Hurlbut, Rep	3,728

HAYES' MAJORITY IN VERMONT 23,000.

BOSTON, Nov. 11.—The official returns of 233 towns in Vermont give Hayes 41,407 and Tilden 18,650. The eight towns to hear from will increase Hayes' majority 300.

RECOUNT OF VOTES PETITIONED FOR.

BOSTON, Nov. 11.—Hon. Rufus S. Frost filed a petition for a recount of the votes in the Fourth Congressional District.

TWEED AT ST. THOMAS.

THE FRANKLIN ARRIVES AT ST. THOMAS ON THE 5TH INST., AND SAILS FOR NEW-YORK ON THE 8TH.

HAVANA, Nov. 11.—The French steamer from St. Thomas has arrived here, bringing advices to the 6th inst. On the 5th, the United States frigate Franklin, Commander Franklin, arrived at St. Thomas from Vigo, short of coal, with William M. Tweed on board.

Later advices state that the Franklin left St. Thomas on the 8th for New-York.

CABLE COMMUNICATION INTERCEPTED BETWEEN HAVANA AND ST. THOMAS.

HAVANA, Nov. 11.—It is impossible to obtain further particulars in regard to the United States steamer Franklin, as communication with St. Thomas is interrupted. The cables between Santiago de Cuba, Jamaica, and St. Croix are broken. The steamer Investigator is engaged in grappling, and it is expected that the cable will be repaired in a few days.

LOSSES BY FIRE.

A BLOCK BURNED IN PERTH AMBOY.

A fire broke out at 5:30 o'clock last evening in McCormick & Connery's grocery store, at Perth Amboy, from one of the employes carrying a lamp near the coal-oil. The fire was not under control before 9:30 P. M., up to which time the entire block on Smith street, from High to Rector street, had been burned to the ground. The following prominent places were burned: Davidson's, clothing, next to McCormicks, total loss, nothing saved; Garretsen's meat market; J. L. Hare's carpet and furniture establishment, stock partly saved; W. H. Moore, drug store, total loss; Post Office and Western Illinois Telegraph Office totaly destroyed. It was feared that the Packer House, a large hotel, would be burned, but the wind, blowing in an opposite direction, prevented the fire from reaching it. Fears were entertained that the whole town would be destroyed. A steam fire-engine arrived from Elizabeth at 7:30, and did gallant service. A Rahway fire company arrived at 7:45; water was scarce, none being nearer than the river, and they could only do good work in saving property. McCormick & Connery lost everything, not even saving their books. The person who caused the fire was burned seriously. Up to when the fire was got under control thirteen buildings have been destroyed. Loss about $30,000.

OTHER FIRES.

The Sheepbroke, Province of Quebec, Meat and Provision Company's works in that town were destroyed by fire on Friday night. The loss is over $200,000; insured for $50,000, in ten companies, none holding over a $5,000 risk.

A fire on Friday evening destroyed the barn and broom-corn sheds of Mrs. John Myers, near Schenectady, N. Y. The loss is estimated at $9,000; insurance, $4,500. The fire was of incendiary origin.

THE WEATHER.

SYNOPSIS AND PROBABILITIES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12—1 A. M.—The area of highest barometer has moved south-eastward to Florida; the pressure has diminished in the Western Gulf States, the Ohio Valley, the North-west, and Upper Lake Region with warmer southerly winds and clear weather over these sections; rising barometer, cold northerly winds, cloudy weather and snow are reported from Manitoba Southward to Kansas; an area of low pressure continues apparently off the New-England coast, with high pressure over the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and north-east winds with rain prevails over Nova Scotia, New-Brunswick, and the Lower St. Lawrence Valley; north-west winds, cloudy weather, and light rains continue in New-York and New-England; clear weather, with southerly winds, is generally reported in the lake region, Ohio Valley, and Southern States. The rivers rose on Saturday at Vicksburg.

PROBABILITIES.

For Sunday, in the South Atlantic and Gulf States, Tennessee, and the Ohio Valley, south and east winds, stationary or falling barometer, warmer, clearer, partly cloudy weather.

For the Upper Mississippi and Lower Missouri valleys southerly winds and falling barometer, shift to colder northerly, with rising barometer and cloudy weather.

For the upper lakes, rising barometer, increasing southeast to northeast winds, stationary temperatures, cloudy or partially cloudy weather.

For the lower lakes, south and east winds, slightly warmer, partly cloudy weather, rising, followed by falling, barometer.

For the Middle Atlantic States, north-west to south-west winds, with rising barometer and clear weather, followed by easterly winds and slightly higher temperature.

For New-England, North-east to North-west winds, colder, cloudy and clearing weather, and stationary barometer.

The rivers change but little.

Cautionary signals are ordered for Indianola, Galveston, Chicago, Milwaukee and Grand Haven.

CENTRAL PARK METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATORY.

The following is an abstract of the report of the Central Park Meteorological Observatory for the week ending at 1 P. M. Nov. 11, 1876: Barometer—Mean, 29.884 inches; maximum at 12 P. M. Nov. 5, 30.256 inches; minimum at 5 A. M. Nov. 8, 29.588 inches; range, .662 inch. Thermometer—Mean, 47°; maximum at 4 P. M. Nov. 9, 55°; minimum at 7 A. M. Nov. 6, 39°; range, 16°. Remarks—Nov. 6, rain from 8 P. M. to 12 P. M., amount of water, .02 inch; Nov. 7, rain from A. M. to 12 P. M., amount of water, 1.50 inch; Nov. 8, rain from A. M. to 1 A. M., amount of water, .01 inch; Nov. 10, rain from 11 A. M. to 3 P. M., amount of water, .03 inch; total amount of water for week, 1 56 inch. Distance traveled by the wind during the week, 988 miles.

BY MAIL AND TELEGRAPH.

George Chamberlin was thrown from his carriage yesterday, in Bradford, Vt., and fatally injured.

George Bearce was fatally shot in Boston yesterday by Frederick Savan, who was carelessly handling a pistol.

Nine convicts while working on a sand bar above Litte Rock on Friday evening, overpowered the guard and escaped. A posse with blood-hounds are now in pursuit.

Notices were posted yesterday in all the mills of Manchester, N. H., of a reduction of from five to fifteen per cent. in operatives' wages, to take effect Nov. 27.

The Boston Press Club had their annual dinner at the Tremont House yesterday. Sixty persons were present. Ben Perley Poore was elected President for the ensuing year.

The body of Barney McCort of Taunton, Mass., who has been missing since Tuesday last, was found in the Taunton River there yesterday. It is supposed that he fell from the wharf while drunk.

William M. Ingersoll, of St. Catherines, Ontario, was arrested in Buffalo yesterday, for stealing about $2 300 in cash, the property of the Welland Railroad Company. The money was found in his possession.

BALTIMORE POLICEMEN ON TRIAL.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 11.—In the Criminal Court, to-day, Judge Brown rendered his decision in the case of Lieut. Farran, Sergt. Sparks, and Blackiston, and other Policemen, who were recently indicted and on trial during the past week, for participating in the riot at a Hayes and Wheeler meeting at the Cross Street Market, in the Seventeenth Ward, this city, in September last, acquitting them of the charge, and the prisoners were discharged. The trial was before the Judge without a jury. After the decision, the parties were all reinstated by the Police Commissioners.

THE FEATURES OF 'FRISCO.

ILLS AND CONVENIENCES OF GOLD.

THE DIFFICULTY IN CARRYING SPECIE—ITS WEIGHT A GOOD CHECK TO BURGLARY AND THEFT—THE PECULIARITIES OF SAN FRANCISCO RESTAURANTS—A GOOD DINNER FOR TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

SAN FRANCISCO, Friday, Nov. 3, 1876.

Probably the one thing which most attracts the eye of the traveler in California is the gold currency. The mining element is so completely the controlling power in San Francisco that their passionate love of gold as an object, as something tangible, has become the principle of banking here. One would have thought that it would have been sufficient for all the needs of a gold currency to use gold as a circulating medium and transact business by means of bank notes or checks. But this is not the practice, for, though gold notes do exist, they have been emitted for the convenience of Eastern tourists, who do not care to carry half a hundred weight of gold concealed about their persons. The Californians, however, will not accept a flimsy fold of paper, although it is actually worth its face, and is a promise to pay which will neither be postponed nor violated. What they want is the solid, shining gold in twenty-dollar pieces, for the fifty-dollar slug, so beloved by the miners in former years, appears to have yielded before the march of a degenerate civilization. The effete and effeminate pockets of modern days cannot support the ponderous angles of the gold slug, which has accordingly passed into history. I am, indeed, informed that in the mining regions the faro bankers find it to their interest to preserve this relic of "the days of '49," and that to "copper a slug behind the queen" is still a popular expression which represents an actuality.

The banking element here smiles at the anomalies which result from this fondness for the "real article." Almost all the bankers have received their training in the East, and it seems ludicrous to them beyond measure to be compelled to go to the Clearing-house with a horse and wagon to bring away the balance due the firm. I had the pleasure, through the kindness of ex-Gov. Lowe, President of the Anglo-Californian Bank, of seeing some of the goldern machinery of the Californian land. He showed me a vault in which was a ponderous and extremely large safe on each side. He opened the quadruple door of steel and displayed a quantity of huge bags lying at the bottom of the vault. Each contained $20,000 in double eagles, which is the universal coin of business, and each weighed about seventy pounds avoirdupois. Gov. Lowe said, "I grant it seems ridiculous to return to such a primeval way of doing business, but it has its advantages. This morning our employe at the Clearing-house had to receive a balance of $127,000, the weight of which was about four hundred and sixty-five pounds avoirdupois. This was, undoubtedly, awkward to handle, but its weight made it secure. No one could very well steal it. In the East, bank clerks returning from the Clearing-houses of large cities, have frequently been chloroformed and robbed. Here this would be impossible. Sometimes, however, when the balances are exceedingly heavy, as happens once in a while from special transactions, the burden of the gold is really hard to bear. But on the whole, the security from robbery overweighs every other consideration. Look around at our counters. You see they have no iron railings, no wire fencing. The counter is not breast high. And a thief could easily stretch over and dip his hand into one of these trays, which are made to hold exactly the contents of one bag. But what good would it do him. He could barely snatch five double eagles. Now, East whole packets of notes of large denominations have been grabbed in this way. And with regard to burglaries, we do not fear them. I pointed out to you the quadruple thickness of the safes, but our best and chief security is in the weight of the gold. There is more than a million in double eagles in that safe, and even supposing that burglars could possibly get through that quadruple wall of steel, they could not carry away their plunder except in a wagon, which could only go slowly, and could easily be traced. It is to be doubted whether ours is not the better way."

But when I discussed the question of individual preferences for gold he agreed with me that it was ridiculous. The idea of a man loading himself with twenty-dollar pieces when he is on a journey bent is preposterous. There is an old song which says that when one's pockets are very heavy, one's heart is very light, and this taken figuratively is exceedingly true. But the sensations experienced when moving about with a thousand dollars in the pockets of one's pantaloons are anything but agreeable, and are as far from cheeriness or light-heartedness as can well be conceived. And you may shift the burden from place to place and from pocket to pocket, as you will, but it will weigh upon your mind and wear you and crush you to earth. Also, if you are nervous, you will see in every third man a possible robber, and the appearance of the crowds of speculators at the corner of California and Montgomery streets will strike an icy terror into your pantaloons pockets. You will ask yourself with a thrill of apprehension "Have I been watched. Did this truculent-looking individual who approaches me happen to be present when I was paid this enormous amount over the counter in gold? Or does my face betray me? Is the consciousness of the riches in my trousers painted on my apprehensive cheeks?" Nor is there any relief for you until you enter the grand portals of the Palace Hotel, and surrender your heart-blighting wealth to the custody of the clerk and the stronghold of the safe.

If this is bad in the town, it is much worse in the country. I remember once, when traveling in Santo Domingo, that I was cursed with one hundred dollars in silver. It was the bane of my existence. So long, indeed, as we ascended the River Juna in our canoe, the serpent of Potosi slept peacefully; but when we struck across the land, on horseback, then he arose in wrath, and wounded me momentarily. When my horse trotted, the silver mines within my clothes jingled fearfully, and it seemed as if I was a friend of the fine lady of Banbury Cross so dear to the nursery. When my horse galloped, though this was rare, the jingle was less, but the strain upon the pockets was terrible. At last, worn out with the perpetual silvern melodies of my half-dollars, I gave up in despair all hope of personally protecting my wealth, and packed my ore in a canvas bag in the centre of the pack-saddle that bore my clothes, confiding my fortunes fearlessly to the honesty of the Dominicans; and I beg to say for those same Dominicans, that though they had every opportunity of confiscating my pecuniary resources, though every one who handled my pack-saddle must have been aware of the vein of silver that was imbedded among my linen, no one ever conceived the thought of abstracting a single piece. As the Southerners habitually argue that the black man is a born thief, I give them this as a proof of the contrary. Now, in California, if I may believe the papers, robberies attended with murder are exceedingly common, even within half a dozen miles of the capital, and experience shows that the practice of carrying gold has a bad influence upon this kind of crime. Nothing could extirpate highway robbery in England save the practice of using bank notes. The numbers were habitually noted in memoranda before the traveler started, and if he was robbed, the notes were stopped and freely advertised. To this day every Englishman who has been commercially educated takes the numbers of all notes that he receives, though there is now no great reason for it, as it is almost impossible to pick the pocket of a man who is commonly prudent. But the Californians will not use the gold notes, which are so convenient and so safe, but will have the double eagles, even though they are inconveniently heavy and invite robbery, and even murder. The miner's prejudice is too strong.

A VAST NUMBER OF RESTAURANTS.

Another feature of San Francisco, but a more agreeable one, and equally due to the mining element, is the great number of restaurants. 'Frisco, as the "aborigines" love to call it, is full of these places, and there are not only great numbers, but great variety also. There are French rotisseries, there are German bakeries, there are Italian restaurants where maccaroni is the specialty, and there are dining-rooms on the American order. The latter are cheap places, and in fact are known as the one-bit restaurants. There are no really swell American dining-rooms, because the idea of the successful miner is that nobody but a Frenchman can get up a truly gorgeous repast. His conception of such a meal is expressed by the phrase "a hunky old spread, with all the French frills." French frills and French airs are for the mining element terms which imply the zenith of gorgeousness and high life. They are emphatically "toney," if I may borrow an expressive, but to me extremely disagreeable, word of Californian slang. I quite agree with the general idea involved, that the French system of cookery is one very applicable to festival occasions, and is used with great appropriateness on feast days and Sundays. But I grieve to say that the high-priced French restaurants here, such as the Poodledog and Marchand's and some others have French immorality as well as French cookery, and they have been only too frequently disgraced by the most disgusting orgies. Add to the wildness and coarseness of mining manners the cynicism of French immorality, and you obtain a result which places man fathoms below the brute. These things are well known, but such is the low state of public opinion in such matters that these restaurants are institutions to which the traveler on his arrival is carefully conducted. They are, moreover, located in the immediate neighborhood of the best theatres and not far from the banks.

There are one or two French restaurants which are, like the American houses, one-bit places. This means that all the dishes are "one bit," or twelve cents. As this piece of money, like the anna of Hindostan, does not exist in reality, and as the pride of California utterly disdains coppers, and recognizes no metal save silver for small change, it is obvious that somebody has to lose by this system, since the only small coins are dimes and five-cent pieces. In the French one-bit places the customer loses if he be so unwary as to have an odd number of dishes, but in the American, except where one dish alone is ordered, the restaurateur frankly accepts the bit as meaning ten cents. The system here is infinitely preferable to that in vogue in the Eastern States, for the poor. In New-York, in the great dining-rooms, with their marble counters and their gorgeous mirrors, if a poor man comes in and asks for a plate of roast beef, he gets a shaving of that article with a tiny plate of mashed potato, another tiny plate of beets, another of turnip, another of carrots, another of cabbage. Now, here one gets what he asks for in profuse quantity and of excellent quality. Vegetables are abundant and of magnificent flavor, and last almost the whole year round; but if a man wants vegetables he must order separately, and that dish will be charged to him as a bit. In the largest American dining-rooms, however, notably at the United States, three dishes are given for a quarter. This is so moderate, and the quality and quantity are so good, that I must pronounce San Francisco to be, without exception, the best city in the world for a poor man.

But as regards the higher priced restaurants, I doubt whether San Francisco can compare with any of the smaller cities—the capitals of Southern States. I am quite sure that it cannot compare with any of the larger ones North. Putting aside the immoral places, (which are the best,) and taking for example the reputable ones—Martin's and the Maison Dorée—(which are inferior,) I do not hesitate to say that neither of them is intrinsically as good as a small restaurant in Shreveport, La., where I stopped once for a week. At the Palace Hotel the table is indeed magnificent, but this is not to be wondered at, for Warren Leland, who is undoubtedly the best judge of good fare in the country—not even excepting either of the Delmonico brothers—brought his own cook, M. Jules Harder, from the East, and Jules is a cordon bleu. But there is no restaurant attached to the building, nor can there be without disturbing the admirable system of the arrangements, which are symmetrical beyond precedent in the history of American hotels, and worthy of far more praise than has been given to them. And yet they have been eulogized by every one who has ever visited the hotel. But, setting aside this hotel, there is no other fine cuisine in the place. Feeling that there was a void to be supplied, the German bakeries first added the sale of coffee to their trade, and then glided imperceptibly into a restaurant business, giving the usual German dishes in a very substantial and satisfactory style. These are two-bit places, and hold a medium position between the dollar meals of the swell French houses, and the one-bit American dining-rooms. German charcuterie is most excellent, but German cookery is very faulty; and uses too much grease and vinegar to be altogether acceptable to one's gastric juices. Now, in New-York, in St. Louis, in Cincinnati, and Chicago there are numberless restaurants where one can find excellent meals without paying a dollar in gold. The fact that in San Francisco, with a population of 270,000, one can obtain a thoroughly substantial and in every way satisfactory meal for twenty-five cents, but that above that price there is an almost total want of unexceptionable accommodation, except to Germanized palates, is a proof that the mining civilization which built the city has not yet been replaced by a higher stratum.

GAR.

THE MASSACHUSETTS THIRD DISTRICT.

The Boston Traveller of Friday says: "The close election in the Third District is the cause of some excitement as the recount, which has been called for by Mr. Field's friends, may send him to Congress instead of the Democratic candidate, Hon. Benjamin Dean. There are some things in reference to the ward returns, which, to say the least, look 'peculiar.' A close examination of them show that in Ward Fifteen there was cast one more vote for Representative to Congress than was thrown for the Presidential electors; in Ward Seventeen four votes more, and in Ward Twenty seven votes more. In the vote of Ward Twenty-four Mr. Field has been credited with 1,316 votes, when he should have had 1,361. The committee have not as yet commenced the recount at the City Hall, and the result of their work will not probably appear before the first of next week. The official returns received at the City Hall give Mr. Dean seven majority."

UNBELIEF IN THE OLD BIBLE.

THE PREVALENT UNBELIEF OF THE DAY—THE HONESTY OF ITS NARRATORS—EVIDENCE OF HUMAN IMPERFECTION.

From the Spectator.

The Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol has been delivering this week a series of thoughtful addresses on the prevalent unbelief of the day, in which he describes that unbelief as rather a vague and driftless tendency than a fixed state of mind; nay, the unbelievers, he says, have so completely succeeded in suspending their judgment that they hardly believe even in their own unbelief. He traces this condition of things chiefly to three causes—to the impression, produced by the historical criticism of modern times, of the vast uncertainty attending all ancient history, and especially all history involving stories of miracles; to the advance of scientific notions which seem to dispense with the creative energy of God; and to the new intensity with which the enigmas of life, the moral and metaphysical difficulties involved in the origin of evil, are urged upon the imagination of all of us. * * *

For our own parts, while we accept what Bishop Ellicott says of the unique character of the Old Testament history; while we cordially believe that its continuous and indelible realism in painting man, and its constant and deep belief in the Providence of God afford a testimony at once to the honesty of the narratives and the deep foundation of Hebrew history in a genuine revelation, we cannot recognize any feature in it which should assure us against those great mistakes of detail which occur in all other history—especially as we do find here and there those remarkable inconsistencies between one part of the history and another which are characteristic of all human authorship, and especially of the authorship of an unpracticed and easily believing age. It seems to us that historical criticism makes an unanswerable case against the habit of assigning anything like very high authority as to detail to such histories as the earlier narratives of the Old Testament, and that no one can reasonably believe in any very high authority for them except on some such ground as the infallibility of the Church, whose canonical Scriptures they form. But as we cannot see any proof of such infallibility, and, indeed, find in the Old Testament histories much which is quite inconsistent with it, we should say that, on the whole, the kind of hesitation which historical criticism has taught us in accepting the details of Old Testament history—especially the early history—is well justified. Not the less we should maintain that the coherent belief of the prophets and historians in the divine purpose which formed Israel into a distinct people, and molded it for a special function in the life of the world—a belief which shines through all the early traditions, the early records, and the early poems of the people as clearly as through its latest prophecies—is good and striking evidence that they were a people chosen by God to understand His character and declare it to the rest of the earth; and that their national character had been formed—if not exactly by the experience described, yet by experience more or less closely resembling it in the confidence it had given them in the mighty hand and outstretched arm of Jehovah—for the very purpose for which it was ultimately used by the Divine power. It is quite one thing to say that all these curious old books, full of the evidence of human imperfection, not only in the subjects treated, but in the persons who treated them, are to be implicitly trusted as accurate records, though they neither claim inspiration for themselves nor show any trace of completeness and exceptional accuracy, and quite another, and a very different thing indeed, to accept them heartily as the reflection of a true faith, extending through many ages, in the guiding hand of a God who was not only teaching the people whose history they embody the lesson of righteousness, but filling them with the expectation of a destiny which would, through their race, bring life and light and hope in a broad stream of regenerating power into the world.

THE RISING OF THE RIVER NILE.

From the London Times.

The Nile began to rise this year on the 1st of July—an average time, the same as in 1868, a day later than in 1870, and seven days before that of 1871, which, notwithstanding its late commencement, made a good Nile of 23 feet 8¾ inches on the 28th of September, while that of last year made a very early start, but had only attained a height of 2 feet 6 inches on the 20th of July, while this year it had attained 7 feet. Last year's Nile attained a height of 23 feet 11¼ inches, on the 22d of September, when it began to fall, and continued to do so till the water was let off from the reservoirs of Upper Egypt, which refilled the river and increased the total rise to about 24 feet 6 inches; but this is a sudden spurt of a rise which falls down again as suddenly as it has risen, and should not be reckoned in making a comparison of the value of each Nile as a fertilizer of Egypt; it is a sudden rise and a sudden fall, and not to be compared to the gradual rising and filling all the canals in the interior which requires time for its distribution; but, still, 23 feet 11¼ inches is a good Nile, and no one complains. However, it require 25 feet for a proper Nile. There are thousands of acres within the banks of the Nile, what we might call foreshore, which are cultivated and pay taxes; they are seldom irrigated, because the Sheiks know that they are covered by the Nile every three years at least, and then they get one rich crop at least at a very small outlay, and, perhaps, a fair crop the next, if the water has remained at a high level long enough to give time for the mud to settle. Sandy, dry, apparently worthless places become fruitful after such Niles, especially if they fill gradually, and give the Nile mud time to precipitate. The present Nile, though late in beginning to rise, rose well when it did commence, so that on the 10th of August it had attained the same height as that of last year—namely, 17 feet 3⅝ inches, and bid fair to make the eighth good Nile in ten years, against the two bad ones of 1868 and 1873. It stopped rising on the 16th of August, and then fell and rose more or less without exceeding its late level, and then commenced again on the 7th of September to complete its rise. This intermittent stopping and rising again often occurs about this time. The Nile of 1870 stopped on the 24th of August and rested nine days; that of 1871 stopped on the 21st of August and rested twenty-five days; that of 1872 stopped on the 18th of August and rested twenty days; that of 1875 stopped also on the 18th of August and rested twenty days, and yet all these were good Niles. I say rested, but what is meant is, that the Nile fell and rose more or less, see-sawed down and up, but did not attain a greater height than the one it began to stop or go down at. This periodicity, or nearly so, may, perhaps, be due to the waters of the Blue Nile having become constant in their supply when the waters of the Sobat and all those tributaries to the Nile which enter it between the Equator and the tenth degree of north latitude arrive to swell the river and complete the total rise. The present Nile, after commencing its rise on the 7th of September, continued to rise till the 28th, and finished off at a fine, full Nile of 25 feet 1⅞ inches, much to the astonishment of old Egyptians, who have a tradition that if the Nile rises during the night of the 25-6th of September it will continue to rise seventeen days more, which it has refused to do for three years in ten. It is called El Saleeb, and it is said to have had its origin in ancient Egyptian astronomy; perhaps from their reckoning for their autumnal equinox, or with reference to the constellation of that name; be that as it may, El Saleeb and El Nukta are twin fables.

THE GRANITE STATE.

The Nashua (N. H.) Telegraph of Thursday says: "Whatever the general result may be, the Republicans of New-Hampshire have especial reason to be gratified with the record which they made on Tuesday. The result is a surprise in several respects. The campaign has not been a stirring one, except during the last two weeks, and few expected that a vote as large as the unprecedented vote of last Spring would be polled. The total vote is nearly equal to the vote of last March, however, and will rise above 80,000. Of this aggregate the Republicans will have upward of 41,000, and the Democrats upward of 38,000. The Republican majority will go above rather than fall short of 3,000. We thought that the Republicans would certainly carry the State by 2,000, and we knew that well-informed Democrats conceded 1,000. Both sides thought there would be a falling off in each party's vote, and it is a genuine surprise all around that the aggregate vote is so large. It is well known that no money was used by either party to directly influence voters, and the result, therefore, is an actual test of the relative strength of parties in the State. It is clear that the Republicans have an actual and indisputable majority of 3,000 in New-Hampshire. With good conduct and a good cause, we see no reason why this majority may not be maintained next Spring, and for an indefinite time."

THE FENIANS.

The Montreal Witness of the 9th inst. says: "Our reporter learned to-day from reliable sources that Fenian movements are continuing on the American frontier, and during the past few days, possibly in view of a probability of the return of a Democratic President, a number of loose fish who have struggled across the border into Canadian territory, have been intimating that another attempt on Canada will shortly be made. Major Gen. Smythe has also received letters which state that another raid will certainly be attempted, and advising the authorities to be on their guard. When the first rumors of preparations were made public the Government sent an officer to watch the movements, and we learn that he has sent in a number of reports which declare that considerable activity is noticeable in the Fenian crowd, that movements of arms have been observed, and that numbers of suspicious characters have, of late, been seen in the vicinity of St. Armand, Hemmingford, and other frontier Canadian towns. In this city the impression exists in military circles that some movement will shortly be made which, however, will not be of so extensive a nature as was the last. Large contributions have been flowing into the treasuries of the Fenian leaders, and the contributors are beginning to ask, what is going to be done about it? A little excitement on the frontier will renew the flagging ardor of the silly dupes, and the money will again begin to pour in."

THE KINGDOM OF ITALY.

GOSSIP FROM THE ETERNAL CITY.

ELECTION OF DEPUTIES TO PARLIAMENT—MISSIONARIES OF CARLISM—HOW THE SPANISH PILGRIMS BEHAVED—EMPRESS EUGENIE'S VISIT TO THE PONTIFF—THE BIG GUN EXPERIMENTS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

ROME, Saturday, Oct. 28, 1876.

In a week from this, or on the 5th of November, the election takes place of Deputies to the Italian Parliament, an election for some time looked forward to, and upon which many party hopes are fixed. There is perhaps but little analogy between the political situation in the United States and in Italy, but the popular decision which is to fix the political status in the two countries for at least a short period will be known at about the same time. The movement here is sufficiently active to prove that the competitions of factions have not died out. But the number of electors which the law allows to take part is so limited that there is no opportunity for any considerable agitation of the elements of which the political body is composed. There has been much more public speaking than the people of the country are ordinarily accustomed to; but with a moderation of tone which gives us confidence in the wisdom of leaders and that moderate counsels are still to prevail. Signor Depretis, the present chief of the Cabinet, and Signor Sella, the new head of the Opposition, have paid each other such compliments that one might expect to see soon a general hand-shaking around the house. All goes as merry as a marriage bell, and, except on the side of the Pope, there is no feeling of hostility sufficiently strong to raise even a scowl. The opinion seems to be well founded that the party actually ruling is to have a new triumph in the coming elections.

Most of the Spanish "pilgrims" have left Rome, and are well on their way to their own country. Whatever impression they may have received here we do not know, but the impression they have left is not altogether the most favorable. It is sufficiently evident that Spain, judging from these specimens of her population, has yet made but little progress on the road of civilization. The struggle to escape from the thraldom of ignorance and superstition in which the country for centuries has wallowed is still to be a long and painful one. It is an odd fact to make note of that these Spanish visitors to Rome received lists on their arrival of the places for eating and drinking and lodging considered orthodox by the Papal directors, or in which no harm could be received by the paying out of money for the encouragement of those holding liberal views. Some of the wildest of the priests began at once to catechize the Romans, asking such questions as "Do you go to mass and to confession, and are you friendly to the Pope?"—the replies to be made the test of worthiness to receive of the cash brought along with them to be expended here. Trade in the trinket shops in which are sold beads, images, and the little idols of various sorts used in Catholic worship has been lively, and a great many pictures of Pius IX. have been carried away. Of works of art few or none have been sold, although a pilgrim of the rustic class was noticed who had ornamented his front with a malachite pin, with head as large and round as the premium gooseberry of the season. For the rest, these missionaries of Carlism and the Inquisition have convinced the Italians that they cannot learn anything from Spain, which still presents an example with less to imitate than to avoid.

The Pontiff before long is to have a visit from the ex-Empress Eugenie, who, with the Prince, her son, is at present in Florence. They are to pass the Winter near Naples, where a villa for their accommodation has already been taken. By the presence here of the widow of Louis Napoleon the Italians are reminded of the help rendered to them when that adventurous man, in the flood-tide of his prosperity, was at the head of France and the "Arbiter of Europe." The sentiment of gratitude has not died out. Napoleon III. did for Italy more than he intended. Under Providence, the movement to which the war of 1859 gave the first impulse went on until the unity of the country under the King—and not under the Pope, as the Emperor intended—was brought about. In the changes still possible in France, few here believe that an offshoot of the imperial stock will ever come to power there as the head of the State. If the republic should assume once more the imperial form, it may be that the grand-children of the Sovereign of Italy, by their Gerome and Clotilde origin, will have as good an opportunity as the so-called Imperial Prince. But such possible issues must be left to the chances of time.

Several of the Ministers, as well as officers of the army and marine, have been for a day or two at La Spezzia, witnessing the trial of the one hundred ton gun lately arrived from England. So far as information has reached us here, up to this time, the experiments with this new and very powerful arm are giving satisfaction. Italy is priding herself upon being in the way to possess the biggest guns yet welded, and in her two great ships, the Duilio and the Dandolo, now nearly ready for service, the most formidable vessels of war yet constructed. She will have a juster claim to national satisfaction when the mechanical ingenuity of the country has reached that point of development which will place the nation in a condition of independence of foreign skill for the construction of such instruments of defense. Although the Italian fleet is not large, the purification it has been undergoing for the past few years has rid it of much of its rotten timber, or of the material rated nearly useless as modern navies are constructed. In case of war, Italy can be come a useful ally, uniting her fleet with that of one of the more considerable powers, whether the action be for aggression or defense. The memory of the sad figure made in 1866 on the Dalmatian coast, under the command of the incompetent Admiral Persano, is not yet outgrown, and there is little ambition to make another trial single-handed with any power whose naval valor has been put to the proof with the instruments which recent skill has produced.

While Turkey has claimed almost exclusive attention, some have begun to turn their eyes once more toward the west of Europe, believing that the time is near for another explosion in Spain. The pot simmers, but whether it is to be allowed to boil over we do not yet know. Our friends, the priests, are gathering faggots to throw on the fire when it is once more kindled, and there are enough here ready to fan the revolutionary flame. The French diplomatic agent at the Vatican, with the ambitious title of Ambassador, has lately been changed, and M. Corcelles, for several years in Rome, is superseded by Baron Baude. This mission to the Papal Court is little more than a form, as all the services which such an agent is called upon to render are very much like those of a chamber-maid or nurse at the bedside of a sick man. France wishes to stand well with the Italian Government, and is in condition to use means to make her wishes respected. The case of Spain is somewhat different, but we have just seen that Don Alfonso's Board of Rule is not disposed to let matters go by default. The Archbishop of Granada, Generalissimo of the company of "pilgrims," lately here, was so neglectful of what belongs to good breeding, as to turn his back upon the Minister of the King of Spain at Victor Emmanuel's court, and tried to get him turned out of St. Peter's, on the occasion of the reception of the Spaniards by the Pope. The Archbishop and his associates have been prohibited from returning to Spain, until due satisfaction is made.

We have had no novelty the present week to produce a sensation or give variety to the experiences of life. To be sure, the festa of St. Crispin fell on the 25th, and the Knights of the Cap-stone and waxed-ends for a day or two were gay with the inspiration of an extra bottle and the satisfaction of a stomach fuller than usual of Bologna sausage and maccaroni. I do not know what the population of these countries would do without their saints—or at least the days set apart to their commemoration, where all are at liberty to eat and drink and carouse, kept in restraint only by the amount of surplus revenue of each individual. One does not know how much better off Italy is for being the richest of all countries in canonized heroes, while the United States has generally a good apple and pumpkin crop, with so few saints in the calendar.

THE SUFFRAGE IN RHODE ISLAND.

HOW THE LIBERAL AMENDMENTS WERE DEFEATED ON TUESDAY—THE DEMOCRATS RESPONSIBLE.

From the Providence Journal, Nov. 10.

The Democrats at home and without the State constantly reproach the illiberality of the suffrage of Rhode Island, and point to our real estate qualification for citizens of alien birth, and to the tax of $1 from electors who pay no other tax, as evidences of narrowness and bigotry. The Democratic orators spout and the Democratic Conventions resolve against our suffrage, but the Democratic electors sustain it. They have done this time after time, and they did it again on Tuesday. If the Democrats had given their hearty support to the suffrage amendments they would have been carried. The Republican cities of Providence and Newport gave majorities for the amendments. So did the Republican towns of Woonsocket, Pawtucket, Bristol, Warren, and Smithfield. The Democratic town of West Greenwich rushed to the defence of "the liberties of the people" in a solid column of 16 votes; but the "minions of aristocratic institutions," even in that stronghold of Democratic principles, routed them with a negative force of 19, on the seventh article, while on the sixth, the repeal of the "odious registry tax," the vote stood two to one in the negative, the popular interest in the question being attested by the enormous total of 54. Gloucester is the stronghold of the Democracy of Rhode Island; it voted for Tilden more than two to one; it gave the great "reformer" 211 votes; and Gloucester waked up to the support of the seventh amendment—the removal of real estate qualification from the foreign-born soldiers—in an unbroken phalanx of 20 votes. How many of them were Democrats, we do not know, but we judge full one-half, or 10. Thus the chief Democratic constituency of the State attests its unfaltering devotion to liberal principles. But this vigorous assertion of Democratic principles and Democratic fidelity proved all unavailing; for, as in the sister Democratic town of West Greenwich, the "minions," &c., were too much for the sturdy upholders of "popular rights," and the gallant force of 20 was overwhelmed by a negative vote of 28. So Gloucester and West Greenwich declare for the restricted suffrage, and leave Rhode Island still "writhing under the heel of despotism." Tiverton gave Tilden 80 votes, and it gave to the suffrage amendment just 2 votes. On the fifth amendment there seems to have been a rally, for the vote is increased fifty per cent., and rises to 3. In Portsmouth the vote stands 47 for Tilden, 27 for the seventh amendment; in Jamestown, 20 for Tilden, 11 for the amendment.

The City of Providence gave Tilden 3,640 votes, the third amendment received 7,369 votes, being 3,729 more than Tilden's vote; so that if every Democrat in the city voted for the amendment—of the probability of which West Greenwich and Gloucester may testify—it must have received more Republican votes than Democratic. The town of Exeter gave 46 for Tilden, 6 for the amendments; Newport gave Tilden 708 votes; it gave to the third amendment 920 votes, so that if every Democrat voted for it it must have received 212 Republican votes. An examination of the tables shows that there is some advance in the Democratic Party toward a removal of these restrictions on the suffrage, which it has steadily denounced on the stump, and steadily maintained at the polls. Since the last attempt the vote of West Greenwich has risen from 6 to 16. In Exeter the great cause of constitutional freedom has advanced from nothing to 6 votes. In Tiverton there has been a falling off from 8 to 3.

Now, will our distinguished friend who made the speech in Newport still appeal to the foreign-born citizens to support the Democratic Party because the Republicans keep them from the rights of suffrage? And does he still attribute it to Senator Anthony that the hardy Democracy of Gloucester, and Tiverton, and West Greenwich, and Exeter vote against the principles of their party and the learned and eloquent teachings of the publicist of Ochre Point?

THE ELECTION IN FLORIDA.

THE THREATENED DISTURBANCE OF THE PEACE—PROCLAMATION BY GOV. STEARNS.

Florida papers contain the following proclamation by Gov. Stearns, issued a week before the election:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 31, 1876.

In view of the excited condition of the public mind, and the in some degree well-founded apprehension of coming trouble, growing out of the bitter political canvass now in progress in this State, and in order to secure a fair, full, and legal expression of the popular will through the ballot-box, to preserve the reputation that Florida has already achieved as a peaceable and law-abiding State, and to prevent the possibility of any occurrence that would bring disgrace upon her people and tend to mar her bright and promising future, a future in which every citizen has an equal and vital interest, I, Marcellus L. Stearns, Governor of Florida, hereby issue this proclamation to all the peope of the State. I earnestly call upon all citizens to temper zeal with discretion; to deprecate fraud, violence, or disorder, and to exert their individual and collective influence to allay excitement and to secure peace and order. And I advise that no citizen shall carry arms, either openly or concealed, to political meetings, or to the polls on election day, but that all should trust to the law and its officers alone, assuring them that the whole power of the Government will be exercised to protect the people in the full enjoyment of every right which the law gives to them. I call upon the judicial officers of every circuit, and upon the Sheriffs of every county, to make such preparation as may be necessary to the full extent of their authority to prevent or punish frauds or violence, if any should be attempted or committed, and I command every Inspector of Election, and every other officer, or person, charged with the conduct of the election, or the preservation of peace and order, to discharge their duties firmly and in strict conformity to the law. I recommend that the municipal authorities of all towns and cities throughout the State require the closing of all places where intoxicating liquors are sold, and prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors within their respective jurisdictions from midnight of Saturday, the 4th day of November, until midnight of Tuesday, the 7th day of November, and that the Sheriff of each county shall see that no intoxicating liquor is sold at any place within his county outside of any incorporated town or city within the same period. Should bands of armed men, citizens of this or any other State, appear at any voting precinct for the purpose of unlawfully influencing the election at such precinct, or of interfering in any manner with the free exercise of the elective franchise by citizens of this State, the Sheriff and his deputies will proceed at once to disperse or to arrest such persons, and if necessary to call the power of the county to their assistance, and in case of the escape of any person guilty of any such unlawful act, or of aiding, abetting or countenancing the same, they shall ascertain and report the name and residence of such person, whether a citizen of this or any other State, to the proper prosecuting officer, in order that such person may be indicted, pursued and brought to justice. While the State is able and prepared to enforce the laws, and to punish all who may violate the same, whether such violation is the result of a predetermined policy or of temporary excitement or passion, nevertheless the people themselves must feel and accept their responsibility as men and as citizens, and must aid in protecting their own interests and the fair fame of the State by an honest determination to see justice and good order prevail, and by a hearty co-operation with the officers of the State in preserving the public peace and in securing a fair, free, and honest election.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the great seal of the State to be affixed, at Tallahassee, this thirty-first day of October, A. D. 1876.

M. L. STEARNS,
Governor of Florida.

By the Governor. Attest:
SAMUEL B. MCLIN, Secretary of State.

ANOTHER CLAIMANT FROM AUSTRALIA.

Much excitement has been created in Warrington by the arrival of another claimant from Australia, who claims an estate of considerable value which is now in possession of a member of the Warrington Town Council. This claimant is Mr. John Alderson, who says he inherits the property from his mother's side. His uncle, a Warrington glass manufacturer, who was one of his father's executor's, died during the claimant's absence, and under power of his will the property was sold on a chance title. The heir-at-law having sailed for Australia, he was reported to be dead, but, contrary to expectation, he returned to England to enforce his claim. A well-known baronet, a member of deceased's family, is interested, the father of the present baronet having married an aunt of the claimant, who is well connected. Notice of ejectment has been served upon the present holder of the estate and also upon the tenants, and legal proceedings have been instituted by the claimant to regain possession of the maternal estate. The action will be heard in London next term, unless the defendants have the venue changed. Mr. Alderson has been absent from England twelve years.

RAMAZAN AND BAIRAM.

TURKISH FETE DAYS IN CONSTANTINOPLE.

FROM SUNRISE TO SUNSET WITHOUT A DRINK OR A SMOKE—PECULIARITIES OF THE MOHAMMEDAN'S RELIGION—APPEARANCE OF THE COMMANDER OF THE FAITHFUL—THE SULTAN UPON THE THRONE.

The correspondent of the Manchester Guardian writes: "The Ramazan is over, and to-day all Constantinople is en fête, for it is the first day of the Bairam. The long fast is at an end; everything has been arranged with regard to the past year, the good and evil deeds of all individuals were balanced on the 'kadar guedjessy' (night of power); and so the 'true believers' for to-day and the three following days will give themselves up to enjoyment as far as their apprehensions for the future will allow them. The Ramazan at this season of the year is particularly trying, for the days are long, and to go from sunrise to sunset without either a drink of water or a whiff of tobacco must be no joke to those, who are addicted to the free use of both; and yet all this is borne willingly by the Mohammedans in atonement for their sins, and by way of acquiring the divine protection. As the sun, however, sinks toward the West, how eagerly do the poor Turks watch for the signal which announces the fast for the day is at an end! The cigarette is made, the matches are close at hand, and they but wait for the welcome sound of the sunset gun to light up and puff away as hard as they can to make up for lost time. The quiet of the streets gives place to great animation, for the people are waking up from the sleepy condition in which they have passed the greater portion of the day. Itinerant vendors of provender appear on the scene with all sorts of appetizing things, to meet the demands of the hungry who may not be close to their own homes; and the 'cafejees' bustle about preparing their 'narghilehs' and coffee, knowing well that, the evening meal over, they will have enough to do to supply all the customers who will make their appearance. At such a moment one chooses to pay a visit to a Mussulman friend, he will be found sitting over a small table spread with little dishes, containing choice morsels of food, such as khaviar, cheese, olives, and sweet-meats, upon which to break the fast before commencing the more serious business of the 'iftar,' as the Ramazan evening meal is called. A most cordial reception and an invitation to wait and join in the repast is certain, for hospitality at this season is unbounded, and the tables of high and low, rich and poor, are, as a rule, open, not only to friends, but to all comers. A Turkish dinner to an Englishman is rather an infliction, however, for course follows course in no particular order, and the sweets are mixed up with the stews in such a manner as to destroy all relish for the food. The 'iftar' over and a few cigarettes smoked, the 'true believers', hasten to the mosques, the minarets of which are brilliantly illuminated. Generally between the minarets a device is arranged by suspending lamps at different depths upon lines drawn tightly between them. Sometimes this device is a caique or a gun mounted upon a carriage, but as a rule it is a pious saying of the Prophet or of one of the many Moslem saints or a verse from the Koran. The mosques inside are lighted up by myriads of lamps suspended from the dome and the other parts of the roof, at a few feet above the heads of the worshipers, who stand in long lines in the most reverential of attitudes. The imaum (priest) recites in a sing-song voice the particular chapter of the Koran appropriate to the occasion, and while this is going on the 'true believers' perform the prescribed obeisance to Allah and say the appointed prayers.

Looking down from the gallery of the dome of a large mosque like that of St. Sophia, it is most interesting to watch the Mohammedans at their devotions during a night in Ramazan. As it is not a regular services commencing and ending at certain hours, batches of worshipers drop in and leave at each moment, and thus in the congregation, instead of there being one general movement, there is a motion like that of the waves of the sea, different portions of it rising and falling alternately, according to the stage of the prayers they may have arrived at. Whatever may be alleged of the Turks, it cannot be said that they are ashamed of their creed. To the religious among them it makes little difference where they are or in whose society when prayer-time comes; the carpet is spread at once, and they perform their devotions without thinking for a moment of those who may be looking on. They may thus be seen on the deck of a steamer, in a quiet corner of a café or at the end of a shop. After prayers during the Ramazan the Turks repair to some favorite café either to have a chat with the neighbors or to listen to the tales of the 'kesseghour,' (professional story-teller.) This is the harvest-time for the latter, and if he has a good stock of amusing stories he is sure to fill his purse. Fixing his abode in the most frequented café of some Turkish quarter, the 'kesseghour' holds forth nightly, to the intense enjoyment of a large audience. Some of these fellows are very clever and witty, acting their stories, as it were, by imitating the voices and dialects of the different characters who are introduced in it. Bairam is the grand finale. No sooner do the salvoes of artillery announce that the new moon has been seen than all is excitement and animation. The authorities have to prepare the streets through which his Imperial Majesty is to pass the next morning on his way to and from the mosque, where, as 'Commander of the Faithful,' he will offer sacrifice and perform divine service; and officers and functionaries of all grades, as well as their servants, are rushing about making the necessary arrangements for accompanying the Sultan. Long before daylight the troops march over to Stamboul to line the streets, and there is a general assembly at the old palace of Seraglio Point of all the Turkish official world, the Ministers and pashas on horseback and the beys on foot. The dawn is saluted with salvos of artillery from all quarters, and shortly afterward, the 'Gates of Felicity' being thrown open, his Imperial Majesty, who, according to custom, has spent the night in the old palace, appears on horseback surfound by his body-guard. By this time the beys have been arranged in two long lines, and as they catch sight of the Sultan they turn off sharply to the right, walking along on each side as an additional guard of honor. In the open space outside the grounds of the palace the Ministers and other high functionaries, the Generals, and Admirals, &c., receive their monarch with low salaams expressive of humility, and then ride off in procession. As usual, all the public schools are placed in line to salute the Sultan; and with loud cries of 'Padisha ychokasha' from all sides, the music of military bands, and a salute from a field battery, his Imperial Majesty rides onward to the mosque. Needless to say, the streets are crowded with spectators, Turkish ladies being in the majority.

After returning from the mosque, the Sultan remains for a short time at the old palace, and then proceeds in the state caique to Dolmabagtche in order to receive, according to custom, the homage of his officers, civil and military. Formerly this ceremony took place in the grounds of the Seraglio Palace, and the public were admitted to witness the interesting sight; but for several years past the levee, as it may called, is held in the great hall of the Palace of Dolmabagtche, and no one but those actually taking a part in it are admitted. The ceremony itself reminds one strongly of what has been said about the Turks as being merely encamped in Europe. It is the leader of the tribes, as it were, sitting at the door of his tent receiving the homage of the subordinate chiefs. A magnificent crimson carpet, every portion of it covered with thick gold embroidery, is laid down, and on it is placed the imperial throne, which is a very ugly affair, being merely a rude sort of bench covered with plates of gold. The Sultan takes his seat upon the throne, and by its side, holding in his hand a band attached to it, said to contain a portion of the Prophet's beard, stands an aide de camp. The Ministers approach one after the other, according to their rank, and, salaaming to the Sultan at the edge of the carpet, advance and take hold of the fringed tassel at the edge of the band in the hand of the aide de camp. This tassel is placed reverently to the lips and forehead, and then, with another salaam, the official retires to give place to the next. After the Ministers have passed, come the Pashas and Beys, and when these, too, have kissed the tassel, it is the turn of the civil functionaries. First among these is the Sheik-ul-Islam, and he, venerable from age and the wisdom necessarily appertaining to the possession of such a high office, requires to be supported on either side by minor officials. Up to the present, according to etiquette, the Sultan has remained seated on his throne, but as the Sheik-ul-Islam advances he rises to receive him, and when the latter falls at his feet his Imperial Majesty assists him to rise again. Having salaamed his sovereign, the Sheik-ul-Islam then takes his place with the other Ministers, while the members of the Ulema pass round one after the other. When all present have thus in turn rendered homage to the Sultan, the Sheik-ul-Islam invokes a blessing upon the Sultan and the ceremony is over. In the afternoon the official world rush about paying visits, congratulating and complimenting all in power or who they think might be useful to them. This also will be the course for the next three days, so that all public business will be neglected until Bairam is over. This period of the Mussulman year for Mohammedan children corresponds with Christmas time for ours. This is the great occasion for new clothes, presents of all sorts, and sight-seeing. Servants, too, come in for a share of the good things, and altogether for the "true believer" it is rather a jolly time."

THE CIRCULATION OF THE BLOOD.

The correspondent of the London News telegraphs Oct. 30 as follows: "To-day, in the library of the University, the Minister of Public Instruction presided at the ceremony of unveiling the bust of Andrea Cesalpino, as the discoverer of the circulation of the blood. There was a large audience, including many ladies. The proceedings opened with a eulogy on Cesalpino by Dr. Scalzi, Professor of Materia Medica. He analyzed the competing claims to the discovery of the circulation of the blood, and gave the palm to Cesalpino. He also dwelt upon Cesalpino's transcendent merits as a botanist, mineralogist, and master of inductive research, and referred to his beautiful moral character. Dr. Scalzi concluded by commending Cesalpino as an example to the assembled students. Prof. Maggiorani, Dean of the Medical Faculty, followed with an eloquent vindication of Cesalpino for his rigid observance of the principles of scientific investigation. The whole assemblage afterward withdrew to the grand staircase, at the foot of which was unveiled a marble bust of Cesalpino, surmounting a tablet with the following inscription in Latin: 'To Andrea Cesalpino, of Arezzo, illustrious physician, consummate interpreter of nature, because he anticipated all others in discovering and demonstrating the circulation of the blood; because he was the first to classify the vegetable kingdom; because he facilitated the solution of many scientific problems; because he expounded the universal doctrine of disease in the seat of learning, the Medical Faculty and Council of University erected this memorial, Oct. 30, 1876.'"

AN EGYPTIAN FAIR.

THE "EXPOSITION" AT TANTAH—CHARACTER AND CUSTOMS OF MODERN EGYPTIANS.

A correspondent of the London Standard writes: "The nominal object of these gatherings is to do honor to the memory of Seyyid Ahmett el Badawee, a pious sheik, renowned for his strength and prowess, who died some six hundred years ago and to whose tomb pilgrimages are made from all parts of Egypt. Peculiar sanctity attaches to the spot, which is supposed to possess, among other virtues, certain miraculous powers in regard to those whose maternal expectations have been disappointed, and it is for this reason frequented by numbers of Arab women. The country for miles distant from Tantah presented on the occasion of our visit much the appearance of the road to Epsom on a Derby day, with the advantage of being much more picturesque. Although it was late in the afternoon endless streams of people were to be seen all wending their way toward the tall minarets which indicate the presence of the town of Tantah. Here one came across a string of at least a dozen gayly-decked camels with bells jingling along the banks of the canal, each with a load of Arab women apparently bent upon enjoying themselves to the fullest extent. Next came a big, grey-bearded, white turbaned sheik, ambling onward upon a donkey ridiculously out of proportion, but which, nevertheless, managed to keep his place in the procession. He was followed by a good specimen of the Egyptian women of the middle class, wrapped in several yards of black silk, and riding astride of a large and well-kept mule. She evidently regarded our party of unbelievers with pious horror, and drew her 'yashmack' more closely around her as we passed. Afterward came water-buffaloes, ungainly but good-tempered beasts, carrying a considerable portion, if not the whole of their owner's families on their backs. Every now and then some well-to-do native cantered past on a handsome Arab horse, and looked with contempt on the humbler means of locomotion adopted by his poorer brethren. But by far the greater number of people were on foot; the women closely veiled, walking together, each with at least one dusky cherub riding astride on her shoulders. Every one's face beams with good humor, and it is clear that for this day at least the poor oppressed 'fellah' has determined to forget his troubles. After a while we quit the city, and get out in the suburbs, where to all appearance an immense army is bivouacking. Here, where we are refreshed by a cool breeze which rustles among the palm trees, a variety of curious sights present themselves. In one corner Ibrahim or Mehemet is displaying his skill as a 'hawy,' or juggler, by the light of a petroleum lamp, to a crowd of admirers. In another, Hassan, seated cross-legged on the ground, is relating stories to an audience that by the tokens of approbation they give appear to find them of a most diverting character. Next we come across refreshment booths, on the benches of which are squatted for hours together Arabs of the better class, smoking and drinking coffee, as if that were the aim and end of their existence. Among the entertainments provided, the chief is, of course, that of the 'Ghawazeels,' or dancing girls. Their performance takes place in big oblong tents, open to every one, and provided with divans round the sides for the accommodation of the spectators. In most of the tents there are two of those girls, who are said to belong to a distinct tribe, and who usually dance during the whole night. They are all young, and generally pretty, with tawny complexion and magnificent eyes, the effect of which is heightened by the application of 'kohl,' and they have besides remarkably small hands and feet. The dress consists of a shirt with wide sleeves, open in front, with a short skirt and continuations. They all have ornaments—mostly made of gold coin strung together—around their necks and wrists, and have often a large ring of the same material through the nose and others in their ears. The dancing, which goes on to the sound of very monotonous Arab music, is always the same, and chiefly consists of a rapid vibratory motion of the hips from side to side, while the body is kept perfectly motionless. This is followed by more demonstrative movements, which must be seen to be appreciated. An occasional subscription of a piastre (two and a half pence) a head suffices to defray the cost of the entertainment. Besides the Ghawazeels, there are great numbers of other women who visit the fair in the hope of obtaining husbands and for various purposes, and these usually live apart in tents by themselves, and throw aside much of the restraint commonly observed by Egyptian women in regard to the other sex."

WAR RUMORS BY PUNCH.

From London Punch.

The Prime Minister is in hourly communication with all the Cabinets of Europe. He has speaking-tubes put up between his official residence and the country seats of all his colleagues. He never sleeps, and devotes his few moments of leisure to a hasty perusal of Sir Garnet Wolseley's Soldier's Pocket-book. His private secretary is going through a course of instruction at Woolwich and Aldershott simultaneously, so that he may be prepared for the worst. The Directors of the Penny Steam-boat Companies have been requested to immediately forward to the War Office a list of their vessels, with a view to the transport of twenty-two cavalry regiments from Colchester to Egypt. The Duke of Cambridge has caused a special captive balloon to be kept suspended over the War Office night and day, so that his Royal Highness may have the means within reach of proceeding at once to Gibraltar. The bathing-machines at Herne Bay have received a fresh coat of paint, and are now on their war footing; 18,000 London cab horses have been purchased by the Government for immediate service in the First and Second Life Guards. Sub-Lieutenant Jones, of the Royal West Somersetshire Militia, has been made Lieutenant, and will soon leave England for Ireland. A plan of St. Petersburg has been constructed at the offices of the Royal Geographical Society, has been amended by the Board of Inland Revenue, countersigned by the Treasury, submitted to the Admiralty, and consigned to the model-room of the War Office where it will remain until required on active service. Lists of the strength of our fleets, armies, new military and naval inventions, torpedoes, &c., with explanatory descriptions and diagrams, have been furnished by the War Office and Admiralty to the editors of all the British, Colonial, and Continental newspapers. The Directors of the Metropolitan District Railway have been warned that their line may be required by the Government for the next two months for the transport of troops between Sloane square and the Temple. The Westminster Aquarium, Alexandra Palace, and Mme. Tussaud's, in certain emergencies, are likely to be converted into hospitals. The Beefeaters are to be immediately armed with Gatling guns. All the broken windows in the Tower of London are to be mended. The sentries at the doors of Drury-lane Theatre are to be doubled until further notice. All the Australian meat in the kingdom has been ordered to be purchased by the Government, with a view to supplying the messes of the Household Cavalry and Infantry with food while their respective regiments are on their line of march. The shares of the Chelsea Bun Company (Limited) have fallen ½ to ⅜. The bears at the Zoological Gardens, Regent's Park, have been desired to consider themselves "under arrest." Mr. John Bright has recently been appointed a sergeant in the Volunteer Corps lately raised at the instigation of Sir Thomas Chambers, Q. C., the Common Sergeant. The Lord Mayor's trumpeters have been armed with new bugles; the Swordbearer has had his weapon sharpened; and the Common Crier has ordered his mace to be loaded with lead. The corps of Ancient Men in Armor is being reorganized. Buckingham Palace, Temple Bar, the Duke of York's Column, and the Marble Arch are immediately to be supplied with eighty-one-ton guns. And lastly, Mr. Punch has given Toby instructions to hold No. 85 Fleet street to the bitter end—with a pop-gun!

TOO MANY WIVES—HELD FOR BIGAMY.

Samuel C. Salmons, aged twenty-four years, who gave his residence as Middletown, N. Y., and his business as a newsdealer, was arraigned yesterday at the Tombs Police Court on the charge of bigamy, the plaintiff being Caroline Watts, of Flatlands, Kings County. It appeared from her affidavit that she first met Salmons in Brooklyn in 1875; that on June 23 of that year he proposed marriage, and that she accepted the offer, the ceremony being performed the same day. She could not state the exact place where the marriage was performed, but, relying on Salmons' honor, she came to New-York, where a supposed clergyman read the service and pronounced them man and wife. In November, 1875, she received a letter signed "Charlotte Salmons," the writer claiming to be the lawful wife of Salmons, and stating that though she would not live with him, she was determined to be recognized as lawfully wedded. When this letter was shown to Salmons he admitted the fact, and without further explanation left the house, and the two have not lived together since. A criminal suit was threatened, however, when Salmons agreed to pay her $5 weekly during her life, and the offer being accepted, he went to Middletown and engaged in business as a newsdealer. Here another charge of bigamy was made against him by a third woman, named Jane Verry, who claimed that she was married to Salmons between June 6, 1869, the date of his first marriage, and June 23, 1875, the date of his reputed marriage to Caroline Watts. This suit was also compromised. The prisoner claims that the whole affair is a conspiracy, and that it is instigated by a man named Jake Barnett, who is jealous of him. Justice Duffy held the prisoner in $2,000 bail for further examination.

CITY AND SUBURBAN NEWS.

NEW-YORK.

The Post Office deposits for the past week amounted to $46,900.

The arrests by the Police during the past week numbered 1,718.

The taxes received last week amounted to $716,306 36, and the Croton rents to $6,329 80.

William Kent assigned his property, for the benefit of creditors, to John C. Cutter yesterday.

Revival services will be conducted to-night by Mrs. Maggie Van Cott, at the Eleventh Street M. E. Church, between Avenues A and B.

Five foreign-bound steam-ships sailing yesterday carried out mails consisting of 45,583 letters, 607 registered letters, and 90 bags of papers.

The body of an unknown man was found yesterday floating in the North River, at Pier No. 53, and was removed to the Morgue for identification.

Mr. Smith Ely, Jr., the Mayor elect, has been run down by office-seekers. He has already received hundreds of applications for the places in his gift—about thirty in number.

Richard Chamwell, aged twenty-five, of No. 213 West Houston street, fell through a hatchway at Shook & Everard's brewery, No. 675 Washington street, yesterday, and was seriously injured.

There were reported at the Bureau of Vital Statistics during the past week 413 deaths, 379 births, and 142 marriages, showing a decrease of 19 deaths, 92 births, and 28 marriages as compared with the preceding week.

John A. Gillespie, aged thirty-two, of No. 113 Washington street, attempted to commit suicide yesterday by stabbing himself in the left breast with a dirk-knife, inflicting a serious wound. He was cared for at the Chambers Street Hospital.

The Italian bark Carina, now at anchor off the Battery, was run into at sea and badly damaged by an American schooner, the name of which is unknown. The Carna has a cargo for S. L. Merchant & Co., consigned to J. C. Seager, No. 17 South William street.

A verdict of accidental drowning was rendered yesterday by the Coroner's jury in the case of Mr. Phillip Oltman, whose body was found in the East River a week ago. The evidence showed that Mr. Oltman was last seen by his friends on the night of Oct. 21, in Essex street.

A bazaar will be opened at No. 113 East Fortieth street, on the 15th instant, and remain open for three days. Refreshments will be provided, and there will be an entertainment for children. The proceeds are to aid the mission and sewing schools of the neighborhood.

The ladies of the West-side Relief Association will open a fair at the Academy of Music on Dec. 11, the proceeds of which are to be used in caring for a large number of sick and destitute children of the City. Gifts for the fair are solicited from the charitable, which may be sent to Mr. H. Bergh, Twenty-seventh street and Fourth avenue, and Mr. H. King, Chairman of thea ssociation.

BROOKLYN.

During the past week the Police made 410 arrests.

The calendars of the civil and criminal courts of Kings County for the Fall and Winter terms are unusually crowded.

On Tuesday next at noon the Board of County Canvassers meet at the County Clerk's office, in the Court-house, to canvass the electoral, State, and county tickets.

A Centennial festival and fair for the benefit of the Brooklyn Orphan Asylum will open next Wednesday at the Academy of Music. It will continue for three days.

The foundation stone of the proposed new municipal building was laid yesterday, in the presence of John French, Esq., President of the Board of Aldermen, and a number of citizens.

The Jail Committee of the Board of Supervisors met yesterday and appointed a sub-committee of three to appraise the land between the City Hospital and the present jail, upon which it is proposed to erect a new and more commodious prison.

Thomas Wilson, who claims to be a steam-boat pilot, residing at No. 443 West Thirteenth street, was arrested yesterday by Roundsman Pellett, of the Steam-boat Squad, charged with having attempted to swindle Arthur Edwards, a discharged soldier, out of $3 by the confidence game. He was locked up at the Central Office.

Thomas S. Grimwood, who boards at No. 9 Montague Terrace, complained at Police Head-quarters yesterday that $134 worth of jewelry and clothing had been stolen from his room. It is supposed that the theft was committed by a man who, on the pretense that he wished to secure board at the house, was shown through all its rooms.

A body identified as that of Thomas McCormick, a laborer of No. 79 Van Brunt street, was found floating in the Wallabout Canal yesterday. Another body not yet identified was found in the water near the Atlantic dock. The deceased was about twenty-five years of age, five feet six inches in height, and had light hair and mustache. It was sent to the Morgue.

The most careful unofficial canvass of the returns elects Walter L. Livingston, the Republican and Independent Democratic candidate, Surrogate of Kings County by twenty-five votes, over Abram H. Dailey, the regular Democratic candidate. The office is claimed by both parties, and until the vote is counted by the Board of Supervisors the result cannot be definitely known.

In the City Court, before Judge Neelson, yesterday, Mrs. Anna Frouse, against whom a decree of absolute divorce was issued some time ago, moved, through her counsel, to set aside the decree on the ground that she had not been served in the suit brought by her husband with a summons and complaint. The Court took the papers and reserved its decision.

About 7:30 o'clock last evening, a pistol shot was fired through the second-story window of the residence of John Blakeney, No. 27 Vestry street. The bullet penetrated through the shutter and the window, and passing over the head of Mrs. Blakeney, who was sitting up in bed, lodged in the wall without doing further damage. No clue to the person who fired the shot was obtained.

NEW-JERSEY.

A recount of the votes cast for Mayor in Elizabeth shows the re-election of Mayor Townley by nine majority.

Oschwald and Ryan, the convicted murderers of Officer Brock, in Newark, will not be sentenced till to-morrow or Tuesday.

Patrick Coyle was yesterday arrested in Newark on a charge of false registration. He registered in Orange, but subsequently voted in the Seventh Ward of Newark, where he resided.

Gov. Bedle states that the pressure of State business will preclude his acceptance of the invitation to visit Louisiana and witness the count of votes while being made by the Returning board of that State.

The Mercer County canvassers, yesterday, gave the commission as member from the Third Assembly District, of the New-Jersey Legislature, to Powers, the Democratic nominee. The House will stand thirty to thirty.

Two children of John Sisco, a colored man, living on Lester avenue, Newark, ate some stramonium seeds, which they had gathered, a few days ago, and were soon afterward attacked by symptoms of poisoning. One has since died, and the other is in a critical condition.

George P. Kinne, of Newark, who had fled to escape trial on an indictment, charging him with having stolen $750 in notes from Amos Pierson, was rearrested in Rockland County, N. Y., yesterday, and, under requisition from Gov. Bedle, lodged in the Newark City Prison.

Isaac Emmons was arrested in Pine Brook yesterday, charged with having defrauded Messrs. McDemcote & Looher out of $550. He purchased furniture from them to that amount, and, on the alleged representation that he owned a farm in Pine Brook, induced the firm to accept his notes in payment. He was admitted to $1,000 bail.

ARRIVALS AT THE HOTELS.

Samuel L. Clemens ("Mark Twain") is at the St. James Hotel.

Judge E. H. Durell, of New-Hampshire, is at the Brevoort House.

Sir Charles D. Crosly, of England, is at the Grand Central Hotel.

Hon. Charles Francis Adams and family, of Massachusetts, are at the Windsor Hotel.

Manuel R. Garcia, Argentine Minister at Washington, is at the Albemarle Hotel.

Congressman Josiah G. Abbott and Frederick O. Prince, of Boston, are at the Clarendon Hotel.

David Chadwick, M. P., of England, and J. H. Devereux, of Cleveland, are at the St. Nicholas Hotel.

Senator W. W. Eaton, and Gen. W. B. Franklin, of Hartford; Senator Thomas F. Bayard, of Delaware; Gen. J. R. Anderson, of Richmond, and Prof. John Forsyth, of West-point, are at the New-York Hotel.

Gen. N. P. Banks, of Massachusetts; Congressman J. H. Burleigh, of Maine; Rear Admiral E. G. Parrott, United States Navy; ex-Congressman J. M. Marvin, of Saratoga, and ex-Gov. William Gilpin, of Saratoga, are at the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

CURRENT LITERATURE.

POSSIBILITIES.

"On the earth the broken arcs, in the heaven a perfect round." —R. Browning's Abt Vogler.

"What are we all but a mood,
A single mood of the life
Of the Being in whom we exist,
Who alone is all things in one?" —M. Arnold.

When man at length his ideal height hath gained,
So that the heavenly kingdom is attained,
Will there be any room for tears and pain,
For dim gray twilights, sobbing wind, and rain,
Mist, wreaths, and flying clouds, the thunder's roar,
Or the sea breaking on a lonely shore,
With all the yearnings these things shadow forth?
Is the pathetic minor but for earth,
And will the heavens resound with joy alone,
Though sadness often makes a deeper tone?
Must all of life fall off that cannot show
Some fruit that did to full perfection grow?
The tottering steps, the pause, even the fall,
Will not eternal life have time for all;
And in the circle of Infinity
Must not all moods of life unfolded lie,
But all complete—the weak within the strong,
And the one verse become a perfect song;
The bud, the blossom, the fruit-laden bough,
Seen by the light of the eternal now?
May not all discords to one concord lead—
Whose every missing note would leave a need
Deep, unimagined as a world untrod—
An infinite harmony whose name is God?
—Spectator.

A DREAM-LOVE.

I.

THROUGH THE IVORY GATE.

On the night of the fifth of September, exactly ten years ago, I had a dream which changed the current of my life. And yet, as will be seen, it was not a very striking one—indeed it might be called in a measure commonplace; but nevertheless it stamped itself upon my memory in the strangest fashion, and a face I saw in it has, from that time to this, been the one star of my life.

I saw a smooth sea of deep blue, with white cliffs in the far distance, and whiter gulls winging their way above it, a trail of smoke from a passing steamer in the sky, and boats and cordage on the beach where the fishermen plied their business. And I walked by that dream-land sea in company with a woman, whose face, seen with unusual distinctness—much plainer than any other face I had ever seen in a dream—filled me with unutterable longing and love, such as I had never felt before. No need, you may say, to attach much importance to this. Many men have been smitten, as the phrase is, with faces seen in dreams, but they have passed away and been forgotten—fair visions through the gate of ivory which fade before the light of morning.

This dream-face did not pass away. I found myself remembering its lineaments and pondering over them; and as a natural consequence I dreamed of it again and again. Days, and even weeks, would pass sometimes; but it was sure to recur to me sooner or later, and the infatuation and love for it grew upon me to such an extent that I became pale and worn, and my friends were anxious about my health. The oftener I saw it, with its sweet stateliness, soft clusters of hair, and eyes that thrilled me through and through, the more frantic I became with hopeless and consuming love. I had told no one—I was ashamed to tell any one—and while I tried to reason with myself against what was becoming a species of mania, and at times had thoroughly convinced myself of my insane folly, the dream would come again, and I was more madly in love than ever.

I have said my friends became anxious. I was an only son, and therefore considerably over-estimated by my parents, especially by my mother. My father, a wealthy contractor, was very anxious I should spend plenty of money in good society, and expected that one day I should make a marriage which would increase the glory of the family. Noticing that I was "moping," as he called it, he advised me to go abroad and amuse myself. But although very fond of the Continent, I had a strange disinclination to go there, and persisted in remaining at home. And I nursed my foolish fancy so wildly just at the time that I fell into a strange nervous condition, causing me to feel mentally as if I was in a sort of clairvoyant state, making me at the same time really physically ill.

My mother noticed it, and, being in London, insisted that I should go and see a famous physician. I knew he had nothing in his pharmacopœia that would suit my malady; but thinking I should only be sounded and looked at in the ordinary way, and receive a prescription for a harmless tonic, and also wishing to allay maternal apprehensions, I went to Dr. ——. It is at his own desire that I suppress his name.

Now, as you may imagine, I had not the slightest intention of making a confidant of the doctor. It never entered my thoughts that I could tell any one about my dream; but I went to a man of rare psychological knowledge, and with this result: I was ushered into the doctor's room, and, in reply to his first question as to my ailment, I said I had felt a little nervous, and so forth, but that I should not have come to him except at my mother's earnest request. He nodded, and then made a careful examination of me, sounded me, and then said:

"Sound in wind and limb. Have you told me everything?"

"Yes," I said. "It is just as I thought; there is nothing the matter with me."

"Don't be in such a hurry," he replied. "I said wind and limb—did you ever hear of an organ called the brain?"

I started, and the blood rushed to my face. Was he going to tell me I was mad; and if pressed, as this sharp-faced man might press me, was I to confess to my dream-face? Dr. —— soon put an end to my hesitation, for he came to the point at once. In reply to his question, I said:

"Certainly; I am conscious I have a brain."

"And that brain may be out of order," he said.

"Of that I am not conscious," I answered.

"But you have sometimes suspected it."

This was a facer, and I hesitated.

He continued, "Mr. Frewen, are you a dreamer of dreams?"

It had come at last. I gasped and half rose from my chair—things which of course he noted.

"Really"—I said.

"Stop," he returned. "I know I am right; but unless you are going to tell me everything, don't speak at all. You will be wasting my time and your own, and mine is valuable."

While he was speaking, I had taken my resolution. I remembered that the confidences of the consulting-room are as sacred as those of the confessional; and I told him all. He listened with the air of a man who had heard the story before, and then he asked me whether I was capable, if I tried honestly, of banishing the face from my waking thoughts. I replied that I thought I could; and he then said:

"Go away for a month, and then come and tell me how you are."

I left him and made the effort, and though I succeeded in banishing all memory of my love, her face came to me every night.

I returned, and duly reported myself to the doctor. Before doing this, however, I must note that I had confided my trouble to my mother; and she having put my father in possession of some of the facts of my case, he was at once indignant and contemptuous, and I believe he thought I was really going mad.

Imagine, then, the consternation produced by the advice Dr. —— gave when I went to him a second time. He listened to my report of myself, and then said:

"The dream of this woman's face is driving you mad. Go and find her."

Find her! What did the doctor mean? In all my thoughts of the face of my dreams I had never pictured it as by any remote possibility existing. The idea seemed to take possession of me like new life. Was it possible, or was the doctor only suggesting it as a means of amusing a poor crazy fellow by humoring his delusion? But at any rate I would go. I had made up my mind to that, though it was not so easy to say where.

"You are in earnest?" I said to Dr. ——.

"I am. I never joke on such subjects."

"Where shall I go?"

"Nay, I cannot tell you that. Try and realize the locality indicated in your dream."

"Shall I find her?" I said.

He hesitated for the first time.

"There is a theory," he said—"mind, I do not commit myself by saying my theory—that people whose spirits have met in this world rarely go through the whole of life without being near each other in the flesh, though it is possible that one or both may be unconscious."

"I shall go," I said.

"Yes, of course you will;" and Dr. —— shook hands with me and bowed me out.

I pass over the despair of my mother and the rage and indignation of my father, who abused the doctor roundly for sending me on a madman's errand, as he called it. His position was perfectly justifiable. I could put myself in his place and thoroughly understand what a practical, prosaic man of business would think of my errand. But then he had not seen her.

I left home to find her.

II.

A MAD ERRAND.

While my proposed plan was in the highest degree distasteful to my family and friends, the commencement of my search was by no means satisfactory to myself. It is all very well to make up your mind to find out a woman you have seen only in dreams; while many of my readers may think that such a case demanded a strait waistcoat; but it is not so easy to know how to make a start. The world was all before me, but where was I to go?

I recurred naturally to the doctor's parting words. He had not laughed at me; he had humored me, whether with any belief in the dream or merely to give me something to occupy my mind, I could hardly tell; at any rate his words had impressed me. He had said, "Try and realize the locality indicated in your dreams." Even that was not easy. But at any rate it was some place by the sea. So I need not trouble myself about inland towns and villages. It had a look too, I thought, of a foreign watering place; so I decided to make for the Continent, and then wander slowly through the principal places on the French seaboard.

I dreamed of the face of which I was in search the night before I left England; and I don't know whether I was feeling rather out of spirits myself, but it was undeniable that, as far as I could judge, it looked somewhat sadly and reproachfully at me. But I had become so full of fancies regarding it, that I was afraid to trust myself to draw conclusions, and I dismissed the idea from my memory, and crossed the Channel.

I had not been more than a few days in France when I became conscious of a curious change. I had been to one little village on the coast, and was going on to another, when I remembered that during the whole time I had not had one dream, that is to say, not one in which I saw her face. It was strange; for although the visitations were by no means continuous, still an unusually long time had passed—that too just when I was thinking more of her than ever, and scanning each face I met with painful curiosity. The fact, therefore, made me rather uneasy; and I was eager for the night to come to see how I should fare. Again there was no special dream, though my thoughts were so full of her that I don't know how I could have avoided a dream filled with her presence under ordinary circumstances. I am aware that some people hold that you do not dream of what you have thought much of during the day, but rather of things only brought incidentally under your notice; but such has never been my experience. I can almost pass from waking to sleeping and carry on the same train of thought, though of course it is most fantastically changed in my dream.

Night after night passed, and still she never came. Full as my waking thoughts were of her, she seemed to have withdrawn herself from me; and uneasy as I had been at the first recurrent appearances, I now became still more so when they ceased to exist. Was there ever any one so unreasonable? I argued with myself; I had long wanted to cure myself of what most people would call a pure delusion; and yet now, when I found it disappearing, I was angry and annoyed at it. But still I would continue my search at intervals, and I settled to stay four months in France at any rate before I returned home and announced my cure.

"My cure"—yes, that was what they would call it, when in truth I was far more worn and miserable now than at any time previously. I believe indeed that at this period I was in danger of acute mental derangement, for I caught myself wondering what there was on the other side of this life, that men should be loath to leave it. The blue sea seemed tempting, and I often thought that if this mad passion for a shadow was to mar my life, it would be better to sleep in one of the little church-yards on the coast where the voice of the ever-lasting sea would sing my requiem.

The whole of the time I was in France I was miserable, and in no single dream, though as usual I had many, did my familiar visitant appear. My search grew listless, and I felt myself becoming infinitely worse as regards my nervous system than I was before I left England. From what I have learned of it since, I am convinced I was settling down into confirmed melancholia; and I cannot think of that period even now without a shudder at the recollection.

At last, finding myself at Dieppe, I suddenly determined to return home, and took the steamer which was just starting for Newhaven, lest my will to go should change. Never before within my remembrance had I been so glad to return to England. Never did the white cliffs look fairer to me, and the rolling downs of Sussex seemed like old friends. Immediately on arriving I went up to London, and on reaching the station I drove straight off to Dr. ——.

He was at home, and received me with cordiality.

"Well, doctor," I said. "I have come to report myself cured."

"Cured!" he answered, looking at me scrutinizingly. "You don't look like it. Of what are you cured?"

"I have had no dreams; that is to say, none of that particular dream since I left England."

"Ah, none in France at all," he said.

"Exactly."

"Any since you returned?"

"I only arrived to-day, and have not yet slept in England."

"Just so," he said, nodding thoughtfully; and then he abruptly asked some question regarding my general health, wrote me a prescription, and seeing that he was determined to say no more, I left him.

As I drove away to a hotel, for my people were out of town, I thought of my answer to the doctor's question, viz., that I had not slept in England since I returned, and the way in which he had received it. Was it possible riage drives up, father, it seems, gets out and hands out the ladies—mother first and then the daughter. The moment the younger lady steps out she looks up, then she starts back, and falls in a dead faint on the carriage-steps. She looked as if she had seen a ghost, they say; I wonder what was up? Egad, old man, she must have caught sight of your wo-begone face, and turned faint at the idea of dancing with such a scarecrow."

I listened idly and said: "No, I don't think she could have seen me;" forgetting, be it observed, that the moonlight shone full on my face, and that the glare of the gaslight streamed out of the room.

I attached no importance to the incident, though the reader will possibly wonder at it. I felt nothing unusual, only perhaps a little sadder and more uneasy; and the face of my dream-love looked sad, too, when she came in my sleep, and paler, I thought, than it was wont to look of old.

But no revelation came to me; and a month afterward, when I returned to London, it would have required an effort of memory to recall the fact that at the Rockford ball a young lady arriving had "started as if she had seen a ghost," and fallen fainting into her father's arms. Had I then given up the search that here in England the vision would return? I thought the matter out carefully, as far as one can think a subject out which is purely surmise; and having settled in my own mind that being at home would make no difference, I dined with a friend at his club, and spent a pleasanter evening than I had known for some months past.

Night came; and before I went to rest I thought as I always did of my dream-visitant, but with the hopeless feeling I had lately had in France, and not expecting any change. Indeed I had wellnigh made up my mind that she had departed for ever, and I went to sleep with a sigh at the remembrance.

The reader will have anticipated what happened. That night, the very first I had spent in England, she came to me again; and owing, I suppose, to the rarity of the vision, she seemed to have gained new loveliness during the time she had ceased to bless my sleep. Never, I fancied, not even when she first appeared to me, had her face come with greater distinctness; and I woke in the morning with a more vivid memory of it than ever. Had I possessed the artistic faculty, I believe that on the morning after that dream I could have painted her so as to be readily recognizable by any one who knew her if she had any real existence. It is impossible to tell the length of dreams, for so much seems to happen in them in a very short space of time; but as far as I could judge, the dream on this occasion lasted an unusual length of time, and in fact seemed hardly ever to leave me during the night.

My first feeling in the morning was one of delight. I had yearned for her coming, and now she had visited me again, and yet, such is the inconstancy of human nature, I felt at the same time alarmed and startled at her reappearance. It seemed so strange that all the time I had been in France I had no vision of her, and now, the moment I set foot in England again, she reappeared. I had no difficulty in deciding what I should do. I would commence the search again, this time in England. The omen was too plain, I thought, to be disregarded; but before I went away I must wait in town to see my father and mother, who were expected, as I learned, in two days' time.

I had the same dream next night. On the day after my father arrived; and I told him as vaguely as I could do, consistently with truth, what had occurred and what I proposed for myself.

My father looked very grave, and (it was at dessert) played with his wine-glass, seemingly in a great state of bewilderment. At last he said:

"You knew my opinion of all this business, Frank, when you left home, and it is not changed. But it is much stronger, seeing that I have found a young lady who would be a capital match for you, and whom I am most anxious you should marry. If I am any judge, and I was not a bad one when I married your mother, the lady I propose is beautiful—"

"Stop, father," I cried. "I implore you not to continue the subject now; give me a little more time, and I will do anything you wish."

My father caught at the suggestion of a certain length of time and the chance of my capitulation, and said:

"So be it; go away, say for a year more, and then, if you have not found this shadowy creature, you shall come back and marry the girl I have chosen." And he added, more to himself than to me, "Hang me, if I think she'll have such a maniac!"

"Very well," I said, anxious to close the conversation, "I agree. I shall go away to-night, and come back here this day twelvemonth."

"Off with you," said my father; "I don't want to keep you; and discussing this subject has quite spoiled my claret. Pass the olives, and ring the bell for another bottle as you go out; and good-bye to you."

With this characteristic benediction I departed, and once more went forth on my travels to find the lady of my dreams.

III.

SEEN AT THE WINDOW.

Before starting, however, I called upon Dr. ——, and told him how the dream had come back, and that I was once more going in search of my shadow. He listened as quietly as before, manifested no astonishment at the recurrence of my dream, and said:

"I am afraid I have incurred a grave responsibility in sending you away, Mr. Frewen; but since you have been guided by me in this matter, may I ask you to take my advice once more?"

"Certainly," I replied; "but you are not going to stop me?"

"No, I am not going to stop you; but I want you, now that you are starting again, not to wander alone more than you can help. Prosecute this search by all means, but see as much society as you can; and I must add my entire concurrence with your father's proposal. On your return, marry if possible; it is the only thing that will cure you."

"May I ask you again, as I did before, Doctor, what do you think are my chances of success? What does all this mean?"

"That is easier to ask than to answer. One reading of it would be as follows: You are exercising involuntarily a strong influence over some person unknown to you. What has been called odic force may in rare cases act in this way. Whether the person you influence has any definite knowledge of the impress on your mind, it is impossible to say. She may or she may not. This explanation, you observe, postulates her existence in real life. If, on the other hand, she exists only in your dreams, then it must be looked upon merely as a dream, recurring in this way because your mind during your waking hours dwells upon it with such persistence."

"But I never dreamed of her in France, and yet she was hardly ever out of my thoughts."

"I can tell you no more. 'There are more things in heaven and earth, Horatio—' You can finish the quotation for yourself."

So once more I started on my search and now, instead of having the light of her face withdrawn, it was with me day and night. Most distinct in dreams, but still ever with me to cheer me and to uphold me during my wanderings.

And yet even with that solace it was weary work, and it was with a heart very little attuned to them that I obeyed the doctor's instructions, and went out into such society as I could command in places where I was very often an entire stranger. Every female figure in the faintest degree attractive raised my hopes only to disappoint me, and I journeyed from place to place till I realized the truth of the lines:

"Day and night my toils redouble,
Never nearer to the goal;
Night and day I feel the trouble
Of the wanderer in my soul."

I also, as was to be expected, became more and more uneasy as the months went by and the time drew near when, in fulfillment of my promise to my father, I must go home, and instead of indulging in a mad chase after a heroine of dreamland, I must settle down with the wife he had chosen for me, if, indeed, the lady would have me. The thought maddened me when I reflected upon what the doctor had said. If haply I was influencing the darling of my dreams, and she too might be conscious of it, how could I prove a traitor to my unknown love?

There was nothing to do, however, but to wander on; and I did so in vain, until within a month of the time when I should have to go back to my father and declare my willingness to obey him.

I was staying at the time for a day or two at a little sea-side town called Rockford, and there meeting a couple of bachelor friends, I consented to go to a ball, which the visitors had arranged, and of which they were stewards. The idea was distasteful to me; but I had promised the doctor, and I should see new faces, so I went to the festivity. Some country people were coming, and I stood leaning listlessly out of an open window watching the arrivals. The moonlight shone across the sea, and beneath me the carriages rolled up to the door, and gay parties alighted at the portico of the hotel where the ball was given.

Suddenly I saw there was some commotion below, and the crowd at the door closed round a carriage which then drove rapidly away, a gentleman apparently mounting the box near the coachman, while the servant, who had occupied the place, hurried off in an opposite direction. Somebody had been taken ill, I supposed, and so it appeared; for when one of my friends came up, he said, "Extraordinary thing, Frewen; a car when the prize was so near? Had she seen me in dreams and recognized me, while no indication of her presence was vouchsafed me?

The reader must form his own conclusions. My mad errand was over. I returned to town to do my father's bidding in any matrimonial speculation he might suggest, and to forget, as I best might, that I ever had a love in dream-land.

IV.

MY MARRIAGE.

My father made no attempt to conceal his satisfaction at my return to him, and, as he was good enough to say, to my senses. Having relieved his feelings by that remark, he made no further reference to my dreams and the chase they had led me. I was treated, indeed, like a returned prodigal, who, after many wanderings, had come back and received forgiveness. Concerning the young lady it was proposed I should marry, neither my father nor mother would tell me anything, but preserved a playful silence, my father assuring me I was so confoundedly romantic that unless she burst upon me all at once, he knew I should never take a fancy to her. I was told, however, that she came of a good family, was young, beautiful, and an heiress, so painfully eligible in all respects that I wonder I did not hate the idea.

It was curious that now, when I considered my doom was fixed, I was by no means so miserable as I had anticipated. I was still dreaming of the one face of my life, and yet I could, it seemed, contemplate a marriage with another woman, not exactly with equanimity, but still without the shudder with which I had thought of it before. I could not explain the feeling to myself, and was foolish enough to be annoyed at it. Now I can understand it; but I had no key to it then.

It appeared that Miss Carnstone—for that was the name of my bride-elect, should she smile on me—had recently been confided to the care of my father and another Trustee on the death of Mr. Carnstone, who had desired the marriage as much as my father, but who also said that Alice declared she would never marry, and he believed she would keep her word.

I had been at home for about a fortnight when my father announced his intention of paying a visit to the young lady, and proposed that I should accompany him and see what impression I could make. I had become very apathetic on the subject, and consented, not even asking until we were seated in the railway-carriage whereabout Carnstone Dene was situated.

"It was near the sea," said my father, "standing back about a mile from the shore on the quietest part of the Sussex coast, overlooking a tiny fishing village." The views from the house were magnificent, and I should be pleased with its surroundings. "I could suggest a few alterations, Frank," he continued, for my father had a mania for landscape gardening; "but there will be time enough for them afterward."

"A place on the coast!" I thought, "and unvisited." It had been, I suppose, too insignificant, or I had missed it because the railway only extended to within eight miles of it. The information brought up a crowd of memories of my wanderings, and as may be imagined her face came with them with maddening distinctness.

We arrived at the nearest town to Carnstone in the evening. It boasted a fairly good hotel, and my father, having a twinge of the gout, determined to rest there for the night and take a carriage to the Dene in the morning. Next day was a beautiful one; and though my father remonstrated at it as being very undignified, I determined to start early and walk over to Carnstone, leaving him to follow in the carriage.

After passing round the base of some undulating downs, and then through some prettily-wooded fields, I came to the shore, and, in obedience to the directions I had received, proceeded along it to Carnstone. Arriving there, I was struck with the beauty of the tiny fishing-village, for it was nothing more; and, at the same time, it seemed, in its main features, strangely familiar to me. I had certainly never been there before, and yet the distant cliffs, the contour of the shore—it flashed across my mind at once—it was the sea-scape of my dream!

The discovery had such an effect upon me that I trembled violently, and had to sit down on the beach to compose myself. The next sensation was one of delight, and then came a cold chill. What if the locality of my dream had its central figure—what if I discovered her while I was hastening to offer love to another! I had not to remain long in suspense. I walked along with my temples throbbing, and the beat of my heart, as it were, audible to me; and I had not gone many paces when, passing the bow of a boat on the beach, I came upon her!

The picture was complete. The vision was realized. There she sat by the sea—the lady of my dreams!

I stood rooted to the spot, gazing at her, in utter forgetfulness of what she must have thought of such a proceeding, and almost on the instant she looked up from the book she was reading, and our eyes met.

I saw at at once with an undefinable thrill that she recognized me!

One wild, scared look, and then, as if possessed by a sudden fear, she turned hastily away, while I stood stupefied; and when I came to my senses she was out of sight.

There was no question of going on to Carnstone Dene now. I turned and went straight back to the hotel, then dispatched an earnest message to my father to return there and see me, as something had happened of the utmost importance.

He came back in the afternoon in one of the Carnstone carriages, and I found him in a great rage—not with me, for he had not heard my story, but with the young lady herself. He was nearly beside himself when I related what had happened to me, and my firm determination to make away with myself rather than marry Miss Carnstone, or any other woman than the lady of my dreams, now that I found out she existed.

"By Jove!" he cried, in a high state of excitement, "have you all gone mad together? I have been talking to Miss Carnstone, and ventured to hint at certain hopes I entertained, when my lady flies out at me, and coolly tells me that she never means to marry at all, and begs I won't distress her by mentioning such a thing."

"Sensible girl," I said; "you can't expect me to press my suit after that."

"It is as well to expect nothing but downright lunacy from you," said my father, still very irate; "but come, we must go back to Carnstone Dene. You and she may be as mad as a couple of March hares, but, at any rate, let us behave like civilized beings, and stay there for a day or two, as was our original intention."

So we drove over to Carnstone Dene.

I was silent during the drive, and my father was evidently too angry to talk to me. In due time we arrived at a fine Elizabethan house, and immediately went up stairs to dress for dinner. I found my way after dressing to the drawing-room by myself, and when I went in there was a lady standing near one of the windows, evidently Miss Carnstone.

She turned. An electric shock ran through me from head to foot. And then—I do not know to this day, nor does my wife, who moved first—we drew near each other, and Alice Carnstone, my predestined bride, the lady of my dreams, was strained to my heart.

The footman who announced dinner ushered in my father, and the old gentleman will not forget till his dying day the shock he experienced when he saw the situation. It was, however, a pleasant solution of all his difficulties, and it was nothing to him that we had loved in dreams.

Alice Carnstone is now my wife. The story of how she felt the impress of my soul is mine alone. Suffice it to say that she had known me much after the same fashion as I had known her, and that it was she who had recognized me at the Rockford ball. Her absence from my dreams during my visit to France we could never explain, for, as the doctor says, the laws governing such impressions are not yet formulated. I need only add that she who came to smile upon me in dreams is now the crowning blessing of my life.

—London Society. H. SAVILE CLARKE.

A CELEBRATED JEWESS.—Rahel Levin is one of those exceptional women who appear once in a century, and whom later generations must accept upon hearsay rather than from her own written remains. She was born in 1771, at Berlin. Her Jewish parentage, too lightly dismissed by Mrs. Jennings, forms in a great measure the keynote to a right comprehension of her character. From early girlhood she felt it "an ignominy—a cause of bitter sorrow—to have been born a Jewess." Though, thanks to the influence of Moses Mendelssohn, the Berlin Jews occupied a tolerable social position, and enjoyed privileges not accorded to the rest of their race in Germany, still in those days Jewish birth was not only a stigma, but a very serious hindrance in life. It deprived men of all State appointments. Professorial chairs were denied to some of the ablest scholars in the world unless they would undergo the rite of baptism, to which ceremony, accordingly, numbers submitted, with statistical results that the present Society for the Conversion of the Jews would be glad to lay before its subscribers. Women felt these restrictions socially; mixed marriages were impossible; the very notion raised repulsion, and some of Rahel's earliest troubles sprang from this source. It was on this account, as a political convenience, not from conviction, that Rahel was baptized—an event left unmentioned by Mrs. Jennings, though it was at her baptism, and not at the Jewish ceremony, that the names Antonie Friedericke were added to the familiar Rahel. Her actual faith was, and had been, the same at all periods of her life, and what Mrs. Jennings naively calls (p. 269) "two characteristics of Christianity—the love of God and the love of her neighbor"—are as much the motive powers in Israel as among the Gentiles. Rahel herself speaks better of her religious rearing: "Nothing was ever taught me," she once wrote. "I grew up in the wild forest of humanity, and heaven took pity on me, and saved me from what was base and untrue. But I could never have been taught religion; I look for that from above." This Jewish exclusiveness, delicate health, and some passionate and unhappy love-affairs, rendered hopeless by her birth, added to want of affinity in her home surroundings, rendered Rahel's youth a period of much sadness. But the Jewish salons were open to her, and they were at that period the focus of intellectual life in Berlin. Rahel became known, loved, and sought after, and was soon able to hold a salon of her own. The period was, perhaps, one of the most interesting of German history, not only for itself, but because it may be regarded as the seedtime whose harvest is the Germany of to-day. It was a period of suppressed ferment. Only in small social gatherings could the oppressed find the relief of speech; there was no public press; there was intense public agitation, and need for expression. Salons, such as we find in France during the seventeenth century, had not hitherto existed in Germany, nor was the country suited to them, for the German mind is not constituted for lightly skirting precipitous gulfs. In Rahel's day, nevertheless, the fashion of aping everything French, even now not defunct, was then at its height, and an attempt was made to institute salons modeled on the Gallic pattern. Of such a gathering Rahel was the life and soul, but spoken words, alas! even if recorded by some faithful pen, can retain but a faint aroma of their origin, lacking the inflexion of voice, the sparkle of eye, the indescribable nothings that give to the same words such different meanings, according to the speaker's idiosyncrasy. This was most emphatically the case with Rahel.—The Athenæum.

THE TRIUMPH OF POPE GREGORY OVER HENRY IV.—It appears that the Germania, the leading organ of Ultramontanism in Germany, deprecates the proposal to celebrate at the beginning of next year the eighth centenary of the triumph of Hildebrand over Henry IV. at Canossa. The warning is sufficiently intelligible. A more inopportune exhibition of Papal enthusiasm could hardly be imagined. Throughout Germany this solemn commemoration of the humiliation of the Kaiser before the Pontiff would be understood as an act of studied defiance to the national sentiment, and even in Italy an ostentatious parade of the assumed supremacy of sacerdotal over regal power might hardly be suffered to pass unchallenged. * * * In 1076 the quarrel between the Pope and the Emperor was coming to a crisis. Henry IV. had ignored the excommunication pronounced by Gregory on his Ministers, and the Pontiff, taking advantage of the disaffection of Henry's subjects, had summoned him in arrogant terms to appear in person before his tribunal at Rome. Henry, whose arrogance was fully equal to that of his great rival, while his wisdom was less, replied by convoking a Council at Worms, which, under his directions, excommunicated the Pope. The sentence was dispatched to Rome by an Italian priest with a letter from the Emperor beginning, "Henry, King by the grace of God and not by the will of man, to Hildebrand, no longer Apostolical, but a false monk," and ending, "I, Henry, and all our Bishops bid you come down, come down!" On receiving this missive the Pope pronounced sentence of deposition and interdict on Henry, and it he remained excommunicate for a year he was to be forever incapable of reigning. To avert this consummation, Henry undertook in the January of 1077 his famous journey from Spires over the Alps into Italy. On a bitter Winter's morning he arrived in the white robes of a penitent before the castle of Canossa, where the Pope was visiting the Countess Matilda, on the slope of the Apennines, about twenty miles south of Parma. The fortress, which probably derived its name from the white rock on which it stood, was surrounded by a triple circle of walls, the traces of which are still distinctly visible. Between the middle and the innermost of these walls the King was detained for three days awaiting the pleasure of the Pontiff. At length he was admitted, and, after taking an oath to observe all the conditions imposed by Gregory, was absolved. But a further trial was in store for him. The Pope celebrated mass in his presence, and, taking the Holy Sacrament in his hands, called God to witness to his innocence of the charges which Henry had alleged against him, praying that, if guilty, he might be struck dead as he received it. He then turned to the Emperor and challenged him to attest his innocence by the same appeal, as it was then considered, to the judgment of God, which he pledged himself to accept as decisive. But Henry trembled and shrunk from the ordeal, preferring to reserve the matters in dispute for a future Council in Germany. He only left Canossa to renew his contest with the Pope and incur a fresh excommunication. But we need not linger over the history of the next eight years. At the end of that period the Emperor and the anti-Pope whom he had created were in Rome, and Gregory was dying in exile at Salerno. He was conquered, but his cause had triumphed; and two centuries of theocratic supremacy lay before the Church, till Boniface VIII. defined for all ages in the Unum Sanctam the dogmatic principle of a system which was already tottering to its fall. That is the principle which won its spolia opima before the gates of Canossa, and which the approaching centenary, if it takes place, will be designed solemnly to reaffirm. * * * From whatever point of view we may choose to regard it, the picture of Henry before the gates of Canossa is one of the most striking in the page of history. It has a dramatic and historical interest not easily to be surpassed, but which belongs to the painter, the poet, the historian—not to the practical statesman. To make it the subject of a grand religious commemoration would be to reproduce on a larger scale the blunder of the State Services expunged some years ago from the English Prayer-book, in which the martyrdom of King Charles was made the occasion for a periodical deprecation of the iniquity of the "sons of Belial" who "turn faith into faction and religion into rebellion," while the 5th of November brought back its annual anathema on "the hellish malice of Popish conspirators." The murderers of Charles I. and the would-be murderers of his father were assumed to represent respectively the Dissenters and Papists of to-day, against whom the English Church and crown still required protection. And so, too, the real meaning of the proposed commemoration of Canossa would be that Pius IX. stands in the same relation to the present Emperor of Germany as Hildebrand to Henry IV. It would not, of course, mean that the Emperor or the King of Italy is likely to be placed under interdict—for Rome knows better than to hurl a brutum fulmen at the head of a powerful adversary; but it would mean that her right to depose them survives intact, though for the sins of men it cannot just now be profitably exercised. It would mean that the state of things which brought the heir of a long line of Emperors to do penance before the successor of the Fisherman amid the snows of Canossa is the natural and normal state of things, and that its restoration, however seemingly impracticable, is earnestly to be desired.—The Saturday Review.

INFLUENCE OF MEDIÆVAL ARCHITECTURE ON MODERN LIFE.—While the soul had thus departed of mediæval life, the body, the building, remained; and a very important element it is in the part that architecture plays in its relation to modern life especially, that its productions have this quasi-permanent character, and cannot be put aside and forgotten like a picture or a book which appeals to tastes that have become antiquated. There the cathedrals stand, memorials and landmarks of what were once the main centres of English life, witnesses of a spiritual despotism whose staff has been long since broken; records, too, of strenuous healthy labor and ingenuity applied, with no haphazard or wavering aim, toward the translation of brute material into an organic expression of stability and grace and aspiration, which still commands our sympathy and admiration. And no man who understands in what the art of architecture in its higher forms consists, none who have an interest in the past history, intellectual and social, of their native country, would for a moment undervalue these monuments at once of a great period of architectural art and of an extinct phase of national life, or grudge any care or reasonable cost bestowed on their preservation. But it is quite another thing to imagine that the feeling, artistic or moral, out of which they sprung can be artificially revived, and the mediæval cathedral galvanized into life again. This, however, is a prevalent idea with a number of well-meaning people of the dilettante order; and one writer, who is a fair specimen of the educated Philistine, has put forth a formal plea in favor of "The Cathedral of the Nineteenth Century." Now, do these good people really imagine that they can revivify the mediæval cathedral, either architecturally or in its supposed moralizing influences, unless they can first restore the condition of art, and of thought, and of society under which the originals arose? Their cathedral of the nineteenth century would simply be a huge mediæval toy, and a toy which could not be put out of sight or otherwise disposed of when the partial cry for it had subsided. Enough of this has been done on a smaller scale already to leave to our descendants a very remarkable legacy of architectural curiosities. Under the influence of a kind of ecclesiastical or ecclesiological revival, which cannot in the nature of things be permanent, the country has been covered with churches, in designing which the avowed intention has been to mimic, to reproduce as far as possible, the architectural detail and arrangement of mediæval churches—a mimicry which has been known to be carried out so completely as to deceive (if it were possible) even the elect, when the work had become somewhat weather-stained, into a belief in its genuine antiquity—happy culmination of the labor of a lifetime. In the majority of cases, however, the imitation has been tasteless, feeble, and entirely missing the spirit of genuine mediæval work; and, what is in a practical sense more serious, these buildings are utterly useless for anything except ecclesiological church services, and are in fact quite unfitted even for the public worship of the Church as generally celebrated at present, except on merely sentimental grounds: the whole thing is a kind of Joseph Surface architecture, consisting entirely of "sentiment." What will be the ultimate fate of all these structures, when the ecclesiastical mania subsides, might form a curious subject of speculation.—Fortnightly Review.

LOST STARS.—Fitful changes of color and specially red scintillations have been long remarked as highly characteristic of an extensive and well-known class of stars termed "variable stars," or stars variable in their brightness and consequent visibility through periods of time, extending in the different cases from a few days to many years, and occasionally, it is believed, to several centuries. Thus the star termed by astronomers Algol or Persei, varies in brightness from the second to the fourth magnitude, and back again, in the short period of two days, twenty hours, and forty-eight minutes. Lyræ varies from the third to the fifth magnitude and comes back to the third again in six days, nine hours. Omicron, or Mira Ceti, varies from the second magnitude to complete invisibility, and reappears and comes up to the second magnitude again in three hundred and thirty-four days. Argus varies from one of the very brightest of the stars of the first magnitude in the whole heavens down to a most inconsiderable one of the fourth magnitude, and blazes out again up to the first magnitude in about forty-six years; while R. Cephei varies from the fifth magnitude down to the eleventh magnitude, or visible only in a very powerful telescope, and returns to the fifth (which is visible to the naked eye) in about seventy-three years. Now these stars, no matter how much they may vary in brightness, are no more lost and perished in space when they fade away and disappear to us, than our sun is when hid from our view at night by the intercepting body of the earth. Neither are they moved out of their fixity of place, nor deprived of any of their mass and gravitation-governing power over their attendant planets, any more than our sun is, when at times now known to be periodic and subject to law, his bright surface is dimmed by many dark spots. Hence, the simplest supposition to explain the observed phenomena of the star fifty-fifth of Hercules is, that it is one of those "variable stars;" in which case it still undoubtedly exists in its own place, and will again appear to view there at some future time. But mere telescopic details can affect only the few; while the general public is rather thirsting for a case of some good big star which all can see. "Was there not such a star," they ask, "brighter than any of the orbs we have before us now, to be seen once in the constellation of Cassiopeia; and did it not burn and blaze through several years in varied colors, just like a world on fire, and then disappear and leave its place absolutely vacant?" Such a star was certainly seen by all the northern world in 1572, 1573, and 1574, but not previously to that; until, at least, you ascend the stream of time to 1264, when a temporary apparition of the same sort appeared in the same part of the sky; and again the same thing is reported in history to have occurred about the year 945 A. D. So that here again we have merely an extreme case of a "variable" star, with an intense though short-lived maximum of light and a long-continued minimum. But so far from being now—because its minimum is below human visibility—a lost, lapsed, or destroyed star, it may be, and probably is, going on in its own place according to laws which it has followed in the past, and will continue to follow for countless millions of years, without a moment's cessation at any time. And in fact the sequence of the numbers 945, 1264, 1572 lead astronomers to expect its reappearance at some time previous to 1890. And if it does shine forth again at that time, and prove itself in the scientific age of the world to be "a variable" with a period of more than three hundred years, it will not only get the physical nature of its light well examined by spectroscopic analysis, but will strengthen that "variable-star explanation" for the benefit of many other temporary stars with still longer periods of time; and longer, we say advisedly, because only one of their maxima of brightness is known to have been witnessed yet through all the human period. Such were the intensely bright star in Serpentarius in 1604 A.D.; the bright star in Scorpio in 900 A.D.; another in Aquila in 388 A.D.; and another still in 130 A.D.; not to say anything of the still more celebrated and classic case of the "Lost Pleiad," which the poets affirmed to have disappeared in grief after the siege and taking of Troy, about 1200 B.C., leaving thereby the primeval group of "the seven stars" to be six only ever since; but with the asserted destiny of the seventh one shining forth at some future time brighter than ever. A sort of early poetical prophecy, which the recent progress of practical astronomy on one side and archæological research on the other, especially at the Great Pyramid, have been lending remarkable confirmation to within the last very few years.—Chamber's Journal.

CHARLOTTE BRONTË'S VISIT TO BRUSSELS.—It was Charlotte's visit to Brussels, then, first as pupil and afterward as teacher in the school of Mme. Héger, which was the turning-point in her life, which changed its currents, and gave to it a new purpose and a new meaning. Up to the moment of that visit, she had been the simple, kindly, truthful Yorkshire girl, endowed with strange faculties, carried away at times by burning impulses, moved often by emotions the nature of which she could not fathom, but always hemmed in by her narrow experiences, her limited knowledge of life and the world. Until she went to Belgium her sorest troubles had been associated with her dislike to the society of strangers; her heaviest burden had been the necessity under which she lay of tasting that "cup of life as it is mixed for governesses" which she detested so heartily. Under the belief that they could qualify themselves to keep a school of their own if they had once mastered the delicacies of the French and German languages, she and Emily set off for this sojourn in Brussels. One may be forgiven for speculating as to her future lot had she accepted the offer of marriage she received in her early governess days, and settled down as the faithful wife of a sober English gentleman. In that case Shirley perhaps might have been written, but Jane Eyre and Villette never. She learned much during her two years' sojourn in the Belgian capital; but the greatest of all the lessons she mastered while there was that self-knowledge the taste of which is so bitter to the mouth, though so wholesome to the life. Mrs. Gaskell has made such ample use of the letters she penned during the long months which she spent as an exile from England that there is comparatively little left to cull from them. Everybody knows the outward circumstances of her story at this time. For a brief period she had the company of Emily; and the two sisters, working together with the unremitting zeal of those who have learned that time is money, were happy and hopeful, enjoying the novel sights of the gay foreign capital, gathering fresh experiences every day, and looking forward to the moment when they would return to familiar Haworth, and realize the dream of their lives by opening a school of their own within the walls of the parsonage. But then Emily left, and Charlotte, after a brief holiday at home, returned alone. Years after, writing to her friend, she speaks of her return in these words: "I returned to Brussels after aunt's death, against my conscience, prompted by what then seemed an irresistible impulse. I was punished for my selfish folly by a total withdrawal for more than two years of happiness and peace of mind." Why did she thus go back "against her conscience?" Her friends declared that her future husband dwelt somewhere within sound of the chimes of St. Gudule, and that she insisted upon returning to Brussels because she was about to be married there. We know now how different was the reality. The husband who awaited her was even then about to begin his long apprenticeship of love at Haworth. Yet none the less had her spirit, if not her heart, been captured and held captive in the Belgian city. It is not in her letters that we find the truth regarding her life at this time. The truth indeed is there, but not all the truth. "In catalepsy and dread trance," says Lucy Snowe, "I studiously held the quick of my nature. * * * It is on the surface only the common gaze will fall." The secrets of her inner life could not be trusted to paper, even though the lines were intended for no eyes but those of her friend and confidant. There are some things, as we know well, the heart hides as by instinct, and which even frank and open natures only reveal under compulsion. One of the hardest features of the last year she spent at Brussels was the necessity that she was under of locking all the deepest emotions of her life within her own breast, of preserving the calm and even cold exterior, which should tell nothing to the common gaze, above the troubled, fevered heart that beat within. Yes; she was "disillusioned" now, and she had brought back from Brussels a heart which could never be quite so light, a spirit which could never again soar so buoyantly, as in those earlier years when the tree of knowledge was still untasted, and the mystery of life still unrevealed. This stay in Belgium was, as I have said, the turning-point in Charlotte Brontë's career, and its true history and meaning is to be found, not in her Life and letters, but in Villette, the master-work of her mind and the revelation of the most vivid passages in her own heart's history. "I said I disliked Lucy Snowe," is a remark which Mrs. Gaskell innocently repeats in her memoir of Charlotte Brontë. One need not be surprised at it. Lucy Snowe was never meant to be liked—by everybody; but none the less is Lucy Snowe the truest picture we possess of the real Charlotte Brontë; whilst not a few of the fortunes which befell this strange heroine are literal transcripts from the life of her creator.—Macmillan's Magazine.

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.—Another feature of American character is the fussy and restless pursuit of personal prominence or notoriety. There being no formal distinction of ranks in the Republic, we see every human being there striving as the great end of existence to perk his head as much as he can above his neighbor's. There is no country which is so broken up into sets and cliques, each scheming to find something to give it a pretext for affecting an individual superiority. Thus, it appears, that among the watering-places, Cape May looks down on Atlantic City, that Cape May is looked down on by Long Branch, and that Saratoga thinks itself decidedly above Long Branch, while Newport, on the strength of its blue blood, assumes to be an aristocratic eyrie perched altogether above the rest of the world. It is much the same in ordinary society. New-York professes contempt for Bostonian priggishness. Boston retaliates on New-York with scorn of "shoddy," and twits Philadelphia with provincialism. And so it goes on through every grade and section of the community. The quiet occupation of a settled and acknowledged position with which the occupant is content is scarcely known in that land of freedom. There is room for everybody to aspire, and everybody does so. The easiest platform to mount upon in such a state of things is money or the show of money; and thus the American ambition becomes mainly fixed on its acquisition. Perhaps, however, what is most wanting to the American character, or at least to its peace of mind and happiness, is self-confidence and self-respect. It may be thought at first sight that the Americans are especially of a conceited and confident nature; but the extreme sensitiveness which they display in regard to almost every kind of criticism shows that they are not at heart thoroughly at ease as to their own pretensions. It is hardly possible to say anything to Americans about their country without jarring on some tender point. They cannot bear to be told of their faults, and they smart under anything like praise as if it were an assumption of superiority. They are inclined to pride themselves on their sense of humor, but on this particular point their sense of humor is very dull. The sort of banter or caricature which people of other nations, firm in their own faith in themselves, only laugh at seems to irritate an American excessively. He is like a man with a raw skin, to whom a midge is torture. Even Mr. Lowell once lashed out in a pamphlet, On a Certain Condescension in Foreigners, and threatened England with war as a punishment, not for hostile acts, but for her "airs of patronage" toward America. Every sensible person recognizes that the United States are a great people in their way, but they are not beyond the reach of criticism. They are what the conditions of their existence have made them. They have hitherto enjoyed the material prosperity which lay at their hands in the resources of a vast and virgin territory; but they have not advanced with equal success in other directions; nor perhaps could it be expected that they should do so, considering the peculiar character of the population, and the work they had immediately to do. There are, no doubt, faults and weaknesses in old States, consequent on their course of development; but so there are in new ones, and the great mistake of America is to fancy itself full grown. It is still, in many respects, in a crude and loosely compacted condition. What is mainly wanted is more energy and determination on the part of the honest and intelligent part of the people to enforce a higher standard of manners and morality, and to cultivate national self-respect.—The Saturday Review.

CHINESE COINAGE.—China has no real coinage for purposes of trade. Little bits of silver assayed and weighed, and dollars of the Mexican Republic, battered out of shape, and classed one, two, and three, at different values according as an affected comprador pretends to have found more or less bronze in their composition—this is the ridiculous "coinage" of the coast. In Hong Kong itself, when I took my letters to the post and gave a dollar to the clerk to pay for stamps, I had to wait while he bit it, tried it with an acid, weighed it and gave me change, not as though my dollar were a dollar, but according to its weight, which was 96–100 of what it should have been. This was no exceptional case, but was the practice gone through in every instance. Such is the repute of English coin, that the Hong Kong mint would in a few years have introduced the use of its dollars by the Chinese people throughout the trading portions of the Empire, without continuing to impose any charge whatever on the English tax-payer. The history of dollars would be a very curious one. The Chinese look doubtfully upon all that do not bear the name of some well-known Chinese firm stamped upon them, as we write names across the back of a bank-note, except they are of one kind: Mexican pillar dollars, the two pillars of which are described in their Chinese name, "Two-piecy-cannelstick" dollars, that is, two candlestick dollars. A note in the history of dollars that I propose would have to record the fact that our expeditionary force to Abyssinia had to be supplied with Maria Theresa dollars, of which none were to be obtained in the market, these being the only coins received by the natives of that country. The Austrian Government had to be applied to by the British Government, and the coins had to be specially struck for us at the Vienna Mint.—Macmillan's Magazine.

METASTASIO.—Pietro Trapassi—called Metastasio—was born in Rome, Jan. 23, 1698. His parents, of humble origin and scanty means, stinted themselves in every way to provide for his instruction in the first rudiments of education. From his earliest years he was accustomed to recite scraps of Italian poetry. It is said that when one day declaiming a favorite piece, he was accidentally overheard by Vittorio Gravina, one of the tragedians who had endeavored, though without success, to raise the tone of the drama of the seventeenth century. Gravina knew how to appreciate in others the talents in which he was himself deficient. He undertook to educate the young Trapassi, and, having obtained the parents' leave, finally adopted him as his son. He changed his name from "Trapassi" to "Metastasio," a Greek word which, being equivalent to "trapassamenta"—i. e. a transition from one state to another—was probably selected partly as a play upon the old name of his protégé, partly with reference to his change of circumstances. The patron had no occasion to repent of his benevolence. His adopted child, with every external advantage of looks and manner, a sweet and melodious voice, was a general favorite, and his extraordinary gifts soon made him famous in Rome. Gravina was careful to cultivate the early promise of his talents by an excellent classical education; he encouraged him to employ them in original compositions, and the tragedy of "Giustino" (the only tragedy ever written by Metastasio) was composed at the age of fourteen, in compliance with his patron's request. The plot was taken from Trissino's Italia Liberata, and the young author is scarcely to be blamed if he fell into the errors of languor and heaviness which had marred the original poem. Still the "Giustino" contains sufficient merit to make it an astonishing production for so young a writer, and to excite regret that he should never, in his more mature years, have attempted another tragedy. Metastasio, in common with the great classical poets of Italy, was destined for the law, and pursued with diligence the dry and difficult study of jurisprudence. But in 1718 the death of his patron left him at liberty to follow his own inclinations, which speedily diverged into those more pleasant paths of learning, the ancient classics, and those of his own country. Among the latter, Torquato Tasso was ever his favorite. Gravina filled up the measure of his benevolence by making his adopted son heir to all his worldly possessions, so that Metastasio was no longer in need of a profession to earn his livelihood. Among his numerous writings a touching tribute of gratitude to his patron is to be found in the poem, La Strada della Gloria, written immediately after the death of Gravina, in which Gravina (whom he apostrophises with the fondest affection) appears to him in a dream, and bids him follow without ceasing the path to fame. The genius of Metastasio taught him that his special gifts would find their best scope in the improvement of the melodrama. This, once again brought within the rules observed by Rinuccini in his Dafne, and enhanced by music like that which was composed for it by Peri, Caccini, and Mei, appeared to Metastasio to offer a wide field for his exertions and a prospect of new and glorious laurels. But his scheme met with a sudden check. Unaccustomed to wealth, and consequently believing that his inheritance could have no limit, he, in a short time, squandered so much of his fortune that he found himself once more compelled, by absolute necessity, to return to the study of law, which he had abandoned with such delight. Leaving Rome and the false friends who had led him into his extravagant way of life, he repaired for this purpose to Naples, at that time famous for its school of jurisprudence. There were, however, other schools at Naples more congenial to Metastasio's taste. Three out of the four famous musical Conservatorios were still in existence, whose pupils, at that time Gaetano, Jomelli, Caldara, Predieri, and Vinci, &c., would one day set his dramas to music. Naples was in a state of festive gayety to celebrate the birth of a daughter to the Emperor Charles VI., and Metastasio was selected as the poet to compose the drama which was to be represented in honor of the occasion. It was in vain that he refused, and at last, on the condition of his secret being strictly kept from his master of jurisprudence, he wrote "Gli Orti Esperidi," his first melodrama. The universal applause excited by this drama made it impossible to keep the author's name a secret; more especially as the famous cantatrice, Maria Bulgarini, called "La Romanina," who had acted the part of Venus, declared she would leave no stone unturned till she had discovered the name of the poet who had won her such a shower of laurels. When at last her efforts were crowned with success, she used all her arts to persuade him to dedicate himself exclusively to the composition of the melodrama, for which he appeared to have so remarkable a talent. Metastasio could not withstand her urgent entreaties; he finally abandoned the law, and gave himself once more heart and soul to an occupation for which he was in every way so eminently fitted.—Macmillan's Magazine.

CHARLES JAMES FOX.—It was at the time of our visit that the symptoms of dropsy, the disease of which Fox died a few months later, began to show themselves. His legs were so swollen that he could not walk; he used to wheel himself about in what was called a "Merlin chair;" indeed out of this chair I never remember to have seen him. In many respects his personal appearance at this time differed but little from that assigned to him in the many prints and pictures still extant of him. There were still the well-formed nose and mouth, and the same manly, open, benevolent countenance. But his face had lost that swarthy appearance, which in the caricatures of the day had obtained for him the name of "Niger"—it was very pale. His eyes, though watery, twinkled with fun and good humor. The "thick black beard of true British stuff," had become like that of Hamlet's father, "a sabled silvered." He wore a single-breasted coat of a light gray color, with plated buttons as large as half-crowns; a thick linsey-woolsey waistcoat, sage-colored breeches, dark worsted stockings, and gouty shoes coming over the ankles. Fox was not visible of a morning. He either transacted the business of his office, or was occupied in it, or reading Greek plays, or French fairy tales, of which last species of literature I have heard my father say he was particularly fond. At one o'clock was the children's dinner. We used to assemble in the dining-room; Fox was wheeled in at the same moment for his daily basin of soup. That meal dispatched, he was for the rest of the day the exclusive property of us children, and we all adjourned to the garden for our game at trap-ball. All was now noise and merriment. Our host, the youngest among us, laughed, chaffed, and chatted the whole time. As he could not walk, he of course had the innings, we the bowling and fagging out; with what glee would he send the ball into the bushes in order to add to his score, and how shamelessly would he wrangle with us whenever we fairly bowled him out. Fox had been a very keen sportsman—too keen to be a successful one. In his eagerness he would not unfrequently put the shot into the gun before the powder. Bob Jeffs, the Elden gamekeeper, (an heirloom of the Admiral's,) was fond of telling me how he once marked down a woodcock, and went to the Hall with intelligence. It was breakfast time. Up started Fox from the untasted meal, and gun in hand, followed the keeper. A hat thrown into the bush flushed the game, the bird escaped scot free, but Jeff's hat was blown to pieces. One hot September morning Fox set out from Holkham, fully anticipating a good day's sport at Egmere, Mr. Coke's best partridge beat. As was usual with sportsmen in those days he started at daylight. Just as the family were sitting down to breakfast Fox was seen staggering home, "Not ill, I hope, Charles?" inquired his host. "No," was the reply, "only a little tipsy." Being thirsty, he had asked the tenant of Egmere for a bowl of milk, and was too easily persuaded to add thereto a certain, or rather an uncertain, quantity of rum. As a consequence he passed the rest of the day in bed instead of in the turnip field. A party of Holkham shooters were one day driven home by a heavy rain. Fox did not arrive until some time after the rest; he had fallen in with one of Mr. Coke's laboring men, who had come for shelter under the same tree. The statesman became so interested in the society of the plowman, who gave him an account of the system of "turnip husbandry" just come into vogue that he had great difficulty in tearing himself away. At my father's table one evening the conversation turned upon the relative merits of the different kinds of wine. Port, claret, Burgundy, were criticized in turn, but Fox, who considered alcohol the test of excellence, said, "Which is the best sort of wine I leave you to judge, all I know is that no sort or wine is bad." Earl Russell and Admiral Sir Augustus Clifford are the only persons of my acquaintance, now living, who besides myself, had personal access to this great statesman. Lord Eversley, when a small boy, had the advantage of hearing him speak in the House of Commons, but he does not appear to have highly appreciated that eloquence which so electrified the rest of mankind, for he cried out, "What is that fat gentleman in such a passion about?" —Lord Albemarle's Recollections.

TRAVELING IN JAPAN.—Whatever may be our doubts as to the extent of the foreign influence, we can have none as to the loveliness of Japan, and the delight of traveling in the interior. When I left the country, I had seen seven out of the eight largest towns; but it is not the weeks in the cities that live in my recollection, but the few days spent in the country districts. Japan is the traveler's paradise. Through a strange medley of pines and palms, of rice and buckwheat, of bamboos and elms, of tea and cotton; through azalea thickets and camellia groves, across tobacco fields, and past rocks covered with evergreen ferns of a hundred kinds, and crowned with grotesque remains; through tussac grass and forests of scarlet maple, and over mountains clad in rich greenery, you may journey in perfect peace, safe from robbery, safe from violence, safe even from beggars; never troubled, never asked for anything, except by a civil policeman for your passport, and that with the lowest of low bows. The maidens say "Ohio" sweetly to you in the villages as you pass, where eight years ago you might have been sliced up by the sharp swords of the Samurai. "Ohio," too, call the laborers in the fields, leaving their work to come and bow at the roadside; not as the Javanese bow to the Dutch, but with a bow of equal to equal, the bow of infinite politeness. Without servant or interpreter, a European can travel in safety throughout the land. The people and their houses have been described too often. One cannot but love their fun, their cleanliness, their inborn sense of art. It is impossible to realize that the Japanese are real men and women. What with the smallness of the people, their incessant laughing chatter, and their funny gestures, one feels one's self in elf-land. On a fine day the men appear as grinning demons in black tights, streaked all over with blue heraldry. On wet days, the long rush coats and long-sided straw hats equally remove all vestige of humanity. When we turn over Japanese pictures in our English homes we fancy that both the faces and the dress must be unlike real life. On the contrary, they are very like the old fashions of the wealthy class, with whom faces are as much made up and are as much a matter of fashion as are clothes. It is the country people of Japan who are my elves—the tiny, jovial, copper-colored poor. Were I describing rural Japan at length, I would try to show that it may be looked at from a point of view from which it has not as yet been much considered. Japan is the last refuge of the Joyous Life. See the Thames on a fine Saturday in July, or the fair of St. Cloud on the last Sunday evening of its reign, and you may for a moment believe that even in Europe the Joyous Life is not extinct; but the fun of the Thames is vulgar, and the loose morals of St. Cloud are venal. The Joyous Life of the Middle Ages may have been bad or good—in Europe it is gone, and let us speak well of the dead—but it was neither venal nor vulgar; that life lives still in Japan, where no paganism of antique grandeur dwells, but rollicking, unthinking fun. All who love children must love the Japanese, the most gracious, most courteous, and the most smiling of all people, whose rural districts form, with Through-the-Looking-Glass-Country and Wonderland, the three kingdoms of merry dreams.—Fortnightly Review.

"WISHING TO KNOW."—Charles Marie La Condamine, was member of the Académie des Sciences, of the Académie Française, of the Royal Society of London, and the Academies of Berlin and St. Petersburg. His success in life, in science—everything, in fact—was attributable to his never-ceasing curiosity; at times the cause of much good, imbuing him with ardor and courage and constancy in the most difficult enterprises; at others being the cause of sore trouble, and at last costing him his life. When he left college he became a volunteer in the Army, where, at the siege of Roses, his dominant passion was almost fatal to him at the outset. He had ascended some elevated spot, without there being any need for it, in order to examine the place, and was busy watching through a telescope the working of a battery. He wore a scarlet cloak, which made him an easy target for the bullets and balls whistling round him, without even perceiving the danger he was exposed to. Fortunately he was warned in time. Peace having been proclaimed, his activeness did not brook the slow advancement and monotonous life of a garrison soldier. He was appointed assistant chemical director of the Académie des Sciences. He undertook many journeys in the heart of Africa, always prompted by the same indefatigable craving for "wishing to know." He made another journey to the equator; and then he traveled in Italy, where again he got into numerous scrapes trying to find out. One day he sees in a fishing village a candle burning before the image of a saint. Upon inquiry the inhabitants tell him that, should the light happen to be extinguished, the spot would immediately be submerged by the sea. "Are you sure of what you are saying?" asks La Condamine. The answer being in the affirmative, he there and then blows it out. The rage of the superstitious people may easily be imagined. With difficulty he is saved from being torn to pieces. His curiosity ought to have stopped here one would say. Naturam expellas furcâ, tamen usque recurret. Attempt to drive nature away by violence, she will still return. At that time it was a commonly received notion, not quite exploded yet, that intermarrying brought on lunacy in the issue of such unions. Condamine thought he would try that next. With difficulty he obtained sanction from the Pope to marry his niece. The union was fruitless, to his great regret. "He should have liked to see," he said, "whether he, with his head so well screwed on his shoulders, could become the father of an idiot." He became very infirm at last, and then his master passion was entirely confined to his sight. One day being in the apartment of Madame de Choiseul, while that lady was writing a letter, he could not withstand the temptation to look over her shoulder. She, noticing him behind her, continued as if nothing had happened. Suddenly Condamine catches sight of the words: "I should tell you more about it, if M. De la Condamine were not behind me looking over my shoulder." "Ah, madame!" cries the accused, "I assure you I was not looking." At the execution of Damiens no one could drive him away from the scaffold. But at last he was taken ill. A young surgeon had proposed to the Académie some new mode of operation in the disease Condamine was suffering from, and during the whole time the experiment lasted the patient was more concerned with watching the handling of the instruments than with his own sufferings. In vain did Esculapius implore him to keep quiet. "I want to see," he repeated. The wounds being bound up, and the patient left alone on a fair way toward recovery, he could not lie still; in spite of the injunction not to move he persisted in taking off the bandages to find out the effects; and when his friends burst into his room they found him dying, shouting out lustily, "I am glad I inquired into this. It has had the result I anticipated: that's a clever young man."—Tinsley's Magazine.

CLERGYMEN'S WIVES IN ENGLAND.—Some clergymen's wives seem to labor under the impression that their marriages with ecclesiastics have imparted a certain sanctity to their persons. At any rate they often act as though they thought so. They do not assume the priestly office, but they consider that they have their own special duty to perform in the sacred edifice. The part of the husband is to say the holy offices and to preach; the part of the wife (she appears to think) is closely to observe who is in, or rather who is absent from, church. Thus are the various duties of the ministry beautifully apportioned. The priestess likes the women of the parish (and the men, too, for the matter of that) to come to her for counsel and admonition. She encourages them to open their hearts to her, until she has established a kind of quasi confessional. She will advise them as to the family and parochial duties, whom they shall go to "hear" on their holiday tours, the cut and color of their dress in Lent, &c. If High Church, these ladies usually outstrip their husbands in orthodoxy; but woe to the poor men if they evince a decided leaning toward Rome. Should they join that Church, they must give up their livings. Often enough this would be no great loss in a pecuniary point of view; but then a clergyman and his wife take a very different position in society from that of lay people who have an equally small income. Most of the wife's "nicest friends" have been made by reason of her position as wife of the clergyman. These friends would too surely withdraw their cordiality if the only bond of union between them should be broken. And then she would not have social standing sufficient to make "nice" Romanist friends in their place. Besides, the very idea of a Church which demands the celibacy of the clergy is horrible to her. On the other hand, the priestess is a sort of matrimonial Ultramontane. Opposed as she is to the dogma of the infallibility of the Pope, she believes firmly in the infallibility of her husband when (and only when) he speaks with the voice of the Church—which means her own voice. Her "Pope in Council" is her husband in consultation with herself. In her own person she represents an Œcumenical Council and the Sacred College. Nay, her Pope's infallibility is not confined to faith and morals, provided he speaks ex cathedrâ. So long as his definitions are received from her, no occupant of the Papal chair ever had a more enthusiastic supporter than he finds in his wife. She will bear any amount of annoyance to uphold him, nor does she shrink from inflicting persecution where she thinks it necessary. Indeed, we may say that she not only represents the Sacred College, but also the Inquisition. She is a regular detective in her manner of worming out the secrets of the parishioners, and she does not hesitate to apply moral torture, when needful, for this purpose. She finds out who has cut church, who found fault with the sermon, who feels "aggrieved," &c. If the offenders prove obdurate, she hands them over to the secular arm—that is to say, she encourages the busybodies of the parish to gossip about their misdemeanors. Even the Squire can be made to suffer. People soon say that he is peculiar and wrong-headed, that he is very different from his father, and that, though well intentioned, (as rich people are always reputed,) he is most injudicious and ill-advised. Tracts, books of devotion, and even secular works are found fault with by the priestess, unless they have been honored with her imprimatur; and if her friendship is desired, no book which she has placed in her Index Expurgatorius must ever be laid upon her drawing-room table. Few works are, according to her, worthy of that holy place, and judging from the specimens to be found at the Rectory, these chosen volumes are little likely to be often disturbed in their glory. Another of her missions in life is to regulate the faith and morals of the curates. In this respect she is a hybrid creature—part inquisitor, part Bishop, part Lord Penzance, with a dash of the Spartan mother. She curbs their theological leanings, chastens their enthusiasm, and guides their flirtations. If the Rector is easily influenced by his wife's opinions, the curate has to be more careful in his endeavors to please the priestess than to please the priest. A very slight offense against the former may lose him his curacy, if not his reputation. Should the tongue of scandal be moved against him—with or without foundation, and should the Rector's wife take up the tale, it is all over with him, because people will think that at any rate his chief's wife must know the rights of the case.—The Saturday Review.

PHEASANTS.—They are not an intelligent race of birds. Their brilliant plumage, and the very little care they take in providing shelter, renders them an easy prey to their enemies; and foxes, polecats, and badgers should be carefully kept down, in addition to the necessary precaution being taken of surrounding with an inclosure the retired spots where the birds are fond of hiding themselves during the day. But, even then, there are their winged enemies, against whom the fences are no protection, rather serving to imprison for them an easily found prey. So many of these birds of prey hover about that it is necessary to make active war upon them. The pheasantry at Fontainebleau possesses a Grand Duke owl, which is used for this purpose. Placed on the top of a pole, his size does not prevent him from attracting numerous enemies, who, thinking him out of place, come to mob him, but the shot of the watcher delivers the owl from these too confident assailants. This goes on from day to day, and the trap is always successful. When I went by the owl's cage I was at no loss to comprehend why it was placed out of reach, not being able to mistake for a smile the expression of ferocity in his yellow-rimmed eyes, and the angry working of his beak, accompanying his preparations for defense, which were preceded by the general ruffling of his plumage, behind which one could imagine the strong claw, armed with hook nails. The feathers of his ears were extended in the form of a crest, or like black horns growing from the top of the whitish circles which surrounded his eyes, and contributed to the ferocious aspect of this nocturnal bird. A large proportion of the pheasants are not confined, but live in the thick groves, which extend over a wide space, allowing of the separation of the full-grown birds from the young, who have everything to fear from their elders. Their number can be best judged of when they are called to partake of their liberal meals in the alleys. It is an unpleasant sight, though, for a sportsman—five thousand birds filling their crops at stated times, like hens being fattened. These handsome creatures grow less interesting also from their extreme greediness, when one sees them crowded together to such an extent that one might crush them in approaching their keeper. The silver pheasants are kept in confinement. They are very rare, and more wild than the others. As for the golden pheasant, it is not suitable for sporting purposes, as it is more clever, and defends itself better by its irregular flight. I think it has more instinct than its less brilliant relations, and that is not saying much in its favor; for the ordinary pheasant, when hand-fed, always acts as if he had nothing to fear from men or dogs. It often lies hidden against a trunk, or in a furrow, without remembering that it has left traces behind it which will lead to its hiding-place; it often perches on bare branches, and while it attracts notice from its size, it appears to court danger by saluting the dawn with its discordant crow, even as it bade adieu to the twilight of the evening before. We must not complain, though, since we profit by this want of caution, which is, however, less noticeable in the hen bird, on whom nature has bestowed a more sober covering, that she may watch over her brood without betraying her presence, her plumage varying from brown to gray.—Once A Week.

GEORGE SAND'S AUTOBIOGRAPHY.—When, however, we say that she is not to be taken as a model of English conduct, it must not be supposed that her autobiography is in the least tainted with the records or feelings of impurity. A book more absolutely pure could not be found. If she ever had any feelings or faults that would not bear to be written down, they find no place in her autobiography. The coldness of the book to all that has to do with the love of men and women is as the coldness of ice. Her warmth of feeling, so far as it finds expression in this record, ran in a different groove. She tells us how she esteemed her grandmother, idolized and quarreled with her foolish mother, bore with the brutality of a drunken brother, made and kept a few intimate friends while she shocked a provincial public by her eccentricities—was the sister of the poor, and adored her children, and especially her boy, with a jealous infatuation. When, again, it is said that there was much in her to love and admire, it must not be supposed that she depicts herself as a person whom it was at all easy or pleasant to live with. She professed to write the truth when she wrote her history, and she certainly does not paint her own portrait in very glowing colors. She was by nature very melancholy and very excitable; she was often brooding, and often seized with spasmodic views of her duties; she was constantly taking up new and quaint views of her relations to others in the depths of her soul, and astonishing her little circle by the varying lights in which she regarded them. She was not practical. She was obliged to give up housekeeping because she could not keep within the sum fixed for her expenses. In a quarter of a century, by the hard labor of her pen, she made nearly a million of francs, and at the end of the quarter of a century she was still obliged to write to live. She was eccentric, and she was eccentric on principle. To escape from the bondage of conventionalities seemed to her the height of bliss, and she found one method of such escape in constantly dressing in man's clothes. She separated herself from her sex even more completely by a hatred for the toilet and all that has to do with it. She took part in la chasse after a truly French fashion, pushing her ardor to the length of rheumatism in the great art of decoying quails into a net. When her society did not suit her, she used to go to her bedroom and ponder over the mystery of existence. A woman less suited for the ordinary routine of married life could not well be conceived, and perhaps her best excuse for making her husband indifferent was that she was really and truly miserable herself.—The Saturday Review.

THE FISHERIES OF DENMARK.—The kinds of fish that are taken in the Danish seas are the herring, cod, whiting, plaice turbot, sole, mackerel, salmon, and eel. Among the localities where fishing is most extensively carried on is the north-east coast of Zealand, where there are many fishing villages, the inhabitants of which supply the Copenhagen market. But Skagen, the most northerly point of Jutland, is considered the most important fishing village in Denmark. The neighboring sea abounds in whiting, cod, turbot, and sole. Skagen and Frederikshavn, a port a little to the south on the Kattegat, are regularly visited by more than thirty vessels, which go to and fro, taking cargoes of live fish for sale at Copenhagen and other seaports of the kingdom. Among the fishing villages that are plentifully scattered along the west coast of Jutland, from Skagen to the mouth of the Elbe, Nymindegab is that at which the fishery is most important. In one year 700,000 whiting and 25,000 cod were taken there. The fishery of Lymfiord, a long arm of the sea extending from the Kattegat nearly to the North Sea, right across the north part of Jutland, is scarcely less considerable. On the shores of the Belts there are many fishing villages, where the work is usually very active. A single example will suffice to show the abundance of fish in the Belts. In the Odense Fiord, a bay of the Kattegat on the north coast of the Island of Fyen, such a quantity of excellent codfish are taken in nets, each weighing about four pounds, that for want of a demand, they are sometimes used for manure, and are sold to the peasants at twenty or thirty pence the cart-load. In the vicinity of the town of Middelfart, on the Island of Fyen, there has been, for some time, a fishery of porpoises (Delphinus phocæna) from the beginning of November to February, which is very profitable. At this season of the year the porpoises leave the Baltic in great numbers. The fishery is carried on by a corporation of thirty fishermen with ten vessels. In 1858, an exceptional year, they took 2,200 porpoises, but the average take is about 1,100, and it is calculated that the oil from each porpoise is worth from 7s. 6d. to 8s. 4d. But it is during the herring season that the Danish fishermen are most busily employed, that is to say, when the fish, in their migrations, traverse the Danish seas in the Spring on their way to the Baltic, and on their return in the Autumn. It is not rare that a considerable quantity is then taken, the greater part of which is sold on the spot to the farmers. Many herrings are also smoked and sold at a good price, for consumption in the interior. It is on the north coast of Zealand, at Kiertemunde, at Karsoer, and in the Island of Bornholm, that the herring fishery is most extensively carried on. The fishery of Bornholm, a large island in the Baltic, supports 500 fishermen, who catch salmon, cod, and herrings. They take much of their salmon to Swinemunde, on the coast of Pomerania, and not unfrequently the fish are eaten in Paris and Vienna two days after being taken. The whole number of fishermen in Denmark was calculated, some years ago, at about 6,500, and the total value of the fisheries at £150,000.—Geographical Magazine.

THE GOLD DUST ROBBERY.

Of late years there has been a marked increase in all crimes requiring superior intelligence rather than brute force for their successful accomplishment, and which can only be effected by the misapplied union of talent and education. Mr. Townsend, Q. C., Recorder of Macclesfield, in his Modern State Trials seeks to explain the phenomenon—in England at least—by the suggestion that the abolition of the death penalty for all crimes against property (a change which dates only from the time of Romilly) may have tempted persons of comparative refinement, of cool head and callous heart, to adventure on forbidden ways of enriching themselves at the expense of their neighbors, when failure and detection would not involve their personal safety.

Among this class of crimes the great Bogle conspiracy, of which a full account was given some months ago in our columns, holds a prominent place, as does the hardly less celebrated case known as the Gold Dust robbery, which was tried in London in January, 1857.

On May 15, 1855, three boxes, containing gold, were taken to the South-eastern Railway Company's station at London Bridge for the purpose of being conveyed to Paris. The boxes were bound with iron hoops or bars, and after having been weighed and sealed were placed, according to the usual practice, in iron safes. These safes were secured by Chubb's patent locks, duplicate keys of which were intrusted to confidential servants of the company at Folkestone, Boulogne, and Paris. As a further precaution, the guard of the train usually took the safes into his own van, and was thus enabled to see to their safety during the journey. On the night in question, one Burgess, who had been fifteen years in the company's service, was the guard of the train, and in his van the iron safes were placed. On their arrival at Boulogne, the boxes were taken out of the safes and weighed, and the same process was again gone through at Paris. At the latter place it was ascertained that a considerable portion of the bullion had been abstracted from the boxes and a quantity of shot substituted for it, and on a comparison of the weight at different stages of the journey, it was found that the weights at Paris corresponded with those at Boulogne, but varied from those which were taken in London. From this it was evident that the robbery must have been committed between London and Boulogne, but further than this, the strictest investigation appeared to afford no clue to the discovery of the criminals. In fact nearly two years elapsed before the mystery was cleared up, and so skillfully had the crime been planned and executed that it even then became known only through dissensions among the thieves themselves.

In October, 1855, a person of the name of Agar was tried and convicted of uttering a forged check, and sentenced to transportation for life. At the time of his arrest he had in his possession a considerable sum of money, amounting to several thousand pounds, and he arranged with William Pierce, a retired wholesale grocer residing in an elegant villa at Kilburn, that the latter should take possession of all his property, with the understanding that a woman in whom Agar was interested, and by whom he had a child, should be provided for out of its proceeds. This Pierce did for some time, but eventually, when Agar had been convicted, neglected his promises, and thus allowed the woman and her child to be reduced to a state of the greatest distress. This fact coming to the knowledge of Agar, he came forward and made public the whole circumstances of the robbery. The story he told was a graphic one, and a forcible illustration of the fact that in the present age a greater amount of talent and capital is invested in the pursuit of crime as a profession than ever before. The picture Agar drew of himself with his £3,000 in the three per cents., and Pierce with his villa at Kilburn, both for a whole year rushing about in cabs, lodging at fashionable watering-places and journeying up and down the South-eastern Railway with first-class tickets, was a view of criminal enterprise hardly to be looked for.

In consequence of his disclosures, on Jan. 12, 1857, William Pierce, Burgess the guard, and a traffic-clerk named Tester, were placed at the bar, charged with stealing two hundred weight of gold, and Agar was called to the stand. He was a gentlemanly, well-educated man of forty-one, who by his own acknowledgment had lived by crime since his thirtieth year. According to his own story he was neither enticed into wrong-doing by the accidents of special temptation, or allured by the seductions of veteran offenders. That he might at one time have known want is possible, but he had evidently learned economy to some purpose, for, while in his last legitimate situation, he saved £500, which he carried with him when he left it. He frankly confessed that he had been more or less engaged in crime for sixteen years, but what was its particular or prevailing character was more than could be elicited on examination. He had "been in the United States, where he speculated a good deal;" had "discounted bills;" and had "received the proceeds of several forgeries." More remarkable even than the details of his grand coup is his plain acknowledgment that he was under no kind of pressure from anything like poverty or destitution. "At this time," he said, "I was not in want of money;" an avowal which he presently expanded and confirmed by the admission that he possessed no less a sum than £3,000. The old proverb—"ill-got, ill-spent"—did not hold good in his case, for it was all invested in Government securities. In fact, as the Judge, who presided at the trial, told the jury, he seems to have been called into the case because of his professional talents, in the same way as an eminent lawyer or physician might have been.

Pierce, who, before he became a grocer, had been in the employ of the company, first broached the subject to Agar before his visit to the United States, but he then deemed it impracticable. Upon his return, Pierce asked him if he had thought any more of the robbery. Agar said he believed it would be impracticable unless an impression of the keys could be procured. Pierce then said he thought he could get an impression if Agar would undertake the business. This he agreed to do, it being understood that two other persons, Burgess and Tester, were to be connected with the affair. About twelve months before the robbery Agar went down to Folkestone to reconnoitre. Tester was at that time Station Master at Margate, and at his house Agar stayed over night. Tester showed the expert an iron safe with a Chubb lock at Margate station, and asked if that would be of any service in making the keys. Agar explained that it would not, and Tester growled at the ill-luck which had caused the "job to be put up" so late. He was himself at one time in the Folkestone station, and could have got hold of the keys it needed. Agar, however, did not despair. On his return to London he suggested that Pierce and himself should take the sea air for a time, engaging apartments at Folkestone. They could thus watch the trains in and out, and see how the keys of the bullion-chest were to be got at. They accordingly took up their quarters, under assumed names, at a first-class house in Folkestone and stayed there a fortnight. Every day they went down to the harbor on the arrival of the tidal train from London, and of the Boulogne boat, and watched carefully to see what was done with the keys. This visit took place nearly a year before the robbery was accomplished. Owing to their presence at the station so often, the Police took notice of them, and the Inspector followed Pierce. He "took him through the town," got away, and returned to London. Agar returned a few days later. Their trip had not been bootless; they had noticed the arrival and departure of the bullion-chest and on one occasion saw it opened. It was placed on the platform, and a man named Sharman came and locked it with a key which was attached to a label from which another key was suspended. Agar saw Sharman take these into the station-house. About eight or nine months before the robbery it was again arranged that he should go to Folkestone. Tester met him there, as if by chance, and introduced him to Sharman. The latter, however, turned out to be "a very sedate young man," and no information could be gleaned from him. The matter now rested for a while, and it seemed as if it must be abandoned, when Tester, who was then in the London office, wrote that one of the duplicate keys was lost, that the chest was going to Messrs. Chubb's to have the combination changed and new keys fitted, and that he was to take charge of the matter, and to receive the new keys from Chubb's. Pierce and Agar met him by appointment at a beer-shop in Tooley street; he brought the new key with him, Agar retired to a bed-room, took an impression of it, and returned it to Tester, who hurried around to the office, without exciting any suspicion by his delay.

This stroke of good luck encouraged the confederates, though it was but a single step gained. As only one key had been lost, only one lock had been overhauled, (each safe had two,) and the key of the other had never been in Tester's possession. It must be got hold of, and the way in which this was done is one of the boldest strokes the friends attempted. The man at Folkstone who had charge of the keys and his assistant used occasionally, on the arrival of the Boulogne boat, to leave the station-house unoccupied for some ten minutes. The lock of the building was a common one, and with an ordinary assortment of skeleton keys they could not fail to open it in a moment. It was necessary, however, to first ascertain whereabouts in the station-house the safe key was kept. Agar therefore went to Folkestone, and, under the assumed name of Adam, took lodgings at the Pavillion Hotel. While there, Pierce forwarded him a box containing £300 in sovereigns, (advanced by Agar for the purpose.) On a Monday he called at the station, his box appeared on the way-bill, and one Chapman, then in charge of the office, took the key from a cupboard, opened the safe, and gave the sovereigns to Agar.

He now had all the information he required. He returned to London, and in company with Pierce went down to Dover by a train, arriving at midday. They walked over to Folkstone, reaching there before the boat came in. They walked about the harbor till she arrived, when Chapman and his assistant left the office for the pier. The confederates hurried to the door—fortune favored them—it was not even locked. While Pierce watched outside, Agar entered, hurriedly took an impression of the key, and they both left the office before the return of the station-master. They hurried over to Dover, and back to London the same day.

Upon their return Agar had some blank keys made and began to file them down to the size of the impression he had taken. It was weary work. He commenced at Pierce's, but, having made up an old quarrel with his mistress, Fanny Kay, he hired a house at Cambridge Villas, and there finished his task. A new actor now made his appearance on the scene; Burgess was made acquainted with all that had been done. "It is a good job," said he, "and I will do my best to help you." The next step was to fit the keys to the locks of the bullion chest, and Agar made some seven or eight trips with Burgess in the van before he succeeded in so doing.

A year had now passed in constant preparation, and in order to secure a fitting reward for their toil and trouble, the confederates determined to wait until at least twelve thousand pounds went down the line. The final arrangements were made, Pierce and Agar went to a shot tower beyond Hungerford Suspension Bridge and purchased 200 pounds of shot, which they carried to Cambridge Villas in eight-pound and four-pound check bags. These smaller packets were put in four courier-bags made of drab leather, which buckled high up around the body and were concealed by short capes. A small black leather bag, large enough to admit a bar of bullion of the standard size, was also provided for Tester, who was to go on to Redhill, there receive part of the gold, and convey it to London. Everything being in readiness for the robbery, Agar and Pierce met nightly at London Bridge to watch for their opportunity. For a week there was no chance, but on the eighth day they heard from Tester that there was a large consignment soon to be sent down the line, though he could not ascertain the precise day.

The friends buckled on their courier-bags, took two large bags—"dummies"—in each of which was a smaller one with a quantity of hay, and, hiring a cab, drove in the evening to St. Thomas street. Agar got out and walked toward the station; Burgess came to the door and wiped his face. It was the preconcerted signal, and he and Pierce purchased their tickets and hurried to the train. The latter put his luggage in charge of Burgess and got into a first-class carriage, while Agar walked up and down the platform till the train started, then jumped unobserved into the van, where he crouched down in a corner, and Burgess threw his apron over him.

No sooner was the train fairly under way than the energetic Agar commenced operations. He opened one safe and took out a wooden box fastened with nails and iron bands and sealed. He had provided himself with pincers, boxwood wedges, sealing-wax, and a taper. He quickly pried open the box, took out four gold bars, put one in Tester's bag and three in the carpet-bags. He then filled it up with shot, fastened and sealed it. By this time the train had reached Redhill. Tester made his appearance. Burgess handed him his bag, and he started back for London. Agar then opened two other boxes, taking some American coin, some large bars, and severl small ones, known as Californians. Having secured all that he thought he and Pierce could carry, he filled the boxes with shot, closed and sealed them, and returned them to the safes. The débris was swept up, and when the train reached Folkestone, Pierce and Agar buckled on their courier-bags and took the valises out of Burgess' van. The safes were taken from the train at Folkestone, but the confederates remained on board till they reached Dover, where they put up at the Dover Castle Hotel. They entered the coffee-room and ordered supper. The waiter asked them if they wanted beds. "No," said Agar, "we go back to London by the 2 A. M. train." He then walked to the pier and threw all his tools into the sea.

After supper they walked to the railway, and on the porter asking to see their tickets they presented Ostend ones, which they had procured. In this they were somewhat over-shrewd, and nearly brought about their own detection, for the porter, surprised at the sight of the tickets and bags, said that no luggage had passed through the Custom-house that day, and he supposed that he ought to call the Inspector. "No," answered Agar, "we came yesterday;" and he closed the porter's eyes by slipping a sovereign into his hand, and they passed on to the cars.

On their way back they opened the large bags, took out the hay, and hid the bags behind the door of the waiting-room at one of the stations at which they stopped. The gold was then in the small carpet and courier bags. On reaching London they took a cab and ordered the driver to take them to the Great Western station, but before reaching that place explained that they had made a mistake and directed him to drive to Euston square. They got out at a public house and dismissed the cab, but Pierce a few moments later engaged another in which they were conveyed to the neighborhood of Crown Terrace. They here dismissed the second cab and took their bags into Pierce's house.

The American gold coin was sold next day, but the rest of the plunder was in an inconvenient shape, and these indefatigable rascals resolved to recast it. It was removed to Agar's house, and they set about building a furnace in the first floor, back. They took up some of the stones of the floor for that purpose, and replaced them with fire-bricks. Fanny Kay was kept out of the room, but she testified that for days Agar and Pierce remained there at work; that she constantly heard a noise like the roaring of a furnace, and, when they appeared at meals, they were hot and dirty. In removing one of the crucibles it broke, and the gold ran over the floor. Small particles of it adhered to the bricks, four of which were produced in court.

When they had melted the gold and run it into ingots, they commenced to sell it little by little, and this operation was going on when Agar was arrested for another offense. By this time the confederates had each received £700 in notes for gold sold, and there was a great deal not disposed of. It was all sold, however, before the trial, and the proceeds divided, except £2,300 in Turkish bonds. Before his arrest Agar had again quarreled with Fanny, and the treasure was removed from his house to a new and elegant villa which Pierce had purchased at Kilburn, and hidden in a hole dug in the floor of a pantry under the front steps. The Police there found £600 in gold, £2,300 in Turkish bonds, £3,000 in Government securities, besides bonds and mortgages, bank notes, and other securities to the amount of £15,000. Much of this was Agar's private property left with Pierce to support Fanny Kay, and in regard to the embezzlement thereof Baron Martin, in sentencing the prisoner, said that he "would rather have been concerned in stealing the gold than in the robbery of that wretched woman and her child."

The prisoners were duly found guilty and sentenced, and then there arose the somewhat perplexing question as to what should be done with the recaptured plunder. A host of claimants struggled for its possession. The Attorney-General demanded it as a prerogative of the Crown. The City of London insisted on a clause in its charter which gave it a title to the goods of all felons convicted in the city. The South Eastern Railway advanced the theory that it was the proceeds of the property stolen from them, its nature changed, but its title undiverted. One Saward, who was counsel for the prisoners, set up a lien on it for his fees, while Mrs. Tester and Fanny Kay each claimed a share.

After an extended argument, the railway company was allowed to take whatever it could prove conclusively to be the direct fruits of the robbery of which it had been the victim. The residue was turned over to Sir Richard Mayne, Chief Commissioner of Police, with the understanding that it should be applied to the support of Fanny Kay and her child.

THE LIFE OF JOHN LOCKE.—While he retained his affection for his old friends, and wrote continually to those he could not meet, he was making new ones to the last. To love and to seek truth and reason above all things, and in the smallest as well as in the greatest matters; to work for others as the habitual duty of life, and for the public good, no less than private; and thus to live and work as in God's service—these things Locke never ceased to inculcate on all around him, alike by example and precept. In controversy he was as moderate as he was strong, so that it was justly said of him that he laid his adversary on his back, but neither soiled nor even tumbled his clothes. In his intercourse with his friends he was as simple and modest as he was genial and affectionate, and expressed himself with a humility not less striking than his wisdom. He never married, and there is only slight indication (in the remaining letter to his father) that he had once thought of marriage; but his devotion to Lady Masham, to her daughter, and to the little maiden he called "his wife," was as tender as it was refined and pure; while this purity is the more noticeable, in a day when (as we know from Swift's letters) even virtuous women could tolerate a coarseness that would now be hardly endured by the vicious. The evening before his death he said, "My work here is almost at an end, and I thank God for it;" and again, when the family were assembled to pray beside him and for him, as he had desired, he repeated, "I heartily thank God for all his goodness and mercies to me, but above all for his redemption of me by Jesus Christ." He died next day, Lady Masham reading to him in the Psalms at his request. "He raised his hands to his eyes, closed them, and all was over." In the words of this his devoted friend, written while she was still in deepest grief for her loss, "his death was like his life, truly pious, yet natural, easy, and unaffected; nor can time, I think, ever produce a more eminent example of reason and religion than he was, living and dying." Locke was a great man, and especially a great Englishman. It is not too much to say that among the multitude of the unknown great and good who, age after age, have combined to create the English character, Locke stands as one of the few whom we can still call by name. Arriving at manhood in the crisis of our greatest national revolution, he saw what was the temperate middle course, and took it. He neither adhered to the Puritanism, in which he had been brought up, nor passed over to the Royalism of reaction, which was succeeding it. He rose above party and partial considerations and conclusions, and held on to that higher but not less practical course which he lived to see opening upon the table-lands of constitutional monarchy in the State, and ecclesiastical and theological toleration in the Church. And to Locke himself we owe much of the still increasing and multiplying blessings of freedom, the seeds of which he then helped to sow. In philosophy and in theology, as in politics, he took the English middle course; if he did not soar to the ideal regions of ontology, he did not sink into those of materialism, nor did he content himself with the compromises of skepticism or negation. Everywhere he essayed to discover and deal with facts, to observe them in the light of reason, and so to establish a trustworthy method by which those who would use it might make new and continual progress in the path which he thus pointed out. An honest and devout believer in the Christian revelation, he maintained that revelation was addressed to the reason, and not to some blind faculty of servile submission to unintelligible authority. A lover of truth above all things, he taught that it was in facts, and not in theory and hypothesis, that truth must be sought for. And in the form, as well as in the matter of his thoughts, as we see them in his books, and still more, perhaps, in his letters, there is the same English moderation, showing itself in a certain dry pathos, dry humor, and unimpassioned imagination, which are all so real, and yet so self-restrained. The importance which he attaches to "good breeding," in his Treatise on Education, as well as in his letters of advice to his younger friends, was illustrated by the habitual modesty as well as courtesy of his bearing to all men and women, in small as well as great things. And in this, too, he was English—the humble and gentle servant, not the imperious lord; the knight, not the chevalier of romance. Lady Masham's words exactly describe the character of this great and good man; but he was such as she describes him, because his life was one of the noblest and completest, and therefore the humblest and most pious, self-training for that service of his country and of God in which he lived and died.

THE PRIESTESS AND THE POOR.—The priestess is placed in a difficult position with regard to the poor. The clergyman's good little wife is generally very popular among them, but they feel the visits of the priestess to be irksome. She comes as though she thought she had some authority, whereas in reality she has none whatever. Her husband, by virtue of his office, can enter a cottage to comfort or admonish; the squire's wife to offer a sort of feudal protection; the wealthy neighbour to bring gifts; the sister of charity to nurse the sick. But the priestess is neither fish, flesh, fowl, nor good red herring; and yet she comes in with an odor of sanctity. What comforts she brings are usually small parish doles, which the poor are in the habit of regarding as their right, and her wise counsels they would gladly dispense with. She is peculiarly situated socially. Her position is supposed to be above that of small country professional people, while she has few feelings or interests in common with the county families, unless, of course, she happens to be a woman of good family; and even then, except in a few rare cases, she so seldom leaves home or goes into London society that she can scarcely enter cordially into the interests of her richer neighbors. In these days country society is chiefly kept going by visits of a few nights at different houses, parties for shooting, hunting, balls, pre arranged luncheons, and five-o'clock teas, &c.; but the priestess is much addicted to paying formal calls which in the country are rapidly becoming obsolete ceremonies. She is the cause of many a "not-at-home," and of clandestine escapes through side doors and windows. The very fact of the supposed obligation to invite her to dinner prejudices people against her, and renders her acceptance unwelcome. When she does dine out at a country house, she feels out of her element, and she has not the savoir faire to conceal her feelings. The husband would frequently be most welcome, and the lady of the house would be very glad to talk to him about her poor neighbors; but it is trying to have the wife putting in her word, and people do not like to feel that their confidential conversations with their clergyman may form table-talk at the rectory. Thus the door is often closed against a married clergyman where a bachelor would be welcome. The whims of the priestess have great weight with the weak-minded priest. Indeed sometimes even a strong mind knocks under to them. A clergyman's life is very different from that of a professional man, who is absent from home from breakfast-time till dinner, and whose wife would be bored were he to enter into the dry details of his business with her. The parson spends most of his time in his own house, or at any rate returns there frequently during the day, and the nature of his calling is interesting to a woman. Thus he is much more exposed to feminine influence than a soldier, a lawyer, a doctor, or a merchant. The fiercest persecutions of the world are easier to bear than to be laughed at or cried at by a wife. When a parish is about to be handed over to a new Rector, it is generally more important to inquire into the character and opinions of his wife than of himself. Patrons of livings should be careful on this point. The clergyman's wife may be a charming woman, and may prove a delightful and useful neighbor, both to rich and poor. But the priestess is to be avoided.—The Saturday Review.

THE ISLAND OF JAVA.—It is as strange that more English travelers do not visit Java for its beauty, as that more do not visit Canton for its political and social interest. Newer scenes cannot be found. From the moment of embarkation upon dirty steamers, crowded with Dutch ladies in bare feet and native dress, to cross a sea that is covered with floating palm-trees from the Sumatra rivers, to that of disembarkation in that lovely tropical forest, dotted with houses here and there, which is called the City of Batavia, all is fresh even to the experienced traveler's eye. The system of the Dutch, the afternoon stillness of Buitenzorg Palace, a sort of tropical Versailles, the great rumbling coaches drawn by six pied rats of ponies upon the levels, and dragged by eight great tawny buffaloes up the hills, the deafening screeching of the beetles, the tree-ferns of Sandanglaya, the "walking-flowers," or pink-orchid-insects, feeding on live butterflies, which they will not take dead—all these tempt the traveler to linger over descriptions of things which cannot be described. The Dutch statistics are eloquent as to the nature of the country which they occupy. Java is not large, but within its limits 300 people every year are eaten by carnivora, 200 by the crocodiles, 100 killed by the rhinoceros, 500 killed by lightning, while 100 die by snake-bites, and a varying number by earthquakes and volcanic action. The traveler journeying under Dutch protection along the well-known roads, is safe against most of the accidents which destroy the natives of the land; but the hospitalities by which he is surrounded, combined with want of knowledge of the language, prevent him from making observations upon the nature of the Dutch rule which are of any worth. It is certain that the Dutch have killed art in Java. They do but little for education, and the doubtful question is whether, under their administration, the material position of the people has been improved.—Macmillan's Magazine.

PSYCHO.—And now we come to Messrs. Maskelyne and Cooke's Automaton Whist-player, rejoicing in the name of Psycho, which for a year or two has been an insoluble puzzle to Londoners and visitors to London. If thinking be necessary in any game, it is assuredly necessary in whist; and Psycho meets fairly good players on equal terms. If mechanism does not think, and if no "spirits" guide the movements of Psycho, there must be a human confederate; and this question of confederacy is as great a mystery as anything else. What we are told of the origin of Psycho is as follows: Mr. John Algernon Clarke had long meditated on a scheme for the construction of a machine for playing at cards; he communicated his idea in 1873 to Mr. Maskelyne, whose practical acquaintance with watch and clock mechanism had made him well familiar with the action of wheel-work, &c. Two years were spent in elaborating the details; and early in 1875 Psycho was added to the list of amusing wonders exhibited by Messrs. Maskelyne and Cooke in the metropolis. The Psycho arrangement is as follows: A figure, considerably less than adult size, and dressed in Oriental garb, sits cross-legged on an oblong box about two feet long, eighteen inches wide, and fifteen high. The crown of the head reaches about two feet and a half above the box on which the figure is seated. The box and figure together are quite portable, detached from everything else, and carried about with ease. On the stage or floor of the room is placed (not as a fixture) a low, broad stool; on this is placed, upright, a hollow glass cylinder about eighteen inches high by ten in diameter, and on the cylinder is placed the box supporting Psycho. The stool, cylinder, and bottom of the box are turned up and about, and shown separately to the audience before the performance begins; while small windows in the side of the box and figure give a peep into the inside. There is no doubt that the smallest of Tom Thumbs would fail to find sitting or crouching room within; and on all sides the idea is given up that there is any living person within the machine; a repetition of the trick of Kempelen's "automaton" chess-player—in the interior of which, as we have said, was concealed a human being—certainly does not occur here, whatever may be the nature of the real mystery. The box and figure are free from contact with anything behind, such as a scene or screen, as any of the spectators may approach and walk round them. They are free from overhead connection, as a stick is passed horizontally over the head of Psycho. They are free from side connections, as the audience can see clearly past the right and left sides of them. Lastly, they are free from connection with the floor underneath, except through the medium of the transparent glass cylinder on which the box rests, and which is open at both ends. Rarely has an exhibited figure made so near an approach to complete isolation as this. Psycho's right arm, in a sleeve of Oriental cut, has a power both of vertical and horizontal motion. Next for the stage arrangements connected with the playing of a game at whist. A table is placed somewhat in front, but on one side of Psycho, with chairs for three persons. Three visitors are invited to come upon the stage. There is every reason to believe that collusion has no place here; whether the persons are known one to another, or to Mr. Maskelyne, or are strangers who happen to be present on that occasion, the proceedings are just the same, the only condition being that all three shall have a fair knowledge of whist. An open space of five or six feet is left between Psycho and the table, and Mr. Maskelyne is generally somewhere within this space. A pack of cards is placed on the table, and the players cut for partners, Mr. Maskelyne cutting as deputy for Psycho. The three players sit down, Psycho's partner opposite to him, and two of them cut for deal. The cards are then shuffled, finally cut, and dealt, just as in ordinary whist-play. Mr. Maskelyne takes (back uppermost) Psycho's thirteen cards, and inserts them one by one in a quadrantal rack or frame in front of the figure, the bottom edge of each card being held in a groove, the rest of the card standing up freely, with its face toward Psycho. The play begins. Mr. Maskelyne announces audibly the name of the card put down by each player. When it is Psycho's turn to play, the figure raises its right arm, and passes the hand gently along the tops of the cards; the hand stops over some one particular card, the finger and thumb clasp it, pull it out of the rack, and Psycho holds up the face of the card toward the audience. During this time Mr. Maskelyne is at least a yard distant, and does not touch any part of the figure, the box, the glass cylinder, or the supporting stool. The length of the sweep of Psycho's arm depends on the position of the cards in the rack; for the best card to play at any particular moment may be the first in the rack, or the thirteenth, or any intermediate position. Pscyho appears to look at his several cards each time, and to pick out that which may be most advantageously played; real mental deliberation is as nearly imitated as it can well be. Mr. Maskelyne approaches, takes the selected card from Psycho's hand, and throws it down on the table as part of a trick—won by Psycho and his partner, or against them, as the case may be. Thus the game proceeds, trick after trick, Mr. Maskelyne announces audibly the names of all the fifty-two cards played; but he never tells Psycho (so far as we know) what card to play. Psycho's partner arranges the tricks which these two have won. Only one deal is played at each exhibition; it sometimes scores most for Pschyo and his partner, sometimes for their antagonists, according as the cards happen to lie, or as the players are equal or unequal in skill. Now, how is all this accomplished? A search at the Patent Office tells us that the preliminary steps for a patent were taken by Mr. Maskelyne and Mr. Clarke last year. The patent is for "Improved Means for Actuating Automatic Mechanism." The specification speaks of condensed air, rarefied air, a pedestal reservoir, valves, a piston, a coiled spring or weight, a fly-wheel, a fan-blast, and bellows within an automaton figure. But the description, unaccompanied by any diagram, is difficult to make out; and no hint is given as to whether it applies at all to Psycho. We are not to forget that there have been such things known as patents taken out as a mere blind, to throw an inquisitive public on the wrong scent. Spectators are left to guess as they may. If Mr. Maskelyne presses his foot on a lever or spring, it certainly cannot be detected. If an assistant can see Psycho's cards, where he is placed is a puzzle. Whether the words uttered audibly by Mr. Maskelyne contain instructions or advice as to what card shall be played by Psycho, we do not know; it is possible, but probabilities go against it.—Chambers's Journal.

JAPANESE FORCES.—Such is the efficiency of the Japanese forces that a mere statement of their number should be accompanied with a reminder of their serious value. Their Navy employs 4,214 men, all drilled under English instructors. All Japanese are liable to military service in the Army, but the actual regular force—the whole of which would have been landed on the coast of China from seven to ten days after the declaration of war, had not war been prevented by the action of Sir T. F. Wade, two years ago—consists, on a war footing, of 49,93[illegible] men. On a peace footing, the Army consists of 35,320 men, of whom 2,460 are artillery, 1,23[illegible] engineers, 440 military train, 720 garrison troops, and 30,080 infantry, including the Imperial guard. There is only one regiment of cavalry. The effectiveness of the Japanese Army is immensely increased by the fact that the great steam navigation company, which owns some of the finest steamers in the world, is only the Japanese Government under another name, and the whole of the ships running to Shanghai are liable at a moment's notice to be used for the conveyance of troops. There can be little doubt that, had war broken out between China and Japan two years ago, the Japanese would have taken Pekin; although, looking to the fact that the population of Japan is but little over 33,000,000, it is possible that Pekin would have proved a Moscow.—Fortnightly Review.

MOCK AUCTION SALES.

HOW HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE IS DISPOSED OF.

OUR CITIZENS SWINDLED AT BOGUS PRIVATE SALES—THE NAMES OF THE AUCTIONEERS CONNECTED WITH THE FRAUDULENT PRACTICE—WHERE THEY CARRY ON THEIR BUSINESS.

The exposures in THE TIMES of the mock auction horse sales having resulted so successfully in breaking up the great swindle, attention will be now directed to another class of mock auctions. These are the sales of household furniture in so-called private houses, which are in reality nothing more than auction shops. The houses secured for the sale are generally in fashionable localities, and are fitted up in such a way that they are very apt to deceive the ordinary buyer. They have flourished for many years, the business being exceedingly profitable, but the time has come when they will find it difficult to continue longer, owing to the vigorous action of Capt. Walsh, of the Ordinance Police. There are at the present time four houses devoted to the mock auction furniture sales:

No. 47 West Sixteenth street, Robert C. Caslim.
No. 120 West Twenty-third street, Luke Fitzgerald, auctioneer.
No. 21 East Twentieth street, Henry Zinn, auctioneer.
No. 51 West Twenty-fourth street, Ernest Roth, auctioneer.

During the past week all of the above places have been closely watched by Capt. Walsh and his officers, and the Captain is determined to suppress the swindle. He visited a sale at each place in citizen's dress, but the auctioneers recognized him, and were very careful not to make any misrepresentations, and in two instances adjourned the sale when they found he was present. Selecting two of his most trusty officers, Capt. Walsh instructed them to attend the sales, remain there until they closed, and obtain specific evidence to prosecute them.

The general phases of fraud in all these sales are: holding out the assertion that a systematic auction place is a private residence; stocking the house with furniture, and saying it was the furniture of some party about to leave the city; the attendance of male and female dummies or cappers, assuming, by implication, to be buyers from the outside public; the cappers bidding and puffing in the interests of the auctioneers; printing catalogues in the lump for no particular day, and using the same catalogue day after day, although the goods change. All of these are deemed fraudulent practices under the auction law, a section of which says:

"An auctioneer in the Cities of New-York or Brooklyn who shall hereafter make or cause to be made any false or fraudulent representations or statements in respect to the character of such sale or the party authorizing the same, or the quality, condition, ownership, situation, or value of any property, real or personal, exposed, put up, or offered by him for sale at public auction, or who shall put up or offer for sale any property, real or personal, in respect to which any false or fraudulent statement or representation shall have been made by him or to his knowledge as to the character of such sale or the party authorizing the same, or as to the quality, condition, ownership, situation, or value of such property, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by fine not exceeding $1,000."

The auctioneers advertise extensively, exactly the same notice appearing day after day. Their bills for advertising amount to $500 per week. Certain ear marks about the advertisements readily distinguish them from the announcements of the regular auctioneers. For instance, Fitzgerald advertises at the bottom of his notice:

"N. B.—This is the largest sale of the season. Sale positive. Take Sixth avenue cars to Twenty-third street. Competent men to pack and ship goods; City or country."

Caslim closes his notice as follows:

"N. B.—Sale positive. Parties about purchasing will positively find this a rare chance. Take Sixth avenue or University place cars, or Fifth avenue stage to Sixteenth street. Competent men to pack or ship goods; City or country."

Zinn merely says:

"N. B.—Goods boxed or shipped, if required, to City or country for purchasers."

The advertisements of Luke Fitzgerald calls attention to:

"Auction sale of magnificent household furniture, property of E. Gay, Esq., to be sold this morning, commencing at 10 o'clock, at the elegant five-story brown-stone mansion, No. 120 West Twenty-third street, near Sixth avenue."

Then follows an enumeration of the articles to be sold:

"Two brilliant-toned piano-fortes, Stienway and Windsor; three superb satin parlor suits, twenty-five choice bronze figures, twenty-five Brussels and ingrain carpets, thirty fine oil paintings, best artists; twelve elegant bedroom suits, twenty-four curled hair and spring mattrasses, eight black walnut lounges, castors, urns, pitchers, knives, spoons, glassware, &c."

At No. 47 West Sixteenth street, Robert C. Coslin words his advertisement as follows:

"Rich household furniture, inlaid walnut chamber sets, Steinway seven and a half octave piano-forte, Chickering upright piano, oil-paintings, statuary, &c., all in excellent condition; parlor curtains, parlor and drawing-room suites, richly carved rosewood and walnut frames covered in crimson, tan, and gold brocade satin and catelaine; Turkish and Spanish lounges, inlaid marquetrie and gilt centre and console tables, &c.; library curtains, Brussels carpet, ebony and gilt secretaire book-cases, volumes choice books, elegant Turkish suite, statuary, works of art, lace curtains."

A catalogue of the numerous articles follow, winding up with the kitchen and halls.

Henry Zinn, at No. 21 East Twentieth street, calls his sales auctions of modern and antique household furniture, &c. E. Roth advertises, "Will sell positive this day all the elegant household furniture at the private residence No. 105 East Thirteenth street," and then gives a list of the articles he will dispose of. A glance at the advertisements will enable the purchaser, from the above explanations, to detect these mock sales, for they always occupy a conspicuous position. A visit to any of the places will show how the sales are conducted. At No. 47 West Sixteenth street, a TIMES reporter found a large four-story brown-stone house, with a vine running up the side, having every appearance of a gentleman's residence. A red flag projecting from the stoop had the words, "Robert Caslins, Auctioneer. Sale this Day." At the door an old man acting as porter opens it, hands you a catalogue, and tells you in what part of the house the sale is proceeding. The house is furnished from top to bottom, all the furniture, carpets, and other household effects being new; paintings and engravings adorn the walls, and scattered here and there are various articles of ornament. The auctioneer was in the midst of his sale in the front room on the second floor; there were about a dozen persons present, three of whom were females. "Step right in," said a clerk, "and don't block up the doorway," as he ushered an old man in the room. The auctioneer was very careful to announce that the goods were sent to him to be sold on commission. "And how much am I offered for this mattress?" the auctioneer rattled out. "Won't some one give me a bid? Cut it open, and show the people that it is hair." A man grabbed one end, fumbled it a short time, and pulled out something that resembled hair from a slit cut for the purpose. "I'll give $6," said one of the females. "Seven," said another. "Eight," responded the third. The bidding was confined exclusively to the three, and one of them got it for $9, but she gave no deposit or name. All these were "cappers" employed at the house. Two of them were medium-sized, and appeared to be sisters, while the other was a very large German woman, and was evidently well up in the business. A bedstead was next put up and knocked down to an old white-haired man for $65. He is another "capper." A Decker piano was offered: "Try it if you like," said the auctioneer, and one of the female cappers struck a few notes on it and called out "One hundred dollars." Another capper raised it twenty-five, and a few other bids were given, and it was sold to one of the female cappers for $140. A book-keeper walked up and down the room, jotting down the prices and names as the articles were sold, and occasionally would call out, "Competent men to pack and ship goods to any part of the City or country." Other rooms were visited, and the goods were all knocked down to a few parties, not one of whom was a genuine purchaser. While the auctioneer was engaged in the sale, a clerk passed a note to him which caused him to turn pale, and for the next half hour he went through the sale merely for form's sake. The note he had received informed him that detectives were in the house, and two of them were among those present. After that the people went into two rooms in which one or two articles were put up and sold, and then the auctioneer adjourned the sale, stating that there were not enough there to continue any longer, as he could scarcely get a bid. "Step down stairs and get your bills of sale," he added, and led the way to the library, followed by the eight cappers, who remained there. As the reporter left the house, the porter grabbed the catalogue, saying that it was private property and could not be taken away. At Roth's place, No. 51 West Twenty-fourth street, the articles are of a poorer quality than at the other places, and the buyers are principally small housekeepers. There were three cappers present at the time of the reporter's visit—a woman, and two men—and they bid up every article that was offered.

For over forty years mock-auction sales have flourished in this City, but it was not until 1850 that D. S. Hough inaugurated the mock-furniture auction sales, and was followed by R. W. Westcott, who remained in the business at No. 152 West Twenty-first street until 1863. During the war the sales received a great impetus, and it was in 1863 that Zeno Burnham started his great swindle in West Sixteenth street, where he had five large four-story brown-stone houses devoted to the business, besides others in Tenth, Twenty-third and Twenty-sixth streets. The business was carried on under the names of various auctioneers, and was so successful that Burnham became known throughout the City as the "Mock-auction King." Burnham was arrested a number of times, and in February, 1868, he was tried and committed for swindling a lady who attended his sale at No. 44 West Sixteenth street out of $1,000, and he was sent to State Prison for two and a half years. Burnham still lives, and has recently acted the part of the "respectable gentleman" at the mock-auction horse sales. Conway, James M. Taylor, Augustus A. Shultz, E. Nichols, and Augustus Martines followed in Burnham's footsteps, but now they have all disappeared. About the time the great swindle was in successful operation a man named Ernest Roth kept a small store at No. 72 Sixth avenue for the sale of furniture. He soon discovered that the profits of the new scheme were enormous, and he determined to follow the business. He first appeared at No. 130 Waverly place, but soon removed to No. 119 West Eighth street or Clinton place, and remained there for seven or eight years. He now sells at No. 51 West Twenty-fourth street.

Luke Fitzgerald started his sales about six years ago, at No. 113 West Twenty-seventh street, but in the Spring of 1871 he removed to his present quarters, No. 120 West Twenty-third street. Robert C. Coslin began the business in 1873 at No. 210 West Twenty-first street, and has been in his present location, No. 47 West Sixteenth street, over a year. Henry Zinn formerly kept a furniture store on Third avenue; he opened the sales first at No. 124 West Twenty-sixth street in 1872, and removed from there to No. 21 East Twentieth street in the following year.

Besides the daily auctions, the men have private sales, which is clearly in violation of the law, which says, "No auctioneer, on the day and at the place where his public auction shall be held, nor any person whatever, on the same day and at the same place, shall sell at private sale any goods or effects liable to auction duties; and every person violating this provision forfeits a sum equal to the price for which such goods shall have been sold." They advertise that a private family will sell a magnificent piano-forte, cost $1,000, for $250; or parlor suites which cost $1,000 for $350. The expenses of the business are very large; advertising costs $500 per week; the rents of the houses are about $2,000 per year; then there are from three to eight "cappers" in each place, book-keepers, porters, and other employes; and for this and the large profits of the auctioneers, the buyers have to suffer.

JUVENILE PATRIOTISM.

WHAT THE CELEBRATION OF THE FOURTH OF JULY COST THE FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES—INTERESTING STATISTICS.

It seems somewhat strange that the people of the United States should be congratulated that the destruction of their property in one night, by the discharge of fireworks and fire-crackers, did not amount to quite half a million of dollars. Yet such congratulation is offered in all good faith by a Committee on Statistics which has just reported to the National Board of Fire Underwriters. The congratulation, of course, arises out of the celebration of the Fourth of July of this year. That this celebration was on a scale far surpassing in extent any previous demonstration of the kind in the history of the country, and that more fireworks were consumed, seems to be beyond doubt; but confronting this generally accepted fact is the universal testimony of fire underwriters and Chief Engineers of Fire Departments that the losses by fire on the 3d and 4th of July, 1876, were less in number than in any previous year in their remembrance. This is at all events what the Committee on Statistics reports, and as their work appears to have been done with care, there is no reason to doubt the accuracy of the results at which they have arrived. Probably the decrease in damage done, while the observance of the Centennial celebration by the discharge of fireworks, &c., took an exactly opposite course, is to be accounted for by the increased precaution of the public, who were apprehensive of serious conflagrations arising out of the celebration. The sources of information of the Committee on Statistics are the insurance companies doing business in this country, the Chief Engineers of Fire Departments and the Chiefs of Police in all the cities and towns having a population of over 1,000 persons; and it appears that 349 stock companies, 149 mutual companies, 850 Chief Engineers, and 771 Chiefs of Police have aided the committee in its researches. The losses sustained were mainly in the North-eastern States. The West, the report says, was protected by copious rains, and the principal display of fire-works in the South being at Mardi Gras and during the Christmas holidays, the losses were not so serious in that section of the country. The tax upon insurance capital by reason of the celebration is reported to be $154,574 16, which the committee thinks rather costly for the gratification of juvenile patriotism. The returns of the companies classify the damage under the heads of fireworks, fire-crackers, and gun-wads. Under the first of these the losses sustained, coming under the classification of mercantile, domestic, mercantile and domestic, manufactories and churches, amount in the total to $73,204 09. The loss to the mercantile interest, which includes business buildings, stocks and fixtures, lumber-yards, public libraries, and public stables, is greatest, amounting to $40,269 95. Under the heading "domestic," is included dwellings and contents, barns and contents, and private stables and contents, and here the loss is $13,179 42. Under "mercantile and domestic," which is held to include business buildings and dwellings combined, the loss is set down at $7,742 52; under "manufactories," including manufacturing establishments, mills, carpenter shops, and bakeries, $8,375, and under "churches" $3,637 20. The losses caused by fire-crackers as distinguished from fireworks are distributed as follows: Mercantile, $21,125 70; domestic, $17,946 65; mercantile and domestic, $8,118 21; manufactories, $829 50; churches, $107 79—making a total of $48,127 85. The damage caused by gun-wads is as follows: Mercantile, $25,009 56; domestic, $832 66; manufactories, $7,400; total, $33,242 22. There are farther details as to the premises occupied, tenants at home, absent, &c., which need not be followed out further here, except in so far as the grand total is concerned. The following summary will therefore suffice: Total tax on insurance capital by reason of fires arising from fireworks, fire-crackers, and gun-wads, $154,594 16; number of premises occupied, 239; tenants at home at time of fire, 159; tenants absent at time of fire, 80; premises not occupied, 18. The returns from the Chief Engineers of the Fire Departments give 101 cities and towns (with an aggregate population of 4,722,404) where fires occurred, as against 749 cities and towns (represented by a population of 4,235,476) in which there were no fires. The damage, according to their estimate, amounts to $240,979 49. The number of fires was 366, of alarms 353, of fires in unoccupied premises 23, and in occupied premises, from which the tenants were absent at the time of the fire, 34. There were also 22 alarms in the 749 cities and towns in which no fires occurred. The returns from the Chiefs of Police have special reference to the number of casualties which occurred, whether fatal, serious, or slight, and in the compilation they are distributed between those cities and towns having ordinances against fireworks, and those which are without such protective restrictions. By a curious perversity, the fatal and serious casualties are far in excess in those cities and towns where the prohibitory ordinances exist. Of these, reports come from 494; and of cities and towns without ordinances, statistics come from 277, giving a total of 771 cities and towns. In the former the fatal casualties were 32, against 2 in the towns in which no ordinances are in force. The serious casualties were 15 against 2, and the slight casualties 268 against 160. The totals are as follows: fatal, 34; serious, 17; slight, 428. The committee, in its report, admits that fireworks when properly manipulated can be made so safe, and can afford so much real pleasure to citizens of all ages, that few persons, if any, would wish to prohibit their manufacture; yet in view of the danger attendant upon their reckless handling and discharge, they think it important that the sale and use of all fireworks should be surrounded by most stringent municipal regulation, and that no fireworks should be manufactured which at the time of their discharge could not be regulated as to their direction. They specify certain descriptions of fireworks, such as serpents, squibs, chasers, which are completely beyond control when discharged, and the manufacture of which they recommend should be prohibited. Again they make certain recommendations touching those fireworks which leave burning débris after the immediate effect has been secured, and suggest the use of incombustible paper in their manufacture. As a piece of information of collateral value, they state that the fireworks of American manufacture sold from 1866 to 1876 were estimated by good authority to be worth $2,556,000. They are inexorable in their opposition to Chinese fire-crackers, and urge the National Board of Fire Underwriters to use their influence in securing from Congress a bill prohibiting their importation. One of the reasons for their opposition is curious enough. In appearance, they say, they are heathenish, but surely there can be no greater harm in setting fire to that which is heathenish in appearance than if it were of an exact Christian pattern. In fact, some good orthodox Christians might find a great deal to commend in their destruction by combustion under the circumstances. The further reasons of the committee that the noise of these fire-crackers is destructive of all rational methods of celebration, and that their serious effects after their explosion are beyond calculation, are better sustained. The invoice value of all fire-crackers imported since Jan. 1, 1865, is less, they say, than $1,500,000, while the loss in that period by two conflagrations directly traceable to them amounted to upward of $15,000,000. They had found also, they say, that on one day only of the present year the loss occasioned by them amounted to twenty-five per cent. of the total invoice value of all imported in 1875. It is not an extravagant statement, they think, that every dollar's worth of fire-crackers imported into this country has occasioned a direct loss by fire of more than one hundred dollars. In brief, the report of the committee is directed against the celebration of the great national holiday by the discharge of fireworks. They quote the opinions of some medical authorities who support their views, while they contemplate the question from a different standpoint, and, in conclusion, express their confidence that if fire underwriters will but arouse from their lethargy, and no longer consider an insurmountable hazard that which they say is by common consent regarded as a nuisance, they can not only remove an element of danger that periodically threatens their interest but win the thanks of all order-loving Americans by preparing the way for a more rational observance of the national holiday.

NAMES OF LONDON STREETS.

THE ABSURD REPETITION OF NAMES—THE NOMENCLATURE OF THE METROPOLIS.

From the London Echo.

The trouble is still further aggravated by the useless multiplication of names, which, notwithstanding the vigilance of the Board of Works, still bewilder the stranger. A poverty of invention seemed to have been the lot of the old builders, and a differentiated vanity the distinguishing quality of the modern ones. The one repeated the same name over and over again; the other applied a new name to every block of half-a-dozen houses, without the slightest necessity of so doing.

Glancing at mere random over the map of London of two or three years ago, we are impressed with the absurd extent to which a repetition of names has gone. Take Abbey street for example. We had then one in Bermondsey and another in Bethnal green. Albion road, is a very nice name, but there was no necessity for five of them, two of them being in Stoke Newington alone. Alfred was a great King, but something less than two or three London streets in his honor would have sufficed. Back lane is not so elegant a name that we need have had one in Deptford, a second in Islington, a third in Kennington, a fourth in Larkhall rise, a fifth in Limehouse, and a few more in other localities. Arlington street and Arthur street, Augusta place and Baker street, Bedford street and Bedford place, Brewer street and Brick lane—which, in memory of its most eminent visitor, might be changed to Stiggins street—Broad street and Brook street, Canal road and Canterbury ford, Castle street and Chapel street, and a hundred more are, or were, classed in the category of street names which have been duplicated, triplicated, tetrapled, pentepled, hexapled, heptapled, octopled, enneapled, and even dekapled by admiring, stupid, careless, or ignorant builders. The two Charleses, for instance, were not such eminently estimable or popular monarch, that there need have been a street in their honor in at least eleven different parts of the Metropolis—several of them in one postal district. Queen Charlotte and her amiable granddaughter were most respectable ladies, but less than three Charlotte streets might have done. As for Church lanes and Church streets, there are even more of them than there are of Chapel streets, of which there are (or were) nine. Clarendon streets there used, until very recently, to be three of, Coleman streets many, College streets numerous, Commercial roads out of all conscience, Cross streets a sufficiency, Crown streets ditto, while the Devonshire family had two "places," a "row," and four "streets" dedicated to their glory. The Kings of England have also been popular with street nomenclature. Elizabeth has had several streets in her honor, to the bewilderment of the cabman and postman; while the four Georges—worthy gentlemen—have had their microscopic merits attested by loyal bricklayers to the number of ten different London George streets, in addition to a hundred provincial ones. Furthermore, there is no end to the King streets, Hill streets, John streets, (of which no later than two years ago there were fourteen,) New roads, Portland places, North streets, Queen's roads, rows, streets, or walks, Regent streets, Stanhope streets, Southampton streets, Victoria roads and streets, Union streets and roads, Wellington streets, and York streets. In fact the beggarly array of forgotten names displayed would lead a stranger to believe that we had no great men to honor, but had continually to hark back on the old and very indifferent ones, to which, as a rule, the London streets are dedicated.

The modern builder is quite as mischievous. Half-a-dozen of them run up a score or two of very ugly brick houses. The first score, unless they are very sharply looked after, they call Stubbs terrace, the second Jenkins villas, the third Belgrave mansions, the fourth Jerusebio Angelo prospect, while the fifth may remain tenantless under the ban of being called Smithers rents. The whole street, which does not number a hundred houses, may be called Albert terrace, Victoria road, or Coburg place. The vanity of building a street and calling it by their names is as bad as the absurd nomenclature which insignificant houses receive from their pretentious tenants or owners. The Windsor houses, Arnold mansions, and Tom Paine priories, into which insignificant dwellings in paltry streets blossom, are generally the locale of cheap boarding-schools, and are named with a view to advertisements. Beyond making the tenants ridiculous such vanity is harmless. They only err in having names out of all proportion to their dignity, just as Joe Gargery thought the blacking warehouse did not come up to the pictures on the advertising cards—on account of "being drawed too architectooroorol." It is only when a builder plants his "unmusical name" on some ugly block of brick or stucco that the stranger gets bewildered and the poor postman and cabman meditate resignation. The absurdity is, however, only seen to its full extent when we find the same name given to two or three streets in one postal district. If a builder will "mark the marble with his name," let him do so under the Post Office control, and not bewilder the public officials. Who controls the nomenclature of the Metropolis? Are the names applied on the same principle as the naval surveyors distinguish an unsurveyed coast, by putting the names of those who have shown them hospitality into a bag, and then drawing them forth at random, as a name is required, for the chart—capes for dinners, bays for balls, creeks for lunches, and shoals for hot suppers with lots of grog? The gulfs, straits, and great islands are reserved for my Lords of the Admiralty, though when a weak Ministry is in, the Captain has to look sharp that a gulf or a strait is not named after a defeated and promotion-powerless Lord, only to be scratched out in favor of the name of the powers that be! The Board of Works and the City Fathers claim to exercise some control over street nomenclature, but from what we have said it will be apparent that this until very recently has been infinitesimal. Indeed, Three Tun alleys and Love-lane, in the Tower Hamlets are not even numbered. The inhabitants "chalk up what numbers they please;" and if the critical street-boy is displeased, he rubs it out and inserts another number more pleasing to his scholarly taste. The Love laners and Three Tun-alleyites do not get many letters, but they are voters, and the Revising Barrister finds it difficult to allocate the suffrage to these uncertain-habitationed electors. We may not be able to build our streets with the mathematical regularity of new Edinburgh, or name them A, B, C, 1, 2, 3, like the American ones, but we can at least number them; and, as long as an English dictionary can be got for sixpence, there is no necessity for making the Metropolis of the world a congeries of Church streets and Chapel streets, George streets and King streets, or an apotheosis of Jenkins, Jobkins, and Smith—

"And twenty more such names, and men as these,
Which never were, nor no man ever saw."

The Metropolitan Board of Works has, therefore, a great responsibility in endeavoring to render it impossible for duplicate and triplicate names to exist. The board has done much already, but much more remains to be done in the abolition of old and the choice of new names. The London householder loves a fine name; the landlord likes it, because it makes his houses let. Copenhagen is now naming all its new streets after its great men. Surely in the bead-roll of English worthies there are names which [illegible] London street may proudly own. Like the [illegible], if rechristened, a London street will [illegible] as acceptable, or the reverse, under a new name, and only a little ingenuity is required to complete a useful reform in Metropolitan nomenclature.

A SPECIMEN MAGISTRATE.

From the London Echo.

Of the vagaries of Commissioner Kerr there seem to be no end. At the Old Bailey last week he had to sentence two persons for bigamy. One was a man, the other a woman. The man had been deserted by his first wife for seventeen years, and was guilty of a merely nominal offense. The woman had twice been deserted and robbed by her husband, who lived a most dissolute life, and then instituted a prosecution for bigamy, probably to extort more money. In neither case was any harm done to any human being by the bigamy, as in both cases the second partners were perfectly contented, and a sentence of one day's imprisonment would have met the justice of the case. But not so thought Commissioner Kerr, who sentenced the man to four and the woman to six week's imprisonment, with hard labor. He admitted that very little harm had been done to the parties, but "a most solemn ordinance of the Church had been broken." It may be very wicked to make a mockery of the ordinances of "the Church," but that is not a consideration that a Judge, administering the criminal law has any business to take into account. Marriage, for the purposes of the law, is merely a civil contract; it need not be performed in either church or chapel; and Mr. Kerr altogether mistakes his duty if he imagines himself to be administering ecclesiastical law. "Mockery of the ordinances of the Church" is not, fortunately, a criminal offense; and so neither can it be an ingredient in the heinousness of a breach of law. The semi-ecclesiastical view of the learned Commissioner illustrates the evils of such a definition of bigamy. The legal definition of bigamy does not correspond with the moral offense. The real offense is contracting a marriage on the false pretense that there is no previous marriage constituting a disability. We hope that in this instance the ecclesiastical prejudices of the Commissioner will find a correction in the common sense of the Home Secretary.

DEATH OF A DEMOCRATIC REPRESENTATIVE.

Simeon H. Norton of Southington, (Conn.,) died suddenly, Wednesday afternoon, the cause being sickness contracted during a trip to Philadelphia. On the day before his death he was elected by the Democrats of his town to the General Assembly of the State. He had held that position several times before, and also many other offices of trust in his native town of Southington. He was sixty-three years old. There is no provision in the laws of the State for filling vacancies in the House of Representatives in case of death. The death of Mr. Norton of Southington will therefore leave that town with but one representative.

LAW REPORTS.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.

SENTENCES UPON SEVERAL PERSONS CONVICTED OF COUNTERFEITING, PERJURY AND OTHER OFFENSES.

Sentences were passed yesterday by Judge Benedict, in the United States Circuit Court, criminal branch, upon those convicted during this term of court. Ransom Warner and Eli Fields, both arrested for connection with the Brooklyn gang of counterfeiters broken up some time ago by the Secret Service Department of this City, the former being the wholesale dealer and the latter the retail, were both sentenced, the former to eight years imprisonment and to pay a fine of $1,000, and the latter to three years' imprisonment, both in the Kings County Penitentiary at hard labor. John Volz, the well-known "straw bail" man, was sentenced to three years' imprisonment and a fine of $1. John McDonald and Frank Macom, convicted of pension perjury, were sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $1,000 each. The "Rev. Dr." Rudolph Weiczouk, doctor, notary, lawyer, minister, and author, reputed pastor in the German Lutheran Church and also convicted of pension perjury, was sentenced to two years imprisonment at hard labor, and pay a fine of $3,000. Sentences in the cases of Edgar K. Griffin, Antonio Andrea and David A. Craig, were postponed, Argument on the motion in arrest of judgment in the case of Capt. J. L. Grindle, convicted of inhuman treatment on the high seas, was adjourned until next Saturday, owing to the illness of Mr. Knox, counsel of the accused. Argument was had upon the "crooked whisky" indictments, motion being made to quash them, on the ground that the statute declares that the crime must be punished in the place where committed, which, in these cases, would require trial to be had in Indiana. Decision was reserved.

COURT NOTES.

Argument was had yesterday before Judge Blatchford in the United States District Court, on the writ of habeas corpus, in the Van Hoven extradition case, Louis F. Post appearing for the accused. Decision was reserved.

Judge Larremore in Supreme Court, Chambers, yesterday, granted the injunction restraining Sydney Rosenfeld from using the word "Figaro" in the title of his illustrated weekly paper, which has recently appeared as The Hornet.

Joseph Fallon, of No. 347 East Thirty-second street, charged with having on the 26th of October broken into the apartments of Thomas Stanton, of No. 307 East Twenty-fourth street, and stolen $150 worth of jewelry and clothing, was committed for trial in default of $2,000 bail, in the Fifty-seventh Street Police Court yesterday.

Workmen were busy, yesterday, in putting up the jury box in the General Term Room of the Supreme Court, to be used in the trial of the $7,000,000 Sweeny suit and the $1,000,000 Tweed suit. The action against Sweeny will probably be tried first, but the struck juries in both cases are required to be present in court to-morrow. Judge Westbrook will preside at the trials. The causes of action in both cases have been published heretofore in THE TIMES.

THE DUNCAN-SHERMAN BANKRUPTCY.

Mr. William Butler Duncan was present, with his counsel, Mr. Francis M. Bangs, before Register Ketchum yesterday morning, to have his examination resumed in the proceedings taken against him by E. Graham Haight, a Wall street broker, in opposition to his discharge. Mr. Edward F. Brown, counsel for Mr. Haight, said that for the first time during the proceedings he must ask for an adjournment on account of an unavoidable engagement in court. Mr. Bangs strenuously opposed any adjournment or postponement, and insisted that the hearing should proceed, saying that there was no reason for delay, except Mr. Brown's desire not to go on. The hearings in the case had been unduly procrastinated, and it was exceedingly cruel to drag Mr. Duncan before the Register week after week, prolonging unnecessarily the decision of the question as to whether he would receive a discharge, simply for the purpose of asking him frivolous questions. The examination had thus far been unfruitful for the other side, and the sooner it was ended the better. After a sharp tilt between counsel, in which Mr. Brown insinuated that Mr. Bangs was as eager for an adjournment as he was, the Register adjourned the hearing until 10 o'clock on next Saturday morning, with the understanding that Mr. Brown must then go on, and that the whole day would be given to the examination.

THE SUIT OF MOULTON AGAINST BEECHER.

Judge Westbrook sent a notification to Mr. Sinclair, the Clerk of Supreme Court, Chambers, yesterday, that he had decided the motion for a change of venue in the suit of Moulton against Beecher. The action was brought to recover $50,000 for malicious prosecution, the place of trial having been first laid in Brooklyn. Mr. Beecher's counsel then moved to have the place of trial changed. Before the hearing of this motion Gen. Pryor, the counsel for Mr. Moulton, served an amended complaint, in which the place of trial was changed to this City. The motion to change the place of trial was then heard before Judge Westbrook in this City. His opinion in the case will be handed down to-morrow. In his letter to Mr. Sinclair, Judge Westbrook says: "The conclusion I reach is that the place of trial must be changed from Kings County, (where, for the purposes of this motion, as I undertake to show in my opinion, it must be still regarded,) to some other county. Delaware County is fixed as the place of trial, subject to be changed to some other county if either party shows a good reason against it upon the settlement of order."

DECISIONS.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

Held by Lawrence, J.

Andrews vs. Daziay.—This case does not necessarily involve the examination of a long account. The motion is denied, without costs.

Lynch vs. Torrey.—Motion to place cause on the short calendar is granted, and case set down for Friday, Nov. 17, 1876.

Hoff vs. Penz.—In obedience to the order of the General Term, this case will be referred. John L. Sutherland is appointed Referee. I see no authority for imposing the conditions asked for by the plaintiff's counsel on granting the order of reference.

O'Connor vs. O'Connor.—Report of Referee is confirmed, and judgment of divorce granted to the plaintiff.

Baldwin vs. Grustt.—This motion is denied for these reasons: 1st. The answer does not appear to have been put in for delay. 2d. It is not probable that the case can be tried in an hour. 3d. The defendant, in view of the allegations made in his answer and affidavit, should not be forced to trial until he has had an opportunity of examining the plaintiff. No costs.

The East River National Bank vs. Schenck et al., and The East River National Bank vs. Louzyean.—I understand the counsel for the plaintiff to state on the argument that he desired to hand in authorities. As yet none have been received. The defendant's counsel has submitted reference to cases on which he refers. Counsel for the plaintiff will oblige the Court by sending in his authorities as soon as possible, Vanderhoof vs. Baldwin.—In this case I am waiting for the motion papers and the additional affidavit of the plaintiff's attorney.

Ward vs. Ackerman.—Strike out the allowance and prepare a new decree.

Geigerman vs. Geigerman.—Report confirmed and judgment of divorce granted to the plaintiff.

Foley vs. The Board of Trustees of the Town of Morrisania.—I wish to hear the Corporation Counsel in the case.

In the Matter of Scanlon and Higgins.—Writ dismissed and prisoners remanded. Memorandum.

Bunn vs. Hill.—Granted on default.

Granted.—Van Hoesen vs. Howard; Jones vs. Cornish.

By Judge Larremore.

Morrissey vs. Rosenfeld.—Injunction granted. Opinion.

SUPREME COURT—CIRCUIT—PART III.

By Judge Larremore.

Ganung vs. The Mayor, &c., New-York.—Memorandum for counsel.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

By Chief Judge Curtis.

Conklin vs. Crater.—Order signed.

Stricht vs. Wolff et al.—Findings signed.

Bord vs. McNiff et al.—Motion for same allowance to guardian ad litem herein as to the other parties granted—$350.

By Judge Speir.

Cross vs. Baker.—Order of reference to William Peet, Esq.

Kaufman vs. Hamburger.—Order denying motion for a reference.

Porter vs. Grassey.—Order discontinuing action granted.

Young vs. Ransom, &c.—Ordered on day calendar for Wednesday, Nov. 15, 1876.

Sheahan vs. The National Steam Navigation Company.—Order to withdraw answer and to serve amended answer granted.

MARINE COURT—CHAMBERS.

By Judge McAdam.

Opinions Filed.—Wenzel vs. Murphy; Sabine vs. Magrath.

Connolly vs. Eagle.—Motion granted.

Young vs. Ganning.—Motion to dismiss or file security, &c., denied conditionally.

Lehman vs. Stone.—Complaint dismissed.

Proceedings Dismissed.—Selling vs. Rosenthal; Jauden vs. Morris.

Bloomer vs. Cuff.—Defendant's answer to be stricken out, unless defendant appears on the 15th inst. at 10:30 A. M. and submits to an examination. Judge Heyman called and defaulted.

Defaults.—Emmons vs. Behrens; Hall vs. Templeton.

Orders Granted.—Oakley vs. Tally; The Mechanics' National Bank vs. Johns; Beyher vs. Marshall; Stockhamer vs. Marshall; Cromwell vs. Burr; Crossley vs. Sinsheimer; Hunt vs. Carhart.

Bell vs. Tracey.—Attachment granted.

DETERMINED HE WOULD VOTE.

A YOUNG MAN HASTILY GETS MARRIED TO REGAIN THE RIGHT OF SUFFRAGE.

From the Cincinnati Times, Nov. 7.

Charles A. Freeh is the man that did it. Last October he voted in the Fourteenth Ward. Twenty days ago he moved into the Twenty-third Ward, and got things muddled so that on Tuesday he was challenged at the polls in both wards and was unable to vote in either place. Charley got mad at this, and swore that he was a free-born American citizen, and would not be deprived of his vote. He went to George Schoonmaker for advice, and Schoonmaker told him that if he were married he could vote in the ward at once. An idea struck Charley. Said he, "By thunder, I'll do it. I'm going to vote if I live," and away he went. He got a friend to go with him. It was getting well along in the forenoon, and his sweetheart lived over in Covington. He borrowed fifty cents, as he had but fifteen with him, and the two mounted a streetcar, drawn by a blue mule, and departed for Kentucky. Arriving there, they sought the residence of the young lady, Miss Elizabeth A. Sigle, and cheerily unfolded his plan to the astonished girl. He said: "Come, it must be done at once, or I shall lose my vote. If you are a true-born American woman you will come to my rescue and the relief of the country in this emergency."

But she protested, "It couldn't be done," "nothing prepared," and a thousand other protestations were put in. Then Charley's friend took Elizabeth aside and told her that no [Charley] had assured him, that if she did not marry him at once he would vote in Covington and go to the Frankfort Penitentiary. That settled it, and she consented. Then the two hurried back to Cincinnati, Charley went to the store where he was employed, and drew out $50, got a carriage and hurried back. In a couple of hours the two stood up with a few friends, before Rev. Eisenlohr, and were made one. And at 5 o'clock P. M., Charley, with his fair bride, was back in the Twenty-third Ward, and, at 5:35, he walked up the gangway at the Second Precinct voting place for the second time, swinging his vote defiantly and aggressively, asking: "Where, oh! where is the man that is going to challenge this vote? Show me the man." No one challenged it, and Charley exercised the right of the free-born American citizen unmolested.

Anyhow he is happy, and the many friends of the bride and groom wish them long life and prosperity, and hope that Charley may vote a hundred times for President, and his pretty wife be with him to see that he votes the right ticket and don't get angry and vote against his own judgment.

A COLLEGE FOR SCHOOLMASTERS.

From the London Standard.

An experiment is about to be tried in the University of Cambridge, which, if successful, may possibly lead to some considerable modification of our academic system. The foundation-stone of a new college was laid in that university last Thursday, and a report of the proceedings appeared in our columns next day. The object of the new institution is not merely to provide a more economic scale of living than prevails in the university at large, but over and above this aim, in which it has been anticipated by Keble College, Oxford, it will receive undergraduates at an earlier age than is customary with the older colleges, and it will devote itself more particularly to the education of those young men who are designed for the scholastic profession. Cavendish College is to be a college especially for schoolmasters; and the schoolmasters in turn are especially intended for middle-class schools. We have training colleges for our National schools. We have Trinity and Balliol, and St. John's and Christchurch, for our great public schools. But we have no institutions which profess to give the exact kind of training which is required for middle-class schoolmasters. If the appalling picture of intellectual destitution among the middle classes, drawn the other day by Mr. Pattison, bears the faintest resemblance to the truth, the new college is not a day too soon in the field. But though we are unable to believe that things are so bad as the Rector of Lincoln represents them, no doubt, middle-class education is at a disadvantage as compared with our lower and our higher schools. The difficulties presented to a parent in this station of life when he begins to think about the education of his children may not be what they were. The type of schools represented by "commercial academies" may have gone out of fashion. But for all that, really good schools, which are neither above nor below the requirements of the middle class, are still extremely scarce. The county schools referred to by Lord Fortescue can only cover a small part of the ground in which the want is felt. The old grammar schools are still, what they ever were, almost exclusively classical schools—schools, that is, in which classical scholarship is still the chief road to distinction; nor are we sure that any change in this respect would be desirable. But that something else is wanted seems to be generally allowed. And probably the difficulty in obtaining masters has hitherto been quite as great as the difficulty in obtaining schools. If Cavendish College surmounts this difficulty, and succeeds in training a class of men both able and willing to make middle-class education what it ought to be, a great step will have been gained.

A YORKSHIRE SCHOOLMASTER.

From the London Globe.

In these days of great pedestrian feats, it is worth while to record the doings of an old Yorkshireman, who has just died at the ripe age of eighty-four years at Masham, in Yorkshire. James Heap was a schoolmaster, and carried on his calling in a wild and bleak part of the county, walking every day a distance of eight miles. He lived at a cotton mill just below the village of Healey, which is the western part of that portion of Yorkshire, called Mashamshire. His school-house was four miles distant at Coltersdale, which is still further west, and among the bleak moors and wild hills leading away to Westmoreland. A storm of wind and rain is no trifling matter in these parts, and during a snow-storm the snow very often drifts so thickly as to make the roads almost impassable, but no condition of the weather or the atmosphere could shake James Heap's steadfast purpose, and he never had any ailment or accident which kept him from going his daily round to the school and home again. Many a time had he to wade through snowdrifts to find that his pupils were not able to reach the school, and he was constantly subjected to a drenching rain in the Winter months. Yet from December, 1822, to January, 1867, he never missed a single day, and during 2,292 consecutive weeks he walked more than 110,000 miles, or nearly five times round the world. Nor was he altogether idle on Sundays, for during forty-two years of this period he shared with others the teaching of a Sunday-school at a place called Summerside, about the same distance from his home, and in an equally dreary and wild district on the moors with Coltersdale; seventeen Sundays in each year during these forty-two years did he walk eight miles to teach, which adds an aggregate of 5,712 miles to the former sum, so that, taking Sundays and week days into the reckoning, he would, if he had continued his work for rather more than another year, have covered a distance equal to half the space between the earth and the moon. The old man until quite lately enjoyed good health, and the Schoolmasters' Association had only lately written to tell him that an annuity which he had been in receipt of for some time would, after the 1st of November, be still further increased. This arrangement, however, he did not see carried out, for he died last week.

TOWAGE AT SAN FRANCISCO.

The Boston Traveller of Friday evening, says: "There was an adjourned meeting of the ship-owners of Boston, to consider the matter of exorbitant rates of towage in San Francisco, and to provide a remedy for the same. Mr. Nathan Crowell, of the firm of Howes & Crowell, presided. There was a full attendance. Several letters and dispatches from San Francisco and elsewhere bearing upon the subject were read to the meeting. Pertinent remarks were made by Mr. Henry Hastings, and others, and on motion of Mr. Hastings, it was voted that a committee of seven be appointed to obtain further subscriptions, and that they be empowered to build or buy one or more tugboats, and to collect the amounts subscribed when necessary, and with the same to pay for any towboats they may buy or contract to build, and with full power to further act as they may deem best for the interest of the subscribers, nothing herein to contravene with the terms of subscription. The committee appointed by the chair was as follows: J. Henry Sears, F. N. Thayer, Henry Hastings, Nathan Crowell, Pliny Nickerson, S. C. Blanchard, Edwin Reed. The meeting then adjourned, to meet at the call of the committee."

SUDDEN DEATH IN A GAMING-HOUSE.

A curious story comes from Paris. It is not so very long since a young man, well dressed, and apparently rich, entered a clandestine gaming-house. He was playing at trente-et-quarante, and had already won a little pile of gold. "Red wins," presently said the banker, and proceeded to hand over a hundred napoleons to the unknown one, for the stakes were high. But the stranger made no attempt to take the gold, and returned no answer to three or four questions put to him in reference to the game. His eyes remained fixed on the red, while his features assumed a ghastly paleness. A player touched his arm—he was dead. Then the banker coldly withdrew the hundred napoleons, observing that the play was in the nature of a reciprocal contract, which could only be entered into between parties both of whom were capable of contracting, and therefore never between a live man and a dead one. The cause of death was heart-disease, and the official report was soon drawn up in proper form. It contained no sort of reference to a gaming-house.

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.

JAMES L. WELLS, Auctioneer,

WILL SELL AT PUBLIC AUCTION, ON the premises, TUESDAY, Nov. 14, at 2:30 P. M., house, barn, and six lots, corner Locust and Prospect avs., only ten minutes' walk from Tremont Depot; streets graded, macadamized, and lighted; sidewalks flagged; sale positive; seventy-five per cent. can remain on mortgage for three years; full particulars at Auctioneer's Office, No. 152 Broadway.

CITY REAL ESTATE.

FOR SALE OR TO LET.—PARTIES WISHING to purchase, or hire, small, well finished dwellings in a desirable location (near Central Park) are invited to inspect the brown-stone front houses recently erected on 111th st., between 4th and Lexington avs.; no made ground, but a natural sandy soil. Nine minutes to 42d st., via Rapid Transit from 110th st. Depot; terms moderate. For particulars, apply to P. H. LALOR, on the premises, or to Messrs BLOODGOOD, No. 19 Nassau st.

JOHN W. DERING & COMPANY.
Broadway, corner 51st st.
JOHN W. DERING. FRANCIS A. HALL.
Desirable houses for sale at decided bargains on 5th av., 45th, between 5th and 6th av., 44th, 48th, 49th, 51st, 52d, 53d, 55th, 56th, 57th sts.

FOR SALE, THE DESIRABLE HOUSE
NO. 112 EAST 39TH ST.,
20x55 feet; four stories; brown-stone; lot 98.9. Price $26,000. Apply to E. H. LUDLOW & CO., No. 3 Pine st.

AN UNUSUALLY COMMANDING BROADWAY property, near 22d st., 40 or 80 feet front by 115 feet; will lease or sell low, and rebuild, with handsome elevation, to suit either piano-forte, gas fixture, carpet, furniture, publisher, sewing-machine, or clothier's business. V. K. STEVENSON, JR., 4 Pine and 33 East 17th st.

A SUPERIOR FULL-SIZED HOUSE, NEAR Dr. Hall's Church; price very low; smaller house taken in part; others centrally located; $25,000 to $60,000; bargains. W. P. SEYMOUR, No. 171 Broadway.

IMPROVED CITY PROPERTY ON HOUSTON st., near Broadway, to exchange for a small place convenient to the City; must be free of all incumbrances. Address C. A. B., Station D., New-York.

DWELLINGS TO LET.

TO LET.—TWO AND A HALF STORY BRICK house, with all modern improvements; bath, stationary tubs, range, &c. 8th av. between 125th and 126th sts. Inquire on premises or of A. LEVY, No. 14 White st.

A HANDSOMELY-FURNISHED APARTMENT, beautifully decorated, and furnished dwellings. JOHN W. DERING & COMPANY, Broadway, corner 51st st. "The Albany."

TWENTY-FIRST ST., BETWEEN 7TH AND 8TH AVS.—Medium-sized unfurnished dwelling; rent $1,400 per annum. 4 Pine and 33 East 17th st. V. K. STEVENSON, JR.

TO LET—FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED—A very fine flat at No. 205 West 56th st.; can be seen now. Apply to the janitor or at No. 44 West 33d st. Special inducements offered.

TO LET—UPPER PART OF HOUSE NO. 134 EAST 19th st., in complete order, for a small family; rent unfurnished. $75. Apply on the premises.

A FINE APARTMENT IN THE ALBANY. Apply to the janitor, 51st st. entrance.

STORES, &C., TO LET.

TO LET—AN OFFICE IN THE TIMES BUILDING, second floor, 23 feet by 23 feet, in good condition, suitable for a lawyer's office. Apply to GEORGE JONES, Times Office.

TO LEASE—THE ELEGANT WAREHOUSE CORNER of 5th av. and 14th st., now occupied by Brewster & Co.; four floors and basement, all very light; possession Feb. 1. Apply to WM. H. GEBHARD, No. 21 Nassau st., basement.

TO LET—A PRIVATE BASEMENT HOUSE, No. 8 West 28th st., between Broadway and 5th av., for clubs, restaurant, business purposes, or private residence.

REAL ESTATE WANTED.

WANTED—IN A GOOD NEIGHBORHOOD, BY A small private family, a first-class house, located between 23d and 59th sts. and 4th and 7th avs.; will lease for three or five years at not over $2,000 per annum. Address E. A. M., Station E, City, giving street and number, and price.

WANTED—A FURNISHED FLAT, OR A SMALL-sized furnished house, in a desirable location, by a family of four adults; price must be moderate. Address, with full particulars, HOUSE, Box No. 144 Times Office.

SHIPPING.

FOR SAVANNAH, GA.,
THE FLORIDA PORTS,
AND THE SOUTH AND SOUTH-WEST.
GREAT SOUTHERN FREIGHT AND PASSENGER LINE, CENTRAL RAILROAD OF GEORGIA, AND ATLANTIC AND GULF RAILROAD.
THREE SHIPS PER WEEK.
TUESDAY, THURSDAY, AND SATURDAY.

GENERAL BARNES, Capt. CHRESMAN, TUESDAY, Nov. 14, from Pier No. 43 North River, at 3 P. M. GEO. YONGE, Agent, No. 409 Broadway.

RAPIDAN, Capt. KEMPTON, THURSDAY, Nov. 16, from Pier No. 16 East River, at 3 P. M. MURRAY, FERRIS & CO., Agents, No. 62 South st.

SAN JACINTO, Capt. HAZARD, SATURDAY, Nov. 18, from Pier No. 43 North River, at 3 P. M. GEO. YONGE, Agent, No. 409 Broadway.

Insurance on this line ONE-HALF PER CENT. Superior accommodations for passengers.
Through rates and bills of lading in connection with Central Railroad of Georgia, to all points.
Through rates and bills of lading in connection with the Atlantic and Gulf Railroad and Florida steamers.
C. D. OWENS, Agent A. & G. R. R., No. 315 Broadway. GEORGE YONGE, Agent C. R. R. of Ga., No. 409 Broadway.

PANAMA TRANSIT AND PACIFIC MAIL
STEAM-SHIP LINES.

FOR CALIFORNIA, JAPAN, CHINA, AUSTRALIA, NEW-ZEALAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, OREGON, &c.
Sailing from Pier No. 42 North River.
For SAN FRANCISCO, via ISTHMUS OF PANAMA
Steam-ship CRESCENT CITY.......Wednesday, Nov. 15
connecting for Central America and South Pacific Ports.
From SAN FRANCISCO to JAPAN and CHINA.
Steam-ship CITY OF TOKIO..........Friday, Dec. 1
From San Francisco to Sandwich Islands, Australia, and New-Zealand.
Steam-ship AUSTRALIA..............Wednesday, Dec. 6
For freight or passage apply to
WM. P. CLYDE & CO., or H. J. BULLAY, Superintendent
No. 6 Bowling Green. Pier 42, N. R., foot Canal st.

ATLAS MAIL LINE.

BI-MONTHLY SERVICE TO JAMAICA, HAYTI, COLOMBIA, and ASPINWALL, and to PANAMA and SOUTH PACIFIC PORTS (via Aspinwall.) First-class full-powered iron screw steamers, from Pier No. 51 North River;
For KINGSTON (Jam.) and HAYTI.
CLARIBEL..............................Nov. 18
ATLAS..................................Dec. 6
For HAYTI, COLOMBIA, ISTHMUS OF PANAMA, and SOUTH PACIFIC PORTS (via Aspinwall.)
ALPS...................................Nov. 21
ETNA...................................Dec. 9
Superior first-class passenger accommodation.
PIM, FORWOOD & CO., Agents, No. 56 Wall st.

GREAT SOUTHERN
FREIGHT AND PASSENGER LINE.
SAILING FROM PIER NO. 29 NORTH RIVER, WEDNESDAYS and SATURDAYS at 3 P. M.,
FOR CHARLESTON, S. C., FLORIDA, THE SOUTH, AND SOUTH-WEST.
GEO. W. CLYDE..........WEDNESDAY......Nov. 15
CITY OF ATLANTA.........SATURDAY......Nov. 18
SUPERIOR PASSENGER ACCOMMODATIONS.
Insurance to destination one-half of one per cent.
Goods forwarded free of commission. Passenger tickets and bills of lading issued and signed at the office of
JAMES W. QUINTARD & CO., Agents, No. 177 West st., corner Warren.
Or W. P. CLYDE & CO., No. 6 Bowling Green.
Or BENTLEY D. HASELL, General Agent
Great Southern Freight Line, 317 Broadway.

NEW-YORK AND HAVANA
DIRECT MAIL LINE.

These first-class steamships sail regularly at 3 P. M., from Pier No. 13 North River as follows:
CUBA............................SATURDAY, Nov. 18
COLUMBUS.........................WEDNESDAY, Nov. 22
Accommodations unsurpassed. For freight or passage apply to WM. P. CLYDE & CO., No. 6 Bowling green. McKELLER, LULING & CO., Agents in Havana.

HAMBURG American Packet Company's Line, for PLYMOUTH, CHERBOURG, and HAMBURG.
SUEVIA........Nov. 16 | WIELAND........Nov. 30
LESSING.......Nov. 23 | HERDER.........Dec. 7
Rates of passage to Plymouth, London, Cherbourg, Hamburg, and all points in England. First Cabin, $100 gold; Second Cabin, $60 gold; Steerage, $30, currency.
KUNHARDT & CO., General Agents, 61 Broad st., N. Y. C. B. RICHARD & BOAS, General Passenger Agents, 61 Broadway, N. Y.

NEW-YORK, HAVANA, AND MEXICAN MAIL S. S. LINE.
Steamers leave Pier No. 3 North River at 3 P. M.
FOR HAVANA DIRECT.
CITY OF NEW-YORK..............Wednesday, Nov. 15
CITY OF HAVANA................Saturday, Nov. 25
CITY OF VERA CRUZ.............Wednesday, Nov. 29
FOR VERA CRUZ AND NEW-ORLEANS,
Via Havana, Progreso, Campeachy, Tuxpan, and Tampico.
CITY OF HAVANA................Saturday, Nov. 25
For freight or passage apply to
F. ALEXANDRE & SONS, Nos. 31 and 33 Broadway.
Steamers will leave New-Orleans Nov. 12 and Dec. 1 for Vera Cruz and all the above ports.

WILSON LINE FOR SOUTHAMPTON AND HULL.
Sailing from Pier No. 53 North River, as follows:
COLOMBO.......Nov. 11 | HINDOO.........Dec. 9
OTHELLO.......Nov. 25 | NAVARINO.......Dec. 23
First cabin, $70, currency; second cabin, $45, currency; excursion tickets on very favorable terms. Through tickets issued to Continental and Baltic ports. Apply for full particulars to CHARLES L. WRIGHT & CO., No. 56 South st.

DIVIDENDS.

CLEVELAND AND PITTSBURG RAILROAD COMPANY.

OFFICE OF SECRETARY AND TREASURER, CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 3, 1876.

The regular guaranteed quarterly dividend of this company, at the rate of Seven per Cent. per annum, on the new guaranteed stocks will be paid on and after the 1st December proximo, at the office of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, No. 26 Exchange place, New-York. The transfer-books will close on the 10th inst. and reopen on the 2d December.

GEO. A. INGERSOLL, Secretary.

FINANCIAL.

VERMILYE & CO.,
BANKERS
16 and 18 Nassau st., New-York.
DEALERS IN ALL ISSUES OF GOVERNMENT SECURITIES, NEW-YORK CITY AND BROOKLYN BONDS.
BUY AND SELL ON COMMISSION RAILWAY STOCKS, BONDS, AND GOLD.
INTEREST ON DEPOSITS.
WASHINGTON R. VERMILYE, DONALD MACKAY
JAS. A. TROWBRIDGE LATHAM A. FISH

NEW YORK AND BOSTON
INSURANCE COMPANY.

Office, 176 BROADWAY.
Cash Capital, $200,000.00
R. GRACIE, V. PRES. S. HYATT, PRES.
N. L. ROOSEVELT, SEC'Y.

Detroit, Monroe and Toledo R. R. Co.'s
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,
DUE 1906. Interest Seven Per Cent., due February and August. Total issue, $924,000 on 62 miles of road, WITH NO OTHER DEBT OF ANY DESCRIPTION.
PRINCIPAL and INTEREST GUARANTEED by the LAKE SHORE AND MICHIGAN SOUTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY.
A LIMITED AMOUNT FOR SALE BY
CHASE & ATKINS, Bankers,
NO. 18 BROAD STREET, N. Y.

KOUNTZE BROTHERS,
Bankers, 12 Wall St., New York, draw Bills on England, France and Germany; issue Letters of Credit available throughout the United States and Europe, and make transfers of money by telegraph and cable. Investment orders executed in the Exchanges of New York, Philadelphia, Boston and San Francisco.
Approved Securities for sale.

WE OFFER
$100,000
COUNTY BONDS,
TEN PER CENTS.
THESE BONDS ARE PROMPT PAYING AND VERY DESIRABLE: ALSO OTHER GOOD MUNICIPAL BONDS YIELDING 7, 8, AND 10 PER CENT.
A. W. BEASLEY & CO.,
No. 12 WALL ST.

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY
OMAHA BRIDGE BONDS.
In accordance with the provisions of the above bonds, we, the undersigned, hereby give notice that the following numbers, viz.:

1,960	197	1,631	705	1,349	1,635
1,622	2,012	1,746	1,525	958	164
1,345	952	279	1,259	2,342	245
348	2,460	1,813	114	2,134	975
2,031	2,280	320	1,305	239	1,210
1,607	208	2,393	338	2,073	1,296
287	333	1,402	461	2,071	292
402	411	92	1,358	471	751
260	2,256	1,262	43	654	2,151

were this day designated by lot, in our presence, to be redeemed, together with the premium thereon as provided in said bonds, at the London and San Francisco Bank, limited, No. 22 Old Bread st., London, E. C., England, or at the office of Drexel, Morgan & Co., in the City of New-York, on the 1st day of April, 1877.
NEW-YORK, Nov. 4, 1876.
E. ATKINS, Trustee.
J. HOOD WRIGHT, of Drexel, Morgan & Co.
Attest: DAVID W. PRICE, Notary Public.

SIX AND SEVEN PER CENT. BROOKLYN CITY BONDS.
DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE, CONTROLLER'S OFFICE, CITY HALL, BROOKLYN, Nov. 1, 1876.
SEALED PROPOSALS, indorsed as such, will be received at this office until MONDAY, 13th inst., at 12 o'clock noon, for the purchase of the whole or any part of $100,000 Six per Cent. Brooklyn City Bonds for the completion of the New-York and Brooklyn Bridge, coupon or registered, redeemable 1909.
175,000 Seven per Cent. Assessment or Sewerage Fund Bonds, registered.
75,000 Six per Cent. Assessment Fund Bonds, Water and Sewer, registered, maturing three years from date of purchase.
Proposals must state price offered and description of bonds desired.
The right is reserved to reject such bids as may not be considered to the interest of the City.
S. S. POWELL, Controller.

ATLANTIC, MISSISSIPPI AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY.—Holders of mortgage bonds of the NORFOLK AND PETERSBURG RAILROAD COMPANY, SOUTH-SIDE RAILROAD COMPANY, VIRGINIA AND TENNESSEE RAILROAD COMPANY, and holders of interest funding bonds of the VIRGINIA AND TENNESSEE RAILROAD COMPANY, which were issued for interest on bonds, will please present to the undersigned, on and after the 15th inst., at the office of PERKINS, LIVINGSTON, POST & CO., No. 23 Nassau st., New-York, for payment, the interest coupons which fell due July 1, 1876.
The undersigned will also pay, at the same place and date, the interest which fell due July 1, 1876, on the interest funding notes of the Atlantic, Mississippi and Ohio Railroad Company.
C. L. PERKINS, HENRY FINK, Receivers.
LYNCHBURG, Va., Nov. 10, 1876.

Choice and Safe Investments.
7, 8, AND 10 PER CENT.
CITY AND COUNTY MUNICIPAL BONDS.
CITY RAILROAD STOCKS AND BONDS.
INSURANCE AND BANK STOCKS.
GAS-LIGHT STOCKS AND BONDS.
STRICTLY FIRST-CLASS SECURITIES.
INTEREST ALWAYS PROMPTLY PAID.
For sale at desirable prices by Albert H. Nicolay & Co.,
NO. 43 PINE ST., NEW-YORK.
N. B. INVESTMENT SECURITIES OUR SPECIALTY 25 YEARS.

HOTCHKISS & BURNHAM,
(Members of New-York Stock Exchange,)
COMMISSION STOCK BROKERS,
No. 38 Broad st., New-York.
Stocks, bonds, and gold bought and sold on margin or for cash. Branch offices in Fifth Avenue and Windsor Hotels, connected by our private telegraph lines. Accounts solicited.

ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY, No. 59 BROADWAY, NEW-YORK, Nov. 9, 1876.
THE TRANSFER-BOOKS OF THIS COMPANY will be closed from 2 o'clock P. M., Nov. 15, to the morning of Dec. 2.
I. C. BABCOCK, Treasurer.

UNITED STATES EXPRESS COMPANY.
TREASURER'S OFFICE No. 82 BROADWAY.
NEW-YORK, Oct. 28, 1876.
THE TRANSFER BOOKS OF THIS COMPANY will be closed Nov. 4 at 2 P. M., and reopened Nov. 16. THEO. F. WOOD, Treasurer.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, STATE TREASURER'S OFFICE, LANSING, Aug. 10, 1876.
ALL SIX PER CENT. STATE BONDS DUE in 1878, 1879, and 1883, will be redeemed at par and accrued interest after this date at the American Exchange National Bank, New-York.
WM. B. McCREERY, State Treasurer.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.,
NO. 59 WALL ST.,
ISSUE COMMERCIAL and TRAVELERS' CREDITS AVAILABLE in all PARTS of the WORLD.

AT REASONABLE RATES—MONEY ON LIFE and Endowment Insurance Policies, Mortgages and other securities; Insurance of all kinds effected with best companies. J. J. HABRICH & CO., 119 Broadway.

THE UP-TOWN OFFICE OF THE TIMES.
The up-town office of THE TIMES is located at No. 1,257 Broadway, bet. 31st and 32d sts. Open daily, Sundays included, from 4 A. M. to 9 P. M. Subscriptions received, and copies of THE TIMES for sale.
ADVERTISEMENTS RECEIVED UNTIL 9 P. M.

The New-York Times.

TRIPLE SHEET.

NEW-YORK, SUNDAY, NOV. 12, 1876.

THE NEW-YORK TIMES.

THE NEW-YORK TIMES is the best family paper published; it contains the latest news and correspondence. It is free from all objectionable advertisements and reports, and may be safely admitted to every domestic circle. The disgraceful announcements of quacks and medical pretenders, which pollute so many newspapers of the day, are not admitted into the columns of THE TIMES on any terms.

Terms, cash in advance.

TERMS TO MAIL SUBSCRIBERS.

Postage will be prepaid by the Publishers on all Editions of THE TIMES sent to Subscribers in the United States.

The DAILY TIMES, per annum, including the Sunday Edition.....$12

The DAILY TIMES, per annum, exclusive of the Sunday Edition..... 10

The Sunday Edition, per annum..... 2

These prices are invariable. We have no traveling agents. Remit in drafts on New-York or Post Office Money Orders, if possible, and where neither of these can be procured send the money in a registered letter.

Address THE NEW-YORK TIMES,
New-York City

This morning THE DAILY TIMES consists of TWELVE PAGES. Every news-dealer is bound to deliver the paper in its complete form, and any failure to do so should be reported at the publication office.

No news has been received which warrant the slightest change in our table of States which have cast their votes for the Republican candidates. Dispatches from Democratic sources all but give up South Carolina by reducing the claim for TILDEN'S majority to about 100. The preposterous absurdity of figuring like this on returns which have not been received, is too obvious for comment. South Carolina will probably be given up by the Democrats in their next dispatch. The State has never been doubtful on the basis of returns actually received and Democratic papers have never honestly believed that it was. Florida remains where it did—certain, according to trustworthy returns, for the Republicans. In regard to Louisiana the same fabricated returns are given out which have been current during the last day or two. The nature of these can be judged of from the fact that a Democratic majority of 4,046 is claimed from the Parishes of Avoyelles, East and West Feliciana, Morehouse, and Ouachita, which gave in 1874 a Republican majority of 3,202, and in 1872 a majority of 4,144. The seven parishes set down as "estimated" cannot by any possibility have been heard from at all. On a fair and free election, Louisiana is good for a Republican majority of 30,000. There is no evidence whatever that Democratic violence and intimidation have reduced the natural majority of the State below 8,000.

At the present rate of departures for New-Orleans, half the prominent public men in the Union will be congregated in that city by Monday or Tuesday. The canvassing of the vote of the State by the Returning Board will be done under such a rigor of inspection as the action of such a body was never subjected to before. It must be remembered that Gov. KELLOGG has expressly invited this inspection, and that whatever be the character of the State officers of Louisiana, they have shown no disposition to profit either by concealment or haste in the counting of the votes. The gentlemen requested by President GRANT to be present at the sessions of the Returning Board comprise some of the most honored and eminent names in the nation. It is impossible to conceive of any joint action on the part of the representative men of both parties sent to watch the counting of the votes of Louisiana, which would be binding on anybody. But whatever disputed points may be raised during that process will unquestionably be presented to the people with a degree of clearness and fullness which they have never received before.

We trust that the public will keep a note of the daily shifting pretensions of the Democratic newspapers in regard to the Southern States which have been carried for TILDEN. With characteristic contempt for truth and consistency, the World said yesterday, "that Louisiana has given a large majority for TILDEN has been certain ever since Wednesday." It was so little certain on Thursday that the World put Louisiana among the doubtful States, and claimed the election of TILDEN on the strength of the four votes of Florida. In regard to South Carolina, the same veracious sheet observes, "that South Carolina and Florida have gone in his [TILDEN'S] favor was probable from the first." It seemed so little probable to the Sun that on the list of that Tilden luminary it appeared on Wednesday morning among the Republican States; while the World had so little faith in this assumed probability that it classed the State as doubtful. In a so-called "special dispatch" printed in the World of Wednesday, South Carolina is given up in these terms: "The election will be very close, with the chances in favor of HAYES for President and HAMPTON for Governor." The fact is, the Democrats never expected to carry either South Carolina or Florida, and were very careful to show that they could elect TILDEN without the aid of Louisiana. The World's electoral table of Oct. 14 can be referred to in proof of this. It is only since they have discovered that some one of these States is necessary to elect their ticket that the Democrats have started their hue and cry about Republicans trying to "steal" what is their own.

The speech of the Emperor ALEXANDER at Moscow yesterday is probably as pacific in tone as the excited condition of public sentiment in Russia rendered expedient. Very few will be disposed to doubt that the Czar is sincerely anxious to avoid hostilities, which might assume dimensions of a more extensive character than his Government is ready to face. The speech closes with the significant intimation that Russia is determined to act independently, should sufficient guarantees not be obtained from the Porte for the safety and protection of the Christian subjects of Turkey. The Emperor and his Ministers have the issues of peace and war in their own hands. They can put their demands so high that there is as little prospect of other powers sustaining them as there is of Turkey accepting them. If they simply want to gain time, they can be content with solemn promises on paper, which Turkey will give freely and break within six months.

There have been so many Democratic inventions put in circulation since Tuesday that people have almost forgotten their latest campaign romance about TWEED and his confession. The news of the arrival of that eminent statesman at St. Thomas, and his departure from that port on Wednesday recalls the fact that he may be expected in New-York at any moment. But TWEED'S arrival will no longer be the sensation of the hour, as people are excited now about Florida and Louisiana, and the ex-Boss will be received with chilling indifference. The conspirators who intended to land TWEED in time to use his "confession" as a campaign document were guilty of an unpardonable omission in neglecting to see that the Franklin was furnished with coal enough for the voyage. It is a truly poignant reflection that all this wrangling and excitement might have been spared us at the cost of a few ton of coal. For there can be no doubt that the Democrats were horribly afraid of TWEED and his "confession," and, of course, the moral party which voted for TILDEN would have been very much shocked and demoralized by a new flaw in the reputation of their candidate.

COUNTING THE ELECTORAL VOTE.

The Democratic organs are not slow in seizing upon the peculiar condition of the Constitution and the law regarding the counting of the electoral votes to stimulate the excitement which they have tried to create concerning the ultimate result of the election. We have already pointed out that the provisions of law regulating this really vital process are not so complete or satisfactory as would be desirable; but they are by no means in as chaotic a condition as, in the heat of partisan disappointment, the Democratic writers would make them out to be. Up to the point of counting the votes in the presence of the Senate and House there is apparently very little probability of conflict or miscarriage. The only question which arises previous to that time is, Who are the Electors? That question must be answered by the Executive of each State. By the law of March 1, 1792—the only law governing this subject—it is made "the duty of the Executive of each State to cause three lists of the names of the Electors of such State to be made and certified, and to be delivered to the Electors on or before the day on which they are required to meet." One of these certified lists is attached to each list of votes cast by the Electors, and the two are sealed up and sent to the President of the Senate by messenger. A duplicate of these lists is sent by mail and a triplicate is delivered to the Judge of the United States Court for the district in which the Electors assemble. The meeting of the Electors must be on the first Wednesday in December, which, this year, will be the 6th, or three weeks from next Wednesday. Congress must be in session on the second Wednesday in February succeeding every meeting of the electors, and in the presence of the Senate and House the votes are opened. When this is done the question, Who are the Electors? together with the additional one, For whom have they voted? are both answered by the certificate of the Executive of each State identifying the electors, and by the statement of the Electors themselves as to their votes. Under these distinct provisions of the law the, certificates of the Governors of Florida, Louisiana, and South Carolina must settle all doubt as to the vote of those States. How the Governor of any State reaches the conclusion to which he certifies, how he knows who have been chosen Electors for his State, and what checks there are upon any abuse of his power in giving the certificate—these are matters for the respective States. Congress has never legislated regarding them, and has no power to do so. It only requires, for the purpose of clearly authenticating the votes which are to be counted in its presence, that the Executive of each State shall certify to the names of its Electors.

Whatever confusion there is, arises at the moment when the counting is to commence. "The Constitution does not expressly declare," says Judge KENT, "by whom the votes are to be counted and the result declared." And there is now no provision of either law or joint rule on the subject. We are left entirely to precedent, and the only precedent which has been made under a precisely similar state of law was made in 1857, when Senator MASON, President of the Senate, declined to entertain any objection to the reception of the vote of Wisconsin, and declared that nothing was in order but the counting of the votes. It is broadly hinted by the World that the House of Representatives, under the pretext that the vote of some State was not legally presented, might withdraw and refuse to meet with the Senate, thus preventing an election. The House is not likely to do anything so purely and entirely revolutionary. The law distinctly requires that it shall meet with the Senate, and the Constitution requires that when the two houses have thus met, and the votes have been opened by the President of the Senate, they "shall then be counted." For either House to absent itself for the purpose of preventing an election would be a violent and arbitrary usurpation of power. No body of American Representatives would ever be so lost to reason and duty as to make it.

Moreover, the present House of Representatives would have no motive for any such course. The only possible result of a failure to count the electoral votes would be to make the President of the Senate for the time being acting President of the United States. The World intimates that this would not be the case unless the Senate has been a continuous body since 1789, and like the king can never die. If the writer had stopped to reflect a moment he would not have made this intimation with much confidence. As a matter of fact and of law the Senate is a continuous body. Two-thirds of its members, a number sufficient for the exercise of its highest powers, are always in office. It adjourns "without day" at the end of each session of Congress, and at the end of the term of each House of Representatives it may be said to adjourn of necessity and by limitation, but the limitation is that placed on the existence of the House, not upon its own. It can meet again, if summoned, the next moment after such an adjournment, fully organized and prepared for business, and in possession of, and ready to exercise, all its prerogatives. If, at the close of the term of the House the Senate is presided over by a President pro tempore, that officer assumes the chair at the opening of the next session, as of course, as did Mr. BRIGHT, in 1855, and the work of the session begins. Even if this were not the case, the Senate could supply any vacancy in its Presidency at the moment of its meeting, and when it had made its choice, the Senator chosen would become instantly entitled to all the powers of the President of the Senate, including the powers of acting President in case of a vacancy in the Vice Presidency and the Presidency. The suggestion that there can be any reasonable or just doubt, or any even colorable doubt, as to the succession in case of a double vacancy is nothing but an invention. Whatever room there may be for uncertainty regarding the details of counting the electoral vote, such uncertainty is not to be removed by crazy suggestions of arbitrary and revolutionary action by one branch of Congress, or by quibbles regarding the possible legal consequences of the occurrence of an interregnum.

THE SOUTH IN THE ELECTION.

The World thinks that "no candid Republican who looks at the tremendous majorities for TILDEN in Texas, Arkansas, Kentucky, Mississippi and Alabama can doubt that the Tilden Electors received a great popular majority in Louisiana." In other words, because the shot-gun policy succeeded perfectly in two or three Southern States which are as pronounced in their Republicanism as Iowa and Vermont, it is absurd to suppose that in other States where the negro voters were either better protected or were better able to take care of themselves, the same results did not ensue. We doubt if even the World has impudence enough to pretend that on a fair vote Mississippi and Alabama are not overwhelmingly Republican. No wilder assumption could be made than that any appreciable proportion of the negroes of Louisiana and South Carolina voted the Democratic ticket. The colored voters of the South who failed to vote for Hayes Electors did so because they were driven from the polls, or in some other way deprived of the rights conferred on them by the Constitution. The fact is, that over two-thirds of the South the "shot-gun policy" has triumphed to an extent that may well shake our faith in the efficacy of reconstruction. Organized intimidation has overcome the voting power. The main body of the South is on the side of the man who has affirmed the constitutional right of seccession, and who had rallied around him conspicuous leaders in the rebellion, struggling to regain under the Government the ground they lost in war.

Of this result there is but one explanation. It cannot be pretended that the immense majorities which twice within four years have declared in favor of the Republicans have been mastered by orderly and legal methods. The change is not the product of discussion, for discussion has been systematically stifled. It has not been brought about by legitimate canvassing to which we of the North are accustomed, for the canvasser not bound hand and foot to the Democracy has opened his lips at the peril of his life. The organizations which worked wonders in behalf of secession in 1860 have in this year of grace been reproduced, with bloody variations, in the interest of TILDEN and HENDRICKS. Oppression and violence have been the arguments most relied upon. The rural districts of the Republican South have been patroled as though the country were in insurrection. By day and by night rifle clubs have ridden through colored neighborhoods, threatening and frightening, whipping and shooting, with the specific purpose of overawing the voters and driving away their local leaders. Meetings have been broken up, white Republicans have been warned that they must leave, and the only systematic work which has been permitted has been that which was subordinate to the one aim of securing the South for the Democratic Party. These tactics have largely succeeded. The ballot has succumbed to the bullet in several of the States, and the great body of the South has sustained TILDEN.

In view of these facts, what bitter irony is in the oft-repeated pretense of the Democrats, that the Federal Government was "invading" the South in the interest of the Republicans! Two or three thousand soldiers, scattered over a vast area, were represented as an aggressive army, doing the bidding of an uncrowned despot at Washington! Its work was to preserve order when called upon by responsible officials, and to maintain peace at the polls—that was all. In South Carolina it has undoubtedly been efficacious; in the other Southern States its existence has been in effect unknown. Louisiana has been the theatre of systematic violence and fraud, as dispatches received thence clearly show. The reconstructed Kuklux, the White Leaguers, and the Rifle Clubs had their own way in Mississippi and other States, as, before now, they had in Alabama, Arkansas, and Georgia. That terrible Federal power which has been the bugaboo of a certain class of Northern citizens, left the South to its fate. It went to the limits of the law when it called upon United States Marshals to do their duty. Beyond that it was powerless. The Democrats snapped their fingers at it, heaped epithets on the Federal Government, and went on their way, bribing and bullying, threatening and killing, with absolute impunity. The effect upon the election we now see.

The spectacle is not one which the loyal citizens of the Union can contemplate with much pride. The war was waged to establish the supremacy of Federal authority; and after all the slaughter and all the expenditure—after all the sacrifices made to sustain a great principle—the Federal authority is overmatched in a struggle for the possession of power, as against the secession principle, backed by armed organizations and a spirit of defiance, which of itself implies legal paralysis at Washington. These Southern Democrats took up arms against the Government and failed; they professed repentance and were pardoned; with a magnanimity which has no parallel, they were restored to political power; and now they use the influence thus conceded to them to strike down the reconstructed Union and to nullify the constitutional amendments. In Alabama, Arkansas, and Mississippi, the emancipated blacks, enfranchised, and guaranteed by the Constitution equality with whites before the law, now discover that the franchise is a mockery, that the guarantee is valueless, and that they are at the mercy of their former owners, intent upon reducing them to vassalage, and upon using their voting privileges as a means of consolidating their own power.

WHICH IS THE LAW-ABIDING PARTY?

Some few of our best citizens went over temporarily to the Democratic Party during the recent election, and we desire to call their attention to the spirit of each party, as manifested in ways which are more trustworthy than platforms or resolutions. On Wednesday morning, after the election, the great body of the Republican Party believed that their chosen candidate had been defeated by a prodigious ignorant vote in this City, of which a considerable portion was, to say the least, doubtful, and perhaps fraudulent. They feared, also, that in the States where great numbers of the voters were negroes, their rightful victory had been snatched from them by intimidation and by fraud. It was certainly as great a disappointment for them to lose the Presidency as for the Democrats. In their view, even more of welfare for large masses of men depended on HAYES' success than on TILDEN'S. But through all the Republican journals there was not a word breathed of resistance to the law, or of threats if their candidate was defeated, or any inflammatory expressions calculated to excite the people. And yet the primâ facie evidence was all in favor of the election of Gov. HAYES by a fair vote of the doubtful Southern States. The Republicans had frequently, on less important elections, carried South Carolina; they had won the doubtful counties of Florida repeatedly; they had carried the river parishes in Louisiana two years ago. The probability was at least they might do as well now. The presumption was not that the negroes or the Republicans would do the part of intimidation, or render fraudulent returns. The fighting party at the South, the one most likely to intimidate, and the one most skilled in frauds, was certainly the Democratic. If any one cried "foul play" after the election, it would naturally have been the Republicans.

But, on the contrary, from the first moment when the results of the election appeared doubtful, it is the Democrats who have bullied, threatened, and fomented public excitement, and talked as if this country were a Mexico. The dispatch, credited to the Chicago Times, sent to New-Orleans, was simply a call for revolution and civil war. The tone of our Democratic contemporaries, if caught by the excited ex-rebels of South Carolina, Louisiana, and Florida, might easily arouse a serious disturbance. There is no reason or moderation in it. One would think that these wild editors would like to see a civil war at the North over a Mexican issue—of a disputed election. Of course, this excited talk of Democratic editors can produce but one effect on the great conservative masses of the North—a profound distrust of the party which could be led by such blatherskites. It is perfectly manifest to all men of common sense that a party which is thus ready to stir up popular passions, and shows so little self-control, is not fit to be trusted with power. Any body of men who appear to be ready to resort to violence to settle an election in this country, will find that the whole people will cast them out. Neither party are a straw's weight in the balance compared with the integrity of our institutions.

Our law-abiding citizens ought to have considered before the election these possible dangers. They were clearly pointed out to them. The situation had its perils. The union of the ignorance of the North with the treason of the South was a combination full of dangers. There was every possibility that one or two of the late rebel States might decide the contest. The Democratic minorities in those States are known to be led by the most desperate and unscrupulous adventurers that ever cursed a free community. They would hesitate at nothing when so great a prize was so near their grasp. Neither fraud nor intimidation nor murder would stand in their way it the electoral votes of those States could thus be secured. We should not be surprised yet to hear of most daring and desperate ventures by the late rebel leaders to obtain those votes. This law-defying spirit—which is a natural legacy of the rebellion—is supported by a portion of our press who act like Paris communists. It is the natural offspring of the union between Northern ignorance and Southern disaffection. But this ought to have been foreseen by those worthy gentlemen who have joined the Democratic ranks. They lent this combination the support of honorable names. The only reparation they can make now is to attempt to supply the lack of brains and self-control, so apparent in the tone of their party journals, and to bring wisdom and moderation to counsels over what is certainly a serious and perilous crisis in our political history.

A STATUE TO HAMILTON.

It has been the custom in all civilized countries and ages to erect statues to commemorate the deeds and the virtues of the dead. This custom it is well to follow, if such discrimination shall be used that only the worthiest shall be singled out for these enduring honors. The bronze and marble statues erected in our cities should teach the people the great truths of American history, should answer with historical accuracy the question, who are the most diserving of the wise and good who have passed away. With the substantial accuracy of the popular judgment concerning our two great representative historical men, as made known through the large number of statues to their memory, very few will find fault. WASHINGTON and LINCOLN were the official and personal embodiments of their country's cause, and were great because that cause was great, no less than because of prominent private virtues.

The inquiry has become a practical one—it is always a pertinent one—who, next to the father and second founder of the Republic, has done the most to promote the permanent welfare of the people of the United States? From the most careful students of our history there comes the answer—ALEXANDER HAMILTON. He had "the genius of statesmanship to a more marked degree," says SUMNER, than any of the founders. That carefulest of critics, E. P. WHIPPLE, speaks with suppressed intensity of "that miserable morn when the greatest of American statesmen fell by the hand of the greatest of American reprobates." "I have known NAPOLEON, FOX, PITT, BURKE, and other great men intimately," said TALLEYRAND, "but I never knew so great a man as ALEXANDER HAMILTON." The judgment of the judicially accurate Chief Justice MARSHALL was that "HAMILTON was the greatest man the country has ever seen, always excepting WASHINGTON."

What WASHINGTON'S estimate was of his earliest and latest friend is shown by his retaining him for four years as his "principal and most confidential secretary," by bestowing upon him the most responsible and arduous post in his Cabinet, by tendering him the Chief Justiceship, and by demanding as a condition of his own acceptance of the command of the American Army, in 1798, that HAMILTON should be placed second in command. After these proofs of exalted appreciation, it was hardly necessary for the first President to so generously add that whatever of success in civil administration he had had "he owed to the strong right arm of ALEXANDER HAMILTON."

To form some idea of the character of HAMILTON'S achievements, let us group together a few of the results of his short life's work. His patriotic services began in this City at the age of seventeen, with his remarkable speech at the "great meeting in the fields." At eighteen he was the author of as convincing a vindication of the course of the colonies as was written during the Revolutionary struggle. While on the staff of WASHINGTON he wrote the military correspondence, the style and superior composition of which ranked WASHINGTON so high in the estimation of Europe. In the second year of the war, in a letter to JAMES DUANE, written in camp on the head of a drum, he embodies the principal features of the Constitution under which we live to-day. According to the authority of GEORGE TICKNOR CURTIS, he was the first to perceive and develop the idea of a real union of the people of the United States. He drew up the first resolution having in view the assembling of a convention to frame a national Constitution, and had it passed by the Legislature of New York. He did more than any two writers of the times to create the sentiment which rendered the meeting of the convention of 1787 possible, and more than any three of his contemporaries with pen and tongue to secure the adoption of the Constitution after its formation. Had it not been for the Federalist and other papers, and for Hamilton's extraordinary triumphs in debate in the New-York Convention, the Constitution would probably not have been ratified.

That wisest work of human minds having been established and ordained, HAMILTON did more than any man, not excepting WASHINGTON, the truth of history compels us to say, to put the machinery of Government in successful operation. As Secretary of the Treasury, he established forms of doing business in use to this day, and raised, in two years, the credit of a bankrupt Government to a point from one to two per cent. higher than that of any Government in Europe. As the author of WASHINGTON'S proclamation at the time of the whisky insurrection in Pennsylvania, and by his action in the Cabinet and in the field, he demonstrated that this and all Governments were Governments of force, and that the United States could coerce a State and the inhabitants thereof into obedience to law. As the writer of the majority of WASHINGTON'S Messages, and as the author of what is known as WASHINGTON'S Farewell Address, HAMILTON has laid down maxims of government applicable to all time, and precepts that, if followed, would have shielded us from dangers past and will guard us from dangers to come. He pointed out with marvelous foresight the evils that would befall us from the pretended sovereignty or supremacy of the States. It is now palpably apparent to the most casual student of history that had we followed HAMILTON'S teachings more, and JEFFERSON'S less, the nation would not have lost a million lives, and eleven billions of treasure in a civil war. The statesmanship of the father of Democracy and the author of the resolutions of '98, may be very wise, but it is too costly for a new country.

As a practical statesman, a political writer upon the science of government, and as a financier, HAMILTON remains to this day in this country without a peer. It would be difficult to name a statesman of modern times who combines the three great qualities we have named in so eminent a degree. PITT trebled the debt of England. HAMILTON practically paid the debt of the United States. The best of PITT'S political writings, no authority would presume to rank with that ablest discussion of a governmental system extant, The Federalist. BISMARCK, judged by results achieved, is perhaps the ablest practical statesman of modern times, but he, as a writer on constitutional questions and as a financier, could not be called the equal of our own versatile statesman.

ALEXANDER HAMILTON is, and perhaps will ever remain, New-York's most illustrious citizen. Here he came at fifteen; in this City he grew to greatness; and here he died and lies buried. If the citizens of this Metropolis do not early erect a monumental statue worthy the name and fame of this great man it will be because they do not read aright their own history.

MEAN FELLOWS.

Men who get the reputation of being mean fellows are, very often, not half so mean as those who give them the name. It is very easy to get such a reputation in this country, where pecuniary prudence is seldom appreciated, and, indeed, liable to be misunderstood. The extravagant, the improvident, form so large a class of our native population, that they who have different habits are apt to be regarded unjustly. Being unwilling to waste their money, or to spend what they feel they can not afford to, or having a laudable desire to accumulate something, they are set down as mean. Their detractors consider meanness only from a monetary point of view, without respect to the moral aspect, the motive, or the cause. Making themselves the standard of generosity, whatever differs from them is the opposite of the virtue they claim so fully to represent. This easy, one-sided logic comforts them for any deficiencies they may suspect themselves of, in rare moods of humility, and finds expression in such phrases as, "I may have faults, but nobody can accuse me of a bad heart;" "Whatever my failings, meanness is not one of them;" "I don't squeeze a dollar until the eagle screams."

All this is very true in a certain material sense. They are careless of money as any one can wish, far more careless than their creditors would have them be, since it is their creditors who suffer by the very liberality boasted of. That is the chief trouble; in their indifference to dollars and cents, they do not pause to think whether what they have in their pocket belongs to them or to somebody else. And in this the mean fellow not unfrequently has the advantage of them. He may believe and declare that one's first duty is to pay a debt, and that until the debt is paid any unnecessary use of money is tantamount to dishonesty. "That is fine-drawn ethics," say the open-handed; "that is preaching, a mere assumption, probably to cover up niggardliness. One who is always thinking of his debts is morbid; they will be provided for in due season; it is unwise to fret about them. A man must live."

The number of men who grow morbid by undue reflection on their debts is very limited—almost imperceptible. The morbidness, if it be such, is in their not reflecting on them at all, and in their willingness to make new ones whenever occasion offers. He who is convinced that they should invariably be met, and acts upon his conviction, is naturally prudent and economical in order that he may not be troubled by them at any time. And from his prudence and economy he is exposed to the accusation of meanness by men who follow another course. The mean fellow prefers justice to generosity, and the good fellow, as he is usually considered, prefers generosity to justice. It would be well to unite the two; but it is very hard to do so, especially for persons of small means, and it is seldom attempted. Strictly speaking, there can be no generosity until justice has been satisfied; but we use the term loosely, as entirely independent of justice, and such is its accepted meaning.

Justice is a sober, plain, homespun quality; there is nothing specious, showy, enticing in it; it walks in private ways, and gets no credit for being what it is. Generosity, on the other hand, is shining, flattering, seductive; it goes abroad, and wins a reputation that it seldom deserves. The good fellow knows this, and profits by his knowledge. When he spends with a grand air what really does not belong to him, when he gives away that which is due to somebody else, he is conscious that he is earning a false fame; but then, it is fame—a fame, he thinks, that will cover up his shortcomings elsewhere. The mean fellow wants to be genuine; he would rather be than seem; and he discharges his duties conscientiously, without caring to incur the favor of his ordinary acquaintances. He has more pride than the good fellow, though not nearly so much vanity. He suffers in the public estimation, but, privately, he cannot blame himself; and so he goes on his way, unenvied and unenvying.

The mean fellow's life is likely to bear examination better than the good fellow's. The worst of the former is on the outside, and of the latter on the inside. Both may have equally kind intentions; but the habits of the good fellow often compel him to stop with intentions, from the absence of the wherewithal that constitutes performance. The mean fellow, by practicing self-lenial, by refusing to humor the craving of his self-love, is enabled to translate his sympathy and benevolence into solid acts, and thus gain his secret spiritual reward. Our mean fellow, of course, is not veritably such; but is so called because misjugded. He may be a little close; but it will be generally found that he is closer to himself than to others. At any rate, he wrongs nobody; he does not shake personal faith; he does not cause positive unhappiness. He may be unpopular—he frequently is—because he never courts popularity, but he is apt to wear well and long, while the boasted good fellow fails to improve on acquaintance. Serious flaws in this one's character are shown on investigation, certain meannesses, not natural perhaps, but engendered by continued endeavor to keep up appearances, and make generosity atone for lack of common justice. He does not quite maintain his self-respect, and the hours are many when he would most gladly exchange places with men he has helped to advertise as mean.

The mean fellow, notwithstanding his want of demonstrativeness, sociability, readiness, and magnetism, often proves, on intimacy to be a firm friend, a devoted son, an excellent husband, a model father. Such as he are frequently called on to make up for the good fellow's derelictions, to stand in the breach which the latter has deserted, to smooth the path he has obstructed in his attempts to over-do. In middle life, the mean fellow usually has a competency or an independence, secured, not by sordidness and aggression, but by steady industry, honest purpose, and self-denial. If he has, the good fellow is inclined to revile him, and to declare what he himself might have achieved had he been willing to grub, and pinch, and grind. Such is the revenge of the unsuccessful, of those who have willfully neglected opportunities, upon the men that have accomplished something by sustained labor. It is our duty to be independent in circumstances as well as in character, if we can be so without violating principle or integrity, and he who is not independent some time is bound to wear a chain, that galls more and more with years. The mean fellow may be lacking in many of the graces and accomplishments, but, for the most part, he is better than the good fellow, loudly proclaimed, whose chief virtues are artificial and external.

THE YELLOW FEVER.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 11.—The total number of interments to-day was six, of which three were the bodies of persons who died from yellow fever. There was a heavy frost here this morning.

OBITUARY.

ANTONIO TAMBURINI.

A cable dispatch from Nice announces the death of this distinguished Italian basso, at the age of seventy-five years. Antonio Tamburini was born at Fiensa, Italy, and was the son of a skillful musical instrumentalist, the leader of a military band. His first musical efforts were devoted to the horn, which he played in an orchestra at the age of nine years. Compelled by a serious illness to abandon this instrument, he turned his attention to singing, and made such rapid progress that at twelve years he was a member of the operatic chorus of his native town. In the theatre he had opportunities of hearing trained singers, and apparently by imitation—having no instructors—imbibed their method, attaining such proficiency and developing such rare qualities of voice that he was in a short time the object of contention among the churches to secure his services. His tastes, however, drew him to the stage, and at the age of eighteen he secretly left his father's house and made a public appearance in one of Generali's operas, at Bologna, with great success. He then went from city to city throughout Italy, and was everywhere equally successful, Mirandola, Coreggio, Piacenza, and even Naples, in the face of a hostile prejudice, according him the warmest plaudits. In Naples he passed a year, up to the period of the revolution of 1820. A severe illness experienced in Florence temporarily impaired his powers, and deprived him of the cordial welcome from the Florentines that he had met with in other cities, but on his recovery, Leghorn, Turin, and Milan made ample compensation for the coldness of Florence. He was engaged by the operatic management of Trieste for the carnival of 1823, and was proceeding there by way of Venice, where the Emperors of Austria and Russia were sojourning, when he was compelled, by imperative orders, to sing there in order that their Majesties might hear him. After his Trieste engagement, he went to Rome and Palermo, and in 1825 was secured by the noted impresario of that day, Signor Barbaja, for his theatres in Naples, Milan, and Vienna, his engagement continuing six years. In 1833 he made his first appearance in London, and thence went to Paris, making his début in the French capital in the character of Danaïni, in "La Cenerentola." During a period of twenty years he oscillated between Paris and London, delighting the dilettanti of both cities, and in 1854 he reappeared in Mozart's "Don Giovanni," still retaining the sonorousness, facile vocalization, and dramatic power that had won for him in Paris the title of the "Robini of Basso." In the intervals of the Paris and London seasons, he revisited Italy, and filled several engagements in Russia, where he was received with the same warmth that attended his professional career in other countries. Signor Tamburini, after retiring from the stage with an ample fortune, took up his permanent abode, with his family, at Sevres, France, where he had an elegant residence. His talents and his genial nature made him an acquisition to the best social circles in France. His son inherited only a portion of the great powers of his father, and, although possessing an agreeable voice in the concert-room, failed utterly on the lyric stage, which career he relinquished after a few attempts, and turned his attention to finance.

OBITUARY NOTES.

Mr. Albert Day, a prominent merchant of Hartford, Conn., died yesterday, aged seventy-nine years. He was Lieutenant Governor of Connecticut in 1856.

A dispatch from Springfield, Ill., says the report has been received there that J. C. Black, the defeated Democratic candidate for Congress in the Vermillion district, died yesterday.

THE CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION.

FIFTEEN THOUSAND PERSONS PRESENT—REMOVING THE EXHIBITS—SALE OF STATE BUILDINGS—THE PENNSYLVANIA EXHIBITION SCHEME.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—The paid admissions to the Exhibition to-day were 15,425, of which 25[illegible] were at half fee. The general belief that the Exhibition would be virtually closed after yesterday caused the diminution in the attendance to-day, but as the fact becomes known that the display can now be seen with more comfort than formerly the number of paying visitors will doubtless increase. The dismantling of exhibits has begun, but in no way seriously interferes with the sight-seeing. Several of the State buildings, including that of New-York, have been sold, and will soon be removed.

At a meeting of citizens to-day favorable to forming a stock company to secure the Main Building as a permanent exhibition, Hon. Morton McMichael was called to the chair. George W. Allen was elected Secretary and C. E. Rollins appointed Treasurer to receive subscriptions. Mr. Clement C. Biddle stated that notice of application for a charter has been given for a new company, to be called the International Exhibition Company of Philadelphia, with a capital of $600,000, divided into 6000 shares of $100 each. It was also proposed to receive subscriptions to stock, first, payable in cash as called for by a Board of Directors to be appointed by the stockholders, and second, payable by a transfer of the stock of the Centennial Board of Finance, the stock of the International Exhibition Company being issued at par for the actual cash that may be realized. Then there was proposed a maintenance fund, to be made of subscriptions in cash or stock of the Centennial Board of Finance, cash subscriptions being entitled to a season ticket for the year 1877 for each $10 contributed, and the other contributors to one season ticket for 1877 for every two shares, or to twenty single tickets for admission for each share. The amount needed was $25,000 in cash, as may be asked for from time to time, and the remainder in stock. It was stated that the Pennsylvania Railroad held $114,000 in stock, and that they would be equally willing to subscribe liberally to the enterprise. The same statement was also made in regard to the Lehigh Valley, North Pennsylvania, and other roads. Subscriptions amounting to nearly one hundred thousand dollars in cash and fifty thousand dollars in stock were received. The meeting adjourned to meet on Tuesday next at 1 o'clock in the Common Council Chamber.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

BANK-NOTE REDEMPTION—BONDS SECURING CIRCULATION — REVENUE RECEIPTS — PERSONAL.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The receipts of national bank notes for redemption for the week ending to day, as compared with the corresponding week of last year, were as follows:

	1875.	1876.
New-York	$1,044,000	$693,000
Boston	877,000	1,045,000
Philadelphia	207,000	906,000
Chicago	80,000	54,000
Cincinnati	64,000	15,000
Miscellaneous	777,000	339,000
Totals	$3,038,000	$3,057,000

The total receipts for to-day were $601,514. The receipts from internal revenue to-day were $455,653 26, and from Customs, $332,492 10. The Treasury now holds $37,954,830 to secure national bank circulation, and $19,153,000 to secure public deposits. The United States bonds deposited for circulation for the week ending to day amounted to $207,000; United States bonds held for circulation withdrawn for the week ending to-day, $30,000. The circulation outstanding Nov. 11, 1876, amounts to $319,700,418, exclusive of $2,099,190 in gold notes.

The Attorney General returned from Philadelphia last night. Secretary Chandler and Postmaster General Tyner returned this morning. The Commissioner of Patents and the Commissioner of Indian Affairs have also returned and resumed their official duties.

The President has recognized Samuel S. Spring as Consul to the Argentine Republic, at Portland, Me.

OPENING OF THE QUEBEC PARLIAMENT.

QUEBEC, Nov. 11.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon his Excellency the Administrator of the Government for the Province of Quebec proceeded in state to the Chamber of the Legislative Council, and opened the second session of the third Parliament in a speech from the throne. His Excellency regretted that the illness of Lieut.-Gov. Caron had compelled him to apply for a temporary leave of absence, but he hoped he would soon be able to resume the duties of his office. He referred to the fact that the loan authorized during the last session had been advantageously placed, and that the credit of the Province of Quebec occupied a high position in the English market, and intimated that it was the intention of the Government to come to the assistance of railways seeking relief. He was confident that the reports to be laid before the House on colonization and repartition would show that the country continues to make satisfactory progress.

THE DISASTER TO THE WHALING FLEET.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—The Honolulu papers received by the Pacific Mail steamer City of San Francisco contain the news of the arrival at Honolulu of the bark Three Brothers, with 196 men of the crews of the abandoned whaling fleet. The statements made by the masters of the Three Brothers and the Arctic, which are published in the Honolulu Commercial Advertiser, are corroborative of the story of those masters of abandoned vessels who reached this port.

THE DU SOMMERARD LETTER

THE CORRESPONDENCE IN THE CASE.

AN INDIGNANT LETTER FROM THE MARQUIS DE TALLEYRAND—AN OFFICAL ANNOUNCEMENT—A BIT OF PERSONAL REMINISCENCE—EDMOND ABOUT'S EXPLANATION—SINGULAR ARTICLE FROM THE FIGARO.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PARIS, Monday, Oct. 30, 1876.

The letter published by the Figaro, and attributed to M. Du Sommerard, that I sent you the other day, caused no small amount of excitement among the Americans in Paris, and it was promptly resented by their French friends. A messenger was sent at once to M. Du Sommerard, who was out of town, and Marquis de Talleyrand, the author of the book lately reviewed in your columns, immediately addressed the following letter to the Figaro:

It was with profound astonishment that I read the letter of M. Du Sommerard to his friend in Vienna. I am attached to the Exposition at Philadelphia, and on account of my position there, as well as on account of my being a Frenchman, I ought to say that I everywhere received nothing but the most delicate attentions on the part of the Americans. I think that all the French Commissioners will say the same thing. To accuse the Americans of having purposely set fire to the empty cases of the French Department, is so monstrous a charge that I cannot let it pass without protesting with all my might. I was in America when that accident happened, and the Americans deplored it more than any other nation. The thing was not done with evil intent. I answer for that. And if the fire had been lighted by a guilty hand all America would have been roused to indignation. M. Du Sommerard, before accusing a country of so vile an action, ought to have tried to get at the truth from less partial sources. Once more let me say, that as an attaché of the French Commission at Philadelphia, it is my duty to protest against the things imputed to the Americans by M. Du Sommerard. I am, &c.,

MARQUIS DE TALLEYRAND.

Another member of the Commission, M. Simonin, has been actively engaged in protesting against this calumny, and I believe that Rochambeau and the rest, including Lafayette, who could not go over, entered some sort of protests at once. The Journal Officiel then gave the following note:

"A letter calculated to wound a great and friendly nation has been published in a foreign journal and reproduced in a French journal, which is attributed to a high functionary of the Exposition of Philadelphia. The Government says that this is an apochryphal document. It has demanded explanation from the functionary in question, who is absent from Paris at this moment. It awaits his reply before taking action in this regretable incident."

It will be seen that the Government acted promptly and in the proper spirit. The Duc Decazes sent a dispatch to M. Du Semmerard at Havre, and he came back to Paris at once. A few years ago I was sent to Vienna as the special correspondent of the London Times, having Dr. Russell as a collaborator. We were frequently thrown into the company of M. Du Sommerard, particularly during the stay of the Prince of Wales. He was very obliging and polite. One night I was roused from my bed by the cry of fire, and, taking an einspanner, I drove hurriedly up to the Prater. The town believed that the whole Exposition building was on fire, and the rumor had already been circulated that the Austrians, finding their Exposition a financial failure, had tried to burn the building. I soon stumbled upon M. Du Sommerard, from whom I learned that the building containing the empty cases had been fired, and the French Commissioner, although he did not make a positive assertion, led me to infer that, in his opinion, the warehouse had been set on fire by the Austrians for the purpose of burning the Main Building. I repeat that he did not tell me so in emphatic language, but he left the impression that such was his opinion. A few days later one of the out-houses was burned, and M. Du Sommerard expressed his fears that the Main Building was in danger. An inquiry showed that both fires were the result of accident. The first was due to the negligence of a watchman; the second came from carelessness in the kitchen of one of the cafés. I mention this to show that M. du Sommerard has had experience in such matters, and therefore has no excuse for such accusations as those contained in the letter attributed to him. The press took the matter up warmly, one party defending M. du Sommerard, on the ground that this was a private letter, and hence the press and the public has nothing to do with it. M. Edmond About says that the alleged author of this letter is a son of Dusommerard, the distinguished antiquary, who spelled the name in one word. M. About says:

"If, as the Government is pleased yet to hope, the document is apocryphal, we shall join with all the honest men of Europe and America to pity a functionary outrageously defamed. But if, by chance, M. du Sommerard avows the bad action of which he is accused, we shall refuse him the benefit of extenuating circumstances, because he will be sixty years of age next year, and has passed the age of permissible follies; because a serious and responsible man ought to know how to select his correspondents; because a calumnious imputation is no more pardonable in a private than in a public letter; because a Frenchman, who has the honor of representing his country, abroad merits exemplary punishment if, to revenge his own wounded vanity, he adds recruits to the enemies of France."

This morning we have a letter from M. Du Sommerard himself. He says:

"I arrived in Paris only this morning, hearing yesterday only, by accident, of the letter signed with my name, and published in the Figaro day before yesterday, under the heading 'Correspondence from Vienna,' a letter which purports to have been addressed by me to Baron de W., and translated from a German journal by the correspondent of the Figaro. Allow me to affirm that the German journal has been deceived, and consequently your correspondent. I declare that this letter is apocryphal, and that I disavow it in the most formal manner. I add that if my word does not suffice I am able to demonstrate, documentary evidence in hand, the exactness of my assertion."

It is not easy to see just how a man can give "documentary evidence" that he did not write a letter, unless he means that the letter has not been exactly translated. But we have to wait a little to hear from Vienna. The Figaro then comments upon this in a way which is wanting in common sense as well as in chivalry, and I am surprised that so serious a writer as M. F. Magnard should have been pinched to so miserable an excuse:

"We do not know how the Deutches Zeitung will manage to explain the unqualifiable abuse it has been guilty of with the name of M. du Sommerard, but we have no reason to doubt for an instant the word of that meritorious man, who occupies, as all know, with an undoubted competence, the functions of Commissioner General in relation with the Superior Council of International Expositions, and whose honor is above all suspicion. Permit us, however, one observation. Mr. Washburne, so ticklish for the honors of America, must have suffered singularly during the past year, during which the journals of the entire world have recounted the shameful prevarications of the men surrounding President Grant, and the gigantic frauds committed in the official world of Washington, which have surpassed anything of the kind ever before known. Unfortunately these things were authentic, and Mr. Washburne had to support patiently their publicity. If he got angry the other day, it was, according to the proverb, faute de grives, on se contente de merles."

This is a singular mode of treating the question. M. Magnard says that Mr. Washburne got angry because a French official charged the Americans with a monstrous crime, but he cannot deny that Gen. Belknap was convicted of fraud, To this we may reply that Julius Cæsar was assassinated, the Duc d'Enghien shot in the moat of Vincennes, and Louis XVI. beheaded. but none of these crimes seem to bear particularly upon the incedent du Sommerard.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

CO-OPERATIVE BUTCHERS' STORES.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

I read with interest, as did doubtless thousands of others, your interesting article in last Sunday's TIMES in relation to the exorbitant prices of butchers' meats in this City, and suggesting the establishment of co-operative butchers' shops. You were probably not aware, when that article was published, that the plan you propose was successfully adopted by a large association of up-town residents more than a year ago. The form adopted by this association differs slightly from that you propose. A number of gentlemen, at first less than fifty, believing that the prices charged by butchers were greater than they should be, formed a club and agreed to bestow their united patronage on one butcher, and to demand greatly reduced prices in consideration of so large an increase of his business. Many reputable butchers were found ready to reduce their prices, and one was fixed upon, and to him the bulk of the business of the members was given. The price of porter-house steaks and roasts was then 30 to 35 cents per pound; roast-beef, 22 to 25, and other items in proportion. Under the new or co-operative arrangement the prices fixed were and are as follows: Porter-house steaks and roasts, 22 cents; sirloin, 16 to 18 cents; prime rib roasts, 15 to 18 cents; mutton, hind-quarter, 14 cents; fore-quarter, 10 cents per pound; French chops, 16 cents. Any person at all familiar with the current prices of meats at the shops of the up-town butchers will at once see how important is the reduction made to this association. Although this reduction averages fully twenty per cent., the profit to the contractor has been entirely satisfactory, and recently, to accommodate new members who have joined the association, two other contractors, in different parts of the City, have been found who willingly make the same, in one case even greater, reductions.

Mr. S. Stevens, of No. 443 Sixth avenue, near Twenty-seventh street, manages the details for the associates, and will cheerfully give information to persons desirous of availing themselves of the benefits of this simple and effectual plan for reducing household expenses, or who contemplate the formation of similar associations. So great has been the success of this first effort to escape from the unwarrantable exactions of butchers, that the association mentioned is now contemplating the establishment of a butcher's shop under its own control. It is expected that an additional ten per cent. may be saved by this operation.

I may add that the meats furnished to the association are of the very best quality. The arrangement includes also poultry, game, fish, oysters, and vegetables. ONE OF THE NUMBER.

THE SEVENTH DISTRICT COURT.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

I wish to call your attention to the flagrant abuses now prevailing in the District Courts of this City, particularly in the Seventh District Court, in Fifty-seventh street, of which W. S. Pinckney is Justice and James R. Davies is clerk. These men were elected on a reform ticket, but the court with which they are connected is in a condition which is in some respects worse than it was in the old Tammany times.

It is the practice in all the District Courts to require the payment to the Clerks of the courts of a trial fee after the service of a summons and before the case is called in court. If the defendant appears and interposes an answer, the trial fee is retained, but if he does not and judgment is taken by default, then the trial fee is returned to the plaintiff or his attorney less fifty cents, which is retained by the Clerk for entering judgment. In cases where the amount in dispute is less than $50 the trial fee is $2 50, and where it is $50 or over, it is $3 50.

I have been so unfortunate as to have brought several cases in this court, and in which judgment was obtained by default, (the defendant not appearing,) and in each case have been compelled to send to Mr. Davies several times before I could get a return of the portion of the trial fee due the plaintiff. In a case in this court in which the plaintiff paid $2 50 trial fee, and recovered judgment by default on Oct. 31, 1876, my clerk on Nov. 1, 1876, called at the Clerk's office and saw the Deputy Clerk of the court, and asked him for the $2 due the plaintiff, and the Clerk told him he could not get it [the $2] until Saturday. He next called on the 11th inst., and this official told him that Mr. Davies was "dead broke," and that he [my clerk] would have to call on Tuesday, and on Tuesday he will probably tell him the same story. The evident purpose of this Clerk being to put the plaintiff or his attorneys off until they get tired of coming for the money, and then pocket it himself. When it is considered that each trip costs ten cents car fare and an hour and a half of time, you can realize how much cheaper it is to let the $2 go than to keep constantly sending or going after it. Most of the cases brought in this court are by poor men who cannot afford to lose part of a day's work or pay some one to run after this $2 or $3, and so they must lose it. Mine is not the only case of this kind. There are many others that I can mention. LEX.

NEW-YORK, Saturday, Nov. 11, 1876.

"SOUTHERN SCHOOL-BOOKS."

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Will you kindly allow us, as publishers of school-books, to say that the letter in your issue of the 7th inst., signed "S. R.," will, in our opinion, convey an erroneous impression respecting the true position of the Southern people on what is termed the "Northern Text-book" question. The substance of the communication referred to is, that school-books published at the North are, as a rule, denounced at the South because they are Northern, and that whenever the Southern people themselves have the control of their schools "the books introduced by Northern publishers are driven out and school-books prepared in the South or in the Southern interest substituted."

Our dealings with the South since the war have been extensive, and we have, with a few trifling exceptions, never met this feeling. Our representatives have invariably been kindly received and we know of no single instance where our books have failed of introduction or been displaced on this plea. Here and there malcontents and "bitter-enders" will be found, but in this particular, at least, their influence seems to be harmless.

We mention a case in point. In one of the principal cities of Virginia, two or three years ago, the School Board adopted a History of the United States published in this City. The book, in the judgment of fair-minded conservative persons, is wholly free from partisanship or sectionalism of any sort, but soon after its adoption one of the "irrepressibles" got hold of it and gave it a terrible rating for what he claimed to be its unfairness to the South. The President of the Board, and the Superintendent of the City Schools, both of whom had been distinguished officers in the Southern Army, came forward in the local journals in its defense, the result being that the book was retained and is still in use to the entire satisfaction, so far as we know, of everybody in the place, except perhaps, the "irrepressible" aforesaid. In Richmond, Charleston, Savannah, Mobile, New-Orleans, Macon, Atlanta, and in fact all through the South, in public and private schools, Northern text-books of merit are used in great numbers. Indeed, if the total sales of school-books by Southern authors, or published in "Southern interests," could be compared with the total sales of all others in the South, the result itself would be a most emphatic refutation of "S. R.'s" statement.

IVISON, BLAKEMAN, TAYLOR & CO.

NEW-YORK, Friday, Nov. 10, 1876.

P. S.—We feel quite sure that our statements on this question will be confirmed by other publishers whose books are used in the South.

BARNUM'S CIRCUS AND MENAGERIE.

One of the attractive places of amusement at present in this City is P. T. Barnum's circus and menagerie, located in Gilmore's Garden, between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh streets, Fourth and Madison avenues; and the fact that it is well filled both afternoon and evening with an audience that would literally pack any of the largest theatres in the City is sufficient evidence of its popularity. In the department set apart for wild animals are many attractions, including a pair of the largest and finest African lions ever exhibited; a magnificent pair of royal Bengal tigers; a large African rhinoceros; the celebrated $25,000 hippopotamus, Poonah bears, Brazilian leopards, African ostrich, pelican, giraffe, boa constrictors, sea lion, and various other specimens, including the celebrated "happy family." Among the living curiosities are Capt. Costenus, the tattooed Greek nobleman, and Master Dot, the California dwarf. There are two performances in the ring daily, one at 2 o'clock and one at 8 o'clock P. M., the doors being open an hour preceding and following each performance. The actors are all first-class in their various lines, and the performance throughout is of a high order of merit. The performances of Carlos trick ponies are wonderful. The two female equestriennes, Mlle. Amelia Carlo and Mme. De Berg, sustain their specialties with credit. Romeo Sebastian, the great pad rider, performed some astonishing feats on horseback last night, among which was that of turning a forward backward somersault. Mrs. Whittaker's comic mule created considerable merriment, and the Carlo Brothers performed several clever acrobatic feats. The feats performed by Mr. Charles Fish, the great bareback rider, were also astonishing, including his forward backward somersault. About 3,500 ladies and children attended the matinee performance yesterday afternoon, and the audience last evening numbered between two and three thousand.

AMUSEMENTS.

MUSICAL.

MME. ESSIPOFF'S CONCERTS.

Mme. Essipoff's concerts are to commence on Tuesday evening next, at Steinway Hall. The second entertainment of the series will take place on Wednesday, and the third on Friday. The pianist is to have the co-operation of M. Alfred Vivien, violinist, and of an orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Schmelz. The complete programme for Tuesday's concert is as follows:

Overture..

Orchestra.

Concerto—E minor........................Chopin

Mme. Annette Essipoff and orchestra.

Toccata..............................Bach—Tausslg

Menuet..Mozart

Gavotte et Variations.......................Rameau

Mme. Annette Essipoff.

Concerto, for the violin.....................Paganini

M. Alfred Vivien.

Nocturne......................................Chopin

"Traumeswirren"...........................Schumann

"Guitarre"......................................Hiller

"Alouettes"...............................Leschetizky

Valse..Rubinstein

Mme. Annette Essipoff.

Fantaisie.................................Vieuxtemps

M. Alfred Vivien.

Fantaisie Hongroise No. 12......................Liszt

Mme. Annette Essipoff and orchestra.

MR. SCHMELZ'S CONCERTS.

Mr. Reinhard Schmelz gave at Steinway Hall, last evening, the first of a series of three concerts of instrumental and vocal music. An orchestra teeming with familiar faces executed the ballet music from Glück's "Paris and Helena," which includes a pretty and characteristic chaconne and gavotte, Beethoven's Second Symphony, and, for the first time, the funeral march from Wagner's "Goetterdaemmerung." Their performance was spirited and precise, but not conspicuously good. The excerpt from "Der Ring des Nibelungen" is a splendid specimen of sonorous instrumentation, but its significance goes for nothing where a knowledge of the preceding pages of the score has not acquainted the hearer with its themes; it was exceedingly well played under Mr. Schmelz's baton, but the effect of the harp passages was wholly lost, four harps being required instead of one. The soloists were Mr. Jacobsohn, who rendered neatly but somewhat formally two movements of Mendelssohn's violin concerto, though he was scarcely equal to the time of the final allegro, and Miss Thursby. In Mozart's "Mia speranza adorata" Miss Thursby did not appear to have her voice under thorough control until the close of the air, when she executed the high passages in staccati with an ease and a brilliancy we did not anticipate. She was, however, more at home in Rubinstein's "Thou'rt like unto a flower" and Taubert's "Bird Song," which numbers she had to supplement by a "Slumber Song," composed by Wagner. The concert as a whole, was interesting, and in the hope that Mr. Schmelz will be encouraged thereby to further improve both his programmes and their interpretation, we record with pleasure that the audience was quite large and appreciative.

GENERAL MENTION.

Miss Kellogg has been attracting overflowing audiences to the Euclid Avenue Opera-house in Cleveland during the week just ended.

Mr. Max Stakosch gave operatic performances with Mme. Palmieri and Signor Brignoli, in Chicago. last week. This week, his artists will appear in St. Louis.

A concert for the benefit of the Ursuline Convent, in East Morrisania, will be given at the St. Ann's Church, Eighteenth Street, on Sunday evening next.

A musical festival will be held during Thanksgiving week at the Academy of Music, in which Mr. Thomas' orchestra, Signor Brignoli, Mme. Schiller, Mr. S. B. Mills, Miss Thursby, and other popular artists will co-operate.

The first of a series of Saturday afternoon concerts took place at Chickering Hall, yesterday afternoon, in which Miss M. Selvi, a young lady with a genuine tenor voice, Mlle. Jacoubowitsch, a clever young pianist, and other performers took part.

Mr. Gilmore will give his second Sunday concert in the Grand Opera-house this evening. Miss Lillian Norton, Mr. H. M. Stanley, Mr. Arbuckle, and Master Hermann Rietzel, the latter a very clever boy-pianist, are to be the soloists of the entertainment.

Miss Fanny Danziger, the young pianist who recently returned from Leipzig, is to make her début in public at Chickering Hall, on Friday evening next. Mr. S. B. Mills, Mr. Christian Fritsch, and Miss Henrietta Beebe will lend Miss Danziger their artistic service.

A concert will take place at Steinway Hall, this evening, in memorial of the late Carl Bergman. The Philharmonic orchestra, under Dr. Damrosch and the Arion, Liederkranz, and Saengerrunde Singing Societies will interpret a programme of instrumental and vocal music, and addresses will be delivered by Mr. Klamroth, who will speak in German, and Dr. Doremus.

DRAMATIC.

WALLACK'S THEATER.

The revival of "The Shaughraun" was referred to at sufficient length in these columns, a day or two since to make present comment superfluous. That popular drama is performed at Wallack's Theater with an unexceptionable distribution of rôles and with a stage-attire of faultless appropriateness and beauty, and its success is, therefore, not to be wondered at. Seats must be reserved at least a week in advance if desirable accommodation is sought—a fact the intending spectator ought to bear in mind, and to which his attention, out of regard for his comfort, can be asked in this place.

FIFTH AVENUE THEATRE.

"As You Like It," as already announced, will be brought out on Saturday evening next only, the attractiveness of "Life" justifying the maintenance of that amusing piece upon the boards meanwhile. A stricter adherence than usual to the original text of the comedy is promised by Mr. Daly in his manifesto apropos of the revival of the Shakespearean work; the details as to the cast and scenery do not need fresh rehearsal in these columns.

MR. BOOTH'S REPRESENTATIONS.

On to-morrow week Mr. Edwin Booth will enter upon a series of representations at the Lyceum Theatre, under the management of Mr. J. H. McVicker. Mr. Booth's performances are to extend, we believe, over nine or ten weeks, and they will bring him before the public in most of the rôles of his répertoire. He will first appear in "Hamlet," Mr. Frederick Robinson acting the Ghost, Mr. Milnes Levick the King, Mr. McVicker the First Grave Digger, and Mrs. Clara Jennings Ophelia. The tragedy will be brought out with new scenery and appointments, and, in fine, nothing will be neglected to endow the season with interest. The sale of seats for Mr. Booth's representations, we have only to add, commences on Wednesday morning next, and in this connection attention may be asked to Mr. McVicker's announcement in discouragement of speculators, which may be found—and which should be read—in another column.

MISCELLANEOUS NOTES.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" will be acted at the Grand Opera-house until further notice.

A drama called "Against the Stream" will be added to the variety programme at the Olympic Theatre this week.

No change of programme is foreshadowed by the announcements from Niblo's Theatre, "Baba" still attracting overflowing audiences.

Mr. Barnum's show can still be visited at Gilmore's Garden. Two equestrian performances occur, as part of its attractions, daily.

The ninth annual benefit performance of the United Order of Elks occurs at the Union Square Theatre on the afternoon of Monday week.

The San Francisco Minstrels and Kelly & Leon's troupe offer their usual varied and amusing programme nightly throughout this week.

The sea horse and the Japanese "kinglyo" are the latest inmates of the New-York Aquarium. No place of resort in the City is worthier a visit.

Mr. C. A. Chizzola, with Miss Emily Soldene and her complete opera bouffe company, arrived last evening from England, aboard the City of Berlin.

Mr. Robert Heller, the well-known prestidigitateur, pianist, and humorist, will open the theatre once known as the Globe and situated opposite the New-York Hotel, on Wednesday evening next. The place is henceforward to be called "Heller's Wonder Theatre," and its tenant will inaugurate his term of occupancy with one of his very varied and interesting musico-magical entertainments, and a new and original programme.

"The Two Orphans" will be acted during this week at the Union Square Theatre, the attractiveness of the play justifying the postponement of the production of "Miss Multon."

"Tom Cobb" and "Adam and Eve" will be acted at the Park Theatre a few nights longer, in consequence of the indisposition of Mr. J. B. Attwater, who is to appear in the "Crabbed Age."

Mr. Pat Rooney appears at the Eagle Theatre, this week, and the burlesque on "Sardanapalus," and the sketch called "The Modern School of Acting" are to be part of the nightly programme.

Mr. F. C. Bangs is to benefit by Saturday evening's representation of "Sardanapalus" at Booth's Theatre. It is now arranged that "King Lear" will be brought out at this house on Dec. 4.

FOREIGN NOTES.

A drama, adapted from "Un Drame sous Philippe II.," produced last year at the Paris Odéon, has been given at the London Standard, under the title of "True till Death." Mrs. Helen Barry plays the heroine, Donna Carmen, Mr. Henry Marston is the Duke d'Alcala, and Mr. William Rignold Philippe II.

The jubilee celebrations for artistic services of twenty-five years have taken place in Vienna and in Berlin; the former in honor of Herr Joseph Hellmesberger, Professor at the Conservatoire, and founder of the quartet party; the latter in honor of Herr Eckert, the orchestral chief of the Imperial Opera-house at Berlin.

At a recent Soirée d'Invitation given in Paris by M. Le Marquis and Mme. La Marquise de Caux, Cimarosa's trio from the "Matrimonio" was sung by the three sisters, Adelina, Amelia, and Carlotta Patti. Mme. Adelina Patti's new contract for Russia is from the 25th of November to the 18th of February, 1877. Mme. Nilsson is in Paris, preparatory to her tour in Holland and Germany.

Of the new piece called "Three Millions of Money," founded upon the "Trente Millions de Gladiateur," and just now produced at the St. James' Theatre, in London, the Telegraph says: "Mr. Lyster and Mr. Mackay, who have undertaken the adaptation of this lengthened farce, have fairly appreciated the humor of the original, and consistently preserved the bustle and excitement which keeps the fun alive, but they have not been able to hit upon any plan for hiding the defects of the original version. On the contrary, they have dealt far too leniently with the French story, and have jeopardized their success by retaining just those scenes, situations, and complications which do not appeal to the laughter of the world, but are particular to the French sense of humor alone." The critic then compliments Mrs. John Wood and Mr. George Honey on their performances, but says of Mr. Clarke: "Mr. George Clarke, an American actor, who appeared as the American Crœsus, was the only one who, strange to say, seemed awkward in a character made to his hand, and who, by the side of his companions, labored indifferently well, and occasionally strayed from the picture." The play is not accounted successful.

THE FEMALE PEDESTRIANS.

MISS HILLERN THE VICTOR IN THE CONTEST—HER OPPONENT OBLIGED TO RETIRE FROM THE TRACK.

The walking match which has been in progress since last Sunday night, between Miss Bertha Von Hillern and Miss Mary Marshall, at the Central Park Garden, terminated in favor of the former, this morning at 12:05 o'clock. Miss Marshall practically stopped walking at 4:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon, but made spasmodic efforts to resume her place and regain lost ground at various times during the evening. During her last effort she limped painfully, owing to the swollen condition of her left ankle and a blister on the heel of her left foot. She made the circuit of the hall twenty-three times, and was obliged to desist, having completed 281 miles and one lap, or one-twenty-second part of the next mile. Miss Von Hillern had gained so many miles ahead of her opponent on Friday evening, that she felt justified in taking a sufficient amount of rest preparatory to the final struggle yesterday. Accordingly, at 11:47:40 P. M. she retired and slept soundly until 5 o'clock, when she rose and resumed her walk, apparently feeling much refreshed, at 5:14:20 A. M. She walked steadily until 8:43:45 o'clock, when she again took a short rest, resuming at 9:21 A. M. At 11:40:40 A. M. she had completed exactly 300 miles. At 4:18:15 o'clock P. M., having finished 310 miles, she retired for refreshment and a short sleep, and at 5:23 o'clock commenced her steady tread again. During all this time she never once faltered, excepting at the allotted breathing spells, and stepped forward briskly, with a smile on her face, which showed no traces of fatigue. At 11 o'clock she had completed 320 miles, and then she commenced to increase her pace. As she did so her face grew paler, and the perspiration rolled from her face. At 11:40 o'clock she commenced her last mile. Her trainer accompanied her and encouraged her at every step, the large audience assisting by applauding vociferously. At 11.55 o'clock she finished her 323½ miles, with ten minutes to spare. She completed the last mile in exactly fourteen minutes. The judges were Messrs. F. S. Beaver and L. Y. Hopkins.

ATHLETIC SPORTS.

ANNUAL GAMES BETWEEN THE STUDENTS OF THE COLLEGE OF NEW-YORK—THE SUCCESSFUL COMPETITORS.

Yesterday afternoon the third annual games between the students of the College of New-York took place at the Mott Haven running-grounds. The first event was a mile walking race open to all amateurs, but G. Horton was the only one who appeared against the college champion, Mr. W. M. Watson. The latter had the race easily in his hands, but, fooling away his time, allowed Horton to keep up with him until they got halfway down the last straight side, when Horton put on a spurt and got over the score a foot ahead. Watson claimed that Horton had fouled him, and quite unexpectedly the Referee reversed the decision, placing Watson first, and thereby disqualifying Horton. Time, 8m. 55s. It was necessary to run the 100-yard race in four heats, and the winners were C. Moritz, J. Knight, V. Falkenau, and E. Dove. These four then ran in the final heat, and Dove won by two yards from Moritz. Time, 11¾. Shumway was the only man who appeared for the half-mile race, so Loth, rather than let it be a walk-over, started with him, but was fully a hundred yards behind when Shumway crossed the score in 2m. 28s.

The mile walk brought out but six of the original twenty-one entries, and Watson, taking every advantage of the referee's back being turned, got over the distance in 7m. 45s. Lynch, who finished second, was a very poor walker. Kinckerbacker had no one to compete against in the high jump, and cleared 4 feet 11 inches. Eight started for the quarter of a mile prize, and S. W. Hoag managed to win by over a dozen yards from Shumway, with Campbell a good third; time, 59½. Watson was again to the front in the three-mile walk, and, before he had completed the necessary fifteen laps, had gained two laps on his slow antagonists, Smith and Fitzsimmons. The latter would persist in "trotting" every time Smith tried to pass him, and finally, on the homestretch, Smith got in front and beat Fitzsimmons by a yard for second place. Time—Watson, 25:37; Smith, 29:03. A hurdle-race over ten flights of hurdles was the last race of the programme, and for this E. W. Knickerbocker beat S. W. Hoag by about four yards. Time—21½ seconds.

The officers were—Captain, E. E. Oudin; Scorer, B. Loth; referee, John Wood; Starter, E. Plummer; Timekeepers, Mr. James Watson and Mr. Van Wyck.

THE GEORGIA AND FLORIDA COTTON CROPS.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 11.—The following is the report of the Savannah Cotton Exchange for October, 1876:

Georgia.—Eighty-nine replies from forty-eight counties of the average date of Oct. 29, have been received. The weather during the past month has been clear and warm and exceedingly favorable for gathering the crop in good condition—much more favorable than last season as shown by the superior grade of cotton. There has been no killing frost in the State. About the beginning and middle of the month some injury was done to cotton in the lowlands. In some portions of the State the crop has been gathered. In more favorable sections the picking season will be finished by the end of November. The crop last season throughout a large portion of the State was small, while the yield this year, if it will not be over an average, will exceed last year's by fifteen per cent. The extreme heat and dry weather in August brought the crop forward, and the fine weather since enabled it to be gathered faster and in better condition.

Florida.—Twenty replies from twelve counties, under the average date of Oct. 29, have been received. The weather in the eastern and middle portions of the State has been stormy, and during a large portion of the month exceedingly unfavorable. In the western part of the State the weather has been more favorable. There has been no killing frost as yet. The crop has been to a large extent gathered, although labor was very much demoralized, and picking interfered with by numerous gatherings for electioneering purposes. The balance of the crop will be nearly housed by the middle of November. The crop has been shortened by rust and two weeks steady rain during the best part of the picking season, and will not exceed that of last year, which was a short one.

LATEST NEWS BY CABLE.

THE EASTERN COMPLICATIONS.

CRITICISM OF LORD BEACONSFIELD'S RECENT SPEECH—THE CZAR AND THE TURKISH QUESTION—OPPOSITION TO RUSSIAN OCCUPATION OF BELGRADE.

VIENNA, Nov. 11.—Reports from Turkish sources state that the Porte has raised several objections to the projected conference, and has instructed its London Ambassador to communicate them to Lord Beaconsfield. Lord Beaconsfield's assertion that all the powers had assented to the conference is criticized in diplomatic circles, as the Vienna Cabinet has not yet accepted the proposition. Count Andrassy will state his views of the English proposal after the funeral of his mother, who has just died.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—The following is the text of a speech delivered by the Czar at Moscow yesterday in reply to an address of the citizens: "I thank you for your sentiments respecting the political situation which is now more clearly defined than before. You know that Turkey has yielded to my demands for an immediate armistice to end the useless slaughter in Servia and Montenegro. In this unequal struggle the Montenegrins, as heretofore, have shown themselves real heroes. Unfortunately the same cannot be said of the Servians, notwithstanding the assistance of our volunteers, many of whom shed their blood for the Sclavonic cause. I know that all Russia joins me in warmly sympathizing in the sufferings of our brethren and co-religionists. The true interests of Russia are, however, dearer to me than all. My wish to the uttermost is to spare Russian blood. Therefore, I have striven, and will still strive, to obtain a real improvement of the position of the Christians by peaceful means. In a few days negotiations will commence at Constantinople. My most ardent wish is that we may arrive at a general agreement; should this, however, not be achieved, and should I see that we cannot obtain guarantees necessary for carrying out what we intended to demand from the Porte, I am firmly determined to act independently. I am convinced that the whole of Russia will respond to my summons should I consider it necessary, and Russia's honor require it. Moscow will lead the van by its example. May God help us to carry out our sacred mission."

BELGRADE, Nov. 11.—The Permanent Committee of the Servian Skupochtijna having protested against the projected garrisoning of Belgrade by a Russian brigade, Prince Milan has ordered the brigade to remain at Semendria. Gen. Tchernayeff, it is stated, has been advised not to go to Russia, as his return there might complicate the political situation, which is now satisfactory.

BUCHAREST, Nov. 11.—The Roumanian Chamber of Deputies has approved a proposal to keep the reserve under arms beyond the period prescribed by law.

FOREIGN BUSINESS AFFAIRS.

REVIEW OF THE STOCK AND GROCERY MARKETS FOR THE PAST WEEK—ANOTHER LARGE SHIPMENT OF SPECIE TO THE UNITED STATES.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—At the Stock Exchange, during the week, Consols have been dull and declined ¼. English railways have advanced, but the best point was not maintained to the close. The foreign market has been firm, the balance of changes being on the rising side. Scarcely any stock, however, closed at the highest level. There was a general relapse yesterday, attributed to Lord Beaconsfield's warlike speech at the Lord Mayor's banquet. Americans have been adversely affected by the political complications in the United States, which are attracting much attention. The Times, to-day, printed a special dispatch from Philadelphia over a column long, giving the latest phase of affairs. The large withdrawals of gold from the Bank of England have not had much influence upon discount rates, because of the scarcity of bills offering.

In the Mincing Lane markets during the past week the leading feature has been a further heavy rise in sugar, amounting to £3 to £5 ₩ ton. The general recovery from the lowest point of the market in the Spring is now £7 to £9 ₩ ton. Transactions have been very large with the market more excited than it has been since 1863. The movement arises from the certainty of the French beet-root crop being much smaller than was anticipated and the rapid advance upon refined sugars. The limited quantity of good coffee available brought high rates. Cotton is again dearer and the market active. Rice is firm and tending upward. Tea is dull. Spices are firm with more inquiry. Saltpetre is quiet.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 11.—The Cunard Line steamship Russia, which sailed from this port for New-York to-day, took £279,400 in specie.

THE STRATHCLYDE DISASTER.

THE CONVICTION OF THE MASTER OF THE FRANCONIA TO BE QUASHED.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—In the case of The Queen against Keyn, master of the German steamer Franconia, which, while on her way to Havre, having touched at an English port and taken on board a pilot to take her down the Channel, ran down the Strathclyde, an English vessel, within three miles of Dover, and thus caused the death of a number of persons, including several English subjects, the Lord Chief Justice of England, Right Hon. Sir Alexander James E. Cockburn, the Lord Chief Baron Right Hon. Sir Fitzroy Kelly, Mr. Justice Field, Mr. Justice Lush, Baron Pollock, Baron Bramwell, and Sir R. Phillimore concur in quashing the conviction of Keyn, and Lord Coleridge, Mr. Justice Brett, Baron Amphlett, Mr. Justice Grove, Mr. Justice Denman, and Mr. Justice Lindley, dissent. Judgment will be delivered by Lord Chief Justice Cockburn on Monday. As the decision turns exclusively on the question of jurisdiction it seems certain that the doctrine heretofore held of jurisdiction within three miles of the coast will be overturned.

MISCELLANEOUS FOREIGN NOTES.

RESCUE OF THE CREW OF A BARK—DAMAGE BY RECENT HEAVY WEATHER AT SEA—STEAMER SAILING POSTPONED.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—The American bark Waldo, Capt. Estes, from Boston Oct. 2, for Queenstown, sprung aleak Oct. 6, and was abandoned Oct. 9. The Russian bark Berger, Capt. Niska, from Philadelphia, for Antwerp, brought the crew of the Waldo to Falmouth. The Berger was herself somewhat damaged by heavy weather.

CAGLIARI, Nov. 11.—The American brig Ennis, Capt. Dyer, from Deal, England, for Marseilles, has been towed into this port with the loss of masts, sails, and boats.

HAVRE, Nov. 11.—The sailing of the General Transatlantic Company's steamer Amerique has been postponed until to-morrow on account of prevailing gales.

AFFAIRS IN CUBA.

THE REVENUES—ROYAL COMMISSIONER RUBI'S EXTRAORDINARY "CONTRIBUTIONS."

HAVANA, Nov. 11.—The decree of March 10, given by Royal Commissioner Rubi, which simplified and united the various contributions into a single one of 39 per cent. on all property and income, and which was suspended by another decree, in May last, temporarily re-establishing the old way of paying contributions, because the statistics in regard to property were insufficient, has now been ordered to come into effective force on the 1st of January next, abolishing all other extraordinary contributions.

THE WEST INDIES.

PEACE ESTABLISHED IN THE DOMINICAN REPUBLIC—TRANQUILLITY IN JACMEL.

HAVANA, Nov. 11.—Advices by the French steamer from St. Thomas report that business there continues depressed.

San Domingo dates are to the 25th of October. Gen. Gonzales arrived at the capital on the 19th of October. His return has inspired general confidence. The interior town of Santiago and the seaport of Puerto Plata have both capitulated to the Gonzales party. Communication between the seaport and the interior is therefore re-established. Business in general is commencing to revive. Gen Gonzales has been proclaimed Dictator at San Domingo City, but he is unwilling to accept. Peace may be considered once more established. Gen Gonzales has not imprisoned nor banished a single partisan of the fallen Government.

The company known as the France-Dominican Company, for the purpose of extracting the juice of logwood, will be dissolved, the undertaking having proved unremunerative.

Advices from Jacmel, Hayti, to Oct. 26, state that tranquillity prevails throughout the Republic. The gathering of the coffee crop has commenced, but the late hurricane having injured it some, it will be much smaller than last year's crop. The price is $12 per quintal. Business in dry goods is very dull. In American provisions trade is somewhat livelier. The general opinion is that President Canal will be able to preserve peace.

A FACT FOR THESE TIMES.

The difference between the most improved styles of the ordinary sewing-machine and the new "Automatic" of the Willcox & Gibbs Sewing-machine Company is simply marvelous. Send postal card for full particulars and list of offices to No. 658 Broadway, New-York.—Exchange.

SCHOOL SUITS.—Large stock at greatly reduced prices. BROKAW BROTHERS, Fourth avenue, opposite Cooper Institute.—Exchange.

THE WEARIED AND ANXIOUS MERCHANT, the tired clerk, the busy lawyer, fagged and harassed by the duties of an arduous profession, and all who daily undergo a physical or mental strain, which tends to deprive the system of its vitality, should reinforce its energies with that pure, long-established, and palatable invigorant, UDOLPHO WOLFE'S SCHIEDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS, which is, moreover, an excellent diuretic and general corrective.—Advertisement.

Rossmore Hotel.

Broadway, 41st and 42d sts., near Elevated Railroad; fine suites at special rates; single rooms and suites for gentlemen at reduced prices.
—Advertisement. CHARLES E. LELAND.

THE HIGHEST AWARD granted any exhibitor by Centennial Exposition is given the ELASTIC TRUSS CO. for SILK ELASTIC TRUSSES. Sold only at 683 Broadway.
—Advertisement.

POND'S EXTRACT.—Druggists keep it and almost every one knows its value. Try it once for Bronchial and Pulmonary complaints. Sure cure.—Advertisement.

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

The great remedy for Consumption. This well-known remedy is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years; and when resorted to in season, seldom fails to effect a speedy cure of coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, influenza, whooping cough, hoarseness, pains or soreness in the chest or side, bleeding at the lungs, liver complaint, &c. Beware of Counterfeits! Remember that the genuine WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY has on the outside wrapper the signature of "I. BUTTS," and the printed name of the proprietors, "SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston." All others are base imitations. Examine the wrapper carefully before purchasing.

Rupture Radically Cured by Dr. Marsh's RADICAL CURE TRUSS. Silk Elastic Stockings, Belts, &c. Shoulder-Braces, Suspensories and Abdominal Supporters. 2 Vesy st., Astor House. No Broadway branch.

Dyeing and Cleaning.—The EMPIRE DYEING AND CLEANING CO. call for and deliver goods. Work surpassed by none. Offices—No. 936 Broadway, near 22d st.; No. 196 6th av., near 14th st.; No. 276 8th av., near 24th st.; Rossmore Hotel, Broadway and 42d st.

A.—Buy Your Hats

O'BURKE, No. 214 Broadway. Style and texture unsurpassed. Popular prices.

Holmes' Burglar Alarm Telegraph, No. 571 Broadway. No family can afford to be without it.

Use Brummell's Celebrated Cough Drops. The genuine have F. H. B. on each drop.

To Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays all pain, and cures wind colic.

DIED.

ADAMS.—Saturday morning, Nov. 11, of pneumonia, CATHARINE, widow of Robert Adams, in the 87th year of her age.

Relatives and friends are respectfully requested to attend the funeral at her late residence, No. 170 West 48th st., Tuesday, at 11 o'clock A. M.

BELL.—At Eatontown, N. J., on Thursday, Nov. 9, MARY MIDDLETON, widow of the late Thomas Bell, in the 79th year of her age.

Funeral on Monday, the 13th November, at 2 o'clock, from the Presbyterian Church at Shrewsbury, N. J. The relatives and friends of the family are respectfully invited.

BIDDLE.—On Saturday, Nov. 11, EDWARD R. BIDDLE, in the 79th year of his age.

Funeral on Monday, the 13th inst., at 2 o'clock P. M., from his late residence, No. 981 South st., Elizabeth, N. J.

CLOSE.—On Friday, Nov. 10, Mrs. JEMIMA CLOSE, in the 85th year of her age.

Her relatives and friends, and those of her sons Aaron and David Close, are respectfully invited to attend the funeral at the residence of David Close, No. 118 West 43d st., on Sunday, at 4 P. M.

CRUDEN.—Suddenly, at Hoboken, Nov 11, BOYD MCR. CRUDEN.

Funeral services Monday, at 4 o'clock P. M., at his late residence, No. 106 Garden st. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend.

CURTIS.—Suddenly, at Hartford, Conn., Oct. 30, 1876, MR. MUNSON CURTIS, in the 69th year of his age.

DECKER.—On the 9th inst., at the "Berkeley," No. 20 5th av., SIMON C. DECKER, aged 60 years.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

DELANO.—On Saturday, 11th inst., WILLIAM B. DELANO, in the 45th year of his age.

The relatives and friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral at the residence of his parents, No. 314 West 29th st., on Tuesday, 14th inst., at 12 M., without further invitation.

☞ Newark papers please copy.

DICKINSON.—In Brooklyn, on Thursday, Nov. 9, ARTHUR V., son of Julia A. and the late George Dickinson, in the 30th year of his age.

Funeral from his late residence, No. 316 Warren st., on Monday, at 2:30 o'clock. Relatives and friends respectfully invited.

EDSON.—In Bayonne, N.J., on Nov. 11, ADDIE, wife of Chauncey C. Edson, and only daughter of J. & Wheeler, Jr.

Interment at Norwich, N. Y.

FELLOWS.—On Friday, Nov. 10, LOUIS ALFRED, son of Louis A. and Mary Stack Fellows, aged 3 years and 5 months.

Funeral services Sunday, Nov. 12, at 3 P. M., at No. 295 Macon st., Brooklyn.

MONCADA.—On Friday, Nov. 10, at the Metropolitan Hotel, JOSE N. MONCADA, late of Mexico, in the 56th year of his age.

His friends are invited to attend the funeral on Monday, the 13th inst., at 9:30 A. M., from St. Patrick's Cathedral. The remains will be temporarily deposited in the Cathedral vault.

ODELL.—On Thursday, Nov. 9, in Brooklyn, SARAH H. SEYMOUR, wife of Jacob Odell, and youngest daughter of W. N. Seymour, in the 44th year of her age.

Funeral at St. James' Protestant Episcopal Church, corner St. James place and Lafayette av., at 11 o'clock A. M. on Monday, 13th inst. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend.

PARSONS.—At New-Brunswick, N. J., on Nov. 9, FREDERICK SIDNEY PARSONS, of the firm of Slocovich & Co., youngest son of William G. Parsons, aged 23 years.

Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral on Sunday afternoon, from Christ Church, at 2 P. M.

SHIELDS.—In Brooklyn, on Friday evening, Nov. 10, of paralysis, MARY AUGUSTA, wife of George W. Shields.

Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend the funeral from her late residence, No. 85 St. James place, on Monday, Nov. 13, at 3 P. M.

SLOTT.—On Saturday, Nov. 11, JOHN M. SLOTT, in the 30th year of his age.

Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend his funeral from his late residence, corner 56th st and 1st av., on Monday, at 1 o'clock.

WATT.—On Thursday, Nov. 9, THOMAS WATT, only son of the late Archibald Watt.

Funeral from his late residence, on 141st st., between 6th and 7th avs., at 3 P. M., on Sunday, Nov. 12 The relatives and friends of the family are respectfully invited.

WHITE.—On Saturday, Nov. 11, GEORGE GRANVILLE WHITE, in the 76th year of his age.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend his funeral from the residence of his brother, Alexander M. White, No. 2 Pierrepont place, Brooklyn, on Tuesday, the 14th inst., at 1 P. M.

WILSON.—Suddenly, at Port Jefferson, on Friday, Nov. 10, REUBEN W. WILSON, aged 6 years.

Funeral from his late residence, on Monday, Nov. 13.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

UNDERSHIRTS

AND DRAWERS

AT LOW PRICES.

WARD'S.

381 BROADWAY, CORNER WHITE ST.

862 BROADWAY, CORNER 14TH ST.

1,121 BROADWAY, CORNER 25TH ST.

ALL SUPERFLUOUS HAIR.—LADIES AFflicted with superfluous hair on the lips, cheek, chin, arm, &c., who have in vain tried the various depilatories in use for this purpose, may apply to Mme. JULIAN, with the certainty of guaranteed and perfect success. Mme. JULIAN has removed this disfigurement RADICALLY AND PERMANENTLY in the worst possible cases, where all previous attempts had failed. Application must be made personally at her residence, No. 216 West 38th st., from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M. daily.

R. STUART WILLIS, ATTORNEY AND Counselor at Law, Notary Public, No. 182 Broadway, Room No. 4 New-York.

N. B.—Special attention paid to settling "estates," conveyancing, and City and country collection.

ALBERT SMITH, NO. 516 6TH AV., ONE door below 31st st., New-York, Dealer in fine marketing, Fish, Oysters, &c. Good Beef a specialty. City and Country Orders receive prompt attention; Branches, No. 210 West 35th st., No. 540 9th av.

KEEP'S CUSTOM SHIRTS MADE TO MEASURE.—The very best, six for $9; not the slightest obligation to take or keep any of KEEP'S shirts unless perfectly satisfactory. No. 571 Broadway, and No. 921 Arch st., Philadelphia.

KEEP'S PARTLY-MADE DRESS SHIRTS.—The very best, six for $6; can be finished as easily as hemming a handkerchief. No. 571 Broadway and No. 921 Arch st., Philadelphia.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE MESSRS. LEAVITT, Auctioneers.

THE TOLOSA COLLECTION.

On exhibition MONDAY MORNING, free, at the Art Rooms, No. 817 Broadway, the entire collection of Oil Paintings, Water Colors, ANTIQUE FURNITURE, ARMS, and ARMOUR, TAPESTRIES, COSTUMES, BRIC-A-BRAC, &c., &c., collected by

T. TOLOSA, Esq.

Among the artists represented in this choice collection will be found FORTUNY—PRADELLA—DOMINGO—PLAZENCIA—PERALTA—JIMINEZ—CASADO—MORERA—GARLAND—MADOU—PLASSAN—BARON—WEBER—PINCHART—DE JONGHE—GOUPIL—and many others of note.

This fine collection will be sold without reserve THURSDAY and FRIDAY EVENINGS, Nov. 16 and 17, at 8 o'clock, at the Art-rooms, No. 817 Broadway.

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

The foreign mails for the week ending Saturday, Nov. 18, 1876, will close at this office on Tuesday at 12 M. for Europe, per steam-ship Wyoming, via Queenstown; on Wednesday at 11:30 A. M. for Europe, per steam-ship Bothnia, via Queenstown: on Thursday at 11:30 A. M. for Europe, per steam-ship Suevia, via Plymouth, Cherbourg, and Hamburg; on Saturday at 4 A. M. for Europe, per steam-ship City of Berlin, via Queenstown—correspondence for Scotland, and Germany to be forwarded by this steamer must be specially addressed—and at 4 A. M. for Scotland direct, per steam-ship Bolivia, via Glasgow, and at 11:30 A. M. for Europe, per steam-ship Oder, via Southampton and Bremen. The steam-ships Wyoming, Bothnia, and City of Berlin do not take mails for Denmark, Sweden, and Norway. The mails for the West Indies, via Bermuda and St. Thomas, will leave New-York Nov. 23. The mails for China, &c., will leave San Francisco Dec. 1. The mails for Australia, &c., will leave San Francisco Dec. 6. T. L. JAMES, Postmaster.

CHRONIC, KIDNEY, BLADDER, THEIR cognate and hitherto fatal diseases, with full directions for their cure, in DR. HEATH'S book of 100 pages, gratis, at No. 200 Broadway, New-York.

RELIGIOUS NOTICES.

ASSOCIATION HALL.

The Bible-class conducted by Prof W. H. Thomson, M. D., will resume in the Hall at 5 o'clock Sunday, 12th inst. The Service of Song will be held in the hall at 7:30 o'clock. The President of the Association will conduct the exercises, and several addresses appropriate to Week of Prayer for young men may be expected.

AT CHICKERING HALL, 5TH AV., CORNER 18th st.—Sunday, Rev. Samuel Colcord, 10:45. "The Election to Heaven." Rev. James M. King, D. D., 3:30. Singing, both services, by Charles E. Gunn and the large choir. Everybody welcome. Prayer-meeting Thursday evening, No. 304 4th av.

AT CHURCH OF THE HOLY APOSTLES, corner of 9th av. and 28th st.—Services at 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Rev. Brady E. Backus, Rector. Rev. Frederick Courtney, Assistant Minister of St. Thomas' Church, will preach at the evening service on the "Importance of Sunday-school Work."

ALL SOULS' CHURCH, 4TH AV., CORNER 20th st.—Rev. Dr. Bellows will preach morning, 11th. Subject—"The Government shall be upon his Shoulder." Evening—7:45, on "Social and Public Hypocrisy." Collection for American Unitarian Association postponed until Sunday next.

A MIGHTY THEME.—BISHOP SNOW, THE man pronounced an impostor by theological quacks, will preach in the Medical College, corner of 23d st. and 4th av., on Sunday, at 3 P. M. Subject—"The Effects of the Seventh Vial," Rev. xvi: 17-21. Come and hear.

ANTHON MEMORIAL CHURCH,

48th st., west of 6th av.

Rev. R. HEBER NEWTON, Rector.

Services on Sunday at 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. The Rector will preach.

ASSOCIATION OF SPIRITUALISTS, HARvard Rooms, Reservoir Park.—A general conference is held Sunday at 2:30 and 7:30 o'clock. Speaking by judges, lawyers, doctors, and others. All invited.

BLEECKER STREET UNIVERSALIST Church, corner Downing st.—The Pastor, Rev. E. C. Sweetser, will preach this (Sunday) morning and evening at 10:45 and 7:30 o'clock. Morning subject—"Church Work." Evening subject—"Heart Religion." Strangers welcomed and promptly seated.

CHURCH OF THE HEAVENLY REST,

Fifth av., above 45th st.,

REV. DR. HOWLAND, RECTOR.

Services, 11 A. M.; 3:30 P. M.

Rev. Dr. Weston will preach in the afternoon.

The vestry have made an arrangement which enables them to offer unrented pews at a very moderate rate until May.

CHURCH OF OUR SAVIOUR,

(Sixth Universalist Society,)

57th st., near 8th av.,

James M. Pullman, Pastor.

Sunday morning at 11,

Evening at 7:45.

CHURCH OF THE DISCIPLES, MADISON av., corner 45th st., Rev. George H. Hepworth.—Morning—"The Matchless Love;" Evening—"The House We Live In." Sunday-school and Congregational Bible-Class at 3 o'clock. Old-Fashioned Singing-school every Saturday evening, conducted by Mr. Thatcher.

CHURCH OF THE ATONEMENT, MADISON av. and 28th st., Rev. C. C. Tiffany, Rector.—Sunday-school at 9:30 A. M. Divine services at 11 A. M., and afternoon at 3:30. Rev. Dr. Harwood will preach. Preaching services at 7:30 P. M., by Rev. Arthur Brooks. At this service all seats are free and strangers cordially invited.

CHURCH OF THE NEW JERUSALEM, ("Swedenborgian,") East 35th st., between 4th and Lexington avs., Rev. Chauncey Giles, Pastor.—Services at 11 A. M. Sermon: "Man a Microcosm," showing that he contains within his own person all the forms, qualities, and activities of the material universe and of the heavens.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH, 23D ST., between 5th and 6th avs.—Rev. R. S. MacArthur, Pastor, preaches. Topics—Morning: "Making Our Election Sure;" evening: "Elijah under the Juniper Tree." Sunday-school, 2:30. Meetings Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings. Strangers invited.

CHURCH OF THE DIVINE PATERNITY, 5th Av., corner 45th st., (Fourth Universalist Society.) Rev. Dr. E. H. Chapin, Pastor. Preaching this morning at 11 o'clock; evening at 8 o'clock: Rev. J. Smith Dodge, Jr., Stamford, Conn., will officiate.

CHURCH OF THE RESURRECTION, 35TH st., between Lexington and 3d avs., Rev. John W. Trimble, Rector.—Services every Sunday at 10:45 A. M., and 7:30 P. M. Sunday-school at 2:30. All are cordially invited to attend.

CHURCH OF THE MESSIAH, CORNER 34TH st. and Park av.—Rev. William R. Alger will preach at 11 A. M. Subject—"The Dramatic Spirit and the Ascetic Spirit, or the Battle between the Theatre and the Church."

CHRIST CHURCH, FIFTH AV. AND 35TH st., services at 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Rev. Dr. Flagg will officiate.

CALVARY CHURCH, 4TH AV. AND 21ST st., Rev. E. A. Washburn, D. D., Rector.—Services at 10:30 A. M. and 3:30 P. M.

FIVE POINTS HOUSE OF INDUSTRY, NO. 155 Worth st., William F. Barnard, Superintendent.—Service of Song by the children on Sunday at 2:30 P. M. Public invited. Second-hand clothing and shoes urgently solicited.

FIRST REFORMED EPISCOPAL CHURCH, Madison av., corner of 47th st., Rev. William T. Sabine, Rector.—Sunday-school at 9 o'clock A. M. Divine services at 10:30 A. M. and 7:45 P. M. The Rector will preach.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, CORNER OF 39TH st. and Park av.—Preaching at 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M., by Rev. Thomas D. Anderson, D. D., Pastor. Cordial invitation.

GRACE CHAPEL, EAST 14TH ST.; REV. WILliam T. Egbert, Pastor—Services 11 and 7:30; the evening service will be memorial of Rev. R. Archer B. Flurdell, for some time connected with the missionary work of Grace Chapel, and lately murdered while acting as a missionary in Dakota.

GOSPEL HALL, NO. 23 4TH AV.—THE Breaking of Bread at 10:30 A. M.; Bible Reading at 4 P. M.; Preaching at 8 P. M., The Gospel of the Glory. Tuesday at 8 P. M., Bible Reading. Thursday at 8 P. M., Temple Meditations.

MASONIC TEMPLE, 23D-ST. AND 6TH av.—O. B. Frothingham, Pastor of the Independent Liberal Church, will speak on Sunday morning at 10:45 o'clock. Subject: "Truths we feel sure of." Service for the young at 3:30 P. M.

NELLIE J. T. BRIGHAM, INSPIRATIONal speaker, lectures for Society of Progressive Spiritualists at 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Their Hall is No. 55 West 33d street, near Broadway. Every one should hear this noted lady on the Spiritual Philosophy. Children's Lyceum meets at 2:30 P. M.

PROF. FELIX ADLER WILL LECTURE this (Sunday) morning at 11 o'clock, at Standard Hall, Broadway and 42d st. Subject—"Immortality." Part IV. "The Soul." All interested are cordially invited to attend.

REV. THOMAS S. HASTINGS, D. D., PAStor, will preach in the West Presbyterian Church, 42d st., between 5th and 6th avs., on Sunday, 12th inst. Services at 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Adult Bible class 3 P. M.

ST. ANDREW'S P. E. CHURCH, HARLEM (127th st. and 4th av.)—Morning service at 10:30; evening service at 7:45; Sunday-school, 9 A. M.; children's singing-school 3:30 P. M. Rev. Wm. A. Matson, D. D., will preach in the morning, and Rev. Wm. F. Morgan, D. D., of St. Thomas' Church, in the evening.

ST. IGNATIUS CHURCH, 40TH ST., BEtween 5th and 6th avs., Rev. Dr. F. C. Ewer, Rector, officiating.—Communion, 7 A. M.; morning prayer, 9; litany, 10:30; choral celebration, 11; evening prayer, (choral,) 7:30 P. M. Strangers cordially invited.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH, 2D AV. & 10TH ST.

Rev. J. H. RYLANCE, D. D., Rector.

Services, 11 A. M. and 7:45 P. M. The Rector will preach. Sunday-school, 9:30 A. M.

ST. LUKE'S M. E. CHURCH, 41ST ST., near 6th av., Rev. W. P. Abbott, Pastor.—Preaching at 10:30 A. M. and 7:45 P. M.; young people's prayer meeting at 6:45 P. M. All are invited.

ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH, BETWEEN NOS. 57 and 59 West 46th st, Rev. A. B. Hart, Rector.—Services on Sunday at 10:30 A. M. and 4 P. M.

THIRTY-FOURTH STREET REFORMED Church, west of 8th av.—Preaching by the Pastor, Rev. Carlos Martyn, at 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. In the evening, a people's service. Subject—"The Gospel for the People."

THE PEOPLE'S SERVICE IN THE CHURCH of the Holy Trinity, Madison av. and 42d st. Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Stephen H. Tyng, Jr., D. D., will preach morning and evening.

UNITY CHAPEL, HARLEM, (128TH ST. AND 4th av.)—Rev. W. T. Clark will preach this morning on "Internal Resources." Service begins at 11 o'clock. Strangers cordially welcome.

DRY GOODS.

FALL AND WINTER NOVELTIES, &c.

ARNOLD, CONSTABLE & CO.

Are offering GREAT INDUCEMENTS to purchasers of

Fancy and Staple Dry Goods,

in all their various departments, of ENGLISH, FRENCH, AND GERMAN MANUFACTURE, comprising the most extensive and best assorted stock of FIRST-CLASS GOODS imported this season and at LOWER PRICES, viz:

BLACK SILKS,
FANCY AND DAMASSE AND PLAIN SILKS, MATELASSE, BROCADES.
CAMEL'S HAIRS, DAMASSE, SERGES, WOOL, MATELASSE, ARMURE EFFECTS, SCOTCH WOOL, AND FRENCH PLAIDS.
INDIA CAMEL'S HAIR, PERSIAN, PAISLEY, and BROCHE SHAWL, DOMESTIC AND SCOTCH WOOL SHAWLS,
TRAVELING RUGS AND SHAWLS,
CLOTH AND SEAL PLUSH CARRIAGE ROBES.

Paris-Made Costumes

for EVENING, CARRIAGE, AND PROMENADE.
DOLMANS, SACQUES, CIRCULARS, and WRAPS, in CLOTH, SILK, SICILIEN, MATELASSE, and DAMASSE, suitable for EVENING, STREET, AND CARRIAGE COSTUME.

SEAL FURS,

IN ALL STYLES.

RUSSIAN AND HUDSON BAY SABLE SETS, CHINCHILLA SETS, MINK SETS, BLACK MARTEN SETS, FEATHER MUFFS, FUR GLOVES, FUR AND FEATHER TRIMMINGS.

Infants' AND Wedding Trousseaux.

LADIES', MISSES', and CHILDREN'S FURNISHING DEPARTMENT Complete in FRENCH AND DOMESTIC UNDERWEAR, GARMENTS, DRESSES, CLOAKS, SKIRTS, FRENCH and AMERICAN CORSETS, KILT SUITS and OVERCOATS For BOYS from three to seven years. LADIES' FANCY FLANNEL and FELT SKIRTS, &c.

LACES,

Of every description.
EMBROIDERIES, French, Swiss, and Hamburg.
HANDKERCHIEFS, Hemstitched, Initialed, Embroidered, and Colored Bordered.

BLANKETS, FLANNELS, QUILTS, and COMFORTABLES. ENGLISH and FRENCH CARDIGAN JACKETS, HOSIERY and UNDERWEAR.

LINENS and WHITE GOODS,

GENTLEMEN'S FURNISHING GOODS, in GREAT VARIETY and POPULAR PRICES.

GLOVES.

KID, GANTS de SUEDE, CASTOR, PLUSH-LINED DOG SKIN, and FABRICS of every style, &c., &c.

ARNOLD, CONSTABLE & CO.,
Broadway, corner 19th st.,
NEW-YORK.

FINE GOODS AT Popular Prices — L — ESTABLISHED IN —1860.—

FREDERICK LOESER & CO.'S BROOKLYN MAMMOTH ESTABLISHMENT! DRESS GOODS, MILLINERY, FANCY GOODS, SILKS, LACES, HOSIERY, BUTTONS, RIBBONS, GLOVES, UNDERWEAR, LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S OUTFITS.

OUR "FASHION LIGHT," published monthly, contains choice reading matter and gives all the latest information on fashions. It will, on application, be mailed free of charge. ORDERS FROM THE COUNTRY SOLICITED AND FILLED WITH GREAT CARE AND DISPATCH. Orders from $10 upward forwarded at our expense when prepaid by Post Office order or draft.

FREDERICK LOESER & CO.,
Fulton, Tillary, & Washington sts., Brooklyn, N.Y.

AUCTION SALES.

EDWARD SCHENCK, Auctioneer.

THIRD LARGE AND PEREMPTORY SALE OF ELEGANT DECORATED FRENCH CHINA DINNER SETS, TEA SETS, FRUIT SETS, AND TOILET SETS, RICH ENGRAVED CRYSTAL CUT TABLE GLASSWARE. Elegant Vases, Real Bronze and other Clocks, Statuettes, and a large and beautiful assortment of every variety of China and Fancy Ware. TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION, AT No. 60 LIBERTY STREET, ON THURSDAY AND FRIDAY, NOV. 16 AND 17. At 11 o'clock Each Day. The above will be on exhibition on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY. Ladies and the Public are invited to examine them. The Sale will be POSITIVE and PEREMPTORY. Experienced Packers will be in attendance.

FURNITURE BARGAINS AT AUCTION.
Wm. H. Lee, 199 and 201 Fulton st.,
NEW-YORK,
Will sell his entire stock of reliable, well-seasoned, parlor, library, dining and chamber furniture, on Thursday and Friday, Nov. 16 and 17. For particulars, see auction notice of Henry Herts & Son.

J. COOK, AUCTIONEER.

ON MONDAY, OCT. 13, 10:30.—ONE OF THE largest sales of the season; entire rich furniture, carpets, pianos, mirrors, of the brown-stone mansion residence, Avenue A, between 116th and 117th sts., (Harlem) elegant Moquet, Wilton and Brussels carpets, rich walnut parlor suits, in brocatel, and terry, rosewood piano, fine rosewood étagères, elegant pier mirrors and cornices, library, center and dining tables, buffets, wardrobes, sofa bed, walnut bedstead, bureaus, washstands, and common feather beds, pillows, mattresses, rockers, easy and arm chair, oil paintings, engravings, China cut glass, and plated ware, clocks, ornaments, kitchen utensils. Sale absolute.

MORRIS WILKINS, Auctioneer.

HANDSOME HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE.—Rosewood piano-forte, combination buffet bedsteads, rosewood etageres, fine carpets, &c., &c., AT AUCTION. E. H. LUDLOW & CO. will sell at auction on TUESDAY, Nov. 14, 1876, at 11 o'clock A. M., at No. 8 West 34th st., a general assortment of handsome new parlor and bedroom furniture, black walnut dining-tables, buffets, centre and other tables, lounge, easy, and arm chairs, mirrors, curled hair mattresses, fine carpets, &c. Catalogues at office of auctioneers, No. 3 Pine st.

AUCTION SALE OF HYACINTHS, TULIPS, CROCUS, NARCISSUS, &c., &c. YOUNG & ELLIOTT will sell by auction at No. 12 Cortlandt st., New-York, on TUESDAY, Nov. 14, at 12 o'clock, 5,000 Hyacinths, in variety; 7,000 Tulips, in variety; 10,000 Crocus, in variety; 500 Narcissus, in variety; 1,000 Snowdrops, in variety; 400 Crown Imperials, 700 Lilium Candidum, 1,000 Spiræa Japonica, 1,000 Lilium Longiflorum, also, 500 Standard Hybrid Perpetual Roses, 1,000 Dwarf Hybrid Perpetual Roses. W. ELLIOTT, Auctioneer.

PERSONAL.

FREDERICK BURDGE, OF NO. 10 PARAGON, New Kent Road, London, will receive intelligence greatly to his advantage by applying, personally or by letter, to WHITESIDE BROTHERS, Nos. 23 and 25 Greene st., New-York.

DRY GOODS.

Stern Brothers,

SIXTH AVENUE AND 23D STREET,

WILL DISPLAY

MONDAY AN ENTIRELY NEW AND ELEGANT ASSORTMENT OF IMPORTED AND THEIR OWN MAKE

Cloaks, Dolmans, Circulars, Sacques, and Capes

OF

PLAIN AND FANCY ALL-WOOL BEAVER, MATELASSE, BASKET, DIAGONAL, AND CHINCHILLA CLOTHS, made in the most superior manner, while the styles and trimmings will be found far superior to the generality of garments offered.

PRICES EXCEEDINGLY LOW.
AN INSPECTION BEFORE PURCHASING IS EARNESTLY SOLICITED.

A large assortment of

CHILDREN'S CLOAKS,

suitable for all ages, in various styles.

LADIES' MORNING ROBES

of Flannel, Cashmere, Satteen, and Delaine.
ENTIRELY NEW STYLES AT DECIDED BARGAINS.
LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S FELT SKIRTS at a reduction of 40 PER CENT. from former prices.

Opening of large lines and new styles of PARIS HAND-MADE LINGERIE. CHEMISES, NIGHT ROBES, CAMISOLES, DRAWERS, AND SKIRTS.

An extensively large assortment at a reduction of thirty-three per cent. from former prices.

SPECIAL BARGAINS IN

TRIMMING & CLOAKING VELVETS.

THE ENTIRE STOCK AT GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

BLACK SILK TRIMMING VELVETS at $1 50, $1 75, $1 85, $2, $2 25 upward.

COLORED SILK VELVETS, from $2 a yard upward, in all the most desirable Fall and Winter shades.

BLACK ALL-SILK VELVETS at $4 37, $5 12, and $5 38 a yard.

28-INCH CLOAKING VELVETS at $3 50, $3 75, $4, $4 25, $5 12.

28-INCH FINEST QUALITY ALL-SILK LYONS VELVETS at $7 50, $8 50, $9 85 a yard.

ALL EXTREMELY CHEAP.

A large assortment of BLACK AND COLORED TRIMMING SILKS, BLACK AND COLORED SATINS, CREPE DE CHENE AND GROS DE SUEZ.

OPENING OF THREE CASES

Paris Silk & Worsted Embroideries.

An entirely new and elegant collection of CHAIR STRIPES, CUSHIONS, SLIPPERS, RUGS, LAMP SCREENS, TOWEL RACKS, FOOT RESTS.

New designs and extremely handsome and choice colors and combinations. By far the finest assortment ever offered.

BERLIN WORSTED EMBROIDERIES AT GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.
CANVAS BURLAPS, TOWELINGS, IN ALL STYLES. PAPER PATTERNS, FILLING SILKS AND WORSTEDS—LARGE STOCK TO SELECT FROM.

HOSIERY AND MERINO WEAR.

COMPLETE LINES OF LADIES', GENTS' AND CHILDREN'S

MERINO AND LAMB'S WOOL UNDERWEAR. CARTWRIGHT & WARNER'S CELEBRATED MAKE. ALL SIZES, STYLES, AND QUALITIES.

LADIES' MERINO VESTS FROM 43c. UPWARD.
PERFORATED BUCKSKIN GARMENTS, ALL SIZES AND STYLES.
HOSIERY FOR LADIES, GENTS, AND CHILDREN. THE MOST COMPLETE STOCK AND ASSORTMENT IN THE CITY.

STERN BROTHERS,
SIXTH AVENUE AND 23D STREET.

Waller & McSorley

NO. 245 GRAND ST., near Bowery, New-York, will exhibit this week the choicest and most select stock of SILKS, DRESS GOODS, SUITS, and CLOAKS yet offered, at exceedingly LOW PRICES.

Tremendous Bargains in Silks,

150 pieces very wide BLACK GROS GRAIN SILK at $1, recently sold at $1 50.
60 pieces Bonnet's black Silk at $1 25, recently sold at $1 87½.
50 pieces Bonnet's black Silk at $1 50, recently sold at $2 25.
50 pieces Ponson's black Silk at $1 87½, recently sold at $3.
40 pieces Guinet extra quality black Silk at $2 12½, recently sold at $3 25.
50 pieces elegant quality Striped Silk at 60c.; same goods sold last week at 90c.
65 pieces beautiful plain Silk at $1, formerly sold at $1 50.
35 pieces beautiful plain Silk at $1 50, formerly sold at $2 12½.

DRESS GOODS.

Tremendous bargains in Dress Goods, 15c. to 35c. per yard less than regular prices.
400 pieces handsome Plaids, in black and white and brown and white, at 12½c., formerly sold at 25c.
300 pieces French Plaids, in new designs, at 25c., formerly sold at 56c.
350 pieces Matelasse Lustre, all colors, at 22c., worth 50c.
250 pieces Satin De Malze at 25c., formerly sold at 45c.
200 pieces colored Cashmere, 1⅛ yard wide, 45c. formerly sold at 75c.
150 pieces French Cashmere, 62½c., formerly sold at $1.

BLACK GOODS

450 pieces splendid quality black Alpaca, at 25c., 31c., 34½c., 50c.
300 pieces black Cashmere, 1⅛ yard wide, at 35c., formerly sold at 62½c.
190 pieces black Cashmere, 1⅛ yard wide, at 50c., formerly sold at 80c.
200 pieces Lupin's black Cashmere, 1⅛ yard wide, at 75c., formerly sold for $1 12.
150 pieces superfine double twilled black Cashmere at $1, formerly sold for $1 25.
100 pieces black Crape Cloth, from $1 to $9 per yard.

LADIES' SUITS AND CLOAKS.

1,000 beautifully-trimmed Poplin Suits, $8; worth $14.
100 black Silk Suits, $40, $50, $75, $100, and upward.
1,500 Beaver Cloth Cloaks, trimmed with Silk, $5; worth $9.
1,500 Moscow Beaver Cloaks at $18, worth $22.

WALLER & McSORLEY,
NO. 245 GRAND ST., near BOWERY, NEW-YORK CITY.

CARPETS.

PRICES REDUCED.

George E. L. Hyatt,

271 and 273 Canal, through to 31 Howard st., now offers at retail, at reduced prices, new stock of carpets, as follows:
AXMINSTERS, BODY BRUSSELS, VELVETS, TAPESTRY BRUSSELS,
3-Ply Ingrain Carpets, Oil Cloths, Rugs, and Mattings.

DRESS-MAKING.

ECONOMY POLONAISES, DOLMANS, basques, overskirts, street sacques, cut and fitted, full instruction how to finish; dinner, evening, and street costumes made in elegant and approved style on short notice. MME. HEPPARD, No. 101 West 14th st., corner 6th av.

NO. 59 EAST 9TH ST., BETWEEN BROADWAY and University place, ladies' and children's suits made up stylish and neat at a moderate price.

DANCING.

ALLEN DODWORTH'S DANCING SCHOOL REMOVED TO NO. 681 5TH AV. Now open for the reception of pupils. For particulars send for circular.

DEGARMO'S PRIVATE DANCING ACADEMY, No. 7 West 32d st., two doors from 5th av., now open.

FURNITURE.

EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITY.—A SMALL family, leaving City, will sell at sacrifice the house furniture, mocking-bird and other fine songsters, &c. No. 43 Whitehall st., top floor.

DRY GOODS.

SPECIAL

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Doyle & Adolphi,

267 and 269 Grand st.

Corner Forsyth st.

THIS POPULAR FIRM has NOW ON HAND A VERY LARGE STOCK of WELL-SELECTED FOREIGN and DOMESTIC

Dry and Fancy Goods,

BOUGHT at RECENT AUCTION SALES of BANKRUPT MANUFACTURERS, and which THEY ARE SELLING at the LOWEST BOTTOM PRICES. THEY WILL ALSO OFFER, in ADDITION, the COMING WEEK, the FOLLOWING VERY ATTRACTIVE

BARGAINS.

DRESS GOODS.

1,500 pieces PLAIN DRESS GOODS, 12 1-2c. per yard.
1,360 pieces CAMEL'S HAIR CLOTHS at 18c. per yard.
1,420 pieces PLAIN COLORED POPLINS; BOTTLE GREEN, NAVY BLUE, PLUM, SEAL BROWN, at 25c., 30c., and 35c. per yard, DOUBLE WIDTH.
400 pieces COLORED CASHMERES, ALL WOOL, SUBLIME QUALITY, in ALL the NEW COLORS, at $1, worth $1 40.

SILKS.

130 pieces SILKS, MYRTLE GREEN, NAVY BLUE, SEAL BROWN, and OTHER CHOICE COLORS, at $1 per yard.
RICH BLACK DRESS SILKS at $1 25 and $1 50 per yard.
35 pieces SATIN FINISHED GROS GRAIN DRESS SILKS FROM AUCTION, at $2, worth $2 65.

VELVETS.

RICH LYONS ALL SILK VELVET, TWENTY-EIGHT INCHES WIDE, $6 50, worth $9.
FULL LINES OF TRIMMING VELVETS and VELVETEENS.

SHAWLS.

BROCHE SHAWLS from $5 and upward.
WOOL SHAWLS from $1 50 and upward.
BLACK THIBET SHAWLS from AUCTION at VERY LOW PRICES.

Cloaks and Suits.

LADIES are INVITED to EXAMINE the VERY RICH DISPLAY in OUR CLOAK and SUIT DEPARTMENT, which CONTAINS an ASSORTMENT of OVER

5,000 GARMENTS,

UNSURPASSED in BEAUTY and ELEGANCE, of the LATEST DESIGNS and STYLES, GUARANTEED to FIT WELL, and ALL of SUPERIOR WORKMANSHIP, at the FOLLOWING GREATLY REDUCED and VERY LOW PRICES:
ALL-WOOL BEAVER CLOAKS at $5.
ESQUIMAUX BEAVER CLOAKS at $6 50.
RICHLY-TRIMMED, ALL WOOL FUR BEAVER CLOAKS at $10.
HANDSOME MATELASSE BEAVER CLOAKS at $12.
ALSO CLOAKS from $15, $20, $25 to $75.
CHILDREN'S CLOAKS, in GREAT VARIETY, from $2 50 upward.
RICH SUITS from $8 upward.
SILK SUITS from $35 to $150.

BLACK GOODS.

300 pieces YARD WIDE BLACK CASHMERES at 40c.; worth 55c.
200 pieces YARD WIDE EXTRA FINE BLACK CASHMERES at 55c.; worth 75c.
210 pieces FRENCH CASHMERE at 65c., 75c. and $1 per yard.
11 cases EXTRA FINE ALPACAS FROM AUCTION, at 20c., 25c. and 35c. per yard.

HATS, BONNETS,

TRIMMED in ALL the LEADING STYLES of LADIES', MISSES' and CHILDREN'S HATS, are NOW on EXHIBITION, and ARE OFFERED at

40 PER CENT. LESS
THAN ANY HOUSE IN THE CITY.

FURS, ETC.

GRAND DISPLAY of EVERY DESCRIPTION in FURS and FUR TRIMMINGS, at

25 PER CENT. LESS
THAN MANUFACTURERS' PRICES.

THE LARGEST VARIETY OF HOSIERY, FANCY GOODS, GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS, UNDERWEAR, IN THE CITY.
GREAT BARGAINS IN BALMORAL SKIRTS.

KID GLOVES.

5,000 Pairs KID GLOVES JUST RECEIVED, worth $1.
SELLING AT 50 CENTS PER PAIR.

Housekeeping Dry Goods

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION RETAILED AT WHOLESALE PRICES.
BLANKETS FROM AUCTION at $2 pair, and up.
MARSEILLES QUILTS and COMFORTERS at $1 up.

A Call is Respectfully Solicited.

Doyle & Adolphi,
267 and 269 GRAND ST.,
CORNER FORSYTH ST.

FURS!

LORD & TAYLOR

ARE OFFERING FURS AT VERY ATTRACTIVE PRICES.

A LADY'S SET OF FURS—MUFF AND BOA, FROM $5 UP.

FUR TRIMMINGS

IN BLACK, SILVERED AND NATURAL FURS; WIDTHS 1, 1½, 2, 3 and 4 INCHES. PRICES COMMENCE AT 30c. PER YARD.

WHITE AND TRIMMED FUR SACQUES FOR CHILDREN

IN SIZES TO FIT, FROM ONE YEAR OLD AND UPWARD.

CAP, MUFF AND BOA TO MATCH,

OF FIRST QUALITY FUR, FROM $6 75 THE SET, AND UPWARD.

ALSO

MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S SETS

IN SILVER CONEY, GRAY ASTRACHAN, SIBERIAN SQUIRREL, CHINCHILLA, ERMINE, &c.

LADIES' SEAL SACQUES,

NEW SHAPES, DARK COLORS, FINE QUALITY, AT $75, $85, $95, $100, $110 EACH AND UP.

FUR-LINED SILK GARMENTS.

SQUIRREL LININGS, MADE AND PUT IN SILK GARMENTS, AT REASONABLE RATES.

SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO REPAIRING FURS AND RELINING MUFFS AND SACQUES.

SEAL SACQUES MADE TO ORDER, TO FIT ANY SIZE, AT SHORT NOTICE.

BROADWAY AND 20TH ST.,
Grand and Chrystie Sts., N. Y.

ALADY RECENTLY GONE INTO MOURNING would sell her valuable camel's hair shawl at a great sacrifice. Address Mrs. B., Station D.

MILLINERY.

MME. NATALIE TILMAN.
(Late of 9th and 16th sts., now of No. 1,256 Broadway, between 31st and 32d sts.)
FLOWERS, MODES, ROBES.
N. B.—Bridal wreaths and veils a specialty.

MARIE TILMANN, OF PARIS, (LATE MICHEL'S,) offers a unique and elegant assortment of finest Paris MILLINERY, No. 423 6th av., near 26th st., to-day.

DRY GOODS.

James McCreery & Co.

Broadway and Eleventh Street.

SEALSKIN SACQUES

Muffs, Boas,

Fur-lined Garments, and

Trimming Furs

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Ladies' Dress-making and Furnishing Departments replete with all the latest imported Novelties, as well as a large stock of our own manufacture.

CLOAKS,

DOLMANS,

WRAPS, &c.,

in different styles, of our own designing, entirely new, and to be found nowhere else in the City.

DRESS GOODS

AT

GREAT BARGAINS

JUST

Received from Auction

UPWARD OF

ONE THOUSAND PIECES

OF

French Cashmeres, Merinoes, Damasse, Brocades, Matelasse Cloth, Camel's Hair, Poplins, Alpacas.

Plaids in all the Fashionable Colors Worn this Season,

AT ALL PRICES, FROM 12½ CENTS PER YARD UP TO $1 75 PER YARD.

ALSO,

Black and Colored Silks

AT LESS THAN LAST YEAR'S PRICES.

W. K. PEYTON,

Nos. 272 and 274 Bowery.

SUITS AND CLOAKS.

W. K. PEYTON,

Nos. 272 and 274 Bowery,

JUST BELOW HOUSTON ST.,
HAVE NOW OPEN
ALL THE LATEST

Fall and Winter Styles

IN

LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S SUITS.

LADIES' SILK SUITS, $36, $39, $44, $49.
LADIES' SILK AND CASHMERE SUITS, $14, $16, $18, $20, $22, to $28 each.
LADIES' BASKET CLOTH and DAMASSE SUITS, very fashionable, at $12, $13 50, $15 50, and $17.
POPLIN SUITS, in new CLOTH colors, at $8, $9, $10, $11, $12, $13, $14, and $15.
CLEAP SUITS at $3 50, $4, $5, and $6.

CLOAKS. CLOAKS.

FRENCH BEAVER CLOAKS, EXTRA LONG, RICHLY TRIMMED, at $14, $15, $16, to $20.
EDREON BEAVER CLOTH, fashionable length, neatly trimmed, at $7 75, $9, $10, and $11.
PLAIN BEAVER CLOTH, at $5, $5 50, $6, and $7.

Misses' and Children's Suits and Sacques, all Sizes and Styles.

LADIES' WRAPPERS

In CASHMERES, SATINES, Empress Cloths, Merinoes, RICHLY TRIMMED with quilted Silks and Satins, at greatly reduced prices.

W. K. PEYTON,
Nos. 272 and 274 Bowery.

COUNTRY REAL ESTATE.

FOR SALE—ON DAVENPORT NECK, WESTchester County, a plot of land, ten acres, with a frontage of five hundred (500) feet on Long Island Sound, and in the vicinity of fine country seats; time from New-Rochelle Station on New-Haven Railroad to Wall st., one hour and a quarter; for sale on easy terms. Apply to H. H. CAMMANN, No. 25 Pine st.

ORANGE, N. J.—COUNTRY HOUSES, LANDS and village lots for sale, a great variety. Also, furnished and unfurnished houses to let for season or year, by WALTER E. SMITH, formerly Blackwell & Smith, Orange, corner of Main and Cone sts.

FINE FARM OF 101 ACRES—THREE-QUARters of a mile from depot, $7,500; another of eighty acres, $5,500. J. HENRY JOHNSON, Morristown, N. J.

DRY GOODS.

LORD & TAYLOR

SILKS.

$500,000 WORTH OF COLORED AND BLACK SILKS, AT LAST YEAR'S PRICES. THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST, AND BEST-SELECTED STOCK IN THE CITY.

THE LATEST COLORS AND SHADINGS IN COLORED SILKS FOR EVENING, DINNER, AND STREET WEAR, FROM $1 25 AND $2 00 PER YARD AND UPWARD.

BLACK SILKS OF THE LEADING MAKES—GUINET, BELLON, BONNET, CACHEMIRE ROYALE THE LORD & TAYLOR FAMILY BRAND (SO FAVORABLY RECEIVED HERETOFORE), AND THE CACHEMIRE-DE-GRAND—60 INCHES WIDE—FOR CLOAKS.

GUIVEMAND'S INDESTRUCTIBLE CACHEMIRE-FINISHED BLACK SILK FOR STREET WEAR, AT
$1 50, worth $1 80.
$1 60, worth $2 00.
$1 85, worth $2 25.
$2 00, worth $2 50.

THESE GOODS WILL BE SOLD AT FULLY TWENTY PER CENT. LESS THAN THE SAME QUALITIES CAN NOW BE IMPORTED.

SAMPLES OF GOODS, AND CATALOGUES OF LADIES', MISSES', AND CHILDREN'S FURNISHING GOODS SENT FREE, ON APPLICATION, TO ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTRY. ORDERS FOR GOODS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION CAREFULLY FILLED WITHOUT CHARGE, AND GOODS PACKED AND FORWARDED TO DESTINATION.

BROADWAY AND TWENTIETH STREET.
GRAND CHRYSTIE, AND FORSYTH STS.

1876. 1840.

JONES.

EXTRAORDINARY INDUCEMENTS

IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

Millinery, French Bonnets, Trimmed Hats, Felt Hats, Veils. — Fancy Goods, Ornaments, Trimmings, Ribbons, Laces.

JONES

EIGHTH AVENUE EIGHTH AVENUE
AND
NINETEENTH STREET. NINETEENTH STREET.

JONES

Crapes, Cashmeres, Matelasse, Damasse, Dress Goods. — Gloves, Hosiery, Underwear, Ladies' and Gents' Furnishing Goods.

The benefits of our great advantages in the market we offer daily to our customers, giving them the opportunity of purchasing at marked bargains. In this extensive and popular establishment competent buyers and managers are in control of each department, and our large and varied stock will enable our customers to procure anything required from HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS, In spacious and well-lighted basement; finest stock and at lowest prices ever offered in this City.

1ST FLOOR—DRY GOODS, FANCY GOODS, NOTIONS, &c., At exceedingly low prices.

2D FLOOR—SUITS, SHAWLS, MILLINERY, Choicest fabrics, newest and most stylish designs, LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR, LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S SHOES. Superior goods at 20 per cent. less than usual prices.

3D FLOOR—CARPETS, UPHOLSTERY, MATS, &c. Superb stock at great bargains.

4TH FLOOR—FURNITURE, BEDDING, &c., 25 per cent. less than any house in the trade.

5TH FLOOR—MANUFACTURING DEPARTMENT.

SPECIAL.—Every floor, about 100 feet square, heated with steam, and well lighted; a luxurious elevator conveys patrons to and from any part of building.

Flannels, Blankets, Domestics, &c., 10 to 20 per cent. less than ordinary prices.

ALL ORDERS WILL RECEIVE PROMPT ATTENTION.

JONES, 8TH AV., COR. 19TH ST. JONES.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEAT FOOD.

Its real value, as described by Liebig, Youmans, Johnston, Horsford, and other scientists, will be found, together with other matter equally interesting and important to good health, &c., in a pamphlet published and sent free by F. E. SMITH & CO., Atlantic Flour Mills, Brooklyn, N. Y. (Manufacturers of the Crushed White Wheat.) Write for it.

PERFECTION!
BOKER'S BITTERS.
No. 78 John st., New-York. Post Office Box No. 1,029.
L. FUNKE, Jr., SOLE AGENT.

FOR ALL WHO USE STEAM, ECONOMY, SAFETY, AND COMFORT. Saving of 30 per cent. by using Non-Conducting HAIR AND WOOL FELTS, For covering Steam Boilers, Steam and Water Pipes, to prevent Radiation of Heat, Condensation of Steam, and Loss of Fuel. THOMAS WILLIAMS, No. 337 Broome st., corner Bowery, New-York.

CHRISTMAS NOVELTIES—LITERARY GEMS, full-size patterns, music, chromos, and other rare attractions in the December number of DEMOREST'S MONTHLY MAGAZINE, now ready; 25 cents; sold everywhere; mailed free on receipt of price. Address W. JENNINGS DEMOREST, 17 East 14th st., New-York.

WE ARE SELLING OUR ENTIRE STOCK of wood moldings and trimmings for buildings at prices twenty-five per cent. lower than the lowest market price, for cash, to close business. W. W. CONOVER, No. 214 East 26th st. J. A. HANA, Agent.

EPPS' COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING; each packet is labelled, JAMES EPPS & CO., Homeopathic Chemists, No. 48 Threadneedle st. and No. 170 Piccadilly, London, England. New-York Depot, SMITH & VANDERBEEK, Park place.

A BURIAL PLOT FOR SALE CONSISTING of over 3,100 square feet, located in Woodlawn Cemetery, near Farragut Monument. Apply to A. TURNER, No. 22 Nassau st.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

$10,000.—WILL PUT THIS AMOUNT into a safe, sound business, or will loan any part on good security, and accept situation at a fair salary; will make my services valuable; fully competent for office work. Address, strictest confidence, MERCHANT, Box No. 112 Times Office.

GENERAL OR SPECIAL PARTNER wanted in a profitable business; capital required $5,000 to $10,000. Address GOOD BUSINESS, Box No. 141 Times Office.

ELECTED OR DEFEATED.—GO SOUTH, young man! Go to Florida! the land of promise and of plenty as shown in FLORIDA NEW-YORKER, with maps and views, ten cents. No. 34 Park row.

WANTED—AN ENTERPRISING MAN, WITH CAPital, to introduce in this or other countries a valuable and useful patent; appoint time and place for interview. Address Post Office Box No. 641, New-York.

DRY GOODS.

SPECIAL

ANNOUNCEMENT.

KID GLOVES.

A. T. Stewart & Co.

WILL OPEN on MONDAY, Nov. 13, a FULL LINE of NEW and DESIRABLE COLORS in THEIR CELEBRATED

Alexandre Gloves,

AT THE

Lowest Prices

FOR MANY YEARS PAST, COMMENCING with the

Two Buttons, $1 80 per pair,

A REDUCTION WITHIN THE PAST SIX MONTHS from $2 25.

Three Buttons, $2 10 per pair,

A REDUCTION, SAME PERIOD, from $2 65.

Other Styles Reduced

IN PROPORTION. ALL the DESIRABLE SIZES and COLORS SUITABLE for FALL, WINTER, and EVENING WEAR for LADIES, MISSES, and CHILDREN, MEN and BOYS; TOGETHER PRESENTING SUCH AN OPPORTUNITY for OBTAINING SUPPLIES of THIS UNEQUALLY

Celebrated Glove

NEVER BEFORE OFFERED.

Broadway, 4th av., 9th & 10th sts.

Trouserings

and Suitings

AT RETAIL

FOR MEN AND BOYS.

Woolen Fabrics

IN ENDLESS VARIETY for LADIES, MISSES and CHILDREN, for CLOAKS, POLONAISE, JACKETS, WRAPS, SKIRTS, SHAWLS, &c., &c., OFFERING the

Choicest Productions

FOR the PRESENT SEASON of the MOST

Celebrated Looms

OF EUROPE and the UNITED STATES.

West of England Broadcloths and Suitings,

IN EVERY STYLE.

Cut in Lengths to Suit.

A. T. Stewart & Co.,

Broadway, 4th av., 9th & 10th sts.

A CARD.

Great Bargains in French Cashmeres, Merinoes, Serge Imperial, Camel's Hair, Drap D'Alma, Drap D'Ete, Bombazines, Henriettas, Armure, Empress Cloths, Biarritz, Brilliantines, Eugenie Crapes, Serges, &c. Black Silks at last season's prices. Armure and Radzmere Silks, splendid goods, and worthy of special attention. Gray Suitings in great variety, Water-proofs, &c. Courtauld's Crapes in all widths. Silks and Velvets cut bias. Suits, Cloaks, and Bonnets ready-made at reasonable prices. Orders promptly executed.

JACKSON'S MOURNING STORE,
777 BROADWAY, OPPOSITE STEWART'S.

MILLER & GRANT,

NO. 879 BROADWAY,
Will offer during the week a new lot of

Hand-Made Worsted Fringes,

IN ALL DESIRABLE COLORS, at 50c. PER YD. AND UP. ALSO A CHOICE ASSORTMENT OF PASSEMENTERIE FRINGES, DROP GIMPS, BUTTONS, &c.

MME. DEMOREST'S GRAND OPENING of the Winter styles in Polonaises, Basques, Cloaks, Overskirts, &c., MONDAY, Nov. 13, No. 5 Rue de Tracy, Paris; No. 89 Queen Victoria st., London, E. C., and No. 17 East 14th st., New-York, and all the agencies. Centennial Exposition awarded to Mme. DEMOREST two prize medals, and the only award over all competitors for patterns of the fashions.

ICE-CREAM.

HORTON'S ICE-CREAM.
Made from PURE ORANGE COUNTY CREAM, appreciated for its purity, richness, and certainty of being delivered in good order.
Charlotte Russe and Jelly, delicious and cheap.
Nos. 305 4th av., 1,284 Broadway, and 75 Chatham st.

FUSSELL'S ICE-CREAM.—CHURCHES AND fairs, 25 cents per quart. Charlotte Russe by the dozen or quart. Special attention to out-of-town orders.

MARBLE MANTELS.

GRATES AND FENDERS.
The largest assortment of Grates and Fenders ever offered in this market, finished in every style. Low and Half Low Down Grates, with dumping attachment, a specialty. A large variety of Gas Logs, fancy nickel-plated Andirons, Fire Irons, Coal Vases, Folding Screens, &c. Liberal discount to the trade. Old grates altered to low or half low down. CONOVER, WOOLLEY & CO., No. 368 Canal st., New-York.

MARBLE and MARBLEIZED MANTELS at greatly reduced prices; also, monuments, head-stones, plumbers' and furniture slabs, marble counters, and tiling. A. KLABER, 134 & 136 East 18th st., near 3d av.

DRY GOODS.

Johnson Bros. & Co.,

UNION SQUARE.

We have very large stocks in all our departments and we are determined to reduce them regardless of price. We request our customers and the public to give us an early call, as they will find it to their advantage to examine our goods before purchasing elsewhere.

ELEGANTLY-TRIMMED BONNETS IN FRENCH FELT AND VELVET,

REDUCED FROM..........$28 00 TO $20 00
REDUCED FROM..........$22 00 TO $16 50
REDUCED FROM..........$16 50 TO $12 50
REDUCED FROM..........$12 50 TO $9 50

TRIMMED ROUND HATS,

IN VELVET,

REDUCED FROM..........$18 50 TO $15 00
REDUCED FROM..........$15 00 TO $12 00
REDUCED FROM..........$12 00 TO $9 50
REDUCED FROM..........$10 00 TO $7 50

Handsomely-trimmed FELT HATS in all the leading shapes and NEW TINTS, varying in prices from $6 50 to $12.
MOURNING BONNETS in CRAPE and SILK, in new and elegant designs, on hand and to order.

FRENCH FELT HATS.

500 dozen of the very finest FRENCH FELT HATS just opened, in all the leading shapes and styles, at $1 75 each.
1,000 dozen of DOMESTIC FELTS, very fine goods, in all new shapes and shades, at 75 cents each.

BLACK SILK VELVET HATS.

A large assortment of our own manufacture, in all the most desirable shapes.
CHILDREN'S FELT HATS and BOYS' SAILOR HATS at greatly reduced prices.

FRENCH FLOWERS AND FEATHERS.
SASH AND TRIMMING RIBBONS.
BLACK AND COLORED SILK VELVETS.
DRESS TRIMMINGS.

PRICE LIST OF
BLACK FRENCH GUIPURE LACES.

90c. PER YARD, REDUCED TO 50c.
$1 25 PER YARD, REDUCED TO 75c.
$1 50 PER YARD, REDUCED TO $1 00
$1 75 PER YARD, REDUCED TO $1 25
$2 00 PER YARD, REDUCED TO $1 50
$3 00 PER YARD, REDUCED TO $2 00
$5 00 PER YARD, REDUCED TO $3 50
$7 50 PER YARD, REDUCED TO $3 50
$10 PER YARD, REDUCED TO $6 50

Real BLACK THREAD LACES reduced in proportion.
POINT and APPLIQUE and THREAD LACE BARBS,
REDUCED FROM..........$2 00 TO $1 00
REDUCED FROM..........$5 00 TO $2 50
REDUCED FROM..........$7 50 TO $4 00
REDUCED FROM..........$9 00 TO $5 50

NOW IS THE TIME TO PURCHASE A REAL LACE HANDKERCHIEF.
Point Handkerchiefs reduced from $18 to $10.
Applique Handkerchiefs reduced from..........$15 to $8
Valenciennes Handkerchiefs reduced from..........$10 to $5
The greatest variety of SILK POCKET HANDKERCHIEFS in the City, at lowest prices.
1,000 dozen SILK HANDKERCHIEFS at 25c., 35c., and 50c. each, and upward.
Ladies' INITIAL HANDKERCHIEFS, all linen, 38c. each.
Gents' all linen, extra size, INITIAL, 38c. each.
Just received, 500 dozen Ladies' Hemstitched Linen Cambric Handkerchiefs, which will be sold at 25c. each.
Fine EMBROIDERED EDGINGS, three inches deep in work, 20c., 22c., and 25c. per yard, worth 38c. and 50c.

A LARGE STOCK OF WINTER

HOSIERY.

Ladies' and gentlemen's MERINO and ALL-WOOL underwear, including Cartwright & Warner's and all the celebrated brands, at an immense reduction.
Courvoisier's KID GLOVES in all new and desirable shades, at prices lower than at any other house.

Fancy Goods.

FANS, HAIR-BRUSHES, DRESSING-COMBS, BACK COMBS, ORNAMENTS FOR THE HAIR IN GILT, STEEL, AND SHELL; BLUE STEEL SETS, EAR-RINGS, PENDANTS, and new styles in IVORY SETS, BELTS, SATCHELS, PORTMONNAIES, and PURSES, &c., &c.

Johnson Bros. & Co.,
NOS. 34 AND 36 EAST 14TH ST.,
UNION SQUARE.

A MAN
OF A THOUSAND.

HAVING DISCOVERED IN A MANNER WHICH MIGHT BE CONSIDERED ALMOST PROVIDENTIAL, A POSITIVE CURE FOR CONSUMPTION AND ALL LUNG COMPLAINTS, I FEEL IT MY DUTY TO MAKE IT KNOWN IN A PRACTICAL MANNER, BY FURNISHING A SAMPLE BOTTLE, FREE OF CHARGE, TO ALL SUFFERERS, MY ONLY HOPE OF REMUNERATION BEING THAT THE MEDICINE WILL PERFORM ALL I CLAIM FOR IT. THE INGREDIENTS ARE OF THE CHOICEST HERBAL PRODUCTS, AND PERFECTLY SAFE. SENT BY EXPRESS. ADDRESS AT ONCE, DR. O. PHELPS BROWN, NO. 21 GRAND ST., JERSEY CITY, N. J., OR MAY BE HAD OF ALL DRUGGISTS.

GREAT REDUCTION IN GOOD BOOTS AND SHOES.

BROOKS'

LADIES', GENTS', MISSES', and CHILDREN'S BOOTS AND SHOES. THE LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF THE BEST FINE WORK AT LOWER PRICES THAN ANY OTHER HOUSE IN THE CITY. ORDERED WORK A SPECIALTY. HANDSOME AND EASY FITS GUARANTEED.

A LARGE ASSORTMENT OF;
Ladies' Fine Walking Button Boots, $3 and $4, worth $5.
Misses' and Children's Button Boots, $2 and $2 50, worth $3.
Boys' fine Calf Double Sole Button and Congress Boots cheap.
Brooks' Patent Cork Sole Boots and Shoes, recommended by all physicians. Awarded the highest premium at the great Centennial Exhibition.

1,196 BROADWAY, COR. 29TH ST.

KILTS,

THE MOST FASHIONABLE STYLE FOR BOYS THIS SEASON, AT

$4 50, FORMER PRICE..........$6 25
5 75, FORMER PRICE.......... 7 50
6 00, FORMER PRICE.......... 8 00

THE SEMI-ULSTER.

FULL SKIRT, TO BE WORN WITH KILTS, AT
$5, FORMER PRICE..........$6 75
6, FORMER PRICE.......... 8 00
7, FORMER PRICE.......... 9 25
SCHOOL SUITS AT $5, $6, and $7, former price $6 50, $7 75, and $9.
DRESS SUITS AT $10, $12, and $14.
DOUBLE-BREASTED SACK OVERCOATS AT $6 to $9.
ULSTER OVERCOATS, $5 to $8.
BOYS' SAILOR AND SCOTCH CAPS, $2 each.
CLOTH AND FELT HATS, $1 and upward.

LORD & TAYLOR,

BROADWAY AND TWENTIETH STREET.
GRAND, CHRYSTIE, AND NOS. 83 AND 85 FORSYTH ST., NEW-YORK.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

HINTS ABOUT MARKET PRODUCE.

Game, and generally of excellent quality, is plentiful in the markets. People with moderate means can regale themselves with quail on toast, as that sometimes high-priced bird is now selling cheaply. Grouse, partridges, venison, hares, and wild ducks are also selling at reasonable rates. Venison is cheaper than choice beef steaks. The most economic people can indulge in rabbit-stew, for that variety of game has seldom been so abundant and low priced. With the approach of the Thanksgiving festival, poultry is becoming every day more popular. People who want good fat turkeys on that occasion must expect to pay high prices for them a little later on. Those who have places to keep them should buy live turkeys now, and fatten them. No turkey bought at random and in a hurry the day before the Thanksgiving holiday can possibly afford as much satisfaction as the one carefully nurtured for weeks, whose growing weight has been observed with pleasure by the family. Those people who are not entirely overcome by turkey, however, can find room for fruit. Now that Winter is near at hand, apples are beginning to take the place of all other varieties. They are plentiful and cheap. Newtown pippins, Baldwins, and Spitzenbergs are the best kinds for eating, but Greenings are good either to eat or to cook, and therefore the best for general family uses. Bananas, and oranges from Florida are just now in good supply, and can be bought at reasonable rates. Catawba and Malaga grapes are scarce, and prices will soon be much higher. Cranberries and quinces and citron, for preserving, are low priced. Honey is growing in favor, and is very plentiful. If growers charge more for it than they did last year, they must make good profits. Such solid edibles as meats, butter and cheese are unchanged in price. Eggs are higher priced. Striped bass is a good thing in the way of fish at the present time, and it is not an expensive dish.

ANSWERS.

ENGLISH PLUM PUDDING.—One-half pound flour, one-half pound sugar, one-half pound suet, well chopped; one-half pound currants, one-half pound raisins, one-fourth pound citron; six eggs, well beaten; one gill of brandy; one carrot, grated fine. Mix thoroughly, and boil three hours.—M. H. R.

ENGLISH PLUM PUDDING.—II.—One pound beef suet, finely chopped, and two pounds flour, sifted; mix them thoroughly with a saltspoonful of salt; add one-eight ounce ground cloves and one-quarter ounce each of ground cinnamon, nutmeg, and allspice; two pounds brown sugar, two pounds currants, washed and picked; two pounds of raisins, carefully seeded, one-quarter pound candied citron peel, two ounces each of candied orange and lemon peel; slice the candied peels quite thin, and mix thoroughly as you add each ingredient. Beat well six large eggs and a pint of milk, and stir in; this should thoroughly wet the mixture. Tie in a strong cloth, and boil unceasingly for six hours. I put the pudding on to boil over night, eight or nine hours' boiling being an improvement, as is also the addition of a wine-glass of good brandy, to some tastes.—MRS. B.

ENGLISH PLUM PUDDING, III.—One pound of currants, one pound of raisins, half pound of suet, teaspoon of salt, one pound of bread-crumbs, half pound of citron, eight eggs, half pint of milk, one quart of wine or brandy, one coffee cup of sugar; mace or nutmeg to taste; boil or steam seven hours. Half of the quantity makes a good-sized pudding.—MRS. H. C. F.

PLUM-PUDDING.—One pound of raisins, one of currants, one pound of beef suet chopped very fine, one pound of grated stale bread or flour, eight eggs, one pound of sugar, a glass of brandy, and one of wine, a pint of milk, two nutmegs, a tablespoonful of mixed spice, cinnamon and mace, a salt spoonful of salt; boil six hours. To mix the pudding, beat the eggs very light, then put to them half the milk, and stir both together; stir in the grated bread or flour, next add the sugar, then the suet and fruit by turns, stir very hard, then add the spice and liquor, then the remainder of milk; stir all very well.—A. E. R.

PLUM PUDDING—II.—Raisins 2½ pounds, currants, 2¼ pounds, citron 1 pound, blanched almonds 1 pound, suet 1 pound, flour 1 pound, brandy 2 glasses, wine 3 glasses, rose-water 1 glass, grated rind of 3 lemons, juice of 1, cinnamon, allspice, cloves—each 1 spoonful, nutmegs 2, mace ½ tablespoonful, milk 1 pint, eggs 12; boil in a bag for five "mortal" hours; eaten with hard sauce and wine.—N. W.

INDIAN PUDDING.—One quart of milk with half a pint of Indian meal stirred into the milk when it is boiling hot, one tablespoonful of ginger, one teacup of molasses, a little salt.—M.

SUET PUDDING.—One cup of finely-chopped suet, one tea-cup of molasses, one cup of sweet milk, three cups of sifted flour, one-half pound of currants, one half-pond of raisins, one teaspoonful of baking-powder dissolved in milk, tablespoonful of cinnamon, teaspoonful of mace. Boil and mix steadily for three hours.—MRS. B. S. W.

WASHINGTON PIE.—Two cups of sugar, one-half cup of butter, three cups of sifted flour, four eggs, one-half teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful of cream tartar. For the filling: One tablespoonful of corn-starch boiled in one-half pint of milk; beat the yolk of one egg very light, and stir into the milk, flavor with vanilla, and when cold add the other half of the milk and the white of the egg beaten to a stiff froth and stirred in quickly; spread this between the cakes and ice it with the white of one egg and eight tablespoonfuls of fine sifted sugar flavored with lemon.—MRS. S. W. B.

WEDDING CAKE.—One pound of butter, one pound of sugar, one pound flour, twelve eggs, two large nutmegs, one teaspoonful ground mace, one teaspoonful cloves, one teaspoonful cinnamon, one half teaspoonful allspice, and one half-teaspoonful ginger; grated yellow rind of a lemon and the juice of it, grated yellow rind of an orange and the juice of it, one wine-glass brandy, four pounds raisins, four pounds currants, two pounds citron. Half a pound of sweet and half a pound of bitter almonds, blanched, and beaten in a mortar to a paste, may be added if desired. In pounding the almonds you must pound only two or three at a time, and use rosewater to moisten them and assist in forming them into a paste; put in a few drops at a time. Be very sure to sift some flour over all your fruits after they are prepared and ready to mix in the cake. I use prepared flour, and always sift it before I weigh it. I use the best and largest raisins, as they are much the richest. You can substitute rosewater for brandy. This is a very rich and handsome cake. It takes eight hours to bake in a moderate oven, if baked in a large loaf.—AUNT ADDIE.

WEDDING CAKE, II.—One pound flour, one pound sugar, one pound butter, twelve eggs, eight pounds raisins, stoned, two pounds currants, one and three-fourths pounds citron, two tablespoonfuls (mixed) mace and cinnamon, one nutmeg, one and a half wine-glasses brandy.—JOSEPHINE L.

APPLE DUMPLINGS.—For boiled dumplings, I make a paste of a pound of beef suet, chopped as fine as possible, to two pounds of sifted flour; two teaspoonfuls of salt, and wetted with as little ice-cold water as possible. For baked dumplings the paste should be made of flour, two pounds, one teaspoonful of salt, one-half pound lard, wetted with very little ice-water; then rolled out in a rather thin sheet, and spread over with one-half pound butter; then rolled up and pieces cut off for each dumpling. You should have tender, juicy apples; pare them, take the core out with an apple-corer, and fill the cavity with granulated sugar, small bits of lemon, and lemon juice squeezed into it; or you may fill them instead with raspberry jam, or any sort of marmalade you prefer; or you can put the apples in plain. Roll out the paste of moderate thickness, and take two circular pieces for each dumpling, wetting the edges with water, using a paste brush, and pinching the edges together with thumb and finger. Boil each dumpling separately tied in a coarse cloth, previously dipped in boiling water. Tie them very tightly, leaving only a small space for them to swell. Have ready a pot of boiling water; boil steadily for one hour. Serve as soon as taken up.—AUNT ADDIE.

SOFT CUSTARD.—To a quart of milk add four or six eggs, two large spoonfuls of sugar, a little salt, beat the eggs and sugar together; when the milk boils pour in the eggs and sugar, stirring all the time; flavor with grated lemon or vanilla.—M.

CHICKEN SALAD.—The chicken should be boiled. To one pair of chickens put two large heads of celery. It is best to prepare the dressing just before the salad is to be eaten. Take the yolks of eight hard-boiled eggs and mash them to a paste; add a small teaspoonful of salt; the same of cayenne pepper; half a gill of made mustard; a small wine-glass and a half of vinegar, and rather more than two wineglasses of sweet oil. Mix all these ingredients until they are quite smooth, then pour it over the chicken.—M.

CHICKEN SALAD.—II.—The fowls should be young and fine, and may be either boiled or roasted. (I prefer boiled.) They must be quite cold. Disjoint the fowls, and reject all the skin and fat; cut the meat from the bones in small pieces about half an inch square; wash and thread white celery, and cut up in the same-sized pieces as the fowl. You need to use nearly as much celery as meat. Cut also in small pieces a little lettuce, and mix the three well together. You can make the dressing by taking the yolks of eight hard-boiled eggs, one teaspoonful fine salt, the same of cayenne, two tablespoons of made French mustard, a gill of vinegar or lemon juice, and ten tablespoonfuls of sweet oil. Mix these ingredients thoroughly together with a wooden spoon, until they are quite smooth. The dressing should not be put on until just before sending to table, as it wilts the celery and lettuce and toughens the meat. Pile the salad smoothly in a salad dish, and cover with a mayonnaise sauce; spread on with a knife; garnish with hard-boiled eggs, each cut in eight pieces, and laid on the edge of the salad. Put in the centre the heart of young lettuce or some tender leaves of celery, adding according to your taste stoned olives, boiled red beets cut in fancy shapes, or very thin slices of lemon; keep in a very cold place until the moment you wish to use it.—AUNT ADDIE.

CORN BREAD.—Take of sifted corn-meal two pints and of sifted wheat flour one pint; add two teaspoonful of salt and two of any good baking-powder; one tablespoonful of lard or good beef dripping; one teaspoonful of sugar or molasses, and two eggs beaten very light; put some milk into the eggs before adding them to the flour; mix about as stiff as molasses cake.—AUNT ADDIE.

CORN BREAD, II.—One pint Indian meal, one cup flour, three eggs, tablespoon butter, two teaspoons cream tartar, one teaspoon soda last thing; scalded milk to make a batter thick as pound cake.—M.

PUMPKIN BUTTER.—Take out the seeds of one pumpkin, cut it in small pieces and boil it soft. Take three other pumpkins, cut them in small pieces, and boil them soft; put them in a coarse bag, and press out the juice; add the juice to the first pumpkin, and let it boil ten hours or more; stir often. If the pumpkins are frozen the juice will come out much better. It will keep best in a wooden box or keg.

PUMPKIN BUTTER, II.—Take out the seeds of one pumpkin, cut it in small pieces, and boil it soft; take three other pumpkins, cut them in pieces, and boil them soft, put them in a coarse bag and press out the juice; add the juice to the first pumpkin, and let it boil ten hours or more, to become of the thickness of butter; stir often. It the pumpkins are frozen, the juice will come out much easier.—M.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS.—One quarter of a cake of chocolate (Baker's,) one cup of white sugar, three-quarters of a cup of molasses, one cup of milk, piece of butter size of an egg; flour, with vanilla or lemon.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS—II.—Two cups brown sugar, half cup milk, one cup molasses, lump of butter size of egg, chocolate grated to suit the taste; boil three-quarters of an hour, then add one teaspoonful of vanilla.—N. W.

CHOCOLATE CARAMELS, III—Philadelphia receipt.—One-half pound Baker's chocolate, one cup molasses, two cups brown sugar, one cup milk, butter the size of an egg; boil all together twenty-five minutes; pour in buttered pans; when half cold cut small squares with a knife.—AUNT ADDIE.

PICKLED OYSTERS.—After taking out the oysters, to each quart of liquor put a teaspoonful of pepper, two blades of mace, five teaspoonfuls of vinegar, a tablespoonful of salt; simmer the oysters in this five minutes, then take them out; boil the pickle and pour it over them.—M.

TO PAN OYSTERS.—Put a good-sized piece of butter, and salt and pepper in a pan, let all melt together, then put your oysters in and let them get thoroughly done.—KETTIE.

CARE OF PLANTS.—I.—If "Gertrude" could get a little stable-manure, it would be far better than the black muck for her plants. The muck is better for bulbs, mixed with silver sand. Manure formed of grain food is the best, and your grocer would supply you from his stable-yard. If he would give you the earth from under the edges of the manure heap, it would be better than the manure itself, as that must be rotted, and the process takes time. In using either muck or manure, be sure to scald it with boiling water. Ammonia, mixed in proper quantities, is very good, but must be carefully used—not oftener than once a week; and, besides, you must watch the plants, and as soon as you see they are beginning to start, stop the ammonia. I prefer the guano I get from the florists.—AUNT ADDIE.

CARE OF PLANTS.—II.—The best way to apply ammonia to plants is to take a teaspoonful of Peruvian guano and put in a gallon of water. Water the plants with this once a day. When you have used the guano and water, give the plants a rest for a month, and if by that time they have not improved in growth and given to the plants a deep green color, give them a second gallon. Generally amateurs are too apt to overdo the matter in applying concentrated fertilizers. Plants, like people, are better when fed moderately; over-feeding will make both sick and weak. It will greatly improve your earth to mingle some muck with it. A better way would be to get some well rotted soil, old horse-manure and builder's sand, mix well, and with this mixture all soft-wooded plants will thrive well.—SEED AND BULB GROWER.

CARE OF PLANTS.—III.—If "H. I. V." will loosen the soil about the edges of her geranium pots, not disturbing the roots, and water once or twice with a weak solution of ammonia or guano, placing the plants where they will have strong light—sunlight, if possible—I think she will have rich dark green leaves, instead of yellow.—AUNT ADDIE.

YELLOW GERANIUM LEAVES.—The most probable reason for "H. J. V.'s" rose geranium leaves growing yellow is that the plant needs repotting and fresh soil.—W. S. A.

TO RESTORE RUSTY LACE.—If "Millie" will dip her lace in coffee, cold or warm, squeeze it out tight, and place it between very thin brown paper laid on an ironing blanket, (not sheet,) and iron with a medium hot iron, I think, if her lace is not too rusty, it will come out like new. Some persons use lager-beer instead of coffee.—AUNT ADDIE.

INK STAINS.—"Lunch Carrier" can remove ink stains by soaking the stained parts in diluted carbolic acid (about one drachm of acid to one pint of water) for two or three days, and then wash out.—G. N.

SQUEAKING SHOES.—Have your shoemaker place a sheet of India-rubber (thick or thin, makes no difference,) between the outside and inside sole of the boot or shoe.—PRACTICE.

TO BANISH ROACHES.—Bureau-drawers and trunks may be cleared of these pests by sprinkling powdered borax in them.—MRS. H. C. F.

RECEIPTS.

CARROT SALAD.—Wash and scrape tender, rich-colored carrots, throw them into fast-boiling water, and boil soft. Cut them into very thin slices, put them into a glass salad bowl, and sprinkle with sifted loaf sugar, add the juice of a large lemon, and a wine-glassful of olive oil, garnish the dish with very thin slices of onion, and any kind of green salad leaves.

QUINCE PIE.—Pare, slice and stew six quinces till soft, press them through a sieve, add one pint of milk and three well-beaten eggs, sweeten to taste, bake in a bottom crust, three-quarters of an hour, in a moderate oven.

LEMON PUDDING.—Pare three lemons and take out the pips; put them in a basin with half a pound of sugar, and mix well; roll a long strip of paste; lay the mixture on with a spoon; roll and boil the same as rolly-polly pudding. Oranges may be used with the addition of half a lemon. Cranberries or stewed fruits of any kind, either fresh or dried, may be used the same way.

TEA COPEC.—Two cups of well-sifted flour, one cup of sweet milk, one egg broken in the latter and well mixed, one tablespoonful of melted butter, one teaspoonful of soda dissolved with the same amount of cream tartar in hot water. Bake these in muffin-rings twenty minutes in a very hot oven.—MRS. S. W. B.

TAPIOCA CREAM.—Soak two tablespoonfuls of tapioca for one hour, boil a quart of milk and pour it over the tapioca, add the yolks of three eggs well beaten and a cup of fine white sugar; let this mixture boil up once, flavor with vanilla, and when perfectly cold beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth and stir them in.—MRS. B. S. W.

CHOCOLATE PUDDING.—One quart milk; fourteen even tablespoonfuls of grated bread-crumbs; twelve tablespoonfuls grated chocolate; six eggs; one tablespoonful of vanilla; sugar to make very sweet. Separate the yolks and whites of four eggs; beat up the four yolks and two whole eggs together very light, with the sugar. Put the milk on the range, and when it comes to a perfect boil pour it over the bread and chocolate; add the beaten eggs and sugar and vanilla; taste it to be sure it is sweet enough; pour into a buttered dish; bake one hour in a moderate oven. When cold, and just before it is served, have the four whites beaten with a little powdered sugar, and flavored with vanilla, and use as a meringue.—AUNT ADDIE.

QUESTIONS.

Will some one give me the correct recipe for beef catinoodles in French style?—BELLE.

Will some one please give me a recipe for rich waffles?—JOSEPHINE L.

Can you give me a receipt for making molasses pound-cake.—A HOUSEKEEPER.

I should like a recipe for making cocoanut cake.—H. E. T.

I should be glad to know how to make Indian-meal cake and cookies.—FRANCIS.

Please give my wife a receipt to make syrup out of sugar.—"VAN."

Please give a recipe for keeping eggs for the Winter.—T. A. W.

Will some one inform me how to regild bird cages that have grown black with washing with soap and water; also, how to recook roast beef so that it will not be tough and indigestible.

Please give a recipe for common brown washing soap.—J. R.

Will some one tell me how to clean and restore to their original whiteness the pretty straw table mats made at the Sailors' Snug Harbor?—ELEANOR.

BAY FINAL'S ENGLISH VICTORY.

From the London Times.

On Thursday the Dullingham Handicap, run on the Cesarewitch course, was won after a dead heat by Mr. Sandford's Bay Final, by Lexington out of Bay Leaf, from a fair field, but although everyone was pleased at the success of the American stable, who have been most unfortunate this year, the performance was by no means a meritorious one. The English three-year-old colt, Broadside, carrying 7 stone, was made favorite, the French La Coureuse, 5 years, 9 stone, being next in demand, while among the outsiders in a field of nine runners, the American four-year old Bay Final, handicapped at 6 stone 8 pound, was supported for a small stake at ten to one. At the Bushes Hill the weight told on La Coureuse, who was not persevered with, and Bay Final and Broadside were left to fight the struggle out. Rising the ascent to the finish Bay Final appeared about to win in a canter, but he hung so much that the English colt on the opposite side of the course got up in the last stride and made a dead-heat of it. In the deciding race the English three-year-old was made favorite, though meeting Bay Final at a disadvantage of nineteen pounds compared with the weight-for-age scale, under which at this season of the year a four-year-old should allow a three-year-old thirteen pounds, but, tiring under this impost after a second time completing the long two-mile course, he was cleverly beaten by the American by half a length. According to this running, it may be inferred that, as Broadside was about ninth or tenth in the Cesarewitch, Rosebery, who gave him nearly a stone in weight and a two-stone beating besides, is from three to four stone better than Bay Final, of the same age. Springfield, too, won the free handicap for three-year olds over the one and a quarter miles across the Flat, hard held, from Gavarni and two other opponents, though his staying powers were doubted, owing to his never having run a mile previously. He is certainly a magnificent horse to look at, being full of quality and of good size, without being big and lumbering.

MILITARY GOSSIP.

A meeting of the Board of Officers of the Twelfth Regiment will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 14, at 8 P. M. Company K, Capt. Edward Fackner commanding, has enlisted seven members during the past month, and has a prospect of further increasing its muster-roll at an early date.

The officers of the First Brigade Staff will assemble for instruction and drill, in undress uniform, at the State Arsenal, as follows: Tuesdays, Nov. 21 and 28, Dec. 12 and 19, at 8 P. M. Gen. Ward and Col. John T. Denny will act as instructors. Sir Garnet Walseley's Manual will receive a large share of attention on these occasions.

The Separate Troop Cavalry, Major Karl Klien commanding, will not commence the season of mounted drill until after New-Year's, owing to the excessive amount of parading already done during the season. By that time the riding-school will probably be placed at its disposal for an armory, and the accommodations provided there will effect a healthy improvement in the discipline of the troop.

Col. William E. Van Wyck, Assistant Adjutant General of the Second Brigade, has forwarded the quarterly returns of the several regiments in that brigade to Albany, for the three months terminating with Oct. 30, as follows: Ninth Regiment, 897 men enrolled, showing a net gain of 41 men since last returns; Eleventh Regiment, 585 men, a loss of 84 men since last return, and Seventy-first Regiment, 614 men, a loss of 7 since last quarter.

The fifth contest for marksmen's badges took place at Conlins Gallery, last Tuesday evening. The winning scores were as follows: Charles A. Cheever, 48; H. D. Blydenburgh, 44; T. C. Banks, 44; M. P. Lennon, 44; L. V. Sone, 43; J. B. Blydenburgh, 41; Leon Backer, 40; C. E. De Forrest, 40. At the same time matches were conducted on the side ranges, at 60 feet range, lying down. Mr. De Forest made 49 out of a possible 50 points. Mr. L. V. Sone made 48 out of 50, at 75 feet, off hand, target reduced on scale of 200 yards.

At First Division Head-quarters the return of election has been received of First Lieut. Fred. Hoecker, of Company H, Fifth Regiment. Resignations have been accepted of Capt. Edward A. Davis, Inspector of Rifle Practice; Capt. Charles Moehring, First Lieut. F. C. Beyers, First Lieut. Charles Goldziers, Commissary of Subsistence, and Capt. Joseph Hartung, Chaplain Eleventh Regiment; Surgeon C. W. Thompson, Q. M. Ralph, W. Beoth, Jr., First Lieut. Joseph J. Springer, Ninth Regiment. Stephen W. Roof has been appointed Surgeon, and Edgar F. Wait, Quartermaster, Ninth Regiment.

The final programme of the National Rifle Association for the current year has just been issued, and includes the following events: Thursday, Nov. 30, Thanksgiving Day, at 2 P. M., Washington Grey Cavalry Club, third annual troop match; distances, 100, 200, and 300 yards. Saturday, 18th, fifth competition for the Schuyler, Hartley, and Graham trophy at 3 P.; M. distance, 200 yards, position standing, any rifle; competitors to fire as many shots as possible in half a minute. At 3:30 P. M., on the same day, the Winchester "running deer" match will be contested, and on the same day the "Diamond" badge will be shot for by the members of the Seventh Regiment Rifle Club, at 200 and 500 yards' distance. Nov. 25, marksman's badge; open to all comers, distances 200 and 500 yards.

Col. Vose, commanding the Seventy-first Regiment, will take charge of the drills of the commissioned officers during the coming season, and Lieut. Col. Chaddock will exercise similar care over the non-commissioned officers' drills. The contract between Prof. Eben and the regiment has been signed, and a new band will be organized at once, which will probably be more satisfactory than the previous one. The band will consist of forty men, twenty of whom are bound to play on all occasions, thus securing better harmony than could be obtained by changing the entire membership every time the regiment parades. The tickets for the first band concert have been issued to the companies, and it is hoped that the entertainment will be a financial success, and warrant the managers in giving a series. The event will occur on Thanksgiving eve, Wednesday, the 29th inst.

The Twenty-second Regiment, Col. Josiah Porter commanding, will assemble at its armory, in fatigue uniforms, with overcoats, on Friday, the 24th inst., at 8 P. M., for drill and inspection. Sergt. Thomas D. Croffat, of Company H, has been reduced to the ranks for insubordinate and unsoldierly conduct. Robert Ogden Glover has been elected Second Lieutenant of Company H, vice Carmichael, resigned. Major W. J. A. McGrath has tendered his resignation, after fifteen years' active service in this command. Major McGrath enlisted in Company C of this regiment on Sept. 17, 1861, was promoted Second Lieutenant on Nov. 1 of the same year, and Adjutant on July 17, 1862. He performed the arduous duties of this office during the campaign of 1862-3. On May 10, 1865, he was elected Captain of his old company, (C,) but resigned on March 12, 1866, and was elected Captain of Company G on May 24, 1867. On April 14, 1871, he was elected to the Majority, and has given perfect satisfaction ever since.

At the recent muster of the Third Regiment and Washington Grey Troop Cavalry at Prospect Park Parade Ground, Col. Carl Jussen, the Inspector, was accompanied by Major Klein and his First Lieut. Heldt, of the Separate Troop Cavalry, in uniform. This fact gave certain jealous rivals of the Separate Troop Cavalry considerable mortification, and they commented on the circumstance in various invidious ways. The truth is these gentlemen were invited to accompany the Inspector to the parade ground, and they wisely assumed that they would present a more military appearance in their uniforms than in citizens' dress while accompanying a military officer. They were much surprised, however, to see certain members of the Washington Gray Troop drive to the parade ground in carriages, unhitch their horses from the wagons, drag out saddles and bridles from the recesses of their carriage, and saddle the nags which had drawn them ever, for the purpose of going through the ceremony of inspection. Having performed this arduous duty, the saddles were restored, to the carriages along with the soldiers, and in this military manner the fatigued heroes rode home. The Third Regiment mustered 298 present, 176 absent; total, 474. The Washington Gray Troop mustered 45 present; 16 absent; total, 61.

The election for the position of Lieutenant Colonel made vacant by the resignation of S. Oscar Ryder took place last Thursday evening at the regimental armory. Brig. Gen. Varian presided, and the result was the promotion of Adjutant Louis Fitzgerald to the position by the unanimous vote of the board. The selection made is a very good one, and one that evidently affords satisfaction to the members of the regiment. He enters upon the duties of the position thoroughly cognizant of its cares and requirements. Col. Fitzgerald became a member of company C on Dec. 30, 1857, and was rapidly promoted through the offices of Corporal, Sergeant, and Second Lieutenant. At the breaking out of the war he accepted the position of Captain in the Ellsworth Fire Zouaves, and upon the disbandment of that corps, he served with distinction on the Staff of Gen. Phil. Kearney, and afterward upon the Staff of Gen. Birney, and was breveted Lieutenant Colonel for gallant services rendered. At the close of the war he reported for duty to his old command, and was elected First Lieutenant of Company E. Shortly afterward he was appointed Adjutant by Col. Clark, and became very popular in that capacity. A few years after his appointment as Adjutant he was elected Captain of Company A, but declined the office, preferring the duties of Adjutant to those of a Captain. Capt. Richard Allison, of Company A, has tendered his resignation. This step is much regretted by his fellow-officers, and it is to be hoped that he will be induced to reconsider his action.

MILITARY SERVICE IN ST. PAUL'S.

From the London Standard Oct. 30.

In accordance with annual custom, the Tower Hamlets Rifle Brigade held a church parade yesterday, at St. Paul's Cathedral, the regiment, of whom about 300 were present, being under the command of Lieut. Col. Wigram, who was accompanied by a large number of the officers. The service was a full choral one, the anthem being Meyerbeer's, "He that under the shield." The sermon was, as usual, preached by Right Rev. Bishop Claughton, Chaplain General to the Forces, the text being the fifteenth verse of the fifth chapter of St. Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians, "See, then, that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise." In the course of his sermon the reverend divine urged his audience to be circumspect in their duty, and as obedient to their great Captain who died for their salvation as they were to their earthly leaders. Religion was not a matter of knowledge for those who were most advanced in learning, but was so simple that a child could understand it, if he wish to be instructed in the ways of God. They had the advantage over many men, inasmuch as they were disciplined. They were soldiers, and if they were Christians they were as Christian men soldiers bound to fight under Christ's banner against the world, the flesh, and the devil. He exhorted them to be proof against sin and the temptation that surround them. He thought that great injustice was done to the soldier, as though in great peril we were grateful to him, and after a great victory we rewarded him, yet still while he was passing through that training to fit him for the ordeal we spoke of him slightingly, forgetting the debt we owed him. He concluded by calling on them as soldiers, to go forth and lead such lives as Christ would have them lead—lives of purity, lives of honesty, lives of charity and forbearance, which would show that they were at least honest in their intentions to walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise.

A DETERMINED VOTER.

The Indianapolis Journal describes this election incident: "Many instances of pluck and enterprise in getting to the polls were exhibited by the advocates of Hayes and Wheeler, but none was more marked than in the case of Daniel Webster. He is a mechanic and has been working on the new school building in Covington. Two weeks ago he was unfortunate enough to fall a distance of forty-three feet, breaking both arms and one leg. Tuesday morning, despite his injuries, he was taken to the train on a bed, brought to this city, and cast his vote for Hayes and Wheeler, and the 'salvation of the country,' as he expressed it. Mr. Webster is a well-informed man, and voted as he shot in 1861-5."

RIFLE SHOOTING AT CREEDMOOR.

PRIZES FOR LONG-RANGE AND SHORT-RANGE MARKSMEN—GOOD SHOOTING WEATHER AND FINE SCORES.

The weather yesterday was very favorable for long-range shooting, and quite a number of the regular marksmen were on hand at an early hour to shoot in the second competition for the "Sharp's" prize of $250 in gold. Although the air was quite chilly, there was no wind stirring, and it was possible to "hold dead" on the "bull's-eye" if the requisite elevation were first obtained. Major Fulton and Major Yale made their first appearance since the Irish-American match, but did not enter in either of the matches. The regular monthly contest for the Turf, Field and Farm badge took place in the afternoon, and this attracted a large number of short-range experts. The conditions and scores of the long-range match were as follows:

Open to all comers; any rifle; distances, 800, 900, and 1,000 yards; fifteen shots at each range; entrance fee $1; prizes, one-quarter of the entrance money to the highest score, unless he should win the prize of $250, in which case it goes to the second highest score. To win the chief prize, a marksman must make the highest score at each distance.

Yards.		Total.
H. S. JEWELL.
800	3 4 5 4 4 5 5 4 4 5 5 5 5 4 5	67
900	5 3 5 5 5 4 5 4 5 5 3 3 5 5 5	67
1,000	4 5 3 5 4 5 5 4 3 5 5 5 5 5 5	68—202
C. E. BLYDENBURGH.
800	5 4 5 5 5 4 5 5 5 4 5 5 5 5 0	67
900	0 5 5 5 5 5 4 5 5 5 4 5 5 5 5	68
1,000	5 4 5 4 5 5 4 5 5 5 5 4 0 5 5	66—201
I. L. ALLEN.
800	2 4 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 4	70
900	5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 4 5 5 5 4 5 4	70
1,000	5 4 4 3 3 4 3 5 5 5 4 5 5 0 5	60—200
L. WEBER.
800	3 5 4 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5	72
900	4 5 4 5 5 4 5 5 5 5 5 5 4 5 4	69
1,000	5 3 2 5 5 4 5 3 3 5 0 5 5 5 5	59—200
H. A. GILDERSLEEVE.
800	3 3 0 4 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5	65
900	4 4 5 5 5 5 5 5 3 4 5 3 5 5 5	68
1,000	4 5 5 4 3 4 5 4 5 3 5 5 3 4 5	64—197
WILLIAM HAYES.
800	5 5 5 5 3 2 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5	71
900	5 4 4 3 4 5 4 5 3 0 5 4 5 0 5	55
1,000	5 5 5 5 3 5 4 4 3 5 5 5 5 3 5	67—193
E. H. SANFORD.
800	5 5 4 4 4 5 5 5 5 5 5 4 5 4 5	70
900	4 4 5 3 5 4 5 5 5 5 4 4 4 4 5	66
1,000	4 5 4 4 5 4 0 3 4 3 5 5 3 3 4	56—192
H. FISHER.
800	4 0 4 4 5 5 5 0 5 5 5 5 5 5 5	62
900	4 5 4 4 5 5 5 4 5 5 4 5 4 5 5	69
1,000	5 3 5 4 4 5 5 4 4 0 0 3 4 3 3	52—183
G. L. MORSE.
800	0 0 0 4 5 5 5 3 5 5 5 4 4 4 5	54
900	3 5 4 4 5 4 5 5 3 4 0 5 3 4 5	59
1,000	5 5 3 4 3 5 5 5 2 5 5 5 0 5 4	61—174
J. P. WALTERS.
800	0 0 2 2 5 3 4 5 5 5 5 3 5 3 3	50
900	4 4 4 5 5 5 4 4 3 4 4 4 4 4 5	63
1,000	5 4 5 3 2 4 4 5 5 5 5 0 5 4 3	59—172
E. H. MADISON.
800	2 3 5 4 5 5 4 5 3 4 5 5 5 3 5	60
900	4 3 4 4 2 4 0 3 5 5 3 3 5 4 5	54
1,000	2 4 5 5 5 4 2 3 4 3 4 3 4 3 3	54—168

The twelfth competition for the Turf, Field and Farm badge took place at 3 P. M. There were twenty-four entries, the conditions and scores being as follows:

Open to all members of the National Rifle Association; distance, 200 yards; position, standing; weapon, any breech-loading rifle; two sighting and ten scoring shots; entrance fee, fifty cents.

		Total.
William Hayes	4 5 4 4 5 4 4 4 4 4	42
D. F. Davids	4 4 5 5 4 4 4 4 4 4	42
J. L. Price	4 3 4 5 5 4 4 4 5 4	42
N. D. Ward	4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 5 4	41
F. H. Holton	4 4 4 4 4 3 4 5 4 4	40
S. G. Perry	4 4 4 4 5 4 4 4 4 3	40
C. F. Robbins	4 3 5 4 5 3 4 4 4 4	40
H. Funke, Jr.	3 5 3 4 5 3 5 4 4 4	40
W. H. Murphy	4 4 4 4 5 3 3 4 4 4	39
J. L. Farley	4 4 4 5 4 3 4 4 3 4	39
C. H. Eagle	4 3 4 4 5 3 3 4 5 4	39
J. W. Todd	4 4 3 3 4 3 5 4 4 4	38
G. L. Morse	4 4 3 4 4 4 5 4 3 3	38
Homer Fisher	3 4 4 3 4 3 3 5 4 4	37
H. W. Gourlay	3 3 4 4 4 4 3 5 3 4	37
A. T. Decker	4 4 3 4 4 3 3 4 3 4	36
H. S. Jewell	5 4 3 4 3 4 3 4 3 3	36
W. H. Cochrane, Jr.	3 4 3 4 4 4 3 4 3 3	35
D. Chauncey, Jr.	4 0 4 3 4 4 4 3 5 4	35
H. A. Gildersleeve	5 0 4 4 3 4 4 3 3 4	34
J. L. Kellinger	3 2 4 4 4 3 3 3 3 3	32
G. F. Merchant	3 3 4 3 0 5 5 3 3 3	32
George Waterman	4 3 4 4 2 3 4 4 0 0	28
J. B. Holland	4 2 0 4 3 2 3 3 3 2	26

Mr. Hayes won the trophy in the last competition upon the score of 45 out of a possible 50 points.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Amateur Rifle Club, held on Friday evening, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the competition for the bronze medal of the National Rifle Association take place at Creedmoor, Long Island, on Saturday, Nov. 25, at 1:30 P. M. Conditions: Open only to members of American Rifle Club; distance, 1,000 yards; rounds, 30; rifle, any within the rules; position, any; entrance fee, $1. The prize will become the personal property of the winner in this competition.

CATTLE KINGS OF TEXAS.

SOME OF THE LARGE STOCKS HELD—PROFITS OF THE BUSINESS.

A recent letter thus speaks: "In Texas I notice much more attention of late is given to private pastures. In four years past at least half of many counties west of the San Antonio River have been inclosed in immense pastures by post and plank fences. All pastures and no corn. Then the small stock men are growing smaller and fewer, while large stocks are growing much larger. Few of your readers have any idea of the extent to which a single man or firm will carry this business. For their wonderment I will give a few stocks and pastures which I have seen, with names and figures. Allen & Son, east of the Brazos, have 40,000 acres inclosed, 50,000 head of cattle, and ship annually, including purchases, about 20,000 beeves. Foster Dyer, west of the Brazos, has 12,000 acres inclosed, and 40,000 head of cattle. He bought of one party last Spring 3,000 three-year-old heifers at $9 in gold each. Caruthers & Bro., north of Austin, have 60,000 cattle on the Plains. O'Brien, on the Gaudaloupe, has 35,000 cattle. Mr. Lowe, west of the San Antonio River, has 40,000 acres in pasturage and 120,000 head of cattle. A widow further west has 140,000 cattle on the Plains, and sells annually 15,000 beeves. Mathews, Coleman & Mathews, Rockport, Texas, have 200,000 acres of pasture and 130,000 cattle. They ship annually, including purchases, 30,635,000 beeves. Duvuse & Ellison, San Antonio, drove last Spring to Kansas 66,000 cattle, and must have at least double that number on the Plains. Mr. King, west of the Nueces River, drove to Kansas 33,000 beeves from his own ranch, and sold at $33 per head. He has 200,000 acres of pasture, 160,000 cattle, and 10,000 horses and mules. Mr. M. Kennedy, his next neighbor, has 100,000 acres of pasture, 8,000 horses and mules, and 130,000 cattle. There are many others, whose stocks are as large, that I have not seen, to say nothing of the 10,000 to 30,000 stocks, but this will suffice. This seems incredible to an Eastern, or even a North-western man, and yet in round numbers is very nearly correct. And still there is a very large diminution of the cattle on the Plains in five years past. I will give you one of many instances to show the immense profits of this business, when they can graze all the year round. (I withhold the names, as it is not my province to make public the details of any man's private business.) Four years ago, certain friends of mine discussed the pasturage question, and began to buy and fence in cheap lands. They have now 230,000 acres of pasture, are systematic in all their business, and opened a 'stock cattle' account, separate from beef account, debited it with all purchases of 'stock cattle,' (all ages,) and credited it with all sales from said stocks at the prices ruling there. The account shows now $410,000 paid out in four years for stock cattle of all ages, and $520,000 sales from said stocks, with 110,000 cattle on hand, worth $6 per head, or $660,000, and the account out of debt, making $770,000 profits in four years, and perhaps did not use over $35,000 cash in these purchases. Some others have done as well, or even better, on a smaller scale. The wool-growers are equally as well satisfied with their business in the past, though wool is declining, while cattle are growing scarcer and higher every year, (for people will eat,) and the vast grazing plains are being gradually, but surely, taken up by small farmers emigrating to the South-west."

LIVE STOCK IN ENGLAND.

From the agricultural returns of Great Britain for 1876, just issued, it seems that the number of horses, cattle, sheep, and pigs in England, Scotland, and Wales, as returned by occupiers of land on the 25th of June last, was as follows: Horses used solely for purposes of agriculture, 968,587; unbroken horses of any age and mares kept solely for the purpose of breeding, 405,989; making a total of 1,374,576 horses, (including ponies,) against 1,340,129 returned in the year 1875. Of cattle there were at the same date 2,227,867 cows and heifers in milk or in calf; other cattle two years of age and above, 1,567,641; under two years of age, 2,052,294; making a total of 5,847,802 cattle for 1876, against 6,012,824 in 1875. Of sheep there were 18,248,352 one year old and above; 9,924,599 under one year old; in all, 28,172,951, against 29,167,438 in the previous year. The number of pigs returned is 2,293,628 in 1876, against 2,229,018 in 1875. The returns of horses, cattle, sheep, and pigs for the Isle of Man, Channel Islands, Jersey, and Guernsey, &c., for 1876, give the following results: Isle of Man—Horses, total number for 1876, 5,258; cattle, 19,206; sheep, 70,556; pigs, 6,142. Channel Islands (Jersey)—Horses, 2,212; cattle, 11,302; sheep, 488; pigs, 5,936. Guernsey, &c.—Horses, 1,862; cattle, 6,686; sheep, 1,056; pigs, 4,588. It is, however, stated in a note that the figures for 1876 may be subject to future revision, the final corrections in some cases not having yet been received.

FINANCIAL AFFAIRS.

SALES AT THE STOCK EXCHANGE—NOV. 11.

SALES BEFORE THE CALL—10 A. M.

$1,000 D. of C. 3.65s. 69	1000 Lake Shore...... 54⅝
10,000 Ohio & M. 2d. 49¾	100 do........ 54½
86 Bank of Com....105	500 do........ 54⅝
100 Del. & Hudson... 70¼	500 do........ 54¼
100 do........ 70½	1000 do........ 54⅜
100 do........ 70¾	3000 do........ 54½
200 Pacific Mail...... 24	600 do........ 54⅝
100 Erie Railway..... 9¾	1700 do........ 54¾
200 do........ 9⅞	600 do........ 54⅞
200 West. Un.......c. 71⅛	500 do......s3. 54⅞
1600 do........ 71⅜	1000 do........ 55
1600 do........ 71¼	1200 do........ 55⅛
1300 do........ 71⅜	1600 do........ 55
400 do......b3. 71⅜	1400 do........ 54⅞
100 do......s3. 71⅜	500 do......b3. 54⅞
1300 do........ 71½	500 do......s3. 54¾
400 do........ 71⅜	1100 do........ 54⅝
9 do.......c. 71¼	1000 do........ 54¾
100 do........ 71½	1100 do........ 54⅞
100 N.Y.C.&H....s30.101	600 do........ 55
100 Rock Island.....c.100½	100 do......s4. 54⅞
1000 Mich. Cen....... 42¼	100 do......s3. 54⅞
800 do........ 42⅜	200 North-western.... 35¾
200 do........ 42½	400 Del., Lack. & W... 71¾
700 do........ 42⅝	100 do........ 71⅝
700 do........ 42¾	200 do........ 71½
500 do........ 42⅞	500 do......s10. 71¼
400 do........ 42¾	100 do........ 71⅜
300 do........ 42⅝	200 do........ 71½
100 do........ 42¾	100 do........c. 71⅝
200 do........ 42⅞	300 do........ 71½
100 do........ 42¾	300 do........ 71⅝
100 do......s5. 42⅝	100 do........ 71¾
200 do........ 42⅞	100 do........ 72⅛
100 Tol. & Wab...... 7	300 do........ 72
100 St. Paul Pref..... 51⅝	100 do........ 71⅞
1000 do........ 51½	700 do........ 72
300 do........ 51⅝	100 do........ 72⅛
700 do........ 51¾	200 do......s3. 72
100 do........ 52¼	300 do........ 71⅝
200 do........ 52⅛	800 Cen. of N. J..... 32
500 do......s3. 51⅞	300 do........ 31⅞
200 St. Paul........ 20½	500 do........ 32
300 do........ 20¾	100 do........ 32⅛
200 do........ 20⅝	300 do........ 32¼
200 do........ 20¾	300 do........ 33⅛
200 North-west. Pref. 58¾	800 do........ 32½
100 Ohio & Miss....s3. 7⅛	300 do........ 32⅜
200 do........ 7⅜	100 do........c. 32¼
100 do........ 7½	100 do........ 32⅜
100 do........ 7⅝	100 do........ 32½
100 do......b3. 7½	300 do........ 32⅜
200 do........ 7⅜

GOVERNMENT STOCKS—10:15 AND 11:30 A. M.

$10,000 U. S. 6s '81, R.........12.117	$35,000 U. S. 5-20 C., '67........b.c.115¾
2,000 U. S. 4½ R. '91.........12.111	10,000 U. S. 5s, '81. C........12.112¾
500 U. S. C. B. C...109½

FIRST BOARD—10:30 A. M.

$500 D. of C. 3.65s. 69	50 New-Jersey......136¾
15,000 do........ 68¾	1000 L.S.&M.S.b.c.b3. 55
1,000 C., R. I.&P.7s.110⅜	800 do........ 55
1,000 N. J.C.1st,con. 86	300 do......s3. 54⅞
4,000 M. & St. P. 1st La C. Div......103	1300 do......s3. 55
2,000 M.&St.P.c.s.f.. 87	100 do.......c. 55⅛
5,000 M.&SP.7 3-10.. 99	400 do........ 55⅛
5,000 N.W.C.C.G...... 95⅞	400 do......s3. 55⅛
500 C. & N.W.1st.106	4600 do........ 55¼
1,000 C.,C.,C.&I.1st.108	500 do......b3. 55⅜
5,000 Erie 3d.......100½	2200 do........ 55⅜
7,000 Cen. Pac. 1st, San. J. Br.... 93	1000 do......s3. 55¼
1,000 O. & M.2d.b.c. 47	1000 do........ 55¼
10,000 do......b.c. 45	1700 do........ 55⅛
15,000 do..b.c.s60. 44	1000 do........ 55
1,000 A.&T.H.2d-f.. 91½	500 do......s3. 54⅞
2,000 T., P. & W. 1st, W. Div....b3. 86	700 do........ 55
1,000 Tol.& W. 1st.. 99	100 do........ 55⅛
5,000 D. & H. R.'94.100	1400 do........ 55
1,000 T. & W. 1st, St. L. div.... 70	100 do.......c. 55
70 Park Bank.......111	300 C. & R. I.....b.c.100½
25 Am. Ex. B'k.......106	100 do........ 100¾
120 D. & H. Can..b.c. 70½	100 do......s3.101
100 Amer. Ex......s3. 60	100 do........ 101⅜
50 U. S. Express..... 57⅞	300 do........ 101¼
100 W. U. Tel......b.c. 71½	100 Cen. of N.J.....b.c. 32¾
900 do........ 71⅝	100 do........ 32⅞
600 do........ 71¾	100 do........ 32¾
1200 do........ 71⅞	200 do........ 32⅝
2700 do........ 72	300 do........ 32⅞
800 do........ 72⅛	200 do........ 32¾
500 do.......c. 72⅛	200 do........ 32⅞
100 do.......b3. 72⅛	400 do........ 33
200 do.......s3. 72	100 do......s10. 32½
3700 do........ 72⅛	700 do......s12. 32¾
100 do.......c. 72	200 do........ 33
2700 do........ 72	100 do......s30. 32¼
100 do.......c. 71⅞	400 do........ 32¾
500 Pacific Mail...b.c. 24	100 St. L., I. M. & S.... 12
100 N. Y.C.& H....b.c.102	10 do.......b.c. 12½
200 T., W. & W...b.c. 7	200 C., M. & St. P.b.c. 20⅞
100 do........ 6⅞	100 do........ 21
100 Illinois Cen....b.c. 80½	100 do........ 21⅜
500 do........ 80	400 do........ 21½
50 do......b30. 80	50 do........ 21⅝
298 do........ 79¾	200 do......s3. 21⅝
800 Erie Railway.b.c. 10	200 do........ 21¼
100 Mich. Cen......b.c. 42⅞	400 C.,M.&St.P.Pf.b.c. 52¼
500 do........ 43	200 do........ 52⅜
600 do........ 43¼	100 do......b3. 52½
200 do......s3. 43¼	400 do........ 52¾
100 do........ 43	100 do........ 52¼
200 do........ 42⅞	200 do......s3. 52¼
100 do........ 42¾	100 do........ 52½
200 do........ 42⅝	300 D., L. & W....b.c. 71⅞
500 do........ 42½	200 do.......c. 72
600 do........ 42⅜	400 do........ 72⅛
900 do........ 42¼	500 do........ 72⅜
600 do........ 42⅛	100 do........ 72¼
400 C. & N. W....b.c. 36¾	100 do......s3. 72⅛
100 C. & N.W.Pf.b.c.s3. 58¾	100 do........ 72¼
200 do........ 58¾	100 do........ 72⅛
200 do........ 58⅞	100 H. & St. Jo.Pf.b.c. 24
100 do......b3. 59	200 Ohio & M......b.c. 7⅝
200 do........ 59½	100 do......b3. 7¾
100 do........ 59⅜	100 do........ 8
100 do........ 59⅛	600 do........ 7⅞
	100 do......s3. 7¾
	300 do........ 7¾

SALES BEFORE THE CALL—12:30 P. M.

$200,000 U.S.5-20C., '67.......115¾	300 Lake Shore....s3. 54⅞
10,000 Tenn. 6s, old. 45¼	300 do........ 55
9,000 Tenn.6s,n.ser. 45	200 do......s3. 55
1,500 N. Y. C.6s,'83.102½	100 do........ 54⅞
2,000 N. Y. C. 1st,C.119	300 do......b3. 54⅞
15,000 M. &St. P.c.s.f. 86⅝	700 do........ 54¾
4,000 Erie 2d.........102½	100 do........ 54⅞
100 Erie Railway..s3. 10	600 do......s3. 54¾
600 do........ 10	1500 do......b3. 54¾
200 Western Union... 71⅞	100 do........ 54¾
100 do........ 72	700 do........ 54⅞
200 do........ 71⅞	300 do........ 55
100 do......b3. 71⅞	16 C., C., C.& Ind....... 38½
2000 do......b3. 72	300 St. Paul Pf......... 52⅝
100 Cen. of N. J.... 32¾	500 do........ 52¼
200 do........ 32⅞	600 do........ 52⅛
100 do........ 32¾	100 Toledo & Wab.s3. 6½
100 Mich. Central.s5. 42¼	100 do......s10. 6¼
200 do......s3. 42¼	400 do........ 6⅜
500 do........ 42¼	7 Chi. & Alt. Pf....108½
700 do........ 42⅜	100 Del., Lac. & W.s3. 72⅛
900 do........ 42¼	200 do........ 72⅛
600 do........ 42⅛	1300 do........ 72
100 do........ 42¼	100 Ohio & Miss....... 7¾
100 Rock Island....s5.101⅜	300 do........ 7⅝
100 St. Paul........ 21¼	100 Ohio & M. Pf..... 14½
300 do........ 21

SECOND BOARD—1 P. M.

100 Del. & H..b.c.s3. 70½	400 L. S. &M.S.b.c.b3. 55
10 Amer. Ex.....b.c. 61	400 do........ 55
100 Mich. Cen.....b.c. 42¼	500 do........ 54⅞
100 do........ 42⅜	200 do......b3. 55
200 West. Un..b.c.b3. 72	200 do........ 55
2200 do........ 72	500 Cen. of N. J....b.c. 33
200 do......s3. 72⅛	300 do........ 33⅛
600 do........ 72⅛	100 C., M. & St. P.b.c. 21⅛
100 do......b3. 72¼	100 C.M.&S.P.Pf..b.c. 52⅜
400 do........ 72¼	200 do......s21. 52¼
400 do......b3. 72⅜	200 T., W. & W...b.c. 6⅜
100 do........ 72⅜	100 D., L. & W..b.c.c. 72½
100 C. & P.Gd.b.c.x.d. 88¼	200 do........ 72½
60 do........ 88½	200 do........ 72⅝
100 Cbi. & N. W..b.c. 36⅛	100 do.......c. 72¾
100 do........ 36⅜	100 do........ 72¾

SALES FROM 2:30 TO 3 P. M.

$2,000 N. Y. B. L. C..103	200 Lake Shore....b3. 55
10,000 Cen. Pac. 1st, St. J. B'h.... 93¼	600 do........ 55
3,000 do........ 93⅜	600 do........ 54⅞
1,000 Cen. Pac., C. & O. B'h......... 94½	100 do......b3. 55
5,000 Ohio & M. 2d. 46	200 do......b3. 54⅞
2,000 N. J. C. conv.. 81½	400 do........ 54⅞
16,000 M. & S. P.c.s.f 86¾	100 do........ 55
1,000 C., C.C.&I.1st.108	100 do........ 55⅛
5,000 T. H. 2d Pf.... 91	200 do......s3. 55
5,000 Har. 1st R....117½	500 do........ 55
1,000 Un. Pac. 1st..106¾	1000 do........ 55⅛
100 U. S. Ex.......opg. 58	600 do......b3. 55¼
700 West. Union...... 72⅜	300 do........ 55¼
200 do......s3. 72⅜	500 do........ 55⅜
200 do......b3. 72½	200 do......s3. 55⅜
100 do........ 72⅜	1000 do........ 55⅜
400 do........ 72¼	700 do........ 55½
1000 do........ 72⅜	200 Cen. of N. J...... 33⅛
300 do........ 72½	200 do........ 33¼
100 do......s3. 72½	100 do......s3. 33
700 do........ 72⅝	100 do........ 33¼
2100 do........ 72¾	100 do........ 33⅜
3100 do........ 72⅞	100 do......s30. 32½
3000 do........ 73	100 St. Paul........ 21¼
100 Pacific Mail...b3. 24¼	300 do........ 21
200 N. Y. Cen. & Hud.102¼	100 do........ 21¼
200 Erie Railway..... 10	100 do........ 21⅜
100 Mich. Central.s3. 42½	400 do........ 21½
100 do........ 42⅝	500 St. Paul Pf...... 52½
600 do........ 42¾	100 do........ 52¾
500 do........ 42⅞	100 do........ 52⅝
21 Ohio & M.Pf...... 12¼	100 do........ 52½
100 H. & St. Jo. Pf...... 24⅝	100 do........ 52¾
200 Del., L. & W...... 72⅝	100 Ohio & Miss...s3. 7⅝
1700 do........ 72½	100 do......b3. 7¾
	300 do........ 7¾
	100 do........ 7⅞

SATURDAY, Nov. 11—P. M.

The bank statement shows a decrease of $1,245,800 in the reserve of the banks, which reduces the excess of reserve above lawful requirements to $8,696,385. The most important changes are a decrease in legal tenders of $2,191,900; in deposits, $3,258,400, and in loans, $1,031,800, the changes in the other items being slight.

The following is the statement of the New-York City Banks this week, compared with the last:

	Nov. 4.	Nov. 11.	Differences.
Loans	$260,684,230	$259,652,430	Dec. $1,031,800
Specie	17,436,600	17,569,100	Inc.. 132,500
Legal-tenders	46,353,800	44,160,900	Dec.. 2,191,900
Deposits	215,392,900	212,134,500	Dec.. 3,258,400
Circulation	15,099,600	15,062,500	Dec.. 23,100

On the Stock Exchange prices fluctuated frequently during the day; but at the close the market was firm in tone, with an apparently improving tendency. The strong tone of speculation was, doubtless, in some measure due to the growing conviction among the majority of business men that the action of President Grant will insure a settlement of all disputed questions in the so-called doubtful States of the South upon a fair and equitable basis that will be satisfactory to the whole country. The transactions aggregated 152,400 shares, of which 55,700 were of Lake Shore, 38,900 of Western Union, 14,800 of Michigan Central, 10,700 of St. Paul, 10,500 of Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, 8,900 of New-Jersey Central, and 1,900 of North-western. The greatest advance of the day was in Western Union, which rose from 71⅛ to 73, closing at the highest point. Lake Shore, which was the most active stock, rose from 54½ to 55½. The Granger shares were strong and higher, St. Paul common advancing from 20⅝ to 21½, and the preferred from 51⅝ to 52¾; while North-western common, after declining to 35¾ rose to 36¾, and the preferred recorded an advance of 1 per cent. Michigan Central fluctuated between 43¼ and 42¼, and closed at 42⅞. The coal stocks were weak early in the day, but in the late dealings not only recovered the decline, but advanced. About the only weak stock on the list was Illinois Central, which closed at 79¾, against 81 in the final dealings yesterday.

The money market was easy to-day, especially toward the close, when unemployed balances were lent as low as 1½ to 2 per cent. The early business was at 3@4 per cent. The National bank notes received for redemption at Washington to-day amounted to $600,000, making a total for the week of $3,500,000. The following were the rates of exchange on New-York at the under-mentioned cities to-day: Savannah, buying ⅜ off, selling par to ¼ off; Charleston, easy, freely, ⅜@5-16@3-16 to par; New-Orleans, commercial ⅜, bank ¼; Cincinnati, 100 discount; St. Louis, 50 to 100 discount; Chicago, 25 premium.

The foreign advices report the withdrawal of £58,000 bullion from the Bank of England on balance to-day. Consols at London were steady at 96@96⅛, but United States bonds were a shade weaker in some cases, closing at 103⅜ for 1865s, (old,) 109 for 1867s, 108¼ for 10-40s, and 106⅜@106½ for new 5s. Erie declined to and closed at 9½@9⅝. Rentes at Paris fell off to 104 97½. At Frankfort our new 5s were quoted at 102¼.

The sterling exchange market was quiet, the demand, as usual on Saturday, having been very light. The nominal rates remain at $4 82 for bankers' 60-day bills, and $4 84 for demand, with actual business at $4 81½@$4 81¾, and $4 83½@$4 83¾.

The gold speculation was heavy, the price declining from 109¾ to 109¼, the lowest point of the week. Late in the day there was some demand to cover short contracts, and the price advanced to 109½, at which closing sales were effected. Cash gold continued easy, and loaned flat to 3 ₽ cent. interest for carrying.

Government bonds were not materially influenced by the decline in gold, and prices generally were steady. New 5s, coupon, however, sold at 112¾, against 113 yesterday. In railroad bonds, there was a further sharp decline in Ohio and Mississippi seconds, sales of which were made at 49¾@47 regular, 45 buyer 3, and 44 seller 60. New-Jersey Central consolidated firsts sold at 86, against 87¾ on Thursday. Toledo and Wabash Firsts advanced 1 ₽ cent., selling at 99. Union Pacific Firsts fell off to 105¾. New-York Central coupon Firsts sold at 119, C. C. C. and I. Firsts at 108, and Rock Island 7s at 110⅜. State bonds were weak. Tennessees declined to 45¼ for old, and District of Columbia 3-65s to 68⅜.

United States Treasury,
New-York, Nov. 11, 1876.

Gold receipts	$794,269 64
Gold payments	217,854 05
Gold balance	51,073,766 41
Currency receipts	922,007 23
Currency payments	636,144 04
Currency balance	42,928,799 66
Customs	178,000 00

CLOSING QUOTATIONS—NOV. 11.

	Friday.	Saturday.
American gold	109¾	109½
United States 4½s, 1891, coup	111	111
United States 5s, 1881, coup	112⅞	112⅞
United States 5-20s, 1867, coup	115⅞	115¾
Bills on London	$4 81½@$4 81¾	$4 81½@4 81¾
New-York Central	101¾	102¼
Rock Island	100½	101¼
Pacific Mail	23⅞	24¼
Milwaukee and St. Paul	20⅝	21½
Milwaukee and St. Paul Pref	51⅝	52¾
Lake Shore	54½	55½
Chicago and North-western	36⅛	36⅜
Chicago and North-western Pref	58½	59½
Western Union	71¼	73
Union Pacific	59¼	59¼
Delaware, Lack. and Western	72	72½
New-Jersey Central	32⅝	33⅜
Delaware and Hudson Canal	70¼	70½
Morris and Essex	94	94
Panama	125	125
Erie	9¾	10
Ohio and Mississippi	7⅛	7⅞
Harlem	138	138
Hannibal and St. Joseph	13	13
Hannibal and St. Joseph Pref	24¼	24¼
Michigan Central	42¼	42⅞
Illinois Central	81	79¾

The extreme range of prices in stocks to-day and the number of shares sold are as follows:

	Highest.	Lowest.	No. of Shares.
New-York Central	102¼	102	400
Erie	10	9¾	1,900
Lake Shore	55½	54¼	55,706
Wabash	7	6⅜	1,200
North-western	36¾	35¾	900
North-western Preferred	59½	58¾	1,000
Rock Island	101¾	100½	1,300
Milwaukee and St. Paul	21½	20½	3,600
Mil. and St. Paul Pref	52¾	51½	7,100
*Pittsburg	88¼	88¼	160
Delaware, Lack. and West	72¾	71¼	10,500
New-Jersey Central	33⅜	31⅞	8,900
Del. & Hudson Canal	70½	70¼	150
Michigan Central	43¼	42¼	14,800
Illinois Central	80½	79¾	950
Hannibal and St. Joseph Pf.	24⅝	24¼	200
Ohio and Mississippi	8	7⅛	3,300
Ohio and Mississippi Pf	14½	14½	100
Western Union	73	71⅛	38,900
Pacific Mail	24¼	24	800
Am. Mer. Union Ex	60¼	60	100
United States Ex	58	58	150
Total sales			152,400

* Ex-dividend.

The following were the closing quotations of Government bonds:

	Bid.	Asked.
United States currency 6s	123½	124½
United States 6s, 1881, registered	116¾	116⅞
United States 6s, 1881, coupons	117	117½
United States 5-20s, 1865, registered	109⅝	109⅞
United States 5-20s, 1865, coupons	109⅝	109⅞
United States 5-20s, 1865, new, reg	112¾	113
United States 5-20s, 1865, new, coup	112¾	113
United States 5-20s, 1867, registered	115¾	113
United States 5-20s, 1867, coupons	115¾	115⅞
United States 5-20s, 1868, registered	116½	117
United States 5-20s, 1868, coupons	116½	117
United States 10-40s, registered	113⅝	113⅞
United States 10-40s, coupons	115	115½
United States 5s, 1881, registered	112¾	113
United States 5s, 1881, coupons	112¾	112⅞
United States 4½	110½	111

The Sub-Treasurer disbursed in gold coin $58,000 for interest, $7,000 for called bonds, and $12,200 silver coin in exchange for fractional currency.

The following table shows the transactions at the Gold Exchange Bank to-day:

Gold cleared	$26,897,000
Gold balances	1,799,413
Currency balances	2,164,545

The following is the Clearing-house statement to-day:

Currency exchanges	$65,959,737
Currency balances	3,491,713
Gold exchanges	3,745,647
Gold balances	626,429

The following is the weekly Clearing-house statement:

Currency exchanges	$311,452,959
Currency balances	17,551,480
Gold exchanges	33,254,306
Gold balances	4,651,944

The following were the bids for the various State securities:

Alabama 5s, 1883.... 34	N. C. 6's, old, J. & J. 18½
Alabama 5s, 1886.... 34	N. C. 6's, A. & O..... 18½
Alabama 8s, 1886.... 34	N. C.6's,N.C.R.,J&J. 60
Alabama 8s, 1888.... 34	N. C. 6's,N.C.R.A&O 61
Ala. 8s, Mon.& Eut.. 34	N. C.NC.R.,c.off,J&J 41
Alabama 8s of 1892.. 15	N. C.NC.R.,c.offA&O 41
Alabama 8s of 1893.. 15	N.C.. Fund. Act, '66. 9
Arkansas 6s, F'd.... 32¼	N.C. Fund. Act, '68.. 9
Connecticut 6s......112	N. C. N. bs., J. & J.. 7½
Georgia 6s......... 94	N. C..N. bs., A. & O. 7½
Ga. 7s, new bonds...105	N. C. S.Tax, class 1. 2¼
Ga. 7s, indorsed.....102	N. C.S. Tax, class 2. 2
Ga. 7s, Gold bonds..106½	N. C. S. Tax, class 3.. 2
Illinois War Loan...103	Ohio 6s, '86..........113
Kentucky 6s.........103	Rhode Island 6s.....110
Louisiana 6s......... 41	South Carolina 6s.... 36
La. 6s, new bonds.. 41	S. C. 6s, J. & J...... 36
La. 6s, new Fl. Dbt.. 41	S. C. 6s, A. & O...... 36
La. 7s, Penitentiary. 41	S. C. 6s, F. A.. '66.... 33
La. 6s, Levee bonds. 41	S. C. L. C. '89, J.&J. 45
La. 8s, Levee bonds. 41	S. C. L. C. '89,A.&O. 45
La. 8s. L. B. of '75... 41	S. C. 7s. '88......... 85
La. 7s, consolidated. 59½	S. C. N. F. bs......... 6
Mo. L. B., due '92-3 in.105	Tennessee 6s. old..... 45
Fund.bds., due '94-5.105	Tenn. N. bs.......... 44½
H. & St. Jo., due '86.105	Tenn. 6s, N. bs.N.S. 44½
H. & St. Jo., due '87.105	Virginia 6s, old....... 30
N. Y. Reg. B. L......102½	Va. 6s, N. bs. '67..... 30
N. Y. Coup. B. L....102⅝	Va. 6s, Con. bs....... 73½
N. Y. G. Reg'd, 1887 116	Va. 6s, ex mat. coup. 68½
N. Y. G. L., 1891.....120	Va. 6s, Con. 2d S.... 35
N. Y. G. L., 1892.....120	Va. 6s, Def. bds...... 6½
N. Y. G. L., 1893.....120	Dis. of Col. 3.65s, 1924. 68⅜

And the following for railway mortgages:

Alb. & Sus.1st bs....109½	M.S&N.I.S.F. 7p.c..108¼
Alb. & Sus.2d bs....101	Clev. & Tol. S. F...109¾
Boston, H. & E.1st. 16½	Clev. & T. new bds.105
Boston, H. & E.G'd.. 16	C., P. & A., old bds.107
B., C.R.& M.1st 7s.g. 37	C. P. & A. new bds..105
Chicago & Alt. S. F.100	Buf.&Erie, new bds.105
Chicago & Alt.1st..116	Buf. & S. L. 7s........105
Chicago & Alton In.103	Kal. & W. Pig. 1st.. 80
Joliet&Chicago 1st..109	L. S. Div. bonds.....105
La. & Mo. 1st guar.. 87	L. S. Cons. coup., 2d. 95
St. L. J. & Chic. 1st.103	L. S. Cons. Reg., 2d. 95
C.,B.&Q.8 p. c.1st..116	Marietta & Cin., 1st.107
C.,B. & Q. consol. 7s.111½	Mich.C.1st.8s.'82S.F.119
C.R.I.& P. 1st 7's....110¼	N. Y. Cen. 6s, '83....102
C.R.of N.J. 1st. new.110⅛	N. Y. Cen. 6s, '87....105¼
C.R. of N.J. 1st Con.. 80½	N. Y. Cen.6s, R. E....100
M.&S.P. 1st 8s, P.D.116	N. Y. Cen. 6s, Sub...100
M.&S P.2d,7 3-10P.D. 98⅜	N. Y.C.&H.1st,coup.118
M.&S.P.1st7s g.R.D..102	N. Y.C.& H.1st, reg.118
M.&St.P.1st. LaC.D.103	Hud.R.7s,2d,S.F.'85.112
M.&S.P.1st.I.&M.D. 91	Har. 1st 7s, Coup....117¼
M.&St.P.1st,C.&M.. 98½	Har. 1st 7s, Reg......117
M.&St.P.Con. S. Fd. 86⅝	N. Missouri 1st....... 96
M. & St. Paul 2d.... 91	O. & M. 2d Consol... 46
C. & N.W. Int. bds..103	Cen. Pac. S. J. B.... 92
C. & N. W. Con.'bs.103	Cen.Pac.Cal.&O.1st. 91
C. & N. W. Ex. bs..100	Cen. Pac. L. G. bds.. 95
C. & N. W. 1st.......106⅛	Western Pac. bds...102½
Galena& Chic. Ext'd106⅛	Un. Pac. 1st bds.....105¾
Penins. 1st Conver..103	Un. Pac., L. G. 7s...101
Chicago & Mil. 1st..106	SouthPac.R.of Mo.b. 70½
C.C.C.&I. 1st 7s.S.F.108	Pac. R. of Mo., 1st... 94¾
Del. L. & W. 2d......108	P., Ft. W.& Chic. 1st.121
D., L. & W. 7s, Con.105	C. & P. C. S. F.......108
Mor. & Es. 1st.......114½	C. & P. 4th S. F......105¾
Mor. & Es. 2d.........106½	St. Louis & I. M.1st.100
Morris & Es. Const.. 92½	A. & T. H. 1st.........107½
M. & E. 1st, C. G....101	A. & T. H. 2d pf.... 91¼
Erie 1st, Extended..108	A. & T. H. 2d, Inc... 68
Erie 2d 7s, '79........102½	Belv. & S. I. 1st 8s... 80
Erie 3d 7s, '83........100½	T., P. & W..1st,E.D. 83
Erie 4th 7s. '80...... 98	T., P. & W. 2d........ 27
Erie 5th 7s, '88.......100	T., P. & W. Con., 7s. 27
Long Dock Bonds...105	Tol. & Wab. 1st. Ex. 93
Buf.,N.Y.&E.1st,'77. 91½	Tol.&W.1st, St.L.D. 68
B.N. Y.& E. Lar bs.. 93	Tol. & W. E. bds.... 10
Han. & St. Jo. L. G.110	Tol.&W. Con. Conv. 45
Han. & St. J.8s,Conv. 81	Gt. West. 1st '88... 94
Ced. F. & Min. 1st... 88	Ills. & So. I. 1st...... 86
Ind., Blm. & W. 1st.. 23	W. Un. bs., 1900, C..101
Mich. So. 7 p. c. 2d..101½	W. Un. bs. 1900, R...100

And the following for City bank shares:

America......136	Importers'&Trad'rs'185
Central National....101⅛	Manhattan.......125
Commerce.......108	Merchants'........117
Corn Exchange.....120	Metropolitan.......123¼
First National....200	New-York........119
Fourth National.... 92	Phenix.......... 85
Fulton..........140	Republic....... 66
Fifth Avenue.......212	St. Nicholas........100
Gallatin National...110	Union.........130½
Hanover.......... 87

PHILADELPHIA STOCK PRICES—NOV. 11.

	Bid.	Asked.
City 6s, New	113⅜	113¼
United Railroads of New-Jersey	136	136¼
Pennsylvania Railroad	45⅝	45¾
Reading Railroad	21	21¼
Lehigh Valley Railroad	50	50¼
Catawissa Railroad Preferred	38	39
Philadelphia and Erie Railroad	14	14¼
Schuylkill Navigation Preferred	10½	11
Northern Central Railroad	28¾	29¼
Lehigh Navigation	30¼	30¾
Oil Creek and Allegheny Railroad	8½	8¾
Hestonville Railway	23⅛	23⅝
Central Transportation	39	40

The following is the Custom-house return of the exports of gold and silver from the port of New-York for the week ending to-day:

Nov. 8—Steamer Algeria, Liverpool—Silver bars	$22,000 00
Nov. 11—Steamer Britannic, Liverpool—Silver bars	112,000 00
Total	$134,000 00

The imports of specie for the week amounted to $292,121, mostly silver bars.

CALIFORNIA MINING STOCKS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—The following are the closing official prices of mining stocks to-day:

Alpha.........38¾	Justice.........22
Belcher.........15¾	Kossuth......... 1½
Best and Belcher.....43¾	Kentuck.........14
Bullion.........33½	Leopard......... 6
Consolidated Virginia.47¼	Mexican.........24½
California.........64¾	Northern Belle.....30½
Choliar.........73	Overman.........78
Confidence.........13¾	Ophir.........46¾
Caledonia......... 9¼	Raymond and Ely..... 5
Crown Point......... 9½	Silver Hill......... 9
Exchequer.........13	Savage.........12
Gould and Curry.....12¾	Segregated Belcher...70
Hale and Norcross.... 7½	Sierra Nevada.........11
Imperial......... 3¼	Union Consolidated....12
Julia Consolidated.... 6¾	Yellow Jacket.........16

FOREIGN MARKETS.

LONDON, Nov. 11—12:15 P. M.—United States bonds, 1865s, 103¼; 10-40s, 108¼; new 5s, 106⅜. Erie Railway Shares, 9½. New-York Central, 96.

3:30 P. M.—The amount of bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance to-day is £58,000.

4 P. M.—Paris advices quote 5 ₽ cent. Rentes at 104f 97½c. for the account.

FRANKFORT, Nov. 11.—United States bonds, new 5s 102¼.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 11.—Pork—Eastern dull at 80s.; do Western dull at 71s. Bacon—Cumberland Cut dull at 45s.; Short Rib dull at 44s.; Long Cut dull at 43s.; Short Cut dull at 44s. Hams—Long Cut dull at 53s. Shoulders steady at 36s. Beef—India Mess steady at 100s.; extra do. dull at 110s; prime do. steady at 90s. Lard—Prime Western firmer at 50s. Tallow—Prime City dull at 43s. 3d. Spirits Turpentine firmer at 27s 6d. Resin—Common dull at 5s. 9d.; do. fine dull at 10s. 6d. Cheese—American, choice firmer at 60s. Lard-oil dull at 54s. Flour—Extra State dull at 25s. Wheat—No. 1 Spring dull at 9s. 11d.; No. 2 do. dull at 9s. 3d.; Winter dull at 9s. 7d. Corn—Soft Mixed firm at 26s.

12:15 P. M.—Cotton—Futures steady. 1-16d. dearer; Uplands, Low Middling clause, shipped October and November, sail 6⅝d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, November delivery, 6 11-16d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, shipped December and January, sail 6 23-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, shipped January and February, sail 6¾d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, March and April delivery, 6 21-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, shipped January and February, sail, 6 11-16d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, March and April delivery, 6 11-16d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, shipped February and March, sail 6¾d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, March and April delivery, 6⅝d. The receipts of Cotton to-day were 14,600 bales, of which 12,300 bales were American.

12:30 P. M.—Cotton—The market is firm; Middling Uplands, 6 11-16d.; Middling Orleans, 6⅞d.; sales, 15,000 bales, including 5,000 bales for speculation and export. Futures—Uplands, Low Middling clause, new crop, shipped December and January, sail, 6 11-16d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, new crop, shipped January and February, sail, 6¾d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, February and March delivery, 6⅝d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, March and April delivery, 6 11-16d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, April and May delivery, 6¾d.

2 P. M.—Cotton—Uplands, Low Middling, clause, December and January delivery, 6⅝d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, January and February delivery, 6⅝d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, new crop, shipped November and December, sail, 6 11-16d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, new crop, shipped November and December, sail, 6 21-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, new crop, shipped December and January, sail, 6 11-16d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, new crop, shipped February and March, sail, 6 25-32d.

2:30 P. M.—Cotton—Of the sales to-day 5,700 bales were American.

3 P. M.—Cotton—Futures closed slightly quieter.

4 P. M.—Beef, 90s. ₽ tc. for new Western.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—4 P. M.—Spirits of Turpentine 27s. ₽ cwt.

Evening.—Calcutta Linseed, 52s.@52s. 6d. The decline is in consequence of the abatement of war speculations and concurrent large arrivals.

ANTWERP, Nov. 11.—Petroleum closed at 58½f. for fine Pale American.

A MAD-MAN AT LARGE.

The London News of October 31, says: "A singular scene was witnessed in Little Guildford street, Southwark, on Saturday. It appears that on Wednesday a man returned to his home in that street from a lunatic asylum, where he had been confined for a long time. Nothing very particular occurred until Saturday, when he attracted the attention of a large crowd by marching rapidly up and down the street in front of the house, No. 17 Little Guildford street, saying he would bet any one 100 to 1, or 1,000 to 1, and using other meaningless expressions. After this he went into the house, and, arming himself with a handspike, commenced hacking down the windows of the second-floor room overlooking the street. A large crowd had by this time assembled, among them being three police officers, but none of them interfered. The next proceeding of the infuriated man was to throw the windows down into the street, fortunately without injuring any one. These were speedily followed by chairs, table and earthenware, all broken into pieces. Then came the bed and bedding and several other articles. He threw a kettle of hot water out of the window, and then the fire stove, which he wrenched out of its place, and broke into atoms. Then, with the handspike, the man broke away a lot of the brickwork, and the wood of the room, all being thrown on to the heap of débris below. The bystanders remonstrated with the police as to the advisability of taking the man into custody, but they—five in number by this time—declared themselves unable to touch the man, or to enter the house, as they had no warrant. To the horror of the crowd, the man then got out of the window and sat upon the ledge, dangling his legs in the air. About an hour and a half had now elapsed since the man commenced this strange behavior, which seemed plainly to show a loss of reason. Having sat on the window-sill for some minutes, he rushed from the room into the street. Then there was a scene of almost indescribable confusion, for though several persons tried to hold him, it was impossible, as he had no clothes on. One man, however, obtained a rope, and the poor madman was apparently captured. Being a powerful man he managed to escape, and ran from Guildford street to the Mint, followed by the mob and the police. Eventually he was stopped and surrounded, just at the door of the St. George's Workhouse, into which he was thrust. Here he became more violent, and kicked at those who surrounded him. At length he was bound, and Dr. Smith, of Newington-causeway, was called in to examine him. That gentleman pronounced him to be raving mad, and ordered his immediate removal to a place of safety. The man's wife eventually made her appearance, and stated that her husband, who has been a soldier, was named Jones, and had received a sunstroke, which had ended in a fit of madness. He had been in an asylum, and only on Wednesday last came home for a month, apparently recovered. She did not know of anything to cause the sudden outbreak. Shortly afterward Jones was taken by three Wardens and a Constable to the lunatic asylum at Brookwood."

THE ARCTIC EXPEDITION.

CAPT. NARES' REPORT TO THE ADMIRALTY.

THE SLEDGE CREWS TRAVELING NORTHWARD—EXTRAORDINARY THICKNESS OF THE ICE—GOING INTO WINTER QUARTERS—THE ALERT'S ATTEMPT TO FIND THE DISCOVERY—AN ARCTIC SLEDGE PARTY—SUFFERINGS OF THE CREWS.

From the London News, Oct. 30.

The two ships composing the Arctic Expedition, which left these shores in May of last year, under the command of Capts. Nares and Stephenson, with the hope of reaching the North Pole, have just returned, the Alert reaching Valentia on the 27th inst. The Discovery parted company on the 19th inst., with orders to rendezvous at Queenstown, where she has probably arrived. Instead of land extending far toward the north, as reported by the Polaris, Robeson Channel opens directly into the Polar Sea. Pushing to the northward beyond the channel the Alert was stopped by heavy ice, and compelled to pass the winter off an exposed coast, in latitude 82° 27′ north. The sledge crews, with very severe labor, traveling northward over extraordinarily heavy and broken up ice, were unable to advance beyond latitude 83° 20′, leaving a distance of 400 miles still to be traveled over before the Pole is reached. Owing to the travelers being unable to obtain game of any description, coupled with the extreme labor of the sledging, and assisted doubtless by the previous long winter's darkness, scurvy attacked nearly all the men employed in sledge traveling, resulting in three deaths—namely: George Porter, gunner, R. M. A., belonging to the Alert, and James Hand and Charles Paul, seamen belonging to the Discovery. Besides these, Neils Christian Petersen died on the 14th of May from the effects of a severe frost bite received while traveling two months previously. With these exceptions the expedition has been remarkably healthy, and all on board are now in good health. Between Melville Bay and the entrance to Smith Sound no ice was met; but on the 30th of July the pack was sighted off Cape Sabine, in latitude 78° 41′. Here the expedition was detained in Port Payer for several days; an attempt being made to proceed further northward by passing to the westward of the islands in Hayes Sound, but that opening not leading in the wished-for direction the ships returned. It is still uncertain whether a channel exists communicating with the western sea by Hayes Sound. The opening extends a considerable distance, but is narrowed by numerous islets, which prevent the ice from clearing out until late in the season. At last a start was made on the 6th of August, but before reaching the shore of Grinnell Land the ships were caught in the pack. After this date the progress to the northward was an incessant struggle with the ice, and although no single opportunity was lost, advance was only possible for short distances at a time whenever the wind or current formed lanes of water between the ice and the land. So close was the ice that on every occasion the water channel by which the ships advanced, very soon closed behind them, rendering it as difficult to return as to proceed north. On the 25th of August, after many hairbreadth escapes, a well sheltered harbor was reached on the west side of Hall's Basin, north of Lady Franklin Sound, in latitude 81 degrees 44 minutes north. Here the Discovery was secured for the Winter, a few miles north of Polaris Bay, which was in sight on the opposite side of the channel. The Alert pushing onward rounded the northeast point of "Grant Land," but instead of finding a continuous coastline leading 100 miles further toward the north, as every one had expected, found herself on the border of what was evidently a very extensive sea, with impenetrable ice on every side. No harbor being obtainable the ship was secured as far north as possible, inside a sheltering barrier of grounded ice, close to the land, and there she passed the Winter; during her stay of eleven months, no navigable channel of water permitting further advance to the northward ever presented itself. In lieu of finding an "open Polar sea," the ice was of most unusual age and thickness, resembling in a marked degree, both in appearance and formation, low floating icebergs rather than ordinary salt-water-ice. It has now been termed the "Sea of Ancient Ice"—the Palæocrystic or Palæocruic Sea; and a stranded mass of ice broken away from an icefloe has been named a floeberg. Whereas ordinary ice is usually from two to ten feet in thickness, that in the Polar Sea, in consequence of having so few outlets by which to escape to the southward in any appreciable quantity, gradually increases in age and thickness until it measures from eighty to one hundred and twenty feet, floating with its surface at the lowest part fifteen feet above the water-line.

Strange as it may appear, this extraordinary thickness of the ice saved the ship from being driven on shore; for, owing to its great depth of flotation, on nearing the shallow beach it grounded and formed a barrier inside which the ship was comparatively safe. When two pieces of ordinary ice are driven one against the other and the edges broken up, the crushed pieces are raised by the pressure into a high, long wall-like hedge of ice. When two of the ancient floes of the Polar Sea meet, the intermediate lighter broken-up ice which may happen to be floating about between them, alone suffers; it is pressed up between the two closing masses to a great height, producing a chaotic wilderness of angular blocks of all shapes and sizes, varying in height up to fifty feet above water, and frequently covering an area upward of a mile in diameter. Such an icy road, which was sure to be continuous, destroyed all hope of the Pole itself being reached by sledges. Nevertheless, it was determined by Capt. Nares to advance as far as possible, and during the Spring of this year a party, headed by Commander Markham and Lieut. Parr, made a most gallant and determined attempt. They were absent seventy-two days from the ship; and on the 12th of May succeeded in planting the British flag in latitude 83 degrees 20 minutes, 26 seconds north. From this position there was no appearance of land to the northward, but, curiously enough, the depth of water was found to be only seventy-two fathoms. Owing to the extraordinary nature of the pressed-up ice, a roadway had to be formed by pickaxes for nearly half the distance traveled before any advance could be safely made, even with light loads; this rendered it always necessary to drag the sledge loads forward by installments, and, therefore, to journey over the same road several times. The advance was, consequently, very slow, and only averaged about one mile and a quarter daily; in fact, much the same rate attained by Sir Edward Parry in his somewhat similar attempt during the Summer of 1827. Although the distance made good was only seventy-three miles from the ship, 276 miles were traveled over to accomplish it. It is quite impossible for any body of men ever to excel the praiseworthy perseverance displayed by this gallant party in their arduous struggle over the roughest and most monotonous road imaginable. Their journey, considering the ever-recurring difficulties, has eclipsed all former ones. The result of their severe labor proves the utter impracticability of traveling over the Polar Sea to any great distance from land, and also that Baron von Wrangel was perfectly correct in his expressed opinion that before the North Pole can be reached it is first necessary to discover a continuous coast line leading toward it. In the Autumn of last year, immediately the Alert was secured in Winter quarters, provisions and boats were advanced by sledge parties along the shore to the north and westward, ready for use by the traveling parties in the following Spring, the depot being established within a mile of the furthest north position hitherto reached by civilized man. On the 14th of October, two days after the sun had bid the expedition good-bye for an absence of 142 days, the travelers returned from their cold and arduous journey of twenty days' duration. Owing to a very heavy snow-storm, which, by protecting the sloppy ice from the intense frost, caused very wet traveling, a number of people were frost bitten in the feet, and three amputations were necessary—one officer and two of the men being the sufferers. Lieut. Aldrich, engaged in pioneering the way for the main party, which was led by Commander Markham, on the 27th of September, advanced three miles beyond Sir Edward Parry's most northern position, and from a mountain 2,000 feet high sighted land toward the west-north-west, extending to latitude eighty-three degrees seven minutes. No land was seen to the northward. Thus within four months of leaving England the mystery concerning the "open Polar Sea" was cleared up. The Alert, advancing to the limit of navigation, had reached a higher northern latitude than any ship had previously been able to attain, and a sledge party had proceeded a few miles beyond the position gained with so much labor and privation by the gallant men commanded by Sir Edward Parry and Sir James Ross, the Union Jack planted by them passing into the guard and keeping of their countrymen, to be again pushed forward in advance during the following Spring. Owing to the ice in the neighborhood remaining in motion until a late date the Discovery was unable to send away any sledge parties during the Autumn of 1875. The same reason prevented the Alert communicating with her consort, although the two ships were only seventy miles distant from each other, Lieut. Rawson making two most determined attempts to do so without success. Owing to the broken-up ice in Robeson Channel remaining unfrozen, he and his crew were obliged to pass the Winter on board the Alert. Owing to the high latitude attained—both the Alert and Discovery wintering further north than any ships had previously—the darkness of the Winter was of longer duration and greater intensity than had ever before been experienced. By this date last year they had already lost sight of the sun for seventeen days; but it was passed by all with much cheerfulness and in hopeful spirits, penny readings, theatricals, and songs in character, &c., being kept up regularly once a week, and a school on the lower deck being well attended by nearly all the crew, the officers being the teachers. The cold experienced during the early Spring was considerably greater than that in more southerly regions, and quite puts an end to the idea that "a warm country exists at the Pole, teeming with life." The lowest temperature observed was 72° below zero of Fahrenheit, or 104° below freezing point. The mean temperature for thirteen consecutive days was 59° below zero—by far the coldest weather ever experienced before, and the mercury was frozen forty-seven days during the winter. With the return of the sun on the 29th of February, after its long absence of nearly five months, preparations were made for the sledging campaign. On the 12th of March, Mr. Egerton and Lieutenant Rawson, accompanied by Petersen and the dog-sledge, started from the Alert to open communication with the Discovery; but, unhappily, on the second day out the latter was taken ill when the temperature was 40 degrees below zero. The camp was immediately pitched, but no improvement taking place the two officers were obliged to return to the ship. At the utmost risks and a noble disregard of themselves, they succeeded in retaining heat in the poor fellow's body by alternately lying one at a time alongside of him, while the other by exercise was recovering his warmth, and thus managed to bring him alive to the ship; but both feet were very badly frost-bitten, and he ultimately sank from exhaustion two months afterward. During the following week the same two officers, accompanied by Simmons, seaman of the Alert, and Regan, of the Discovery, in similar weather—the usual weather experienced by Arctic travelers in the early Spring—succeeded in reaching the Discovery, and relieving the doubt and anxiety of all on board her with regard to the proceedings and position of the Alert. When commiserated about their frost-bitten noses, cheeks, and fingers, Lieut. Rawson jovially replied, "Well, at last we feel that the cheers from Southsea beach have been fairly earned." All the travelers were started off during the first week in April, each ship being left with only half a dozen officers and men whose duties kept them on board. After that date sledges were continually arriving and departing, carrying forward provisions to be placed in depot ready for the return of the advanced parties. Capt. Stephenson, beside looking after his own division, visited the Alert, and also made two trips across Hall's Basin to Greenland, and Capt. Nares started off like the rest, with Capt. Feilden, naturalist to the expedition, immediately all the provision depots were complete along the line of route and the safety of the travelers insured. In fact, with the exception of the chaplains and senior medical officers, all were absent; the latter gentlemen, unfortunately, having more than enough to do taking care of their invalids. When at Polaris Bay Capt. Stephenson hoisted the American ensign and fired a salute as a brass tablet, which he and Capt. Nares had prepared in England, was fixed on Hall's grave. The plate bore the following inscription: "Sacred to the memory of Capt. C. F. Hall, of the United States ship Polaris, who sacrificed his life in the advancement of science on Nov. 8, 1871. This tablet has been erected by the British Polar Expedition of 1875, who, following in his footsteps, have profited by his experience." In addition to the dispatch of the northern travelers, the coast line to the westward of the Alert's position was traced for a distance of 220 miles by a party under the command of Lieut. Aldrich; the extreme position reached was in latitude 82 degrees 10 minutes north, longitude 86 degrees 30 minutes west, the coast line being continuous from the Alert's Winter quarters. The most northern land, Cape Columbia, is in latitude 83 degrees 7 minutes north, longitude 70 degrees 30 minutes west. The coast of Greenland was explored by traveling parties from the Discovery, under the command of Lieuts. Beaumont and Rawson; they succeeded in reaching a position in latitude 82 degrees 18 minutes north, longitude 50 degrees 40 minutes west, seventy miles north-east of Repulse Harbor. The land extended as far as latitude 82 degrees 54 minutes north, longitude 48 degrees 33 minutes west, but very misty weather prevented its character being determined with exactness. Lieut. Archer, with a party from the Discovery, explored Lady Franklin Sound, proving that it terminates at a distance of Sixty-five miles from the mouth, with lofty mountains and glacier-filled valleys to the westward. Lieut. Fulford and Dr. Coppinger explored Petermann Fjord, finding it blocked up with a low glacier, which extends across from shore to shore. With the exception of Hayes Sound, the coast line of Smith Sound has now been explored from north to south.

To give some idea of the amount of work entailed in sending out an Arctic sledge party, and advancing provisions for their sustenance, it may be mentioned that, in order to support the extended travelers on the north coast of Greenland, and those examining Petermann Fjord, Robeson Channel was crossed eleven times from the Alert's position to a depot established north of Cape Brevoort, and Hall's Basin eleven times between Discovery Bay and Polaris Bay, making a total of twenty-two sledge parties crossing the Straits, including the transporting of two boats. The main depot at Cape Joseph Henry, for the support of the northern and western divisions, thirty-seven miles from the Alert, was visited by sixteen different sledges. All the Polaris cairns were visited. At the boat depot in Newman's Bay a box chronometer by Negus, New-York, was found to be in perfect order after an exposure of four Winters; it has since been keeping excellent time on board the Discovery. Some wheat sent out in the Polaris in order to ascertain whether it would deteriorate when exposed to extreme cold has been grown successfully under a glass shade by Dr. Belgrave Nennis. During the absence of the travelers, owing to their inability to procure any fresh game, as most former expeditions had done, an attack of scurvy broke out in each of the extended sledge parties when at their furthest distance from any help. The return journeys were therefore a prolonged struggle homeward of gradually weakening men, the available force to pull the sledge constantly decreasing, and the weight to be dragged as steadily increasing as one after another the invalids were stricken down and had to be carried by their weakened comrades. Lieut. Parr, setting out for a lonely heroic walk of thirty-five miles, over soft snow and the heavy broken-up ice, guiding himself in the mist by the fresh track of a roaming wolf, brought intelligence to the Alert of the prostration of the Northern division. Relief was immediately sent out, officers and men alike dragging the sledges; but, unfortunately, the parties did not meet in time to save the life of the man who died, and who had been buried by the roadside in the thick ice only a few hours previously. On arriving on board, out of the original seventeen men, five only—the two officers and three men, Radmore, Jolliffe, and Maskell—were able to work; three others—Laurence, Harley, and Winston—cheerfully but painfully struggled on with alpenstocks, and were just able to walk on board; the remainder, being perfectly helpless, were carried on sledges. The Greenland and Western divisions not returning on the day appointed, relief was sent to meet them, and on each occasion it arrived just in the nick of time. In the Western party, Lieut. Aldrich and one man, Adam Ayles, out of a crew of seven, remained at the drag ropes. In the Greenland division, when met by Lieut. Rawson and Dr. Coppinger, Lieut. Beaumont, Alexander Grey, ice quartermaster, and Frank Jones, stoker, were dragging forward their four helpless comrades, two at a time, as best they could, thankful if they advanced only half a mile a day. Before arrival at the Polaris depot Grey and Jones were obliged to fall out, leaving the three officers alone at the drag ropes; the dog sledge, under Hans, the Esquimaux, who has been of the utmost service to the Expedition, helping to advance the invalids two at a time. The two who died just succeeded in reaching Polaris Bay and sighting the hills above their Arctic home on the opposite side of the Channel, before their spirits were called away. They were buried near Hall's grave. Notwithstanding the deplorable state to which all these men were reduced, immediately fresh food was procurable they steadily recovered, the last man being clear of the doctor's hands two months afterward. However vivid the description may be, it is difficult for a stranger to the surrounding circumstances and scenery to realize the condition and appearance of these prostrated bands of men—separated by long distances, their sufferings were totally unknown to each other or at head-quarters on board their respective ships; and yet one and all displayed the same courageous pluck, and, in spite of their general collapse, remained faithful to their duty, resolutely struggling onward, determined to hold to each other to the last, their ardor in no way checked as the difficulties of their journey increased, and their manful determination increasing as greater sacrifices were demanded. After their trials and sufferings there can no longer be any difficulty in understanding the statement concerning Sir John Franklin's men, as made by the Esquimaux to Sir Leopold M'Clintock: "They fell down and died as they walked along." This is by no means the first occasion of Arctic travelers being stricken, and the disease is clearly traceable to the absence of fresh meat, even preserved meat being insufficient to keep off its attacks when severe labor is demanded. The Greenland party, falling back on the Polaris depot, remained there until the men had recovered, and did not finally recross the Strait until after the ice had broken up. Ancient Esquimaux remains were traced on the west side of Smith Sound up to latitude eighty-one degrees fifty-two minutes north. From that position the wanderers had evidently crossed the channel at its narrowest part to Greenland. The most diligent search was made further north, but no trace of them discovered. Six musk oxen were shot at the Alert's Winter quarters, and three half way between her position and that of the Discovery, while fifty-four were shot near Discovery Bay. The remaining items in the Alert's game list at her northern station show seven hares and ninety birds of different kinds, the latter shot only in July. The birds certainly do not migrate beyond Cape Joseph Henry, latitude eighty-two degrees, fifty minutes north. Very few besides those accounted for by the sportsmen passed the Alert. It being light night and day each flock was readily seen, as they followed each other directly over the ship along the land. Very few seals were seen north of Cape Union, and no bears, dovekies, or looms ever reach the Polar Sea. In fact, "the Arctic Sea teeming with life" has been proved a fallacy. It is rather a desert; and it may well be said, "Here life ends." Among other birds visiting the country, but not advancing beyond the point mentioned, are the knots. Although no nests or eggs were found, the young in all stages of growth were obtained. The ice in the Polar Sea remained firm until the 20th of July, when there was a movement, increasing with each tide. On the 31st the Alert succeeded in leaving her Winter quarters, and, after many struggles with the ice, joined company with the Discovery on the 12th of August. The Greenland sledging party, under Lieut. Beaumont, crossed the channel and arrived at Discovery Bay on the 14th, having been carried a long way south by the ice. Lady Franklin Sound remained closed until the 20th, when, a chance occurring, both ships were pushed into the ice, and succeeded in crossing. After this date the same kind of battle and slow progress took place daily between the ships and the ice as during the passage north, every inch gained being of importance, as the ice closed in the rear. Occasionally a few tantalizing leads of water presented themselves in the offing, but Capt. Nares would not be induced to leave the shore. As the season advanced, or rather slipped away, many were the fluctuations in the social barometers as hope and fears rose and fell, for it was not until the 9th of September, the very last of the season, that the mouth of Hayes Sound was crossed, and the expedition again rejoiced in "open water." On visiting the cairn at Cape Isabella a few letters were found which had been left a few weeks previously by Capt. Allen Young in the Pandora. Not knowing at the time that the heavy mail had been left at Littleton Island, on the opposite side of the Strait, a course was shaped for the Carey Islands, but bad weather prevented the letters known to be there from being obtained, and the ships sailed onward to Disco, where they arrived on the 25th of September, and heard that they had left all their letters and parcels behind them far to the north, where they will probably remain for years to come. In the neighborhood of the Discovery's Winter quarters a seam of coal of good quality and readily worked was discovered by Mr. Hart, naturalist, but, unfortunately, not before the present Summer; otherwise it might have been of service during the Winter, when the allowance of that article on board was necessarily kept as low as possible. Capt. Feilden obtained some fine fossil corals at the extreme northern hills. Very large collections of natural history subjects have been made by the naturalists, assisted by one and all of the officers and crew. The dredge and trawl were used on several occasions with great success.

THANKSGIVING.

PROCLAMATION BY GOV. RICE, OF MASSACHUSETTS.

For nearly two hundred years the people of Massachusetts have set apart a day in each Autumnal season for the special celebration of their love and gratitude to the Lord of the harvest for His blessing upon the labors of the husbandman, and for the ingathering of the fruits of the earth.

In continuance of this ancient and pious example I hereby appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Council, Thursday, the 30th day of November, inst., to be observed as a day of thanksgiving and praise to Almighty God for the bounties of His providence and the riches of His grace.

With fervent hearts and melodious songs let the people of the Commonwealth on that day turn from secular avocations to the temples of the Lord. O, go your way into His gates with thanksgiving, and into His courts with praise; be thankful unto Him and speak good of His name! For the Lord is gracious, His mercy is everlasting, and His truth endureth from generation to generation.

Praise Him that the Republic, with increasing vigor and strength, has passed its Centennial Anniversary, and is consecrated anew in the affection and patriotism of its people; that the Commonwealth abides by the principles of justice, of liberty, and of charity; that in the brighter illumination which knowledge is shedding through the world science appears as the handmaid of religion, and the visible universe as the interpreter and counterpart of revelation. Let us praise Him for freedom from pestilence and famine. Praise Him for whatever measure of success has attended the pursuits of our people; for the liberality of those who have come to the relief of honest poverty; for the courage and fortitude which has sustained the unemployed and the disappointed, and for the cheering tokens of returning prosperity. Praise Him for the blessings of peace and fellowship with all mankind; for every triumph of virtue; for every vice forsaken, and for the holy gifts and influences which strengthen and refresh the soul. And, finally, let us praise Him for all the perils that are past, for the faith that survives, and for the inspiring and beckoning hopes of immortality.

Given at the Council Chamber in Boston on this first day in November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and first.

ALEXANDER H. RICE.

By his Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Council.

HENRY B. PEIRCE, Secretary.

God save the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

GOV. HAYES' PROCLAMATION.

The proclamation of Gov. Hayes for a day of thanksgiving and praise reads thus: "Under the favor of Divine Providence, the people of Ohio during the past year have been greatly blessed. Their harvests have been abundant. Health and peace have dwelt by their firesides. Law and order have been maintained. Education has been free to all the youth of the State, and civil liberty and the consolations of religious liberty have been enjoyed undisturbed. For all these blessings we should be filled with gratitude to Almighty God. Now, therefore, in conformity with the wise usage established by our fathers, I, Rutherford B. Hayes, Governor of the State of Ohio, do hereby designate Thursday, the 30th day of November, A. D. 1876, as a day of thanksgiving to God, and do recommend that on that day the people abstain from their usual avocations, and devote themselves to appropriate expressions of rejoicing and thankfulness, not forgetting out of their abundance to succor the needy and comfort the unfortunate."

AN OPERATOR'S DEVICE.

The Saratogian tells this: "Now we have a piece of news, and, as it comes over the wires from Troy, of course it must be reliable. It is this: The manager of one of the telegraph offices, anxious to suit both parties, has had printed on a large card 'Tilden elected' and on the other side 'Hayes elected.' When he gets a Democratic message he displays 'Tilden elected' on the bulletin-board, and when he receives a Republican majority he flops the card over and electrifies the gazers with 'Hayes elected.' He flops it every thirty minutes whether he gets any news or not."

WHAT THE MAILS BRING.

THE BELGIAN RAILWAY MURDER.

DETAILS OF A SUPPOSED TERRIBLE CRIME—HOW A PRISONER ESCAPED FROM HIS KEEPER—REARREST OF THE MAN—A CURIOUS NARRATION.

The foreign papers give the following particulars of a case which was referred to some days since in our cable dispatches: The Indépendance Belge says: It is established now that when the gendarme Meeus left the train at the risk of his life, his prisoner was no longer there. The dead body of the Quartermaster (Maréchal des logis) was picked up two or three minutes after the train had passed, at a distance of about two hundred metres from the Sness bridge, which separates the districts of Tronchiennes and Ghent. The body was found on its back; it had been thrown forward three or four times along the road, where marks were visible. It was found at a distance of fifteen or twenty metres from the place where it first touched the ground. The head was seriously injured, and the blood was running from it freely. There was found on Meeus none of the documents relative to the arrest of Aublin or the orders he was carrying out, but a revolver, handcuffs, his purse, containing money, and his watch. His waistcoat and the upper part of his shirt were unbuttoned, as if they had been torn open. Aublin had leaped from the train while it was running at full speed at a distance of three or four hundred metres from the spot where Meeus was found. The road, the level of which had been raised by slag and ashes, showed marks similar to those at the spot where Meeus was found, but they were not so deep and spread over a larger surface. If the speed of the train at the time was twelve leagues an hour, it will follow that Meeus had jumped from the train half a minute after his prisoner. The suggestion is made that the gendarme could not have taken his leap with the same dexterity as the assassin. In the first place, the dress of the gendarmerie is rather heavy. Again, it is probable that, in order to make his escape, Aublin took advantage of a moment when the officer had fallen asleep, and leaped to avoid danger with his face toward the locomotive. The gendarme, on the other hand, quickly woke up by the noise, and no longer seeing his prisoner, may have lost all self-possession, and leaped without considering what he was doing, not toward the locomotive but toward the prisoner, seen, perhaps, not far from the train, but behind it. Under these circumstances the leap must have been fatal.

It is asked what has become of Aublin. The Flandre Libérale considers the question, and gives the following answer: "Aublin did not remain on the way. He did not fall; he did not in any way injure himself, but he ran backward in a direction contrary to that of the train—that is to say, away from Ghent—and then he jumped over a hedge, which bounds the way, and walking alongside of it, leaving the marks of his feet, and afterward crossing a field, he was spoken to twice by a working man, who was surprised to see him, and to whom he made no reply. The workman spoke Flemish. Aublin walked in front of him with a firm step, and with his hands in his pockets. It was about 6 o'clock at the time. Continuing along the road which he had entered, Aublin arrived at Tronchiennes. He appears to have rested for a short time there in the house of a carpenter. Then, avoiding the great roads and taking a footpath which runs along the Lys, behind the great Jesuit establishment, he reached the second iron bridge over the Lys and the stone bridge of Tronchiennes. There he tried to make a bargain with the guard, who was alone, for the sale of his watch. They came to an agreement, but the guard had to take back Aublin to his house, a quarter of a league from the place, in order to get the 12 francs he had agreed to give him. By a singular coincidence Aublin returned toward midday in this way to the very place where the working man had spoken to him in the morning, and at a distance of a few hundred yards, gendarmes were at the very time examining the spot where the body of Meeus had been picked up. It was not known at the time that a prisoner had escaped. The sale of the watch, however, gave rise to suspicion. Aublin protested, in the most emphatic manner, that it was not stolen property. He received the twelve francs and went away without being followed. The description given by the persons who saw him is in exact conformity with that issued by the Police, and there can be little doubt of his identity. It is, moreover, known that about 12:15 be crossed the Lys at the Passage d'Eau du Patyntje, afterward taking the road which leads to the town. It is not known what direction he took as he approached Ghent.

On Saturday and Sunday the Police examined the spot. On Monday morning the report was spread in Ghent that the escaped murderer had been arrested at Lakeren; but it appears that this news was as inaccurate as the statement of his arrest at Nevole. On Monday evening it was stated that the Police were on his track, that he could not escape, and that in twenty-four hours he would be in custody.

The remains of Meeus were removed from Ghent to Brussels, to be buried with military honors in the cemetery of St. Giles. Meeus was about thirty-five years of age, unmarried, lived in the Gendarmes Barrack on the Boulevard Waterloo, and he was specially employed in connection with extradition cases. It was he who, in the beginning of the current year, was intrusted with the removal to Brussels of Eugene T'Kint de Roodenbeke. The escape of the prisoner Aublin is said to have been a source of much expense to the public Belgian Treasury. In fact, more than six thousand dispatches have been sent from Brussels alone to foreign countries, including America, in order to circulate the descriptions and other information relative to the tragedy at Tronchiennes. To be added to this are the traveling expenses of persons employed to make inquiries, and the expense of correspondence, printing, postage, &c.

A dispatch to the London Times says the murderer Aublin, who was delivered by the English Government into the hands of the Belgian officials on Friday last, and who murdered the officer in charge of him on the journey to Brussels and effected his escape, has been again arrested at Lille. He denies all participation in the murder of the teacher at Sivry and his servant. Aublin, who was born at Warmond, near Dunkirk, demands to be tried by the French tribunals. His father was a Belgian, but selected French nationality. The accused cannot, therefore, be delivered up without the consent of the authorities in France. Contrary to what the English papers state, no trace of the strife was noticed in the railway carriage. A resident of Courtrai, (Belgium,) informed the Police of the presence of Aublin at Lille, having recognized him outside a railway station, and charged him with being the murderer, on which the man hastened off to the train. At Lille he was met by one of his compatriots, who said, "I thought you had been guillotined in Belgium." Aublin replied, "I was arrested, but afterward released; will you lend me ten francs to go to Amiens?" This conversation being told to the Police of Lille led to the immediate arrest of the murderer.

A BRIDGE-TENDER STARTLED.

A narrow escape from death is thus described by the Sacramento (Cal.) Union of the 4th inst.: "The bridge-tender's office, at the Yolo and Sacramento bridge, was until yesterday supported in the rear by scantling nailed to strips, which were fastened to the large sycamore trees that stand close by the building. About 7:30 yesterday morning, while Mr. Hoagland, one of the toll-collectors, was sitting in the office, his chair leaning against the back door, the rear of the structure suddenly fell three or four feet, and doubtless would have fallen several feet further to the ground and been wrecked but for its becoming braced against the trees. At the moment of the fall, Hoagland endeavored to spring upon his feet, but failed, tumbling upon the floor, and at the same second a heavy iron safe started from its position and would have been precipitated upon him but for an axe falling against one of the handles in such a manner as to prevent further movement. An investigation of the cause of the accident showed that the earth at the base of the trees, and in fact at the eastern end of the bridge generally, is being washed away by the current of the river, which the recently-constructed wingdam on the Yolo side, opposite the old mouth of the American, is turning sharply toward the Sacramento shore. The washing away of the earth partially undermined the trees, and one of them had leaned over so far that the supports of the building were torn from it."

EARLY STEAMBOATING.

Somebody has discovered an old manuscript letter, written by a young gentleman in Albany, N. Y., in November, 1807, to his grandmother. Among other things, which he tells his aged relative, is the latest river news of the day. He says, a boat has just been put upon the river, to carry passengers to and from New-York City, having side-wheels, driven by steam, able to make the passage in about ten hours, and capable of carrying fifty or sixty passengers at a time; the price of a passage being twelve dollars! He adds, that in competition with this fast and dear boat, a very nice sloop, with fine accommodations, had been put on the river, to carry passengers for seven dollars.

A WICKED FRENCH WOMAN.

From the London News.

The proverbial obstinacy of the Bretons has been illustrated by the vindictive conduct of a Mme. Kergout, of Perros Girec. In 1852 Mme. Kergout was living with her idiot daughter in a house which she hired from people called Guézennec, and was condemned to fifteen years' penal servitude for willful fire-raising in the house of a farmer who had dismissed her from his employment. In 1863 Mme. Kergout came back to Perros Girec with a ticket of leave, and settled down again in the home of the Guézennecs. Her family hoped that she had reformed, and meant to live down her bad reputation, expiating her sins by a life of sober industry in the scenes of her youthful follies. These bright hopes were clouded last year by the discovery that Mme. Kergout still lurked about her neighbors' outhouses with lucifer matches in her pockets. She was spoken severely to by the Mayor and the Brigadier of the rural Police, and it was hoped that she had at last abandoned her favorite project of "setting even the ponds on fire." Unluckily, the ruling passion broke out once more in July last, when Mme. Kergout deliberately set a light to the mansion of the Guézennecs. She has been condemned to twenty years' imprisonment and twenty years of police surveillance, and, as she is now fifty-seven years old, it is probable that the restrictions of forty years will gradually beget in her the habit of not burning down people's houses. At least, if she persists in doing so, at the age of ninety-seven, she will exceed even the obstinacy of a Breton.

A BABY SHOW IN TEXAS.

CHARACTERISTICS OF THE YOUTHFUL COMPETITORS.

From the San Antonio Herald, Nov. 4.

The baby show took place yesterday afternoon at the Pagoda on the Fair Grounds, and in the second story of it, which, by the way, reminds one of the hurricane-deck of a steamboat, and the number and violence of the squalls did not go far to dispel the illusion. In order to encourage Mr. Samuel Bennett, who provided the prize perambulator, about nineteen babies had put in their appearances. These said babies, in the goodness of their hearts, had also brought the mothers along, and these ladies seemed to take as much interest in the show as the babies themselves. We suppose the babies brought their mothers along to keep them out of mischief. Besides the babies and the young mothers, there were quite a number of ladies and gentlemen present who were not babies, and had not been babies for some time, who came because they once had been babies, and wished to find out if the human race was not deteriorating.

There were various styles of babies there. There was the serene contemplative baby that quietly devoured the landscape with its eyes. When that kind of baby grows up he becomes a heavy taxpayer and accumulates real estate, and is regarded, and justly too, as highly respectable. Then there was the disorderly baby, that punches its mother in the nose, and snatches everybody who comes near it baldheaded, and is as disorderly as a cage full of wildcats. In after life that style of baby climbs the ladder of fame as a policeman or as a desperado. There we noticed, too, the smiling baby. It made friends with perfect strangers twenty yards distant. It would take an earthquake to stop that style of child from crowing. When that kind of child grows up he becomes popular, and is elected Justice of the Peace or United States Senator, like Gov. Coke. Then, too, there was the hungry infant that called for the bill of fare. When that kind of child becomes fully developed, mentally and physically, it becomes contemplative, joins the ministry, and becomes a terror to Spring chickens. There were several other styles of baby, but we can't devote so much space to such small fry. We have not mentioned how the female babies would turn out on account of the uncertainty of the sex.

There was some difficulty in obtaining judges to pass on the infants. Whenever a gentleman was requested to act as a judge, he was singularly unanimous in refusing to bring down on himself the wrath of the babies who might not get the perambulator. As it was absolutely certain that there would not be less than seventeen of those enraged cherubs, we do not blame them so much after all. Besides, these insulted little cubs have mothers, fathers and other relatives. No wonder there was a certain unwillingness to intrude.

At last five heroic men were found to act as judges.

The mothers seated themselves in a circle, with their infants on their laps, the judges made the rounds on trembling limbs, gazed falteringly at each infant, and then with blanched faces, consulted hurriedly together, cast their ballots, looking over their shoulders at the determined faces of the mothers, and then hurried down the stairs and out of the Pagoda, and are by this time doubtless safe in some country that has no extradition treaty with the United States. It was understood that the awards would not be called until the judges had ten minutes start.

We would like to make some extended suggestions on this subject, but space prohibits. If we were one of the judges, no matter how rounded the limbs of an infant might be, no matter how many dimples it sported on its chin, it might smile like a lady with a new set of false teeth, and might be able to play one of Beethoven's immortal symphonies on a piano besides, it would never get our vote unless its father made affidavit that he had never walked it about at night, and it was regular and decorous in its behavior toward all the members of the family. That is the style of baby that ought to be encouraged. That's the kind of baby that deserves perambulators and mugs and kind words in the papers. It may have red hair and speckled complexion, but it is nevertheless the only style of baby that is really a well-spring of joy to its parents and a credit to the community.

A COURT INCIDENT.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM A FORCED ADJOURNMENT SINE DIE.

From the Sandusky (Ohio) Register, Nov. 8.

A very singular affair in the history of our Common Pleas Court occurred yesterday. On Monday Judge Watson adjourned the court until yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. It was expected that at that hour Judge Finefrock would be here to open the session, but that afternoon Prosecuting Attorney Lee received advices from Judge Finefrock, who had gone to Fremont, to the effect that he had been taken ill suddenly at his residence, a mile and a half from the city, and could not come here to open court that day. This caused quite a flutter among the attorneys. The case of The State vs. John Martin, Jr., of Kelley's Island, who is under indictment for assaulting William McGettigan, of that island, with intent to kill him, had been set for trial that day, and the witnesses were all in the court-room awaiting the coming of Judge Finefrock. If he or Judge Watson failed to be here and the court were not opened that day, the Common Pleas Court of Erie County, according to the provisions of the law, would stand adjourned for the present term, and all the criminal cases set for trial would of course be continued to the next term. This was a pretty state of affairs, and, as a matter of course, the legal fraternity were considerably exercised over it. Telegrams were sent to Judge Watson, who was holding court at Fremont, asking him to come here as quickly as possible and open and adjourn court. According to law this could be done any time before 12 o'clock last night. Immediately on receipt of information in relation to the situation, Judge Watson left Fremont on the cars, but could come no further by rail than Clyde. At the latter place he hired a team of good horses and a driver, and as it was then very late, he made the man drive the horses as rapidly as they could go, in order to reach here before midnight. He arrived at the Court-house at twenty minutes to 12 o'clock, and hurrying into the court-room, where the Sheriff and Prosecuting Attorney were waiting for him, he opened and adjourned the court as the law directs, and thus averted a forced sine die adjournment. It was a pretty close call, but the Judge was equal to the emergency and got here on time. The court was adjourned until Monday morning at 7 o'clock. Judge Watson left here for Clyde in his carriage shortly after 12 o'clock last night. He will proceed from Clyde to Fremont and hold court there to-day.

INCIDENTS OF WARFARE.

TWO CIRCUMSTANCES RELATED IN DETAIL.

The correspondent of the London News writes: "I heard him tell Salusbury to accompany him, and not knowing whither he was bound, I asked permission to go also. It turned out that the General was really going across the shell-swept slopes to order the guns out of action, a fact which I only discovered when it was too late to retire from the companionship with decency. I do not care to speak of the shell fire through which we rode, and under which we sat on horseback, while the General commanded the retreat of the guns and then took a leisurely view of the situation. But two circumstances occurred on this side which I may venture to detail. As we were riding forward, a shell struck and burst about fifty yards in front of us, and a splinter, pursuing the initial direction of the parent shell, whizzed over our heads, describing a parabola, and struck behind us. When a shell explodes the splinters fly centrifugally upward, and do not extend over a wide area, and I never before knew an instance of a piece of a shell retaining the impulse and continuing the direction of the projectile of which it formed a part. I called the attention of Gen. Dochtouroff to the circumstance, and his experience that it was unique coincided with mine. The other occurrence is this: After we had ridden back some distance, but while shells were still falling beyond us, I diverged from the road to ascend a sharp little knoll close by, that I might take a final look at the aspect of affairs. As I sat on horseback on the summit, I saw the white puff of smoke from one of the guns of the Turkish battery that was firing the shells which had been falling about. Some instinct—not quite a soldierly one, I admit—struck me that this shell would fall near, and that I might just as well get into safety by descending the reverse side of the hillock. The mental process was a quick one, and the physical act following thereon was promptly carried out. I spurred the little horse down the steep reverse slope, and just as I had descended so far that I could not see over the summit, the shell struck and burst, covering me with fragments of turf. I reascended, to find it had exploded on the very spot on which my horse had been standing, and that the explosion had obliterated his footprints. I have known men to be saved by throwing themselves quickly down when in the vicinity of an exploding shell, but I never knew an instance of a man saving himself by moving his position into shelter after the actual discharge of the projectile. I should add that the range was a long one."

BRAVERY APPRECIATED.

The Baltimore Sun says that one pleasant incident of the late Confederate Army meeting in Richmond, Va., was the loud applause with which the "boys who wore the gray" greeted a graceful eulogy in the speech of the orator of the occasion upon the gallantry of a Federal Lieutenant and Sergeant at the battle of the crater, near Petersburg. After the mine was fired and the Union troops were awaiting the explosion to advance upon the Confederate lines, an unexpected hindrance delayed the explosion, but what it was no one could conjecture. If the fuse was still alight, burning but slowly, to enter the mine was certain death. Time thus dragged slowly on, when, said the speaker, "two brave men, whose names should be mentioned with respect wherever courage is honored, Lieut. Jacob Douty and Sergt. Henry Rees, both of the Forty-eighth Pennsylvania, volunteered for the perilous service, and entered the mine. Crawling on their hands and knees, groping in utter darkness, they found that the fuse had gone out about one hundred feet from the mouth of the main gallery. They relighted it, and retired." The mention of this incident drew applause from the battle-scarred veterans of Virginia, who had been in the same fight with these gallant Pennsylvanians, showing how brave men respect each other.

THE NORTH SEA CANAL.

A WORK NEXT IN IMPORTANCE TO THE SUEZ CANAL—A NEW HARBOR IN HOLLAND.

A correspondent of the London News writes from Haarlem as follows: "Next Wednesday, the 1st of November, will be opened by the King of Holland, in person, the greatest engineering work which this country, so prolific in such works, has ever undertaken. The shipping world is well aware that hitherto the only way to Amsterdam for vessels of more than five feet draft is the North Holland Canal, connecting that town with the Helder, or Nieuwe Diep. It was constructed in the reign of William I., is fifty-one miles long, very tortuous and narrow, and only available for vessels drawing sixteen feet of water. The idea of joining Amsterdam with the sea by a direct communication, had long been entertained and investigated by various committees, and, though many were incredulous of its ever being possible to carry on such a work, a commission was given in 1861. In 1863 a company was formed, and in 1865 the firm undertook the execution of the entire work, for a sum not far short of two and a half million sterling. This great enterprise may be said to consist of three parts:

First. The shutting out of the tidal waters of the Zuyder Zee from the Lake Y, (pronounced I,) situated to the west of Amsterdam. Secondly. The making of the canal proper. Thirdly. The making of a harbor on the shore of the North Sea, at the entrance of the canal. The first part consists of a sea-dyke, cutting off the waters of the Zuyder Zee to the east of Amsterdam, which is intercepted by large locks having three basins and a pumping station containing three powerful pumps. The locks are for the use of the numerous small craft and fishing smacks sailing from Amsterdam to the different towns on the shores of the Zuyder Zee, and the pumps are for keeping the water in the canal at its proper level. The sea dyke is admitted to be the finest of its kind in the kingdom. Great difficulty was encountered in making it, the ground on which it stands being so soft, and for the same reason the cofferdam broke through during the construction of the locks. The engines and pumps are the largest in Holland, being each 75 horse-power, and discharging together over 74,000 cubic feet of water per minute.

The second part consists of cutting the canal through the sandhills, or dunes, near the North Sea, and of the construction there of large locks with two basins, the bigger one being able to accommodate vessels 390 feet long, 59 feet wide, and drawing 27 feet of water. Nearly eight million cubic yards of sand have been removed from this part of the canal alone. It then passes through the Lake Y, where banks had to be made on each side, and the channel dredged to its proper depth. This was done in a very ingenious and quite novel way, by attaching centrifugal pumps to bucket-dredgers, and by their means passing the sand through rough pipes to a distance sometimes of 400 yards and more. Five million cubic yards of dredging had to be done in this part originally, but on account of the company being continually called upon to sluice off the water by the North Sea locks to prevent the flooding of Amsterdam, siltage was brought into the canal to the extent of nearly three million cubic yards. The land on each side of the canal has been reclaimed, and has fetched enormously high prices, amounting in some cases to £120 an acre. There are nearly 12,500 acres of reclaimed land, and by the concession they become the property of the company. The canal will, when fully completed, be 23 feet deep, 20 yards wide at bottom, and have a varying width of from 70 to 130 yards. Its length is sixteen miles.

The third portion consists of making a harbor on the coast at the entrance of the canal. This has been done by running out two jetties, each 1,800 yards long. They start on the shore at a distance from each other of 1,300 yards, and converge so as to leave an entrance 290 yards in width. These jetties are built by concrete blocks, forming a wall with a top-width of twenty-two feet, and have a foreshoring of loose blocks on the sea-side. The great experience gained by the construction of the magnificent Admiralty Pier at Dover availed but little for the shifting sand of the Dutch coast, and great difficulties had in the commencement to be overcome. Mr. Hutton succeeded in doing this completely, by designing and constructing a huge movable crane, which answered every requirement, and did away with the usual staging or scaffolding, which in this shifting ground it was impossible to work with. An idea of these piers may be formed by the fact that they will, when quite finished, have consumed over 640,000 tons of concrete. The south pier, which is the most forward, and practically completed, is a perfect work of its kind, and does great credit to its constructors. The area of the harbor inclosed by these piers is about 250 acres, a great portion of which has to be dredged to its proper depth. For this purpose a novel kind of dredger is in use, consisting of a centrifugal pump, called a "Titan," which raises the sand together with a certain proportion of water, and discharges it in the barges, where the sand sinks to the bottom and the water flows over.

A glance at the map will show the value and importance of this harbor. It is situated just halfway between the Hoek van Holland (entrance into Rotterdam) and the Helder or Nieuwe Diep, which are nearly 100 miles apart. This forms the only refuge for vessels between these two places along this barren and sandy coast. The canal and harbor were already so far advanced in the latter part of September as to allow of the passage of the ironclad turret-ship Koning der Nederlanden, the largest and most recent addition to the Dutch Navy. Since then many other steamers and yachts have passed out of Amsterdam this way. Trade having been greatly on the decline of late years, the opening of this new waterway has raised great expectations in the mercantile community of Amsterdam, and great preparations are being made for the due celebration of this important event.

A MUSICAL OPOSSUM.

The Wilmington (Del.) Republican says: "A young opossum got away from a farmer in the King Street Market on Wednesday morning and hid itself away in the organ in the Sunday-school of the Hanover Presbyterian Church. In the evening the school met and practiced, and the music so worked upon the opossum, who was nearly under the pedal, that he kept time to the sound of the music with his tail, which attracted the attention of a gentleman sitting near, who at first thought it was a snake, and was in fear that it would bite the lady performer. When the exercises were through the opossum was pulled out from his hiding place and held up by his appendage to the view of the curious ones, who had by this time gathered around."

THE COMING LAMBETH SYNOD.

The London Post says almost every Bishop in communion with the See of Canterbury, has either replied to or accepted the invitation to be present at the coming Lambeth Synod. Independent of official answers to the Archbishop, many American and colonial Bishops have been in frequent communication with various members of the home episcopate on the subject. Some of the most influential of the American Prelates have made it a condition of their presence and co-operation that all subjects of pressing and common interest and importance shall remain perfectly free and open for discussion. Some have likewise expressed a hope that the members of the forthcoming Synod may not again be officially excluded from Westminster Abbey. Among the subjects not unlikely to be considered are the restoration of the Athanasian Creed to the service-book of the American Church, and the construction of rules and services for the guidance and worship of religious brotherhoods and sisterhoods. Final appeals in doctrinal questions, as regards the colonial and American Churches, will also be considered.

A KENTUCKY WEDDING INCIDENT.

The Georgetown (Ky.) Times says: "On Wednesday night last, about twenty miles north of Georgetown, near the Harrison County line, Dee Nash became engaged in a difficulty with a man by the name of Switzer, who keeps a hotel. A wedding was in progress at the time. When Nash, who was a former partner of Switzer, called at the door. Switzer refused him admittance; Nash told him to put down his pistol, for he was armed, too. Switzer then drew a pistol from behind and fired; Nash wheeled and returned the fire, striking Switzer in the mouth, knocking out two teeth, the ball coming out of the jaw. Nash then turned to run; Switzer fired a second shot, striking Nash in the back, the ball coming out through the breast. Both parties were doing well at last accounts.

A GIRL POISONER.

The Hartford Times, of Friday, says: "Ellen Been, a young girl of sixteen, was arrested in North Stamford, on Thursday, on a charge of attempting to kill her father by poisoning him with Paris green. The attempts—two of them—were made a week ago, but nothing was done about it until this week. On Friday October 27, the girl went to Stamford and purchased the drug, which she administered to her father first in a cup of coffee and then in a mug of cider. The dose in both cases was too great, inducing vomiting. The sediment in the cider mug contained poison, and a package of it was found hidden in the house. The trouble was that the father interfered to prevent the attentions to the daughter of a young man he did not like."

THE RAIN IN MAINE.

The Augusta (Me.,) Journal of the 10th inst. says: "An immense quantity of rain fell during the recent storm. The Kennebec has not been higher since the Spring freshets, and it continued to rise yesterday. Many cisterns were dry, and the earth was very thirsty; the rain was very much needed."

REPUBLICAN TWINS.

There is one family in Western Massachusetts, says the Boston Congregationalist, in which Hayes and Wheeler have been elected to permanent places—twin sons having made their appearance in season to bear the names of the Republican Presidential candidates. Long life to Hayes and Wheeler Goodrich!

CHURCHES AND MINISTERS.

HOME AND FOREIGN EVENTS.

Arrangements are being made for calling the next National Congregational Council in 1877.

Rev. W. C. Van Meter, Baptist missionary at Rome, Italy, reports 327 scholars in the day and Sunday schools of the "Vatican mission."

Dr. Moorhouse has been consecrated as Bishop of Melbourne by the Archbishop of Canterbury. Bishop Perry, whom he succeeds, resigned the See.

George Müller, of England, who is widely known as the "Man of Faith," is preaching as an Evangelist in Switzerland, where he is drawing large audiences.

The colored parish of Key West has been received into the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Florida. The Diocese of South Carolina rejected a similar application.

Rev. James M. Haswell, D. D., an American Baptist missionary in Burmah, is dead at the age of sixty-seven. He spent forty-one years of his life in mission work.

A new conference of the Evangelical Association (German Methodist) has been organized in Oregon. The conference at present embraces only five preachers and 142 members.

The first fruit of fraternity between the Northern and Southern Churches, is the agreement between the Northern and Southern Synods of Missouri to co-operate in sustaining Westminster College, of Missouri.

The Missionary Society of the Evangelical Association (German Methodist) reports receipts for the year of $65,807; expenditures, $82,275. The Book Agent reports a capital of $328,124, and profits for the year of $41,636.

The Primitive Methodists report, as the result of thirty-one years of labor in Australia, 300 churches and numerous preaching-places, with an average attendance of 35,000. There are also 15,000 Sunday-school scholars.

Rev. Joseph Cook, (Congregational,) of Boston, who has attracted so much attention by his Monday lectures on philosophy and religion, has declined a call to the Madison Avenue Reformed Church, of this City, with $6,000 salary. He gets only $2,200 in Boston.

Eleven conferences of the Methodist Protestant Church have concurred in calling a general convention for 1877, to consummate a union with the Methodist Church. Both of these bodies are small non-episcopal Methodist branches, which were separated by the slavery question.

In accordance with the recommendation of the last General Conference, the Northern Methodists in Georgia have formed separate conferences on the color line. The colored preachers have been organized into the "Savannah," and the white preachers into the "Georgia" Conference.

The Jubilee Singers have returned to England from the Continent, and are having great success. They are now raising funds to add a new building to Fisk University, in Nashville, to be called Livingstone Mission Hall, with the special object of educating missionaries for Africa.

The California Chinese Mission of the American Missionary Association (Congregational) reports 13 schools in operation during the year, which had an average attendance of 340 scholars. Of these, 119 have abandoned idol worship and 89 profess conversion. The expenditures were $5,887.

The American Chapel (Episcopal) in Geneva, Switzerland, is so crowded with worshipers that it has been decided to build a new and larger church, which will be ready next July. The cost of site and building will not exceed $20,000. Rev. Arthur Mason, of New-York, has accepted the rectorship.

The Presbyterian Synod of New-York reports five Presbyteries, 166 Churches, 319 ministers, 36,173 church members, and 34,878 Sunday-school scholars. The net gain of members is 3,011. The church collections amount to $1,046,165, or one-ninth of the total contributions of the whole Church.

The second General Convention of the New-Jerusalem Church in Germany, has been held at Stuttgart. Five candidates were ordained to the ministry, among whom was Rev. E. A. Funfstuck, (Lutheran,) of Wilkesbarre, Penn. One of the five candidates ordained the rest, and was himself ordained in turn by one of the new ministers. The society has 177 members.

The Australian Missionary Society (Wesleyan) reports receipts of over seventy thousand dollars for the year, of which $12,000 was contributed by Fiji. The society reports 16 circuits, 1,156 churches and preaching places, 17 missionaries, 63 native ministers and assistant missionaries, over 3,000 teachers and catechists, over 31,000 members, and 40,000 Sunday-school scholars.

The Roman Catholics report a great miracle at Munich, Germany. A nun, who was a confirmed cripple and could not walk, was consciously impelled to swallow some threads of a relic of the garments of a priest who was shot by the Paris Commune in 1871. As soon as she had eaten the threads she was restored to complete health, and all her lameness vanished.

The North British Mail says that until within the last few years the children of Protestants and Roman Catholics, in Scotland, were educated harmoniously in the same schools and received the same instruction in all the ordinary branches of knowledge, with the exception of the shorter catechism. Now the Catholics are taking their children away from these schools and organizing Catholic institutions, which receive assistance from the Government.

The Catholic Unions of Germany have just held their annual meeting at Munich. Count Praschma, of Silesia, presided, in the place of Baron Von Loe, who is in prison. A "brief" from the Pope, addressed to the assembly, insisted upon the duty of the Catholics of Germany to reject every compromise, as the present conflict between Church and State was not on matters of detail or of discipline, but touched on vital principles essential to the preservation of the Catholic faith.

Rev. Dr. Nevin, of Geneva, Switzerland, contradicts, in a letter to the Churchman, the report that Father Hyacinthe was about to enter the Church of England. The eloquent father believes that his proper work and mission is in France, and in no other country, except provisionally. He will remain in Geneva, hoping that the time may come when he can return to Paris. He recognizes Bishop Herzog in his spiritual office, but refuses to accept the old Catholic scheme of government.

The English Wesleyan Missionary Society held its anniversary last month in London. It was reported that the income had been $950,000. The Chairman of the meeting said: "The African missionaries were about to advance in a northerly direction from the Gambia into an unknown region. The severest of the crowning conflicts of Christianity were to be won against Mohammedanism and Buddhism. As to India, also, there was much cause to hope, and in China and Japan success had been also achieved."

The Northern Methodist Conference of Tennessee held an exciting discussion on the question of division of the conference on the color line. It was finally voted that if the division should be asked for next year it should be granted. The seat of the conference was Nashville, the head-quarters of the Southern Methodist Church, yet not a single Southern pulpit was offered to the Northern preachers. This is significant, appearing to indicate that the Southern Church is not anxious for fraternity on any terms.

Rev. Dr. Burgess, of Springfield, Mass., criticises Bishop Stevens, (Protestant Episcopal,) of Pennsylvania, for ordaining recently a deaf mute, Mr. Syle, to the ministry. He says: "The Apostolical canons forbade the ordination of those defective in the senses or grievously maimed, but permitted them to officiate if by accident such result were reached after ordination, or if it were the result of persecution. These canons are not regarded as binding upon us, but the policy of the Church may be seen in them."

A schism is imminent in the Reformed Church of Holland. Last year the Synod changed the form of the confirmation creed at the request of four hundred pastors, making it more liberal. The Synod of 1876 has undone this work, and has made the old and stricter form obligatory. The liberal pastors have held a meeting at Amsterdam and adopted a petition asking the Synod to rescind its recent action. It is not believed this request will be complied with, as the Orthodox party are desirous of compelling the liberals to secede.

Rev. William H. Gulick writes from Spain an account of the execution of the order of the Government for the removal of Protestant signs from all Protestant establishments. It is not allowed to display the words "Holy Scriptures" or the Bible itself. Most of the Protestants complied with the order of the Prime Minister, either removing their signs or painting them over. Mr. Jameson, a Scotch minister, refused to remove his signs. Some men came one night, therefore, and painted them over, but they showed so plainly through the thin coat of paint that another and heavier one of black was put on the next night.

Dr. Augustus Blauvelt, author of the article on "Protestant Vaticanism" in Scribner's Monthly, has been suspended from the ministry of the Reformed (Dutch) Church by the Hudson Classis. The stated Clerk of the classis gives the following official account of the proceedings: "Rev. Augustus Blauvelt, D. D., having been called to his agreement or disagreement with articles IV., V., and VI. of the Confession, answered the questions propounded, whereupon he was suspended from the office of the Gospel Ministry. Dr. Blauvelt gave notice of his intention to appeal from this decision to the Particular Synod."

HORSES AND CARRIAGES.

THE UP-TOWN OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

The up-town office of THE TIMES is located at No. 1,257 Broadway, bet. 31st and 32d sts. Open daily, Sundays included, from 4 A. M. to 9 P. M. Subscriptions received, and copies of THE TIMES for sale.

ADVERTISEMENTS RECEIVED UNTIL 9 P. M.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE.

BY WILLIAM VAN TASSELL, AUCTIONEER. OFFICE, NOS. 110 AND 112 EAST 13TH ST., NEAR 4TH AV.

Messrs. VAN TASSELL & KEARNEY will sell at PUBLIC AUCTION ON WEDNESDAY, NOV. 15, at 11 o'clock, AT NO. 740 BROADWAY, NEAR ASTOR PLACE.

FINE STOCK OF ELEGANT CARRIAGES, which will be sold to close the estate of BRADLEY, PRAY & CO. and WM. H. BRADLEY & CO.

THE STOCK COMPRISES STRAIGHT FRONT BROUGHAM COUPE, full-sized Peters Brougham, ¾ Landaulet, very fine Berlin Coach, round-front Coupe, ¾ octagon Landaulet, two very handsome light Brougham Coupes, full sized; full-swept five-glass Landau, full-sized, octagon front Landaulet, very fine full-sized Peters Coupe, fine three-bowed top Cabriolet, very fine large size top Phaeton, large size straight-front Coupe, fine five-glass London Box Landau, fine octagon Coupe, and a very stylish loop Victoria, with rumble and dickey seat.

THESE CARRIAGES ARE ALL OF THE FINEST QUALITY, and have been finished within a few weeks by the Assignee, under the direction of Mr. William H. Bradley.

WE DESIRE TO CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE FORMER CUSTOMERS of JOHN R. LAWRENCE & CO. and BRADLEY, PRAY & CO. to this stock of carriages. They are equal to any ever manufactured, and a rare opportunity is offered to those in want of a fine carriage.

STOCK NOW ON EXHIBITION AT THE ABOVE ADDRESS, where catalogues may also be obtained, as well as at the office of the auctioneers, Nos. 110 and 112 East 13th st., near 4th av.

S. E. MERVIN, JR., Assignee.

MAJOR CHARLES W. BARKER, Auctioneer.

EVERY WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY, AT ELEVEN o'clock, MAJOR BARKER'S GRAND Regular HORSE and Carriage Sales, AT BARKER & Son's, CITY AUCTION Mart and New-York Tattersalls, CORNER OF Broadway and 39th st. UNEQUALED facilities, including THE LARGE Driving Track.

NOTICE.—Saturday, Nov. 25, Mr. J. DUNN WALTON'S unexampled sale of the fastest GREEN TROTTERS in the world; just arrived from Maine; speed varying from 2:40 down to 2:25. Send for CATALOGUE.

HORSE-BLANKETS.

Carriages, Sleighs, Harness, Robes, &c. Stable Blankets, large and strong, from $1. Dress Blankets, fashionable colors, $3 50 to $20. Truck Blankets, immense stock, from $3 50. Carriages, Sleighs, Harness, &c., at bottom prices. JOHN MOORE, No. 57 Warren st.

CARRIAGE TEAM OF BAY HORSES FOR sale reasonably; large, showy, unexceptionable, and used to steam, and all street annoyances; sold because the family surrenders carriage keeping. Address OWNER, Room No. 40 Tribune Building, where particulars will be given, or call at stables, Nos. 140 and 142 West 39th st.

SITUATIONS WANTED.

FEMALES.

THE UP-TOWN OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

The up-town office of THE TIMES is located at No. 1,257 Broadway, bet. 31st and 32d sts. Open daily, Sundays included, from 4 A. M. to 9 P. M. Subscriptions received, and copies of THE TIMES for sale.

ADVERTISEMENTS RECEIVED UNTIL 9 P. M.

CHAMBER-MAID AND SEAMSTRESS.—A lady closing her country house wishes to secure for an excellent servant the position of chamber-maid and seamstress or lady's maid. Call on Mrs. Miller, No. 531 5th av.

CHAMBER-MAID OR LAUNDRESS.—BY A colored young girl, competent for either position; good City reference. Call at No. 692 Linden court, between 42d and 43d st.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY AN AMERICAN GIRL as chamber-maid and waitress. Call on Isabella Hill, No. 48 Wall st.

COOK.—BY A PROTESTANT AS COOK, WASHER, and ironer; is a good bread baker; City or country; wages no object; good reference. Call at No. 403 West 29th st.

COOK, WASHER, AND IRONER.—BY A neat and respectable woman; good cook and excellent laundress; private family preferred. Apply at No. 146 East 30th st.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE COLORED WOMAN as good plain cook, and assist with washing; excellent washer and ironer. Call from 11 A. M. till 4 P. M., at No. 60 West 11th st., at present employer's.

COOK.—NO OBJECTION TO ASSIST IN THE washing and ironing. Can be seen for two days at present employer's, No. 41 East 23d st.

COOK, WASHER, AND IRONER.—BY A first-class young woman; good reference. Apply at No. 242 East 41st st., first floor.

COOK.—BY A NEAT, RELIABLE WOMAN; EXcellent baker; seven years' City reference. Call at No. 459 6th av., between 27th and 28th sts.

COOK.—BY A FIRST-CLASS ENGLISH COOK OR working housekeeper; good reference. Address G. L., No. 52 East 33d st.

COOK.—BY A FIRST-CLASS COLORED COOK; or would do chamber-work and waiting. Call on Monday at No. 205 West 17th st.

COOK.—BY AN ENGLISH PROTESTANT GIRL AS cook, washer, and ironer; good City reference. Call at No. 274 6th st., Jersey City, first floor, for two days.

COOK, WASHER, AND IRONER, OR GENeral House-work.—For City or country. Call at No. 403 West 29th st.

DRESS-MAKER AND FIRST-CLASS OPerator on Wheeler & Wilson machine wishes the work of a few more families; can cut and fit ladies' and children's dresses and all family sewing. Address Dress-maker, Box No. 302 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

DRESS-MAKER.—THE WORK OF A FEW MORE families; can cut and fit ladies' and children's dresses; go out by day or take it home; moderate terms. Address M. W., Box No. 298 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

DRESS-MAKER.—BY A YOUNG GIRL GOING out by the day; a few more ladies to work for; the best of City reference can be given. Address No. 160 East 28th st.

DRESS-MAKER.—BY A COMPETENT FRENCH dress-maker in all branches a few engagements in families; first-class references. Address Mme. Redhon, No. 488 6th av., Room No. 3, rear.

DRESS-MAKER.—FIRST-CLASS; NOT LONG from Paris; experienced cutter and fitter; wishes to go to families by the day. Address French Dress-maker, No. 413 8th av., corner 31st st.

DRESS-MAKER.—BY AN EXPERIENCED DRESS maker, good fitter, engagement by the day in private families. Call or address No. 259 West 37th st.

DRESS-MAKER.—BY A FIRST-CLASS FRENCH dress-maker; work by the day for private families. Call at No. 876 6th av.

DRESS-MAKERS.—NO. 59 EAST 9TH ST.—Ladies wishing their suits made up handsomely, will please call; terms moderate; fits warranted.

GOVERNESS.—BY AN AMERICAN GIRL AS nursery governess, or companion to an invalid lady; experienced and reliable in either capacity; City or country; best of reference. Call for three days at No. 418 West 24th st.

HOUSEKEEPER.—BY A MIDDLE-AGED AMERIcan Protestant woman of ability and refinement; economical, kind and obliging; would take charge of house, or an invalid; understands all family sewing, and would be useful for small compensation. Address Reliable, Box No. 293, TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

HOUSEKEEPER.—BY A LADY OF REFINEment and education belonging to the Society of Friends, as housekeeper in or near New-York; a widower's family preferred. Address AMICUS, Station H, City.

HOUSEKEEPER.—BY A LADY OF ABILITY with first-class references, or would do sewing in a family; City or country. Address E. M., Box No. 267 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

HOUSE-KEEPER.—TO SUPERINTEND HOUSEhold duties, and care for children. Address E. Webb, Christian Association, No. 7 East 15th st.

LADY'S MAID.—BY A PROTESTANT, ENGLISH person, as lady's maid; is very tasty in hairdressing; can alter ladies' dresses; is very obliging; make herself useful; excellent reference. Call at No. 471 6th av., in fancy store, for two days.

LADY'S MAID.—BY A FRENCH LADY'S MAID, who speaks Parisian French and German perfectly; is a very good seamstress; understands her duties well; would take care of growing children. Call at No. 471 6th av., in fancy store.

LADY'S MAID.—BY A COMPETENT PROTestant person as maid and seamstress; understands her business thoroughly; good operator; best City reference. Call or address 27 West 44th st., rear.

NURSE.—BY A FRENCH PROTESTANT MIDDLE-aged woman as nurse; can take entire charge of young children and sew; in a private family; has good references. Address J. B., Box No. 287 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

NURSE AND SEAMSTRESS.—BY A VERY faithful Protestant girl; excellent sewer and operator; first-class City reference. Address A. L., Box No. 310 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

NURSE, &c.—BY A YOUNG GIRL AS NURSE AND seamstress or would do light chamber-work; is willing and obliging. Call for two days at No. 211 West 26th st.

NURSE.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN; WISHES the care of a child at her own residence, No. 131 Clinton place, Room No. 10.

NURSE.—BY A COMPETENT FRENCH PROTESTant girl, recently landed. Call at No. 765 6th av.

SEAMSTRESS.— BY A COMPETENT SEAMstress, who understands dress-making; employment by day or month; terms moderate. Call at No. 489 8th av.

SEAMSTRESS.—BY A SWEDISH SEAMSTRESS to go out by the day or month; City references. Call at No. 308 East 32d st., first floor, back room.

WAITRESS.—BY A YOUNG GIRL AS WAITRESS or chamber-maid; can do plain sewing. Can be seen at present employer's, No. 28 West 21st st.

SITUATIONS WANTED.

FEMALES.

WASHING.—BY A THOROUGH ENGLISH LAUNdress; wishes large or small family's washing; shirts, collars, and evening dresses a specialty. Call on or address Mrs. Walker, No. 235 6th av., late of West 40th st.

WASHING.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS, ladies' and gentlemen's washing; 75 cents per dozen; puffing, fluting, and polishing done promptly; best references. Call or address Mrs. Fegge, No. 139 West 25th st., between 6th and 7th avs.

WASHING.—BY A RESPECTABLE MARRIED woman, with few in family, the washing of some respectable family for the apartments to live in. Call at No. 131 West 28th st., third floor.

WASHING.—A RESPECTABLE COLORED WOman wishes to get washing and ironing to do at home; families or gentlemen. Call or address No. 132 West 27th st.

WASHING.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN; A few gentlemen's washing at her own home; best of City reference. Call or address No. 117 West 26th st., Room 12.

WASHING.—BY A GOOD LAUNDRESS; LADIES' and gentlemen or family's washing; French fluting; terms reasonable. Call at No. 439 West 49th st., Room No. 10.

WASHING.—BY A RESPECTABLE AMERICAN laundress washing by week or month; families, or gentlemen; clothes promptly delivered. Address No. 234 West 35th st., top floor.

WASHING.—BY A COMPETENT LAUNDRESS; ladies' and gents' or family washing; fluting in the neatest style; reference if required. Call or address No. 529 East 31st st.

WASHING.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS who has lived in the best families; would go out by the day or take in washing; best references. Call at No. 211 East 26th st., Room No. 15.

WASHING.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS, a small family's wash, or will go out by the day; good reference. Call at No. 145 West 38th st.

WASHING. — FAMILIES' OR GENTLEMEN'S washing and ironing to take home; best City reference. Apply at 121 West 31st st., second floor.

WASHING.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS; family or single gentlemen's washing at moderate terms. Address E. P. A., 151 West 24th st., top floor.

WASHING.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS ladies' and gentlemen's washing; can do all kinds of fineries. Call at 243 West 35th st., second floor.

WASHING.—BY THE MONTH OR DOZEN, BY Mrs. Thomas, No. 1 King st., second floor.

MALES.

BUTLER.—BY A COLORED YOUNG MAN, WHO thoroughly understands the business; is willing and obliging; has good references. Call on Monday for butler at No. 163 West 24th st.

BUTLER.—BY AN ENGLISHMAN, JUST ARRIVED from England; first-class references. Address G. Pile, No. 120 West 17th st.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A SINGLE young man; thoroughly understands his business; careful driver and first-class groom; is strictly temperate, willing, and obliging; is highly recommended in every respect; not afraid of work. Address M. D., Box No. 258 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN AND GROOM AND USEFUL man.—Would like to find a home in a private family; understands care and treatment of horses, harness and carriages; can attend furnace; make himself generally useful; wages no object; first-class City reference. Address P. B., Box No. 319 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN.—BY A GENTLEMAN, ON ACCOUNT of giving up his establishment, an engagement for his coachman; married; good address; can highly recommend him for honesty, sobriety, capability; first-class groom; City driver. Call or address Competent, No. 117 West 50th st., private stable.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A SINGLE man as coachman and groom; seventeen years' references; leaves late employer on account of not keeping horses. Call or address D. C., No. 222 East 32d st.

COACHMAN.—BY A LADY FOR HER COACHMAN; whom she can highly recommend; single man. Call for two days at No. 32 East 9th st., or address M. E., Box No. 302 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN AND GARDENER.—BY A SINGLE young man; Protestant; understands the care of horses, harness, and carriages thoroughly; can milk, attend furnace; best references. Address Isaac, Box No. 203 Times Office.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A SINGLE young man; thoroughly understands the care of horses, harness, and carriages, which references will certify to. Address M., Box No. 327 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN. — BY A YOUNG MAN WHO thoroughly understands his business; has first-class reference. Address A. B., Box No. 302 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN.—BY A YOUNG MAN WHO THORoughly understands his business; has first-class reference. Address A. R., Box No. 258 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A SINGLE man as coachman and groom, City or country; best reference; willing and obliging. Address J. C., Box No. 227 Times office.

COACHMAN.—BY A YOUNG COLORED MAN; best City reference. Call or address No. 206 7th av., livery stable.

DRIVER.—BY A YOUNG MAN, TO DRIVE FOR A private family or doctor; drives single and double; City reference. Address R. N., Box No. 322 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, 1,257 BROADWAY.

GARDENER.—BY A COMPETENT PROTESTANT married man; no children; who understands the growing of grapes, peaches, under glass; the forcing of roses and culture of hot and green-house plants; the care of vegetable, flower, and pleasure grounds, laying out and improving the same; also, management of farm stock, poultry, &c.; best of City references. Call or address M. R. G., No. 2,199 2d av., or Alfred Bridgeman's seed store, No. 876 Broadway.

USEFUL MAN.—BY A YOUNG MAN OF 22, AS indoor servant in a private family or boarding house, City or country; understands waiting, marketing, carving and fires; can take care and drive a horse; two years' reference. Address Y, Box No. 214, Times Office.

USEFUL BOY.—BY A BOY, AGED 16, IN A private family; has best reference. Address J. L. D., No. 976 6th av.

WAITER.—BY A YOUNG AND TALL FRENCH gentleman, not being able to find any work; as a waiter in a private family; best City testimonials. Address Obliging, Box No. 299 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITER.—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG MAN (colored) in a private family or first-class boarding-house; willing and obliging; good City reference. Call or address, on Monday, J. T. B., No. 151 West 24th st., top floor.

WAITER.—BY A YOUNG COLORED MAN AS PRIvate waiter or waiting on a gentleman, and can give good City reference. Address W. F. H., Box No. 251 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITER.—BY A YOUNG MAN, TWENTY-THREE years of age, and Hollander of nationality; best of City references; in a private family. Address A. B. L., Box No. 229 Times Office.

WAITER.—BY A YOUNG COLORED MAN AS first-class waiter in a private family; good reference. Address R. R., Box No. 281 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITER.—BY A COLORED WAITER IN A PRIvate family or a boarding-house; three years' reference from last employer. Call or address No. 140 West 30th st.

WAITER.—BY A COLORED MAN IN A FIRST-class private family; best City reference. Address W. F. H., Box No. 251 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITER.—BY A RESPECTABLE COLORED young man; is a splendid waiter and has first-class reference. Call or address W. A. F., No. 119 West 24th st.

STEAMBOATS.

STONINGTON LINE

FOR BOSTON AND ALL POINTS EAST.

REDUCED FARE.

TO BOSTON, FIRST CLASS, $4.
TO PROVIDENCE, FIRST CLASS, $3.

Elegant steamers leave Pier No. 33 North River, foot of Jay st., at 4:30 P. M.

Tickets for sale at all principal ticket offices. State-rooms secured at offices of Westcott Express Company, and at No. 363 Broadway.

PROVIDENCE LINE.

Steam-ships Electra and Galatea leave Pier No. 27 North River, foot of Park place, at 4 P. M. Freights via either line taken at lowest rates.

D. S. BABCOCK, Pres. L. W. FILKINS, G. P. Agent.

REDUCTION OF FARE

TO BOSTON,

VIA THE

FALL RIVER LINE.

$4 FIRST CLASS.

STEAMERS BRISTOL AND PROVIDENCE.

4:30 P. M.—Leave Pier No. 28 North River, foot of Murray street, daily, Sundays excepted.

SEA BIRD,

Capt. H. B. PARKER, will run between New-York (foot of Franklin st., Pier No. 35) and Red Bank, as follows:

LEAVE NEW-YORK.	LEAVE RED BANK.
Thursday, 2.... 3:30 P. M.	Thursday, 2.... 7:00 A. M.
Saturday, 4.... 9:00 A. M.	Friday, 3........ 8:00 A. M.
Tuesday, 7....11:30 A. M.	Monday, 6....... 8:30 A. M.
Thursday, 9.... 2:00 P. M.	Wednesday, 8...11:00 A. M.
Saturday, 11... 2:30 P. M.	Friday, 10....... 2:30 P. M.
Monday, 13..... 2:30 P. M.	Monday, 13....... 6:15 A. M.

FOR NEW-HAVEN, HARTFORD, SPRINGFIELD, WHITE MOUNTAINS, MONTREAL, AND INTERMEDIATE POINTS.—Steamers leave Pier No. 25 East River daily (Sunday excepted) at 3 P. M. and 11 P. M., connecting with special trains at New-Haven, for Hartford, Springfield, &c. Tickets sold and baggage checked at No. 944 Broadway, New-York, and No. 4 Court st., Brooklyn. Excursion to New-Haven and return, $1 50.

OLD-ESTABLISHED LINE FOR STUYVESANT, CATSKILL, AND INTERMEDIATE LANDINGS.—Steamer ANDREW HARDER, from Franklin st., Pier 35, Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday. Steamer MONITOR, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, 5 P. M.

ALBANY.—PEOPLE'S LINE.—SPLENDID STEAMboats leave Pier No. 41 North River, foot of Canal st., daily, Sundays excepted, at 6 P. M., for Albany and all points North and West. N. B.—State-rooms heated by steam pipes. Meals on European plan.

FOR BRIDGEPORT AND ALL POINTS ON Housatonic and Naugatuck Railroad.—Fare, $1. Steamers leave Catharine slip at 11:30 A. M.

BOARDING AND LODGING.

THE UP-TOWN OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

The up-town office of THE TIMES is located at No. 1,257 Broadway, bet. 31st and 32d sts. Open daily, Sundays included, from 4 A. M. to 9 P. M. Subscriptions received, and copies of THE TIMES for sale.

ADVERTISEMENTS RECEIVED UNTIL 9 P. M.

A PRIVATE FAMILY OF THREE ADULTS will let all or a part of the second story of their own large and well-furnished house west of 5th av. and very near Windsor Hotel, to a gentleman and wife or one or two gentlemen; no greater number will be taken; table and all else of the first class, and a reasonable price expected. Address Box No. 3,446 Post Office.

AN AMERICAN FAMILY, STRICTLY private, owning their house, location central, desirable, have two choice rooms and good board for adults; terms reasonable; reference. Address W., Box No. 319 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

MADISON AV., BETWEEN 35TH AND 37TH STS.—A home of unusual comfort and elegance is offered in a refined private family; exquisite suite on second or third floor, or singly; terms moderate; references. Address Home, Box No. 263 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

A FURNISHED SECOND FLOOR FOR family or gentleman, with board in a refined family; terms reasonable; 43d st., between 5th and Madison avs. Address A. L., Box No. 258 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

NO. 7 IRVING PLACE, (GRAMERCY PARK.)—Entire second floor, en suite or singly, with or without private table; also, extra-large hall rooms, with fires; location, house, and table first-class; moderate terms.

FIFTH AV., NEAR 30TH ST.—PRIVATE family offer handsomely-furnished suites, with strictly first-class board at reasonable rates; references exchanged. Address M. B., Box No. 2,468 Post Office.

WITH BOARD—AN ELEGANT SECOND FLOOR to gentleman and wife; also third, en suite, or separate; house occupied by owner; refined family desiring an unexceptionable house; superior table; references. Apply at No. 123 West 45th st.

NOS. 51 AND 53 WEST 25TH ST., NEAR MADISON SQUARE.—Elegantly-furnished rooms or entire second floor, with private table if desired; also, pleasant rooms for gentlemen; house and table strictly first-class.

SEVENTEENTH ST., NO. 61 WEST, NEAR 5TH AV.—Entire second floor or en suite; also third floor room, with board; for parties desiring a refined home.

TWO OR THREE GENTLEMEN AND their wives can be accommodated with board in a private family, (no other boarders,) at No. 457 West 21st st.

NO. 56 9TH ST., NEAR BROADWAY.—Finely furnished reception-room, with bed-room attached; also single room; breakfast if desired; modern conveniences; terms moderate; quiet house.

FIFTH AV., NO. 224, OPPOSITE HOTEL Brunswick, suite of parlor and bed-room for gentleman; also, single rooms, with breakfast if desired; references exchanged.

THREE DOORS FROM 5TH AV., NO. 12 East 16th st., three handsomely furnished rooms, connecting, on parlor floor; private table if desired, at a moderate price.

TO LET, WITH BOARD—A LARGE, DESIRable parlor, either front or back; modern improvements; in a homelike American family. No. 133 East 27th st.

THIRTY-FOURTH ST. NO. 158, EAST.—A handsomely furnished large, and hall room; southern exposure; with unexceptionable board; family private.

NO. 74 WEST 35TH ST.—LARGE ROOM, SECond floor; sunny exposure; also single room, third floor, and two rooms fourth floor; excellent board; moderate terms; references.

ONE LARGE SUNNY FRONT ROOM, second floor, large closet, with board; strictly first-class house, choice table, location central. No. 44 7th av., near 14th st.

FIFTH AV., NO. 81, FIRST DOOR BELOW 16TH ST.—A front parlor and connecting bedroom, third floor; two rooms on fourth floor, with board; references exchanged.

A PRIVATE AMERICAN FAMILY WILL board a couple at $6 each per week. Address EAST 62D ST., Station H.

TWENTY-THIRD ST., AT NO. 36 EAST—Rooms singly or en suite; private table if desired; good board; references.

NO. 122 MADISON AV.—PARLOR AND TWO single rooms on third floor, with board; references exchanged.

NO. 250 MADISON AV.—DESIRABLE SUITE OF front rooms to let, with or without private table; also single room.

NO. 178 MADISON AV.—MRS. R. H. JENKINS has rooms on second floor and one on fourth, for rent, with board.

WITH PRIVATE TABLE, TO LET—HANDsome second or upper floor in first-class house, No. 67 West 38th st., between 5th and 6th avs.

NO. 23 WAVERLEY PLACE.—A HANDSOMEly-furnished front parlor to rent, with or without private table, and other rooms.

FIFTH AV., NO. 73, NORTH-EAST CORNER 15TH ST.—Suite of rooms on second floor; also, other rooms, with board.

NO. 8 EAST 30TH ST., NEAR 5TH AV.—Fine suite of rooms on second floor, front, to let, with board.

FIFTH AV., NO. 45, BETWEEN 11TH AND 12TH STS.—Spacious suite of well-furnished apartments, on parlor floor, with or without private table.

NO. 434 5TH AV.—A VERY CHOICE SUITE OF apartments, with private table; also, a small suite of three rooms.

TWENTY-THIRD ST., NO. 116 EAST.—Parlor and bed-room on second floor front, with board; also, hall-room; references.

NO. 29 WEST 26TH ST.—DESIRABLE SUNNY rooms, for families and gentlemen, with superior table.

TO LET.—FURNISHED, WITH BOARD, SITTING-room and bed-room, on second and third floors; house first-class; references. No. 235 West 38th st.

NICELY-FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET, with board, to a gentleman and wife, or a party of gentlemen. No. 244 East 19th st.

ONE DOOR FROM MADISON SQUARE.—No. 33 East 23d st., elegantly furnished floors with private tables.

23D ST., NO. 120 EAST.—NEAR 4TH AV.; handsomely furnished rooms on second and third floors with superior board; references exchanged.

NO. 51 EAST 23D ST.—HANDSOMELY FURnished rooms and first-class board for gentlemen in a private family; references.

SECOND FLOOR.—TWO LARGE ROOMS, FURnished or unfurnished, with or without board. Particulars at No. 304 3d av., near 23d st., in the store.

NO. 33 WEST 42D ST., FRONTING RESERvoir Park.—House new; elegantly-furnished handsome rooms, with excellent board.

NO. 109 WEST 28TH ST.—VERY NICE FURnished rooms, with or without board; private family.

NO. 37 WEST 31ST ST.—LARGE ELEGANT room on first floor; superior table; suitable for couple.

BOARD.—PLEASANT SQUARE ROOMS TO A family; moderate price; excellent table; references. Call at No. 39 West 16th st.

NO. 28 WEST 31ST ST.—HANDSOMELY FURnished floor and single rooms with board; private table if desired; references.

NO. 4 EAST 29TH ST., BETWEEN 5TH AND MADISON AVS.— Handsomely-furnished rooms; first-class board; table boarders taken.

EXCELLENT BOARD, $6 AND UPWARD, at New-Brighton, Staten Island. Address Box No. 106, New-Brighton.

A PRIVATE FAMILY WILL LET TO GENtlemen rooms with all improvements; full or partial board if desired. No. 20 West 15th st., near 5th av.

NO. 9 WEST 21ST ST.—DESIRABLE ROOMS; unsurpassed locality; pleasant appointments, with board; terms reasonable; references exchanged.

NO. 50 WEST 19TH ST.—ONE LARGE AND two single rooms adjoining; strictly first-class board; references.

NO. 223 WEST 24TH ST.—HANDSOMELY furnished room, second floor, with board; also, front room, third floor.

NO. 18 EAST 32D ST.—ELEGANT SECOND floor; also other rooms; table first-class; private if desired.

NO. 4 EAST 10TH ST., ONE DOOR FROM 5th av.; first floor, three rooms, furnished, with private table.

FIFTH AV., NO. 291.—VERY DESIRABLE suite of apartments; private table if desired; room for gentleman.

NO. 6 EAST 32D ST.—HANDSOME PARLOR and bedroom, parlor floor; also, two upper rooms, with board; references.

NO. 36 EAST 20TH ST.—PARLOR FLOOR, three large rooms, bath, ample closets, private table; rooms for gentlemen without board; references.

FOR RENT.—No. 24 WEST 39TH ST. WITH first-class board, a back parlor, handsomely furnished.

FIFTH AV., NO. 351.—PARLOR FLOOR, BEAUtifully furnished, piano, private bath-room, &c.; excellent table; $75 per week.

PLEASANT ROOMS, WITH BOARD, third floor, en suite or singly; other rooms; references. No. 116 West 45th st.

BOARD.—WELL-FURNISHED ROOMS, SINGLE, double, or en suite, and elegant general parlor. No. 13 West 29th st., second door from Gilsey House.

NO. 260 4TH AV., MRS. WILLIAMS.—TWO desirable suites; private table.

NO. 14 5TH AV.—A SUITE OF ROOMS ON THIRD floor, with board; also, rooms on fourth floor.

FIFTH AV., NO. 341.—MRS. SEAVER WILL rent apartments with private table.

NO. 56 WEST 39TH ST.—ROOMS TO LET, with board, on third floor; references exchanged.

NO. 25 WEST 16TH ST.—ROOMS ON SECOND and third floors, with board, for first-class parties.

TO RENT, WITH BOARD, ROOMS ON SECOND and fourth floors; reference. No. 10 East 32d st.

NO. 950 LEXINGTON AV., NEAR NORMAL College.

NO. 29 WEST 21ST ST.—HANDSOMELY-FURnished rooms, with board; references.

A SUITE OF ROOMS, WITH BOARD, with private family. No. 56 West 48th st.

BOARDING AND LODGING.

ONE SUITE, AND ONE SINGLE ROOM; elegant and convenient in every respect; with board; family occupying their own house; highest references exchanged. Call at No. 43 West 22d st.

NO. 20 EAST 22D ST.—PARLOR AND BED rooms, second floor; rooms for single gentlemen; table board.

NO. 123 MADISON AV., WELL FURNISHED rooms, with or without private table; references exchanged. Mrs. J. B. COZZENS

NO. 47 WEST 38TH ST.—NICELY-FURnished rooms to let, with excellent board; references exchanged.

THIRD-STORY FRONT ROOMS, BACK PARlor, and fourth-floor large room to rent, with board; references exchanged. Nos. 106 and 108 East 23d st.

ONE ALCOVE ROOM, ALSO OTHER rooms, with board for gentlemen and their wives, or single gentlemen; references. 104 West 38th st.

NO. 30 EAST 22D ST.—TWO HANDSOMELY-furnished connecting rooms, with board; hall-room; references exchanged.

NO. 8 EAST 32D ST.—ROOMS ON SECOND AND fourth floors, handsomely furnished, with board; references.

NO. 8 EAST 9TH ST., NEAR 5TH AV.—Desirable furnished appartments, with or without private table.

NO. 54 WEST 38TH ST., FRONT ROOM, on third floor, to let with board; references.

NINTH ST., NO. 37, WEST.—DESIRABLE rooms, with superior board.

BROOKLYN BOARD.

ON THE HEIGHTS, BROOKLYN.—A LARGE cheerful room, handsomely furnished, pleasant outlook, in a first-class boarding-house, with unexceptionable table. A gentleman and wife will find this a very comfortable Winter room; terms reasonable for the comforts afforded. Address Mrs. S. W. HILL, No. 144 Willow st., Brooklyn.

BOARD WANTED.

A GENTLEMAN AND WIFE DESIRE A room with sunny exposure and first-class board; location 23d to 40th st., Madison and 7th avs.; price not to exceed $25; first-class reference. Address, with full particulars, M. L. D., Box No. 252 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

BOARD WANTED.—FOR GENTLEMAN, WIFE, nurse, and infant in a respectable private family; not above 59th st.; not more than $25 per week. Address C. H. S., Box No. 142 Times Office.

FURNISHED ROOMS.

A STRICTLY PRIVATE FAMILY, RESIDing in 18th st., east of 4th av., convenient to Clarendon, Westminster, Everett, and other hotels, would rent, without board, to a single gentleman, a large, handsomely-furnished front room, bedroom connecting. Those desiring first-class accommodations may address X. Y., Box No. 105 Times Office.

A LARGE, HANDSOMELY-FURNISHED ROOM—All conveniences, ample closets, adjoining bath-room, in a strictly private family of refinement, in 30th st., east of Madison av., to rent to a single gentleman; references exchanged. Address J. K., Box No. 137 Times Office.

NO. 27 WEST 27TH ST., NEAR BROADWAY.—Two handsomely furnished parlors; very desirable for a Doctor or party of gentlemen; other desirable rooms at moderate prices; house first-class. References.

HANDSOMELY FURNISHED ROOM and dressing-room; also single rooms to gentlemen; breakfast if desired; vicinity Grand Hotel. Address A. K. B., Nox No. 293 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

A PRIVATE FAMILY HAVE AN ELEGANTLY furnished extension parlor, ample closets, hot and cold water; also, a square, fourth-story front room, $7 per week; references exchanged. No. 53 East 21st st.

TO ONE OR TWO GENTLEMEN.—HANDsomely-furnished hall room and parlor fronting on 2d av.; splendid neighborhood; can be seen to-day; references exchanged. C. E. J., No. 251 East 13th st., 3d bell.

NO. 7 WEST 25TH ST.—AN ELEGANTLY FURnished suite of rooms on first floor to let, without meals; also rooms on fourth floor for gentlemen; references.

DESIRABLE ROOMS ON THE SECOND floor, thoroughly furnished, to let, without board, for the Winter; prices low to a good tenant. No. 41 West 11th st., between University place and 5th av.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAS TAKEN THE house No. 18 West 25th st., and would respectfully solicit the patronage of those wanting good and well-furnished rooms. E. P. GARDINER.

LARGE FRONT, AND HALL-ROOM ADjoining, first floor, singly or together to gentlemen; private family; breakfast if desired. No. 332 West 23d st.

NO. 383 4TH AV.—SEVERAL HANDSOMELY-furnished rooms en suite or singly, with all modern conveniences; private house, central location, convenient to restaurants; references.

NO. 107 EAST 44TH ST., NEAR GRAND CENTRAL DEPOT.—Furnished rooms to let, with every convenience for housekeeping, for small respectable families.

NO. 109 CLINTON PLACE.—CHOICE FURnished rooms, second floor, single or double; prices low; cars, restaurants, near; references.

HANDSOMELY-FURNISHED ROOMS FOR gentlemen, in private house. No. 131 East 17th st., near Union square.

NO. 328 WEST 20TH ST.—NICELY FURNISHED rooms for gentlemen, in house of private family; convenient to Elevated Railroad and four lines of cars.

NO. 100 EAST 58TH ST.—PRIVATE FAMILY offer nicely-furnished rooms, on second and third floors, to gentlemen and wives or single gentlemen.

UNFURNISHED ROOMS.

LENOX, 5th av., corner 13th st.

Unfurnished apartments, suitable for large and small families, unsurpassed for convenience and elegance by any in the City. Meals at the option of tenant.

HOTELS.

HOTEL ROYAL—RESERVOIR PARK AND 40TH st.; a very quiet, select family hotel, with restaurant of unsurpassed excellence. Liberal arrangements made for the Winter.

HOTEL BRANDING, 58TH ST. AND MADISON av.—We have two suites more of our pleasant rooms to let; prices moderate; accommodations first-class. Call and see.

HOTEL ST. STEPHEN'S. — 11TH ST., BEtween Broadway and University place; new house; newly furnished; first-class; moderate prices.

WINTER RESORTS.

THE ROYAL VICTORIA HOTEL, NASSAU, Bahama Islands, now open; T. J. PORTER, Proprietor. Steamers leave New-York Oct. 28 and Nov. 20. For full information, apply to James Lidgerwood & Co., No. 758 Broadway, New-York.

MUSICAL.

A FINE ASSORTMENT OF FIRST-CLASS piano-fortes for sale at very moderate prices on easy and reasonable terms at HAINES BROTHERS, corner of 2d av. and 21st sts. A few pianos that have been used a little very low.

FIFTY AND SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS PER LESSON.—Piano and singing. Address Governess, Box No. 271, TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

GUITAR, BANJO, AND SINGING.—PROF. Napoleon Gould enables pupils in a few lessons to accompany songs and play effectively. Call at No. 168 East 32d st., near 3d av.

CHICKERING, STEINWAY, WEBER, AND other first-class new and second-hand pianos, for sale or rent, and applied to purchase. POND'S MUSIC STORE, No. 547 Broadway.

UPRIGHT PIANOS for sale or rent at OUVRIER & SONS, Manufacturers, No. 27 West 13th st., New-York.

COPARTNERSHIP NOTICES.

NEW-YORK, Nov. 1.

I BEG TO INFORM YOU THAT I HAVE this day closed the business of commission merchant hitherto carried on by me in this City. C. MENELAS.

The undersigned have this day commenced business as commission merchants under the style of MENELAS & MIKAS, No. 80 Beaver st. C. MENELAS, A. MIKAS.

NEW-YORK, Nov. 1.

TEACHERS.

A LADY DESIRES A POSITION TO TEACH children English, French, and music, or would assist in housekeeping; terms moderate. Address Y. N., Box No. 303 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

AN EXPERIENCED CLASSICAL AND MATHematical teacher, who graduated with the highest honors, desires private pupils; prepares for college; highest City reference. Address Earnest, Box No. 325 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

A LADY ARTIST TEACHES OIL PAINTING and drawing at pupils' residences; $15 per quarter. Address Artist, Box No. 273 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

A REFINED YOUNG LADY, EXPERIENCED in teaching the English branches and music, desires a position in a private family in or near New-York. Address Teacher, No. 231 East 36th st.

BOYS PREPARED FOR COLLEGE BY a graduate of Harvard: experienced in teaching. Address Harvard, Box No. 293 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

A LADY TEACHER FROM NEW-ENGLAND, especially successful in teaching young children, desires pupils; best of reference; terms moderate. Address NEW-ENGLAND, No. 1,238 Broadway.

AN EDUCATED CLERGYMAN WILL DEvote part of his time to giving private instruction upon almost every subject; also culture. Address CLERGYMAN, Box No. 134 Times Office.

MRS. MITCHELL. (DIPLOMEE,) SUPPLIES families without charge with competent and reliable governesses, tutors, professors of music and languages. TEACHERS' BUREAU, No. 67 West 35th st.

FRENCH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE by an experienced Parisian lady diplomée. Mlle. VEREL, No. 1,267 Broadway, Room No. 23.

MISS E. E. SHAW INSTRUCTS PRIVATE classes at No. 277 Madison av., corner 40th st., or at pupil's residence; also PIANO instruction.

AMUSEMENTS.

LYCEUM THEATRE, 14TH ST. AND 6TH AV.

J. H. McVicker, Man'g'r; D. W. Waller, Stage Man'g'r.

The Manager respectfully notifies the public that on MONDAY, NOV. 20, he will commence a brief season at the Lyceum Theatre for the purpose of presenting EDWIN BOOTH in a series of his characters supported by a dramatic company selected with special reference to the proper rendition of the standard works in which EDWIN BOOTH appears. The first production will be HAMLET, the principal characters being assumed by the following artists: FRED. ROBINSON, as the Ghost; MILNES LEVICK, as the King; J. M. HARDIE, as Laertes; HART CONWAY, as Horatio; F. PIERCE, as Polonius; J. H. McVICKER, as the Grave-digger; CLARA JENNINGS, as Ophelia; JENNIE CARROLL, as the Queen.

SCENERY, COSTUMES, AND APPOINTMENTS ALL NEW!

The sale of tickets will commence at the office of the Lyceum Theatre on WEDNESDAY, Nov. 15, at 9 A. M. and continue till 6 P. M. daily. The Manager notifies the public that no tickets will be placed in the hands of speculators, and no speculation will be allowed at this theatre. When the ticket office opens the diagram will be clear, with the exception of a limited number of seats placed at No. 111 Broadway, and at the principal hotels, (in all not exceeding 200 tickets,) and they will be withdrawn from these places if an exhorbitant advance is demanded. The Manager receives no share of the advance, and hence it can be made liberal and pay well for the accommodation rendered. Every facility will be offered the public to purchase tickets at the theatre at the REGULAR RATES, $1 50 FOR SECURED SEATS, and the Manager hopes to receive the aid of his patrons in protecting their interest. Remember

NOV. 20, AND DURING THE WEEK, LYCEUM THEATRE,

EDWIN BOOTH..........as..........HAMLET

SATURDAY MATINEE, 1:30, LADY OF LYONS.

EDWIN BOOTH........as........CLAUDE MELNOTTE

The next production, THE FOOL'S REVENGE.

NEW-YORK CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC.

New-York Offices only at No. 5 EAST 14TH ST., second door east of 5th av. (Incorporated 1865.)

This RENOWNED MUSIC SCHOOL, and school of Elocution, Oratory, Modern Languages, Drawing and Painting, open Day and Evening. Classes of three, $10 per term; two, $15; private, $30. QUARTERS COMMENCE FROM DATE OF ENTRANCE. SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS open from 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.

CHICKERING HALL. FANNY DANZIGER.

FIRST GRAND CONCERT OF MISS FANNY DANZIGER, THE YOUNG AMERICAN PIANISTE, from the Conservatory of Music, Leipzig, FRIDAY EVENING, NOV. 17, AT 8, AT CHICKERING HALL, with the assistance of the following eminent artists: Miss HENRIETTA BEEBE, soprano; Mr. CHAS. FRITSCH, tenor; Mr. S. B. MILLS, pianist; Mr. F. F. MULLER, organist.

Tickets, with reserved seats, $1, to be had at Schuberth's, No. 23 Union square, and Ruilman's, No. 111 Broadway.

EAGLE THEATRE.

Broadway and 33d st.

Proprietor and Manager..............Mr. JOSH HART

Unbounded success of the burlesque on SARDANAPALUS.

Reappearance of the great Irish vocalist, Mr. PAT ROONEY, Mr. PAT ROONEY.

Will be continued the greatest of all sketches, THE MODERN SCHOOL OF ACTING. The ENTIRE COMPANY appear THIS WEEK. The very laughable farce entitled, SARAH'S YOUNG MAN.

EVERY EVENING and MATINEES the greatest burlesque ever produced, SARDANAPALUS, SARDANAPALUS.

MATINEES WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH.

23d st., between 5th and 6th avs.,

Lecture by Rev.

H. M. GALLAHER,

Subject: "America and the Americans"

Tuesday Evening, Nov. 14.

Admission 50 cents.

BRILLIANT NEW MUSIC.

"Shaughraun Waltz," Thomas Baker, 60 cts.; "The Glorious Gates Ajar," sung by Mr. Hamilton at the San Francisco Minstrels, Whiteley, 40 cts.; "Hail Columbia," paraphrase du concert, for piano. S. B. Mills, $1; "One Love Alone," B. Toura, written expressly for, and sung by, George Simpson, 40 cts.; "Moonshine," bagatelle, for piano, G. W. Warren, 60 cts.; "Infelice Galop," Hall, 60 cts. Copies mailed. WILLIAM A. POND & CO., No. 547 Broadway, and No. 39 Union square, New-York.

CENTENNIAL BAZAAR.

NOV. 15, 16, AND 17, WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, AND FRIDAY, At No. 113 East 40th st., near Park av. OPEN FROM 12 TO 10 P. M. Admission, 10 cents.

KELLY & LEON'S MINSTRELS. Opera-house.

The Fashionable Minstrel Temple | 23d st., and 6th av.
Every evening | Ching Chow Hi | Matinée at 2.
Houses crowded | Ching Chow Hi | Thanksgiving Day.
Flight of Leon from the Dome of the Theatre.

OLYMPIC NOVELTY THEATRE, 624 B'WAY.

Matinées WEDNESDAY, SATURDAY. 15c., 25c., 50c. | Admission, 15c., 35c., 50c., 75c., & $1. NOVELTY COMPANY NO. 8. 15 new specialty stars, and drama entitled AGAINST THE STREAM.

INSTRUCTION.

MOUNT WASHINGTON

Collegiate Institute,

No. 40 WASHINGTON SQUARE, NEW-YORK CITY, GEO. W. CLARKE, Ph. D., Principal.

Prepares pupils of all ages for business or college, and opens its thirty-fourth year Sept. 18. Circulars at book stores and at the Institute.

MLLE. L. F. ROSTAN'S

FRENCH, ENGLISH, AND GERMAN BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES,

No. 1 East 41st st., corner 5th av.,

Will reopen Oct. 8. The Musical Department is under the care of Profs. S. B. MILLS and B. LAURENT. Mrs. M. J. R. BUEL, late of Washington, D. C., will be connected with the school.

KINDERGARTEN and PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

MME. O. DA SILVA AND MRS. ALEX. BRADFORD'S

(formerly Mrs. Ogden Hoffman's) English, French, and German boarding and day school for young ladies and children, with calisthenics. No. 17 West 38th st., New-York. Reopens Sept. 25. Applications may be made by letter or personally, as above.

ACADEMY OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION.

Classes for misses and masters, young ladies and adults.

MOVEMENT CURE, private to invalids.

No. 64 Madison av., Dr. Mott's Memorial Hall.

Prof. HENRY GEBHARD, Director.

ANTHON GRAMMAR SCHOOL,

No. 252 Madison av., Between 38th and 39th sts. School hours, 9:30 A. M. to 2:30 P. M.

The rates of tuition have been reduced.

A CLASS FOR BOYS.—THE DESIGN OF THIS class is to prepare boys thoroughly for our best colleges; number of pupils limited to twelve. References: President Eliot, of Harvard University; Theodore Roosevelt, Esq., and William H. Osborn, Esq., New-York City. For circulars apply to ARTHUR H. CUTLER, at Class Rooms, No. 713 6th av.

ST. JOHN'S SCHOOL.

BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES AND CHILDREN.

Rev. THEODORE IRVING, LL. D., Rector, No. 21 West 32d st.

C. A. MILES,

ENGLISH AND CLASSICAL SCHOOL FOR BOYS,

No. 100 West 43d st., corner 6th av.

School hours, 9:30 A. M. to 2:30 P. M.

MISS DU VERNET, ASSISTED BY COMpetent masters, will reopen her Boarding and Day School for boys under fifteen, at No. 102 West 29th st., one door from 6th av., on MONDAY, Sept. 25; day boarders are taken to the Park after an early dinner.

A GREAT REDUCTION TO THOSE ENTERING THOMPSON'S COLLEGE, No. 20 4th av., before Dec. 1; bookkeeping, writing, arithmetic, $5 each, three months, day or evening; telegraphy taught practically. A demand for operators.

PAINE'S COLLEGE, NO. 62 BOWERY; UPtown, No. 284 8th av.; young men, ladies, and boys taught bookkeeping, arithmetic, correspondence; backward persons. English branches, writing, $3 monthly.

BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL, MANSfield, Conn.—Beautiful and healthful location; second term begins Jan. 4, 1877; applications received immediately. Address SEMINARY.

DOLBEAR, NO. 1,193 BROADWAY, IS forming special classes at half price; elegant penmanship, $5; book-keeping, $10; private lessons day or evening; English band for ladies.

FRENCH, GERMAN, SPANISH, AND ITALian learned within three months; taught conversationally. Terms only $5 for twenty lessons. Dr. H. CARLOS, No. 35 Union square.

MRS. ROBERTS AND MISS WALKER'S English and French School, No. 148 Madison av.; advanced classes from Nov. 1; three young ladies will be received into the family.

CHESTER VALLEY ACADEMY—A Boarding School for Boys, Downington, Pa.; limited in number; boys have home comforts and careful training; easy of access; $200 to $260 a year. F. DONLEAVY LONG, A. M., Prin.

MRS. AND MISS STEERS'S SCHOOLS, No. 12 East 47th st., and No. 62 West 12th st. Kindergarten attached to each school. School omnibus from No. 12 East 47th st.

MRS. J. T. BENEDICT'S BOARDING AND Day School for young ladies and children, No. 7 East 42d st., N. Y., will reopen Sept. 28. Send for circular.

MISS EDMONDS' ENGLISH AND FRENCH boarding and Day School for young ladies. No. 37 East 29th st.

MISS WARREN'S School for Boys, 6th av., opposite Reservoir Park; pupils of all ages improve here.

A CLASS FOR YOUNG GENTLEMAN AND private instruction. Thos. R. Ash, 103 West 40th st.

GOLDEN HILL SEMINARY FOR YOUNG ladies Bridgeport, Conn. Miss EMILY NELSON.

AMUSEMENTS.

FIFTH AVENUE THEATRE.

The performances of LIFE will positively CEASE after FIVE MORE evenings. The spectacular comedy will then be withdrawn in favor of an elaborate revival of Shakespeare's AS YOU LIKE IT, after long preparation.

FIFTH AVENUE THEATRE.

Proprietor and Manager..........Mr. AUGUSTIN DALY

LAST NIGHT BUT FOUR OF LIFE!

LAST MATINEE OF LIFE, SATURDAY. | Last week of LIFE! Last week of BONFANTI! Last week of SNOW BALLET! Last of LEWIS' DANCE! Last MATINEE, SATURDAY!

SATURDAY EVENING, Nov. 18, first production of SHAKESPEARE'S marvel of comedy, AS YOU LIKE IT, and first appearance this season of Miss FANNY DAVENPORT as ROSALIND, in connection with

Mr. COGHLAN.................as..................ORLANDO
Mr. WM. CASTLE...............as..................AMIENS
Mr. CHARLES FISHER........as..................JAQUES
Mr. W. DAVIDGE...............as............TOUCHSTONE
Miss JEFFREYS LEWIS.......as....................CELIA
Miss SYDNEY COWELL.......as..................AUDREY

Superb Scenic Effects! All the Music.

FIFTH AVENUE THEATRE.

The SALE of SEATS for the first night of the grand SHAKEPEREAN REVIVAL, and of MISS DAVENPORT'S first appearance, Nov. 18, will begin MONDAY MORNING, Nov. 13, at 8 o'clock.

THE BEST RESERVED SEATS FOR ALL THEATRES six days in advance, at TYSON'S NEW THEATRE TICKET OFFICE, WINDSOR HOTEL.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE. THIS EVENING.

8TH AV. AND 23D ST.

POOLE & DONNELLY..............Lessees and Managers

GILMORE'S SECOND GRAND CONCERT THIS SUNDAY EVENING, THIS SUNDAY EVENING.

PROGRAMME—PART I.

1. Overture, "Jubel"..................................Weber
GILMORE'S BAND.
2. Cornet solo, "Air and Variations".........De Beriot
Mr. M. ARBUCKLE.
3. Andante from Fifth Symphony..........Beethoven
GILMORE'S BAND.
4. Aria from "Judas Maccabæus," "Sound an Alarm," Handel
Mr. H. M. STANLEY.
5. Piano solo, "Caprice."...............................Mills
Master HERMAN RIETZEL.

PART II.

6. Grand Opera Selection........................Meyerbeer
Introducing the gems of "L'Etoile du Nord," "Les Huguenots," "L'Africaine," "Le Prophete," and other operas.
GILMORE'S BAND.
7. GRAND SCENA FROM IL TROVATORE..........Verdi
Miss LILLIAN B. NORTON.
8. FLUTE SOLO—Fantasia on a popular Melody. Bracht
Mr. F. BRACHT.
9. MOSAIC—Grand Concert Air and Variations. Riviere
For flutes, clarionets, cornets, piccolos, French horns, baritones, trumpets, oboes, bassoons, saxophone, (Mr. E. A. Lefebre,) trombones, and tubas.
10. Fest March from "Tannhauser"...............Wagner
GILMORE'S BAND.

POPULAR PRICES.

ADMISSION, 50 cents; Reserved Seats, 75 cents and $1; Gallery, 25 cents. Open at 7; commence at 8.

UNION SQUARE THEATRE.

Proprietor..........................Mr. SHERIDAN SHOOK.
Manager................................Mr. A. M. PALMER.

LAST TIMES OF THE
LAST TIMES OF THE
LAST TIMES OF THE
LAST TIMES OF THE

TWO ORPHANS,

The most successful play of the CENTURY.

LAST TIMES OF THE
LAST TIMES OF THE
LAST TIMES OF THE
LAST TIMES OF THE

In preparation, and shortly to be produced, MM. Nus & Belot's powerful drama in five acts, entitled MISS MULTON.

This play will be presented with an extraordinary cast, including Miss CLARA MORRIS—her first appearance in two years—Miss Sara Jewett, Miss Maria Wilkins, and Miss Bijou Heron, Louise Sylvester, and Mabel Leonard, and Mr. JAMES O'NEIL, Mr. J. H. Stoddart—his first appearance this season—and Mr. John Parselle. All the scenes used have been expressly painted for this production by Mr. R. Marst on.

UNION-SQUARE THEATRE.

NINTH ANNUAL BENEFIT of the BENEVOLENT AND PROTECTIVE ORDER OF ELKS will take place THURSDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 23, 1876, Commencing at 1:30 P. M., on which occasion will be presented a grand entertainment of the most attractive and recherché character. Tickets and reserved seats can be secured at the box office of the Theatre every day.

HELLER'S WONDER THEATRE,

LATE GLOBE, OPPOSITE NEW-YORK HOTEL.

ROBERT HELLER. ROBERT HELLER.

THE WORLD-FAMED PRESTIDIGITATEUR, PIANIST, and HUMORIST,

Will present the first of a series of entertainments entitled HELLER'S WONDERS, at this entirely remodeled and redecorated theatre, ON WEDNESDAY EVENING NOV. 15, which will be repeated EVERY EVENING AT 8 O'CLOCK.

"The most astounding Necromancy of the 19th century."

"The cleverest tricks ever attempted."

FIRST APPEARANCE IN AMERICA OF MISS HELLER, who will make her début in the famous phenomenal wonder entitled SUPERNATURAL VISION.

Prices of admission—Reserved orchestra chairs, $1; balcony reserved seats, 75 cents; family circle, 50 cents; amphitheatre, limited, 25 cents.

Grand Sacred Concert

For the benefit of the URSULINE CONVENT, EAST MORRISANIA, AT ST. ANN'S CHURCH, East 12th st., between 3d and 4th avs.

SUNDAY, NOV. 19, 1876, at 8 o'clock P. M.,

Under the direction of Mr. L. Dachauer. The 129th psalm, arranged by Gounod, will be sung for the first time in America.

Miss H. Corradi, Miss O. Gomien, and Mr. A. Blum, with other distinguished artists and a select chorus, will interpret an interesting programme.

Admission ticket, 50 cents. Reserved seat ticket, $1.

ESSIPOFF. STEINWAY HALL.

It is respectfully announced that the first appearance in America of the eminent Russian pianiste, MADAME ANNETTE ESSIPOFF, will take place TUESDAY EVENING, NOV. 14, on which occasion Mme. ESSIPOFF will be assisted by MONSIEUR ALFRED VIVIEN, violin virtuoso of the Conservatory of Brussels, expressly engaged for the Essipoff concert, and a very select orchestra from the PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.

RESERVED SEATS TWO DOLLARS. Sale of seats on and after Thursday morning at Schuberth's Music store, No. 23 Union square; Steinway Hall, and No. 111 Broadway.

WILL CLOSE SATURDAY EVENING, NOV. 18.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE,

2D AND 3D AVS., BETWEEN 63D AND 64TH STS.

LAST DAYS OF THE

FORTY-FIFTH GRAND NATIONAL EXHIBITION.

Adults 25 cents; Children 15 cents.

CHICKERING HALL, CITY LECTURE COURSE.

AMERICAN LITERARY BUREAU..............Managers

Col. John W. Forney,

(Centennial Commissioner to Europe,)

MONDAY EVENING, Nov. 13.

Subject—"OUR CENTENNIAL IN EUROPE."

Admission, 50 cents; reserved seats, 75 cents; at PONDS, No. 39 Union Square.

Same Lecture, BROOKLYN ACADEMY, Nov. 14.

READINGS BY MISS LIZZIE L. CLARK,

Under the directions of J. E. FROBISHER, at CHICKERING HALL, 5th av., between 18th and 19th sts., WEDNESDAY EVENING, Nov. 15, at 8 o'clock. Tickets 50 cents, to be obtained at Blume's music store, No. 861 Broadway, or at the Hall.

SAN FRANCISCO MINSTRELS.

OPERA HOUSE, BROADWAY & 29TH ST. | THE MINSTREL PALACE. BIRCH, WAMBOLD, BACKUS, and THIRTY BRILLIANT ARTISTS. The crême de la crême of minstrelsy.

MATINEE, SATURDAY at 2. Seats secured.

EXERCISE, HEALTH, AMUSEMENT.—J. Woods' Gymnasium, No. 6 East 28th st., open day and evening; boxing, fencing, private training baths, &c.

STORAGE.

MORRELL'S

FIRST-CLASS

STORAGE WAREHOUSES,

With Safe Deposit Vaults

And Fire and Burglar Proof Safes,

(Built expressly for the purpose,)

No. 102 to 126 East 32d st.,

Extending to 4th av., NEW-YORK.

STORAGE FOR FURNITURE

OF ALL KINDS,

Pianos, Mirrors, Ornaments, Trunks and Baggage; also Private Carriages, &c.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY

FOR VALUABLES OF ALL KINDS.

Persons leaving the City will find every facility required for their accommodation at this establishment.

SAFES, of all sizes, TO RENT by the month or year. Office for Safe Deposit Department, No. 475 4th av. Office for Warehouse Department, No. 106 East 32d st.

Articles will be received from or forwarded to any part of Europe or America.

☞ Ladies and gentlemen are invited to inspect the premises before engaging elsewhere.

AMUSEMENTS.

GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH AT GILMORE'S GARDEN, AFTERNOON AND EVENING.

MENAGERIE, MUSEUM AND HIPPODROME.

$25,000 HIPPOPOTAMUS, PERFORMING ELEPHANTS, HORSES, PONIES, MARVELOUS HORSEMANSHIP. THE CHALLENGE OF CHARLES FISH TO ANY "PAD" OR "BAREBACK" RIDER IN THE WORLD.

ASTOUNDING FEATS BY SATSUMA and ALL RIGHT, SIX BEAUTIFUL LADY RIDERS. GYMNASTIC AND TUMBLING ACTS BY LEADERS IN THE PROFESSION. FIRST APPEARANCE OF HAWLEY AND VICTORIA IN THEIR TERRIFIC MID-AIR FLIGHT ON THE TRAPEZE. FIRST APPEARANCE OF MR. A. GAFFNEY, CANNON-BALL PERFORMER. A MOST INTERESTING AND VALUABLE STUDY OF THE ANIMAL KINGDOM FOR THE YOUTH OF AMERICA, ALIKE USEFUL AND INSTRUCTIVE TO THE WHOLE HUMAN FAMILY. FISH, SEBASTIAN, JAMES COOK, THE SHAKESPEARIAN JESTER; COOKE, SCENIC RIDER; MME. DE BERG, JENNIE WATSON, HOWARD, VICTORIA, CARLO FAMILY, REYNOLDS, CLARK, ALMONTE, ROLLAND, TATOO DOT, AND MANY OTHERS.

ADMISSION, 50c.; CHILDREN UNDER 9, 25c. ORCHESTRA SEATS 25c. EXTRA.

PERFORMANCE AT 2 AND 8. DOORS OPEN AT 1 AND 6:30.

THE GREAT NEW-YORK AQUARIUM,

BROADWAY AND 35TH ST.

OPEN DAILY FROM 9 A. M. TILL 10 P. M.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT!!!

THE RECENT ADDITIONS TO THIS POPULAR RESORT ARE OF SO VARIED A CHARACTER THAT ENUMERATION IS IMPOSSIBLE.

THE GREAT JAPANESE CURIOSITY,

THE "KINGIYO," OR, TRIPLE TAILED FISH, LOANED THIS INSTITUTION FOR A SHORT TIME ONLY.

SCULPANS, CRAWFISH, PROTEUS, STICKLEBACKS, SNAPPING TURTLE, SEALS, SEA LION, SHARKS, SEA HORSE. RIVER, LAKE, BROOK, AND POND FISH. SHELL FISH OF EVERY FORM AND IN GREAT VARIETY, MARVELS OF MARINE LIFE. ALL THE USUAL ATTRACTIONS.

ELEGANT PROMENADE CONCERTS EVERY AFTERNOON AND EVENING.

HARVEY B. DODWORTH, DIRECTOR.

NIBLO'S GARDEN.

CHARLES E. ARNOLD..............Lessee and Manager
BENSEN SHERWOOD..................................Director

3333 RRR DDD MM MM OOO NN N TTTT H H
3 R R D D MMMMO O N N N T H H
3 R R D D MMMMO O N N N T HHHH
3 R R D D MMMMO O N NN T H H
3333 R R DDD M M M OOO N NN T H H

OF

BBBB A BBBB A
B B A A B B A A
BBBB A A BBBB A A
B B AAAA B B AAAA
BBBB A A BBBB A A

Written expressly for this theatre by Mr. John A. Mack.

UNABATED SUCCESS OF

Miss ELIZA WEATHERSBY.........as..........AMORET
Mr. W. H. CRANE.........................as...............BABA

Continued triumph of Miles. ELIZABETA and HELENE MENZELI.

The most artistic premieres assolutas ever seen in this country.

MR. BENSON SHERWOOD'S MARVELOUS TRANSFORMATIONS;

THE SHIP CHANGE, THE THREE GROTTOS, THE CRUMBLING PALACE, THE GRANDEST BALLETS IN THE WORLD, MAX MARETZEK'S SWEET MUSIC, DEVERNA'S ARTISTIC PROPERTIES, RICHEST COSTUMES. EXQUISITE SCENERY, JOLLIEST PLAY. THE BEST ENTERTAINMENT IN THE CITY.

Box office open daily from 8 A. M. to 10 P. M., where seats may be secured one week in advance.

MATINEE SATURDAY AT 1:30.

WALLACK'S. BOUCICAULT.

Mr. LESTER WALLACK.......Proprietor and Manager

Mr. Wallack is gratified to announce the engagement of the eminent dramatist and comedian, who inaugurated his present season with the comedy FORBIDDEN FRUIT as a brilliant prelude to his appearance as CONN, in his celebrated Irish drama, the SHAUGHRAUN.

The engagement of Mr. BOUCICAULT being necessarily limited to a few weeks, the comedy FORBIDDEN FRUIT, suspended during the run of THE SHAUGHRAUN, will be resumed after his engagement, after which a new drama, entitled ALL FOR HER, will be produced.

EVERY NIGHT at 8, EVERY SATURDAY AFTERNOON at 1:30, will be performed THE SHAUGHRAUN, with the original cast, including Mr. John Gilbert, Mr. H. J. Montague, Mr. Harry Beckett, Mr. E. Arnott, Mr. C. A. Stevenson, Mr. E. Holland, Mr. Edwin, Mr. Leonard, Mr. Peck, Mr. Eytinge, Mr. Atkins, Miss Dyas, Mme. Ponisi, Miss Rose Wood, Miss Josephine Baker, Mrs. Sefton, and Miss Blaisdell, as originally represented at Wallack's Theatre in 1874.

Box office open daily from 8 to 5. Places may be secured four weeks in advance.

BOOTH'S THEATRE. GRANDEUR.

JARRETT & PALMER..............Lessees and Managers

NEW | "THE GLORY OF THE STAGE." FOURTEENTH WEEK of the triumphant production of LORD BYRON'S exquisite romantic play, SARDANAPALUS.

GRAND | MARVELOUSLY MAGNIFICENT Scenery, costumes, regalia, weapons, banners, &c. THE GREAT CAST INCLUDING MR. F. C. BANGS and AGNES BOOTH.

ITALIAN | THE NEW GRAND BALLET, introducing the renowned BARTOLETTI, premiere danseuse assoluta, of the Grand

BALLET. | Opera, Paris, and La Scala, Milan; Sig. MASCAGNO, principal dancer of La Scala, Milan, and San Carlo, Naples.

MATINEE EVERY SATURDAY AT 1:30.

 NEXT FRIDAY EVENING, BENEFIT of Mr. BANGS. Seats can now be secured.

 Dec. 4, LAWRENCE BARRETT as "King Lear."

PARK THEATRE. BROADWAY AND 22D ST.

In consequence of the continued success of the popularly approved performance of the thoroughly enjoyable comedy of "Tom Cobb," and also the continued indisposition of Mr. J. B. Attwater, the production of the "Crabbed Age" has been postponed until after Miss Lotta's engagement, which commences on the 27th inst., therefore FOR A FEW NIGHTS MORE "TOM COBB," "TOM COBB," "TOM COBB," NIGHTLY RECEIVED WITH ROARS OF LAUGHTER.

W. S. ANDREWS will lecture on Dialect Humor at ASSOCIATION HALL, MONDAY EVENING, Dec. 4.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE, 8TH AV. AND 23D ST.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN, With its great realistic plantation scene, UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE.

MATINEES WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY AT 2.

UNION SQUARE THEATRE. NOVELTIES.

Read the graphic account on first page to-days NOAH'S SUNDAY TIMES.

LECTURES.

COOPER UNION FREE SATURDAY NIGHT Lectures, in the great hall at 8 o'clock. The first division of the course for 1876 and 1877 will be as follows: Nov. 18—"Going Round the World," by H. M. Field, D. D. Nov. 25—"Operations at Hell Gate," by H. Stansbury Norse, C. E. Dec. 2—"The Modern Locomotive," by Phinehas Barnes, C. E. Dec. 9—"The Belief of the Ancient Egyptians in a Future Life," by James Douglas, Jr., Esq. Dec. 16—"Bronzes and Enamels Applied to Decoration," by Frederick Vors, Esq. Dec. 23—"Household Art," by William H. Goodyear, Esq. Dec. 30—"Dialect Humor," by W. S. Andrews, Esq. Jan. 6, 13, 20, and 27—Four lectures on "Evolution," by Prof. Edward S. Morse.

The lectures will be fully illustrated with lantern views, models, pictures, and objects. Tickets can be had gratis at the office of the Cooper Union and at D. Van Nostrand's book store, No. 23 Murray st.

ABRAM S. HEWITT, Secretary.

WATCHES, JEWELRY, &C.

MONEY ON DIAMONDS, FURS, &c.—DIAmonds, Watches, Jewelry, Silverware, Camel's hair Shawls, Seal Saques, Silk, &c., bought and sold back at a very small advance. GEO. C. ALLEN, Jeweler, No. 1,190 Broadway, near 29th st.

DIAMONDS OF FIRST WATER WANTED, cheap for cash. Call on J. HANCE, No. 214 East 26th st., Monday and Tuesday at 10 o'clock.

WATCHES AND JEWELRY REPAIRED by first-class workmen. GEO. C. ALLEN, No. 1,190 Broadway, near 29th st.

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

THE EAST RIVER BRIDGE.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE TEMPORARY FOOT-BRIDGE—THE SECOND LARGE CABLE PLACED IN POSITION.

The work of stretching the second large foot-bridge cable of the East River Bridge across the river was begun yesterday morning, and successfully completed, so far as the river span is concerned. The first two hours of the morning were taken up with the completion of the arrangements for carrying the end of the cable across the river. First, a stout, four and a half inch manila rope was carried across the river, by means of the carrier rope, to which it was lashed at intervals of fifty feet, and after being passed over the top of the tower on the New-York side the end was carried down and fastened to the drum of the large 30-horse engine stationed in the company's yard, midway between the tower and the street. A similar rope was then extended from the New-York tower to the New-York anchorage, and another from the Brooklyn tower to the Brooklyn anchorage. This completed the preliminary arrangements. Meanwhile, the cable, which had been landed from the float on which it had been conveyed from Jersey City to Brooklyn had been mounted on an axle, and the end of the cable was made fast to the tow-rope which was to carry it to the top of the tower, and across the river. Owing to the immense weight of the cable, it was feared that the engine stationed on the New-York side of the river would not be sufficiently powerful to hoist the cable and carry it across, and so pulleys were arranged, and an extra hoist rope provided, on the Brooklyn side, and operated by the small sixteen-horse engine stationed at the foot of the Brooklyn tower. All things being got in readiness, the hoisting of the end of the cable was begun at 10:30 A. M. It did not take long to carry the end of the cable to the top of the Brooklyn tower, but considerable time was consumed in passing it over the iron pulley which had been provided to receive it. This pulley is about two feet in diameter. The progress made was necessarily slow, owing to the extreme caution which Superintendent Farrington and his men were compelled to observe. The cable was lashed to the carrier rope at intervals of about fifty feet, by means of wires attached to pulleys to prevent the sagging of the cable in the centre,—the pulleys being lashed securely to the larger cable and allowed to run along on the top of the carrier cable. Considerable delay was occasioned by this lashing process, which was done by two men suspended on a "cradle" about ten or twelve feet from the tower, and on a level with its top. Further delay was also occasioned by the bringing down of the end of the hoist rope, at the foot of the Brooklyn tower, and the securing of it to the cable, close to the drum; and each time this was done, one of the workmen would descend, by means of a "chair," nearly down to the level of the roadway of the tower, and lash the hoist rope to the cable, in order to strengthen it and keep it in place. It looked like a perilous journey which the workman was thus compelled to accomplish, as one looked up at him from terra firma; but as he was let down and hauled up by means of a rope from the top of the tower, it was really not so dangerous as it looked from the ground.

The work progressed satisfactorily, though slowly, throughout the working hours of the day, and at 4 o'clock P. M. the end of the cable reached the New-York tower, and was there made fast, where it will remain until to-morrow morning, when, if the weather is not stormy, it will be carried on to the New-York anchorage and finally secured. In this work, too, extra machinery will be used, the engine stationed at the foot of the New-York anchorage being a small one of only 16-horse power. Therefore, the manila tow-rope worked by the large engine at the foot of the New-York tower will be carried out about two or three hundred feet over the river, by means of a "cradle," where it will be made fast to the cradle, and thus aid in hauling it across to its final destination on the New-York anchorage. When this shall have been accomplished the Brooklyn end of the cable will be carried up to the top of the tower, and over to the Brooklyn anchorage, where it will be made fast, after which the machinery will be set in motion and the cable stretched to its proper tension. Workmen will then be sent across on a cradle for the purpose of removing the lashings.

As was stated in yesterday's TIMES, this is the second of the large foot-bridge cables, and the eighth that has been placed in position. There remain but two more cables to be laid for the temporary foot bridge, and when those are in position the swinging of the foot bridge will be begun. This consists of a wooden structure, built in sections forty feet in length, and these sections are at present lying on the Brooklyn dock, ready to be put in position. The cable now being laid is 2⅝ inches in diameter, 3,750 feet long, and weighs 46,000 pounds. The two which remain to be laid are to be 2¼ inches in diameter. It is now expected that the temporary foot-bridge will be in position in about five weeks, after which work on the large cables, which are to swing the main bridge, will be begun, and pressed forward as rapidly as possible to completion.

DEATH FROM HYDROPHOBIA.

A CHILD'S PAINFUL SUFFERINGS—INTERESTING HISTORY OF THE CASE BY THE MEDICAL ATTENDANT.

Frederick F. Treadwell, aged five years, the son of Mr. Edward Treadwell, of No. 1,003 Second avenue, died on Friday last after an illness of two days. A copy of the certificate of death, signed by Dr. St. Clair Smith, of No. 10 East Thirty-sixth street, which was transmitted by the Board of Health to the Coroner's office yesterday morning, stated that hydrophobia was the primary cause of death. Accompanying the certificate was the following interesting history of the case and description of the child's sufferings immediately before death ensued, addressed by Dr. Smith to Dr. John T. Nagle, Deputy Register of Records of the Health Department:

NEW-YORK, Nov. 10, 1876.

MY DEAR SIR: You will receive a certificate of the death from hydrophobia, given by me, either to-day or to-morrow. Thinking that a history of the case may be of interest to you as a matter of statistics, I take this opportunity to give it to you in detail. The child was bitten by a dog near Central Park on the afternoon of the 6th day of last April. His nurse was taking him to the Park for a walk, and as they stepped from the street car at the Fifth avenue entrance (Fifth-ninth street) a dog, apparently without provocation, sprang at the child, bit him in the face and ran away. The under teeth of the dog caught the child under the lower jaw, and the upper teeth struck his face just below the eye (left side.) As his mouth closed the teeth produced only a slight abrasion of the cheek, but the tusk perforated the upper lip and tore its way out, leaving a clean cut of nearly half an inch in depth. The nurse caught the child up and ran home with him immediately. His mother, as soon as she learned the cause of the injury, commenced to suck the wound, and continued to suck it almost constantly until I saw him, about an hour and a half after the accident. At this time the hemorrhage, which had been profuse at first, was nearly arrested, and the wound had the appearance of having been boiled, from the assiduous sucking it had received. The child was pallid, apparently from loss of blood, which had been considerable. Fright might have contributed somewhat to this condition. My first impulse was to cauterize the wound, but taking into account the hemorrhage and the faithful sucking it had received, and wishing to avoid any unnecessary disfigurement that might result from cauterization, I decided to close the wound by sutures. It healed kindly, and in the course of three or four days the last stitch was removed. I had graver apprehensions about the abrasion on the face than about the wound in the lip. The former, however, was so slight that there was no oozing of serum, even. I bathed it with a solution of carbolic acid, and flattered myself that there would be no further trouble. This belief was strengthened by the fact that a policeman, who saw the accident, brought a dog to the station-house on Fifty-ninth street, between Second and Third avenues, and assured the mother that he was the animal which bit the child. I was summoned to examine him, and found him absolutely free from any evidences of rabies. As he was a vagrant cur, the Sergeant had him shot. The policeman was offered a reward if he could produce the dog, and he, of course, claimed that this one was the culprit. The child continued in good health, with the exception of a severe attack of remittant fever during the Summer, until the day before yesterday morning, the 8th inst.; his mother noticed at this time that his breathing was unnatural; later in the day he complained of nausea, and vomited a few times; I saw him about 8:30 P. M. the same day; on entering the room I was struck by the peculiar expression of his face; there was evidently great physical depression, like that produced by suffuse eruptions; the pulse as very rapid, 150 or more per minute and weak; temperature 101½° Fareinheit, respiration rapid, more than forty a minute, superficial and irregular, with an occasional deep sighing, or jerky inspirations. At the same time, he would extend his head and open his mouth as if gasping for breath. His eyes had a very peculiar and indescribable expression—more of fear, perhaps, than anything else — and when he smiled his expression was frightful. If you can imagine a smiling mouth beneath two angry, malicious eyes, you have the picture. A glass of water dissipated any doubts I may have had in regard to a diagnosis by producing, as soon as it touched his lips, a terrific laryngeal spasm, with loud outcries, and a cough that resembled the yelp-like bark of a cur. It is unnecessary for me to detail the case further. Suffice it to say that it followed the regular course of similar cases, and he died at last from laryngeal spasms, induced by attempting to swallow some water. For two hours previous to this he had been able to drink without much difficulty. As regards treatment, I can only say that it was homeopathic. One of the serpent poisons was given at first for several hours; this was followed by belladonna, and finally hyoscyamus was given. It is unnecessary for me to add that the result of the treatment was negative. With much respect,

ST. CLAIR SMITH.

SINGULAR RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

A TRAIN RUNS INTO THE RIVER AT COMMUNIPAW—NO LIVES LOST AND NO PERSON SERIOUSLY INJURED—DAMAGE TO THE TRAIN, $10,000.

An accident of a singular and unusual nature occurred last evening at the New-Jersey Central Railway depot in Communipaw. The trains, on arriving at the depot, are run under a frame shed to the terminus of the tracks. That point does not lie more than thirty or forty feet from the river front, and is unguarded by any bumpers or other devices to stop trains. Sole reliance is placed upon the patent "backing brakes," as they are called, with which every engine is supplied. Yesterday afternoon the train on the Bound Brook Road, which left the Centennial Grounds at 1:30, arrived at the depot ten minutes late. The train was headed by locomotive No. 95, and consisted of thirteen cars, crowded with passengers returning from the great Exhibition.

When the train entered the depot, it was running at the rate of ten miles an hour, and when an effort was made to check its speed, it was discovered that the locomotive's "backing brake" was out of order and would not work. The locomotive, followed by her precious cargo of human lives, dashed forward and over the end of the track then ran over the stone pavement beyond, crashed through the south end of the freight-house, and leaped into the river. The engineer, Charles Peoples, had no time, he says, after he had discovered that his brake was out of order, to whistle to the brakemen to put down the brakes on the car behind. He said that his own life was in peril, and, with his fireman, jumped to the pavement. He was thrown violently to the ground and received very serious injuries. The fireman escaped unhurt. The locomotive seethed and disappeared beneath twenty or twenty-five feet of water. The tender also plunged in and disappeared. The baggage-car followed, and was doubled up over the locomotive and tender, and the smoking-car turned over on its side and lay on the wreck of the other three. Six gentlemen who had been smoking and chatting in the baggage-car were submerged with the car, but were rescued by the railroad employes. The gentlemen in the smoking-car, which the wreck of the others supported above the surface, were a good deal shaken up by the reversal of the position of the car, but succeeded in crawling out through the windows unhurt. The passenger-car, immediately behind the smoking-car, lay with its foremost truck hanging over the water, the balance of the car resting on the dock. The greatest consternation prevailed among the passengers in the rear car, and the building rang with the agonizing screams of the women and children. So far as can be ascertained, however, none were severely injured, though it is reported that one of the ladies had her arm broken. The Police, from whom the information comes, failed to ascertain her name, and the railroad officials say that they knew nothing of such an accident. The locomotive and engine, together with the baggage and smoking-car are still in the water in the position in which they fell, and the extent to which they have been damaged cannot for the present be ascertained. It is probable, however, that so much of the wreck as lies beneath the smoking-car is wrecked beyond repair. The smoking-car does not seem to have been injured to any great extent. The baggage-car was filled with the baggage of the passengers, and the damage which will be done to it by the water will probably be considerable. The railroad hands were last evening set to the task of taking out so much of it as can be reached. The entire south side of the freight-house was torn away, and the wooden pier beyond the pavement was crushed in by the cars as they dashed over it into the water. The total damage will not, however, probably fall short of $10,000. The passengers were very loud in their denunciation of the railroad company for their failure to place bumpers at the end of the track. The company say, however, that they are about to build a new iron depot as soon as sufficient funds shall have been secured. Large numbers of passengers viewed the wreck last evening, and blame the company for their want of precaution.

THE GAME OF FOOT-BALL.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE DEFEATED BY STEVENS INSTITUTE—A PROTEST ENTERED BY THE FORMER.

The foot-ball season was yesterday opened with a match between the Stevens Institute and Columbia College. The ground foot of Ninth street, Hoboken, was the scene of the contest, and a considerable number of friends of the contestants on either side was present. The ball was started at 2:45 P. M., and the play at first was not so fast as usual, but the superior weight of the college men forced the ball down toward their adversaries' goal and captured it after twenty-three minutes' hard play, Brinkerhoff cleverly batting the ball between the goal posts from a good middle by Price, the Captain. Stevens rallied under the strict discipline of Hazard, their Captain, and obtained three goals by dint of hard play and activity in passing the ball. The first was kicked by Suydam in twenty minutes, a very good left drop, the ball only clearing the posts by a few inches; the next was kicked by Hornblower in thirteen minutes, and Suydam was again instrumental in lowering the colors of the college by another good piece of play, in twenty minutes. The Columbia boys were considerably nettled by these successes, and by being well on the ball from the kick off, they, by the aid of Train, captured the next goal in twenty-two minutes, and again by Lynch in thirty-four minutes, while shouts of C-o-l-u-m-b-i-a rang out over the expanse of green sward. The Stevens boys were not to be put down, however, and in a body they bore down on the ball, Denton being on it all the time, until they had secured the seventh goal in eight minutes, gained by Nichols with a clever bat from in front of goal. On changing sides at a few minutes to the time of drawing, the Columbia boys tried their best to make it a tie, but Shippen, (who played in the place of Stevens, who was "hurt") obtained another goal at 5:15, just as time was about to be called, the Stevens winning by five goals to three. After the match was over a protest was entered by Mr. Price, the Captain of the Columbia team, that Mr. Shippen and Mr. Kingsland were not students at the Stevens Institute, and the matter remains in abeyance until the Referee, Mr. E. Stevens, of Princeton, shall decide. Columbia only had seventeen men on the ground, and the Stevens Captain consequently played the same number Mr. Radford, of Columbia, and Mr. Stephens, of the Stevens Institute, were both badly hurt, about half time, and had to be helped off the ground. The following were the contestants:

Stevens Institute.—Messrs. Hazard, Captain; Suydam, Aikin, Denton, Roberts, Foote, Sheldon, Hornblower, Richards, Kingsland, Dillworth, Nichols, and Burkhardt, rushers; White and Stephens, half back; Morton and Ogden, goal keepers.

Columbia College.—Messrs. Price, Captain; Bach, Brinkerhoff, Palmer, Franke, Morgan, Parker, Train, Lynch, Hildreth, Embree, Colgate, Radford, and in lieu, Devereux, rushers; Bogert and Pryor, half-back; Brower and Bush, goal keepers.

Umpire for Columbia—F. D. Weeks.

Umpire for Stevens—A. Gorge.

Referee—E. Stevens, of Princeton.

THE GAME OF POLO.

Between twenty-five and thirty members of the Westchester Polo Club assembled at the club grounds, in Jerome Park, yesterday afternoon, and played half a dozen games. Mr. Bennett and the Messrs. Oelrich contended against Mr. J. B. Moot, Mr. Richard Peters, Mr. William Gray, and Mr. William Post, winning the first five games in handsome style. The sixth game fell to the "Reds" under the leadership of Mr. Moot. While the fifth game was in progress Mr. Peters received a severe fall; his pony coming in contact with that ridden by Mr. Herman Oelrich's and, losing his foothold, fell, carrying his rider down with him. Happily, however, no serious injury was received by Mr. Peters, who soon resumed his seat in the saddle and continued the game.

While the gentlemen were engaged with polo, several ladies, who had gone out in the drags of Mr. Bennett, Mr. Bronson, and Col. Jay, indulged in a game of tennis on the lawn to the right of the club-house, in full view, however, of the horsemen who were gallantly struggling to drive the little wooden sphere between the goals.

JOHN MAGNI'S DEATH.

Coroner Ellinger endeavored yesterday afternoon to ascertain the circumstances attending the fracas at No. 37 Mulberry street, on the night of Oct. 15, in which an Italian, named John Magni, received wounds on the head from which he died on Monday last, at the Chambers Street Hospital. In consequence of the reticence of the witnesses in the case no facts of an important nature were adduced, and the inquest was adjourned to some day during the present week, when a man, who is now in the Tombs on a charge of larceny, who asserts that he is acquainted with all the circumstances of the affray, will be examined. Michael Callahan, the young man who is accused of having assaulted Magni with a hay-stick, was recommitted to the Tombs, and Giuseppa Baretta, Ooerta, Giuseppa, and Louis Elleavera, witnesses, were sent to the House of Detention.

A SWINDLER IN PATERSON, N. J.

The firm of B. B. Crosby & Sons, Paterson, have just discovered that they have been swindled by a check operator out of $1,200. Some time during September a well-dressed man walked into their store and asked Mr. Crosby if he would give him a check for $15 for the cash. He desired, he said, to send some money away by mail, and did not care to trust the cash in an envelope. Mr. Crosby drew a check for $15 payable to the order of John C. Holt, which the stranger gave as his name. The man handed over the cash and went out. Nothing more was thought of the matter till after the vouchers had been returned by the bank. The book-keeper found it impossible to make his books balance. Among the checks returned by the bank was one for $1,200, of which the check-book contained no record. Mr. Crosby satisfied himself that the $1,200 check was the one which he had given to the stranger, with the amount changed. On comparison, it was also discovered that the name of the payee had been changed from John C. Holt to James W. Parker. The paying Teller of the bank has no recollection of the circumstances surrounding the payment of the check, and it must have been promptly paid on presentation. The firm checks are on paper shaded with fine brown lines, and the manner in which the alterations were made so as not to spoil the check is not known.

A SUGGESTION.

A correspondent of the Keene (N. H.) Sentinel suggests an amendment to the Federal Constitution, making it imperative that every male child be tattooed with his name and date of birth, and urges that it would prevent any qualms of conscience in selectmen, when a voter presents himself for registration who happened to be born very near some election day, and would save the trouble of hunting up the geneological record of the family.

PASSENGERS SAILED.

In steam-ship Britannic, for Liverpool.—F. Sheldon, Mrs. Sheldon, E. G. Tuttle, G. R. Tuttle, T. H. Jackson, Mrs. Jackson and maid, T. H. Ismay, Mrs. Ismay, Miss Bocquet, J. S. Owden, J. B. Sutherland, F. Ludwig, J. A. Richardson, E. S. Hyatt, Mrs. Hyatt and infant, Mrs. E. M. B. Connolly, Miss M. A. T. Killoran, P. J. McCullogh, Dr. S. Pratt, Rush M. Mason, D. R. Hill, Mrs. N. L. Searle, Miss Henderson, S. Cocker, T. R. Harding, Mrs. W. Batterslry, Miss Nellie B. Battersley, D. W. Russell, R. J. Scrivinor, Miss G. F. Merriman, A. S. McNally, J. A. Lahey, Miss Smith, Miss Harding, Mrs. E. H. Herndon, Rev. Dr. Hostlot, Very Rev. August McConomy, Charles Alexander, J. J. Sullivan, A. Woodthorp, W. Newcomb, H. Chamberlin, H. A. Hine, T. W. Hutchins, H. E. Kidd, John M. Stuart, William Breck, Denis O'Brien, Lyman R. Blake, Mrs. Blake, Miss Blake, Miss Edith B. Miller, Philip B. Andrede, G. Rolland, Philip Dater, Robert McDowell, Edward Barnes, Charles M. Stoer, Dr. J. J. Henderson, Mrs. Henderson, James Campbell, W. G. Hume, James Dater, Mr. Langley, George Einstein, Edward Barbour, E. Meyer, Elkan Wasserman, T. F. Harrison, J. E. Chadwick, William Jones, H. E. Smithes, Frederick Cumberland, J. O. Bedell, Henry Gregory, J. H. Cator, D. Henderson, P. Schack, F. P. Cator, V. E. Smyth, Andrew Lawson, Dr. George M. Frost, R. C. Hamilton, J. B. King, Mrs. Kug, H. M. Phipson, George Peacock, M. A. Packard, P. H. Sullivan, Charles W. Hutchinson, W. S. Reid, A. Douglas, Jr., F. A. Haserick, W. B. McGrath, Mrs. McGrath and two children, Edward S. Moyna, Mrs. Moyna and child, J. Lawrence, Sydney Simmons, J. N. Sears, D. C. Hood, Lieut. F. A. Edwards, U. S. A., Rev. H. T. Bradbee, James Watt, Jr., Charles E. De Wolf, Julius Loewenthal, S. E. Bloch, James, Huntington, Gerald Potter, William Rokh, Felix Voit, Col. J. W. Hall, Capt. C. W. Prescott, Sir George Prescott, Bart., Sussex Nesbit, John D. Barbour, Mrs. Barbour, J. W. Gwenn, W. K. Vickery, A. Crompton, E. B. Lees, W. K. Purves, Austin Kelly, Mrs. John Jackson, Miss Evans, Harry Reed, William W. Wright, John Jackson, Albert Wood, Sir Alexander T. Galt, Miss Galt, Miss Wood, Walter Greve, William Greve, W. F. Noe, Mrs. Noe, John Clark, A. Forbes, Mr. Walls, Count De Turin, Ramon Borja, Manuel Arias, W. O. Doherty, Thomas E. Marsh, J. W. J. Reeve, D. K. Pomery, R. Williams, Mr. Bradford, Mrs. Skae and child, R. K. Snyder, Alexander D. Reed, G. Bird, Gustav Glud, J. A. Coleman, C. H. Heron.

In Steam-ship England, for Liverpool.—Sydney Ashland, Robert J. Carew and wife, Mrs. Bramwell, Mr. Chapman, Mr. Jugs and wife, Col. K. O'Broadi, W. H. Lee and wife, Michael Toomey, Miss Morris, E. C. Peterson, S. A. Douglas Volk, S. Jeffries, Rev. Mr. Pritchard, C. Batstone, Miss Tillson, Miss L. Shackleton, Rev. Charles Carroll, Mrs. Charles Carroll, Miss Ethel Carroll, Miss Laura Carroll, Master Hubert Carroll, H. P. Lane, Miss St. Leger, Miss Herbert, Miss Covenay, Miss Sinclair, Miss Bullen, Miss Parker, John Dean.

In steam-ship Rhein, for Bremen.—C. F. Boll, Mrs. F. A. Eustis, Miss E. C. Eustis, Miss E. A. Eustis, Miss M. Füttl, Mr. and Mrs. Aimé Dupont, Mrs. Martha Dord, Max Schmederer, Dr. C. Nissen, Miss Melanie Zaisser, Alfred Prienitz, Victor Cordier, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Ernst, Miss Kate Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. H. Dessauer, Hermann Prenzlauer, Wilhelm Harms, Ferdinand Reiss, Rudolph Jager, Dr. V. F. Alexander, Miss Eliza J. Perley.

In steam-ship St. Germain, for Havre.—Mr. Arbey, Mr. Limousin, Mr. Caubert, Mr. Mathieu, E. Lourdelet, Mrs. J. Cramp, Miss Russell, Mr. Bouzat, Mr. Champromy, J. Engs, Charles Schmidt, Mrs. Leamon Meyer, Miss Josephine Meyer, Miss Fanny Meyer, Mr. Desfrançois, Mrs. Parrain, Miss Parrain, H. Passerard, Mrs. Boutineau, Mr. Stickelbaut, Mrs. Stickelbaut, G. Schaefer, F. Peilliod, X. Peilliod.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.

In steam-ship City of Berlin, from Liverpool.—S. H. Agnew, A. Antiga, Knight Aston, Rev. R. M. Benson, Mrs. A. W. Benson, Miss M. Benson, Miss Nellie Beaumont, Mr. Boyd and son, Miss Una Brooke, F. A. Bromfield, J. L. Bromfield, Philip Brady, Charles G. Campbell, Mrs. Campbell, G. Cippoloni, C. A. Chizzola, J. T. Dalton, Mrs. Dalton, Henry Day, Milnor Decker, Mrs. Decker, Miss Cicil Durant, Thomas Farmer, W. Pembroke Fetridge, Miss Marie Ferrara, Thomas Gadsden, G. G. Garibaldi, M. H. Gillett, Thomas Grundy, A. Harenc, Arthur B. Harrison, William Jackson, Mrs. Jackson, T. C. Jones, Mrs. Jones, J. R. Kerr, Mrs. Kerr, T. H. Kennedy, Mrs. Kennedy, Mr. Kirk, Peter Lawson, Andrew R. Lee, Mrs. Lewis and child, Mr. Machin, Miss Machin, Edward Marshall, George Mackey, R. R. Mason, Miss Ada Maxon, Henry Marriott, Mrs. Marriott, Herman Menel, W. L. Mitchell, A. Mikas, James M. Montgomery, Miss Fanny Morell, Miss Alice Norton, J. B. Peabody, Geo. Petrie, Mrs. Petrie, Miss Helena Petrie, Miss Penelope, John Powell, Thos. Quinn, Mr. Quinton, Mrs. Quinton, Miss Reid, Richard C. Reeve, Col. M. H. Sanford, M. E. Shrier, R. A. Sherman, J. P. Shaw, Miss Florence Slater, J. Ulman, J. Stearne, E. Benson, Mrs. T. E. Smith, Miss Emily Soldene, Miss Emma E. Taylor, Miss Bessie G. Taylor, Miss Clara Vesey, A. Vivien, John Wallace, Mrs. Wallace, Jas. Ward, Jr., J. Walworth, Charles West, Mrs. West, John W. Webb, Mrs. Scott Winkler, Mr. Whiting, Miss S. C. Ziank.

In steam-ship Oder, from Bremen.—Mrs. Nathalia Geismar, Miss Theodore Netter, Mr. and Mrs. Oppenheimer and child, Gerhard Caesa, G. W. Kruger, Miss Ally Schultz, Miss Emma Kruger, Miss Susanna Schultz, Mrs. Maria Wirth, Charles S. Sneed, Jr.; Miss Anna Held, W. Gail, E. Oppenheimer, Mrs. E. Oppenheimer and children, Mr. and Mrs. Emma Klenke and child, E. Schleuker, Miss Louise Gentlemann, Miss Magdalene Werner, F. Knoblauch, Ralph Talbot, Miss Josephine Ehrenbeck, T. Wolfram, Mrs. Adolphina Wolfram, Ed. Knaus, F. Frick, J. Frick, Mrs. Dorothea Frick, H. Herrmann, F. Bauer, Miss Minna Dohm, Otto Soldan, Mrs. A. E. Stevens, R. Perkins, F. Hohwiesner, George Richards, Mrs. Gesine De Boer, H. Helmholz, Miss Elise Lentz, Miss J. Lentz, Miss Bertha Grubert, Mrs. Louise Muller and children, Moritz Hernstein, Mrs. Augusta Gohde, Hugo Redwitz, Charles Redwitz, Carl Kirchhoff, H. Schmidt, Louis Keil, Clinton B. Davids, Thomas Davids, Thaddeus Davids, G. Doehle, H. Heitmann, H. Schmidt, Mrs. Auguste Schmidt, Herm Fehler, L. Thorson, Elise Lessey, L. F. Feilitgiebe, L. Nerzsheimer, N. Meyer, A. F. Haas.

In steam-ship Egypt, from Liverpool.—Mrs. Goodacre and infant, J. W. Beatty, T. J. King, W. S. Lambert, F. W. Bigelow, Miss C. Gross, P. Vapeur, H. Vapeur, S. E. Young, T. O'Brien, E. L. Twombly, E. Leonard, Mrs. E. Leonard and infant, Miss C. Leonard, N. Hunt, W. B. Clapp, Mrs. W. B. Clapp, G. N. Brown, Mrs. G. N. Brown, Miss S. E. Stokes, E. Self, Mr. Fraser, W. H. Alcock, Mrs. W. H. Alcock, Mrs. King, N. T. Bacon, S. H. Austin, Rev. Dr. Howley, Rev. J. Rooney, Mr. Munhall, Mrs. Munhall, C. H. Pix, John Young, Mr. Woodward, Mr. Nightingale, Mrs. Nightingale and infant, Miss Nightingale, J. C. Dempsey, Mrs. C. Dempsey, W. P. Dempsey, Miss M. F. Dempsey, Miss A. E. Dempsey, W. D. Horsley, Mrs. W. D. Horsley and two infants, Miss Minnie Horsley, Miss Maud Horsley, Miss Egbertha Horsley, Miss Ethel Horsley, W. H. McKinney, F. R. Stotler, W. Whitaker, A. Germains, Mrs. A. Germains.

In steam-ship Dakota, from Liverpool.—John Crabtree, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Church, Miss Williams, Mrs. W. Mitchell, Miss L. Small, Mr. and Mrs. A. Pootey and child, Miss J. Bannister, Mr. and Mrs. Dolmetsch, H. Harper, Richard Williams, Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan, J. Fansey, Rev. Father Krane, George Sangtry, Charles Robinson, H. D. Burke, Mr. and Mrs. P. Brennan and infant, Miss Hannon, W. H. Coad.

In steam-ship Alps, from Santa Martha, &c.—Gabriel Obarrio, Mrs. R. C. Zalcazar and three children, F. Delgado, V. Hurtado.

MINIATURE ALMANAC—THIS DAY.

Sun rises.....6:43 | Sun sets.....4:45 | Moon rises...3:04

HIGH WATER—THIS DAY.

Sandy Hook...4:47 | Gov. Island..5:36 | Hell Gate....6:58

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

NEW-YORK........SATURDAY, Nov. 11.

CLEARED.

Steam-ships Nereus, Bearse, Savannah, Geo. Yonge; Lone Star, Porks, New-Orleans, C. A. Whitney & Co.; E. C. Knight, Chichester, Georgetown, D.C., J. L. Roome, Jr.; England, (Br.,) Thompson, Liverpool, F. W. J. Hurst; San Salvador, Nickerson, Savannah, George Yonge; Victoria, (Br.,) Hedderwick, Glasgow, Henderson Brothers; Britannic, (Br.,) Thompson, Liverpool, R. J. Cortis; General Whitney, Hallett, Boston, H. F. Dimock; Colombo, (Br.,) Laver, Hull and Southampton, Chas. L. Wright & Co.; City of San Antonio, Pennington, Galveston via Key West, C. H. Mallory & Co.; Castalia, (Br.,) Butler, Galveston, Henderson Brothers; Hudson, Gager, New-Orleans, Clark & Seaman; Giannina Castle, (Br.,) Dickie, London, Henderson Brothers; Champion, Lockwood, Charleston, S. C., J. W. Quintard & Co.; Agnes, Burdick, Philadelphia, Rogers & Morgan; Rhein, (Ger.,) Franke, Bremen and Southampton, Oelrichs & Co.; St. Germain, (Fr.,) Reculoux, Havre via Plymouth, Louis de Bebian; A. C. Stimers, Warren, Philadelphia, James Hand; Vineland, Bowen, Baltimore, Wm. Dalzell; North Point, Kirby, St. Thomas, &c., Jacob Lorillard; Clyde, Kennedy, Havana, Wm. P. Clyde & Co.

Ships Flying Eagle, Crowell, Savannah, Vernon H. Brown & Co.; Cashmere, (Br.,) Mayo, Liverpool, Arkell, Tufts & Co.

Barks Sheila, (Br.,) Mosher, London, C. W. Bertaux; Peleg, (Aust.,) Gulvatovich, Belfast, Slocovich & Co.; Medea, (Ger.,) Bradhering, Oporto, C. Tobias & Co.; Roma, (Br.,) Campbell, London, Funch, Edye & Co.; Cuomo Primo, (Ital.,) Cuomo, Trieste, Lauro, Storey & Co.; Veneranda, (Ital.,) Trapani, Genoa: Memento, (Norw.,) Anderson, Cork, Funch, Edye & Co.

Brigs Lady Bird, (Br.,) Rex, St. John, N. B., A. E. Outerbridge; Bello of Devon, (Br.,) Tregotha, Dublin, George F. Bulley; Grisborough, (Br.,) Hansan, Port-au-Prince, R. Murray, Jr.; Waubun, Willey, St. Thomas, &c., Simpson, Clapp & Co.; Eva Parker, (Br.,) Slocumb, Bremen, C. W. Bertaux; Torrid Zone, (Br.,) Cooper, Port-au-Prince, R. Murray, Jr.; Hattie Pettis, (Aust.) Pettis, Algiers, D. R. DeWolff & Co.; Larkan, Litman, Calcutta via Reunion, Funch, Edye & Co.

Schrs. D. Sawyer, Cummings, St. John, N. B., A. J. Leney; Eliza B. Bean, (Br.,) Odell, St. John, N. B., A. J. Leney; Lizzie B. McNichol, Fanning, Boston, Jed, Frye & Co.; Wm. H. Keeney, Beers, Minatitlan, Van Brunt & Co.; H. Emma Rilex, Griffin, Mayaguez, P. R., Brett, Son & Co.; Mary Louisa, Gaskill, Washington, N. C., Zophar Mills; Matthew Vassar, Jr., Kelley, New-Bedford, Ferguson & Wood; Pointer, Dill, Providence, &c., Ferguson & Wood; Sarah Potter, Hall, Jr., Bridgetown Bar, Parsons & Son; Hester J. Duncan, Cuff, Norwalk, Raskett & Brothers; Emiline Potter, Soper, Stamford, Delaney & Walters; Sea Lion, (Br.,) McIntyre, St. John, N. B., P. J. Nevius & Sons; Eldridge Jerry, Avey, Bangor, R. P. Buck & Co.

Sloop Fred Brown, Hall, Providence, C. W. Jackson & Son.

Barges Chesapeake, Fulks, Philadelphia, James Hand; Flora Kattell, Kendall, Bridgeport, M. Briggs & Co.

ARRIVED.

Steam-ship San Antonio, Pennington, Galveston, Nov 2, via Key West 6th, with mdse. and passengers to C. H. Mallory & Co. Had heavy weather from lat. 32, Nov. 6, off Sombrero Light, exchanged signals with schr. J. Ricardo Jova, Little, from Cienfuegos Oct. 23, for New-York. Off Cape Lookout saw steam-ship Regulator with a two-masted schr. in tow from Wilmington, N. C., for New-York; same date, 3 P. M., off Hatteras, steam-ship Ashland, with a three-masted schr. in tow from Wilmington, N. C., for New-York.

Steam-ship Alps, (Br.,) Williams, Santa Martha Oct. 26th, Savanilla 27th, Carthagena 30th, Aspinwall Nov. 2, Navassa 5th, with mdse. and passengers to Pim, Forwood & Co. Nov. 6, lat. 22 21, lon. 74 24, passed steam-ship Atlas, hence for Kingston, Jamaica.

Steamship General Barnes, Cheesman, Savannah 3 ds., with mdse. and passengers to C. A. Whitney & Co. Had strong N. and N. W. winds. Nov. 5, north-west of Tortugas, signalled a schr. showing a white flag with letters T. W. H., steering N.W.

Steam-ship Egypt, (Br.,) Grogan, Liverpool, Nov. 1 via Queenstown 2d, with mdse. and 62 cabin and 47 steerage passengers, to F. W. J. Hurst. Nov. 5, lat. 49 44, lon. 31 16, passed a steam-ship showing two red lights, bound west; 7th, lat. 45 47, lon. 45 29, a brig rigged steam-ship, bound west.

Steam-ship City of Berlin, (Br.,) Kennedy, Liverpool Nov. 2 via Queenstown 3d, with mdse. and 96 cabin and 211 steerage passengers, to John G. Dale. Nov. 8, lat. 46, lon. 50 30, passed a brig-rigged French steam-ship, bound east.

Steam-ship Dakota, (Br.,) Price, Liverpool Nov. 1 and Queenstown 2, with mdse. and passengers to Williams & Guion.

Steam-ship Albemarle, Gibbs, Lewes, Del., with mdse. and passengers to Old Dominion Steam-ship Co.

Steam-ship Anglia, (Br.,) Mackay, London Oct. 28, with mdse. and passengers to Henderson Brothers.

Steam-ship Colon, Griffin, Aspinwall Nov. 2, with mdse. and passengers to Pacific Mail Steam-ship Co.

Steam-ship Franconia, Bragg, Portland.

Bark Carina, (Ital.,) Benatti, London 70 ds., with chalk to Drexel, Morgan & Co.—vessel to S. L. Merchant Co. Nov. 6, fifteen miles east of Absecom, was run into by an unknown schr.; stove bulwarks and carried away main top-gallant mast. The schr. was cut down to the waters edge.

Bark Ban Masuranich, (Aust.,) Paicurich, Hull Sept. 1 via Delaware Breakwater 3 ds., in ballast to Slocovich & Co.

Brig Wolfsville, (of Liverpool) Banting, Rio Grande, Donorte, 32 ds., with sugar to Boyd & Hincken.

Ship John Mann, (of Windsor, N. S.,) Gibson, Bremen 38 ds., in ballast to J. F. Whitney & Co. Came the middle passage, and had moderate weather.

Schr. Addie Sawyer, (of Calais) Cook, Hillsboro, N.B., 7 ds., with plaster to order—vessel to Jed Frye & Co.

Schr. Maggie L., Reed, of and from St. John, N. B., 7 ds., with lumber to Jed Frye & Co.

WIND—Sunset, light, W.; cloudy.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Steam-ship Oder, (Ger.,) Leist, from Bremen, which arr. 10th, reports Nov. 7, lat. 42 11, lon. 52 45, passed steam-ship Braunschweig, from Baltimore for Bremen; same date, lat. 42 11, lon. 53 05, a National steam-ship bound east; 8th, lat. 41 35, lon. 60 29, steam-ship Weser, hence for Bremen.

MARINE DISASTERS.

HALIFAX, Nov. 11.—The Prussian bark Prita from Liverpool for Miramichi, when 51 ds. out was burned at sea. On Monday last an English brig picked up the crew in an open boat. Three of them were afterward transferred to the brigantine John Good, which arr. at Sydney.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—The sloop previously reported sunk on the night of the 5th inst., near Pea Patch, is the Spray, of Bridgeton, N. J. She was cut in two by the steamer, and two men were drowned.

BY CABLE.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Sld. Nov. 3, Sarah E. Kingsbury; Nov. 11, Jason, (Capt. Grimm,) Annie Bingay, Hattie Gondey; Nov. 11, Rebus, D. M. Dickie, Brodrene, "Strangford" Sampo, Sea Crest, Gazette, (Capt. Brun.)

Arr. Oct. 1, Armenia; Nov. 6, Valentina, Emelia T.; Nov. 11, Buenaventura, Hellespont, Samuel Skolfield, Majesties, Marianna Ferro, Alexander Keith, Spring, Antonietta Accame, Famiglia Miode, Anna P. Odell.

QUEENSTOWN, Nov. 11.—The Williams & Guion Line steam-ship Nevada, Capt. Guard, from New-York Oct. 31, arr. here at 3 o'clock this afternoon on her way to Liverpool.

The White Star Line steam-ship Baltic, Capt. Kennedy, from Liverpool Nov. 9, sld. from here, for New-York, yesterday at 4:30 P. M.

The Allen Line steamship Caspian, Capt. Trocks, from Baltimore Oct. 28, by way of Halifax for Liverpool, arrived here to-day.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—The National Line steam-ship Canada, Capt. Sumner, from New-York Oct. 28 for this port, arrived off Deal at 8 o'clock this morning.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 11.—The Cunard steamer Scythia, Capt. Hains, from New-York, Nov. 1, for this port, arr. at 6 o'clock this evening.

BRISTOL, Nov. 11.—The Great Western Line steam-ship Cornwall, Capt. Stamper, sld. to-day for New-York.

R.H. MACY & CO

14TH ST. AND 6TH AV.

MACY'S. GRAND CENTRAL FANCY AND DRY
MACY'S. GOODS ESTABLISHMENT.
MACY'S. WE HAVE ENLARGED our establishment,
MACY'S. added new departments, and are manufac
MACY'S. turing Fall and Winter suits and cloaks for MACY'S. ladies and misses to order, from our own ma-
MACY'S. terials or material furnished by themselves.
MACY'S. OUR MILLINERY, MANUFACTURING, and MACY'S. DRESS-MAKING DEPARTMENTS ARE PLACED
MACY'S. BEFORE THE PUBLIC AT OUR USUAL POP-
MACY'S. ULAR PRICES, AND NO EXERTION WILL MACY'S. BE SPARED to GAIN FOR THEM THE MACY'S. SAME FAVORABLE ESTIMATION WHICH
MACY'S. OUR OTHER DEPARTMENTS ARE RECEIV-
MACY'S. ING.
MACY'S. ON THE FIRST FLOOR ARE OUR
MACY'S. LACES, EMBROIDERIES, AND LINEN
MACY'S. HANDKERCHIEFS, RIBBONS, Flowers,
MACY'S. Feathers, Hats, and Millinery Goods of every MACY'S. description. Ties, Toilet Articles, Small
MACY'S. Wares, Trimmings, White Goods, House-
MACY'S. keeping Goods, Worsteds, Albums, Books
MACY'S. and Stationery. Passe Partouts, Bronzes,
MACY'S. Fancy Goods, Silver and Plated Ware, Bon-
MACY'S. bon Boxes; Ladies', Misses', and Children's MACY'S. Boots, SHOES, SLIPPERS, and Overshoes;
MACY'S. Gents' Furnishing Goods; Gents', Ladies',
MACY'S. Youths', and Children's Hosiery and Under-
MACY'S. wear.
MACY'S. TOYS, DOLLS, DOLLS' ARTICLES, CONFEC-
MACY'S. TIONERY, and SODA. Also,
MACY'S. OUR NEW DEPARTMENT.
MACY'S. BLACK DRESS SILKS.
MACY'S. MERINOES & VELVETS
MACY'S. AT VERY ATTRACTIVE PRICES.
MACY'S. LA FORGE TWO-BUTTON KID GLOVES,
MACY'S. 98 cents, warranted.
MACY'S. ON THE SECOND FLOOR: A FULL AND MACY'S. DESIRABLE STOCK OF LADIES' AND MACY'S. MISSES' UNDER-CLOTHING, Corsets, and MACY'S. Paniers.
MACY'S. ALSO,
MACY'S. BOYS' CLOTHING
MACY'S. in Fall and Winter suits, unsurpassed in MACY'S. style, assortment, quality, and price.
MACY'S. SALESROOM IN THE BASEMENT CROWD-
MACY'S. ED WITH NEW AND DESIRABLE HOUSE
MACY'S. FURNISHING GOODS AT POPULAR PRICES.
MACY'S. CHINA, MAJOLICA, AND GLASS-WARE,
MACY'S. STRICTLY THE FINEST ASSORTMENT IN MACY'S. THE CITY.

FURNITURE

New & Elegant Styles.

FURNITURE COVERINGS.

A Magnificent Assortment of ENTIRELY NEW GOODS.

Estimates and Designs Furnished for Furniture, Draperies and House Decorations.

B. L. SOLOMON & SONS

657 & 659 Broadway.

Opposite Bond Street.

ESTABLISHED 1820.

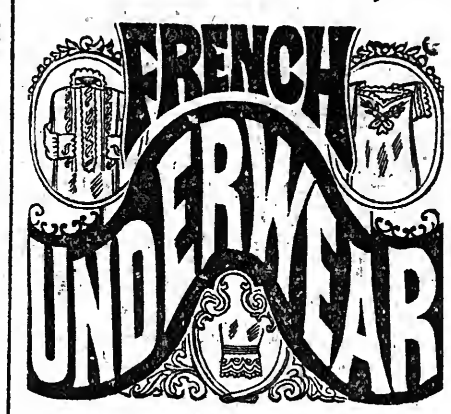
C. G. GUNTHER'S SONS,

REMOVED FROM 502-504 BROADWAY TO

184 Fifth Avenue,

invite inspection to their stock of

SEAL-SKIN SACQUES, FUR-LINED GARMENTS, FUR TRIMMINGS.



THE LARGEST AND MOST COMPLETE EVER OFFERED.

184 Fifth Avenue,

(BROADWAY AND 23D ST.)

EHRICHS'

EIGHTH AVENUE, three Doors above 24th st.

OUR GREAT SALE CONTINUED!

THE PAST TWO WEEKS THIS DEPARTMENT HAS BEEN VISITED BY HUNDREDS OF LADIES WHO FRANKLY ADMIT THAT OUR ASSORTMENT OF THESE FINE HAND-SEWED AND HAND-EMBROIDERED UNDERCLOTHING IS THE MOST COMPLETE IN THE CITY, AND THAT OUR PRICES ARE INCOMPARABLY THE CHEAPEST.

ELEGANT HAND-EMBROIDERED SACQUE CHEMISE, at $1 25, $1 50, $1 85, $2 25.

BEAUTIFUL NIGHT-DRESSES, at $2 25, $2 75, $3 25, &c.

EXAMINE OUR HAND-EMBROIDERED CHEMISE, TRIMMED WITH SIXTY TINY TUCKS, FOR $1 23.

RICH CHEMISE, HAND-EMBROIDERED FRONT AND BACK, $2 35.

WE ALSO CALL ATTENTION TO THE REMARKABLE PRICES OF OUR DOMESTIC MACHINE-MADE UNDERCLOTHING. TRAIN SKIRTS A SPECIALTY. NOVELTIES IN SMYRNA-LACE TRIMMED UNDERWEAR.

GREAT SPECIALTIES THIS WEEK IN CLOAKS, SUITS, HATS, BANDEAUX, CORSETS, &c., &c.

WE HAVE TAKEN THE ENORMOUS BUILDINGS, Nos. 293 AND 295 EIGHTH AVENUE, TWO DOORS ABOVE OUR PRESENT ESTABLISHMENT, TO MAKE A SUITABLE DISPLAY OF OUR TOYS AND HOLIDAY GOODS.

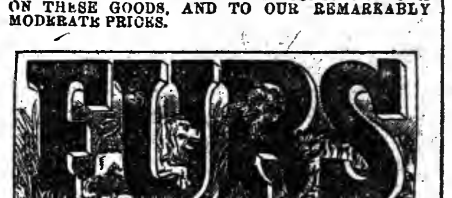
SUNDAY-SCHOOLS AND STOREKEEPERS ARE ADVISED TO MAKE THEIR SELECTIONS AS EARLY AS POSSIBLE.

EHRICHS',



287 EIGHTH AVENUE. 289

THREE DOORS ABOVE 24TH ST.

OUR DEPARTMENT FOR THE MANUFACTURE OF MADE-UP LACE GOODS, IS UNDER THE SUPERINTENDENCE OF AN ARTIST WHO HAS WON A REPUTATION FOR SUPERIOR STYLES IN LACE EVENING DRESSES, LACE JACKETS, LACE OVERSKIRTS, LACE FICHUS, BESIDES THE MOST FANCIFUL CREATIONS IN COLLARETTES, JABOTS, NECK-HANDKERCHIEFS, LACE APRONS, TIES, &c., &c.

WE CALL ATTENTION TO THE SUPERIOR WORK ON THESE GOODS, AND TO OUR REMARKABLY MODERATE PRICES.

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY YOUR FURS.

SPECIAL PRICES FOR FUR-LINED SACQUES AND CIRCULARS.

PRETTY MINK MUFFS at $8, $10, $12, $15.

REAL SEAL MUFFS at $8, $10, $14.

RUSSIA LYNX SETS, MUFF AND BOA, $8.

We do everything in the line of FUR-REPAIRING, guaranteeing best workmanship and lowest prices. Muffs relined, with REAL HAIR stuffing, at 50c.

FUR TRIMMINGS!

MADE OF THE BEST SKINS, EVENLY CUT, WELL SEWED AND JOINED. COMPARE OUR FUR TRIMMINGS WITH THAT GENERALLY OFFERED. PRICES AT THE LOWEST.

THE LARGEST FUR-TRIMMING DEPARTMENT IN THE UNITED STATES. CALL AND EXAMINE.

EHRICHS',

287 EIGHTH AVENUE. 289

THREE DOORS ABOVE 24TH ST.

The Chickering PIANO.

The Victor in all great contests, and for THE PAST 53 YEARS the ACKNOWLEDGED STANDARD OF THE WORLD, being copied not only by the makers of this country, but of Europe, will be offered during the months of November and December, at Greatly Reduced Prices.

The Highest Awards were granted our Pianos in the Great World's Fairs of LONDON, 1851, and PARIS, 1867, in addition to the First Gold Medal, THE CROSS OF THE LEGION OF HONOR was conferred upon these instruments, and was the Highest Award of the Exhibition, and was given ONLY to CHICKERING & SONS.

Our Pianos at the Centennial Exhibition

HAVE BEEN AWARDED a MEDAL and DIPLOMA, and THE REPORT OF THE JUDGES is more emphatic and more conclusive in all that relates to the requirements of a first-class piano than has been accorded to any of our competitors.

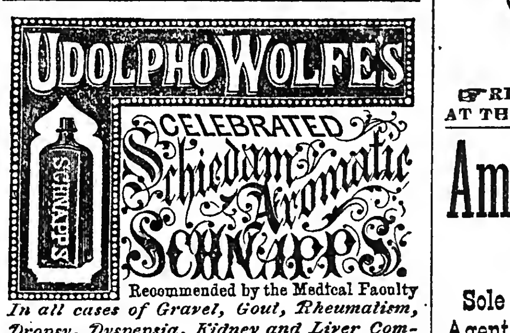
Friends, Customers, and Strangers wishing to purchase (or examine) instruments are respectfully invited to visit our ware-rooms.

Chickering & Sons,

Chickering Hall,

Fifth av., Cor. 18th st.

KRANICH & BACH



Grand Square and Upright

PIANO-FORTES

Warerooms:

Nos. 241 and 243 EAST 23d ST.

Highest Award at the Centennial Exhibition

Recommended by the Medical Faculty In all cases of Gravel, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Kidney and Liver Complaints. Beware of Counterfeits and Imitations.

THE GENUINE

VICHY

Bottled under the supervision of the French Government, has the year of the bottling and the name of one of the following springs on the capsule, viz:

HAUTERIVE, CELESTIN'S, GRAND GRILLE. HOPITAL.

The genuine Vichy is unequalled in disorders of the liver, spleen, and the digestive organs in chronic cases of gravel and calculi, gout, rheumatism, heart disease, female complaints, malarial maladies, albuminaria, (or Bright's Disease,) diabetes, &c. Beneficial effects in these diseases can be derived only from the natural waters, and cannot be expected from any artificial preparations. Can be drank at table, pure or with wine, &c. For sale by Grocers and Druggists, and to the trade only by the Sole Agents.

BOUCHE FILS & CO., 37 Beaver st., N. Y.

CROSSLEY'S

CARPETS.

Large stock on hand. In consequence of our determination to cut down the immense quantity of goods in stock, will offer great inducements in the way of prices.

English Velvets, $1 50 per yd.

Eng. Body Brussels, $1 25 per yd.

Eng. Tapestry from 90c. to $1, &c.

BEST EXTRA SUPER INGRAINS, 75c.

WOOL INGRAINS, 50c.

LARGEST STOCK OF OIL-CLOTHS IN THE CITY AT RETAIL, in all widths, from 35c. up. RUGS, DRUGGETS, DOOR-MATS, &c., &c., in great variety. We shall offer UNHEARD-OF BARGAINS for the next forty days.

J. J. W. CROSSLEY,

320 & 322 BROADWAY,

CORNER PEARL ST.

F. BOOSS & BRO.,

449 BROADWAY & 26 MERCER ST., NEW-YORK,

MANUFACTURERS OF

FINE FURS.

SEAL-SKIN SACQUES A SPECIALTY.

RECEIVED THE HIGHEST AWARD AT THE CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION.

American Clock Co.

NEW YORK.

Sole Agents for { E. N. Welch / New Haven / Seth Thomas } Clocks

FOR HOME TRADE AND EXPORT.

581 Broadway, N. Y.

REMOVAL. Having removed to our NEW, ELEGANT, and EXTENSIVE warerooms, No. 40 East 14th st., offer the largest stock of first-class Organs, with chime of bells, and grand, square, and upright Pianos, of superior tone and finish, to be found on this continent, and at extraordinary low prices for cash, on instalments, or to let, until paid for. Second-hand instruments at great bargains; 7-octave Pianos for $165; 7 1-3 octave Piano, $175, not used a year; 2-stop Organs, $69; 4-stop Organs, $70; 6-stop, $80; 8-stop, $90; 10-stop, $100 and $110, cash; not used a year, but in perfect order.

HORACE WATERS & SONS, Manufacturers and Dealers, No. 40 East 14th st., Union Square, New-York.

NOTICE.

J. & C. Johnston,

Broadway, 5th av., and 22d st.,

ON MONDAY, NOV. 13, AS THE SEASON IS NEARLY OVER, COMMENCE TO SELL AT

Unprecedented Reductions

THE RESIDUE OF THEIR

FALL AND WINTER IMPORTATIONS

OF

ELEGANT COSTUMES,

Consisting of 1,750 rich Embroidered DRAP D'ETE COSTUMES, $35, $45, $50, and $60.

Actual cost in gold to import, $60, $75, $85, and $125

1,150 extra fine SILK and CASHMERE SUITS, $50. Cost to import, $100.

SILK SUITS.

BLACK and COLORED choice selections, $40 and upward.

HEAVY WORSTED OVERDRESSES and BASQUES, $6 and upward.

FALL and WINTER SUITS, $8 and upward.

A SPECIALLY ATTRACTIVE STOCK OF

LONDON, PARIS, AND BERLIN

Dolmans, Cloaks, Mantles, and Suits,

THAT WERE IMPORTED AS

MODELS,

And which will be disposed of at a reduction of seventy five per cent. of THE COST OF IMPORTATION.

FINE FURS

AND FUR TRIMMINGS

FOR

LADIES AND CHILDREN.

Particular attention is called to this branch of the business, which is very extensive, and the prices are at least

THIRTY-THREE PER CENT. LESS than those asked by the REGULAR FURRIERS.

LARGE SEAL-SKIN SACQUES, $65, $75, $85, and $100

Last season's prices were $90, $100, $115, $125.

25 Superior ALASKA SEAL-SKIN SACQUES, English-dyed and 34 inches long.

$100. WORTH $150.

Seal-Skin Sets Complete.

SACQUE, MUFF, AND CAP, $95. WORTH $140.

FUR-LINED SILK AND DRAP D'ETE

MANTLES AND BASQUES

at equally advantageous prices.

J. & C. JOHNSTON,

Broadway, Fifth av., and 22d st.

J. & P. COATS

have been awarded a Medal and Diploma at the Centennial Exposition and commended by the Judges for

"SUPERIOR STRENGTH

AND

EXCELLENT QUALITY

OF

SPOOL COTTON."

SEAL. A. T. GOSHORN, Director General. J. R. HAWLEY, President. ALEX. H. BOTELER, Secretary pro tem.

EASTLAKE

FURNITURE.

A great variety of patterns of the newest and most elegant design, which, on account of the large quantity we are manufacturing, enables us to offer it as low as ordinary furniture. For example:

Fine Eastlake Bed-room Suits, Marble Tops.....$85 00
Fine Sideboards.......... 35 00
Fine Dining Chairs, in Leather.......... 6 75
Fine Pillar Extension Table.......... 18 00
&c., &c., &c.

Six large warerooms full of samples of EVERY DESCRIPTION OF FURNITURE, BEDDING; MIRRORS, CORNICES, LAMBREQUINS, &c., of our own manufacture, warranted in every respect, we I made, &c.

"BUY OF THE MAKERS."

GEORGE C. FLINT & CO.,

NOS. 104 AND 106 WEST 14TH ST.,

Between 6th and 7th avs., one door west of 6th av.

WEBER

PIANO-FORTES

NILSSON. I shall take every opportunity to recommend and praise your instruments.

KELLOGG. For the last six years your pianos have been my choice for the concert-room and my own house.

LUCCA. Your uprights are extraordinary instruments and deserve their great success.

PATTI. I have used the Pianos of every celebrated maker, but give yours the preference over all.

STRAUSS. Your Pianos astonish me. I have never yet seen any Pianos which equal yours.

WEHLI. Madame Parepa called your Piano the finest in the United States. I fully indorse that opinion. They have no rival anywhere.

Prices Reasonable. Terms Easy.

WAREROOMS:

Fifth av., corner Sixteenth st., N. Y.

E. A. NEWELL.

FULL LINES OF REALLY RELIABLE

UNDERSHIRTS & DRAWERS,

FOR MEN'S WEAR, FROM

$1 25

UP, INCLUDING POPULAR NUMBERS OF DOMESTIC MANUFACTURE, AND ALL GRADES OF CARTWRIGHT & WARNER'S,

Orders by mail promptly filled and sent C. O. D.

727 BROADWAY, CORNER WAVERLEY PLACE.

MME. F. PINCHON,

NO. 42 EAST 10TH ST.,

having returned from Paris, has opened a large assortment of

CLOAKS, WRAPS AND DRESSES,

to which she calls the attention of the ladies of New-York and strangers visiting the City.

WARREN WARD & CO., MANUFACTURERS of

FURNITURE,

75 and 77 Spring st., corner Crosby st., N. Y.,

Offer their large and elegant stock, in the latest designs of Mediæval and "Eastlake" styles, at greatly reduced prices.

The New-York Times.

VOL. XXVI.....NO. 7852. NEW-YORK, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1876. PRICE FOUR CENTS.

THE PRESIDENTIAL VOTE.

ASSURANCE OF THE REPUBLICAN VICTORY.

GOV. HAYES' MAJORITIES IN THE SOUTH—FLORIDA, LOUISIANA, AND SOUTH CAROLINA SAFE—SCHEMES OF THE BEATEN DEMOCRACY—OUTRAGES ON THE COLORED VOTERS—GEN. PHIL. SHERIDAN ON THE WAY TO NEW-ORLEANS.

Every day accumulates the proof that Gov. Hayes has been elected President. To elect Mr. Tilden it would be necessary for him to have carried either one of the States of Florida, Louisiana, and South Carolina; and our dispatches from those States confirm the previous reports that they have all been carried by the Republicans. Our information, coming from the most trustworthy sources, makes it certain that South Carolina will show a Republican majority of between two and five thousand; that the majority in Louisiana will be decisive, and that on a fair count in Florida that State will show a Republican majority of over one thousand. The official count is now proceeding in South Carolina; it will commence on Friday in New-Orleans; but in Florida the Board of Canvassers will not complete their work for probably two weeks. Desperate attempts are being made by the more violent and lawless element of the Democracy in these States, to overturn by force the result of the election; but the timely presence of troops there will render these attempts futile. A very peculiar state of affairs is shown by our reports to exist in North Carolina. The returns of the election show an enormous vote, in some districts much larger than the voting population. The Republican vote is 105,000, which is nearly seven thousand larger than the vote which elected Caldwell, the Republican candidate for Governor, in 1872; yet this vote is completely overwhelmed by the astonishing Democratic vote, which gives the State to Tilden by a majority claimed to be nearly thirteen thousand. It is announced that Gen. Phil H. Sheridan has started for New-Orleans.

Our special telegrams from Petersburg announce the election of Dr. Joseph Jorgenson, Republican, to Congress from the Fourth District of Virginia by 1,000 majority, in spite of a desperate effort on the part of the Democratic canvassers to count him out. Previous dispatches had induced us to concede the district to the Democratic candidate. Concerning the next Congress, the situation now seems to be about as follows: It is tolerably certain that the Republicans have elected 136 members, and the Democrats 145; and three members are yet to be chosen. This leaves nine members in dispute, as follows: The Third Arkansas is claimed by the Democrats, though not with entire confidence; the Third California is in doubt, with the chances apparently about equal; the Sixteenth Illinois is claimed by the Republicans; the Second, Fourth, and Sixth Louisiana are claimed by the Democrats, apparently on very slender grounds; the Sixth Maryland is claimed by the Democrats by a very small majority, and the same remark applies to the Third and Sixth Missouri, the majority asserted in the former being but one. It should be added that the Republican candidates in the Third and Fourth Massachusetts Districts have asked for a recount of the votes.

THE VICTORY IN FLORIDA.

HOW THE DEMOCRATS TOOK THE ELECTION AT FIRST—THE SUDDEN AWAKENING PRODUCED BY MR. HEWITT'S TELEGRAMS — LOUD CLAIMS INSTANTLY MADE THAT THE STATE HAD GONE FOR TILDEN—A REPUBLICAN VICTORY ASSURED BEYOND DOUBT.

By Telegraph from Our Special Correspondent.

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 12.—There is now no doubt that the Republicans have carried Florida by a majority of from 1,000 to 1,800 votes. From the first they have claimed the State by a much larger vote, and for twenty-four hours after the election there was not a well-informed Democrat here who was not willing to admit that their claim was a just one. This, however, was when they believed that Tilden had been elected by so large a majority that he did not need the vote of Florida. On Wednesday afternoon, however, Mr. A. S. Hewitt, the Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, telegraphed to the State Committee that Mr. Tilden was not elected if Florida had gone Republican. At the same time he telegraphed to Mr. Drew, the Democratic candidate for Governor, and to many other prominent Democrats, begging them in the strongest terms to secure the votes of the State for Tilden. These dispatches at once put a new face on the situation. Suddenly, without having received any advices from the remote counties, they reversed their former publicly expressed opinions of the result, and loudly declaring that if Tilden's election depended upon their vote he should have it, they stated that their majority was at least two thousand. Then they set about doctoring the returns to make that majority. They are still engaged in the same work.

One part of their programme is to create an impression throughout the country that all the election machinery is in the hands of the Republicans, and that they can count the vote to suit themselves. This is false, absolutely, and in every respect; indeed, the direct opposite is the truth, for in about twenty-nine out of the thirty-nine counties in the State the polling places were controlled entirely by Democrats. In order to make this fully understood, I must state that Mr. Stearns, the Republican Governor of Florida, has, since his election, adopted the policy of appointing Democrats to office in most of the counties where the majority of the voters wished such appointment made. In pursurnce of this generous policy, he has in twenty-nine counties selected Democrats to fill the positions of Judge of the County Court and Clerk of the Court. These two gentlemen, together with one Justice of the Peace, selected by them, constitute the Board of County Canvassers, and have full power to count and canvass the vote in their respective counties. But this is not the only power possessed by the Democrats In the twenty-nine counties to which I refer, they also had full control of the ballot-boxes on election day. This they obtained in the following manner: All the County Commissioners are appointed by the Governor and, in accordance with the liberal policy already referred to, Mr. Stearns in many instances gave the positions named to Democrats. The power of appointing Inspectors of Elections is vested in these County Commissioners, and at the late elections they appointed two Democrats and one Republican to attend each poll. Not content with the almost absolute control thus obtained, they succeeded in several cases, by the practice of the various tricks which are so well known to all Southern Democrats, in keeping the Republican Inspector from exercising the duties of his office. Immediately after the election, however, they discovered that in spite of all their precautions the Republicans, who have large majorities in, and control of, the only thickly populated counties in the State, had elected their ticket. At first, as I have already intimated, they expressed themselves perfectly satisfied with the result, and admitted that they had lost the fight. When they received Mr. Hewitt's dispatches, however, they made up their minds to defeat the Republicans at all hazards, and to this end they sent out men to all voting districts under their control, with instructions to make the vote in them as large as possible. This was on Wednesday afternoon. On the same evening Gov. Stearns sent out a special train with a number of Republicans on board, with instructions to visit the precincts under Democratic control and do all in their power to prevent frauds. The Democrats heard of this, and four miles from Tallahassee the train was run off the track and wrecked, and it was then discovered that one of the rails had been torn up. Of course, the Republicans were unable to proceed, and the Democratic emissaries reached all the remote polling places from twelve to twenty-four hours in advance of them.

Since these transactions, twenty-five counties have been heard from, and, from the most reliable source, I find that they give a net Republican majority of 4,360. At the last Gubernatorial election, in 1872, the same counties gave a net Republican majority of 3,687, and the Republicans carried the State by a majority of 1,599. At the Congressional election held in 1874, the same counties gave the Republicans a majority of 3,901. The fourteen counties which are yet to hear from in 1872 gave a Democratic majority of 2,880, and in 1874 a Democratic majority of 2,952. This year the Republicans got out their full vote in these counties, and it is confidently believed that the Democratic majority was largely reduced. It was not possible to increase it by any honest means; consequently if the votes actually cast are fairly counted, the Republican majority will be from 1,200 to 2,000. It cannot fall below 1,000 votes.

Just here, however, arises the question—Can a fair count be had? And, fortunately, it can be answered in the affirmative. The board of State Canvassers is composed of S. B. McLin, the Secretary of State; C. A. Cowgill, the Controller, and W. A. Cocke, the Attorney General. All these gentlemen are above suspicion, and have the respect of both parties. Mr. Cocke, the Attorney General, is a Democrat, and a warm supporter of Tilden. The other two gentlemen are Republicans. If the vote is correctly returned by the County Canvassers, there is no doubt that it will be honestly and fairly counted. The only fear is that the returns may be falsified by the Democratic County Canvassers already referred to. These canvassers are required by law to make their returns to-morrow, and then the State Canvassers have thirty days to make their count. It will probably be two weeks before the result is officially announced. In the meantime prominent Democrats are hastening here from all parts of the South, and they have requested their National Committee to send a number of representative Northern men to Tallahassee. This afternoon five companies of United States troops came in, and six companies more are expected to-morrow. The whole force, amounting to about four hundred men, will be under the command of Gen. Ruger. Everything is quiet, and it is believed that the presence of the troops will prevent any outbreak while the vote is being canvassed.

H. C.

A REPUBLICAN MAJORITY DESPITE ALL THE FRAUDS—DEMOCRATS DESTROYING BALLOTS AND RECORDS WITH THE UNSCRUPULOUSNESS OF BANDITS—THE REPUBLICAN MAJORITY 3,000 BY A FULL AND HONEST RETURN.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 12.—The returns from the remote counties come in slowly. Nothing has been received to-day that changes the Republican estimates. The Democrats are telegraphing results as official, from counties not yet heard from, and are sending dispatches through the country based on pre-arranged frauds. Democratic agents have been sent in all directions to increase the majority in the remote counties. The Deputy Marshal and Supervisors from Jackson County report to-day that the Democrats destroyed the ballots in five precincts, and accepted the votes of two hundred men from Alabama. False certificates have been detected in the canvass of Clay County. Democratic frauds are reported in Hillsboro, Hernandez, Volusia, and Washington Counties. There has been a general discharge of colored men who voted the Republican ticket, and deposits in the National Banks have been withdrawn by Democrats.

There is not much excitement, but a good deal of desperation. If all the Democratic frauds are exposed, the Republican majority will be three thousand. The North should understand that Florida is not doubtful. The canvass will show an increased Republican vote, and a majority clean over all the frauds. Hayes runs ahead of the State ticket. We shall "hold the fort." PETER JONES,

Secretary Republican State Committee.

ACCUMULATING EVIDENCE OF OUTRAGEOUS FRAUDS IN DEMOCRATIC COUNTIES—HONORABLE RECORD OF THE REPUBLICAN STATE ADMINISTRATION.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 11.—The few official and authentic returns received to-day do not change our estimates of the result. Evidence accumulates every moment of the most outrageous frauds in Democratic counties, where there was no protection for the Republican minority, the polls being entirely in the hands of our opponents. In some instances the ballot-boxes could not be seen, and the ballots were burned before they left the precincts. When the bottom facts are made to appear, the entire country will be satisfied that our State is honestly and fairly Republican by a majority of at least 1,000 or 1,200. Until it is so settled by indisputable evidence, the country should judge Gov. Stearns and his associates in the conduct of this canvass by the record. When the present State Administration came into power, in 1872, Florida bonds and scrip were selling at about fifty, and now they are quoted at ninety-five to ninety-seven. Immigration has been greater, and the value of lands has increased more rapidly than in any State in the Union, Gov. Stearns has been conspicuously fair and liberal to political opponents. This record is unparalleled south of the Potomac since reconstruction, and entitles us to credence. Had Tilden a majority without the votes of Florida our claim to the State would never have been contested. M. MARTIN,

Chairman Republican State Committee.

THE DESPERATE EFFORT TO STEAL THE STATE—FRAUD AND INTIMIDATION GENERAL—SOME OF THE BOLD AND UNSCRUPULOUS PROCESSES RESORTED TO—THE STATE REPUBLICAN NOTWITHSTANDING.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 12.—The western counties are the theatre of the boldest operations of the Tildenites, though frauds by them, in nearly every county, are being brought to light. In every instance checkmating measures are being taken. Attempts at intimidation of the negroes have been general, and, in many instances, with success. Alabama was also drawn upon in western counties, where persons from that State voted in the names of registered negroes. These "cowboy counties" stretch along the gulf and the Alabama line, and have a rude, spare, and generally desperate population. No Republican dare hold office in some of them, and not unfrequently death has been the penalty of the avowal of Republican sentiments. Of course, the election machinery was wholly in their hands, and nothing prevented their doing whatever they chose. There has not been an honest election in hardly one of them.

It was on this section that the Democrats relied when they boasted that they were going to carry the State anyway. But they have overshot the mark and defeated themselves, even if they were not defeated before, as they really were. The Hayes majority, independently of these things, rests on firm ground, and will not be shaken. The Democrats are boastful as well as desperate. The more intelligent of them, however, privately admit the loss of the State. The leaders everywhere are continually urging them to desperate measures, and in many places military organizations are forming and arms are distributed. Nothing but fear of and the actual presence of the military restrains them from open rebellion, for which there is an actual and quite general preparation, not confined to Florida, however, as the North should bear in mind. There is a very grave aspect to this question, the North doubtless understands, but it is scarcely probable that the whole state of the case is appreciated. It need only to be said that the loyal people of the North and the Government cannot be too vigilant, a caution that would have been equally timely even before and independent of this crisis. Troops are coming into the State, and soon the laws will have the only support that can render them operative here.

The Board of State Canvassers, which is Republican with one exception, meet thirty days after the election, and it has happened that even after so long a time, some county remained to be heard from. Democratic emissaries have been dispatched to distant regions to manufacture returns, and it is by such frauds that it is hoped to wipe out the Hayes majority. The Republicans here are firm, confident, and vigilant.

THE RESULT IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF STATE CANVASSERS—IMPORTANT QUESTIONS ANSWERED—HOW THE PEOPLE OF CHARLESTON ARE PROTECTED—RIFLE CLUB ATROCITIES.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

COLUMBIA, Nov. 12.—At the meeting of the Board of State Canvassers yesterday, Gen. James Conner, on the part of the Democrats, submitted the proposition that the board had no right to canvass the returns for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, as the election of these officers is, by the Constitution, declared by the Speaker of the House of Representatives. To this the board agreed. Gen. Conner then submitted that the board had no right to consider the question of a protest or contest as to members of the General Assembly, representatives in Congress or electors. The board decided that they had the right to hear and decide such contests. These points disclose the tactics of each party. There will be contests in at least four counties as to members of the Legislature. The Democrats will probably be elected on the face of the returns. If they are put on the roll, without question they will control the Legislature and decide the contest for Governor. It is asserted that this question will be submitted to the Supreme Court on Monday. The board also decided that it would not act in secret session, but would admit the legal representatives of both parties to its sessions. In view of the frank manner in which all questions have been met by the Republicans on the Board of State convassers, there is a quieter state of public feeling to-day. The Register (a Democratic organ) to-day asserts that Tilden will have 100 majority in the State. The Republican Executive Committee is confident that Hayes will have an undisputed majority of 1,000, and a real majority of 7,000.

In Charleston the duty of keeping the public peace has been placed in the hands of Gen. Hunt, commander of the United States forces, by the joint action of the Republican city authorities and a committee of prominent Democrats. The recent riots have produced an antagonism between the races which bodes great peril to both. The city Police were composed about equally of blacks and whites, and the fraternization by each color with its own in case of a riot was believed to be inevitable; hence the calling out of another authority is regarded as a blessing. The white women and children suffer peculiarly in their dread of the colored female servants, who are known to be far more exasperated at the present attitude of affairs than the men. All appears to be quiet in this city. While the leaders of the Democracy have worked up an intense hostility among the lower orders of whites against Gov. Chamberlain, the better-informed Conservatives have confidence in his coolness of judgment and upright intentions. The race feeling here has not been prominently aroused, and we are in better case than those in Charleston. The atrocities of the rifle-club campaign in Edgefield, Barnwell, and Aiken exceed anything yet asserted.

THE LATEST.

HAYES' MAJORITY STILL FURTHER INCREASED—ADDITIONAL COUNTIES OFFICIALLY REPORTED.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

COLUMBIA, Nov. 12.—The counties officially reported since my last dispatch increase Hayes' vote over all former reports or estimates. The Democrats here generally concede that Hayes will have something near 3,000 majority. The changes also favor the Republican State ticket, and make its election reasonably secure without any contest from Democrats. Protests will be made by Republicans before the Board of Canvassers in regard to at least six counties, which, if successful, will give us six or eight thousand majority.

LOUISIANA.

A REPUBLICAN VICTORY SURE — GAINS SHOWN IN THE RETURNS FROM BOTH THE CITY AND THE STATE.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 12.—It is still impossible, owing to the absence of telegraphic and railroad communication with most of the interior parishes of the State, to get many returns that are explicit, yet we have made gains thus far, in both the city and State, by the returns received, except in the six "bulldozed" parishes.

I have no doubt of a complete Republican victory. A. J. DUMONT,

Chairman of the Republican Committee.

THE PRESIDENT SUSTAINED.

GOV. RICE, OF MASSACHUSETTS, TO PRESIDENT GRANT.

Gov. Rice, of Massachusetts, has just sent the following from this City to President Grant, at Washington.:

NEW-YORK, Nov. 12.

The entire Republican and independent press of Massachusetts heartily sustains you in sending troops to the disputed States to preserve the public peace, and the people will as loyally abide by the result of the election when honestly determined.

ALEXANDER H. RICE.

WATCHING THE COUNT.

REPUBLICANS GOING TO NEW-ORLEANS.

In accordance with the invitation of President Grant extended to them, Hon. E. W. Stoughton and Gen. James H. Van Alen, of this City, left for New-Orleans last evening. Hon. William M. Evarts was away from home when the President's dispatch reached this City, and has not yet returned. He will probably be in town this forenoon. It is not known whether or not he will go to New-Orleans. Gen. John A. Dix has been compelled to decline the President's invitation on account of business engagements.

DEMOCRATS INVITED TO GO TO FLORIDA.

The following-named gentlemen have accepted invitations from the Democratic National Committee to visit Florida and witness the counting of the votes: Manton Marble, of New-York; W. E. Niblack, of Indiana; Senator William Eaton and Gen. William B. Franklin, of Connecticut; Hon. L. O. Saltonstall, of Massachusetts; Hon. J. O. Brodhead, of Missouri, and Messrs. J. R. Reed, S. J. Townsend, and Col. Sellers, of Pennsylvania. Hon. Charles Francis Adams, who was also invited, declined.

MORE OF THEM.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 12.—J. M. Keating, editor of the Appeal, and W. H. Carroll, prominent Democrats, left to-night for New-Orleans, to be present at the count of Louisiana's vote.

AUGUSTA, Nov. 12.—Ex-Gov. Joseph E. Brown left to-night for Florida, having been requested to go there by Mr. Heights.

NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 12.—Senator Lamar and Henry Watterson are here.

ANOTHER CONGRESSMAN GAINED.

MR. JORGENSON ELECTED IN THE FOURTH VIRGINIA DISTRICT IN FACE OF A DETERMINED EFFORT TO COUNT HIM OUT—THE SPIRIT OF THE REBEL DEMOCRACY.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

PETERSBURG, Nov. 12.—The majority for Congress of Mr. Jorgenson, Republican, in this district, (the Fourth Virginia,) is over one thousand on the official count, notwithstanding that the Democratic Commissioners of Election have thrown out Republican precincts giving in the aggregate 1,700 Republican majority. This was done in open and gross violation of the State law by the election officers appointed by Democratic Judges. Unusual care was taken to draw their attention to the special law providing for such cases, but in defiance of it, particularly in Nottoway County, very nearly all these precincts were thrown out. The courts are in the hands of the Democrats, and the Commissioners feel that they enjoy perfect immunity from punishment for these gross violations of the law. The leading Democaats here have said openly that any means, fraudulent, or otherwise, were justifiable to prevent a Republican success.

J. H. VAN AUKEN,

Chairman Republican Executive Committee of Petersburg.

FRAUDS IN NORTH CAROLINA.

VOTERS IN MANY COUNTIES IN EXCESSIVE DISPROPORTION TO THE POPULATION—AN HONEST COUNT WOULD SHOW A REPUBLICAN MAJORITY—PROSCRIPTION OF NORTHERN MEN ALREADY BEGUN—SMITH WEED TRAVELING UNDER AN ALIAS AS A TILDEN "MULE" DRIVER.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

GREESBORO, Nov. 12.—The election returns come in slowly. Everybody is astounded at the immense vote cast; some counties show a voting population in great disproportion to the number of the inhabitants. From the returns already in, it is certain that the vote for Gov. Hayes and Judge Settle will reach one hundred and five thousand, seven thousand more than the number received by Caldwell, the successful Republican candidate for Governor in 1872. T. B. Keogh, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, has already taken steps to secure evidence to show the frauds and intimidation resorted to by the Democrats in this State. Mr. Keogh believes, that, on fair returns, Judge Settle would have been elected by at least ten thousand majority. The Democrats are not jubilant over the prospects for the election of Tilden, but many who did not volunteer in the last war, declare themselves joyful at what appears to them a juncture of affairs that will certainly cause a disruption of the Union. The ex-Confederates say they are willing to fight for Tilden, and inaugurate him by force if necessary. The work of proscription has already set in. The Raleigh News, a leading Democratic organ, says that "Northern people will now proceed northward," and the spirit of its articles is such as to incite the passions of the people against the citizens of Northern birth. If such a calamity as the election of Tilden should take place, Northern people will be forcibly driven from the South, if the advice of such papers as the News is heeded. Smith M. Weed is in South Carolina. He is supposed to be traveling with a "barrel" and many "mules." He registered at the hotel in Raleigh as Thomas Keith, of Tennessee.

DEMOCRATIC METHODS EXPOSED—HOW THE OLD NORTH STATE WAS CARRIED FOR TILDEN—HAPLESS CONDITION OF THE COLORED PEOPLE.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

"North Carolina has gone overwhelmingly Democratic." I suppose this statement is almost as familiar to you now as it has become to me within the past two days. I admit that this State is not to be counted as in favor of the Republican nominees, but believe that the Democratic candidates may not ultimately have that large majority of the votes which is now claimed for them by their supporters. Counties in the north-west, north-east, and south are yet to be heard from, and their returns will, it is hoped, greatly diminish the advantage of our opponents. Yet, I shall not be surprised if the majority claimed be increased instead of diminished. I can see no reason why it should not be multiplied fivefold, if the elections were conducted in the counties whose returns are not yet in, as they were in the other parts of the State. What I saw on Tuesday last, and what I have heard since, horrify me; and I know the recital of the facts must appall every true American citizen. Fraud, treachery, and intimidation are the means by which this State has been carried against the Republican Party, and these instruments were used by men of resolute will, who are not incumbered by a particle of conscience. The Republicans of North Carolina have never been well organized, else I might not now have such a story of shame to detail. They have not many leaders who, in intelligence, foresight, and resolute will, can compete with the men who are at the head of the Democracy. They were deceived by the "still hunt" policy of their opponents, so that while the latter were preparing for the election of last Tuesday, they were idle. The result is known. When they went to the polls on election day they found those places in the possession of the Democracy, who were well-armed and determined to resist every endeavor to expel them. Even in thoroughly Republican counties was this plan of seizing the polls carried into effect by the Democrats. So thorough were their methods and organization, the Republicans could do nothing. The hypocrisy of the Tildenites was such that it almost surpasses belief, and it is certain that if any violent attempt to dislodge them had been made, the apparent blame of causing bloodshed would have fallen upon the Republicans. They desired, they said, to have a fair election, and would protect every citizen in his right to vote. The Republicans accepted their assurances, for two reasons—they could not on the instant cope with such thoroughly-organized bands, and they did not at first penetrate the hypocrisy of their opponents. Well, the rebels—for such they are in spirit—kept guard over the polls. They admitted voters one by one, and whenever a Republican approached the ballot-boxes challenged and harassed him with questions. In this way they consumed time, and, in every precinct so far heard from, when the sun went down it was found that numbers of Republicans had been challenged and talked out of their votes. As for themselves, the Tilden and Vance men voted early in order to have time to harass their opponents; and the indications are that they also voted often.

Let me here state a fact which indicates the perpetration of shameless frauds by the successful party in this State. On the very night of the election, within two hours after the polls had been closed, apparently official reports were received at Raleigh that certain remote Democratic districts had given Tilden, and Vance, and the others on their tickets, large majorities, and also stating the figures of those majorities. Honest reports could not have reached here from those districts in much less time than two days. To-day the reports of Tuesday night have been verified (?) by dispatches from the districts in question. Now, what do these facts indicate, nay, prove, except that the Democratic Committee of each county was directed to send in a certain majority agreed upon beforehand? One county has given a Democratic majority of 1,400. Previous to this time that county has been Republican, and the majority for the Democrats now announced is greater than the greatest number of votes ever before polled.

It must not now seem strange to you that no Republican in this city would be astonished if the Democratic majority in this State, when all the returns have come in, should run higher than it is now claimed. Our hope is, however, that the rebels did not rule affairs in the north-west, north-east, and southern counties, as they did elsewhere. In the former counties the residents are mainly what are called "poor whites." They were Union men during the war, and have been firm Republicans since. They know the characters of the Democrats, rank and file, and we believe would revolt at any attempt made by the latter to control them. We have heard of no troubles in those northern counties, such as would probably occur if the Democrats seized the polls there, and so are hopeful of their aid to reduce the fraudulent majority piled up in the central and western parts of the State. The negro districts of the south will also, probably send us assistance. Still, however much help we may get, we cannot hope to overcome the Democrats, so skillful were their plans, and so formidable their results.

I have hitherto been writing very generally of the methods of the Democrats, but will now relate a special instance. Col. Young, whose home is about forty miles north-east of Raleigh, was a Republican candidate for Congress. When he arrived at the polling-place in his town on the morning of Tuesday, he found that it was in the hands of Democrats, who had built a barricade around it, and stationed guards to repel any assault. Followed by some friends, he advanced to the entrance to the booth and asked permission to go in and act as a challenger. He was met by five armed men, who styled themselves policemen, and who peremptorily refused to allow him to enter as a challenger. He then demanded to be permitted to vote. This permission was granted him. He entered the polling-place, voted, and then refused to leave. After considerable bluster the rebels determined to permit him to remain. He states that every negro that entered the polling-place was challenged and time was lost in discussing every case. Republican ballots were snatched from the hands of the colored men by the self-constituted policemen, and Democratic tickets were given them in exchange; and long before the sun went down, the Democrats declared that the time for closing the poll had arrived. Over one hundred negroes were then waiting to vote, and, if the poll was closed, would have been cheated of their rights. The wrongfulness of the attempt caused a violent discussion, and there might have been bloodshed over the matter, were it not for the sudden appearance of the sun, which came from behind a cloud, and lighted up, with his golden rays, the raftered and rumous old room in which the angry disputants were. This overcame the arguments of the Democrats and the voting went on; yet, when the polls did close, it was found that twenty-seven negroes had been disfranchised by the persistent challenging of the voters in advance of them, which kept them in line until after sundown. There are 1,800 voting precincts in North Carolina. Now, if we assume, as we may fairly, that at least ten voters have been disfranchised in each district by the tactics of the Democrats, we find that in the entire State between thirty and forty thousand Republicans have been deprived of their right to vote. And thus has North Carolina been carried by the Democrats and lost to the Republicans. Thus has Old North State again been captured by the rebels. Rebels, I say advisedly. The state of feeling in North Carolina is to-day, and has been ever since the news reached Raleigh, that Tilden had carried the country, that of 1860, just after Lincoln's election; and the white rebels of North Carolina stand ready to-day to respond to any call that may be made upon them for whatever treasonable purpose. In conclusion, I must say something of those people who will suffer most from the success of the Southern Democratic Party. The condition and lot of the black men of North Carolina has been a hard one in the years that have passed since the rebellion. May God help them now! JUDSON KILPATRICK.

RALEIGH, N. C., Thursday, Nov. 9, 1876.

NEW-YORK.

MAJORITIES BY COUNTIES FOR PRESIDENT AND GOVERNOR.

The following table gives the majorities for Hayes and Tilden and for Morgan and Robinson, respectively, in the several counties of the State. The returns of the Gubernatorial vote are still meagre:

Counties.	Hayes.	Tilden.	Morgan.	Robinson.
Albany	....	1,200	....	....
Allegany	3,100	....	....	....
Broome	1,343	....	1,287	....
Cattaraugus	1,027	....	1,474	....
Cayuga	3,002	....	....	....
Chautauqua	4,380	....	....	....
Chemung	....	497	....	866
Chenango	1,200	....	....	....
Clinton	750	....	....	....
Columbia	....	512	....	520
Cortland	1,377	....	....	....
Delaware	900	....	....	....
Dutchess	353	....	500	....
Erie	790	....	688	....
Essex	1,500	....	....	....
Franklin	1,167	....	1,100	....
Fulton	284	....	274	....
Genesee	1,000	....	....	....
Greene	....	1,000	....	....
Hamilton	....	50	....	....
Herkimer	750	....	650	....
Jefferson	2,159	....	....	....
Kings	....	16,518	....	15,617
Lewis	....	200	....	....
Livingston	1,239	....	1,212	....
Madison	1,911	....	1,721	....
Monroe	1,563	....	1488	....
Montgomery	300	....	....	....
New-York	....	53,[illegible]	....	51,495
Niagara	....	3[illegible]	....	357
Oneida	1,308	....	....	....
Onondaga	2,478	....	....	....
Ontario	805	....	675	....
Orange	....	339	....	....
Orleans	1,050	....	....	....
Oswego	2,897	....	2,532	....
Otsego	....	161	....	160
Putnam	149	....	137	....
Queens	....	3,011	....	2,956
Rensselaer	....	800	....	....
Richmond	....	1,454	....	1,398
Rockland	....	1,157	....	....
St. Lawrence	7,646	....	....	....
Saratoga	891	....	877	....
Schenectady	....	306	....	300
Schoharie	....	1,800	....	....
Schuyler	607	....	....	....
Seneca	....	664	....	661
Steuben	945	....	1,010	....
Suffolk	....	359	....	218
Sullivan	....	500	....	....
Tioga	767	....	767	....
Tompkins	1,002	....	....	....
Ulster	....	1,561	....	....
Warren	475	....	442	....
Washington	2,512	....	2,358	....
Wayne	1777	....	1,841	....
Westchester	....	2,455	....	2,406
Wyoming	1,168	....	1,100	....
Yates	1,100	....	....	....
Total	58,187	90,038	....	....

Tilden's majority, 31,851.

HAYES' MAJORITY IN MAINE.

AUGUSTA, Nov. 12.—Returns from 400 cities and towns give Hayes 64,349; Tilden, 46,998; Republican majority, 17,351.

THE SURRENDER OF TWEED.

OFFICIAL EXPLANATION IN THE SPANISH CORTES BY THE FOREIGN MINISTER.

MADRID, Nov. 12.—The matter of the extradition of William M. Tweed came up in the Cortes yesterday. The Minister for Foreign Affairs, in replying to a question, said the Spanish Government had authorized the extradition of Tweed as a return for courtesy displayed by the Government of the United States in similar cases.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

GREECE TO MAINTAIN AN ARMED NEUTRALITY—THE CZAR'S SPEECH—TURKISH OBJECTIONS TO THE CONFERENCE.

ATHENS, Nov. 12.—M. Comoundouros, the President of the Council of Ministers, speaking in the Chamber, said the policy of Greece was one of armed neutrality.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The Standard's dispatch from Berlin says the Czar's speech has produced a most alarming impression in political circles there.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The Times Dispatch from Berlin says Russian papers abound in warlike reports. It is rumored that Russia is likely to obtain in Holland advances of money upon a large amount of railway shares.

The Vienna correspondent of the Times confirms the report that mobilization of the Russian Army will be ordered in a few days. He adds that Russia will send a note to the powers which, it is said, will explain that, as all the Powers have agreed about the reforms which are to be demanded of Turkey, Russia thinks their fulfillment only possible if she prepares to defend them.

The same correspondent mentions a rumor that the Porte has made representation in London against the scheme for a conference, that is opposed to Constantinople being selected as the place of meeting, and to the inclusion of Bulgaria in the programme. The first of these objections can only refer to the preliminary meeting of the representatives of the powers, from which Turkey would be excluded.

Prince Ghika, of Roumania, has arrived in this city.

THE EAST INDIAN CYCLONE.

THE LOSS OF LIFE ESTIMATED AT FROM 20,000 TO 40,000—A WAVE NINE FEET HIGH SWEEPING OVER AN ISLAND.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—A dispatch from Calcutta to the Times says it is reported that 20,000 persons perished in the cyclone of October 51, and some estimates place the loss of lives as high as 40,000. In the town of Burrisahol, capital of the Backergunge district, 3,000 houses were leveled with the earth. Letters from survivors report that a great wave, nine feet deep swept over the large Island of Dakhin, Shahazpore. The whole of Eastern Bengal appears to have suffered severely from the cyclone, and Calcutta narrowly escaped.

The reports of famine from Bombay are worse. A water famine is feared in some districts.

MISCELLANEOUS FOREIGN NOTES.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Reuter's Cairo dispatch says that the Egyptian Minister of Finance endeavored to originate a plot against the Khédive, by representing to the people that the Khédive, by accepting the reforms advocated by Mr. Goschen, was selling the country to the Christians. He was exiled to Dongola, and died while being escorted thither. A dispatch ascribes his death to excessive drinking.

ROME, Nov. 12.—Cardinal Simeoni, recently the Papal Nuncio at Madrid, has been appointed to succeed the late Cardinal Antonelli as Secretary of State to the Pope.

THE WEST INDIES.

KINGSTON, Nov. 3.—The sugar crop will be enormous this year in some parishes, the rains having been not only abundant, but seasonable. But the sugar planters are depressed by the extravagance and waste of the public money by the Government, which enforces payment of capital and interest from those engaged in planting. It is said Sir William Gray has been severely reprimanded by Lord Carnarvon, Secretary of State for the Colonies, for not controlling and investigating the expenditures of the Director of Roads Department in Half Way, and rather than submit to the new dictum of the Colonial Office, he prefers to resign the Governorship of the Island. The Jamaica Street Car Railway has been successfully opened in Kingston. This is an American enterprise, and its steady progress and rapid completion has taken the colony and Government by surprise. M. Maricaux, the manager of the Colonial Bank here, has been summoned to London to give some information regarding the agricultural and financial affairs here, and also respecting some fraudulent transactions discovered in connection with a bankruptcy case here which has seriously compromised the colonists and the bank. An American workshop and saw mill has just been built and fitted up here by two young men, who have brought the machinery from New-York. The factory is the first of its kind in Jamaica, and will revolutionize the building trade.

HAYTI.

Things are quiet in Port an Prince, although the British Minister fears the country is on the eve of another revolution, which is brewing under the leadership of Gen. Salomon, an aspirant to the Presidency. He paid a visit to Hayti last month, and returned again to Kingston, Jamaica, where his project can be better accomplished. The friends of the present Government, and of President Canal, say there are no fears of any disturbance. A British man-of-war has been sent to protect the British interests in the event of an uprising.

BARBADOS.

The feeling against the Governor, Mr. Pope Hennessy, is becoming extremely intense, as the policy of this gentleman is evidently to insult the intelligence of the country and rouse the worst passions of the agricultural laborers against their employers.

ST. THOMAS.

During the night of Sept. 12, when the hurricane broke over this island, causing great loss of life and damage to shipping, Mr. Friend, an engineer, with one or two assistants, at the risk of their lives, went on board the St. Thomas floating dock in the harbor—which was then filled with shipping—and sank the dock as deep as possible, so as to afford greater resistance to vessels which might be driven against it during the storm. The dock was struck by a large German steamer, which had her band rails torn away, and a hole knocked in her bow; the dock was uninjured. Mr. Friend and his assistants remained on the dock during the entire storm, saving it from destruction.

THE WEATHER.

PROBABILITIES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—1 A. M.—For the Middle States, north-west winds, cooler, clear weather, and stationary or lower temperature, except at the southern stations warmer south-west winds.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

MY WINTER ON THE NILE, AMONG THE MUMMIES AND MOSLEMS. By CHARLES DUDLEY WARNER, author of "My Summer in a Garden," "Back-log Studies," &c. Hartford, Conn.: AMERICAN PUBLISHING COMPANY.

This is a new edition of Mr. Warner's latest book, with an amended title. Mummies and Moslems was brought out while the author was in foreign parts, and sundry typographical errors, and a lack of uniformity in the orthography of some of the Arabic names, showed the absence of the author's revising hand. The present work is a sensible improvement on the first issue. It leaves nothing to be desired that good type, fair paper, and careful press-work can bestow upon a book. Mr. Warner long since made his reputation as a shrewd, observant traveler, with a happy faculty of communicating his impressions of men and things. In this story of his Winter on the Nile, he has successfully maintained his right to be considered a traveler who has traveled to some purpose, and who may be listened to with confidence as well as pleasure and profit. It is certain that he does not romance, and he evidently does not "gush."

So many people have written books about the Nile voyage, so many others have "lectured" on that well-worn subject, (with magic-lantern illuminations and Scriptural references,) that the average reader may be excused if he declares that he is bored of Nile journeyers. Nevertheless, here is an American who has brought back from the enchanted lands a portfolio of new views, fresh impressions, and entirely novel facts. Mr. Warner has actually made a delightful book. And the critic may be excused for saying that its charm chiefly consists in its simplicity and naturalness. As a traveling companion, this author never wearies. We are bound to say that he does not choose to direct the reader's attention to some things which custom has led us to expect he will command us to look at. But he never insists on one's admiring or detesting anything. Nile voyaging is leisurely, dreamy; the voyager does not want a dragoman perpetually bidding him to look, admire, revere, or be startled. Mr. Warner is the model dragoman. His comments are unobtrusive. What he has to say is worth attention and remembrance. You may order your sensations to suit yourself. He does not bother you with special directions.

Mr. Warner and his party ascended the Nile to the second cataract, made several inland excursions, and returned to Cairo, where they spent some weeks. The author has given a faithful picture of such features of the journey as best served to reproduce it in the mind of the reader. Here we have the atmosphere, soft or harsh, of the Egypt of to-day. The floating craft, manned by coal-black boatmen, and laden with elephants' tusks, ostrich feathers, gums, spices, and wild beasts for far-off menageries, sweep by us with their African strangeness. The creak of the water-wheel is heard on the river bank, the poor, half-naked wretch in the grain-field throws up his skinny arms and shrieks for backsheesh as the stranger drifts along, and the villagers crawl out of their miserable mud huts to gaze. The scenery is faithfully painted, and there is no attempt to gloss over any features of which a truthful drawing is necessary to a complete understanding of the picture. The author has, withal, such a pleasant way of chatting with the reader, entertaining him with much quiet humor, that the voyage is never wearisome. He is candid enough to say that he does not like either Moslems or mummies. Concerning the latter he incidentally remarks:

"It must be confessed that to a person uninformed about Egypt, and unaccustomed to its ancient art, there is nothing in the world so dreary as a collection of its antiquities. The endless repetition of designs, the unyielding rigidity of forms, the hideous mingling of the human and the bestial, the dead formality, are insufferably wearisome. The mummy is thoroughly disagreeable. You can easily hate him and all his belongings; there is an air of infinite conceit about him—I feel it in the exclusive box in which he stands, in the smirk of his face painted on his case. I wonder if it is the perkishness of immortality—as if his race alone were immortal. His very calmness, like that of so many of the statues he made, is an offensive contempt. It is no doubt unreasonable, but, as a living person, I resent this intrusion of a preserved dead person into our warm times—an appearance anachronistic and repellant."

Mr. Warner takes America along with him, notwithstanding his noble resolution to look at Egypt in its own atmosphere. If he sees a group of miserable women dawdling on a river bank and making their squalid toilet in the sand, he remembers that this is the first day of the week; he shudders as he thinks of New-England and says, "What a way to spend Sunday!" A Nubian beauty, stared at by foreign visitors, suggests a New-York belle combing her hair on her father's doorsteps in Madison square, and resenting the mild curiosity of traveling Egyptians. The wretched husbandry on the Nile recalls to mind New-England thrift by contrast, and the clover along the banks is "growing sweet and green as in any New-England meadow in May." Sometimes this is tiresome, but as we are reading at home the author's observations in foreign parts, it is just as well that we have a few homely touches to restrain the imagination withal. Besides, it is a certain sort of sweet flattery to our own country that her wandering sons perpetually revert to her wherever they go. The author of My Winter on the Nile, whatever else he does, contrives to tell his tale agreeably, and his method is admirably adapted to fixing his descriptions vividly in the mind of the reader.

POEMS OF PLACES. Edited by HENRY W. LONGFELLOW. Boston: J. R. OSGOOD & Co. 1876.

In his preface to this valuable compilation, Mr. Longfellow tells us that he has always found the poets his best traveling companions. This remark may have a double meaning, and there are many travelers who, while willing to accept it in one sense, may not be quite as ready to do so in another. The most congenial companions are generally those between whom there are the closest bonds of sympathy in feeling and opinion. It is not everybody who could travel long in company with nothing but a poet, and enjoy it. We can understand that Mr. Longfellow is of the few who could. But among the majority who could not, there are very many who will be glad to have at hand a little volume such as one of those now before us, wherewith to while away an hour or more in pleasant intercourse with the poetical writers in our literature. For all or almost all will be represented here when the work is fully complete. The newspapers have very diligently circulated a statement to the effect that when Mr. Tennyson was requested to allow some of his productions to be printed by Mr. Longfellow, he bluntly refused, and the alleged refusal was diligently commented on as an example of the Laureate's rudeness in particular and of English barbarism in general. With only one or two exceptions these same newspapers refused to retract the allegation, but, nevertheless, it was not true. As far as he could do so, the copyright of his works not being entirely in his own control, Mr. Tennyson gave the permission asked for, and quotations from him will be found in the selection.

English poetry, as might be expected in a land rich in historic associations and abounding in scenery which art as well as nature has made beautiful, is everywhere scattered with descriptions of places and allusions to them. Mr. Longfellow has therefore found no difficulty in filling four volumes with extracts relating to Great Britain—the fifth, which is, we believe, on the way, being devoted to Ireland. We need not say that the selection, although of course not exhaustive, has been made with the most excellent judgment, and we are glad to find that in the extracts from American writers the compiler has been equally careful and judicious. By way of introduction he has aptly chosen Mr. Washington Allston's "America to Great Britain," wherein there breathes a spirit which we should be glad, in the interests of progress and civilization, to see more prevalent among public writers in this country.

The form of the work is convenient. Mr. Longfellow is determined that no traveler shall be prevented from having poets for companions by any inconvenience from carrying them in the pocket. Each volume is small and handy. But while approving of that, we suggest that a library edition also would be acceptable to very many people. Portable poets are very handy and entertaining things to have about us, but the reading public will hardly be satisfied till this result of Mr. Longfellow's labors shall appear in a volume that is better suited to the library table, and which shall be more worthy of so excellent and well-chosen a selection.

CASTLE WINDOWS. By LATHAM CORNELL STRONG. Troy, N. Y.: H. B. NIMS & Co. 1876.

We have here about two hundred and twenty-eight pages of versification. We will follow Mr. Strong's example, and abstain from calling them poems, as a less wise author than he might have done. But if, before publication, he had submitted his manuscript to some impartial yet friendly critic, it is very probable that the twenty-eight pages would alone have sufficed to contain all that such critic would have selected. Mr. Strong is not a poet. But he versifies well enough, doubtless, to please his friends, and he occasionally produces something which will pass muster for publication. If he were careful, he could do better than he does. Even the dedication, which in other respects is considerably above the average of such pieces of composition, is spoiled by lack of two little words. Mr. Strong should remember, too, when the muse is stirring him, that poetical license does not extend so as to include bad spelling, bad grammar, or vulgarity. The effusion about the Russian ball he ought heartily to be ashamed of. Then, b-a-z-a-r does not spell bazaar any more than s-e-g-a-r spells cigar; and neither poets nor poetlets can afford to sacrifice accent for the sake of following the whims and caprices of their neighbors. "Pled" for "pleaded" is one of those blunders or monstrosities which newspaper scribblers have given us, like "statute" for statue, drugger for druggist, legerdemainist for conjurer; or such words as illy, shootist, rowist, and among verbs, to excurt, to burgle, to gun, to nolle; or, as we saw it the other day, to nolle prosequi. But aspiring poets must not imagine, because such outrageous things appear in the papers, or, as they do, in books sometimes, that they are either English or in any way legitimate material for correct writers to use. Then, too, we ask Mr. Strong confidentially what is a "serpent's glitter"? We make the appeal for information, though we do not say that we cannot make some kind of a guess in regard to it. And as an example of another kind of carelessness, we quote the following stanza from a production entitled "West Point."

"All in a dream of Commencement eve,
I remember I awkwardly buttoned a glove
On the dainty arm, in its flowing sleeve,
With a broken sentence of hope and love.
But the diamonds that flashed in her wavy hair,
And the beauty that shone in her faultless face,
Are all I recall as I struggled there,
A poor brown fly in a web of lace."

There is something very suggestive of modesty, not to say humility, in the poet comparing himself to a poor brown fly, and there is a little, probably unintentional, satire in the suggestion that a young fellow falls in love with a girl's dress more readily than with her personal merits; but we fail to see how the most perfect of lovers could use a "broken sentence of hope" wherewith to button his lady's glove. We do not wonder at his having been rather awkward about it.

Occasionally Mr. Strong tries to be funny, but the place where he has best succeeded is one where he wanted to be particularly serious. It will be found in the preface, where, in an attempt at a little self-justification, he figures Apollo jumping down from Heaven and assuming the attitude of a prize fighter. He declares that it would be very unpleasant to see such a sight. We confess we should rather like it. Mr. Strong assumes, it is true, that if the god did such a thing the only costume he could have would be a "lyre strung across his shoulders"! That would be rather indecent certainly, and though it might be almost a sacrilege to conceal the beatiful form of that particular god, a blanket would answer all the purposes. If Apollo would only take the jump we think that matter could be arranged.

Mr. Strong is, however, profoundly impressed with the number of "flaws" that his book contains. This would seem to indicate that he has a similarly deep-rooted contempt for his readers, whom he challenges to detect the many blunders he has committed. We have no advice for the public about accepting that challenge. But it is fair to say that if it should be accepted a few pieces are to be discovered in the book which show that Mr. Strong, though not justifying his name by his writing, can work much better when he takes a little pains than when he omits to do so. Amid the crowd of volumes of poetry which is sent out every year from the publishers, and which goes, nobody knows where, we have met with several better productions, and very many worse, than Castle Windows.

ESSAYS ON LITERARY CRITICISM. By RICHARD HOLT HUTTON. Philadelphia: JAMES H. COATES & Co. 1876.

Without accepting the sweeping eulogium which has been attributed to the editor of the Academy, it must be allowed that it is in his literary essays that Mr. Hutton appears to the greatest advantage; and that there, a marked degree of literary talent, careful research within a limited sphere, and a deep, judicial acumen in tracing out and weighing the merits of his subjects, are to be distinguished. Throughout the whole of Mr. Hutton's career, he has displayed marked evidence of high ability, but the secret of success is one which students in literature may profitably bear in mind. It is not on the largeness of his powers, but on the concentration of them, that his fame has been made dependent. He adopted the plan when a student, and he has found it as successful in after life as it was then. Nor is he unwilling to acknowledge the cause of his success. In this selection from his writings he tells us plainly that it is by this system of concentration only that some persons can hope to become just critics of a few great authors.

Mr. Hutton's connection with the Spectator must certainly be accounted a loss to literature. It has withdrawn his attention from those fields where he is best qualified to shine, and it has added nothing to his own fame. What the Spectator would have been without Mr. Hutton it is hard to imagine; but with all his help it is little more than an organ of the extreme Radical Republican, we might almost say, the revolutionary, element of England. It is no representative of public opinion there, nor do its columns enjoy the respect of the people, though the ability with which it is conducted is not denied. It is an instance of a journal being sustained by the sheer force of editorial skill, in the face of great unpopularity except among a very small circle of men of extreme views. To attribute this, as we must do, to Mr. Hutton's able management, is probably to pay him as high a compliment as any that have been lavished upon him as an essayist.

The volume before us has been prepared expressly for American readers, and the selection has been made with good judgment. It comprises critical essays on Goethe, Nathaniel Hawthorne, A. H. Clough, Wordsworth, George Eliot, and Matthew Arnold. In style Mr. Hutton is not brilliant. We can well understand that there are to be found many readers who, while capable of reading Macaulay's essays with zest and even enthusiasm, will sometimes find it a little difficult to follow Mr. Hutton carefully through the analytical process which he applies so skillfully to the subjects of his criticism.

But any deficiency in the attractiveness of his style, is fully compensated by the thoroughness of his treatment, the clearness of his judgment, and the delicacy and power with which he defines the results of his examination. He is more analytical than aggressive; but while his analyses are complete, he brings into play a faculty of comparison and illustration which lend a charm to his essays that is not apparent except under a careful perusal. He exhibits always a thorough knowledge of his subject. In fact, he only writes as the result of close study, and he acknowledges that he restricts his studies within a certain given compass. He nowhere evinces that breadth of scholarship and wide research which characterize most of our best critical essayists; but for a concentration of energy, and a clear marking of minute detail, Mr. Hutton's essays are probably unsurpassed. The volume which Messrs. Coates & Co. have published, will be found a valuable acquisition in the library of students in literature.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE. Fifth Series, Vol. XV. From the beginning, Vol. 130. Boston: LITTELL & GAY. 1876.

Another volume of the Living Age marks the end of the third quarter of the year. Among the many serials that now issue from the press we know of none more acceptable than this, nor one that is so thorough a representative of many of the best productions of the day. We have in the present publication a volume of more than eight hundred pages, filled with the contributions of popular writers, and selected with good judgment. Writings from the following find a place: The Edinburgh Quarterly, Westminster, British Quarterly, Contemporary, Fortnightly, Popular Science, Church Quarterly, and Saturday Review; the Cornhill, Blackwood's, Fraser's, Macmillan's, Sunday, and Victoria Magazines, Good Words, Temple Bar, Examiner, Spectator, Economist, Athenæum, Pall Mall Gazette, Chambers's Journal, Academy, Nature, Queen, and the Leisure Hours. The contents comprise a fewer number of long novels than usual, but fiction is well represented by "Carita," from The Cornhill; "What she Came through," from Good Words, and eight other shorter stories. There are upward of forty contributions in verse, some of which are of high merit—far superior to the poetry of the ordinary magazines; and considerably more than a hundred contributions on topics inhistory, travel, science, biography and other subjects.

LITERARY NOTES.

—The Harpers are about to publish the interesting Biography of Marie Antoinette, by Prof. Yonge, and Mr. Fox Bourne's scholarly Life of John Locke.

—A. D. F. Randolph & Co. will publish, during the present month, Rev. Dr. Talbot Chambers' Vedder Lectures for 1876, the subject being The Psalter; a Witness of the Divine Origin of the Bible.

—The fourth volume of Comte's System of Positive Polity, or Treatise on Sociology, containing the "Synthesis of the Future of Mankind," and Comte's treatises, in an appendix minor, is soon to be published in England.

—Sophie May's Flaxie Frizzle, Adelaide F. Samuel's Daisy Frames, are published this week by Lee & Shepard. The Little People of God, with an original poem, "The Child and the Pet," by John G. Whittier, will be their next publication,

—One of the best selling books of the year has been the Misses Warner's Wych Hazel. The sequel to it, the Gold of Chickaree, will be published by G. P. Putnam's Sons, in a few days, and is said to be even more interesting than its predecessor.

—Roberts Brothers will publish Nov. 20 Miss Alcott's Rose in Bloom; The Story of Ruth, from the Holy Bible, with full-page illustrations, after drawings by Mr. Bida; and Jan of the Windmill, by Mrs. Juliana Horatio Ewing, author of Six to Sixteen and The Brownies.

—The new book by the Emperor of Brazil will be written in Portuguese, and will be printed in Paris. It will treat largely and in detail of the experiences of the imperial traveler, and the Emperer has already ordered French, English, and German translations to be made.

—Messrs. Chappell & Co., London, will shortly publish Medical Hints on Production and Management of the Voice, by Mr. Lennox Browne, Surgeon to the Royal Society of Musicians. The work is an extension of the author's recent paper on "The Voice as a Musical Instrument."

—George Wilkes' essay on Shakespeare from an American Point of View, shortly to be published in London by Sampson, Low & Co., includes an inquiry into Shakespeare's religious faith and knowledge of law, and special notice of Miss Lydia Bacon's theory concerning the authorship of the plays.

—"An Attempt to Interpret Fechner's Law," "Schopenhauer's Philosophy," "The Life of James Mill" by Alexander Bain, are the notable contributions to the October number of the Mind, published in this country by D. Appleton & Co. It also contains an interesting article on "Philosophy in London," by the editor.

—Sea-shore and Prairie, by Miss Mary P. Thacher, a niece of the poet Longfellow, to whom her book is dedicated by permission, consists of delightful sketches of sea-coast visits to interesting places, and of various experiences in the far West, and is remarkable for its naturalness and simplicity of style, and its freedom from "gush." It is just published by James R. Osgood & Co.

—The third number of the magnificent Dictionary of Architecture, by M. Ernest Bosc, recently published by the firm of Firmin-Didot & Co., Paris, contains, besides a short treatise on heraldry, an excellent history of Byzantine architecture, illustrated with a chromo-lithograph, which gives a good idea of the splendor of the color employed by the Byzantine mosaists and decorative artists.

—Berthold Auerbach aims, in the new series of his Village Tales, the first volume of which has just appeared in Germany, to give a correct representation of the German village of railway times, and would show, by contrast with his Village Tales of an earlier age, what Germany has secured through the changes which the progress of time and the course of events have wrought for the fatherland.

—The new edition of Clough's Plutarch, soon to be published by Little, Brown & Co., makes an octavo volume of 769 pages, with double columns and readable typography, and has an interesting preface by Mr. S. R. Crocker, in which he dwells at some length upon the influence of Plutarch in forming the character and shaping the career of eminent men who had in early life but few books to read, this old classic happening to be one of them,

—Sheldon & Co. are on the point of publishing several excellent books: A Point of Honor, by Mrs. Annie Edwards; A Young Man's Difficulties with the Bible, by Rev. W. D. Faunce, D. D.; Lectures on the History of Preaching, by Dr. John A. Broadus; Rev. D. S. Gregory's Why Four Gospels? Dr. P. H. Mill's Manual of Parliamentary Practice, and a Life of Major Gen. George A. Custer, including all his Army and Indian campaigns, by Capt. Frederick Whittaker.

—Mrs. H. B. Stowe's new book, entitled Footsteps of the Master, is described as a kind of prose-Christian Year, as it consists of readings and meditations for different Church seasons, following the life of Jesus from Advent to Ascension, though not in ecclesiastical precision of form. It is interspersed with poems, carols, hymns, &c., and, with its tasteful typography, illustrations, and illuminated titles, will make a very pretty gift book, as well as a helpful and useful manual of religious reading.

AFFAIRS IN FRANCE.

HOW NEWSPAPERS ARE CONDUCTED IN PARIS.

INUNDATED BY A FLOOD OF NEW JOURNALS—POLITICAL NEWSPAPERS—ANECDOTE OF LOUIS BLANC AND A DUCHESS—"WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN"—HOW COPYRIGHTS ARE SECURED IN THE FRENCH REPUBLIC.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PARIS, Monday, Oct. 29, 1876.

We have lately been inundated by a flood of new journals, about one per diem having appeared during the past two weeks. Many of them are hardly worth mentioning, since they are speculations on the part of needy writers who have no capital but great expectations, and are bound to disappear when the borrowing capacities of the projectors are exhausted. But three of the new gazettes are worthy of mention. One is called the Nation. It was started by M. Raoul Duval, deputy, M. Duruy and others, and hence is Bonapartist in politics. The significance of this lies in the fact that there is a split in the party, the younger members having revolted against the rule of M. Rouher. I do not mean to insinuate that this is a matter of political importance, since both cliques would vote together on all matters of vital importance, and the party would be found a unit in everything concerning the interests of young Prince Louis Bonaparte; but the younger men of the party could not agree with the late Vice Emperor upon every point, and hence founded a journal to have an opportunity for expressing views they could not in the Ordre, the recognized organ. That paper has been left to Jules Amigues, the Bonapartist Socialist, and it has lost something of its authority. The Pays, with M. Paul De Cassagnac, Deputy and Mayor of Gers, at its head, represents the militant branch of the party. The Orleanists have nearly retired from the journalistic field since their signal defeat in the late elections. The Journal de Paris was discontinued, and the Princes are now represented wholly by the Soleil, a journal sold for one cent, and worth just about the money. The organs of Henri V. keep up because they are emanations from the altar, to paraphrase the ideas of the Bishop of Gap. They dwell more upon the religious ideas of their party than upon party politics.

All this shows that the Monarchical press is passing through a period of perturbation, and all are waiting to see things settled into something like shape. Perhaps they may have to wait a long time; perhaps till 1880. At any rate, the present moment does not seem at all favorable to them. In the meantime, Republican journals are appearing by the score—by the half dozen, I can say, without exaggeration—and five have come out since I last wrote. The most important of them is L' Homme Libre, the "Free Man," the Socialist organ, founded by no less a personage than Louis Blanc. The journals we considered extremely Radical a few months ago, are now regarded as comparatively moderate. The Siècle was followed by the Rappel, that journal by the Tribune, that by the Droits de l' Homme, that by the Homme Libre, each being more intensely Radical than its predecessor, and trying to go a little closer to the limits of the law without incurring absolute danger. The Droits de l' Homme, the journal of Henri Rochefort, has been prosecuted a dozen times for outraging the government, religion, society, or the army, and has had to pay nearly forty thousand francs in fines. Its last affair was for an article signed "X—y," the pseudonym of Rochefort, it is said, saying that all the leading Generals are Bonapartists first and patriots afterward, and ridiculing Gen. Ducrot for not getting himself killed at Champigny. This cost 4,000 francs and two years' imprisonment. The imprisonment has to be borne by the géreut, a poor devil who gets a dollar a week to keep his name at the head of the journal and take the chances of confinement. When in prison he gets well paid, and his family is provided for. If I mistake not, this journal now has three directors in prison, neither of them being capable of writing a line correctly. However, the law admits of these "straw men," and all the journals employ them. I do not think, though, that the new Socialist organ will be violent, for M. Louis Blanc is a sensible man in every respect, and has a serious mind as well as a large intelligence. He is the best man in the party, taking the whole of Europe into account.

Speaking of him brings up a story. Under the Restoration the father of Louis Blanc was a staunch Royalist, and was among the emégrés who shared in the famous milliard. A fine feerest was offered him as his share in the donation, but he accepted instead two scholarships, endowments for his two sons in the Royal College of Rodez. Louis came out brilliantly, with high honors, just as the revolution of 1830 came on. But the fall of the Bourbons ruined the father, and prevented him from aiding his sons in the choice of a career. Louis was then eighteen, and came to Paris to seek for employment. One of his relatives, M. Ferri Pisani, son-in-law of Marshal Jourdan, asked if he had any taste for diplomacy.

"I accept in advance all the careers in which a man may succeed in life by honest labor," replied Louis Blanc.

"Then come with me to the Hotel Talleyrand." On arriving at the Hotel Rue St. Florentin, the two were received by the Duchess de Dino, niece of the Prince of Beuevant, and his constant companion at home, a young lady of brilliant qualities, handsome and witty, whose only fault was said to be an unconquerable desire for raillery. She made her wit felt on every occasion, sometimes malapropos, in the estimation of the world. When reproached for this habit she replied, "Well, tant pis for those who have hump-backed characters."

M. Ferri-Pisani presented his relative of whom he had previously spoken to Madame de Dino, and on seeing him she burst out with laughter. "He! Don Cherubino," she said, tapping the young man under the chin with her fan, "It appears that you have ambition. But before beginning your apprenticeship in the embassies you should wait at least until you have cut all your teeth."

Louis Blanc is but little over four feet in height, and looks like a small boy even now. Then he had rosy cheeks, a skin as fair as a girl's, and a face like that of the cherubs in Raphael's pictures. But little people are always sensitive, it is said, and Louis Blanc was extremely wounded by this treatment. He felt that he was "no chicken," and did not want to be treated as a boy, still less as a cherub. The Duchess liked his appearance, and thought what a page he would make if the moyen age manners were still in existence. She was ready to take him under her protection, and nothing that she demanded was refused her, and, with that sentiment instinctive to women which makes them tender to children, Mme. de Dino laid her hand upon the young man's shoulder and brushed her robes against his side. Many a noble in France would have given half his fortune to have received the same attention, (with the same tender feelings,) from Mme. de Dino, whose very word was a command to the aged Prince de Talleyrand; but Louis Blanc felt himself patronized, and sprang away as if stung by a serpent. With cold, stiff politeness he told the Duchess that he was not an infant, and gave back a reply so haughty and insolent that the Duchess looked at him in surprise. She drew back at once and resumed her seat.

"Monsieur," she said calmly, and with measured tones, "I beg your pardon. Evidently I have been mistaken in your age, but your youthful aspect deceives me. I am sorry to have wounded you, M. Blanc, and will bid you good morning."

M. Ferri-Pisani was in despair but could say nothing. The two left the Hotel Talleyrand in silence. It was only when near home that either uttered a word, when Louis Blanc said: "Never mind me, I will make my way unaided and unprotected."

"I can only wish you good luck," said M. Ferri-Pisani as he turned away, after giving his relative a warm grasp of the hand. And it was thus that M. Louis Blanc was made a socialist. It is always as curious as futile to reflect upon "what might have been." Had M. Blanc taken the pleasantries of Madame de Dino in kindness, he might have aspired to anything. He would have been now a noble, if he had desired it, certainly one of the first men in France, for his own talents are equal to anything, and with such a protector all the doors of life would have been opened to him.

I have a few words more to say upon the subject of my thesis. Another journal came out the other day and gave rise to a singular complication. It is the custom here to register titles and copyright them, the only condition being that one number shall be brought out and deposited in the National Library within one year. The great publishers, who are worth their millions, can sometimes profit by the terms of the law. One of the principal publishers, for instance, hears that a new art journal is to be brought out and goes at once to register several titles, say, Art Journal, Art Chronicle, Journal of Art, and all the variations that he can think of. At last he hears that the new journal is to be called the Art Journal, and, owing to the means at his command, he brings out one number at very little expense, and gets the copyright of the title. This is not very honest, but it is done nevertheless. A few months ago Arthur Pougin commenced a new musical journal. The other day it was ready for publication, under the title of La Musique, when another journal bearing the same name appeared. It was evidently a made-up affair, but it was gotten up by a rich publisher, and he got the copyright. Pougin changed his title, but with no better success, and now announces that his paper will be brought out as soon as he can find a title which has not been already copyrighted. He intends to keep the title a secret from the printer until the day he goes to press.

CENTRAL AND SOUTH AMERICA.

DEFEAT OF THE REBELS IN PERU—THE GUATEMALA NATIONAL ASSEMBLY—THE LATEST NEWS FROM HONDURAS, NICARAGUA, COSTA RICA, AND COLOMBIA.

PANAMA, Nov. 2.—The special correspondent of the Panama Star and Herald, writing from Lima on Oct. 21, announces the defeat and flight of the rebel chief Pierola. Official dispatches to the President of Peru state that the battle referred to above took place in the ravine of Yucango, near the Heights of Los Angeles, on Oct. 19. The fight lasted three hours and terminated at 3:30 P. M., but before its close Pierola fled with five followers; it is supposed to Bolivia. Gen. La Cotera advanced with the Peruvian troops to attack Pierola in front, while Gen. Bustamente's division from Arequipa coming up in his rear, cut off his retreat. La Cotera had artillery; Pierola had none. He left his strong position at Torata and went down toward the sea-coast, perhaps hoping to escape by sea, when he was attacked by La Cotera's force with the foregoing result. The Government's loss was very small, but the rebels must have been heavy sufferers from La Cotera's cannonade. Should Pierola fall into the hands of his enemies, little mercy will be shown to him it is believed.

Other items of Peruvian news are briefly given from Callao journals, as follows: The German corvette Victoria had arrived at Rio de Janeiro, en route for the Pacific. A fire totally destroyed Gillespie's Hotel at Chala. The Memphis, from Hamburg, arrived at Callao on Oct. 17. Señor Larrain, who was accused a year ago of counterfeiting Valparaiso Bank notes, has been acquitted. Unattached officers from Lima and Callao have offered their services to the Peruvian Government in the present crisis. Charles Sharp, late second officer of the steamer Islay, has been appointed Captain of the English bark Frankley, at Salaverry, inplace of Capt. Hughes, who was mysteriously murdered a short time ago. Mr. Brapey and his family have arrived at Buenos Ayres on the yacht Sunbeam. He is expected to visit Callao. The Customs Treaty between Peru and Bolivia will be revoked by the latter Republic, according to an official notice, in six months, as mutually agreed.

GUATEMALA.

The National Assembly held two sessions, on the 9th and 13th of October. At the first session a committee was appointed to present to the President of the Republic the answer of the House to the President's Message. At the latter meeting a new member, Herrera, Jr., took his seat. The bill relative to ecclesiastical affairs was discussed. The Progreso of Oct. 5 advocates the Government railway scheme to open a line of railway from the port of San Jose to Esquintla. On Oct. 9, a meeting of capitalists was held to support the railway measure, and on the following day a commission was officially appointed to study the question and report accordingly. Col. Francisco Sanchez died at Quezaltenango Oct. 3.

SALVADOR.

The latest journals received are to Oct. 21. An article in the International Gazette, of Brussels, is republished by the Prensa, containing an attack on Señor Carlos Sutierrez, and discrediting his reported appointment as Diplomatic Minister of the Republic of Salvador to Switzerland.

HONDURAS.

No Honduras journals were received by the last steamer. The Regeneracion, of San Salvador, says that the prospects of the Honduras Republic are very promising; peace has been everywhere restored, and there prevails a unanimous feeling in favor of the Government of Señor Soto, the actual President of Honduras.

NICARAGUA.

The Gaceta de Nicaragua of Oct. 21, the latest date at hand, publishes an autograph letter from President Avellaneda, of the Argentine Confederation, to the acting President of the Republic of Nicaragua, congratulating him on his nomination. The public are still engrossed with the news of the inundation at Managua, and much sympathy is felt for the sufferers.

COSTA RICA.

No journals are at hand; but a private report contains complaints of mismanagement of the Costa Rica Railroad. The Minister of Public Works is charged with unwise attempts to curtail expenses, and allowing the railroad to fall into incompetent hands by removing the engineers and other foreigners employed on the line. Payments on the Simon Division are in arrears, and the work must come to a stand-still, owing to the small appropriation for the maintenance of the twenty-nine miles of road in that division. A final suspension of the railroad will be the inevitable result, and the failure of General Guardia's undertaking is much to be deplored.

COLOMBIA.

The steamer Copiapo, from the southern ports, arrived at Panama on Oct. 31, with the latest news from Cauca. No important battle had been fought since the last dispatches. Señor Rafael Niño, Secretary of the Army and Navy, had arrived at Cartago. President Parra was also expected at that place, but was first to proceed to Honda to inspect the immediate neighborhood of the seat of war. The rebellion in Cauca is dying out, a warlike spirit being noticeable only on the frontier of Antioquia. In the District of San Juan, in the north of Cauca, the rebels around Buena Ventura were totally routed and dispersed. Antioquia, surrounded and without supplies, must soon yield to the Union Army.

The steamer Washington, which arrived at Aspinwall on Oct. 29, brought news of the arrest of Gen. Ramon Santo Domingo Vila at Barranquilla, on charge of being engaged in a conspiracy against the General Government. It was said that arms were found in his possession. The second position in the command of the Atlantic Division has been conferred on Gen. Buenaventura Correosa.

WOOLEN GOODS THIEVES.

BRIDGEPORT, Nov. 12.—At 3 o'clock this morning, the policemen of Waterbury, hearing a hand-car going down the Naugatuck road at a high rate of speed, informed Superintendent Beach, who ordered out a locomotive, and gave chase. Seventeen miles below, the locomotive struck and destroyed the hand-car, recovering fifteen pieces of woolen goods, belonging to the Wolcottville Manufacturing Company. The sheriffs of Seymour, Ansonia, and Derby, were notified, and prompt search for the robbers was organized, resulting so far, in the arrest of three suspected men.

A CATALONIAN EXORCIST.

CURING AN AFFLICTED GIRL—POSSESSED WITH 400 DEIVLS—A PECULIAR SCENE IN SPAIN.

From the London Times.

Our Barcelona correspondent writes under date Oct. 21:

"I will briefly describe what has just happened in this wealthy city. About the 14th or 15th of this present month of October it was privately announced, chiefly to the faithful women of the congregation which regularly thronged the Church of the Holy Spirit, in the street of San Francisco, that a young woman of seventeen or eighteen years of age, of the lower class, having long been afflicted with 'a hatred of holy things'—the poor girl probably was subject to epileptic fits, and cried out and became convulsed when she heard the notes of the organ in church—the senior priest of the church above mentioned would cure her of her disease, or, to use that gentleman's own language, 'Avaunt, physicians and mountebanks; see how the Church will cure this poor girl, who is at present possessed with 400 devils.'

Those who are acquainted with Barcelona know well the Calle San Francisco, one of the well-to-do streets of the city, and its church Espiritu Santo, not a poor man's, but a fashionable church. For eight days, the last day being the 17th inst., a little stream of persons of all ranks, and of either sex might have been seen at the unusual hour (for church going) of midnight threading its way toward the church. The principal door was kept closely shut, but the faithful or credulous, the open scoffer, and the lover of signs and wonders found admittance by a side door to the exhibition which I am about to describe. The church was dark, but a sickly light was shed by wax-lights on the sable forms of some eighty or one hundred persons, who clustered round the presbiterio, or sanctuary, in front of the altar. Within the little inclosure or sanctuary, separated from the crowd by a light railing, lay on a common bench, with a little pillow for her head to recline upon, a poorly-clad girl, probably of the peasant or artisan class; her brother or husband stood at her feet to restrain her (at times) frantic kicking by holding her legs. The door of the vestry opened; the exhibitor—I mean the priest—came in. The poor girl, not without just reason, 'had an aversion to holy things,' or, at least the 400 devils within her distorted body had such an aversion; and in the confusion of the moment, thinking that the father was 'a holy thing,' she doubled up her legs, screamed out with twitching mouth, her breast heaving, her whole body writhing, and threw herself nearly off the bench. The male attendant seized her legs, the women supported her head and swept out her disheveled hair. The priest advanced, and, mingling familiarly with the shuddering and horror-stricken crowd, said, pointing at the suffering child, now sobbing and twitching on the bench, 'Promise me, my children, that you will be prudent, (pradentes,) and of a truth, sons and daughters mine, you shall see marvels.' The promise was given. The exhibitor went to procure stole and short surplice, (estola y roquete,) and returned in a moment, taking his stand at the side of the 'possessed of the devils,' with his face toward the group of students. The order of the day's proceedings was first a lecture to the bystanders, and, second, the operation of exorcising the devils. The priest commenced his running commentary on, or explanation of, the strange phenomenon lying panting, foaming at the mouth, to the gaze of the stupid and shuddering crowd of her fellow men and women. The priest began by lamenting with tears that 'it is, unhappily, the fashion of people in this day and age to seek the aid of doctors, sleepwalkers or spiritualists, and quacks of all description'—the words he used were medicos, somnambulas, y curanderos—'when they have hard at hand the aid of religion, and an aid and remedy secure and all-sufficient.' He continued his address by saying that the means of which he should make use in the present case were not the strongest in his power, for to use the strongest was not now allowed. He then said, 'This joven, (i. e., young girl,) enjoys a most perfect tranquillity and calmness so long as she does not catch a sight of holy things, such as the holy water, the priest's dress, the altar, the church, or hear the sound of a bell, the roll of an organ's notes resounding through the aisle. You know,' continued the priest, 'that so great is this girl's aversion to holy things, myself included, that she goes into convulsion, kicks, screams, and distorts her body the moment she arrives at the corner of this street, and her convulsive struggles reach their climax when she enters the sacred house of the Most High.' He ended with the following words: 'This girl has often had the same infirmity in bygone years, and the devils have been constantly expelled; but, owing to the laxity of religion in these latter days, they return again to possess her body.' Act the first finished, the exorcism, commenced. Turning to the prostrate, shuddering, most unhappy object of his attack, the priest commenced, 'In the name of God, of the saints, of the blessed Host, of every holy sacrament of our Church, I adjure thee, Rusbel, come out of her.' (N. B.—'Rusbel' is the name of a devil, the devil having 257 names in Catalonia.) Thus adjured, the girl threw herself in an agony of convulsion, till her distorted face, foam-bespattered lips, and writhing limbs grew well-nigh stiff, at full length upon the floor, and, in language semi-obscene, semi-violent, screamed out 'I don't choose to come out, you thieves, scamps, robbers.' 'Fulfill your promise, Rusbel,' said the priest. 'You said yesterday you would cast 100 more of your cursed spirits out of this most hapless girl's body. Can't you speak?' 'Yes, I can,' came from the poor girl's foaming lips, 'I can.' 'Yes,' said the cura, 'you are a devil of honor; you are a man of your word.' Out of the crowd stepped a plainly attired Spanish gentleman, and said, 'But, father, how can you pray to and praise the devil? I have read somewhere he is a liar and the father of lies. Does he keep his word?' 'Yes,' said the priest, 'he is muy formal'—i. e., a man of his word. 'Fulfill your promise, Rusbel.' 'Never,' shouted the devil, or the girl, now lashed into an agony of frenzy. 'You shall,' said the holy father; and the suffering girl, like a bruised and wounded snake, her dress all disarranged, her bosom heaving, wormed and twisted into the arms of the silly women who knelt and cried by her bench of torture. At last from the quivering lips of the girl came the words 'I will;' but the devil added, with traditional perversity, 'I will cast the 100 out, but by the mouth of the girl.' The priest objected. The exit, he said, of 100 devils out of the small Spanish mouth of the woman would 'leave her suffocated.' Then the maddened girl said she must undress herself for the devils to escape. This petition the holy father refused. 'Then I will come out through the right foot, but first'—the girl had on a hempen sandal, she was obviously of the poorest class—'you must take off her sandal.' The sandal was untied; the foot gave a convulsive plunge; the devil and his myrmidons, (so the cura said, looking round triumphantly,) had gone to their own place. And, assured of this, the wretched dupe of a girl lay quite still. The exhibition was announced for 11 A. M. on the succeeding day, and it commenced again. Up came a band of blue-bloused artisans and claimed admittance to the church. The priest stoutly refused entrance to any but women. The men beat the church door; the Police came; a scrimmage arose, and the priest retreated in haste; the sick girl was dragged to her lowly home; two mechanics now lie in Barcelona jail for their share in a called-for, if illegal, demonstration; the street was cleared by the Police, and the affair was over. Next day the civil authorities of the town, men of high feeling and great enlightenment, shocked at what they had heard and read, (for the whole affair is now in print, and can be bought in Barcelona for a half-penny,) stopped, by civil decree, the whole affair. In conclusion, a few remarks are due in justice to the authorities. First of all, the Bishop, a man of enlightenment and erudition, was not cognizant, I believe, of this freak on the part of the clergy of the church in question. Secondly, the moment it came to the ears of the civil authorities, the sharpest and promptest means were taken to admonish the priest and prevent a repetition of a scandal which had shamed and sickened the whole City of Barcelona.

The whole of the details I have given were taken down by me from the mouth of an honorable and most truthful Spanish gentleman, who was witness to the whole thing, and are strictly worthy of credit to the remotest detail. I have purposely suppressed much that was painful and indecent."

THE EFFECTS OF CYCLONES.

From Galignani's Messenger, Nov. 1.

At last week's sitting of the Academy of Sciences M. Faye adverted to a statement made by Dr. Boué, and inserted in Bulletin XIX., 1876, of the Imperial Academy of Sciences at Vienna, to the effect that he had witnessed two waterspouts in 1813 and 1814 on the Atlantic, another in Carinthia in 1832, and, lastly, several small ones on the Sea of Janina; that he had distinctly seen the two first descend from the clouds, but that as for the Albanese ones he had quite as distinctly seen them rise out of the sea, the sky being then cloudless; so that consequently M. Faye had made too sweeping an assertion when he denied all possibility of ascending waterspouts and exclusively admitted descending ones. To this M. Faye last week replied that he thankfully accepted Dr. Boué's testimony regarding the two descending cyclones, which he accordingly entered among the various instances he already possessed; but that, as to the small waterspouts of the Sea of Janina, he could not consider them otherwise than as being of the same nature as the former. He observed it was mechanically impossible that a local vacuum forming in the lower strata of the atmosphere, and consequently exposed to a simultaneous rush of all the ambient air, could produce anything but tumultuous motions; that the formation of a spout round a vertical axis, with rapid and incessant rotation, and having, moreover, the strange property of perpetuating the vacuum in spite of the constant afflux of air, so as to enable the sea-water to rise to a certain height, was inadmissible; and that, supposing such a spout to be formed, it could not raise the water to an altitude of seventy or eighty feet, as estimated by Dr. Boué, but only to thirty-two feet, the altitude that might be gained by the most powerful pump. He therefore concluded that Dr. Boué must have been under the influence of an optical illusion; that the gyration of a waterspout at its foot was much too rapid to be perceived, and that the spectator, therefore, even when put on his guard, attributed to the motion of the spout what was in reality the disturbance of the waters at its foot, amid the fog of pulverized water playing in the atmosphere.

THE ITALIAN 100-TON GUN.

FURTHER EXPERIMENTS AT SPEZZIA.

THE NEW GUN FOR ITS NAVY—A SHIP PROTECTED BY TWENTY-TWO INCHES OF SOLID PLATE—A MONSTER PIECE OF ORDNANCE—WONDERFUL RESULTS ACHIEVED.

The correspondent of the London Times writes: "Italy has reason to congratulate herself on having been well served by those who were and are responsible for her naval artillery. The fact is not astonishing if we only suppose that the national intellect has remained of the same character since Italy, first of European nations, produced the large guns which, in process of time, came to take exclusively to themselves the word 'artillery.' Men who claim to be 'practical' because they are unable to see much more than an inch before their noses are apt to despise the faculty of imagination. In so doing they are as unwise as a poet would be if he despised practical men. The Italian gift of imagination produced a Dante and a Tasso, but it also produced a Garibaldi and a Cavour—men who could see at the end of a troubled path the unity of the Italian Kingdom. The same faculty has displayed itself in the construction of their navy and of the guns which are to arm it. Years ago, when the so-called practical men were timidly feeling their way, the Minister of Marine, Admiral St. Bon, and the Director of Naval Artillery, Capt. Albini, agreed that a poor nation cannot afford to build ships likely to be obsolete before launched, or guns which would find opposed to them armor-plating they could not pierce. They, therefore, resolved on a bold step, designed the Duilio and the Dandolo to carry solid plates twenty-two inches thick, and proposed to order from Sir William Armstrong guns of 100 tons weight, the heaviest ordnance then in existence being the thirty-five-ton gun. Capt. Andrew Noble, a partner in the Elswick firm, has already proved by investigation that immense charges could be fired in heavy guns without great intensification of the local pressures—in other words, without exposing the piece to the danger of bursting. The artillerist has but to leave an air space in which the gas from the powder can expand during that dangerous moment when the shot has not begun to move, or has hardly moved, and forthwith the maximum pressure becomes greatly reduced. That moment of maximum pressure is, of course, the most dangerous to the life of the gun. There was much opposition to the plans of Admiral St. Bon and Capt. Albini, but their energy carried the day. The ships were laid down and the guns ordered. When, later, there was a change of Ministry, and Admiral St. Bon had to relinquish the reins of the Admiralty, the new Ministry, much to their credit, appointed the Naval Constructor, Signor Brin, as Minister of Marine, in order to carry out the designs which he had already made. The Duilio is already launched; the Dandolo will be ready in July next. Therefore, by the wise provision of two men, seconded by the great manufacturing power and scientific skill of English manufacturers, the Italian nation will have secured for itself the most powerful iron-clads, both for offense and defense, then afloat. If our worst fears are realized, and Europe is convulsed by strife in 1877, the countrymen of Admiral St. Bon and Capt. Albini will have good reason to be proud of their official servants. The present trials are intended both to prove the 100-ton gun and to show the value of different methods of armor-plating on a section of the side of the Duilio. To-morrow the Minister of War and other distinguished personages are to arrive here and be present at the experiments. Meanwhile, a few words on the meaning of it all may be acceptable to English readers.

The 100-ton Armstrong gun is not a mere monster piece of ordnance. It represents, with its carriage, the latest development of artillery science. But it is more than this. In its construction and that of its shells, in the simplicity of the parts of its carriage, in the hydraulic arrangements for loading, aiming, and working, it is an answer to the challenge of the advocates of breech-loading guns. Not that Sir William Armstrong insists on muzzle-loading under all conditions. While the rival factions have been abusing each other to their heart's content, the Elswick firm have been building both muzzle and breech loaders according to the wish of their customers, and have now in process of construction—almost finished—a breech-loader of forty tons weight. By this time the gun had become a familiar friend, not only to the experimenter, but to the numerous and curious persons who find their way on board the pontoon. At first people were evidently afraid of the monster, but by degrees his quiet doclity prepossessed every one in his favor. He looks so tame and good natured, so old and sensible, near the 10-inch and 11-inch guns on shore waiting for the iron-target firing on Wednesday. Some officers, even Capt. Albini himself, began to wish to try speed of working, but this is impossible for the present, because all the arrangements for loading, &c., are rough and temporary. The cartridge and shot have to be rolled on a truck along the deck, brought in front of the muzzle and carefully arranged in the right position. Then the truck does not quite reach the muzzle of the gun, and part of it has to be held up by a handspike while the hydraulic rammer is pushing it gently in. When the gun is permanently placed on board ship, the cartridge will rise exactly to its proper place in a moment and be thrust in without delay, followed instantly by the shot. When all is in order the gun will be loaded without difficulty in thirty-five seconds. Besides, this is only the beginning of hydraulic agency in loading, and everything must be carefully watched for the sake of the knowledge to be gained. When first hydraulic cranes were used to unload colliers, the operation was slow and careful. Now, a ship of 1,500 tons can be unloaded in one tide. Putting in and taking out the crusher gauges occupies a considerable time, all for the sake of scientific knowledge, and many experiments are made for the same purpose. By the by, the bright, clever little man, Hutchinson, whom we were all so sorry to see come fainting out of the gun the first day, is quite well again, and is rammed in and brought out again continually, looking as if he had been formed for this very purpose. It must be understood that the perpetual changing of crusher gauges at the bottom of the bore is for purely experimental purposes, and has nothing to do with the eventual use of the gun. It is really wonderful to find that so little remains to be discovered. After Saturday's experiments Capt. Noble calculated the probable initial velocity theoretically, and was within three or four metres of the truth. His calculations showed that the promised velocity—namely, 1,350 feet—had been more than reached, so the first round on Monday was fired with the same charge.

For the last two rounds on Saturday, 21st, a little extra pressure had been put on the escape valves of the cylinder to see whether the recoil could be shortened by that means. Having ascertained that it could, without any interruption of smoothness in working, the springs were brought again to their normal condition. Hence the extra inch or two of recoil on Monday. The slide being 4 feet 3 inches long before the trunnion slide would touch the buffers in recoiling, there is ample space for recoil with higher charges, as much as 15.5 inches. After this round the screens were put up and the boulangé set in working order ready to tell the time taken by the shot to pass through the space between two wire screens near the muzzle.

Conceive a shell weighing 2,000 pounds, and moving at the rate of 1,374 feet a second—much faster that sound travels through the air. Yet the determination was arrived at to go a step further (the guaranteed velocity having already been considerably exceeded) and try a charge of 330 pounds. All being arranged accordingly, the new cartridge was brought up, looking considerably thicker, and being the same length of the shot—4 feet. Once more the snarling sound of the rushing water was heard, the rammer drove home cartridge and shot together, and the deck was cleared. For some reason everybody seemed a little more anxious about this round, and many hands were held over ears when the trumpets sounded Fire! The awful bellow of the big gun seemed to shake the ground, and was reverberated from mountain to mountain, waking the echoes of Zezzano, Porto Venera, and Lerici; a dense cloud of smoke obscured the air, and hung for a time over the flashing waters; the pontoon started back with a slow, clumsy motion, but the monster himself, the agent of all the turmoil, looked serenely unconscious of anything unusual. Yet he had spat from his mouth a projectile of 2,000 pounds with a velocity of 1,456 feet per second, giving a blow equal to the force required to lift 20,400 tons a foot high, and in his exertions he had submitted to a maximum internal strain tending to tear him open of about 23,000 tons. His recoil left nearly seven inches to spare for a higher charge.

It would be impossible to describe the satisfaction of the Italian officers. The President of the Committee, Admiral Martin Franklin, was full of joy and kindly congratulations, while Captain Albini, who must have felt the burden of a terrible responsibility during the last few days, could not but show on his usually calm and quiet face the pleasure with which he was moved. It is plain that considerably more work can be got out of the gun, but it has already surpassed the greatest power developed by the 80-ton English gun in an exceptional round. The work of the English shot was 27,200 foot tons; the work of the Italian shot was 29,400 foot tons. The work per inch of circumference was, in the case of the English shot, 540 foot tons, that of the Italian 550 foot tons. Nothing was strained in the least degree. The same quiet movement of a handle that a child could push sent the weight of 100 tons quietly back to its place; another touch depressed the muzzle instantly for loading and moved its muzzle up or down as required. All worked with the same smooth regularity as ever. But the gentlemen who are here to represent the Elswick firm considered that they had done enough for glory. Before their gun is accepted they have to fire fifty rounds with whatever charge they decide on as that for present service, and out of the fifty rounds fire to be with projectiles weighing 2,500 pounds. They had considerably exceeded their guarantee even with a 300-pound charge, so they prudently required to reduce the next charge by 11 pounds, in order to bring the weight to a round number in Italian measure—namely, 145 kilos. The gun was therefore loaded again with the proposed service charge, and gave the following results: Charge, 319 pounds, equal to 145 kilos.; elevation about 1 deg.; recoil, 42.5 feet; pressure on bottom of bore, about 18 tons; initial velocity, 1,423 feet, being an excess of 73 feet over that guaranteed.

FOREIGN MISCELLANY.

MURDER IN THE TYROL.

A FRENCHMAN IN A LONDON POLICE COURT.

From the London Times, Oct. 31.

At Bow street, Henri Dieudonné Pierran de Tourville, a Frenchman, naturalized an Englishman, and a barrister of this country, was charged, on an extradition warrant, before Mr. Vaughan, with the murder of his second wife, Madeline, an Englishwoman, while traveling in the Tyrol. Mr. Poland and Mr. Montagu Williams defended; Mr. March watched the case on behalf of the Foreign Office. Chief Inspector Clarke, of Scotland Yard, said that on Saturday last he received the warrant produced, and in consequence went to No. 16 Craven Hill with Sergts. Von Törnow and Greenham. He was shown into a back room, where he saw the prisoner. He told him he had a warrant for his arrest, and that the charge was the murder of his wife in the Tyrol. Prisoner said it was all nonsense; the matter had already been inquired into in Austria, and he had been honorably acquitted. Mr. Poland wished to reserve his cross-examination. Charles Von Törnow, Detective Sergeant of Scotland-yard, translated the warrant of arrest, which was in German, to the prisoner. This set forth that he was suspected of having murdered his wife on the road over the Stelvio Pass, that he was thirty-nine years of age, and was a member of the English Bar. Mr. Vaughan said this warrant and other documents were not properly authenticated by the Austrian Minister at Vienna, and therfore they would have to be sent back there for that to be done. Still, he proposed that they should go on with as much evidence as could be produced meanwhile. Mr. Poland had asked for a copy of the depositions taken in Austria. He thought these might be translated and copied, and then sent back to Austria to be authenticated. Miss Georgiana Louisa Scott, No. 42 Addison road, Kensington, said she knew the deceased lady. She married the prisoner on the 11th of November last, when they went abroad. On the 27th of July in this year she heard of her death. She afterward received a letter from the prisoner acquainting her of his wife's death. In this he said that on the 16th of June they went together to see the beauties of the Stelvio Pass. Coming back his wife, who was nervous, preferred to walk, and the carriage was sent on ahead. On looking at the beauties of the scenery his wife, unfortunately, went too near a ravine and fell down it. When he could get assistance and found the body, life was extinct. The writer went on to say, that although no doubt it would be a great shock to Miss Scott, still it might be some consolation to her to know that, in the opinion of the doctors, his wife would not, at the best, have lived two years more, owing to a tumor in the stomach. Witness did not see him until the 17th of August, when she saw him in England. He then told her his wife had committed suicide in a most determined manner by throwing herself three times off the rocks. The deceased was forty-seven years old, and witness believed she had known prisoner about five months before marrying him. Mr. John W. Jennings, a solicitor, said that in August he was shown the spot where the lady died. It was about two and a half miles from the village called Trafoi, and two miles from an inn named Francis-höhe. The whole of that way there was a good road, and at the particular spot it was quite level. There was a slope on the left hand, covered with rough stones and bits of trees, but it was so gradual that witness went down it part of the way. Mr. Poland objected to this evidence, as, he said, the witness had only been pointed out "a" spot by some one, who, perhaps, had had it pointed out to him. Mr. Vaughan said, undoubtedly, unless it was backed by positive evidence it would not be admissible. Mr. Jennings said that the reason the spot was pointed out to him was that people there were surprised that no relative of the lady had been to examine the ground, and asked him to do so, and, if possible, to communicate with the friends of the deceased. Mr. Poland again objected. Mr. Vaughan said this was not being put in the depositions as evidence. Of course, Mr. Poland had a right to have the positive evidence called first, and he should, therefore, adjourn the case till Saturday next. As in extradition cases bail is never allowed, the prisoner was removed by Chief Inspector Clarke in a cab to the House of Detention.

FOX-HUNTING IN ENGLAND.

THE OBJECTION TO RAILROADS—HOW THE SPORT IS KEPT UP—FOX-HOUNDS, STAG-HOUNDS, HARRIERS, AND BEAGLES.

From the London News, Nov. 2.

One objection urged by the fox hunters of forty years ago against the railways was that they would be the death of many a gallant fox, but it has been found by experience that more of the human than of the vulpine species commit suicide or meet with fatal accidents upon the iron road, and it is not often that we hear, as we did last week and the week before, of hounds being run over by a passing train. Nor has it been found by experience that the railways have "cut up" the different "countries" in the way that was predicted of them, and men who hunted the stag, the fox, or the hare in the decade from 1830 to 1840, and who are alive to follow the chase still, will probably be the first to admit that the change has been all for the best. When "The Druid" wrote those admirable sketches entitled "Silk and Scarlet," in 1859, he gave an interesting account of the foxes imported from France, Holland, and even Russia, and "turned down" in districts where the native article was scarce; but that scarcity could not have been due to the railways, for while the latter have been multiplied immensely since that time, the importation of foxes has decreased. That the lessened demand for them has not been brought about by any tendency to abandon the sport is made abundantly clear by a perusal of the "Hunting Appointments" which are, from the last week in October till the beginning of April, to be found in the appropriate newspapers, or by a glance at the hunting statistics which appear in the sporting journals at the beginning of each season. Year by year the lists grow longer, and at the present rate of increase in the number of packs, we may expect hunting men to urge upon the Government the annexation of a part of France or of Belgium, in order that they may have more elbow-room. Thus, we find that for the present season there are no less than 342 packs—fox-hounds, stag-hounds, harriers, and beagles—regularly advertised, and in addition to these there are several private, or "scratch," packs, which do not court publicity, but which none the less afford excellent sport in their respective neighborhoods. Out of the total of 342 packs, 165, or nearly one-half of the whole, are fox-hounds; and of these, again, 139 are in England, 18 in Ireland, and 8 in Scotland. There are 139 packs of harriers, of which 92 are in England, 45 in Ireland, and only 2 in Scotland. Of the 16 packs of stag-hounds, 13 are in England, and the other 3 in Ireland, Scotland not being able to boast of a single pack, though it is from that part of the United Kingdom that most of the venison comes. There are 22 packs of beagles in the list, including those which are advertised as belonging to "Trinity College, Cambridge," and to the "Thirty-second Light Infantry" at Devonport. The latter pack meet upon Dartmoor, and their cheery notes perchance will serve, now and again, to enliven the captivity of the "unhappy nobleman" who is languishing in the Government Prison there.

The statistics as to the number of packs throughout the United Kingdom are, perhaps, the best answer that could be given to those who have maintained that hunting is on the decline. It must be remembered that these 342 packs, some of which hunt five and none less than two days a week, are affording sport to certainly not fewer than fifty thousand people who hunt regularly—to how many more, if we were to take into account the numbers who assist at a lawn meet, (for breakfast,) or who have an occasional gallop at Christmas-tide and upon other special occasions, it would be hard to say. These 342 packs consist altogether, and taking into account some seven or eight packs which have not sent in a complete return, of about ten thousand couples of hounds. There are 6,826½ couples of fox-hounds—5,842½ couples in England, 689½ in Ireland, and 294½ in Scotland. There are 2,266 couples of harriers—1,416 couples in England, 821 in Ireland, and 29 in Scotland. There are 371½ couples of stag-hounds—279 couples in England and 92½ in Ireland; and 296½ couples of beagles. To say nothing of the huntsmen and whips, of whom there are about a thousand—being upon an average of nearly three to each pack—there must be, taking one with another, about ten men in each of the 342 establishments, so that at this computation there would be nearly three thousand five hundred persons directly employed in the stables and kennels of the different masters. It would be interesting to push the inquiry still further, and calculate the number of horses in the different stables and the amount of money spent upon the hunt; but it would take up more space than is available for the purpose, and it may be sufficient to state broadly that the 342 packs—taking the annual cost of each at two thousand a year, which is certainly not an extravagant estimate—entail an annual expenditure of £350,000. This, be it remarked, is merely the expenditure of the master, whether coming from his own pocket or from those of the subscribers, and if a return could be obtained of the money spent by the hunting men who follow these 342 packs, north and south, east and west, we should arrive at a total which would afford the best practical illustration of the esteem in which the chase, in its modern form, is held by all sorts and conditions of Englishmen.

AN OPERATION OF GASTROTOMY.

Surgical and physiological students will find in the last number of the Gazette des Hôpitaux interesting details of an operation of gastrotomy, attended so far with successful results, which has been performed at the Hôpital de la Pitié by Dr. Verneuil. The patient, a lad of seventeen, had inadvertently swallowed a quantity of the solution of caustic potash. This occurred in February, and in spite of the most skillful treatment the constriction of the upper orifice of the œsophagus became so complete that death from inanition must inevitably have ensued without an operation, which was accordingly performed on the 26th of July. The results will be seen from the medical bulletin of the 10th of September, which states that the patient is in good health, remains up all day, and even helps the hospital assistants in their work; he has almost as much strength and energy as he had before the accident. His diet is composed of soups, fine-chopped meat, mashed vegetables, and drink, which are injected through a large elastic tube inserted in the [illegible] made in the stomach. Under this treatment he gained upward of ten pounds in weight between the 18th of August and the 14th of September. At the moment of the injection of food a flow of saliva in the mouth is produced, in the ejection of which a motion curiously resembling the action of chewing is remarked; he can distinguish between warm and cold substances, but otherwise all are indifferent to him. It is stated this is the first time the operation has been successfully performed; the last time it was attempted, but unsuccessfully, was in 1849, by M. Sedillot, Professor of the Faculty of Medicine of Strasburg.

COTTON GROWING IN EGYPT.

THE BREADTH CULTIVATED — DETERIORATION OF THE FIBRE—HOW THE SOIL MAY BE IMPROVED.

The correspondent of the London Times writes: "The rising of the Nile this year has been regarded with more than usual anxiety, as many whose welfare is mixed up with that of Egypt dreaded a bad Nile; for misfortunes, it is said, never come singly, and a bad Nile would have been the worst of all; but the plenty-producing water came down at the average time in good quantity, which, together with a season hot and dry, and singularly free from dews and heavy fogs, has produced the finest cotton crop that has ever been known in Egypt.

The breadth cultivated this year is 1,000,000 of fedans, and as the average yield is from three to six kantars of 100 pounds the fedan, some notion may be formed of the demand for labor, the amount of money that will change hands, and the general activity and commercial élan that will mark the forthcoming Winter. All this cotton will be ginned in the course of the next five months, the cotton-ginning factories will be working day and night, and the railway will be sorely tried during this time keeping the inland stations clear and getting it sent off to Alexandria as fast as it is delivered at the stations. All that is wanted is a good price for it, and to enable Egyptian cotton to recover its reputation measures have been taken to keep the seeds separate, so that the best class of Cotton shall be kept free from mixture with inferior, and not have its value vitiated. It should be stated that this mixture of the seeds has most likely arisen from carelessness. The first cotton-ginning factories here were erected from Platt's drawings of them, as they had been erected in South America. The ginning-room floor was raised some five or six feet above the ground level, and formed two longitudinal cellars underneath the gin-room floor, into which the seed dropped during the process of separating the cotton-fibre from the seed—called ginning. Thus, it can be readily understood how after a cotton-ginner had ginned the cotton of one Sheik and then of another with a different kind of cotton, in a few days the seeds must be all mixed up together in the cellars. This, with the hurry-scurry of receiving the camel-loads of cotton, ginning, weighing, packing, and getting it delivered at the station or into boats out of the way, will readily account for the seed not having proper attention and separation in times past. Another fruitful cause of mixture of sorts is that, after the young plants have sprung up out of the ground, places will be observed quite bare, or places where the young plants look unhealthy; the fellaheen sow these places over again with any seed that may come to hand, for they are thoughtless and careless and singularly deficient in forethought. But all the more recently erected cotton-ginning factories have been made with the floor only one foot above the ground level, and an alley excavated for the shafting and belts, or they are erected overhead, so that the seed is kept in sight on the gin-room floor, from the floor to the dresser, and through the dresser into the sacks. It is an easier mode of working here, and provides against the mixture of the cotton seeds.

The other question brought forward by the Committee of Manchester Cotton Spinners in their petition to Lord Derby—namely, the deterioration of the fibre of the cotton in consequence of the ground producing it not receiving any manure containing the phosphates—is not so easily disposed of here, because the only fuel the fellaheen have to bake their bread with is composed of the dung of the animals, which is carefully collected by the children, mixed with chopped straw, formed into cakes about ten inches in diameter, laid out in the sun to dry, and called gilleh. Why these cakes are preferred to wood or cotton sticks is that, after once being lighted up and got into a state of incandescence, they conserve their heat for a long time, like charcoal, and keep the oven at an uniform temperature while the relays of cakes, about nine inches in diameter and half an inch thick, are being baked for the family's week's consumption. Washing day is a very small affair in an Egyptian family, if there is one at all; but baking day is an event, and involves commencing at midnight or in the small hours of the morning to complete the relays of cakes. Cotton sticks are all very well for lighting the fire in the oven at first, or for heating it to roast a joint of turkey when the heat is not required to be retained for a long time but they cannot be used for baking bread—the smoke and pyroligneous acid given off by the burning cotton sticks would spoil their bread. Some Sheiks, utilizing their cotton sticks for fuel for their steam-boilers have had the upper part of the flue behind the fire eaten away by the pyroligneous acid given out by the cotton sticks. If the fellaheen could find or afford some other form of fuel instead of 'gilleh,' the ground would soon become rich in phosphoric acid, and an immense improvement would soon be the result if they left their cattle-dung on the ground during the grazing season. Every working animal in Egypt requires a course of berseem (clover) every year, as during the other part of the year they live on dry food—beans and chopped straw. The season commences in November and continues till March; each animal—horse, buffalo, cow, or donkey—is tethered to a stake, which stake is shifted after the animal has shaved off all the berseem within the radius of his tether. Animals are in this manner grazed four times over the same field, and it is four times irrigated; and if the dung were allowed to lie on the ground, plowed in, and sown over with cotton, which would be a very good rotation of crops, as the cotton is sown in April, we should soon find an improvement in the fibre of the cotton. There is another mode open to the Egyptians to improve the fibre of their cotton, and the best of all. Why not dig out of the catacombs at Sakkara all the bones of the sacred monkeys, other beasts, birds, and reptiles, grind them up in a pair of edge-stones, and sell it to the Sheiks for their cotton fields? This bone dust, sprinkled on the ground, and plowed in, would immediately supply the cotton plants with the phosphoric acid so necessary to the healthy growth and composition of plants. The dust from the ruins of ancient towns is often thrown over the ground and plowed in, this dust being the crumbled, ancient, unburnt bricks made from Nile mud; it can only ameliorate the ground in the proportion of the virgin dust to the old ground, which has produced so often, but cannot be called a manure. The guano of pigeons is carefully preserved, but this is used exclusively for the cultivation of water-melons, cucumbers, and garden-stuff. In addition to that of the house pigeons, many Sheiks have thousands of bluerock wild pigeons. They build them cots—palaces—of Nile mud, thirty to fifty feet high, like huge dun-colored sugar-loaves, looking in the distance like a close-set pine forest stumped in the horizon; they are perforated all over with pigeon-holes, and they have a staging inside to collect the guano. They are never killed for eating—that is the privilege of the tame house-pigeon—the others are allowed to increase and multiply at will for their guano, which is sold at a good price to the cultivators of garden-stuff. Such is the course of custom and trade; but if the Egyptians could be induced to make a simultaneous movement and manure their cotton fields, much good would result. The railway and the cotton trade have given a new life to Egypt, the ultimate results of which no one can guess, and the improvement that have been made within the last ten or twelve years are astonishing. A little, mud-brick, flat-roofed hovel, with a few gins and an agricultural portable engine—anything at first did for a cotton-ginning factory; but now we see powerful fixed engines of 30, 40, and 50 horse-power, ginning rooms with some pretense to architecture, well-lit and ventilated, with roofs supported by trussed principals, with open louvres on the top to keep up a current of air and carry the dust that comes from the cotton away outside, and with fine towering brick chimneys, crowned with an ornament, or a disfigurement, according to the taste of the proprietor or his engineer, but all showing signs of improvement and progress. Many Pashas, Beys and Sheiks gin their own produce, but still there is an immense amount ginned by merchants and capitalists, principally Europeans, many of whom are Greeks."

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY FROM A VAULT.

The Yorkshire, England, papers state that considerable excitement prevailed in Skipton on Thursday, when it was known that the corpse of Sir Charles Tempest, which was deposited in the vaults of St. Stephen's Roman Catholic Church, Skipton, nearly ten years ago, had been disturbed on Tuesday night, and the coffin ransacked for valuables which it was supposed to contain. For above a week workmen have been employed beneath the church making alterations in the heating apparatus, and one of the men states that on Tuesday night he locked the doors of the vault and placed the keys on a bench at the lower end of the church, where he had found them every morning when he went to his work. The nuns residing in the convent adjoining were the only other persons who had access to the church. One of the windows of the church was found to be broken, but it is considered that this damage could not have been easily done from outside, because of its being protected by a wire guard. The would-be-thief, however, had managed to gain access to the vault, broke open the outside coffin, and cut a hole in the shape of a triangle in the inner or leaden coffin. The remains, however, were no further molested, because, it is thought, the rush of air from the coffin had alarmed the evil-doer, and made him fly without accomplishing his supposed object—namely, plunder. The perpetrator of the outrage is still at large.

A NOVEL PROCEEDING.

An amusing incident occurred lately at the establishment of a well-known London publisher. The manuscript of a novel was sent to him so hermetically sealed in a tin box that it could not be extracted without a hammer. The clerks who received the box conjured up in their minds an idea that it contained dynamite, and, consequently after much perturbation, the box was deposited unopened in a dark cellar, where it has remained for several months, and where, probably, it would have continued to remain, had not the author, who lives in a remote part of the world, unexpectedly made his appearance in the British metropolis.

THE QUEEN'S BUCK-HOUNDS.

THE OPENING DAY HUNT—THE QUARRY SET AT LIBERTY—CHASING THE STAG—TWO OR THREE MISHAPS.

From the London News Nov. 2.

A more hilarious, not to say boisterous, band is scarcely to be met with any where than this which assembles year after year at Salt Hill to hunt the Queen's buck-hounds on their opening day. The resources of the Great Western Railway must be taxed to provide boxes enough for the numbers of horses that are brought by train from London. Last year room had to be found for nearly seventy nags, and yesterday traveling accommodation was provided for quite as many, though probably not more than fifty of the stalls were occupied. If this falling off in numbers led any sanguine persons to indulge in hopes of a small "field" and plenty of elbow-room, they were doomed to disappointment. A glorious Autumn day, with the prospect of seeing the hounds throw off, and possibly something of the exciting chase afterward, are temptations too strong to be resisted by holiday-seekers, and the usual throngs of nondescript humanity wended their way along the dusty roads toward Salt Hill and the field where the deer was to be unearthed. Of vehicles there were perhaps fewer than usual crowding around the place of rendezvous, but of horsemen and footpeople there were many hundreds, and those were wisest who rode straight off to Bayliss Farm, without attempting to follow the streams that converged on the little meadow where huntsmen, whips, and hounds were patiently waiting for the signal to start, surrounded by a dense mass of red coats and black—a picturesque point in a landscape that had for backgrounds the grand old town and misty foliage of Windsor. It was nearly 12 o'clock when Lord Hardwicke trotted up, mounted on a powerful bay, and wearing the green coat familiar to all frequenters of Ascot, in place of the more brilliant scarlet. While the master was exchanging greetings with his numerous well-known followers, a whip was sent off to give the word for one quarry to be set at liberty, and after the usual quarter of an hour's law, the cavalcade moved quickly off through the narrow lanes toward Bayliss Farm, while at every cross-road more, however, came cantering up to swell the already formidable ranks, and the courteous "hounds gentleman" was sometimes powerless to secure the pack a safe way past the restless heels of refractory steeds.

How the keenest of noses can possibly pick up a scent on ground where hundreds of hoofs have done their best to foil it, or follow the line when reckless riders are pressing eagerly for a place, rushing forward in an apparent attempt to capture the deer on their own account, threatening to override the tall hounds, and closing in on every side, is one of the puzzles that belong to the great unsolved scent problem. To control such a field would require almost more than mortal powers of persuasion and determination, and Lord Hardwicke gives it up as hopeless. At length, however, when the hounds, having settled fairly on the slot, begin to race with their heads up, the over-eager ones come speedily back and settle down with the ruck, for they must have quick nags, stout hearts, and firm hands who would keep pace for long with the racers of the Royal kennels when they are running at their best speed. Too soon, however, the burst comes to an end, and the stag having taken shelter in a wood by Burnham Beeches, trots quietly round the cover, while the hounds have to settle to slow hunting, and the rear guard of riders have time to come up. But the pause is not long. Facing the open once more, Runaway heads for Farnham Royal, and takes us past that at a good pace to Stoke Park, but instead of shooting through it, he turns short round and makes for the open country northward. Many who have not heard the "Tally ho back!" get thrown out here, and it is a diminished field that follows the stag as he breasts the hill and gallops swiftly upwind. Now, for the first time, the chase has something of excitement. As we race across the fields past the picturesque church of Farnham Royal, the fences grow bigger and bigger, none of them enough to stop a resolute rider, but some of them more than the faint-hearted care for. Now a tall gorse-hedge, with an ominous interlacing of stakes and an ugly-looking rail or two, frowns in front, at sight of which many slacken speed and look anxiously for gaps. But there are none. It is a big jump, and there are only two ways of doing it. A well-mounted light-weight sends his gallant brown at it, and gets well over. Beside him a fourteen-stone man comes with a rush; there is a moment of suspense—a crash—the rails fly right and left—the chestnut staggers for a second—then settles to his stride again, and the heavy weight steams away with a chorus of "Well smashed, sir" from those for whom he has thus made the way easy. If Runaway will but keep his head straight for the open now only a select few will probably see the finish—among them three or four fair equestrians who have been going splendidly from the first. But he prefers the woodlands, and, running into Thorney Wood, it is a long while before he can be forced to leave it. By this time some hundreds of horsemen are once more in the chase, and when they get a view of our hunted deer they make up for lost time by rushing along the road in pursuit, heedless of the fact that Goodall and his hounds are still in cover half a mile back. This impetuosity has one good result, however. The startled deer, thinking his worst enemies at hand, makes off as fast as he can through the next wood, without an attempt to dwell there; and we get a good run up hill and down, now skirting the valley by Hedgerley and Bulstrode, then rattling up-wind and across the long stretches of grass in Wilton Park. A momentary fault, and then a trusty tongue tells us that it is "forward away" once more. Twelve miles or more at fair speed now tell their tale on Runaway. He dare not stop, for the hounds are at his heels, and with heaving flanks and distended nostrils he bounds northward once more, while his pursuers grow fewer, and only the clatter of a dozen hoofs and the whimper of the hounds sound in his ear. As he dashes through Lodge Wood and crests the hill above Chalfont St. Giles', a welcome gleam of water greets him, and he makes straight for it. But he cannot thus escape his clamorous foes, and after a panting pause in the cooling pool he rushes through the pack and heads back for the little hamlet of Three Households. But he can only trot now, and after a futile effort to find refuge in another duck pond he is brought to bay, and our run of fifteen miles is over, the distance having been done in just one hour.

There were two or three mishaps during the run. A lady got a bad fall at a little grip, somebody was seen floundering in a ditch early in the day, and one gentleman who had been going like a true workman all day came to grief almost at the last fence. Happily, however, nobody seemed to have sustained any worse injury than a severe shaking.

THE FOOD SOLDIERS LIVE UPON.

The correspondent of the London Telegraph writes: "If the Turk and his comrades fight well, it is not because they are well-fed or well-clothed; on the contrary, their daily bread seems to be about the last thing of which those who bear rule and authority over them have ever thought. Their commissariat system is even more deplorable than ours; in fact, it can scarcely be said to exist. If there are 'arrangements of any kind' they may be briefly said to consist of a happy reliance upon chance and a broad, hopeful trust in something turning up. It was, indeed, felt that the men must have something in the way of solid food, and accordingly the bakers at Nisch and Sophia were set to make thousands of hard biscuits, which it was determined to forward to the troops. To get them there, however, was another puzzle, for there is no Turkish transport service, and in the end all the wagons and carts in the country had to be requisitioned, together with their bullocks and drivers. Then long trains of these laden with the biscuits were daily dispatched over the rocky roads, and so they have gone on ever since. Dr. Leslie told me that he had found some men who had tasted nothing but biscuit and roasted maize-stalks for seven weeks; and he made a present to the army, in the name of the excellent Red Cross Society which he represents, of 1,000 sheep and some bullocks. But what were they among so many? Hardly a 'kabob' apiece for the 45,000 hungry men who wanted them. Yet the Turks have gone contentedly on soaking the brick-like biscuits in the muddy water they have obtained from the Morava Valley—sometimes so fortunate as to be able to supplement it with a little coffee or roasted maize-stalks, occasionally with a Servian fowl caught in some deserted village, or a piece of hare which had been shot down in the long grass, but generally with nothing at all. I could sympathize with them; for once or twice, being short of provisions myself, owing to accident, I tried to soften the miserable biscuit by immersing it in liquid of some kind or other. The attempt used to result in the rudest failure—it seemed to defy all my efforts. Perhaps I was unskilled or happened to get hold of unusually hard specimens—there was no picking or choosing allowed. Toward night, by the fitful glare of a torch or a fire, the purveyor of such articles would be seen perched on the sacks doling out the rations to the quartermaster sergeants of the different regiments, who used again to count them out to their assistants for each company. There was no jangling; two broken pieces of a fair size equaled one biscuit or two handfuls of crumbs; and this latter substitute seemed to be preferred as softer and more reducible to food. On went the Turk counting in a monotonous tone, 'Beer, eckee, ewch, dewd,' till at last the full tale was made up, and then the messenger would fold up his sack and "silently steal away." He must hurry off to his company, give them their food, do his best to measure out the crumbs and the pieces so as to make it all go round and leave him a little piece for himself, and his work was done. So it went on, day after day, the Turks meanwhile fighting like heroes, and never flinching even when danger was greatest and the enemy's fire hottest.

A FATAL LOVE.

At a late meeting of the Board of Health of Reading, Penn., the following statement was made of the manner in which a young man caught the small-pox: "He met his sweetheart on the street in the evening and accompanied her home. On the front door was a red patch, but she said nothing about any member of the family having the small-pox. She concealed the fact from her lover, and conducted him into the house by a side door so that he should not see the red patch on the front door. He caught the small-pox from the infected house, and was the means of communicating the disease to his father, who died."

LAW REPORTS.

COURT CALENDARS—THIS DAY.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

Held by Lawrence, J.

Nos.
14—The Ninth Nat. Bank vs. Freer.
45—Mattlage vs. Sloane.
89—Cox vs. The N. J. Midland R. R. Co.
101—Jones vs. Muller.
110—Jordan vs. Crosby.
116—McIntosh vs. Smith.
125—The Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co. vs. The Peekskill Iron Wks.
126—The Mayor, &c., vs. Lee.
129—Conlon vs. The Board of Assessors.
130—Dean vs. The Board of Assessors.
131—The In. Order of Red-men vs. Weissel.
132—Kidd vs. Bristow.
134—Watson vs. The H. & N. Y. Navigation Co.
138—Doyle vs. The Society of Operative Masons.
142—Jameson vs. Pitkett.
150—Allen vs. Chamberlin.
155—Platt vs. Van Name.
335—Lyon vs. Sulzer.
163—Claflin vs. Mister.
167—Matter of the Columbia Ins. Co.
168—Matter of the Columbia Ins. Co.
172—Cahill vs. The Hudson River S. B. Co.
175—Kidd vs. Bristow.
177—Matter of Mildeberger.
190—Matter of Whittelsey.
191—Jones vs. Muller.
214—Smith vs. Craney.
218—Sloat vs. McKeon.
219—O'Connor vs. Newcombe.
223—Oscanyan vs. Mackenzie.

Nos.
227—Stiger vs. Partridge.
229—Martin vs. Hicks.
230—The Berkshire Woolen Co. vs. Juilliard.
234—Clarke vs. Savage.
238—The Ulster Knife Co. vs. Rowe. Two Motions.
246—The Berkshire Woolen Co. vs. Juilliard.
250—Van Schoonhoven vs. Rowland.
255—Miller vs. Becker.
258—Button vs. Claflin.
263—Bates vs. Rice.
265—Marzolf vs. Wittengel.
270—The Ninth Nat. Bank vs. Freer.
274—Goelet vs. Daly.
282—Coe vs. The N. J. Midland R. R. Co.
285—Briscoe vs. Silvester.
287—Draper vs. Palmer.
288—Campbell vs. Green, &c.
308—Crary vs. Simpson.
319—Smith vs. Green, &c.
320—Hodges vs. Porter.
323—Phelps vs. Platt.
326—Matter of Downing.
328—The Hercules Mut. Life Ins. Co. vs. Brinkes.
330—Foley vs. Rathbone.
331—Same vs. Same.
332—Same vs. Same.
333—Same vs. Same.
334—Hoffman vs. Burke.
337—Roe vs. Roe.
338—Wetmore vs. Bostwick.
339—Matter of Cortelyou.
341—Morton vs. The Domestic Telegraph Co.
344—De Wolf vs. Offinger.
345—Steers vs. Steers.

SUPREME COURT—SPECIAL CIRCUIT.

To be held by Judge Westbrook in General Term Room at 12 M.

The People, &c., vs. Tweed et al. | The People, &c., vs. Sweeny et al.

SUPREME COURT—GENERAL TERM.

Adjourned until Wednesday, Nov. 15.

SUPREME COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

Held by Van Vorst, J.

Nos. Demurrers.
2—Kelly vs. The Mayor &c., of New-York.
3—Forsyth vs. The Mayor, &c., of New York.
7—Nolan vs. Harris.
9—Wood vs. Amory.
14—Hall et al. vs. Atlantic G. Powder Co.
15—Musgrave vs. Webster.
17—Chaperry vs. Benoliel.
18—Carpentier vs. Benoliel.
19—Delancey vs. Stearns.
20—Blasse vs. Wood.
22—Geery et al. ex'r. vs. Webster et al.
33—Church vs. Dowling.
Law and Fact.
672—Power vs. Cassidy.
58—Buckley et al. vs. The Mayor &c., N. Y.
474—Uhl, rec'r., vs. Millhauser.
506—Uhl et al. vs. Scharinberg et al.
529—Caggey vs. Mears et al.
629—Uhl vs. Huszuer.

Nos.
632—Knowlson et al. vs. Betts et al.
278—Langdon vs. Gray.
279—Same vs. Same.
235—Alden vs. Diossy.
147—Ebert vs. Montgomery et al.
503—Newell et al. vs. Ridgway et al.
754—Hebrew Ben. Society vs. The Mayor, &c.
71—Lawton G. M. Co. vs. Ocean St'mer C. Co.
96—Blatchford vs. Kidd.
110—Houghton et al. vs. Lanouette, et al.
198—Ward vs. Krumm et al.
251—Neiller vs. The Kings County Manuf. Co.
314—Earl vs. Kieley.
315—Vanderhoef vs. Tucker.
350—Fowler vs. Mehrbach et al.
587—Mosback vs. Amend et al.
420—Mittnacht vs. Stauf et al.
121—Ellis vs. Andrews.

SUPREME COURT—CIRCUIT—PART I.

Adjourned for the Term.

SUPREME COURT CIRCUIT—PART II.

Held by Barrett, J.

Case on.—No. 1318—Hoag vs. Conner, Sheriff. No Day Calendar.

SUPREME COURT—CIRCUIT—PART III.

Held by Donohue, J.

Nos.
2243—Martinez vs. Del Valle.
1049—Bussinger et al. vs. Beardsley.
1967—Rogers Loco. & M. Works vs. St. Louis I. M. & S. R. Co.
2117—Taylor vs. Surget.
2065—Laserowitsch vs. Mouquin.
1519½—Kobbe vs. Price.
1703—Blascheck vs. Phillips.
1489—Gibbs vs. Hichborn.
1059—Eckert et al. vs. Story et al.
1617—Miller vs. Miller.
1148—Loughran, Jr., vs. Matthews et al.
1611—Dickinson vs. Dudley.
1985—Jennison vs. Conner, Sheriff.
1329—Gapen vs. Crawford.
1350—Partridge vs. Thayer.
3663—Bates et al. vs. The Mayor, &c.
1885—Peck et al. vs. Salisbury, Jr., et al.
1993—Fitts vs. Onderdonk.
1867—McCarthy vs. Da Costa & D. S. Ref. Co.
1699—Cullender vs. Cullender.
1989—Shaeffer vs. Gibson.
1047—Berghaus vs. Spaulding.
2165—L'Hommedieu vs. Wing et al.
3681—Irving vs. The Mayor, &c.
3218—Kennedy vs. The Mayor, &c.
1741½—Falihee vs. Hammond.
1918—Genet vs. The Mayor, &c.
2968—Eisberg vs. The Mayor, &c.

Nos.
718—Wann vs. Ashley.
657—Driscoll, Adm'r, vs. The Mayor, &c.
3161—Donovan vs. Conner, Sheriff.
1785—Henderson vs. White et al.
1549½—Hickey vs. The Mayor, &c.
2361—Chatham Nat'l B'k of N. Y. vs. O'Brien, Sheriff.
587½—Vermilyea et al. vs. The Ninth Nat'l Bank of N. Y.
2283—The People, &c., State of N. Y., ex rel. Bowne, versus O'Brien et al.
1823—Steward vs. Phenix Fire Ins. Co. of Brooklyn.
2205—Anderson, Rec'r, vs. Laog et al.
1071—Goodridge vs. Skidmore et al.
2103—Bowery Nat'l B'k vs. The Mayor, &c.
3075—Wild et al. vs. Conner, Sheriff.
413—McComb vs. The Excelsior M'f'g Co.
419—McComb vs. Jones.
31—Meyer et al. vs. Amidown.
3187—Rice vs. Rice.
2207—Johnson, Ex'x, vs. Cassidy.
2267—Halstead vs. Koss.
2277—Delamater et al. vs. Am. & E. C. Egg Co.
2365—Excelsior Pet. Co. vs. Fowler, Impl'd.
2089—McKnight, Ex'r, vs. Devlin et al.
278—Reck vs. The Phenix Fire Ins. Co.

SUPERIOR COURT—GENERAL TERM.

Adjourned until Monday, Nov. 20, inst.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

Held by Speir, J.

Nos. Law and Fact.
17—Daly vs. Munro et al.
19—Arnold et al. vs. Morris.
23—Cary vs. Smith.
71—Butterfield et al. vs. Klaber et al.
73—Van Buren vs. Colt.

Nos.
78—Nitschke vs. O'Neill et al.
27—Nicholson vs. Elliott.
66—Meid vs. Meid.
55—Slawson et al. vs. Watkins et al.

SUPERIOR COURT—TRIAL TERM—PART I.

Held by Curtis, C. J.

Nos.
263—Meyer vs. Peet et al.
879—Johnson vs. Luxton.
6—Warner vs. Western Trans. Co.
329—Demuth vs. The Am. Inst. of City N. Y.
144—Algie vs. The Mayor, &c.
216—Stevenson vs. Hinds.
333—Bohonnon vs. Barlow et al.
27—Melcher vs. Dixon.

Nos.
248—Cooper vs. Opdyke et al.
260—O'Connor et al. vs. Beesley.
282—Zimmerman et al. vs. Nat. Steam-ship Co.
876—Doyle et al. vs. Sharpe.
687—Furman vs. Titus.
652—Knapp, Receiver, vs. Roche.
68—Travers vs. O'Brien, Sheriff.

SUPERIOR COURT—TRIAL TERM.—PART II.

Held by Sedgwick, J.

Nos.
342—Eisner vs. Strauss.
357—Lehmaier vs. Griswold.
205—Van Dorn vs. The C. P., N. & E. R. R. Co.
850—Duffy vs. the Ohio & Miss. Railroad Co.
192—Kerrigan vs. The Broadway & Seventh Av R. R. Co.
306—Eagan vs. Murphy.
303—Dodd vs. Dean.
219—Highland C. & M. Co. vs. Matthews.
305—Crawford et al. vs. Pappenheimer.
311—Winfield vs. Klein et al.
318—Selling vs. Legendre et al.
312—Thomas vs. Knight.

Nos.
882—Lawrence et al. vs. Cabot et al.
340—Husted, Administrator, vs. Rathbone.
341—Husted, Admr, vs. Rathbone et al.
361—Wireman vs. The Remington S. M. Co.
362—Dutch vs. Dorsey.
363—Dodge vs. Burton.
364—Glack vs. Conner, Sheriff.
355—Diamont vs. White.
366—Stewart vs. Straw.
308—Hamilton vs. Hall.
369—Nixon vs. Smith.
370—Del Monte vs. Bartlett.
371—Sauer vs. The Mayor, &c.

COMMON PLEAS—GENERAL TERM.

Held by C. P. Daly, C. J., J. F. Daly and Van Hoesen, JJ.

Nos.
20—Morris vs. Morris.
21—Roediger vs. Simmons et al.
22—Wright vs. Wright.
24—Cockroft vs. Muller et al.
39—Tone, &c., vs. The Mayor, &c.
40—Brennan vs. Wilson et al.
42—Palmer vs. Lang.
43—The People, &c., vs. Ryan.
65—The Con. Fruit Jar Co. vs. Mason et al.
70—Peck et al. vs. Weber.

Nos.
178—Fuller vs. Riley.
179—Marrow vs. Havemeyer.
64—Kavanagh vs. Wilson et al, &c.
73—Imhorst vs. Burke et al.
85—Guthman vs. Kline.
1½—The People, &c., vs. Raney.
88—Storey vs. Solomon.
89—Griffen vs. Solomon.
90—Way vs. Croiatt.
92—Thorne vs. Thompson.

COMMON PLEAS—EQUITY TERM.

Held by Van Brunt, J.

Demurrer.—No. 5.—Ledwith vs. the Mayor, &c., of New-York.

COMMON PLEAS—TRIAL TERM—PART I.

Held by Robinson, J.

Nos.
873—Ketchley vs. Van Tassel.
802—Adler vs. Kruger.
863—Schmultz vs. Foster.
875—Burnham vs. Waterman.
876—Same vs. Same.
968—Neligh vs. Hall.
556—Krawitsky vs. Koening.
557—Same vs. Same.
865—Flynn vs. Dayton.
798—Brown vs. Melcher.
804—Nason vs. Luddington.
877—Willson vs. Sine.
903—Smith vs. Solomon.
906—McCarthy vs. Universalist Society of N. Y.
796—Topping vs. Birdseye.
799—Guidet vs. The Mayor, &c.
323—Epstein vs. Second Avenue R. R. Co.
687—Ellis vs. Maurice.
707—Mackellar vs. Murphy.
905—Rexter vs. Starin.
974—Powers vs. Conner, Sheriff.
892—Shandley vs. The Mayor, &c.
960—Goldstein vs. The Mayor.
801—Zeimler vs. Levy.
872—Buss vs. Montell.

Nos.
909—McAulley, Ex'r, vs. Thompson.
890—Hyman vs. Bischoff.
393—Engell vs. Grant.
907—Schemorhorn vs. Devlin.
895—Ritchie vs. Lesser.
969—Mangam vs. Downs.
806—Merrill vs. Beyer.
371—Booth vs. Ferguson.
899—Andrews vs. Farley.
384—White vs. Hoyte et al.
868—Walker vs. New Central Coal Co., of Maryland.
977—Brown vs. the Mayor, &c.
803—Ebbinghousen vs. Worth Clubb.
867—Cleary vs. Brewster.
487—Walsh vs. Brewster.
565—Wood vs. Bloodgood.
Peremptory—
814—Simon vs. Worth.
824—Sadler vs. the Mayor, &c.
987—Hall's Safe & Lock Co. vs. Wingfield.
1014—Hall vs. Corrigan.
1023—Levene vs. Brush.
42—Loughran vs. Kelley, Sheriff.
412—Stevens vs. Brennan.
470—Blasi vs. Fleisch.
930—Burgess vs. Burgess.

COMMON PLEAS—TRIAL TERM—PART II.

Adjourned for the term.

MARINE COURT—TRIAL TERM—PART I.

Held by Sinnott, J.

Nos.
1919—Penhyn Slate Co. vs. Allen.
4949—Workman vs. Devine et al.
5219—Wilmerding et al. vs. Kelp.
4550—Lowenstein vs. Oppenheimer.
2969—Smith vs. Zoldo et al.
4991—Lapp vs. Leubuscher.
5007—Clear vs. Cunningham et al.

Nos.
5009—Miller vs. Cunningham et al.
5010—Boyd vs. Green.
4861—Von Breisen vs. Wulfin.
5034—Brooks vs. Hirsch et al.
4357—O'Gorman vs. O'Neil.
3123—Winans vs. Clark.
5261—Butler vs. Westbrook.
5262—Bernheimer vs. Gomez.

MARINE COURT—TRIAL TERM—PART II.

Held by Alker, J.

Nos.
5073—King vs. Hall.
3862—Postler vs. Burke.
3811—Donovan vs. Ostendorf et al.
4670—Newman vs. Miller et al.
4916—McClure vs. Phillips.
4197—Colfax et al. vs. Bogatzki.
8029—Fuller vs. Sternfells et al.

Nos.
4312—Doolittle versus Schwartz.
5020—Knapp et al. vs. Vassing.
4545—Fuerth vs. Isaacs.
4580—Lynch vs. Nuhl.
5084—Rouse vs. Strauss et al.
4612—Hopkins vs. Fisher.
4974—James et al. vs. Hyams.
4557—Fisher vs. King et al.

MARINE COURT—TRIAL TERM—PART III.

Held by Shea, C. J.

Nos.
5598—Heyman vs. Zelmer.
8241—Loughran, Jr., vs. Matthews et al.
—— —O'Neil vs. Pentz.
8596—Wertheimer vs. Stevens.
6645—Maier et al. vs. Springer.
7200—Bacharach et al. vs. Hebeler et al.
4779—Hall vs. Templeton.
7944—Barnes vs. Woodruff.

Nos.
8469—Crotty vs. Connor, Sheriff, &c.
8663—Krekeler vs. Conner, Sheriff, &c.
5924—Davis et al. vs. Murray, impleaded, &c.
5923—Spring et al. vs. Murray, impl., &c.
8472—Gillier et al. vs. O'Sullivan.
4927—Holland vs. Wolcott.
4962—Ross vs. Finan.

MARINE COURT—TRIAL TERM—PART IV.

Held by Goepp, J.

Nos.
5228—Saward vs. Halstead.
5177—Hayward vs. McCunn et al.
5094—Man'f'rs and Bld'rs Bank vs. Spiro.
5118—Lippe vs. McCollum.
5147—Ryan vs. Safeguard Fire Ins. Co.
5158—Hagen vs. Stevens et al.
5181—Curren vs. Doran.

Nos.
5182—Lambrecht vs. Moore
5185—Agate vs. Carpenter.
5202—Mech'cs Nat. Bank of Newark vs. Johns.
5210—Lavelle vs. Pregher.
5263—Ehrman vs. Bryant et al.
5264—Hass vs. Schack.
5265—Lowe et al. vs. Gregg et al.
5267—Grenlich vs. Vols et al.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS—PART I.

Held by Hackett, Recorder.

John Taffe, homicide.
John Fay, felonious assault and battery.
Francisco Lestario, felonious assault and battery.
Patrick Harrill, felonious assault and battery.
Oscar Fletcher, burglary.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSION—PART II.

Held by Sutherland, J.

James Clark, robbery.
Dennis Connors, John Haggerty, rape.
John O'Donnell, felonious assault and battery.
John Moore, felonious assault and battery.
John Grant, burglary.
George Green, grand larceny.
Augustus P. Galcia, grand larceny.
James Daly, grand larceny.
Richard William, grand larceny.
Adam Wolf, Morris Pincus, grand larceny.
John Shaughnessy, grand larceny.
Bernard McGuire, John Donnelly, grand larceny.
James McGuire, grand larceny.
Isaac L. Gans, receiving stolen goods.
Richard William, false pretences.
Mary A. Leatee, disorderly house.

COURT OF OYER AND TERMINER.

Held by Brady, J.

Charles Fletcher, robbery.
William Korn, James McGowan, robbery.
John Conklin, rape.
Charles Wilson, felonious assault and battery.
John Adams, William Farrell, forgery.
Charles Hervey, false pretences.
Henry Eastwood, bigamy.

ELECTION RETURNS.

THE LABOR IN GETTING THEM FORTY-FOUR YEARS AGO—FIGHTING AT THE POLLS.

A correspondent of the Des Moines (Iowa) Register thus writes: "Forty-four years ago I was publishing a paper at Lawrenceburg, Ind. By reference to my file of papers of that date, I find a striking illustration of the contrast in the expedition of obtaining news then and now. The Presidential election was held that year on the 6th of November. Clay and Jackson were the candidates, and the contest was nearly as excited as the one just closed, and the people were equally as anxious to hear the result as now. Imagine then the suspense of three weeks waiting. My paper was published on Friday, three days after the election, and all the news then received was partial returns from eight counties in Indiana, which gave no decisive indication how the State had gone, and an item from the Cincinnati Gazette of that morning, stating that 'Ohio was in doubt, though the Jackson stock is uppermost.' This, and two counties from Kentucky, was the sum total of news. One week later the news was sufficient to give a probability that Indiana, Ohio, and Pennsylvania had gone for Jackson, and Kentucky for Clay. But the friends of Clay were sanguine of his election. On the 23d of November, seventeen days after the election, our summary of the news was about as follows: 'Maine, slight returns indicate that it will go for Jackson; Massachusetts, not heard from; Connecticut, 127 towns give a majority for Clay; New-Hampshire, six counties heard from, gone Jackson; New-York is in doubt, but Marcy is evidently elected Governor, and nearly all the members of Congress are Jackson; Indiana returns come in slowly, and yet in doubt; Kentucky has evidently given Clay 5,000 or 10,000 majority; Virginia, twenty-seven counties heard from, probably for Clay; North Carolina, one town heard from, doubtful. From all these and other rumors the calmest heads are yet unable to determine the result.' On the 30th of November enough was received to settle the question that Jackson was elected. At that date there were no telegraphs, and but few daily mails. Nearly all were weekly, and a large proportion carried on horseback, and these only in the day-time. Think of waiting for the mail boy or stage-coach to bring the news this week from Maine, Florida, or California, and then you have some conception of the situation forty-four years ago. At that time we only had a weekly mail, but much of our news was gathered from travelers and hog drovers. And those who published weekly papers had private mail routes, and the devil in the offices usually went out on horseback two days in the week to distribute the papers. The writer hereof took his turn for two years. Those old times are vivid in our recollection. On the day of the election there were at least a dozen fights, in which there was more fair play than now. If a couple wanted to fight, a ring was formed around them, and no one allowed to interfere until one or the other cried enough. There was some satisfaction in fighting then. Now by the time one party gets a lick some meddling Police officer interferes. On that day we recollect having at least half a dozen knock-downs, turn about, with James H. Lane, late of Kansas, and altogether the skirmish was continued from 9 o'clock in the morning till after dark. No officers interfered, nor were any arrests made. There are now some citizens in Iowa who witnessed these interesting pastimes."

THE VICTORY IN FLORIDA.

The Jacksonville (Fla.) Union of the 8th inst. says: "The long, bitter, and harassing political contest which has raged in this State for the past four or five months ended last night—and ended in a glorious and substantial Republican victory. While the returns thus far received are comparatively meagre, they are yet of such a character as to leave no doubt of the general result. They show a large increase in the Republican majorities in every Republican county, while there appears to be no corresponding increase of the Democratic majorities in the Democratic counties heard from. The Second District elects Col. Bisbee to Congress beyond a doubt. The Republican majorities in this district already heard from aggregate nearly three thousand, with Nassau County, which will give at least one hundred more, yet to hear from. The highest estimated Democratic majorities in the Second District, claimed by the Democrats themselves, do not aggregate over twenty-eight hundred, and their estimates are much higher than any reasonable figuring will warrant. The Second District can fairly be claimed for Col. Bisbee by from five hundred to one thousand majority. In the First District, the Republicans have not only held their own, but they have made large gains over former years. That the State has gone for Hayes and Wheeler, for Stearns and Montgomery, and for Purman and Bisbee, is beyond a question. The highest aggregate majority which the Democrats can secure from all the Democratic counties in the State, cannot by an honest possibility exceed 7,000, while the actual Republican majorities already reported exceed 7,700, with Jackson, Nassau, and Monroe Counties yet to hear from. These counties, according to the votes of former years, should give from six hundred to one thousand more to add to the Republican aggregate. The Republicans have fought manfully, and deserve the victory which has crowned their banners."

HAVANA WEEKLY MARKET.

HAVANA, Nov. 11.—Sugar—Considerable activity has prevailed on account of favorable advices from abroad, but the higher rates demanded by holders checked the operations; at the close the market was firm at advancing prices, some holders asking as high as 10½@11 reals per arrobe, gold, for No. 12, and it is therefore impossible to give exact quotations for other kinds, the stock being exceedingly reduced; stock in warehouse at Havana and Matanzas 92,700 bxs. and 2,000 hhds.; receipts of the week, no bxs., 170 hhds.; exports during the week, 18,700 bxs. and 500 hhds., including 18,400 bxs. and 500 hhds. for the United States. Bacon, $36@$37 50 ₱ cwt. Butter, $75@$85 ₱ quintal for superior American. Flour, $32@$33 ₱ bbl. for American. Jerked Beef, $6 50@$6 75 ₱ arrobe. Hams, $59@$65 ₱ quintal for American Sugar-cured. Lard, in kegs, $37@$38 ₱ quintal; in tins, $44@$45 ₱ quintal. Potatoes, $8@$8 50 ₱ bbl. Tallow, $28@$29 ₱ quintal. Wax—Yellow, $16@$16 50 ₱ arrobe; do. White, $22@$26 ₱ arrobe. Onions, $9 50@$10 ₱ bbl. for American. Coal-oil—None here. Empty Hogsheads, $4@$4 50, gold; Lumber dull; White Pine, $31 ₱ 1,000 feet; Pitch Pine, $33@$35 ₱ 1,000 feet. Shooks nominal. White Navy Beans, 24@24½ reals ₱ arrobe. Chewing Tobacco, $63@$66 ₱ quintal. Corn, 12@12¾ reals ₱ arrobe. Hoops dull; long shaved, $50 ₱ M. Freights—Disposable tonnage has considerably increased, and rates are weak, but unchanged. Tobacco remains the same as last reported. Spanish gold, 218½@219. Exchange, firmer; on the United States, 60 days currency, 5¼@4¾ discount; short sight, do., 4@3¾ discount; on London, 15@14 premium.

FINANCIAL AFFAIRS.

SALES AT THE STOCK EXCHANGE—NOV. 11.

SALES FROM 2:30 TO 3 P. M.

$2,000	N. Y. B. L. O.	103	200	Lake Shore....b3.	55
10,000	Cen. Pac. 1st, St. J. B'h....	93¼	600	do.	55
3,000	do.	93⅜	600	do.	54⅞
1,000	Cen. Pac., C. & O. B'h.	94½	100	do....b3.	55
5,000	Ohio & M. 2d.	46	200	do....b3.	54⅞
2,000	N. J. C. conv.	81½	400	do.	54⅞
16,000	M. & S. P. c. s. f.	86¾	100	do.	55
1,000	C., C.C.&I. 1st.	108	100	do.	55⅛
5,000	T. H. 2d Pf.	91	200	do....s3.	55
5,000	Har. 1st R.	117½	500	do.	55
1,000	Un. Pac. 1st.	105¾	1000	do.	55⅛
100	U. S. Ex.....opg.	58	600	do....b3.	55¼
700	West. Union	72⅜	300	do.	55¼
200	do....s3.	72⅜	500	do.	55⅜
200	do....b3.	72½	200	do....s3.	55⅜
100	do.	72⅜	1000	do.	55⅜
400	do.	72¼	700	do.	55½
1000	do.	72⅜	200	Cen. of N. J.	33⅛
300	do.	72½	200	do.	33¼
100	do....s3.	72½	100	do....s3.	33
700	do.	72⅝	100	do.	33¼
2100	do.	72¾	100	do.	33⅜
3100	do.	72⅞	100	do....s30.	32½
3000	do.	73	100	St. Paul	21¼
100	Pacific Mail...b3.	24¼	300	do.	21
200	N. Y. Cen. & Hud.	102¼	100	do.	21¼
200	Erie Railway	10	100	do.	21⅜
100	Mich. Central.s3.	42½	400	do.	21½
100	do.	42⅝	500	St. Paul Pf.	52½
600	do.	42¾	100	do.	52¾
500	do.	42⅞	100	do.	52⅝
21	Ohio & M. Pf.	12¼	600	do.	52½
100	H. & St. Jo. Pf.	24⅝	100	do.	52¾
200	Del., L. & W.	72⅝	100	Ohio & Miss....s3.	7⅝
1700	do.	72½	100	do....b3.	7¾
			300	do.	7¾
			100	do.	7⅞

MONDAY, Nov. 13—A. M.

The statement of the Associated Banks issued from the Clearing-house on Saturday last shows a loss of $3,258,400 in deposits, $2,192,900 in legal tenders, $1,031,800 in loans, $28,100 in circulation, and an increase of $132,500 in specie. The movement for the week results in a decrease of $1,243,800 in surplus reserve, and the banks now hold $8,696,375 in excess of legal requirements.

The following shows the condition of the banks on Saturday last, compared with the previous statement, and with the statement for the corresponding week last year:

	Nov. 4.	Nov. 11.	Nov. 13, '75.
Loans	$260,684,200	$259,652,400	$273,901,600
Specie	17,436,600	17,569,100	14,409,400
Legal tenders	46,353,800	44,160,900	48,954,500
Deposits	215,392,900	212,134,500	218,507,300
Circulation	15,090,600	15,062,500	18,145,100

And the following the relations between the total reserve and total liabilities of the banks:

Specie	$17,436,600	$17,569,100	Inc..$132,500
Legal tenders	46,353,800	44,160,900	Dec. 2,192,900
Total reserve	$63,790,400	$61,730,000	Dec. $2,060,400
Res've required agt. deposits	53,848,225	53,033,625
Excess of res've above legal requirements:	9,942,175	8,696,375	Dec. 1,245,800

The money market was fairly active, and exhibited a hardening tendency, exceptional transactions in call loans having been as high as 6 ₱ cent., with, however, the great bulk of the business at 3@4 ₱ cent.

The demand for sterling exchange bills was extremely light, and, in consequence, the nominal asking rates were lowered a shade.

Gold advanced early in the week, on the apprehensions of political troubles growing out of the election excitement, but subsequently declined and closed weak. The announcement of shipments of bullion from the other side had some effect in assisting the late decline.

The foreign advices were not especially important, and reported a firm market for American securities and British consols. The Bank of England lost £1,506,000 for the week ending Nov. 10, the rate of discount remaining at 3 ₱ cent.

Government bonds were firm early in the week, but toward the close a decline of ⅛ to ⅝ ₱ cent. took place in sympathy with the downward course of gold. The transactions were on a very moderate scale, which is not surprising in view of the conflicting reports current during the week in regard to the result of Tuesday's election. There was a well distributed business in railroad bonds, and in some cases the fluctuations were unusually important. The Ohio and Mississippi issues were most conspicuous in the dealings, and declined from 3 to 8 ₱ cent., consolidated selling down from 92 to 89; do. sinking funds from 93 to 90, and seconds from 53 to 45. New-Jersey Central convertibles fell off from 84 to 81, and do. consolidated firsts from 87¾ to 86. The Pacific bonds and the Western issues generally were lower in sympathy toward the close. State bonds presented few features of interest. The market was firm at the beginning of the week, and afterward lower for Tennessees and District of Columbia 3.65s.

Notwithstanding the fact that during the past week the general business of the country has been almost at a standstill, owing to the election, the stock market has been free from any extraordinary excitement. The stocks most actively traded in during the week were Lake Shore, Western Union, Michigan Central, the coal shares, and Granger stocks. Lake Shore declined to 54¼, closing at a recovery of 1¼ ₱ cent. Western Union fluctuated between 73⅝ and 71, and closed at 72⅝. Michigan Central declined from 46¼ to 41¾, with closing sales at 42¾. The Granger shares, particularly St. Paul, which continues to show a decrease in earnings, were weak and lower. The coal shares were unfavorably affected by reports that one of the companies was in financial embarrassment. The general market in the final dealings was rather strong in tone.

COURSE OF MARKET—THE WEEK.

	Highest.	Lowest.	Closing rate Saturday, Nov. 13, '75.
American gold	110⅛	109½	114⅝
United States 5s, '81, coup.	113¼	112¾	115½
United States 5-20s, '67, C.	116	115¾	121⅜
New-York Central	103	101½	104⅞
Rock Island	101⅝	100½	104⅝
Pacific Mail	24¾	23½	40¾
Milwaukee and St. Paul	24¾	20	36¼
Milwaukee & St. Paul Pf.	55⅞	51¼	65¾
Lake Shore	57⅝	54⅛	61¾
Chicago & North-west	38⅛	35¾	38¾
Chicago & North-west Pf.	61¼	58	52½
Western Union	73⅝	71	75⅝
Union Pacific	61	59	72⅛
Toledo & Wabash	7¾	5¾	5¾
Del., Lack. & Western	74	71⅝	118⅛
New-Jersey Central	36¾	32⅛	104½
Del. & Hud. Canal	72⅞	70	120⅞
Morris & Essex	94½	94	103½
Panama	125	125	133
Erie Railway	10¾	9¾	16¾
Ohio & Mississippi	9¾	7⅛	19
C., C. & Ind. Central	3⅞	3¾	5⅜
Harlem	138	138	132¾
Hannibal & St. Joseph	14¾	13	21⅞
Hannibal & St. Jo. Pref.	27	24¼	25¼
Michigan Central	46¼	41¾	66¼
Illinois Central	82½	79¾	92
Missouri Pacific	4⅜	4¼	13¼

RANGE OF PRICES AND CLOSING QUOTATIONS—NOV. 11.

	Highest.	Lowest.	Closing Bid.	Closing Asked.
New-York Central	102¼	102	102⅛	102½
Harlem	..	..	137	138
Erie	10	9¾	9⅞	11⅛
Lake Shore	55½	54¼	55⅜	55½
Wabash	7	6⅜	6¾	6⅞
North-western	36¾	35¾	36⅜	36¾
North-western Pref.	59½	58¾	59½	59⅝
Rock Island	101⅜	100½	100¾	101¼
Fort Wayne	..	..	102	102¾
Milwaukee & St. Paul	21½	20½	21⅜	21½
Mil. & St. Paul Pref.	52¾	51½	52¾	53
Pittsburg	88¼	88¼	88¼	90
Del., Lack. & Western	72¾	71¼	72⅜	72⅝
New-Jersey Central	33⅜	31⅞	33¼	33⅜
Del. & Hudson Canal	70¾	70¼	70½	70⅞
Morris & Essex	..	..	93½	94½
Michigan Central	43¼	42¼	42¾	42⅞
Illinois Central	80½	79¾	79	80
Union Pacific	..	..	59¼	60
Missouri Pacific	..	..	22	4¼
C., C. & Ind Central	..	..	3½	4
Han. & St. Joseph	..	..	13	13¼
Han. & St. Joseph Pf.	24⅝	24¼	24	25
Ohio & Mississippi	8	7⅛	7¾	8
Panama	..	..	..	127
Western Union	73	71⅛	72⅜	73
At. & Pac. Tel.	..	..	15¼	16
Pacific Mail	24¼	24	24⅛	24¼
Quicksilver	..	..	11	12½
Quicksilver Pref.	..	..	15	18
Adams Express	..	..	106	108
Wells, Fargo & Co.	..	..	84½	85
Am. Mer. Union Ex.	60¼	60	60¼	61
United States Ex.	58	58	57¾	59

The following are the returns of the foreign commerce of the Port of New-York, and the operations of the United States Sub-Treasury here for the week ending Saturday last and since the beginning of the year, compared with the return for the corresponding periods of last year:

IMPORTS OF DRY GOODS AND GENERAL MERCHANDISE.

Week ending last Saturday	$3,768,378
Corresponding week last year	4,135,565
Since Jan. 1 this year	278,937,006
Corresponding period last year	284,523,043
Gold, Oct. 21, 1876	109½
Gold, Oct. 23, 1875	114⅝

EXPORTS OF DOMESTIC PRODUCE.

Week ending last Tuesday	$4,583,341
Corresponding week last year	5,815,233
Since Jan. 1 this year	229,157,143
Corresponding period last year	217,311,227

EXPORTS OF GOLD AND SILVER.

Week ending last Saturday	$134,006
Corresponding week last year	358,418
Since Jan. 1 this year	41,457,161
Corresponding period last year	65,637,961

RECEIPTS FOR CUSTOMS.

Week ending Nov. 4, 1876	$1,367,012
Week ending Nov. 13, 1875	1,719,165
From Jan. 1 to Nov. 11, 1876	88,880,079
From Jan. 1 to Nov. 13, 1875	93,971,249

GOLD INTEREST PAID OUT.

Week ending Nov. 11, 1876	$825,915
Week ending Nov. 13, 1875	833,298
From Jan. 1 to Nov. 11, 1876	57,146,802
From Jan. 1 to Nov. 13, 1875	50,087,479

THE STATE OF TRADE.

BUFFALO, Nov. 11.—Receipts by Lake—Flour, 7,702 bbls.; Corn, 199,339 bushels; Wheat, 147,009 bushels; Barley, 20,435 bushels. Receipts by Railroad—Flour, 3,100 bbls.; Corn, 14,000 bushels; Wheat, 10,800 bushels; Oats, 15,400 bushels; Barley, 7,400 bushels. Shipments by Canal to Tide-water—Corn, 49,550 bushels; Wheat, 110,851 bushels. Shipments to Interior Points—Corn, 7,650 bushels; Wheat, 7,950 bushels. Shipments by Railroad—Flour, 8,640 bbls.; Corn, 157,113 bushels; Wheat, 86,200 bushels; Oats, 20,000 bushels; Barley, 6,000 bushels. Flour in moderate demand; sales, 1,100 bbls. at unchanged prices. Wheat in light inquiry; sales, 1,500 bushels White Winter at $1 31@$1 62; 1,500 bushels sample do. at $1 30; 800 bushels No. 1 White at $1 34. Corn in fair inquiry; sales, 5,200 bushels Low Mixed Toledo at 52½c.; 14,000 bushels No. 2 Chicago at 51½c.; 5,000 bushels do., to arrive, at 52c.; 2,000 bushels do. and 1,000 bushels Kansas on private terms; No. 2 closed strong at 52c. Oats quiet; sales, 6,000 bushels Ohio No. 2 at 37c. Rye neglected. Barley in light inquiry; sales, 2,500 bushels Canada on private terms. Malt—a fair trade inquiry; quotations nominally unchanged. Highwines in light demand. Pork and Lard quiet; unchanged. Canal Freights lower: Wheat, 7¼c.; Corn, 6¼c.@6¾c. Rail Freights unchanged.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Flour quiet and unchanged. Wheat moderately active and higher; No. 2 Chicago Spring $1 08¼, cash; $1 09⅝, December; $1 11½, January; No. 3 Chicago Spring, 99c.@99½c.; rejected, 88½c.@89c. Corn fairly active and a shade higher; 43¼c.@43⅜c., cash; 43½c. bid, December; rejected, 42c.@42½c. Oats in good demand, and a shade higher; 31¾c.@31⅞c., cash; 33¼c., December. Rye in fair demand and higher, at 57¼c.@58c. Barley in good demand at full prices; 79c., cash; 81c. bid, December. Pork in fair demand but lower; $16 cash; $15 30 bid all the year; $15 40 January. Lard dull and a shade lower: $9 75 cash; $9 42½@$9 45 all the year. Bulk-meats firmer; Shoulders 6⅜c.@6½c.; Short Rib Sides, 8¼c.@8½c.; Short Clear Sides, 8⅝c. Whisky quiet and weak at $1 07½. Freights—Corn to Buffalo, 3c. Railroad Freights unchanged. Receipts—11,000 bbls. Flour, 67,000 bushels Wheat, 36,000 bushels Corn, 14,000 bushels Oats, 2,700 bushels Rye, 23,000 bushels Barley. Shipments—13,000 bbls. Flour, 64,000 bushels Wheat, 148,000 bushels Corn, 84,000 bushels Oats, 18,000 bushels Rye, 22,000 bushels Barley.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 11.—Flour dull and unchanged. Wheat quiet; Red, $1 15@$1 25. Corn in fair demand and firm; Old, 52c.@53c.; New, 40c.@43c. Oats quiet but firm at 30c.@38c. Rye dull and unchanged. Barley dull and nominal. Pork scarce and firm: Old, $16 75; New, $15 75. Lard in good demand; Steam rendered, 9¾c.; Kettle do., 10¼c.@10¾c. Bulk-meats in good demand; Shoulders, 6½c.; Clear Rib Sides, 8c.@8¼c.; Clear Sides, 8½c.@8⅝c., all partly cured, loose. Bacon quiet; Shoulders, 7⅜c.@7½c.; Clear Rib Sides scarce at 9½c.@9¾c.; Clear Sides, 9½c.@9⅝c. Whisky quiet and weak at $1 07. Butter steady and unchanged. Hogs in good demand, but lower; common, $5@$5 35; fair to good Light and Packing grades, $5 40@$5 55; Heavy, $5 60@$5 65; receipts, 4,143 head; shipments, 1,983 head.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 11.—Flour firmer but unchanged. Wheat higher; No. 2 Red Fall, $1 21 bid, cash and November; No. 3 do., $1 12½@$1 12¼. Corn better; 41c.@41¼c. Oats quiet; 30¼c. bid. Rye dull; lower to sell; 56½c. bid. Barley dull and unchanged. Whisky dull at $1 07. Provisions unchanged; only jobbing trade; Hogs lower; Yorkers, $5 35@$5 50; Bacon, $5 50@$5 70; butchers', $5 75@$5 85. Cattle, better demand and prices for shipping grades; prime to choice native shipping Steers, $4 75@$5; medium to good, $3 75@$4 60; pony Steers, $3 75@$4. Receipts—Flour, 4,000 bbls.; Wheat, 27,000 bushels; Corn, 32,000 bushels; Oats, 25,000 bushels; Rye, 7,000 bushels; Barley, 40,000 bushels; Hogs, 2,300 head; Cattle, 1,200 head.

OSWEGO, Nov. 11.—Flour unchanged; sales 1,400 bbls. Wheat steady; sales 2,000 bushels No. 1 Milwaukee Club on private terms; car lots held at $1 35; Extra White Michigan, $1 42. Corn in light demand; sales of 2,000 bushels Western Mixed at 57c.; 5,000 bushels on private terms; car lots at 58c. Barley dull; sales of 10,000 bushels No. 1 Canada on private terms; No. 2 held at $1. Corn-meal unchanged. Mill-feed unchanged. Canal Freights—Wheat, 5¾c.; Corn and Rye, 5¼c.; Barley, 5c. to New-York; Lumber, $2 50 to the Hudson, $3 to Newburg, $3 25 to New-York. Lake Receipts—8,800 bushels Barley, 604,000 feet Lumber. Canal Shipments—95,000 bushels Barley, 1,156,000 feet Lumber. Railroad Shipments—1,500 bbls. Flour.

TOLEDO, Nov. 11.—Flour steady. Wheat steady; No. 3 White Wabash, $1 26; No. 1 White Michigan, $1 30; No. 2 do., $1 20; Extra do., $1 35; Amber Michigan, January, $1 26½; No. 2 Red Winter, Kansas, $1 17; Dayton and Michigan, $1 15; No. 3 Red, $1 10½; rejected $1 07. Corn steady; High Mixed, 51½c.; No. 2, spot or November, 49¼c.; do. new, 48½c.; damaged, 46¼c.; new, 35½c.; rejected 49¼c.; new, 45c. Oats steady, White 38c.; Michigan 33c.; rejected, 25c. Clover-seed, $8 75. Receipts—Flour, 300 bbls.; Wheat, 24,000 bushels; Corn, 22,000 bushels; Oats, 3,000 bushels. Shipments—Flour, 500 bbls.; Wheat, 38,000 bushels; Oats, 3,000 bushels; Corn, 32,000 bushels.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 11.—Flour in fair demand and firm; Superfine, $4 25@$4 50; Family, $5@$5 25; A No. 1 at $6@$6 25; Fancy, $6 75@$7 25. Wheat steady and firm; all offerings taken at yesterday's prices. Corn firm; White, 45c.; Mixed, 43c. Rye in light demand, but holders firm at 65c. Oats nominally unchanged. Provisions generally unchanged, but some sales rather higher. Pork nominal. Bulk-meats in good demand; Shoulders nominal; Clear Rib Sides, 8c.; Clear Sides, 8⅞c. Bacon steady and unchanged. Sugar-cured Hams, 16c. Lard quiet, but steady; Tierce, 11c.@11¼c.; Keg, 11½c. Whisky, $1 08. Bagging steady at 12½c.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 11.—Flour quiet and unchanged. Wheat opened firm, closed firm; No. 1 Milwaukee, $1 18; No. 2 do., $1 11¼; December, $1 12⅝; January, $1 14; No. 3 do., $1 03½. Corn steady; No. 2, 47c. Oats firmer; No. 2 at 31c. Rye lower; No. 1 at 62½c. Barley unsettled; No. 2 Spring, 78c.; No. 3 do., 43½c.@44c. Provisions held firmly. Mess Pork, $16 25@$16 50. Lard—Prime Steam, $9 75@$9 80. Freights dull and unchanged. Receipts—Flour, 11,000 bbls.; Wheat, 82,000 bushels. Shipments—Flour, 11,000 bbls.; Wheat, 102,500 bushels.

DETROIT, Nov. 11.—Flour steady and firm; demand light; White Wheats, $6@$6 50. Wheat firmly tending upward; No. 1 White Michigan, $1 29. Corn steady; No. 1 Mixed, 53½c. Oats nominal. Receipts—Flour, 1,027 bbls.; Wheat, 10,392 bushels; Corn, 768 bushels; Oats, 3,923 bushels. Shipments—Flour, 2,110 bbls.; Wheat, 7,122 bushels; Corn, 375 bushels; Oats, 6,750 bushels.

ALBANY, Nov. 11.—Wheat—Quiet; sales, 2 cars extra white Michigan at $1 34. Rye—82c. from store; 85c. in street. Corn—quiet; sales, one car No. 2 mixed western at 58½c. No transactions in Barley are reported. There was a small trade in Oats at 39c.@47c. for the range, including new western, rejected, and No. 1 white; sales, 3 cars western at 39c. Barley malt—dull.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Cattle—Receipts, 1,450 head; shipments, 3,400 head; market firm, with better feeling, but few sales at unchanged prices. Hogs—Receipts, 15,000 head; shipments, 4,100 head; market active, but lower; heavy, $5 40@$5 90; good to choice packing, $5 55@$5 70. Sheep dull and nominal.—Receipts, 175 head.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 11.—The Printing Cloths market steadily improved during the past week, with an advance of ⅛c. on best goods. The market closed firm at 4⅜c.@4½c. for best 64x64s. Sales of the week, 125,400 pieces.

NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 11.—Markets quiet without quotable change. Exchange—New-York Light, ¼ discount. Sterling—5.26 for the bank. Gold—110.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 11.—Spirits of Turpentine is firm at 35c. Resin is firm at $1 70 for strained. Tar is firm at $1 75.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 11.—Hogs easier at $5 25@$5 40; receipts, 4,000 head.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 11.—Flour firm and unchanged. Other articles unchanged.

THE COTTON MARKETS.

NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 11.—Cotton, easy; fair demand; Middling, 12c.; Low Middling, 11⅝c.; Good Ordinary, 10⅞c.; net receipts, 4,307 bales; gross, 6,232 bales; exports to Great Britain, 4,840 bales; to France, 5,654 bales; sales, 3,500 bales; stock, 181,155 bales.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 11.—Cotton quiet and easy; Middling, 12c.; Low Middling, 11⅝c.; Good Ordinary, 11c.; net receipts, 2,617 bales; exports to the Continent, 1,438 bales; coastwise, 1,497 bales; sales, 1,000 bales; stock 103,624 bales.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 11.—Cotton quiet and nominal; Middling, 12c.; Low Middling, 11⅝c.; Good Ordinary, 10¾c.; net receipts, 4,022 bales; exports, coastwise, 1,057 bales; sales, 1,150 bales; stock, 77,346 bales.

GALVESTON, Nov. 11.—Cotton weak and irregular; Middling, 11¾c.; Low Middling, 11⅜c.; Good Ordinary, 10⅝c.; net receipts, 1,576 bales; exports, coastwise, 233 bales; sales, 1,274 bales; stock, 78,295 bales.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 11.—Cotton firm; Middling, 11¾c.; Low Middling, 11½c.; Good Ordinary, 10¼c.; net receipts, 1,053 bales; exports, coastwise, 100 bales; sales, 246 bales; stock, 11,904 bales.

MOBILE, Nov. 11.—Cotton quiet; Middling, 11⅝c.; Low Middling, 11¼c.@11⅜c.; Good Ordinary, 10⅞c.; net receipts, 5,032 bales; exports coastwise, 1,752 bales; sales, 1,200 bales; stock, 53,222 bales.

NORFOLK, Nov. 11.—Cotton, steady; Middling, 11¾c.; net receipts, 4,192 bales; exports, coastwise, 4,788 bales; sales, 1,000 bales; stock, 51,737 bales.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET.

BOSTON, Nov. 11.—Wool is quiet and the sales were the smallest for several months; prices steady and firm. There has been quite a demand for medium Fleeces for the Philadelphia market, and better prices were obtained for several round lots. Ohio and Pennsylvania having been sold at 42½c.@45c. The sales of fine Fleece were comparatively small, ranging from 46c.@47c. for XX, and 40c.@46c. for X. Michigan attracted more attention than any other kind, the sales comprising 230,000 lb. at 38c.@40c. with a firm market. The sales of Wisconsin were 37,000 lb. at 40½c.@41. Combing and Delaine steady and firm; Combing ranged from 48c.@52½c.; fine Delaine, 48c.@47c. Pulled quiet and very firm; sales comprise 57,000 lb., good and choice Supers selling from 40c.@45c.; choice Supers are very scarce and difficult to find. California is in demand; sales, 339,000 lb., at from 20c.@29½c. for Spring, and 17½c.@25c. for Fall.

The New York Times.

NEW-YORK, MONDAY, NOV. 13, 1876.

AMUSEMENTS THIS EVENING.

FIFTH AVENUE THEATRE.—LIFE—Mr. C. F. Coghlan, Mr. Charles Fisher, Miss Amy Fawsitt.

WALLACK'S THEATRE—THE SHAUGHRAUN—Mr. Dion Boucicault, Mr. H. J. Montague, Miss Ada Dyas.

NIBLO'S GARDEN.—RABA—Mr. W. A. Crane, Mr. V. Bowers, Miss Eliza Weathersby, Miss Minnelli.

BOOTH'S THEATRE.—SARDANAPALUS—Mr. F. C. Bangs, Mrs. Agnes Booth, grand ballet and chorus.

UNION SQUARE THEATRE—THE TWO ORPHANS—Mr. C. Thorne, Jr., Mr. J. O'Neill, Miss Kate Claxton.

NEW-YORK AQUARIUM.—RARE AND CURIOUS FISH AND MAMMALIA, STATUARY, &C.

GILMORE'S GARDEN.—P. T. BARNUM'S MUSEUM, CIRCUS, AND MENAGERIE.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE HALL—ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF ART, SCIENCE, AND MECHANICS.

EAGLE THEATRE—MINSTRELSY, COMEDY, BURLESQUE.

OLIMPIC THEATRE.—GRAND NOVELTY AND VARIETY ENTERTAINMENT.

CHICKERING HALL.—LECTURE by Col. John W. Forney—"Our Centennial in Europe."

SAN FRANCISCO MINSTRELS—MINSTRELSY, FARCES, AND NEGRO COMICALITIES.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.—UNCLE TOM'S CABIN—Mrs. G. C. Howard and Georgia Minstrels.

KELLY & LEON'S HALL.—MINSTRELSY AND COMICALITIES.

THE NEW-YORK TIMES.

THE NEW-YORK TIMES is the best family paper published; it contains the latest news and correspondence. It is free from all objectionable advertisements and reports, and may be safely admitted to every domestic circle. The disgraceful announcements of quacks and medical pretenders, which pollute so many newspapers of the day, are not admitted into the columns of THE TIMES on any terms.

Terms, cash in advance.

TERMS TO MAIL SUBSCRIBERS.

Postage will be prepaid by the Publishers on all Editions of THE TIMES sent to Subscribers in the United States.

The DAILY TIMES, per annum, including the Sunday Edition.....$12

The DAILY TIMES, per annum, exclusive of the Sunday Edition.....10

The Sunday Edition, per annum.....2

These prices are invariable. We have no travelling agents. Remit in drafts on New-York or Post Office Money Orders, if possible, and where neither of these can be procured send the money in a registered letter.

Address THE NEW-YORK TIMES,
New-York City

Returns from Florida are still incomplete. So far as they have been received, however, they confirm the belief that the State has not only given HAYES a fair majority, but that he would have carried it by at least 3,000, if intimidation and fraud had not been freely resorted to by his opponents. Meantime, the Democrats are industriously making up "returns" on no basis whatever. These are ingeniously fixed up into positive and genuine-looking figures, and sent North for party uses. In this way so-called official returns are sent as from counties which have given no report whatever. It is expected that this ingenious dodge will be used for a day or two longer. The plain facts are against all such falsified statements, as the official figures will undoubtedly show.

South Carolina is virtually given up by the Democrats, who are now intent only on saving HAMPTON'S election. There is some confidence among the Republicans of South Carolina that CHAMBERLAIN'S re-election will be assured when the returns are all counted. The apparent majority for HAMPTON is very slight, and TILDEN is so far behind him that HAYES is sure of at least three thousand majority, some placing it even higher than these figures. There is likely to be a contest over several counties now conceded to the Democrats, and if the Returning Board shall decide in favor of the Republican candidates, HAYES will have six or eight thousand majority. It is curious to observe how the inflammatory Democratic dispatches from South Carolina have gradually been toned down during the past few days. On Sunday a dispatch to the World admitted that the electoral vote would be "close," and added that the Democracy would "accept the result as shown by a correct count." This is very good of the Democrats. Why didn't they say so before?

A review of the business of the Centennial Exposition, which we publish to-day, contains some suggestive and curious statistics. We can boast of having had a highly successful Exhibition, both as to numbers of the attendance and the amount of money received for admissions. Considering the length of time during which the Exposition was open, the receipts and number of visitors far exceed those of any previous world's fair. The working expenses were $1,830,000, and the attendance was a little over 8,000,000, which will leave a surplus of about $2,000,000. To this must be added the revenue derived from concessions, amounting to about $1,000,000 more. Some of the items under this head are curious. It is almost incredible, for example, that $3,000 should be paid for the privilege of peddling "pop-corn," and that the official catalogue company should pay $100,000 for their privilege. But these, and $16,000 for the license of the department facetiously known as that of "Public Discomfort," are among the receipts. If the Government loan of $1,500,000 is not first to be repaid, (and that is a mooted point,) the stockholders may actually get back part of their money.

It is interesting to compare the election returns of 1876 with those of 1860, when LINCOLN was elected by a majority of the electoral votes, but with a popular vote against him. LINCOLN carried every Northern States except New-Jersey. BRECKINRIDGE carried Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Texas. BELL carried Kentucky, Tennessee, and Virginia. DOUGLAS had only New-Jersey and Missouri. In the Electoral College, which then consisted of 313 Electors, LINCOLN had 180 votes, which was a majority of 33. But the popular majority against him was nearly nine hundred and fifty thousand; that is to say, the combined votes of the other candidates were larger than his by so much. At this Presidential election, HAYES carried every Northern State but Connecticut, New-Jersey, New-York, and Indiana. Only four of the twenty-two Northern States went for TILDEN. In those twenty-two States HAYES has a majority of 293,200, as far as heard from. TILDEN has a majority of 45,800. In the twenty-two Northern States, therefore, TILDEN has a majority of 247,400 against him. This estimate, it will be observed, includes the great State of New-York; and his majority in this State is due to the vote of this City, which was too large to be overcome by the honest and intelligent vote of the interior. The popular vote in this City, which is such an important factor in TILDEN'S slender Northern vote, largely came from the slums of New-York, whose inhabitants do not represent the intelligence and morals of the American people.

"I wouldn't care to be elected myself if TILDEN isn't," is the touching remark reported to have been made to an interviewer by Mr. LUCIUS ROBINSON. Now, if Mr. ROBINSON really feels so badly about TILDEN'S defeat that he don't want to be Governor, all he has to do is to resign and let Mr. DORSHEIMER take the office. It would not be much of a sacrifice for him, since he already holds one fat office which he was careful to cling to till after election. Besides, it would be carrying out the original Tilden programme. It is well known that ROBINSON was not TILDEN'S first choice for Governor, while DORSHEIMER was. We will venture to say that DORSHEIMER will not object to being Governor, even if TILDEN isn't President.

It is reported that the versatile and ingenuous SMITH M. WEED is traveling through the South as THOMAS KEITH, of Tennessee. Whether he is engaged in buying mules or peddling out "a bar'l of money," does not appear. But since Mr. WEED preserves a strict incognito, and registers himself under an alias, it is evident that he is in deep trouble of some sort. His meandering and mysterious movements can have no possible connection with that famous "confession" of TWEED which Mr. HEWITT solemnly warned the country was about to appear; the "confession" is never mentioned now by any Democrat of sound mind. It is barely possible that WEED, alias KEITH, has lost all of his bets on the election, and has gone South to facilitate hedging for himself and friends.

RECONSTRUCTION AND ITS RESULTS.

The fact that the Presidency of the Union has been settled by the negro vote in three of the States which were formerly slave States, and which went into the rebellion, is a significant one. To the Democrats it seems to be a very distressing one. To Republicans, who have recognized the difficulties arising from negro suffrage, but who have on the whole, found the negroes quite as likely to vote right and behave well as were their former masters, the present situation is more tolerable. But as no candid Republican denies that there have been serious evils growing out of the enfranchisement of the blacks, it is well enough to recall some features in the brief but pregnant political period in which that measure was adopted, and to inquire what yet remains to be done to guard against further unfavorable consequences from it, and to make it as safe as it was, from the first, abstractly just.

Those who criticise most sharply the plan of reconstruction which was adopted by the Republican Party, dwell with emphasis, and naturally, on whatever is undesirable in the South, and charge it to that plan. This is at once unfair and foolish. It is a view which ignores the difficulty surrounding any plan of reconstruction, and the forces which must have produced more or less confusion and misgovernment in the South, whatever system had been adopted. Such a view neither does justice to the party in power at the time nor prepares the public mind for any measures of improvement in the future. It tends simply to make the country discontented, and it makes it possible to incur far greater troubles than we have in trying to rid ourselves of these. To use a homely phrase, it is quite conceivable that the country could "jump from the frying-pan into the fire" on the Southern question.

Reconstruction involved a certain set of measures and their administration. The measures adopted were, on the whole, the best that could be had. Had Mr. LINCOLN lived, they would have been better—far better—and for two reasons. The South would not have been fired with false hopes, and the North would not have been exasperated to such unreasoning determination by the bitter, wrong-headed, wild course of Mr. JOHNSON. No man ever did his country a deeper injury than WILKES BOOTH did to the whole nation when he shot the President. Mr. LINCOLN had borne so much of the responsibility and anxiety of the war, he had faced so many of its terrible uncertainties, that, while the object for which the war was fought was perhaps dearer to him than to all others besides, there was no partisanship left in him. Had he lived, the South would never have flamed up in that fierce burst of hatred and pride which marked the State Governments set up by Mr. JOHNSON, nor would the North have been compelled to solve the problem of reconstruction absolutely without Southern aid, counsel, or sympathy.

But Mr. LINCOLN was dead; Mr. JOHNSON succeded to his powers, and the Republicans had to do the best they could. They undertook to reorganize the South on the basis of equal suffrage. It is difficult to see what else they could have done, situated as they were. The South could not be held as conquered territory, and the temper of neither the North nor the South would admit turning the latter section over to the unchecked rule of the men who had only just laid down their arms. The theory of our Government, the fixed ideas of the North, the associations connected with universal suffrage in the free States, all combined to make the enfranchisement of the negroes the only logical escape from the dilemma. It must be admitted that the North did not realize the gravity of the step it was taking. It did not, in spite of the intercourse of peace and war, know the South, either its white or its black population. It reasoned only that what had succeeded on one side of the north line of Virginia, would succeed on the other, and so down to the Gulf. But it did the best it could with the light it had.

Where the North failed was in its administration of the laws which it had enacted. The partial and temporary disfranchisement of the Confederates threw the balance of political power into the hands of the blacks, and these were inevitably led by the appointees of the Federal Government whom alone they would trust. These leaders abused their power. Many of them were bad men; others were weak and dull; very few were conspicuously able and upright. The causes of this state of things were not simple. The machinery of selection for the civil service had been overtaxed during the war, and completely disarranged during the Presidency of Mr. JOHNSON. The number of good men to be found in the South willing to take office at the hands of Republicans was small, owing to the intense bitterness which JOHNSON'S policy had aroused. The number of good men in the North ready to be sent South was even smaller. It is too true that good men were not sought as diligently as they should have been; but it is equally true that, had they been sought ever so diligently, they would not easily have been found. The men who went into Federal office, and so into political leadership in the South, have certainly made a bad mess of much of their work, and the vicious system which makes United States Senators factors in the business of distributing offices has complicated and extended the trouble. If President GRANT and the Republican Senate had enforced rigid fidelity among the Federal office-holders in the South, that section would be largely Republican to-day, and the Democrats could make no such impression on the public mind as they now do with their clamor concerning the instruments by which the election returns must be canvassed in Louisiana and South Carolina.

We call attention to these facts because we believe that Gen. HAYES, in the President's chair, will do his utmost to remedy the evil we have pointed out, and because we believe that no Republican who understands the case as it now is can refuse to sustain such an effort. Yet it will be found that the change cannot easily be made. The President will need all the honesty, pluck, and tact for which his friends gave him credit to accomplish it, and he will need, moreover, the patient and hearty support of Republicans everywhere.

THE TRUNK LINES AND THEIR DIFFERENCES.

It would seem that the failure of the recent conferences, between the managers of the great trunk lines, is to be solely attributed to the tenacity with which the representatives of the Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroads still cling to the theory of a mileage basis. The present railway war differs from those which have preceded it, in that it represents an issue clearly defined, and easily understood. On the one hand, the Pennsylvania Central and Baltimore and Ohio Railroads, both having termini in, or at least unobstructed approach to, Philadelphia and Baltimore, maintain the doctrine that equal rates per ton per mile shall govern the transportation charges from common points in the West to points in geographical opposition on the seaboard. On the other hand, the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad contends that the operation of this rule places New-York and the Northern ports vastly at a disadvantage with Philadelphia and Baltimore, in respect to their foreign commerce. Under the old compact, the difference in rail charges in favor of both these ports was, at times, so great as to cover more than half the cost of the ocean carriage from New-York to Liverpool. The war which has been so fiercely waged may be fairly called the war of the rate per ton per mile.

It is a settled principle in practical railway management, that where two or more railway lines, starting from a common point in the West, reach by different routes a place on the seaboard common to them all, the short line shall make the rate and the longer may follow it, without regard to the rate per ton per mile charged by the nearer route. It is believed that this is the present theory and practice of the trunk lines. If this principle is sound in cases where railway lines reach the same place by diverging routes, it must be equally sound where they reach points in geographical opposition to each other, which do a foreign and coastwise traffic. We take it, further, that the theory of the Baltimore and Ohio and the Pennsylvania Railways is untenable, from the fact that it makes no fixed difference in rate between the different points of export on the seaboard. The rate per ton per mile is of no consequence to the shipper; he is governed wholly by the price per bushel or hundred pounds. His choice of a port through which to transact his business is not affected whether the rate per ton per mile is half a cent or two cents and a half, provided, always, that the rate per bushel or per one hundred pounds is as much to one point as another. Assuming that the difference in distance from Chicago to the seaboard is ten per cent. in favor of Baltimore as against New-York—a rate of twenty cents per hundred to New-York, with this difference, gives eighteen cents to Baltimore, so small a difference per bushel as to give no material advantage to that port over New-York, except for some slight advantage in its lesser port charges—and this belongs to another and different range of questions, involving the whole subject of terminal facilities.

If, however, the rate from Chicago to New-York is advanced to fifty cents per hundred, the discrimination is five cents per hundred against New-York, a sum sufficiently large to draw the business away from its accustomed channels and send it to the favored cities. The difference in favor of Baltimore from the South-west is still more marked than from Chicago. At all events, under the compact of March 2, by which the rates on East-bound freight were fixed on a mileage basis, and the Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroads reduced the rebates of three cents per one hundred pounds on all grain exported from Baltimore and Philadelphia to one and a half, there was a marked decrease of the export of cereals from New-York and a corresponding increase in those from Philadelphia and Baltimore. Both the trade of New-York and the business of the New-York Central suffered under the then existing method of fixing rates from the West to the seaboard. Finally, Mr. VANDERBILT claimed that the right to make the rate to the further port—on traffic which was to any degree competitive—the same as to the nearer port must be conceded.

Upon the refusal of the Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania Central Railroads to admit this principle, Mr. VANDERBILT withdrew from the compact, and made the current rate from the West so low that the difference based upon the rate per ton per mile practically disappeared. The term "equal rates" is somewhat vague. It may, however, be fairly taken to mean, that property shipped from Western centres shall cost no more through one port than another, after it is on board ship and out at sea. What difference in rail charges, if any, from Western centres to Atlantic seaboard cities will accomplish this result, those expert in the theory and practice of transportation are best able to judge. It is altogether probable that neither the New-York Central Railway nor the merchants of New-York will be satisfied with anything less than equal terms for all three ports.

FORFEITURES IN LIFE INSURANCE.

Southern legal circles give to the recent decision of the Supreme Court in regard to life insurance policies forfeited by the war, a scope much wider than the Court intended or the equities of the case would allow. The decision was, in substance, that persons prevented by the rebellion from continuing payment of premiums to New-York companies in which their lives were insured, are entitled to recover from the companies what is technically termed "the present value" of the policies. Judge BRADLEY, who rendered the decision of the majority of the Bench, defined this present value to be the difference between the premium originally paid and the premium that would be paid at the higher age of the person if now insured—an incorrect definition, as it seems to us, and one less equitable than that conveyed by ordinary insurance practice. But the limitations of the decision are plain. They presuppose the absence of negligence, or of failure from every-day causes, to continue the payment of the premium, and the existence of causes beyond the control of the insured. Upon this condition the justice of the decision turns. Southern lawyers, however, as reported by the Mobile Register, contend that "the principle laid down by the court is such that all parties who have taken out policies of life insurance, and then failed, through one cause or another, to continue the payment of premiums, can recover the equitable value of the amounts so paid by them." Of the legal worth of the argument we cannot speak, but its inequitable character is obvious. A Massachusetts law does, indeed, give effect to the view reported from Mobile, and efforts have been made by insurance sentimentalists to obtain a similar enactment in this State. But in the absence of such a law, persons insured in New-York companies have no appeal from the rules of the companies in relation to forfeited policies, unless the forfeiture resulted from the withdrawal of the agencies in the South during the war.

If we pass from the domain of law to the domain of moral right, the course pursued by the New-York companies in the cases brought before the Supreme Court seems wholly indefensible. They had solicited the business in the Southern States, and had resident agents to transact it, and when, under the necessities of war, the agencies were withdrawn, they should have at least offered to their Southern customers the surrender value of their policies. If that were not at the time feasible, the values should have been credited in the companies' books to the policy-holders, to await the restoration of peace. The settlement which a judicial decision now makes obligatory was, we believe, voluntarily effected by some Northern companies. Others preferred to appropriate to their own uses sums which rightfully belonged to the persons whose policies had been forfeited, and to whom they must now pay compensation.

No branch of the life insurance business needs more the infusion of a broad, liberal spirit than that which deals with lapsed and surrendered policies. The Massachusetts law is an attempt to meet the requirement; not a wise attempt, we think, but one that acknowledges the existence of a flagrant wrong. Similar legislation in this State should be rendered unnecessary by the action of the companies themselves. Their records show, from year to year, the dropping of immense numbers of policies, which in the aggregate represent a very heavy loss to policy-holders, who are unable to pay the renewal premiums, or who desire from other causes to close the transaction. No honestly managed company fails to meet in some way those who surrender their policies—seldom as generously as they ought to be met, but still to an extent which sensibly mitigates the loss. There are, however, various forms of loss for which the companies make no allowance; as there are various other contingencies connected with the maintenance of policies for which no just provision is made. In many points of practice of this kind, our companies might usefully learn much from the better class of English and Scottish companies. In regard to the period of grace allowed for the payment of renewal premiums, the British companies are more accommodating than our own, and in other respects they set an example which our managers might study with advantage to their policy-holders, and with decided gain to the business. The proneness to litigation is a characteristic of some of our companies, which has no parallel abroad, and it is one of the causes of the distrust from which life insurance suffers.

PROGRESS IN JAPAN.

Sir CHARLES DILKE has contributed to the Fortnightly Review for October an article on "English Influence in Japan" which strikingly portrays, in outline at least, the extent of the revolution through which that Empire is passing, for it would be premature to say that the revolution was ended. Japan, before the deposition of the Tycoon, was nominally governed by a God-Emperor—the Mikado—but really by his Mayor of the Palace, the Tycoon. It would, however, be a mistake to infer that the power of the Tycoon was absolute. The country was, in reality, made up of semi-independent States or Dukedoms, with a Daimio or Duke at the head of each, and each Daimio, as well as the whole body of Daimios, formed a most effectual check upon the despotic tendencies of the Tycoon. Government was carried on through the Daimios, and any measure unpopular with them was defeated sooner or later. The state of the country bears some analogy, though not a close one, to that of France before RICHELIEU welded the Dukedoms into a monarchy. The Government of the provinces was carried on by the Daimios through a bureau of counselors. These counselors in reality made the revolution, though it was nominally made in the Mikado's name, and if the revolution becomes thoroughly organized and permanent, the Mikado, because harmless, will possibly be the only remnant of the old order to remain in the Government. The Daimios will be abolished in name, as well as in fact. In religious matters the radicalism, not to say Vandalism, of the new Government of Japan has not been paralleled since Sir THOMAS CROMWELL'S "visitation of the monasteries," under HENRY VIII. Buddhism is nominally the religion of two-thirds of the inhabitants of Japan, and yet Sir CHARLES DILKE says "the Government proposed to sell Dai-Butz, a bronze and silver Buddha sixty feet high, which is unequaled in Eastern religious art, and this act of Vandalism was prevented only by the interference of some of the foreign ministers." It is suspected, too, that the present Government desires to destroy the magnificent tombs of the Tycoons at Tokio. It has already "purified," as it called, great numbers of Buddhist temples, the purification leading in most cases to the sale, as old bronze, of Buddhist idols and temple bells. That the Japanese people themselves are as indifferent in religious matters as their Governors is shown by the popularity of such reforms. DILKE says "their attitude toward the Mikado seems to be the only exception to their general want of veneration, which is accompanied by a total absence of religious fanaticism, and I think must be added, of religious reverence. The only temple in Japan inside or which I ever saw a crowd, unless there was a wrestling performance going on within the walls, was that of Asaksa, in the capital. This temple is the centre of a sort of fair, or as the whole of Tokio resembles the fair of St. Cloud more than it does anything else in Europe, the centre of a fair within a fair—the waxwork show and big drum portion of the fair. The Temple of Asaksa is entirely surrounded by peep-shows and shooting-galleries, and is always crowded, but more, I think, by sight-seeing country people out of curiosity than by the people of the capital from religious motives."

Other signs of progress in Japan, are a standing army of about fifty thousand men, greatly increased expenditures of the Government—now averaging about fifty millions of dollars a year—and if we mistake not, a growing national debt. The Post Office Department, according to Sir CHARLES DILKE, "has in four years—it was only established in 1871—beaten Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Turkey, and Greece. Three thousand five hundred post offices have been already opened, and the increase of letters posted is at the rate of fifty per cent. a year. As the Postmaster General says in his report for 1875, 'the enormous increase of fifty-six per cent. on the revenue of the preceding year is due to the rapid progress of civilization.'" The light-house system is modeled after the best European precedents, and in some cases seems to be superior to them. In one word, everything in Japan is revolutionized, with the sole exception of the theatre; "Old Japan, as far as costume and social observances are concerned, may be compared with revolutionary Japan at the theatres, where are played interminable historic dramas, wholly composed on the old state of things. There the two-sworded Samurai still walk the stage, and the Tycoon's soldiers still wear their hideous masks, and Daimios, in magnificent trousers, preceded and followed by their banners and processions of retainers, still force the people to prostrate themselves in the dust."

It seems that the increase of revenue has not kept pace with the progress of civilization and revolution. "Trade is rather decreasing than increasing; tea and silk are the chief exports, and Japanese tea is peculiar and does not easily find new markets, while the growth of the silk trade in Italy is doing serious damage to Japan." Brought face to face with decreasing revenue and increasing expenditures, the revolutionary Governors of Japan propose to reduce the pensions of the nobles settled at the outset of the revolution, which virtually amounts to confiscation. Radical as Sir CHARLES DILKE is, he was astonished that no one raised the cry of "vested rights." In fact, he says that every Japanese official was astonished at the mildest hint in this direction. Of course, whether this expedient succeeds or not it can only be temporary, although the Japanese pension list amounts to about fourteen millions of dollars in gold per year. Unless Japanese financiers find some means to make their revenues and expenditures balance, one can easily foresee that a crisis will come, and that speedily. Progress which is constantly running a nation into debt will sooner or later be compelled to give way, at least for a season, to conservatism or reaction which holds out the prospect of keeping out of debt. These people are, according to all observers, the most jovial and fun-loving of races. "Japan is the last refuge of the joyous life," but we may feel sure that this life itself will shortly give way in the presence of the grim necessities of competition with Western nations. The great hope of Japan seems to lie in the inherent cleverness and intelligence of its people and in its apparently inexhaustible stores of mineral wealth. "There is scarcely a part of the Empire which does not contain minerals. Coal is plentiful in the north; gold, copper, tin, lead, iron, iron-sand, plumbago, antimony, copperas, cobalt, and sulphur are abundant; there is much marble, rock-salt, amber, fire-clay, porcelain clay, petroleum, alum, rock-crystal, and some silver. With the exception of coal, these minerals are scattered all over the southern islands." It will require foreign capital to make this mineral wealth productive, and foreign capital will not flow in until the Government becomes thoroughly established at home, and obtains a recognized status among the nations of the world.

THE CIRCULATION OF NEEDLES.

A Portuguese physician has recently recovered from different localities in the area of a young lady's person, eighty needles which she had swallowed either from hunger, a desire to store up needles for future use, or to amuse the children.

Many great discoveries have been made, the necessity of which had never dawned upon the public until some one suddenly decided to make them. Thus, long before HARVEY discovered the circulation of the blood people knew that the blood circulated, but did not think it worth while to formally discover it. Every scientific person whose nose had been contused in the course of a scientific argument had noticed that his blood immediately circulated all over his shirt-bosom, but it was left for the astute HARVEY to announce that he had discovered that the blood was addicted to habitual circulation. It is perfectly well known that needles, when swallowed by the girl of our species, immediately begin to circulate all over her system, cropping out here and there in the most unexpected places. Yet scientific persons who wonder that HARVEY did not sooner discover the circulation of the human blood, delay to discover the circulation of the human needle, and it is in the hope of stimulating discovery in this direction that the attention of the public is now called to the facts concerning the circulation of needles.

From time immemorial certain girls with abnormal appetites have been in the habit of swallowing needles. It is probable that the needle supplies in a more satisfactory degree that feminine demand for sharp and pungent food which most of the sex try to satisfy with pickles and lemons. If the needle is swallowed eye first, it usually finds its way into the stomach with ease and rapidity, and when once there, its first effect is very much like that of red pepper or Chutney sauce. But unlike the latter article of diet, the needle passes directly into the system without undergoing the preliminary process of digestion, and begins to circulate not only through the intersitices of the body but through new paths which it opens in every direction. Needles that have thus started from the stomach have been detected in the back of the head, or in the extremity of the remotest finger. In fact, there is nothing that is more rash and dangerous than for an affectionate father to clasp his needle-fed daughter in his arms. Like the fabled figure of the Virgin which made part of every well conducted inquisitorial torture-room, and which on being embraced by a recanting heretic suddenly radiated pen-knives in all directions, and thus cut the worshiping victim into fine slices, the needle-fed daughter may at any moment prick her affectionate parent in unexpected places and stimulate him to language of the most unfatherly nature. She becomes as dangerous as a buzz-saw, and the lover who furtively clasps her hand during church service, is apt to scandalize the congregation by suddenly remarking "ouch" at moments when the Liturgy requires no such response. There is only one contingency in which this kind of girl becomes useful, and that is when there is a sudden demand for a needle. At such moments a careful investigation of her surface is nearly always rewarded by the discovery of the protrusive point of the desired implement, which is uniformaly free from rust, and in a condition for immediate use. Still, the demand for needles is rarely so importunate as to justify the systematic conversion of a girl into a peripatetic needle-case, and the most earnest seamstresses prefer to carry small needle-cases in their pockets, rather than to swallow a paperful and trust to nature to bring them to the surface.

No scientific person will dream of denying that the circulation of needles is regulated by some law of nature. We do not as yet know what that law is by which scores of needles ceaselessly flow backward and forward through the young person who has swallowed them, but we may safely decide that they are not set in motion and directed merely by chance. If they made their way directly toward the feet we might assume that the force of gravity governed their course, but it is a well-established fact that a needle that has traveled from the stomach to the left foot will frequently retrace its path and emerge behind the right ear. Gravity has thus nothing to do with the matter, and some other force must be credited with this remarkable result.

The theory that magnetic action is the cause of the circulation of needles is also untenable. When duly magnetized, the needle is sure to have a habit of pointing toward the pole; but the needles that circulate in the human system, neither point toward any specified pole, nor are they magnetized. Young ladies who swallow needles prefer them raw, and there is not a case on record in which a needle epicure has first subjected her needles to the appetizing process of magnetization. Even the theory that every young lady has her own personal poles, to which needles may point in preference to pointing to the earthly poles, is without the slightest scientific evidence. It is true, that a girl who has swallowed a paper of needles, may reasonably revolve on her axis in a ball-room, but she has no regular and unintermittent revolution, and we have no right to assume that she possesses either poles or an equator, or that the needles which she may have introduced into her system turn invariably in any one direction.

The whole subject is involved in mystery. We know that needles are frequently swallowed, and that they then immediately begin to circulate, but that is really all we know concerning the matter. This is an obvious reproach to our scientific men. They pretend to tell us exactly how the blood is turned on at the heart, and how, when nature once pulls the "starting bar," the blood rushes through the open valves, and continues to flow until death shuts it off; but when we ask what law regulates the circulation of needles they are dumb. Meanwhile, the silent needle is perforating its way through the tissues of eccentric girls, and pursuing its appointed course with a smoothness and certainty of circulation which are in the highest degree marvelous. The Portuguese physician who is now busy in eliminating an excess of needles from the system of his patient has an excellent opportunity for investigating the matter thoroughly, and he may yet make a discovery which will render his name as famous as that of HARVEY.

FATAL DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 12.—Ferdinand McKew was killed and Daniel Hagerty severely injured by the explosion of a dynamite cartridge in a tunnel in Baltimore County last evening. McKew was preparing the cartridge when it exploded; his body was blown to atoms. He was from Bergen, N. J. Hagerty's right leg was broken, and his body terribly bruised; he was from Altoona, Penn.

VIEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

A REPUBLICAN VICTORY CONCEDED.

OPINION OF THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY—THE DUTY OF THE GOVERNMENT IS TO ENFORCE AN HONEST COUNT—SENATOR EDMUNDS ON THE SITUATION—REPORTS FROM VARIOUS SECTIONS.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The excitement in Washington on account of the election has abated considerably, and is followed by an intense state of anxiety, which finds quiet expression everywhere and at all times. The feeling has generally become settled that the definite determination of the result must await the meeting of the Louisiana Returning Board next Friday. Republicans are confirmed in their confidence of Hayes' election, and Democrats are becoming less assured in their claims. They are beginning to admit the probability of Tilden's defeat, and are accommodating their feelings to that result. This cannot be said of the Democratic shouters who stick to the election of Tilden as a party duty till all the formalities of defeat are completed. There are but few prominent public men now in the city, save the members of the Cabinet and two or three Senators. All who are here talk freely on the situation. There is one marked feature of the conversation of all leading Republicans; they have the utmost confidence that Hayes is elected by the votes cast, and the only question of doubt is the ability to secure an honest count and announcement of the returns. All upheld the prompt action of the President, as soon as it was known that the reversal of the result was determined upon by the Democrats after the votes were cast and their defeat learned, and the localities for their operations revealed.

Secretary Morrill was requested by the Rothschilds to telegraph them who was elected President at as early a time as was convenient. He replied on Wednesday that the canvass was close, and Tilden probably elected; but day before yesterday he telegraphed again that Hayes was probably elected. The Secretary says he thinks there is no question of Hayes' election, except whatever doubt may arise from the unknown power of the Democrats for mischief. That the votes of Florida, South Carolina, and Louisiana were honestly for Hayes he has no doubt whatever. This must be true, unless there were a political revolution among the people, which results elsewhere showed there was not. All these States, in his opinion, should give decided Republican majorities, and the presumption on that fact was in favor of their having done so now; then there are the dispatches from our own people, claiming them confidently, and this confirmed the natural probabilities. The Democrats telegraphed just as strong claims, which indicated their belief that they had succeeded in doing a good deal of mischief. Above all things, there must be an honest count, and if Hayes was elected it was the duty of the Republican Party and of the Government to see that he was not cheated out of the election. Mr. Morrill has great confidence in the result.

Senator Edmunds, of Vermont, arrived in the city within a day or two, and will remain at his residence here till next Summer. He was asked by the President, and urged by others, to go to New-Orleans to be present at the counting of the votes; but he has been compelled to decline on account of his health. Two or three years ago he contracted Roman fever while abroad, and its effects still linger with him so that he is extremely sensitive to ague malaria. He has a renewed attack from his visit to Ohio, and he would put at risk the health necessary to attend the Senate this winter by a southward trip so far as New-Orleans. He said, in substance, in reply to a request for his opinion, that there could be no doubt that the majorities in the three States now held in suspense were rightfully Republican. If the Democrats claim they are not, said he, then they must admit that they have converted the negroes by force or persuasion into Democratic voters. This has not been done, and the negroes have been prevented by intimidation from going to the polls at all. How far this cause might have taken effect he could not personally know; but he reviewed the situation in each of the States, and showed that it was improbable that the rightful Republican majorities were overcome by the votes cast, and an honest count must be protected. He referred to the controversy that was likely to arise next Winter in Congress, but did not speak further of it than to intimate the prospect of an investigation.

Hon. Eugene Hale, of Maine, left here to-night for New-Orleans. He expects to meet E. W. Stoughton, Esq., of New-York, on the train at Harrisburg, and travel with him. Before leaving Mr. Hale said there could be no room for doubt that by the votes actually cast the Republicans had majorities in the three States—Florida, South Carolina, and Louisiana, Hayes has the votes, he says, and the only question now is whether he shall have the count. All the latest information was confirmatory of the Republican success in those States, and it could not be overturned except by the destruction of ballots and returns and attacks upon the bearers of returns to those places where they were to be finally condensed and announced, and by all such means as the ingenuity of the politicians who managed the Democratic canvass in New-York would suggest. It was the imperative duty of the Government to protect the count of the votes as cast.

Senator Patterson gives the following explanation of the duties of the Board of Canvassers of South Carolina: "The board was convened on Friday last, at Columbia, and will commence to canvass the returns to-morrow. Under the law of the State the canvass must be completed and declared on Thursday next. The board is required to accept evidence in every instance where fraud is charged, and if the evidence shall satisfy them that frauds have been practiced they are required to throw out the returns proved to be fraudulent. This is not discretionary but mandatory. They cannot cause a return to be thrown out or corrected on their own motion. Fraud must be specifically and formally charged by reputable citizens of the county in which frauds are alleged to have been perpetrated, and the charges must be sustained by competent and sufficient testimony before the board can act. The allegation made by Democrats that the board has plenary power is entirely groundless."

The following dispatch was received to-day:

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12, 1876.

To Hon. Z. Chandler, Secretary of the Interior:

We have alarming rumors here that South Carolina and Louisiana are to be snatched from us by violence and fraud. Will you not telegraph us fully the situation? Oregon is safe beyond all question. O. P. MORTON,
A. A. SARGENT.

The reply was that both States are ours on a fair vote, and we are determined to protect the vote as cast. Gov. Chamberlain has telegraphed to-day that, giving the Democrats of that State all they claim for majorities in their counties, Hayes has carried the State by about six hundred votes. This would leave Hampton elected, but Chamberlain claims there will be a Republican majority of 7,000 or 8,000.

There is evidence received every day of a very highly inflamed state of the Southern mind. A gentleman from West Virginia, where white Republicans have heretofore lived on terms of social equality with their Democratic neighbors, says the work of social ostracism has begun. Democrats who were rebels are declining association with those living with them in an equal station, and undoubtedly intend to drive all Republicans from the State. The intolerance toward Republicans is said to be indescribable. Gen. Kilpatrick's Southern visit is another example. He was in Raleigh, N. C., last Thursday. His presence caused considerable excitement, and gave great offense to the Democracy, who imagined that the purpose of his visit was to tamper with the election returns. The General had not been at the Yarborough House more than an hour, when a crowd gathered in front of the hotel and began shouting and hooting. This was kept up until 2 o'clock in the morning. During the evening George T. Stonath, a leading Democrat, entered the hotel at the head of a belligerent gang, inquired for Kilpatrick, and declared his purpose to tar and feather him, and ride him on a rail. Some of the Democrats took a room opposite the one occupied by the Republican Committee, and maintained strict watch all night. The corridor was crowded with a swaggering, noisy crowd of roughs, who made loud threats of violence against Kilpatrick. They were restrained from greater violence by the efforts of the proprietor of the hotel. Gen. Kilpatrick was meanwhile quietly occupying a room in another part of the hotel, ignorant of the cause of the commotion. On Friday morning the Raleigh News claimed that it was the highest evidence of Southern forbearance that Kilpatrick was permitted to remain upon North Carolina soil without molestation.

Secretary Chandler says he is constantly in receipt of dispatches which clearly show that Hayes has carried Florida, Louisiana, and South Carolina. These dispatches contain no particulars in addition to those already published, and the evidence they furnish of Hayes' election is simply cumulative. He says the public now know all that can be known of details until the official vote can be received from the three States named, and he has no doubt whatever that the final count will show 185 votes for Hayes and Wheeler. He believes it was the purpose of the Democrats to practice frauds in the canvass of the returns in Louisiana and Florida, but everything possible has been done to defeat such efforts and secure a fair and honest return of the votes cast.

Gen. Sherman had a long interview with the President to-night in reference to the movement of troops. This afternoon Gen. Sheridan was ordered to New-Orleans to take command of the forces now there. He left Chicago to-night for that city, and upon his arrival at New-Orleans will make such disposition of the troops as will secure the public peace in any emergency. Secretary Cameron says there are sufficient troops at New-Orleans, Columbia, S. C., and in Florida, to quell any disturbance that may occur. He is confident that Hayes has been elected, and says the Government has taken such steps as will insure the election officers against intimidation or violence, and enable them to make a declaration of the result without interference from outside parties. The officers of the National Government cannot interfere with the duties of election boards, nor will they permit the interference of any unauthorized persons. The action of the President in the premises has been taken to insure a fair return, and to furnish the people of the country with satisfactory evidence that the verdict of Tuesday, whatever it may be when declared, has been free from fraud.

The following dispatch sufficiently answers an absurd rumor that Senator Conover had sent a telegram to New-York conceding that Florida was carried by Tilden:

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 11, 1876.
J. M. McGrew, Sixth Auditor, Washington:
The State has voted for Hayes and Wheeler beyond doubt. S. B. CONOVER.

A STATUE TO HAMILTON.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

I have noticed the article on this subject in your issue of the 12th inst. with much satisfaction, and hope the suggestions contained therein will find a ready response from our citizens. Of all the statesmen of the past century, no one was more prominent or did more as a patriot during the early days of the Confederation than Hamilton. Who can read the resolutions which he drew up to be submitted to Congress in 1783, but which "for want of support" at the time were abandoned, without feeling how much the country is indebted to this great man—for these resolutions contain the "first germ" of the present Constitution—and without noticing that had Hamilton's far-reaching views been availed of, many of the troubles which have existed under the Constitution would have been saved? It was Hamilton who "smote the rock of the national resources and abundant revenue gushed forth," at a time when national bankruptcy seemed almost sure, and it is to him our country is as much indebted as to any one for its present national greatness.

Hamilton, though differing widely with some of the prominent statesmen of his time, was a patriot, and a statue to his memory could well be made national, but it would certainly be more proper that it should be erected by the citizens of the City so closely connected with the name and fame of this great statesman. Let some steps be taken by our prominent citizens for this object.

The writer, one of your subscribers for many years, will be ready to contribute $100 for the erection of "A Statue to Hamilton," to be placed in some prominent position in our City in memory of one who was the staff on which Washington leaned in many a dark hour of our country's peril, and who in every position represented the Government, not only with the greatest ability, but with honesty and integrity.

SUNDAY, Nov. 12, 1876.

SINGULAR CHANCE.

A Pennsylvania paper relates the following: "A week or two since a gentleman who resides in this vicinity went to Philadelphia and put up at a hotel, and while resting after tea in the reception-room, overheard two gentlemen conversing in regard to a trial then in progress before one of the courts of that city. Our neighbor learned from this conversation that a man had obtained money upon his wife's property, the wife giving a mortgage. The money was spent in dissipation, the wife became a raving maniac, and was confined in the asylum, where she now is; the husband died, and the children of this unfortunate couple were furnished with a guardian by the court, who was maintaining the suit, then being tried, against the holder of the mortgage, on the ground that the wife was not of legal age when the instrument was executed. The gentleman knew that a niece of his, who left this vicinity when a child, had married a man of the same name as the one mentioned as having squandered his wife's patrimony, and concluded to investigate. He made his way to the Court-house the following morning, and to his intense surprise and gratification was the very person needed to establish to a certainty the age of the unfortunate woman, and to save to her worse than orphaned children property valued at $2,500."

SITTING BULL.

The Cleveland Herald prints some extracts from a letter written by an officer of high rank in the Army to his wife now in that city. The letter is dated Camp on Bad Route Creek, en route for Tongue River, Oct. 28, and says: "I presume you will learn before this reaches you that we have won a decided victory. I have had two long councils with Sitting Bull and his head chiefs, one serious engagement, and driven his party forty-three miles, and finally received the surrender of his principal chiefs as a guarantee that their tribes would continue their retreat and remain at peace at their agency, subject to the orders of our Government. This is the only time that Sitting Bull has ever been fought and followed up, and the only time that these hostile Indians have surrendered to troops in the field. * * * Now that we have broken and divided one part of Sitting Bull's Army I intend to move immediately north in pursuit of the remainder. I presume we will have a fight of some magnitude, but I think we will be successful."

FIFTY-TWO YEARS' MINISTRY.

The Albany Journal of Saturday evening last says: "On Sunday morning, Rev. Ebenezer E. Halley, for many years Pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church, in this city, will preach his last sermon. It is a fact, well known to most of the church-going population of our city, that Rev. Dr. Halley has now nearly completed his fifty-second year in the Christian ministry—a truly remarkable and exceptional record of usefulness. Nearly half of that period has been spent in the ministry in this city."

THE CLOSING EXHIBITION.

FACTS AND FIGURES REGARDING IT.

STIMULATING EFFECT ON THE SLUGGISH PHILADELPHIAN — COMPARISON WITH THE EXHIBITIONS OF OTHER COUNTRIES —THE RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURES— THE QUESTION OF REFUNDING THE GOVERNMENT APPROPRIATION OF $1,500,000 —HOPES OF THE STOCKHOLDERS AND THE ACT OF CONGRESS IN CONFLICT.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—The closing of the great Centennial Exhibition has brought this city back to something like its previous condition of quietude. The departure of the strangers has been so sudden that one wonders where they could have gone to. There was a great rush from the hotels yesterday, the Continental alone losing several hundred, and the smaller hotels in proportion. Yesterday was the first time since the 29th of August that accommodations were not refused to applicants. The benefits which Philadelphia has derived from the Exhibition are numerous. It has given her a metropolitan name, afforded an opportunity for an inspection of her numerous manufactories, and showed to persons from abroad the vast mineral wealth of the State. The Centennial has advanced Philadelphia about twenty years further on in the way of enterprise, and has given such a stimulus to business men that they venture into schemes now which, before the Exposition, would have been pooh-poohed and declared by the staid citizens to be hair-brained and only to be entertained by a New-Yorker.

It is estimated that the number of strangers who visited Philadelphia during the past six months has been slightly over three millions. This does not include those who made one day excursions from near points like New-York or Baltimore, but those who registered either at the hotels or private boarding-houses, and made a stay of a couple of days. The Exhibition, in the opinion of the managers, had two drawbacks to begin with, which in a measure tended to lessen the attendance. These were, first, the refusal of the railroad companies to lower their rates more than twenty-five per cent., and the second, the extreme warm weather of the Summer. This latter was the most disastrous feature, and caused great fear upon the part of the managers that the Exhibition would prove a failure in consequence; but happily the bad features passed away, and the attendance during the months of September and October made up the deficiencies. Had it not been for the causes named, the attendance would have been not less than ten millions, whereas it barely passes eight millions.

The official count of the attendance for Friday, the last open day, has not been concluded, but as there is seldom any difference in the figures between the register of the turnstiles and the official figures, the total paying attendance, since the opening, may be set down at 8,004,013. The cash receipts will be nearly $3,850,000. The actual working expenses have been nearly $1,830,000, thus leaving from this source alone an excess of $2,000,000. This is not the only source of revenue, large sums being realized from concessions made to corporations and individuals to dispose of specialties within the grounds, as, for instance, $3,000 paid by the pop-corn man to vend his corn; $50,000 by Bergner & Engel to dispose of lager-beer; $100,000 by the Official Catalogue Company for the exclusive right to print and sell their guide to the exhibits; $16,000 for the right to establish the Department of Public Comfort. Then the exhibitors who disposed of goods on the grounds were assessed fifteen per cent. on all sales. These large receipts, which aggregated over a million dollars from the two latter sources alone, will swell the total receipts for the Exhibition to such figures as to make the stockholders feel happy. The great bugbear is the United States Government, as it is feared the million-and-a-half of dollars obtained from it will have to be paid back before there is a dividend among the stockholders, from the fact that the act of Congress provides that the United States shall be paid before "any profits" are paid to the stockholders. This matter will be carried to the Supreme Court, and, unless Congress can settle it in some manner beforehand, the probabilities are that a decision will not be reached on the subject for two years. This is a topic which is exciting great interest, especially among the stockholders, who hope for a dividend of at least eighty per cent.

The Exhibition was open 159 days, and unlike all other international fairs the attendance did not show the largest figures at the close. This may be accounted for by the fact of the excitement over the Presidential election. The attendance at the Centennial Exhibition compared with international exhibitions of other countries shows the following:

Year. Place.	No. of Visitors.	Receipts.	Days Open.
1851—London	6,039,195	$2,530,000	141
1855—Paris	5,162,330	640,500	200
1862—London	6,211,103	2,300,000	171
1867—Paris	10,000,000	2,822,932	210
1873—Vienna	7,254,687	2,000,000	186
1876—Philadelphia	9,907,125	3,850,000	159

An important fact in connection with the above showing is that the aggregate population within seven days' travel of the Centennial Exhibition, does not exceed forty-five millions, while the aggregate population within seven days' travel of either of the other great exhibitions was not far short of two hundred millions. The average daily number of pay admissions by the month, as the fame of the exhibition grew among the people, was as follows:

May, average daily number	19,946
June, average daily number	26,756
July, average daily number	24,481
August, average daily number	33,655
September, average daily number	81,961
October, average daily number	102,456

The attendance on the various State days shows the following:

State.	Paid.	Free.	Total.	Receipts.
N. J., Aug. 24	56,325	10,727	67,052	$23,063 75
Conn., Sept. 7	64,059	10,985	75,044	30,853 75
Mass., Sept. 14	85,795	12,073	97,868	41,193 00
N. Y., Sept. 21	122,003	12,585	134,588	59,986 00
Penn., Sept. 28	257,169	17,750	274,919	118,673 75
R. I., Oct. 5	89,060	11,886	100,946	44,496 00
N. H., Oct. 12	101,541	13,881	115,422	50,536 00
Dl. & Md., Oct. 19	161,355	15,052	176,407	80,367 50
Ohio, Oct. 26	122,300	13,361	135,661	61,092 50

The average attendance at the Exhibition was about 50,000 per day for the entire period it remained open, being 40,000 less then the figures counted upon before the opening to meet all expenses. Below will be found a statement showing the total number of American exhibitors at the Centennial, and other international exhibitions, and also the total number of exhibitors at all exhibitions, except Vienna:

Year. Place.	American Exhibitors.	Total Exhibitors.
1851—London	499	13,937
1853—New-York	2,083	4,685
1855—Paris	144	20,839
1862—London	128	28,653
1867—Paris	705	42,217
1873—Vienna	922	....
1876—Philadelphia	8,175	30,864

The scheme for the permanent Exhibition has received great encouragement, and large subscriptions, by stock and money, have been made; but should it be decided that the United States Government has to be paid first, it is presumed that it will be a death-blow to the idea, and it is hardly possible that those parties who have subscribed their Centennial stock to the new affair, will make it good with cash, in case they do not realize eighty per cent. on their stock, which is the amount they hope for.

THE GROUNDS OPEN YESTERDAY—THE CENTENNIAL COMMISSION—THE VARIOUS STATE BUILDINGS—CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE GOVERNMENT OF FOREIGN COLLECTIONS IN NATURE AND ART.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—According to announcement, the Exhibition grounds were thrown open to the public to-day, and were visited by immense crowds of people. The turnstiles were closed, ingress and egress being had only by the wagon gates, through which pedestrians only were admitted. The transportation facilities for reaching the site from the city being limited to those of the horse passenger railways, all the cars of these lines going west were uncomfortably filled during the greater part of the day, while thousands reached the ground on foot. The order for closing the buildings to the public was rigidly enforced as to the Exhibition buildings proper, and no one except the guards and janitors on duty were permitted to enter; but at several of the principal restaurants customers were admitted as on week days, and refreshments were provided. No record of the number of visitors was obtainable, but a rough estimate of the attendance places the aggregate at about one hundred thousand.

The United States Centennial Commission will probably adjourn on Tuesday afternoon for a period of several months, and in the meantime the revision of accounts and the final reports of the body will be matured by the committees of the commission. The ordinary details of business will be under the supervision of the Executive Committee. At a meeting on Saturday a committee was appointed to make such a disposition of the remaining business as would facilitate adjournment. Various awards recommended by the supplemental group of judges were approved. The entire list of additional awards authorized by the commission is now being matured for publication. The fund realized by the Committee on Concessions, from the royalty of fifteen per cent. on all sales of beer and soda water on the grounds, will amount to $500,000.

With the exception of those of Ohio and one or two other States, all of the State buildings on the grounds have been placed on the market, and in several instances have already found purchasers. At a meeting of the New-York State Board on Friday, at the grounds, the head-quarters of that State were sold to Mr. Vincent Collier, of New-York, for $500.

The amount of valuable collections in nature and art acquired by the Government of the United States from recent presentations of exhibits from foreign exhibitors and Commissioners at the exhibition is represented to be most gratifying. Nearly every Government represented on the grounds has presented something, while many have given all, and others the greater portion of their specimens in certain specialties. In the departments of natural history, mineralogy, and geology, especially, the presentations have been exceptionally large. The splendid collection of minerals from Russia is among the most recent of these. All collections have been taken in charge by the Smithsonian Institution, and will be removed to the National Museum at Washington. On Saturday, Hon. Morton McMichael, President of the Fairmount Park Commission, received a letter from the Resident Commissioners of the German Empire, presenting the German Pavilion in the Exhibition grounds, to the city of Philadelphia, as a memento of the good will and entire satisfaction of the Imperial Government.

AMUSEMENTS.

MISCELLANEOUS MENTION.

"The Flying Dutchman" will be given this week in Baltimore.

Mr. Carlberg will produce Wagner's "Die Walküre" in this City, next Spring.

Preparations are now progressing, at Booth's Theatre, for the production of Mr. Rowe's new play called "Fifth Avenue."

A brief season of Italian opera, with Signor Mazzoleni as the chief attraction, is likely to be given at the Academy of Music, in December.

Miss Neilson, terminated, on Saturday, a most brilliant engagement at the Walnut Street Theatre, in Philadelphia. To-night she appears at the Opera-House, in Pittsburg.

The Soldene Troupe, under the management of Mr. C. A. Chizzola, have added to their répertoire several of the newest French operas bouffes. Their representations commence at the Boston Globe on Saturday evening next.

FOREIGN NOTES.

Mme. Titiens has just been singing at the Alexandra Theatre, in Liverpool.

"Bounce" is the title of a new and unsuccessful comedy just produced at the Opera Comique Theatre, in London.

Mlle. Marimon is to continue her representations at the Théâtre Lyrique in "La Fanchonette" and "La Perle du Brésil."

Mme. Céline Chaumont has signed an engagement for three years at the Paris Variétés, commencing the 1st of March next.

Mr. Tom Taylor's "Clancarty" has been reproduced at the Olympic Theatre in London. Miss Belle Pateman plays Lady Clancarty.

M. George Petit has just read to the actors at the Cluny Theatre, in Paris, a drama in five acts, the provisional title of which is the "Homme de Paille."

A five-act drama, called "Le Comtesse de Levins," written by Dennery and Davyl has met with partial success only at the Théâtre Historique, in Paris.

Mlle. Borghi-Mamo and Signors Aramburo, Pandolfini, and Nannetti have opened the Italian opera season at the Salle Ventadour, in Paris, with "La Forza del Destino."

M. Wieniawski had reappeared in London after his recovery from a spell of severe illness. He played Beethoven's violin concerto at the last Crystal Palace Saturday afternoon concert.

A three-act operetta called "Jeanne, Jeannette, et Jeanneton" has been produced at the Folies Dramatiques, in Paris. The music is by M. Lacome, and the success of the work is represented to have been very great.

M. Ballande has opened the Théâtre Déjazet, in Paris, under the high-sounding name of "Troisième Théâtre Français." The first work which he has produced, "La Pupille," a comedy in four acts by M. Estienne, proved a sad failure.

We announced some time ago that M. Carvalho had purchased from M. Gounod the right to play, at the Paris Opéra Comique a new work by the author of "Faust." This opera is no other than "Georges Dandin," completed several years ago.

Mr. F. H. Cowen's three-act opera "Pauline" is now finished, and is in the hands of Mr. Carl Rosa. It will speedily be put in rehearsal, and may be expected during the last week of the present season at the London Lyceum.

The Milan Scala will shortly reopen for the season with the following troupe: Prime donne, Stolz, Mariani, Fendi, De Vere, Barthon, and possibly Rodani; tenors, Gayarre and Augusti; baritones, Bonelli and Pantaleoni; basses, Merly, Bedozzi, and Zezevich.

Following is the official list of receipts for the various French theatres (other than the Français and the Opéra) for the first eighteen days of October; Variétés, 103,518 francs; Opéra Comique, 68,458 francs 75 centimes; Vaudeville, 61,960 francs; Historique, 48,471 francs; Palais Royal, 44,771 francs; Châtelet, 43,604 francs; Porte Saint Martin, 42,836 francs 50 centimes; Renaissance, 36,772 francs; Opéra National (Gaîté) 28,557 francs 50 centimes; Folies Dramatiques, 25,298 francs 50 centimes; Odéon, 24,202 francs 23 centimes; Opéra Bouffe, 14,558 francs 50 centimes; Gymnase, 14,524 francs 60 centimes; Château d'Eau, 14,173 francs 20 centimes. It will thus be seen that the list is headed by the Variétés, with "La Belle Hélène" (with Judic and Dupuis.) The Opéra Comique comes next, with its ordinary repertory.

The sudden decease, at Marseilles, is announced of Mlle. Priola, who had so much success at the Paris Opéra Comique in latter years. Priola was her theatrical name, her real one being Marguerite Poliar, the daughter of a gilder of Paris. The Paris correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph says of her demise: "Mlle. Priola seems to have been actually hissed to death at Marseilles. I must explain that in the large manufacturing towns of France there is a good deal of jealousy of Parisian celebrities, and that the bagmen of the place take a huge delight in exercising their privilege of hooting at talent which they fail to appreciate. It appears that Mlle. Priola had risen from a sick bed to assist the management by undertaking a part out of her line. The audience were devoid of consideration or pity, and their hisses produced such an effect on the sensitive artiste that she returned to her couch never to rise from it again."

A disgraceful scene, writes the Paris correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph, occurred at the reopening for the season of M. Pasdeloup's concerts. This gentleman, who is a great admirer of Richard Wagner, introduced into his first programme the Funeral March from "Götterdämmerung." In every other city of the civilized world an audience would at least have listened in patience to the first rendering of a page of music which, whatever it be, good or bad, has, at all events, the attraction of novelty. If the critics of the Cirque d'Hiver did not like this specimen of the Wagnerite trilogy, they were not obliged to hear it again. If their political hatred to the German musician was too strong to permit them to pay attention to a page of his works with patience, they should have stopped away altogether, but this attitude did not satisfy their patriotic ardor. They came in crowds, but provided with whistles, in order to prevent the detested music, or rather the music of the detested German, from being heard. In vain did M. Pasdeloup harangue them—in vain did he begin again and again—the rioters refused to leave off, and so excited were they, so great was the confusion, that they continued to hiss even after the overture to "Der Freischütz" had commenced.

UNPROFITABLE CLIPPING.

The Troy Whig says: "A gentleman who had his horse kept at Dr. Moore's stables on Fulton street concluded to have the animal clipped, but as the horse, a spirited one, would not allow it to be done in the barn, he was taken to a vacant lot on Eighth street, Thursday, and after being shackled, was thrown down. The clipping was successfully accomplished, but upon loosing the animal, he was found to be paralyzed. The most active bathing with alcohol failed to give relief, and the horse had to be placed on a truck and drawn to the stable. Up to the last accounts, he had not recovered the use of his limbs."

NOTES FROM PARIS.

SOCIAL AND POLITICAL GOSSIP.

THE FETE OF ALL SOULS — DISCUSSION OVER THE DU SOMMERARD AFFAIR— IMPORTANCE OF A SOLUTION OF THE ENIGMA — WAGNER HISSED—"FRIEND FRITZ"—THE EASTERN COMPLICATIONS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PARIS, Wednesday, Nov. 1, 1876.

The month of November opens with one of the most important fête days of the year, and this year with gloomy skies and wintry air. The atmosphere feels like snow, but chilly showers fall from time to time, and a cold north-easterly wind has been blowing since early dawn. This is equal to saying that our Toussaint is to be a sad one. But no sort of weather can interfere with the Parisian's "worship for the dead," and even in a drifting rain the people go to the cemeteries to decorate the tombs of their cherished dead for the morrow. The jour des morts is never neglected. "All Saints' Day" is passed in pious reveries over the memory of the loved and lost, for whom abundant masses are said, and on "All Souls' Day" the people crowd the cemeteries and spend hours beside the remains of those who have passed from earth forever. There is something touching in this custom, and All Souls' Day is one of the most interesting fêtes in the Roman calendar. At the time I write morning mass is over, and the crowds are flocking homeward from the various churches. Later in the day they will go in groups to the cemeteries to decorate the graves for the annual visit to-morrow of tout le monde. And, as I remarked last year, the year before, and many a year before, these fête days serve as landmarks for the flight of time. Toussaint is essentially a day for retrospection and reflection. This morning we all turn down the old year's page, and start life's record afresh, with the resolution to perform its duties with conscientious care and zeal.

The "Du Sommerard incident" is not yet closed, for the official journal has not yet spoken the final word. But the discussion has been stopped for the moment. M. Du Sommerard denied having written the letter, but in less indignant terms than one would expect from a man so outrageously treated, and offered to furnish documentary evidence that the letter was apocryphal. Nothing more could be said, of course, until we could hear from Vienna. Last night a telegram came to this effect: "On dit, or it is announced, that the Deutsche Zeitung will publish a confession in its number of to-morrow morning that the letter attributed to M. Du Sommerard was apocryphal." What then? Clearly it is the duty of M. Du Sommerard to enter suit against this journal, for a more outrageous attempt to ruin a public official was never made in Europe, if the letter is a forgery. Since the General Commissioner affirms it, and the journal confesses it, nothing more can be said, but every one will feel curious to know the secret history of this tenebreuse affaire. The Constitutionnel treats the matter in the following sensible way:

"A most scandalous incident has just occurred, and for the honor of those who have been unjustly compromised the affair must be cleared up. We allude to the publication of a letter attributed to M. Du Sommerard, French Commissioner General to the Philadelphia Exhibition, in a Vienna journal, the Deutsche-Zeitung. A few days ago, one of our contemporaries, finding that pretended letter in the German paper, translated and published it. It was seized upon greedily, and a storm of maledictions fell upon the head of the unfortunate Commissioner-General. M. Du Sommerard was held up to public contempt. The French Government, greatly annoyed at the incident, inserted a note in the official journal expressing its regret. All at once, M. Du Sommerard, who had hitherto remained silent, spoke out, and declared that the letter published by the German journal was apocryphal, and offered to prove the fact if his word did not suffice to silence his accusers. But that first satisfaction is not sufficient; the fact must be known how that false letter could be published in the Deutsche-Zeitung. The production of that document, from the official character of him who was said to be the author, and by the offensive terms toward a friendly nation, has a quite special importance. The very fact of its insertion in a German journal adds to the gravity of the affair. Evidently an intention existed to injure France in the estimation of the Americans. That the French Government should solve the enigma is a matter of importance."

We had another scandal on a small scale the other day, arising from an attempt on the part of M. Pasdeloup to give a bit of Wagner's "Twilight of the Gods." The most important morceau, from an artistic point of view, was selected by the directors of the popular concerts, and he had it rehearsed until the musicians were all thoroughly up in their parts. But no sooner had the orchestra begun than hisses were heard from every part of the house, and presently so great a clamor that the music was drowned. Then the morceau was heard quietly to the end, and was even applauded. The next night the same scene occurred, but the piece was hissed down twice before being heard and applauded. The journals said that the hisses were for the author, the applause afterward for the music, but M. Pasdeloup was warned not to abuse the patience of the public by trying to force Prussian works upon them. He wrote a letter explaining that this was one of the great works of the day, and he did not feel authorized to keep from the public any piece of great music on account of personal feeling respecting the author. Wagner had been hissed; the public had expressed their feelings respecting him; now, it was only fair to those who wished to hear this music that the other should allow it to remain upon the programme. This reasoning was not successful, for that evening the audience refused to hear the morceau at all. M. Pasdeloup took the same ground that M. Perrin did with respect to "L'Ami Fritz," that is, that politics had nothing to do with art, and that no real work of art should even be condemned for political reasons. But I am sorry to say that M. Perrin has retreated from his sound position. He puts off "Freind Fritz" from day to day, and now announces two new pieces before its first representation. This will delay it until some time in November. On being pressed upon the subject, M. Perrin said that the "Maison de Molière" was not a place for scandal and tumultuous scenes; that a cabal had evidently been mounted against the piece; that the first night would be a stormy one, and that he was afraid of causing discontent among his patrons if he gave the piece before the passion of the moment had had time to subside. But he is anxious to give it as soon as he can, for the piece is one of extraordinary merit, and the actors are all so charmed with their parts that they will render it con amore. The piece must be given some time, for once accepted the author of a drama can recover heavy damages from a director who fails to carry out his contract.

Charivari gives a picture illustrating the opening of the Legislature, presenting a Deputy making his opening speech after the House is called to order. "I ask for a leave of absence." This was a capital hit, for the Assembly met only to adjourn over the fête days, and will not meet again until Friday; but during the session of a few moments a number of Deputies did obtain leave of absence. The serious business of the session, if there is to be any of the sort, will not come on for several days.

Yesterday the Bourse was again in a state of agitation, owing to the news of Russia's ultimatum, presented by Gen. Ignatieff. Things are evidently reaching a climax. The Servians have turned out too cowardly to strike a blow for their own independence, and they run away leaving their Russian friends to be butchered by the Osmanli, on the ground that they have not been respectfully treated by Gen. Tchernayeff. Nothing but Russian interference can now save them from being completely trodden under the foot of the Turk, and hence an armistice will probably be forced upon the Porte to-night. It is rumored here that grave events are preparing in Roumania, and I am all the more ready to believe it from the fact that Prince Bismarck has gone to Varzin for his health. When the Great Chancellor announces his sickness all Europe is in a bad way, for it is noted that something always happens just when Prince Bismarck is away at Varzin.

BY MAIL AND TELEGRAPH.

George S. Stanton's livery stable on Rose street, Albany, was burned Saturday night, and several horses perished in the flames. The loss is estimated at $6,000.

George Moore, aged twenty-two years, was run over and killed on the Worcester and Nashua Railroad, in Worcester, Saturday afternoon.

The body of Patrick Doherty, of Boston, was found in the river at Providence yesterday afternoon. He had been missing since Oct. 20.

The fire at Sherbrooke, Ontario, was caused by an employe dropping a coal-oil lamp. The loss will amount to $150,000, and is partly covered by an insurance of $80,000.

Two barns at West Hartford, Conn., the property of the Wareham-Griswold estate, were burned on Saturday evening. Loss about $8,000; insurance not ascertained.

Reliable information received in Boston from St. Albans, Vt., states that the rumor of a proposed Fenian raid and massing of war material at or near that point is not sustained by facts. No trace of such movement can be discovered there.

A man named Velteman, alias Boyd, was arrested at Hamilton, Ontario, last Saturday night, for a forgery on a New-York bank to the amount of $20,000. He is held for extradition. A New-York detective has been here watching him several days.

A MURDERER CONVICTED.

WATERTOWN, Nov. 12.—In the case of Francis Grappotte, on trial for the murder of Simon Hoover on March 4 last, Judge Nixon's address to the jury yesterday occupied one hour and a half, and the case was given to the jury at 6 P. M. Large crowds assembled at the court-house at 8 and 11 P. M., at which hours the court reassembled, and also at 9 A. M. and 4 P. M. to-day. At 4:10 P. M., after being out twenty-two hours, the jury returned, having found Grappotte guilty of murder in the second degree. The court then adjourned till 9 A. M. Monday, when the prisoner will be sentenced to imprisonment for life. The trial has been in progress since Oct. 18, and has excited much interest.

THE WORK OF THIEVES OR TRAMPS.

WATERTOWN, Nov. 12.—An attempt was made last night to wreck the passenger train which is due here at 10 o'clock on the Utica and Black River Railroad, twenty miles south of this city. Two short rails of iron and several ties were placed on end in a trestle over a swampy place seven feet deep. The locomotive struck the obstruction, bending it down, and did not leave the track. A similar attempt to wreck a train was made on the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg Railway last Thursday, and in both cases a note signed "Reformers" was found near the place, saying the attempt was made on account of reductions in wages, and they wanted reform. It is supposed to be the work of thieves or tramps, who hope to rob passengers in case of an accident.

AN INCORRIGIBLE SOLDIER.

From the London Telegraph.

"It is never too late to mend," the most powerful of living novelists told us long ago; still, it would be desirable to know the opinion which Mr. Charles Reade might entertain as to the feasibility of reclaiming the astoundingly hardened offender whose biography has been given by the Medical Officer of the Dublin Military Prison in his recently published report to Col. Du Cane, the Inspector General. The real name of the military incorrigible at Dublin has been mercifully concealed under the regimental number 1,936; but we learn that ere he entered the army he had been a sailor. He seems to have enlisted at the age of twenty and to have had about five years' service. He deserted in March, 1874, making away with his necessaries, and being tried and convicted, was sentenced to 112 days' hard labor in the military prison at Cork, whence he was discharged with a good character. In August of the same year he was convicted of making away with articles of his kit, and sentenced to forty-two days' imprisonment and stoppages, and again he emerged from jail "with a good character." Prior to his first conviction he had been frequently in trouble for creating disturbances in the streets, destroying property, and getting drunk in camp. Again, in November, 1874, he had forty-two days for breaking out of barracks and otherwise misconducting himself. In June, 1875, the Incorrigible was committed to the military prison at Dublin under a sentence of 168 days' hard labor, of which 42 were to be passed in solitary confinement, for breaking out of camp at the Curragh. The days of the man's good behavior while in jail were now gone. He took to barricading himself in his cell, tearing up his clothes, and destroying the mat and fittings in his dungeon. He was punished by being put on bread and water diet, and by being immured in a dark cell; but a week of semi-starvation only reduced him four pounds in weight, and when he was in solitary confinement he passed most of his time in a sound slumber. On being placed, at the expiration of this punishment, in another cell, he committed exactly the same series of offenses, and on this occasion he was flogged, receiving twenty-five lashes. It is remarkable that the unhappy man, previous to being tied up, declared that the scourging would have no deterrent effect, nor did it have any. Shortly afterward he again broke out, and was again flogged. He remained "rather quiet" after this second application of the lash, and eventually he was transferred to a civil jail prior to being discharged from her Majesty's service as an incorrigible and worthless character. He had certainly earned his title to both appellations. At the same time, it must be remembered that this desperate ruffian was not a thief. Civilian doctors would probably pronounce him to be congenially mad, but we should like to know what Mr. Charles Reade thinks of him.

THE BRITISH ARCTIC EXPEDITION.

Mr. Richard A. Proctor concludes an article written for the London Echo as follows: "For a time we shall hear it said that this is the last effort men will make to reach the Pole, or to explore the regions which lie beyond the whale fisheries; but we believe many years will not have elapsed before fresh expeditions will set forth. Other routes still offer some promise of success to expeditions so well provided as was this one. And though we now know certainly that no results of commercial value can by any possibility be obtained from such voyages, the consideration will not avail—if past experience can guide us toward an opinion respecting the future—to prevent the more enterprising among our seamen from urging those in authority to send them forth yet again into the polar domain. It may be that the Antarctic Seas will take their turn next. Much of interest has still to be learned respecting those even drearier than Arctic regions. There will be a transit of Venus in the Antarctic Summer of 1882, and it is not impossible that the Admiralty may resume the hopes they once entertained of finding Antarctic stations for observing that event. So much was done in response to my own appeal for southern observations of the last transit, that if the Admiralty itself urged the claims of science in this respect for the next transit, we may well believe they would be favorably heard by Government. Although I reasoned (and succeeded in convincing the authorities) that the earlier transit was the better of the two for southern observations, yet the later transit, to which originally they directed their sole attention in this respect, should not therefore be neglected. The opinion of experienced Arctic voyagers and officials that Antarctic stations could be occupied in 1882 remains still before the world, and it would be by no means unsatisfactory to the world of science if they would show in a practical way that they were in earnest in expressing that opinion."

A NOTORIOUS SPANISH CHIEF.

A correspondent of Galignani's Messenger writes: "You will know ere this reaches you that at the indication of the Spanish authorities, the French Government ordered the arrest, in a suburb of Bayonne, of the famous Rosa Samaniego, whose extradition is demanded with an eagerness which scarcely permits of restraint. It is likely to become a thoroughly international question. Although France has not yet adopted a definitive resolution, the greater number of the journals, not only of the Opposition, but those also which favor the Government, are led away by the excitement, and assume a menacing and imperious tone, as if they had only to intimidate our Ministry in order to obtain all that they want. This Samaniego is unquestionably a most notorious individual, who well deserves all the hatred which he inspires. He is the same chief who, during the Carlist war, compelled his prisoners to precipitate themselves into a horrible abyss at the bottom of which their forms, torn by the rocks in their descent, only arrived in morsels. The number of his victims immolated in this manner is difficult to ascertain, but it is considerable. He is also accused of numerous fires and robberies under a threat of using arms on his own account. We do not feel the slightest pity for such a monster, and yet we can perfectly understand why the French Government hesitates to grant his extradition. The question is a grave one; the delivering up of an individual is accorded by law, in pursuance of international conventions, in all cases of crimes committed against the common right, but the usage of all civilized nations, one established by constant practice, is especially to except crimes against the common right which are enveloped by a political cause. Thus Great Britain has not granted to France the extradition of the men of the Commune, notwithstanding the horror which their crimes inspired throughout Europe. The case of Samaniego certainly belongs to this category. What France asks Spain to do is to prove the fact of a single crime which can be distinguished from political influences committed by this monster outside of his command."

REGIMENTAL NOMENCLATURE.

HOW CERTAIN REGIMENTS OF THE BRITISH ARMY ARE NAMED—THE STRENGTH OF LOCAL TITLES.

In the London Gazette of Friday, Oct. 27, it was announced that the Ninety-eighth are to be styled the "Prince of Wales' Own," in consequence, it may be presumed, of the duties performed by this corps during the Prince's late visit to Malta. Regiments were originally distinguished by the names of their Colonels, an obviously inconvenient arrangement, which was changed in 1751, when the numerical system was adopted. County titles, the first step toward the localization of the forces, were added in 1782. Many regiments, however, are honored by a special designation, originating occasionally in the indistinct record of some legend, or in some instances in consequence of some well-known fact. Thus the Fourth Foot are believed to have derived their title and badge from having been the first corps to join the Prince of Orange, a tradition repudiated by the regiment; while the Second Foot are called "The Queen's" from having furnished a guard on her landing to Catherine of Braganza when she came to marry Charles II. Eleven regiments are named the "King's" and eight the "Queen's" after various British monarchs and their consorts. Six are termed the "Prince of Wales'," some deriving this title from the last and some from the present Prince of Wales. The Nineteenth Regiment is the "Princess of Wales'," and the Eighty-ninth "Princess Victoria's." The Duke of Edinburgh gives his name to one regiment, Princess Louise to another, and the Duke of Cambridge to two. The interest shown by the Prince Consort in the welfare of the British soldier is no doubt remembered in the Eleventh Hussars, the Thirteenth Light Infantry and the Rifle Brigade, which are all named after him; but we do not feel so certain that loyal feelings are cherished or esprit de corps promoted by the retention of the somewhat incorrect designation of "Princess Charlotte of Wales" in the Fifth Dragoon Guards and the Forty-ninth Regiment, whose officers and men probably know but little more of her late Royal Highness than the story of her predilection for the particular shade of green which colors their facings. No regiment preserves the name of the Duke of York, who is said to have been venerated as the soldier's friend; but he is surreptitiously smuggled into the Army list under his subordinate titles, as if the profession were ashamed of him, in the Seventy-second, "Duke of Albany's" Highlanders, and the Seventy-ninth, "Earl of Ulster's," more popularly known as the Celestials. The list of Royal titles is completed with the addition of the Seventh Dragoon Guards, who were named the "Princess Royal's," after the eldest daughter of George III. Besides these there are fourteen regiments and corps especially styled "Royal," sixty-six have county titles, and, in addition to these, seven are called Scotch or Highland, four Irish, two Welsh, and none English. The First Foot Guards alone bear a title in commemoration of deeds done in battle, being styled Grenadiers, from having defeated the Grenadiers of the French Imperial Guard at Waterloo. The Second Foot Guards derive their appellation from Monk's march from Coldstream to restore the monarchy. The Thirty-third had the name of the "Duke of Wellington's Own" conferred upon them from having been commanded by Col. Hon. Arthur Wellesley; and the Twenty-sixth remind us of the religious enthusiasts of the seventeenth century, whose apostle was Richard Cameron. The nine Indian Regiments still are redolent of the East, the One Hundredth is Canadian, while the West Indians and Malta Fencibles complete the regular colonial corps. It is therefore evident that it is not customary to bestow titles for services rendered in the field, or we should have an Albuhera, a Plassey, and a Jellalabad regiment; nor are the memories of ancient heroes preserved in the names of our regiments, or we should have "Wolfe's," "Moore's," and others among existing corps. The local titles will strengthen the union of the soldiers with the counties, but a modification of these names is necessary, and must take place before long. It may then be worth consideration to inquire whether the local designation may not be entirely dropped by the battalions, and assumed solely by the brigade. Thus the confusion arising from the use of two different sets of numbers would disappear, and the territorial connection would be maintained by the brigade, and reflected from thence on its various component parts.

FINE THINGS FOR THE LADIES.

The Paris Sport says: "Queen Isabella of Spain possesses a collection of old lace which cannot be equalled in Europe, and which is worth several millions. Productions of all countries, kinds and ages are there, all perfect in work and of infinite richness. One dress of Point D'Alencon is worth more than a hundred thousand francs. Some full sets of trimmings in old point, belonging to her Majesty, are in themselves a fortune. That collection of lace is the pendant to that of cashmeres belonging to Queen Victoria, which is estimated at not less than five millions of francs. Her Majesty possesses Indian shawls to which the labor of more than twenty years had been devoted, and which, at no matter what price, could not be reproduced at present, existing workmen having lost the secret of such an art. We do not speak of certain shawls woven with fine threads of gold, and in which the embroidery is ornamented with pearls and diamonds. Turning to other matters of female ornamentation, we can say that the finest emeralds in feminine jewelry are possessed by the Empress Elizabeth of Austria, just as the richest and most perfect collection of rubies extant is the property of the Grand Duchess of Saxe-Weimar, granddaughter of Paul I., Emperor of Russia. Pearls and turquoises, which are without rival, belong to the Russian Imperial family, as do sapphires to the British house of Guelph. As for diamonds—except the crown jewels of various nations—private collections can vie with those of Queens, and not disadvantageously."

SCHOOL SUITS.—Large stock at greatly reduced prices. BROKAW BROTHERS, Fourth avenue, opposite Cooper Institute.—Exchange.

"WHY DO YOU LAUGH? The name being changed, the fable applies equally to you," says the poet Horace in one of his satires. This retort may be aimed at any druggist who deals in scented toilet soaps, when he tells us learnedly about the current adulterations in commerce. Let him avoid hypocrisy by dealing in B. T. BABBITT'S BABY SOAP, a perfect toilet article, the sweetness and purity of whose components need no disguise of strong odors.—Advertisement.

THE HIGHEST AWARD granted any exhibitor by Centennial Exposition is given the ELASTIC TRUSS CO. for SILK ELASTIC TRUSSES. Sold only at 683 Broadway. —Advertisement.

FOR A WORRYING COUGH, or any throat or lung trouble, use at once DR. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT.—Advertisement.

CURE YOUR COUGH by using MME. PORTER'S COUGH BALSAM. Price, 25, 50, and 75 cents.—Advertisement.

No One is Exempt. Every one has to Suffer pain. Dyspepsia, Colic, Cramps, Headache will come in spite of us. PARKER'S GINGER TONIC is the ready remedy, but if you don't keep it in the house it is your own fault if you suffer.

A.—Buy Your Hats Of BURKE, No. 214 Broadway. Style and texture unsurpassed. Popular prices.

Check, in their Incipiency, Gravel, gout and rheumatism, which are dangerous as well as painful, with MILK OF MAGNESIA.

Colwell Lead Company, successors to the New-York Lead Company, manufacturers of Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead and Shot, No. 63 Centre st.

Everdell's, 302 Broadway, Elegant Wedding and Ball Cards, Orders of Dancing Foreign Note Papers, Monograms. Established 1840.

Holmes' Burglar Alarm Telegraph, No. 571 Broadway. No family can afford to be without it.

Use Brummell's Celebrated Cough Drops. The genuine have F. H. B. on each drop.

To Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays all pain, and cures wind colic.

BIRTH.

BOTTOME.—On the 9th inst., Mrs. MARGARET LEATHAM, wife of Rev. Wm. M. Bottome, of St. Paul's Church, Bradford, England, of a daughter.

MARRIED.

HALSEY—VANDERVOORT.—At Astoria, on Thursday, Nov. 9, 1876, by Rev. R. W. Harris, D.D., STEPHEN B. HALSEY to ADDIE, daughter of J. B. Vandervoort.

SPENCER—LARRABEE.—Thursday, Nov. 9, 1876, by Rev. G. H. Gregory, Mr. P. MORTIMER SPENCER to Miss ANNIE C. LARRABEE, all of New-York.

☞Cazenovia papers please copy.

DIED.

ADAMS.—Saturday morning, Nov. 11, of pneumonia CATHARINE, widow of Robert Adams, in the 87th year of her age.

Relatives and friends are respectfully requested to attend the funeral at her late residence, No. 170 West 48th st., Tuesday, at 11 o'clock A. M.

ASHTON.—In this City, on Saturday, Nov. 11, ANNA ASHTON, in the 91st year of her age.

☞Salem, Mass., papers please copy.

BIDDLE.—On Saturday, Nov. 11, EDWARD R. BIDDLE, in the 79th year of his age.

Funeral on Monday, the 13th inst., at 2 o'clock P. M., from his late residence, No. 981 South st., Elizabeth, N. J.

DECKER.—On the 9th inst., at the "Berkeley," No. 20 5th av., SIMON C. DECKER, aged 60 years.

Relatives and friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral at Thirteenth Street Presbyterian Church, between 6th and 7th avs., Rev. Dr. Burchard's, on Monday, 13th inst., at 2 P. M.

DELANO.—On Saturday, 11th inst., WILLIAM H. DELANO, in the 45th year of his age.

The relatives and friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral at the residence of his parents, No. 314 West 29th st., on Tuesday, 14th inst., at 12 M., without further invitation.

☞Newark papers please copy.

DICKINSON.—In Brooklyn, on Thursday, Nov. 9, ARTHUR V., son of Julia A. and the late George Dickinson, in the 30th year of his age.

Funeral from his late residence, No. 316 Warren st., on Monday, at 2:30 o'clock. Relatives and friends respectfully invited.

EDSON.—In Bayonne, N.J., on Nov. 11, ADDIE, wife of Chauncey C. Edson, and only daughter of J. E. Wheeler, Jr.

Interment at Norwich, N.Y.

FELIX.—On Sunday, Nov. 12, of bronchial pneumonia, FRANCIS J. FELIX, aged 59 years.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend the funeral from his late residence, Passaic, N. J., on Tuesday, 14th inst., at 1 o'clock. Trains leave Chambers st., New-York, at 10 A. M. and 12 M.

JONES.—In Wilkesbarre, Penn., Tuesday, Nov. 7, HELEN CROCKER, daughter of Rev. Henry L. and Sarah E. Jones, aged 2 years and 7 months.

KERR.—At Morristown, N. J., on Saturday, Nov. 11, REBECCA KERR.

Her relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral on Tuesday morning, from Morristown.

LOCKWOOD.—On Sunday, Nov. 12, Mrs. JULIA LOCKWOOD, in the 83d year of her age.

The relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend the funeral from the Union Reformed Church, 6th av., opposite Amity st., on Tuesday, Nov. 14, at 1 o'clock.

LORD.—After a short illness, at Morristown, N. J., CORNELIA LIVINGSTON LORD, only daughter of Edward C. and Emily M. Lord.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

MONCADA.—On Friday, Nov. 10, at the Metropolitan Hotel, JOSE N. MONCADA, late of Mexico, in the 56th year of his age.

His friends are invited to attend the funeral on Monday, the 13th inst., at 9:30 A. M., from St. Patrick's Cathedral. The remains will be temporarily deposited in the Cathedral vault.

PARET.—On Friday, Nov. 10, HENRY PARET, aged 43 years.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral from his late residence, No. 45 West 49th st., on Monday, 13th inst., at 11 A. M. No flowers.

SHIELDS.—In Brooklyn, on Friday evening, Nov. 10, of paralysis, MARY AUGUSTA, wife of George W. Shields.

Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend the funeral from her late residence, No. 85 St. James place, on Monday, Nov. 13, at 3 P. M.

SMYTH.—At Greenwich, Washington County, N. Y., on Sunday, Nov. 12, of typhoid fever, MARY McCREA CONGER, wife of Rev. Henry Mason Smyth, and daughter of Abraham B. Conger.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

STOTT.—On Saturday, Nov. 11, JOHN M. STOTT, in the 30th year of his age.

Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend his funeral from his late residence, corner 56th st. and 1st av., on Monday, at 1 o'clock.

WHITE.—On Saturday, Nov. 11, GEORGE GRANVILLE WHITE, in the 76th year of his age.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend his funeral from the residence of his brother, Alexander M. White, No. 2 Pierrepont place, Brooklyn, on Tuesday, the 14th inst., at 1 P. M.

WRIGHT.—At Newark, N. J., on Nov. 11, EDITH HOWARD WRIGHT, daughter of Edward H. and Dora M. Wright.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

UNDERSHIRTS
AND DRAWERS
AT LOW PRICES.
WARD'S.
381 BROADWAY, CORNER WHITE ST.
862 BROADWAY, CORNER 14TH ST.
1,121 BROADWAY, CORNER 25TH ST.

THE MESSRS. LEAVITT, AUCTIONEERS.
THIS DAY, MONDAY, ALSO TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY, and SATURDAY, at CLINTON HALL, at 3:30 and 7:30 o'clock P. M. each day.
Two sessions daily—3:30 to 6, 7:30 to 10.
"BIBLIOTHECA"—EXTRAORDINARY.
MR. MENZIES' LIBRARY.
An unparalleled collection of rare, unique, and elegant books.
It is safe to say, and parties wishing to purchase the CHOICEST EDITIONS for their libraries may rely upon it, that no such collection of books has ever before been offered for sale, by auction or otherwise.
Books on exhibition each day until 2 o'clock P. M.

A.—THE MESSRS. LEAVITT, AUCTIONEERS.—PEREMPTORY SALE.
SPANAISH and FRENCH ART.
Thursday and Friday evenings, Nov. 16 and 17, at the Art Rooms, No. 817 Broadway, at 8 o'clock.
THE TOLOSA COLLECTION.
Now on exhibition, free, at the Art Rooms, No. 817 Broadway, the entire collection of Oil Paintings, Water Colors—Antique Furniture—Arms and Armor—Tapestries—Costumes—Bric-a-Brac, &c., collected by T. TOLOSA, Esq.
The Paintings in this Collection are almost entirely new to the public, and well worthy the special attention of lovers of fine art.
Among the artists represented in this choice collection will be found Fortuny, Pradilla, Domingo, Plasencia, Peralta, Jiminez, Casado, Morera, Garland, Madou, Plassan, Baron, Weber, Pinchart, De Jonghe, Goupil, and many others of note.

POST OFFICE NOTICE.
The foreign mails for the week ending Saturday, Nov. 18, 1876, will close at this office on Tuesday at 12 M. for Europe, per steam-ship Wyoming, via Queenstown; on Wednesday at 11:30 A. M. for Europe, per steam-ship Bothnia, via Queenstown; on Thursday at 11:30 A. M. for Europe, per steam-ship Suevia, via Plymouth, Cherbourg, and Hamburg; on Saturday at 4 A. M. for Europe, per steam-ship City of Berlin, via Queenstown—correspondence for Scotland, and Germany to be forwarded by this steamer must be specially addressed—and at 4 A. M. for Scotland direct, per steam-ship Bolivia, via Glasgow, and at 11:30 A. M. for Europe, per steam-ship Oder, via Southampton and Bremen. The steam-ships Wyoming, Bothnia, and City of Berlin do not take mails for Denmark, Sweden, and Norway. The mails for the West Indies, via Bermuda and St. Thomas, will leave New-York Nov. 23. The mails for China, &c., will leave San Francisco Dec. 1. The mails for Australia, &c., will leave San Francisco Dec. 6. T. L. JAMES, Postmaster.

LAMPS A SPECIALTY AT BARTLETT'S.—The CITY STREET AND BOULEVARD Lamp Depot, No. 619 Broadway, New-York. THE BEST LAMPS OF EACH KIND for the STREET, HOUSE, &c., burning GAS, GASOLINE, or OIL. All styles of STUDENTS' Lamps at prices from $2 upward, including Shade.

R. STUART WILLIS, ATTORNEY AND Counselor at Law, Notary Public, No. 182 Broadway, Room No. 4 New-York. N. B. Special attention paid to settling estates, conveyancing, and City and country collection.

COKE $3 PER CHALDRON.
Best and most economical fuel in use; suitable for household and manufacturing purposes. Manhattan Gas Works, Avenue C and 15th st. J. SMITH.

CONSTITUTIONAL DISEASES FROM BLOOD poisons, pollution, taint, or absorption of infectious diseases, all treated upon in Dr. HEATH'S book, free to any address. Offices No. 200 Broadway, New-York.

KEEP'S PARTLY-MADE DRESS SHIRTS.—The very best, six for $6; can be finished as easily as hemming a handkerchief. No. 571 Broadway and No. 921 Arch st., Philadelphia.

DR. T. G. WAIT, NO. 45 EAST 23D ST., near Madison av.—First-class dentistry of every description at low, popular prices. Call and examine.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

OSGOOD'S NEW BOOKS.

By JAMES T. FIELDS.
IN AND OUT OF DOORS WITH CHARLES DICKENS. Vest-pocket Series. Cloth. 50 cents. A delightful collection of anecdotes and reminiscences of the great story-teller.

THE LIBRARY TENNYSON.
TENNYSON'S POEMS. Copiously illustrated. Finely printed on tinted paper. 8vo. Full gilt. $5.

LIBRARY OWEN MEREDITH.
OWEN MEREDITH'S POEMS. With 32 full-page illustrations. Finely printed on tinted paper. 8vo. Full gilt. $5.

OSGOOD'S DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.
Describing all the standard and popular publications of JAMES R. OSGOOD & CO. 8vo. 139 pages. Free on application. By mail, 10 cents.

*,*For sale by booksellers. Sent, post-paid, on receipt of price, by the publishers.
JAMES R. OSGOOD & CO., Boston.
E. P. DUTTON & CO., No. 713 Broadway, New-York, Special Agents for J. R. O. & Co.'s publications.

POLITICAL.

THIRTEENTH ASSEMBLY DISTRICT REPUBLICAN ASSOCIATION.—Regular monthly meeting at No. 231 West 16th st., on THIS (Monday) EVENING, at 8. CHARLES BLACKIE, President. C. G. ARCHIBALD, Secretary.

SIXTEENTH ASSEMBLY DISTRICT REPUBLICAN ASSOCIATION.—Regular Monthly Meeting THIS (Monday) EVENING, Nov. 13, at 8 o'clock, at No. 230 3d av. FRANK E. HOWE, President. A. S. BUGBEE, Secretary.

TWENTY-FIRST ASSEMBLY DISTRICT REPUBLICAN ASSOCIATION.—The Regular Monthly Meeting will be held at Lincoln Hall, 3d av., corner of 116th st., on TUESDAY EVENING, Nov. 17, 1876, at 8 o'clock. RUFUS B. COWING, President. HENRY WELSH, Secretary.

COMMERCIAL AFFAIRS.

New-York, Saturday, Nov. 11, 1876.

The receipts of the principal kinds of Produce since our last have been as follows:

Ashes, pks	9	Molasses (N.O.) bbls.	86
Broom-corn, bales	15	Oil, bbls.	65
Beans, bbls	463	Spirits Turp., bbls.	77
Cotton, bales	10,789	Tar, bbls	128
Dried Fruit, pks	916	Pitch, bbls	2,051
Eggs, bbls	924	Oil-cake, pks	931
Flour, bbls	9,727	Pork, pks	303
Wheat, bushels	38,800	Beef, pks	274
Corn, bushels	22,382	Cut-meats, pks	2,236
Oats, bushels	13,500	Lard, pks	581
Rye, bushels	3,200	Lard, kegs	50
Barley, bushels	19,835	Stearine, pks	114
Peas, bushels	1,094	Butter, pks	3,235
Grass-seed, bags	707	Cheese, pks	8,424
Corn-meal, bbls	1,400	Tallow, pks	125
Corn-meal bags	130	Lard-oil, bbls	5
Buckwht Flour, pks	360	M. oil, bbls	120
Oat-meal, bbls	56	Pea-nuts, bags	9
Hemp, bales	5	Starch, bxs	850
Hops, bales	177	Tobacco, hhds	9
Hides, No.	892	Tobacco, bxs. & cs.	86
Hides, bales	312	Whisky, bbls	456
Leather, sides	3,899	Wool, bales	176
Lead, pigs	300

COTTON—Has been quoted firm at an advance of 1-16c. ₱ ℔., for early delivery, but has been quiet, ...Ordinary quoted at 10 5-16c.; Low Middling, 11 11-16c.@11 15-16c.; Middling, 12¼c.@12 7-16c. ₱ ℔....Sales were officially reported for prompt delivery of 1,138 bales, (of which 874 bales were on last evening,) including 287 bales to shippers, 685 bales to spinners, and 166 bales to speculators....And for forward delivery business has been again active at firmer but variable prices....Sales have been reported since our last of 23,400 bales, of which 9,200 bales were on last evening, and 14,200 bales to-day, with 5,600 bales on the calls, on the basis of Middling, with November options closing at 12 5-32c.; December, 12 3-16c.; January, 12 11-32c.@12⅜c.; February, 12 17-32c.@12 9-16c.; March, 12 23-32c.@12¾c.; April, 12 29-32c.; May, 13 1-32c.@13 1-16c.; June, 13 3-16c.; July, 13 11-32c.@13⅜c.; August, 13 13-32c.@13 7-16c. ₱ ℔., showing a decline of 1-32c.@1-16c. ₱ ℔., closing weak and tending down....The receipts at this port to-day were 10,780 bales, and at the shipping ports 26,225 bales, against 25,876 bales same day last week....The week's exports hence have been 16,061 bales, including 14,802 bales to Liverpool, 385 bales to Hamburg, 644 bales to Bremen, and 230 bales to Havre....The exports from all the ports since Sept. 1, 1876, have been 416,037 bales, (of which 263,393 bales were sent to British ports, and 152,644 bales to the Continent.)

Closing Prices of Cotton in New-York.

New Cotton.	Uplands.	Alabama.	N. O.	Texas
Ordinary	10 5-16	10 5-16	10 5-16	10 5-16
Strict Ordinary	10 11-16	10 11-16	10 11-16	10 11-16
Good Ordinary	11 3-16	11 3-16	11 3-16	11 3-16
Strict Good Ord.	11 7-16	11 7-16	11½	11½
Low Middling	11 11-16	11 13-16	11 15-16	11 15-16
Strict Low Mid.	12	12⅛	12¼	12¼
Middling	12¼	12⅜	12 7-16	12 7-16
Good Middling	12 7-16	12 9-16	12 11-16	12 11-16
Strict Good Mid.	12 11-16	12 13-16	12 15-16	12 15-16
Middling Fair	13 1-16	13 3-16	13 5-16	13 5-16
Fair	13¾	13 15-16	14 1-16	14 1-16

Stained.

Good Ordinary	10 1-16	Low Middling	11 1-16
Strict Good Ord	10 11-16	Middling	11 9-16

FLOUR AND MEAL—Rather more steadiness was reported in the market for State and Western Flour, under less urgent offerings, and a somewhat better inquiry, partly on export account. Some speculative bidding also noted....Sales have been reported, since our last, of 12,600 bbls., of all grades, including unsound Flour at $3 50@$5 75, chiefly Extras, at $4 50@$5; Sour Flour at $3 50@$5 75, mainly Extras, at $4 25@$5; very poor to fancy No. 2 at $3 25@$4 10, mostly at $3 50@$4; very poor to very choice Superfine Western, $4, 25@$5; mostly at $4 50@$4 75 for fair to very good; poor to very good Extra State, $5 15@$5 40, mainly at $5 25@$5 35; very good to strictly choice do. at $5 40@$5 75; City Mill Extras, shipping grades, $5 25@$6 35, mainly at $6 10@$6 25, for the West Indies, and at $5 25 for the English market; inferior to very good shipping Extra Western, $5 15@$5 40, very good to very choice do. $5 40@$5 75; round-hoop Ohio shipping at $5 15@$5 75, mainly at $5 35@$5 50; and other grades within yesterday's range....Included in the sales have been 5,000 bbls. shipping Extras, of which 1,900 bbls. City Mills, 1,100 bbls. Minnesota straight Extras, 900 bbls. do. patent do., 1,050 bbls. Winter Wheat Extras, (for shipment; these at $5 75@$6 25, mostly at $5 85@$6;) 500 bbls. Superfine, and 450 bbls. No. 2, at quoted rates....Southern Flour quiet within the previous range. Sales 1,070 bbls....Of Rye Flour, 290 bbls. sold, in lots, at $4 75@$5 10 for good to very choice Superfine State and Pennsylvania, chiefly at $4 75@$5....Of Corn-meal, 1,450 bbls. sold, including Yellow Western, in lots, at $2 90@$3. Brandywine at $3 35@$3 40, and 700 bbls. Columbia at $2 80, direct from the mill....Corn-meal, in bags, moderately active at 90c.@$1 35 ₱ 100 ℔....Of the sales were 2,100 bags coarse, mostly on the steady basis of $1 for City Mills, and 99c.@$1 for Baltimore and Western....Buckwheat Flour in very moderate request, at from $3@$3 50 for fair to very choice State and Pennsylvania, mostly at $3 25@$3 40 ₱ 100 ℔.

GRAIN—Wheat dealings to-day reached a larger aggregate, mainly on export account, and indicated an improvement of 1c.@2c. a bushel on the poorer qualities of Spring, and a rather firmer market also for prime stock....Offerings lighter....Sales have been reported, to-day, of 130,000 bushels, including new Red Western, about prime, 16,000 bushels, at $1 27; new No. 1 Spring, at $1 37 for prime Minnesota, and $1 28 for good Duluth; new No. 2 Chicago do., about fair, at $1 23, with bids reported of $1 25 for prime, which was held 1c.@2c. a bushel higher; No. 3 Spring, at $1 20 for new, and $1 16@$1 17 for old and new mixed; ungraded Spring in lots, at $1 12@$1 25....Corn was more active at a shade better prices. Export inquiry good....Sales have been reported, since our last, of 138,000 bushels, including ungraded sailing vessel Mixed Western, fair to very choice, 59½c.@61c., nearly prime at 60c.; No. 2 Chicago at 60c.; Kansas do., at 60c.@60½c.; ungraded steamer Mixed do., 58½c.@59c.; New-York Mixed at 59½c.@60c.; New-York steamer Mixed at 58½c.@59c.; New-York Low Mixed at 59c.; New-York No. 1 at 60c.; New-York no grade at 58c. for old and 55c. for new; New-York unmerchantable at 50c.@55c.; new crop Mixed Western, car lots, at 55c.@55½c.; Yellow Western at 60c.@62c.; New-York Yellow at 62c....And for forward delivery, prime sailing vessel Mixed Western, for November, quoted nominal, at 59½c.@60c....Western Rye in moderate request for export at 75c. for new, of which 10,000 bushels sold at this rate; a car lot went at 78c. for No. 2. Other kinds as last quoted....Barley was reported sold to the extent of 10,000 bushels prime No. 1 Canada at $1 18 ₱ bushel. Market steady....Barley-malt in some demand within the previous range, 12,000 bushels Canada West sold on private terms; Canada Peas dull at former quotations....State Buckwheat quoted at 75c.@80c. for fair to very good on a dull market....Oats more active, and in instances again advanced slightly....Sales reported of 65,000 bushels, including new White Western, in lots, at 36c.@45c., as to quality, mostly at 38c.@42c.; new White State, poor to very choice, at 47c.@51c., chiefly at 49c.@50c.; new Mixed Western, 30c.@42c., as to quality, mostly at 32c.@38c.; New-York No. 2 White, at 43c.; New-York No. 3 White at 37c.@37½c.; New-York No. 3 quoted at 35½c.@36c.; New-York Rejected at 32c.@32½c.; New-York unmerchantable at 30c.@30½c.; new Mixed State at 45c.@48c. for poor to choice....And of about fair old No. 2 Chicago, delivered from store, 8,500 bushels, at 46½c....Feed in light stock and fair demand, within the range of $13@$24, as the extremes....Hay and Straw in moderate request at former quotations....Timothy-seed in more demand; quoted at $1 95@$2....Clover-seed in better request, prime samples quoted up to 15c.@15¼c....The week's export clearances hence, for European ports, included 15,782 bbls. Flour, 316,235 bushels Wheat, 156,270 bushels Corn, 21,720 bushels Rye, 106,922 bushels Oats, 54,942 bushels Peas.

NAVAL STORES—Resin firm but inactive to-day on the basis of $2 05@$2 15 for common to good strained ₱ 280 ℔....Tar and Pitch as last quoted....Spirits Turpentine dull, with merchantable, for prompt delivery, quoted at the close at 58½c. asked ₱ gallon. Sales, 90 bbls.

OIL-CAKE—Has been inactive, with Western, in bags, quoted at $38 50@$39, currency....Exports for the week, 18,483 pks.

PETROLEUM—Crude has been in more request, closing at 11¾c., in bulk, and 15½c. in shipping order....Refined has been more sought after for shipment; quoted by refiners at 26c. Sales of 5,000 bbls. at 26c.; and 7,000 bbls. high test at 27c....Refined, in cases, quoted at 30c., for Standard....Naphtha at 14c....At Philadelphia, Refined Petroleum, for early delivery, quoted at 26c....At Baltimore, early delivery at 26c.

PROVISIONS—Mess Pork has been in limited demand for early delivery, at about former rates....Sales reported since our last for early delivery, 110 bbls. Western Mess, for shipment, at $17@$17 12½....Other kinds dull and nominal....For Chicago delivery, 100 bbls. Extra Prime sold at $12 50....And for forward delivery here, Western Mess was in slack demand; quoted for November at $17; December, $16; January, $15 95@$16; February, $15 95@$16 05; March, $16@$16 10; sales 250 bbls. January at $16....Dressed Hogs have been in less request, with City quoted down to 7½c.@8¼c., and Pigs at 8⅜c....Cut-meats have been less sought after at about former figures. Sales include 23,000 ℔. Pickled Bellies, in bulk, part 12 to 11 ℔ at 9½c.@9⅜c., and sundry small lots of City bulk within our previous range; also a small lot of dry salted Shoulders, in bxs. at 7¾c....Bacon about steady, with sales reported here of a small lot City Long Clear at 8¾c., and for December delivery, 250 bxs. Short Clear at 9c....And at the West, 150 bxs. Long Clear, for prompt delivery, at 8c. ₱ ℔....Western Steam Lard has been quoted firmer, for early delivery, on a fair inquiry....Of Western Steam for early delivery here, sales have been reported of 370 tcs. prime at $10 50, closing at $10 50@$10 56¼; and 55 tcs. off grade at $10 15. Also, 100 tcs. fair Kettle at $10 60....And for forward delivery Western Steam was comparatively quiet; quoted at the close, for November, at $10 07½@$10 12½; December, $9 87½@$9 90; seller the remainder of the year at $9 87½@$9 90; January at $9 90@$9 92½, and seller February at $10; March at $10 07½@$10 10....Sales were reported of Western Steam to the extent of 250 tcs., December, at $9 90; 250 tcs., seller the remainder of the year, at $9 87½; 1,500 tcs., January, at $9 90@$9 92½....City Steam and Kettle Lard has been in fair demand; quoted at $10 25@$10 37½; sales 125 tcs. at $10 25....And No. 1 quoted at $10; sales 15 tcs....Refined Lard in better request; quoted for the Continent at $11 for prompt, and $10 62½@$10 75 for forward delivery; and for the West Indies at $9 75....Sales have been reported of 1,150 tcs. for the Continent for forward delivery at the quoted rates....Beef unchanged; 50 bbls. sold....Butter, Cheese, and Eggs in moderate request, with prices about as last reported....Tallow has been in fair demand at former figures; sales 70,000 ℔. very good to strictly prime at 8¾c.@8⅞c....Stearine inactive, with Western, in tcs., prime to very choice, quoted at $10 50@$10 75....The week's exports to Europe have been 1,665 pks. Pork, 4,001 pks. Beef, 10,341 pks. Bacon, 6,157 pks. Lard, 18,074 bxs. Cheese, 4,344 pks. Butter, (of which were all for Liverpool;) also, 842 pks. Tallow.

SKINS—A steady market noted for Deer on a good demand; receipts, 5 bales; sales, 5,000 ℔. Sisal, 3,000 ℔. Matamoros, and 500 ℔. Minatitlan on private terms....Goat steady and in request; receipts 372 bales; sales 150 bales Mexican, and 97 bales Rio Hache on private terms....We quote Deer thus: Vera Cruz, 35c.; Guatemala, 37½c.@40c.; Para, 35c.; Sisal, 35c.; Puerto Cabello, 26c.@28½c.; Honduras, 35c.; Central America, 30c.@35c. ₱ ℔....And Goat thus: Tampico, 40c.@42½c.; Matamoros, 40c.@42½c.; Vera Cruz, 37½c.@42½c., gold; Buenos Ayres, 50c.; Payta, 47c.; Curacoa, selected, 55c.; Cape, 32c.; Madras, 50c.; Patna, 30c.@35.

SUGARS—Raw again quoted higher, with an active inquiry noted for supplies; fair to good Refining Cuba quoted at 9⅝c.@10c.; sales include 335 hhds. 62 bxs., and 1,100 bags; Centrifugal at 10⅜c.; 1,450 bxs., and 600 bags Clayed at 10c.; 1,171 bags Mexican at 8⅞c.@9⅛c....Refined in active request at firmer prices; Granulated, 12¼c.@12⅜c.; Powdered at 12c.@12¼c.; Crushed at 13c.; Cut Loaf, 13½c.; Soft White at 10⅝c.@11½c.; Soft Yellow at 9⅝c.@10¾c. ₱ ℔.

WHISKY—Sold to the extent of 50 bbls. at $1 09½; 50 bbls. at $1 09½; market dull and weak.

FREIGHTS—Vessels on charter met with an active inquiry, chiefly for Petroleum and Lumber, (the latter mostly for South America,) at somewhat firmer rates. Berth freights were quoted rather stronger for Provisions and Cotton, and otherwise steady, on a moderate business. The Grain movement was the least satisfactory of all....For Liverpool, by sail, 48,000 bushels Grain, in bulk and bags, at 6¼d. ₱ bushel, and by steam, 1,800 bales Cotton, part of direct shipment at 13-32d. as it runs, and part of through freight at 7-16d. ₱ ℔; 8,000 bushels Grain at 7d. ₱ bushel, with, at the close, this rate quoted as bid, and 7½d. asked; 5,500 bxs. Cheese and 850 pks. Butter at 50s.; 2,000 bxs. Bacon at 37s. 6d. ₱ 40s. ₱ ton; two British ships, 1,835 and 1,186 tons, placed on the berth, hence, for general cargo, and two do., 852 and 591 tons, from Philadelphia, same conditions; a British bark, 562 tons, with Cotton, from Norfolk, at 13-32d., (with option of Havre at the same rate, or the Continent at 15-32d.) ₱ ℔....For London, by sail, 1,500 bbls. Flour at 2s. 3d. ₱ bbl.; and, by steam, 250 bbls. Sugar, and 750 bbls. Apples on private terms....For Glasgow, by steam, 250 bbls. Sugar, and 200 pchs. Syrup on private terms; 2,200 pchs. Syrup, for forward shipment, at 31s. 3d. ₱ ton; 8,000 bushels Grain at 7d. ₱ 60 ℔.; 1,500 bbls. Apples, part at 4s. ₱ bbl.; 250 bags Seed, and 7,000 Staves, on private terms....For Bristol, by sail, 600 bbls. Flour, at 3s. ₱ bbl; 85 tons Tallow, at 30s. ₱ ton; also, an Italian bark, 475 tons, hence, with about 2,500 bbls. Refined Petroleum at 4s. 3d.; a British bark, 459 tons, hence, with about 2,500 bbls. do., at 4s. 3d.; and rumored, an Italian bark, 512 tons, hence, with about 3,000 bbls. do., at 4s. 3d., but this rumor not confirmed....For the east coast of Ireland, an Austrian bark, 605 tons, hence, with about 4,000 quarters Grain, at 5s. 4½d. ₱ quarter....For Cork and orders, a Norwegian bark, 520 tons, hence, with about 2,700 bbls. Refined Petroleum, reported at 5s. ₱ bbl.; and a Norwegian bark, 425 tons, hence, with Slate, reported at 28s. 9d. ₱ ton....For Havre, by steam, 1,000 bxs. Bacon at 9-16d. ₱ ℔.; 750 tcs. Lard on private terms; and, of recent shipments, 2,750 tcs. Lard, 250 bales Hops, and 115 bbls. Ashes, at current rates; also, a British steam-ship, 959 tons, hence, with general cargo, on private terms, and placed on the berth; a British bark, 716 tons, with Cotton, (about two-thirds of cargo,) from Galveston, at 9-16 d. ₱ ℔....For the Continent, a German ship, 858 tons, with about 5,500 bbls. Refined Petroleum from Philadelphia, at 4s. 3d.; a Norwegian bark, 475 tons, with about 3,300 do., from do., at 4s. 6d. ₱ bbl.; and a German bark with about 3,000 bbls. Resin, from Wilmington, reported at 4s. 6d....For Bremen, by steam, (reported as of recent shipments.) 575 bales Cotton, at 4.40 reichmarks; 9,500 bushels Rye at 10 do.; 1,400 pks. Lard at 2.50 do.; 950 bbls. Apples at 6@7 do.; 1,500 Sides Leather at 4.25 do.; 150 pks. Tobacco and 600 pks. Merchandise at current rates; also, a German ship, with about 8,000 bbls. Refined Petroleum, from Baltimore, at 4s.; a German bark, 642 tons, hence, with about 4,000 bbls. do., at 4s.; another, 868 tons, with about 5,600 bbls. do., from Philadelphia, reported at 4s. 1½d. ₱ bbl....For Hamburg, by steam, 4,000 bushels Grain on private terms; 1,000 bags Timothy-seed at 2.75 reichmarks....For the Baltic, a Danish bark, 361 tons, with about 2,400 bbls. Refined Petroleum from Philadelphia, at 6s.; another, 240 tons, with about 1,450 bbls. do. from do., at 6s. ₱ bbl....For the Mediterranean and back, a British brig, 299 tons, with general cargo, on private terms, taking out for Passages, (Spain,) equal to about 1,800 bbls. Refined Petroleum, in bbls. and cases, at 5s. 6d. ₱ bbl., and 27c. ₱ case....For Gibraltar and orders, an American bark, about 400 tons, with about 2,600 bbls. Refined Petroleum, from Philadelphia, reported on private terms....For Genoa, an American brig, 384 tons, with Cotton from Savannah, reported at 1c. ₱ ℔....For Salonica, an Italian bark, 401 tons, hence, with about 11,000 cases Refined Petroleum, at 29c. ₱ case....For Piræus, an Italian brig, 276 tons, hence, with about 8,000 cases Petroleum at 30½c. ₱ case....For Halifax, N. S., a British schooner, 97 tons, with Coal, from Philadelphia, at $2 25 ₱ ton....For St. Johns, N. F., a British brig, 173 tons, hence, with general cargo, including Flour and Provisions, at 47½c.@52½c. ₱ bbl....For Melbourne, an American ship, 1,546 tons, hence, with general cargo, reported on private terms....For Montevideo or Buenos Ayres, a British bark, 587 tons, with Lumber from Savannah, reported at $19 50....For Rio Janeiro, a Swedish brig, 269 tons, with Flour from Richmond, reported at 95c. ₱ bbl.; two British barks, 345 and 318 tons, with Lumber from Brunswick; a British bark, 390 tons and a British brig, 260 tons, with do., from Savannah, and a British schooner, 254 tons, with do. from Wilmington, at $20....For the Windward, a schooner, about 160 tons, hence, with general cargo, reported at $1,100....For Hayti, a schooner, with Lumber, from Mobile, reported at $9; a brig, with do., from Nova Scotia, at $7; (the latter returning with Logwood to the United States, at $4 50.)....For Portsmouth, N. H., a schooner, with Lumber, from Charleston, at $7 50....For Boston, a schooner, with Lumber, from Brunswick, at $7 50; two schooners, with Coal, from Baltimore, at $2 25; a schooner, with do., from Georgetown, at $2 30....For New-York, a bark, with Lumber, from Pensacola, at $9; three schooners, with do., from Brunswick, at $6 50@$6 75.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The following business was transacted at the Exchange on Saturday, Nov. 11: J. O. Fullerton, by order of the Supreme Court, in foreclosure, C. N. Bovee, Esq., Referee, sold a three story and basement, brown-stone-front house, with lot 19.7 by 98.9, on W. 42d st., south side, 435.5 ft. west of 10th av., for $5,700, to J. N. Hayward, second mortgagee.

R. V. Harnett, under a Supreme Court foreclosure decree, D. A. Casserly, Esq., Referee, sold the five-story brick tenement-house, with lot 25 by 102.2, No. 422 East 78th st., south side, 169 ft., west of Avenue A., for 6,500, to Seline Hoffman, plaintiff in the legal action.

Scott & Myers, also under a Supreme Court foreclosure order, Charles E. Lydecker, Esq., Referee, sold two lots, each 25 by 100.11 by 102.2, to Seline Hoffman, for $4,800.

H. W. Coates sold one lot on Riverside av., south-east corner of 115th st., 26 by 94.4 by 25.11 by 96.10, to Catherine Kerrigan for $3,000; also, one lot, east side same avenue, adjoining above, 25 by 98.7, to same buyer for $2,000; also, one lot, south side of 115th st., 119.4 feet east of Riverside av., 25 by 100.11, to same buyer for $800.

THIS WEEK'S SALES.

For the present week, at the Exchange unless otherwise noted, the following public sales are announced:

To-day, (Monday,) Nov. 13.

By D. M. Seaman, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, William Sinclair, Esq., Referee, of a plot of land, 201.10 by 502.8, on 3d av., west side, whole front between 124th and 125th sts.

By Hugh N. Camp, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, Morris A. Tyng, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 18.9 by 98.9, on West 32d st., north side, 175 ft. east of 9th av.; also, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, John Lindley, Esq., Referee, of a plot of land, 199.10 by 100, on St. Nicholas av., north-west corner 145th st.; also, five lots, each 25 by 100, on 145th st., north side, 100 feet west of St. Nicholas av.

By William Kennelly, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, Maurice Leyne, Esq., Referee, of a plot of land, 86.6 by 100.5 by 144.6 by 116, on West 62d st., north-west corner of Broadway.

By Wood & Moles, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, George P. Smith, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 20 by 100.11, on East 113th st., north side, 100 feet east of 2d av.

By B. P. Fairchild, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, E. Du Voe, Esq., Referee, of a plot of land, 53.4 by 100 by 49.4 by 100.5, on 10th av., north-west corner of 185th st.

By J. Thomas Stearns, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, M. Hoffman, Esq., Referee, of a plot of land, 56 by 147.9 by 50 by 148.6, on Prospect av., north side, adjoining lands of James P. Fitch, West Farms, 24th Ward.

Tuesday, Nov. 14.

By D. M. Seaman, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, Philo T. Ruggles, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 23.11 by 91.9 by 24.2 by 91.1, on John st., south side, 72.6 feet east of William st.

By A. H. Muller & Son, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, S. B. Brownell, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 24.9 by 100, on Attorney st., east side, 225 feet north of Stanton st. Also, similar sale, W. A. Boyd, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 20 by 98.9, on West 38th st., south side, 225 feet east of 6th av.

By Winans & Davies, Supreme Court foreclosure sale of a house, with lot 22.3 by 105.9 on East 3d st., south side, 408.11 feet west of Avenue D.

By R. V. Harnett, Receiver's sale, C. Norwood Esq., Receiver, of the three-story and basement frame house, with lot 18.9 by 99.11, No. 57 West 132d st., north side, 135 feet east of 6th av. Boulevard.

By Hugh N. Camp, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, William P. Dixon, Esq., Referee, of a plot of land, 108 by 472 by 170 by 510 by 88, on Boston road, north side, adjoining the lands of Mrs. Janet Beck, at West Farms, 23d Ward.

By D. M. Clarkson, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, John Frankenheimer, Esq., Referee, of one lot, 25 by 100.5, on East 59th st., north side, 100 feet east of 5th av.

Wednesday, Nov. 15.

By Scott & Myers, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, F. Thompson, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 25 by 75, on East 39th st., south side, 150 feet east of 2d av. Also, similar sale, at the Court-house, White Plains, at 11 A. M., of eighty-five acres, with buildings, on Mamaroneck av., in the town of White Plains; also, six and one-half acres adjoining above; also forty acres adjoining above.

By Peter F. Meyer, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, John N. Lewis, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 25 by 75, on East 39th st., south side, 200 feet east of 2d av. Also, similar sale, same Referee, of a house, with lot 17 by 100.5, on East 65th st., north side, 117 feet west of 4th av. Also, similar sale, same Referee, of a house, with lot 21.8 by 100, on Crosby st., east side, 92.4 feet south of Spring st.

By E. A. Lawrence & Co., Supreme Court foreclosure sale, William Boswell, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 18.9 by 70.5, on East 51st st., south side, 200 feet east of 2d av.

By R. V. Harnett, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, H. A. Braun, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 15.7 by 100.5, on East 114th st., north side, 489.4 feet east of 4th av. Also, similar sale, R. M. Henry, Esq., Referee, of eight lots, each 25 by 100, on 10th av., west side, block front between 157th and 158th sts. Also, one lot, 25 by 100, on West 157th st., north side, 100 feet west of 10th av.

By A. J. Bleecker & Son, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, Philo T. Ruggles, Esq., Referee, of a plot of land, 75 by — on 131st st., south side, 125 feet east of Morris av., Morrisania.

Thursday, Nov. 16.

By E. H. Ludlow & Co., public auction sale of the three-story brick-front house, with lot 17 by 40 by — by 47.6, No. 64 Sullivan st., west side, north of Broome st., also the three-story brick house, with lot 25 by about 61, No. 342 West 16th st., south side, west of 8th av.

By James M. Miller, Supreme Court foreclosure sale of the house, with plot of land 33.4 by 56.6 by 33.11 by 50, Nos. 441 and 443 Canal st., north side, 104.2 west of Varick st.; also, similar sale, J. M. Halsey, Esq., Referee, of a plot of land, 110.6 by 134.4, on Union av., west side, 125 feet north of Cedar st., Morrisiana.

By Bernard Smyth, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, R. M. Henry, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 21.3 by 94.9, on East Eleventh st., south side, 358.1 feet east of University place.

By H. W. Coates, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, Thomas Hyslop, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lease of lot 25 by 100, on Eighth st., south side, between Fifth av. and Macdougal st., leased May 1, 1854.

By A. J. Bleecker & Son, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, Sidney H. Stuart, Esq., Referee, of two lots, each 25 by 75, on Avenue A, west side, 25 feet north of 76th st. Also, similar sale, William A. Woodworth, Esq., Referee of lots Nos. 38, 39, and 40 on a map of land belonging to the estate of William Crowther, deceased, on West Farms road.

By Peter F. Meyer, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, John N. Lewis, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 18.11 by 100.5, on East 55th st., north side, 268.11 feet east of 2d av.

By Winans & Davies, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, George P. Smith, Esq., Referee, of buildings, with two lots, each 25 by 102.2, on East 74th st., south side, 200 feet west of Avenue A.

By E. A. Lawrence & Co., Supreme Court foreclosure sale, E. D. Gale, Esq., Referee, of three lots, each 25 by 102.2, on East 79th st., south side, 325 feet east of 4th av.

By Blackwell, Riker & Wilkins, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, William Mitchell, Esq., Referee, of one lot, 25 by 100.11, on West 97th st., north side, 300 feet west of 11th av. Also, public auction sale of the three-story brick store and dwelling, with lot, No. 67 Newark av., south side, 125 feet east of Hudson st., Jersey City.

By R. V. Harnett, foreclosure sale, by order of the Court of Common Pleas, A. Van Voorhis, Esq., Referee, of one lot, 25 by 99.11, on West 126th st., north side, 375 feet east of 8th av. Also similar sale, Henry Wood, Esq., Referee, of building, with four lots, each 25 by 100, on West 62d st., north side, 75 feet east of 10th av.

By V. K. Stevenson, Jr., partition sale, A. Thomas, Esq., Referee, of one lot, 25.6 by 90, on 10th av., west side, 25.6 feet south of 77th st. Also one lot 25 by 102.2, on West 77th st., south side, 90 feet west of 10th av.

By A. H. Muller & Son, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, William P. Dixon, Esq., Referee, of a plot of land, 149.11 by 375, on 12th av., east side, block front between 134th and 135th sts.

Friday, Nov. 17.

By Winans & Davies, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, William P. Dixon, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 25 by 100, on Rivington street, south-west corner Columbia street.

By Hugh N. Camp, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, John Lindley, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lease of lot 20 by 84.10, on East 56th st., north side, 333 feet east of 1st av. Goelet lease, Nov. 1, 1870; term, nineteen years, six months; ground rent, $240 per annum.

By E. H. Ludlow & Co., Supreme Court foreclosure sale, Moses Ely, Esq., Referee, of one lot, 25 by 100.11, on West 109th st., north side, 250 feet west of 10th av.

By A. H. Nicolay & Co., Supreme Court foreclosure sale, Sidney DeKay, Esq., Referee, of five lots, each 25 by 99.11, on West 134th st., south side, 100 feet west of 7th av.

By Wood & Moles, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, George P. Smith, Esq., Referee, of three lots, 75 by block, on West 51st st., and extending through to 152d st., north side, 150 feet west of 11th av.

By R. V. Harnett, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, T. C. Campbell, Esq., Referee, of a plot of land, 225 by 230 by 225 by 260, on West 213th st., south side, 175 feet east of 10th av.

Saturday, Nov. 18.

By A. H. Muller & Son, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, George A. Dillaway, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 24.2 by 89.9 by 24.1 by 90.9, on Washington st., south-east corner of Horatio st.

By James M. Miller, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, George A. Halsey, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 19.4 by 50.8, No. 60 Eldridge st., east side, 20 feet north of Hester st.

By Bernard Smythe, foreclosure sale, by order of the Court of Common Pleas, R. M. Henry, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 18.3 by 75 on Sheriff st., east side, 63.6 feet north of Rivington st.

By Scott & Myers, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, W. A. Boyd, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 25 by 95 on West 10th st., north side, 175 feet west of Waverly place. Also similar sale, Charles E. Lydecker, Esq., Referee, of five lots, each 25 by 100, on 7th av., north-west corner 142d st.; also one lot, 25 by 99.11 on West 142d st., north side, 100 feet west of 10th av.; also one lot, 25 by 74.11, on 143d st., south side, 75 feet west of 10th av.; also one lot, 25 by 99.11, on 143d st., adjoining above.

By B. P. Fairchild, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, H. A. Braun, Esq., Referee, of eight lots, each 25 by 99.11, on West 182d st., north side, 200 feet west of 11th av.

By Peter F. Meyer, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, S. D. Gifford, Esq., Referee, of a plot of land 50 by 125 on Uncas av., south-east corner Robbins av., Morrisania.

EXCHANGE SALES—SATURDAY, NOV. 11.

NEW-YORK.

By J. O. Fullerton.

1 three-story and basement brown-stone-front house, with lot, West 42d st., s. s., 435.5 ft. w. of 10th av., lot 19.7x98.9	$5,700
By R. V. Harnett.
1 five-story brick double-tenement-house, with lot, No. 422 East 78th st., s. s., 169 ft. w. of Avenue A, lot 25x102.2	$6,500
By Scott & Myers.
2 lots, West 116th st., n. s., 270 ft. w. of 5th av., each 25x100.11	$4,800
By H. W. Coates.
1 lot, Riverside av., s. e. cor. 115th st., 26 by 94.5 by 25.11 by 96.10	$3,000
1 lot, Riverside av., e. s., adjoining above, 25 by 98.7	2,000
1 lot, West 115th st., s. s., 119.4 ft. e. of Riverside av., 25 by 100.11	800

RECORDED REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

NEW-YORK.

Friday, Nov. 10.

Ward's Island, (2 lots,) L. Suydam to J. Suydam	1,800
Waverly place, s. s., No. 158, 23.1x97; same to same	12,000
115th st., n. s., 228 ft. e. of 5th av., 28x41; J. Townsend to F. Thompson	2,000
Jefferson st., w. s., between Henry st. and East Broadway, 20x52.2; J. F. Pinson and wife to M. E. O'Neill	3,000
82d st., s. s., 139.9½ ft. e. of 3d av., 19.3x102.2; C. A. Ewing and husband to E. Green	nom.
Boulevard, s. e. corner 102d st., 75x100; S. R. C. Furness to A. R. Eno	10,020
Riverside av., n. e. corner 104th st., 25.11x100; same to C. G. Croly	3,000
Washington av., e. s., 67½ ft. n. of 163d st., 25x100, (23d Ward;) J. Illig and wife to M. Millimann	2,700
Mulberry st., e. s., 191.6 ft. s. of Houston st., 20x91.5; J. Kenny and wife to St. Patrick's Cathedral	8,500
Broome st., n. s., 25 ft. e. of Essex st., 19.2x75: F. Rudd (Referee) to J. Rosner	5,950
Cannon st., w. s., 120 ft. s. of Houston st., 20x100; S. Lauy and wife to L. Martin	175
Oak st., n. e. corner of Chestnut st., 71.5 x New-Bowery x23.9; M. Ryan and wife to W. H. Leupp	15,000
Mulberry st., e. s., 171.6 ft. s. of Houston st., 20x182.10; J. Somerville and wife to J. Kenny	18,000
36th st., s. s., 100 ft. e. of 2d av., 18.9x98.9; C. E. Lydecker, Referee, to G. H. Roberts	5,000
Mulberry st., e. s., 191.6 ft. s. of Houston st., 20x91.5; Same to Same	8,500
62d st., n. s., 311.6 ft. e. of 5th av., 20.6x100; R. Van Valkenburgh and wife to J. F. Daly	nom.
60th st., n. s., 150.5 ft. e. of 11th av., 25.3x100.5; P. Van Wyck and wife to E. H. Wootton	16,750
Bloomingdale road, w. s., 3 ft. n. of 119th st., 344.9x irregular; Carl Strüver to C. C. Faber	2,000
57th st., s. s., 300 ft. w. of 9th av., 25x100.5; Lewis Friedman and wife to B. Purcell	6,000
57th st., s. s., 275 ft. w. of 9th av., 25x100.5; Lewis Friedman and wife to M. Brennan	6,000
5th av., s. e. corner of 78th st., 25.8x100; W. C. Conner, Sheriff, to A. L. Brown	39,000
115th st., n. s., 225 ft. w. of 6th av., 50x100.11; J. G. Sinclair, Referee, to M. Lawrence	4,000
Orchard st., e. s., 150 ft. n. of Delancey st., 22.9x87.6; J. L. Ogden, Referee, to G. Schirmer	8,000
47th st., s. s., 300 ft. e. of 5th av., 20x100.5; G. C. Smith, Referee, to L. N. White	10,150
16th st., n. s., 75 ft. e. of 6th av., 50x100; W. W. Ladd, Jr., Referee, to J. N. Sappan	4,800
6th av., e. s., 150 ft. n. of 116th st., 50x75; same to same	7,700
LEASES RECORDED.
40th st., s. s., 50 ft. w. 11th av., 5 years; Benjamin Menair to F. Lewis	1,000
Wooster st., No. 27, 5 years; F. O. De Maesener to A. Serre	800

CITY REAL ESTATE.

AVENUE A AND 117TH STREET.

For sale—a valuable property, consisting of over three full lots and large double mansion and stable, south-west corner of Avenue A and 117th st. The location, accessible to boats, &c., is an improving one, and this property will be sold at a price which cannot fail to make the investment very remunerative.

For further particulars apply to or address
E. H. LUDLOW & CO.,
No. 3 Pine st.

FOR SALE, THE DESIRABLE HOUSE
NO. 112 EAST 39TH ST.,
20x55 feet; four stories; brown-stone; lot 98.9. Price $26,000. Apply to E. H. LUDLOW & CO., No. 3 Pine st.

FOR SALE—ON 5TH AV. NEAR 26TH ST.—A FOUR-story, English basement, brown-stone house; price, $40,000; possession May 1, 1877. Address HOMER MORGAN, No. 2 Pine st.

COUNTRY REAL ESTATE.

ORANGE, N. J.—COUNTRY HOUSES, LANDS, and village lots for sale; a great variety. Also, furnished and unfurnished houses to let for season or year, by WALTER E. SMITH, formerly Blackwell & Smith, Orange, corner of Main and Cone sts.

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.

SUPREME COURT SALE.—THE FROST FARM, about 197 acres, near Purdy's Station, Westchester County, N. Y., will be sold at public auction, at the Court-house in White Plains, on WEDNESDAY, Nov. 15, 1876, at noon. JOHN B. HASKIN, Referee.
WM. BRUORTON, Attorney, No. 206 Broadway, N. Y.

DWELLINGS TO LET.

TO LET, FURNISHED—TO A PRIVATE FAMILY—An elegant and handsomely furnished, English basement house, on 5th av. near 32d st. The house and furniture have just been put in perfect order, and renovated; rent, $5,000 per annum. Particulars from HOMER MORGAN, No. 2 Pine st.

APARTMENTS—TENTERDEN, NO. 263 WEST 25th st.; southern exposure; brown-stone; artistic; janitor; for small families; rich chandeliers; parquet floors; grates; $42 to $45; play-ground.

REPUBLICAN FLATS TO LET WITH ALL improvements; eight rooms. Inquire of Janitor, No. 455 West 43d st.

STORES, &C., TO LET.

TO LET—AN OFFICE IN THE TIMES BUILDING, second floor, 23 feet by 23 feet, in good condition, suitable for a lawyer's office. Apply to
GEORGE JONES,
Times Office.

SITUATIONS WANTED.

FEMALES.

THE UP-TOWN OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

The up-town office of THE TIMES is located at No. 1,257 Broadway, bet. 31st and 32d sts. Open daily, Sundays included, from 4 A. M. to 9 P. M. Subscriptions received, and copies of THE TIMES for sale.

ADVERTISEMENTS RECEIVED UNTIL 9 P. M.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN, in a private family, as chamber-maid and to assist in washing and ironing; can be highly recommended. Call at No. 15 11th st., between Broadway and University place.

CHAMBER-MAID AND PLAIN SEAMSTRESS.—By a Protestant girl; or chamber-maid and waitress in a small private family; City reference. Call at No. 421 East 19th st.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A LADY, FOR A FAITHFUL servant, a place as chamber-maid and plain seamstress. Call for two days, between 9 and 11 A. M., at No. 43 West 20th st.

CHAMBER-MAID AND SEAMSTRESS.—A lady closing her country house wishes to secure for an excellent servant the position of chamber-maid and seamstress or lady's maid. Call on Mrs. Miller, No. 531 5th av.

CHAMBER-MAID OR LAUNDRESS.—BY A colored young girl, competent for either position; good City reference. Call at No. 692 Linden court, between 42d and 43d st.

CHAMBER-MAID AND SEAMSTRESS.—BY a young Protestant girl; is a good operator; willing and obliging; best City reference. Call at No. 356 West 52d st., second floor.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A RESPECTABLE GIRL, as chamber-maid; plain sewing; best City reference. Can be seen at No. 62 East 41st st., between Madison and 4th aves.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A RESPECTABLE GIRL, as chambermaid and plain sewing, or waitress; best City reference. Call at No. 783 8th av., between 47th and 48th sts.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A PROTESTANT WOMAN as chamber-maid and waitress in a private family; is capable of assisting with any other work; best reference. Call at No. 318 East 27th st.

CHAMBER-MAID AND WAITRESS.—FIRST-class. Can be seen at present employer's, No. 8 West 34th st.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A YOUNG WOMAN; will assist with children; is a good sewer; eight years' reference. Call at No. 123 East 36th st.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A GIRL AS FIRST-CLASS chamber-maid and to do sewing; best City reference. Call at No. 319 East 21st st.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A RESPECTABLE GIRL in a private family; has first-class City reference. Call at No. 31 West Washington square.

COOK.—BY A PROTESTANT GIRL AS A GOOD cook and assist with the washing; is willing and obliging; has five years' reference from the country; is a stranger in the City. Call or address for two days at No. 356 West 52d st.

COOK, WASHER, AND IRONER.—BY A Protestant girl as cook, washer, and ironer; good bread-maker; desserts; fine washer and ironer; does up linen, &c.; good City reference. Apply at No. 228 West 16th st., rear house.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN AS FIRST-class cook; understands all kinds of soups, game, and pastry; good baker; seven years' best reference. Can be seen for two days at No. 163 East 31st st.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN AS GOOD cook: country preferred; good reference. Address B. Y., Box No. 285 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COOK.—BY AN AMERICAN WOMAN AS FIRST-class cook; city or country; good baker; good city reference. Address S. S. Box No. 300 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, No. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN AS FIRST-class cook; understands French and English cooking; good City reference. Call at No. 431 7th av., top floor, front.

COOK, WASHER, AND IRONER.—BY A RE-spectable young woman in a small private family; four years' City reference from last place. Call or address for two days, No. 24 West 43d st.

COOK.—FIRST CLASS; IN A PRIVATE FAMILY; good baker; understands all kinds of cooking; willing to assist with washing; City reference. Call at No. 322 West 14th st.

COOK.—BY AN ENGLISH WOMAN AS GOOD, plain cook; first-class baker; will assist with washing; City or country; best City reference. Call at No. 215 East 28th st.

COOK.—FIRST-CLASS; IN A PRIVATE FAMILY; first-class City references from last employers. Address C. H., Box No. 276 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE COLORED WOMAN as first-class cook in a restaurant; understands her business thoroughly. Call or address Cambie, No. 113 West 25th st.

COOK, WASHER, AND IRONER—CHAMBER-maid and Waitress.—By two respectable girls; sixteen years' reference from last employers. Call at No. 356 West 52d st., second floor.

COOK.—FIRST-CLASS; IN A PRIVATE FAMILY; understands French and English cooking; is a good bread baker; best City references. Call at No. 763 6th av.: ring third bell.

COOK.—BY A YOUNG WOMAN AS GOOD COOK, washer, ironer, and bread and biscuit baker in a private family; best references. Call at No. 124 West 19th st., rear.

COOK.—BY AN ENGLISH PROTESTANT GIRL AS cook, washer, and ironer; good City reference. Call at No. 274 6th st., Jersey City, first floor, for two days.

COOK.—BY A PROTESTANT WOMAN AS GOOD cook, with City reference; none other need apply. Call, between 9 and 11, at No. 168 5th av.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN AS FIRST-class cook; good reference if required. Call at No. 141 West 39th st.

COOK.—BY A COMPETENT PERSON AS COOK IN a small private family; City or country; first-class reference. Call at No. 686 3d av.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE PROTESTANT WOMAN as good cook; best City reference. Apply at No. 709 6th av., toy store.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN AS GOOD cook, or would assist in the wash; good City reference. Call at No. 211 East 38th st.

COOK.—FIRST-CLASS, IN A PRIVATE FAMILY; good City reference from her last place. Call or address for two days No. 215 East 29th st. Room No. 6.

COOK, WASHER, AND IRONER.—BY A young girl as cook, washer, and ironer; good City reference. Call or address No. 303 East 35th st.

COOK, WASHER, AND IRONER.—BY AN English Protestant as cook, washer, and ironer; City reference. Apply at No. 348 West 18th st.

COOK.—BY A FIRST-CLASS GERMAN COOK; Protestant; best City reference. Call at No. 242 East 41st st., first floor.

COOK.—BY A GOOD COOK; UNDERSTANDS ALL kinds of cooking; is willing to assist with washing; best City reference. Call at No. 244 East 44th st.

COOK AND LAUNDRESS.—BY A YOUNG woman as good cook and laundress; good City reference. Call at No. 242 East 41st st., first floor.

COOK.—BY A COMPETENT PERSON AS A GOOD cook and first-class laundress; best of City reference. Call at No. 224 West 31st st.

COOK, WASHER, AND IRONER.—BY A respectable girl as cook, washer, and ironer; best City reference. Call for two days at No. 318 East 44th st.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN AS COOK, washer, and ironer; eight years' reference from last place. Call or address No. 141 East 32d st.

DRESS-MAKER AND FIRST-CLASS OPerator on Wheeler & Wilson machine wishes the work of a few more families; can cut and fit ladies' and children's dresses and all family sewing. Address Dress-maker, Box No. 302 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

DRESS-MAKER.—BY A FIRST-CLASS DRESS-maker, a few more engagements by the day, week, or month; no objection to the country. Call at No. 46 West Washington place.

DRESS-MAKER.—BY A COMPETENT DRESS-maker, a few more engagements by the day or week; can fit and trim; best reference given. Call or address No. 224 West 17th st.

DRESS-MAKER.—BY THE DAY; IS A GOOD fitter and operator; or would take a situation by the month; can do all kinds of family sewing. Call for one week at No. 531 3d av.

DRESS-MAKER.—BY A FIRST-CLASS FRENCH dress-maker; work by the day for private families. Call at No. 876 6th av.

HOUSEKEEPER.—BY A CAPABLE NEW-ENGland woman to assist in household duties, teach children, or the care of an invalid; no compensation except a home required. Address N. H., Box No. 301 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

HOUSE-KEEPER.—TO SUPERINTEND HOUSEhold duties, and care for children. Address E. Webb, Christian Association, No. 7 East 15th st.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY AN AMERICAN PROTestant woman to do the entire work of a small family in the country; a good home more than wages; best of references. Address Industry, Box No. 277 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN to do general house-work; good plain cook; first-rate washer and ironer; good reference. Apply at No. 85 6th av., second floor back.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN to do general house-work in a private family; is a good washer and ironer; three years' good reference. Call at No. 304 East 33d st.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A YOUNG WOMAN IN CITY or country in a small family; no objection to moderate wages; best City reference. Call at No. 244 West 30th st., near 8th av.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A YOUNG GIRL TO DO light house-work or sew; country preferred. Call at No. 153 West 23d st.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A RESPECTABLE GIRL to do general house-work; is willing and obliging; City references. Call at No. 330 East 22d st.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A RESPECTABLE PROTestant girl for general house-work in a small private family; good City references. Call at 118 Jane st.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A YOUNG GIRL LATELY landed, to do light house-work or chamber-work or to take care of children. Call at 530 East 17th st.

LADY'S MAID.—BY A FRENCH SWISS; SPEAKS English; understands hair-dressing and dress making; seamstress; City reference. Address M. B., Box No. 307 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

LADY'S MAID.—BY A GERMAN PROTESTANT as lady's maid; can dress hair, and cut and fit; is an excellent sewer; best of reference; obliging. Call at No. 211 West 29th st.

SITUATIONS WANTED.

FEMALES.

LADY'S MAID.—BY A RELIABLE FRENCH person; is first-class in every respect; understands also the care of an infant from birth; best reference. Call at No. 215 West 31st st.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A YOUNG GIRL AS FIRST-class laundress, or to do light chamber-work, in a private family; first-class reference. Call at No. 316 East 31st st.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A RESPECTABLE GIRL AS A first-class laundress; thoroughly understands her business; first-class reference. Can be seen for two days at No. 424 6th av., between 25th and 26th sts.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A COMPETENT WOMAN; thoroughly understands her business; seventeen years' reference from last place. Call at No. 221 West 21st st.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A RESPECTABLE LAUNdress; best City references; no objection to go a short distance in the country. Call at No. 488 6th av., Room No. 6.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS in a private family; best of City reference from last place. Call or address No. 130 West 20th st., near 6th av.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS, in a private family; best City references. Call at No. 328 West 26th st., second floor, back room.

NURSE.—BY A FRENCH PROTESTANT MIDDLE-aged woman as nurse; can take entire charge of young children and sew; in a private family; has good references. Address J. B., Box No. 287 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

NURSE.—BY A PROTESTANT WOMAN AS THOROugh infant's nurse; is capable of taking sole charge and bringing it up by the bottle; best City reference given; no objection to the country. Call at No. 252 West 22d st., rear.

NURSE OR CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A GIRL; good seamstress; operates Wilson or Willcox machine; understands care of invalid; good City reference. Address M. S., Box No. 255 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, No. 1,257 BROADWAY.

NURSE.—BY A RESPECTABLE GERMAN WOMAN, middle age, as nurse in a private family; is fond of children, and make herself generally useful. Call or address Mrs. Beckner, No. 761 10th av.

NURSE AND SEAMSTRESS.—BY A YOUNG girl as nurse and seamstress; has the best of City references. Call or address for two days, No. 29 West 13th st.

NURSE AND SEAMSTRESS.—BY A RESPECTAble girl, as nurse and seamstress, or would do chamber-work and waiting; best City references. Call or address No. 543 7th av.

NURSE AND SEAMSTRESS.—BY A YOUNG woman; does all kinds of family sewing; operates on Wheeler & Wilson machine; good City reference. Call at No. 427 West 42d st., in store.

NURSE.—BY A GERMAN PERSON, WHO SPEAKS French and English; desires to wait on young ladies; good hair-dresser; good reference. Apply at No. 562 8th av., between 37th and 38th sts., in bakery.

NURSE AND SEAMSTRESS, OR CHAMBER-maid and Seamstress.—By a respectable Protestant woman; fourteen years' reference from last place. Can be seen for two days at No. 16 East 37th st.

SEAMSTRESS.—BY COMPETENT SEAMSTRESS; understands all kinds of sewing by hand and machine; has a Wheeler & Wilson; will assist in chamber-work or growing children; good reference. Call or address No. 1,414 Broadway.

SEAMSTRESS.—BY A RESPECTABLE PROTestant girl as thorough seamstress; would assist with chamber-work or wait on a lady; good operator; best references. Call at No. 411 7th av.

SEAMSTRESS.—WHO IS A FINE DRESS-MAKER, and would assist with other work; reference from last employer. Call at No. 218 East 38th st.

WAITRESS.—BY A FIRST-CLASS WAITRESS; understands all kinds of salads, care of silver, waiting in all its branches; best City reference. Call at No. 488 7th av.

WAITRESS.—FIRST-CLASS; WOULD ASSIST IN chamber-work; neat and obliging; good reference from last employer. Call or address No. 52 East 33d st.

WAITRESS.—BY A YOUNG GIRL AS WAITRESS or chamber-maid; can do plain sewing. Can be seen at present employer's, No. 28 West 21st st.

WAITRESS.—BY A RESPECTABLE GIRL AS first-class waitress; two years' City reference from her last place. Call at No. 122 West 20th st.

WAITRESS.—BY A RELIABLE YOUNG WOMAN as first-class waitress in a private family; five years' City reference. Call at No. 248 West 33d st.

WASHING.—BY A THOROUGH ENGLISH LAUNdress; wishes large or small family's washing; shirts, collars, and evening dresses a specialty. Call on or address Mrs. Walker, No. 235 6th av., late of West 40th st.

WASHING.—A RESPECTABLE COLORED WOman wishes to get washing and ironing to do at home; families or gentlemen. Call or address No. 132 West 27th st.

WASHING.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS who has lived in the best families; would go out by the day or take in washing; best references. Call at No. 211 East 26th st., Room No. 15.

WASHING.—BY A YOUNG WOMAN TO WORK BY the day as first-class laundress; can flute and do clothes beautifully: best City references. Call at No. 243½ East 47th st., Room No. 12.

WASHING.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS, family washing to do at her own home, or would go out by the day; understands fluting. Call at No. 220 West 27th st., Room No. 6.

WASHING.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN, TO go out by the day or take in washing at her own home; good references. Call at No. 338 East 36th st., top floor.

WASHING.—BY A RESPECTABLE COLORED woman, gentlemen's or families' washing; 50 cents to $1 a dozen. Call or address Mrs. Truss, No. 118 West 26th st., near 6th av., basement.

WASHING.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN, TO go out by the day or take in washing and ironing; gentlemen's shirts done up in very desirable manner. Call at No. 738 2d av.

WASHING AND IRONING.—BY THE WEEK or month; taken to the house; 75 cents to $1 per dozen. Mrs. Gills, No. 149 West 26th st.

WASHING.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS, a small family's wash, or will go out by the day; good reference. Call at No. 145 West 38th st.

WASHING.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS; family or single gentlemen's washing at moderate terms. Address E. P. A., 151 West 24th st., top floor.

WASHING.—BY THE MONTH OR DOZEN, BY Mrs. Thomas, No. 1 King st., second floor.

WANTED—LADIES TO LEAVE THEIR FELT and straw hats at Currie's, No. 347 West 26th st.; have them cleaned, dyed, pressed, and re-finished equal to new, for 40c. 100 styles to choose from.

MALES.

BUTLER.—BY A YOUNG ENGLISHMAN AS BUTler, valet, or first-class waiter; excellent City reference. Address S. W., Box No. 284 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

BUTLER.—BY A COLORED YOUNG MAN, IN A private family or private boarding-house; seven years' reference; can be seen for two days. Call at No. 323 West 43d st., top floor.

BUTLER.—BY AN ENGLISHMAN, AGE THIRTY; good references. Address C. C., No. 1,178 Broadway.

COACHMAN.—BY A SINGLE MAN AS FIRST-class coachman and groom; understands his business thoroughly; has eight years' very best City reference; can be highly recommended; don't smoke or drink; wages no object; can drive two or four-in-hand if it is necessary. Address D. C., Box No. 251 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN.—BY A SINGLE PROTESTANT GERman; fully understands the care of horses, carriages, &c.; can milk, attend furnace, and is willing to make himself generally useful; strictly temperate; best City reference. Address F. L., Box No. 226 Times Office.

COACHMAN.—A GENTLEMAN IS ANXIOUS TO procure a situation for his coachman, who has served him faithfully for years, with the strictest honesty, sobriety, and fidelity, who thoroughly understands his business, and performs it; strictly temperate. Address O. K., No. 713 7th av.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A YOUNG single man; perfectly acquainted with his duties; willing and obliging; no objection to country; seven years' City reference from last employer. Call or address L., No. 1,452 Broadway, between 41st and 42d sts., harness store.

COACHMAN.—BY AN ENGLISHMAN; COMPEtent to take full charge of gentleman's establishment; experience in City driving; strictly sober, honest, willing, and trustworthy, as former employers will certify; no objections to any distance or part of country. Address H. W., care R. Campbell, 50 4th av.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A YOUNG man; understands the care of fine horses, harness and carriages; can tend steam and hot-air furnaces; good waiter if required; will make himself useful; good references. Address J. M., Box No. 212 Times Office.

COACHMAN AND GARDENER.—BY A SINgle Protestant German; fully understands the care of horses, carriages, &c.; can milk, tend furnace, and is willing to make himself generally useful; strictly temperate; best City references. Address B. S., Box No. 204 Times Office.

COACHMAN.—BY A GENTLEMAN, ON ACCOUNT of giving up his establishment, an engagement for his coachman; married; good address; can highly recommend him for honesty, sobriety, capability; first-class groom; City driver. Call or address Competent, No. 117 West 50th st., private stable.

COACHMAN AND GARDENER.—BY A SOBER, trustworthy single man, who thoroughly understands proper care and management of horses, carriages, &c.; also gardening; unexceptionable City reference. Address A. T. Lemarest, No. 628 Broadway.

COACHMAN AND GARDENER.—BY A SINgle Englishman; good groom and driver; will be generally useful at all work; understands green-house and milking; small wages. Address B. C., Box No. 229 Times Office, for two days.

COACHMAN.—BY A GENTLEMAN FOR HIS coachman, who, having lived in his employ over eight years, he can recommend as perfectly honest, willing, and obliging, an excellent groom, and good careful City driver. Address Post Office Box No. 3,833.

COACHMAN.—BY A YOUNG MAN NOT LONG from Europe; a practical driver, breaker, and groom; or would act as waiter man in a private family; good reference. Address J. B., Box No. 241 Times Office.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A SINGLE man as coachman and groom, City or country; best reference; willing and obliging. Address J. C., Box No. 227 Times office.

COACHMAN.—BY A MARRIED MAN; NO INCUMbrance; is a careful City driver; seven years' City reference from last employer. Address P. N., Box No. 319 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN.—BY A COMPETENT MAN; BEST City references from his last and former employers. Call or address for three days A. B. C., Brewster & Co.'s, East 25th st.

SITUATIONS WANTED.

MALES.

COACHMAN.—BY AN ENGLISHMAN, WHO thoroughly understands his business; good groom; careful City driver; ten years' experience; City reference. Address A. A., No. 322 East 66th st.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A SINGLE man, who understands his business thoroughly; can give sixteen years' City reference. Address R., Box No. 280 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—PRESENT EMployer wishes a situation for his coachman, whom he can highly recommend; has no objection to the country. Call or address No. 47 5th av.

COACHMAN.—BY A RESPECTABLE SINGLE MAN; cause of leaving last place, employer turning horses out for the Winter; best City or country driving reference. Call for two days on H. B., No. 58 East 41st st.

GROOM OR COACHMAN.—BY A YOUNG MARried man, as groom or coachman; has first-class reference; is willing and obliging; understands perfectly all house-work. Call or address P. R., No. 142 West 37th st.

GROOM.—BY A YOUNG PROTESTANT; WILL make himself generally useful; best City reference. Call or address for two days W. M. C., No. 213 East 28th st.

NURSE.—BY A COMPETENT MAN AS NURSE OR attendant to a sick or invalid gentleman; no objection to travel. Address H. B. B., No. 323 West 34th st.

WAITER.—BY A RESPECTABLE COLORED MAN as waiter in a first-class private family or boarding-house; thoroughly understands his business in all branches; can take charge of any dining-room; is responsible and capable. Call or address, at present employer's, No. 52 West 57th st.

WAITER.—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG MAN as waiter in a private family, where he would be found thoroughly efficient and obliging; the best City reference can be given for honesty and sobriety. Call or address Waiter, No. 158 West 28th st., first floor.

WAITER.—BY A RESPECTABLE COLORED MAN, in a private family; understands his business thoroughly; has served in the best of families in this City; with reference. Address C. R. L., Box No. 264 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITER.—BY A YOUNG COLORED MAN AS PRIvate waiter or waiting on a gentleman, and can give good City reference. Address W. F. H., Box No. 251 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITER.—BY A FIRST-CLASS WAITER IN A private family; thoroughly understands his business; has the best City reference. Address W. B., No. 1,272 Broadway, grocery store.

WAITER.—BY A RESPECTABLE PROTESTANT man; understands his business in all its branches; City or country; can show the very best testimonials from last employer. Call at No. 149 East 41st st.

WAITER.—BY A FIRST-CLASS HEAD WAITER in a private family; City references. Address H. W., Box No. 296 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITER.—FIRST-CLASS; IN A PRIVATE FAMily; six years' reference from previous employers. Address K. J., Box No. 267 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITER.—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG COLored man; thoroughly understands his business; in a private family or boarding-house; good City reference. Call or address C. J., No. 409 Broadway.

WAITER.—BY A THOROUGHLY EXPERIENCED man; first-class City references; is a Protestant. Address G. F., Box No. 297 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITER.—BY A RESPECTABLE COLORED MAN in a private family. Can be seen for two days at No. 117 East 23d st., between 9 and 3 o'clock.

WAITER.—BY A FIRST-CLASS PRIVATE WAITer; Englishman; single; Protestant; City reference. Address H. D., No. 611 6th av.

WAITER.—BY A COMPETENT WAITER IN A private family in City or country; best references. Address E. G., No. 106 South 5th av.

HORSES AND CARRIAGES.

THE UP-TOWN OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

The up-town office of THE TIMES is located at No. 1,257 Broadway, bet. 31st and 32d sts. Open daily, Sundays included, from 4 A. M. to 9 P. M. Subscriptions received, and copies of THE TIMES for sale.

ADVERTISEMENTS RECEIVED UNTIL 9 P. M.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE.

BY WILLIAM VAN TASSELL, AUCTIONEER, OFFICE, NOS. 110 AND 112 EAST 13TH ST., NEAR 4TH AV.

Messrs. VAN TASSELL & KEARNEY will sell at PUBLIC AUCTION ON WEDNESDAY, NOV. 15, at 11 o'clock, AT NO. 740 BROADWAY, NEAR ASTOR PLACE,

FINE STOCK OF ELEGANT CARRIAGES, which will be sold to close the estate of BRADLEY, PRAY & CO. and WM. H. BRADLEY & CO.

THE STOCK COMPRISES STRAIGHT FRONT BROUGHAM COUPE, full-sized Peters Brougham, ¾ Landaulet, very fine Berlin Coach, round-front Coupe, ¾ octagon Landaulet, two very handsome light Brougham Coupes, full sized; full-swept five-glass Landau, full-sized, octagon front Landaulet, very fine full-sized Peters Coupe, fine three-bowed top Cabriolet, very fine large size top Phaeton, large size straight-front Coupe, fine five-glass London Box Landau, fine octagon Coupe, and a very stylish loop Victoria, with rumble and dickey seat.

THESE CARRIAGES ARE ALL OF THE FINEST QUALITY, and have been finished within a few weeks by the Assignee, under the direction of Mr. William H. Bradley.

WE DESIRE TO CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE FORMER CUSTOMERS OF JOHN R. LAWRENCE & CO. and BRADLEY, PRAY & CO. to this stock of carriages. They are equal to any ever manufactured, and a rare opportunity is offered to those in want of a fine carriage.

STOCK NOW ON EXHIBITION AT THE ABOVE ADDRESS, where catalogues may also be obtained, as well as at the office of the auctioneers, Nos. 110 and 112 East 13th st., near 4th av.

S. E. MERVIN, JR., Assignee.

HORSE-BLANKETS.

Carriages, Sleighs, Harness, Robes, &c.
Stable Blankets, large and strong, from $1.
Dress Blankets, fashionable colors, $3 50 to $20.
Truck Blankets, immense stock, from $3 50.
Carriages, Sleighs, Harness, &c., at bottom prices.
JOHN MOORE, No. 57 Warren st.

AT AUCTION TO-MORROW, AT 12 O'CLOCK.—A gentleman's establishment, consisting of coupe, two horses, double harness, saddle horse and saddle; all will be sold at No. 18 Pearl st. TO-MORROW at 12 o'clock. Can be seen at Thorn's stable, near 31st st. and 6th av.

HORSE BLANKETS, CARRIAGE, AND TRAVELING ROBES in quantities and grades to suit buyers. Prices largely reduced. HARMER, HAYS & CO., No. 72 Beekman st.

FOR SALE.—A FIRST-CLASS COUPE HARNESS, silver-mounted and made for private use; will be sold cheap. Call at No. 107 West 31st st.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHEAT FOOD.

Its real value, as described by Liebig, Youmans, Johnston, Horsford, and other scientists, will be found, together with other matter equally interesting and important to good health, &c., in a pamphlet published and sent free by F. E. SMITH & CO., Atlantic Flour Mills, Brooklyn, N. Y. (Manufacturers of the Crushed White Wheat.) Write for it.

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING; each packet is labelled, JAMES EPPS & CO., Homeopathic Chemists, No. 48 Threadneedle st. and No. 170 Piccadilly, London, England. New-York Depot, SMITH & VANDERBEEK, Park place.

CANCER.—NEW TREATISE; HOW CURED WITHout knife or poisonous minerals. Dr. STODDARD, No. 8 West 14th st., New-York.

MUSICAL.

A FINE ASSORTMENT OF FIRST-CLASS piano-fortes for sale at very moderate prices on easy and reasonable terms at HAINES BROTHERS, corner of 2d av. and 21st sts.

A few pianos that have been used a little very low.

GUITAR, BANJO, AND SINGING.—PROF. Napoleon Gould enables pupils in a few lessons to accompany songs and play effectively. Call at No. 168 East 32d st., near 3d av.

CHICKERING, STEINWAY, WEBER, AND other first-class new and second-hand pianos, for sale or rent, and rent applied to purchase. POND'S MUSIC STORE, No. 547 Broadway.

LADY WILL SELL SEVEN-OCTAVE ROSEwood piano, perfect order, less than $100. No. 28 East 3d st., near 2d av.

DANCING.

ALLEN DODWORTH'S DANCING SCHOOL REMOVED TO NO. 681 5TH AV.

Now open for the reception of pupils.
For particulars send for circular.

BOOTS AND SHOES.

"IRONCLADS,"
A STRONG, SERVICEABLE SHOE FOR BOYS AND YOUTHS.
"WAUKENPHAST."
These popular English SHOES can always be found at CANTRELL'S, No. 241 4th av.

MARBLE MANTELS.

MARBLE and MARBLEIZED MANTELS at greatly reduced prices; also, monuments, head-stones, plumbers' and furniture slabs; marble counters, and tiling. A. KLABER, 134 & 136 East 18th st., near 3d av.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

WANTED—AN ENTERPRISING MAN, WITH CAPital, to introduce in this or other countries a valuable and useful patent; appoint time and place for interview. Address Post Office Box No. 4,641, New-York.

GROCERIES, &C.

FRESH ALDERNEY BUTTER
AT MACY & CO.'S, Nos. 439 and 757 6th av.

DRY GOODS.

E. RIDLEY & SONS
Grand and Allen sts., New-York
EVERY DEPARTMENT IN OUR ESTABLISHMENT CROWDED WITH NEW AND DESIRABLE GOODS
TO-DAY, BELOW LAST YEAR'S PRICES.
BLACK AND COLORED VELVETS
at $1 25, $1 50, $1 75, $2, $2 25.
ESPECIALLY EXAMINE QUALITIES AT $2 50, $3, $3 50.
VELVETEENS—BLACKS AND COLORS, from 45c. up.

LADIES' AND MISSES'
CLOAKS, SUITS, MANTILLAS, &c.
SEVERAL NEW STYLES—VERY LOW PRICES.

BOYS' AND YOUTHS' SUITS, OVERCOATS, from $3 50 to $20. PERFECT FIT GUARANTEED.

DAILY FROM EUROPE.
FANCY GOODS, LEATHER GOODS, FANS, TOILET ARTICLES.
ZEPHYR WORSTEDS, DOLLS, DOLLS' ARTICLES, TOYS, and thousands of other varieties, cheap. Examine.
SILVER WARE 20 PER CENT. BELOW REGULAR PRICES. OUR GOODS WARRANTED.

LARGEST STOCK OF FRINGES, DRESS AND CLOAK TRIMMINGS TO BE SELECTED FROM IN THIS CITY. EXTRAORDINARY BARGAINS IN THIS DEPARTMENT.

LOOK AT OUR BONNET ROOMS.
NOVELTIES IN TRIMMED HATS
ARE READY FOR INSPECTION. NOTHING LIKE THEM TO BE FOUND ELSEWHERE.
ALSO, LOW-PRICED TRIMMED HATS at 75c., $1, $1 50, $2, to $5.

500 DOZENS
REAL FELT HATS,
ALL SHAPES AND COLORS, at 25c., 35., 50c., 65c., and 75c.

FIFTY-NINE DEPARTMENTS
CROWDED WITH BARGAINS FROM AUCTION AND PRIVATE SALE. INSPECTION INVITED. ORDERS BY MAIL PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
EDW'D RIDLEY & SONS,
Nos. 309, 311, 311 1-2 GRAND ST.,
Nos. 56, 58, 60, 62, 64, 66, 68, AND 70 ALLEN ST.

E. RIDLEY & SONS
Grand and Allen sts., N. Y.
BASEMENT FLOOR.
FULL LINE OF HOUSEKEEPING GOODS.
CHINA WARE
CHINA TEA SETS, (44 pieces,) $2 50.
DINNER SETS, (100 pieces,) $10.
DINNER SETS, (124 pieces,) $12 50.
FRENCH PORCELAIN TEA SETS, (44 pieces,) $4 50.
DINNER SETS, (100 pieces,) $12.
BARGAINS IN ENGLISH STONE GOODS.
BARGAINS IN IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC GLASSWARE.
LAVA AND MAJOLICA WARE
LOWER THAN ANY HOUSE IN THIS CITY.
EXAMINE OUR BASEMENT FLOOR; IT IS A CURIOSITY.
EDWARD RIDLEY & SONS,
NOS. 309, 311, 311 1-2 GRAND ST.,
NOS. 56, 58, 60, 62, 64, 66, 68, and 70 ALLEN ST.

Cloaking and Trimming
VELVETS.
Arnold, Constable & Co.
ARE OFFERING AN EXTENSIVE ASSORTMENT OF "Lyons" Quality
Black Cloaking Velvets,
(All grades and widths.)
ALSO,
Colored Trimming Velvets, suitable for JEWEL-CASE, MILLINERY, and DRESS-MAKING USES, cut BIAS or STRAIGHT, to suit the TRADE.
Broadway, corner 19th st.

R. H. MACY & CO.
14TH ST. AND 6TH AV., NEW-YORK.
UNLIKE any other establishment in the country.
FOREIGN DRY GOODS, FANCY GOODS, and NOVELTIES by every EUROPEAN STEAMER.
ORDERS BY MAIL RECEIVE SPECIAL CARE.
CATALOGUES FREE.

BLACK DRESS SILKS
AT POPULAR PRICES.
R. H. MACY & CO.,
14TH ST. AND 6TH AV.

FLANNELS, BLANKETS, SHAWLS, WATER-PROOF Cloths, Cassimeres, Table Linens, Napkins, &c., from the recent auction sales. Also, a large quantity of heavy unbleached muslin, slightly damaged by water, for sale cheap.
WM. MATTHEWS, No. 54 Catharine st.

MILLINERY.

MME. R. DAVIS, NO. 189 LEXINGTON AV.—Laces and embroideries done up like new; also, fine curtains renewed, bleached, and finished in the open air without alkalies, acids, or washes. Established 1852.

MARIE TILMANN, OF PARIS, (LATE MICHEL'S,) offers a unique and elegant assortment of finest Paris MILLINERY, No. 423 6th av., near 26th st., to-day.

BANKRUPT NOTICES.

IN BANKRUPTCY.—IN THE DISTRICT COURT of the United States for the Southern District of New-York.—In the matter of BERNARD METZ, JOSEPH METZ, and LEWIS CLEVE, bankrupts.—Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed in said Court by Bernard Metz and Joseph Metz, in said district, duly declared bankrupts under the act of Congress of March 2, 1867, for a discharge and certificate thereof from all the debts and other claims provable under said act, and that the 28th day of November, 1876, at two o'clock, P. M., at the office of Mr. James F. Dwight, Register in Bankruptcy, No. 7 Beekman street, in the City of New-York, is assigned for the hearing of the same, when and where all creditors who have proved their debts, and other persons in interest, may attend and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the said petition should not be granted.—Dated New-York, on the third day of November, 1876.
n6-1aw3wM GEO. F. BETTS, Clerk.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New-York.—In the matter of ISRAEL LINDNER, bankrupt.—In Bankruptcy.—Southern District of New-York, ss.—The said bankrupt having applied to the court for a discharge from his debts, by order of the court, notice is hereby given to all creditors who have proved their debts, and other persons in interest, to appear on the twenty-eighth day of November, A. D. 1876, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, at Chambers of the said District Court, before Isaac Dayton, one of the Registers of the said Court in Bankruptcy, at his office, number 322 Broadway, in the City of New-York, Room number 6, and show cause why the prayer of the said petition of the bankrupt should not be granted, and why a discharge should not be granted to the said bankrupt.—Dated New-York, 2d November, 1876.
n6-1aw3wM* GEO. F. BETTS, Clerk.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New-York.—In the matter of WILLIAM DEGRAAF, bankrupt.—No. 5,642.—In Bankruptcy. Southern District of New-York, ss.—At the City of New-York, the 10th day of November, A. D., 1876. To whom it may concern.—The undersigned hereby gives notice of his appointment as Assignee of William Degraaf, of New-York, in the County of New-York, and State of New-York, within said district, who has been adjudged a bankrupt upon the petition of his creditors by the District Court of said district.
THEODORE J. PALMER, Assignee.
F. A. BURNHAM, Attorney for the Assignee, No. 156 Canal st., New-York City.
n13-1aw3wM

SHIPPING.

WHITE STAR LINE.
FOR QUEENSTOWN AND LIVERPOOL, CARRYING UNITED STATES MAIL.
The steamers of this line take the Lane Routes recommended by Lieut. Maury, U. S. N., going south of the Banks on the passage to Queenstown all the year round.
BALTIC..........SATURDAY, Nov. 25, at noon
ADRIATIC..........SATURDAY, Dec. 2, at 5:30 A. M.
BRITANNIC..........SATURDAY, Dec. 16, 5:30 A. M.
BALTIC..........SATURDAY, Dec. 30, at 3 P. M.
From White Star Dock, Pier No. 52 North River.
These steamers are uniform in size and unsurpassed in appointments. The saloon, staterooms, smoking and bath rooms are amidships, where the noise and motion are least felt, affording a degree of comfort hitherto unattainable at sea.
Rates—Saloon $80 and $100, gold; return tickets on favorable terms; steerage, $28.
For inspection of plans and other information apply at the Company's offices, No. 37 Broadway, New-York.
R. J. CORTIS, Agent.

LIVERPOOL AND GREAT WESTERN STEAM COMPANY. (LIMITED.)
LIVERPOOL, (Via Queenstown,)
CARRYING THE UNITED STATES MAIL.
TUESDAY.
Leaving Pier No. 46 North River as follows:
WYOMING..........Nov. 14, at 3 P. M.
DAKOTA..........Nov. 21, at 9 A. M.
IDAHO..........Nov. 28, at 2:30 P. M.
MONTANA..........Dec. 5, at 8:30 A. M.
NEVADA..........Dec. 12, at 2:30 P. M.
RATES FOR PASSENGERS REDUCED.
Steerage, $26; intermediate, $40; cabin, $55 to $80, according to state-room. Offices, No. 29 Broadway.
WILLIAMS & GUION.

ATLAS MAIL LINE.
BI-MONTHLY SERVICE TO JAMAICA, HAYTI, COLOMBIA, and ASPINWALL, and to PANAMA and SOUTH PACIFIC PORTS (via Aspinwall.) First-class full-powered iron screw steamers, from Pier No. 51 North River:
For KINGSTON (Jam.) and HAYTI.
CLARIBEL..........Nov. 18
ATLAS..........Dec. 6
For HAYTI, COLOMBIA, ISTHMUS OF PANAMA, and SOUTH PACIFIC PORTS (via Aspinwall.)
ALPS..........Nov. 21
ETNA..........Dec. 9
Superior first-class passenger accommodation.
PIM, FORWOOD & CO., Agents, No. 56 Wall st.

GREAT SOUTHERN
FREIGHT AND PASSENGER LINE,
SAILING FROM PIER NO. 29 NORTH RIVER, WEDNESDAYS and SATURDAYS at 3 P. M.,
FOR CHARLESTON, S. C., FLORIDA, THE SOUTH, AND SOUTH-WEST.
GEO. W. CLYDE..........WEDNESDAY....Nov. 15
CITY OF ATLANTA..........SATURDAY....Nov. 18
SUPERIOR PASSENGER ACCOMMODATIONS.
Insurance to destination one-half of one per cent. Goods forwarded free of commission. Passenger tickets and bills of lading issued and signed at the office of
JAMES W. QUINTARD & CO., Agents, No. 177 West st., corner Warren.
Or W. P. CLYDE & CO., No. 6 Bowling Green.
Or BENTLEY D. HASELL, General Agent
Great Southern Freight Line, 317 Broadway.

ONLY DIRECT LINE TO FRANCE.
THE GENERAL TRANSATLANTIC COMPANY'S MAIL STEAMERS BETWEEN NEW-YORK AND HAVRE, Calling at PLYMOUTH (G. B.) for the landing of Passengers.
Cabins provided with electric bells. Sailing from Pier No. 43 North River, foot of Barrow st., as follows:
CANADA, Frangeul..........Saturday, Nov. 18, at 7 A. M.
AMERIQUE, Pouzolz..........Saturday, Dec. 2, at 6 A. M.
FRANCE, Trudelle..........Saturday, Dec. 16, at 6 A. M.
PRICE OF PASSAGE IN GOLD. (including wine,) first cabin, $110 to $120, according to accommodation; second cabin, $72; third cabin, $40. Return tickets at reduced rates. Steerage, $26, with superior accommodation, including wine, bedding, and utensils without extra charge.

STATE LINE.
NEW-YORK TO GLASGOW, LIVERPOOL, DUBLIN, BELFAST, AND LONDONDERRY.
These first-class full-powered steamers will sail from Pier No. 42 North River, foot of Canal st.
STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA..........Thursday, Nov. 16
STATE OF VIRGINIA..........Thursday, Nov. 30
STATE OF NEVADA..........Thursday, Dec. 7
STATE OF INDIANA..........Thursday, Dec. 14
And every alternate Thursday thereafter. First cabin, $60, $65, and $70, according to accommodations; return tickets, $110, $125. Second cabin, $45; return tickets, $80. Steerage at lowest rates. Apply to
AUSTIN BALDWIN & CO., Agents, No. 72 Broadway, New-York.
STEERAGE tickets at No. 45 Broadway, and at the company's pier, foot of Canal st., North River.

ANCHOR LINE U. S. MAIL STEAMERS.
NEW-YORK AND GLASGOW.
Bolivia....Nov. 18, 7 A. M. | Anchoria....Dec. 2, 6 A. M.
Alsatia....Nov. 25, noon | California....Dec. 9, noon
TO GLASGOW, LIVERPOOL, OR DERRY.
Cabins $65 to $80, according to accommodations; Intermediate, $35; Steerage, $28.
NEW-YORK AND LONDON.
Anglia, Nov. 18, 7 A. M. | Utopia, Dec. 2, 7 A. M.
Cabins, $55 to $70. Steerage, $28. Cabin excursion tickets at reduced rates. Drafts issued for any amount at current rates. Company's Pier Nos. 20 and 21, North River, N. Y.
HENDERSON BROTHERS, Agents, No. 7 Bowling Green.

NORTH GERMAN LLOYD.
STEAM-SHIP LINE BETWEEN NEW-YORK, SOUTHAMPTON, AND BREMEN.
Company's Pier, foot of 2d st., Hoboken.
ODER..........Sat., Nov. 18 | NECKAR..........Sat., Nov. 25
HERMANN..........Sat., Nov. 25 | MOSEL..........Sat., Dec. 2
RATES OF PASSAGE FROM NEW-YORK TO SOUTHAMPTON, HAVRE, OR BREMEN:
First cabin..........$100 gold
Second cabin..........60 gold
Steerage..........30 currency
Return tickets at reduced rates. Prepaid steerage certificates, $32 currency. For freight or passage apply to OELRICHS & CO., No. 2 Bowling Green.

NATIONAL LINE. Piers Nos. 44 and 47 N. River.
FOR LONDON.
DENMARK..........Saturday, Nov. 18, at 7 A. M.
FOR QUEENSTOWN AND LIVERPOOL.
Egypt....Nov. 18, 7 A. M. | Italy....Dec. 2, 3 P. M.
Helvetia..Nov. 25, 11 A. M. | The Queen Dec. 9, 11 A. M.
Cabin passage, $55 to $70. Return tickets, $100 to $120, currency.
Steerage passage, $26, currency. Drafts issued from £1 upward at current rates. Company's office, No. 69 Broadway.
F. W. J. HURST, Manager.

INMAN LINE.—MAIL STEAMERS,
FOR QUEENSTOWN AND LIVERPOOL.
CITY OF BERLIN, Saturday, Nov. 18, at 7 A. M.
CITY OF CHESTER, Saturday, Dec. 2, at 6 A. M.
CITY OF RICHMOND, Saturday, Dec. 9, at 12 noon.
From Pier 45 North River.
CABIN, $80 and $100, Gold. Return tickets on favorable terms. STEERAGE, $28, Currency. Drafts issued at lowest rates.
Saloons, State-rooms, Smoking, and Bath-rooms amidships.
JOHN G. DALE, Agent, Nos. 15 and 33 Broadway, N. Y.

FOR SAVANNAH, GA.,
THE FLORIDA PORTS,
AND THE SOUTH AND SOUTH-WEST.
GREAT SOUTHERN FREIGHT AND PASSENGER LINE, CENTRAL RAILROAD OF GEORGIA, AND ATLANTIC AND GULF RAILROAD.
THREE SHIPS PER WEEK.
TUESDAY, THURSDAY, AND SATURDAY.
GENERAL BARNES, Capt. CHESSMAN, TUESDAY, Nov. 14, from Pier No. 43 North River, at 3 P. M.
GEO. YONGE, Agent, No. 409 Broadway.
RAPIDAN, Capt. KEMPTON, THURSDAY, Nov. 16, from Pier No. 16 East River, at 3 P. M.
MURRAY, FERRIS & CO., Agents, No. 62 South st.
SAN JACINTO, Capt. HAZARD, SATURDAY, Nov. 18, from Pier No. 43 North River, at 3 P. M.
GEO. YONGE, Agent, No. 409 Broadway.
Insurance on this line ONE-HALF PER CENT. Superior accommodations for passengers.
Through rates and bills of lading in connection with Central Railroad of Georgia, to all points.
Through rates and bills of lading in connection with the Atlantic and Gulf Railroad and Florida steamers.
C. D. OWENS, Agent A. & G. R. R., No. 315 Broadway.
GEORGE YONGE, Agent C. R. R. of Ga., No. 409 Broadway.

PANAMA TRANSIT AND PACIFIC MAIL
STEAM-SHIP LINES.
FOR CALIFORNIA, JAPAN, CHINA, AUSTRALIA, NEW-ZEALAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, OREGON, &c.
Sailing from Pier No. 42 North River.
For SAN FRANCISCO, via ISTHMUS OF PANAMA.
Steam-ship CRESCENT CITY..........Wednesday, Nov. 15, connecting for Central America and South Pacific ports.
From SAN FRANCISCO to JAPAN and CHINA.
Steam-ship CITY OF TOKIO..........Friday, Dec. 1
From San Francisco to Sandwich Islands, Australia, and New-Zealand.
Steam-ship AUSTRALIA..........Wednesday, Dec. 6
For freight or passage apply to
WM. P. CLYDE & CO., or H. J. BULLAY, Superintendent, No. 6 Bowling Green. Pier 42, N. R., foot Canal st.

NEW-YORK AND HAVANA
DIRECT MAIL LINE.
These first-class steam-ships sail regularly at 3 P. M., from Pier No. 13 North River, as follows:
CUBA..........SATURDAY, Nov. 18
COLUMBUS..........WEDNESDAY, Nov. 22
Accommodations unsurpassed. For freight or passage apply to WM. P. CLYDE & CO., No. 6 Bowling Green. RICKELLER, LUBING & CO., Agents in Havana.

HAMBURG American Packet Company's Line for PLYMOUTH, CHERBOURG, and HAMBURG.
SUEVIA..........Nov. 16 | WIELAND..........Nov. 30
LESSING..........Nov. 23 | HERDER..........Dec. 7
Rates of passage to Plymouth, London, Cherbourg, Hamburg, and all points in England: First Cabin, $100 gold; Second Cabin, $60 gold; Steerage, $30, currency.
KUNHARDT & CO., General Agents, 61 Broad st., N. Y.
C. B. RICHARD & BOAS, General Passenger Agents, 61 Broadway, N. Y.

NEW-YORK, HAVANA, AND MEXICAN MAIL S. S. LINE.
Steamers leave Pier No. 3 North River, at 3 P. M.
FOR HAVANA DIRECT.
CITY OF NEW-YORK..........Wednesday, Nov. 15
CITY OF HAVANA..........Saturday, Nov. 25
CITY OF VERA CRUZ..........Wednesday, Nov. 29
FOR VERA CRUZ AND NEW-ORLEANS,
Via Havana, Progreso, Campeachy, Tuxpan, and Tampico.
CITY OF HAVANA..........Saturday, Nov. 25
For freight or passage apply to
F. ALEXANDRE & SONS, Nos. 31 and 33 Broadway.
Steamers will leave New-Orleans Nov. 12 and Dec. 1 for Vera Cruz and all the above ports.

WILSON LINE FOR SOUTHAMPTON AND HULL.
Sailing from Pier No. 58 North River, as follows:
COLOMBO..........Nov. 11 | HINDOO..........Dec. 9
OTHELLO..........Nov. 25 | NAVARINO..........Dec. 23
First cabin, $70, currency; second cabin, $45, currency; excursion tickets on very favorable terms. Through tickets issued to Continental and Baltic ports. Apply for full particulars to CHARLES L. WRIGHT & CO., No. 56 South st.

SHIPPING.

CUNARD LINE B. & N. A. R. M. S. P. CO.
NOTICE.
With the view of diminishing the chances of collision the steamers of this line take a specified course for all seasons of the year.
On the outward passage from Queenstown to New-York or Boston, crossing meridian of 50 at 43 latitude, or nothing to the north of 43.
On the homeward passage, crossing the meridian of 50 at 42, or nothing to the north of 42.
FROM NEW-YORK FOR LIVERPOOL AND QUEENSTOWN.
BOTHNIA....WED., Nov. 15 | RUSSIA....WED., Nov. 29
ABYSSINIA..WED., Nov. 22 | PARTHIA....WED., Dec. 6
Steamers marked * do not carry steerage passengers.
Cabin passage, $80, $100, and $130, gold, according to accommodation. Return tickets on favorable terms.
Steerage tickets to and from all parts of Europe at very low rates. Freight and passage office, No. 4 Bowling-green.
CHAS. G. FRANCKLYN, Agent.

RAILROADS.

CENTRAL RAILROAD OF NEW-JERSEY —ALLENTOWN LINE.—Ferry stations in New-York, foot of Liberty st. and foot of Clarkson st., up town. Freight station, foot of Liberty st.
Commencing Oct. 2, 1876—Leave New-York, foot of Liberty st., as follows:
5:40 A. M.—MAIL TRAIN for Easton, Belvidere, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamanend, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Carbondale, &c.: connects at Bound Brook for Trenton and Philadelphia at Junction with Del., Lack. and West. Railroad.
7:15 A. M.—For Somerville and Flemington.
8:45 A. M.—MORNING EXPRESS, daily, (except Sundays,) for High Bridge Branch, Easton, Allentown, Harrisburg, and the West. Connects at Easton for Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Towanda, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Danville, Williamsport, &c.
*1:00 P. M.—EXPRESS for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Tamaqua, Mahanoy City, Hazleton, Reading, Columbia, Lancaster, Ephrata, Pottsville, Harrisburg, &c.
4:00 P. M.—For High Bridge Branch, Easton, Belvidere, Allentown, and Mauch Chunk; connects at Junction with Del., Lack. and West. Railroad.
*4:30 P. M.—For Somerville and Flemington.
5:15 P. M.—For Bound Brook.
*5:30 P. M.—EVENING EXPRESS, daily, for Easton, Belvidere, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre, Towanda, Reading, Harrisburg, and the West.
*8:30 P. M.—For Easton.
Boats leave foot of Clarkson st., up-town, at 6:35, 7:35, 9:05, 10:05, 11:35 A. M.; 12:50, 1:50, 3:20, 4:20, 5:20, 6:20, 7:20, 8:20, 10:05, 11:50 P. M.
Connection is made by Clarkson Street Ferry at Jersey City with all trains marked *
For trains to local points see time-table at stations.

NEW-YORK AND LONG BRANCH DIVISION.
ALL-RAIL LINE BETWEEN NEW-YORK, LONG BRANCH, OCEAN GROVE, SEA GIRT, AND SQUAN.
Time-table of Oct. 2, 1876: Trains leave New-York from foot of Liberty st., North River, at 8:15, 11:45 A. M., 4:45 P. M.
From foot of Clarkson st. at 11:35 A. M., 4:20 P. M.
Stages to and from Keyport connect at Matawan Station with all trains.

NEW-YORK AND PHILADELPHIA NEW LINE.
BOUND BROOK ROUTE.
For Trenton, Philadelphia and the Centennial.
Commencing MONDAY, Oct. 9, 1876, trains
Leave New-York, foot of Liberty st., at 5:40, 6:45, 7:45, 9:15 A. M., 1:30, 5, 6:30 P. M.
Leave foot of Clarkson st. at 6:35, 7:35, 9:05 A. M., 12:50, 4:20, 6:20 P. M.
Leave Philadelphia from station North Pennsylvania Railroad, 3d and Berks sts., at 7:30, 9:30 A. M., 1:30, 3:20, 5, 6:30 P. M. Leave Centennial Grounds at 7:15, 9:15 A. M., 1:15, 3, 4:50, 6:10 P. M.
PULLMAN DRAWING ROOM CARS are attached to the 7:45 and 9:15 A. M. trains from New-York, and to trains leaving Centennial Grounds at 4:50 and 6:10 P. M.
All trains connect at Trenton Junction to and from Trenton.
Leave Trenton for New-York at 5:45, 8:15, 10:20 A. M., 2:10, 3:45, 5:45, 7:20 P. M.
Rates for passengers and freight as low as by other routes.
CENTENNIAL PASSENGERS delivered at the main entrance to the Centennial Grounds.
H. P. BALDWIN, Gen. Pass. Agent.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT TRUNK LINE
AND UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE.
Trains leave New-York, via Desbrosses and Cortlandt Street Ferries, as follows:
Express for Harrisburg, Pittsburg, the West and South, with Pullman Palace Cars attached, 9:30 A. M., 6 and 8:30 P. M. Sunday, 6 and 8:30 P. M.
For Williamsport, Lock Haven, Corry, and Erie at 2:40 and 8:30 P. M., connecting at Corry for Titusville, Petroleum Centre, and the Oil Regions.
For Baltimore, Washington, and the South, "Limited Washington Express" of Pullman Parlor Cars daily, except Sunday, 9:30 A. M.; arrive Washington, 4:15 P. M. Regular at 8:40 A. M., 2:40, and 9 P. M. Sunday 9 P. M.
Express for Philadelphia, 7:30, 8:40, 9:30 A. M., 12:30, 2:40, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8:30, 9 P. M., and 12 night. Accommodation 7 A. M. and 4:10 P. M. Sunday 8 A. M., 5, 6, 7, 8:30, and 9 P. M. Emigrant and second class 7 P. M.
For Centennial Depot at 5:30, 6:30, 7:30, 8, 8:40, 9:30 A. M., 12:30, 3, and 4 P. M. On Sunday 8 A. M. Returning, leave Centennial Depot at 7:15, 8:15, 10:50 A. M., 1, 1:15, 3, 3:30, 4:45, 5:30, 6, 6:50, and 7:05 P. M. On Sunday 4:20 A. M. and 7 P. M.
For trains to Newark, Elizabeth, Rahway, Princeton, Trenton, Perth Amboy, Flemington, Belvidere, and other points, see local schedules at all Ticket Offices.
Trains arrive: From Pittsburg, 6:20 and 10:30 A. M. and 10:20 P. M. daily; 10:10 A. M. and 6:50 P. M. daily, except Monday. From Washington and Baltimore, 6:30, 9:40 A. M., 4:10, 5:10, and 10:20 P. M. Sunday, 6:30, 9:40 A. M. From Philadelphia, 5:05, 6:20, 6:30, 9:40, 10:10, 11:20, 11:50 A. M., 2:10, 3:50, 4:10, 5:10, 6:10, 6:50, 7:35, 7:40, 8:40, and 10:20 P. M. Sunday, 5:05, 6:20, 6:30, 9:40, 10:10, 11:50 A. M., 6:50 and 10:20 P. M.
Ticket Offices—Nos. 526 and 944 Broadway, No. 1 Astor House, and foot of Desbrosses and Cortlandt sts.; No. 4 Court st., Brooklyn; Nos. 114, 116, and 118 Hudson st., Hoboken; Depot, Jersey City. Emigrant Ticket Office, No. 8 Battery place.
D. M. BOYD, JR., General Passenger Agent.
FRANK THOMSON, General Manager.

NEW-YORK CENTRAL AND HUDSON RIVER RAILROAD.—After Sept. 18, 1876, through trains will leave Grand Central Depot:
8:00 A. M., Chicago and Northern Express, with drawing-room cars through to Rochester and St. Albans, Vt.
10:30 A. M., special Chicago Express, with drawing-room cars to Rochester, Buffalo, and Niagara Falls.
11:00 A. M., Northern and Western Express.
3:30 P. M., special Albany, Troy, and Western Express. Connects at East Albany with night express for the West.
4:00 P. M., Montreal Express, with sleeping cars from New-York to Montreal.
6:00 P. M., Express, with sleeping cars, for Watertown and Canandaigua. Also for Montreal via Plattsburg.
8:30 P. M., Pacific Express, daily, with sleeping cars, for Rochester, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cleveland, Louisville, and St. Louis. Also for Chicago, via both L. S. and M. C. Railroads.
11:00 P. M., Express, with sleeping cars, for Albany and Troy. Way trains as per local Time Table.
Tickets for sale at Nos. 252 and 413 Broadway, and at Westcott Express Company's offices, Nos. 7 Park place, 785 and 942 Broadway, New-York, and 333 Washington st., Brooklyn.
C. B. MEEKER, General Passenger Agent.

LEHIGH VALLEY RAILROAD.
ARRANGEMENT PASSENGER TRAINS, April 16, 1876.
Leave depots foot of Cortlandt and Desbrosses sts., at 7 A. M.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Hazleton, Beaver Meadows, Mahanoy City, Shenandoah, Mount Carmel, Shamokin, Wilkesbarre, Pittston, Sayre, Elmira, &c., connecting with trains for Ithaca, Auburn, Rochester, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, and the West.
1 P. M.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Hazleton, Mahanoy City, Shenandoah, Wilkesbarre, Pittston, &c., making close connection for Reading, Pottsville, and Harrisburg.
4 P. M.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, and Mauch Chunk, stopping at all stations.
6:30 P. M.—Night Express, daily, for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre, Pittston, Sayre, Elmira, Ithaca, Auburn, Rochester, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, and the West. Pullman's sleeping coaches attached.
General Eastern office corner Church and Cortlandt sts. CHARLES H. CUMMINGS, Agent.
ROBERT H. SAYRE, Superintendent and Engineer.

ERIE RAILWAY.
Summer Arrangement of through trains, 1876. From Chambers Street Depot. (For 23d st. see note below.)
9:00 A. M., daily, except Sundays, Cincinnati and Chicago Day Express. Drawing-room coaches to Buffalo and sleeping coaches to Cincinnati and Detroit. Sleeping coaches to Chicago.
10:45 A. M., daily, except Sundays, Express Mail for Buffalo and the West. Sleeping coach to Buffalo.
7:00 P. M., daily, Pacific Express to the West. Sleeping coaches through to Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Cincinnati, and Chicago, without change. Hotel dining coaches to Cleveland and Chicago.
7:00 P. M., except Sundays, Western Emigrant train.
Above trains leave Twenty-third Street Ferry at 8:45 and 10:15 A. M., and 6:45 P. M.
For local trains see time-tables and cards in hotels and depots.
JNO. N. ABBOTT, General Passenger Agent.

NEW-YORK, NEW-HAVEN, AND HARTFORD RAILROAD.
After June 11, 1876, trains leave Grand Central Depot (42d st.) for New-Canaan Railroad at 8:05 A. M., 1, 4:40, and 5:45 P. M.; Danbury and Norwalk Railroad at 8:05 A. M., 1, 3:15, and 4:40 P. M.; Naugatuck Railroad at 8:05 A. M. and 3 P. M.; Housatonic Railroad at 8:05 A. M. and 3 P. M.; New-Haven and Northampton Railroad at 8:05 A. M. and 3 P. M.; for Newport at 8:05 A. M. and 1 P. M.; Boston and Albany Railroad at 8:05 and 11 A. M., 3 and 9 P. M., (9 P. M. on Sunday;) Boston (via Shore Line) at 1 and 10 P. M., (10 P. M. on Sundays.)
Way trains as per local time tables.
J. T. MOODY, Superintendent New-York Division.
E. M. REED, Vice President, New-York.

WICKFORD RAILROAD ROUTE TO NEWPORT, R. I.—Passengers for this line take 8:05 A. M. and 1 P. M. express trains from Grand Central Depot, arriving at 4:18 and 8 P. M., at Newport.
THEODORE WARREN, Superintendent.

BOARDING AND LODGING.

THE UP-TOWN OFFICE OF THE TIMES.
The up-town office of THE TIMES is located at No. 1,257 Broadway, bet. 31st and 32d sts. Open daily, Sundays included, from 4 A. M. to 9 P. M. Subscriptions received, and copies of THE TIMES for sale.
ADVERTISEMENTS RECEIVED UNTIL 9 P. M.

A PRIVATE FAMILY OF THREE ADULTS will let all or a part of the second story of their own large and well-furnished house west of 5th av. and very near Windsor Hotel, to a gentleman and wife or one or two gentlemen; no greater number will be taken; table and all else of the first class, and a reasonable price expected. Address Box No. 3,446 Post Office.

MADISON AV., BETWEEN 35TH AND 37TH STS.—A home of unusual comfort and elegance is offered in a refined private family; exquisite suite on second or third floor, or singly; terms moderate; references. Address Home, Box No. 263 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

A FURNISHED SECOND FLOOR FOR family or gentleman, with board in a refined family; terms reasonable; 43d st., between 5th and Madison avs. Address A. L., Box No. 258 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

FIFTH AV., NEAR 30TH ST.—PRIVATE family offer handsomely-furnished suites, with strictly first-class board at reasonable rates; references exchanged. Address M. B., Box No. 2,468 Post Office.

WITH BOARD—AN ELEGANT SECOND FLOOR to gentleman and wife; also third, en suite, or separate; house occupied by owner; refined family desiring an unexceptionable house; superior table; references. Apply at No. 123 West 45th st.

NO. 70 IRVING PLACE, (GRAMERCY PARK.)—Entire second floor, en suite or singly, with or without private table; also, extra-large hall rooms, with fires; location, house, and table first-class; moderate terms.

NOS. 51 AND 53 WEST 25TH ST., NEAR MADISON SQUARE.—Elegantly-furnished rooms or entire second floor, with private table if desired; also, pleasant rooms for gentlemen; house and table strictly first-class.

SEVENTEENTH ST., NO. 61 WEST, NEAR 5TH AV.—Entire second floor or en suite; also third floor room, with board; for parties desiring a refined home.

TWO OR THREE GENTLEMEN AND their wives can be accommodated with board in a private family, (no other boarders,) at No. 457 West 21st st.

NO. 56 9TH ST., NEAR BROADWAY.—Finely furnished reception-room, with bed-room attached; also single room; breakfast if desired; modern conveniences; terms moderate; quiet house.

FIFTH AV., NO. 224, OPPOSITE HOTEL Brunswick, suite of parlor and bed-room for gentleman; also, single rooms, with breakfast if desired; references exchanged.

THREE DOORS FROM 5TH AV., NO. 12 East 16th st., three handsomely furnished rooms, connecting, on parlor floor; private table if desired, at a moderate price.

TO LET, WITH BOARD—A LARGE, DESIRable parlor, either front or back; modern improvements; in a homelike American family. No. 133 East 27th st.

THIRTY-FOURTH ST., NO. 158, EAST.—A handsomely furnished large, and hall room; southern exposure; with unexceptionable board; family private.

NO. 74 WEST 35TH ST.—LARGE ROOM, SECond floor; sunny exposure; also single room, third floor, and two rooms fourth floor; excellent board; moderate terms; references.

ONE LARGE SUNNY FRONT ROOM, second floor, large closet, with board; strictly first-class house, choice table, location central. No. 44 7th av., near 14th st.

FIFTH AV., NO. 81, FIRST DOOR BELOW 16TH ST.—A front parlor and connecting bedroom, third floor; two rooms on fourth floor, with board; references exchanged.

NO. 41 WEST 36TH ST.—ONE LARGE SUNNY room, second floor, elegantly furnished, with bedroom communicating; hot and cold water and ample closet room; full board; references exchanged.

TO LET, WITH BOARD—TWO FRONT ROOMS, connecting, on third floor, in a small family. Apply at No. 62 West 45th st.

FIFTH AV., NO. 273.—HANDSOME PARLOR suite, with first-class private table; also, rooms on fourth floor.

NO. 6 EAST 32D ST.—SUNNY PARLOR, BEDroom, parlor floor; also two upper rooms, with board.

NO. 49 WEST 16TH ST.—HANDSOMELY-furnished room and bed-room with board; also, other large and small rooms; table board.

A PRIVATE AMERICAN FAMILY WILL board a couple at $6 each per week. Address EAST 62D ST., Station H.

TWENTY-THIRD ST., AT NO. 36 EAST—Rooms singly or en suite; private table if desired; good board; references.

NO. 122 MADISON AV.—PARLOR AND TWO single rooms on third floor, with board; references exchanged.

NO. 250 MADISON AV.—DESIRABLE SUITE OF front rooms to let, with or without private table; also single room.

NO. 178 MADISON AV.—MRS. R. H. JENKINS has rooms on second floor and one on fourth, for rent, with board.

WITH PRIVATE TABLE, TO LET—HANDsome second or upper floor in first-class house, No. 67 West 38th st., between 5th and 6th avs.

NO. 23 WAVERLEY PLACE.—A HANDSOMEly-furnished front parlor to rent, with or without private table, and other rooms.

FIFTH AV., NO. 73, NORTH-EAST CORNER 15TH ST.—Suite of rooms on second floor; also, other rooms, with board.

NO. 8 EAST 30TH ST., NEAR 5TH AV.—Fine suite of rooms on second floor, front, to let, with board.

FIFTH AV., NO. 45, BETWEEN 11TH AND 12TH STS.—Spacious suite of well-furnished apartments, on parlor floor, with or without private table.

NO. 434 5TH AV.—A VERY CHOICE SUITE OF apartments, with private table; also, a small suite of three rooms.

TWENTY-THIRD ST., NO. 116 EAST.—Parlor and bed-room on second floor front, with board; also, hall-room; references.

NO. 29 WEST 26TH ST.—DESIRABLE SUNNY rooms, for families and gentlemen, with superior table.

TO LET.—FURNISHED, WITH BOARD, SITTING-room and bed-room, on second and third floors; house first-class; references. No. 235 West 38th st.

NICELY-FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET, with board, to a gentleman and wife, or a party of gentlemen. No. 244 East 19th st.

ONE DOOR FROM MADISON SQUARE.—No. 33 East 23d st., elegantly furnished floors with private tables.

23D ST., NO. 120 EAST.—NEAR 4TH AV.; handsomely furnished rooms on second and third floors with superior board; references exchanged.

NO. 51 EAST 23D ST.—HANDSOMELY FURnished rooms and first-class board for gentlemen in a private family; references.

SECOND FLOOR.—TWO LARGE ROOMS, FURnished or unfurnished, with or without board. Particulars at No. 304 3d av., near 23d st., in the store.

NO. 33 WEST 42D ST., FRONTING RESERVOIR PARK.—House new; elegantly-furnished handsome rooms, with excellent board.

NO. 109 WEST 28TH ST.—VERY NICE FURnished rooms, with or without board; private family.

NO. 37 WEST 31ST ST.—LARGE ELEGANT room on first floor; superior table; suitable for couple.

BOARD.—PLEASANT SQUARE ROOMS TO A family; moderate price; excellent table; references. Call at No. 39 West 16th st.

NO. 28 WEST 31ST ST.—HANDSOMELY FURnished floor and single rooms with board; private table if desired; references.

NO. 4 EAST 29TH ST., BETWEEN 5TH AND MADISON AVS.—Handsomely-furnished rooms; first-class board; table boarders taken.

EXCELLENT BOARD, $6 AND UPWARD, at New-Brighton, Staten Island. Address Box No. 106, New-Brighton.

A PRIVATE FAMILY WILL LET TO GENtlemen rooms with all improvements; full or partial board if desired. No. 20 West 15th st., near 5th av.

NO. 9 WEST 21ST ST.—DESIRABLE ROOMS; unsurpassed locality; pleasant appointments, with board; terms reasonable; references exchanged.

NO. 50 WEST 19TH ST.—ONE LARGE AND two single rooms adjoining; strictly first-class board; references.

NO. 223 WEST 24TH ST.—HANDSOMELY furnished room, second floor, with board; also, front room, third floor.

NO. 18 EAST 32D ST.—ELEGANT SECOND floor; also other rooms; table first-class; private if desired.

NO. 4 EAST 10TH ST., ONE DOOR FROM 5th av.; first floor, three rooms, furnished, with private table.

FIFTH AV., NO. 201.—VERY DESIRABLE suite of apartments; private table if desired; room for gentleman.

NO. 36 EAST 20TH ST.—PARLOR FLOOR, three large rooms, bath, ample closets, private table; rooms for gentlemen without board; references.

PLEASANT ROOMS, WITH BOARD, third floor, en suite or singly; other rooms; references. No. 116 West 45th st.

BOARD.—WELL-FURNISHED ROOMS, SINGLE, double, or en suite, and elegant general parlor. No. 13 West 29th st., second door from Gilsey House.

NO. 260 4TH AV., MRS. WILLIAMS.—TWO desirable suites; private table.

NO. 14 5TH AV.—A SUITE OF ROOMS ON THIRD floor, with board; also, rooms on fourth floor.

FIFTH AV., NO. 341.—MRS. SEAVER WILL rent apartments with private table.

NO. 56 WEST 39TH ST.—ROOMS TO LET, with board, on third floor; references exchanged.

NO. 25 WEST 16TH ST.—ROOMS ON SECOND and third floors, with board, for first-class parties.

TO RENT, WITH BOARD, ROOMS ON SECOND and fourth floors; reference. No. 10 East 32d st.

NO. 950 LEXINGTON AV., NEAR NORMAL College.

NO. 29 WEST 21ST ST.—HANDSOMELY-FURnished rooms, with board; references.

A SUITE OF ROOMS, WITH BOARD, with private family. No. 56 West 48th st.

TEACHERS.

AN EXPERIENCED CLASSICAL AND MATHematical teacher, who graduated with the highest honors, desires private pupils; prepares for college; highest City reference. Address Earnest, Box No. 325 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

BOYS PREPARED FOR COLLEGE BY a graduate of Harvard; experienced in teaching. Address Harvard, Box No. 293 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

A LADY WHO HAS MUCH EXPERience in teaching desires a situation as governess, or would be companion to an invalid lady; no objection to traveling. Address H. L. R., No. 7 East 15th st.

A WELCOME NOTICE!—MR. A. WUNDERMAN, the celebrated, well-known, successful master-teacher of singing and piano, can accommodate a few pupils. Address No. 231 East 58th st.

A GRADUATE OF YALE, WITH HIGHEST testimonials and City reference, desires private pupils; fitting for college a specialty. Address YALE, Box No. 156 Times Office.

AN EDUCATED CLERGYMAN WILL DEvote part of his time to giving private instruction upon almost every subject; also culture. Address CLERGYMAN, Box No. 134 Times Office.

MRS. MITCHELL, (DIPLOMEE,) SUPPLIES families without charge with competent and reliable governesses, tutors, professors of music and languages. TEACHERS' BUREAU, No. 67 West 35th st.

FRENCH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE by an experienced Parisian lady diplomée. Mlle. VERBL, No. 1,267 Broadway, Room No. 23.

BOARDING AND LODGING.

WEST 21ST ST., BETWEEN 5TH AND 6TH AVS.—To let, with board, to a gentleman and wife, a large sunny room on the second floor; also two rooms on the fourth floor to single gentlemen; references exchanged. Address X. R., Box No. 260 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

ONE SUITE; AND ONE SINGLE ROOM; elegant and convenient in every respect; with board; family occupying their own house; highest references exchanged. Call at No. 43 West 22d st.

NO. 28 WEST 12TH ST., WEST OF 5TH AV.—With board, handsomely-furnished rooms, large and small, suited for a family or party of gentlemen; house and table first class.

VERY DESIRABLE SECOND FLOOR front room, large room adjoining, with good board; also hall-room, with closet and fire; references. No. 36 East 12th st.

FIFTH AV., NO. 5, NEAR THE BREVOORT HOUSE—One large double room on second floor; also two single rooms; table unexceptionable.

NO. 20 EAST 22D ST.—PARLOR AND BED rooms, second floor; rooms for single gentlemen; table board.

NO. 123 MADISON AV., WELL FURNISHED rooms, with or without private table; references exchanged. Mrs. J. B. COZZENS

NO. 47 WEST 38TH ST.—NICELY-FURnished rooms to let, with excellent board; references exchanged.

THIRD-STORY FRONT ROOMS, BACK PARlor, and fourth-floor large room to rent, with board; references exchanged. Nos. 106 and 108 East 23d st.

ONE ALCOVE ROOM, ALSO OTHER rooms, with board for gentlemen and their wives, or single gentlemen; references. 104 West 38th st.

NO. 30 EAST 22D ST.—TWO HANDSOMELY-furnished connecting rooms, with board; hall-room; references exchanged.

NO. 8 EAST 32D ST.—ROOMS ON SECOND AND fourth floors, handsomely furnished, with board; references.

NO. 8 EAST 9TH ST., NEAR 5TH AV.—Desirable furnished appartments, with or without private table.

NO. 43 EAST 29TH ST.—ROOMS ON SECOND and third floors, with first-class board; references.

NO. 54 WEST 38TH ST.; FRONT ROOM, on third floor, to let with board; references.

NINTH ST., NO. 37, WEST.—DESIRABLE rooms, with superior board.

FURNISHED ROOMS.

A STRICTLY PRIVATE FAMILY, RESIDing in 18th st., east of 4th av., convenient to Clarendon, Westminster, Everett, and other hotels, would rent, without board, to a single gentleman, a large, handsomely-furnished front room, bedroom connecting. Those desiring first-class accommodations may address X. Y., Box No. 105 Times Office.

A LARGE, HANDSOMELY-FURNISHED ROOM—All conveniences, ample closets, adjoining bath-room, in a strictly private family of refinement, in 30th st., east of Madison av., to rent to a single gentleman; references exchanged. Address J. K., Box No. 137 Times Office.

NO. 27 WEST 27TH ST., NEAR BROADWAY.—Two handsomely furnished parlors; very desirable for a Doctor or party of gentlemen; other desirable rooms at moderate prices; house first-class. References.

HANDSOMELY FURNISHED ROOM and dressing-room; also single rooms to gentlemen; breakfast if desired; vicinity Grand Hotel. Address A. K. B., Box No. 293 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

TO ONE OR TWO GENTLEMEN.—HANDsomely-furnished hall room and parlor fronting on 2d av.; splendid neighborhood; can be seen to-day; references exchanged. C. E. J., No. 251 East 13th st., 3d bell.

NO. 7 WEST 25TH ST.—AN ELEGANTLY FURnished suite of rooms on first floor to let, without meals; also rooms on fourth floor for gentlemen; references.

DESIRABLE ROOMS ON THE SECOND floor, thoroughly furnished, to let, without board, for the Winter; prices low to a good tenant. No. 41 West 11th st., between University place and 5th av.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAS TAKEN THE house No. 18 West 25th st., and would respectfully solicit the patronage of those wanting good and well-furnished rooms. E. P. GARDINER.

LARGE FRONT, AND HALL-ROOM ADjoining, first floor, singly or together to gentlemen; private family; breakfast if desired. No. 332 West 23d st.

NO. 388 4TH AV.—SEVERAL HANDSOMELY-furnished rooms en suite or singly, with all modern conveniences; private house, central location, convenient to restaurants; references.

NO. 107 EAST 44TH ST., NEAR GRAND CENTRAL DEPOT.—Furnished rooms to let, with every convenience for housekeeping, for small respectable families.

NO. 109 CLINTON PLACE.—CHOICE FURnished rooms, second floor, single or double; prices low; cars, restaurants, near; references.

NO. 47 WEST 29TH ST.—PRIVATE house, extra large furnished hall room, southern exposure; house and appointments first-class.

HANDSOMELY-FURNISHED ROOMS FOR gentlemen, in private house. No. 131 East 17th st., near Union square.

NO. 328 WEST 20TH ST.—NICELY FURNISHED rooms for gentlemen, in house of private family; convenient to Elevated Railroad and four lines of cars.

NO. 100 EAST 58TH ST.—PRIVATE FAMILY offer nicely-furnished rooms, on second and third floors, to gentlemen and wives or single gentlemen.

UNFURNISHED ROOMS.

LENOX, 5th av., corner 13th st.
Unfurnished apartments, suitable for large and small families, unsurpassed for convenience and elegance by any in the City. Meals at the option of tenant.

HOTELS.

HOTEL ROYAL—RESERVOIR PARK AND 40TH st.; a very quiet, select family hotel, with restaurant of unsurpassed excellence. Liberal arrangements made for the Winter.

WINTER RESORTS.

THE ROYAL VICTORIA HOTEL, NASSAU, Bahama Islands, now open; T. J. PORTER, Proprietor. Steamers leave New-York Oct. 28 and Nov. 20. For full information, apply to James Liggerwood & Co., No. 758 Broadway, New-York.

LEGAL NOTICES.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT, Southern District of New-York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of ALMON MILLER, MARINUS O. COUGHLAN, EDWIN CHURCH, and THOMAS C. GOETCHIUS, bankrupts.—The undersigned, Assignees of the estates and effects of the above-named bankrupts, hereby give notice that they will sell at public auction, at the Exchange Sales-room, No. 111 Broadway, in the City of New-York, on the 18th day of November, 1876, at 12 o'clock, noon, by James M. Miller, auctioneer, that certain property, part of the estate of said bankrupts, described as follows, to wit: All those certain thirty-four lots, pieces, or parcels of land situate, lying and being at Valley Stream, and County of Queens, and State of New-York, and being laid down and designated on a map entitled, Plan of property at Valley Stream, L. I., by the letters and numbers following, viz:—Lots numbered 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, and 28, in Block B, Subdivision 2, upon said map, being all the lots upon said Block B excepting lots 9, 10, 11, 12, and 18. Also, lots numbered 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, and 28 of Block C, Subdivision 2, upon said map. Also, lot number 14, of Block D of said Subdivision 2.—Dated New-York, October 28th, 1876.
JOHN CROMPTON, JOHN C. DICKINSON, } Assignees.
F. C. BOWMAN, No. 7 Beekman st., N. Y., Attorney for Assignees. o30-1aw3wM*

SUPREME COURT—CITY AND COUNTY OF New-York.—THOMAS DENNY, as Administrator of the goods, chattels, and credits of THOMAS DENNY, deceased, plaintiff, against MARY H. LESTER and ANDREW LESTER, her husband, defendants.—Summons for relief.—Com. Served.—To the defendants: You are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint in this action, a copy of which is herewith served upon you, and which will be filed in the office of the Clerk of the City and County of New-York at the Court-house in the City of New York, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint on the subscribers, at their office, No. 120 Broadway, in the City of New-York, within twenty days after the service of this summons on you, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the said complaint within the time aforesaid the plaintiffs in this action will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.—Dated, Sept. 11, 1876.
DAVIES, WORK, McNAMEE & HILTON, Plaintiff's Attorneys, No. 120 Broadway, New-York.
The complaint in the above entitled action was duly filed in the Office of the Clerk of the City and County of New-York, at the new Court-house, in said city, on the 11th day of October, 1876.
DAVIES, WORK, McNAMEE & HILTON, Plaintiff's Attorneys.
o16-1aw6wM* No. 120 Broadway, New-York City.

NOTICE.—IN ACCORDANCE WITH AN ORDER OF the Chancellor of New-Jersey notice is hereby given that all the circulating notes of the Bank of Trade at Toms River, New-Jersey, shall be presented to the Treasurer of the State of New-Jersey at the State-house, in the City of Trenton, New-Jersey, for redemption within six months from the date hereof, the holders or owners of such notes failing to present the same for redemption according to this notice shall be barred from all right to have the same redeemed by the State Treasurer out of the securities in his hands to redeem the circulating notes of said bank.—Dated 29th June, 1876. H. S. LITTLE, Clerk.
jy3-1aw6mTu

COPARTNERSHIP NOTICES.

NEW-YORK, Nov. 1.
I BEG TO INFORM YOU THAT I HAVE this day closed the business of commission merchant hitherto carried on by me in this City.
C. MENELAS.

The undersigned have this day commenced business as commission merchants under the style of MENELAS & MIKAS, No. 80 Beaver st.
NEW-YORK, Nov. 1.
C. MENELAS, A. MIKAS.

DIVIDENDS.

CLEVELAND AND PITTSBURG RAILROAD COMPANY.
OFFICE OF SECRETARY AND TREASURER, CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 3, 1876. }
The regular guaranteed quarterly dividend of this company, at the rate of Seven per Cent. per annum, on the new guaranteed stocks will be paid on and after the 1st December proximo, at the office of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, No. 26 Exchange place, New-York. The transfer-books will close on the 10th inst. and reopen on the 2d December.
GEO. A. INGERSOLL, Secretary.

AMUSEMENTS.

NIBLO'S GARDEN.
CHARLES R. ARNOLD..........Lessee and Manager
BENSEN SHERWOOD..........Director
Third month of
BABA,
Written expressly for this theatre by Mr. John A. Mack.
UNABATED SUCCESS OF
Miss ELIZA WEATHERSBY..........as..........AMORET
Mr. W. H. CRANE..........as..........BABA
Continued triumph of
Miles. ELIZABETA and HELENE MENZELI.
The most artistic premieres assolutas ever seen in this country.
MR. BENSEN SHERWOOD'S MARVELOUS TRANSFORMATIONS.
THE SHIP CHANGE, THE THREE GROTTOS,
THE CRUMBLING PALACE,
THE GRANDEST BALLETS IN THE WORLD,
MAX MARETZEK'S SWEET MUSIC,
DEVERNA'S ARTISTIC PROPERTIES,
RICHEST COSTUMES. EXQUISITE SCENERY.
JOLLIEST PLAY.
THE BEST ENTERTAINMENT IN THE CITY.
Box office open daily from 8 A. M. to 10 P. M., where seats may be secured one week in advance.
MATINEE SATURDAY AT 1:30.

ESSIPOFF. STEINWAY HALL.
It is respectfully announced that the first appearance in America of the eminent Russian pianiste,
MADAME ANNETTE ESSIPOFF,
will take place
TUESDAY EVENING, NOV. 14,
on which occasion Mme. ESSIPOFF will be assisted by MONSIEUR ALFRED VIVIEN, violin virtuoso of the Conservatory of Brussels, expressly engaged for the Essipoff concert, and a very select orchestra from the PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.
Conductor..........Mr. REINHARD SCHMELZ
Admission, $1; reserved seats, $2. Seats at Schuberth's Music store and Steinway Hall.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH.
23d st., between 5th and 6th avs.,
Lecture by Rev.
H. M. GALLAHER,
Subject: "America and the Americans."
Tuesday Evening, Nov. 14.
Admission 50 cents.

BRILLIANT NEW MUSIC.
"Shaughraun Waltz," Thomas Baker, 60 cts.; "The Glorious Gates Ajar," sung by Mr. Hamilton at the San Francisco Minstrels, Whitoley, 40 cts.; "Hail Columbia," paraphrase du concert, for piano, S. B. Mills, $1; "One Love Alone," B. Tours, written expressly for, and sung by, George Simpson, 40 cts.; "Moonshine," bagatelle, for piano, G. W. Warren, 60 cts.; "Infelice Galop," Hall, 60 cts. Copies mailed. WILLIAM A. POND & CO., No. 547 Broadway, and No. 39 Union square, New-York.

CENTENNIAL BAZAAR.
NOV. 15, 16, AND 17,
WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, AND FRIDAY,
At No. 113 East 40th st., near Park av.
OPEN FROM 12 TO 10 P. M.
Admission, 10 cents.

KELLY & LEON'S MINSTRELS, Opera-house.
The Fashionable Minstrel Temple | 23d st., and 6th av.
Every evening | Ching Chow Hi | Matinée at 2,
Houses crowded | Ching Chow Hi | Thanksgiving Day.
Flight of Leon from the Dome of the Theatre.

OLYMPIC NOVELTY THEATRE. 624 B'WAY.
Matinées WEDNESDAY, SATURDAY. 15c., 25c., 50c. | Admission, 15c., 35c., 50c., 75c., & $1. NOVELTY COMPANY NO. 8. 15 new specialty stars, and drama entitled AGAINST THE STREAM.

FINANCIAL.

VERMILYE & CO.,
BANKERS
16 and 18 Nassau st., New-York.
DEALERS IN ALL ISSUES OF GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.
NEW-YORK CITY AND BROOKLYN BONDS.
BUY AND SELL ON COMMISSION
RAILWAY STOCKS, BONDS, AND GOLD.
INTEREST ON DEPOSITS.
WASH'N R. VERMILYE, JAS. A. TROWBRIDGE
DONALD MACKAY, LATHAM A. FISH

FISK & HATCH,
BANKERS,
No. 5 NASSAU ST., NEW-YORK.
We give particular attention to DIRECT DEALINGS IN GOVERNMENT BONDS AT CURRENT MARKET RATES, and are prepared, at all times, to buy or sell in large or small amounts, to suit all classes of investors. Orders by mail or telegraph will receive careful attention.
We shall be pleased to furnish information in reference to all matters connected with investments in Government Bonds.
We also buy and sell GOLD and GOLD COUPONS, COLLECT DIVIDENDS and TOWN, COUNTY, and STATE COUPONS, &c., and buy and sell, ON COMMISSION, all MARKETABLE STOCKS AND BONDS.
In our BANKING DEPARTMENT we receive deposits and remittances subject to draft, and allow interest, to be credited monthly, on balances averaging, for the month, from $1,000 to $5,000, at the rate of three per cent. per annum, and on balances averaging over $5,000, at the rate of four per cent.
FISK & HATCH.

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY
OMAHA BRIDGE BONDS.
In accordance with the provisions of the above bonds, we, the undersigned, hereby give notice that the following numbers, viz.:

1,960	197	1,631	705	1,349	1,635
1,622	2,012	1,746	1,525	958	164
1,845	952	279	1,259	2,342	245
348	2,460	1,813	114	2,184	975
2,031	2,280	320	1,305	239	1,210
1,607	208	2,393	338	2,073	1,296
287	833	1,402	461	2,071	292
402	411	92	1,358	471	751
260	2,256	1,262	43	654	2,151

were this day designated by lot, in our presence, to be redeemed, together with the premium thereon as provided in said bonds, at the London and San Francisco Bank, limited, No. 22 Old Broad st., London, E. C., England, or at the office of Drexel, Morgan & Co., in the City of New-York, on the 1st day of April, 1877.
NEW-YORK, Nov. 4, 1876.
E. ATKINS, Trustee.
J. HOOD WRIGHT, of Drexel, Morgan & Co.
Attest: DAVID W. PRICE, Notary Public.

SIX AND SEVEN PER CENT. BROOKLYN CITY BONDS.
DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE, CONTROLLER'S OFFICE, CITY HALL, BROOKLYN, Nov. 1, 1876. }
SEALED PROPOSALS, indorsed as such, will be received at this office until MONDAY, 13th inst., at 12 o'clock noon, for the purchase of the whole or any part of $100,000 Six per Cent. Brooklyn City Bonds for the completion of the New-York and Brooklyn Bridge, coupon or registered, redeemable 1909.
175,000 Seven per Cent. Assessment or Sewerage Fund Bonds, registered.
75,000 Six per Cent. Assessment Fund Bonds, Water and Sewer, registered, maturing three years from date of purchase.
Proposals must state price offered and description of bonds desired.
The right is reserved to reject such bids as may not be considered to the interest of the City.
S. S. POWELL, Controller.

ATLANTIC, MISSISSIPPI AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY.—Holders of mortgage bonds of the
NORFOLK AND PETERSBURG RAILROAD COMPANY,
SOUTH-SIDE RAILROAD COMPANY,
VIRGINIA AND TENNESSEE RAILROAD COMPANY, and holders of interest funding bonds of the VIRGINIA AND TENNESSEE RAILROAD COMPANY, which were issued for interest on bonds, will please present to the undersigned, on and after the 15th inst., at the office of PERKINS, LIVINGSTON, POST & CO., No. 23 Nassau st., New-York, for payment, the interest coupon which fell due July 1, 1876.
The undersigned will also pay, at the same place and date, the interest which fell due July 1, 1876, on the interest funding notes of the Atlantic, Mississippi and Ohio Railroad Company.
C. L. PERKINS, HENRY FINK, } Receivers.
LYNCHBURG, Va., Nov. 10, 1876.

HANNIBAL AND ST. JOSEPH RAILROAD COMPANY.
Sealed proposals addressed to William H. Swift, Esq., at Messrs. Ward, Campbell & Co.'s, No. 56 Wall st., New-York, or to the undersigned Trustees, care of Charles Merriam, Agent, No. 26 Sears Building, Boston, will be received until Friday, Nov. 17, 1876, at noon, for the sale of $50,000 of the Land Bonds of said company, to the undersigned Trustees, in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture of Mortgage dated April 1, 1863.
The bids will be opened in Boston, on Saturday, Nov. 18, 1876, and the accepted bids declared.
WM. H. SWIFT, SIDNEY BARTLETT, NATH'L THAYER, Trustees.
BOSTON, Nov. 6, 1876.

ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY, No. 59 BROADWAY, NEW-YORK, Nov. 9, 1876. }
THE TRANSFER-BOOKS OF THIS COMpany will be closed from 2 o'clock P. M., Nov. 15, to the morning of Dec. 2.
I. C. BABCOCK, Treasurer.

UNITED STATES EXPRESS COMPANY, TREASURER'S OFFICE No. 82 BROADWAY, NEW-YORK, Oct. 28, 1876. }
THE TRANSFER BOOKS OF THIS COMPANY will be closed Nov. 4 at 2 P. M., and reopened Nov. 16. THEO. F. WOOD, Treasurer.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.,
NO. 59 WALL ST.,
ISSUE COMMERCIAL and TRAVELERS' CREDITS AVAILABLE in all PARTS of the WORLD.

LECTURES.

THE NASSAU BANK, NEW-YORK, Oct. 28, 1876. }
THE ANNUAL ELECTION FOR DIRECTORS of this bank, and for inspectors of the next succeeding election, will be held at the Bank on TUESDAY, Nov. 14. Polls will be open from 11 A. M. until 12 M.
W. H. ROGERS, Cashier.

AMUSEMENTS.

FIFTH AVENUE THEATRE.
The performances of LIFE will positively CEASE after FIVE MORE evenings. The spectacular comedy will then be withdrawn in favor of an elaborate revival of Shakespeare's AS YOU LIKE IT, after long preparation.

FIFTH AVENUE THEATRE.
Proprietor and Manager..........Mr. AUGUSTIN DALY
LAST NIGHT BUT FOUR
OF
LIFE!
LAST MATINEE OF LIFE, SATURDAY. | Last week of LIFE! Last week of BONFANTI! Last week of SNOW BALLET! Last of LEWIS' DANCE! Last MATINEE, SATURDAY!
SATURDAY EVENING, Nov. 18, first production of SHAKESPEARE'S marvel of comedy, AS YOU LIKE IT,
and first appearance this season of Miss FANNY DAVENPORT as ROSALIND, in connection with
Mr. COGHLAN..........as..........ORLANDO
Mr. WM. CASTLE..........as..........AMIENS
Mr. CHARLES FISHER..........as..........JAQUES
Mr. W. DAVIDGE..........as..........TOUCHSTONE
Miss JEFFREYS LEWIS..........as..........CELIA
Miss SYDNEY COWELL..........as..........AUDREY
Superb Scenic Effects! All the Music.

FIFTH AVENUE THEATRE.
The SALE of SEATS for the first night of the grand SHAKESPEREAN REVIVAL, and of
MISS DAVENPORT'S first appearance, Nov. 18, will begin MONDAY MORNING, Nov. 13, at 8 o'clock.

THE BEST RESERVED SEATS FOR ALL THEATRES six days in advance, at TYSON'S NEW THEATRE TICKET OFFICE, WINDSOR HOTEL.

UNION SQUARE THEATRE.
Proprietor..........Mr. SHERIDAN SHOOK.
Manager..........Mr. A. M. PALMER.
LAST TIMES OF THE
LAST TIMES OF THE
LAST TIMES OF THE
LAST TIMES OF THE
TWO ORPHANS,
The most successful play of the
CENTURY.
LAST TIMES OF THE
LAST TIMES OF THE
LAST TIMES OF THE
LAST TIMES OF THE
In preparation, and shortly to be produced, MM. Nus & Belot's powerful drama in five acts, entitled
MISS MULTON.
This play will be presented with an extraordinary cast, including Miss CLARA MORRIS—her first appearance in two years—Miss Sara Jewett, Miss Maria Wilkins, and Miss Bijou Heron, Louise Sylvester, and Mabel Leonard, and Mr. JAMES O'NEIL, Mr. J. H. Stoddart—his first appearance this season—and Mr. John Parselle. All the scenes used have been expressly painted for this production by Mr. R. Marston.

UNION-SQUARE THEATRE.
NINTH ANNUAL BENEFIT of the
BENEVOLENT AND PROTECTIVE ORDER OF ELKS will take place THURSDAY AFTERNOON, NOV. 23, 1876
Commencing at 1:30 P. M.
on which occasion will be presented a grand entertainment of the most attractive and recherché character. Tickets and reserved seats can be secured at the box office of the Theatre every day.

HELLER'S WONDER THEATRE,
LATE GLOBE, OPPOSITE NEW-YORK HOTEL.
ROBERT HELLER. ROBERT HELLER.
THE WORLD-FAMED PRESTIDIGITATEUR, PIANIST, and HUMORIST,
Will present the first of a series of entertainments entitled
HELLER'S WONDERS,
at this entirely remodeled and redecorated theatre,
ON WEDNESDAY EVENING NOV. 15,
which will be repeated
EVERY EVENING AT 8 O'CLOCK.
"The most astounding Necromancy of the 19th century."
"The cleverest tricks ever attempted."
FIRST APPEARANCE IN AMERICA OF MISS HELLER,
who will make her début in the famous phenomenal wonder entitled
SUPERNATURAL VISION.
Prices of admission—Reserved orchestra chairs, $1; balcony reserved seats, 75 cents; family circle, 50 cents; amphitheatre, limited, 25 cents.

CHICKERING HALL, CITY LECTURE COURSE.
AMERICAN LITERARY BUREAU..........Managers
Col. John W. Forney,
(Centennial Commissioner to Europe,)
THIS (MONDAY) EVENING, Nov. 13.
Subject—"OUR CENTENNIAL IN EUROPE."
Admission, 50 cents; reserved seats, 75 cents; at PONDS, No. 39 Union Square.
Same Lecture BROOKLYN ACADEMY, Nov. 14.

WILL CLOSE SATURDAY EVENING, NOV. 18.
AMERICAN INSTITUTE,
2D AND 3D AVS., BETWEEN 63D AND 64TH STS.
LAST DAYS OF THE
FORTY-FIFTH GRAND NATIONAL EXHIBITION.
Adults 25 cents; Children 15 cents.

SAN FRANCISCO MINSTRELS.
OPERA HOUSE, BROADWAY & 29TH ST. | THE MINSTREL PALACE. BIRCH, WAMBOLD, BACKUS, and THIRTY BRILLIANT ARTISTS. The crême de la crême of minstrelsy.
MATINEE, SATURDAY at 2. Seats secured.

INSTRUCTION.

MOUNT WASHINGTON
Collegiate Institute,
No. 40 WASHINGTON SQUARE, NEW-YORK CITY,
GEO. W. CLARKE, Ph. D., Principal.
Prepares pupils of all ages for business or college, and opens its thirty-fourth year Sept. 13. Circulars at book stores and at the Institute.

MLLE. L. F. ROSTAN'S
FRENCH, ENGLISH, AND GERMAN BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES,
No. 1 East 41st st., corner 5th av.,
Will reopen Oct. 8. The Musical Department is under the care of Profs. S. B. MILLS and B. LAURENT. Mrs. M. J. R. BUEL, late of Washington, D. C., will be connected with the school.
KINDERGARTEN and PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

MME. O. DA SILVA
AND
MRS. ALEX. BRADFORD'S
(formerly Mrs. Ogden Hoffman's) English, French, and German boarding and day school for young ladies and children, with calisthenics. No. 17 West 38th st., New-York. Reopens Sept. 25. Applications may be made by letter or personally, as above.

ANTHON GRAMMAR SCHOOL,
No. 252 Madison av.,
Between 38th and 39th sts.
School hours, 9:30 A. M. to 2:30 P. M.
The rates of tuition have been reduced.

A CLASS FOR BOYS.—THE DESIGN OF THIS class is to prepare boys thoroughly for our best colleges; number of pupils limited to twelve.
References: President Eliot, of Harvard University; Theodore Roosevelt, Esq., and William H. Osborn, Esq., New-York City. For circulars apply to ARTHUR H. CUTLER, at Class Rooms, No. 713 6th av.

LYON'S COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.
NO. 5 EAST 22D ST., CORNER OF BROADWAY.
The Principal gladly teaches the whole time.
Able associates of long connection assist.
Many good boys have entered. Only such received.

UNIVERSITY GRAMMAR SCHOOL, NO 1 Winthrop place, (one block from New-York University,) begins its fortieth year Sept. 18. Classical, commercial, and primary departments.
M. M. HOBBY, B. S. LASSITER, Principals.

ST. JOHN'S SCHOOL.
BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL
FOR YOUNG LADIES AND CHILDREN.
Rev. THEODORE IRVING, LL. D., Rector,
No. 21 West 32d st.

C. A. MILES,
ENGLISH AND CLASSICAL SCHOOL FOR BOYS,
No. 100 West 43d st., corner 6th av.
School hours, 9:30 A. M. to 2:30 P. M.

MISS DU VERNET, ASSISTED BY COMpetent masters, will reopen her Boarding and Day School for boys under fifteen, at No. 102 West 29th st., one door from 6th av., on MONDAY, Sept. 25; day boarders are taken to the Park after an early dinner.

A GREAT REDUCTION TO THOSE ENTERing THOMPSON'S COLLEGE, No. 20 4th av., before Dec. 1; bookkeeping, writing, arithmetic, $5 each, three months, day or evening; telegraphy taught practically. A demand for operators.

DOLBEAR, NO. 1,193 BROADWAY, IS forming special classes at half price; elegant penmanship, $5; book-keeping, $10; private lessons day or evening; English hand for ladies.

MRS. ROBERTS AND MISS WALKER'S English and French School, No. 148 Madison av.; advanced classes from Nov. 1; three young ladies will be received into the family.

CHESTER VALLEY ACADEMY—A Boarding School for Boys, Downington, Pa.; limited in number; boys have home comforts and careful training; easy of access; $200 to $260 a year. F. DONLEAVY LONG, A. M., Prin.

MRS. AND MISS STEERS'S SCHOOLS, No. 12 East 47th st., and No. 62 West 12th st. Kindergarten attached to each school. School omnibus from No. 12 East 47th st.

ST. PAUL'S SCHOOL, LEWISBORO, WEST CHESTER COUNTY, N. Y.—A small home-school for children; terms moderate. Address Principals, Rev. and Mrs. ROBERT BOLTON.

MRS. J. T. BENEDICT'S BOARDING AND Day School for young ladies and children, No. 7 East 42d st., N. Y., will reopen Sept. 28. Send for circular.

MISS EDMONDS' ENGLISH AND FRENCH Boarding and Day School for young ladies. No. 37 East 29th st.

MRS. SYLVANUS REED'S BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL for young ladies. 6 and 8 East 53d st.

MISS WARREN'S School for Boys, 6th av., opposite Reservoir Park; pupils of all ages improve here.

A CLASS FOR YOUNG GENTLEMAN AND private instruction. Thos. R. Ash, 103 West 40th st.

GOLDEN HILL SEMINARY FOR YOUNG ladies, Bridgeport, Conn. Miss EMILY NELSON.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE GREAT NEW-YORK AQUARIUM.
BROADWAY AND 35TH ST.
OPEN DAILY FROM 9 A. M. TILL 10 P. M.
SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT!!!
THE RECENT ADDITIONS TO THIS POPULAR RESORT ARE OF SO VARIED A CHARACTER THAT ENUMERATION IS IMPOSSIBLE.
THE GREAT JAPANESE CURIOSITY,
THE "KINGIYO," OR, TRIPLE-TAILED FISH,
LOANED—THIS INSTITUTION FOR A SHORT TIME ONLY.
SCULPANS, CRAWFISH, PROTEUS,
STICKLEBACKS, SNAPPING TURTLE,
SEALS, SEA LION, SHARKS, SEA HORSE,
RIVER, LAKE, BROOK, AND POND FISH.
SHELL FISH OF EVERY FORM AND IN GREAT VARIETY,
MARVELS OF MARINE LIFE.
ALL THE USUAL ATTRACTIONS.
ELEGANT PROMENADE CONCERTS EVERY AFTERNOON AND EVENING.
HARVEY B. DODWORTH, DIRECTOR.

WALLACK'S. BOUCICAULT.
Mr. LESTER WALLACK..........Proprietor and Manager
Mr. Wallack is gratified to announce the engagement of the eminent dramatist and comedian, who inaugurated his present season with the comedy FORBIDDEN FRUIT as a brilliant prelude to his appearance as CONN, in his celebrated Irish drama, the SHAUGHRAUN.
The engagement of
Mr. BOUCICAULT
being necessarily limited to a few weeks, the comedy FORBIDDEN FRUIT, suspended during the run of THE SHAUGHRAUN, will be resumed after his engagement, after which a new drama, entitled ALL FOR HER, will be produced.
EVERY NIGHT at 8,
EVERY SATURDAY AFTERNOON at 1:30,
will be performed
THE SHAUGHRAUN,
with the original cast, including Mr. John Gilbert, Mr. H. J. Montague, Mr. Harry Beckett, Mr. E. Arnott, Mr. C. A. Stevenson, Mr. E. Holland, Mr. Edwin, Mr. Leonard, Mr. Peck, Mr. Eytinge, Mr. Atkins, Miss Dyas, Mme. Ponisi, Miss Rose Wood, Miss Josephine Baker, Mrs. Sefton, and Miss Blaisdell, as originally represented at Wallack's Theatre in 1874.
Box office open daily from 8 to 5. Places may be secured four weeks in advance.

BOOTH'S THEATRE. GRANDEUR
JARRETT & PALMER..........Lessees and Managers
NEW | "THE GLORY OF THE STAGE." FOURTEENTH WEEK of the triumphant production of LORD BYRON'S exquisite romantic play, SARDANAPALUS.
GRAND | MARVELOUSLY MAGNIFICENT Scenery, costumes, regalia, weapons, banners, &c.
THE GREAT CAST INCLUDING MR. F. C. BANGS and AGNES BOOTH.
ITALIAN
BALLET. | THE NEW GRAND BALLET, introducing the renowned BARTOLETTI, premiere danseuse assoluta, of the Grand Opera, Paris, and La Scala, Milan; Sig. MASCAGNO, principal dancer of La Scala, Milan, and San Carlo, Naples.
MATINEE EVERY SATURDAY AT 1:30.
 NEXT FRIDAY EVENING, BENEFIT of Mr. BANGS. Seats can now be secured.
 Dec. 4, LAWRENCE BARRETT as "King Lear."

P. T. BARNUM'S,
P. T. BARNUM'S,
P. T. BARNUM'S
NEW AND GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH
AT GILMORE'S GARDEN.
GRAND MATINEE EVERY AFTERNOON.
TWO EXHIBITIONS DAILY.
MENAGERIE, MUSEUM, AND CIRCUS.
OBSERVE THE TALENT:
FISH, SEBASTIAN, CARLO FAMILY, (TWELVE IN NUMBER,) HAWLEY AND VICTORIA, JAMES COOK, MME. DE BERG, LAFEVRE, MISS WATSON, SATSUMA, WHITAKER, ALL RIGHT, WATERMAN, KEELER, COOK, CLARK, ALMONTE, ROLLAND, SMITH, GAFFNEY, AND MANY OTHERS.
THE TATTOOED GREEK NOBLEMAN.
ADMIRAL DOT.
ADMISSION, 50 cents. CHILDREN under nine years, 25 cents. ORCHESTRA SEATS, 25 cents EXTRA. Doors open at 1 and 6:30. Performances at 2 and 8.

SIXTEENTH BAPTIST CHURCH,
16th st., near 8th av.
YOUNG PEOPLE'S ASSOCIATION COURSE.
Frederick Douglass.
Subject—"SELF-MADE MEN."
WEDNESDAY EVENING, Nov. 15, at 8 o'clock.
Tickets, 50 cents.
Mr. DOUGLASS will positively lecture.

EAGLE THEATRE. BROADWAY AND 33D ST.
Proprietor and Manager..........Mr. JOSH HART.
Unbounded success of the burlesque on SARDANAPALUS.
THE MODERN SCHOOL OF ACTING.
SARAH'S YOUNG MAN.
Return of Mr. Pat Rooney.
The entire company will appear in the Burlesque on Sardanapalus.
Matinée Wednesday and Saturday.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE, 8TH AV. AND 23D ST.
UNCLE TOM'S CABIN,
With its great realistic plantation scene,
UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE.
MATINEES WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY AT 2.

STEAMBOATS.

STONINGTON LINE
FOR BOSTON AND ALL POINTS EAST.
REDUCED FARE.
TO BOSTON, FIRST CLASS, $4.
TO PROVIDENCE, FIRST CLASS, $3.
Elegant steamers leave Pier No. 33 North River, foot of Jay st., at 4:30 P. M.
Tickets for sale at all principal ticket offices. Staterooms secured at offices of Westcott Express Company, and at No. 363 Broadway.
PROVIDENCE LINE.
Steam-ships Electra and Galatea leave Pier No. 27 North River, foot of Park place, at 4 P. M. Freights via either line taken at lowest rates.
D. S. BABCOCK, Pres. L. W. FILKINS, G. P. Agent.

REDUCTION OF FARE
TO BOSTON,
VIA THE
FALL RIVER LINE.
$4 FIRST CLASS.
STEAMERS BRISTOL AND PROVIDENCE.
4:30 P. M.—Leave Pier No. 28 North River, foot of Murray street, daily, Sundays excepted.

SEA BIRD,
Capt. H. B. PARKER, will run between New-York (foot of Franklin st., Pier No. 35) and Red Bank, as follows:

LEAVE NEW-YORK.		LEAVE RED BANK.
Thursday, 2....	3:30 P. M.	Thursday, 2....	7:00 A. M.
Saturday, 4....	9:00 A. M.	Friday, 3....	8:00 A. M.
Tuesday, 7....	11:30 A. M.	Monday, 6....	8:30 A. M.
Thursday, 9....	2:00 P. M.	Wednesday, 8..	11:00 A. M.
Saturday, 11..	2:30 P. M.	Friday, 10....	1:00 P. M.
Monday, 13....	2:30 P. M.	Monday, 13....	6:15 A. M.

FOR NEW-HAVEN, HARTFORD, SPRINGFIELD, WHITE MOUNTAINS, MONTREAL, AND INTERMEDIATE POINTS.—Steamers leave Pier No. 25 East River daily (Sunday excepted) at 3 P. M. and 11 P. M., connecting with special trains at New-Haven, for Hartford, Springfield, &c. Tickets sold and baggage checked at No. 944 Broadway, New York, and No. 4 Court st., Brooklyn. Excursion to New-Haven and return, $1 50.

OLD-ESTABLISHED LINE FOR STUYVESANT, CATSKILL, AND INTERMEDIATE LANDINGS.—Steamer ANDREW HARDER, from Franklin st., Pier 35, Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday. Steamer MONITOR, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, 5 P. M.

ALBANY.—PEOPLE'S LINE.—SPLENDID STEAMboats leave Pier No. 41 North River, foot of Canal st., daily, Sundays excepted, at 6 P. M., for Albany and all points North and West. N. B.—State-rooms heated by steam pipes. Meals on European plan.

FOR BRIDGEPORT AND ALL POINTS ON Housatonic and Naugatuck Railroad.—Fare, $1. Steamers leave Catharine slip at 11:30 A. M.

AUCTION SALES.

EDWARD SCHENCK, Auctioneer.
THIRD LARGE AND PEREMPTORY SALE OF
ELEGANT DECORATED FRENCH CHINA DINNER SETS, TEA SETS, FRUIT SETS, AND TOILET SETS, RICH ENGRAVED CRYSTAL CUT TABLE GLASSWARE.
Elegant Vases, Real Bronze and other Clocks, Statuettes, and a large and beautiful assortment of every variety of China and Fancy Ware,
TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION, AT No. 60 LIBERTY STREET,
ON THURSDAY AND FRIDAY, NOV. 16 AND 17,
At 11 o'clock Each Day.
The above will be on exhibition on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY. Ladies and the Public are invited to examine them.
The Sale will be POSITIVE and PEREMPTORY. Experienced Packers will be in attendance.

J. COOK, AUCTIONEER.
THIS DAY, OCT. 13, 10:30.—ONE OF THE largest sales of the season; entire rich furniture, carpets, pianos, mirrors, of the brown-stone mansion residence, Avenue A, between 116th and 117th sts., (Harlem) elegant Moquet, Wilton and Brussels carpets, rich walnut parlor suits, in brocatel, and terry, rosewood piano, fine rosewood étagères, elegant pier mirrors and cornices, library, center and dining tables, buffets, wardrobes, sofa bed, walnut bedstead, bureaus, washstands, and common feather beds, pillows, mattresses, rockers, easy and arm chair, oil paintings, engravings, China cut glass, and plated ware, clocks, ornaments, kitchen utensils. Sale absolute.

MORRIS WILKINS, Auctioneer.
HANDSOME HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE.—Rosewood piano-forte, combination buffet bedsteads, rosewood etageres, fine carpets, &c., &c.,
AT AUCTION.
E. H. LUDLOW & CO. will sell at auction on TUESDAY, Nov. 14, 1876, at 11 o'clock A. M., at No. 8 West 34th st., a general assortment of handsome new parlor and bedroom furniture, black walnut dining-tables, buffets, centre and other tables, lounge, easy, and arm chairs, mirrors, curled hair mattresses, fine carpets, &c. Catalogues at office of auctioneers, No. 3 Pine st.

THE BURNING GROUNDS.

FORT LARAMIE TO THE BLACK HILLS.

A REGION OF DESOLATION—SCENES AROUND THE FORT—THE PLAINS AND THE DESERT—JOURNEYING IN THE HILLS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

CHEYENNE, Wednesday, Nov. 1, 1876.

From that poetic nomenclature common to our Indian tribes, which has given us a word meaning the thunder of falling waters to describe Niagara, and one meaning the father of waters to describe the Mississippi, we obtain a word meaning "the burning grounds," to describe the vast dry plain lying between Fort Laramie and the Black Hills. Indeed, the area to which this expressive title holds good is evidently a much wider one than the two hundred miles or so of plain to which it now applies. The topographical and climatic features of the country are identical from the Black Hills south, past Fort Laramie, past Cheyenne, down almost to Denver; but since the Union Pacific and Kansas Pacific have brought west the tide of immigration, modifications of both have followed the settlement and cultivation of the country between Cheyenne and Denver. It is north of Cheyenne, journeying to the Black Hills, where one crosses the Burning Grounds—a land of desolation and sterility; a dry land and of bitter waters; where the Summer sun pours down its unshadowed blaze, and the Winter storm roars over with unchecked fury. It is sand and sand; then rocks, bare or with a few dry trees scattered over it; then sand and sand, with the endless sage brush everywhere, until, journeying ten days' north, the long dark line of the Black Hills bounds the horizon, and marks the approach to a better country. Fort Laramie lies about one hundred miles north of Cheyenne; the Hills about two hundred and fifty miles north-east of the Fort. Though the post is built on the Laramie River, and flowing waters give life, and greenness, and fertility, yet in this desolate land the river flows on without power to do more than make its banks green. Seen from a distance it is a thread of gold and silver through a dark gray plain; and standing out against this gray, appear the white walls of the collection of buildings representing Fort Laramie. Nothing grows in this unpromising soil save the bitter sage, or at least there appears to be no attempt around the post at making a garden, and nothing more dreary or depressing can be conceived than the surroundings of this military establishment. A row of cottages which have hundreds of miles of plain at the back of them, have yards to which the loose and trampled soil, combined with the refuse, give the appearance of dust heaps. It would be a relief to the eye to rest it upon one little flower, but there is none. Nothing beautiful can be grown in this sand without as much care and expense as a conservatory requires. Of such a character is nearly all the vast belt of country lying immediately east of the Rocky Mountain Range, and which is now commonly called "the Plains," and in our old school maps was marked as "the Great American Desert." In those days "the Plains" meant the prairies, and prairie was associated with the idea of vast natural pastures, with a deep, rich soil, only waiting the turning of the plow to give abundant harvests. Such plains are now the States of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota. On the other side of the Missouri lay the Platte Valley. Here, too, was a continuation of the level and rich country forming a natural road to that great mountain range still far to the west. Along this wonderful valley the long train of settlers' wagons slowly toiled, until they began to reach the limits of they green country and gradually to come upon a dry soil where the grass became gray, growing on a sandy gravel. Dry beds took the place of full streams, and marches had to be calculated by the probability of finding water. The Mormons went beyond to the distant deserts of Utah; miners went on to search for gold in the mountains; but the men who tilled the soil stopped in the green country; the cattle owners could go further, and the State of Nebraska came into being, with a farming population east and cattle-raisers west. But with this settlement the prairie lands were exhausted, except those yet undiscovered ones lying far off in the Big Horn and Powder River regions. Still the idea of "the Plains" remained the same, viz., that of vast green pastures, while, in fact, "the Plains" had been pushed out into the desert, where there is nothing green. From the middle of Nebraska west through Wyoming Territory to the Rocky Mountains, there is no soil on which a farm can be laid out. This is the grazing region; the cattle owner takes the place of the farmer, and in all probability he will hold his ground there. Undoubtedly the soil could be made fruitful by irrigation, as was Horace Greeley's favorite idea; but the misfortune is that there is no water to irrigate with.

From a tolerably close acquaintance with these western regions, I am inclined to think the lands lying south of the Black Hills, the "Burning Grounds," are the most awfully desolate of all north of the Colorado line. At least they impressed me so when I crossed them recently. All that I had read or heard of the great African desert, came to mind when one afternoon a furious wind storm came up, which carried with it such vast clouds of dust that the sun was obscured, the sky looked leaden, and the distant bluffs became indistinct in a sort of dry mist. It was something like the famed simoon of the great Sahara. The storm lasted all night, and all the next day, only ceasing at sun down; and we were glad to take refuge in a deep crevice, where it was possible to make a fire and to sleep. Over this plain the first settlers to the Black Hills journeyed. Gen. Custer came in from the north, and though the country there is green and fertile, yet he was impressed with the beauty of their scenery. But how should it be with men who came from the south? Is it surprising that they should have sent back such glowing accounts of their beauty and richness? After passing through the natural gateway of the Red Cañon, it must have seemed to them that they were journeying into the Promised Land. At the very door of the country, they saw all the desolation of the plain, and drank of such bitter waters as the prophet speaks of. Anything more horribly nauseating than the rivulet at the mouth of Red Cañon, I cannot conceive, unless it be some of the stuff which is sold as "medicinal water." It is so full of alum, or some other substance, that you cannot wash in it. Soap refuses to afford a lather, and you may as soon rub yourself with a stone. Ten miles beyond, in the cañon, a comparatively pure stream is reached, though here the mud gives out a horribly sulphury oder if it be stirred up. The sides of the cañon, however, become green with a growth of young timber, and the first promise of what lies beyond is given. At this place, by the way, a party of travelers was surprised by Indians last Spring, and the graves of some of them may be seen a little way off from the trail. Passing here, the road ascends a steep ledge of red sandstone rock and emerges on a long level. You are now fairly in the Hills, but not yet in the really beautiful part of them. Some thirty miles or more beyond the road runs into what Custer called Pleasant Valley, and a few more miles beyond the first settlers stopped, built their stockade, and named the place Custer City. They indeed rested at the first likely-looking spot. They were searching for gold and found it here; but there were more and better diggings further on in the heart of the Hills and at their northern extremity, and there are more beautiful scenes and lovelier landscapes than any which the vicinity of Pleasant Valley can show. But it was enough for those men that they found a land of wooded hills, of sweet, pure streams, of rich soil, and with gold in it. Afterward other men pushed on and founded the northern settlements. Yet in a few years people will probably be wondering what the Hills ever had to show, except the gold, which made men grow enthusiastic about them. A virgin country always appears more beautiful, more picturesque, than when it has been occupied a few years, and of all things which deface the fair face of nature, mining is about the worst. It goes to the very sources of fertility—the streams. It dams them up, diverts them into a thousand ugly artificial channels, dries them into stagnant pools, and defiles everything with mud and refuse. Beside this the neighboring hills are sure to be stripped of their timber, and when this is done in the western country there is nothing picturesque left in the scene. One thing, however, should be borne in mind by Eastern people. No country between the Alleghanies and the Sierra Nevada can compare for natural beauty with that lying on the Atlantic slope of the eastern mountains. We speak of great natural beauties in the extreme West. There is scenery that is striking, magnificent, rugged, bold, vast, and boundless in its immensity, but of scenery which deserves the epithet beautiful, there is none. The climate is too dry to give the beauty that only abundant verdure can yield. The Black Hills are beautiful by comparison with the country which for hundreds of miles surrounds them; but compared with, say the valley of the Mohawk in spring time, they are barren. And I am reminded that once, returning East from a long tour on the plains and in the Big Horn region, the train stopped at a small station in the Mohawk Valley soon after sunrise; the platform commanded a wide view of the country—the farm houses, the church spires, the green fields, the rich timber, the bright clear river, all the signs of a fertile region well cultivated. To one who had just come from journeying through rugged mountains, and over dry plains, this scene appeared more beautiful than all that the Rocky Range could show. There was—there is indeed—no scenery there comparable with that of the eastern slope of the Alleghanies.

For wildness and barrenness of the worst kind that portion of the road between Laramie and the Hills which follows Indian Creek is about the worst. The creek may have water in it when the snows melt in Spring, but at any other time it has to be dug for. Some two or three feet through the sand in the best places will generally bring one to a certain degree of dampness; this being reached, the water-seeker sits down and waits patiently until the hole gets half filled with whitish-looking fluid, very nasty to taste, but generally quite cool. This, however, is only to be obtained at long distances apart, twenty miles or so; at other places you may dig for a week and never find anything but dry gray sand. This is one of the things which makes the place an awkward one to be caught in by Indians, and, of course, it is just the place where, if you are caught at all, it will be here. A trail comes in from the Red Cloud Agency, and runs north-west up into the Yellowstone and Sitting Bull's country. Our agency friends when they want to go on a little war-path racket take this way, and it makes it unpleasant for travelers on the Indian Creek road. The whole country is much broken up into cañons just big enough to hide in and make a sudden break from; and so, with these various combined elements, it is not surprising to find the Indian Creek road perfectly lined with rifle-pits, and an occasional grave thrown in to make one cheerful. It was our luck, on coming down, to have no trouble, but one of the party lost his two yoke of oxen during the night, and on searching for them next morning not only found them, but a band of Indians breakfasting on one of the animals. They interrupted their meal sufficiently to fire a few shots, but seeing there was nothing to be obtained from the men—there were two—but a fight, they allowed them to return unpursued. The party which followed us down a day or two after, ran into a band, probably the same, and there was a great deal of shooting. There always is on these occasions; but it takes a wonderful deal of shooting to kill a man in an Indian fight, so nobody was hurt, except a mule, which got killed. I had no great desire to occupy a grave in the Burning Grounds, and have the passing traveler pathetically remark as he read my name penciled on a head-stone cut from a drygood box, "Another, ah? Poor cuss! Them Indians is awful bad about here." We kept a pretty sharp look out; and our old wagon-driver had ready the solitary weapon he possessed in the world. It was an antique Colt's revolver; and after a careful survey of the weapon, I determined to get as far away from its owner as possible when I saw him raise to shoot. But he was a lucky fellow with Indians; had always dodged them, and felt certain he should on this occasion; and he did. We saw none. The old man started up to the Hills again a few days ago with another load, and whether he will get back all right, or occupy six feet of earth in the Burning Grounds, is a question. For my part, I was not sorry to be relieved of the necessity of traveling through this barren region a second time.

NINE SHOTS EXCHANGED.

A STREET ENCOUNTER IN NEW-ORLEANS—ONE OF THE PARTIES DANGEROUSLY WOUNDED.

From the New-Orleans Times, Nov. 9.

Last evening, about half-past two o'clock, the report of pistol shots discharged in rapid succession caused a general scattering of the crowd on Carondelet street, near Common street, clearing space for two men who were endeavoring to riddle each other with bullets. After the smoke of the first discharge had blown off it revealed one of the combatants, John Bietry, standing behind a lot of shrubs on the sidewalk, in front of Quintelle's nursery, No. 34 Carondelet street, and Donald McMickle on the car track, diagonally opposite, and full twenty paces away from Bietry.

Something appeared to be the matter with Bietry's revolver, as McMickle had got in an effectual shot at him before he could get his pistol in working order, and then without effect. McMickle again leveled his 44-calibre Remington, and with the report Bietry sank to the pavement. However, he quickly recovered and pulled trigger, speeding his bullet wide of McMickle, who returned the fire, dropping Bietry the second time. Still fumbling with his pistol, and with apparent difficulty bringing the cylinder around, Bietry, nothing daunted, came to the scratch with his third wild shot, exchanging with McMickle almost simultaneously. A bad cap failing to explode his charge, exposed Bietry to McMickle's accurate aim, and again he went down, only to assume an upright position in a second afterward, ready for another round. His pistol empty, McMickle slowly walked about ten paces and stood up against a lamp-post at 34 Carondelet street, giving a splendid opening for Bietry, who could not take advantage of it owing to the condition of his pistol. At this time Col. Loan and Judge Arthur Gastinel happened by in the Colonel's cab, and with one accord they sprang out—the Colonel arresting McMickle without resistance, and Judge Gastinel going toward Bietry. Before Judge Gastinel could get at Bietry, and while Col. Loan was walking side by side with McMickle to the cab, Bietry discharged his pistol with deliberate aim, fortunately missing his intended victim as well as Col. Loan.

Bietry was taken to the hospital, and his wounds, three in number, found to be dangerous—a bullet having entered the lower portion of the abdomen in front, and on the right side, passing through toward the left groin; another through the right leg, on the right side, near the hip, finding an exit in the rear, and the third in the right leg, on the left side, within an eighth of an inch of the femoral artery. The other two bullets passed through the left lapels of Bietry's coat and vest. Bietry's condition prevented any kind of a satisfactory interview, and when asked the cause of the difficulty, all he had to say was that McMickle had written letters about him.

McMickle was interviewed in the Central Station, and stated that in the interest of the Republican Party, and to prevent any disagreement which in all likelihood would arise, he notified Mr. Joubert, Chairman of the Republican Executive Committee, that Bietry was not eligible to the Clerkship of the First District Court, owing to the fact that he was a British subject. No attention was paid to his admonition, and Bietry was run on the ticket for the position.

As hitherto they had always been good friends, he knew nothing of Bietry's anger at his letter until he received a stunning blow in the right eye. Even then, and not until he had walked into the street with his hand over his eye, and so recovered as to look about him, did he know that Bietry was his assailant, which conclusion forced itself upon him on catching sight of Bietry following him up and in the act of drawing his pistol. McMickle then went right in, with the result as above chronicled.

YOUTHFUL GALLANTRY REWARDED.

Recently, at a meeting of the English Royal Humane Society, a number of cases of saving life in various parts of the world were investigated, and rewards of various descriptions conferred. A handsome testimonial, inscribed on vellum, describing the services rendered and the acknowledgments of the society, was unanimously voted to Edmond Waterton Comgsby Erskine, a boy only fifteen years of age, the son of Hon. J. A. Erskine, for saving two little girls named Williams, aged respectively ten and twelve, at Southsea, under the following gallant circumstances: At about 2 o'clock on the 12th of July, while at the back of the baths at Southsea, the two children rolled down the embankment, which slopes down suddenly to the sea, and were at once in deep water with a rapid tide. Young Erskine, who witnessed the accident, without hesitation plunged in, without divesting himself of any of his clothing, to their rescue, and after swimming a short distance came up with them after they had twice sunk. Seizing them by their hair he pulled them both on his back, and in doing so was severely bitten in the hand by one of them; but he proceeded to swim toward the shore as well as he could, having only recently learned to swim. He was fortunately joined by another youth, who took one of the children from him and they ultimately got both the girls to the side of the rocks, when a gentleman named Cowan came to their assistance, and they were landed in safety.

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

THE LATE MRS. E. B. GOULD.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT THE FOURTH AVENUE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH — ADDRESSES BY CHANCELLOR CROSBY, REV. DRS. HUTTON, ADAMS AND ROBINSON.

A fitting tribute was yesterday paid to the life and Christian services of the late Mrs. Emily Bliss Gould, in a memorial service held in Chancellor Crosby's Church, corner of Fourth avenue and Twenty-second street. The service, which like all those of the Presbyterian Church, was very simple, was begun by the singing of the hymn, "Forever With God." At its conclusion Chancellor Crosby read brief selections from the ninth chapter of the Acts of the Apostles, the tenth chapter of St. Luke, and the twenty-sixth chapter of St. Matthew, the reading being followed by the singing of the hymn, "Palms of Glory, Raiment Bright." As the last notes died away, Chancellor Crosby stepped to the pulpit, and in a few simple words recounted the chief events in the life of the deceased. In the year 1817, he said, the first Sunday-school was established in New York, in what was then known as Garden street, since called Exchange place. Three persons took part in that enterprise, the youngest of whom was Miss Memfrom, afterward the wife of Dr. Bliss—long well-known as one of the first physicians of this country. This marriage occurred in 1831. But a few happy years had passed when a dark cloud overspread the household, in the approaching death of his loving wife. As she lay upon her death-bed, with her young daughter of nine years beside her, feeling that her end was near, she said to her child, as the little one, in obedience to her command, drew aside the curtain and allowed the light to shine upon her face, "My darling daughter, look upon your mother's image. Look well upon it that you may never forget it, or your mother's dying words." Then, in a subdued tone she said: "Let the Lord Jesus Christ be your guide. Follow Him, for all your well-being for time and eternity depends upon your devotion to Him." The lesson of that hour was never lost, for the child walked for ever afterward in her mother's footsteps.

Dr. Bliss and his daughter Emily, the speaker continued, were members of the old Pearl Street Church, and when that institution dissolved, they became attached to the old Bleecker Street Church, of which this is now the representative. When this church was established in 1853, Emily Bliss became the wife of Mr. Henry Gould. Before her marriage she was always noted for her peculiar love for young children, an affection that continued after her marriage, and was increased by her having no children born to her. In 1859 she removed to Europe with her husband, and took up a residence in Rome. That Christian energy which had characterized her at home was not laid aside when she went abroad, but led her rather to long the more to be working in the Master's cause. She had not been long in Rome, when the Florence Orphanage was started in Florence, into which enterprise she threw her whole heart and energy. The result of her zealous co-operation insured success, and to-day the institution is one of the most prominent in Europe, and chiefly so because of Mrs. Gould's efforts. When the Orphanage was established, Rome was under the dark cloud of Papal supremacy, but no sooner was the Pope's temporal dominion ended by his imprisonment in the Vatican, than she determined to start in Rome itself a school where the children of the poor could receive a Christian education. She began with $10 in the treasury and three small children as her pupils. But the magnetism of her character won the co-operation of many of the leading minds of the city, and with their aid the little school grew up under her guidance until in a few years its success was so great that its founder resolved to add to it a Home, where the poor children might be trained for practical work in life. She sought to procure pecuniary support for this new enterprise by the publication of a book by a celebrated writer, the proceeds of the sale of which were to be devoted to the establishment of the Home. She passed away, however, before it was completed, and now the book, having been published, has become a volume "in memoriam," in which may be seen the list of those prominent men and women whose recognition and support Mrs. Gould won during life. When she died those who were associated with her in her work, knowing how she had been the very life of the enterprise, felt for the moment that with her death the work died also. But her frequent earnest prayers to God for its success were answered, and now both institutions have found support from the Waldensian Church, which has assumed charge of them, trusting that the same liberal aid from America accorded to them during their founder's life-time will still be continued after her death. There were three elements in her character, said the speaker, in conclusion, to which it is fitting at this time that reference should be made. Her main characteristic was her devotion to the grand object of doing good in the name of the Saviour, a devotion which involved self-denial and self-forgetfulness, and which God was able to use to the glory of His name. Her love of children was another element of strength, and marvelously adapted her for her life-work—the care of children. And lastly, the Christian courage and decision, without which her work would probably never have been accomplished, formed elements of her character which emphasized all her other attributes, and made her able to use them in a manner that will make her name precious in the history of the Church forever.

At the conclusion of the Chancellor's remarks addresses were delivered by Rev. Drs. Hutton, Adams, and Robinson.

IN MEMORY OF CARL BERGMANN.

A grand concert was given at Steinway Hall, last evening, in memory of the late Carl Bergmann. The private boxes and chandeliers on the stage were heavily draped in black, and crape in butterflies and festoons hung in sombre folds from the wall between them. In the centre of the stage was a reading desk covered with a pall, and hanging from its front was a crayon portrait of the deceased. The musicians taking part in the ceremonies represented the Philharmonic Society, the Liederkranz, Arion, and New-York Saengerrunde. Dr. Leopold Damrosch conducted the Philharmonic Society, and Mr. A. Paur led the other societies. The concert commenced with Beethoven's solemn funeral march, third symphony, from "Eroica," which was rendered by the orchestra comprising members of the Philharmonic. An address by Prof. Doremus followed. The speaker said that it had been his privilege to be the friend and companion of the deceased for a considerable period, and on this account he had been selected to read a sad memorial. When the sun had set, and the stars of heaven yielded their celestial light, how appropriate it was that the friends of the dead should meet together and, heart meeting heart, offer their humble testimonials of esteem and regret to the great worth of their departed leader. Carl Bergmann was a musician from childhood. Born in Saxony in 1831, he had begun his career as a musical director at the early age of eighteen years. During the rebellion of 1848 he had been induced to immigrate to this country, and since the year 1857 his name had been a household word in connection with the Philharmonic Society. For nearly twenty years he had conducted that society, and had also occupied the position of leader in several other distinguished associations. Under his magnetic conductorship they had heard the soft symphonies of Liszt, and Dante, and Bach, and those who had been swayed by the power of his magic wand as he led them through the most intricate parts of the quiet melodies would most keenly appreciate his loss. If the bright spirits of those who had gone before were permitted to visit this gathering to-night, might it not be hoped that Carl Bergmann was with them? Schubert's "Geisterchor" was then interpreted by the Liederkranz, Arion, and Saengerrunde singing societies. A eulogy was pronounced by Judge Klamroth, and in conclusion the "Pilgerchor" from "Tannhaser" was rendered by the singing societies, and Liszt's "Les Preludes" by the Philharmonic Society.

ALPHA DELTA PHI REUNION.

It has been determined by the members of the Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity in and about New-York to repeat their very satisfactory reunion dinner of last year. The graduate membership in this City is very large for a society that so carefully limits its numbers in the various colleges and universities, and many of the names on its roll are very widely and favorably known. At the dinner a year ago something like seventy were present, and it was an occasion of the utmost interest, reviving as it did the enthusiasm and spirit of the choicest hours of college life. Arrangements are being made this year for a still more interesting affair. The dinner will be served at Delmonico's, corner of Fifth avenue and Twenty sixth street on Thursday evening, Dec. 27. The committee which has it in charge is composed of Prof. T. W. Dwight, Rev. Dr. E. P. Rogers, Rev. O. B. Frothingham, Prof. A. B. Crosby, H. E. Tremain, George N. Hale, George J. Peet, Talcott Williams, L. E. Jones, and Robert B. Clark. Tickets may be obtained by addressing George N. Hale, No. 7 Beekman street, and inclosing $5. The Committee desires that every member in New-York should be heard from.

RECEIVING STOLEN GOODS.

Bernard McGuire, a slipper maker, was arrested on Sept. 7, charged with having purchased from John Donnelly a quantity of rubber boots and ladies' shoes, valued at $43, which had been stolen from the store of Catharine Butzky, No. 53 Avenue C. McGuire was arrested with the goods in his possession, but was discharged by Justice Flammer. The matter was brought to the notice of the District Attorney, and McGuire was indicted by the Grand Jury, and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest by Recorder Hackett. He was rearrested yesterday by Officer Robinson, of the Seventeenth Precinct, and committed to the Tombs for trial.

FIRES IN THIS CITY.

A BROADWAY HOTEL TAKES FIRE EARLY IN THE MORNING.

At 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning a fire broke out in the rear portion of the basement of the six-story brick structure No. 834 Broadway, known as the Anthony House, and occupied as a hotel and restaurant by Charles A. Merritt. The flames were discovered in the kitchen, and are supposed to have originated from an overheated oven. The fire spread with great rapidity and in a few minutes had extended to the first floor, which was used as the restaurant. The house was filled with guests, who were all asleep when the fire broke out. When aroused they were greatly alarmed, and hastily dressing ran out of their rooms into the halls dragging their baggage after them. There is only one stairway leading from the upper floors, and a dense volume of smoke was rushing up this stairway, causing great excitement and alarm. Capt. Byrnes, of the Fifteenth Precinct, with Sergts. Blake and Kellaher and the reserve force of Police, was quickly at the scene. The policemen were sent into the building, two or three on each floor, to assist the guests and other occupants of the hotel in making their way through the stifling smoke into the open air. On the top floor of the building are the apartments occupied by the help, and the women sleeping there became so much excited that the Police experienced considerable trouble in inducing these frightened servants to leave the building. The buildings Nos. 830 and 832 Broadway were opened by the inmates, and in these premises the half nude, shivering guests and servants were sheltered until the fire was extinguished and they were able to return to the hotel. The first floor and basement of the building were burned out, and the loss of Mr. Merritt is estimated at $5,000. He is insured for $14,000 in the Citizens', Greenwich, and Commercial Companies. The building is damaged to the amount of $1,000.

At 5 o'clock yesterday morning a fire occurred in the two-story brick stable in the rear of No. 412 West Twenty-sixth street. The building is owned by Herman Kruse, of Staten Island, and is occupied by a number of cartmen, eleven horses being stabled there. All these horses were removed uninjured. The damage to the building and contents will not exceed $500.

AN UNWELCOME VISITOR AT GOV. BEDLE'S HOUSE.

The door-bell of Gov. Bedle's handsome residence on Sussex place, Jersey City, was rung yesterday morning, and the Governor, as he occasionally does, answered it himself. An Irishman stood at the door, and asked if the Governor was at home. Informed that the person to whom he was speaking was the person he sought, the stranger asked the Governor if he knew of a woman whose name he mentioned. The Governor replied that he did not, whereupon the stranger excitedly informed the Governor that he had not spoken the truth. "You know her," said the angry man, "and I'm going to get even with you for it." The Governor did not stop to inquire for what, but, closing the door, left the man swearing and yelling outside. He hung around for a while, and then rang the bell again, and continued to ring for some time. He then left, but soon returned with a heavy billet of wood. One of the servants was sent for an officer, and Detective Boyle was dispatched by Capt. Dickson to the house. The man had left before his arrival, but the detective took a description of him. A man was subsequently arrested, who answered the description, but the Governor, before whom he was taken for identification, declared that though he bore a strong resemblance to his assailant, he was not the man. The officer afterward met another man who answered the description, and arrested him. Gov. Bedle identified him and he was locked up. He gave his name as John Shanaply, his residence, Perth Amboy, and his occupation as that of a laborer. He will have an examination this morning, when Gov. Bedle or one of his sons will appear against him. The charge entered on the record is that of disorderly conduct. He is thought to be insane.

ARRIVALS AT THE HOTELS.

Pembroke Fetridge, of Paris, is at the Windsor Hotel.

Hon. William G. Fargo, of Buffalo, is at the Astor House.

The Marquis de Mari, of Italy, is at the Brevoort House.

Lieut. Theodore M. Etting, United States Navy, is at the Albemarle Hotel.

Col. John W. Forney, of the Philadelphia Press, is at the Clarendon Hotel.

Prof. T. J. Backus, of Vassar College, is at the St. Denis Hotel.

James W. Barclay, M. P., of London, and E. L. Davenport, the actor, are at the Sturtevant House.

Hon. Titian J. Coffey, of Pennsylvania, and Capt. E. R. Moodie, of Liverpool, are at the New-York Hotel.

Senator W. H. Barnum, of Connecticut; ex-Gov. Frederick Smyth, of New-Hampshire, and William L. Scott, of Erie, Penn., are at the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

RECOVERY OF A STOLEN PAINTING.

Detective George Radford, of the Central Office, succeeded yesterday in recovering one of the paintings stolen last Tuesday evening from Miner's Art Gallery, No. 845 Broadway, during a fire in the adjoining premises. The picture recovered is an oil-painting by A. Bierstadt, representing a scene in the Rocky Mountains, and is valued at $2,500. The painting was found in a house in First street, where it had been left by a strange man on the night of the fire. It was uninjured.

DEMOCRATS HEDGING.

The Chicago Journal of Friday evening says: "Early in the day yesterday John Morrissey telegraphed the head of the gambling gang in Chicago, who, upon the strength of his representations, had bet heavy in favor of Tilden, 'Hedge your bets at any cost.' Acting upon this private advice, the sports flocked to the Palmer House and other places of Democratic resort, and took all the bets they could from those who were willing to back up with money their opinion that Tilden was elected. For the most part, Democrats were afraid to put up their money. They could blow and bluster, but betrayed secret misgivings, and strong symptoms of despair."

WAITING FOR THE RESULT.

The Burlington (Iowa) Hawk-Eye says: "When the agony is over, what a tremendous lot of homeless men will be welcomed to the bosom of their deserted families. There is one lone Burlington woman who hasn't seen her husband since Tuesday morning, and she sits all day long and dozes all night in a camp chair behind the hall door, taking her meals in her lap and holding a base-ball club between her knees. Two reporters and a policeman, in ambush behind the front fence, await the return of the prodigal with more emotion and anxiety than that absent man waits for the election returns."

THEY CLAIM PRECEDENCE.

Believing Tilden to be elected, the Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution of Friday morning claimed for the South the glory of it, but graciously conceded to the ex-rebels' Northern allies some credit. It said: "From the most reliable information we are enabled to state this morning that Samuel J. Tilden will be the next President of the United States. This should be, and doubtless will be, a matter of great rejoicing among these Southern people who contributed by their united and determined efforts largely to this end. While we claim precedence in the good work that has been accomplished, we should not forget that we owe a debt of extreme gratitude to such noble men as inhabit the States of New-York, New-Jersey, and Connecticut, for their timely assistance in throwing off the yoke that has so long bound us to the ground."

THRIFTY JOHN.

The San Francisco Chronicle says: "John Chinaman ever shapes his almond eye to business. He is learning to smoke bad cigars, swear, and wear his boot-legs outside of his trowsers—'alle same hoodlum.' He is also contracting the habit of drinking coffee, eschewing his favorite beverage, boiling hot tea. The wide-awake coffee saloons on the various by-streets, it is well known have no regular price for the usual cup of coffee, with the customary two petrified doughnuts. If a customer tenders a quarter in payment, the affable 'daigo' takes out fifteen cents. If he tenders ten cents, he scrapes it in his cash drawer with a scowl. The Chinaman has learned this. The [illegible] is as big as a street-car in John's eye. He ambles up to the counter, slaps a half-dollar down, and asks for 'five bittee' in change. He then walks in, gets his coffee, and pays a 'short bit' for it, thus saving the extra five cents—knowing that if he did not get the change first fifteen cents would have been taken out of his half for the cup of weak coffee and petrified doughnuts. This is an improvement over the hoodlum system of getting even on the coffee vender; they demand an extra doughnut, and frequently steal the pewter spoons."

RELUCTANT ROOSTERS.

The Bangor (Me.) Whig says: "When the first returns were received indicating Tilden's election, a number of the Democrats of Milo met to congratulate each other upon the result, and drank each other's health to a late hour—or perhaps we would better say an early hour—next morning. As one of them approached his own premises, he listened in vain for the crowing of the roosters, but not a sound escaped from them. 'Blast you!' exclaimed he, in great indignation, 'If you won't crow over such news as this I'll cut your heads off!' and, suiting the action to the word, he entered the hen-coop and cut off the heads of every one of the non-crowing roosters. If he finds he has lost his chickens and his candidate too, what will he say?"

CITY AND SUBURBAN NEWS.

NEW-YORK.

Rose Agnes Morrissey, a domestic, at No. 73 Varick street, was found dead in her room yesterday morning.

John Cahill, aged nine years, of No. 446 Grand street, accidentally shot Bernard Meyer, of No. 1 Pitt street, in the right leg while playing with a pistol yesterday.

The Sunday morning congregation at Chickering Hall grows larger every week. Rev. Samuel Colcord preached on "The Election of the Soul." Rev. Dr. King preached in the afternoon.

Isaac Wheeler, colored, 27 years of age, residing at No. 705 Third avenue, fell from a horse he was riding at Third avenue and Fortieth street yesterday and received a fracture of the skull.

A few ladies interested in the poor, and needy, who attend the Mission schools in their neighborhood, will open a bazaar at No. 113 East Fortieth street, on the 11th inst., to continue for three days.

Messrs. Naumburg, Kraus, Lauer & Co., the well-known clothing firm, have removed from their premises, corner of Church and White streets, to the more elegant and commodious warerooms at Broadway and Grand streets.

George Hoffman, aged twenty-six, of No. 356 East Third street, was taken to the Eleventh Precinct Station at one o'clock yesterday morning, suffering from a slight stab wound on each arm. He was intoxicated, and could not tell how he received the injuries. He was attended by Police Surgeon Maclay, and taken to his home.

John Lavelly, a bartender, twenty-nine years of age was arrested at a late hour on Saturday night by Officer Wall, of the Sixteenth Precinct, charged with having stolen a gold watch, valued at $200, from Philip Cowan, of No. 484 Seventh avenue, while he was in a liquor store at No. 284 Seventh avenue. Lavelly was held for examination.

Isaac Rose, a native of Holland, eighteen years of age, a pedler by occupation, was yesterday arrested by Officer Johnson, of the Thirteenth Precinct, charged with having stolen a gold watch and chain, a pair of gold bracelets, and a gold breastpin, valued in all at $90, from Albert Klenkowstein, of No. 185 Clinton street. Rose was detained for examination.

Miss Mary Marshall, the pedestrian, who was defeated by Miss Von Hillern at the Central Park Garden on Saturday, has issued a challenge to William Van Ness or any other man, to walk on three consecutive nights twenty miles on each night, commencing on Thursday of this week, and ending on Saturday for $500 a side, the winner on any two nights to receive the stakes.

Mrs. Hannah M. Moore, aged forty-nine, residing in West Twenty-eighth street, went to the Mercer Street Police Station on Saturday afternoon with her lip badly torn and a wound on her left arm. She stated that while in the yard of No. 218 Wooster street, she was attacked and bitten by a vicious dog. The woman was attended by Police Surgeon Dorn and taken to her home.

The barbers, whose anger has been kindled against the members of their craft who stoop to practice their tonsorial art at five cents a "shave," held a second mass-meeting last evening at Nos. 48 and 50 Orchard street to complete their organization and take steps toward the annihilation of the offenders. The chief business of the evening was the ratification of several amendments to the constitution, a document which excommunicates from their order not only all barbers who shave for five cents, but also all apprentices who are so indiscreet as to receive employment from them.

BROOKLYN.

Thomas Flood, of No. 370 Oakland street, was arrested at a late hour on Saturday night, on a charge of stabbing Dennis Driscoll, of No. 325 Oakland street, in the leg, inflicting a serious flesh wound.

The upsetting of a kerosene lamp at No. 93 Congress street, on Saturday evening, set fire to the clothing of Margaret Mullany, thirty-four years old, and burned her severely. She was taken to St. Peter's Hospital.

Peter Marvin was arrested on Saturday by Detectives Riggs and Price, charged with having been implicated, with others, in an assault on Mary Stanford, on Adolphi street, near Flushing avenue, on the night of Nov. 9.

The window of the grocery-store of J. Mehrfers, No. 931 Fulton street, corner Hamilton avenue, was found open by an officer at 2:40 o'clock yesterday morning. Upon entering and searching the premises, the money drawer, containing fifty cents, was found on the floor, but nothing had been stolen.

James Grant, of No. 228 Washington street, accompanied Nellie Long to a room in the State House, corner of York and Fulton streets, on the night of Oct. 18, and while James slept Nellie rifled his pockets of $70, and left the house. She went to New-York, and spent the entire sum in wearing apparel, and succeeded in eluding the Police until Saturday night, when she was arrested by Detective Zundt.

Michael McCabe, who gave his age as twenty-seven years, and said that he boarded in Oakland avenue, laid down by the side of James Kelly's lime kiln, in Second, between North Twelfth and North Thirteenth streets, yesterday morning, while in an intoxicated condition, and falling asleep was severely burned on his right leg. He was taken to St. Catharine's Hospital, in Bushwick avenue, in an ambulance.

Peter O'Brien, aged thirty-two years, residing at No. 60 Elm street, and employed as a watchman on the grain elevator foot of North Fourth street, E. D., fell into the river yesterday morning while passing from the elevator to the dock, and would have been drowned but for the timely arrival of Officers Hennessey and Kelly, of the Fifth Precinct, who rescued him in an exhausted condition. He was taken home by his friends.

Simon Costello caused the arrest of Edward Thomas, a conductor on one of the Brooklyn City railroads on Saturday on a warrant issued by Justice Delmar on a charge of stealing $9 from him. Plaintiff was a passenger on the cars of which defendant was the conductor, and says he gave him a $10 bill in payment of his fare. The conductor returned change for only $1, denying that he had received a bill of larger denomination.

Archibald Donnelly, eight years old, was found wandering in the streets yesterday homeless and friendless, and taken to the Tenth Precinct Station-house. He said that he had been living at Coney Island Point with a Mrs. Tansey, and that the woman turned him into the street on Saturday, and having nowhere to go he wandered about the street until found by the officer. The boy's mother died four weeks ago, and his father is supposed to be now living in Greenpoint, having deserted his family previous to his wife's death.

NEW-JERSEY.

The meadows above Colden street, Jersey City, became ignited yesterday from unknown causes, and are still burning.

A train from the West ran over and killed a boy aged ten years, son of John Powers, a boatman, at New-Brunswick yesterday morning. The boy was returning from church.

Rev. Dr. Riley, who is about to return to Mexico will address the Convocation of Jersey City in St. Paul's Church, Hoboken, Rev. J. E. Johnson, Rector, Tuesday, Nov. 14, at 16 o'clock A. M.

Dr. Irick, some years ago a prominent physician of Newark, known throughout the city because of his eccentric habits of living, died yesterday at his home on William street. He leaves a large estate, which will go to friends in Bavaria. He leaves no living heirs.

THE MACKEREL FLEET.

The Gloucester mackerel fleet are nearly all in, and a week or two more will wind up the business for the year. The Boston fleet have all hauled up, twenty-seven vessels arriving last week with a catch of 2,730 barrels. The Provincetown fleet, thirty vessels, are all in, and the Wellfleet fleet, forty sail, have hauled up. The season is virtually closed, and the stock remaining on the market is small, with a good prospect of an advance in prices. Twenty vessels have arrived at Gloucester the past fortnight from Maine, bringing cargoes of herring and hake, which have found a ready sale for shipment. This branch of the fishing business promises to be of considerable importance, as Gloucester bids fair to become a large exporting headquarters for fish, which already requires more than her own catch to supply. The fishing arrivals the past week have been sixty-five, as follows: 27 from the Banks, 25 from George's, 11 from Bay St. Lawrence, 1 from Bay of Islands, and 1 from shore mackereling. The receipts have been 945,000 pounds Bank codfish, 165,000 pounds Bank halibut, 425,000 pounds George's codfish, 92,000 pounds George's halibut, 450 barrels bay mackerel.

THE BEATEN PARTY.

From the Burlington (Iowa) Hawk-Eye.

"My son," said a pious father out on South Hill to his hopeful son, "you did not saw any wood for the kitchen stove yesterday, as I told you to; you left the back gate open and let the cow get out; you cut off eighteen feet from the clothes line to make a lasso; you stoned Mr. Robinson's pet dog and lamed it; you put a hard-shell turtle in the hired girl's bed; you tied a strange dog to Mr. Jacobsen's door bell, and painted red and green stripes on the legs of old Mrs. Polaby's white pony, and hung your sister's bustle out at the front window. Now, what am I—what can I do to you for such conduct?" "Are all the counties heard from?" asked the candidate. The father replied sternly, "No trifling, sir; no, I have yet several reports to receive from others of the neighbors." "Then," replied the boy, "you will not be justified in proceeding to extreme measures until the official count is in." Shortly afterward the election was thrown into the house, and before half the votes were canvassed, it was evident, from the peculiar intonation of the applause, that the boy was badly beaten.

PAPAL ENCROACHMENT IN FRANCE.

A SLIGHT AGGRESSION ON THE PART OF THE POPE—ATTEMPT TO CHANGE THE BOUNDARY OF A FRENCH DIOCESE.

From the Pall Mall Gazette.

A slight aggression on the part of the Court of Rome has just encountered an amount of resistance from M. Dufaure which shows that the Keeper of the Seals and Minister of Justice and Public Worship, strict Catholic as he is, will not tolerate Papal encroachment. For the first time since the existence of the Concordat the Holy See has ventured to proclaim in an official act its right to change the boundary of a French diocese each time it considers such change convenient. Of late years there has more than once been a question of dividing the large diocese of Lyons and Vienne, which comprises the Departments of the Rhône and the Loire, and of creating at the expense of the Primacy, which has existed intact for seventeen centuries, a Bishopric of St. Etienne, just as under the Consulate in 1801 the Bishopric of Versailles was erected at the expense of Paris. When the late Archbishop of Lyons died, a short time ago, the Holy See endeavored to persuade the French Government to consent to the division in question; but they refused, and on the 20th of April last nominated Monsignor Caverot, Bishop of St. Dié, to be Archbishop of Lyons. In spite of the refusal of the French Government, the Court of Rome, unwilling entirely to renounce the realization of its desires, made some reserves in the bull of canonical institution, which was only accorded by the Pope on "the sixth day before the calends of July, in the year of the incarnation of our Lord 1876"—that is to say, on the 26th of June. The bull of the Pontiff reminds Monsignor Caverot that it is to him, the Pope, that it belongs to preside by divine dispensation over all the churches. And after the usual formula he goes on to say that by the present letter he reserves to himself and the Apostolic See the faculty of making at all times, as he and the Apostolic See may judge right, a new circumscription of the diocese of Lyons. Now, there exists in the Concordat an article which clearly sets forth that the Papal Court has no right to make such a change or publish any bull, brief, decree, &c., without the consent of the French Government, and this legislation has existed since the days of St. Louis. Under these circumstances M. Dufaure has given orders that only that portion of the bull containing the canonical institution of Monsignor Caverot shall be published in France, and that the reserves made by the Roman Curia shall be struck out. Seeing all the trouble which has been caused in Switzerland by Papal interference, the French Government is to be complimented on the firmness of its attitude.

TERRORISM IN MISSISSIPPI.

The Cleveland (Ohio) Herald says that a letter has been received in that city by the relative of a gentleman in Mississippi, which explains how that State has been converted from a Republican to a Democratic stronghold, and illustrates the character of the "Mississippi plan" which it was sought to introduce in South Carolina. The writer has long been a resident of Mississippi, where he has a plantation and other property. He is a Republican, but not a politician, and has never made his politics offensively obtrusive. In his letter, dealing almost exclusively with family affairs, he incidentally remarks that though as much a Republican as ever—even more so, for circumstances have made him more confirmed in his Republicanism—he keeps his opinions carefully concealed. This time he did not vote, although his feelings and hopes were all with the Republican candidates. He was not afraid of personal danger, but regard for his business interests and for the safety of his property impelled him to stay at home and let the Democrats do the voting in their own way. This was not a "bloody shirt" letter, intended for political effect. In fact, the writer had no idea that any part of it would find its way to the public. It is, therefore, all the more valuable as testimony concerning the political terrorism exercised by the White Liners of Mississippi, and as a proof that the vote of that State at the recent election cannot be taken as conclusive evidence of the sentiment of its people.

AN INSANE MURDERER.

The Des Moines Register of the 9th inst. has the following account of the murder of a woman by her insane son, in Dallas County, Iowa: "A man named Patrick Moran, residing in Grant township, went to church early Sunday, and while there became much excited at some occurrence. On returning home he made a murderous assault on his mother, killing her by stabbing her with a large knife, and then pounding her with stones. Several of the rocks he used were found in the bed with her. Moran then assaulted his brother, and inflicted upon him several serious and dangerous wounds. He is considered to be fatally injured. The insane man, for such he evidently was, then attempted to destroy his children, but they escaped to a neighbor's and he did not follow. Leaving the fleeing children, Moran went to Dallas Center and told the Catholic Priest at that place what he had done. Showing the blood on his hands he exclaimed: 'I killed her, and tried to kill my children, but they got away.' Subsequently he asserted that they had shared the same fate as his mother. As soon as possible, Moran was apprehended and lodged in jail at Adel, where he was yesterday, a raving maniac. The victim of his murderous insanity was buried yesterday. One report for the cause of Moran's madness is that the priest refused to give him absolution, he being a Catholic. Another, that insanity is hereditary in the family."

BRAZILIAN COFFEE MARKETS.

RIO JANEIRO, Nov. 11.—Coffee market quiet, with a downward tendency; good firsts, 6,100@6,250 reis ⅌ 10 kilos. Exchange on London, 25¼.

SANTOS, Nov. 11.—Coffee quiet; prices maintained; superior Santos, 5,800@5,950 reis ⅌ 10 kilos.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.

In steam-ship Switzerland, from Antwerp.—Henry G. Ward, Mrs. Lacquet Leroy, Miss Ida Leroy, Johanna Feld, Adolph Hanson, Mrs. Johanna Kappel, Miss Emelie Kappel, Mrs. Louis Weiss, Miss Christine Weffer, Mrs. Lina Morgenstern, Miss Emma Morgenstern, Sisters Ruperta deitz, Sigismunda Petermarer, Gerharta Herndelmaier, Priska Murbeck, Brother Casimir Renner.

In steam-ship Claribel, from Kingston, Ja., &c.—Mrs. Sarah Sampson, Miss Rosalind Sampson, Geo. Meodie, Juan Bta Perez, Dr. Jariath Muller, Peter Meodie, Henry A. Solomon, Alphonso Wheeler, John Heitz, Simeon Lauza.

MINIATURE ALMANAC—THIS DAY.

Sun rises.....6:44	Sun sets.....4:44	Moon rises...4:19
HIGH WATER—THIS DAY.
Sandy Hook...5:45	Gov. Island..6:34	Hell Gate.....7:54

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

NEW-YORK..........SUNDAY, Nov. 12.

ARRIVED.

Steam-ship Claribel, (Br.,) Ferguson, Jacmel Oct. 24, Aux Cayes 27th, Port-au-Prince 31st, and Kingston Nov. 4, with mdse. and passengers to Pim, Forwood & Co. Nov. 6, lat. 21 43, lon. 74 13, passed steam-ship Atlas, hence for Kingston, Ja.

Steam-ship Switzerland, (Belg.,) Jackson, Antwerp Oct. 30, with mdse. and 16 cabin and 23 steerage passengers, to Geo. W. Colten. Nov. 6, lat. 47 06, lon. 39 34, passed bark Fannie H. Loring, (of and from Portland) for Bowling.

Steam-ship Charleston, Berry, Charleston Nov. 9, with mdse. and passengers to James W. Quintard & Co.

Steam-ship Benefactor, Jones, Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 8, with cotton, &c., to Wm. P. Clyde & Co.

Steam-ship Old Dominion, Walker, Norfolk, with mdse. and passengers to Old Dominion Steam-ship Co.

Steam-ship Regulator, Tribon, Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 7, with cotton, &c., to Wm. P. Clyde & Co.

Steam-ship Ashland, Doughty, Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 7, with cotton, &c., to Wm. P. Clyde & Co.

Steam-ship Neptune, Berry, Boston, with mdse. and passengers to Metropolitan Steam-ship Co.

Steam-ship Wyanoke, Couch, Norfolk, with mdse. and passengers to Old Dominion Steam-ship Co.

Bark Washington, (Ital.,) Cafiero, Lisbon 60 ds., with salt to J. P. & G. C. Robinson—vessel to Funch, Edye & Co. Has been 10 ds. north of Hatteras, with strong N. and N.E. gales.

Bark Golden Fleece, (of Barbados) Armstrong, Nevis 15 ds., with sugar and molasses to H. Trowbridge's Sons. Has been 6 ds. north of Hatteras, with strong N. and N.E. winds.

Bark Syngore, (Norw.,) Jorgensen, Russouir 80 ds., in ballast to Funch, Edye & Co. Came a southern passage, and been 14 ds. north of Hatteras, with N.E. and N.W. gales.

Brig Ubaldina (of Liverpool, N. S.,) Sponagle, Turk's Island 13 ds., with salt to F. Moulton & Co.—vessel to L. F. Brigham. Has been 9 ds. north of Hatteras, with strong N. E. gales, lost and split sails.

Brig Prentiss Hobbs, Blake, Providence, in ballast to master.

Schr. Moses Eddy, Warren, Rockland, with lime to I. R. Brown.

Schr. A. Heaton, Phinney, Boston for Port Johnson.

Schr. C. P. Schultz, Young, Somerset.

Schr. J. R. Atwood, Atwood, Plymouth.

Schr. Stephen R. Lane, Fowler, Yarmouth.

Schr. Gildersleeve, Hull, New-Bedford for Albany.

Schr. R. H. Huntley, Hodges, New-Bedford for Port Johnson.

Schr. Hastings, Chase, New-Bedford for Port Johnson.

Schr. B. F. Woolsey, Tirrell, Pawtucket for Port Johnson.

WIND—Sunset, moderate, N. W.; clear.

SAILED.

Steamships Castalia, for Glasgow; Nereus and Cortes, for Savannah; ships Cashmere, for Liverpool; Bertaux, for ——; barks Gariigliano, for Genoa; Tyrus, for ——. Also, via Long Island Sound: Brig Lady Bird, for St. John's, N. F.; schrs. D. Sawyer, Eliza B. Beard, and Lizzie G., for St. John, N. F.; F. W. Allen, Elbridge Gerry, Lizzie B. McNichols, Harmon Curtis, and Geo. W. Glover, for Boston; Edna Harwood, for Bridgeport.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Bark Geo. B. Doane, (Br.,) Corning, from Bremen, which arr. 7th and anchored at Sandy Hook, was towed to this City this P. M.

TO

WHOLESALE BUYERS.

Trade Sale of Clothing.

Prior to Removal to our New Store, cor. Broadway and Grand St., November 25th, we have determined to offer to the Trade our entire Stock of Clothing, manufactured for this Season's Business, for Net Cash, 30 days, at less than cost of production.

The Sale will commence on Tuesday, November 14, at 9 a. m. The prices will be marked plainly on each lot. The attention of close buyers is solicited.

NAUMBURG, KRAUS, LAUER & CO.,

COR. CHURCH & WHITE STS., NEW YORK.

LACE CURTAINS.

Astonishing Bargains.

BARGAINS ABSOLUTELY UNPRECEDENTED.
BARGAINS THAT DEFY ALL COMPETITION.

SHEPPARD KNAPP,

Nos. 183 and 185 Sixth avenue,

OFFERS THIS WEEK

10,000 PAIRS OF

LACE CURTAINS,

THE ENTIRE STOCK OF AN IMPORTING HOUSE, PURCHASED AT AN ENORMOUS SACRIFICE.

This stock comprises the largest and finest assortment ever offered at retail in this country, and will be closed out at about one-half the usual price.

REAL LACE CURTAINS at $7 50 PER PAIR, Formerly sold $15.
REAL LACE CURTAINS at $10, Well worth $20.
REAL LACE CURTAINS at $12 50 and $15, Gold cost $18 and $24.
REAL AND BRUSSELS LACE CURTAINS from $25 to $60 per pair.

NOTTINGHAM LACE CURTAINS FROM ONE DOLLAR PER PAIR TO THE FINEST IMPORTED.

ALSO,

Shades and Cornices to fit any Window.

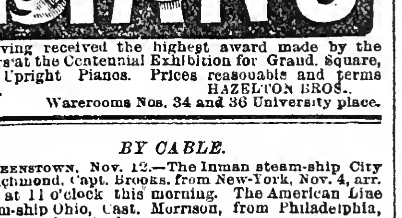
500 EMBROIDERED PIANO AND TABLE COVERS (samples.)

CARPETS.

Great reduction in our immense stock of Moquet Carpets, Velvet Body and Tapestry Brussels.
INGRAIN, at 35c. per yard.
INGRAIN, good quality, at 50c.
INGRAIN, best quality, at 75c. and upward.

OIL-CLOTHS.

A manufacturer's stock, from one to eight yards wide, from 25c. per yard.



DRUGGETS

of every description a specialty.

SHEPPARD KNAPP,

NOS. 183 AND 185 6TH AV.,
(ONE DOOR BELOW 13TH ST.,) NEW-YORK.

One call will convince all.

Having received the highest award made by the jurors at the Centennial Exhibition for Grand, Square, and Upright Pianos. Prices reasonable and terms easy. HAZELTON BROS.

Warerooms Nos. 34 and 36 University place.

BY CABLE.

QUEENSTOWN, Nov. 12.—The Inman steam-ship City of Richmond, Capt. Brooks, from New-York, Nov. 4, arr. here at 11 o'clock this morning. The American Line steam-ship Ohio, Capt. Morrison, from Philadelphia, Nov. 2, arr. here to-day.

PLYMOUTH, Nov. 12.—The Hamburg-American steam-ship Gellert, Capt. Barends, from New-York, Nov. 2, has arr.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Sld. Nov. 11, Jennie Sweeney, Catharine; Nov. 12, Daniel Draper.

Arr. Nov. 7, Five Brothers, at Algiers; Nov. 10, Birdstow; Nov. 12, Volmer, at Queenstown.

HAVRE, Nov. 12.—The General Transatlantic Company's steam-ship Amérique, Capt. Pouzolz, sld. yesterday for New-York.

HEAD-QUARTERS

NEW-YORK CITY.

New-York, from its size, superior situation, and its advantages in the way of frequent communication with all parts of the country and civilized world, is HEAD-QUARTERS for almost everything produced in America. Manufacturers in every part of the United States have their depots and agencies here, and buyers can frequently save money by dealing with the right house.

The following houses are the most prominent in their respective lines, and do the largest business of any in this country—in short, are HEAD-QUARTERS.

GROCERIES AND PROVISIONS.
H. K. & F. B. THURBER & CO., West Broadway, Reade and Hudson sts.

SOAPS AND PERFUMERY.
COLGATE & CO., No. 55 John st.

FINE CABINET FURNITURE.
Mediæval and Eastlake Designs a specialty.
L. P. TUCKER, (late Edw. W. Baxter & Co.) 684 B'way.

FLAX THREADS FOR HAND AND MACHINE SEWING.
BARBOUR BROTHERS, No. 134 Church st.

BUTTONS, BRASS, AND PHOTO. MATERIALS.
THE SCOVILL MANUFACTURING COMPANY, Nos. 419 and 421 Broome st.

ROPE, CORDAGE, AND OAKUM.
WM. WALL'S SONS, No. 113 Wall st.

METALS, TIN PLATES, &c.
PHELPS, DODGE & CO., Nos. 19 and 21 Cliff st.

STARCH—DURYEA'S SATIN GLOSS STARCH, IMPROVED CORN STARCH, AND MAIZENA, Nos. 29, 31, and 33 Park place, corner Church st.

IVORY, TORTOISE-SHELL, AND PEARL GOODS,
F. GROTE & CO., No. 114 East 14th st.

AMERICAN CLOCKS,
ANSONIA BRASS AND COPPER COMPANY, No. 19 Cliff st.

MEN'S FURNISHING GOODS, SHIRTS, &c.—RETAIL.
E. A. NEWELL, No. 727 Broadway, corner Waverley place.

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS.
HARDWARE, CHINA, GLASS, AND SILVER.
Illus. catalogues free. E. D. BASSFORD, Cooper Institute.

GAS FIXTURES AND BRONZES.
ARCHER & PANCOAST MANUFACTURING COMPANY, Nos 68, 70, 72 Wooster, 67 Greene st., above Broome st.

CUT NAILS AND SPIKES.
OXFORD IRON COMPANY, Nos. 81, 83, and 85 Washington st.

VULCANIZED RUBBER.
NEW-YORK BELTING AND PACKING COMPANY.
J. H. CHEEVER, Treasurer. Nos. 37 and 38 Park row.

COMMISSION MERCHANTS—BUTTER AND CHEESE.
GEORGE S. HART & HOWELL, Nos. 33, 35, and 38 Pearl st., and 22 and 24 Bridge st.

CARPETS AND OIL-CLOTHS.
Agents for the English Linoleum,
J. & J. W. CROSSLEY, 320 and 322 Broadway.

SALT AND FISH, ALSO STORAGE,
J. P. & G. C. ROBINSON, No. 14 Coenties slip and No. 44 Front st.

REMOVAL. Having removed to our NEW, ELEGANT, and EXTENSIVE warerooms, No. 40 East 14th st., off. r the largest stock of first-class organs, with chime of bells, and grand, square, and upright Pianos, of superior tone and finish, to be found on this continent, and at extraordinary low prices for cash, on instalments, or to let, until paid for. Second-hand instruments at great bargains; 7-octave Pianos for $165; 7⅓ octave Piano, $175, not used a year; 2-stop Organs, $60; 4-stop Organs, $70; 6-stop, $80; 8-stop, $90; 10-stop, $100 and $110, cash; not used a year, but in perfect order. HORACE WATERS & SONS, Manufacturers and Dealers, No. 40 East 14th st., Union square, New-York.

The New-York Times.

VOL. XXVI.....NO. 7853. NEW-YORK, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1876. PRICE FOUR CENTS.

THE REPUBLICAN VICTORY.

MORE LIGHT ON THE SITUATION.

NO DOUBT OF GOV. HAYES' ELECTION—DEMOCRATIC MANUFACTURING OF RETURNS IN FLORIDA—THE TERRORIZED PARISHES IN LOUISIANA—DEMOCRATIC TACTICS IN SOUTH CAROLINA—THE STATE GIVEN UP BY THE DEMOCRATS ON A FAIR COUNT.

The news this morning even more strongly than heretofore indicates the success of the Republican national ticket. The very full and convincing dispatches and letters which we present throw much light on the situation in the Southern States. They make it clear to every one not utterly blinded by partisanship, that the large majority of the voters in Louisiana, Florida, and South Carolina cast their votes for the Republican ticket, and that an organized terrorism in two of these States, and the most undisguised falsification of the returns in another, have been relied upon to make Republican majorities appear as Democratic But these efforts have not proved successful. In Florida it will be seen that the "cow-boy counties" were looked to for the necessary Democratic majorities, but not even the violent methods resorted to in these counties to falsify the returns have been able to overcome the honest Republican majority in the State. In South Carolina the Democrats are commencing legal proceedings to prevent the State Canvassers from doing anything but mechanically count the number of ballots sent to them from the rifle-club counties. They have abandoned any hope of carrying the State for Tilden, and are endeavoring to count in Wade Hampton for Governor, and to secure the Legislature in order to elect a United States Senator. In Louisiana the Returning Board will have to consider the case of the five parishes which have sent in returns of Democratic majorities mildly described as astounding. With a colored registration of over two thousand, one of these parishes does not show a solitary Republican vote. The letter from our correspondent will show why. In the general situation there is nothing but what is cheering to Republicans. They may rest in perfect confidence that Gov. Hayes has been elected.

VICTORY POSITIVELY ASSURED IN FLORIDA.

THE COUNTY CANVASS MADE—ALL THE RETURNS RECEIVED SHOW A LARGER REPUBLICAN MAJORITY THAN HAS BEEN CLAIMED—THE LAW UNDER WHICH THE STATE CANVASSERS ACT—MR. TILDEN'S DEFEAT SHOWN TO BE CERTAIN EVEN ON DEMOCRATIC FIGURES—THE EXCITEMENT IN THE STATE INCREASING.

By Telegraph from our Special Correspondent.

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 13.—The county canvass of the vote of Florida was made to-day, but as many of the polling places are hundreds of miles from all railway communication, the official returns cannot be placed in the hands of the Board of State Canvassers for at least a week. No figures that can be relied upon have been received from any of the Counties to-night, but the all scattering returns which have come to hand show that the Republicans have underestimated, rather than exaggerated, their majority. Hamilton County, as far as has been heard from, is the only one in which there was any dispute about the canvass. In that county, which rightfully belongs to the Republicans, and which it is thought was carried by them, the Democrats, immediately after the election, claimed a majority of 291. Since then the ballot-boxes and all legal evidences of the result have mysteriously disappeared, and of course the managers of elections were unable to make any canvass. The Democrats still insist, however, that they have carried the county by the above figures, and demand that they be returned as the result of the election. Of course the managers refuse to do as they asked. The appeal from a refusal to canvass the county vote is to apply to the Circuit Judge for a writ of mandamus, and the Democratic State Committee has sent a lawyer to Hamilton County to draw the necessary papers and make such an application. If the Judge refuses to grant the mandamus, there is no further appeal except in a quo warranto, as to why the officers who claim to be elected shall not take their seats. The State Board of Canvassers has no power to act upon a poll which is not before them. In this connection the law relating to the State canvass may be of interest. It is substantially as follows:

On the 35th day after the holding of any general or special election, or sooner if the returns have been received from the several counties wherein elections shall have been held, the Secretary of State, Attorney General, and the Comptroller of Public Accounts, or any two of them, together with any other member of the State Cabinet who may be designated by them, shall meet at the office of the Secretary of State, pursuant to notice to be given by him, and form a Board of State Canvassers, and proceed to canvass the returns of said election, and determine and declare who shall have been elected to the position or offices voted for. If any such returns shall be shown, or shall appear to be so irregular, false or fraudulent that the Board shall be unable to determine the true vote for any such officer, they shall so certify, and shall not include such return in their determination and declaration; and the Secretary of State shall preserve and file in his office all such returns, together with all such other documents and papers as may have been received by him, or by said Bord of Canvassers. The said board shall make and sign a certificate containing, in words written at full length, the whole number of votes given for each office, the number of votes given for each person for each office, and the return shall declare the result, which certificate shall be recorded in the office of the Secretary of State, in a book to be kept for that purpose, and the Secretary of State shall cause a certified copy of such certificate to be published once in one or more newspapers published at the seat of Government.

Regarding vacancies in the Board of Presidential Electors, the State Laws of 1846 provide that all vacancies in the Board of Electors are to be filled by the remaining Electors on the day previous to that fixed for voting for President. One feature of the contest here which excites a great deal of interest, is the difference between the vote cast for Mr. Tilden and that for the Democratic candidate for Governor. The Democrats claimed that the difference would not be very great. The official returns already received, however, show that it is so great that even if Drew has carried the State by a small majority, as is claimed by the Democrats, Tilden will be defeated by at least 400 votes. This, it will be remembered, is calculating from Democratic figures. In Sumter County Tilden falls behind Drew 11 votes; in Duval County, 67 votes; in Leon County, 14 votes; in Jackson County, 43 votes; in Nassau County, 26 votes; in Franklin County, 13 votes, and in Orange County, 34 votes; or 208 votes in seven counties. At this rate he would be defeated, even if the Democratic State ticket was elected by the highest majority yet claimed for it.

The excitement has greatly increased here during the past twenty-four hours. Gen. Ruger arrived this afternoon and took command of the troops. Prominent Democrats are pouring into the State from all parts of the South, and a number from the North are hourly expected. This morning three New-York detectives arrived. One of them is well known about the Albany lobby. They were very much mortified when they were recognized and their power for good or bad ended. Of course both parties continue to claim the State, but as the returns come in the Republicans become more confident and the Democrats lose hope. They would give up the fight altogether if they were not urged continually by the Democratic National Committee and by Mr. Tilden in person to keep up a bold front at all hazards.

Later.—Dispatches have just been received stating that the Democrats have produced the returns in Hamilton County, and that the County Board have commenced to canvass them. It will rest with the State Board to throw out the returns if frauds can be proved against either party. H. C.

THE STATE SHOWN TO BE REPUBLICAN ON ACTUAL, UNDISPUTED, AND INDISPUTABLE RETURNS—THE "COW-BOY COUNTIES" RELIED UPON TO CHANGE THE RESULT—BALLOTS AND POLL-LISTS DESTROYED — DEMOCRATIC MAJORITIES LARGER THAN THE WHOLE VOTING POPULATION—A JUST AND FAIR COUNT OF THE VOTE TO BE MADE AT ALL HAZARDS.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 13.—There is nothing essentially new or important to-day. The case is in a nut-shell. The Republicans claim the State for Hayes by as legitimate, though not as large, a majority as that given by Vermont. This rests on actual, undisputed, and indisputable returns. There is no pretense that these returns are tainted. They are from the more populous counties, generally lying along the principal routes of travel, where the heaviest colored vote is to be found. They were received as soon as possible after the election—the next day generally. They showed large Republican gains. The vote had been full, and the Democrats were disappointed, though they did not raise the cry of fraud. On the contrary, the remark was general that the election was one of the most peaceable and the fairest ever known. Defeat hopelessly stared the Democrats in the face, unless the "cow-boy counties" should save them. Schemes of fraud had already been laid there. The election machinery was exclusively in Democratic hands; Republicans were few and far between, scarcely daring to avow their sentiments. Fearing that these already laid schemes would not suffice, emissaries were sent out as soon as it was seen the day was lost, to supplement the original schemes to further swell the Democratic majorities. It was days before anything was heard from this field of operations, although some parts of them were penetrated by the telegraph. It was only when it became known what would give the State to the Democrats that returns began to come in. Not to specify, it may be stated that counties which heretofore cast from two to three hundred votes, and where the population is not increasing, gave 600 Democratic majority, that being the roun figure which seems to have been agreed on. Alabamians voted and raided at will, and when they supposed they had not done it enough they made up such returns as suited their purpose, and then destroyed ballots, poll-lists, and everything else.

Let the country know that it is on precisely such returns as these that Democrats claim the State. Taking the undisputed and indisputable returns, and giving the entire vote of these "cowboy counties" to Democrats, Hayes' majority is between one and two thousand. This is the whole case. Fortunately, the Republicans stand on firm ground, and have to stretch nothing anywhere. It is to the work of ascertaining the true result they now address themselves. They go to it courageously, and with a perfect confidence that they will be able to lay before the State Canvassers the necessary proof, not only to give the State to Hayes, but to convince the country.

More troops came into the State yesterday, and nine companies are, or soon will be, distributed where they will be ready for an emergency. Emissaries have begun to arrive from the Democratic leaders of the North. It is unnecessary to repeat the threats of the Reformers, as one is but reminded by them of what immediately followed Lincoln's election. It may be that another crisis like that is before us, but Republicans are confident that they will show the facts so clearly that no one can doubt that Hayes has the State, and that if Florida decides the question, he is the next President by just the same right as any of his predecessors.

SENATOR CONOVER'S DENIAL OF EVER HAVING SENT DISPATCHES NORTH ADMITTING DEMOCRATIC SUCCESSES — THE STATE ALWAYS CLAIMED BY HIM FOR THE REPUBLICANS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Secretary Chandler had an interview with the President to-day. He expressed his confidence that Florida, Louisiana and South Carolina had gone for Hayes. This morning Secretary Chandler received the following dispatch:

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 12.—As to the rumors regarding Conover, (Senator,) he has this morning unequivocally declared to me in the presence of three witnesses that he has sent no telegram which did not claim the State as certain for the Republicans. This morning, just before leaving for the North, he telegraphed to New-York that the State had gone Republican beyond question. We are certainly safe. W. L. STERNS.

THE TRIUMPH IN LOUISIANA.

THE FIVE TERRORIZED PARISHES—SOME SIGNIFICANT FIGURES — ASTOUNDING DEMOCRATIC MAJORITIES CLAIMED—THE RETURNING BOARD AND ITS DUTIES—POLITICAL VISITORS FROM THE NORTH AND WEST IN NEW-ORLEANS.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 13.—The feeling here to-day is that the national contest has narrowed down uncomfortably close to five debatable parishes in Louisiana. That the situation may be understood, in case it comes to a question of counting or rejecting the votes of several parishes, I send figures for comparison. In five parishes the registration of voters in 1874 was—

Registration 1874.	White.	Colored.
East Baton Rouge	1,595	2,879
East Feliciana	855	1,891
West Feliciana	422	1,620
Morehouse	659	1,221
Ouachita	826	1,819
Total	4,377	9,430

Colored majority, 5,053.

The vote in those parishes in 1874, for Auditor, (Moncure being the Democratic candidate and Dubuclet the Republican,) was as follows:

Vote in 1874.	Dem.	Rep.
East Baton Rouge	1,556	2,546
East Feliciana	847	1,688
West Feliciana	501	1,358
Morehouse	654	1,017
Ouachita	766	1,694
Total	4,324	8,303
Republican majority		3,979

The registration of voters in the same parishes for 1876, is as follows:

Registration. 1876.	White.	Colored.
East Baton Rouge	1,801	3,552
East Feliciana	1,004	2,127
West Feliciana	406	2,218
Morehouse	938	1,830
Ouachita	925	2,167
Total	5,074	11,894

Colored majority, 6,820.

For the election of Tuesday, in the same parishes, the Democrats now claim the following majories:

Democratic Majorities Claimed, 1876.
East Baton Rouge	630
East Feliciana	1,743
West Feliciana	465
Morehouse	528
Ouachita	1,076
Total	4,442

They claim that in East Feliciana, where there was a colored registration of 2,127, not a single vote for Hayes Electors found its way into the ballot-boxes. This is something for the American people to consider, and they must know the reason why beyond a doubt.

Mr. Packard is confident of his election, and calmly awaits results. The Democrats are constantly changing their estimates, which shows that they have not finally settled upon the size of their claim. Avoyelles, the latest parish heard from officially, gives a Republican majority of 70, instead of an estimated Democratic majority of 50. Other parishes heard from cut down the Democratic figures, and to-day the Republican prospect outside of the debatable parishes looks brighter.

The returning officers elected by the Senate to canvass the election returns of the State will meet on the 17th inst., proceed to fill vacancies, and compile returns. The vote is so close that the election cannot be decided without an official count. The returning officers at present are J. Madison Wells, T. C. Anderson, George Casanave, and L. F. Kenner, Republicans, although Mr. Wells was elected as a Conservative. Mr. Oscar Arroyana, Democrat, resigned some time since. There should be five members on the board. The Returning officers, according to law, must fill vacancies. Mr. Anderson on the board, being a candidate for the State Senate, is incapacitated perhaps from acting as a canvasser, and will resign. There will be elected two Democrats to serve as returning officers, and all parties will insist upon a fair count.

So far as is known of the State, the Republicans are sure of having a majority in the Legislature, which is to elect two United States Senators. Darrall's majority in the First Congressional District will be about 1,500. Mr. Acklen, Democrat, is preparing to contest, though the First District does not include the debatable parishes.

Hon. Stanley Matthews, Job Stevenson, and Gov. Hayes, of Ohio, and other distinguished Republicans are here studying the situation unofficially, and trying to get at bottom facts. The leading Democrats are reticent. They claim the election of Nicholls by a small majority. Watterson and Stevenson, of Kentucky; Lyman Trumbull, of Ohio; Senator Lamar, of Mississippi, and others are in consultation. They say they have no definite plan of action, and appear to be waiting for other strangers. Considering the facts, and reading the election law of this State, the stranger Democrats are anything but cheerful. There is a crowd at the St. Charles, but no unusual excitement elsewhere.

LOUISIANA-FELICIANA.

HOW A SOLID DEMOCRATIC VOTE IS OBTAINED.

THE TERRORISM IN EAST AND WEST FELICIANA DESCRIBED BY LOUISIANA CITIZENS—THE VOTES OF PREVIOUS YEARS—OPERATIONS OF THE "REGULATORS"—TESTIMONY BEFORE THE SENATE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE.

From an Occasional Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, Nov. 12, 1876.

I.

There are two parishes in Louisiana which have sent in returns of a solid Democratic vote, but which the Returning Board, if it does only its plain and obvious duty, will throw out without hesitation. They are the parishes of East and West Feliciana. West Feliciana is bounded on the west by the Mississippi River, and on the north by Wilkinson County in the State of Mississippi. East Feliciana lies due east of West Feliciana, and is divided from it by an imaginary line. North of East Feliciana, and similarly divided from it, lies the County of Amite in Mississippi.

Neither in Wilkinson nor Amite in Mississippi, nor in East or West Feliciana, in Louisiana, has there been the slightest chance of a free election, or any possibility of voting for a Republican candidate without the danger of exile or assassination. There is no law there, and no order, except the law of the revolver and the order that comes from obedience to the bandits.

These statements I do not make of my own authority or knowledge, but from the evidence of both black and white men who have lived there. Some of them testified before the Mississippi Investigating Committee, and their evidence will be found in the second volume of its report, from pages 1533 to 1617 inclusive. [Senate Doc. 527. Part II. 44th Congress, 1st session.]

II.

These four counties, although in two different States, are dominated by the same body of bandits.

Amite County (Mississippi) in 1873, when there was a fair election, gave a Republican majority of 673. In 1875 it was "counted in" by the Democracy. It has a white population of 4,196 and a black population of 6,777.

Wilkinson County (Mississippi) in 1873 gave a Republican majority of 1,421, and in 1875 a Republican majority of 1,408. In this county there was not much intimidation either before or during the election. The white population is 3,526, and the black population 10,866. The Democrats of Wilkinson did not seem to be familiar with the plans of their leaders throughout the State, and instead of preventing the election of Republican candidates, they killed them or drove them into exile after the election was decided.

I have already given (in THE NEW-YORK TIMES of Aug. 3) an account of the manner in which Amite County was carried by the Democracy; by threats; by midnight raids; by the murder of Perry, Deshields, and Kendrick; by the forced resignation of an honest Democrat who had been elected a Judge of Elections; by the whipping and driving negro voters from the polls; and by the capture by an armed force of the ballot-box at Rose Hill for the openly-avowed purpose of "manipulating" it.

At the Presidential election, it is reported, both of these counties gave a solid Democratic vote. After the election of 1875 all the leaders of the Republicans, white and black, were either killed or driven out of the State. They have not been permitted to return. This policy was adopted both in Amite and Wilkinson Counties.

The worst of these outrages were committed by a gang of outlaws commanded by Col. Frank Powers, and an equally desperate character named Jackson.

Gen. Hurst, a young Confederate soldier, son of a Mississippi Supreme Court Judge, and Sheriff Parker, of Amite County, both men of intelligence and integrity, thus described the character of Powers, and the system of exchange that had been established between the Democrats of Amite and of West Feliciana:

"Col. Powers, during the war, commanded a regiment of cavalry that was called Butternut Cavalry in our neighborhood. They were scouting and riding around the country, and he always had a bad reputation for running cotton through the Confederate lines. His reputation was, I think, very bad. He is a leader of what is called 'The Regulators' in the parishes of East Feliciana and St. Helena. [St. Helena adjoins East Feliciana, and is due south of Amite.]

There have been a great many negroes killed through these counties; and they have killed some of the county officers at Clinton, [in East Feliciana,] and have run the rest away. Included in his organization were some men from Amite County, and they were in sympathy with them in getting rid of Republican officers.

The understanding was, that should they want Powers on one side of the line they would call on him, and he would come prepared to assist them in doing anything they might require to be done. On this election day they sent for him. Gen. Hurst asked Powers why he had come there, and he said they had sent for him."

This was the plan adopted by the Kuklux in North Carolina in 1870 and by the Democratic clubs in North-eastern Mississippi in 1875. Outrages were always committed in North Carolina by klans from another county, and in Lowndes, Monroe, and other counties marauders were invited from Alabama. I have given this glimpse into the adjoining district of Mississippi to show how the reformers mutually aided each other, the result of their joint action there in 1875, and the character of the man who, if Louisiana is returned Democratic by a small majority, will be made famous as the Warwick of President Tilden. Let us see now how the Felicianas were perverted to Democracy, for, as the dispatches show, only one Republican vote was cast in the Felicianas, and that solitary gem that now shines in the thick darkness there was thrown among the swill by the United States Commissioner.

III.

West Feliciana has a white population of 1,533, and a black population of 8,915.

In 1872 the registration returned 162 white voters and 2,084 colored voters. The registration of 1874 returned 442 white voters and 1,620 colored voters.

In 1872 it gave McEnery (Dem.,) 320 votes, and Kellogg (Rep.,) 1,477 votes.

In 1874 it gave Moncure (Dem.,) 501 votes, and Dubuclet (Rep.,) 1,358 votes, or, according to the New-York World's almanac, 1,360 votes.

In 1872 it gave Greeley 224 votes and Grant 1,453 votes.

IV.

East Feliciana has a white population of 4,106 and a black population of 9,393.

In 1872, the registration (made by Democratic authority) returned 1,100 white voters and 2,351 colored voters. The registration of 1874 returned 855 white voters and 1,891 colored voters.

In 1872 it gave McEnery (Democrat) 653 votes and Kellogg (Republican) 1,690 votes.

In 1874 it gave Moncure (Democratic candidate for Treasurer) 847 votes, and Dubuclet (Republican candidate for the same office) 1,688 votes.

In the Presidential canvass it gave Greeley 647 votes and Grant 1,663

V.

Take the two parishes together and note the results:

Black population	18,308
White population	5,689
Black majority	12,619
Black registration of 1872	4,435
White registration of 1872	1,262
Black majority	3,173
Black registration of 1874	3,711
White registration of 1874	1,297
Black majority	2,414

This falling off was owing to the terrorism that had been exercised between 1872 and 1874. But the majority, it will be seen, is still large, and the vote more than three black to one white.

On the vote for Govenor in 1872—
Kellogg, (Rep.) received	3,167
McEnery, (Dem.) received	973
A Republican majority of	2,194
On the vote for Treasurer in 1874—
Dubuclet, (Rep.) received	3,046
Moncure, (Dem.) received	1,348
A Republican majority of	1,698
And in the Presidential campaign—
Grant (Rep.) received	3,122
Greeley (Ind.) received	871
A Republican majority of	2,251

And now, in these two parishes, we are told that only one Republican vote was cast, and that it will be an outrage if the Returning Board at New-Orleans shall throw out their vote!

VI.

Outside of the evidence taken by the Mississippi Committee, it is well known that an organized reign of terror has existed in these parishes for the last two years. There is no safety for Republicans in either county. The merchants, the lawyers, the courts, the executive officers, are either in league with Jackson and Power's bandits, or tamely submit to their action. No protest comes from them. No man is ever indicted there for any crime, if a negro or a white Republican is its victim.

It is hardly a year since John Gair was arrested on a false charge, captured from the Sheriff's posse, and murdered by a mob. He was a black. His offense was that he was a man of influence among his people, and used his influence for the Republican Party. He was accused of poisoning a citizen. That citizen still lives. But Gair's body, which was riddled with bullets, lies buried in its martyr's grave. Nor his body only. His sister was hanged on the same charge. She, too, had offended the bandits by espousing the Republican cause.

This began the more recent reign of terror. The Republican county officials were driven out, or murdered, or fled. Quickly, by scourgings, and murders committed with impunity, the colored people were terrified into submission. No black man, in either East or West Feliciana, dares to vote for the Republican candidates, or to advocate Republican principles.

VII.

Let us hear what citizens of the Felicianas, natives of the State, say of the condition of affairs there last Spring and last Summer.

D. A. Webber acted with the McEnery or Democratic Party as late as 1872, and in 1873 was recommended and appointed as a tax-gatherer by the conservative element of West Feliciana. He is a man of education and good character:

"The negroes," he made oath, "are the only race on the face of the earth that would stand what they have stood in that parish. They have been robbed, killed, and beaten to death almost, and I know of only one single case where the negro has resisted.

Between the 16th of September, 1875, and May last, I can say that a very large number of stores were burned by the regulators—I suppose eight or ten of them—and a very large number of colored men have been shot down in the field while at work, and others have been driven from the community."

VIII.

"Let me ask you whether the operations of these regulators are indiscriminate; whether they are upon all classes of people, or whether particular classes of people, and what classes, suffer?"

"Mainly," he answered, "upon Republicans I believe only upon Republicans and the leaders who have been known to take part in the election here—whoever have taken an active part."

IX.

"What was the cause of the killing of Jack Runell?"

"He was a prominent Republican there; he was a man of some means and a colored man. That was the only excuse that I have heard for his killing."

"In regard to the killing of negroes and the shooting of negroes, how do you establish the fact or justify the statement that they were shot by the regulators?"

"I have it from the parties themselves. About Jack Runell—I have got it from his wife and heard it from others—he hid in an empty pork-barrel, or one half full; and they riddled him full of bullets—thirty-eight bullets in him they told me—because of his participation in the Republican Party. He was a man that owned considerable real estate.

X.

E. L. Webber, a State Senator, brother of the witness already quoted, testified:

"I know that the colored people in this section of the country—Wilkinson County and West Feliciana, my own parish—were so terrorized that a good many of them left the parish.

They told me that the Regulators were going from place to place, shooting them in their houses and in their fields, when they were at work, and even in their hiding-places, where they had hid for fear of their lives. They hid everywhere—under the houses and beds and in the bushes and fields, and everywhere. Wherever they were met by the Regulators they told me they were fired upon and a great many killed. I have it from the Woodville Republican, a Democratic paper, edited in Wilkinson County, that there were fifty colored men killed. There were no white men, except one, I believe, wounded. No white men killed and one wounded.

We had so much lawlessness in that parish last year, and, in fact, so much terrorism, that I had thought it injudicious to organize our party—the Republican Party. I really thought it unsafe. We were continually threatened with death if we should attempt to organize.

A great many leading Republicans came to me and asked my advice as to whether I thought it was not time to organize clubs in the parish. I stated to them that generally at that time of the year we had organized the party in the parishes, but under the then existing circumstances that I thought it was unwise for us to do so. I advised them all to stay at home quietly, and not to organize a single club until we could have some protection in doing so. That was my advice to them then. And after I had that conversation with several of them, they were even willing to let me appoint the delegates to the convention, because they thought if we had a meeting the Regulators might then fall upon us, as they had threatened to do, and murder some of us. I concluded not to appoint them. I refused to appoint them, and we then held a meeting, and we elected our delegates. In that meeting I spoke to them, and advised them not to organize the Republican Party. I knew that, from the reports made to me, it was dangerous for them to do so, from the threats made against all the Republican leaders, every one, white and colored; it was unsafe for them to do so, and they took my advice. There has not been in the Parish of West Feliciana a single club organized during the present year; not one.

XI.

"Last Summer," said the same witness, "some time in the last part of the Summer—perhaps early part of the Fall—a large crowd of these Regulators came to Saint Francisville and Bayou Sara, fully armed and equipped. Before coming into town they stopped at several places in the parish of West Feliciana, and there hunted up several of the leading colored Republicans, and they found some of them, and went and whipped them, and they were shot at, and shot, and some were hanged; that is, a rope was placed around their necks and they were swung to trees. They rode on horses, and swung them from the limbs of trees.

This testimony which I have offered to submit would prove that by the witnesses themselves. I know that from the testimony given before our committee, and I have it from the mouths of these men, stated to me.

After having done these things they came into the town, and they were waited upon by the Sheriff. The Sheriff of our parish is Frank Kauffman, and he asked what they wanted—armed, mounted, and equipped as they were. They answered him that they were there to regulate the parish.

The Sheriff asked them what they meant by regulating.

The parties asked if they did not have any Republican officials that they wanted to put out of office. An old gentleman in the bank—you might call him a Republican; he is very conservative, and of an old family—he told them there was no one in the parish that they wanted regulated, and the best thing they could do was to go away from there, and that he would have them arrested, and would send for United States troops if they could not do it themselves.

They told him they did not care anything for him or anybody else, and he could not arrest them. They proposed to do just as they pleased. He could get no encouragement from the Sheriff.

They remained in town during the principal part of the day, going from store to store, drinking whisky, and getting what they wanted in the stores without paying for it.

The next morning they rode throughout our parish. They went from place to place; wherever they thought there was a prominent Republican—a colored Republican—they went to the place; they went and found out what he was doing; whether he was still participating in politics, whether Republican or not, and said that they would not vouch for the lives of any of them if they still remained Republican. I was told that they whipped several leading colored men. They flogged them. Since that date that organization has been in existence."

Q.—Did you give the date of the formation of this thing? A.—That organization must have been organized in one section of the country during the war: they first came here in our parish, I think, in the early part of the Fall; from that date to this that organization has been in existence, and they are frequently traveling from parish to parish, and from the parish to Wilkinson County, in the day-time and at night. They are going to the houses of people that were prominent leading colored men, Republicans, and they intimidated them in every form and in every shape, and they have induced a great many leading colored men to leave that country. They think it unsafe for them to remain there.

XII.

Not longer than last week they were riding over the Parish of West Feliciana, and they notified a young colored man by the name of John Bryant, living in that parish, that they would kill him. They told him and others that whenever I came back to West Feliciana I would be hanged, and that I would be killed; they did not intend to let me remain there, and that we should not have any Republican Party in that parish; and they have stated time and again that the Republicans should not carry that parish, no matter how largely Republican it was. On the 26th of January the same parties held a mass-meeting at the court-house in Saint Francisville and the Parish of West Feliciana, and passed a resolution, which I have, and will forward to the committee, requesting us to leave the parish, and giving us a certain length of time to leave the parish, never to return. They asked, first, our resignations, and requested us, or demanded of us, that we should never return again. I have the resolution, and if the committee will allow me I will forward it as soon as I get home. About the same date, or before that, I received a letter dated Jackson, La., which is in my Senatorial district—I have that letter also—notifying me, that if I did not leave the country that the white people in that State expected whenever I returned there I would be shot. The communication is signed "A —— good shot." I have got the original paper, and if the committee desires it I will forward it with other papers. Again, about this Aaronson murder: I was not at home—I think it was about the 20th of last month, of May. I was at home late at night—11 o'clock—attending to my wife, who was sick. At 11 o'clock a crowd of men, mounted and on foot, came to my house and called for me, called me out a good many times—ten or fifteen or twenty times, perhaps. I did not go out; I sent a colored man that was living with me in my house, by the name of Bob Williams, to see what they wanted, and before he had time to reach my front fence, where they were standing in front of it, a volley of shot was fired into my premises, and as soon as the shots were fired the parties fled. I could hear them, horseback and on foot, going as fast as they could go.

I want to say further that these Regulators in our section of the country are better armed to-day, all of them, old and young—all those who style themselves Regulators—are better armed to-day than they were in Confederate times, and they are more violent.

I know of my own knowledge that a great many colored men in my parish, and in Wilkinson County, because I have seen them and have spoken with them, have left their homes and families; have left their crops and everything they possessed in the world, for fear their lives would be taken; some of them have left without anything to eat; they have told me so themselves.

There are at least from 300 to 500 men who are refugees from East and West Felicianas, and East Baton Rouge. They have left their homes, left their families, everything they had in the world, because they were threatened by these regulators, and because they were known outspoken Republicans. At present there are a great many in the City of New-Orleans, and those who have not the means to stay there have taken refuge all along the river.

This is the actual condition of affairs in our section of the State. I cannot picture it to you, gentlemen; it is a matter of impossibility almost for any one to do so."

"Have you any knowledge as to the purpose of these regulators in the future politics of the State or in the elections?"

"From what I have heard, and it is very reliable authority—they speak it very boldly, all of them—it is to carry the elections in the country in the interests of the Democratic Party. They have never operated against a single Democrat; it has always been a Republican, white or colored."

This evidence was given at Jackson, Miss., on the 24th of June last, and, therefore, while it explains the vote in Louisiana, no one can pretend that it is produced to explain it away.

XIII.

This is only the swiftest glance at the nature of the testimony. Let the reader obtain the report and study the record as it stands.

Just one glimpse more—this time through the eyes of a colored man; and I shall have done my duty in indicating how the Mexican system of election was adopted in Louisiana, and why it is possible to make even a pretext that this Republican State was carried by the Democracy.

George Swayzie was sworn.

Q.—Do you know anything of these troubles which have taken place in West Feliciana? A.—I know they were going on there recently. I was at Bayou Sara at the time; I saw some colored men who had left there; they reported they had been living there, and times were very squally, and they were shooting down colored people wherever they could catch them in that country, where they had been any ways prominent.

Q.—You may state how many men you have seen armed riding around. A.—I have seen them repeatedly.

Q.—How many men? A.—Some ten or fifteen men; sometimes as many as seventy-five or a hundred.

Q.—How were they armed? A.—With these Winchester rifles, and shot-guns, and pistols, and sometimes a pair of revolvers.

Q.—What effect has this conduct on the part of the whites had upon the negroes; are they intimidated and driven away? A.—The principal men of the Republican Party have been driven away, and some of the laborers they were going to drive off, and all are intimidated as much as can be. The colored man knows very well, and is coming to understand, that the man who has ever held an office cannot stay there, and if they go and hear a speech, they are afraid when they go home; they will be abused for it.

Q.—Do you know anything else you wish to state in regard to the affairs in that country? A.—I know on the 1st day of May an armed body of seventy-five or a hundred men came in there when that police jury was assembled and made four of the members of the police jury resign. They said to them that this was a white man's Government, and they wanted the negroes to know it.

Q.—Were these members of the police jury white or black men? A.—Two white men and two colored men; the two colored men were property-holders; they were large property-holders for colored men, and one of the white men is a large property-holder—Hamilton.

Q.—Men of good character and reputation in their neighborhood? A.—Yes, Sir.

Q.—What reason did they assign? A.—They said it was a white man's Government, and they wanted to run it themselves; that Yankees and radical white men had run it long enough.

Q.—You may state if any Democrats that you know of have been interfered with by these Regulators. A.—No, sir; none whatever, that I know of. I do not know of any one of them ever being molested.

XIV.

No Democrat has ever denounced these outrages, but if the votes of East and West Feliciana are thrown out by the Returning Board, as I trust they shall be, what a howl of indignation we shall hear against the "crimes of Kellogg and the rascality of the Radicals."

J. R

THE PRESIDENT AND LOUISIANA.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The visit of Gen. Sherman to the President last evening was by invitation to dinner, the President's private note to Gen. Sherman expressly stating that he wished to see him on a matter having no reference to political or military subjects. Previously—about noon yesterday—the President telegraphed to Gen. Sheridan that he thought it would be advisable for him to go to New-Orleans, for which city he has already started.

Secretary Chandler says there is no foundation whatever for the report telegraphed from

Continued on Fifth Page.

THE FALL OF THE CURTAIN.

STRIPPING THE CENTENNIAL.

THE DAY AFTER THE FAIR—MACHINERY HALL—ITS CHANGED APPEARANCE—THE RESTAURANTS—MAIN BUILDING—ITS DREARINESS—THE CUSTOM-HOUSE TROUBLES—CHANCES OF A FUTURE EXHIBITION.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PHILADELPHIA, Saturday, Nov. 11, 1876.

When of nights, accompanied by a Police Sergeant, I have wandered through the avenues and aisles of Machinery Hall, and all was still, there never was any feeling of dreariness about it. The consciousness pervaded me that all the wheels, eccentrics, gears, and cranks would start into life next morning, and clatter, hum, rumble, and buzz, for the instruction or delectation of some millions of people. With a single turn of the winch, off would have slid the ponderous Corliss engine, and with it would have been born life and movement. To-day, though the sun was shining, all was still and dormant, for not a thing budged, save a puny hand-loom, where an industrious weaver was working away as if for dear life, and the clatter of the shuttle sounded pitiable and ridiculous. All is not quite dead, however, for now I hear the clear chant of my colored brethren, who, as they twist and turn and bring down with a whack the golden-leaved tobacco, start out in song. A right merry tune is it, and as far distant as possible from a requiem. They sing "Jubilee" with gusto and with exceeding spirit. Perhaps it is the first time for months that these darkies have heard their own voices, and possibly they admire their own performances. Not quite like a mausoleum is this huge structure. I see—I smell—that odious and odorous pop-corn. Some ten people are munching it still, a kind of funeral baked meat of the show. The man who crepitates the corn still watches its popping process while another balls it. I wonder how many millions of these sticky spheres the herd has eaten! I have heard of one distinguished Frenchman—I am not sure but that it was the Talleyrand gentleman—who, in a rapid résumé of American habits and customs, has written: "The American exists principally on pop-corn." As I wander down the main aisle, I see that the flooring has been pulled up, and that a broad-gauge railroad track is bare, and that further on two ponderous derricks lay supine, but all ready to be erected and to move heavy weights. I notice, too, that many a machine which shone but yesterday, its iron and steel burnished like a looking-glass, has its lustrous sides all smeared with grease and lime, having been inclosed with a white coat, like a marine engine, to protect it from rust. There are some men aloft, too, who are stripping the felt from the steam connections, while workmen below throw up ropes and chains to the beams above, and hang pulleys and falls and tackle on the cross-pieces. For the first day after the death of the show—for the Centennial expired at 4:30 yesterday—the work done is apparently but little. Possibly things had been running so long that it took time to stop them. Ah! there is a little crowd around something. I need not use my elbows, which have acquired an automatic way of digging for themselves without any volition on my part, for the concourse is insignificant. I am disappointed. It is only one of those glass-blowers. I wonder how toy-glass blowers live, and if ever they marry into scroll-saw workers' families? I fancy that the Exhibition must have been the millennium for which toy-glass blower and scroll-saw worker have been waiting for so many years. I pass near where Maillard and Whitman once were. There is no cloying vanilla perfume now which emanates from the plastic chocolate, and no pralines rattle in the copper pans, going round and round, like philanthropists, "doing good." Dead, quite dead, is that thriving village of Sewingmachine, with its pretty operators—for it was apparent to every one that the true rivalry between the great sewing-machine manufacturers was exerted solely as to the comeliness of their respective employes. It is positively melancholy there now. It is a Sahara of sewing-machines, without an oasis. The glass cases, so filled with dresses all beflounced and trimmed, have now a sepulchral look. There is still the very feeblest symptom of life, for there stand those two remarkable human beings, who have kept on muttering for the last six months something about a patent needle-threader, and who still mechanically and monotonously carry on their mysterious calling. I am glad to see a landmark, for the Krupp gun has not been removed. It still points hideously and ominously at the French section, though the lighter piece—a trifle of some twenty tons—has had in the most conceited way, as if it were a gentle odalisque, a thin veil of pink illusion thrown over it. There is no crowd, though it is just about the hour when to approach the Walter machine, in former days, in order to get a copy of THE NEW-YORK TIMES was to imperil one's sides and toes. Goodness! How provoking was a certain red-headed pressman, and how deliberately he used to hand out his papers, and how he never looked to the right or left of him to whom he was giving THE TIMES, but went on in the most indifferent, impartial, and callous way. That famous machine is at a stand-still now. I wander along until I get near the big entrance door. The sandwich pile of the refreshment stand is no longer pyramided. The attendant, who was so proud and supercilious, really is abject to-day, for he cries his bad food aloud. I scorn him and his disgusting wares, for, without a single exception, all the food given to the millions of unfortunate hungry ones, inside of the Centennial buildings proper and the Bureau of Public Comfort, was disgusting. I hear a band. There is music still. It was indeed a fair orchestra at times, and when the chimes, or the calliope, or the fog-horn did not interfere with its strains, its music was not unpleasant to listen to. Now the musicians play well enough, but there is the merest fringe of listeners surrounding it. I emerge into the space between Machinery and Main Halls. Ah, we are moving, and it is no small déménagement that is being undertaken. There rumbles along one of those English traction engines, with a train of broad-wheeled vans after it, all loaded with empty boxes. I see the cases are English, and I am told the English pictures are to be packed in them. There are carts, drays, and wagons innumerable moving around, and the express office is blocked with goods. I stop a moment at Col. Yates' office, and he tells me that though there is nobody at the show, up to 1 o'clock there were over 13,000 paying visitors. The Colonel looks melancholy, though his clerk is counting money all the time; in fact I never have been in this particular office without seeing great big thumping piles of bank bills on the table, in the act of being counted.

I am in the Main Building now. Japan has a board fence around her, and is once more hedged in from the outer world, as she was before Commodore Perry's time. China has been roped up, and so have been Norway and Sweden. You can duck under the ropes if you please, but most of the cases are covered up. Those gallant Swedish soldiers and officers of the time of Charles XII., who have stood out the show and Pultowa so well, are all now draped in dimity. The figures of the peasants are swathed up, too, and the opportunity to see whether that reverential old man, who has been reading his Bible for half a year, would ever turn over the leaf, is forever lost. The attendants have not, however, succeeded in entirely upholstering the Lap, who, in sledge, seems still inclined to shake the thong over his reindeer, and to hurry off in a snow flurry, and the nine the driver has been bargaining for ever since the 10th of May, is now offered to him for the last time, perhaps at a reduced price, in consequence of the closing of the show. Egypt has a barrier like the Nile, but Turkey is still open. Spain has a wooden Pyrenees around her. I pass through the Indian exhibit. All the queer honey-combed furniture and the Hindostanee gold smith's work has flown, even to the silver cocoa-nut tree, which was so much like poor old Tom Newcome's. Canada has packed her trunk and all her handsome cloth is in rolls, ready to be sent to the Australian show, for an antipodal exhibition is now the next thing in order. France has ropes around her too, and I saw workmen driving huge pickets into the ground, so I suppose she too will take naturally to barricades. I wander on, passing by Holland, where dikes are being constructed. I reach Mexico; I am just in time to see a lot of workmen, all armed with levers, take that huge silver pancake, as big round as a dinner table, and slide it off its support, and then turn the huge piece of noble metal on its back, like a Gallipagos turtle. At one thing I rejoice. There is no strumming of pianos, and I repeat with unction Oliver Wendell Holmes' lines:

> "And silence, like a poultice, comes
> To heal the blows of sound."

I see what once was the place occupied by the famous Boucheron diamonds. I rather miss the very handsome French woman who watched these silly baubles. Now even the glass of the vitrine is removed. I can put my hand inside—but the river of diamonds has trickled off some where else. There are some people about here, who are buying sham trinkets and meritricious pinch-beck jewelry, and I hear as I never heard before the oily tones of the garish French saleswomen, who cajole the purchasers—and be-madame all over the silly buyers. But little business is however doing anywhere. I go near the central music stand, and am thankful that that Mastodon, the Roosevelt organ bellows no more. Here all the jewelry and plated ware people have closed up. Tiffany is on the wing. Starr & Marcus have shut up shop, and the Meriden people were swathing up their goods in muslin bags.

I meet Signor Castellani, who tells me his collection is closed, that the English are on the eve of packing up, and that a good many of the rooms are shut in Memorial Hall. I wend my way toward the Department of Public Comfort, (funny misnomer!) I find it more like its name, cheerless. Ah! the West End Railroad is coming along. We are not yet quite dead and buried. The pretty little Swedish engine, Nybammar still puffs along with her three cars, but there are not twenty-five passengers in the train. I lounge into the Judges' Pavilion. Gen. Walker and Secretary Cheney, of the Bureau of Awards, look weary, as do the gangs of clerks. All hands are busy, though, but no one can tell when their work will be done. I lounge past the Turkish café. It is not the least Stamboulish. There is but one baggy-breeched waiter, and no pipes are being smoked. The woman with the bird's nest in her hair, who chewed mastic, still lolled back on her cushioned seat, and gazed with a vapid look at the empty tables. Ah! here is a little vivacity. M. Verdier, of the Trois Frères, velvet cap on his head, smiles to me. There are no people outside, but in the pavilion there is a merry crowd. I glance at the three dames de comptoir, those Parcæ, who settled the bills, and think they outnumber the mutton-chop whiskered waiters. There are some excellent breakfasts being eaten inside, and the French Commissioners are junketing and making bon-bonce. But alas! where is that Gallio Ganymede with the Gorgon hair, the former pourer out of coffee? He is gone, to be found again this Winter, I hope, pouring out coffee in the Palais Royale. The glory of the place has departed. Perhaps in years to come, when the park is restored to its pristine loveliness, sweet Spring flowers will bloom over the grave of the Trois Frères restaurant, and will exhale some faint odor of truffles.

"No, Sir; there aint any admittance, unless Capt. Rodgers says so. We have shet up, Sir." Such is the word given me as I flatten my nose against the glass door of the Government Building. Capt. Rodgers admits me into a building which is as still as the grave. The dummy soldiers that were always wanting to fall on their faces are the only occupants. There were no fly-gobblers to gulp them down at a mouthful. The sea-horse, all stuffed, glared fiercely at nothing in particular. I had not the heart to go into Agricultural Hall. I saw, however, people coming from the building, mostly women, all bearing wheat sheaves, and stalks of oats and barley, and of Indian corn. There was something poetically touching about this last garnering. Undoubtedly this grain will be carefully preserved to be planted and grown in the year 1976, by our grandchildren, when we are all dead and gone. I am somehow saddened. Of course, the end had to come; even a Centennial jubilation must have some closing time. But though it is so dreary and depressing, let us devoutly pray that many a happy remembrance of it will remain. Nations and individuals have shaken hands at the Centennial, have become acquainted, and parted with the kindest feelings. "All's well that ends well."

I do not think that the majority of the sight-seers were well pleased to-day. Undoubtedly most of the people came to take away their purchases. In this they were disappointed. Sales-people were not ready to deliver, and in such cases, where the goods were taken by purchasers, the Custom-house officials gave so much annoyance that almost all the goods had to be returned. In fact, now at the conclusion as at the commencement, want of good judgment on the part of the Custom-house officials has been the great and only drawback to the Exhibition.

As to the future of the show, as far as European exhibitors are concerned, they are almost, as a body, disinclined to a continuance either by public or private management. "Finis incinat." B. P.

THE LATE DISTURBANCES IN SWITZERLAND.

A correspondent of Galignani, writing from Geneva on the 28th ult., says: "Light has not yet been thrown on the events in Tessin; the only certain fact is that there is antagonism between the Council of State, which has a Radical majority, and the Grand Council, which is Ultramontane. The latter arrogates to itself plenary powers in elaborating a new constitutional law; the other body attempted to force its hand by a popular assembly in order to prevent the voting of the new enactment, and to decree, (in regulating motu proprio a new mode of election,) the convoking of a constituent body. Illegal measures were, therefore, adopted by both sides, and the fact is always thus in this inflammable canton. The eruption, therefore, broke out. Every one took to arms, Clericals and Radicals; the leaders fanned the flames, the journals sounded the trumpet, armed bands collected and became excited, and the Council of State formed others to maintain order—this was the approved term. Bands were pitted against each other, and insurrectionists against their fellows; a general conflagration was expected. Those who desired and fomented it announced the fact in all the journals by dispatches signed with their names. The Federal Council, solicited by the vanquished minority of the Council of State, was called on to interfere. It directed a Commissioner to go to the spot, and threatened to send troops. The former, M. Bavier, a man of good sense and authority, went to the canton and listened to every one without becoming bewildered by the din. He saw at a glance that every one had been in fault, but the Council of State more particularly, which ought to have set a better example. This body had committed two faults—the convoking of a Constituent Assembly and the arming of volunteers. It was requested to withdraw its decree and to arm the regular Militia. It took time to reflect, but ended by giving way. Very soon all was calm. Clericals and Radicals, who vociferated much more than any tendency to fight would have led one to suppose, hung their rifles on the racks, and the lava has already cooled down into scoriæ. There still remain a few flags, displayed here and there, and there are some excited individuals who still flourish their weapons, but they are only the decorations and actors in a pantomime. The latest news is reassuring, and there has consequently been more fear than mischief."

THE PRISONS OF PARIS.

From the Pall Mall Gazette.

Paris, it appears, has eight prisons and St. Denis one. Within the walls of the capital there is first of all the Depot, which on an average contains 400 men, 200 women, and forty children. There are only 190 cells, and so most of the prisoners are placed in common wards. Prisoners only remain in the Depot forty-eight hours. The Conciergerie contains a long gallery, the cell of Marie Antoinette, and the prison in which the Girondists passed their last hours scribbling on the walls and preparing to die. In addition to prisoners about to be tried, the Conciergerie contains persons condemned for misdemeanors, the two categories generally averaging about two hundred and fifty. The prison of Jeunes Détenus, which was constructed in 1836, is conducted on the cellular principle, and is destined, as the name indicates, for youthful offenders, many of whom are imprisoned on the demand of their parents. This prison can hold 500 youths, but it is seldom more than half occupied. Mazas is the largest prison in Paris: it stands on the site formerly occupied by La Force, a prison much in vogue in the days of Louis XIV. and Louis XV., and in which poor Sophie Arnould and other bright spirits were confined. Mazas covers a superficies of about forty thousand square yards, contains 1,200 cells, and is, in fact, the modern Bastile. Many politicians now living have been within its walls. In addition to the above there are La Santé, which is a house of correction capable of holding 1,000 prisoners; La Roquette, a very dismal abode, where criminals condemned to death and to hard labor are received, and which can contain 450 prisoners; St. Lazare, a prison which dates from the fourteenth century, and which, after being a convent and then a leper-house, is now a place of confinement for women of bad character. A good description of this place, which is about to be demolished, is to be found in Abbé Provost's celebrated book, called Manon Lescaut. St. Lazare can hold as many as 1,500 inmates. There is also St. Pelagie, a tumble-down building in the neighborhood of the Jardin des Plantes, well known to gentlemen of the fourth estate, for it is reserved for persons guilty of press offenses, for relapsarians, vagabonds, and beggars. It makes up 810 beds. It must be added that journalists have little to complain of at St. Pelagie, where they are allowed rooms apart from the other guests, and are treated with great leniency. In the way of Bastiles, the forts around Paris, especially Mont Valérien, have sometimes been used as State prisons.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

THE PARDON OF WILLIAM O. AVERY SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT—APPOINTMENTS—FASTENINGS FOR BONDED CARS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The President to-day signed a pardon for William O. Avery, now confined in the Penitentiary at Jefferson City, Mo., for complicity in the whisky frauds. The friends of Mr. William McKee express absolute confidence that he will be pardoned within a day or two.

The President has appointed Barbour Louis, of Tennessee, to be Register of the Land Office at Salt Lake City, Utah, and Moses M. Bane, of Utah, to be Receiver of Public Moneys at Salt Lake City.

Many complaints having been received at the Treasury Department concerning the present system of fastening railway cars used in transporting domestic merchandise through Canada, and bonded merchandise from one port to another in the United States, Secretary Morrill, on the 13th ult., appointed a committee to examine and report whether the public interests require the adoption of some other method of fastening cars than that now in use. This committee will meet at the Treasury Department on Thursday the 23d inst., when opportunity will be given to all persons interested to be heard upon the subject.

The balances in the United States Treasury at the close of business to-day were: Currency, $12,931,088; special deposits of legal tenders for the redemption of certificates of deposit, $42,485,000; coin, $75,158,860, including $33,786,200 in coin certificates; outstanding legal tenders, $367,535,716. The receipts from Internal Revenue to-day were $604,672 19, and from Customs, $344,434 63.

The Joint Commission appointed to frame a bill for the organization of the Army met at the War Department to-day, but all the members not being present, the commission adjourned until next Thursday.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Lieut. Commander Nicoll Ludlaw is ordered to temporary duty for instruction in torpedo service at Newport, R. I. Lieut. Commander Louis Clark is ordered to temporary duty in continuance in torpedo instruction at Newport, R. I. Lieut. E. W. Greenleaf has reported his return home, having been detached from the Monocacy, Asiatic Station, on the 6th of September last, and has been placed on waiting orders.

The Navy Department has been informed that the Pensacola, flag-ship of Rear Admiral Murray, was at Acapulco Oct. 25, having arrived Oct. 21, and expected to sail on the arrival of the mail steamer, and reach Panama about the 15th of November. The Omaha was at Ancon, Peru, Oct. 21, on the way to Callao.

ROMAN CATHOLIC RULE.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Permit a tax-payer and a Republican to protest through the columns of your valuable paper against an outrage such as was committed by the Board of Aldermen in passing the resolution, over the Mayor's sensible veto, to introduce water in the cathedral on Fifth avenue at the expense of the City. Such an act is an insult to American citizens, at least to the big majority of them, and a stain on the Government of the Metropolis of this country. CHARLES G. P.

MONDAY, Nov. 13, 1876.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Can nothing be done to prevent the Board of Aldermen of this City from carrying out their sectarian design in passing a resolutions, over the Mayor's veto, exempting St. Patrick's Cathedral from paying taxes on their sewer connections? It is not strange that such things should occur, when we look about us and find every office of any power filled by a member of the Church of Rome, who does not scruple to resort to any means, fair or foul, to further his designs. But citizens should see that such things do not occur, and that the law be invoked in their behalf. Why Protestant and not Catholic churches should pay certain taxes is a question rather difficult to solve. SUBSCRIBER.

NEW YORK, Saturday, Nov. 11, 1876.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Suppose a clergyman of any Protestant denomination should, from his pulpit, command the congregation to vote as he might dictate. What would be the result? It were better for that man that a mill-stone were hanged to his neck, and he dropped in mid-ocean. And just this thing was done on Sunday morning last at mass at the Roman Catholic church in Fifty-ninth street. Every man in the audience was commanded by the officiating priest to vote for Tilden and Hendricks. Every woman and child was commanded to say prayers for their election.

In the Twenty-first District of Brooklyn two priests worked at the polls until late in the day, ordering their parishioners to vote for Tilden and Hendricks, and Boss McLaughlin, through whom, if elected, they could get their rights, whatever that may mean. With the Kellys, the Crokers, and the Morrisseys in possession of New-York, it may have a meaning of much significance. AN AMERICAN.

NEW-YORK, Saturday, Nov. 11, 1876.

THE WESTERN WHISKY RING.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 13.—Final disposition was made to-day in the United States District Court of all cases standing against those persons who gave evidence against the Whisky Ring. Col. Dyer, ex-District Attorney, appeared before the court and stated that while he never promised to nolle prosequi the cases, he had intended to do so with the consent of the court, and would take all the responsibility for such action. District Attorney Bliss making no objection Judge Treat ordered the discharge of the parties, as follows: John McFall, three cases; B. H. Engelke, one case; A. M. Everest, one case; Con. Megrue, one case; S. D. Thorpe, two cases; F. H. Schroeder and Zeb. Leavenworth, one case. In the case of John D. Torlina, who had furnished money to run Teneschar's distillery, and Fred. C. Federer, connected with the Binghams, fines of $1,000 and one day's imprisonment were imposed. The case of Joseph M. Fitzroy was dismissed several days ago.

A FRENCH SOLDIER'S PUNISHMENT.

Desertion, though far from being an uncommon offense in the French Army, does not yet seem to have attained to the dignity of a regular profession among our neighbors. The French military code is sternly carried out. Thus the career of a man named Joseph Boulanger has just been summarily cut short by a court-martial for offenses which in England would have been visited with comparatively gentle reproofs. Boulanger enlisted on the 15th of January, 1875, in the First Regiment of Infantry, and deserted on the 6th of May following. In no long time, however, he was caught and sentenced to four years' imprisonment, instead of the four months usually meted out to a deserter from the British Army. Nor is a French military prison by any means a pleasant residence for loungers of the criminal class. The work is hard, the fare more than plain, and the discipline strict—a convict may say cruel. During the few months of his sojourn in the Penitentiary, Boulanger had spent fifty-three days in the black-hole—a species of confinement which seems to have ultimately rendered him somewhat irritable. He tore his cloak to pieces one night, and was put in irons as a punishment. He was then rash enough to strike one Sergeant Hotot a blow in the face with his fist. For this last offense Boulanger has been condemned to death.

ARRIVALS AT THE HOTELS.

Senator John P. Jones, of Nevada, is at the St. James Hotel.

Hon. E. B. Morgan, of Aurora, N. Y., is at the St. Nicholas Hotel.

Hon. Theodore M. Pomeroy and Elmore P. Ross, of Auburn, N. Y., and ex-Gov. Thomas Talbot, of Massachusetts, are at the Windsor Hotel.

State Senator James W. Newman, of Ohio; Assemblyman George West, of Ballston, N. Y., and Col. J. G. Craddock, of Kentucky, are at the Grand Central Hotel.

Thomas Dickson, President of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company, and M. L. Hopkins, General Manager of the Toledo, Peoria and Wabash Railway, are at the Gilsey House.

E. F. Cabada, Mexican Consul at Philadelphia; Isidoro F. Cabada, of the Mexican Centennial Commission, and Gen. Judson Kilpatrick, of New-Jersey, are at the Metropolitan Hotel.

William Rigby, James G. Pollock, and Mr. Greenhill, of the Irish Rifle Team; Adjutant Gen. James A. Cunningham, of Massachusetts; Mahlon Chance, United States Consul at Nassau, and John G. Priest, of St. Louis, are at the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

LAW REPORTS.

MOULTON'S SUIT AGAINST BEECHER.

THE VENUE HAVING BEEN CHANGED TO DELAWARE COUNTY, THE PLAINTIFF DISCONTINUES HIS ACTION—JUDGE WESTBROOK'S DECISION.

Francis D. Moulton discontinued his suit against Mr. Beecher yesterday by motion before Judge Gilbert in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn. In regard to the reasons for this course of action, Mr. Moulton said yesterday that he could not afford to have the case tried in Delaware County to which it had been removed by Judge Westbrook's decision. Mr. Moulton said he had not the means to fight the case against Plymouth Church. He said further, in explanation of his course:

"Judge Westbrook has decided that the case shall be tried in the remote County of Delaware. Mr. Beecher may have the means and the time to try the case there. I have not, for I am one man against a great many. I am not poor, but neither am I as wealthy as Plymouth Church. I am a business man, and I have re-entered business. This trial in a place so remote would involve, perhaps, the abandonment of my present business. I cannot afford to make these sacrifices. I would gladly have tried the case in Brooklyn, because there would be no such expense attending it, as there must necessarily be in Delaware County, where I would have to go myself and take all my witnesses and remain there for weeks, or perhaps months together. In this whole matter I have been trying to vindicate myself and my family rather than attempting to pull down Mr. Beecher. This might be an incident of it, but it was never my main purpose. I think he attacked me, and I sought to defend myself. I am not a blackmailer and I am not a false friend. I am accused of being both. What was left for me to do except to fight back?"

The action thus discontinued was begun on Dec. 27, 1875, by Mr. Moulton to recover $50,000 for malicious prosecution, he alleging that Mr. Beecher had falsely and maliciously procured his indictment for libel by the Grand Jury of the Court of Sessions in Brooklyn. The cause of action grew out of the publication by Mr. Moulton of the "statements" imputing adultery to Mr. Beecher. The termination of the suit is somewhat noteworthy, as being the end of the litigation growing out of the Tilden-Beecher controversy, which began over two years ago with the publication of the statements against Mr. Beecher. The work of Mr. Beecher's committees and the proceedings on the trial before Chief Justice Neilson, in the City Court of Brooklyn, are too recent and produced too powerful an impression on the public mind to need repetition here. In the suit of Mr. Moulton against Mr. Beecher the latter sought to remove the trial of the cause from this City and Brooklyn, Mr. Moulton all the while protesting that his means and his business would not permit him to go on in case of such removal. As it is, the entire controversy in regard to the guilt or innocence of Mr. Beecher, which has tormented the public mind for so long a time, may be considered now as at an end. The parties, too, are separated, both socially and as far as locality is concerned. Mr. Tilton occupies his old residence in Livingston street, Brooklyn, and Mrs. Tilton is residing with her mother, Mrs. Morse, in the same city. Their children were divided between them. Mr. and Mrs. Moulton have removed to this City.

The opinion of Judge Westbrook, giving his reasons for deciding to change the place of trial of the Moulton-Beecher suit was made public yesterday. After a discussion of the facts of the case, Judge Westbrook comes to the conclusion that the motion must be regarded as having been made in Kings County, and that the latter county is not a proper place to try the action. The Court then continues: "In fixing a place of trial for this cause in some locality other than the county of Kings, one manifest objection to New-York exists in the fact that its courts are now burdened to an extent which makes the trial of this, if not impossible, at least unjust and unfair to other litigants; while this cause would be dragging its weary way for an indefinite period, interests involving millions would remain undisposed of. Issues actually arising in the great commercial Metropolis, and which must be tried in its courts—vital, too, to parties—would tarry and wait for months, while one not arising therein and properly triable elsewhere, was occupying the attention of its courts. This ought not to occur, and justice to others, if not to these parties themselves who could only reach this cause in a very long period of time, must prevent the selection of New-York as the place of trial. Apart, however, from the reason just given, every argument against the county of Kings applies to New-York. It is there where the great daily papers which so largely give tone and color to public sentiment are printed and published. The trial of this cause at that great centre, more even than in Brooklyn, would draw and attract public attention, and surround it with influences antagonistic to calm inquiry and judicial investigation. Here too are the very papers, which the plaintiff chose as his spokesmen to the public. Its population is the very population which he addressed, whose opinions he sought to form, and whose sentiment he sought to direct. Separated only by a river, with the residents of one very largely the business men of the other, with interests and business and social ties very closely intertwined, New-York and Brooklyn make substantially a single community, and every argument against the one as the place of trial of this action applies with equal force to the other, and hence the former cannot be chosen for the trial of this action. In selecting the locality in which this action is to be tried, it may cause inconvenience to witnesses to go into one of the rural counties, but I am also satisfied that very many who would be examined, were such trial either in New-York or Brooklyn, can, without injury to the merits of the cause, be safely left at home. To every lawyer the fact is obvious that trials are oftentimes uselessly protracted by the examination of witnesses whose evidence, which the court cannot legally exclude, weighs not a feather in the scales of justice. In a country circuit, with the trial stripped of unnecessary witnesses, this cause could be readily disposed of in a few weeks, and thus great expense saved. It could be tried, too, before a jury intelligent and impartial, who during such trial would not be subjected to the influences which would localize around one conducted upon the spot and scene of the transactions, and which influences exist amid that teeming population, continually stimulated by the appeals of partisans and of the daily newspapers, as they do nowhere else. There is no occasion, however, to subject parties and witnesses to useless inconvenience and expense by compelling them to attend at any extremity of the State. The New-York daily papers circulate in Franklin County as well as in those more contiguous to the City. From my knowledge of the State I incline to the opinion that the County of Delaware will afford as fair and impartial a trial as any other. That county is therefore fixed as the place of trial, subject, however, to the designation of some other upon proof of any fact now unknown to me which renders the selection of some other more desirable."

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER.

John Taeffe, a teamster, thirty-two years of age, was placed on trial for murder in the first degree before Recorder Hackett yesterday, in Part I. of the Court of General Sessions. The history of the tragedy is briefly as follows: Taeffe and his wife occupied a room in the residence of John Farrell, of No. 519 West Twenty-eighth street, a wealthy contractor, in whose employ he had been for a considerable time. In consequence, as alleged, of negligence on the part of Taeffe, he was discharged by Mr. Farrell, and this fact appears to have filled him with anger toward his former employer. On Sunday morning, April 16, last, Taeffe quarreled with John and Thomas Farrell, sons of his employer, and, as the latter was passing down stairs, called him infamous names, and threatened "to sweep the hall with him." A scuffle ensued, in which Farrell had the advantage of Taeffe, and pushed him into his room. Farrell then turned to go down stairs, and as he was on the first or second step, Taeffe rushed out of his room armed with a pistol, which he fired at Farrell, shooting him in the back, and inflicting a wound from which the injured man died in an hour. Taeffe then returned to his room and locked the door, but was subsequently arrested and lodged in the Tombs. The deceased was a man of excellent character, who had earned an independence by patient industry, and, as alleged, had shown the prisoner many favors. The case for the prosecution is conducted by Assistant District Attorney Bell, and the prisoner is defended by Richard Busteed, with whom is associated District Attorney Downing, of Queens County, Long Island. A jury had not been obtained when the court rose.

THE BOARDS OF HEALTH AND POLICE.

The rather ancient warfare between the Board of Health and the Police Department came up again before Judge Speir, in the Superior Court, Special Term, yesterday, on a demurrer interposed by the Police Department. The action, as will be remembered, is brought for the purpose of restraining the Police from ejecting the Health Board officers from the Police Head-quarters Building in Mott street. A motion for a temporary injunction was denied at the Special Term of the Superior Court, and this decision was afterward affirmed by the General Term. The Police Department then interposed their demurrer on various technical grounds, such as defect of parties, &c.

FIVE YEARS IN STATE PRISON.

On the night of the 3d September, it will be remembered, Patrick Hayde, a brakeman on the Hudson River Railroad, was set upon by a gang of youthful ruffians who are accustomed to hang around the depot at Laight and Hudson streets, one of whom, John McGuire, struck him on the head with an iron coupling-pin, inflicting injuries which resulted in death. McGuire was tried last month for the murder of Hayde, and being convicted of murder in the second degree, was sentenced to State Prison for life. At the time of the attack on Hayde, John Campbell, of No. 443 West Twenty-sixth street, who went to the assistance of the deceased, was set upon by John Moore, aged nineteen, of No. 474 Greenwich street, one of the gang, who followed him and stabbed him twice, inflicting serious injuries. In Part II. of the Court of General Sessions yesterday, when Assistant District Attorney Rollins called the case of Moore for trial, the prisoner pleaded guilty to assault with a dangerous weapon. Judge Sutherland administered Moore a well-merited rebuke, and sentenced him to five years in State Prison at hard labor.

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

DECISIONS RENDERED YESTERDAY—SELLING LIQUOR IN THE INDIAN COUNTRY—NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—In the Supreme Court of the United States to-day the following decisions were rendered:—

No. 61.—United States vs. Leveriere and Grant.—Error to the Circuit Court for Minnesota.—The defendants in error in this case were indicted for selling liquor in the Indian country. As it appeared that the territory where the offense was committed was a portion of the State of Minnesota, the Court below sustained a demurrer to the indictment, holding that the effect of the admission of Minnesota into the Union was to withdraw this territory from the Indian country. It is here said that as the prohibition was extended to the lands when ceded by the Indians to the United States, the provisions of the treaty still apply to them. The fact that the ceded territory is within the limits of Minnesota is a mere incident and not the foundation of the prohibition. The act of Congress, imported into the treaty, applies alike to all Indian tribes occupying a particular country, whether within or without the State lines, and, as it is based exclusively on the Federal authority over the subject matter, there is no disturbance of the principle of State equality. The power to make treaties with the Indian tribes, it is said, is co-extensive with the power to make treaties with foreign nations. Reversed, with directions to try the indictment. Mr. Justice Davis delivered the opinion.

No. 82.—Lovejoy vs. Spofford and Devitt.—Error to the Circuit Court for Minnesota.—In this case it is held that to discharge a member of a firm from the claim of one who has had no dealing with it prior to its dissolution, but who knew of its existence, and who were its members, it is not necessary that either actual notice or public notice in a newspaper be shown, but only that the notice of dissolution was so generally communicated to the business men of the vicinity as to be likely to come to the knowledge of all, and a judgment, based on a refusal to charge the jury that if such notice was given the jury were at liberty to infer knowledge, is reversed. Mr. Justice Hunt delivered the opinion.

No. 53.—O'Hara and Wife vs. MacConnell, Assignee in Bankruptcy.—Error to the Circuit Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania. In this case the Court reversed the decree below, holding that it was the duty of the Court, when the bill on its face showed that the party whose interest was the principal one to be affected by the decree was both a minor and a femme couvert, and that no one appeared for her in any manner to protect her interest, to have appointed a guardian ad litem for that purpose. If neither her husband nor he who is styled her guardian in the bill appeared to defend her interest, it was the more imperative that the Court should have appointed some one to do so; also, that if Mrs. O'Hara had been under no disabilities, it was error to have taken the bill for confessed, for want of appearance on the return day of the writ. Mr. Justice Miller delivered the opinion.

No. 43.—Sherman vs. Bruik.—Error to the Supreme Court of California.—In this case the court reversed a judgment below sustaining the claim of the defendant to land in California under a patent from the State, and upholds a patent from the United States to the plaintiff for such lands, holding that the State patent was issued without authority, as the grant from the United States to the State proved that when the grant covered lands which had been taken up by private parties the State should select other lands in lieu thereof, and finding that the plaintiff had settled upon the lands and ever since remained in possession. Mr. Justice Miller delivered the opinion. Mr. Justice Field did not sit in this cause, and took no part in its decision.

No. 48.—Claflin vs. Houseman, Assignee in Bankruptcy.—Error to the Supreme Court of New-York.—In this case the court affirm a judgment recovered against the plaintiff in error by the Assignee in bankruptcy in the State Court for the amount of a judgment obtained by him against bankrupts four months prior to the commencement of proceedings in bankruptcy, holding that an Assignee in bankruptcy, under the act of 1867, as it stood before the revision, had authority to bring suit in the State courts wherever these courts are invested with appropriate jurisdiction suited to the nature of the case. Mr. Justice Bradley delivered the opinion.

No. 297.—Charles Kerrison, Assignee, &c., appellant, vs. A. T. Stewart & Co.—Appeal from the District Court of South Carolina.—Mr. Chief Justice Waite delivered the opinion of the court, affirming the decree of the said Circuit Court in this cause, with costs.

No. 233, (of 1875.)—The Selma and Meridian Railroad Company et al., appellants, vs. The Louisiana National Bank of New-Orleans et al.—The motion to rescind the order docketing and dismissing this cause, and for leave to docket the same, was argued by P. Phillips in support of the same, and by T. J. Durant in opposition thereto.

No. 77, (of 1876.)—Thomas A. Osborne, plaintiff in error, vs. The United States.—The motion for an order directing the Clerk to issue a mandate in this cause was argued by E. S. Brown in support of the same, and by Assistant Attorney General Smith in opposition thereto.

No. 87.—Charles W. Horner, plaintiff in error, vs. George O. Henning et al.—The argument of this cause was commenced by F. P. Cuppy, of counsel for plaintiff in error.

On motion of Mr. W. D. Davidge, S. Edwin Day, of Moravia, N. Y., and Hugh W. Sheffey, of Staunton, Va., were admitted to practice as attorneys and counselors of this court. On motion of T. J. Durant, James L. Bradford, of New-Orleans, La., was admitted to practice as an attorney and counselor of this court. On motion of George W. Biddle, Henry Green, of Easton, Penn., was admitted to practice as an attorney and counselor of this court. The court then adjourned.

SUIT FOR A LIMITED DIVORCE.

Judge Speir, in the Superior Court, Special Term, yesterday, denied a motion for an order of arrest against Alexander Evans, in a suit instituted against him by his wife Jennie. The action is brought for a limited divorce on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment. The parties were married in this City on Sept. 3, 1874. They have one daughter now about nine months old. The plaintiff alleges a great many specific acts of cruel conduct on the part of her husband. She also says he failed to support her. She alleges that in June, 1875, she being pregnant at the time, her husband pushed her against a door so violently as to break the door from its hinges, thereby seriously imperiling her life and that of her unborn child. He declared at the time that he would not live with her if she bore children, and if she did not take drugs to produce an abortion. At another time, according to her statement, he seized her by the neck and nearly throttled her, rendering her insensible and temporarily blind. On another occasion, while she was pregnant, he threw a glass of wine in her face, which frightened her exceedingly, so much so as to produce a mark on the child when it was born. In the Summer of 1875 he threatened that he would kill her within three months. She, to support herself, carried on a liquor business, but her husband came in to her place of business and began destroying bottles, glasses, &c.

REAR ADMIRAL STOAT'S ESTATE.

The suit of Abby Stoat, the widow of Rear Admiral Stoat, and William S. Stoat, as Executrix and Executor respectively of the deceased Rear Admiral, against John McKeon, was brought up before Judge Lawrence, in Supreme Court, Chambers, yesterday, on a motion to strike out the defendant's answer. It appeared that Rear Admiral Stoat died in 1857. The present action was then instituted to recover a certificate for fifty-four shares of the stock of the New-York Gas-light Company. This certificate, as alleged in the complaint, was given to McKeon for inspection, but the latter refused to turn it over to the Executrix and Executor of the deceased's estate. Mr. McKeon claims that he is authorized to retain it by the residuary legatees of the deceased. Judge Lawrence reserved his decision on the motion to strike out Mr. McKeon's answer.

THE USE OF DANGEROUS WEAPONS.

Frank Fay, an Italian rag-picker, of No. 37 Mulberry street, stabbed a woman named Margaret Begian, of No. 23 Bayard street, in the shoulder, on the 7th of October, inflicting a number of ugly wounds. In Part I., of the Court of General Sessions, yesterday, the prisoner pleaded guilty and Recorder Hackett sentenced him to five years in State Prison. In Part II., Assistant District Attorney Rollins took a plea of guilty from John O'Donnell, a stone-cutter of Fourth avenue and Ninetieth street, who, on the 18th of October, drew a sword on Officer Robert J. Cromie, of the Twenty-Third Precinct, cutting him on the right hand. Judge Sutherland sentenced the quarrelsome swordsman to four years in State Prison, at hard labor.

DECISIONS.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

By Judge Barrett.

The Central National Bank vs. The Rickland National Bank.—Opinion.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society vs. Brown.—Findings and decree signed.

Hainickle vs. Parker.—The testimony shows that neither Mr. Green nor the Controller is indebted to the defendant. The City of New-York is indebted to him. No order can be made requiring the Controller to pay over. It is not necessary to pass upon any other question. Motion denied, without prejudice to a creditor's bill or to a motion for a Receiver.

The Amoskeag Manufacturing Company vs. Garner.—Findings of fact and conclusions of law settled. Requests to find passed upon. I wish it understood that in declining to find as requested, I do not mean to say that the evidence does not repeatedly justify findings which have been declined. The refusal is frequently based upon my judgment as to the irrelevancy of the request, or upon its being a request to find evidence rather than facts.

By Judge Lawrence.

Granted.—Gillilan vs. Voorhis, Jr., Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5; Hornley vs. Phillips; Earle vs. Mills; Grigg vs. Lawrence; Baldwin vs. Jewett; The Standard Sugar Refinery vs. Dayton; Faber vs. Perkins; Page vs. Page; Avery vs. Conner, &c.; The Germania Fire Insurance Company vs. Knoblock, and The Manhattan Life Insurance Company vs. Harway, Nos. 1 and 2.

Orders Granted.—Hazell vs. Marks; McIntosh vs. Smith, and Mattlege vs. Sloan.

The Board of the Church Extension Fund of the Presbyterian Church vs. Pike et al.—Memorandum.

Vernon vs. Richardson.—Motion granted.

Explanations Required.—Kohn vs. Levy, and The Five Points House of Industry vs. Amerman.

Barnes vs. Story.—Does this show the defendant is a non-resident?

Robbing vs. Duncan.—The taxation of the Clerk is affirmed, without costs.

Ott vs. Diehl.—I wish to see counsel in regard to this application.

McVey vs. Cantrell.—Taxation affirmed. Memorandum.

McKinley vs. Coler.—The defendant will be allowed to come on terms. See memorandum for counsel.

Stevens vs. McDonnell.—Motion to place cause on Special Circuit calendar for Friday, Nov. 24, 1876, granted.

Matter of Barnes, &c.—I adhere to the opinion expressed in the memorandum heretofore filed, and I do not find any case which supports the view of the prisoners' counsel. Let an order be entered that the prisoners be brought into court on Wednesday, Nov. 15, 1876, at 10:30 o'clock A. M., and let notice be given to Mr. Blackwell of such order.

Matter of Hamilton.—This order appears to be correct save in the provision that the power of attorney shall not be filed. The order should be amended in that particular.

Roome vs. The Mayor, &c.—Motion denied, no costs. See memorandum.

Perkins vs. The Mobile and Ohio Railroad Company.—The taxation of Clerk sustained. Memorandum.

Vanderhoef vs. Baldwin.—Motion denied, without costs. Memorandum.

Sommerville vs. Berggoist.—Motion to confirm report denied. Memorandum.

Matter of Hoff, Jr.—Prisoner discharged. Memorandum.

Babbitt vs. Lewis.—I will hear counsel further if desired, but with my present understanding of the case, I am not inclined to grant the application. Memorandum.

Fowler vs. Trenor et al.—Motion denied, without costs. Memorandum.

Sheridan vs. Hopkins.—Memorandum.

Gudenoge vs. Young.—The bond seems to be in the usual form, and the case in 5 Hill, as I understand it, does not hold that such bond is irregular. The plaintiff is entitled to a denial of motion, without costs.

Hoff vs. Pentz.—I am inclined to entertain an application for an examination. Memorandum.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

By Judge Van Vorst.

Heyman vs. Beringer et al.—Further findings of fact signed.

Bruns, Jr., vs. Boehm et al.—Findings on judgment for plaintiff signed.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

By Chief Justice Curtis.

Reynolds vs. Crump et al.—Motion that defendants satisfy a part of plaintiff's claim denied, with costs of motion to defendants to abide event of suit.

Postley vs. Dickel.—Motion denied, with $10 costs.

By Judge Speir.

King et al. vs. Buckmaster.—Motion denied, without costs to either party.

Keiley, &c., vs. Dusenbury.—Motion denied, without costs.

Holdeman Paper Company vs. Glines.—Order removing cause to United States Circuit Court.

Gloggner vs. Berlin.—Order of reference set aside and cause restored to Trial Term calendar.

Sanford vs. Sanford.—Reference ordered to Hon. John M. Barbour.

Wilder vs. De La Vergne.—Findings settled and signed.

Keep vs. McReynolds et al.—Demurrer sustained. See memorandum.

References Ordered.—Agnew vs. Keith, (No. 1;) Same vs. Same.

Evans vs. Evans.—The papers submitted do not authorize the court to grant an order for the arrest of the defendant.

The Health Department vs. Smith et al.—Demurrer overruled, with costs, with the usual leave to answer.

Heyenbein vs. Halts et al.—Findings settled.

Kelly vs. De La Vergne.—Findings settled and signed.

COMMON PLEAS—SPECIAL TERM.

By Judge Van Brunt.

Fox vs. Fox.—The demurrer must be sustained. The statute expressly declares that the court may declare void the marriage contract when the former husband or wife of one of the parties was living at the time of the marriage, and the marriage with such former husband or wife was there in force.

White vs. Winford.—The proposed stipulation must be reduced to writing and submitted.

Freedman vs. Golland.—Motion denied, with $10 costs.

Lauterbach vs. Tabele.—Motion granted; $10 costs of motion to respondent to abide event of appeal.

Meader vs. Smyth.—Motion granted, without costs; see memorandum.

Dreyfus vs. Philps.—Motion granted; bill of particulars to be furnished in thirty days; $10 costs of motion to abide event.

Motions Denied.—The German Bank vs. Patterson; Rinaldo vs. Baker.

Seymour vs. O'Connor.—Motion to consolidate must be made in Supreme Court.

Brueckel vs. Brueckel.—Injunction modified. See memorandum.

Belleshein vs. Riss.—Motion granted unless defendant stipulates to try on 1st Monday of December.

Davis vs. Davis.—Motion having already been made to settle issues in this case, and an order made referring it to Philo T. Ruggles, this motion must be denied.

Daly vs. Bonner.—Motion denied, without costs.

Werder vs. Rosenthal.—Orders vacated, without costs. See memorandum.

Solomon vs. Fanenholz.—Motion granted, with costs.

McGrane vs. Rattey.—See memorandum on findings.

Bischoff vs. Schupp.—Disbursements and five per cent. upon amount received will be allowed Receiver; balance should be paid to judgment creditors.

Johst. vs Johst.—Divorce granted plaintiff.

COMMON PLEAS—EQUITY TERM.

By Judge Van Brunt.

Guntzer vs. Leaycroft.—Judgment for plaintiff for $4,624 13 and interest.

Moncrief vs. Smaller.—Findings signed.

The Eleventh Ward Bank vs. Koehler.—See opinion.

Baier vs. Hauschildt.—Decree signed.

Lowden vs. Morgan.—Motion granted, with $10 costs, unless plaintiff put cause on calendar and pay $10 costs of the motion within five days.

COMMON PLEAS—GENERAL TERM.

By C. P. Daly, C. J., J. F. Daly and Van Hoesen, JJ.

Rosenfield, Jr., vs. Muller et al.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. Opinion per curiam.

Zimmerman vs. Schappert.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements. Opinion per curiam.

Leonhardt vs. Beck.—Judgment reversed. Opinion per curiam.

Judgment Discharged on Terms.—The People vs. Kuranzin and Spero; The People vs. Marksville et al. See opinion per curiam.

MARINE COURT—CHAMBERS.

By Justice McAdam.

Opinions Filed.—Leslie vs. Hitchcock; Adelsberger vs. Crow; Rice vs. Mallahan; Demzak vs. Church of St. Teresa.

Law vs. Cahill.—Judgment for plaintiff, $700.

Walsh vs. Mooney.—Judgment for plaintiff, $500.

Motions Granted.—Grube vs. Barnes; Rosenlarg vs. Campbell.

Osborn vs. Middleton.—Receiver appointed.

Stausen vs. Martin.—The service of the summons by the plaintiff is an irregularity, for which the service will be set aside.

Herdman vs. Craig.—Complaint dismissed.

Curth vs. Smith.—Motion granted continuing action against the defendant's personal representatives.

Wilson vs. Maltby.—Commission ordered.

Koplick vs. Fleischer.—Arrest vacated.

Michaelis vs. Fellows.—Attachment ordered.

Welsh vs. Schuyler.—Motion granted continuing action in name of plaintiff's legal representatives.

Young vs. Sherman.—Default opened.

Redlich vs. Barth.—Motion granted.

Hemlein vs. Gebhard.—Order of arrest vacated.

Veterinary College vs. Dickie.—Default opened.

Pixley vs. Skinner.—Motion denied without costs.

Whitney vs. Gleason.—Defendant fined $20 for contempt, the fine to be paid on or before the 15th inst., and defendant to submit to an examination on the 16th inst.

Wright vs. O'Donnell.—Attachment for contempt to issue unless defendant appears and submits to an examination on the 16th inst. at 10 A. M.

Wehle vs. Rosenbaum.—Defendant discharged from arrest.

Osborn vs. Middleton.—James McNulty, Esq., appointed Receiver.

Orders Granted.—Hagen vs. Stevens; Leforte vs. Stein; Curth vs. Smith; Lyons vs. Feschland; Winter vs. Doe; Saulne vs. Magrath; Crane vs. Bauch; McGee vs. Cole; Keugh vs. McKeon; Wagener vs. Osborn; Duerholz vs. Hargeous; Neville vs. Hargeous; South Brooklyn Saw-mill Company vs. Brady.

Phœnix Insurance Company vs. Church.—Commissions granted. Two cases.

By Judge Goepp.

Wightman vs Dunham.—Motion denied. Opinion.

By Judge Shea.

Crosby vs. McDermott.—Motion granted so far as to allow cause to be tried; $10 costs to abide event.

Clark vs. Graber.—Motion for new trial denied.

MARINE COURT—GENERAL TERM.

By Judge Shea.

Bruce vs. Carter.—Opinion of the court, by Judge McAdam, filed.

COURT OF APPEALS.

ALBANY, Nov. 13.—The following business was transacted in the Court of Appeals to-day: No. 1—The People vs. Christopher; stricken from the Calendar, the defendant being dead. No. 2—Myers vs. The People; dismissed. No. 3—The People vs. Pratt; passed. Nos. 4, 5, and 6—Lawrence vs. Lindsay; postponed to the 29th inst. No. 7—The Sisters of Charity vs. Kelley; affirmed by default on motion of James A. Deering for respondent. No. 8—Embury vs. Sheldon; postponed to Dec. 5.

The following is the Day Calendar for Tuesday, Nov. 14: Nos. 10, 14, 15, 17, 20, 21, 23, and 26.

COURT NOTES.

The $7,000,000 suit against Sweeny, and the $1,000,000 suit against Tweed, the trial of one of which was to have been had before Judge Westbrook yesterday, were adjourned to the first Tuesday in January, on motion of Mr. Peckham, who said he was unable to go on with the case, owing to his recent illness.

Richard Williams, an expressman, of No. 810 Mott street, who swindled George Whyte, of No. 64 Gregory street, out of $50, received on account for a horse which he sold for $120, but failed to deliver, was convicted of obtaining money by false pretenses yesterday in Part I. of the Court of General Sessions, Assistant District Attorney Rollins prosecuting. Judge Sutherland sentenced Williams to three years in State Prison.

William Farrell, jointly indicted for forgery with John Adams, was put on trial before Judge Brady and a jury, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, yesterday. Farrell was charged with forging a check for $600, made out in the names of George H. Sargent & Co., on the Importers' and Traders' National Bank, in October last. Adams, who presented the check for payment, turned States' evidence, and Farrell, being convicted, was sent to State Prison for three years.

John Sheridan, a City Marshal attached to the Fourth District Court, was arraigned at the Tombs yesterday to answer a charge of extorting $2 from L. N. Knapp, a jeweler doing business at No. 211 Greenwich street, upon false pretenses. Knapp alleges that Sheridan obtained the money after seizing his store upon a judgment issued against him for a small debt, and that he paid the $2 with the understanding that Sheridan was to settle the case. Judge Morgan held Sheridan for further examination.

Edward Donehill, a laborer, was arraigned at the Tombs yesterday on the charge of beating his wife, but on promising to keep away from her residence, No. 12½ Vandewater street, he was discharged. Two hours later he went to the house and began to abuse her, when a fight ensued between him and Edward McLaughlin and Charles Thury, who took the woman's part. Donehill, who was badly beaten, summoned an officer, and the two men were arrested and taken to the Oak Street Police Station.

John H. Jacobus, of No. 52 Charles street, was arraigned at the Washington Place Police Court, yesterday, on a charge of outrage, preferred by his sister-in-law, Sara Jacobus. Her affidavit was to the effect that, having been invited by the prisoner to take some refreshments, they went into a house and she drank what purported to be a hot lemonade; that she became unconscious, and that on coming to her senses she was lying on a bed and knew that she had been violated, and that her brother-in-law did not deny the crime. At his arraignment before Justice Kasmire, Mr. Jacobus denounced the charge as an effort to black-mail.

COURT CALENDARS—THIS DAY.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

Held by Lawrence, J.

Nos.	Nos.
14—The Ninth Nat. Bank vs. Freer.	247—Garnett vs. Garnett.
111—Matter of Ahlborn.	249—Balheimer vs. Keefe.
146—Jackson vs. McGuire.	256—Brennan vs. The London and Liverpool Globe Ins. Co.
161—Stewart vs. Harris.	270—The Ninth Nat. Bank vs. Freer.
162—Crump vs. Fay.	279—Daniel vs. The Continental Ins. Co.
167—Matter of the Columbia Ins. Co.	309—Same vs. Same.
168—Matter of the Columbia Ins. Co.	312—Earle vs. Hoffman.
172—Cahill vs. The Hudson River S. B. Co.	313—Blumenthal vs. Anderson.
173—The Mech. Sav. Bank of Ch. vs. Carman.	325—Daniels vs. The Continental Ins. Co.
174—White vs. Drake.	334—Heffman vs. Burke.
183—Colton vs. Morrissey.	335—Lyon vs. Sulzer.
188—Matter of McGrath.	342—Bates vs. Eyekman.
196—White vs. Drake.	345—Steers vs. Steers.
200—Connolly vs. Dayton.	348—Spaulding vs. Lyon.
212—Coudert vs. Lausin.	350—Connolly vs. Beux.
231—The Union Dime Sav. Inst. vs. Oaley.

SUPREME COURT—GENERAL TERM.

Adjourned until to-morrow.

SUPREME COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

Held by Van Vorst, J.

Nos.	Nos.
672—Power, &c., vs. Cassidy, &c.	198—Ward vs. Krumm et al.
58—Buckley, &c., vs. The Mayor &c.	261—Veiller vs. The Kings County Manuf. Co.
474—Uhl, &c., vs. Millhauser.	314—Bart vs. Kieley.
506—Uhl, &c., vs. Scharinberg et al.	315—Vanderhoef vs. Tucker.
529—Caggey vs. Mears et al.	350—Fowler vs. Mehrbach et al.
629—Uhl, &c., vs. Hussner, &c.	587—Mosback vs. Amend et al.
632—Knowlson vs. Betts et al.	420—Mittnacht vs. Ste...
278—Langdon vs. Gray.	421—Ellis vs. Andrews.
279—Same vs. Same.	739—Clancy vs. O'Gara, &c., et al.
235—Alden vs. Diossy.	366—Reilly vs. Dillon et al.
147—Ebert vs. Montgomery et al.	493—Fagnan et al. vs. Knox.
503—Newell et al. vs. Ridgway et al.	495—Skerry vs. Bates et al.
754—Hebrew Ben. Society vs. The Mayor, &c.	419—Ford vs. Conner, &c., et al.
71—Lawton G. M. Co. vs. Ocean St'mer C. Co.	426—The Mayor, &c., vs. Goodman et al.
96—Blatchford vs. Kidd, &c.	432—Patterson vs. McCuny &c.

SUPREME COURT—CIRCUIT—PART I.

Adjourned for the Term.

SUPREME COURT—CIRCUIT—PART II.

Held by Barrett, J.

Case on—No. 1318—Hoag vs. Conner. No Day Calendar.

SUPREME COURT—CIRCUIT—PART III.

Held by Donohue, J.

Case on—No. 2243—Martinez vs. Del Valle. No Day Calendar.

SUPERIOR COURT—GENERAL TERM.

Adjourned until Monday, Nov. 20.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

Held by Speir, J.

Nos.	Nos.
Demurrer.	62—Oakley vs. Hyatt.
13—Schreyer vs. Dettinger et al.	79—Doyle et al. vs. Lord, Jr.
Issues of Fact.	34—Fleischl vs. Seller et al.
55—Slawson et al. vs. Watkins et al.	71—Butterfield et al. vs. Klaber et al.
78—Nitschke vs. O'Neill et al.

SUPERIOR COURT—TRIAL TERM—PART I.

Held by Curtis, C. J.

Nos.	Nos.
6—Warner vs. Western Trans. Co.	& H. R. Co.
829—Demuth vs. The Am. Inst.	531—Chatterton vs. Mumford.
144—Algie vs. Wood.	285—Moran vs. Moran.
216—Stevenson vs. Hinds.	252—The Marshall Horse Collar Company vs. Williams.
333—Bohonnon vs. Barlow et al.	214—Steubling vs. Elias.
282—Zimmerman et al. vs. Nat. Steam-ship Co.	264—Elias vs. Steubling.
652—Knapp, Receiver, vs. Roche.	281—Wilkesbarre Savings Bank vs. Wing et al.
862—Fairfax vs. N. Y. C.	322—Costello vs. Archer.

SUPERIOR COURT—TRIAL TERM.—PART II.

Held by Sedgwick, J.

Nos.	Nos.
205—Van Dorn vs. The C. P., N. & E. R. R. R. Co.	363—Dodge vs. Burton.
219—Highland C. & M. Co. vs. Matthews.	372—Friedlander vs. The Third Av. R. R. Co.
305—Crawford et al. vs. Pappenheimer.	373—Johnson, &c., vs. Leubuscher.
340—Husted, et al. vs. Rathbone.	374—Levison, &c., vs. Robbins.
341—Husted vs. Rathbone et al.	375—Woodruff vs. Beekman.
623—Reith vs. Conner, Sheriff.	376—Manufacturers' & B'k vs. Pangborn.
283—Robison vs. White.	377—Falk vs. Cristatar.
221—Beach vs. Walker.	378—Landon vs. Barlow, &c.
345—Smith vs. Ferry.	380—Hyatt vs. Smith et al.
350—Adolph vs. C. P., N. & E. R. R. R. Co.	381—Lewis vs. Lochrane.
192—Kerrigan vs. The Broadway & Seventh Av. R. R. Co.	382—Aufflin et al. vs. Bostwick et al.
303—Dodd vs. Deane.	383—Wood vs. Wheeler.
	384—Wood vs. Wheeler et al.

COMMON PLEAS—EQUITY TERM.

No Day Calendar.

COMMON PLEAS—TRIAL TERM—PART I.

Held by Robinson, J.

Nos.	Nos.
814—Simon vs. Worth.	470—Blase vs. Fleisch.
873—Ketchley vs. Van Tassel.	1125—Connell vs. Smith.
863—Schmultz vs. Fester.	851—Dethlefs vs. Tamsen.
556—Krawitsky vs. Koening.	100—Germania Bank N. Y. vs. Patterson.
557—Same vs. Same.	492—Goyner, &c., vs. Mut Life Ins. Co.
903—Smith vs. Solomon.	1073—Clayton vs. Eller.
906—McCarthy vs. Universalist Society.	838—Wagner vs. Whitney.
799—Guidet vs. The Mayor.	839—Shea vs. Brooks.
923—Epstein vs. Second Avenue R. R. Co.	840—Sternack vs. Brooks.
905—Dexter vs. Starin.	841—Kollmeyer vs. Brooks.
974—Powers vs. Connor.	842—Fortune vs. Brooks.
892—Shandley vs. The Mayor.	893—Elsner vs. McGorry.
960—Goldstein vs. The Mayor.	971—Frausman vs. Stollmeyer.
801—Zeimler vs. Levy.	392—Ketcham vs. Stevens.
393—Engeli vs. Grant.	711—Husoner vs. Roosevelt.
907—Schmerhorn vs. Devlin.	827—Heldick vs. Boyd.
895—Ritchie vs. Lesser.	453—Johnson vs. Perine.
969—Mangam vs. Downs.	731—Thomson vs. Gamble.
806—Merrill vs. Bejos.	816—Smith vs. Kerns.
371—Booth vs. Ferguson.	843—Second Nat. Bank vs. P. vs. Porter.
565—Wood vs. Bloodgood.

COMMON PLEAS—GENERAL TERM.

Held by C. P. Daly, C. J., J. F. Daly and Van Hoesen, JJ.

Nos.	Nos.
27—Garrison vs. The Mayor.	92—Thorne vs. Thompson.
69—Same vs. Same.	4—Ayre vs. Rushton.
28—Walsh vs. Walsh et al.	75—Wright vs. Wright.
66—Oberwarth vs. Cochran et al.	34—Angevine vs. Sanford et al., &c.
67—Phelps, Jr., vs. Ring, &c.	10—Dunn vs. Mesorole.
68—Allen vs. James et al.	79 (b)—Same vs. Same.
73—Imhorst vs. Burke et al.	80—Kiernan vs. Mapes.
179— —— vs. ——.	81—Blum vs. Rothschild.
85—Guthman vs. Kline.	86—Hazard vs. Conklin.
88—Story vs. Solomon.	106—Clarke vs. Frank.
89—Griffin vs. Solomon.	49—Duff et al. vs. The Bank of New-York.
90—Way vs. Crofutt.	54—Schaeffer vs. Henkle.
	57—Clark vs. Dillon et al.

COMMON PLEAS—TRIAL TERM—PART II.

Adjourned for the Term.

MARINE COURT—TRIAL TERM—PART I.

Held by Sinnott, J.

Nos.	Nos.
5219—Wilmerding et al. vs. Keeo.	5292—Austin vs. Parks.
4991—Lapp vs. Leubuscher.	5293—Palmer vs. Byrnes.
5007—Clear vs. Cunningham et al.	5297—Kellogg et al. vs. Carmier.
5009—Miller vs. Cunningham et al.	5299—Lowden vs. Gedney et al.
5123—Winans vs. Clark.	5302—Cover vs. Hungerford.
4762—Hogan vs. Filan.	5306—Reid et al. vs. Vercelli.
5291—Nuenhofer vs. Bleuler.	5310—Moore vs. Tower.
	5315—Ruhe vs. Devlin.

MARINE COURT—TRIAL TERM—PART II.

Held by Alker, J.

Nos.	Nos.
4916—McClure vs. Phillips.	4531—Helenrider versus Abrahams.
8029—Fuller vs. Sternfels et al.	4800—Allen vs. Anthony.
4974—James et al. vs. Hyams.	4616—Kiefer et al. vs. Hiller et al.
4557—Fisher vs. King et al.	4804—Bongrand vs. Ætna Ins. Co.
4601—Valentine versus France.	4932—Dougan et al. vs. Steinmeyer et al.
4972—Kohlbacher versus Ploch.	5287—Reed vs. Wood, &c.
4623—Valentine et al. vs. Meagher.	5283—Hesman vs. Daly.
	5289—Jaeger vs. Murphy et al.
	5290—Muller vs. Wagek.

MARINE COURT—TRIAL TERM—PART III.

Held by Shea, C. J.

Nos.	Nos.
8596—Wertheimer vs. Stevens.	8472—Gillies et al. vs. O'Sullivan.
9645—Maier et al. vs. Springer.	4902—Ross vs. Finan.
7200—Bacharach et al. vs. Hebeler et al.	8672—Bernecke vs. Connor, &c., (No. 1.)
7944—Barnes vs. Woodruff.	8673—Same vs. Same, (No. 2.)
8469—Cretty vs. Conner, Sheriff, &c.	4138—Heim vs. Levy.
8663—Krekeler vs. Conner, Sheriff, &c.	6709—Rose vs. Gordon.
5923—Spring et al. vs. Murray, impl., &c.	926—McGowan vs. Dawson.
5924—Davis et al. vs. Murray, impleaded, &c.	6913—Diossy vs. Youngs.
	2025—Ulman et al. vs. Freidenreich.
	3186—Dawley vs. Merkle.

MARINE COURT—TRIAL TERM—PART IV.

Held by Goepp, J.

Nos.	Nos.
5177—Hayward vs. McCunn et al.	5274—McCahill vs. O'Connell.
5147—Ryan vs. The Safeguard Fire Ins. Co.	5275—Andrews et al. vs. Ryan.
5115—Freidberg vs. Rosenthal.	5278—Duffy vs. Joyce.
5116—Same vs. Same.	5281—Harris vs. Keith.
5198—Byrne vs. Robinson.	5283—Amer. R. R. Manual Co. vs. Ladd.
5154½—Abbot vs. Pirsons.	5284—Contostaolos vs. Bevens.
5272—Bieber et al. vs. Badt.	5286—Mundy vs. The N. Y. and South America Gold Mining Co.
5273—Burger et al. vs. Foshay.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS—PART I.

Held by Hackett, Recorder.

John Taffe, homicide, (continued.)	Edward Donohue, Walter Requa, grand larceny.
William Conway, Michael Cullin, burglary.	John Shafer, Nathan Israel, grand larceny.
Lyman Goldstein, grand larceny.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS—PART II.

Held by Sutherland, J.

Michael Madden, felonious assault and battery.	Jacob G. Conrad, grand larceny.
John Shottell, Frederick Derr, burglary.	James O'Neill, grand larceny.
John Shierfield, August Maier, burglary.	John Duffy, grand larceny.
William Smith, burglary.	John Scanlon, grand larceny.
John Kelly, Edward Leonard, burglary.	William E. Conover, forgery.
James White, burglary.	Nicholas Matthews, forgery.
William Farrell, grand larceny.	James Clark, robbery.
Charles Werth, grand larceny.	Charles McLoughlin, sodomy.
Kate Dougherty, grand larceny.	Hume Kaltenhenzer, Ella Kaufman, Sophia Kaltenhenser, abduction.
John Bainard, grand larceny.

CIRCULATION OF THE BLOOD.

HOW A GREAT DISCOVERY WAS MADE—SOME ACCOUNT OF A DISTINGUISHED ITALIAN.

A correspondent of the London News writes of Andrea Cesalpino as follows: "Physiology, however, was to receive more substantial contributions from Cesalpino than either botany or mineralogy. The circulation of the blood, that is, its passage from the right side of the heart across the lungs to the left side, had been known to Galen, who also knew that the arteries and veins in their ultimate ramifications communicate with each other across an 'anastomosis' of minute vessels in every part of the body. This knowledge was vitiated by the hypothesis that the blood passed from the right side of the heart through the intervening septum to the left, an hypothesis of which Julius Cæsar Arantius, of Bologna, exposed the absurdity. The next and final step in the discovery belongs, according to the Italian physiologists, to Cesalpino, who in 1569 demonstrated the passage of the blood from the arteries to the veins across the capillaries throughout the system, and applied the term 'circulation' to the perpetual movement of the blood 'from the veins to the right side of the heart, from this to the lungs, from the lungs to the left side of the heart, and from this to the arteries.' In 1593 he published his Quistioni Mediche, in which he illustrated the circulation by constricting any limb of the body with a bandage, whereupon the vein swelled in the interspace between its capillary origin and the ligature, so that when cut with a lancet the black venous blood flowed out, and after it the red arterial blood. 'Cesalpino, moreover,' (says his recent apologist, Dr. Ceradini, of Genoa, to whom I am indebted for many of the above-mentioned facts,) 'recognized that the blood is contained at a higher pressure in the arteries than in the veins, and that in its passage from the former to the latter the capillary anastomoses interpose a greater or smaller obstacle according to the degree of their dilatation. All these facts,' continues Dr. Ceradini, 'Cesalpino taught first from the chair of medicine at Pisa, and subsequently at Rome, where he died in 1603. All that was left for Harvey to do was to strengthen Cesalpino's discovery by assigning to the valves (of which Fabricio Di Acquapendente first pointed out the existence) the function of opposing the centrifugal movement of the blood. In fact, Harvey's merit really and only consists in having successfully sustained a struggle against the prejudice and ignorance that impeded the acknowledgment of Cesalpino's discovery.' It is odd that after such proofs of scientific acumen, Cesalpino should have written seriously on witchcraft; but such is the fact. Some nuns of Pisa were reputed to be possessed by demons, and the Archbishop of the diocese convoked the theologians, philosophers, and physicians of the university to investigate whether the phenomena manifested by the nuns proceeded from natural causes. Cesalpino's contribution to the subject judiciously refrained from denying the existence of evil spirits. He said that these unseen agencies make use of physical means, diffusing a subtle poison which causes fascination, enchantment, and other signs of demoniacal possession. These phenomena, however, can be cured by physical means like any other disease; though, he cautiously adds, religious ministrations will enhance the efficacy of the remedial agent. In this recognition of the Church Cesalpino betrays the dread common to Galileo and other contemporary savants, of offending the spiritual authority; and, though he was accused of materialism and atheism by Dr. Samuel Parker, Archdeacon of Canterbury, and the French physician, Taurel, he never lost the favor of the Roman Curia. In fact, the Cardinal who presided over the press, in allowing him to publish his De Metallicis, declared the treatise worthy of its author, 'Che fu sempre diligentissimo sequace dei dogmi peripatetici' (who was always a very diligent follower of the Aristotelian dogmas.) Another point worth noting in Cesalpino's career is the fact that he was past fifty when he began to write, and he was eighty-four when he published his last work, an appendix to his earliest (the Quistioni Peripateticke.) At that age he died, leaving behind him a world-wide reputation for versatility, sagacity, and learning. As a botanist, a mineralogist, physiologist, and a pharmaceutist, he was equal to the ablest of his contemporaries in all of these departments, while the botanists of last century, out of compliment to his services to their science, called a genus of plants 'Cesalpinia,' after his name. Whether his compatriot apologists have succeeded in claiming for him the greatest of discoveries in biology, it is for the Harveian Society to say. Meanwhile, the honors conferred on him by the universities of Rome and Pisa make up by their cordiality for the tardiness of their bestowal."

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

Henry Morris assigned his property for the benefit of creditors to Manuel L. Manheim yesterday.

David L. Proudfit, stationer, at No. 131 William street, has gone into bankruptcy with liabilities amounting to $13,000. The largest creditor is Elias Wright on accommodation paper for $7,500.

A petition in voluntary bankruptcy has been filed by George Thorn, hardware, at No. 151 Centre street; liabilities, $20,000; assets, $8,800. The largest creditors are M. Neuter, $6,000; E. Thorn, $2,700.

J. J. Nichols, the agent of the Boston and Sandwich Glass Company, of Nos. 21 and 23 Barclay street, offers to compromise at fifteen cents in notes at three, six, nine, and twelve months. His liabilities are reported at $35,000.

A petition in bankruptcy has been filed by John T. Waring & Co., of Yonkers, the largest hat manufacturing firm in the country. The total liabilities of the firm amount to over $430,000, of which $299,181 50 is unsecured. John T. Waring has individual liabilities of $60,000. Samuel Shethar, the New-York commission agent of the firm, is the largest secured creditor; his claims are for $166,-333 48. Among the largest creditors are Peck & Martin, $234,730 39; H. Feltman, $12,184; Menke & Trenckel, $6,085 64; First National Bank of Yonkers, $4,427 63; Gifford, Sherman & Innis, $3,-973 46; Rockwell & Co., $3,520 76; Fogg, Patten & Co., $2,451 31; Galway & Casado, $2,877 87; W. Wright & Co., $2,921 40; C. & J. Owen, $2,708 35; W. L. Strong & Co., $1,895 28. The firm's assets consist of notes of Samuel Shethar & Co. for $145,-000. John T. Waring's individual assets consist of 256 lots and nine dwellings in Yonkers, the value of which is not given; they are mortgaged for $209,-000. W. C. Waring and Ethelbert Waring have real estate valued at $20,750.

FINANCIAL AFFAIRS.

SALES AT THE STOCK EXCHANGE—NOV. 13.

SALES BEFORE THE CALL—10 A. M.

$5,000 T.&W.O.Conv. 50	500 Lake Shore....s3. 55½
5,000 do. 49	100 do. 55½
2,000 L. & N. C. 92¾	1500 do. 55⅜
40,000 St. P. C. S. F. 86¾	1300 do. 55¼
10 Del. & Hudson. 70⅝	1000 do. 55⅛
20 do. 70½	1500 do. 55
23 do. 70⅛	800 do. 54⅞
15 do. 70½	1400 do. 54¾
100 Pac. Mail 23⅞	300 do....b3. 54¾
200 do. 23¾	2200 do. 54⅝
1000 West. Union 73	600 do. 54¾
1300 do. 72⅞	2800 do. 54⅞
1000 do. 72¾	4300 do. 55
900 do. 72⅝	200 Ohio & Miss. 7¼
800 do. 72½	100 do. 7⅛
1000 do. 72⅝	600 do. 7
1700 do. 72¼	300 do. 7¼
900 do. 72⅛	100 do. 7⅛
700 do. 72	100 do. 7¼
800 do. 71⅞	50 do. 7½
500 do. 72	100 do. 7¼
300 do. 72⅛	800 St. Paul 21⅞
400 do. 72¼	100 do. 21⅝
900 do. 72⅝	200 do. 21¾
500 Mich. Cen. 42½	300 St. Paul Pf. 52¾
100 do....c. 42⅜	500 do....b3. 53
400 do. 42⅜	200 do. 53
500 do. 42¼	100 do. 53⅛
100 do....c. 42¼	200 do. 53¼
300 do. 42⅛	100 do. 53
900 do. 42	100 do....s3. 52½
300 do. 41¾	100 do....b3. 52⅝
300 do....s3. 41½	200 do. 52½
300 do. 41¾	100 do....s3. 52⅜
200 do. 41⅞	200 do. 52½
1000 do. 42	100 do. 52⅝
400 do. 42⅛	300 do. 52¾
100 do....s3. 42⅛	700 do. 53
600 do. 42¼	100 Rock Island...b3. 101
100 do. 42⅜	100 Del., L. & W. 72⅛
400 do. 42½	100 do. 72¼
100 do. 42⅜	200 do. 72⅛
10 N. Y. Cen. & Hud. 101¾	100 do. 71⅞
100 North-west. Pref. 59⅜	300 do. 71⅞
300 Cen. of N. J. 33⅛	200 do. 72
300 do. 33	100 Tol. & Wab. 6¾
100 do. 32¾	300 do. 6½
200 do. 33	100 do. 6⅜

GOVERNMENT STOCKS—10:15 AND 11:30 A. M.

$5,000 U. S. 5-20 R., '65...b. c. 109¾	$10,000 U. S. 5-20 C., '67....c. 115¾
100,000 do....12. 109¾	8,000 U.S.5s10-40R. 113⅝
9,500 U. S. 5-20 C., '65....b. c. 109¾	1,000 U. S. 5s, '81. R....b.c. 112¾
4,000 U. S. 5-20 C. '65 N...b.c.s3. 112¾	15,000 U. S. 4½ R., '91. 111
10,000 U. S. 5-20, R., '67. 115¾	10,000 do....12. 111

FIRST BOARD—10:30 A. M.

$2,500 D. of C. 3.65s. 68	100 C., M. & St. P. b.c. 21½
5,000 N. J. C. C..b.c. 81½	100 do. 21⅝
1,000 L. & W. B. con. 65	900 do. 21¼
10,000 M. & St. P. c.s.f. 86⅝	500 do. 21⅛
32,000 do. 86½	50 do. 21
1,000 N. W. C., C.G. 95⅞	25 do. 20⅞
1,000 do....c. 95¾	200 do. 20¾
5,000 M. & E. 2d. 106½	200 do. 20⅝
2,000 M. & R. 7s, '71. 102½	100 do. 20¾
1,000 H. & St. J. 8s, C. 81⅛	200 C., M. & St. P. Pf. b.c. 53⅛
4,000 do. 81¼	100 do. 53
1,000 do....b.c. 81½	100 do. 52⅝
5,000 C. & P. 4th. 105½	300 do. 52¾
1,000 A. & T. H. 2d Pf. 91	100 do....s3. 52½
2,000 do. 90½	100 do....o. 52⅝
3,000 Ohio & M. 2d. 45	100 do. 52⅜
1,000 T. & W. 1st,	200 do. 52¼
St. L. div. 70	200 do. 52⅜
1,000 Un. Pac. 1st. 105⅞	100 Cen. of N. J...b.c. 33¼
10,000 P. of M. 2d. b.c. 84	100 do....c. 33¼
200 D. & H. Can...b.c. 70	100 do....s3. 33
400 W. U. Tel....b.c. 72½	10 do. 33
800 do. 72⅝	200 do. 32¾
500 do. 72¾	100 do. 32⅝
400 do. 72⅝	100 do....s30. 32¾
600 do. 72½	200 do. 32⅝
300 do. 72⅜	10 do. 32⅞
200 do. 72⅝	100 do. 32⅝
200 do. 72⅜	100 do. 32¾
1300 do....s3. 72¼	100 C., C., C. & Ind. b.c. 38½
700 do. 72¼	100 C. & P. Gd...b.c.s3. 88¾
500 do. 72¼	100 C. & R. I....b.c. 100½
200 do. 72⅜	200 D., L. & W....b.c. 71⅞
300 Pac. Mail..b.c.s3. 23¾	100 do. 72
34 N. Y. C. & H...b.c. 102⅛	200 do....s8. 71¾
200 Erie Railway.b.c. 10	200 do. 72
300 Mich. Cen....b.c. 42¼	200 do. 71⅞
400 do. 42⅛	300 do. 71¾
400 do. 42	300 do....s3. 71⅝
100 do. 41⅞	400 do. 71⅝
300 do. 42	100 do....c. 71⅝
100 do....s3. 42	100 do. 71½
200 do. 41⅞	100 do. 71¼
200 do. 42⅛	100 do. 71⅛
300 do. 42	600 do. 71¼
200 do....b3. 42	1000 do....s3. 71
300 do. 41⅞	600 do....s3. 70⅞
600 do. 41¾	800 do....s8. 71
300 do. 41½	700 do. 71⅛
200 do. 41½	1000 do. 71
700 do. 41⅜	300 do. 71
200 do. 41¾	500 do. 70⅞
200 do....s10. 41½	100 do....c. 70⅞
100 Illinois Cen....b.c. 79	1300 do. 70⅞
69 do. 79¼	10 do. 71
80 do. 79	400 do....s3. 70⅝
100 do....s3. 78	200 do. 70⅝
200 C. & N. W...b.c.s3. 36½	300 do. 70⅝
200 C. & N. W. Pf. b.c.s3 59⅛	400 do....s3. 70½
200 do. 59¼	500 do. 70⅝
1000 L.S. & M.S....b.c. 54⅞	100 do. 70⅝
1300 do....b3. 54⅞	200 do. 70⅛
500 do....s3. 54⅞	100 do. 70¼
500 do. 54¼	1500 do. 70⅛
600 do....s3. 54⅝	300 do. 70⅝
600 do. 54⅜	200 do. 70⅜
500 do. 54⅞	100 do. 70¼
400 do. 55⅛	100 do....s3. 70⅛
700 do. 54⅞	300 Ohio & M....b.c. 7¼
2100 do. 54⅞	100 do....s10. 7¼
800 do....s3. 54½	100 do. 7⅛
1000 do. 54½	400 do. 7¼
500 do. 54⅞	100 do. 7⅛
1000 do. 54¼	100 Mor. & Es....b.c. 94
1100 do. 54⅛	100 H. & St. Jo....b.c. 13
400 do....s3. 54⅝	100 H. & St. Jo. Pf. b.c. 24¼
100 Alt. & T.H. Pf. b.c. s3 16

SALES BEFORE THE CALL—12:30 P. M.

$1,000 Un. P. S. F. 90½	100 Rock Island. 100⅝
500 Western Union. 72¼	100 Alt. & T. H. 6¼
10 Amer. Ex. 60⅝	300 Lake Shore. 54⅝
50 do. 60	2800 do. 54½
100 N.Y.C. & Hud. 102	600 do. 54⅝
100 Pacific Mail 23¾	600 do....s3. 54⅞
100 do. 23⅝	800 do. 54⅝
100 Ill. Central 76	100 do....s4. 54⅜
50 do. 76½	300 do. 54⅜
100 Mich. Central 41⅞	4300 do. 54¼
100 do....s30. 41⅝	500 do....b3. 54⅜
100 do. 41⅝	500 do....b3. 54½
100 do. 41⅜	400 do. 54¼
100 do. 41⅝	500 St. Paul 21
200 do....s3. 41½	300 St. Paul Pref. 52¼
200 do. 41⅜	100 do. 52⅝
100 do. 41⅜	200 do. 52¼
400 do....s30. 41	100 Tol. & Wab. 6¾
400 do. 41½	60 Del., Lac. & W.s3. 69½
600 do. 41⅜	200 do. 70¾
800 do. 41¼	500 do. 70⅝
100 Cen. of N. J. 33	100 do. 70⅞
800 do. 32¾	100 do. 71
200 do. 32⅝	500 do. 70¾
200 do. 32¾	40 do. 70⅞
100 Ohio & Miss. 7⅜	100 do....s3. 70½
100 do....s3. 7¼	400 do. 70¾
400 do. 7⅛	440 do....s3. 70⅝
1200 do....s3. 7	200 do. 70¾
900 do. 7

GOVERNMENT STOCKS—2 P. M.

$35,000 U. S. 5-20 R. '65, N. 112¾	$20,000 U. S. 5s, C., '81. 112¾
90,000 U.S.5-20C.'67. 115¾

SECOND BOARD—1 P. M.

$3,000 Mo. 6s, '78. 102⅜	200 Cen. of N.J....b.c. 32⅝
5,000 Tenn. 6s, n. ser. 45¼	100 do....s30. 31⅝
2,000 N.Y.S.7s.B.R. 103	200 do. 32¾
3,000 O., B. & Q. 7s. 111⅞	600 do. 32⅝
3,000 C., C. C. & Ind.	100 do....s3. 32½
1st....b.c. 108⅜	100 L. S. & M.S....b.c. 54⅜
1,000 do. 108½	600 do....s3. 54⅜
10,000 Mich. So. 2d. 102	600 do. 54½
10,000 N. Y. C. 1st, C. 119½	300 do. 54⅜
2,000 Ohio & M. 2d. 45	700 do....s3. 54¼
30,000 Un. Pac. 1st. 105¾	100 do. 54⅝
14,000 Un. Pac. S. F. 91	500 do....b3. 54¼
2,000 Tol. & W. 1st. 98	1500 do....s3. 54⅛
5,000 T. & W. 1st St.	500 do. 54⅜
L. Div. 71	400 do. 54¼
10,000 Gt. W. 1st, '88. 96	300 do....b3. 54⅜
1,000 Gt. West. 2d. 67	900 do....s3. 54⅛
2,000 W. U. C., 1900. 101⅛	200 C. & R. I....b.c. s3. 100½
1,000 Quin. & Tol. 1st 60	200 do. 100⅜
150 Del. & H. Can. b.c. 69½	200 do. 100⅛
100 do. 69¼	1340 do. 100
500 West. Un...b.c.s3. 72⅛	1100 do. 99⅞
100 do. 72¼	80 Ill. Central...b.c. 76½
100 do....s3. 72¼	200 do. 75
500 do. 72⅛	200 do....s30. 74
2000 do....s3. 72	100 do. 74¼
1800 do. 72	200 C. & NW. Pf. b.c. b3. 59
100 N.Y.C. & H. b.c.s10. 101¾	100 Chic. M. & St. P. b.c. 21
200 do. 101¾	100 do. 21⅛
100 do....s3. 101⅛	100 do....s3. 21
50 do. 101¾	100 do....s3. 20⅞
100 do. 101½	200 do. 20⅞
100 do. 101⅛	100 C.M. & S.P. Pf....b.c. 52⅜
300 Erie Railway.b.c. 9⅞	500 do....b3. 52¼
50 do. 9¾	20 T., W. & W...b.c. 6
60 Cleve. & P. G'd. 88¾	100 do. 6½
200 Mich. Cen....b.c. 41⅜	100 D., L. & W....b.c. 70¾
100 do. 41⅜	200 do. 70½
200 do. 41⅜	500 do. 72⅛
400 do. 41½	200 do....s3. 70¾
300 do. 41⅜	140 do. 70⅝
800 do. 41¼	300 do. 70½
400 do. 41⅜	700 Ohio & M....b.c.s3. 7
100 do. 41⅜	300 do. 7
100 do....s30. 40⅞	100 do....s3. 6⅞
800 do. 41⅜	200 do. 6⅞
50 C., C. & I...b.c. 38½	20 Mor. & Es....b.c. 93¾
100 Han. & St. Jo. b.c. 12⅞	10 do....b.c. 93¾

SALES FROM 2:30 TO 3 P. M.

$11,000 U. S. 5-20 C.	100 Lake Shore...b3. 54⅜
'65. 109¾	1400 do. 54⅛
5,000 D. of C. 3.65s. 67⅝	1000 do....s3. 54⅜
5,000 do. 67½	20 do. 54¼
1,000 N.W.C.C.G.bs. 96	800 do....s3. 54⅛
5,000 Ohio & M. 2d. 45	100 Rock Island. 99⅞
4,000 Union P. 1st. 105½	200 do. 99¾
3,000 L. & Nash. Con. 92¾	35 do. 100
350 Del. & Hudson. 69	200 do. 99¾
200 West. Union...b3. 72¼	100 do. 99⅞
1100 do. 72¼	100 do....s3. 99⅝
900 do. 72¼	200 do. 99⅝
100 Pacific Mail. 23⅝	100 St. Paul. 20¾
800 Michigan Cen. 41⅝	100 do. 20⅞
100 do. 41⅜	100 St. Paul Pf. 52½
100 N. Y. C. & H...s3. 101⅛	300 do. 52¾
100 do. 100⅞	500 do. 52⅝
200 do. 101	200 do. 52⅝
100 Illinois Cen...s30. 74	200 Del. Lack. & W. 70¾
100 do. 75	300 do. 70⅝
10 do. 75¼	100 do. 70½
100 do. 76	100 do. 70¾
100 do. 76½	200 do. 70⅝
100 Central of N. J. 32⅞	100 Ohio & Miss. 6⅞
300 do. 32⅞

MONDAY, Nov. 13—P. M.

"Waiting for the 'verdict'"—which has already been given by the people of the United States in favor of the Republican candidates for President and Vice President, but which some people are yet slow to realize—may be characterized as the chief aspect of Wall street. Many prominent dealers are as yet unable to see the inexorable logic of events, and with the distrust occasioned by the expressions constantly heard as to possible trouble in the future, comes depression in business circles and shrinkage in values. The canvassing of the returns proceeds slowly, and an unsettled condition of affairs is the natural consequence. Added thereto have been to-day reports of embarrassment on the part of some of the coal companies, notably the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, which it was even said would pay no dividend for the current quarter. The New-Jersey Central Company, however, denied a rumor that they are unprepared to meet some paper which will soon mature. The Western shares were very weak, Illinois Central, though not active, leading the decline with a fall from 79 to 75, from which there was an eventual recovery to 76½. Lake Shore fell off from 55⅛ to 54⅛, and closed weak at the lowest point. New York Central settled from 102 to 100⅞, with a fractional recovery in the final transactions. Michigan Central declined from 42½ to 41½; Rock Island from 101 to 99⅝; St. Paul common from 21⅞ to 20⅝@20⅞; the preferred from 53¼ to 52½, and Ohios from 7¼ to 6⅞. Western Union was depressed by uncertainties as to its future course in the market, and fell from 73 to 71⅞, with a final close at 72. Delaware, Lackawanna and Western sold off from 72⅛ to 70⅛, and left off at 70⅝. New-Jersey Central declined from 33⅛ to 32½, with a partial recovery at the close. North-western was very dull, and beyond a decline of ½ ₩ cent. in Wabash there were no further features to the market. The transactions of the day summed up nearly 150,000 shares, of which 51,250 were in Lake Shore, 25,200 in Western Union, 19,600 in Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, 18,400 in Michigan Central, 11,875 in St. Paul, 7,200 in Ohios, 4,175 in Rock Island, 3,800 in New-Jersey Central, 1,465 in Illinois Central, and 1,150 in New-York Central.

The money market was easy throughout the day, the rate at the close being 2 ₩ cent. on call, after having been as high as 4 ₩ cent. early in the day. The national bank notes received for redemption at Washington to-day amounted to $800,000. The following were the rates of exchange on New-York at the undermentioned cities to-day: Savannah, buying ⅜ off, selling par@¼ off; Charleston, easy, freely, ⅜@5-16@3-16@par; St. Louis par to 50 discount; New-Orleans, commercial ⅜, bank ¼; Cincinnati, 100 discount, and Chicago 25 to 50 premium.

The foreign advices report the London market generally weak to-day, consequent upon the warlike speech delivered by the Czar of Russia on Saturday last. Consols fell off ½ ₩ cent. from the quotations current at the close last week, closing to-day at 95⅝ for both money and the account. United States bonds declined ⅛@¼ ₩ cent. and closed at 103¼ for 1865s, (old,) 108⅞@109 for 1867s, 108⅛@108¼ for 10-40s, and 106¼ for new 5s. Erie declined at the opening to 9⅜, and sold up to 9⅝@9¾ at the close. Bullion to the amount of £212,000 was withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance to-day, and £84,000 for shipment to this port. Bar silver was quoted at 54d. ₩ ounce. At Paris also Rentes were weaker and declined to 104.67½, rallying afterward to 104.72½.

The sterling exchange market was quiet but firm. The nominal asking rates were advanced ½ ₩ cent. by the bankers, actual business being done at $4 82 for bankers' sixty-day bills, and $4 84 for demand.

The gold speculation was firm early in the day, and the price advanced, on the reappearance of the European war cloud, from 109¾ to 109⅞; but, on the announcement that large amounts were being shipped from British ports for the United States, the price soon declined to 109⅝, at which it closed. On gold loans, 1 to 3 ₩ cent. was paid for carrying, and 1 ₩ cent. to flat for borrowing.

Government bonds were quiet and steady. Railroad bonds were irregular. Lehigh and Wilkesbarre consols declined 3 ₩ cent., to 65; Great Western seconds, 1 ₩ cent., to 67; Alton and Terre Haute seconds, preferred, 1 ₩ cent., to 90½; Union Pacific firsts, ¼ ₩ cent., to 105½; do. sinking funds, ½ ₩ cent., to 90½; St. Paul consolidated sinking funds, ⅜ ₩ cent., to 86½, and Morris and Essex 7s, ½ ₩ cent., to 102½. Toledo and Wabash convertibles advanced 5 ₩ cent., to 50, from the last bidding price. Hannibal and St. Joseph 8s. from 81 to 81½; C., C., C. and I. firsts from 108 to 108½, and Toledo and Wabash firsts, St. Louis Division, from 70 to 71. State bonds were quiet, with the exception of District of Columbia 3.65s, which declined ½ ₩ cent., from 68 to 67½.

UNITED STATES TREASURY, NEW-YORK, Nov. 13, 1876.

Gold receipts	$1,245,844 20
Gold payments	149,930 09
Gold balance	52,169,680 52
Currency receipts	698,835 69
Currency payments	687,002 63
Currency balance	42,940,632 82
Customs	425,000 00

CLOSING QUOTATIONS—NOV. 13.

	Saturday.	Monday.
American gold	109½	109¾
United States 4½s, 1891, coup	111	111
United States 5s, 1881, coup	112⅞	112⅞
United States 5-20s, 1867, coup	115¾	115⅞
Bills on London	$4 81½@$4 81¾	$4 82
New-York Central	102¼	101
Rock Island	101¼	99⅝
Pacific Mail	24¼	23⅞
Milwaukee and St. Paul	21½	20⅞
Milwaukee and St. Paul Pref	52¾	52½
Lake Shore	55½	54⅛
Chicago and North-western	36⅜	36⅜
Chicago and North-western Pref	59½	59
Western Union	73	72⅛
Union Pacific	59¼	59¼
Delaware, Lack. and Western	72½	70⅝
New-Jersey Central	33⅜	32⅞
Delaware and Hudson Canal	70½	69
Morris and Essex	94	93¾
Panama	125	125
Erie	10	9¾
Ohio and Mississippi	7⅞	6⅞
Harlem	138	135⅜
Hannibal and St. Joseph	13	12⅞
Hannibal and St. Joseph Pref	24¼	24¼
Michigan Central	42⅞	41⅝
Illinois Central	79¾	76½

The extreme range of prices in stocks to-day and the number of shares sold are as follows:

	Highest.	Lowest.	No. of Shares.
New-York Central	102	100⅞	1,150
Erie	10	9¾	550
Lake Shore	55½	54⅛	51,250
Wabash	6¾	6¼	720
North-western	36½	36⅜	200
North-western Preferred	59½	59	800
Rock Island	101	99⅝	4,175
Milwaukee and St. Paul	21⅞	20¾	4,175
Mil. and St. Paul Pref	53¼	52⅛	900
Pittsburg	88½	88½	100
Delaware, Lack. and West	72¼	70⅛	19,620
New-Jersey Central	33¼	32½	3,800
Del. & Hudson Canal	70	69	928
Morris and Essex	94	93¾	120
Michigan Central	42½	41⅛	18,400
Illinois Central	78	75	1,465
C., C., C. and I	38½	38½	150
Hannibal and St. Joseph	13	12⅞	300
Hannibal and St. Joseph Pf.	24¼	24¼	100
Ohio and Mississippi	7¼	6⅞	7,200
Western Union	73	71⅞	25,200
Pacific Mail	23⅞	23⅝	900
Alton and Terre Haute	6¾	6¼	100
Quicksilver Pref	16	16	100
Total sales			149,473

The following were the closing quotations of Government bonds:

	Bid.	Asked.
United States currency 6s	123	123½
United States 6s, 1881, registered	116⅝	116⅞
United States 6s, 1881, coupons	117⅛	117⅜
United States 5-20s, 1865, registered	109¾	110
United States 5-20s, 1865, coupons	109¾	110
United States 5-20s, 1865, new, reg	112⅝	112⅞
United States 5-20s, 1865, new, coup	112¾	112⅞
United States 5-20s, 1867, registered	115¾	116
United States 5-20s, 1867, coupons	115¾	116
United States 5-20s, 1868, registered	116½	116⅞
United States 5-20s, 1868, coupons	116½	116⅞
United States 10-40s, registered	113⅝	114
United States 10-40s, coupons	115⅛	115½
United States 5s, 1881, registered	112⅝	112⅞
United States 5s, 1881, coupons	112⅝	112⅞
United States 4½s	110½	111

The Sub-Treasurer disbursed in gold coin $92,000 for interest, $5,000 for called bonds, and $23,400 silver coin in exchange for fractional currency.

The following table shows the transactions at the Gold Exchange Bank to-day:

Gold cleared	$27,428,000
Gold balances	852,521
Currency balances	939,332

The following is the Clearing-house statement to-day:

Currency exchanges	$76,472,108
Currency balances	3,399,981
Gold exchanges	10,730,574
Gold balances	1,031,965

The following were the bids for the various State securities:

Alabama 5s, 1883. 35	N. Y. Coup. B. L. 103
Alabama 5s, 1886. 35	N. Y. 6s, G. R. 1887. 116
Alabama 8s, 1886. 35	N. Y. 6s, G. L. 1891. 123
Alabama 8s, 1888. 35	N. Y. 6s, G. L. 1892. 125
Alabama 8s of 1893. 15	N. Y. 6s, G. L. 1893. 126
Arkansas 6s, F'd. 32¼	N. C. 6's, old, J. & J. 18½
Ark. 7s, L.R.&F.S.iss. 8	N. C. 6s, o., A. & O. 19
Ark. 7s, M. & L. R. 6	N. C. 6s, N.C.R., J&J. 62
Ark. 7s, L.R.P.B.&N.O. 6	N. C. 6s, N.C.R.A.&O. 62
Ark. 7s, M. O. & R.R. 8	N. C. N.C.R., c.off, J&J 42
Ark. 7s, A. C. R. 6½	N.C.N.C.R., c.off A.&O. 43
Connecticut 6s. 112½	N.C. Fund. Act. '68. 9
Georgia 6s. 93	N. C. N. bs., J. & J. 7½
Ga. 7s, new bonds. 105	N. C. N. bs., A. & O. 7½
Ga. 7s, indorsed. 102	N. C. S. Tax, class 1. 2¼
Ga. 7s, Gold bonds. 106½	N. C. S. Tax, class 2. 2
Illinois c. 6s, '77. 103	N. C. S. Tax, class 3. 2
Illinois c. 6s, '79. 103½	Ohio 6s, '81. 106½
Illinois War Loan. 103½	Ohio 6s, '86. 112½
Kentucky 6s. 103½	Rhode Island 6s. 110
Louisiana 6s. 41	South Carolina 6s. 38
La. 6s, new bonds. 41	S. C. 6s, J. & J. 36
La. 6s, new Fl. Dbt. 41	S. C. 6s, A. & O. 36
La. 7s, Penitentiary. 41	S. C. 6s, F. A., '66. 33
La. 6s, Levee bonds. 41	S. C. L. C. '89, J.&J. 45
La. 8s, Levee bonds. 41	S. C. L. C. '89, A.&O. 45
La. 8s. L. B. of '75. 41	S. C. 7s, of '88. 37
La. 7s, consolidated. 59	S. C. N. F. bs. 2
Michigan 6s, '78-'79. 103	Tennessee 6s, old. 45¼
Michigan 7s, '90. 110	Tenn. 6s, n. bs. n. s. 45
Mo. 6s, due in '77. 102	Virginia 6s, old. 30
Mo. 6s, due in '78. 102¼	Virginia 6s, n.bs., '66. 30
Long bs, due '82-90 in. 105	Virginia 6s, n.bs., '67. 30
Asy. or U. due '92. 105	Virginia 6s, Con. bs. 79
H. & St. Jo., due '86. 105	Va. 6s, ex mat. coup. 68¾
H. & St. Jo., due '87. 105	Va. 6s. Def. bds. 6½
N. Y. Reg. B. L. 103	Dis. of Col. 3.65s, 1924. 67¾

And the following for railway mortgages:

Alb. & Sus. 1st bs. 109	Ind., Blm. & W. 1st. 22
Alb. & Sus. 2d bs. 102	Clev. & Tol. S. F. 108
B., C.R. & M. 1st 7s.g. 37½	Clev. & T. new bds. 106
Ches. & O. 6s, 1st. 30	C., P. & A., old bds. 106
Chicago & Alton 1n. 103	C. P. & A. new bds. 106
La. & Mo. 1st guar. 87	Buf. & Erie, new bds. 106
St. L. J. & Chic. 1st. 103½	Buf. & S. L. 7s. 106
C., B. & Q. 8 p. c. 1st. 116	Kal. & W. Pig. 1st. 89
C., B. & Q. consol. 7s. 111⅝	L. S. Div. bonds. 105
C.R.I. & P. 1st 7's. 110½	L. S. Con. R. 1st. 105
C.R. of N.J. 1st, new. 110	L. S. Cons. coup. 2d. 95
C.R. of N.J. 1st Con. 85	Mich. C. C. 7s, 1902. 102
C.R. of N.J. Conv. 81½	Mich. C. 1st. 8s. '82 S.F. 112
L. & W.B. Con., guar. 65	N. Y. Cen. 6s, R. E. 100
M.&S.P. 1st 8s. P.D. 116	N. Y. Cen. 6s, Sub. 100
M.&St.P. 1st, La.C.D. 103	N. Y. C.&H. 1st, coup. 118½
M.&S.P. 1st, I.&M.D. 94	Hud. R. 7s, 2d, S. F. '85. 111½
M. &St.P. 1st, I.&D. 86	N. Missouri 1st. 96
M. & St.P. 1st, H.&D. 86	O. & M. 2d Consol. 45
M. & St. Paul 2d. 91	Cen. Pac. G. bds. 110
C. & N.W. Int. bds. 103	Cen. Pac.. S. J. B. 93
C. & N. W. Con. bs. 103	Cen. Pac., Cal. &O. 1st. 94
C. & N. W. Ex. bs. 100	Cen. Pac. L. G. bds. 94
C. & N. W. 1st. 106¼	Western Pac. bds. 102⅜
C. & N. W. C. G. B. 95¾	Un. Pac. 1st bds. 105¾
Galena & Chic. Ext'd 106	Un. Pac., L. G. 7s. 101
Penins. 1st Conver. 103	Union Pac. S. F. 90
Chicago & Mil. 1st. 106	Pac. R. of Mo., 1st. 94
C.C.C.&I. 1st 7s, S.F. 108¼	P., Ft. W. & Chic. 1st. 121
Del. L. & W. 2d. 108	C. & P. C. S. F. 108½
D., L. & W. 7s, Con. 104	C. & P. 4th S. F. 105¾
Mor. & Es. 1st. 114½	St. Louis & I. M. 1st. 100
Mor. & Es. 2d. 106½	A. & T. H. 1st. 107⅞
M. & E. 7s of '71. 102⅜	T., P. & W., 1st, E.D. 88
M. & E. 1st, C. G. 101	T., P. & W. 1st, W.D. 84
Erie 3d 7s, '83. 101	T., P. & W. Con., 7s. 27
Erie 4th 7s, '80. 98	Tol. & Wab. 1st, Ex. 98
Erie 5th 7s, '88. 100	Tol. & W. 1st, St.L.D. 70
Long Dock Bonds. 105	Tol. & W. E. bds. 10
Buf., N.Y.&E. 1st, '77. 91½	Tol. & W. Con. Conv. 49
Han. & St. J. 8s, Conv. 81⅜	Gt. West. 1st '88. 94
Dub. & S. City 1st. 106	Q. & Tol. 1st, 1890. 55
Dub. & S. C. 2d Div. 106	W. Un. bs., 1900, C. 101¼
Ced. F. & Min. 1st. 88	W. Un. bs. 1900, R. 101⅛

And the following for City bank shares:

America. 136	Hanover. 85
Commerce. 108	Importers' & Trad'rs' 186
Corn Exchange. 126	Manhattan. 127½
East River. 90	Merchants'. 117
First National. 200	New-York. 119
Fourth National. 92	Ninth National. 80
Fulton. 140	St. Nicholas. 100
Fifth Avenue. 212	State of N.Y., New. 108
Gallatin National. 110	Union. 130
German-American. 65

PHILADELPHIA STOCK PRICES—NOV. 13.

	Bid.	Asked.
City 6s, New	113¼	113½
United Railroads of New-Jersey	136	136¾
Pennsylvania Railroad	45⅛	45¼
Reading Railroad	20¾	20⅞
Lehigh Valley Railroad	49⅞	50
Catawissa Railroad Preferred	37	38½
Philadelphia and Erie Railroad	13⅞	14⅛
Schuylkill Navigation Preferred	10	11
Northern Central Railroad	27¾	28
Lehigh Navigation	29⅞	30
Oil Creek and Allegheny Railroad	8¼	8½
Hestonville Railway	22	22⅜
Central Transportation	39	39½

The official earnings and expenses of the Union Pacific Railroad for the months of August and September, 1876 and 1875, were as follows:

AUGUST.

	Gross Earnings.	Operating Expenses.	Net Earnings.	Percentage of Expenses.
1876	$1,363,175 85	$437,017 69	$926,158 16	36.48
1875	1,015,458 73	452,221 09	563,237 64	44.44
Increase	$347,717 12		$362,920 52
Decrease		$15,203 40		7.96

SEPTEMBER.

	Gross Earnings.	Operating Expenses.	Net Earnings.	Percentage of Expenses.
1876	$1,305,955 99	$531,216 40	$774,969 59	40.67
1875	1,155,944 36	485,392 49	670,551 87	42.00
Increase	$150,041 63	$45,823 91	$104,217 72
Decrease				1.33

The comparative estimated earnings of the Ohio and Mississippi Railway Company for the first quarter in November were:

In 1875	$88,645 34
In 1876	78,502 77
Decrease in 1876	$10,142 57

CALIFORNIA MINING STOCKS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—The following are the closing prices of mining stocks to-day:

Alpha. 33½	Justice. 21¼
Belcher. 15	Kossuth. 11
Best and Belcher. 41½	Kentuck. 13
Bullion. 32	Leopard. 6¾
Consolidated Virginia. 46¾	Mexican. 23¾
California. 54¾	Northern Belle. 31¾
Chollar. 70½	Overman. 15
Confidence. 12	Ophir. 43½
Caledonia. 9¼	Raymond and Ely. 5¼
Crown Point. 9½	Silver Hill. 8
Exchequer. 13	Savage. 12
Gould and Curry. 12	Segregated Belcher. 70
Hale and Norcross. 7¼	Sierra Nevada. 11
Imperial. 3	Union Consolidated. 11½
Julia Consolidated. 6¾	Yellow Jacket. 15¼

COMMERCIAL AFFAIRS.

NEW-YORK, Monday, Nov. 13 1876.

The receipts of the principal kinds of Produce since our last have been as follows:

Ashes, pkgs.	7	Oil, bbls.	100
Bees-wax, pkgs.	11	Spirits Turp., bbls.	319
Broom-corn, bales.	15	Resin, bbls.	1,108
B. E. Peas bags.	27	Oil-cake, pkgs.	2,260
Beans, bbls.	689	Pork, pkgs.	430
Cotton, bales.	13,069	Beef, pkgs.	1,271
Copper, cakes.	981	Cut-meats, pkgs.	3,648
Dried Fruit, pkgs.	711	Grease, pkgs.	12
Eggs, bbls.	1,145	Lard, pkgs.	2,423
Flour, bbls.	30,703	Lard, kegs.	163
Wheat, bushels.	11,079	Hams, pcs.	2,926
Corn, bushels.	133,057	Butter, pkgs.	3,633
Oats, bushels.	46,578	Cheese, pkgs.	2,196
Rye, bushels.	6,300	Tallow, pkgs.	776
Malt, bushels.	12,456	Lub.-oil, bbls.	60
Barley, bushels.	112,059	Pea-nuts, bags.	728
Peas, bushels.	8,800	Pecans, pkgs.	165
Grass-seed, bags.	2,549	Rice, pkgs.	50
Flax-seed, bags.	383	Starch, bxs.	2,650
Corn-meal bags.	500	Tow, bales.	70
Buckwht Flour, pkgs	30	Tea, half-chests.	9
Hops, bales.	579	Tobacco, hhds.	177
Hides, No.	592	Tobacco, bxs. & cs.	1,182
Hides, bales.	611	Whisky, bbls.	575
Leather, sides.	8,565	Wool, bales.	448
Lead, pigs.	288

COFFEE—Rio has been quoted firm on, however, a rather quiet market; sales, 2,559 bags by the Fairy Belle and 2,534 bags by the France on private terms. ....Stock of Rio and Santos in first hands here this evening, 18,946 bags; at the outports, 20,497 bags, and afloat and loading for the United States to Oct. 1, 53,527 bags; purchased for the United States to Nov. 11, 241,000 bags....Other kinds inactive within the previous range....We quote invoices thus: Rio, ordinary, 16¼c.@16½c.; fair, 18¼c.@18½c. good, 18¾c.@19c.; prime 19¼c.@19½c., gold, ₩ lb., 60 days' credit; Rio, in job lots, 15¼c.@20¾c., gold; Santos, fair to good invoices, 17½c.@18¼c., and in job lots, ordinary to very choice, 16c.@20c.....Java, invoices, 20c.@23c.; Maracaibo, 16c.@18¼c.; Laguayra, 16½c.@17½c.; Savanilla, 16c.@18c.; Mexican, 16½c.@17½c.; Ceylon, 16½c.@18c.; Costa Rica, 16c.@19c.; and San Domingo, 15c.@15½c., gold, ₩ lb.

COTTON—Has been depressed and quoted lower for early delivery, ⅛c. ₩ lb. on a moderately active movement, partly for export.... Ordinary quoted at 10 3-16c.; Good Ordinary, 11 9-16c.@11 13-16c.; Middling, 12⅛c.@12 5-16c. ₩ lb....Sales were officially reported for prompt delivery of 3,239 bales, (of which 1,787 bales on Saturday evening,) including 8,394 bales to shippers, 1,545 bales to spinners, and 300 bales to speculators....And for forward delivery business has been more active, but at reduced prices....Sales have been reported since our last of 43,500 bales, of which 5,600 bales were on Saturday evening, and 37,900 bales to-day, with 4,300 bales on the calls, on the basis of Middling, with November options closing at 11 31-32c.@12c.; December, 12c.; January, 12⅛c.@12 5-32c.; February, 12 5-16c.@12½c.; March, 12 15-32c.@12½c.; April, 12 21-32c.; May, 12 27-32c.@12⅞c.; June, 13c.@13 1-32c.; July, 13 5-32c.; August, 13 7-32c.@13¼c. ₩ lb., showing a decline of 5-32c.@¼c. ₩ lb., closing steady....The receipts at this port to-day were 13,069 bales, and at the shipping ports 53,953 bales, against 43,-769 bales same day last week, and thus far this week, 80,178 bales, against 69,645 last week....The receipts at the shipping ports since Sept. 1, 1876, have been 1,304,647 bales, against 1,135,158 bales for the corresponding time in the preceding Cotton year....Consolidated exports (one day) for Great Britain from all shipping ports, 10,522 bales; to the Continent, 7,732 bales....Stock in New-York to-day, 145,483 bales, consolidated stock at the ports, 721,978 bales.

Closing Prices of Cotton in New-York.

New Cotton.	Uplands.	Alabama.	N. O.	Texas
Ordinary	10 3-16	10 3-16	10 3-16	10 3-16
Strict Ordinary	10 9-16	10 9-16	10 9-16	10 9-16
Good Ordinary	11 1-16	11 1-16	11 1-16	11 1-16
Strict Good Ord	11 5-16	11 5-16	11⅜	11⅜
Low Middling	11 9-16	11 11-16	11 13-16	11 13-16
Strict Low Mid	11⅞	12	12⅛	12⅛
Middling	12⅛	12¼	12 5-16	12 5-16
Good Middling	12 5-16	12 7-16	12 9-16	12 9-16
Strict Good Mid	12 9-16	12 11-16	12 13-16	12 13-16
Middling Fair	12 15-16	13 1-16	13 3-16	13 3-16
Fair	13⅝	13 13-16	13 15-16	13 15-16

Stained.

Good Ordinary	9 15-16	Low Middling	10 15-16
Strict Good Ord	10 9-16	Middling	11 7-16

FLOUR AND MEAL—State and Western Flour attracted more attention from shippers as well as for home trade purposes, and prices were generally quoted steadier; in the instance of desirable lots of low grade, a trifle higher. West India buyers were the principal export purchasers, taking City Mill Extras very freely at the ruling figures, the bulk of this trade having been within the range of $6 1[illegible]@$6 25, though a few favorite brands, chiefly in lots, in new pkgs., went at higher figures, up to $6 40, and for strictly Fancy up to $6 50, but these were extreme and exceptional quotations. English shippers were also more disposed to operate, but their bids were not, as a rule, satisfactory, and trade in this connection was comparatively moderate. Minnesota Extras were in much better request for home trade account, particularly straight brands, available at from $6 50@$7, for good to choice, higher than which latter rate of $7 it was difficult to place any brands of this class in other than small lots. The better qualities of Superfine and No. 2 were in more demand and quoted rather firmer, though not altered materially as to values. Unsound Extras, of good to choice quality, were of readier sale, partly for shipment, at full figures. ....Sales have been reported, since our last, of 24,850 bbls., of all grades, including unsound Flour at $3 50@$6 75, chiefly Western Extras, at $4 75@$5; Sour Flour at $3 50@$5 75, mainly Extras, at $4 25@$5; very poor to fancy No. 2 at $3 25@$4 10, mostly at $3 50@$4; very poor to very choice Superfine Western, $4 25@$5, mostly at $4 50@$4 85 for fair to very good; poor to very good Extra State, $5 15@$5 40, mainly at $5 25@$5 35; very good to strictly choice do. at $5 40@$5 75; City Mill Extras, shipping grades, $5 25@$6 25, mainly at $6 10@$6 25, for the West Indies, with very choice to fancy quoted higher; and at $5 25 for the English market; inferior to very good shipping Extra Western, $5 15@$5 40; very good to very choice do., $5 40@$5 75; round-hoop Ohio shipping at $5 15@$5 75, mainly at $5 25@$5 40; good to very choice Western Trade and Family Extras, Spring Wheat stock, $5 60@$7 50; very poor to very choice do., do., Red and Amber Winter Wheat stock at $5 60@$7 50; ordinary to very choice White Wheat, do., do., $5 75@$8 25; poor to very choice St. Louis Extras, $5 75@$8 25; Extra Genesee at $5 75@$6 75; poor to fancy Minnesota straight Extras, $5 75@$7 25, chiefly at $6 25@$7 for fair to choice; Minnesota Patent Extras, inferior to very choice, at $7 25@$9 50, mainly at $7 50@$8 50.... Included in the sales have been 14,500 bbls. shipping Extras, of which 11,600 bbls. City Mills, 3,500 bbls. Minnesota straight Extras, 1,050 bbls. do. patent do., 1,100 bbls. Winter Wheat Extras, (for shipment: these at $5 75@$6 25, mostly at $6@$6 25;) 700 bbls. Superfine, 450 bbls. No. 2, and 1,300 bbls. unsound Extras at quoted rates.....The movements in Southern Flour somewhat brisker; buyers have been purchasing, however, mostly for home trade purposes, and, in this connection, wholly to meet urgent requirements. Prices, however, have not varied materially, the principal holders showing less eagerness to place supplies, especially of favorite trade and family Extras....Sales have been reported here of 1,550 bbls., in lots, at $4 35@$5 for very poor to very choice Superfine; $5 25@$6 35 for poor to very choice shipping Extras; $6 40@$8 50 for fair to choice trade and family, the latter an extreme....The inquiry for Rye Flour is comparatively tame, at the moment, and with more liberal offering prices have favored buyers, in most instances. ....We quote from $4 35@$5 05 for poor Western to fancy State Superfine, and $2 50@$3 50 for poor to choice fine....Sales, 300 bbls., in lots, mainly at $4 75@$5 for fair to choice Superfine.... Corn-meal has been in more request, mostly for shipment, with prices quoted about steady....We quote at $2 70@$3 10 for ordinary to very choice Yellow Western; $2 70@$3 10 for Yellow Jersey, and $3 35 for Brandywine....Sales have been reported of 2,900 bbls., including Yellow Western, about fair to choice, at $2 80@$3; 500 bbls. Yellow, from store, at $2 80; and 1,600 bbls. Brandywine at $3 35....Corn-meal, in bags, has been less active; with sales reported of about 1,700 bags within the range of 90c.@$1 35 for ordinary to very choice, ₩ 100 lb.; most of the sales have been of coarse lots at 90c.@$1 09....Oat-meal has been quite dull throughout within the range of $5@$6 50; very choice held much higher ₩ bbl....Buckwheat Flour has been very moderately inquired for, within the range of $3@$3 25 for good choice State, Jersey, and Pennsylvania.

GRAIN—Wheat movements were very light to-day, checked by the meagre offerings of really desirable stock of Spring and Winter product, and the advance of 1c.@2c. a bushel claimed by sellers. The export inquiry was comparatively moderate. The somewhat stronger range of ocean grain freights toward the close was against the outward trade.... Sales have been reported to-day of 65,000 bushels, including new Red Western, about prime to choice, at $1 27@$1 30, chiefly at $1 27, new White do., at $1 35; with extra choice new White Michigan quoted at $1 38 bid, and $1 40 asked; new No. 1 Minnesota Spring prime to choice, at $1 31@$1 32; old and new No. 3 Milwaukee Spring, mixed stock, at $1 16; and ungraded Spring, in lots, at $1 12@$1 25....Corn was comparatively dull to-day. Export dealings light. Ungraded stock steady. New-York grades firmer....Sales have been reported since our last, of 57,000 bushels, including ungraded sailing vessel Mixed Western, prime to choice, 60c.@60½c., nearly prime at 60c.; No. 2 Chicago quoted at 60c.; Kansas do., at 60c.@60½c.; ungraded steamer Mixed do., 58½c.@59c.; New-York No. 2 White at 59½c.; New-York Mixed at 60c.; New-York steamer Mixed at 59c.; New-York Low Mixed at 59c.; New-York No. 1 at 60c.@60½c.; New-York no grade at 55c.@57c. for old and new; New-York unmerchantable at 52c.; new crop Mixed Western, car lots, at 54c.@57c.; Yellow Western at 60c.@61c....And for forward delivery, prime sailing vessel Mixed Western for November, quoted nominal, at 59½c.@60c.... Rye has been quoted firm and wanted; fair to choice Western quoted at 75c.@80c.; fair to prime State at 85c.@88c.; good to very choice Canada, in bond, afloat; at 87c.@92c., car lots and afloat....Sales reported of 8,500 bushels choice Canada, in bond, at 92c.; 2,000 bushels No. 2 Western at 76c., and 1,200 bushels prime State at 88c....Barley has been held firmly, but has been inactive to-day. Sales reported of 500 bushels choice two-rowed State, to arrive, at 82½c. ₩ bushel. A slow trade has been reported in Barley-malt, with fair to very choice Canada West quoted about steady at $1 10@$1 30, cash and time; six-rowed State, fair to very choice, at 95c.@$1 05....Buckwheat has been in some request; new State, quoted at 80c.@85c.; selling chiefly at 80c....Canada Peas have been steady at 93c.@93½c., in bond, with sales reported of 6,000 bushels on the basis of 93c....Oats have been quite active, and quoted decidedly stronger in price, in instances 1c.@2c. a bushel dearer. The trade call has been more urgent....Sales reported of 61,000 bushels, including new White Western, in lots, at 36c.@45c., as to quality, mostly at 38c.@43c.; new White State, ordinary to very choice, at 48c.@52c., chiefly at 50c.@51½c., afloat; new Mixed Western, 32c.@44c., as to quality, mostly at 33c.@38c.; New-York No. 2 White, at 42c.@43c., closing at 43c.; New-York No. 3 White at 38c.; New-York No. 3 at 36½c.; New-York No. 2 at 38c.; New-York Rejected at 32½c.@33c.; new Mixed State at 46c.@50c. for poor to choice, chiefly at 50c., afloat....The business was mostly in State and New-York graded stock....Old Oats quoted strong, but inactive....The offerings of desirable lots of Feed have been on a limited scale, and prices of the several grades have shown decided firmness, with a good demand noted for supplies especially to meet the requirements of local jobbers....We quote within the range of $18@$24 as extremes ₩ ton....The main dealings have been at $13@$14 for 40-lb. stock; $16@$17 50 for 60-lb.; $17 50@$19 for 80-lb.; $20@$22 for 100-lb.; $16@17 for Rye Feed, and $22@$24 for Sharps, ₩ ton....Bale Hay has been more sought after, partly for shipment, and has been quoted firm as to values....We quote shipping qualities within the range of 55c.@60c., and retailing qualities at 70c.@95c. ₩ 100 lb.; Clover, 50c.@55c.; Salt Hay, 50c.@60c....Straw has been in good demand at steady rates, including Rye Straw, within the range of 50c.@75c.; Oat, 46c.@50c. ₩ 100 lb....Timothy Seed has been in moderately active request, at from $1 95@$2 for prime to choice....Sales reported of 1,500 bags at $1 95@$1 97½, part to arrive....American Rough Flax has been quiet, but quoted about steady at $1 55@$1 60 ₩ bushel....Clover has been more sought after, and quoted firm at 15c.@16½c. for very good to choice....Sales reported of 950 bags at 15-16c.@15¼c., chiefly at 15⅛c. ....Foreign Hemp-seed has been inactive; quoted here at $1 85@$1 95....Canary-seed has been in less request at from $3 25@$4 ₩ bushel....Calcutta Linseed has been in light demand, but quoted firm at $2@$2 05, gold, ₩ 56 lb....The stock of Grain in store at this port to-day embraces 2,149,876 bushels Wheat, 3,328,629 bushels Corn, 305,983 bushels Rye, 585,607 bushels Barley, 502,652 bushels Malt, 1,018,623 bushels Oats, and 4,327 bushels Peas....The aggregate of Grain in store is 7,896,337 bushels, as against 7,620,960 bushels last Monday, and 6,380,416 bushels Nov. 15, 1875.

HIDES—Of Montevideo, 25,000 to 28,000 sold, to arrive, at 22c. gold, 4 months' credit; market firm.

MOLASSES—Desirable invoices of foreign refining stock have been in comparatively light supply, and, with a better inquiry noted, prices have been quoted stronger....Cuba Muscovado quoted on the basis of 36c.@37c. for 50 test. The actual dealings, however, as reported, have been unimportant....A fair demand from jobbing sources has been also noted for suitable qualities of foreign at full rates.... Porto Rico quoted at 40c.@58c.; English Islands at 40c.@50c....In the jobbing line, foreign has been moderately dealt in, with quotations showing steadiness. ....New-Orleans has been fairly active in a jobbing way; with good to choice new crop quoted at 55c.@63½c. Sales include 100 bbls., to arrive, at 60c.@63c....Syrup has been in fair request, with Sugar Syrup quoted at 40c.@58c.; Molasses (nominal) at 35c.@40c. ₩ gallon....Sugar-house Molasses has been in more demand, chiefly for export, in good part for the Glasgow market, for which port, liberal steam-freight contracts, for forward shipment, have been recently made, as already mentioned in our regular freight report. Prices have been quoted firmer on the basis of 24c. for hhds., and 26c.@27c. for bbls.; extra lots quoted higher.

NAVAL STORES—Resin has been offered sparingly and quoted higher, with a good demand noted....We quote at $2 10 for Strained, $2 15@$2 20 for good Strained, $2 25@$2 40 for No. 2, $2 45@$3 75 for No. 1, $4 25@$6 75 for Pale to extra Pale and Window Glass, ₩ 280 lb. Sales 700 bbls. good Strained at $2 13@$2 15; 400 bbls. No. 2 at $2 30; 1,000 bbls. Nos. 2 and 1 at $2 25@$3 25; and 700 bbls. Strained and No. 2 at $2 20....Tar has been in fair request, at $2 50@$2 75 ₩ bbl. Sales 100 bbls. on private terms. ....Pitch in demand, at $2 25 ₩ bbl....Spirits Turpentine has been quiet, with merchantable, for prompt delivery, quoted at the close at 38c.@38½c. ₩ gallon. Sales, 80 bbls. at 38½c....Stock in yard to-day—76,564 bbls. Resin; 1,390 bbls. Tar; and 3,363 bbls. Spirits Turpentine. Stock afloat, 8,534 bbls. Resin, 31 bbls. Tar, and 1,606 bbls. Spirits Turpentine.

PETROLEUM—Crude has been in fairly active request since our last, and quoted at 11⅝c., in bulk, and 15½c. in shipping order....Refined has been in good demand for shipment; quoted by refiners at 26c. Sales of 7,000 bbls. high test at 27c....Refined, in cases, wanted and quoted at 30c. for Standard....Naphtha at 14c.....At Philadelphia, Refined Petroleum, for early delivery, quoted at 26c....At Baltimore, early delivery at 26c. Sales 5,000 bbls.

PROVISIONS—Mess Pork has been very moderately sought after for early delivery, at about former figures. ....Sales reported since our last for early delivery, 150 bbls. Western Mess, for shipment, at $17....Other kinds dull. Sales, 100 bbls. Extra Prime, for Chicago delivery, at $12 37½....And for forward delivery here, Western Mess was in moderate demand; quoted for November at $17; December, $16@$16 05; January, $16@$16 05; February, $16 15; March, $16 15; sales, 500 bbls. February at $16 10, and 250 bbls. March at $16 15....Dressed Hogs have been in better supply and less request, with City quoted down to 7c.@8c.... Cut-meats have been moderately inquired for at rather easier figures. Sales include 26,500 lb. Pickled Bellies, in bulk, part 16 to 10 lb. at 8¾c.@10c., and sundry small lots of City bulk within our range; also 75 bxs. Clear Bellies, part at 10⅜c....We quote: City Pickled Shoulders, in bulk, at 6⅞c.@7c.; Pickled Hams at 12c.; Smoked Shoulders at 8½c.; Smoked Hams at 14c.@14½c....Bacon has been in light demand here, for early delivery, at previous rates....Long Clear quoted here at 8⅝c.@8¾c. Sales, 75 bxs. at 8⅝c. And Long and Short Clear, for December, quoted at 8⅝c.@8¾c.; and Short Clear, for January, at 9c....And for Western delivery, Long and Short Clear, for December, quoted at 8⅛c.@8¼c....Western Steam Lard has been in fair demand and again quoted firmer for early delivery....Of Western Steam for early delivery here, sales have been reported of 180 tcs. prime at $10 50@$10 55, closing at $10 55@$10 60; and 85 tcs. off grade at $10 35@$10 50. ....And for forward delivery Western Steam was rather more sought after and quoted at the close, for November, at $10 07½@$10 10; December, $9 87½, seller the remainder of the year at $9 87½@$9 90; January at $9 92½@$9 95, and seller February at $10 02½@$10 05.... Sales were reported of Western Steam to the extent of 250 tcs., December, at $9 87½; 1,500 tcs., seller the remainder of the year, $9 87½@$9 90; 2,000 tcs., February, at $10@$10 02½....City Steam and Kettle Lard has been in moderate request; quoted at $10 25@$10 37½; sales, 200 tcs....And No. 1 quoted at $10 ....Refined Lard in fair request; quoted for the Continent at $11 for prompt delivery; South America, $11@$11 25, and for the West Indies at $9 75.... Sales have been reported of 250 tcs. for the West Indies and 400 tcs. for South America on private terms....Beef has been in rather better demand since our last at essentially unchanged quotations....We quote barrel Beef at $10@$11 for Extra Mess, $8@$10 for Plain Mess, and $13 50@$14 for Packet ₩ bbl. Sales 100 bbls. Extra Mess on private terms....Tierce Beef quoted thus: Prime Mess, new, at $21@$23; India Mess, new, at $21@$23; City Extra India Mess, $27; Philadelphia at $23@$25.... Sales 100 tcs....Beef Hams have been in more request, with choice Western, here, quoted at $20 ₩ bbl; sales, 165 bbls....Butter and Eggs quoted about steady, on a moderate inquiry. ....Cheese a shade firmer, and in good demand; best State Factory at 13¾c.@14c....Tallow has been in fair demand at about steady figures: sales, 120,000 lb. very good to strictly prime at 8¾c.@8⅞c....Stearine has attracted rather more attention, with Western in tcs., prime to very choice, quoted at $10 37½@$10 75; sales, 50 tcs., at the quoted rates....Choice City, in hhds., quoted at $11....A very moderate movement has been reported in Domestic Rice, at previous prices.....We quote fair to prime Carolina, in job lots, at $5 25@$6 50; Louisiana, $5@$5 75....East India Rice in slack demand, with Rangoon quoted at $2 70@$2 75, gold, in bond; Patna at $7@$7 12½, currency, free, ₩ 100 lb.

SUGARS—Raw have been offered sparingly and again quoted higher, with a good demand noted....We now quote fair to good Refining Cuba at 9⅞c.@10⅛c....; Sales, 600 hhds. Refining Cuba at 10c., and 8,000 mats Manila, low grade, at 8½c....Refined in brisk request at a further sharp rise in prices; Granulated up to 13c.; Powdered at 12½c.; Crushed at 13½c.; Cut Loaf, 14c.; Soft White at 11⅜c.@12c.; Soft Yellow at 10c.@11⅛c. ₩ lb.

WHISKY—Very dull; offered at $1 10, with bids reported of $1 08½@$1 09. Sales reported late of 50 bbls. at $1 10.

FREIGHTS—A generally steady, but quiet market was reported to-day in this line. Berth room was offered less freely, and in instances quoted somewhat firmer, with a fair inquiry for accommodation, mostly for Cotton, Grain, Flour, Resin, and Provisions. And in the chartering line a moderate movement was reported, chiefly in the way of Petroleum contracts, at full rates....For Liverpool, the engagements reported since our last, have been, by sail, 3,700 bales Cotton at 5-16d. ₩ lb.; 8,000 bushels Grain at 8¾d. ₩ 60 lb., and 500 bags Cotton-seed Meal at 2 s. 6d. ₩ ton, and by steam, 4,100 bxs. Bacon at 40s. ₩ ton; 1,200 bxs. Cheese, part at 50s. ₩ ton; 800 bbls. Apples, part at 5s. ₩ bbl.; and by steam, from the West, on through freight, 3,800 pkgs. Provisions for prompt and forward shipment, within the range of 61½c.@70c. ₩ 100 lb. Also a Norwegian bark, 461 tons, hence, with about 3,200 bbls. Refined Petroleum, reported on private terms, (option of London,) quoted nominally at 4s. 9d.@5s. ₩ bbl....For London, by steam, 35,000 bushels Grain, chiefly at 6¾d.@7d. ₩ bushel; also, a Norwegian bark, 629 tons, hence, with about 4,000 bbls. Refined Petroleum at 4s. 6d.; and another, 432 tons, hence, with about 3,000 bbls. do., at 4s. 6d., (with option of Bristol at the same rate, or Liverpool at 4s. 7½d.) ₩ bbl....For Glasgow, by sail, 4,600 bbls. Flour at 2s. 10½d. ₩ bbl.; 2,500 bbls. Resin at 3s. ₩ 280 lb.; and slate reported, to fill up, on private terms; and, by steam, 8,000 bushels Wheat, at 7d ₩ bushel; 1,000 bbls. Apples and 200 tons Provisions on private terms. Also an Italian bark, 760 tons placed on the berth, hence, for general cargo....For Bristol, by sail, 1,000 bbls. Flour, at 3s. ₩ bbl.; and 400 bbls. Tallow at 30s. ₩ ton.... For Hull, by steam, 3,500 bbls. Refined Sugar, at 30s. ₩ ton; also a Norwegian bark, 464 tons, hence, with Deals, at 92s. 6d....For Cork and orders, an Italian bark, 372 tons, hence, with Syrup, at 28s. 9d. ₩ ton, flat. Vessels for the Grain trade were inquired for, to a limited extent, at 5s. 10½d.@6s. for local loading, and 6s. for Philadelphia or Baltimore loading. Reports from Boston are of extreme and protracted dullness in this interest, with quotations wholly nominal, as they have been for some time past.....For Antwerp, by steam, of through freight, 1,000 pks. Provisions on private terms, quoted nominally at 50s.@52s. 6d. ₩ ton; also a British bark, 942 tons, hence, with about 6,000 bbls. Refined Petroleum at 4s. 6d. ₩ bbl....For Bremen, by sail, 250 bales Cotton, at ¾c. ₩ lb....For the Continent, an American bark, 564 tons, with about 3,500 bbls. Refined Petroleum, from Philadelphia, at 4s. 9d.; a British bark, 847 tons, with about 5,600 bbls. do, from do, at 4s. 4½d.@4s. 6d.; a German bark, 535 tons, with about 3,600 bbls. do, from Baltimore, at 4s. 9d., ₩ bbl....For the north side of Cuba and back, an American schooner, 283 tons, at $5, for Sugar.

THE LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

NEW-YORK, Monday, Nov. 13, 1876.

Trade in Horned Cattle on this forenoon was firm at the closing rates of last week; the quality of the herds to hand was so far superior to that received heretofore that rates were higher in consequence. At Sixtieth Street Yards prices were 8c.@11c. ₩ lb., weights 6 to 10 cwt. At Harsimus Cove prices ranged from 8c.@10½c. ₩ lb. weights 5¾ to 9 cwt.; from 55 to 57 lb. has been allowed net. Milch Cows of fair quality in fair demand; poor quality Cows very slow of sale; prices $45@$75 per head. Calves included. Smooth quality Veals sold at 8c.@9c. ₩ lb.; grass-fed Calves at 5c. ₩ lb.; also, at $8@$12 50 ₩ head. Trade in Sheep and Lambs fair; Sheep sold at 4c.@6c. ₩ lb.; Lambs at 5⅛c.@6¾c. ₩ lb.; mixed flocks at $5 25@$6 31¼ ₩ cwt. One car of Hogs sold on live weight, terms not obtained. Trade in City Dressed dull. Hogs, 300 lb. ₩ head, 6¾c. ₩ lb.; Hogs, 230 lb. downward, 7½c. ₩ lb.; Hogs, 250 lb. downward, 7¾c. ₩ lb.; Hogs, 118 lb. ₩ head, 8c. ₩ lb.; light Pigs, 8¼c. ₩ lb.

SALES.

At Sixtieth Street Yards.—T. C. Eastman sold for self, 36 cars of horned Cattle. Sales as follows: 104 common Illinois Steers at 9c. ₩ lb., weight 6¾ cwt.; 17 common Illinois Steers at 9½c. ₩ lb., weight 7¼ cwt.; 94 fair Illinois Steers at 10c. ₩ lb., weight 8 cwt.; 30 good Illinois Steers at 10½c. ₩ lb., weight 8½ cwt.; 30 good Illinois Steers at 10¾c. ₩ lb., weight, 8¾ cwt.; 44 choice Illinois Steers at 10½c.@11c., ₩ lb., weight, 9¼ cwt.; 107 Kentucky Steers at 10½c. ₩ lb., with $1 on ₩ head, weight 9¼ cwt.; 107 good Kentucky Steers, at 10½c. ₩ lb., weight 9½ cwt.; T. Wheeler sold for T. C. Eastman, 40 good Illinois Steers at 10c.@10¾c. ₩ lb., weights, 7 cwt.@9 cwt. O. P. Evens sold for self 36 grass-fed Indiana Steers, at 8c ₩ lb., weight, 6 cwt.; 162 Indiana Steers, from common to fair, from 8½@9¾c. ₩ lb., weight 7½ cwt. Coon & Thompson sold for Coon & Hosserry, 98 Illinois Steers, from common to fair, from 9¼c.@10¼c. ₩ lb., weight 9¼ cwt.; 42 good Illinois Steers at 10¼c.@10½c. ₩ lb., weight 9 cwt. Gillis & Brown sold for selves, 33 choice Illinois Steers at 10½c.@11c. ₩ lb., weight 9¼ cwt.; for S. Sianer, 77 Ohio Steers, from fair to choice, from 10c.@11c. ₩ lb., weights 8 to 8¾ cwt. H. F. Burchard sold for G. Roberts, 38 common Ohio Steers at 9c. ₩ lb., weight 6¾ cwt.; 34 common Ohio Steers at 9½c. ₩ lb., with $1 off ₩ head, weight 7¼ cwt.; for Rankin & Thompson 30 good Illinois Steers at 9¾c.@10¼c. ₩ lb., weight 9 cwt.; for A. Van Atta, 75 common Indiana Steers at 9c. ₩ lb., with $1 on ₩ head, weight 7¼ cwt.; 37 common Indiana Steers at 9¼c. ₩ lb., weight 7¼ cwt.; 30 Indiana Steers, from common to fair, from 9¼c.@10¼c. ₩ lb., weight 7½ cwt. S. Moses sold for self 170 generally common Illinois Steers at 9c.@9½c. ₩ lb., with tops at 9¾c. ₩ lb., weight 6½ to 7¼ cwt. C. Kahn sold for J. Brown 168 Kentucky Steers from common to good from 9¼c.@10¾c. ₩ lb., weights 6½ to 10 cwt.; for Kahn & Furst 161 good Kentucky Steers at 10c.@10½c. ₩ lb., weight 8 cwt.; for G. Becker and for H. Kohn, 4 car-loads of Kentucky Steers, terms not obtained; G. W. Vail sold for self 33 common State Steers at 9¼c. ₩ lb., weight 7 cwt.; 17 common Illinois Steers at 9¼c. ₩ lb., weight 7½ cwt.; Ulery & Cary sold for Goff & Ulery 99 Kentucky Steers, from common to good, from 9½c.@10¼c. ₩ lb., weights 7¾ to 8 cwt.; for Ulery & Cary 34 good Illinois Steer at 10c.@10½c. ₩ lb., with $1 on per head, weight 9 cwt.; for M. Kirchway 64 generally common State Steers at 9¾c.@9½c. ₩ lb., with tops at 10c. ₩ lb., weight 7 cwt. scant. Hume & Elliott sold 191 State Sheep, weight 14,920 lb, at 4¾c. ₩ lb; 280 State Sheep, weight 24,369 lb., at 5¼c. ₩ lb.; 95 State Sheep, weight 8,100 lb, at 5c. ₩ lb; 125 Ohio Sheep, weight 11,400 lb, at 4¾c. ₩ lb.; 195 Ohio Sheep, weight 1,583 lb, at 4⅝c. ₩ lb; 165 Pennsylvania Sheep, weight 17,720 lb, at 5¾c. ₩ lb.; 500 Canada Sheep and Lambs, weight 44,790 lb, at 6c. ₩ lb; 65 State Lambs, weight 4,630 lb, at 5¾c. ₩ lb.; 118 State Lambs, weight 7,540 lb, at 6c. ₩ lb; 204 Pennsylvania Lambs, weight 14,210 lb, at 6c. ₩ lb; 72 Canada Lambs, weight 12,910 lb, at 6¼c. ₩ lb; 1 grass-fed Calf, weight 155 lb., at 5c. ₩ lb.; 1 Veal, weight 200 lb., at 8c. ₩ lb.; 2 Veals, weight 310 lb., at 9c. ₩ lb.; 67 grass-fed Calves at $8 ₩ head; 60 grass-fed Calves at $9 ₩ head; 46 grass-fed Calves at $12 50 ₩ head. Sold for week ending Nov. 11, 1876, 11,541 Sheep and Lambs at $4 26, average, ₩ head; 364 Veals and Calves at $10 94, average, ₩ head. W. Elliott sold 172 State Sheep, weight 14,760 lb., at 4c. ₩ lb; 43 State Sheep, weight 3,330 lb., at 4¾c. ₩ lb.; 98 State Sheep, weight 8,340 lb, at 4½c. ₩ lb.; 222 Ohio Sheep, weight 18,150 lb, at 4¾c. ₩ lb.; 74 Canada Sheep, weight 9,000 lb. at $5 60 ₩ cwt.; 198 Ohio Lambs, weight 17,640 lb., at 5⅛c. ₩ lb.; 121 State Lambs, weight 8,190 lb., at 5⅜c. ₩ lb.; 53 State Lambs, weight 3,480 lb., at 5⅝c. ₩ lb.; 272 Canada Lambs, weight 20,390 lb., at 6⅜c. ₩ lb.; 174 Canada Lambs, weight 13,420 lb., at 6½c. ₩ lb.

At Forty-eighth Street Sheep Market—J. Kirby sold 490 Indiana Sheep, weight 42,480 lb., at 4¾c. ₩ lb.; 12 Indiana Sheep, weight 1,260 lb., at 5c. ₩ lb.; 152 Canada Lambs, weight 10,480 lb., at 6⅜c. ₩ lb.; 324 Canada Lambs, weight 24,810 lb., at 6½c. ₩ lb. Davis & Hollenbeck sold 4 State Bucks, weight 470 lb., at 4c. ₩ lb.; 96 State Sheep, weight 8,200 lb., at 4¾c. ₩ lb.; 116 State Ewes, weight 9,850 lb., at 4¾c. ₩ lb.; 48 State Sheep, weight 3,730 lb., at 4½c. ₩ lb.; 81 State Ewes, weight 3,030 lb., at 5c. ₩ lb.; 204 State Sheep, weight 16,640 lb., at 5¼c. ₩ lb.; 36 Canada Sheep, weight 4,060 lb., at 5½c. ₩ lb.; 146 Canada Ewes, weight 19,550 lb., at 6c. ₩ lb.; 345 Canada Sheep and Lambs, weight 28,440 lb., at 6¼c. ₩ lb.; 353 Canada Sheep and Lambs, weight 32,590 lb., at $6 31¼c. ₩ cwt.; 143 State Lambs, weight 10,260 lb., at 6¼c. ₩ lb.; 100 State Lambs, weight 6,910 lb., at 6c. ₩ lb.; 139 State Lambs, weight 11,180 lb., at $5 31¼ ₩ cwt.; 52 State Lambs, weight 4,220 lb., at 6½c. ₩ lb. Sold for week ending Nov. 11, 1876, 4,705 Sheep and Lambs, at $4 97½ average ₩ head.

At Harsimus Cove Yards—Coney & McPherson sold for J. M. Reid 30 common Ohio Steers at 8¾c.@9c. ₩ lb., weight 6½ cwt.; for F. W. Fisk, 46 Ohio Steers, from fair to good, from 10c.@10¼c. ₩ lb., weight 8½ cwt.; for M. May 36 State Cows at 9½c.@10½c. ₩ lb., weight 6½ to 9 cwt.; for J. A. Dadisman, 15 good Kentucky Steers at 10¼c. ₩ lb., weight, 8 cwt.; for J. Holmes, 18 common Ohio Steers at 8c. ₩ lb., weight 6 cwt. M. Goldschmidt sold for Saddler & Co. 82 fair Illinois Steers at 9¾c.@10¼c. ₩ lb, weight 6¾ to 7¾ cwt.; 31 Steers and Oxen mixed at 9¼c. ₩ lb., weight 7 cwt. Bond H. Westneimer sold for Willard & Co. 71 common State Steers at 8½c.@8¾c. ₩ lb., weight 6¼ to 7 cwt.; 95 common State Steers at 9c. with $1 on ₩ head and 9½c. ₩ lb., weight 6½ to 6¼ cwt.; for N. Reid, 39 common Ohio Steers at 8½c. ₩ lb., with 50c. off ₩ head, weight 5¾ cwt. W. E. Dudley sold for N. Morris 52 common Illinois Steers at 9c. ₩ lb., weight 6¼ to 6½ cwt., scant.; 64 common Illinois Steers at 9½c. ₩ lb., with 25c. off on 48 head, and $1 off on 16 head, weight 7 cwt. S. O'Donnell sold for S. W. Allerton 125 mixed Steers and Oxen at 8¾c.@9c. ₩ lb., weights 6½ to 6¾ cwt.; 37 common Illinois Steers at 9¼c. ₩ lb, with $1 on ₩ head, weight 7 cwt. G. Ayrault sold for D. F. Fitzhugh 78 common State Steers at 8¾c. ₩ lb., weight 6¾ cwt.; for self 33 common State Steers at 8½c.@9c. ₩ lb., weight 7 cwt., scant. M. Lauterbeck sold for N. Morris 99 common Illinois Steers at 9¼c.@9½c. ₩ lb., weight 7¼ cwt.; 56 common Illinois Steers at 9½c. ₩ lb., with $1 on ₩ head on 25 head, weights 7 to 7¼ cwt; 22 fair Illinois Steers at 9¾c. ₩ lb., with $1 off ₩ head, weight 7 cwt. E. Vogel sold for N. Morris 43 common Illinois Steers at 9c.@9¼c. ₩ lb., weight 6¾ cwt.; 54 common Illinois Steers at 9½c. ₩ lb., with $1 off ₩ head on 34 head, weights 6¾ to 7 cwt. F. Samuels sold for N. Morris 47 common Illinois Steers at 9c. ₩ lb., with $1 on ₩ head, weights 6½ to 6¾ cwt.; 99 common Illinois Steers at 9¼c.@9½c. ₩ lb., weights 6¼ to 7 cwt.; 15 fair Illinois Steers at 9¾c. ₩ lb., weight 6¾ cwt., strong. S. W. Sherman sold for S. W. Allerton 118 common Illinois Steers at 8¾c. ₩ lb., with $1 off ₩ head on 10 head, weights 6 to 6½ cwt. D. Waixel sold for I. Waixel 15 common Illinois Steers at 9c. ₩ lb., weight 6½ cwt.; 68 common Illinois Steers at 9½c. ₩ lb., with $1 off per head, weights 6¾ strong, to 7½ cwt.; 78 fair Illinois Steers at 10c. ₩ lb., weights 7 to 7½ cwt.; 20 fair Illinois Steers at 10¼c. ₩ lb., with $1 on ₩ head, weight 8 cwt. Judd & Buckingham sold 201 Ohio Sheep, weight 85 lb. ₩ head, at 4⅞c. ₩ lb.; 211 Ohio Sheep, weight 89 lb. ₩ head, at 5c. ₩ lb.; 101 State Sheep, weight 67 lb. ₩ head, at 4⅞c. ₩ lb.; 173 State Lambs, weight 78 lb. ₩ head, at 6⅛c. ₩ lb.; sold for week ending Nov. 11, 1876, 3,244 Sheep and Lambs; average of Lambs, $4 78 ₩ head; average of Sheep, $3 64 ₩ head. Kase & Pidcock sold 217 Ohio Sheep, weight 72 lb. ₩ head, at 4¼c. ₩ lb.; 40 Ohio Sheep, weight 79 lb. ₩ head, at 4½c. ₩ lb.; 103 Ohio Sheep, weight 85 lb. ₩ head, at 5c. ₩ lb.; 52 Kentucky Sheep, weight 103 lb. ₩ head, at 5½c. ₩ lb. Sold for week ending Nov. 11, 1876, 3,558 Sheep and Lambs at $4 82 average ₩ head.

RECEIPTS.

Gross arrivals at Sixtieth Street Yards for week ending Nov. 13, 1876: 5,408 head of horned Cattle, 21 Cows, 1,019 Veals and Calves, 3,266 Sheep and Lambs.

Gross arrivals at Forty-eighth Street Sheep Market for week ending Nov. 13: 9,048 Sheep and Lambs, 297 Veals and Calves, 138 Beeves, 34 Cows.

Gross arrivals at Fortieth Street Hog Yards for week ending Nov. 11, 1876: 13,447 Hogs. Fresh arrivals at same yards for yesterday and to-day: 6,372 Hogs.

Gross arrivals at Harsimus Cove for week ending Nov. 11, 1876: 5,394 head of horned Cattle, 78 Veals, 6,592 Sheep and Lambs, 9,568 Hogs.

Fresh arrivals at same yards for yesterday and to-day: 2,498 head of horned Cattle, 2,820 Sheep and Lambs, 4,191 Hogs.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 13.—The receipts of Cattle at East Liberty, Penn., since Friday, have been 144 cars of through, and 51 cars of yard stock, in all 3,451 head, making a total for the week ending to-day, 6,188 head, or 215 cars of through, and 149 cars of yard stock, against 232 cars of through, and 222 cars of yard stock for last week; business for the week has not yet opened, only a few selling at retail; no quotations. Hogs—Receipts, 13,420 head, making a total for the week of 25,680 head, against 13,585 head for last week; the supply is heavy; Yorkers, $5 25@$5 50; Philadelphias, $5 75@$5 90. Sheep—Receipts, 1,400 head, making a total for the week of 4,300 head, against 11,500 head for last week; none selling.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Cattle—Receipts, 1,800 head; shipments, 1,800 head; scarce and firm; few sales; extra, $5 10; good to choice, $4 60@$4 85; Colorado, Texans, and Kansas Steers, $3 90@$4 30; City Butchers' and Cows, $2 87½@$3 05; Stockers, $3@$3 15, closing steady and firm. Hogs—Receipts 5,000 head; shipments, 3,300 head; market active and a shade easier; packing, $5 30@$5 70; shipping, $5 70@$6; sales chiefly at $5 50@$5 75. Sheep—Receipts, 800 head; market quiet, but steady; sales at $3 50@$4 25.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.—Cattle, rather dull, but prices about the same as last week; sales, 2,400 head; Extra Pennsylvania and Western Steers, 6⅝c.@6¾c.; Fair to Good do., 4¾c.@5½c.; Common, 3c.@4¼c.; Sheep, unchanged; sales, 13,000 head at 5c.@5¾c.; Hogs, lower; sales, 5,000 head at $7 50@$8 50.

THE STATE OF TRADE.

BUFFALO, Nov. 13.—Receipts by Lake—Flour, 15,25[illegible] bbls.; Corn, 195,985 bushels; Wheat, 255,924 bushels; Barley, 34,742 bushels. Receipts by Railroad—Flour, 7,300 bbls.; Corn, 26,400 bushels; Wheat, 16,500 bushels; Oats, 19,000 bushels; Barley, 7,200 bushels; Rye, 2,500 bushels. Shipments by Canal to Tide-water—Corn, 319,976 bushels; Wheat, 266,038 bushels. Shipments to Interior Points—Wheat, 14,300 bushels. Shipments by Railroad—Flour, 18,040 bbls.; Corn, 48,-400 bushels; Wheat, 74,400 bushels; Oats, 19,000 bushels; Barley, 30,200 bushels. Flour in good demand and steady; sales, 1,300 bbls. at unchanged prices. Wheat firm; a shade higher: sales, 14,000 bushels Sheboygan Spring at $1 27; 9,500 bushels Port Washington at $1 26; two cars No. 1 White Michigan at $1 36. Corn active; sales early of 18,000 bushels No. 1 at 57½c.; later, 24,000 bushels do. at 52c.; 2,500 bushels do., to arrive, at 52c.; 2 cars Low Mixed Toledo, at 52½c.; 3,000 bushels do., in lots, to millers at 52c. Oats dull; sales of 1 car Ohio on track at 36c. Rye neglected. Barley quiet; sales of 1 car four-rowed State on track at 83c.; 1 car two-rowed do. at 72½c.; 3,500 bushels Canada on private terms. Malt—Fair trade; prices nominally unchanged. Seeds inactive; holding at unchanged prices. High-wines—Sales 150 bbls. at $1 11@$1 13. Pork and Lard—Fair trade and demand; prices unchanged. Canal Freights unsettled, lower to New-York. Wheat, 6½c.@7c., Corn 6c.@6½c. 1c. less on hard Grain, and ½c. on Oats to Albany and Troy. Railroad Freights quiet, unchanged. Grain in Store in Elevators—Wheat, 352,256 bushels; Corn, 392,421 bushels; Oats, 22,070 bushels; Barley, 409,995 bushels; Rye, 16,431 bushels; Peas, 367 bushels; Malt, 26,155 bushels. Estimated Malt in store in malt-house, 75,000 bushels. Grain Afloat on Erie and Oswego Canals for Tide-water—Wheat, 1,464,943 bushels; Corn, 931,930 bushels; Barley, 645,552 bushels; Rye, 30,385 bushels. Grain Afloat on Barges bound for Buffalo—Wheat, 531,000 bushels; Corn, 386,000 bushels; Barley, 100,000 bushels; Oats, 38,000 bushels. Grain Chartered for this Port—Wheat, 164,000 bushels; Corn, 115,000 bushels.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Flour quiet but steady; Spring Extras, $4 50@$6 25; Minnesota, $5 25@$7; Extra Winter, $5@$7 25. Wheat active, firm, and higher; No. 1 Chicago Spring, $1 11½; No. 2 do., $1 10⅜ cash; $1 10¼, November; $1 11⅝, December; $1 13, January; No. 3 do., $1 00½@$1 01; Rejected, 88c.@91c. Corn fairly active and a shade higher; N. 2 43½c., cash; 43⅜c. all the year. Oats fairly active and a shade higher; 32¼c.@32½c., cash; 32c., November; 33⅛c., December. Rye moderately active and higher, at 60c.@61c. Barley easier at 78c. cash; 80c., December. Pork steady and firm, $16 cash; $15 37½ all the year; $15 45 January. Lard firmer; $9 75@$9 80 cash; $9 45 all the year. Bulk-meats firmer; Shoulders 6⅜c.@6½c.; Short Rib Sides 8⅜c.@8½c.; Short Clear Sides 8⅝c.@8¾c. Whisky dull and lower at $1 07. Railroad Freights unchanged. Receipts—Flour, 15,000 bbls.; Wheat, 111,000 bushels; Corn, 72,000 bushels; Oats, 16,000 bushels; Rye, 2,700 bushels; Barley, 35,000 bushels. Shipments—Flour, 10,000 bbls.; Wheat, 63,-000 bushels; Corn, 134,000 bushels; Oats, 20,000 bushels; Rye, 45,000 bushels; Barley, 16,000 bushels. At the afternoon call of the board, Wheat strong at ⅛c. advance. Corn firmer; 43⅝c. cash, 43¾c. higher; 33½c. December. Pork easier; $15 45 January. Lard lower; $9 70@$9 75 cash; $9 47½@$9 50 January.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 13.—Flour held above buyers views; scarcely anything done. Wheat higher; No. 2 Red Fall $1 27½; No. 2 Amber, $1 13@$1 13½, cash; $1 15¼@$1 15½, December. Corn higher; No. 2 Mixed, 41c.@41½c., cash; 40½c., January. Oats higher; No. 2 at 31¾c.@31⅞c. bid. cash; 32¾c. bid, December. Rye higher at 65c. Barley steady and unchanged; scarcely anything done. Pork dull; old, $16 50; new, $15 75. Lard quiet and unchanged. Bulk-meats steady; Shoulders, 6⅜c. Clear Rib Sides 8⅛c.; Clear Sides, 8⅜c. Bacon higher; Shoulders 7¼c.; Clear Rib Sides, 8⅞c.@9c.; Clear Sides, 9⅛c.@9½c. Hogs steady, with a good demand; Yorkers $5 25@$5 50; Bacon, 5 50@$5 70; Butchers, including fancy, $5 75@$5 90. Cattle in good demand at full prices for shipping grades; prime to choice steers, $4 75@$5; good, $4 25@$4 60; medium to fair, $3 75@$4 10. Receipts—Flour, 4,900 bbls; Wheat, 32,000 bushels; Corn, 69,000 bushels; Oats, 15,000 bushels; Rye, 1,000 bushels; Barley, 4,000 bushels; Hogs, 6,500 head; Cattle, 2,900 head.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 13.—Flour dull; Family, $5 50@$5 75. Wheat quiet; Red, $1 15@$1 25. Corn in fair demand and firm; old, 52c.@53c.; new, 42c.@44c. Oats in light demand, but holders firm at 30c.@38c. Rye inactive at 67c.@68c. Barley dull and nominal. Pork scarce and firm; old, $17; new, $16; Lard in good demand; Steam-Rendered, 9¾c.; Kettle do., 10⅛c.@10½c. Bulk-meats steady; Shoulders 6½c.@6¾c; Clear Rib Sides, 8c.@8¼c.; Clear Sides, 8½c. Bacon steady; Shoulders, 7½c.@7⅝c.; Clear Rib Sides, 9⅛c.@9¼c.; Clear Sides, 9⅜c.@9½c. Whisky in fair demand but lower at $1 06. Butter firm; Western Reserve, 20c.@21c.; Central Ohio, 18c.@20c. Hogs quiet but steady; common, $5@$5 30; fair to good Light and Packing grades, $5 40@$5 50; Heavy, $5 55@$5 60; receipts, 3,627 head; shipments, 1,500 head.

OSWEGO, Nov. 13.—Flour unchanged; sales 1,300 bbls. Wheat quiet; White held higher; No. 1 Milwaukee Club, $1 35; No. 2 do., $1 30; No. 1 White Michigan, $1 40; Extra do., $1 45. Corn steady; sales of 2,200 bushels at 57c. Barley quiet; sales of 2,000 bushels Canada by sample at $1 08. Corn-meal unchanged. Mill-feed unchanged. Canal Freights—Wheat, 5¾c.; Corn and Rye, 5½c.; Barley, 5c. to New-York, 4½c. to Albany, 7½c. to Philadelphia; Lumber, $2 50 to the Hudson, $3 to Newburg, $3 25 to New-York. Lake Receipts—110,000 bushels Barley, 6,700 bushels Rye, 2,469,000 feet Lumber. Canal Shipments—79,000 bushels Barley, 1,901,000 feet Lumber. Railroad Shipments—1,400 bbls. Flour.

TOLEDO, Nov. 13.—Flour steady. Wheat strong; No. 2 White Wabash, $1 35; No. 3 do., $1 28; Extra White Michigan, $1 37; Amber Michigan, spot and November, $1 24; December, $1 25¼; No. 2 Amber Michigan, $1 14; No. 1 Red Winter, $1 31; No. 2 do., $1 20½; No. 3 Red, $1 13; rejected Dayton and Michigan, Red, $1 07. Corn firm; High Mixed, 52c.; new, 51c.; No. 2, at 50½c.; damaged new, 36c.; rejected 50c.; new, 45½c. Oats firm; No. 2 at 32c. Clover-seed, $8 75; second quality, $8. Receipts—Flour, 300 bbls.; Wheat, 26,000 bushels; Corn, 24,000 bushels; Oats, 3,000 bushels. Shipments—Flour, 3,000 bbls.; Wheat, 25,000 bushels; Corn, 37,000 bushels; Oats, 16,000 bushels.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 13.—Flour dull and unchanged. Wheat strong, at an advance of 1c., closed active and firmer; No. 1 Milwaukee, $1 19½; No. 2 do., $1 13¾; December, $1 14½; January, $1 16; No. 3 Milwaukee, $1 04¾. Corn easier, and in fair demand; No. 2 at 46c.@47c. Oats firmer and higher; No. 2 at 32c.@32½c. Rye stronger and higher; No. 1 at 62½c. Barley stronger and in fair demand; No. 2 Spring, 78¾c.@79½c.; December, 81c. No. 3 do., 48½c. Provisions inactive and nominal. Freights dull and nominal. Wheat to Buffalo, 4c.; do. to Oswego, 8½c. Receipts—Flour, 14,000 bbls.; Wheat, 71,000 bushels. Shipments—Flour, 23,000 bbls.; Wheat, 189,000 bushels.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 13.—Flour quiet and unchanged. Wheat steady; Red, $1 20; Amber, $1 25; White, $1 28. Corn steady, with a fair demand; White, 45c.; Mixed, 43c. Rye in fair demand at 65c. Oats quiet and unchanged. Provisions steady and firm. Pork, Bulk Shoulders, and Lard nominal. Bulk Clear Rib Sides, 8⅛c.; Clear Sides, 8¼c. Bacon scarce and wanted: Shoulders, 7⅜c.@7½c.; Clear Rib Sides, $9 15@$9 25; Clear Sides, $9 50. Sugar-cured Hams dull, weak, and lower at 15½c. Whisky active, but not quotably higher at $1 08. Bagging, 12¼c.

DETROIT, Nov. 13.—Flour very quiet, but steady. Wheat, 2c.@2½c. higher; small business; holders firm; Extra White Michigan, $1 38½; No. 1 do., $1 32½, November; Milling, $1 34. Corn steady; No. 1 Mixed, 53c. Oats very quiet; White, 40½c. bid; Mixed, 36½c. bid. Receipts—Flour, 2,346 bbls.; Wheat, 7,741 bushels; Corn, 5,141 bushels; Oats, 2,635 bushels. Shipments—Flour, 1,850 bbls.; Wheat, 22,-288 bushels; Corn, 822 bushels; Oats, 2,046 bushels.

NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 13.—Whisky dull and lower at $1 10. Sugar in active demand and higher; common 8c.; fair to fully fair, 8⅝c.@9c.; prime, 9¼c.@9⅜c. Other articles unchanged. Exchange—New-York sight ¼ discount. Sterling, $5 27 for the bank. Gold, 110¼.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 13.—Printing Cloths strong at 4½c.@4⅝c. for Standard and Extra 64x64s., with active inquiry and increased business.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 13.—Spirits of Turpentine firm at 35c. Resin firm at $1 75 for Strained. Tar steady at $1 75.

THE COTTON MARKETS.

GALVESTON, Nov. 13.—Cotton dull and heavy; Middling, 11⅜c.; Low Middling, 11⅛c.; Good Ordinary, 10⅝c.; net receipts, 8,733 bales; gross, 8,729 bales; exports, to Great Britain, 6,069 bales; sales, 1,739 bales; stock, 80,905 bales; exports, coastwise, 108 bales.

NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 13.—Cotton quiet and easy; Middling, 11⅞c.; Low Middling, 11⅝c.; Good Ordinary, 10¾c.; net receipts, 18,405 bales; gross, 20,-480 bales; exports to the Continent, 126 bales; coastwise, 1,199 bales; sales, 6,000 bales; stock, 200,310 bales.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 13.—Cotton dull; Middling 11⅜c.; Low Middling, 11⅛c.; Good Ordinary, 10⅝c.; net receipts, 5,733 bales; exports, to France, 2,815 bales; coastwise, 1,508 bales; sales, 326 bales; stock, 78,755 bales.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 13.—Cotton lower; Middling, 11⅝c.; Low Middling, 11⅛c.; Good Ordinary, 10⅝c.@11c.; net receipts, 4,699 bales; exports, to Great Britain, 3,887 bales; coastwise, 1,578 bales; sales, 1,500 bales; stock 102,356 bales.

The New York Times.

NEW-YORK, TUESDAY, NOV. 14, 1876.

AMUSEMENTS THIS EVENING.

FIFTH AVENUE THEATRE.—LIFE—Mr. C. F. Coghlan, Mr. Charles Fisher, Miss Amy Fawcitt.

WALLACK'S THEATRE.—THE SHAUGHRAUN—Mr. Dion Boucicault, Mr. H. J. Montague, Miss Ada Dyas.

ARLO'S GARDEN.—BABA—Mr. W. A. Crane, Mr. V. Bowers, Miss Eliza Weatherby, Miss Minselli.

BOOTH'S THEATRE.—SARDANAPALUS—Mr. F. C. Bangs, Mrs. Agnes Booth, grand ballet and chorus.

UNION SQUARE THEATRE—THE TWO ORPHANS—Mr. C. Thorne, Jr., Mr. J. O'Neill, Miss Kate Claxton.

NEW-YORK AQUARIUM.—RARE AND CURIOUS FISH AND MAMMALIA, STATUARY, &c.

GILMORE'S GARDEN.—P. T. BARNUM'S MUSEUM, CIRCUS, AND MENAGERIE.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE HALL—ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF ART, SCIENCE, AND MECHANICS.

EAGLE THEATRE—MINSTRELSY, COMEDY, BURLESQUE.

OLYMPIC THEATRE.—GRAND NOVELTY AND VARIETY ENTERTAINMENT.

SAN FRANCISCO MINSTRELS—MINSTRELSY, FARCES, AND NEGRO COMICALITIES.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE.—UNCLE TOM'S CABIN—Mrs. G. C. Howard and Georgia Minstrels.

CAVALRY BAPTIST CHURCH—LECTURE by Rev. H. M. Gallagher—"America and the Americans."

STEINWAY HALL.—CONCERT—Mme. Annette Essipoff, Mr. Alfred Vivien.

KELLY & LEON'S HALL.—MINSTRELSY AND COMICALITIES.

☞ Advertisements for THE WEEKLY TIMES must be handed in before 6 o'clock this evening.

Our latest dispatches from South Carolina, Louisiana, and Florida simply add to the previously-existing certainty of Republican majorities in these States. The Democrats have, practically, abandoned all hopes of obtaining the electoral vote of South Carolina for TILDEN, and are concentrating all their strength on the attempt to secure a return favorable to HAMPTON. There is a large force of Democratic lawyers, local and imported, on hand to fight every stage of the action of the Board of Canvassers which threatens to be unfavorable to the admission of returns tainted by intimidation or fraud. The presence of one or two Republican lawyers of some eminence is rather more needed at Columbia than in New-Orleans at the present juncture. As for Florida, any new returns received show that the Republicans have underestimated rather than overestimated their majority. The action of the Democrats in demanding that their statement of the vote of Hamilton County be recived, after pretending that the ballot-boxes were destroyed, and with them all legal evidences of the vote, reveals the kind of tactics relied on to show a majority for TILDEN in a State where his vote runs hopelessly behind that of the party candidate for Governor. We have referred below to the preposterous claims of the Democrats in regard to Louisiana. In that State a Republican majority is just as certain as is the Democratic endeavor to sustain the policy of intimidation with tricks worthy of a knavish attorney and airs characteristic of a swashbuckler.

Any one who reads the letter which we publish to-day in regard to Democratic methods in the Parishes of East and West Feliciana will be partially able to appreciate the impudence of the cry about "counting in" the Republican candidates in Louisiana. Parishes which, on a fair vote, give a Republican majority of from two to three thousand, are claimed for TILDEN by a majority of 2,218, and a trustful public is asked to believe that on Nov. 7 the entire Republican strength of these parishes was fairly represented by one vote. We have already had some intimations of the means employed last week to drive negroes away from the polls, and of the means employed before the election to prevent them registering. When all the shameful details of the terrorism and violence by which these and other parishes have been made to yield the so-called Democratic "majorities" have been laid before the people, it will be only the most reckless partisans who will protest against the refusal to recognize the validity of a vote fabricated by means which are incompatible with the existence of free institutions.

Further information on the same subject is supplied by our special dispatch from New-Orleans. That dispatch contains the the following tables in regard to the registration and the vote of the five disputed Parishes of East Baton Rouge, East and West Feliciana, Morehouse, and Ouachita: 1. The white and colored registration for 1874. 2. The Democratic and Republican vote for Auditor in 1874. 3. The white and colored registration for 1876. The first table shows a colored majority in registration of 5,053; the second shows a Republican majority on the actual vote of 3,979, and the third shows a colored majority in registration of 6,820. To ascertain the probable Republican majority for 1876 is merely a question in simple proportion, and gives 5,726 as the natural majority on Hayes electors. But the Democrats claim from these five parishes a majority for TILDEN of 4,416. Can any man in his senses believe that such a result has been obtained by fair means? Can any evidence be produced from parishes where the vote has been given unaffected by intimidation or fraud, that any such change has taken place in the sentiments of colored voters as the Democratic claims imply? Take Avoyelles as a case in point. The Democratic table sent out by the Bureau of Nincompoops claimed a Democratic majority in that parish of 230. The official count shows a Republican majority of 50. In 1874 on the vote for Treasurer, there was a Republican majority of 63, showing that the strength of the two parties, whenever tested with an approach to fairness, has remained practically unchanged.

It must be remembered that the law of the State of Louisiana allows the Returning Board no choice but to cast out the entire vote of parishes where it can be shown that intimidation has been used to drive voters away from the polls in numbers sufficient to affect the general result. Prominent Northern Democrats in New-Orleans have become aware of that fact as well as the New-York World, and their uneasiness over the discovery is as obvious as was that of the Tilden organ yesterday. The Returning Board, of which two members will be Democrats, may be trusted to do its duty without reference to the bluster and swagger of the rebel element North or South. The character of the evidence on which they act will be tested by competent onlookers of both parties with perfect thoroughness and, we trust, with entire impartiality. Reckless partisans, like WATTERSON, of Kentucky, and RANDOLPH, of New-Jersey, will not mend matters by giving the cue to certain unscrupulous party organs to condemn the action of the Returning Board in advance.

The Herald bulletined yesterday afternoon, and the Democratic papers published as a "settler," a dispatch from United States Marshal WALLACE, of South Carolina, announcing that the State had gone for TILDEN. Marshal FISKE, of this City, telegraphed to WALLACE to know the truth, and received from him the following reply:

Oliver Fiske, United States Marshal, New-York City:

Returns from all counties carry the State for HAYES and HAMPTON. Throwing out frauds will elect CHAMBERLAIN. R. M. WALLACE, United States Marshal.

This affords a fair illustration of the falsehood and imposture which the Democrats are employing to help them in their present extremity. A campaign whose chief weapons have been intimidation and fraud, is very appropriately rounded off by systematic lying.

The partisan spirit in which the Northern Democratic leaders who have responded to Mr. HEWITT's request are about to enter upon the quasi-judicial task assigned to them in Louisiana could not be better exemplified than by the declarations of Senator RANDOLPH, of New-Jersey, as reported in a special dispatch. He is supposed to be on his way to Louisiana to investigate questions of fact. His mission is a farce, except on the supposition that he is prepared to hear both sides, and having mastered the whole case, to judge impartially of its merits. And yet he is not ashamed to harangue a crowd at a railroad depot, and to pronounce judgment in the case he is expected to try. He commits himself beforehand to a declaration that Louisiana and Florida belong to the Democrats, and that only by fraud can their votes be assigned to the Republican candidate. A man who thus made up his mind before starting might have spared himself the journey. His verdict will be valueless.

Something like a panic has followed the speech of the Czar on Turkish affairs. Funds are depressed, and the tone of European politics is decidedly one of alarm. The Pall Mall Gazette lapses into a profound gloom as it views the probability of Russia's insisting upon its own determined policy regarding Eastern affairs, whatever other nations may say or do. The Czar's speech is the more alarming because of its unexpected candor. Men have not been accustomed to regard the language of Russian diplomacy as anything but a screen for hidden ideas. Russian diplomacy is itself notoriously insincere and mysterious. But the Czar at Moscow frankly stated the whole controversy as one between Russia and Turkey. The long maintained, but flimsy, subterfuge of Servian aggression was brushed aside with brusqueness, and the iron hand of Russia was revealed at last. If the Czar cannot obtain from Constantinople ample guarantees necessary for carrying out what he intends to demand, Russia will take summary and independent action. To heighten the general feeling of apprehension, it is reported that Turkey has objected to the proposed conference, and has sent out a message declaring, in effect, that the great powers have no right to interfere in the details of the paternal Government of Turkey. This haughty answer to a proposal for an advisory conference at Constantinople would be a startling incident in itself. Coming as it does with the Russian threat of summary measures, it makes the situation in Eastern Europe more hopeless than ever.

TACTICS OF THE DEMOCRACY.

The Democratic press is agreed on one point. It will not recognize the possibility of a Democratic defeat in South Carolina, Louisiana, and Florida, except as a consequence of Republican frauds. It assumes that the policy which has enabled the minority to overcome the majority in Alabama, Arkansas, and Mississippi must also have been successful in the three other States. "Since it was possible"—so the argument runs—"for the Democratic whites in Mississippi to silence white Republicans, and to frighten black Republicans from the polls, or to compel them to vote the Democratic ticket, it follows that the same processes applied, in similar circumstances, in Louisiana and South Carolina must have produced similar results there." Had the circumstances been exactly identical, the conclusion might be admitted. But in one particular they differed, and this particular probably explains the variation in the result. The small beginnings of the shot-gun system were first discernible in Georgia while yet reconstruction was in progress. A misplaced forbearance allowed them to pass, not, indeed, without condemnation, but without the stern remedial measures which the occasion might have justified. An adroit mixture of violence and fraud virtually disfranchised the great body of the colored voters, and Georgia became Democratic. The system acquired full proportions in Mississippi. Previous impunity gave to its managers greater brutality and recklessness, and the free exercise of these qualities enabled them to acquire control in Mississippi. Still, the North was averse to interference. It had conceded to the South the forms of self-government, and it was unwilling to believe that the systematic terrorism which had been reported was other than exceptional. The Federal Government withheld the authority it was entreated to exercise, and coercion passed unchecked, unpunished. The audacious boasts with which the system was transferred to South Carolina, at the opening of the Presidential campaign, rendered further indifference impossible, and the steps taken by the National Government frustrated the plan. Had the action in regard to Louisiana been as decisive as that taken in regard to South Carolina, the complication would have been less than it is. We must, however, deal with facts as they are. And they show incontestably that only the presence of Federal troops defeated the shot-gun policy in South Carolina, and that only the same influence can secure a peaceful, honest count in Louisiana and Florida.

But this honest count is what the Northern Democrats do not want. They had relied upon the efficacy of the method which had served their party well in Mississippi and elsewhere, and its failure at the critical moment draws from them expressions which carry the mind back to the corresponding period in 1860. Then, as now, the Democrats of the Northern States were the first to threaten resistance to the authority of the Union. Their menaces stimulated the adoption of extreme measures on the part of the South. Their tone conveyed to the South the idea that it had a powerful ally at the North, which would, if necessary, fight in its behalf. A similar course is pursued now. Of the two sections of the Democratic Party, that at the North is the more malevolent in spirit and the more mischievous in its suggestions. Of what the Southerners are capable we know. They have done, and are doing, all they can to seat Mr. TILDEN in the Presidency. There is no crime which certain classes among them are not willing to perpetrate to attain this object. But their newspapers are comparatively reserved and discreet. They do not threaten revolution. They do not declare that the count shall be disregarded it it be favorable to the Republican candidate. For utterances of this sort we must look nearer home. The Sergeant at Arms of the House of Representatives—Mr. JOHN G. THOMPSON, Chairman of the Ohio Democratic Executive Committee—characterizes the efforts to secure a fair count as a conspiracy to usurp the Government. "It is anarchy," he exclaims. "It is revolution. It is the desperation of desperate men." All this is nonsense, of course. The Sergeant at Arms of the Democratic House must be a fool or a knave, whose ravings we may laugh at. The South, however, takes the stuff as so much gospel, and credits the Northern Democracy with more courage and earnestness than they possess.

The party newspapers write in the same vein. They all take for granted the very point which is denied, and proceed to threaten, if what they claim be not conceded. The World yesterday spoke of "the possibility of trouble at the South if the attempt is made to reverse the result;" and on another page indicated and applauded methods of defeating the election of Mr. HAYES, which can be described only as revolutionary. The Chicago Times and the Cincinnati Enquirer set up a claim that TILDEN is elected, whatever the count in the disputed States may show, and they proceed to urge that their party shall at any cost prevent the installation of any other man as President. The Chicago sheet would, without more ado, throw out the vote of Louisiana unless the State can be secured for TILDEN. The Cincinnati paper gives its sanction to the suggestion of the World, among other anarchical propositions, and would have the House prevent the election of HAYES by withholding its "presence" from the final count. The Enquirer professes to be prepared for any measure to defeat what it chooses to consider "a palpably fraudulent count at the point of the bayonet." The precautionary measures of the Government, designed to insure an honest count and nothing else, foreshadow to the mind of the Ohio Democratic organ "the end of the Republic, and there is a popular determination," it says, "that the Republic shall stand." This incendiary tone runs through scores of Northern Democratic journals of lesser note. Staid New-Haven has a Register which is wicked enough to scream, "Let the dare-devils beware! The most dangerous uncaged lion that any man or set of men can meet anywhere on GOD'S footstool is an over-outraged, thoroughly-indignant, and madly-uprisen people." And the Albany Argus, after "drawing the sword" and "fixing bayonets" through half a column of Jacobinical trash, professes to see a "prospect of war in every street and on every highway of the land" if TILDEN be kept out of the Presidency.

We all know that these belligerent editors would be among the last to imperil their precious bodies, if the conflict they are doing their utmost to provoke were really to occur. They would leave their dupes to pay the penalty, as in the rebellion. Their conduct, however, is not less criminal on this account. It may not tend to bring about another civil war, for the Southern people, warned by experience, are not likely to provoke a second outburst of the patriotic feeling which carried the North to victory. But it is calculated to incite the ignorant rabble of the large cities to riot and bloodshed, and to awaken apprehensions as to the future of the Government if these tactics be persisted in. Whatever else be their effect, they should satisfy thoughtful people as to the real character of the Democracy—the incompatibility of its pretensions with the peaceful working of the restored Union and the reckless devices it employs for the accomplishment of its purposes.

A WEAK POINT IN THE CONSTITUTION.

The present condition of the political affairs of the United States brings into prominence some of the embarrassments and difficulties attending the application of a written Constitution. That, in our own case, such a Constitution had great merits, merits which were peculiar to itself, it is hardly necessary to point out to American readers. It was only by that kind of an instrument that the States, as they emerged from the war for independence, could have been formed into a permanent Union. They might have gone on a long time without finding a practicable mode of treating their common interests, if they had trusted to the accumulation of a body of precedents in that direction, sufficiently numerous and consistent and continuing a sufficient period of time to accomplish what was easily and rapidly done under the Constitution. Hence, when the framers of that instrument had made it as comprehensive and efficient as they could under the circumstances, and had provided a mode of changing it from time to time, they had unquestionably performed a great service to their country. If, in our day, we find difficulty in applying some of its machinery to a state of things which its authors could not have anticipated, and which we could not ourselves have foretold ten years since, it is our business to treat the situation with candor and mutual forbearance, and to try to find a satisfactory and honorable way out of our troubles.

The first step in any such process is to recognize the existence of the defects which actually exist. Long before the present election was considered, and immediately after the last Presidential contest, which resulted in so overwhelming a Republican victory, it was pointed out by Senator MORTON, of Indiana, that there was a very grave obscurity in the provisions of the Constitution relating to the counting of the electoral votes; he also pointed out that the joint rule provided by the concurrence of the House and Senate to remedy such an omission was in many regards a grossly inappropriate measure, which had been unfair in its operation, and might be much more so in the future. Some of the Democratic papers, notably the Cincinnati Enquirer, assert that this rule was made by Republicans to keep out the votes of Democratic States, and that the Republicans sought to do away with it that it might not keep out Republican States. But this glaringly contradicts the facts. The repeal of the rule was proposed when both houses of Congress were Republican by a two-thirds majority. It was repealed only after repeated attempts to pass a law which would have required the affirmative action of both houses of Congress to throw out any electoral vote. Under these circumstances, it is wholly unjust to attribute to the Republicans in the Senate the remotest intention of taking an unfair advantage of their opponents.

But the rule being repealed, the fact remains that there is no distinct means provided by the Constitution for settling any questions which may arise on the counting of the votes. This state of things is extraordinary. The consequences of a dispute as to a Presidential election, with no means of determining it, are so obviously serious, and may be so full of peril for the country, that it seems impossible that such a dispute has not been provided for. But, as a matter of fact, it has not been, and any attempt to establish an assumed mode of settlement, on the theory that some mode must exist in the Constitution, will not help matters. It will simply wrench the Constitution itself, and it will make men partisans of a baseless theory, instead of leaving them to face the real defect and to avoid its consequences by good temper and good sense.

That we have correctly described the situation is confirmed by the language of Judge KENT in his admirable Commentaries. He says, (p. 295, 12th edition,) after reciting the provisions of the Constitution and the statutes of Congress on the subject: "The Constitution does not expressly declare by whom the votes are to be counted and the result declared. In the case of questionable votes and a closely-contested election, this power may be all-important; and I presume, in the absence of all legislative provision on the subject, that the President of the Senate counts the votes and determines the result, and that the two houses are present only as spectators, to witness the fairness and accuracy of the transaction, and to act only if no choice be made by the Electors." This is a very explicit opinion from a very high source. It is in part put in the modest form of "I presume," but the fullness with which it covers the question and the distinct acknowledgment that it may become "all-important" forbid us to conclude that Judge KENT had not weighed the facts well, and digested his inference from them carefully. It will be seen that he deliberately asserts a condition of the law which the Democratic organs say is so impossible that any theory of the Constitution which provides a modus vivendi must be accepted.

That it is very unfortunate that the law is as it is, is true. But the Republicans did not make the Constitution, and they did all in their power to get a law passed at the last session of Congress which should remedy the defects which exist. They did not succeed, and now we must do the best we can, in view of that fact. Two things suggest themselves in this connection. One is, that every effort must be made to prevent any dispute as to the validity of all the votes in the cases where dispute is likely to arise, and each party is bound to do all that it can to come to an agreement on such votes. The second is, that if such efforts fail, Congress, at its approaching session, must agree on some mode of determining any dispute. This can be done, not easily, perhaps, nor immediately; but it can surely be done if the best men of both parties resolve that it shall be.

THE FLIGHT OF THE "STATESMEN."

We are not informed as to the condition of other Northern cities, but New-York is nearly depopulated of "representative" Democrats. Here and there we meet one who rests his weary frame against a lamp-post, and, with a blasé air, asks of the casual passenger, "Well, how does the thing look?" But the heavy men of the party have gone South in the wake of the wild geese, the swallows, and the the fly-gobblers. It is a good thing for the railroads. Just when the travel of Centennial visitors ceased, and sea-side and mountain tourists were safely at home, the Southern scare set in. The Democratic Party suddenly discovered that "the solid South" lacked three States of being solid. There was a panic at the Everett House, and orders for telegrams of an inflammatory and positive character were sent to Florida, South Carolina, and Louisiana. The Democratic "mugwumps," who had prepared a serenade and fire-works for "President TILDEN," uttered a despairing howl, and started South. At this moment the Southern States are overrun by a sanguinary horde from the New-York pool-rooms. They carry lank carpet-bags, containing only the latest calculations of the electoral table (with one vote short) as arranged by the Bureau of Nincompoops; and they may be known by the haggard and anxious expression of countenance which they wear.

There was a call for Democrats who were good at counting ballots. There was a feeling in some of the Southern States that all was not well. This apprehension was expressed most feelingly by the Democrats. Republicans contented themselves with fewer words. They had light investments in the betting-pools. But the Democrats were surprised. They knew, for instance, that the voting precinct of Combigbee gave last year nineteen Republican votes. They knew that shooting casualties and rifle accidents had decreased that vote by eighteen Republicans within a year; yet here were three Republican votes in Combigbee. Like Macbeth, they were ready to grumble that men whose brains were out should not stay dead, but should rise to vote the Republican ticket again in Combigbee. Then, again, it was preposterous that the ignorant African vote of the South should be given to HAYES. It was wildly absurd to claim that Florida, South Corolina, and Louisiana, with a large negro population, should be carried by the Republicans. The colored people, they urged, were densely ignorant. Was not ignorance and darkness naturally on the side of the Democratic Party? They very properly pointed to Mississippi, where there are about two blacks to one white, and where TILDEN had a great majority in an election which was so peaceful that one might have supposed that the opposition party did not go to the polls at all. The negro State of Mississippi had voted for TILDEN; it was incredible that the negroes of Florida and Louisiana had not.

This was plainly fraud. It could not be possible that any negro of average density of ignorance, and carefully kept in a state of moral, mental, and cutaneous darkness, should vote the Republican ticket. It was natural that in Virginia, where a few pestilent common schools and colleges had got a foothold, there should be "a right smart chance" of black Republican votes. But in Ouachita, Pilatka, and other picturesquely-named localities, the negroes did not, on an average, know any more than the intelligent citizens of Mulberry street, Baxter street, and Cow Bay, in New-York. Yet, if reports were true, these besotted and debased ex-slaves had actually voted against the Democratic Party—their truest and most devoted friend. The thing was monstrous. Mr. Chairman HEWITT sounded his bugle-call, and the Democratic Party of the North borrowed a paper collar and a bottle of whisky, and went South at half fare. The illustrious war-horse of Connecticut, affectionately known in his neighborhood as "BILL EATON," got up on his hind legs and went. Then there was SMITH M. WEED, who, for fear of accidents, took an alias with him and registered himself as THOMAS KEITH. This was to avoid the crowd and to make it appear that one Democrat was left at home to keep house. Then there was S. J. RANDALL, and COX, and NIBLACK, LAMAR, WATTERSON, and thousands and thousands more, including "Col. SELLERS, of Pennsylvania," who goes South in the interests of the old flag and an appropriation. Even CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS was pulled out by the roots and brought as far as New-York, where he came to a halt and waited for an engrossed and properly authenticated copy of the call.

There has not been so much talent in the South since the capture of Duke GWIN. If the congregation of Democratic intellect south of the old line of MASON and DIXON does not make that end of the Union top-heavy, it will be because the Democratic statesmen have left their cash in the New-York pool-boxes. Strange to say, however, the few Democrats who are left at home are more than ever gloomy over the prospects. As each train loaded with anxious Tilden men moves South, the stay-at-homes of their own party groan and declare that there will not be an honest count. It is plain that they know these their brothers. They cannot trust them; and, though the political emigration to Florida and Louisiana exceeds in volume the flight of the potato-bug, the remaining Democrats, wild-eyed and husky, wander mournfully about, and lament the ruin of the Republic and the general collapse of the pool business.

BUTTER-CULTURE.

Pisciculture is a business of such recent origin that it is still regarded by the public as an interesting novelty. More novel, more curious, and far more interesting is the business of butter-culture, which, like pisciculture, is an aquatic industry. Extensive butter-beds have been planted in the Thames, at London, and are yielding large and profitable harvests. Within a few years we may expect to see the slow old-fashioned methods of the cow and churn wholly superseded by the more rapid and surer results achieved by river butter-culture. Dairymen will retire from the butter arena, and, under the supervision of able and intelligent Boards of Butter Commissioners, the growth of butter will be brought to such a degree of perfection as to place that useful compound within the reach of the poorest householder in the country.

The London Medical Examiner of a late date contains an interesting description of the process of planting and growing butter. The butter-culturist selects a nice muddy locality in the bed of a river flowing through a large town, and carefully plants his butter-seeds. The bed must not be more than a foot below the surface of the water at low tide, and it must be constantly swept by a strong current. Butter cannot be grown in a pure mountain stream, but only in a river which receives a large amount of sewage, by which the butter-plants are nourished. Having selected an eligible bed, the butter-culturist sets out a number of small globes of the size of a filbert, made of cork, hair, and woody fibres. As is well known to analytical chemists who have experimented upon the common butter of boarding-house tables, these small globes contain all the essential ingredients of butter except its oleaginous parts. Of course, the butter-culturist is not strictly confined to the use of cork, hair, and woody fibres, but may also add hair-pins and buttons in quantities to suit his own taste. Having, however, decided upon the first ingredients of his butter, he plants his seed-globes in the mud of his butter-bed, placing them upon short but stout stalks either of wire or wood. The seed rapidly germinates, and, under the genial influence of the sewage, the plant soon reaches maturity. When fully ripe, it is gathered by boys with bare legs and carried to the butter-press, where it undergoes certain refining processes. The ripe butter-plant presents the appearance of a ball of dark-colored wagon-grease, through which hair, particles of corks, and bits of woody fibres are woven by the action of the tide. Its oleaginous particles are, of course, derived from the refuse grease which finds its way from kitchens and manufactories into the sewers; and, though the ripe butter-plant is neither palatable nor attractive in its appearance, it is readily transformed, by a cheap process of refining and flavoring, into as vigorous, substantial butter as the most exacting boarding-house keeper could desire.

The Medical Examiner remarks that "the process by which this questionable fat is ultimately manufactured into an article of food unobjectionable to the eye and palatable to the taste is necessarily exciting public curiosity." All judicious people will agree that to indulge one's curiosity concerning the manner in which any kind of butter is made, is worse than idle. The wise man eats his butter and drinks his beer without seeking to know their origin. Were the boldest of us to try to trace the pedigree of pure Orange County butter back to the cows of the Brooklyn distilleries, the result might be extremely disastrous. That way madness lies. Between butter and science there is an irrepressible conflict, and if we are not ready to abandon butter altogether, we must put blind faith in its truth and purity, and resolutely decline to pry into its origin. There is no half way between the humble acceptance of butter and the total rejection of all edible grease, and those persons who, according to the Medical Examiner, are curious as to the process of converting the fruit of the butter-plant into an article of food, are entering upon a path which will lead them to reject all butter and to deny the very existence of lard.

If, under the fertilizing influence of sewage, a little hair and a trifle of woody fibre and cork can be made to develop into butter, it is quite possible that many other articles of food can be thus artificially propagated. The chemical basis of much of the sugar of commerce is admitted to be sand and starch. Is it not quite possible that, if small globes of sand and starch were to be planted in the Thames, they would grow and blossom into brown sugar? Might not pure corn-fed lard be grown from germs of bristles, dashed with brine; and is it not possible to sow a handful of buttons and bits of dog-collars with the well-founded hope of reaping a harvest of hash? The ordinary boarding-house kitchen gardener will doubtless look upon these suggestions as wild and impracticable, but now that we know that the Thames sewage, when tickled with hair, will laugh into butter, it would be rash to reject as impossible any horticultural scheme which relies for its success upon the marvelously fertilizing power of London sewage.

Of course, there are timid people who, after learning that butter-culture is an established industry, will decline to use any butter unless they are personally cognizant of its close connection with some reputable cow. Is, then, the cow cleaner than the river in which she wades, and is the stable more savory than the sewer? These are questions which each one must settle for himself; but, except in those cases where one's butter is obviously stronger than one's faith, it is probably best to eat it boldly, and to waive the question of its origin as one of those things which no prudent fellow should try to find out.

THE FRANKLIN AND TWEED.

DISPATCH FROM CAPT. FRANKLIN—THE FRIGATE AT ST. THOMAS ON THE 11TH INST.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The following cable message was received by the Secretary of the Navy on Saturday evening, the 11th inst., from Capt. Franklin, commanding the United States steamer Franklin, at St. Thomas:

To Secretary Robeson, Washington:

Franklin arrived. Is short of coal. Delayed by succession of adverse gales on coast of Spain and continuous light breezes and calms in trade-wind region. Will sail immediately after coaling. All well. FRANKLIN, Captain.

RECOUNT OF A CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.

BOSTON, Nov. 13.—There is a possibility that Dean, Dem., elected to Congress in the Third District by a majority of seven votes over Walbridge A. Field, Rep., may be beaten by the latter. A committee of the Board of Aldermen having recounted the votes of the Third District find that counting twenty-five ballots cast for "Walbridge A. Field, Fourth District," the latter has a majority of about fifteen. The ballots so cast were on the ticket furnished by the Temperance Party, and were probably deposited with a view of electing Field. City Solicitor Healey has advised the Board of Aldermen not to count the twenty-five votes, and the question will probably be left to the Governor and Council for decision.

THE CLOSING EXHIBITION.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.—The work of removing exhibits was continued to-day throughout all the departments of the Exhibition, the Government and many State buildings being closed to visitors. The Ohio State Board this afternoon notified Vice President Welsh of the intention of that body to donate their State building to the City of Philadelphia.

The total of the awards reported by the supplemental group of judges, and which embrace all exhibits overlooked by the regular group juries in their respective examinations, numbers over six hundred. Of these, about one hundred and fifty remain to be acted upon by the commission at its session to-morrow.

The number of admissions to-day were estimated at 7,780.

THE OLD FRANKLIN PRINTING-PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Mr. John B. Murray, of New-York, to whom the original Franklin printing-press was delivered as the rightful owner, after some controversy last year, has now written to R. H. Duell, Commissioner of Patents, that he has requested Messrs. R. Hoe & Co. to return the Franklin printing-press from the Centennial Exhibition to its old place in the Patent Office, from which, he adds, it is not probable it will ever again be removed.

NO QUARTER FOR FENIANS.

OTTAWA, Nov. 13.—The rumor of a proposed Fenian raid on Canada from Vermont is not credited here, or is thought to be greatly exaggerated.

TORONTO, Nov. 13.—The Globe says if the Fenians should again come into Canada they may expect no quarter.

THE ILLINOIS CONGRESSMEN.

CAIRO, Nov. 13.—The Democrats this morning claim the election of Hartzell, Democrat, for Congress, in the Eighteenth District, by 20 majority.

HAYES' MAJORITY IN OHIO, 7,332.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 13. — Semi-official returns from all counties of Ohio are now in, and show a majority for Hayes of 7,332.

A STOLEN PAINTING RECOVERED.

Another of the five valuable oil-paintings taken from the Art Gallery of Messrs. H. D. Miner & Co., No. 845 Broadway, on Monday night, the 6th inst., while the building was on fire, was recovered yesterday by the Police, and the alleged thief, William Young, of No. 778 Third avenue, who was employed in the capacity of clerk by the firm, was arrested by Detective Radford.

FRANKFORT ON THE MAIN.

NOTES OF AN AMERICAN TOURIST.

A CHARACTERISTICALLY GERMAN CITY—A MARRIAGE WITH DISTINGUISHED WITNESSES—AMERICAN LADIES IN PURSUIT OF TITLES.

From Our Own Correspondent.

FRANKFURTER-HOF, FRANKFORT, Friday, Oct. 20, 1876.

Any school-boy in America can tell you that Frankfort is on the Main, but I doubt if the knowledge of most people on the subject has a wider range. To say that Frankfort possesses charms and attractions enough to induce one to remain here a fortnight, while it may excite some incredulity on the part of those who, on their journey to Berlin or Vienna, have passed it by on the other side, is to state no more than the truth. The traveler who has wearied of Paris, with its incessant wear and tear upon the mind and and morals, who wants for a little while to enjoy the sweet do nothing, and to gain at the same time some notion of German life and character, cannot, I imagine, do better than to settle down in this sleepy, substantial old place. In intimating its somnolent character, however, I do not want to disparage the activity of its people. There is a population here of more than one hundred thousand, and an enormous amount of wealth, much of which is constantly being applied to magnificent local enterprises. This hotel, for instance, has recently been erected by a joint stock company at a total expense of $1,000,000, all of which, as I understand, is subscribed by residents here. As an architectural effort the building is very fine, while as a hotel it surpasses everything I have yet seen in Europe, and compares more than favorably with our own Fifth Avenue or Windsor. It was estimated by the owners that they could afford to let it stand empty for two years, but now, after trial of only three months, it is more than half full, and has a constantly increasing tide of custom. Nor is this remarkable; for the accommodations are most inviting, the charges reasonable, the service perfect, and a domestic atmosphere about the house which makes it quite like one's own home. This same stock company are proprietors of another famous local institution, known as the Palmengarten. Here, in a tract of thirty acres, are some exquisite effects of landscape gardening, symmetrical flower-beds and closely-shaven lawns, kept constantly fresh and brilliant in this humid atmosphere; the objective point of the whole being an immense conservatory, containing the luxuriant display of tropical plants formerly owned by the Duke of Nassau, and purchased by the city in 1869. Adjoining the conservatory is a large restaurant with accommodations for an orchestra, not unlike the Central Park Garden, and on the lawn just outside this building a musical pavilion where open air concerts are given every afternoon. The quality of the music is very good, and I know of no more pleasant experience, of its kind, than to sit there in the sunlight, on one of these warm German October afternoons, listening to the subtle strains of Strauss, Suppe, Verdi, or Lanner, and taking in, meanwhile, the characteristics of the people, whose fondness for music seems to be equaled only by their devotion to beer. I doubt, indeed, whether, if the beer ceased to be a feature of the place, the music would have any charms; and am credibly told that the bibulous habits of the German workman, not unfrequently detaining him from work over Saturday, Sunday, and Monday, are having a very depressing effect upon the industries of the country.

The wealth of the people is finding an outlet also in the construction of numerous elegant stores and private residences, some of them built on a scale and with a degree of architectural splendor to which New-York has no parallel. The city, too, is completely environed with a series of parks, on which the public money seems to have been laid out with great taste and discretion. Altogether, there is a display of liberality about the place, in the use of land as well as in the outlay of money, which gives even the transient visiter a comfortable sense of generous treatment. I cannot say, however, that this sensation is apt to prevail in the older parts of the city, where I found, the other day, streets not more than six feet wide, with overhanging balconies and windows darkening the roadway, and in such proximity that you might readily step across the street from one to the other. In this quarter a house, old and clumsy enough to have been Noah's Ark, is declared to be the birthplace of the Rothschilds; while in the Jew's cemetery adjoining the town, a much more elegant structure, elaborately carved out of white marble, is pointed out as their grave. Among the more venerable edifices of the town, the Römer, or City Hall, is by all odds the most noteworthy. Dating from 1405, when it was purchased by the city for the purpose which it has ever since filled, its history is identified with the Electors and Emperors of Germany from Charlemagne to William. A long gallery in the second floor of the building, where the newly-crowned Emperor used to dine with his Electors, and from the balcony of which he would show himself to the gaping crowd below, is now hung with their portraits, presenting a curious and instructive exhibition of fifty-two different types of royalty. It is better than a history to have before you, as they appeared to their contemporaries, Carolus Magnus, and Lewis the Debonnair, and Charles the Fat, and Henry the Fowler, and Frederic Barbarossa, and forty-seven others more or less notorious, and to read the story of their lives, briefly told in their respective royal mottoes. They profited by their experience, no doubt, for even the Debonnair expresses it as his serious conviction that omnium rerum vicissitudo, while Henry the Saint, whose saintliness must have been soured by disappointment, enjoins upon his successors, "Love nothing too much, so that you will sorrow for nothing." The whole series, indeed, reads not unlike that chapter in Ecclesiastes, where the preacher declares that he "praised the dead which are already dead more than the living which are yet alive."

It was in the presence of this cloud of witnesses, not to speak irreverently, that an American wedding took place the other day, and as an American wedding over here is an occasion of a good deal of legal complication and mental perplexity on the part of the persons interested, it may be instructive if I state some of the conditions under which it can take place. In all these European countries a certain length of residence is an essential preliminary to marriage. In France the period is fixed at six months, and the wealthy American girl who comes over here, as so many of them do, ticketed "for sale," and is promptly bought up by the cerouet of some decayed old family, must consent to an engagement for that length of time. It is timated in Paris that if she is anxious to enjoy at once the possession of her purchased honors and the society of her promised husband, who is likely to be a dissolute fellow, the concierge of her apartments may be induced to swear that she has lived there the requisite period; but as some people have conscientious scruples against suborning perjury, this expedient is not always adopted. The better course, where people are in a hurry, is to find out some place where not so long a residence is necessary, and fulfill the condition there. For every place there are certain legal formalities also to be observed, such as publishing the bans in a newspaper and hanging them up in the Town Hall, but this is the business of the local functionary, known here as the Stendesbuchfuhrer, an imposing title, which amounts to no more than keeper of the Book of Position. An affidavit, too, is required as to the family connections of the parties, stating the places and dates of birth, &c., a matter which is ordinarily of no trouble, but which, in the case of a young English girl of whom I heard in Paris, seemed to involve almost an insurmountable difficulty. She had been born in India, and gave her lawyer the name of a place, which on investigation was found to be a province and not a town. Her parents were dead, there was no certificate of birth, and no existing evidence anywhere on the subject, and how to comply with the stringent legal requirement, was a problem, at last accounts, still unsolved. The whole process was formerly much simpler when the marriage rite could be performed at the United States Consulate, without recourse to the civil authorities at the place. But a recent ruling of the Department of State at Washington has restricted the Consuls in the exercise of this function, and made it necessary to conform to the local statutory requirements. Perhaps, however, a sufficient compensation for all the trouble thereby entailed, is the privilege of being married by the Standesbuchfuhrer in the Römer of Frankfort, with the portraits of fifty-two Emperors breathing, as it were, the benediction of Imperial Germany.

While I am on this matrimonial question, it is a matter of current gossip among Americans here, and in Stuttgart, that a young New-York lady, the daughter of an old leather merchant in the Swamp, who died a year or two ago and left an enormous fortune to his wife and children, is about to marry, in Stuttgart, a German Count of light purse and easy morals. The infatuation after title, among a certain class of our people, is irrepressible, and not even the certainty of misery and shame will hold them back from its pursuit.

The environs of Frankfort are not particularly attractive, but at a distance of ten or fifteen miles one reaches the beautiful region of the Bergstrasse, which skirts the Odenwald mountains from Darmstadt to Heidelberg, and abounds in picturesque villages, luxuriant vineyards and lofty hills, covered with forest trees and crowned with venerable ruins. At Heidelberg is the famous castle, which, outside the Alhambra, is said to be the finest ruin in Europe, and so familiar a feature of European travel that I do not need to allude to it here. A less conspicuous, but very interesting object, is found some twelve miles further on, at the little town of Bruchsaal. Nobody, I imagine, ever goes to Bruchsaal from choice, for of all the German towns I have yet seen it is by far the stupidest. But it happens to be a railroad junction, and travelers not infrequently find themselves stranded for an hour or two, until the arrival of their train. It was an opportunity of this kind that I improved to visit the palace of the Archbishops of Speyer,, who in their day and generation were a wicked lot, and forced by a virtuous public sentiment in Speyer to "fold their tents like the Arabs, and silently steal away." They chose Bruchsaal, I imagine, for an abiding place on account of its dense stupidity, and built there an archiepiscopal palace, which at that time must have been a marvel of architectural skill. In this retired situation they were doubtless free to indulge the peculiar notions of priestly morality which had made them obnoxious in Speyer. An indication of their tastes may perhaps be found in the elegant frescoes which still adorn the ceilings, as fresh now as when left by the master's hand 150 years ago, and representing, in vivid colors and striking situations, the old stories of Grecian mythology. Their portraits, too, hang side by side upon the walls with those of the electors of the Palatinate, into whose possession the building afterward came—here an Elector, gravely contemplating the political future of Germany, and there a Bishop leering from out his dissolute old eye. But, like the Emperors in the Römer, they are all, Bishops and Electors, long since dead and gone; their building is given up to the bats and owls and the occasional visits of stray tourists.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE ESSIPOFF CONCERTS.

Mlle. Essipoff makes her first appearance in this country, at Steinway Hall, this evening. She will have the co-operation of M. Alfred Vivien, a violinist new to American audiences; and that of an orchestra under the baton of Mr. R. Schmelz.

THE PARK THEATRE.

The Park Theatre was closed to the public last evening. The house was opened for the season about eight weeks since by Mr. Stuart, with the comedy called "Clouds," Mr. N. H. Jackson officiating as manager. Mr. Jackson, who had assumed an interest in the enterprise, retired at the close of the first week's experience, and, soon after, the company met and organized on the commonwealth principle. Since then affairs have gone from bad to worse. Lately preparations were in progress for the production of a new drama, entitled, "The Crabbed Age," with a débutante, Miss Letty Allen, in the principal rôle, but misunderstandings arose, and the piece was set aside. Arrangements had also been completed with a view to having Miss Lotta commence an engagement on the 27th inst., but whether this engagement will be fulfilled or not is at least doubtful. As it is reported that Mr. Stuart has relinquished his lease of the house, the property will probably soon be in the market.

GALES ON THE COAST OF EUROPE.

ANXIETY IN ENGLAND FOR THE SAFETY OF FISHING AND OTHER CRAFT—DAMAGE ON THE COAST OF PORTUGAL—A GREEK BARK RUN DOWN—EIGHT LIVES LOST—THE FLOOD IN CUBA.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Accounts from various points on the coast report numerous shipping casualties during Saturday and Sunday nights when a gale prevailed. Considerable anxiety is felt for the safety of the fishing fleets. The gale still continues. A Greek bark from Spezia for London was run down in the Channel on Saturday. Eight of her crew perished.

LISBON, Nov. 13.—A hurricane prevailed here from Saturday evening to Sunday night and considerable damage was done to property and shipping. Twenty lighters containing goods, timber and coal filled and sank.

WEXFORD, Nov. 13.—The British brig Oromocto, Capt. Cook, is ashore in South Bay.

[The Oromocto was reported at Liverpool Oct. 26, for St. John's, N. B.]

HAVANA, Nov. 13.—Advices from the interior say the inundation is subsiding slowly. The railroad between Bemba and Colon is still interrupted, being submerged to the depth of five feet. The following plantations are still under water: Colosa Vera, Admiracion, Union, and Esperanza. The civil engineers of the railroad companies are endeavoring to find effective means to drain the water off as soon as possible. If this is not done the cane on the flooded estates will become rotten and unfit for grinding. The injury to the sugar crop by the hurricane has been comparatively slight in the jurisdictions of Trinidad, Remedios, Cienfuegos, and Sagua. Taking into consideration the increased yield which this year's crop promised, sanguine people assert that the total loss of the yield of more than forty estates would not seriously reduce the average, and that the crop will be as large as last year's. Several plantations will begin to grind cane this month, and in the neighborhood of Matanzas some will commence on the 15th, so as to improve the opportunity to use all the cane injured by the hurricane.

BY MAIL AND TELEGRAPH.

The total number of interments at Savannah, Ga., yesterday, was three, of which two were yellow fever cases.

The death sentence passed on James Ryan for the murder of his wife at Peterboro, in May last, has been commuted to imprisonment for life.

The Marine Bank of St. Paul, Minn., suspended yesterday morning. There are no particulars as to assets or liabilities yet. The bank was established under the State law.

Mrs. Henry N. Bigelow jumped from a carriage while the horses were running away at Clinton, Mass., yesterday afternoon, and sustained injuries which resulted fatally in about an hour.

A murderous shooting affray occurred three miles east of Lansing, Mich., Sunday night. J. F. Ayres was killed, his father-in-law fatally wounded, and two or three others seriously wounded. The affair was caused by domestic troubles.

Francis Grappette, convicted of murder in the second degree in Watertown, N. Y., hanged himself in his cell Sunday night. He suspended himself from a beam by means of a towel and a handkerchief. The prisoner was worth $20,000, and sentence was to have been deferred until Saturday to enable him to dispose of it. His brain will be examined by experts.

THE REPUBLICAN VICTORY.

THE PRESIDENT AND LOUISIANA.

Continued from First Page.

New-Orleans to some Northern journals that he has telegraphed to Gov. Kellogg that Louisiana must be counted for Hayes at all hazards, and that Kellogg has given assurance that it will be so counted. Secretary Chandler emphatically denies that he has either asked or received any such assurance.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA TRIUMPH.

THE DEMOCRATS CONCEDE THE STATE TO GOV. HAYES BY 3,000 MAJORITY—A BOLD ATTEMPT TO COUNT OUT GOV. CHAMBERLAIN AND SECURE A UNITED STATES SENATOR—AN ARRAY OF REBELS TO OVERAWE THE CANVASSERS.

By Telegraph from our Special Correspondent.

COLUMBIA, Nov. 13.—The Board of State Canvassers met at 10 o'clock A. M. to-day. There were present nearly a hundred Democratic lawyers, representing almost every county in the State. Senator Gordon, of Georgia, was also present. Gen. Connor, on behalf of the Democratic candidates, submitted the following paper in regard to the jurisdiction of the Board:

To the Board of State Canvassers:

On behalf of the citizens of the State whom we represent, and of the Democratic candidates on the State ticket, we submit that all acts of the General Assembly authorizing the Board of State Canvassers to hear and decide all cases under protest or contest that may arise in regard to the election of electors for President and Vice President, members of Congress, and all officers elected at any general election held in this State, is in violation of section 26 of Article I., and therefore unconstitutional and void. And on behalf of the parties aforesaid we demand that the Board of State Canvassers now assembled shall not hear or decide any such cases of contest or protest, but shall only act ministerially, in ascertaining from the returns and statements forwarded by the Board of County Canvassers the persons who have received the greatest number of votes for the offices for which they were respectively candidates, and declare the same, and certify it to the Secretary of State.

At the close of Gen. Connor's remarks the board went into secret session. When the doors were opened, Secretary Hayne announced that the question was a new one for the board, and members desired to hear further argument on the question of the constitutionality of the act. Mr. Yeomans then continued the argument for an hour. The board then decided to hear R. B. Elliott, Esq., in reply to-morrow morning. The Attorney General introduced the following:

Resolved, That the Board of State Canvassers will proceed to canvass the returns for Electors of President and Vice President, beginning on the 16th day of November, 1876, unless the returns from all the counties have been previously received, and will continue to canvass such returns from day to day until the last day of the session, if it be necessary to do so.

The resolution was unanimously adopted. It is now said that the Democratic managers have arranged to obtain an injunction from the Supreme Court to prevent the board from acting except in a purely ministerial capacity. From present appearances this would give the electoral vote to Hayes by 3,000, but would elect Hampton by less than five hundred majority, and give the Democrats the Legislature and the choice of a United States Senator in place of Robertson. If the board is not enjoined from hearing contests, the overwhelming evidence of fraud, terrorism and irregularities, will be undoubtedly sufficient to justify the correction of returns from at least five counties, which would give the State to the Republicans by not less than eight thousand majority, with both branches of the Legislature.

The census of 1875 shows that in Edgefield County there are 7,122 males, white and colored, over twenty-one years of age. On Thursday Hampton is returned as having had 6,267 votes and Chamberlain 3,107, a total of 9,374. This is 2,252 more votes than there are legal voters in the county. Beside this, there were in two polls more than six hundred colored men who were waiting to be allowed to vote when the boxes were closed. Not less than a thousand colored Republican voters were prevented forcibly from voting, so that the fraudulent discrepancy would be 3,252, or just about the claimed majority for Hampton. Election managers, County Canvassers, Federal Marshals, Commissioners, and Supervisors have united in a protest against the reception of the returns from this county, and have furnished a mass of sworn statements to substantiate the protest.

The Democratic papers teem with abuse of the members of the board. Both in public and in private ways they are threatened with condign punishment if they dare to thwart the shotgun Democracy. The Charleston News prints the following dispatch to-day:

"AIKEN, Nov. 11.—The two Radical Commissioners have up to to-day refused to unite with their Democratic colleagues in declaring the election, but, fearing that some fraud was designed, the boxes were yesterday placed in a cell of the jail, and the key put in the custody of the Clerk of the Circuit Court, and a strict guard is each night kept over them. Their purposes are not known, but they will be defeated, and on Monday a compliance with the law will be forced."

This game has already been played in several counties, and returns have been signed under protest, or without, because the Republican Commissioners believed their lives in danger, should they refuse. The board is surrounded by Democratic lawyers from this and other States. Several Democratic Northern Senators will be here to-night. On the other hand, not a Democratic lawyer could be had to act for the Republican officials, and they are left without any moral or legal aid from Northern Republicans. Should this not be changed?

Later—Counsel for the Democrats have given notice of an application to-morrow to the Supreme Court to prohibit the Board of Canvassers from hearing any questions of contest in regard to the election. The object is to compel the board to register the decrees of the Edgefield Rifle Clubs. It is asserted that Smith M. Weed, an agent of Tilden, is here, registered under an assumed name. The Charleston News insinuates to-day that the State Board is approachable. As the powers of the board are now to be brought before a court, the approaches must, if made, be diverted from them to the other channel.

BOTH NATIONAL AND STATE TICKETS ELECTED BY SEVERAL THOUSAND MAJORITY.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

COLUMBIA, Nov. 13.—Returns from twenty counties show that Tilden runs behind Hampton 1,800. The Democrats claim the State for Hampton by 1,300. When the returns are purged of fraudulent votes, it will be found that both the National and State Tickets have been elected by several thousand majority. Republican Edgefield County returns two thousand more votes than shown by the census of 1875. This county gives a Democratic majority of 3,225, where there should be a Republican majority of 1,500.

L. CASS CARPENTER, Collector.

THE COUNT IN DISPUTED STATES.

SENATOR LOGAN DECLINES TO GO SOUTH—PROMINENT GENTLEMEN ON THE WAY TO LOUISIANA AND FLORIDA.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Senator John A. Logan has declined the invitation to make one of a party to visit New-Orleans, believing that there would be an impropriety in his doing so, since the matter of the Louisiana vote will probably come before the United States Senate. Hon. C. B. Farwell, J. M. Beardsley, a lawyer of Rock Island, and Messrs. Taylor and Haven, merchants of Chicago, have gone from here to New-Orleans.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Judge D. K. Cartter, of the Supreme Court of this District, has gone to Columbia, S. C., at the request of the President, to be present at the canvass of the vote of South Carolina.

NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 13.—The following prominent party leaders are at the St. Charles Hotel, having arrived to-day via Jackson:

Ex-Senators Doolittle and Lyman Trumbull, Perry H. Smith, Chicago; G. B. Smith, Springfield, Ill.; ex-Gov. John H. Palmer, Illinois; John W. Stevenson, Kentucky; George W. Julian, Indianapolis; J. B. Stallo, Stanley, Mathews, Edwin F. Noyes, Job E. Stevenson, Cincinnati; Gen. McDonald, F. B. McDonald, John O. Love, M. Munson, Indianapolis; William T. Hamilton, Maryland; L. V. Bogy, St. Louis; William R. Morrison, Illinois; John B. Martin, Charles Gibson, St. Louis; George B. Smith, Wisconsin; J. O. Broadhead, St. Louis; C. R. Farwell, Abner Taylor, Illinois; C. Irving Ditty, Maryland.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 13.—Gen. John Coburn, Gen. Lew. Wallace, and Hon. Will. Cumback left for New-Orleans to-night.

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING.

DEMOCRATS HUNTING FOR COMFORT, AND THINKING THEY HAVE FOUND IT IN A VERMONT POST OFFICE.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The Democrats here are in that frame of mind that they actually derived comfort for a time this evening from the fact that a Vermont Elector chosen on Tuesday is a Postmaster. The dispatch being shown to Senator Morrill, of Vermont, he corrected the statement in one respect. Henry N. Solace is Postmaster at Bridport, instead of Bradford. Mr. Morrill was asked if the fact that Solace was Postmaster could cause any trouble, and he replied nothing more serious than the resignation of Solace from that office before he could be commissioned an elector. He alluded to an extreme case involving the same point, that of Abbott claiming an election as United States Senator from North Carolina and contesting the election of Vance. When the Legislature voted for Vance he was ineligible to the office, not having had his political disabilities removed, which were imposed by the amendments. Abbott claimed that the votes cast for Vance were null and void, and that the person who received the next highest vote, even if it were only one vote, was entitled to the seat. The Senate voted squarely on this question, and decided that the points presented in behalf of Abbott were not good law. Vance resigned before admission to the Senate, and Ranson was admitted.

THE POSTMASTER'S RESIGNATION ALREADY HANDED IN.

Dispatch to the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Nov. 13.—Henry N. Sollace, of Bridgeport, Vt., the Republican Presidential Elector against whose eligibility question has been raised on the ground of his holding the office of Postmaster, in an interview to-day with a representative of the Associated Press, stated that his resignation as Postmaster is already in the hands of the Postmaster General.

RANDOLPH'S DEMAGOGUISM.

SOWING THE SEEDS OF CIVIL DISCORD—A JUDGE WHO HAS MADE HIS DECISION BEFORE HEARING THE CASE.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

GREENSBORO, Nov. 13.—Senator Randolph passed through here this afternoon. He was accompanied by a number of prominent Democrats. At the depot he was met by a number of Democrats to whom he spoke at some length. He states that semi-official returns, given by Democrats at each box in Louisiana, give 7,569 Democratic majority, and that any other report by the Returning Board would be a fraud, and would be denounced as such; that Florida has gone Democratic, and that a certificate of election given to a Republican would be necessarily a fraud; that there might be some doubt as to South Carolina, but that Oregon was certainly Democratic. This conspicuous fairness, and on the part of a Judge going to see the vote fairly counted, has caused much excitement here.

VIEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

THE WORLD'S BOGUS DISPATCHES—HENRY WATTERSON'S SOUTHERN FABRICATIONS—PROVISIONS FOR FILLING VACANCIES IN THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE—THE TACTICS OF THE DEMOCRACY.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The inquiry is raised whether all of the World's political dispatches are as truthful as one from Pittsburg in this morning's copy of that paper, which states that Secretary Cameron passed through that city Saturday on his way South, and that he directed the Administration papers to persist in claiming Hayes' election, for it would all come right. Secretary Cameron has not been in Pittsburg, and has not gone South by any route.

Information has reached this city that Henry Watterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, who is now in New-Orleans, telegraphed to his paper that a dispatch had been received by Gov. Kellogg from Secretary Chandler, stating that Louisiana must be counted for Hayes and Wheeler at all hazards, and that Gov. Kellogg's reply was that it would be done. Gov. McCormick, Secretary of the National Committee, who is now in this city, pronounces Watterson's telegram to be a base fabrication.

The statement that the statutes of Louisiana and Florida make no provision for filling vacancies which may occur among Presidential Electors chosen by those States is not correct. The laws of both States provide that such vacancies may be filled by the electors. In this respect the laws of Louisiana and Florida are similar to those of the other States. In Colorado the organic act authorizes the Legislature to choose Presidential Electors, and the Electors of that State were chosen, in accordance therewith, on the 7th inst. Should a vacancy occur in Colorado, the Legislature can be convened and the vacancy filled. In all the States ample provision has been made to insure a full vote of the Electors chosen, and no apprehension need be felt should vacancies occur from any cause among members of the Electoral College.

Secretary Chandler has increased confidence that Hayes is elected. He admits no doubt of it, and, as Chairman of the National Committee, has been carrying forward the preparations for securing an honest count. Early this morning he received two dispatches from Florida, containing very encouraging information, and advices of the same tone have continued all day. In reply to a request to-night from the Union League Club, of New-York, to send the latest news, he telegraphed that to-day's advices gave Florida to Hayes by from one to two thousand; that enormous frauds had been attempted, but could not be consummated, and that the Democrats had virtually abandoned South Carolina and Louisiana.

The effect of the communications with the South to-day has been to strengthen the assurance that Hayes is elected. There is no discouraging news received here, and it is more than ever apparent that everything depends on an honest declaration of the votes as cast, South Carolina the Democrats still adhere to, for the mere form of it, but virtually concede it. Information was received to-day that the Democrats were sending a great number of people to Florida, and were transferring some thither from Louisiana. Invitations have accordingly been sent to a number of Republicans to go to Tallahassee, and a proper representation by good and true men will be made at that Capital. Already there are some trusty and able men there present. It now looks, as Mr. Chandler says, as though the Democrats depended chiefly on Florida; but they mean to keep up the contest everywhere till the decision is made. It was reported here this evening that Gen. Sherman was to leave to-night for the South. There was some delay in discovering the truth, which turned out to be that Gen. Sherman had received a dispatch from his brother, Senator John Sherman, who is going South to-night. Gen. Sherman is not going, so far as has yet been determined, and probably will not go. to Hayes. Louisiana is felt by them to be hopeless, and in a kind of despair they have turned unexpectedly upon Florida, and are concentrating their political forces there, though they had before regarded that State as the least adapted for their purposes. In Florida there may be considerable delay in announcing the vote, as the law gives a long time for the count, but it will doubtless be made as rapidly as possible.

NEW-YORK.

MAJORITIES BY COUNTIES FOR PRESIDENT AND GOVERNOR.

The following table gives the majorities for Hayes and Tilden and for Morgan and Robinson, respectively, in the several counties of the State. The returns of the Gubernatorial vote are still meagre:

Counties.	Hayes.	Tilden.	Morgan.	Robinson.
Albany	....	1,200	....	....
Allegany	3,002	....	....	....
Broome	1,343	....	1,287	....
Cattaraugus	1,627	....	1,474	....
Cayuga	3,002	....	....	....
Chautauqua	4,380	....	....	....
Chemung	....	497	....	866
Chenango	1,200	....	....	....
Clinton	750	....	....	....
Columbia	....	512	....	520
Cortland	1,377	....	....	....
Delaware	900	....	....	....
Dutchess	358	....	500	....
Erie	790	....	688	....
Essex	1,500	....	....	....
Franklin	1,167	....	1,100	....
Fulton	284	....	274	....
Genesee	1,000	....	....	....
Greene	....	1,000	....	....
Hamilton	....	50	....	....
Herkimer	750	....	650	....
Jefferson	2,159	....	....	....
Kings	....	18,518	....	15,817
Lewis	....	200	....	....
Livingston	1,239	....	1,212	....
Madison	1,911	....	1,721	....
Monroe	1,563	....	1488	....
Montgomery	300	....	....	....
New-York	....	53,155	....	51,405
Niagara	....	315	....	357
Oneida	1,308	....	1,262	....
Onondaga	2,478	....	....	....
Ontario	805	....	675	....
Orange	....	339	....	....
Orleans	1,050	....	....	....
Oswego	2,897	....	2,832	....
Otsego	....	161	....	160
Putnam	149	....	157	....
Queens	....	3,011	....	2,952
Rensselaer	....	800	....	....
Richmond	....	1,454	....	1,385
Rockland	....	1,157	....	....
St. Lawrence	7,646	....	....	....
Saratoga	989	....	876	....
Schenectady	....	300	....	300
Schoharie	....	1,800	....	....
Schuyler	607	....	....	....
Seneca	....	664	....	661
Steuben	945	....	1,010	....
Suffolk	....	197	....	218
Sullivan	....	500	....	....
Tioga	767	....	707	....
Tompkins	1,002	....	....	....
Ulster	....	1,561	....	....
Warren	475	....	448	....
Washington	2,512	....	2,358	....
Wayne	1777	....	1,841	....
Westchester	....	2,485	....	2,400
Wyoming	1,168	....	1,100	....
Yates	1,394	....	....	....
Total	58,391	89,876	....	....

Tilden's majority, 31,485.

THE RESULT IN CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—The contest over Congressmen in the Third and Fourth Districts is not yet decided, and perhaps cannot be until the official returns are received. In the Third District Luttrell, (Dem.,) is slightly ahead on incomplete returns. In the Fourth District Pacheco (Rep.,) is probably elected by a small majority, but some precincts are yet unheard from.

THE CITY WATER SUPPLY.

PROF. DOREMUS GIVES HIS VIEWS ON THE QUESTION—AN ENLARGEMENT OF THE CROTON AQUEDUCT NECESSARY.

Prof. R. Ogden Doremus lectured before the New-York Association for the Advancement of Science and Art last evening in Dr. Rogers' Church, corner of Twenty-first street and Fifth avenue. His subject was "Water and Croton Water." For upward of two hours the Professor entertained a large audience with a half-serious, half-humorous dissertation on the poetry, history, composition, capacity, and capabilities of water, illustrating his argument with scores of anecdotes and personal reminiscences. Among other things, he said that ancient Rome was vastly better supplied with water than the New-York of the present day, Rome having no fewer than nine different aqueducts, and three hundred millions of gallons of daily supply, against our one acqueduct with only one-third as much. Even Mexico and Peru as described by the early Spanish conqueror, were much better off in this respect than the inhabitants of the great Western Metropolis. Mr. Doremus submitted some interesting facts concerning the available supply of the Croton water-shed, for which he said he was largely indebted to ex-Commissioner Van Nort, of the Board of Public Works. The area of this water-shed was 335 square miles, and its daily yield from rain alone amounted to 300,000,000 gallons. The utmost capacity of the present aqueduct was only 115,000,000 per diem, and the result was that 340,000,000 gallons ran over the Croton dam daily that was wasted. In the present temper of the tax-paying portion of the community, and in the face of the obstructionist policy which had so long been in the ascendency, it would take a considerable period to arouse the public mind to the necessity of a new aqueduct. Unhappily for New-York, her public works had so frequently proved costly burdens that the most necessary and praiseworthy projects for public improvement, demanded by every consideration of health and policy, were too often looked upon with suspicion as containing the nucleus for future "jobs." In this state of things the best plan available was to restrict as much as possible the excessive waste of water, by the substitution of spring stop cocks, to improve the quality of the water itself by filtration, and to increase the supply in store by an enlargement of the existing reservoirs in the vicinity of Croton Lake so that an ample amount could be available in emergencies of drought or fire. Statistics showed that New-Yorkers, of all people in the world, used the most water. In New-York the daily consumption was 95 gallons to every inhabitant; in Cleveland 80, in Albany 75, in Brooklyn 60, and in Philadelphia, the cleanest of our cities, only 56. In London where the intermittent system was in vogue, the supply was 33 imperial (equal to 39½ common) gallons to each one of the population. In Dublin the daily supply to each person was 60 gallons, in Paris 38, and in Sheffield 20. For the purpose of filtering the Croton, so necessary during certain seasons of the year, the best material was charcoal, a substance that not only filtered the water, but had a peculiar power of burning up as it were the impurities in the element and in leaving it fresh and sweet.

At the conclusion of the lecture a vote of thanks was unanimously tendered to Prof. Doremus by the audience.

THE WEATHER.

SYNOPSIS AND PROBABILITIES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—1 A.M.—The Barometer continues high in the Southern States, but is highest in Minnesota and Dakota, whence cold northerly winds prevail southward to the Texas coast, being felt on the latter as a severe "norther." The low barometer east of New-England has moved somewhat eastward, and rising barometer, cooler, north-west winds, and partly cloudy weather prevail over the Eastern and Middle States, the lower lakes, and Ohio Valley. The rivers changed but little on Monday.

PROBABILITIES.

For the lower lake region and Middle States, north-west to south-west winds, warmer followed by colder, cloudy weather, and rising barometer.

For New-England, north-west winds, rising barometer, and cooler, partly cloudy weather.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

NEW COMPLICATIONS ARISING.

THE TURKISH OPPOSITION TO A CONFERENCE WITHOUT PRELIMINARY GUARANTEES MORE DETERMINED—THE RECENT SPEECH OF THE CZAR—WAR SPIRIT IN RUSSIA—THE LONDON POST'S DECLARATION OF THE POSITION OF ENGLAND.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The Pall Mall Gazette of yesterday afternoon, in a leading article, says: "Once more darkness has fallen over the prospects of peace. That it will lift again we may hope, but the news that comes both from St. Petersburg and Constantinople gives us warning that what is called feeling may yet conquer wisdom, and that a certain degree of insanity already threatens to creep into the judgments of those upon whom depends the tremendous issue of peace or war. The speech of the Czar is not the most alarming incident of the time, but it is far from pleasant reading. What are the guarantees which the Czar has in mind? Are they such conditions as the Porte will grant? There lies the whole question, and if we are to rely upon this morning's news from Constantinople, the question is not likely to be answered to the mind of the Czar. Turkey hesitates, we are told to accept a conference, and the Grand Vizier has telegraphed his objection to the English Government. Moreover, in another report professing to come from Constantinople, (the Pall Mall Gazette here refers to a special dispatch in to-day's Telegraph,) we get what would seem to be the substance of the objections thus referred to. The Turkish Government, who are said to be deeply stirred by the injustice done to their nation, and by the ill-return their enemies make for all their proofs of moderation, are stated to have telegraphed instructions to their representatives abroad to the following effect: 'We desire peace, with or without a conference, but we must have guarantees for the integrity of our territory before we can admit recommendations or requests. We consider it an evil, if not a fatal, precedent to accept a conference upon the internal affairs of the Empire. If Europe has propositions to make to us, let the signatory powers of the Treaty of Paris make them collectively, and we will reply yes or no.' Such is the account given of the attitude of the Turkish Government, and if it be correct, it is needless to dwell upon the seriousness of the news. No comment could enhance the gravity of so critical a situation as it reveals. If the temper too plainly indicated in this haughty message is really dominant at Constantinople, the prospect is a gloomy one, indeed."

The Czar's speech at Moscow on Friday last has a depressing effect on the Stock Exchange here.

A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from St. Petersburg says the Czar's speech has found a general and enthusiastic echo throughout the Russian Empire. Town councils, diets, trades, merchants, guilds, the clergy, and, in fact, all classes unanimously declare without qualification their joyful readiness to contribute to and fulfill to the utmost all the demands which the Czar and the Empire may make for the protection of the interests of Russia. They place their fortunes and all their resources at the disposal of the Government to provide the necessary means.

A special dispatch to the Paris Temps from Belgrade states that the Servian Government has received instructions to send back to Russia immediately all Russian officers who have not resigned their commissions in the Russian Army.

Sir Stafford Northcote, Chancellor of the Exchequer, speaking at a Conservative banquet in Bristol to-night, alluded to the Eastern complications. He said the powers were not actuated by jealousy. He believed the Czar's speech had been misunderstood. He would not attempt to forecast what would happen if the conference failed; but he most confidently believed there was every reasonable probability of a peaceful settlement. Right Hon. Robert Lowe also spoke in Bristol to-night at a dinner of the Liberal Party. He declared there was imminent possibility of England's engaging in a war of which every Englishman ought to be ashamed. He deprecated Lord Beaconsfield's defiance of Russia. He thought the proposed conference would lead to no good, and feared the peace of Europe was in imminent jeopardy.

VIENNA, Nov. 13.—The Political Correspondence publishes intelligence from Constantinople that the Turkish forces in the neighborhood of Erzeroum will shortly number 120,000. A camp will be established at Schumla for the corps now stationed at Nisch and 150,000 men of Dervisch Pasha's Army. Battalions from Yemen, Damascus, and Aleppo pass through Constantinople daily en route for Schumla. The fleet of Turkish ironclads is being divided into four squadrons, one of which will remain in the Bosphorus, two cruise in the Mediterranean and the other, under the command of Admiral Hebart Pasha, cruise in the Black Sea.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 13.—The newspapers here announce that the Porte has decided it cannot state its views as to the proposal for a conference until it knows exactly what points will be dicussed.

ATHENS, Nov. 13.—A public meeting of 7,000 citizens has been held here, at which it was resolved that an association be formed for promoting military preparations.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 13.—The Czar has arrived at Tsarskoeselo, the imperial residence near this city.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The Standard's dispatch from Berlin says the failure of the Conference project is considered there as almost certain. The same impression prevails in Vienna. Among other sensational reports in circulation is one that Russia has chartered seventy steamers in the Black Sea ports for the transportation of troops, and will thus avoid the necessity of crossing the Danube, and be able to attempt a landing near the promontory of Karaburum. It is also reported that the land owners of South Russia have offered the Czar 5,000,000 roubles.

The Vienna correspondent of the Times says Russia's acceptance of England's conference proposal seems as complete and unreserved as could be desired. This would be satisfactory were it not for the preliminary meeting which is to precede the real conference. Gen. Ignatieff has been urging the commencement of this meeting; there is not, however, much chance of its commencing until all the plenipotentiaries have arrived in Constantinople. The English and the Austrian Ambassadors have received instructions not to engage in such meeting until further orders. One cannot but view such preliminary meetings with suspicion for the programme of the Conference being accepted by all the Powers, and the elaboration of the programme being the work of the principal conference, it is difficult to see what may be the use of the preliminary meeting except to furnish an opportunity for destroying the programme itself.

The Times correspondent at Berlin, on the contrary, asserts that all the Powers have agreed to the preliminary conference. Turkey having repeatedly declared that the contemplated reforms cannot be confined to her rebel provinces, a reply has been given that the Sultan may extend the reform to other territories, but Europe will supervise their application only in Bosnia, Bulgaria, and Herzegovina. The same dispatch states that Russia proposes to levy all duties in gold from January. This is tantamount to increasing her tariff twenty per cent.

THE ATTITUDE OF ENGLAND.

OMINOUS DECLARATIONS, UNDERSTOOD TO BE OF A SEMI-OFFICIAL CHARACTER—INVASION OF TURKISH TERRITORY TO BE RESISTED.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The Post publishes a paragraph in a very conspicuous form, confirming the news that Russia is about to mobilize her Army. The following sentence is a striking feature of the paragraph: "It is no secret that public opinion here has viewed the Russian propositions for the occupation of Turkish territory as a pretext for aggression; and, taking our stand on the Treaty of Paris, we are prepared to resist invasion of Turkish territory." The paragraph continues as follows: "The question at issue, however, if all parties are truly bent upon a peaceful solution, ought to be capable of being dealt with in a spirit of conciliation. We cannot but hope, therefore, that an issue may be found which may avoid war."

The foregoing is printed in what is usually considered a semi-official form. It is noticeable that several announcements recently made by the Post in a similar manner have proved to be correct.

THE VATICAN AND THE CIVIL POWER.

PROPOSED ACTION OF THE ITALIAN GOVERNMENT IN THE EVENT OF THE POPE'S DEATH—THE VATICAN TO BE OCCUPIED.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The Cologne Gazette this evening publishes a report which has been presented to the King of Italy by his Ministers regarding the measures to be taken by the Italian Government at the death of his Holiness the Pope. The Ministers propose immediately after the Pope's death to occupy the neighborhood of the Vatican by military. The Prefect of Rome will request certain Papal officials to assist at viewing the body and other necessary formalities. If this be refused, the Prefect will forcibly enter the Vatican, accompanied by the Questor and also by physicians, notaries, and witnesses, who, after viewing the body, will send a certificate of inquest to the Cardinal Deacon. A seal will be attached to the furniture in the Pope's apartments, and will remain there until the removal of the body. After twenty-four hours the body will be at the disposal of the clergy. The report also recommends that the Prefect be instructed, after viewing the Pope's body, to take possession of the most important papal insignia, including the fisherman's ring, and deliver them, with the certificate of inquest, to the Cardinal Deacon."

THE SINKING OF THE STRATHCLYDE.

CONVICTION OF THE CAPTAIN OF THE STEAMER FRANCONIA QUASHED ON THE GROUND OF LACK OF JURISDICTION.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Lord Chief Justice Cockburn to-day delivered judgment in the case of The Queen vs. Ferdinand Keyn, Captain of the German steamer Franconia, who was tried for manslaughter for running down within three miles of Dover the British steamer Strathclyde, thereby causing the death of several English subjects, and in whose case an appeal was taken against the jurisdiction of the court. In delivering judgment his Lordship said the facts were sufficient to justify the trial of the defendant if the court had jurisdiction. The legality of the trial was contested on the ground that the defendant was a foreigner on a foreign vessel, sailing from one foreign port to another on a peaceful voyage. The offense was committed on the high seas, and whether he might be amenable to the laws of his own country, the defendant could not be tried and punished by the laws of England. The right now claimed by the Crown was utterly unknown to the law of England, and had never before been exercised. It was first put forward in 1609 by Grotius, and only rested upon consensus of the jurists who had written from that time downward on the question of territorial authority. His Lordship having in an elaborate judgment reviewed all authorities bearing on the point, and the writings of English and foreign jurists, said "the conviction must be quashed from want of jurisdiction."

CURRENT TOPICS ABROAD.

THE SHIPMENTS OF SPECIE TO THE UNITED STATES—THE LATE EGYPTIAN FINANCE MINISTER—BURNING OF A MADRID THEATRE.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Specie to the value of £84,000 was withdrawn from the Bank of England to-day for shipment to the United States.

CAIRO, Nov. 13.—The death of the Egyptian Finance Minister, which was reported to have occurred while he was en route to Dongola, whither he had been exiled for endeavoring to originate a plot against the Khédive, is denied. His condition, however, is stated to be precarious.

HAVANA, Nov. 13.—Three steamers have arrived from Spain since the last report, with three thousand troops and four Generals. Among the passengers was Señor Cancio Villamil, formerly Director General of Finances, who comes now as representative of the shareholders of the late national loan for the benefit of this island. General in Chief Martinez Campos, with his staff, left the city last night to take the field.

MADRID, Nov. 13.—The Circus Theatre has been destroyed by fire. It is reported that some lives were lost in the building.

SCHOOL SUITS.—Large stock at greatly reduced prices. BROKAW BROTHERS, Fourth avenue, opposite Cooper Institute.—Exchange.

One of the most delightful of all physical experiences is that of the bather when he steps out of the bath in a splendid glow of strength and health. He can increase this delight by recourse to B. T. BABBITT'S BABY SOAP, a new article, which cannot be equaled, for it is composed of the finest vegetable oils and prepared with the greatest possible regard to excellence of manufacture. Mothers need no longer fear that their little ones will absorb disease and poison from one of the most essential of physical operations.—Advertisement.

Leland's Sturtevant House.

Rooms, with board, $3, $3 50, and $4. Desirable suites and entire floors for families for the Winter.—Advertisement.

Now is the time for Bargains.

A. RAYMOND & CO., Clothiers, corner of Fulton and Nassau sts., are offering splendid bargains in order to dispose of their fall stock.—Advertisement.

POND'S EXTRACT for all Hemorrhages and all Pains. No preparation is equal to it. In the Extract Nature and Science are combined.—Advertisement.

THE HIGHEST AWARD granted any exhibitor by Centennial Exposition is given the ELASTIC TRUSS CO. for SILK ELASTIC TRUSSES. Sold only at 683 Broadway.—Advertisement.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TIMES.

THE NEW-YORK SEMI-WEEKLY TIMES, published THIS MORNING, contains the fullest election returns; all the general news; the closing of the Exhibition; letters from our correspondents at home and abroad; editorial articles on matters of current interest; agricultural matter; the poultry business; carefully prepared commercial matter, giving the latest financial news and market reports; articles of agricultural and domestic interest, and other interesting reading matter.

Copies for sale at THE TIMES OFFICE; also at the TIMES UP TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

The great remedy for Consumption. This well-known remedy is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years; and when resorted to in season, seldom fails to effect a speedy cure of coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, influenza, whooping cough, hoarseness, pains or soreness in the chest or side, bleeding at the lungs, liver complaint, &c. Beware of Counterfeits! Remember that the genuine WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY has on the outside wrapper the signature of "I. BUTTS," and the printed name of the proprietors, "SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Boston." All others are base imitations. Examine the wrapper carefully before purchasing.

Catarrh is in most cases the result of a neglected cold or cough. BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES have a soothing effect on the irritated membrane extending from the nose to the throat.

A Tooth for a Tooth, that is to say an artificial tooth for a real one, is not a good exchange. Therefore, keep your natural teeth unimpaired, and in order to do so use that famous preservative toothwash, SOZODONT. It is a wholesome botanical preparation, unrivaled as an anti-putrescent and antagonist of decomposition and decay.

Are You Ever Annoyed with Wind in the stomach? Sometimes a stitch of pain will double you up. There are numberless cases who have sought relief from physicians in vain. You will never get relief until you use PARKER'S GINGER TONIC, and then you will be astonished with the comfort it gives you.

Don't Lose Your Hair.

CHEVALIER'S LIFE FOR THE HAIR restores gray perfectly, stops it falling out at once, increases its growth rapidly, and makes the hair beautiful. Sold by all druggists.

First Premium

Awarded by Centennial Exposition to ELECTRO SILICON. The best article for cleaning and polishing silverware and household utensils. Sold by druggists, house furnishers, jewelers, and grocers.

Use Brummell's Celebrated Cough Drops.

The genuine have F. H. B. on each drop.

To Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays all pain, and cures wind colic.

MARRIED.

ALLEN—FOX.—In Philadelphia, Nov. 4, 1876, by Rev. S. S. Seward, of Wilmington, Del., ARTHUR M. ALLEN to LEONORA L., daughter of the late Richard Fox, all of New-York.

GREENE—ABBOTT.—At Bristol, R. I., on Nov. 8, by Rev. George L. Locke, Rector of St. Michael's Church, Commander SAMUEL DANA GREENE, United States Navy, to MARY ABBY, daughter of the late Major Jacob Abbott, of Bristol.

LEVERICH—WILMOT.—At Grace Church, Brooklyn Heights, on Thursday, Nov. 9, by Rev. W. E. Snively, D. D., JAMES H. LEVERICH, of New-York, and MARY E., daughter of John Wilmot, Esq., of Brooklyn, Long Island.

WESTCOTT—PETERS.—In Brooklyn, on Wednesday, Nov. 8, at St. Ann's on the Heights, by Rev. Noah H. Schenck, D. D., ROBERT E. WESTCOTT, of Orange, N. J., to ADA LOUISE PETERS, of Brooklyn, Long Island.

DIED.

BADGER.—Suddenly, in Brooklyn, Sunday, Nov. 12, AUGUSTUS H. BADGER, aged 66 years.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral, Wednesday, Nov. 15, at 2 o'clock P. M., from his late residence, No. 468 Franklin av., corner Jefferson st.

BROWN.—At Dundaff, Penn., on Saturday, Nov. 11, WILLIAM LIVSEY BROWN, aged 22 years, 1 month, and 10 days.

Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend the funeral from No. 685 Greenwich st., to-day (Tuesday) at 1 o'clock P. M.

COBB.—At St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 9, WILLIAM HALAND, youngest son of Sarah M. and the late Capt. Jacob A. Cobb, aged 20 years and 11 months.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend the funeral from his late residence, No. 15 Willoughby av., Brooklyn, on Wednesday, Nov. 15, at 11 A. M. Interment at the Moravian Cemetery, Staten Island.

CURTIS.—Suddenly, at Stratford, Conn., Oct. 30, 1876, Mr. MUNSON CURTIS, in the 69th year of his age.

LOCKWOOD.—On Sunday, Nov. 12, Mrs. JULIA LOCKWOOD, in the 83d year of her age.

The relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend the funeral from the Union Reformed Church, 6th av., opposite Amity st., on Tuesday, Nov. 14, at 1 o'clock.

☞ Orange County papers please copy.

LORD.—On Sunday, Nov. 12, after a short illness, at Morristown, N. J., CORNELIA LIVINGSTON LORD, only child of Edward C. and Emily M. Lord.

Funeral services at the Church of the Redeemer, Morristown, on Wednesday, Nov. 15, at 2.30 o'clock. Trains leave Hoboken ferries at noon.

MURRAY.—At his residence at Harlem, Monday, 13th, Col. EDWARD MURRAY.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

NICOLL.—Nov. 12, at New-Windsor, Orange County, N. Y., ETHELBERT B. NICOLL.

Funeral from his late residence, Wednesday, at 2 P. M.

SMYTH.—At Greenwich, Washington County, N. Y., on Sunday, Nov. 12, of typhoid fever, in the 25th year of her age, MARY MCCREA CONGER, wife of Rev. Henry Mason Smyth, and daughter of Abraham B. Conger.

Funeral at Greenwich on Wednesday, Nov. 15, at 1 P. M. Trains by Hudson River Road leave Grand Central Depot at 11:50 A. M. and 11 P. M. on Tuesday, connecting at Troy with Boston and Albany Road, which connects at Johnsonville with train for Greenwich.

TRIPP.—On Monday, Nov. 13, AMOS L. TRIPP, in the 34th year of his age.

The relatives and friends, also the members of Putnam Lodge, No. 338, F. and A. M., Putnam Association, Ætna Club, Alaska Club, and Lincoln Club, of the Seventh Assembly District, are respectfully invited to attend his funeral on Wednesday, Nov. 15, at 12:30 P. M., from the Baptist Church in 16th st., near 8th av.

WEEDEN.—On Monday, at No. 23 Lafayette place, Mrs. CATHARINE WEEDEN, aged 70 years, widow of Daniel S. Weeden.

Funeral services at the residence of her nephew, George F. Johnson, No. 220 East 11th st., on Wednesday, at 12 o'clock.

WINDLE.—At Stamford, Conn., Nov. 12, ELIZABETH KING WINDLE, daughter of the late Henry Windle, in the 16th year of her age.

Funeral services will be held at St. John's Church, Stamford, on Wednesday, the 15th, at 2 o'clock P. M.

WHITE.—On Saturday, Nov. 11, GEORGE GRANVILLE WHITE, in the 76th year of his age.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend his funeral from the residence of his brother, Alexander M. White, No. 2 Pierrepont place, Brooklyn, on Tuesday, the 14th inst., at 1 P. M.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

AT LOW PRICES.

IMPORTED

NECK WEAR,

FALL STYLES.

WARD'S,

381 BROADWAY, CORNER WHITE ST.

862 BROADWAY, CORNER 14TH ST.

1,121 BROADWAY, CORNER 25TH ST.

THE MESSRS. LEAVITT, AUCTIONEERS.

THIS DAY, (TUESDAY) at 3:30 o'clock P.M.
THIS DAY, (TUESDAY) at 7:30 o'clock P.M.
Also WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY, and SATURDAY, at CLINTON HALL,
At same hour each day.

MR. MENZIES' LIBRARY.

An unparalleled collection of rare, unique, and elegant books.

Books on exhibition each day until 2 o'clock P. M.

THE MESSRS. LEAVITT, AUCTIONEERS.
PEREMPTORY SALE.

SPANAISH and FRENCH ART.

Thursday and Friday evenings, Nov. 16 and 17, at the Art Rooms, No. 817 Broadway, at 8 o'clock.

THE TOLOSA COLLECTION.

Now on exhibition, free, at the Art Rooms, No. 817 Broadway, the entire collection of Oil Paintings, Water Colors—Antique Furniture—Arms and Armor—Tapestries—Costumes—Bric-a-Brac Studio Furniture, &c., collected by

T. TOLOSA, Esq.

The Paintings in this Collection are almost entirely new to the public, and well worthy the special attention of lovers of fine art.

Among the artists represented in this choice collection will be found Fortuny, Pradilla, Domingo, Plasencia, Peralta, Jiminez, Casado, Morera, Garland, Madrazo, Plassan, Baron, Weber, Pinchart, De Jongbe, Goupil, and many others of note.

HERMAN TROST & CO.,

Importers of French China,

DINNER, TEA, DESSERT AND CHAMBER SETS, &c.

Table Glassware, Clocks and Bronzes,

Bohemian Fancy Glassware in great variety.

SEVRES, DRESDEN, BERLIN, AND WORCESTER PORCELAIN.

Parian Marble Statuettes and Busts.

MODERN AND ANTIQUE MAJOLICAS AND FAIENCES' PALISSY AND SIMILAR WARES,

in various graceful, unique, and curious shapes, such as Vases, Jugs, Flower-holders, Flagons, Brackets, &c., exact reproductions of Antique Models. These novel and very artistic articles are particularly appropriate as presents for ornamenting dining-room, parlor, or hall.

Many articles originally intended for the Philadelphia Exhibition were sent by the European manufacturers to us, and are now in our store on view and for sale.

NOS. 48, 50, 52, AND 54 MURRAY ST., NEW-YORK.

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

The foreign mails for the week ending Saturday, Nov. 18, 1876, will close at this office on Tuesday at 12 M. for Europe, per steam-ship Wyoming, via Queenstown; on Wednesday at 11:30 A. M. for Europe, per steam-ship Bothnia, via Queenstown; on Thursday at 11:30 A. M. for Europe, per steam-ship Suevia, via Plymouth, Cherbourg, and Hamburg; on Saturday at 4 A. M. for Europe, per steam-ship City of Berlin, via Queenstown—correspondence for Scotland and Germany to be forwarded by this steamer must be specially addressed—and at 4 A. M. for Scotland direct, per steam-ship Bolivia, via Glasgow, and at 11:30 A. M. for Europe, per steam-ship Oder, via Southampton and Bremen. The steam-ships Wyoming, Bothnia, and City of Berlin do not take mails for Denmark, Sweden, and Norway. The mails for the West Indies, via Bermuda and St. Thomas, will leave New-York Nov. 23. The mails for China, &c., will leave San Francisco Dec. 1. The mails for Australia, &c., will leave San Francisco Dec. 6. T. L. JAMES, Postmaster.

LEFT HER HOME ON SATURDAY, NOV. 11, a young lady, aged fifteen, about five feet one inch high, dark brown eyes, very dark brown hair, dark complexion; generally of a pleasing appearance. When she left home she was dressed in a dark brown woolen dress, with a faint white check; plain black cloth sack, round turban brown straw hat trimmed with plain brown velvet. Any information concerning her given to the Superintendent of the Police will be thankfully received by her friends.

COMPROMISE.—BETWEEN THE TWO PARTISAN candidates for President the difference admits of no safe or acceptable adjustment. As between them, let the fact be recognized that there has been no election. If, in this state of facts, the Colorado Legislature, reconsidering its Electoral vote, shall give it to ADAMS, of Massachusetts, for President, and FERRY, of Michigan, for Vice President, the election is thrown into the House of Representatives, and, with a controlling combination upon these two men secured in advance, a safe, fair, and constitutional extraction from a grave situation is assured.

BANGS, MERWIN & CO., 656 BROADWAY, Will sell at auction on TUESDAY, Nov. 14, and following days at 3 P. M.,

NEW ENGLISH AND AMERICAN BOOKS,

Embracing many illustrated standard and miscellaneous novels, juveniles, &c.

R. STUART WILLIS, ATTORNEY AND Counselor at Law, Notary Public, No. 187 Broadway, Room No. 4 New-York.

N. B.—Special attention paid to settling "estates," conveyancing, and City and country collection.

KEEP'S CUSTOM SHIRTS MADE TO MEASURE.—The very best, six for $9: not the slightest obligation to take or keep any of KEEP'S shirts unless perfectly satisfactory. No. 571 Broadway, and No. 921 Arch st., Philadelphia.

CHRONIC, KIDNEY, BLADDER, THEIR cognate and hitherto fatal diseases, with full directions for their cure, in DR. HEATH'S book of 100 pages, gratis, at No. 200 Broadway, New-York.

POLITICAL.

SECOND ASSEMBLY DISTRICT REPUBLICAN ASSOCIATION.—Regular monthly meeting at head-quarters, No. 466 Pearl st., THIS EVENING at 8 o'clock. DENIS SHEA, President.
THOMAS BROWN, Secretary.

FOURTH ASSEMBLY DISTRICT REPUBLICAN ASSOCIATION.—The regular monthly meeting will be held at head-quarters, No. 521 Grand st., THIS (Tuesday) EVENING at 7:30.
GEO. W. WEED, President.
CHAS. M. NERVINS, Secretary.

TWENTY-FIRST ASSEMBLY DISTRICT REPUBLICAN ASSOCIATION.—The Regular Monthly Meeting will be held at Lincoln Hall, 3d av., corner of 116th st., on TUESDAY EVENING, Nov. 17, 1876, at 8 o'clock. RUFUS B. COWING, President.
HENRY WELSH, Secretary.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

LONDON, Nov. 13—12:15 P. M.—Consols 95¾ for both money and the account. United States bonds, new 5s, 106¾. Erie Railway shares, 9⅝.

1:30 P. M.—Consols 95⅝ for both money and the account.

4 P. M.—Consols 95 11-16 for both money and the account. The amount of bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance to-day is £212,000. Paris advices quote 5 ⅌ cent. Rentes at 104f. 72½c. for the account.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—Exchange on London, 25f. 15½c. for short sight.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 13.—Pork—Eastern dull at 80s.; Western dull at 71s. Bacon—Cumberland Cut dull at 45s.; Short Rib dull at 44s.; Long Clear dull at 43s.; Short Clear dull at 44s. Hams—Long Cut dull at 52s. Shoulders dull at 35s. 6d. Beef—India Mess steady at 100s.; Extra dull at 110s.; Prime do. steady at 90s. Lard—Prime Western firmer at 50s. Tallow—Prime City dull at 43s. 3d. Spirits Turpentine firmer at 27s 6d. Rosin—Common dull at 5s. 9d.; do. fine dull at 10s. 6d. Cheese—American, choice firmer at 60s. Lard-oil dull at 54s. Flour—Extra State dull at 25s. Wheat—Spring No. 1 dull at 9s. 11d.; do. No. 2 dull at 9s. 3d.; Winter dull at 9s. 7d. Corn—Mixed Soft firmer at 26s. Receipts of Wheat for the week from Atlantic ports, 19,000 quarters; from Pacific ports, none; from other sources, 16,750 quarters. Receipts of Corn, 24,500 quarters.

12:15—P. M.—Cotton—Futures weak; 1-32d. cheaper; Uplands, Low Middling clause, shipped November and December, sail, 6 17-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, shipped November and December, sail, 6½d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, shipped January and February, sail, 6⅝d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, January and February delivery, 6⅝d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, February and March delivery, 6½d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, March and April delivery, 6⅝d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, March and April delivery, 6 19-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, March and April delivery, 6 9-16d. The receipts of Cotton to-day were 7,300 bales, of which 2,800 were American. Breadstuffs—Corn, 26s. ⅌ quarter for new Mixed Western.

12:30 P. M.—Cotton—The market is quieter; Middling Uplands, 6 11-16d.; Middling Orleans, 6⅞d. Sales 12,000 bales, including 3,000 for speculation and export. Futures—Uplands, Low Middling clause, January and February delivery, 6 15-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, new crop, shipped November and December, sail, 6 17-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, January and February delivery, 6½d.

1:30 P. M.—Provisions—Beef, 90s. ⅌ tcs. for New Winter-cured. Cotton—Uplands, Low Middling clause, December and January delivery, 6 17-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, March and April delivery, 6⅝d.

1:30 P. M.—Cotton—Uplands, Low Middling clause, February and March delivery, 6 9-16d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, March and April delivery, 6 19-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, new crop, shipped October and November, sail, 6 17-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, new crop, shipped November and December, sail, 6 9-16d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, new crop, shipped December and January, sail, 6 19-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, new crop, shipped January and February, sail, 6 21-32d.

3 P. M.—Cotton—Uplands, Low Middling, clause February and March delivery, 6½d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, March and April delivery, 6 19-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, new crop, shipped November and December, sail, 6½d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, new crop, shipped December and January, sail, 6 17-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, new crop, shipped December and January, sail, 6½d.

5 P. M.—Cotton—Futures weak; Uplands, Low Middling clause, November and December delivery, 6 15-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, December and January delivery, 6 15-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, February and March, delivery, 6 15-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, March and April delivery, 6 17-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, new crop, shipped January and February, sail, 6 9-16d.

5:30 P. M.—Refined Petroleum, 19½d. ⅌ gallon.

LONDON, Nov. 13—5:30 P. M.—Refined Petroleum, 19d. ⅌ gallon; Spirits of Turpentine, 27s. 3d.@27s. 6d. ⅌ cwt.

Evening—Calcutta Linseed, 53s. 6d.@54s.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The following business was transacted at the Exchange yesterday, (Monday,) Nov. 13:

Hugh N. Camp, by order of the Superior Court in foreclosure, Morris A. Tyng, Esq., Referee, sold a four-story and basement brown-stone-front house, with lot 18.9 by 98.9, on West 32d st., north side, 175 feet east of 9th av., for $14,200, to M. Dinkelspiel.

Wood & Moies, by order of the Supreme Court in foreclosure, George B. Smith, Esq., Referee, sold a four-story brick house, with lot 20 by 100.11, on East 113th st., north side, 100 feet east of 2d av., for $6,600, to George Manchester.

J. Thomas Stearns, also under a Supreme Court foreclosure order, M. Hoffman, Jr., Esq., Referee, sold a two-story and basement frame house, with a plot of land 50 by 147.9 by 50 by 148.6, on Prospect av., west side, adjoining land of James P. Fitch, West Farms, Twenty-fourth Ward, for $1,200, to German Savings Bank of Morrisania.

The following sales were adjourned: Sale by William Kennelly of a plot of land on West 62d st., north-west corner of Broadway, to Nov. 20. Sale by H. N. Camp of a plot of land on St. Nicholas av. and 145th st. to same date, and sale by B. P. Fairchild of a plot of land on 10th av., north-west corner of 185th st., to Nov. 21.

TO-DAY'S AUCTIONS.

To-day's sales, all at the Exchange, are as follows: By D. M. Seaman, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, Philo T. Ruggles, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 23.11 by 91.9 by 24.2 by 91.1, on John st., south side, 72.6 feet east of William st.

By A. H. Muller & Son, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, S. B. Brownell, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 24.9 by 100, on Attorney st., east side, 225 feet north of Stanton st. Also, similar sale, W. A. Boyd, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 20 by 98.9, on West 33d st., south side, 225 feet east of 6th av.

By Winans & Davies, Supreme Court, foreclosure sale of a house, with lot 22.3 by 105.9 on East 3d st., south side, 408.11 feet west of Avenue D.

By R. V. Harnett, Receiver's sale, C. Norwood, Esq., Receiver, of the three-story and basement frame house, with lot 18.9 by 99.11, No. 57 West 132d st., north side, 135 feet east of 6th av. Boulevard.

By Hugh N. Camp, Supreme Court, foreclosure sale, William P. Dixon, Esq., Referee, of a plot of land, 108 by 479 by 170 by 519 by 88, on Boston road, north side, adjoining the lands of Mrs. Janet Beck, at West Farms, 23d Ward.

By D. M. Clarkson, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, John Frankenheimer, Esq., Referee, of one lot, 25 by 100.5, on East 59th st., south side, 100 feet east of 5th av.

EXCHANGE SALES—MONDAY, NOV. 13.

NEW-YORK.

By Hugh N. Camp.

1 four-story and basement brown-stone-front house with lot, West 32d st., n. s., 175 ft. e. of 9th ave., lot 18.9x98.9 .... $14,200

By Wood & Moies.

1 four-story brick house with lot, East 113th st., n. s., 100 ft. e. of 2d ave., lot 20x100.11. $6,600

By J. Thomas Stearns.

1 two-story and basement frame house with lot, Prospect ave., w. s., adjoining lands of J. P. Fitch, West Farms, 24th Ward, plot 50x147.9x50x148.6 .... $1,200

RECORDED REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

NEW-YORK.

Saturday, Nov. 11.

44th st. s. s. 175 ft. e. of 10th av., 19.4x100.4; F. H. Weeks and wife, to M. A. Conabeer	$15,000
116th st. n. s. 300 ft. w. of 3d av.; 17x100.3; S. F. Hunt to Mary Hawkins	13,000
Orchard st. w. s. 150 ft. s. of Grand st. 25x88.9; I. Jacobson to H. R. Kietzschmar	250
75th st. s. s. 140 ft. w. of 2d av., 20x102.2; W. R. Rose to A. Dold	nom.
Monroe st. s. s. between Clinton and Montgomery sts., 23.1½x100; W. B. Searls and wife to E. L. Searls	5,800
Leight st. n. s. 254.6 ft. e. of Hudson, 23x175 x irregular; also 8th av., w. s. 225 ft. s. 71st., 50x100; also, 76th st. s. s. 200 ft. w. of 11th av. 151.9½x54.5; O. B. Wood to S. M. Starr	25,000
Broadway, n. w. cor. Fulton st., 29x77.2; G. W. Coster to John E. Parsons	400
West 12th st., s. s., 238.5 ft. w. of Greenwich av., 20.7x85.10x irregular; J. H. Lyon and wife to M. E. Butcher	12,000
West 12th st., s. s. 238.5, same property; M. E. Butcher and wife to J. H. Lyon	12,000
71st st., s. s. 55ft. w. of 9th av., 20x102.2; W. P. Blake and wife to L. Smith	12,000
Pearl st., No. 254, 25 x irregular; A. B. Blodgett, executor, to H. H. Andersen	21,666
Madison av., n. w. corner 75th st., 27.2x95 ft.; United States Life Insurance Company to E. Kilpatrick	16,000
Front st., n. e. corner Maiden Lane. 51.10x41.8; J. B. Gray to H. R. LeRoy	20,000
Pearl st., No. 254, 25x irregular; D. C. Blodgett to D. Dows	21,666
Elizabeth st., w. s., 125 ft. n. of Bayard st. 25x94.5; J. A. Welch, Referee, to Knickerbocker Life Insurance Company	8,000
Columbia st., No. 66, 23.6x99.11; E. D. Gale to A. Kanenbley	7,950
2d av., n. e. corner 61st st., 25x100.5; E. B. Gwillim, Referee, to S. Zeimer	10,150
2d av., s. w. corner 114th st., 62x100.8; E. B. Gwillim, Referee, to S. Zeimer	37,200

CITY REAL ESTATE.

A.—FOR SALE—THE FOUR-STORY HOUSE NO. 13 West 12th st., just west 5th av.; is of full width and depth, well built, and in good order.
E. H. LUDLOW & CO., No. 3 Pine st.

AN UNUSUALLY COMMANDING BROADway property, near 22d st., 40 or 80 feet front by 115 feet; will lease or sell low, and rebuild with handsome elevation to suit either piano-forte, gas-fixture, crockery, carpet, furniture, publisher, sewing-machine, or clothier's business. V. K. STEVENSON, JR., 4 Pine and 33 East 17th st.

LEXINGTON AV., NEAR 61ST ST.—SUPERB medium-size modern brown-stone dwelling for sale or to rent, furnished or unfurnished, low. Permits at 4 Pine or 33 East 17th st.
V. K. STEVENSON, JR.

FOR SALE AT A BARGAIN—AN ELEGANT full-sized house in West 58th st., close to 5th av.; location elegant. Apply to
HOMER MORGAN, No. 2 Pine st.

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.

HUGH N. CAMP, Auctioneer.

WILL SELL AT AUCTION ON THURSDAY, Dec. 7, 1876, at 12 o'clock noon, at the Exchange Sales-room, by order of the Assignee of WILLIAM MOLLEE'S Farm at Greenwich, Conn., consisting of house and twenty-two acres as follows: All that certain tract of land situated in Greenwich, Conn., seperate from each other by a highway, one tract in quantity twelve acres more or less with buildings thereon; bounded north by lands of Daniel Ferris, east and south by highways, and west by highways and land of said D. Ferris. The other tract in quantity ten acres more or less, bounded by lands of Beal B. Lockwood and on all other sides by highways.
n14-law3wT

SUPREME COURT SALE.—THE FROST FARM, about 197 acres, near Purdy's Station, Westchester County, N. Y., will be sold at public auction, at the Court-house in White Plains, on WEDNESDAY, Nov. 15, 1876, at noon. JOHN B. HASKIN, Referee.
WM. BAVOROTON, Attorney, No. 206 Broadway, N. Y.

COUNTRY REAL ESTATE.

ORANGE, N. J.—COUNTRY HOUSES, LANDS, and village lots for sale; a great variety. Also, furnished and unfurnished houses to let for season or year, by WALTER E. SMITH, formerly Blackwell & Smith, Orange, corner of Main and Cone sts.

ONLY $4 TO $5 PER ACRE.—FOR SALE rich farming and grazing lands in Iowa; low taxes; good markets. G. COPELAND, No. 26 Pine st.

DWELLINGS TO LET.

TWENTY-FIRST ST., BETWEEN 7TH and 8th avs.; medium-sized, unfurnished dwelling; rent $1,400 per annum; 4 Pine and 33 East 17th st.
V. K. STEVENSON, JR.

TO LET—ELEGANT COUNTRY SEAT NEAR STATION, Montrose, N. J.; low rent; fine house, stables, prospect, lawns, garden, fruit, and water; perfectly healthy. F. BEAMES, No. 183 Broadway.

TO LET—FIRST-CLASS FOUR-STORY HOUSE, No. 47 East 28th st., near Madison av. Rent $2 500. Apply on the premises, or to JAMES G. KING'S SONS, No. 53 William st.

TWO NEWLY FITTED-UP FLOORS ON north-east corner 17th st. and 8th av. SMITHS' New-York Pale Ale Brewery, No. 240 West 18th st.

STORES, &C., TO LET.

OFFICES TO RENT IN THE FIRE-PROOF BUILDING known as the "COAL AND IRON EXCHANGE," corner of Cortlandt and New Church sts., with two large elevators. Large and perfectly lighted and ventilated rooms in suites of two to six or eight rooms, or singly, as may be desired. There is probably no building in this country so completely fireproof as this one. Light and ventilation perfect. Arrangements can be made with the janitor or steward to furnish meals within the building, to suit the convenience of companies having a large number of clerks or those occupying single rooms. For further particulars apply to HOMER MORGAN, No. 2 Pine st.

TO LET—AN OFFICE IN THE TIMES BUILDING, second floor, 23 feet by 23 feet, in good condition, suitable for a lawyer's office. Apply to GEORGE JONES, Times Office.

SMALL STORE TO LET ON 8TH AV., ONE door from corner 17th st.; suitable for a nice, light business. SMITHS' New-York Pale Ale Brewery. No. 240 West 18th st.

REAL ESTATE WANTED.

WANTED—A FURNISHED APARTMENT FOR SIX persons, or a small furnished house, between 34th and 56th sts., 4th and 6th avs. • Address H., Box No. 672 New-York Post Office.

SITUATIONS WANTED.

FEMALES.

THE UP-TOWN OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

The up-town office of THE TIMES is located at No. 1,257 Broadway, bet. 31st and 32d sts. Open daily, Sundays included, from 4 A. M. to 9 P. M. Subscriptions received, and copies of THE TIMES for sale.

ADVERTISEMENTS RECEIVED UNTIL 9 P. M.

COMPANION.—A YOUNG PROTESTANT LADY wishes a place as companion; is a good reader; would assist in house-keeping, care of young children; and sewing; New-York City preferred; good references; can be seen at No. 3 West 47th st., afternoons of Tuesday 14th, Wednesday 15th, and Thursday 16th inst.

CHAR-WOMAN.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN to go out working by the day; terms moderate; best of reference. Call or address No. 301 East 35th st.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG colored woman as chamber-maid, nurse, or waitress; can do plain sewing; or would do plain cooking. Call at No. 477 7th av., second floor, front, from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M.

CHAMBER-MAID AND PLAIN SEAMSTRESS.—By a Protestant girl; or chamber-maid and waitress in a small private family; City reference. Call at No. 421 East 19th st.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A LADY, FOR A FAITHFUL servant, a place as chamber-maid and plain seamstress. Call for two days, between 9 and 11 A. M., at No. 43 West 20th st.

CHAMBER-MAID OR LAUNDRESS.—BY A colored young girl, competent for either position; good City reference. Call at No. 692 Linden court, between 42d and 43d st.

CHAMBER-MAID, &C.—BY A RESPECTABLE girl as chamber-maid, and will assist with washing and ironing; or is willing to do house-work; best City reference. Apply at No. 151 East 32d st.

CHAMBER-MAID AND WAITRESS.—BY A respectable girl, as chamber-maid, waitress, or laundress; best City reference. Call or address 639 6th av.

CHAMBER-MAID AND LAUNDRESS.—BY a colored girl; competent for either positions; City reference. Address J. F., Box No. 258 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A YOUNG PROTESTANT girl as chamber-maid and fine washing or sewing; can operate on three machines; best City reference. Call at No. 742 3d av.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A LADY FOR A GOOD reliable girl as chamber-maid and waitress; or to sew and take care of children. Call before 3 o'clock at No. 39 East 18th st.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A YOUNG GIRL; AND assist with children or plain sewing; best City references. Call, two days, from 10 to 1 o'clock, at No. 60 West 56th st.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY AN AMERICAN GIRL AS first-class chamber-maid; plain sewing; very best City reference. Can be seen from 10 to 5 o'clock at No. 62 East 41st st.

CHAMBER-MAID AND SEAMSTRESS.—Has her own machine; can do anything; would do washing if required; best reference; City or country. Call at No. 435 3d av.

CHAMBER-MAID AND WAITRESS.—ASsist with washing or do laundry work; is willing and obliging; best City reference. Call at No. 212 West 35th st.

CHAMBER-MAID AND LAUNDRESS, OR sewing.—By a Protestant girl; best of City reference. Address E. D., Box No. 318 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

CHAMBER-MAID AND WAITRESS.—BY A respectable girl; is willing to assist with the washing and ironing; has six and a half years' reference from last place. Call at No. 496 9th av.

CHAMBER-MAID AND WAITRESS.—BY A respectable woman; best City reference. Call at No. 957 6th av., corner 53d st.

CHAMBER-MAID AND WAITRESS.—BY A respectable girl as chamber-maid and waitress; best reference. Call at No. 250 West 14th st.

CHAMBER-MAID AND WAITRESS.—By a young woman: best City reference from last place. Call at No. 227 West 35th st.

CHAMBER-MAID AND WAITRESS.—FIRST class; is a good laundress; first-class City reference; City or country. Call at No. 438 6th av.

CHAMBER-MAID AND WAITRESS.—By a young girl as chamber-maid and waitress; best City reference. Call or address No. 961 1st. av.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY AN ENGLISH PROTESTANT girl, and to assist with waiting; good reference. Call at No. 322 East 25th st.

CHAMBER-MAID.—IN A HOTEL; GOOD REFERENCE; English. Address M. R., care of Mrs. Peake, No. 70 Broadway.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A YOUNG WOMAN AS first-class chamber-maid and to do fine washing; City reference. Call at No. 115 West 19th st.

CHAMBER-MAID AND WAITRESS.—BY A respectable German girl as chamber-maid and waitress. Call at No. 501 West 33d st.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A RESPECTABLE GIRL; or would take care of growing children and sew; good reference. Call at No. 49 East 52d st.

CHAMBER-WORK AND WASHING.—BY A respectable girl; best of City reference. The lady can be seen at No. 239 East 42d st.; call for two days.

CHAMBER-MAID AND SEAMSTRESS.—BY a Protestant girl, or as waitress; good reference from last employer. Call at No. 333 East 31st st.

CHAMBER-MAID AND NURSE.—BY A YOUNG Scotch girl; no objection to the country; good reference. Call at No. 218 West 17th st.

CHAMBER-MAID AND WAITRESS.—BY A Protestant young woman; no objections to the country. Call for two days at 125 West 16th st., rear.

COOK.—BY AN ENGLISH PROTESTANT COOK; thoroughly understands her business in all its branches; full management in the kitchen where there is a kitchen-maid kept; good marketer; family declining housekeeping; three years' City references; salary $40. Call at No. 211 East 40th st.

COOK, WASHER, AND IRONER.—BY A respectable girl, in a small private family, is an excellent bread and biscuit baker; good reference; country preferred. Call at No. 124 West 33d st., basement.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE COLORED WOMAN in a private family as first-class cook; thoroughly understands her business; can give the best of City reference. Call or address A. B., No. 136 West 17th st., front house, first floor.

COOK.—BY A FIRST-CLASS COOK; UNDERstands English and American cooking; soups, jellies, pastry, and game, and is a good baker; eight years' reference. Call at No. 157 West 27th st., second floor, back.

COOK, &C.—CHAMBER-MAID, &C.—BY two sisters together in a private family; one as good plain cook, washer, and ironer; the other as chamber-maid and waitress; good City reference. Call for two days at No. 363 1st av., in the bakery.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN AS FIRST-class cook in a private family; good bread and biscuit baker; will be found reliable; good City reference. Call at No. 215 West 18th st.

COOK.—BY A FIRST-CLASS COOK, WITH SEVeral years City reference; also a first-class laundress, with excellent reference. Call or address, on Tuesday, No. 224 West 32d st.

COOK.—BY A NORTH OF IRELAND YOUNG woman; can cook all kinds of American cooking; willing to assist in washing, ironing, &c.; best City reference. Call at No. 109 West 41st st., 3d floor.

COOK.—BY AN EXPERIENCED WOMAN AS COOK in a private family; understands all kinds of baking; would assist with the washing. Call at No. 691 5th av., corner 54th st.

COOK.—FIRST-CLASS; UNDERSTANDS ENGLISH and American cooking in all its branches; meats, soups, games, and jellies; first-class baker; five years' reference from last place. Call at 211 West 45th st.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG GIRL IN A private family as first-class cook and baker; would do the coarse washing; three years' reference from her last place. Call at No. 208 East 45th st.

COOK.—FIRST-CLASS, BY A RESPECTABLE woman in private family; best City reference. Address A., Box No. 304, TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE PROTESTANT WOman as excellent plain cook; would do coarse washing; best City reference. Call at No. 224 West 31st st.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG ENGLISH woman as first-class cook who thoroughly understands her duty in all its branches; best of reference. Call at No. 674 3d av., in store.

COOK.—BY A COMPETENT YOUNG WOMAN; first-class; will be found economical and trustworthy; take entire charge of the kitchen; good City reference. Apply at No. 333 East 59th st.

COOK AND ASSIST WITH WASHING OR laundry work; is willing and obliging; is good bread and biscuit baker; first-class reference. Call at No. 344 8th av., opposite Keyes' store.

COOK.—BY A FIRST-CLASS COOK, PROTESTANT; understands cooking in all its branches; private family or boarding-house; best City reference. Call for two days at No. 150 West 28th st., Room No. 10.

COOK.—FIRST-CLASS; IN A PRIVATE FAMILY; the best of City references from previous employers. Address M. C., Box No. 252 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG WOMAN as first-class cook; understands her business; excellent baker; will assist with washing; City reference. Call at No. 205 East 38th st., near 3d av.

COOK, WASHER, AND IRONER.—BY A young American woman; has a child six years old, whom she wishes to take with her; good references. Apply at No. 218 West 17th st.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN AS FIRST-class cook; understands all kinds of soups, game, and pastry; good baker; seven years' best reference. Can be seen for two days at No. 163 East 31st st.

COOK.—BY AN ENGLISH WOMAN AS GOOD, plain cook; first-class baker; will assist with washing; City or country; best City reference. Call at No. 213 East 28th st.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE GIRL; NO OBJECtion to the coarse washing; best of City references can be given. Call at No. 710 3d av., second floor, front room.

COOK, WASHER, AND IRONER.—BY A Protestant woman in a small private family; understands all kinds of cooking; best City reference. Call at No. 205 West 36th st., two flights up, front.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE PROTESTANT AS good plain cook; will assist with washing; good baker; City or country; good reference. Call at No. 228 East 25th st., basement.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN; NO OBjection to assisting with plain washing; best City reference. Call at No. 111 West 15th st., near 6th av.

COOK.—BY A LADY LEAVING HOME FOR THE Winter a place for a first-class cook. Can be seen at present employer's, No. 104 East 30th st.

COOK.—BY A FIRST-CLASS ENGLISH COOK OR working housekeeper; good reference. Address G. L., No. 52 East 33d st.

COOK.—BY AN ENGLISH PROTESTANT GIRL AS cook, washer, and ironer; good City reference. Call at No. 274 6th st., Jersey City, first floor, for two days.

COOK.—BY A PROTESTANT WOMAN AS GOOD cook, with City reference; none other need apply. Call, between 9 and 11, at No. 168 5th av.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN AS FIRST-class cook; good reference if required. Call at No. 141 West 39th st.

COOK.—BY A COMPETENT PERSON AS COOK IN a small private family; City or country; first-class reference. Call at No. 686 3d av.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE PROTESTANT WOMan as good cook; best City reference. Apply at No. 709 6th av., toy store.

COOK.—BY A YOUNG GIRL AS COOK AND LAUNdress; best City references. Call at No. 342 East 63d st., third floor, back.

COOK.—BY A SCOTCH PROTESTANT, AS COOK IN a private family; best of City references. Call for two days at No. 692 6th av.

COOK, WASHER, AND IRONER IN A PRIvate family; good City reference. Call at No. 329 West 26th st.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN AS FIRST-class cook; no objection to a short distance in the country. Call at No. 341 5th av., present employer's.

COOK.—BY A FIRST-CLASS COOK; BEST CITY reference. Apply at No. 505 6th av., between 30th and 31st sts., second floor.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN, AS FIRST-class cook in a private family; good City reference. Call, for two days, at No. 210 East 23d st., one flight up.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN IN A SMALL private family as plain cook, washer, and ironer; has the best City reference. Call at 320 East 36th st.

COOK.—BY AN EXCELLENT COOK; UNDERstands cooking in all its branches; best of City reference. Call for two days at No. 345 East 18th st.

COOK.—WILLING TO HELP WITH WASHING; best City reference. Can be seen at No. 266 West 34th st., second floor.

COOK.—BY A SUPERIOR COOK, WHO IS A good baker; willing to assist in washing; best references. Call at No. 403 West 29th st.

COOK, &C.—BY A YOUNG GIRL AS GOOD PLAIN cook, washer, and ironer; no objection to the country; reference if required. Call at No. 465 3d av.

COOK.—BY A FIRST-CLASS ENGLISH COOK; understands all its branches; best of City reference. Call or address No. 301 East 35th st.

COOK.—BY A FIRST-CLASS COOK; UNDERstands all kinds of cooking, boning, and larding; best reference. Call at No. 33 West 31st st.

COOK, WASHER, AND IRONER.—BY A good cook, washer, and ironer; best City references. Call at No. 244 East 44th st.

COOK.—BY A GERMAN PROTESTANT AS COOK; willing to assist in the washing; a good baker, &c.; City or country. Call at No. 403 West 29th st.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE GIRL AS FIRST-class cook; has no objection to do plain washing. Call at or address No. 70 Washington st., Brooklyn.

COOK.—BY AN AMERICAN GIRL AS GOOD PLAIN cook; good reference. Address E. B., Box No. 302 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COOK.—BY A RELIABLE WOMAN AS COOK IN A private family; one year's reference from last place. Call at No. 138 East 29th st., present employer.

COOK.—BY A GOOD, EXPERIENCED COOK; HAS good City reference. Call at No. 10 West 44th st.

DRESS-MAKER.—TO GO BY DAY, WEEK, OR month; operates on Wheeler & Wilson's machine; altering done neatly. Address Johnson, No. 253 East 31st st.

DRESS-MAKER.—TO GO OUT BY THE DAY; is a first-class fitter and understands Wheeler & Wilson's machine. Call at No. 123 West 24th st., ring No. 12 bell.

DRESS-MAKER.—A COMPETENT FRENCH dress-maker in all branches wishes a few engagements in families; first-class City reference. Address Mme. Redhon, No. 488 6th av., first floor, near.

DRESS-MAKER.—WORK FOR A CHEAP DRESS-maker who will also take in washing. Address Rev. C. F. H., Station G.

DRESS-MAKER.—BY A PROTESTANT YOUNG woman as dress-maker and seamstress; good reference. Call at No. 447 West 39th st.

DRESS-MAKER.—BY A FIRST-CLASS DRESS-maker; employment by the day or at her house. Call or address A. B., No. 149 East 121st st.

HOUSE-MAID.—BY A PROTESTANT YOUNG woman; first-class house-maid and seamstress; first-class City reference; make herself generally useful. Call at No. 311 East 24th st.

HOUSEKEEPER.—BY A CAPABLE NEW-ENGland woman to assist in household duties, teach children, or the care of an invalid; no compensation except a home required. Address N. H., Box No. 301 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

HOUSEKEEPER.—BY A LADY OF ABILITY, with first-class references, or would do sewing in a family; City or country. Address E. M., No. 210 East 37th st.

HOUSE-KEEPER.—TO SUPERINTEND HOUSEhold duties, and care for children. Address E. Webb, Christian Association, No. 7 East 15th st.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A YOUNG GIRL, HAVING two years' reference, to do general house-work in a small family. Call at No. 462 3d av., between 32d and 31st sts.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A RESPECTABLE PROTestant girl for general house-work in a small private family; good City references. Call at No. 118 Jane st.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A YOUNG AMERICAN girl that never lived out to do light house-work or chamber-work and waiting. Call at No. 334 East 47th st., between 1st and 2d avs.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A RESPECTABLE GIRL to do house-work; best City references; good plain cook, washer, and ironer. Call at No. 161 West 48th st.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A YOUNG WOMAN IN CITY or country in a small family; no objection to moderate wages; best City reference. Call at No. 244 West 30th st., near 8th av.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A YOUNG GIRL TO DO light house-work or sew; country preferred. Call at No. 153 West 23d st.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A PROTESTANT GIRL TO do house-work for a small family. Call at No. 314 East 25th st.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A RESPECTABLE GIRL to do general house-work in a private family; best City reference. Call at No. 141 West 27th st.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A YOUNG GIRL TO DO general house-work; City or country. Call at No 153 West 23d st.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A YOUNG GIRL AT GENeral house-work; best City reference. Call at No. 226 East 45th st., Room No. 8.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY AN ENGLISH GIRL FOR general house-work; City reference. Call at No. 267 West 43d st.

LADY'S MAID AND SEAMSTRESS.—BY A Protestant person; would care growing children; is thoroughly competent; good operator; over nine years' best City reference. Call at No. 490 6th av., near 29th st.

LADY'S COMPANION AND TO ASSIST IN Household Duties.—By a young lady who has had experience; reference given. Address S. M., No. 722 Broadway.

LADY'S MAID.—BY A PROTESTANT GERMAN person as lady's maid to one or two ladies; can assist in housekeeping if required; best City reference. Address Mrs. Maran, No. 44 1st av.

LADY'S MAID.—BY A RESPECTABLE FRENCH person, lately arrived; is a good seamstress and hair-dresser; good references. Address M. G., No. 213 East 41st st.

LADY'S MAID.—BY A FRENCH GIRL AS first-class lady's maid; no objection to the country. Address Miss V. C., Box No. 280 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A PROTESTANT WOMAN AS first-class laundress; understands her business thoroughly; good City references. Can be seen at No. 223 East 29th st., top floor.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A RESPECTABLE GIRL; IS A good washer, ironer, and fluter; best City reference; City or country. Address L. S., Box No. 300 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A YOUNG WOMAN AS FIRST-class laundress, or would do chamber-work and fine washing; good reference. Address A. J., Box No. 272 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS; would assist in chamber-work; three years' best reference from last place. Call at No. 742 3d av., corner 46th st.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS in a private family; best City reference. Call for two days at No. 148 East 54th st.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A PROTESTANT GIRL AS first-class laundress in a private family; best of City reference. Call at No. 221 East 21st st.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS; will assist with chamber-work; good City reference. Call at No. 761 6th av.

LAUNDRESS, OR COOK, WASH, AND Iron.—Ten years' reference from last employer. Call at No. 288 3d av.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A YOUNG GIRL AS FIRST-class laundress and chamber-maid; best City references. Call at No. 151 West 38th st.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A RESPECTABLE GIRL AS laundress, with good City reference. Call from 9 until 3 at No. 26 East 17th st.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A YOUNG WOMAN AS laundress; first-class City reference. Call at No. 328 West 17th st.

NURSE.—BY A RESPECTABLE PROTESTANT nurse to take the entire charge of a baby from its birth; understands the bottle; can do plain sewing; twelve years' reference from last place. Can be seen for two days at No. 346 West 25th st., between 8th and 9th avs.

NURSE.—BY A LADY A HOME FOR A first-class nurse to an infant or grown children; she is a neat sewer and competent to assist a lady in dressing and in the care of her wardrobe; best City reference. Can be seen where she has lived, No. 10 West 49th st.

NURSE OR HOUSEKEEPER.—BY A MIDDLE aged American lady as nurse for an invalid or as housekeeper; is competent to fill any position of trust; would go South; can furnish best City reference. Address C. D., Box No. 311, TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, No. 1,257 BROADWAY.

NURSE.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN NOT LONG in this country; can give one year and nine months' reference from last place; understands plain sewing; can take entire charge of a baby from its birth; willing to make herself useful. Can be seen for two days at No. 365 3d av., two stairs up.

NURSE.—BY A FRENCH PROTESTANT MIDDLE-aged woman as nurse; can take entire charge of young children and sew; in a private family; has good references. Address J. B., Box No. 287 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

NURSE.—BY A FRENCH PROTESTANT MIDDLE aged woman as nurse; can take entire charge of a young child, and sew, in a private family; has good references. Address C. S., Box No. 302 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

NURSE.—BY A CAPABLE WOMAN AS INFANT'S nurse; can take entire charge of an infant from its birth; has seven years' reference; is a good seamstress. Call or address No. 715 6th av., in the millinery store.

NURSE.—BY A FRENCH WOMAN, AS NURSE AND first-class seamstress; would like to have her daughter, of fourteen, with her, to assist; excellent reference. Apply at present employer's, No. 48 West 37th st.

NURSE.—BY A PROTESTANT AS NURSE; CAN take care of an infant from birth, or growing children; several years' City reference. Can be seen at No. 266 West 34th st., second floor.

NURSE, &C.—BY A COMPETENT PROTESTANT young woman to take care of children and do plain sewing: best reference. Call for two days at No. 126 West 17th st.

NURSE.—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG GIRL TO take care of children and do plain sewing or chamber-work; good City references. Call at No. 41 West 36th st.

NURSE AND CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A young American girl as nurse, chamber-maid, and seamstress; a good home preferred to wages; City reference. Call at No. 210 West 32d st.

NURSE.—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG GIRL, AND to do plain sewing; can operate on Wheeler & Wilson's machine; would assist in chamber-work; best City references. Call at No. 207 East 39th st.

NURSE.—BY A YOUNG GIRL AS FIRST-CLASS nurse; has six years' reference from her last place. Call at No. 146 East 43d st., between Lexington and 3d avs.

NURSE.—BY A PROTESTANT GIRL; CAN TAKE entire charge of an infant: no objection to grown children; City or country; City reference. Call at No. 411 West 44th st.

NURSE.—BY A RESPECTABLE GERMAN WOMAN, middle age, as nurse in a private family; is fond of children, and make herself generally useful; good references. Call or address Mrs. Held, No. 796 9th av.

NURSE.—BY A FRENCH GIRL, in a private family as nurse for grown children and as seamstress; best City reference. Address M. D., Box No. 308 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, No 1,257 BROADWAY.

NURSE.—BY A RESPECTABLE WIDOW WOMAN as child's nurse; can operate on Wheeler & Wilson's machine: best of reference given. Seen for two days at No. 235 West 46th st.

NURSE.—BY AN EXPERIENCED NURSE; CAN take full charge of an infant; bring it up on the bottle; several years' City reference; City or country. Call at No. 131 West 19th st., second floor.

NURSE, &C.—AS INVALID CHILDREN'S NURSE or ladies' maid, by a Protestant woman accustomed to travel and having best City reference. Call for two days at No. 222 East 51st st.

NURSE.—BY A YOUNG WOMAN; CAPABLE OF taking entire charge of an infant or small children; no objections to the country; City reference. Call at No. 122 East 51st st.

NURSE AND SEAMSTRESS, OR CHAMBERmaid and Seamstress.—By a respectable Protestant woman; fourteen years' reference from last place. Can be seen for two days at No. 16 East 37th st.

NURSE.—BY A COMPETENT PERSON AS INfant's nurse; thoroughly understands her business; best City reference. Call at No. 241 West 22d st.

NURSE.—BY A YOUNG WIDOW; CAPABLE OF taking care of children from birth; best of City references. Apply at No. 515 7th av.

NURSE.—BY A PROTESTANT WOMAN AS INVAlid or baby nurse; best reference. Call or address for two days No. 50 East 41st st.

NURSE AND SEAMSTRESS.—BY A RESPECTable American woman; will do chamber-work; best City reference. Apply at No. 354 East 62d st.

NURSE.—BY A YOUNG GIRL AS NURSE; CAN take full charge of a baby and sew; best City references. Call at No. 200 East 42d st.

NURSE AND SEAMSTRESS.—BY A GERMAN girl as nurse and sewing; City reference. Call at No. 267 West 43d st.

SEAMSTRESS.—BY A YOUNG SCOTCH GIRL AS seamstress; can cut and fit and dress hair; would do chamber-work if required; is an excellent operator; seven years' City reference. Call at No. 729 6th av., between 41st and 42d sts.

SEAMSTRESS.—BY A VERY RELIABLE AND experienced young woman as seamstress, or would take care of a child and sew; understands different sewing-machines; best of City reference. Call for two days at No. 16 East 74th st.

SEAMSTRESS AND CHAMBER-MAID.—BY a competent young woman; has over seven years reference from last employer; can be seen for two days at No. 108 West 24th st., private door.

SEAMSTRESS AND NURSE.—BY A FRENCH lady who is a good dress-maker and seamstress; can operate on machine; also is a good child's nurse: best reference. Apply at No. 100 6th av.

SEAMSTRESS.—BY A YOUNG WOMAN TO GO out by the day or week or work at home; can operate all leading machines. Address Seamstress, No. 33 Clarkson st.

SEAMSTRESS.—FOR WINTER, IN FIRST-CLASS family; good home considered before high wages; has her own machine. Can be seen at present employer's, No. 308 Lexington av.

SEAMSTRESS.—BY AN ENGLISH PROTESTANT as seamstress and chamber-maid in private family; can sew on different machines; first-class reference. Call or address No. 234 East 25th st.

SEAMSTRESS.—BY A FIRST-CLASS SEAMstress who will do other duties, or lady's nurse. Call at No. 85 McDougal st.

WET NURSE.—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG German married woman; full breast of milk; the best of references from doctor. Address Mrs. Kern, Port Richmond, Staten Island.

WET NURSE.—BY A HEALTHY YOUNG WOMAN as wet nurse, with a fresh breast of milk; City reference; City or country. Call at 119 West 46th st.

WAITRESS, &C.—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG girl to do light waiting and chamber-work; take charge of children; best City reference. Address M. F. C., Box No. 298 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITRESS.—BY A COMPETENT WAITRESS would assist in chamber-work; understands her duties; good reference from last place. Call or address No. 140 East 32d st.

WAITRESS.—BY A COMPETENT, TRUSTworthy young woman; best City reference from last employer. Can be seen until suited at No. 101 West 14th st., corner 6th av.

WAITRESS.—BY A SCOTCH PROTESTANT young woman as first-class waitress; thoroughly understands her business in all its branches; best City references. Call at No. 319 East 32d st.

WAITRESS.—BY AN ENGLISH PROTESTANT as first-class waitress in a private family; understands salads, also care of silver; first-class reference. Call or address No. 234 East 25th st.

WAITRESS.—BY A YOUNG WOMAN, IN A PRIvate family; five years' City reference. Call at No. 636 6th av, over grocery store.

WAITRESS.—BY A FIRST-CLASS WAITRESS IN a private family; best City reference. Call at No. 490 6th av., first floor. Room No. 2.

WAITRESS.—BY A YOUNG GIRL AS WAITRESS or chamber-maid; can do plain sewing. Can be seen at present employer's, No. 28 West 21st st.

WAITRESS.—BY A FIRST-CLASS WAITRESS; understands all kind of salads; care of silver. waiting thoroughly; best City reference. Call at No. 488 7th av.

WAITRESS.—BY A FIRST-CLASS WAITRESS, CAN be seen at present employer's. No. 5 East 38th st.

WASHING.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN A family's or a few ladies' and gentlemen's washing by the month or dozen; all kinds of fine muslin done; terms moderate; would go out by the day; best of reference. Call on Mrs. Moore, at No. 349 West 43d st., between 8th and 9th avs., third floor.

WASHING.—BY A THOROUGH ENGLISH LAUNdress; wishes large or small family's washing; shirts, collars, and evening dresses a specialty. Call on or address Mrs. Walker, No. 235 6th av., late of West 40th st.

WASHING.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN; ladies' and gentlemen's washing; can do first-class work; 75 cents to $1 per dozen; will go out by the day. Call or address Mary E. C. Kelon, No. 403 West 29th st., Room No. 4.

WASHING.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN, ladies' or gentlemen's washing, at her own home or would go out by the day; best City reference. Call at No. 202 East 37th st.

WASHING.—A RESPECTABLE COLORED WOman wishes to get washing and ironing to do at home; families or gentlemen. Call or address No. 132 West 27th st.

WASHING.—A RESPECTABLE WIDOW WOMAN wishes ladies' and gentlemen's washing at her own home; fluting and polishing, seventy-five cents a dozen. Call at No. 420 East 15th st., top floor, back.

WASHING.—BY A RESPECTABLE PROTESTANT woman to take home or go out by the day; first-class laundress and house-cleaner; good reference. Call for Mrs. Morrison, No. 488 6th av., rear, top floor.

WASHING.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN; ladies' and gentlemen's washing of any kind. No. 252 10th av., between 24th and 25th sts., top floor, back room.

WASHING.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN TO go out washing and ironing by the day or week; would do general house-work. Call at No. 301 East 37th st.

WASHING.—BY A YOUNG WOMAN TO GO OUT by the day, week, or month; is a good washer and ironer; best City reference. Call at No. 1,444 Broadway, near 40th st.

WASHING.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS, washing at her home; best reference. Call at No. 626 3d av.

WASHING.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS AT her home, or would go out by the day; best references. Call for two days at No. 203 East 22d st.

WASHING.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS; washing at her home, on reasonable terms; City reference. Address Mrs. Leroy, No. 308 West 23d st.

WASHING.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS, a small family's wash, or will go out by the day; good reference. Call at No. 145 West 38th st.

WASHING.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS; family or single gentlemen's washing at moderate terms. Address E. P. A., 151 West 24th st., top floor.

WASHING.—BY THE MONTH OR DOZEN, BY Mrs. Thomas, No. 1 King st., second floor.

MALES.

BUTLER.—BY A YOUNG COLORED MAN, WHO has good references for capacity; is willing, obliging, and agreeable; none but first class and strictly private address LIGHT COMPLEXION, Box No. 254 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

BUTLER.—BY AN ENGLISHMAN, AGE THIRTY; good references. Address C. C., No. 1,178 Broadway.

COOK.—BY A COLORED MAN AS COOK IN HOTEL, restaurant or boarding-house; understands all branches; give best reference. Address for two days, Cook, No. 495 7th av.

COACHMAN.—BY A RESPECTABLE MAN; thoroughly understands care of horses and carriages; first-class groom and careful driver; willing and obliging; would go in the country; seven years' best City reference from last employer. Address M. D., Box NO. 261 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN AND GROOM AND USEFUL Man.—Would like to find a home in a private family; understands care and treatment of horses, harness, and carriages; attend furnaces; be generally useful; wages no object; first-class City reference. Address P. B., Box No. 319 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A RESPECTable young German; thoroughly understands the care of horses, carriages, &c.; willing and obliging; can milk, attend furnace; disengaged on account of gentleman giving up horses for the Winter; strictly temperate; best City and country references. Address G. B., Box No. 227 Times Office.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A RESPECTAble man; thoroughly understands his business; strictly temperate; no objection to the country; will be highly recommended; eight years' City reference. Address W., New-England Stable, 7th av., between 45th and 46th sts.

COACHMAN.—BY A SINGLE MAN AS FIRST-class coachman and groom; understands his business thoroughly; has four years' best City references; willing, and in every way truthful. Address T. O., Box No. 325 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A SINGLE man; understands his business; will be highly recommended by his last employer; can produce several years' testimonials from the old country; will be found willing and obliging. Call on or address J. B., care D. H. Gould, No. 35 Nassau st.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A SOBER, INdustrious, single Scotchman; thoroughly experienced with horses, carriages, &c.; good, careful driver; can milk, and would make himself generally useful; moderate wages; best City references. Address Coachman, No. 125 Allen st.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A GENTLEman for a coachman and groom whom he can recommend in the strongest manner; is a young unmarried German, and is trustworthy, intelligent, and industrious. Address Coachman, at present employer's, No. 325 Pearl st.

COACHMAN.—BY A GENTLEMAN, ON ACCOUNT of giving up his establishment, an engagement for his coachman; married; good address; can highly recommend him for honesty, sobriety, capability; first-class groom; City driver. Call or address Competent, No. 117 West 50th st., private stable.

COACHMAN.—BY A GENTLEMAN FOR HIS coachman, who, having lived in his employ over eight years, he can recommend as perfectly honest, willing, and obliging, an excellent groom, and good careful City driver. Address Post Office Box No. 3,333.

COACHMAN.—BY A YOUNG MAN; SCOTCH; Protestant; thoroughly understands the business in its various branches; gardening if necessary; can milk; moderate salary expected; first-class references. Address, for two days, J. A. Anderson, Box 237 Times Office.

COACHMAN AND GARDENER.—BY A SOBER, trustworthy single man, who thoroughly understands proper care and management of horses, carriages, &c.; also gardening; unexceptionable City reference. Address Coachman, Box No. 213 Times Office.

COACHMAN, GROOM, OR USEFUL MAN around a gentleman's place; is single; best references from last employer; country preferred; will be found sober, willing, and obliging. Address M. R., Box No 292 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN.—BY A COLORED MAN; THOROughly understands his business; knows well what coach business calls for; willing to make himself useful; good City references. Address L. J., Box No. 310 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN.—BY A GENTLEMAN FOR HIS coachman, (Protestant,) who has been in his employ for the last seven years; can recommend him as a first-class man in every respect. Call or address J. L., No. 194 Broadway, Room No. 7.

COACHMAN.—BY A GENTLEMAN FOR HIS coachman, who is perfectly honest, sober, and an excellent groom and careful City driver: can fully recommend him. Call on D. S. M., No. 74 Front st., or address M. L., No. 161 East 32d st.

COACHMAN.—BY A RESPECTABLE COLORED man as coachman in a private family, who thoroughly understands his business and can give the best of City reference. Call or address E. G., No. 136 West 17th st., front house, first floor.

COACHMAN, &C.—COOK.—BY A RESPECTable couple; man as coachman and gardener: will make himself generally useful; wife as first-class cook and laundress; good reference. Call or address, for two days, No. 213 Mott st.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A SINGLE young man; thoroughly understands his business in all its branches; is a careful City driver, which reference will certify. Address M., Box No. 327 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN AND PLAIN GARDENER.—BY an English married man; understands his business; is strictly temperate, is handy, useful, and industrious. Address F. B., No. 71 Franklin st., Greenpoint, Long Island.

COACHMAN.—BY A COMPETENT MAN; BEST City references from his last and former employers. Call or address for three days A. B. C., Brewster & Co.'s, East 25th st.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—PRESENT EMployer wishes a situation for his coachman, whom be can highly recommend; has no objection to the country. Call or address No. 47 5th av.

COACHMAN.—BY A RESPECTABLE COLORED man as a coachman; the best of reference can be given from his last place. Address J P., Box No. 208 Times office.

COACHMAN.—BY A RESPECTABLE SINGLE MAN; cause of leaving last place, employer turning horses out for the Winter; best City or country driving reference. Call for two days on H. B., No. 50 East 41st st.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A SOBER, steady man, with five years' reference; is willing and obliging. Address, William, No. 109 West 17th st., private stable.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A SINGLE man; understands his business thoroughly; has fourteen years' City reference. Address H. R., Box No. 252 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN.—BY A FIRST-CLASS COLORED coachman; can give good City reference from his last employer. Call or address No. 62 Broadway, Room No. 6.

COACHMAN.—IN A PRIVATE FAMILY; A CAREful driver and good groom; many years' experience and references. Apply at present employer's stables, No. 111 West 29th st. P. Ryan.

COACHMAN.—BY A GENTLEMAN FOR HIS coachman, married, whom he can highly recommend as a first-class man. Call or address S. W. C., No. 16 East 66th st.

COACHMAN.—BY A YOUNG MAN; CITY OR country; thoroughly understands his business; first-class reference. Call or address F. C., No. 165 West 19th st.

GARDENER.—BY A PRACTICAL MAN; IS A good coachman, if required; good reference. Address R. S., Box No. 222 Times Office.

NURSE.—BY A COMPETENT MAN AS NURSE OR attendant to a sick or invalid gentleman; no objection to travel. Address H. B. B., No. 323 West 34th st.

PORTER, FIREMAN, OR WAITER.—BY A young man in a private family or business establishment; can tend furnaces; understands the care of horses and driving; moderate wages; good City references. Address J. M., box No. 327, TIMES UPTOWN OFFICE, No. 1,257 Broadway.

USEFUL MAN.—BY A COLORED MAN TO MAKE himself useful around a house. Call or address No. 103 West 38th st.

USEFUL BOY.—BY A BOY AGED 17; CAN drive and take care of horse. Address J. P., No. 224 West 19th st.

WAITER—COOK.—BY A MAN AND WIFE; NO incumbrance; both first class; the wife understands all sorts of soups, desserts, and is a good baker of bread and biscuits; best City and country reference; a few days disengaged; City or country. Address for two days Man and Wife. Box No. 320 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITER OR VALET.—BY A FRENCHMAN, speaking several languages, in a private family; understands all about furnaces; he is willing to make himself generally useful and obliging; best references given. Address C. B., Box No. 321 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITER.—BY A CAPABLE FRENCH WAITER, as butler; has great experience in serving the table and taking care of the silverware; best reference from last place. Call or address N. N., at Mr. Schwargerl's, No. 255 West 35th st., for two days.

WAITER.—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG MAN, (colored) in a private family or first-class boarding-house as waiter; willing and obliging; with good City reference. Call or address J. T. B., No. 151 West 24th st., top floor.

WAITER.—BY A YOUNG COLORED MAN AS PRIvate waiter or waiting on a gentleman, and can give good City reference. Address W. F. H., Box No. 251 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITER.—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG COLored man; is a splendid waiter; has first-class reference. Call or address W. A. F., No. 119 West 24th st., top floor, back room.

WAITER.—BY A FRENCH WAITER IN A PRIvate family; City or country; best references from last place. Call or address A. V., No. 138 West 25th st.

WAITER.—BY A YOUNG ENGLISHMAN; IS thoroughly competent, and has excellent City reference. Address E. M., Box No. 318 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITER.—BY A RESPECTABLE MAN IN A PRIvate family; thoroughly understands his business; will give satisfaction; no objection to the country. Can be seen at No. 5 East 16th st.

WAITER.—BY A FIRST-CLASS FRENCH WAITER, with City references, in a private family. Address G. G., Box No. 289 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITER.—BY A FRENCH WAITER IN A PRIVATE family, City or country; can give best reference from last place. Call or address H. M., No. 452 6th av.

WAITER.—BY A TRUSTWORTHY MAN (SWEDE) as waiter. Call for two days, from 10 A. M. to 2 P. M., at No. 6 East 40th st.

HELP WANTED.

WANTED—SALESMEN—TWO IN NEW-YORK CITY and three for New-York and New-Jersey; business pleasant, permanent, and no peddling; $80 a month, hotel and traveling expenses paid. Address, with stamp, MONITOR MFG. COMPANY, Cincinnati, Ohio.

EDITOR.—WANTED A FIRST-CLASS COMMERcial and trade editor for an old established journal. Address BENJAMIN, Box No. 1,252 Post Office.

WANTED—A PROTESTANT WOMAN AS GOOD cook, with City reference. Call at No. 168 5th av., between 9 and 11.

HORSES AND CARRIAGES.

THE UP-TOWN OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

The up-town office of THE TIMES is located at No. 1,257 Broadway, bet. 31st and 32d sts. Open daily, Sundays included, from 4 A. M. to 9 P. M. Subscriptions received, and copies of THE TIMES for sale.

ADVERTISEMENTS RECEIVED UNTIL 9 P. M.

FOR SALE—A SPLENDID FRENCH LANDAU but little used, built by Bindin, Paris; C springs back and front; in perfect order; will be sold very cheap or exchanged for a modern Brougham. Apply at private stable, No. 34 Lexington av.

HORSE BLANKETS, CARRIAGE, AND TRAVELING ROBES in quantities and grades to suit buyers. Prices largely reduced.
HARMER, HAYS & CO., No. 72 Beekman st.

FOR SALE—A FIRST-CLASS COUPE HARNESS; will be sold less than cost. Call at No. 100 West 31st st.

FOR SALE.—A FIRST-CLASS COUPE HARNESS, silver-mounted and made for private use; will be sold cheap. Call at No. 107 West 31st st.

LEGAL NOTICES.

SUPREME COURT.—CITY AND COUNTY OF New-York.—THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, of New-York, plaintiff, against DAISY LEVEREDGE BERRIAN TUCKER, otherwise known as DAISY LEVEREDGE BERRIAN, George Tucker, Ralph E. Prime, Jane Hyland and Daniel Hyland, her husband; Annie Warren and George Warren, her husband; Mary L. Varian and William Varian, her husband; Charles S. Berrian and Maria Berrian, his wife; William H. S. Berrian and Emma Berrian, his wife; Richard S. Berrian, Charles L. Chadeayne, Hyatt L. Garrison, Cornelius B. Schuyler, Paul W. LeDoux, William R. DeWitt, Ebenezer Valentine, John H. Overbaugh, Matthias Warner, John Warner, Francis Skiddy, Daniel L. Petter, Gilbert A. Mann, The First National Bank of Northampton, The State of New-York National Bank, The Bank of New-York National Banking Association, Menks Stern, Theodore Stern, George A. Osgood, and Cyrus Curtis, as Receivers, &c., defendants.—Amended summons for relief.—(Com. not served.)—To the defendants above named: You are hereby summoned and required to answered the amended and supplemental complaint in this action, which will be filed in the office of the Clerk of the City and County of New-York, in the County Court-house in the City of New-York, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint on the subscribers at their offices, number 113 Broadway, in the City of New-York, within twenty days after the service of this summons on you, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the said complaint within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff in this action will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.—Dated New-York, August 2, 1876.

DEVELIN & MILLER, Plaintiff's Attorneys,
No. 113 Broadway, New-York.

The complaint in the above entitled action was filed in the office of the Clerk of the City and County of New-York, on the 3d day of August, 1876.—Dated New-York, October 7, 1876.

DEVELIN & MILLER, Attorney's for Plaintiff.
o10-law6wTu

SUPREME COURT, CITY AND COUNTY OF New-York.—THE MANHATTAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, plaintiff, vs. GUY CARLTON LEDYARD, JR., Guy C. Ledyard and Mary his wife, her true name being unknown to plaintiff; Mary Louise Colt, formerly Mary Louise Ledyard; John W. Ledyard, Sarah E. Kelly, Catharine Newcomb, Charles Scott and Jane his wife, her true name being unknown to plaintiff; Alexander Scott, and Susan his wife, her true name being unknown to plaintiff; John B. Scott, and Ann his wife, her true name being unknown to plaintiff; Eleanor Heard, individually and as Administratrix, &c., of Thomas Scott deceased, and as Administratrix, with the will annexed, of Catharine L. Scott, deceased; William C. Demarest, Alexander C. Howe, William Chamberlain, Andrew J. Perry, Amasa Brainard, John M. Goddard, John W. Steele, Dyer Brainard, John E. Hathurn, Newel E. Yale, as Assignee, &c.; Charles Mallory, Henry L. Wilson, as Assignee in bankruptcy, &c., defendants.—Summons for relief.—(Com. not. ser.)—To the defendants and each of them: You are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint in this action, which will be filed in the office of the Clerk of the City and County of New-York, at the New Court-house in said City, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint on the subscribers at their office, No. 158 Broadway, in said City of New-York, within twenty days after the service of this summons on you, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the said complaint within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff in this action will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.—Dated New-York, October 14, 1876.

FELLOWS, HOYT & SCHELL, Plaintiff's Attorneys.

The complaint in this action was filed in the office of the Clerk of the City and County of New-York on the 16th day of October, 1876.

FELLOWS, HOYT & SCHELL, Plaintiff's Attorneys.
o31-law6wTu

SUPREME COURT.—COUNTY OF NEW YORK.—THE UNION DIME SAVINGS INSTITUTION, Plaintiffs, against JOHN STILWELL, individually, and as Administrator of the goods, chattels, and credits of Mary J. Stilwell, deceased, Sarah Lipperts, George H. King, Daniel Mahegan and Mrs. Mahegan, his wife, Marietta Starkins, Justine Files, Justine Bullock, Martha Woodward, Catharine Davis, Phebe Bloomer, John Lamoreux and Mrs. Lamoreux, his wife, Peter Lamoreux and Mrs. Lamoreux, his wife, heirs at law of Mary J. Stilwell, deceased, and all other persons who are, or may be, heirs at law of Mary J. Stilwell, deceased, their names being unknown to plaintiffs, Defendants. To the defendants, and each of them: You are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint in this action, of which a copy is herewith served upon you, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint on the subscribers at their office, No. 7 Beekman street, in the City of New-York, within twenty days after the service hereof, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the complaint within the time aforesaid, the plaintiffs in this action will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.—Dated, September 23, 1876.

ARNOLD, ELLIOTT & WHITE, Plaintiffs' Attorneys.

The complaint in this action was duly filed in the Office of the Clerk of the City and County of New York, on the 26th day of September, 1876.

ARNOLD, ELLIOTT & WHITE, Plaintiffs' Attorneys,
o24-law6wTu* 7 Beekman st., N. Y.

SUPREME COURT, CITY AND COUNTY of New-York.—LIONEL J. NOAH, plaintiff against LIZZIE B. NOAH, defendant.—Summons for relief (Com. not Ser.)—To the defendant: You are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint in this action, which will be filed in the office of the Clerk of the City and County of New-York, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint on the subscribers, at their office, No. 198 Broadway, New-York City, within twenty days after the service of this summons on you, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the said complaint within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff in this action will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.—Dated September 29th, 1876. GRAY & STANTON, Plaintiff's Attorneys.
n7-law6wTu*

ASSIGNEE'S SALE.—ABOUT 2,200 DOZEN canned Tomatoes will be sold by Burdett, Dennis & Co., auctioneers, at No. 29 Burling slip, New-York City, on WEDNESDAY, Nov. 22, 1876, at 12 o'clock, noon.—Dated, Oct. 31, 1876. JOHN S. DICKERSON, Assignee in Bankruptcy of W. W. Gilbert, sole survivor of Myers & Gilbert. o30-law3wTu*

ICE-CREAM.

FUSSELL'S ICE-CREAM.—CHURCHES AND fairs, 25 cents per quart. Charlotte Russe by the dozen or quart. Special attention to out-of-town orders.

DRY GOODS.

FURS!

LORD & TAYLOR,

ARE OFFERING FURS AT VERY ATTRACTIVE PRICES.

A LADY'S SET OF FURS—MUFF AND BOA, FROM $5 UP.

FUR TRIMMINGS

IN BLACK, SILVERED AND NATURAL FURS; WIDTHS 1, 1½, 2, 3 and 4 INCHES. PRICES COMMENCE AT 30c. PER YARD.

WHITE AND TRIMMED FUR SACQUES FOR CHILDREN

IN SIZES TO FIT, FROM ONE YEAR OLD AND UPWARD.

CAP, MUFF AND BOA TO MATCH,

OF FIRST QUALITY FUR, FROM $6 75 THE SET AND UPWARD.

ALSO

MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S SETS

IN SILVER CONEY, GRAY ASTRACHAN, SIBERIAN SQUIRREL, CHINCHILLA, ERMINE, &c.

LADIES' SEAL SACQUES,

NEW SHAPES, DARK COLORS, FINE QUALITY, AT $75, $85, $95, $100, $110 EACH AND UP.

FUR-LINED SILK GARMENTS.

SQUIRREL LININGS, MADE AND PUT IN SILK GARMENTS, AT REASONABLE RATES.

SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO REPAIRING FURS AND RELINING MUFFS AND SACQUES.

SEAL SACQUES MADE TO ORDER, TO FIT ANY SIZE, AT SHORT NOTICE.

BROADWAY AND 20TH ST., Grand and Chrystie Sts., N. Y.

BEST BODY BRUSSELS CARPETS, $1 50 and upward. Best Tapestry Brussels, $1 and upward.
LORD & TAYLOR,
Grand, Chrystie, and Forsyth sts.

BEST THREE-PLY, $1 25. BEST ALL-WOOL Ingrains, 75c. and upward. LORD & TAYLOR, Grand, Chrystie, and Forsyth sts.

BEST COTTON AND WOOL INGRAINS, 65c. Best double Cotton Chain, 40c. and upward. Warranted regular goods. LORD & TAYLOR, Grand, Chrystie, and Forsyth sts.

MILLINERY.

MARIE TILMANN, OF PARIS, IMPORTER finest Paris millinery; uniquely elegant; from all the best makers; new goods to-day. No. 423 6th av., near 26th st.

AUCTION SALES.

ART.

SPECIAL.

OUR FIRST AUCTION SALE of fine Paintings will take place on THURSDAY and FRIDAY, the 16th and 17th November, comprising choice works of the Old Masters, together with excellent examples of our own popular Artists. They are now on exhibition at our Art Emporium,

47 AND 49 LIBERTY ST.

BARKER & CO., Auctioneers.

GUNS.

SPECIAL.

In consequence of constant inquiries for another auction sale of our splendid Breech and Muzzle-loading English Shot Guns, we will sell on TUESDAY next, at 12 o'clock, a fresh importation of the most costly heretofore offered.

BARKER & CO., Auctioneers.

47 AND 49 LIBERTY ST.

EDWARD SCHENCK, Auctioneer.

THIRD LARGE AND PEREMPTORY SALE OF ELEGANT DECORATED FRENCH CHINA DINNER SETS, TEA SETS, FRUIT SETS, AND TOILET SETS, RICH ENGRAVED CRYSTAL CUT TABLE GLASSWARE. Elegant Vases, Real Bronze and other Clocks, Statuettes, and a large and beautiful assortment of every variety of China and Fancy Ware. TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION, AT No. 60 LIBERTY STREET, ON THURSDAY AND FRIDAY, NOV. 16 AND 17, At 11 o'clock Each Day. The above will be on exhibition on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY. Ladies and the Public are invited to examine them. The Sale will be POSITIVE and PEREMPTORY. Experienced Packers will be in attendance.

AUCTION NOTICE.—UNITED STATES DISTRICT Court, Southern District of New-York.—In the matter of Ferdinand Ehrlich and Salomon Steinfeld, alleged bankrupts.—Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of an order granted herein by Hon. Samuel Blatchford, District Judge, on the 19th day of October, 1876, as modified on the 11th day of November, 1876, the undersigned will sell at public auction on the 24TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1876, at 10 o'clock A. M., at their store, No. 132 Church st., New-York City, the property consisting of hosiery, fancy goods, &c., attached in the suit in the New-York Supreme Court, wherein Emil Dieckerhoff and others are plaintiffs, and the said Ehrlich and Steinfeld, defendants.
WILLIAM TOPPING & CO., Auctioneers, No. 132 Church st.
ELLIOTT F. SHEPARD, Solicitor for attaching creditors, Tribune Building, New-York City.

MORRIS WILKINS, Auctioneer.

HANDSOME HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE.—Rosewood piano-forte, combination buffet bedsteads, rosewood etagere, fine carpets, &c., &c., AT AUCTION. E. H. LUDLOW & CO. will sell at auction on TUESDAY, Nov. 14, 1876, at 11 o'clock A. M., at No. 8 West 34th st., a general assortment of handsome rosewood parlor and bedroom furniture, black walnut dining tables, buffets, centre and other tables, lounge, easy, and arm chairs, mirrors, curled hair mattresses, fine carpets, &c. Catalogues at office of auctioneers, No. 3 Pine st.

MAYER KATZENBERG, Auctioneer.

BY F. H. NAZRO. WILL BE SOLD BY AUCTION, on THURSDAY, Nov. 16, 1876, at No. 29 Murray st., commencing at 10:30 o'clock, A. M., 12,000 Cases of RUBBER BOOTS AND SHOES, consisting of DAMAGED, INFERIOR, AND OUT OF STYLE GOODS.

BANKRUPT NOTICES.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES for the Southern District of New-York.—In the matter of LOUIS E. WOLFF and JULIUS WOLFF, bankrupts.—In bankruptcy.—A warrant in bankruptcy has been issued by said court against the estate of Louis E. Wolff and Julius Wolff, of the County of New-York, of the State of New-York, in said district, adjudged bankrupts upon the petition of their creditors, and the payment of any debts and the delivery of any property belonging to said bankrupts, to them or to their use, and the transfer of any property by them, are forbidden by law. A meeting of the creditors of said bankrupts to prove their debts and choose one or more Assignees of their estate, will be held at a Court of Bankruptcy to be holden at No. 7 Beekman street, in the City of New-York, in said district, on the 29th day of November, A. D. 1876, at one o'clock P. M., at the office of James F. Dwight, Esq., one of the Registers in Bankruptcy of said court.
OLIVER FISKE, Marshal—Messenger.
WM. F. SCOTT, Solicitor for Petitioning Creditors.

IN BANKRUPTCY.—IN THE DISTRICT COURT of the United States for the Southern District of New-York.—In the matter of EVAN P. THOMAS bankrupt.—Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed in said court by Evan P. Thomas, in said district, duly declared a bankrupt under the act of Congress of March 2, 1867, and the acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, for a discharge and certificate thereof from all his debts and other claims provable under said act, and that the fourth day of December, 1876, at 11 o'clock, A. M., at the office of Henry Wilder Allen, Esq., Register in Bankruptcy, No. 152 Broadway, in the City of New-York, is assigned for the hearing of the same, when and where all creditors who have proved their debts and other persons in interest may attend, and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the said petition should not be granted.—Dated New-York, on the third day of November, 1876. GEO. F. BETTS, Clerk.
n7-law3wTu*

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New-York.—In the matter of FERDINAND E. HALLE, bankrupt.—In bankruptcy.—Before Isiah T. Williams, Register.—To whom it may concern: The undersigned hereby gives notice of his appointment as Assignee of the estate of Ferdinand E. Halle, of the City of New-York, in the County of New-York, and State of New-York, within said district, who has been adjudged bankrupt upon the petition of his creditors by the District Court of said district. Dated at New-York City, the 13th day of November, A. D. 1876. JAMES S. LEEDS, Assignee, n14-law3wTu* No. 18 Reade st., New-York City.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the southern District of New-York.—In the matter of MORRIS LEVY, bankrupt.—In bankruptcy.—Before James F. Dwight, Register.—To whom it may concern: The undersigned hereby gives notice of his appointment as Assignee of Morris Levy, of New-York, in the County of New-York, and State of New-York, within said district, who has been adjudged bankrupt upon the petition of his creditors by the District Court of said district.
JULIUS LEVINE, Assignee.
No. 215 Centre st., New-York City.
n14-law3wTu*

MARBLE MANTELS.

MARBLE and MARBLEIZED MANTELS at greatly reduced prices; also, monuments, head-stones, plumbers' and furniture slabs, marble counters, and tiling. A. KLABER, 134 & 136 East 18th st., near 3d av.

SHIPPING.

WHITE STAR LINE.
FOR QUEENSTOWN AND LIVERPOOL, CARRYING UNITED STATES MAIL.

The steamers of this line take the Lane Routes recommended by Lieut. Maury, U. S. N., going south of the Banks on the passage to Queenstown all the year round.

BALTIC..............SATURDAY, Nov. 25, at noon
ADRIATIC............SATURDAY, Dec. 2, at 5:30 A. M.
BRITANNIC...........SATURDAY, Dec. 16, at 5:30 A. M.
BALTIC..............SATURDAY, Dec. 30, at 3 P. M.

From White Star Dock, Pier No. 52 North River.

These steamers are uniform in size and unsurpassed in appointments. The saloon, staterooms, smoking and bath rooms are amidships, where the noise and motion are least felt, affording a degree of comfort hitherto unattainable at sea.

Rates—Saloon $80 and $100, gold; return tickets on favorable terms; steerage, $28.

For inspection of plans and other information apply at the Company's offices, No. 37 Broadway, New-York.
R. J. CORTIS, Agent.

LIVERPOOL AND GREAT WESTERN STEAM COMPANY. (LIMITED.)
LIVERPOOL, (Via Queenstown,)
CARRYING THE UNITED STATES MAIL.
TUESDAY.

Leaving Pier No. 46 North River as follows:
WYOMING..........Nov. 14, at 3 P. M.
DAKOTA...........Nov. 21, at 9 A. M.
IDAHO............Nov. 28, at 2:30 P. M.
MONTANA..........Dec. 5, at 8:30 A. M.
NEVADA...........Dec. 12, at 2:30 P. M.

RATES FOR PASSENGERS REDUCED.
Steerage, $26; intermediate, $40; cabin, $55 to $80, according to state-room. Offices, No. 29 Broadway.
WILLIAMS & GUION.

ATLAS MAIL LINE.
BI-MONTHLY SERVICE TO JAMAICA, HAYTI, COLOMBIA, and ASPINWALL, and to PANAMA and SOUTH PACIFIC PORTS (via Aspinwall.) First-class full-powered iron screw steamers, from Pier No. 51, North River;

For KINGSTON (Jam.) and HAYTI.
CLARIBEL..........Nov. 18
ATLAS.............Dec. 6

For HAYTI, COLOMBIA, ISTHMUS OF PANAMA, and SOUTH PACIFIC PORTS (via Aspinwall.)
ALPS..............Nov. 21
ETNA..............Dec. 9

Superior first-class passenger accommodation.
PIM, FORWOOD & CO., Agents, No. 56 Wall st.

GREAT SOUTHERN
FREIGHT AND PASSENGER LINE,
SAILING FROM PIER NO. 29 NORTH RIVER, WEDNESDAYS and SATURDAYS at 3 P. M.,
FOR CHARLESTON, S. C., FLORIDA, THE SOUTH, AND SOUTH-WEST.
GEO. W. CLYDE..........WEDNESDAY......Nov. 15
CITY OF ATLANTA........SATURDAY.......Nov. 18
SUPERIOR PASSENGER ACCOMMODATIONS.
Insurance to destination one-half of one per cent. Goods forwarded free of commission. Passenger tickets and bills of lading issued and signed at the office of
JAMES W. QUINTARD & CO., Agents, No. 177 West st., corner Warren.
Or W. P. CLYDE & CO., No. 6 Bowling Green.
Or BENTLEY D. HASELL, General Agent Great Southern Freight Line, 317 Broadway.

ONLY DIRECT LINE TO FRANCE.
THE GENERAL TRANSATLANTIC COMPANY'S MAIL STEAMERS BETWEEN NEW-YORK AND HAVRE.
Calling at PLYMOUTH (G. B.) for the landing of Passengers.
Cabins provided with electric bells. Sailing from Pier No. 43 North River, foot of Barrow st., as follows:
CANADA, Frangeul........Saturday, Nov. 18, at 7 A. M.
AMERIQUE, Pouzolz.......Saturday, Dec. 2 at 6 A. M.
FRANCE, Trudelle........Saturday, Dec. 16, at 6 A. M.
PRICE OF PASSAGE IN GOLD, (including wine,) first cabin, $110 to $120, according to accommodation; second cabin, $72; third cabin, $40. Return tickets at reduced rates. Steerage, $26, with superior accommodation, including wine, bedding, and utensils without extra charge.

STATE LINE.
NEW-YORK TO GLASGOW, LIVERPOOL, DUBLIN, BELFAST, AND LONDONDERRY.
These first-class full-powered steamers will sail from Pier No. 42 North River, foot of Canal st.
STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA..........Thursday, Nov. 16
STATE OF VIRGINIA..............Thursday, Nov. 30
STATE OF NEVADA................Thursday, Dec. 7
STATE OF INDIANA...............Thursday, Dec. 14
And every alternate Thursday thereafter. First cabin, $60, $65, and $70, according to accommodations; return tickets, $110, $125. Second cabin, $45; return tickets, $80. Steerage at lowest rates. Apply to
AUSTIN BALDWIN & CO., Agents, No. 72 Broadway, New-York.
STEERAGE tickets at No. 45 Broadway, and at the company's pier, foot of Canal st., North River.

ANCHOR LINE U. S. MAIL STEAMERS.
NEW-YORK AND GLASGOW.
Bolivia......Nov. 18, 7 A. M. | Anchoria......Dec. 2, 6 A. M.
Alsatia......Nov. 25, noon | California......Dec. 9, noon
TO GLASGOW, LIVERPOOL, OR DERRY,
Cabins $65 to $80, according to accommodations; Intermediate, $35; Steerage, $28.
NEW-YORK AND LONDON.
Anglia, Nov. 18, 7 A. M. | Utopia, Dec. 2, 7 A. M.
Cabins, $55 to $70. Steerage, $28. Cabin excursion tickets at reduced rates. Drafts issued for any amount at current rates. Company's Pier Nos. 20 and 21, North River, N. Y. HENDERSON BROTHERS, Agents, No. 7 Bowling Green.

NATIONAL LINE. Piers Nos. 44 and 47 N. River.
FOR LONDON.
DENMARK..........Saturday, Nov. 18, at 7 A. M.
FOR QUEENSTOWN AND LIVERPOOL.
Egypt.....Nov. 18, 7 A. M. | Italy......Dec. 2, 3 P. M.
Helvetia..Nov. 25, 11 A. M. | The Queen, Dec. 9, 11 A. M.
Cabin passage, $55 to $70. Return tickets, $100 to $120, currency.
Steerage passage, $26, currency. Drafts issued from £1 upward at current rates. Company's office, No. 69 Broadway. F. W. J. HURST, Manager.

NORTH GERMAN LLOYD.
STEAM-SHIP LINE BETWEEN NEW-YORK, SOUTHAMPTON, AND BREMEN.
Company's Pier, foot of 2d st., Hoboken.
ODER.......Sat., Nov. 18 | NECKAR.......Sat., Dec. 2
HERMANN....Sat., Nov. 25 | AMERICA......Sat., Dec. 9
RATES OF PASSAGE FROM NEW-YORK TO SOUTHAMPTON, HAVRE, OR BREMEN:
First cabin..........$100 gold
Second cabin.........60 gold
Steerage.............30 currency
Return tickets at reduced rates. Prepaid steerage certificates, $32 currency. For freight or passage apply to OELRICHS & CO., No. 2 Bowling Green.

INMAN LINE.—MAIL STEAMERS.
FOR QUEENSTOWN AND LIVERPOOL.
CITY OF BERLIN, Saturday, Nov. 18, at 7 A. M.
CITY OF CHESTER, Saturday, Dec. 2, at 6 A. M.
CITY OF RICHMOND, Saturday, Dec. 9, at 12 noon.
From Pier 45 North River.
CABIN, $80 and $100, Gold. Return tickets on favorable terms. STEERAGE, $34, Currency. Drafts issued at lowest rates.
Saloons, State-rooms, Smoking, and Bath-rooms amidships. JOHN G. DALE, Agent, Nos. 15 and 33 Broadway, N. Y.

FOR SAVANNAH, GA.,
THE FLORIDA PORTS,
AND THE SOUTH AND SOUTH-WEST.
GREAT SOUTHERN FREIGHT AND PASSENGER LINE, CENTRAL RAILROAD OF GEORGIA, AND ATLANTIC AND GULF RAILROAD.
THREE SHIPS PER WEEK.
TUESDAY, THURSDAY, AND SATURDAY.
GENERAL BARNES, Capt. CHEESMAN, TUESDAY, Nov. 14, from Pier No. 43 North River, at 3 P. M.
GEO. YONGE, Agent, No. 409 Broadway.
RAPIDAN, Capt. KEMPTON, THURSDAY, Nov. 16, from Pier No. 16 East River, at 3 P. M.
MURRAY, FERRIS & CO., Agents, No. 62 South st.
SAN JACINTO, Capt. HAZARD, SATURDAY, Nov. 18, from Pier No. 43 North River, at 3 P. M.
GEO. YONGE, Agent, No. 409 Broadway.
Insurance on this line ONE-HALF PER CENT. Superior accommodations for passengers.
Through rates and bills of lading in connection with Central Railroad of Georgia, to all points.
Through rates and bills of lading in connection with the Atlantic and Gulf Railroad and Florida steamers.
C. D. OWENS, Agent A. & G. R. R., No. 315 Broadway. GEORGE YONGE, Agent C. R. R. of Ga., No. 409 Broadway.

PANAMA TRANSIT AND PACIFIC MAIL STEAM-SHIP LINES.
FOR CALIFORNIA, JAPAN, CHINA, AUSTRALIA, NEW-ZEALAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, OREGON, &c.
Sailing from Pier No. 42 North River.
For SAN FRANCISCO, via ISTHMUS OF PANAMA.
Steam-ship CRESCENT CITY......Wednesday, Nov. 15
connecting for Central America and South Pacific ports.
From SAN FRANCISCO to JAPAN and CHINA.
Steam-ship CITY OF TOKIO..............Friday, Dec. 1
From San Francisco to Sandwich Islands, Australia, and New-Zealand.
Steam-ship AUSTRALIA..........Wednesday, Dec. 6
For freight or passage apply to
WM. P. CLYDE & CO., or H. J. BULLAY, Superintendent, No. 6 Bowling Green. Pier 42, N. R., foot Canal st.

NEW-YORK AND HAVANA DIRECT MAIL LINE.
These first-class steamships sail regularly at 3 P. M., from Pier No. 13 North River as follows:
CUBA..........................SATURDAY, Nov. 18
COLUMBUS......................WEDNESDAY, Nov. 22
Accommodations unsurpassed. For freight or passage apply to WM. P. CLYDE & CO., No. 6 Bowling Green. MCKELLER, LULING & CO., Agents in Havana.

HAMBURG American Packet Company's Line, for PLYMOUTH, CHERBOURG, and HAMBURG.
SUEVIA..........Nov. 16 | WIELAND..........Nov. 30
LESSING.........Nov. 23 | HERDER...........Dec. 7
Rates of passage to Plymouth, London, Cherbourg, Hamburg, and all points in England. First Cabin, $100 gold; Second Cabin, $60 gold; Steerage, $30, currency.
KUNHARDT & CO., General Agents, 61 Broad st., N. Y. C. B. RICHARD & BOAS, General Passenger Agents, 61 Broadway, N. Y.

NEW-YORK, HAVANA, AND MEXICAN MAIL S. S. LINE.
Steamers leave Pier No. 3 North River at 3 P. M.
FOR HAVANA DIRECT.
CITY OF NEW-YORK.............Wednesday, Nov. 15
CITY OF HAVANA................Saturday, Nov. 25
CITY OF VERA CRUZ.............Wednesday, Nov. 29
FOR VERA CRUZ AND NEW-ORLEANS,
Via Havana, Progreso, Campeachy, Tuxpan, and Tampico.
CITY OF HAVANA................Saturday, Nov. 25
For freight or passage apply to
F. ALEXANDRE & SONS, Nos. 31 and 33 Broadway.
Steamers will leave New-Orleans Nov. 12 and Dec. 1 for Vera Cruz and all the above ports.

WILSON LINE FOR SOUTHAMPTON AND HULL.
Sailing from Pier No. 53 North River, as follows:
OTHELLO........Nov. 25 | NAVARINO..........Dec. 23
BIANCO.........Dec. 9 | COLOMBO...........Jan. 6
First cabin, $70, currency; second cabin, $45, currency; excursion tickets on very favorable terms. Through tickets issued to Continental and Baltic ports. Apply for full particulars to CHARLES L. WRIGHT & CO., No. 56 South st.

SHIPPING.

CUNARD LINE B. & N. A. R. M. S. P. CO.
NOTICE.
With the view of diminishing the chances of collision the steamers of this line take a specified course for all seasons of the year.
On the outward passage from Queenstown to New-York or Boston, crossing meridian of 50 at 43 latitude, or nothing to the north of 43.
On the homeward passage, crossing the meridian of 50 at 42, or nothing to the north of 42.
FROM NEW-YORK FOR LIVERPOOL AND QUEENSTOWN.
BOTHNIA....WED., Nov. 15 | *RUSSIA....WED., Nov. 29
ABYSSINIA..WED., Nov. 22 | PARTHIA....WED., Dec. 6
Steamers marked * do not carry steerage passengers.
Cabin passage, $80, $100, and $130, gold, according to accommodation. Return tickets on favorable terms.
Steerage tickets to and from all parts of Europe at very low rates. Freight and passage office, No. 4 Bowling green. CHAS. G. FRANCKLYN, Agent.

PASSENGERS PER STEAM-SHIP BOTHNIA embark from the Cunard wharf, foot of Grand st., Jersey City, at 2:30 P. M. on WEDNESDAY, 15th November, 1876. CHAS. G. FRANCKLYN, No. 4 Bowling Green, New-York.

AMERICAN STEAM-SHIP LINE
Between Philad'a & Liverpool, calling at Queenstown. Thursdays from Philad'a, Wednesdays from Liverpool. Steamers to sail from Philadelphia as follows:
*City of New-York, Nov. 16 | *Lord Clive..........Dec. 7
Indiana..........Nov. 23 | Ohio................Dec. 14
Illinois.........Nov. 30 | Pennsylvania........Dec. 21
Price of passage in currency:
Cabin, $75 to $100. Intermediate, $40. Steerage, $28.
PETER WRIGHT & SONS, Gen. Agents, Philad'a.
No. 42 Broad st., New-York.
JOHN McDONALD No. 8 Battery place, New-York.

FINANCIAL.

INCORPORATED 1835.
1876.
OFFICE OF THE DELAWARE MUTUAL SAFETY INSURANCE COMPANY.
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8, 1876.
The following statement of the affairs of the company is published in conformity with a provision of its charter:
PREMIUMS RECEIVED from Nov. 1, 1875, to Oct. 31, 1876.
On marine and inland risks.$537,131 50
On fire risks..........163,710 26—$700,841 76
Premiums on policies not marked off Nov. 1, 1875.......... 525,692 83
$1,226,534 59
PREMIUMS MARKED OFF as earned from Nov. 1, 1875, to Oct. 31, 1876.
On marine and inland risks.$554,793 51
On fire risks..........182,176 71—$736,970.22
Interest during same period—Salvage, &c.......... 107,870 87
$844,841 09
LOSSES, EXPENSES, &c., during the year as above.
Marine and inland navigation losses..........$280,411 81
Fire losses..........45,951 87
Return premiums..........52,448 91
Re-insurances..........18,644 47
Agency charges, advertising, printing, &c..........49,318 90
Taxes—State and municipal taxes..........12,198 14
Expenses..........30,990 08—$489,964 18
Total..........$354,876 91

ASSETS OF THE COMPANY, Nov. 1, 1876.
184,000 State of Pennsylvania 6 per cent. loans..........$206,325 00
325,000 City of Philadelphia 6 per cent. loans, (exempt from tax.).......... 366,800 00
250,000 State of New-Jersey 6 per cent. loan, 1880 to 1902.......... 280,190 00
100,000 City of Pittsburg 7 per cent. loans. 107,000 00
100,000 City of Boston 6 per cent. loans. 113,000 00
50,000 City of St. Louis 6 per cent. loans, gold.......... 54,000 00
50,000 City of Cincinnati 7 per cent. loans.......... 55,000 00
20,000 Pennsylvania Railroad first mortgage 6 per cent. bonds.......... 21,400 00
25,000 Western Pennsylvania Railroad mortgages, 6 per cent. bonds, (Penn. R. R. guarantee).......... 20,000 00
44,000 State of Tennessee 6 per cent. loans.......... 19,800 00
19,000 Pennsylvania Railroad Company, 380 shares stock.......... 18,430 00
6,050 North Pennsylvania Railroad Company, 121 shares stock.......... 5,808 00
40,000 American Steam-ship Company, 6 per cent. bonds, (Penn. R. R. guarantee,).......... 32,800 00
29,000 Wm. Cramp & Sons' Dry Dock mortgage loan, 7 per cent.......... 29,000 00
247,950 Loans on bond and mortgage, first liens on City properties.......... 247,950 00
$1,490,000 par; cost, $1,486,806 81. Market value..........$1,577,503 00
Real estate at Philadelphia and Pittsburg.......... 120,000 00
Bills receivable for insurances made.......... 217,174 93
Balance due at agencies—Premiums on marine policies, accrued interest, and other debts due the company.......... 49,616 22
Stock and scrip, &c., of sundry corporations, $21,213. Estimated value.......... 7,874 00
Cash.—On deposit in banks.$177,085 53
Loaned on call with collaterals.......... 225,000 00
In office.......... 243 03— 402,328 56
Total..........$2,374,496 71

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8, 1876.
The Board of Directors have this day declared a CASH DIVIDEND of TEN PER CENT. on the CAPITAL STOCK, and SIX PER CENT. interest on the SCRIP of the company, payable on and after the 1st of December proximo, free of State tax.
They have also declared a SCRIP DIVIDEND of FORTY PER CENT. on the EARNED PREMIUMS for the year ending Oct. 31, 1876, certificates of which will be issued to the parties entitled to the same, on and after the 1st December proximo.
They have ordered, also, that the SCRIP CERTIFICATES OF PROFITS of the company for the year ending Oct. 31, 1869, be redeemed in CASH, at the office of the company, on and after 1st December proximo, all interest thereon to cease on that day. ☞ By a provision of the charter, all certificates of scrip not presented for redemption within five years after public notice that they will be redeemed, shall be forfeited and canceled on the books of the company.
☞ No certificate of profits issued under $25. By the act of incorporation, "no certificate shall issue unless claimed within two years after the declaration of the dividend whereof it is evidence."

DIRECTORS:
THOMAS C. HAND, | SAMUEL E. STOKES,
JAMES TRAQUAIR, | WM. G. BOULTON,
HENRY P. SLOAN, | EDWARD DARLINGTON,
JNO. H. CATHERWOOD, | H. JONES BROOKE,
N. PARKER SHORTRIDGE, | EDWARD LAFOURCADE,
ANDREW WHEELER, | JACOB RIEGEL,
THOMAS CLYDE, | THOS. P. STOTESBURY,
JAMES C. HAND, | JACOB P. JONES,
WM. C. LUDWIG, | JAMES B. McFARLAND,
HUGH CRAIG, | SPENCER McILVAINE,
JOHN D. TAYLOR, | JOHN H. MICHENER,
GEORGE W. BERNADOU, | A. B. BERGER, Pittsburg.
WM. C. HOUSTON, | D. T. MORGAN, Pittsburg.
H. FRANK ROBINSON, | W. S. BISSELL, Pittsburg.
THOMAS C. HAND, President.
HENRY LYLBURN, Secretary.
HENRY BALL, Assistant Secretary.

NEW-YORK, Nov. 11, 1876.
THE UNDERSIGNED, THE SURVIVING Trustees under the mortgage deed of the ILLINOIS AND ST. LOUIS BRIDGE COMPANY, dated March 15, 1870, to secure FOUR MILLIONS FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, in accordance with the provisions of the said mortgage relating to the SINKING FUND, have this day, in the presence of H. F. VAIL, Esq., CASHIER of the NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE IN NEW-YORK, at the said bank in New-York, drawn from the THIRTY-EIGHT HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FOUR numbers remaining of the FOUR THOUSAND NUMBERS representing the above bonds, the following SIXTY-EIGHT NUMBERS in the following order, viz:

576	414	2,973	2,213	554	3,820	1,645
8,765	1,768	1,781	3,847	1,839	670	379
2,513	211	159	1,107	1,465	354	2,315
242	1,779	3,607	3,728	3,353	995	3,669
2,389	578	157	1,085	3,686	1,980	3,738
951	2,358	2,621	3,018	279	3,030	1,035
1,506	203	1,276	3,016	1,448	2,456	1[illegible]8
930	3,452	3,802	2,175	2,546	3,261	2,416
1,636	140	2,110	3,402	156	3,931
917	1,773	3,530	2,708	3,232	1,163

SOLON HUMPHREYS, JOHN A. STEWART, } Trustees.
I certify to the above.
H. F. VAIL, Cashier.

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY
OMAHA BRIDGE BONDS.
In accordance with the provisions of the above bonds, we, the undersigned, hereby give notice that the following numbers, viz.:

1,960	197	1,631	705	1,349	1,635
1,622	2,612	1,746	1,525	958	164
1,345	952	279	1,259	2,342	245
348	2,460	1,813	114	2,134	975
2,031	2,280	320	1,305	239	1,210
1,607	208	2,393	838	2,073	1,296
287	333	1,402	461	2,071	292
402	411	92	1,358	471	751
260	2,256	1,262	43	654	2,151

were this day designated by lot, in our presence, to be redeemed, together with the premium thereon as provided in said bonds, at the London and San Francisco Bank, limited, No. 22 Old Broad st., London, E. C., England, or at the office of Drexel, Morgan & Co., in the City of New-York, on the 1st day of April, 1877.
NEW-YORK, Nov. 4, 1876.
E. ATKINS, Trustee.
J. HOOD WRIGHT, of Drexel, Morgan & Co.
Attest: DAVID W. PRICE, Notary Public.

WE OFFER
$100,000
COUNTY BONDS,
TEN PER CENTS.
THESE BONDS ARE PROMPT PAYING AND VERY DESIRABLE; ALSO OTHER GOOD MUNICIPAL BONDS YIELDING 7, 8, AND 10 PER CENT.
A. W. BEASLEY & CO.,
No. 12 WALL ST.

ATLANTIC, MISSISSIPPI AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY.—Holders of mortgage bonds of the
NORFOLK AND PETERSBURG RAILROAD COMPANY,
SOUTH-SIDE RAILROAD COMPANY,
VIRGINIA AND TENNESSEE RAILROAD COMPANY, and holders of interest funding bonds of the VIRGINIA AND TENNESSEE RAILROAD COMPANY, which were issued for interest on bonds, will please present to the undersigned, on and after the 15th inst., at the office of PERKINS, LIVINGSTON, POST & CO., No. 23 Nassau st., New-York, for payment, the interest coupon which fell due July 1, 1876.
The undersigned will also pay, at the same place and date, the interest which fell due July 1, 1876, on the interest funding notes of the Atlantic, Mississippi and Ohio Railroad Company.
C. L. PERKINS, HENRY FINK, } Receivers.
LYNCHBURG, Va., Nov. 10, 1876.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.,
NO. 59 WALL ST.,
ISSUE COMMERCIAL and TRAVELERS' CREDITS AVAILABLE in all PARTS of the WORLD.

FINANCIAL.

VERMILYE & CO,
BANKERS
16 and 18 Nassau st., New-York.
DEALERS IN ALL ISSUES OF GOVERNMENT SECURITIES,
NEW-YORK CITY AND BROOKLYN BONDS.
BUY AND SELL ON COMMISSION RAILWAY STOCKS, BONDS, AND GOLD.
INTEREST ON DEPOSITS.
WASH'N R. VERMILYE, DONALD MACKAY
JAS. A. TROWBRIDGE, LATHAM A. FISH

MOBILE & OHIO RAILROAD.
The holders of the secured indebtedness of the Mobile & Ohio Railroad Company are requested to deposit their several securities either with The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, in the City of New-York; Messrs. C. M. Lampson & Co., in the City of London; Messrs. Lombard, Odier & Co., in the City of Geneva; the Frankfurter Bankverein, Frankfort, or the Bank of Mobile, in the City of Mobile, under, and in pursuance of, a plan for the re-adjustment of and for the mutual protection of all parties interested in said securities.
WM. H. HAYS, Chairman,
WM. T. PIERSON,
T. HASKINS DU PUY,
Committee of Reorganization.
Copies of the above agreement may be obtained at the office of the Committee, No. 11 Pine st., New-York City.
We, the undersigned, subscribers to the plan proposed for the re-adjustment of the securities of the Mobile & Ohio Railroad Company, recommend that all holders of the above-named securities unite promptly in the said scheme for the protection of the interests of all concerned.
F. D. TAPPEN, President of the Gallatin National Bank.
ISAAC SHERMAN, New-York.
J. S. KENNEDY & CO., New-York.
JAMES TINKER, New-York.
H. B. PLANT, President of the Southern Express Com'y.
DAVID UTLEY, Rome, N. Y.

Detroit, Monroe and Toledo R. R. Co.'s
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,
DUE 1906. Interest Seven Per Cent., due February and August. Total issue, $924,000 on 62 miles of road, WITH NO OTHER DEBT OF ANY DESCRIPTION.
PRINCIPAL and INTEREST GUARANTEED by the LAKESHORE AND MICHIGAN SOUTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY.
A LIMITED AMOUNT FOR SALE BY
CHASE & ATKINS, Bankers,
NO. 18 BROAD STREET, N. Y.

THE BANK OF MONTREAL IS PREPARED TO ISSUE
CIRCULAR NOTES
AND
LETTERS OF CREDIT TO TRAVELERS,
available in all parts of the world.
RICHARD BELL, CHAS. F. SMITHERS, } Agents.
NOS. 59 AND 61 WALL ST.

Brooklyn Bonds.
SIX PER CENT., PAYABLE 1909.
SEVEN PER CENT. PAYABLE IN THREE YEARS.
For sale by
GEO. K. SISTARE,
NO. 24 NASSAU ST.

ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY, No. 59 BROADWAY, NEW-YORK, Nov. 9, 1876.
THE TRANSFER-BOOKS OF THIS COMPANY will be closed from 2 o'clock P. M., Nov. 15, to the morning of Dec. 2.
I. C. BABCOCK, Treasurer.

UNITED STATES EXPRESS COMPANY, TREASURER'S OFFICE No. 82 BROADWAY, NEW-YORK, Oct. 28, 1876.
THE TRANSFER BOOKS OF THIS COMPANY will be closed Nov. 4 at 2 P. M., and reopened Nov. 16.
THEO. F. WOOD, Treasurer.

ELECTIONS.

OFFICE OF THE ERIE RAILWAY COMPANY, NEW-YORK, Oct. 26, 1876.
THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE STOCKholders of the Erie Railway Company for the election of Directors and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting will be held at the office of the company, No. 187 West st., on TUESDAY, the 28th day of November next. The polls will be opened at 10 o'clock A. M., and remain open till 2 o'clock P. M. of that day.
The transfer-books of both common and preferred stock will be closed after business hours on Saturday, the 28th inst., and remain closed until Wednesday, the 29th day of November next.
By order of the Board.
A. R. MACDONOUGH, Secretary.

PROPOSALS.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.
Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Board of Education, corner of Grand and Elm sts., until Thursday, the 29th day of November, 1876, at 4 o'clock P. M., for printing required by the said board for the year 1877. Samples of the various documents, &c., required to be printed may be seen at the office of the Clerk of the board, where blank forms of proposals may also be obtained. Each proposal must be addressed to the Committee on Supplies, and indorsed "Proposals for Printing." Two sureties, satisfactory to said committee, will be required for the faithful performance of the contract.
The committee reserve the right to reject any bid if deemed for the public interest.
Dated New-York, Nov. 14, 1876.
RUFUS G. BEARDSLEE,
JAMES M. HALSTED,
DAVID WETMORE,
CHARLES PLACE,
HENRY P. WEST,
Committee on Supplies.

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST.—POCKET-BOOK, CONTAINING FIVE COUPONS Rensselaer and Saratoga R. R. Co.'s First Mortgage Bonds, payable at office Delaware and Hudson Canal Company, Nov. 1, 1876, numbers 2,958, 2,959, 2,960, 2,961, 2,962; payment of the same has been stopped; a reward for their return to No. 241 Pearl st. will be paid by the owner, S. HOPKINS.

MISCELLANEOUS.

EPPS' COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING; each packet is labelled, JAMES EPPS & CO., Homeopathic Chemists, No. 48 Threadneedle st. and No. 170 Piccadilly, London, England. New-York Depot, SMITH & VANDERBEEK, Park place.

"PILES CURED."—RECEIPT SENT TO ANY address. Inclose $1 to Dr. B., Station G., New-York Post Office.

THE TOLL GATE.—PRIZE PICTURE FREE!—An ingenious gem! fifty objects to find. Address, with stamp, E. C. ABBEY, Buffalo, N. Y.

FURNISHED ROOMS.

A STRICTLY PRIVATE FAMILY, RESIDING in 18th st., east of 4th av., convenient to Clarendon, Westminster, Everett, and other hotels, would rent, without board, to a single gentleman, a large, handsomely-furnished front room, bedroom connecting. Those desiring first-class accommodations may address X. Y., Box No. 105 Times Office.

MRS. M. B. SUMNER, NO. 2 WEST 39TH ST., has one elegant front suite and one single room to offer; a party of gentlemen could be accommodated at moderate prices.

A THIRD STORY FRONT ROOM, WITH private bath, to let to a gentleman, without meals. Location near Union Club. Apply at No. 943 Broadway.

TO GENTLEMEN IN A REFINED FAMily an elegantly furnished extension parlor; hot and cold water; grate and register; references exchanged. Call at No. 53 East 21st st.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAS TAKEN THE house No. 18 West 25th st., and would respectfully solicit the patronage of those wanting good and well-furnished rooms. E. P. GARDINER.

NO. 107 EAST 44TH ST., NEAR GRAND Central depot.—Furnished rooms to let, with every convenience for house-keeping, for small, respectable families.

NO. 388 4TH AV.—SEVERAL HANDSOMELY-furnished rooms en suite or singly, with all modern conveniences; private house, central location, convenient to restaurants; references.

NO. 47 WEST 29TH ST.—PRIVATE house, extra large furnished hall room, southern exposure; house and appointments first-class.

HANDSOMELY-FURNISHED ROOMS FOR gentlemen, in private house. No. 131 East 17th st., near Union square.

UNFURNISHED ROOMS.

LENOX, 5th av., corner 13th st.
Unfurnished apartments, suitable for large and small families, unsurpassed for convenience and elegance by any in the City. Meals at the option of tenant.

HOTELS.

HOTEL ROYAL.—RESERVOIR PARK AND 40TH st.; a very quiet, select family hotel, with restaurant of unsurpassed excellence. Liberal arrangements made for the Winter.

WINTER RESORTS.

THE ROYAL VICTORIA HOTEL, NASSAU, Bahama Islands, now open; T. J. PORTER, Proprietor. Steamers leave New-York Oct. 28 and Nov. 20. For full information, apply to James Liggerwood & Co., No. 758 Broadway, New-York.

BOARDING AND LODGING.

THE UP-TOWN OFFICE OF THE TIMES.
The up-town office of THE TIMES is located at No. 1,257 Broadway, bet. 31st and 32d sts. Open daily, Sundays included, from 4 A. M. to 9 P. M. Subscriptions received, and copies of THE TIMES for sale.
ADVERTISEMENTS RECEIVED UNTIL 9 P. M.

WEST 21ST ST., BETWEEN 5TH AND 6TH AVS.—To let, with board, to a gentleman and wife, a large sunny room on the second floor; also two rooms on the fourth floor to single gentlemen; references exchanged. Address X. R., Box No. 260 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

NOS. 51 AND 53 WEST 25TH ST., NEAR MADISON SQUARE.—Elegantly-furnished rooms or entire second floor, with private table if desired; also, pleasant rooms for gentlemen; house and table strictly first-class.

NO. 70 IRVING PLACE, (GRAMERCY PARK.)—Entire second floor, en suite or singly, with or without private table; also, extra-large hall rooms, with fires; location, house, and table first-class; moderate terms.

NO. 105 WEST 47TH ST.—AN AMERICAN family, strictly private; own their house, have one elegant front room on second floor, with good board, for gentleman and wife; a comfortable, cozy home; reference.

TWO OR THREE GENTLEMEN AND their wives can be accommodated with board in a private family, (no other boarders,) at No. 457 West 21st st.

FIFTH AV., NO. 224, OPPOSITE HOTEL Brunswick, suite of parlor and bed-room for gentleman; also, single rooms, with breakfast if desired; references exchanged.

THIRTY-FOURTH ST., NO. 158, EAST.—A handsomely furnished large, and hall room; southern exposure; with unexceptionable board; family private.

FIFTH AV., NO. 81, FIRST DOOR BELOW 16TH ST.—A front parlor and connecting bedroom, third floor; two rooms on fourth floor, with board; references exchanged.

NO. 41 WEST 36TH ST.—ONE LARGE SUNNY room, second floor, elegantly furnished, with bedroom communicating; hot and cold water and ample closet room; full board; references exchanged.

NO. 28 WEST 12TH ST., WEST OF 5TH AV.—With board, handsomely-furnished rooms, large and small, suited for a family or party of gentlemen; house and table first class.

VERY DESIRABLE SECOND FLOOR front room, large room adjoining, with good board; also hall-room, with closet and fire; references. No. 86 East 12th st.

NO. 258 WEST 12TH ST.—LARGE FRONT room, third floor, furnished, for a gentleman, with or without board, between 7th and 8th avs.; terms moderate; references exchanged.

A RESPECTABLE YOUNG WIDOW WISHES two children to take care of and board; they will have a good home and a mother's care. Mrs. McNAMARA, No. 37 Spring st.

SECOND-STORY FRONT ROOM, WITH board, to a gentleman and wife or single gentleman, in an American family; a few boarders taken. No. 236 West 37th st.

NO. 10 EAST 33D ST.—PARLOR AND TWO bedrooms on third floor, also rooms on fourth floor, with board.

A NICELY-FURNISHED ALCOVE ROOM on the second floor, with or without board; private family. No. 124 East 22d st.

NO. 39 WEST 26TH ST.—ROOMS, WITH BOARD, single or en suite; an elegantly-furnished second floor; table first class; terms reasonable.

NO. 53 WEST 33D ST.—ELEGANTLY AND newly furnished rooms on second floor for gentleman and wife; table first-class; references.

NO. 175 WEST 45TH ST.—ROOMS, WITH EXcellent board, upon reasonable terms to desirable people with references.

NO. 25 EAST 21ST ST.—ELEGANTLY-FURnished rooms to let to gentlemen, with or without breakfast; references.

NO. 47 WEST 38TH ST.—NICELY-FURNISHED rooms, with first-class table; references given and required.

NO. 19 EAST 46TH ST.—SECOND STORY room and one other room, furnished, with board. References exchanged.

NO. 68 WEST 46TH ST.—DOUBLE AND SINgle rooms; families or single gentlemen; unexceptionable table; terms moderate; private family.

A SUITE OF ROOMS ON PARLOR FLOOR; also second-story back room, to let with board, No. 106 Madison av.

THIRD-STORY FRONT ROOMS, BACK PARlor, and fourth-floor large room to rent, with board; references exchanged. Nos. 106 and 108 East 23d st.

TO LET, WITH BOARD—TWO FRONT ROOMS, connecting, on third floor, in a small family. Apply at No. 62 West 45th st.

FIFTH AV., NO. 273.—HANDSOME PARLOR suite, with first-class private table; also, rooms on fourth floor.

NO. 6 EAST 32D ST.—SUNNY PARLOR, BEDroom, parlor floor; also two upper rooms, with board.

NO. 49 WEST 16TH ST.—HANDSOMELY-furnished room and bed-room, with board; also, other large and small rooms; table board.

NO. 250 MADISON AV.—DESIRABLE SUITE OF front rooms to let, with or without private table; also single room.

WITH PRIVATE TABLE, TO LET—HANDsome second or upper floor in first-class house, No. 67 West 38th st., between 5th and 6th avs.

NO. 23 WAVERLEY PLACE.—A HANDSOMEly-furnished front parlor to rent, with or without private table, and other rooms.

FIFTH AV., NO. 73, NORTH-EAST CORNER 15TH ST.—Suite of rooms on second floor; also, other rooms, with board.

NO. 434 5TH AV.—A VERY CHOICE SUITE OF apartments, with private table; also, a small suite of three rooms.

TWENTY-THIRD ST., NO. 116 EAST.—Parlor and bed-room on second floor front, with board; also, hall-room; references.

NO. 29 WEST 26TH ST.—DESIRABLE SUNNY rooms, for families and gentlemen, with superior table.

TO LET.—FURNISHED, WITH BOARD, SITTING-room and bed-room, on second and third floors; house first-class; references. No. 235 West 38th st.

NICELY-FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET, with board, to a gentleman and wife, or a party of gentlemen. No. 244 East 19th st.

ONE DOOR FROM MADISON SQUARE.—No. 33 East 23d st., elegantly furnished floors with private tables.

NO. 33 WEST 42D ST., FRONTING RESERVOIR PARK.—House new; elegantly-furnished handsome rooms, with excellent board.

NO. 109 WEST 28TH ST.—VERY NICE FURnished rooms, with or without board; private family.

NO. 28 WEST 31ST ST.—HANDSOMELY FURnished floor and single rooms with board; private table if desired; references.

NO. 4 EAST 29TH ST., BETWEEN 5TH AND MADISON AVS.—Handsomely-furnished rooms; first-class board; table boarders taken.

NO. 9 WEST 21ST ST.—DESIRABLE ROOMS; unsurpassed locality; pleasant appointments, with board; terms reasonable; references exchanged.

NO. 18 EAST 32D ST.—ELEGANT SECOND floor; also other rooms; table first-class; private if desired.

NO. 4 EAST 10TH ST., ONE DOOR FROM 5th av.; first floor, three rooms, furnished, with private table.

FIFTH AV., NO. 291.—VERY DESIRABLE suite of apartments; private table if desired; room for gentleman.

NO. 36 EAST 20TH ST.—PARLOR FLOOR, three large rooms, bath, ample closets, private table; rooms for gentlemen without board; references.

PLEASANT ROOMS, WITH BOARD, third floor, en suite or singly; other rooms; references. No. 116 West 45th st.

BOARD.—WELL-FURNISHED ROOMS, SINGLE, double, or en suite, and elegant general parlor. No. 13 West 29th st., second door from Gilsey House.

NO. 260 4TH AV., MRS. WILLIAMS.—TWO desirable suites; private table.

NO. 14 5TH AV.—A SUITE OF ROOMS ON THIRD floor, with board; also, rooms on fourth floor.

FIFTH AV., NO. 341.—MRS. SEAVER WILL rent apartments with private table.

NO. 25 WEST 16TH ST.—ROOMS ON SECOND and third floors, with board, for first-class parties.

NO. 114 EAST 27TH ST.—PARLOR AND second floor to let, with board.

TO RENT, WITH BOARD, ROOMS ON SECOND and fourth floors; reference. No. 10 East 32d st.

NO. 950 LEXINGTON AV., NEAR NORMAL College.

NO. 29 WEST 21ST ST.—HANDSOMELY-FURnished rooms, with board; references.

NO. 43 EAST 29TH ST.—ROOMS ON SECOND and third floors, with first-class board; references.

NO. 54 WEST 38TH ST.; FRONT ROOM, on third floor, to let with board; references.

NINTH ST., NO. 37, WEST.—DESIRABLE rooms, with superior board.

BOARD WANTED.

BOARD WANTED.—FOR A LADY AND HER maid in a family where there are no other boarders; location between the Park and north of 34th st., and between Lexington and 6th avs. Address for two days, Board, Box No. 307 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

BOARD WANTED.—FOR A GENTLEMAN, wife, and daughter; a parlor and two bed-rooms, with private table; best of references. Address, with lowest terms, and full particulars, W. G. A., Box No. 4364, Post Office.

A LADY WISHES BOARD IN A FAMILY where only German is spoken. Address F. W., Box 280 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

WANTED—A MAN TO TRAVEL AND SELL MAchinery; must thoroughly understand his business, and furnish the best of reference as to capacity and reliability. Address, by letter, C. W. C., Station D, New-York Post Office.

WANTED—AN ENTERPRISING MAN, WITH CAPital, to introduce in this or other countries a valuable and useful patent; appoint time and place for interview. Address Post Office Box No. 4,041, New-York.

AMUSEMENTS.

NIBLO'S GARDEN.
CHARLES R. ARNOLD..........Lessee and Manager
BENSEN SHERWOOD..........Director
Third month of
BABA,
Written expressly for this theatre by Mr. John A. Mack.
UNABATED SUCCESS OF
Miss ELIZA WEATHERSBY..........as..........AMORET
Mr. W. H. CRANE..........as..........BABA
Continued triumph of
Miles. ELIZABETA and HELENE MENZELI.
The most artistic premieres assolutas ever seen in this country.
MR. BENSEN SHERWOOD'S MARVELOUS TRANSFORMATIONS.
THE SHIP CHANGE, THE THREE GROTTOS,
THE CRUMBLING PALACE,
THE GRANDEST BALLETS IN THE WORLD,
MAX MARETZEK'S SWEET MUSIC.
DEVERNA'S ARTISTIC PROPERTIES.
RICHEST COSTUMES. EXQUISITE SCENERY.
JOLLIEST PLAY.
THE BEST ENTERTAINMENT IN THE CITY.
Box office open daily from 8 A. M. to 10 P. M., where seats may be secured one week in advance.
MATINEE SATURDAY AT 1:30.

ESSIPOFF. STEINWAY HALL.
Début in America of
Mme. ANNETTE ESSIPOFF.
THIS (Tuesday) EVENING, Nov. 14,
on which occasion Mme. ESSIPOFF will be assisted by
M. ALFRED VIVIEN,
violin virtuoso of the Conservatory of Brussels, expressly engaged for the Essipoff Concert, and a very select orchestra from the PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.
Conductor, Mr. REINHARD SCHMELZ.
To-morrow (Wednesday) SECOND ESSIPOFF CONCERT.
Friday Evening, Nov. 17, THIRD ESSIPOFF CONCERT.
Saturday at 2 o'clock, FIRST ESSIPOFF MATINEE.
Admission, $1; reserved seats, $2. Seats at Schuberth's music store and Steinway Hall.

CENTENNIAL BAZAAR.
NOV. 15, 16, AND 17,
WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, AND FRIDAY,
At No. 113 East 40th st., near Park av.
OPEN FROM 12 TO 10 P. M.
Admission, 10 cents.

KELLY & LEON'S MINSTRELS, Opera-house.
The Fashionable Minstrel Temple | 23d st., and 6th av.
Every evening | Ching Chow Hi | Matinée at 2.
Houses crowded | Ching Chow Hi | Thanksgiving Day.
Flight of Leon from the Dome of the Theatre.

OLYMPIC NOVELTY THEATRE. 624 B'WAY.
Matinées WEDNESDAY, SATURDAY. 15c., 25c., 50c. | Admission, 15c., 35c., 50c., 75c., & $1. NOVELTY COMPANY No. 8. 15 new specialty stars, and drama entitled AGAINST THE STREAM.

RAILROADS.

CENTRAL RAILROAD OF NEW-JERSEY—ALLENTOWN LINE.—Ferry stations in New-York foot of Liberty st. and foot of Clarkson st., up town. Freight station, foot of Liberty st.
Commencing Oct. 2, 1876—Leave New-York, foot of Liberty st., as follows:
5:40 A. M.—MAIL TRAIN for Easton, Belvidere, Bethlehem, Bath, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamanend, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Carbondale, &c.; connects at Bound Brook for Trenton and Philadelphia at Junction with Del., Lack. and West. Railroad.
7:15 A. M.—For Somerville and Flemington.
8:45 A. M.—MORNING EXPRESS, daily, (except Sundays,) for High Bridge Branch, Easton, Allentown, Harrisburg, and the West. Connects at Easton for Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Towanda, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Danville, Williamsport, &c.
*1:00 P. M.—EXPRESS for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Tamaqua, Mahanoy City, Hazleton, Reading, Columbia, Lancaster, Ephrata, Pottsville, Harrisburg, &c.
4:00 P. M.—For High Bridge Branch, Easton, Belvidere, Allentown, and Mauch Chunk; connects at Junction with Del., Lack. and West. Railroad.
*4:30 P. M.—For Somerville and Flemington.
5:15 P. M.—For Bound Brook.
*5:30 P. M.—EVENING EXPRESS, daily, for Easton, Belvidere, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre, Towanda, Reading, Harrisburg, and the West.
*8:30 P. M.—For Easton.
Boats leave foot of Clarkson st., up-town, at 6:35, 7:35, 9:05, 10:05, 11:35 A. M.; 12:50, 1:50, 3:20, 4:20, 5:20, 6:20, 7:20, 8:20, 10:05, 11:50 P. M.
Connection is made by Clarkson Street Ferry at Jersey City with all trains marked *
For trains to local points see time-table at stations.

NEW-YORK AND LONG BRANCH DIVISION.
ALL-RAIL LINE BETWEEN NEW-YORK, LONG BRANCH, OCEAN GROVE, SEA GIRT, AND SQUAN.
Time-table of Nov. 15, 1876: Trains leave New-York from foot of Liberty st., North River, at 8:15, 11:45 A. M., 4:15, 5:15 P. M.
From foot of Clarkson st. at 11:35 A. M.
Stages to and from Keyport connect at Matawan Station with all trains.

NEW-YORK AND PHILADELPHIA NEW LINE.
BOUND BROOK ROUTE.
For Trenton and Philadelphia.
Leave New-York, foot of Liberty st., at 5:40, 6:45, 7:45, 9:15 A. M., 1:30, 5, 6:30 P. M.
Leave foot of Clarkson st. at 6:35, 7:35, 9:05 A. M., 12:50, 4:20, 6:20 P. M.
Leave Philadelphia from station North Pennsylvania Railroad, 3d and Berks sts., at 7:30, 9:30 A. M., 1:30, 3:20, 5, 6:30 P. M. Leave Centennial Grounds at 7:15, 9:15 A. M., 1:15, 3, 4:50, 6:10 P. M.
PULLMAN DRAWING ROOM CARS are attached to the 7:45 and 9:15 A. M. trains from New-York, and to trains leaving 3d and Berks sts. at 3:00 and 6:30 P. M.
All trains connect at Trenton Junction to and from Trenton.
Leave Trenton for New-York at 5:45, 8:15, 10:20 A. M., 2:10, 3:45, 5:45, 7:20 P. M.
Rates for passengers and freight as low as by other routes.
H. P. BALDWIN, Gen. Pass. Agent.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT TRUNK LINE
AND UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE.
Trains leave New-York, via Desbrosses and Cortlandt Street Ferries, as follows:
Express for Harrisburg, Pittsburg, the West and South, with Pullman Palace Cars attached, 9:30 A. M., 6 and 8:30 P. M. Sunday, 6 and 8:30 P. M.
For Williamsport, Lock Haven, Corry, and Erie at 9:30 and 8:30 P. M., connecting at Corry for Titusville, Petroleum Centre, and the Oil Regions.
For Baltimore, Washington, and the South. "Limited Washington Express" of Pullman Parlor Cars daily, except Sunday, 9:30 A. M.; arrive Washington, 4:15 P. M. Regular at 8:40 A. M., 2:40, and 9 P. M. Sunday 9 P. M.
Express for Philadelphia, 7:30, 8:40, 9:30 A. M., 12:30, 2:40, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8:30, 9 P. M. and 12 night. Accommodation 7 A. M. and 4:10 P. M. Sunday 8 A. M., 5, 6, 7, 8:30, and 9 P. M. Emigrant and second class 7 P. M.
For Centennial Depot at 8 A. M. daily. Returning, leave Centennial Depot at 4:45 and 5:30 P. M.
For trains to Newark, Elizabeth, Rahway, Princeton, Trenton, Perth Amboy, Flemington, Belvidere, and other points, see local schedules at all Ticket Offices.
Trains arrive: From Pittsburg, 6:20 and 10:30 A. M. and 10:20 P. M. daily; 10:10 A. M. and 6:50 P. M. daily, except Monday. From Washington and Baltimore, 6:30, 9:40 A. M., 4:10, 5:10, and 10:20 P. M. Sunday, 6:30, 9:40 A. M. From Philadelphia, 5:05, 6:20, 6:30, 9:40, 10:10, 11:20, 11:50 A. M., 2:10, 3:50, 4:10, 5:10, 6:10, 6:50, 7:35, 7:40, 8:40, and 10:20 P. M. Sunday, 5:05, 6:20, 6:30, 9:40, 10:10, 11:50 A. M., 6:50 and 10:20 P. M.
Ticket Offices—Nos. 526 and 944 Broadway, No. 1 Astor House, and foot of Desbrosses and Cortlandt sts.; No. 4 Court st., Brooklyn; Nos. 114, 116, and 118 Hudson st., Hoboken; Depot, Jersey City. Emigrant Ticket Office, No. 8 Battery place.
D. M. BOYD, Jr., General Passenger Agent.
FRANK THOMSON, General Manager.

NEW-YORK CENTRAL AND HUDSON RIVER RAILROAD.—After Sept. 18, 1876, through trains will leave Grand Central Depot:
8:00 A. M., Chicago and Northern Express, with drawing-room cars through to Rochester and St. Albans, Vt.
10:30 A. M., special Chicago Express, with drawing-room cars to Rochester, Buffalo, and Niagara Falls.
11:50 A. M., North-rn and Western Express.
3:30 P. M., special Albany, Troy, and Western Express. Connects at East Albany with night express for the West.
4:00 P. M., Montreal Express, with sleeping cars from New-York to Montreal.
6:00 P. M., Express, with sleeping cars, for Watertown and Canandaigua. Also for Montreal via Plattsburg.
8:30 P. M., Pacific Express, daily, with sleeping cars, for Rochester, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cleveland, Louisville, and St. Louis. Also for Chicago, via both L. S. and M. C. Railroads.
11:00 P. M., Express, with sleeping cars, for Albany and Troy. Way trains as per local Time Table.
Tickets for sale at Nos. 252 and 413 Broadway, and at Westcott Express Company's offices, Nos. 7 Park place, 785 and 942 Broadway, New-York, and 333 Washington st., Brooklyn.
C. B. MEEKER, General Passenger Agent.

LEHIGH VALLEY RAILROAD.
ARRANGEMENT OF PASSENGER TRAINS, April 16, 1876.
Leave depots foot of Cortlandt and Desbrosses sts., at 7 A. M.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Hazleton, Beaver Meadows, Mahanoy City, Shenandoah, Mount Carmel, Shamokin, Wilkesbarre, Pittston, Sayre, Elmira, &c., connecting with trains for Ithaca, Auburn, Rochester, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, and the West.
1 P. M.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Hazleton, Mahanoy City, Shenandoah, Wilkesbarre, Pittston, &c., making close connection for Reading, Pottsville, and Harrisburg.
4 P. M.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, and Mauch Chunk, stopping at all stations.
6:30 P. M.—Night Express, daily, for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre, Pittston, Sayre, Elmira, Ithaca, Auburn, Rochester, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, and the West. Pullman's sleeping coaches attached.
General Eastern office corner Church and Cortlandt sts., CHARLES H. CUMMINGS, Agent.
ROBERT H. SAYRE, Superintendent and Engineer.

ERIE RAILWAY.
Summer Arrangement of through trains, 1876. From Chambers Street Depot. (For 23d st. see note below.)
9:00 A. M., daily, except Sundays, Cincinnati and Chicago Day Express. Drawing-room coaches to Buffalo and sleeping coaches to Cincinnati and Detroit. Sleeping coaches to Chicago.
10:45 A. M., daily, except Sundays, Express Mail for Buffalo and the West. Sleeping coach to Buffalo.
7:00 P. M., daily, Pacific Express to the West. Sleeping coaches through to Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Cincinnati, and Chicago, without change. Hotel dining coaches to Cleveland and Chicago.
7:00 P. M., except Sundays, Western Emigrant train.
Above trains leave Twenty-third Street Ferry at 8:45 and 10:15 A. M., and 6:45 P. M.
For local trains see time-tables and cards in hotels and depots.
JNO. N. ABBOTT, General Passenger Agent.

NEW-YORK, NEW-HAVEN, AND HARTFORD RAILROAD,
After June 11, 1876, trains leave Grand Central Depot (42d st.) for New-Canaan Railroad at 8:05 A. M., 1, 4:40, and 5:45 P. M.; Danbury and Norwalk Railroad at 8:05 A. M., 1, 3:15, and 4:40 P. M.; Naugatuck Railroad at 8:05 A. M. and 3 P. M.; Housatonic Railroad at 8:05 A. M. and 3 P. M.; New-Haven and Northampton Railroad at 8:05 A. M. and 3 P. M.; for Newport at 8:05 A. M. and 1 P. M.; Boston and Albany Railroad at 8:05 and 11 A. M., 3 and 9 P. M., (9 P. M. on Sunday;) Boston (via Shore Line) at 1 and 10 P. M., (10 P. M. on Sundays.)
Way trains as per local time tables.
J. T. MOODY, Superintendent New-York Division.
E. M. REED, Vice President, New-York.

WICKFORD RAILROAD ROUTE TO NEWPORT, R. I.—Passengers for this line take 8:05 A. M. and 1 P. M. express trains from Grand Central Depot, arriving at 4:18 and 8 P. M. at Newport.
THEODORE WARREN, Superintendent.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE GREAT NEW-YORK AQUARIUM,
BROADWAY AND 35TH ST.
OPEN DAILY FROM 9 A. M. TILL 10 P. M.
GREAT JAPANESE CURIOSITY,
THE "KIUGIYO" OR TRIPLE-TAILED FISH.
AMERICAN ANGLER! WHITE BASS!
LIVING WHITE WHALE!
SEALS AND SEA-HORSES.
170,000 GALLONS CRYSTAL WATER
IN CONSTANT MOTION.
THOUSANDS OF OTHER CURIOSITIES.
MARVELS OF MARINE LIFE.
ELEGANT PROMENADE CONCERTS.
EVERY AFTERNOON AND EVENING (SUNDAYS EXCEPTED.)
HARVEY B. DODWORTH, Director.

HELLER'S WONDER THEATRE,
LATE GLOBE, OPPOSITE NEW-YORK HOTEL.
ROBERT HELLER. ROBERT HELLER.
THE WORLD-FAMED PRESTIDIGITATEUR,
PIANIST,
and HUMORIST,
Will present the first of a series of entertainments entitled
HELLER'S WONDERS,
at this entirely remodeled and redecorated theatre,
ON WEDNESDAY EVENING NOV. 15,
which will be repeated
EVERY EVENING AT 8 O'CLOCK.
"The most astounding Necromancy of the 19th century."
"The cleverest tricks ever attempted."
FIRST APPEARANCE IN AMERICA OF MISS HELLER,
who will make her début in the famous phenomenal wonder entitled
SUPERNATURAL VISION.
Prices of admission—Reserved orchestra chairs, $1; balcony reserved seats, 75 cents; family circle, 50 cents; amphitheatre, limited, 25 cents.

FIFTH AVENUE THEATRE.
LAST NIGHT BUT THREE OF
LIFE!
LAST OF THE SNOW BALLET!
LAST OF BONFANTI!
FAREWELL MATINEE OF LIFE
SATURDAY NEXT AT 2.
BRING THE CHILDREN!
SATURDAY NIGHT, NOV. 18,
MISS DAVENPORT AS ROSALIND.

THE BEST RESERVED SEATS FOR ALL THEATRES six days in advance, at TYSON'S NEW THEATRE TICKET OFFICE, WINDSOR HOTEL.

WILL CLOSE SATURDAY EVENING, NOV. 18.
AMERICAN INSTITUTE,
2D AND 3D AVS., BETWEEN 63D AND 64TH STS.
LAST DAYS OF THE
FORTY-FIFTH GRAND NATIONAL EXHIBITION.
Adults 25 cents; Children 15 cents.

CHICKERING HALL.
WEDNESDAY EVENING, Nov. 15, 1876.
READINGS
by
Miss LIZZIE L. CLARK.
Under the direction of J. E. FROBISHER.
Music by ISOTTA REBECCHINI, Mlle. TOMOSELLI, and Mr. MORTIMER WOODCOCK.
Tickets 50 cents, to be obtained at Blume's music store, No. 861 Broadway, or at the hall.

SAN FRANCISCO MINSTRELS.
OPERA HOUSE, BROADWAY & 29TH ST. | THE MINSTREL PALACE. BIRCH, WAMBOLD, BACKUS, and THIRTY BRILLIANT ARTISTS. The crême de la crême of minstrelsy.
MATINEE, SATURDAY at 2. Seats secured.

FAIR OF THE WOMAN'S AID SOCIETY.—The annual fair of this society will be held at the "Home," No. 41 7th av., Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this week from 11 A. M. to 10 P. M. each day.

FRENCH, GERMAN, SPANISH, AND ITALian learned within three months; taught conversationally. Terms only $5 for twenty lessons. Dr. H. CARLOS, No. 35 Union square.

INSTRUCTION.

MOUNT WASHINGTON
Collegiate Institute,
No. 40 WASHINGTON SQUARE, NEW-YORK CITY,
GEO. W. CLARKE, Ph. D., Principal.
Prepares pupils of all ages for business or college, and opens its thirty-fourth year Sept. 13. Circulars at book stores and at the Institute.

ANTHON GRAMMAR SCHOOL,
No. 252 Madison av.,
Between 38th and 39th sts.
School hours, 9:30 A. M. to 2:30 P. M.
The rates of tuition have been reduced.

A CLASS FOR BOYS.—THE DESIGN OF THIS class is to prepare boys thoroughly for our best colleges; number of pupils limited to twelve. References: President Eliot, of Harvard University, Theodore Roosevelt, Esq., and William H. Osborn, Esq., New-York City. For circulars apply to ARTHUR H. CUTLER, at Class Rooms, No. 713 6th av.

LYON'S COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.
NO. 5 EAST 22D ST., CORNER OF BROADWAY.
The Principal gladly teaches the whole time.
Able associates of long connection assist.
Many good boys have entered. Only such received.

GRACE CHURCH ACADEMY FOR YOUNG LADIES—Broad st., Newark, N. J., provides thorough instruction in all branches of an elegant education; location central; apartments superb; charges moderate. For circulars, address the Principal, No. 54 Fair St. or Rev. Dr. Harison, Rector. The next quarter begins Nov. 19.

ST. JOHN'S SCHOOL.
BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL
FOR YOUNG LADIES AND CHILDREN.
Rev. THEODORE IRVING, LL. D., Rector,
No. 21 West 32d st.

C. A. MILES,
ENGLISH AND CLASSICAL SCHOOL FOR BOYS,
No. 100 West 43d st., corner 6th av.
School hours, 9:30 A. M. to 2:30 P. M.

MISS DU VERNET, ASSISTED BY COMpetent masters, will reopen her Boarding and Day School for boys under fifteen, at No. 102 West 29th st., one door from 6th av., on MONDAY, Sept. 25; day boarders are taken to the Park after an early dinner.

A GREAT REDUCTION TO THOSE ENTERING THOMPSON'S COLLEGE, No. 20 4th av., before Dec. 1; bookkeeping, writing, arithmetic, $5 each, three months, day or evening; telegraphy taught practically. A demand for operators.

AMERICAN KINDERGARTEN AND TRAINING CLASS FOR MOTHERS AND TEACHERS, NO. 44 EAST 43D ST.—Oldest and best in the City; all the Froebel occupations taught thoroughly.
Miss E. M. COE, Principal.

KEARSARGE SCHOOL FOR BOYS, SAUGERTIES, N. Y.—The school reopens Sept. 14. For further information address,
FREDERICK THOMPSON, Principal.

MRS. ROBERTS AND MISS WALKER'S English and French School, No. 148 Madison av.; advanced classes from Nov. 1; three young ladies will be received into the family.

PAINE'S COLLEGE, NO. 62 BOWERY; UPtown, No. 284 8th av.; young men, ladies, and boys taught bookkeeping, arithmetic, correspondence; backward persons. English branches, writing, $3 monthly.

PRIVATE CLASS FOR YOUNG CHILDREN.—A few vacancies in a class taught by a competent lady in 61st st., west of the park. Apply by letter to Rev. Dr. TYNG, Jr., No. 46 East 43d st.

MISS MARION A. ROLLO'S SCHOOL FOR children, No. 51 East 21st st., will open Wednesday, Sept. 27. Kindergarten system adopted for very young children.

CHESTER VALLEY ACADEMY—A Boarding School for Boys, Downington, Pa.; limited in number; boys have home comforts and careful training; easy of access; $200 to $260 a year. F. DONLEAVY LONG, A. M., Prin.

MRS. AND MISS STEER'S SCHOOLS, No. 12 East 47th st., and No. 62 West 12th st. Kindergarten attached to each school. School omnibus from No. 12 East 47th st.

MRS. J. T. BENEDICT'S BOARDING AND Day School for young ladies and children, No. 7 East 42d st., N. Y., will reopen Sept. 28. Send for circular.

MISS EDMONDS' ENGLISH AND FRENCH Boarding and Day School for young ladies. No. 37 East 29th st.

MRS. SYLVANUS REED'S BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL for young ladies. 6 and 8 East 53d st.

MISS WARREN'S School for Boys, 6th av., opposite Reservoir Park; pupils of all ages improve here.

A CLASS FOR YOUNG GENTLEMAN AND private instruction. Thos. R. Ash, 103 West 40th st.

TEACHERS.

A YOUNG LADY, PREPARED TO FURNISH undoubted testimonials, would like a position as governess to instruct in English branches; experience, eight years; or would act as companion to a lady; a pleasant home more to be desired than large compensation. Address Miss C. ARLINGTON, Box No. 120, Millerton, N. Y.

BOYS PREPARED FOR COLLEGE BY a graduate of Harvard; experienced in teaching. Address Harvard, Box No. 293 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

A LADY WHO HAS MUCH EXPERience in teaching desires a situation as governess, or would be companion to an invalid lady; no objection to traveling. Address H. L. R., No. 7 East 15th st.

AN EDUCATED CLERGYMAN WILL DEvote part of his time to giving private instruction upon almost every subject; also culture. Address CLERGYMAN, Box No. 134 Times Office.

MRS. MITCHELL, (DIPLOMEE,) SUPPLIES families without charge with competent and reliable governesses, tutors, professors of music and languages. TEACHERS' BUREAU, No. 67 West 35th st.

FRENCH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE by an experienced Parisian lady diplomée. Mlle. VEREL, No. 1,267 Broadway, Room No. 23.

AMUSEMENTS.

WALLACK'S. BOUCICAULT
Mr. LESTER WALLACK..........Proprietor and Manager
Mr. Wallack is gratified to announce the engagement of the eminent dramatist and comedian, who inaugurated his present season with the comedy FORBIDDEN FRUIT as a brilliant prelude to his appearance as CONN, in his celebrated Irish drama, the
SHAUGHRAUN.
The engagement of
Mr. BOUCICAULT
being necessarily limited to a few weeks, the comedy FORBIDDEN FRUIT, suspended during the run of THE SHAUGHRAUN, will be resumed after his engagement, after which a new drama entitled ALL FOR HER, will be produced.
EVERY NIGHT at 8,
EVERY SATURDAY AFTERNOON at 1:30,
will be performed
THE SHAUGHRAUN,
with the original cast, including Mr. John Gilbert, Mr. H. J. Montague, Mr. Harry Beckett, Mr. E. Arnott, Mr. C. A. Stevenson, Mr. E. Holland, Mr. Edwin, Mr. Leonard, Mr. Peck, Mr. Eytinge, Mr. Atkins, Miss Dyas, Mme. Ponisi, Miss Rose Wood, Miss Josephine Baker, Mrs. Sefton, and Miss Blaisdell, as originally represented at Wallack's Theatre in 1874.
Box office open daily from 8 to 5. Places may be secured four weeks in advance.

UNION SQUARE THEATRE.
Mr. SHERIDAN SHOOK..........Proprietor
Mr. A. M. PALMER..........Manager
LAST TIMES OF
LAST TIMES OF
LAST TIMES OF
THE
TWO ORPHANS.
LAST TIMES OF
LAST TIMES OF
LAST TIMES OF
Monday Evening, Nov. 20, will be produced for the first time in America, Messrs. Nus & Belot's powerful drama in five acts, entitled
MISS MULTON.
In which Miss CLARA MORRIS, Miss SARA JEWETT, Mrs. MARIE WILKINS, Miss BIJOU HERON, Miss LOUISE SYLVESTER, Miss MABEL LEONARD, Mr. JAMES O'NIEL, Mr. J. H. STODDART, and Mr. JOHN PARSELLE will appear.
The play will be presented with entirely new and beautiful scenery from the brush of Mr. RICHARD MARSTON, with new furniture and appointments, and with new music by Mr. TISSINGTON.
The sale of seats for the first representation of MISS MULTON will commence on THURSDAY MORNING next at 8 o'clock.

BOOTH'S THEATRE. GRANDEUR
JARRETT & PALMER..........Lessees and Managers.
NEW "THE GLORY OF THE STAGE." FOURTEENTH WEEK of the triumphant production of LORD BYRON'S exquisite romantic play,
SARDANAPALUS.
GRAND MARVELOUSLY MAGNIFICENT Scenery, costumes, regalia, weapons, banners, &c.
THE GREAT CAST INCLUDING
MR. F. C. BANGS and
AGNES BOOTH.
ITALIAN
BALLET. THE NEW GRAND BALLET, introducing the renowned BARTOLETTI, premiere danseuse assoluta, of the Grand Opera, Paris, and La Scala, Milan; Sig. MASCAGNO, principal dancer of La Scala, Milan, and San Carlo, Naples.
MATINEE EVERY SATURDAY AT 1:30.
. NEXT FRIDAY EVENING, BENEFIT of Mr. BANGS. Seats can now be secured.
. Dec. 4, LAWRENCE BARRETT as "King Lear."

P. T. BARNUM'S, P. T. BARNUM'S
NEW AND GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH,
AT GILMORE'S GARDEN.
GRAND MATINEE EVERY AFTERNOON.
TWO EXHIBITIONS DAILY.
MENAGERIE, MUSEUM, AND CIRCUS.
OBSERVE THE TALENT.
Re-engagement of Miss JENNIE WATSON and MARTINHO LOWANDI, the Brazilian rider, who will appear MONDAY, Nov. 20.
FISH, SEBASTIAN, CARLO FAMILY, (TWELVE IN NUMBER,) HAWLEY AND VICTORIA, JAMES COOK, Mlle. DE BERG, LA FEVRE, Miss HANSON, SATSUMA, WHITAKER, ALL RIGHT, WATERMAN, KERLER, COOK, CLARK, ALMONTE, ROLLAND, SMITH, GAFFNEY, AND MANY OTHERS.
THE TATTOOED GREEK NOBLEMAN.
ADMIRAL DOT.
Admission, 50 cents; children under nine years, 25 cents; orchestra seats, 25 cents extra.
Doors open at 1 and 5:30. Performance at 2 and 8.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH,
23d st., between 5th and 6th avs.,
Lecture by Rev.
H. M. GALLAHER,
Subject: "America and the Americans."
Tuesday Evening, Nov. 14.
Admission 50 cents.

EAGLE THEATRE. BROADWAY AND 33D ST.
Proprietor and Manager..........Mr. JOSH HART
Unbounded success of the burlesque on
SARDANAPALUS.
THE MODERN SCHOOL OF ACTING. SARAH'S YOUNG MAN
Return of Mr. Pat Rooney.
The entire company will appear in the Burlesque on Sardanapalus.
Matinée Wednesday and Saturday.

GRAND OPERA-HOUSE. 8TH AV. AND 23D ST.
UNCLE TOM'S CABIN,
With its great realistic plantation scene,
UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE.
MATINEES WEDNESDAY AND SATURDAY AT 2.

LECTURES.

A LECTURE ON "SCIENCE IN AMERICA" will be delivered by Prof. JOHN W. DRAPER, before the American Chemical Society at Chickering Hall, on THURSDAY, Nov. 16, at 8 P. M. The public are invited to attend.

MUSICAL.

A FINE ASSORTMENT OF FIRST-CLASS piano-fortes for sale at very moderate prices on easy and reasonable terms at HAINES BROTHERS, corner of 2d av. and 21st sts.
A few pianos that have been used a little very low.

CHICKERING, STEINWAY, WEBER, AND other first-class new and second-hand pianos, for sale or rent, and rent applied to purchase. POND'S MUSIC STORE, No. 547 Broadway.

UPRIGHT PIANOS for sale or rent at OUVRIER & SONS, Manufacturers, No. 27 West 13th st., New-York.

DANCING.

ALLEN DODWORTH'S DANCING SCHOOL REMOVED TO NO. 681 5TH AV.
Now open for the reception of pupils.
For particulars send for circular.

MEETINGS.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE FARMERS' CLUB.—A meeting of this club will be held TO-DAY, (Tuesday,) at 1 o'clock P. M., in Room No. 24 Cooper Building. Admission free. NATHAN C. ELY, President.
JOHN W. CHAMBERS, Secretary.

STEAMBOATS.

STONINGTON LINE
FOR BOSTON AND ALL POINTS EAST.
REDUCED FARE.
TO BOSTON, FIRST CLASS, $4.
TO PROVIDENCE, FIRST CLASS, $3.
Elegant steamers leave Pier No. 33 North River, foot of Jay st., at 4:30 P. M.
Tickets for sale at all principal ticket offices. Staterooms secured at offices of Westcott Express Company, and at No. 363 Broadway.
PROVIDENCE LINE.
Steam-ships Electra and Galatea leave Pier No. 27 North River, foot of Park place, at 4 P. M. Freights via either line taken at lowest rates.
D. S. BABCOCK, Pres. L. W. FILKINS, G. P. Agent.

REDUCTION OF FARE
TO BOSTON,
VIA THE
FALL RIVER LINE.
$4 FIRST CLASS.
STEAMERS BRISTOL AND PROVIDENCE.
4:30 P. M.—Leave Pier No. 28 North River, foot of Murray street, daily, Sundays excepted.

SEA BIRD,
Capt. H. B. PARKER, will run between New-York (foot of Franklin st., Pier No. 35) and Red Bank, as follows:

LEAVE NEW-YORK.	LEAVE RED BANK.
Tuesday, 14.... 2:30 P. M.	Tuesday, 14.... 6:45 A. M.
Wednesday, 15.. 3:00 P. M.	Wednesday, 15.. 7:00 A. M.
Thursday, 16.. 3:30 P. M.	Thursday, 16.. 7:00 A. M.
Saturday, 18.. 9:00 A. M.	Friday, 17.... 8:00 A. M.
Tuesday, 21....11:00 A. M.	Monday, 20.... 8:30 A. M.
Thursday, 23....12:00 M.	Wednesday, 22..10:00 A. M.

OLD-ESTABLISHED LINE FOR STUYVESANT, CATSKILL, AND INTERMEDIATE LANDINGS.—Steamer ANDREW HARDER, from Franklin st., Pier 35, Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday. Steamer MONITOR, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, 5 P. M.

ALBANY.—PEOPLE'S LINE.—SPLENDID STEAMboats leave Pier No. 41 North River, foot of Canal st., daily, Sundays excepted, at 6 P. M., for Albany and all points North and West. N. B.—State-rooms heated by steam pipes. Meals on European plan.

FOR NEW-HAVEN, HARTFORD, &C. Fare $1; steamers leave Peck slip for New-Haven at 3 and 11 P. M., connecting with road.

FOR BRIDGEPORT AND ALL POINTS ON Housatonic and Naugatuck Railroad.—Fare, $1. Steamers leave Catharine slip at 11:30 A. M.

COPARTNERSHIP NOTICES.

THE COPARTNERSHIP HERETOFORE existing under the firm name of C. ROGERS & CO., for the manufacture and sale of pianos, at No. 226 East 42d st., is this day dissolved by mutual consent. All debts due the late firm will be collected by C. ROGERS alone, who assumes all liabilities.
C. ROGERS,
C. BORST.
NEW-YORK, Aug. 2, 1876.

The business will be continued at the same place by the undersigned, under the same firm name of C. ROGERS & CO.
C. ROGERS,
C. M. ROGERS.
NEW-YORK, Aug. 2, 1876.

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

THE EAST RIVER BRIDGE.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS—FINANCIAL STATEMENT, SHOWING RECEIPTS AND DISBURSEMENTS—MISCELLANEOUS MATTERS OF INTEREST.

An adjourned meeting of the Board of Directors of the East River Bridge Company was held yesterday afternoon at the office of the company in Water street, Brooklyn. President Murphy announced that Chief Engineer Roebling had sold out his interest in the firm of J. A. Roebling's Sons, of Trenton, N. J., and was no longer a member of that concern. He also stated that it had been determined by the company to lease the building on the corner of Dock and Front streets at $600 per annum, and also to pay the bill of Dr. Johnston, amounting to less than one hundred dollars, for medical services rendered to the master mason who died in September last from illness brought upon him by exposure to the heat last Summer while at work upon the anchorage. Mr. Murphy further announced that the titles to the lands for the use of the company, on both sides of the river, between the anchorages and the towers, had been perfected at an aggregate cost of $447,486, which was $116,000 or about twenty per cent. less than the original estimates. These prices, he said, had been in part determined by mutual arrangements with the owners, and in part by the Commissioners appointed by the court to appraise the value of the lands.

The reports of the Finance Committee, Secretary, and Treasurer were read and approved. The financial statement up to Oct. 31, 1876, as presented by the Secretary, is as follows:

CASH RECEIPTS.

Rent	$49,152 20
Material sold	62,186 98
Interest	41,550 79
Horses and harness sold	2,120 00
City of Brooklyn	4,175,000 00
City of New-York	2,175,000 00
Wharfage	3,665 21
Atlantic State Bank	2,162 26
Total	$6,900,837 44

CASH EXPENDITURES.

Engineering, Salaries, &c.	$258,185 08
Rent	62,129 16
Office Expenses, Salaries, &c.	70,906 50
Timber and Lumber	385,570 81
Construction	1,166,904 60
Contingent Expenses	32,069 96
Tools	18,191 31
Labor	991,188 66
Machinery	122,681 84
Freight, cartage, and towage	27,628 25
Printing and advertising	6,822 66
Land, land damages, and buildings	1,386,622 66
Lime-stone	623,561 82
Granite	1,507,706 03
Horses, wagons, and harness	7,979 73
Insurance	4,319 83
Loss on New-York City six per cent. bonds	9,296 02
Loss on New-York City seven per cent. bonds	3,509 18
Office furniture	6,017 76
Taxes	14,154 03
Scows and repairs	30,160 40
Total	$6,899,311 26
Cash on hand and in bank	1,576 18
Total	$6,900,837 44

LIABILITIES.

Keystone Bridge Company	$5,521 34
Chromo Steel Company	897 34
Atlantic State Bank	2,162 26
Salaries for October	3,371 65
Material, &c., received in October	18,084 93
Total	$30,037 52

The report of the engineers, to whom was referred the bids for granite for the parapets of the towers, was read and approved, and a resolution adopted that the contracts be awarded to the lowest bidder. A bill for the payment of $75 each to the Commissioners appointed to acquire title to land for the approaches to the bridge was read and approved and ordered paid. President Murphy, in reply to Col. Carroll, said that the company was at present under no expense for rent, and that all the horses except two had been sold. The expenses of the company, he said were lower than they had ever been before. A communication was read from Chief Engineer Roebling, recommending the purchase by contract of fifteen tons of wire, subject to the usual restrictions as to specifications, &c., in order to save time while waiting for the maturing of the bids for the wire for the large cables. It would, he said, require considerable time for the workmen to become used to the work of constructing the cable in its various departments, and he thought it would be a good idea to utilize the intervening time to the best advantage; besides, this had been done in other instances, and found to work well.

Gen. Lloyd Aspinwall called up a resolution offered at a previous meeting of the board, for the appointment of a committee to solicit the names of some proper persons from which to select an associate engineer. He thought that on account of the continued absence of Mr. Roebling from the personal supervision of the work, caused by sickness, some competent engineer should be associated with him at once, in order to protect the future interests of the public, in case Mr. Roebling should become permanently disabled, or be taken away entirely. Great and important interests were depending upon the action of the board, who were but the servants of the people, and he thought it their duty to at once secure the services of a competent engineer upon whom they could rely, in case of the failure of Mr. Roebling from any cause, to go on with the work. And even if Mr. Roebling was able to have daily personal supervision of the work, Gen. Aspinwall still considered it a matter of absolute necessity for him to have an associate.

President Murphy, in reply to Gen. Aspinwall, said that Col. Roebling's physical condition had materially improved, so that he was now in New-York City in daily consultation with the assistant engineers, and personally superintending and directing the work.

Gen. Aspinwall said he had no doubt of it, but even if he was it was nevertheless his opinion that an associate engineer should be employed.

The question was discussed to considerable length, during which it appeared to be the unanimous feeling of the members of the board present that the movement was not intended as anything personal toward Chief Engineer Roebling, or the result of any want of confidence in him or his ability, but simply a desire on the part of the Trustees to place the enterprise beyond the contingency of accident or failure from the permanent inability of Mr. Roebling, from any cause, to continue the personal charge and supervision of the work. The result was the adoption of a resolution directing the President to appoint a committee of three to inquire into the propriety of employing an associate engineer, and report at the next meeting of the board. The President appointed Gen. Aspinwall, Mr. Stranahan and Mr. Caseda such committee, and the meeting then adjourned until the first Monday in December.

The placing in position of the large foot-bridge cable of the East River Bridge was resumed yesterday morning, and successfully completed during the day. The New-York end of the cable was first brought down from the top of the New-York tower, and made fast to the anchorage, after which the Brooklyn end was carried up to the top and over the tower, and taken down to the Brooklyn anchorage and there made fast. It only remains to put the machinery in motion at each of the anchorages, and tighten the cable to its proper tension, and then remove the lashings with which it is fastened to the carrier rope. This will be done to-day, the latter by sending workmen out on a cradle, suspended to the carrier rope, who will cut the cords which bind the pulleys to the carrier cable, and remove them. Bids are now being received by the officers of the company for the wire to be used in the construction of the large cables to the permanent bridge. The bids are to be closed Dec. 1, and will be opened at the regular meeting of the board, to be held on the first Monday in December.

THE ELEVATED RAILWAY.

The new siding of the New-York Elevated Railroad, extending from Bank street to Twenty-fourth street, was run over by the regular trains for the first time yesterday. The formal opening of this portion of the road will not take place until next week, the work of connecting the siding with the stations on the old line not having been yet effected. This siding was commenced last March, and would have been completed long ago but for the injunction placed upon the work during the Summer months. Eighty-two trains are run each way, at present, at intervals of fifteen minutes. When the formal opening of the siding takes place, trains will be run every seven and a half minutes, and possibly as often as once in every six minutes. The patronage of the road has about doubled since last November. In October, 1875, the road carried 112,289 paying passengers; in October, the present year, it carried 225,119. The road is about five miles long, from the Battery to Sixty-ninth street. It is double-tracked about half the distance. It is proposed to continue the second track the entire length as soon as possible. It is also proposed to extend the road up to the new Central Park building in Seventy-seventh street. The extension may possibly be accomplished this year. In response to frequent requests the company has determined to run a few trains later in the evening than at present. The announcement of these trains will be made next week.

THE BROOKLYN ALDERMEN.

The Brooklyn Board of Aldermen met yesterday, President French in the chair. After the minutes of the meeting had been read and approved, a petition was received from Aras E. Wilgus, of No. 407 Gates avenue, praying for the payment of $123 30. Wilgus keeps a liquor saloon, and during the Democratic parade which was reviewed by Gov. Tilden on Sunday morning, Nov. 5, a party of the processionists broke into his place of business, and, after destroying some furniture, helped themselves freely to liquor and cigars, refusing to pay for what they took. The claim was referred to the Law Committee. Alderman Corr, who has probably as unsavory a reputation as any politician in Brooklyn, and whose record as a Charity Commissioner should have precluded him from ever holding office, made an effort to indulge a petty spite by moving that John Cunningham, who ran for the office of Charity Commissioner with the Republican and Independent Democratic nomination, be removed from the Board of Education because he resided just outside the city limits. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Education. Alderman Murtha offered a resolution, which was defeated, directing the Building Committee to apply to the Department of Fire and Buildings for permission to erect the new Municipal Building. On motion of Alderman Hill, Michael Cady was appointed inspector, at a salary of $1,200 per annum, to supervise the construction of the new building. The board then adjourned.

SALE OF RARE AND VALUABLE BOOKS.

MR. WILLIAM MENZIES' GREAT LIBRARY IN THE HANDS OF THE AUCTIONEERS—THE FIRST DAY'S SALE.

The sale by auction of the Menzies library of rare and most valuable books, manuscripts and engravings, which by competent judges has been pronounced the finest in the United States, commenced yesterday at the sales-rooms of Messrs. Leavitt & Co., Clinton Hall. The high reputation of the collection drew together a great number of book dealers and book collectors from different parts of the State. There was keen competition for some of the more rare old American works. From the article which appeared in THE TIMES on Saturday the public were enabled to form an approximate idea of the extraordinary value of the collection as a whole. Many of the more valuable works did not bring high prices, and in very few cases did the price reach the original cost. Appended are the titles and prices of a number of the more valuable works sold yesterday. It should be stated that where there is more than one volume in the edition of any work sold the price quoted is per volume:

A Costa, (J.,) "Naturall and Morall Historie of the East and West Indies," &c., London, 1604. $14 25 cents. Aurelius, (J.,) "A Sermon Explaining the Duties of Christian Subjects," &c., Philadelphia; printed by B. Franklin, 1756. $7. A. Cissna, (C. de,) "Voyages and Discoveries in South America," &c., London. S. Bulkley, 1698. $15. Adair, (J.,) "History of American Indians," &c., London, 1775. $15 50 cents. Adams, (H.,) "Summary History of New-England;" London, 1799, $6. 25 cents. Adams, (J.,) "Works of John Adams," Boston, 1850-'56, 10 volumes, large paper copy, $5 50. Ady, (T.,) "A Candle in the Dark," &c. London, 1756. $12 50. Æsop, "The Fables of Æsop." Stockdale's edition, 1793. Two volumes. $10 25. Aitken, (I.,) "Justification of himself," London, 1777. $11. Allen, (E.,) "Narrative of Col. Ethan Allen's Captivity," &c.: original edition. Philadelphia, 1779. $62. Allen, (G.,) "The Life of Philidor," &c. Philadelphia, 1803. First book ever printed on vellum in America. $60. Allibone, (S. A.,) "Dictionary of English Literature," Philadelphia, 1871, 3 volumes, uncut, $10 25. Almon, (John,) "The Remembrancer," &c., London, 1766, 22 volumes, $9. Ambrose, (I.,) "Death's Arrest," &c., New-York, 1733, one of Bradford's imprints $15 50. "Analectic Press Series," printed for private circulation and first set in four volumes ever offered for sale. Anbury, (Thomas,) "Travels," London, 1789, two volumes; new edition of same, 1791, $10. André, (Major John,) "The Cow Chase;" the first edition, never before offered for sale: New-York, 1780; $23. André, "Proceedings of a Board of General Officers;" Philadelphia, 1780, a copy of the original edition, $63. A fac-simile of the above, privately printed in 1867, with the print of "The Unfortunate Death of Major André," uncut copy, $6. "Annual Register, 1758 to 1792," London, Dodsley, 1759-92; thirty-five volumes, which cover the entire period of the American Revolution. $1. "Antiquity, Honor, and Dignity of Trade," by a Peer of England, Westminster, 1813; very rare copy of this most scarce work, $7 50. Aquinas, (Thomas,) "Summa de Articulis Fidei et Ecclesiæ Sacramentis," Guttenberg, 1460; one of the scarcest books in the world. This magnificent specimen of black-letter typography was put up at $25, and rapidly run up, a great number of gentlemen being evidently anxious to secure it. Col. Hawkins bid steadily on, and finally secured the book for $162. Aquinas, (Thomas,) "Incipit Primi Pars Secunde," &c., 1471; from the press of Peter Schoiffer, the inventor of movable types, $75. Argensola, (B. L.,) "The Discovery and Conquest of the Molucca and Philippine Islands," London, 1708, $12. Ash, (S.,) and Rathband, (W.,) "A Letter of Many Ministers," &c., London, 1643, very scarce copy, $14 15. Ash, (Thomas,) "Description of Carolina," London, 1682, one of the earliest works extant relating to Carolina, $46. Asher, (G. M.,) "Biographical and Historical Essay on the Dutch Books Relating to New-Netherlands," &c., Amsterdam, 1854-67, $10 50. Audubon, (J. J.,) "The Birds of America," New-York, 1840-44, seven volumes, fine copy of the original edition; $25. Audubon and Bachman, (J.,) "The Quadrupeds of North America," New-York, 1846-54; three volumes; first octavo edition, $19 50. Augustinus, (Sanctus,) "De Anima et Spiritu;" fine specimen of early Gothic letter, date 1472, $42. "Autographic writings of Lincoln, Seward, Bryant, Longfellow, Bancroft, Emerson, and many other distinguished men," elegantly bound in one volume, $40. Autographs—Fifteen original autograph letters of the Presidents of the United States, from Washington to Lincoln inclusive. Prepared by Ferdinand J. Dreer; $105. "Autographs of Distinguished Americans;" a unique collection. Executed by Trent; $50. Backus, (J.,) "History of New-England," Boston, 1777-96, $37 50; Backus, "Church History," Boston, 1804, $12. Bailey, (W.,) "Records of Patriotism," Washington, 1826, $9 50. Bancroft (G.) All Mr. Bancroft's works fetched fair market prices; his little volume of early poems, printed at Cambridge in 1823, which is now very scarce, only brought $5 25, although the late owner gave $41 for the copy. Barnum, (H. L.,) "The Spy Unmasked," New-York, 1828, $14 75. Beloe, "The Sexagenarian"—one of the original uncastrated editions of this rare book; London, 1817, $18 50. Beverly, (Robert,) "History of Virginia," London, 1722, $17 50. Two leaves (authenticated) from the first edition of the Latin Bible, printed by Fust et Schoiffer, 1462, only fetched $15 50. "The Soldiers' Pocket Bible," printed by G. B. & R. W. for G. C., London, 1643, brought $17. Bishope, (G.,) "New-England Judged," London, 1667, $130; the 1703 edition fetched $20; Blades, (W.,) "The Life of Caxton," London, 1861, $17; Mrs. Bleecker's works, New-York, 1793, $9 50; Borden, (L.,) "Inquiry into Shakespeare's Portraits," $10 25; Bond, (S.,) a "Publick Tryal," &c., Boston, 1682, $52 50; Boston, "Fair Account of Late Unhappy Disturbance," &c., Boston, 1770, $13; Bota, (C.,) "History of the War," Philadelphia, $11 75; Brackenridge's "Incidents of the Insurrection in Western Pennsylvania," Philadelphia, 1795, $14 50; Bradford Club publications fetched $8 50 per volume. A fine copy of Mrs. Anne Bradstreet's "Tenth Muse" brought $77 50. Budd's, (T.,) "Good Order Established," London, 1685, for which Mr. Menzies paid $155, fetched $150. Bullock's "Virginia," London, 1649, $80. Bulwer's "Anthropometamorphosis," $40. Burn's Poems, (the famous Kilmarnock edition,) $155. The first Edinburgh edition, $27; the first (?) American (New-York) edition, $45; the contemporaneous Philadelphia edition, $21, and the two magnificent volumes issued by Blackie & Son, of Glasgow, in 1852, fetched $55 each. A most valuable collection of Burniana sold for $4 62½ per volume. The sale will be resumed to-day at 3:30 P. M., and continue during the week.

THE COTTON CROP.

MOBILE, Nov. 13.—We have 104 reports from fifty-six counties regarding the cotton crop. The weather is reported as having been dry and more favorable for gathering the crop than last year. There have been light frosts all over the State, but no damage has resulted therefrom. Nearly all report that picking is about finished, and the crop will be entirely harvested by the 15th inst. The yield, as compared with last year, is estimated to be thirty-four per cent. less in fourteen prairie and bottom-land counties, and ten per cent. less in thirty-two upland or sandy-land counties. The crop has been gathered much more cleanly than last year, making the grade much higher. Many of our correspondents state the yield of lint to a given number of pounds of seed cotton is less than last year.

Nineteen counties in Mississippi send forty-nine replies. The weather has been dry and more favorable for gathering the crop than last year. There have been light frosts, but the damage therefrom has been very slight. About seventy-five per cent., on the average, of the crop has been gathered and picking will be completed from the 15th inst. to the 1st of December. The yield, as compared with last year, is estimated on the average to be 24 per cent less. The same conditions exist as to clean gathering and yield of lint as stated in the Alabama report given above.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 13.—The crop report of the Charleston Exchange for October is based upon seventy-one replies from twenty-four counties in South Carolina. The weather during the month has been generally dry and favorable for picking. Forty-four report it more favorable for gathering the crop this year than last, eighteen about the same, and six as less favorable. Eighteen report a killing frost from Oct. 2 to 5, thirty-five about the 15th, seven from the 20th to 25th, and seven that there has as yet been no killing frost. From seventy-five to eighty per cent. of the crop was gathered on the 1st. Thirty-seven answer that picking will be finished about the 15th, and twenty-four say by the 30th. The yield in the twenty-four counties heard from shows a falling off of eleven and three-quarters per cent. as compared with last year.

THE COUNTY ELECTION RETURNS.

The Aldermen will meet to-day as a Board of County Canvassers to count the returns of the recent election. A preliminary session was held yesterday at which the work of canvassing the returns by districts was assigned to the following Aldermen: First District, Bryan Reilly; Second, William L. Cole; Third, James J. Slevin; Fourth, Thomas Shields; Fifth, J. J. Gumbleton; Sixth, O. P. C. Billings; Seventh, John J. Morris; Eighth, Magnus Gross; Ninth, Samuel A. Lewis; Tenth, J. W. Guntzer; Eleventh, H. C. Howland; Twelfth, P. Keenan; Thirteenth, W. Wade; Fourteenth, J. C. Pinckney; Fifteenth, W. Sauer; Sixteenth, John Reilly; Seventeenth, H. D. Purroy; Eighteenth, Peter Seery; Nineteenth, J. Cudlip, and Twentieth, William H. McCarthy. The returns from the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards will be canvassed by Alderman Jacob Hess.

A WOMAN'S UNHAPPY LOT.

THE WRONG DONE UNDER PROMISE OF MARRIAGE.

A SUIT BY A YOUNG WOMAN AGAINST A WEALTHY OLD CUBAN—A PECULIAR ACQUAINTANCESHIP AND WHAT CAME OF IT—$50,000 DAMAGES CLAIMED—THE PLAINTIFF'S TESTIMONY.

The trial of a rather extraordinary suit, the disclosures in which are somewhat peculiar and interesting, was begun before Judge Donohue and a jury in Part III. of the Supreme Court yesterday. The action is brought by Eugenie Martinez against Juan del Valle, to recover $50,000 damages for seduction under promise of marriage. The parties to the suit, with some of their friends, were in court yesterday. The plaintiff is a handsome-looking young woman of the brunette type of beauty, and is twenty-two years of age. She was born in this City of French parents, and received a very good education. She formerly taught French, music, and some other accomplishments. She was dressed becomingly in black, as were also her mother and sister, who were present in court. The defendant is a rather stylish-looking Cuban, over fifty years of age, but well preserved. He wears a mustache and side-whiskers of an iron-gray hue. He is a widower, and has several grown-up children. He is reputed to be very wealthy. He seemed to be perfectly composed during the trial yesterday, in spite of the continued glances leveled at him from every one in the crowded court-room. In his answer to the suit he denies the making of a promise to marry the plaintiff, and also denies the other material allegations of the complaint. Augustus C. Brown appeared as the plaintiff's counsel, and Joseph H. Choate represented the defendant. After the opening speech yesterday, the plaintiff was put on the stand, and testified that she was born in this City in 1854, and now resides with her mother and two younger sisters at No. 125 East Fifty-sixth street. On the afternoon of Thursday, Jan. 14, 1875, while going from a bookstore in University place to her dentist's in Twenty-ninth street, she fell on the ice on Twenty-ninth street, near Broadway, and was severely stunned, besides being badly bruised. While attempting to rise Mr. Del Valle came hastily forward and assisted her. Then he ordered a carriage and drove her home. She introduced him to her mother, and he asked permission to call and see how she was getting along. This was accorded him, and he called the following afternoon. He wished to come again and improve the acquaintance so peculiarly begun. She told him she thought it would be impossible, as her stepfather had such peculiar views and was so rigid in his discipline that he allowed her to have no friends whatever. Still, she said, "I was very anxious to have him call and was very much pleased with his gentlemanly manners, so I rather encouraged him, and said if mother would give her consent I would be pleased to have him call; he called again the following Monday, and during that week I went out with him to Delmonico's in Fourteenth street; he came for me to my mother's house in a carriage; I went with him to Delmonico's or some other restaurant two or three times a week; in about three weeks from our first acquaintance he asked me to marry him; I told him I would consult my mother; she said she didn't favor second marriages; but if I loved him to marry him; I told him this; he said, of course, he addressed it entirely to me; if I loved him I should marry him; I told him I would marry him; we went and dined at Delmonico's, and, on returning, he bought a ring for me in Sixth avenue; it was selected and ordered to be made smaller; then he brought it to me and told me to wear it on my finger until he could replace it with another; after that his visits were more frequent than before; we took rides together, and attended places of amusement; about three weeks after he presented me with the ring, he told me that for reasons best known to himself, he thought it better for us to be married privately, and urged it upon me to consent immediately, and then we should go to Europe; I was very much surprised, and told him so; I asked the reason; he said he had a compromise in Cuba, or a person concerned in it, who would put him in trouble, if it was made public; I objected to a private marriage, and told him when he spoke about compromise, that if there was anything wrong there was no necessity to be married at all; he said I always thought wrong of him, didn't love him, and didn't trust him; and he asked me not to think anything more of the remark he had made; after that I left him; the next time he came I went with him to the restaurant to dine; I had put the ring in a letter and sealed it, and gave it to him, telling him not to open it until we had parted; he felt of the letter, and asked what was in it; I begged him not to open it until he got home; he did not do so; the letter now shown me is a copy of the one in which I inclosed that ring." In this letter Miss Martinez wrote:

MY DEAR FRIEND: Since I saw you last I have been thinking of your proposition to marry privately, and I tell you frankly that such a proceeding is utterly impossible. * * * I herewith return the ring and dissolve the agreement between us.

"When he called on me five or six days afterward," the witness continued, "he appeared to be sick; he told me the cause of his indisposition was the letter I had written him; that I didn't love him and didn't trust him, and what induced me to do so; I said his remark about the compromise induced me to write the letter; he said he had written to Cuba, and the compromise was entirely adjusted; he requested to be allowed to return the letter, and asked me to tell him when we should be married; I told him it was rather difficult to tell under the circumstances; that I could not tell when and where; that I still loved him; the consummation of our engagement was left open; afterward he was very anxious for me to make a stated answer, and I finally said I would marry him in the Fall of that year; he continued his visits almost every day after that; on several occasions he told me he wished some one to superintend his children; they had no one but the servants; no one who loved them; I could not believe he was in earnest in wishing me to assume that position, it seemed so ridiculous, but he argued the matter, said he had trouble with his servants; he wanted to go to Europe, and wanted some one to take care of the children, and after a good deal of persuasion I finally consented to live with him; he told me he would pay me $100 a month; he said I could do as I pleased then, and there would be no control over me; he didn't see any impropriety in it, he said, as when I did return home it would be as his wife; he then resided at No. 55 West Thirteenth street, and wished me to go to his house; afterward he wished very much to go to Europe, and he must have some one to take care of the children on the voyage; he said it would be doing him a great favor if I would would take charge of his children; he left it open to me whether to go to Europe or the country; he would take a house wherever I wished; I told him I would not go to Europe, but would go to a nice quiet country place and take care of his children; he wished to go to Saratoga, but I would not, but finally said I would go to Poughkeepsie; he told me I had better leave my home in advance of going to his house; he knew my step-father was a desperate man, and he could not tell what he would do, he said; he knew what he had threatened on several occasions; he said he had a place in view, and suggested the Hotel Royal. I went there on the 28th of April 1875, under the name of Miss Livingston. After I went there I wrote mother a letter telling her where I was, and sent a telegraphic dispatch to my parents the same evening; I was kept there five weeks, though I only expected to stay a few days; Mr. Del Valle called four or five times and asked me to go to places of amusement; I never went; I received him in the parlor down stairs; my meals were brought to my rooms; my sister called on me very frequently while there; don't know why he kept me there so long."

The witness then went on to state that Del Valle had given her different reasons for keeping her at the hotel. He had spoken to her about taking her back home again, but he said it would look rather singular. After this, on June 1, 1875, they went to Poughkeepsie with his children, where he hired a furnished house. During all this time his conduct had been unexceptionable and all that could have been desired. She drew his checks and did as she pleased. She had a carriage and a riding horse, and was most kindly treated. One Sunday morning, however, after their arrival at Poughkeepsie, and while the children were out of the house, he accomplished her ruin. She believed they were to be married, but was told a few days afterward by one of the servants that Del Valle could never get married because of a compromise he had had in Cuba. She then went to Del Valle, and asked him whether this was true. He told her it was. She left a letter on his bureau in which she said she would have reparation for the wrong done her, &c. He replied by telling her that she could not. He said he was rich and powerful, while she was poor, and had no friends. It was foolish for her, he said, to talk in the way she had. He would do everything in the world for her, and she had better accept the situation. He went to Saratoga in September, and came back in a few days. On his return he was very cold toward her. She left the house the day after his return, and afterward wrote him a letter. She never saw him afterward. She wrote to him asking for $100 which she claimed was still due to her. In this letter she also hinted at seeking reparation. He wrote back, sending her $100, and said he would never send her any more.

This closed the main portion of the plaintiff's testimony. Her cross-examination was then begun, and she was still on the stand when the court was adjourned. The trial will be resumed to-day.

A LOST DIAMOND PIN RECOVERED.

Five years ago Mark Goldstein and Mathew McElroy had their places of business in the same house in South street. At the time mentioned McElroy went to California. Goldstein missed a cluster diamond pin just before McElroy left. Yesterday, while lighting a cigar in a Fulton street store, Goldstein saw his pin on the shirt-front of a man who was standing near the pendant light. The jewel was claimed by Goldstein. The claim being contemptuously received by the possessor of the pin, Goldstein had him arrested. At the station-house, when the names of the defendant and complainant were taken by the Sergeant, both men recognized each other. McElroy had called to bid his friend Goldstein good-bye the day he sailed for California. Goldstein was not in, but while in the office McElroy found the diamond cluster pin, and not having time to wait, carried it off. When he returned some time since to New-York he made diligent search, but without avail, for Goldstein. This explanation being accepted as satisfactory, McElroy restored the pin and was discharged.

THE LATE CARDINAL ANTONELLI.

CELEBRATION OF A REQUIEM MASS AT THE CHURCH OF THE PAULIST FATHERS—SERMON BY REV. MR. BROWN.

A solemn requiem mass was celebrated at the Church of the Paulist Fathers, in West Fifty-ninth street, yesterday, for the repose of the soul of the late Cardinal Antonelli. The interior of the church bore a sombre appearance from the numerous black decorations. The reredos at the back of the altar was covered with a black curtain surmounted by a shield bearing the Papal coat of arms. The altar was draped with black velvet, and across the face was the legend "Requiem æternum dona eis Domine." The tabernacle was covered with a purple pall. At the entrance to the sacristy on either side were the Papal standards, and the pillars throughout the church were draped in black and white. Upon a strip of black crape, which extended along the front of the gallery, was the legend, in white letters, "Suscipiat te Christum qui vocabrat." A catafalque, upon which was a Cardinal's hat and baretta, surrounded by six lighted candles, stood in the central aisle at the foot of the altar. The church was crowded with people, and many were obliged to stand during the services. The celebrant of the mass was Rev. Father Young, assisted by Rev. Father Hill as deacon, and Rev. Augustin Brady as subdeacon. The mass was sung in the Gregorian style. Rev. Father Brown preached a brief sermon eulogizing the deceased, selecting his text from the second book of Kings: "And when the Israelites were gone away, he stood and smote the Philistines." The late Cardinal, he said, had undergone a life of vicissitudes in his great affection for the Holy See and Pope Pius IX. He had never been a priest, but was contented to remain a deacon. During the revolution of 1848, when the Pope was obliged to flee from Rome to save his life, Cardinal Antonelli remained closely at his side, his trusted counsellor and faithful friend. The lesson to be drawn from the life of the distinguished ecclesiastic was, that Catholics should never swerve from their affection for the Holy See and the venerable Pontiff, it's head; and, above all, they should follow his example in showing uncompromising zeal in the pursuance of the tenets of their religion and in resisting the assaults of the enemies of the Church, albeit, in a spirit of Christian charity. At the close of the sermon, the burial service was performed over the catafalque, and the procession filed into the vestry, to the music of Beethoven's funeral dirges.

OUR CENTENNIAL IN EUROPE.

COL. FORNEY RELATES HIS EXPERIENCE AS A COMMISSIONER—THE DIFFICULTIES WHICH AT FIRST PRESENTED THEMSELVES REMOVED BY ENERGETIC WORK.

Col. J. W. Forney lectured last evening in Chickering Hall, taking for his subject "Our Centennial in Europe." The lecture was the substance of Col. Forney's report to the Centennial Commission in Philadelphia upon his return from service in Europe as a Centennial Commissioner, and it was, as he himself said, rather a résumé of his experiences in Europe than a sketch of the progress of the Centennial in Europe. It was upon a beautiful afternoon in July, 1874, a few days prior to leaving for Europe, that the lecturer stood in Fairmount Park and looked out upon the fair landscape, which was at that time unbroken by the Exhibition buildings. Nothing had been done in the way of preparation for the great show, and the deepest anxiety prevailed lest the time remaining should be insufficient to make the necessary arrangements for the celebration of the Centennial. The thought of the stupendous work which was to be performed by private gentlemen—for the Government had done nothing except to extend a cool recognition of the scheme—was certainly appalling. It seemed almost impossible that the work could be accomplished in the allotted time. To the lecturer was assigned the difficult and delicate task of enlisting the sympathies and co-operation of the powers of Europe in the great Exhibition. Arriving in Europe, his first business was to try the feelings of the British Government. Several weighty objections to the Exhibition were urged by the British Ministry. There was the objection that all former exhibitions had been exhaustive, and that the last one had proved an ignominious failure. Again it was urged that the American policy of high protective tariffs had kept the products of English industries from the American market. And, finally, it was brought forward as an unanswerable argument that it would look very strange for England to be assisting in the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the successful revolt of her American Colonies. To answer all of these objections, the lecturer was compelled to exercise his most patient and unceasing energies for nearly six months. The fruits of his labors were first apparent in the tone of the great English newspapers. By their assistance, and by the co-operation of Mr. Thornton, the English Minister in Washington, the Government was slowly but surely driven from the stand it had at first taken. On the 3d of December, 1874, the reward of this faithful labor came, Lord Derby on that day addressing a letter to Mr. Schenck, the American Minister to the Court of St. James, in which he promised that the British Government should take measures to be well represented in Philadelphia. From this moment the Centennial in Europe was an assured success. England, though late to give her promise, was quick to make it good, and the earnestness with which she went to work to fulfill it was amply visible in the grand display which she had made, a display never equaled in her own land nor in any other country. It was certainly fitting that England should take the lead in the American Exhibition, for the close relations which existed between America and England had no parallel in the relations between any other two countries on the globe. As for France, she had only to be asked to insure her co-operation in the great Exhibition, and though there was some delay in the arrival of the French exhibits, owing to the jealousy existing between France and Germany, the ships at length arrived in this country laden with the best products of French art and industries. There was no objection raised to an appropriation by the French Government by any party, and it was moreover a notable fact that every foreign Government was more easily moved to donate money for the successful exhibition of her peculiar features than our own Congress. Nothing could better mark the influence of America upon foreign nations than this fact. There was nowhere observable any feeling of hostility toward the project of the Exhibition. Italy at first felt obliged to withdraw her acceptance of the President's invitation to be represented in the Exhibition, but finally renewed her acceptance. Thanks to the generous sympathy extended by the Italian press and to the ardent solicitude of the artists of all nations resident in Rome and other Italian cities, she came to the Exhibition with a thorough display complete in every particular. Germany was the first nation to manifest a warm interest in the Exhibition. The cordial relations existing between Germany and America would have been sufficient to insure this support, even if the personal interests of Emperor William had not been enlisted. Russia was not much behind Germany after she had once discarded her early apathy and awakened to a realizing sense of the importance of the project. Austria, Sweden, Norway, Spain and the other countries of Europe were not slow to follow in the wake of England, France, Italy, Germany, and Russia. They all sent their goods. It was interesting, the lecturer said, to discover the influence that attracted all these countries to our own land. That influence was certainly not a desire of praise, nor was it a feeling of mere curiosity. It was rather a feeling of respect for the nation, the youngest of them all, which had set the example of improving the condition of its subjects; the nation which had taken the van in the progress of human liberty; the nation which every one of them had copied to a greater or less extent.

Having thus briefly sketched his experience in Europe in arousing an interest in the Exhibition, Col. Forney proceeded to answer the question which he said had repeatedly been asked of him, what he thought of the Exhibition itself. He drew a striking contrast with his view of Fairmount Park in July, 1874, just prior to sailing for Europe, and the view of it March, 1876, when he was shown about the Exhibition by one of the gentlemen who had been most instrumental in making the Exhibition a success. His feelings were akin to the feelings which good old William Penn and philosopher Ben Franklin might entertain could they once more be brought back to earth to witness the immense growth of this country, which they left in its infancy, at a time when it was comparatively a wilderness. It was to him a dream. Like Rip Van Winkle he rubbed his eyes and pinched himself to see if he was really awake and was standing in the midst of real things, and not in the presence of shadows. It was a growth more marvelous than that of the famous palace of Aladdin. Two sensations seized upon him—the one a feeling of total inability to do the subject justice in words, and the other a feeling of surprise that so great a change could take place in eighteen short months. Then came the thought that the grand Exhibition was not the work of a great prince or of a great government, but rather of a great people. The lecturer closed with an appeal to the American people not to begin its second century with another civil war. Two great parties were striving for supremacy in the land. It was the duty of each to bow submission to the right. Let him be President who had been chosen by the will of the people, and let the supporters of the other man quietly submit.

CITY AND SUBURBAN NEWS.

NEW-YORK.

The Alpha Delta Phi reunion dinner is to be on Dec. 7, instead of Dec. 27, as was inadvertently stated yesterday.

Sylvanus Mott, of No. 63 South street, Brooklyn, had his right leg broken by a log falling upon him, at No. 293 Monroe street, yesterday.

Ann Hayes, aged thirty-five, who was arrested on Sunday night for intoxication, died suddenly yesterday morning in a cell of the Tenth Precinct Station.

Messrs. Naumburg, Kraus, Lauer & Co., of Church and White streets, do not remove to the new Broadway store, corner of Grand street, until the 25th.

The Police Board yesterday transferred Sergt. Smith, of the Eighth Precinct, to the Thirty-first, and Sergt. Gaynor, of the Thirty-first, to the Eighth Precinct.

William Farrell, aged eighteen years, convicted of petit larceny on June 29 last, and sentenced to six months' imprisonment, died at the Penitentiary Hospital yesterday morning.

Julius Falkenberg, aged twenty-eight, of No. 160 Rivington street, fell through the hatchway from the third to the second floor of No. 48 Leonard street, yesterday, and was severely injured.

The steam-boat trains connecting with the New-Haven steamers have been discontinued. Steamers leave as usual for New-Haven at 3 P. M. and 11 P. M. The fare between New-York and New-Haven has been reduced to $1.

While Michael Egan, of No. 62 East Forty-first street, was endeavoring to separate a number of boys who were fighting in front of his residence on Sunday, he was struck on the head and severely injured by a stone thrown at him by some unknown person.

Alonzo Williams, aged sixty-three, residing at No. 627 Sixth avenue, while alighting from car No. 11 of the Sixth avenue line, last evening at Thirty-seventh, street fell from the front platform and had his left arm nearly severed from the body by the wheels. He was cared for at Bellevue Hospital.

The recent address of Sir William Thomson before the British Association, in which he speaks of his surprise at the advanced condition of American science, will be aptly supplemented by an address to be given by Prof. John W. Draper, the distinguished author and chemist, at Chickering Hall on Thursday, Nov. 6, at 8 P. M., on "Science in America." The public is invited to attend.

The meeting of the Methodist Ministers yesterday was devoted to the discussion of "Praying Bands," a paper on that subject having been read two weeks previously by Rev. Dr. Goodsell. Revs. F. Browne, Howland, Shipman, Stowe, and Moorehouse advocated the usefulness of the Praying Bands, and Rev. Drs. Willis and Cattell thought they did no good, but rather tended to degrade Methodism.

BROOKLYN.

Oliver Cotter, the agent of the Temperance Brotherhood of Christian Churches, discovered six liquor dealers violating the Excise law on Sunday. Complaints have been made against all the delinquents.

During the past week Registrar Whitney reports having collected the following amounts for arrears of taxes: Taxes, $9,994 66; water rates, $896 29; assessments, $3,435 51; redemptions, $477 22. Total, $14,713 68.

Sergeant Patrick H. Leavey was made Captain of the Third Precinct yesterday by the Police Commissioners, in the room of Daniel Ferry, who has been elected Justice of the First District. Leavey is an efficient officer, and has made some important arrests.

The term of Justice Delmar, who was elected County Clerk on Tuesday, does not expire until the 1st of May next. As Mr. Delmar assumes the duties of County Clerk on Jan. 1, the Board of Aldermen will have the appointment of a Justice to fill Delmar's place until the 1st of May, when Justice elect Ferry takes his seat.

The friends of Messrs. Cunningham and Tanner, the Republican and Independent Democratic candidates for Commissioner of Charities and Register respectively, claim that the official count will show that these gentlemen are elected. Mr. Livingstone's election to the office of Surrogate seems to be beyond doubt.

The Controller opened yesterday the bids received for the purchase of $350,000 of city bonds. The bids aggregated $919,000, at the following prices: For $100,000 bridge bonds, six per cent., due 1909, 105 to 100 53-100; $175,000 assessment fund bonds, seven per cent., three years, 105 to 103 56-100; $175,000 assessment water and sewage, six per cent., three years, 103 to 101 7-1,000.

A tailor named Wenneher, residing in Williamsburg, having assumed the name of and represented himself to be Gen. Steinmetz, of Henry street, in this City, promised to marry a woman named Zucker, in New-York. He refused to carry out his promise, and the woman's friends wrote to Gen. Steinmetz, threatening to expose him if he did not marry her. The General had them arrested for attempted black-mail, but they were discharged when it was shown that they believed Wenncher to be Gen. Steinmetz. Now the women have commenced a suit for false imprisonment against Steinmetz, laying their damages at $5,000. The case will be called in the City Court to-day. Wenncher has fled to Europe.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

The Board of Supervisors of Westchester County met yesterday, in the County Court-house, at White Plains, and organized as a Board of County Canvassers, with Samuel N. Johnson, of Rye, as Chairman, and J. O. Miller, of Mount Pleasant, as Clerk. The political complexion of the board is as follows: Democrats, 14; Republicans, 7; Independent, 1. The board will commence the canvass of the county vote to-day.

NEW-JERSEY.

Bishop Corrigan administered the right of confirmation to a large number of children at St. Michael's Catholic Church, Jersey City, Sunday morning. He delivered a lecture at the same place in the evening.

Mrs. Mary Gibson, nee Hanson, the well known confidence woman, who is now in custody in Jersey City on a charge of defrauding several people out of large sums of money, was committed to the County Jail yesterday in default of $3,000 bail to await trial.

With the exception of the High School, all public schools in Jersey City were open yesterday, the teachers having decided to volunteer their services until Dec. 1, and trust to the Legislature to make some provision for their payment. The High School will open to-day.

The official vote of Essex County was as follows; Hayes, 18,036; Tilden, 16,033; Cooper, 139; Green Clay Smith, 2; Hayes' majority over Tilden, 2,003. For Congress—Thomas B. Peddie, 17,567; William A. Righter, 16,041; William Baxter, 522; Peddie's majority over Righter, 1,524; over Righter and Baxter, 1,002.

Daniel Powers, aged ten years, was struck by the Western express train Sunday, at the George street crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad, in New-Brunswick, and instantly killed. The body was shockingly mutilated, the head being completely severed. The lad resided with his father at No. 13 Neilson street.

Samuel Lemons, a gate-tender on the Morris and Essex Railway, committed suicide last evening at his residence, No. 42 Garden street, by hanging himself to the bed-post in his bedroom, while his family were laughing and talking in the adjoining room. They did not hear his groans. He is believed to have been made temporarily deranged by drink since the election. His body was taken to Crane's Morgue.

A few days ago some person sent anonymous postal cards to a number of New-York merchants announcing that S. H. Phillips, a well known dry goods dealer of Paterson, had made an assignment. The statement, although untrue, almost caused the failure of Mr. Phillips, as all his creditors demanded immediate payment of their claims, but an amicable arrangement was finally effected. An effort will be made to ferret out the writer of the postal cards.

P. McGeehan keeps a boat-house on the shore of the New York Bay at Pamrapo. On Sunday his little four-year-old daughter was playing with a large Newfoundland dog at the end of the dock, when she accidentally fell into the water. The dog immediately leaped in after her, and, seizing her dress at the back of the neck, held her head above water and swam to the shore. The noble animal is to have a new and handsome collar.

The Police Commissioners of Hoboken held a conference last night with committees from the Common Council and firemen in relation to the demands of the firemen for the reconsideration of a resolution dismissing the charges made by Fireman Meehler against Officer Kivlon for interfering with him while in the discharge of his duties at the late fire. The Commissioners refused to reconsider their action, and much dissatisfaction exists in consequence among the firemen.

Between midnight Saturday, and daylight Sunday morning, three burglaries were committed in Guttenberg. The houses robbed were Mrs. Chirsig's, on the Ferry road, whence $200 worth of plunder was carried away; Charles Blake's saloon, on the Hackensack plank-road, which was robbed of $75 in money, and a large quantity of clothing, and Phillip Oslander's residence, from which the plunder was light. The burglars made an attempt on Mr. Schaidemer's residence in Fairview, but were frightened away by a watch-dog.

Capt. McKernan, the owner of a sloop plying between Norfolk, Va., and this port, was arrested in Greenville Sunday on a charge of abducting a child. On inquiry, it was ascertained that the child was his own, and that he had taken it away to the sloop with him for the purpose of forcing his wife to go to Norfolk and live. She has been living in Greenville for some time, her husband visiting her after each voyage. Last Friday he told her he wanted her to go to Norfolk, and she declined to go. On Saturday he came to the house, and finding his wife absent, carried the child away to his vessel, which was lying in the Bay. When Mrs. McKerhan came home and learned the facts from the servant girl, she procured a warrant from Justice Dillaway for her husband's arrest. He was taken into custody and gave bail to appear for examination.

THE SAINT NICHOLAS SOCIETY.

A special meeting of the St. Nicholas Society, of the City of New-York, was held last evening at Delmonico's, Twenty-sixth street and Fifth avenue, Mr. A. K. Macdonough presiding. After the transaction of some routine business, the annual election was held, and resulted in the choice of the following officers:

President.—William M. Vermilye.
Vice-Presidents.—Charles E. Swords, George W. McLean, Robert G. Remsen, John Treat Irving.
Treasurer.—Edward Schell.
Secretary.—John C. Mills.
Assistant Secretary.—P. Van Zandt Lane.
Chaplains.—Rev. Thomas E. Vermilye, D. D.; Rev. Noah Hunt Schenck, D. D.
Physicians.—Abram Dubois, M. D.; T. Matlack Cheeseman, M. D.
Consulting Physicians.—James Anderson, M. D.; James R. Wood, M. D.
Managers.—Augustus R. Macdonough, Augustus Schell, Benjamin H. Field, James W. Beekman, James Breath, Aaron B. Hays, Frederic DePeyster, James M. McLean, Carlisle Norwood, William Remsen, Richard E. Mount, Benjamin L. Swan, Jr.
Stewards.—Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., Carlisle Norwood, Jr., Eugene Schieffelin, Stuyvesant Fish, James W. Beekman, Jr., Theodore Roosevelt, John Schuyler.

At the conclusion of the election, the members adjourned to the supper room, where a fine collation was served. The annual dinner will take place on the evening of Dec. 6.

THE BOARD OF POLICE JUSTICES.

A special meeting of the Board of Police Justices was held last evening at Washington place, Police Court Judge Bixby presiding. Judge Otterburg called up his motion in reference to the rotation of Clerks. The proposed rule provides that all Chief Clerks shall be changed every year from one court to another, and the Assistant Clerks shall change semi-annually. The matter was laid over until after the re-organization of the board in 1877. Judges Wandell, Bixby and Otterburg called the attention of the board to the inefficiency of the interpreter at the Court of Special Sessions, and desired his removal. Judge Flammer espoused the case of the official complained of, and after a lengthy debate it was agreed to ask the gentleman, Mr. Andreas Willmann, to tender his resignation on or before the 20th inst., and in case he fails to do so, to grant him a hearing at the meeting of the board which is to take place on the 28th inst.

AFTER THIRTY YEARS' TRIAL
DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR holds its place as the only real subduer of pain and inflammation, hence for Burns and Scalds it is unequaled. 25 cents.—Advertisement.

BUTTER AND CHEESE.

ALBANY, Nov. 13.—The Little Falls Cheese market was active to-day, owing to favorable advices from New-York; 6,000 Cheeses were offered, and about 5,000 were sold for from 12½c.@13½c. ℔ lb., the average being from 13c.@13¼c., and a few bringing ½c. better. There was a fair offering of Farm Cheese, which brought from 11c.@12¾c., most going for 11½c.@12½c. Butter met ready sale at 28c.@29c., the demand fully equaling the supply.

MINIATURE ALMANAC—THIS DAY.

Sun rises.....6:31 | Sun sets....4:47 | Moon rises...5:16
HIGH WATER—THIS DAY.
Sandy Hook...6:20 | Gov. Island..7:09 | Hell Gate....8:31

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

NEW-YORK..........MONDAY, Nov. 13.

CLEARED.

Steam-ships Wyanoke, Couch, Norfolk, City Point, and Richmond, Old Dominion Steam-ship Co.; Mayflower, Davidson, Philadelphia, James Hand; Franconia, Bragg, Portland, Me., J. F. Ames; Ashland, Crowell, Charleston, J. W. Quintard & Co.; Octorara, Reynolds, Baltimore, Wm. Dalzell.

Ship Thomas Dana, Sisson, San Francisco, Sutton & Co.

Barks Peppina, Patrurza, Genoa, Italy, Benham & Boyesen; Gyda, (Norw.,) Erichsen, Cette, Funch, Edye & Co.; Sospir, Babarovich, Smyrna, Slocovich & Co.

Brigs Martha J. Brady, (Br.,) Brady, Bilboa, Spain, J. F. Whitney & Co.

Schrs. Caledonia, (Br.,) Layton, Huntsport, N. S., J. F. Whitney & Co.; Lizzie Dakers, (Br.,) Bell, St. John, N. B., P. I. Nevius & Son; Kate and Luella, Bonsall, Richmond, Va., Van Brunt & Bro.; C. K. Flint, Haskell, Sagua la Grance, Cuba, Waydell & Co.; Ocoa Pierce, Kelly, Salem, Mass., W. H. Ropes; Thomas G. Benton, Miller, Chester, Penn., Isaac R. Staples; James Warren, Drisko, Lynn, Mass., H. W. Loud & Co.; Harbinger, Dodge, Jacksonville, Fla., Warren Ray; John McDonnell, McKendy, Petersburg, Va., Van Brunt & Brothers.

Sloop Edward Crolius, Jarvis, Perth Amboy, N. J., Weaver & Story.

Barge Bergetown, Robertson, Philadelphia, James Hand.

ARRIVED.

Steam-ship Cuba, McIntosh, New-Orleans, Oct. 22, Tampico 25th, Tuxpan 26th, Vera Cruz Nov. 1, Campeachy 3d, Progreso 4th, via Havana 8th, with mdse. and passengers to P. Alexandre & Sons.

Steam-ship Thetis, Swift, Richmond and Norfolk with mdse. and passengers to Old Dominion Steam ship Company.

Steam-ship City of Dallas, Hines, Fernandina Nov. 9, Port Royal 10th, with mdse. and passengers to C. H. Mallory & Co.

Steam-ship City of Havana, Phillips, Havana 4½ ds., with mdse. and three passengers to F. Alexandre & Sons.

Steam-ship Rapidan, Kempton, Savannah Nov. 9, with mdse. and passengers to Geo. Yonge.

Ship Magdalene, (Ger.,) Hencke, Bremen Oct. 8, with mdse. to Chas. Luling & Co.

Bark Garlotta, (Ital.,) Didoni, Glasgow 68 ds., in ballast to Slocovich & Coo.

Bark Guerrero, (Ital.,) Rupo, Gloucester 60 ds., with salt to order—vessel to Louro, Story & Co.

Bark J. W. Scammell, of St. John, N. B.,) Hjelstrom, Liverpool 38 ds., in ballast to Scammell Brothers.

Bark George Kingman, (of Boston,) Howe, Pensacola 25 ds., with yellow pine to New-Haven Steam Saw Mill Co.—vessel to master.

Bark Transit, (of Annapolis,) Pratt, Liverpool Sept. 23, via Delaware Breakwater, 8 ds., in ballast to J. W. Parker & Co.

Bark Ione, (Br.,) McBride, Singapore July 4, with mdse. to Brown Brothers & Co.

Brig Para, (St. John, N. B.,) Stevens, Bristol 46 ds., in ballast to Blakslee & Cadwell.

Brig Agat, (Norw.,) Bjerkeson, Rio Grande del Norte 45 ds., with sugar to H. H. Swift & Co.

Brig Edwin Rowe, Schultz, Havana 15 ds., with sugar to Josepus Gustine.

Bark Esau, (Aust.,) Marassi, Gloucester 59 ds., in ballast to Slocovich & Co. Sept. 28, George Ballich, a seaman, was lost overboard.

Bark Posiedon, (Norw.,) Beck, Rotterdam 70 ds., in ballast to C. Tobias & Co.

Bark Sir Robert Sale, (of London,) Wake, Singapore July 10, with mdse. to F. Spring & Co. Aug. 29, John Gruber, a seaman, a native of Germany, was lost overboard.

Bark Ione, (of Ayr., McBride, Singapore July 4, with mdse. to Brown Brothers & Co.

Schr. Admiral, Smallwood, Jacksonville 10 ds., with yellow pine to Warren Ray.

Schr. A. E. Safford, Ketcham, Philadelphia.

Schr. Goddess, Kelly, Philadelphia.

Schr. H. E. Congdon, ——, Alexandria.

Schr. Wm. H. Mailler, (of Calais,) Buckley, St. John, N. B., 9 ds., with lumber to order.

Schr. Peacedale, Caswell, Providence, for Port Johnson.

Schr. Florence Nowell, Nowell, New-Bedford, for Philadelphia.

Schr. J. G. Coyller, Nickerson, New-Bedford, for Port Johnson.

Schr. Francis Edwards, West, New-Bedford, for Port Johnson.

Schr. William G. Dearborn, Scull, New-Bedford, for Port Johnson.

Schr. Sullivan, Somers, (of Boston,) Rich, Havre 52 ds., with barrels to Brett, Son & Co.

Schr. Lucy A. Orcutt, Hall, New-Bedford, for Port Johnson.

Schr. Gem, Hall, New-London.

Schr. Shamrock, Troy, East Greenwich.

Schr. Annie V. Bergen, Thompson, New-Haven, for Philadelphia.

Schr. Sarah J. Gurney, Gurney, New-Haven, for Rondout.

Schr. Isaac Anderson, Young, New-Haven, for Rondout.

Schr. J. J. Little, Little, New-Haven, for Philadelphia.

Schr. George E. Brown, Lewis, Pawtucket, for Port Johnson.

Schr. Carrie H. Spofford, Sprague, Pawtucket, for Port Johnson.

Schr. Ann S. Carll, Allen, Fair Haven, for Virginia.

Schr. Earl H. Potter, Shearer, Turk's Island, 18 ds., with salt to F. D. Moulton.

Schr. Mary Natt, Waterman, New-London.

Schr. A. P. Cranmer, Izard, Baltimore.

Schr. T. H. Kirk, Cavalier, Baltimore.

Schr. H. P. Havens, Pearce, Virginia.

Schr. J. P. Kelsey, Steelman, Richmond, Va.

WIND—Sunset, light, W.; hazy.

SAILED.

Steamer Wyanoke, for Richmond; barks Gyda, for Cette; Sheila, for London; Memento, for Cork for orders; brigs Belle of Devon, for Dublin; Torrid Zone, for Hayti. Also, via Long Island Sound, steamer Franconia, for Portland; brig Hattie Pettus, for Algiers; schrs. Charles E. Raymond, Lizzie Titus, V. S. Sharp, Granite State, and Ella F. Crowell, for Boston; Eliza A. Anderson, and J. H. Bartlett, for Boston.

MARINE DISASTERS.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.—The ship Cort Adler, of Christiansand, before reported abandoned, was seen Oct. 4 in lat. 49 45, lon. 13 30, by the brig A. L. Palmer at this port.

NORFOLK, Nov. 13.—The schr. Reindeer, from New-York, reports Nov. 11 saw the bark Susan M. Dudman, of Yarmouth, and schr. H. R. Congdon, of Providence, in collision twenty miles N. E. of Winter Quarter Light-ship. They were repairing the damages when spoken.

QUEBEC, Nov. 13.—The American bark J. S. Austen, lumber laden, from Muskegon, which cld. the port on the 30th of October, for Cork, encountered a heavy Sale off Point Esquimaux, receiving such damage that she returned yesterday for repairs.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Nov. 13.—The steamer Hercules, from Newburyport, for Philadelphia, and the schr. John Ross, from Philadelphia, for Boston, were in collision off West Chop last night. The steamer lost her foremast, had pilot-house taken off, and starboard side badly injured. The schr. lost her bowsprit and all headgear.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Bark Faith, Troon, for Pensacola, has been driven ashore near Cammbelton, losing her masts. The crew were saved.

HALIFAX, Nov. 13.—The bark Venture, of and from Sydney, for Miramichi, was totally wrecked on Saturday night at Escuminac Point, Quebec. The crew were saved, and the vessel is insured.

The bark Minerva, London, for Charlestown, is ashore near Maire a Dieu, C. B. She lies in five feet of water at low tide.

SPOKEN.

By bark Posiedon, Oct. 24, lat. 24, lon. 56, bark Skaldmaen, (Norw.,) from St. Nazaire, for Baltimore.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Ship Magdalene, (Ger.,) Hencke, from Bremen, which arr. 8th and anchored at Sandy Hook for orders, was towed to the City this P. M., 13th.

Steam-ship Rapidan, Kempton, from Savannah, which arr. at an early hour this A. M., 13th, reports Nov. 11, 9 A. M., 30 miles N. of Cape Lookout, passed steamship Magnolia, hence, for Savannah.

BY CABLE.

MOVILLE, Nov. 13.—The Allan Line steamer Sardinian, Capt. Dutton, from Montreal Oct. 30, by way of Quebec Nov. 3, for Glasgow, arr. here to-day.

FOREIGN PORTS.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Sld. Oct. 29, Theresa A. Keene; Nov. 2, Spartacus, Fred. A. Lyell; Nov. 8, Glenola, Edgar. Ninatani; Nov. 13, Frier, Berenice, Clarissa B. Carnia, Arctic.

Arr. Nov. 7, Unakita, N. P. Niersen, Salas; Nov. 12, Ogrino, the latter at Shields.

CENTENNIAL MEDAL AND DIPLOMA AWARDED TO THE Meriden Britannia Co.
550 Broadway, New-York.

FOR SILVER-PLATED HOLLOW WARE
ALSO FOR SUPERIOR
SPOONS, FORKS, &c
BEARING THE COMPANY'S TRADE MARK:
"1847. Rogers Brothers, XII."
EXTRACTS FROM CENTENNIAL JUDGES' REPORT:
"Their large variety of Silver-Plated White Metal Hollow Ware is of Excellent Quality and Finish, and of Tasteful Designs."
"Their Silver-Plated Forks, Spoons, and Knives are of Superior Quality and Excellent Finish."
EXTRACT FROM AMERICAN INSTITUTE REPORT:
"We consider the Goods made by this Company to be by far THE BEST made in this country, and we believe in the world."

WEBER
PIANO-FORTES
NILSSON. I shall take every opportunity to recommend and praise your instruments.
KELLOGG. For the last six years your pianos have been my choice for the concert-room and my own house.
LUCCA. Your uprights are extraordinary instruments and deserve their great success.
PATTI. I have used the Pianos of every celebrated maker, but give yours the preference over all.
STRAUSS. Your Pianos astonish me. I have never yet seen any Pianos which equal yours.
WEHLI. Madame Parepa called your Piano the finest in the United States. I fully indorse that opinion. They have no rival anywhere.
Prices Reasonable. Terms Easy.
WAREROOMS:
Fifth av., corner Sixteenth st., N. Y.

American Clock Co.
NEW YORK.
Sole Agents for { E. N. Welch / New Haven / Seth Thomas } Clocks
FOR HOME TRADE AND EXPORT.
581 Broadway, N. Y.

KITCHEN FURNITURE
CROCKERY,
COOKING UTENSILS,
FINE CUTLERY
EDDY'S REFRIGERATORS.
BEST GOODS AT LOWEST PRICES.
LEWIS & CONGER,
NO. 601 6TH AV. AND NO. 1,306 BROADWAY.

KRANICH & BACH
Grand Square and Upright
PIANO-FORTES
Warerooms:
Nos. 241 and 243 EAST 23d ST.
Highest Award at the Centennial Exhibition

REMOVAL. Having removed to our NEW, ELEGANT, and EXTENSIVE warerooms, No. 40 East 14th st., offer the largest stock of first-class Organs, with chime of bells, and grand, square, and upright Pianos, of superior tone and finish, to be found on this continent, and at extraordinary low prices for cash, on instalments, or to let, until paid for. Second-hand instruments at great bargains; 7-octave Pianos for $165; 7 1-3 octave Piano, $175, not used a year; 2-stop Organs, $60; 4-stop Organs, $70; 6-stop, $80; 8-stop, $90; 12-stop $100 and $110, cash; not used a year, but in perfect order.
HORACE WATERS & SONS,
Manufacturers and Dealers,
No. 40 East 14th st., Union square, New-York.

SMITH'S PAT. PERFORATED
BUCKSKIN UNDERGARMENTS.
Greatest protection to chest and lungs ever offered. Prevents colds and cures rheumatism. RECOMMENDED BY FIRST-CLASS PHYSICIANS.
D. C. HALL & CO., Sole Manufacturers
NO. 633 BROADWAY, NEW-YORK.

GORHAM & CO.,
SILVERSMITHS, UNION SQUARE.
Fine Table Cutlery, Solid Silver and Plated Handles.
A complete stock of our Plated Forks and Spoons.
All Goods our own make exclusively.

ESTABLISHED 1820.
C. G. GUNTHER'S SONS,
REMOVED FROM 502-504 BROADWAY TO
184 Fifth Avenue,
invite inspection to their stock of
SEAL-SKIN SACQUES,
FUR-LINED GARMENTS,
FUR TRIMMINGS.
THE LARGEST AND MOST COMPLETE EVER OFFERED.
184 Fifth Avenue,
(BROADWAY AND 23D ST.)

The New-York Times.

VOL. XXVI.......NO. 7854. NEW-YORK, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1876. PRICE FOUR CENTS.

THE PRESIDENCY.

A CONTINUED ASSURANCE OF REPUBLICAN SUCCESS.

THE LATEST FROM SOUTH CAROLINA, FLORIDA, AND LOUISIANA—GOV. HAYES RUNS AHEAD OF HIS TICKET IN EACH OF THE THREE STATES, AND HAS UNQUESTIONABLY SECURED THEIR ELECTORAL VOTES—CONFIRMATION OF PREVIOUS DISPATCHES—DEMOCRATIC OUTRAGES IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Our dispatches this morning show that as the returns come in from the various outlying districts in Louisiana and Florida, it becomes more and more apparent that the Republicans have carried those States by majorities which are too large to be overcome by even the most glaring Democratic frauds. All that the shot-gun and the false counting have been able to do may be conceded, and yet the Republican majority will in Florida be over 1,000, and in Louisiana over 3,000. In the former State there is a suspicious delay in sending in returns by the County Canvassers in some Democratic counties; but the doctoring which is evidently being done will be of no avail. The returns as received up to date from Florida show that the Electoral ticket is placed absolutely beyond doubt, but there is yet a small chance that the Democrats have carried their State ticket. Of Louisiana as of South Carolina, it may be said that all hope of having carried those States for TILDEN has been abandoned by the Democrats. They hope to save something of the State tickets, but that is all. The law of Louisiana, which defines the powers and duties of the Returning Board, gives small comfort to the supporters of the shot-gun policy. The visiting Democrats in New-Orleans are studying it. They have issued an invitation to a number of prominent Republican gentlemen to meet them in conference. The South Carolina Democrats have sued out a preliminary injunction on the State Canvassers to prevent the board from hearing any contests or doing anything but count the vote. Whatever the decision of the court may be, the majority for the Republican Electoral ticket will not be affected by it. That is beyond the reach of controversy. A significant evidence of the spirit in which the news of a Democratic victory was received is shown in our North Carolina dispatch. The jubilant Democrats draping the houses of Republicans and the school buildings in mourning, and the terrified colored people weeping by the roadside, make a very vivid picture of Southern life.

Hon. William H. Robertson, Gen. Francis C. Barlow, and Assistant District Attorney Rollins, started last evening for Tallahassee, Fla. Hon. William M. Evarts declines to go to the South.

THE VICTORY IN FLORIDA.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CANVASSERS DOCTORING THE RETURNS—A SPECIMEN OF DEMOCRATIC TACTICS IN KEY WEST—THE STATE TICKET STILL IN SOME DOUBT, BUT THE ELECTORAL TICKET PLACED BEYOND QUESTION—HAYES HAS ABSOLUTELY CARRIED THE STATE.

By Telegraph from our Special Correspondent.

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 14.—The situation here is unchanged. No important returns were received to-day, and the difficulty which is experienced by those seeking information from Democratic Counties leaves no doubt that the County Canvassers in them are doctoring the count to suit themselves, and holding back their reports until they discover just how large a Republican majority they will have to overcome. That they have committed and will continue to commit gross frauds there is no doubt. It is equally certain, however, that their trickery will be defeated, and that the Republicans will secure all the results of the victory which they have honestly gained.

A dispatch received to-day from Monroe County gives a very good illustration of the Democratic tactics. It seems that immediately after the closing of the polls in the Third Precinct in Key West, the largest place in the county named, the precinct managers in direct opposition to the law which distinctly provides that the votes shall be publicly counted on the day of election, took the boxes away from the polling place and did not commence to canvass them until the next day. Yesterday, when the county canvassers came to count the vote, Mr. Cespedes, son of the Cuban Gen. Cespedes, and Republican candidate for the Legislature, protested against the admission of the return from the poll in question, and stated that he could prove beyond all doubt that glaring frauds had been commited there by the Democrats. The County Canvassers, fearing for their lives, as it is stated, said that they could not entertain this protest, though it was clearly their duty to do so, and it is now thought that the matter will have to be referred to the Board of State Canvassers. If the precinct where frauds were committed is thrown out, the Republican majority in the county will be 270 votes.

As the County Canvassers go on, it becomes more and more apparent that Hayes has run far ahead of his ticket. The Republicans are sure that, in spite of all the Democratic frauds, their State ticket is elected by a good majority, but no matter how that may be, there can be no doubt as to the success of the national ticket. Hayes and Wheeler have carried Florida beyond all question. H. C.

SPECIMEN FRAUDS IN FLORIDA.

HOW TILDEN'S VOTE IN THE CEDAR KEYS REGION WAS MADE UP—TRAINS OF OUTSIDERS BROUGHT IN TO VOTE TWICE—THE BOXES SEIZED AND KEPT WHERE DEMOCRATS HAD FREE ACCESS TO THEM TILL THE 13TH—THE UNITED STATES MARSHALS HUNTED BY DEMOCRATS.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 14.—There is stirring news from Levy County, on the Gulf coast, whereof Cedar Keys is principal precinct. In the first place there was no true or legal registration on election day. Extra trains came into Cedar Keys with 108 men, Tildenites, who already had voted, declaring they were going to win their own way. They all voted again for Tilden at the close of the day. After the form of canvassing the votes had been gone through, the ballot-box was placed where any Democrat who chose could have access to it. After the Republican Inspectors had secured it a band of 100 armed men took it into their possession, and it was held until Monday, the 13th. On that day the Deputy United States Marshal was driven away and no opportunity given to correct the frauds and make protest.

It is further reported, officially, that for several days the Deputy Marshal's house was surrounded by bands of armed men and his life threatened. He was wholly obstructed in the performance of his duty, and declares he considers his life in danger. Other Republicans, some of them officers of the law, were compelled to fly for safety and dare not return.

Other statements of a similar character might be added, showing that a state of anarchy and rebellion exists.

In Levy County threats were made by the armed mob, headed by a Democratic candidate, that, if the Democrats were defeated, they would rebel on the spot. The Deputy United States Marshal has been hunted by armed desperadoes, and he has been wholly unable to arrest persons for whom he has writs. The Democratic majority in Levy County is 284.

THE MAJORITY IN LOUISIANA.

DESPITE VIOLENCE AND INTIMIDATION, THE REPUBLICAN MAJORITY WILL BE OVER THREE THOUSAND.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The following dispatch was received this evening at 5:30 by the Sixth Auditor:

NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 14, 1876.

To Hon. J. M. McGrew, Washington:

Prospects brightening hourly. Incoming returns strengthen us greatly. Despite violence and intimidation, Hayes and Packard will have a legitimate majority of at least three thousand.

J. J. MAGUIRE,
Acting Postmaster.

THE LOUISIANA ELECTION LAW.

WHAT PROVISION IT MAKES FOR ASCERTAINING THE FAIRNESS OF AN ELECTION—DUTIES OF THE RETURNING OFFICERS—SMALL COMFORT FOR THE SHOT-GUN DEMOCRACY—THE PROPOSED CONFERENCE IN NEW-ORLEANS.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—The situation here remains unchanged. The consulting Democrats have addressed a letter to leading Republicans looking to a conference of prominent men of both parties. A reply will be given to-morrow. Congressman Lamar, from his experience in Mississippi, is looked upon as a trustworthy Democratic leader. He says but little, and is looking at the Louisiana law. The act of the Legislature governing the Returning Board was passed, approved, and promulgated in 1872. At that time it gave great satisfaction to Conservatives. Section two of that law says that five persons, to be elected by the Senate from all political parties, shall be the Returning board officers for all elections in the State, a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum, and have power to make the returns of all elections. In case of any vacancy by death, resignation, or otherwise, by either of the board, then the vacancy shall be filled by the residue of the Board of Returning Officers.

Section three says that in such canvass and compilation the returning officers shall observe the following order:

"They shall compile, first, the statements from all polls or voting places at which there shall have been a fair, free, and peacable registration and election. Whenever from any poll or voting place there shall be received the statement of any Supervisor of Registration or Commissioner of Election, in form as required by section twenty-six of this act or affidavit of three or more citizens, of any riot, tumult, acts of violence, intimidation, armed disturbance, bribery or corrupt influences which prevented or tended to prevent a fair, free, and peacable vote of all qualified electors entitled to vote at such poll or voting place, such returning officers shall not canvass, count, or compile the statements of votes from such poll, or voting-place until the statements from all other polls or voting places shall have been compiled and canvassed. The Returning Officers shall then proceed to investigate the statements of riot, tumult, acts of violence, intimidation, armed disturbance, bribery, or corrupt influence at any such poll or voting place, and if from the evidence of such statement they shall be convinced that such riot, tumult, acts of violence, intimidation, armed disturbance, bribery, or corrupt influences did not materially interfere with the freedom of election at such poll or voting place, or did not prevent a sufficient number of qualified voters thereat from registering or voting to materially change the result of the election, then, and not otherwise, said Returning Officers shall canvass and compile the vote of such poll or voting-place with those previously canvassed and compiled. But if said Returning Officers shall not be fully satisfied thereof, it shall be their duty to examine further testimony in regard thereto, and to this end they shall have power to send for persons and papers. If after such examination the said Returning Officers shall be convinced that said riot, tumult, acts of violence, intimidation, armed disturbance, bribery, or corrupt influences did materially interfere with the purity and freedom of the election at such poll or voting-place, or did prevent a sufficient number of the qualified electors thereat from registering and voting to materially change the result of the election, then the said Returning Officers shall not canvass or compile the statement of the votes of such poll or voting-place, but shall exclude it from their returns. Provided, that any person interested in said election by reason of being a candidate for office shall be allowed a hearing before said Returning Officers upon making application within the time allowed for the forwarding of the returns of said election."

The Democratic Party is very strongly represented here by distinguished strangers. The Republicans are in frequent consultation with Judge Stanley Matthews and ex-Gov. Noyes at their parlors in the St. Charles Hotel. Ex-Secretary Bristow was invited to come here by Gov. Kellogg. In reply, to-day, Mr. Bristow says: "I thank you for the courtesy of your invitation. Cannot go to New-Orleans at present. Let those who are charged by law with the ascertainment of the vote of Louisiana do their duty under the law fairly and fearlessly and the country will sustain them whatever the result." Other dispatches of the same tenor have been received from equally prominent men. Troops have concentrated here in compliance with the President's order, and no riotous outbreak is anticipated. All parties feel as if the affairs of Louisiana are now the nation's care, and that the differences must be settled by the law and according to justice.

INVITATION OF NORTHERN DEMOCRATS TO PROMINENT REPUBLICANS TO MEET FOR CONFERENCE IN NEW-ORLEANS.

The Democrats who have gone to New-Orleans to look after the counting of the vote of Louisiana have issued an invitation to prominent Republican gentlemen to meet them in conference in that city. The following is a copy of the letter:

NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 14.

To Hons. Stanley Matthews, James A. Garfield, John A. Logan, William D. Kelley, John A. Kasson, C. J. Ditty, John A. Schonberg, William M. Evarts, E. W. Stoughton, John A. Dix, and others:

The undersigned arrived here yesterday. They came in answer to a telegram from Hon. Abram S. Hewitt, Chairman of the National Democratic Committee, dated at New-York, Nov. 10, 1876, as follows:

"Citizens of New-Orleans urgently request that a delegation of prominent gentlemen come there at once to counsel peace and a fair and honest return. You are earnestly requested to be one of ten or fifteen gentlemen, all widely known to meet at the Galt House in Louisville on Saturday evening, proceeding directly South, or if more convenient to meet at the St. Charles Hotel in New-Orleans on Monday. Your prompt acceptance by telegraph is requested. This emergency appeals to your patriotism."

The undersigned are informed that you have come here at the request of the President of the United States to see that the Board of Canvassers make a fair count of the vote actually cast. While in the late canvass you gave your support to Messrs. Hayes and Wheeler, as candidates for President and Vice President, and the undersigned gave their support to Messrs. Tilden and Hendricks for those offices, they feel assured that all good citizens of all parties regard an honest count and true return of the vote actually cast of greater moment than the success of any candidate for office, and are ready to do all that honorable men should do to secure such return of the vote cast at the late election in the State of Louisiana, which assumes more than ever before a national importance, and upon which, in this crisis, may depend the very existence of constitutional government. The undersigned, therefore, in view of the unhappy controversies which have heretofore arisen from the action of the Returning Board of the State where its action could not in any event change the result of a Presidential election, and in view of the desire of all good men that effect should be given to the will of the majority as legally expressed, respectfully ask you or such of you as are present to meet and confer with them personally or through committees, as may be deemed most wise, in order that such influence as we possess may be exerted in behalf of such a canvass of the votes actually cast as by its fairness and impartiality shall command the respect and acquiescence of the American people of all parties. Yours, respectfully,

J. M. Palmer, Illinois.	H. Watterson, Kentucky.
Lyman Trumbull, Illinois.	J. W. Stevenson, Ky.
W. R. Morrison, Illinois.	H. D. McHenry, Ky.
S. J. Randall, Penn.	O. Ottendorfer, N. Y.
A. J. Curtin, Penn.	J. B. Stallo, Ohio.
William Bigler, Penn.	Louis V. Bogy, Missouri.
J. E. McDonald, Indiana.	James O. Broadhead, Mo.
J. R. Doolittle, Wis.	C. Gibson, Missouri.
George B. Smith, Wis.	J. Lee Carroll, Md.
G. W. Julian, Indiana.	Wm. F. Hamilton, Md.
M. D. Manson, Indiana.	W. Y. Sumner, Conn.

John O. Love, Indiana.

Some of the gentlemen named in the address of this letter have not yet arrived here.

GEN. SHERIDAN ON HIS WAY TO NEW-ORLEANS—HE WILL ARRIVE THIS MORNING.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 14.—Gentlemen arriving in this city to-night, from St. Louis, say Gen. Sheridan and staff, in citizens dress, passed over the New-Orleans, St. Louis and Chicago Railway to-day, en route to New-Orleans. They will arrive there at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning.

THE GENERAL'S MISSION IN NEW-ORLEANS—HE GOES SIMPLY TO KEEP THE PEACE.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 14.—The Appeal's Milan (Tenn.) special correspondent says regarding the expression of Gen. Sheridan's opinion as to the purpose of his mission to New-Orleans: According to the Appeal's information, Gen. Sheridan says that he goes to New-Orleans in the interest of no party, but simply to preserve order and maintain the law, should this be necessary, and to see that the officials of Louisiana be allowed to exercise their authority. Gen. Sheridan is represented as indulging in the hope that the vote of Louisiana will be counted right and settled legally. He did not anticipate any outbreak or disturbance, but seemed in good spirits and conversed freely with the passengers on the train.

GEN. BUTLER'S REPLY TO THE INVITATION TO ATTEND THE COUNT OF THE VOTE.

NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—In reply to Marshal Pitkins' invitatation to him to visit New-Orleans Gen. Butler says:

I do not believe Northern men ought to go down and interfere in the affairs of Louisiana except, if necessary, with arms in their hands. Have a fair count of the honest vote at all hazards. Nobody will submit to anything else. Every true man will sustain you in that. B. F. BUTLER.

Messrs. Garfield, of Ohio, and Kelley of Pennsylvania, will arrive here to-morrow, when the Republicans will reply to the communication of the Democrats.

THE WISCONSIN ELECTION.

THE STORY OF A DEMOCRATIC ELECTOR EXPLODED—THE LAST STRAW GRASPED AT BY THE DEMOCRATS GONE.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 14.—The facts concerning the report that one Democratic Presidential Elector was chosen in Wisconsin are as follows: It was discovered several weeks before the election that Minor, a Republican candidate for Elector, was a Postmaster. He was thereupon taken from the ticket and Downs substituted. The blanks for returns sent by the Secretary of State to town officers of the election, contained Minor's name instead of Downs'. Upon learning this the Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee caused circulars to be sent to these officers, instructing them to erase Minor's name and insert Downs'. In a few cases, so far as learned, this was not done, and the votes are returned as if they had been cast for 'Minor, when, in fact, they were cast for Downs. But the number is not sufficient to raise any doubt about Downs' election.

REPUBLICAN SOUTH CAROLINA.

THE DEMOCRATS TRYING TO SAVE THE STATE TICKET—HAYES' MAJORITY BEYOND QUESTION—LEGAL PROCEEDINGS AGAINST THE STATE BOARD OF CANVASSERS—POSSIBLE EFFECT OF THE DECISION OF THE COURT—A FALSE REPORT.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 14.—The Board of State Canvassers met at 10 o'clock this morning. The members were at once served with a notice that a writ had been applied for to the Supreme Court to restrain them from acting upon any protests or contests. The board then adjourned and proceeded to the Supreme Court-room. All the Justices were present. Mr. Youmans read a long petition asking for a writ of prohibition and mandamus to restrain the board from acting in any other than a purely ministerial manner. He denied the constitutionality of the act giving them other powers. The court issued a rule that the board should show cause on Thursday, at 12:30, why the prayers of the petitioners should not be granted. The court-room was densely crowded during the proceedings. Two of the three of the Supreme Court Judges voted for Hampton, and the Democrats seem to be certain that their prayers will be granted.

The official returns from twenty-seven counties are now in. There are five yet to be received. Hayes' majority will not be affected by the action of the court, whatever it may be. It is also pretty certain that on the face of the returns every candidate on the Republican State ticket will have a small majority except Gov. Chamberlain. Should the board be prevented from investigating the frauds and violence perpetrated in the disturbed counties, the Democrats will have a majority in the House of Representatives, which canvasses the returns for Governor. This would close all hope of any contest by Republicans, and the rifle clubs will have gained nearly all that they fought for. The Hamburg and Ellenton murderers will be represented by three Senators and thirteen Representatives. The dispatch sent North from Charleston this evening that the Republicans had offered to return Hampton if the Democrats would concede the Hayes Electors, is a malicious falsehood sent to detame the members of the Board of Canvassers. There is nothing for the Democrats to concede in regard to the election of the Hayes Electors. That is settled beyond question.

THE NORTH CAROLINA DEMOCRACY.

NORTHERN DEMOCRATS ON THEIR WAY SOUTH—RANDOLPH AGAIN—A HORDE OF DEMOCRATIC OFFICE-SEEKERS—DISTRESSED CONDITION OF THE COLORED PEOPLE—THE LOCAL DEMOCRACY DRAPE THE HOUSES OF REPUBLICANS AND THE SCHOOL BUILDINGS IN MOURNING.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

GREENSBORO, Nov. 14.—Govs. Randolph, Ingersoll, and others passed through here yesterday en route for New-Orleans. Unlike Smith M. Weed, they seemed to glory in their cause, and were free to disclose their names and the object of their mission. While at the depot they conversed freely with our citizens, and assured them Tilden would be the next President. Randolph said that he knew positively that Oregon, Louisiana, and Florida had gone Democratic, and that South Carolina was very close. This Tilden party revived the drooping spirits of the Tilden men here, and sent them home to dream of fat offices and soft places. There are at least two hundred prominent applicants for every Federal office in the State worth five hundred dollars and upward. The colored people are in great distress at the prospect of Democratic rule. Many men and women have been found in the woods and on the roadside, weeping bitterly and bemoaning their condition. The adoption of the Constitutional Amendments in this State will deprive the colored people of any voice in the local government of counties where they have a majority. Under the amendments the Legislature will appoint county officers for all the counties where they see fit to do so. The object is, of course, that the Legislature, which is Democratic, shall appoint for colored and Republican counties, and allow Democratic counties to elect as heretofore. The Democrats of the South deprive the colored people of all political rights, and still seek to put Tilden in the Presidential chair through the electoral votes which have been added to the South on account of colored suffrage. By intimidation and the "shot-gun" they have robbed the loyal people of this country of at least thirty-five electoral votes.

In the event of Tilden's success, Republican and loyal people cannot live in the South. The worst feeling is being shown by Democrats toward Republicans. In this place, a few nights since, when it was supposed Tilden was elected, the Democrats draped in mourning the houses and fences of the leading Republicans, as also the Post Office and other Federal offices. The most significant thing of all was that the building of the Free Graded School was also draped in mourning. This is the only free graded school in the State. It was opened two years ago, and has been very successful. The action of the Democrats in draping the school-house shows that, with a Tilden Government, free schools in the South will not be tolerated.

NEWS RECEIVED IN WASHINGTON.

THE REPUBLICAN MAJORITIES IN FLORIDA AND LOUISIANA UNTOUCHED EVEN AFTER COUNTING THE VOTES TAINTED WITH DEMOCRATIC FRAUD AND VIOLENCE—DISPATCHES FROM WHOLLY TRUSTWORTHY SOURCES.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The most important news, up to a late hour to-night, is from Louisiana, which seems to have given a clear and decisive Republican majority, without rejecting the returns from counties where the heavy Democratic frauds and intimidation reversed the natural majorities. This claim is confidently made, and by men who have not before been sanguine of such a result, and is most encouraging, for it would destroy all the force of the Democratic ammunition with which they have planned to make a great noise. In regard to Florida, one of the members of the National Committee gave as a reason for his belief, before election, that it was sure for Hayes, that the State Committee were so confident of the result that they asked for no assistance in the State, saying they did not need it. The confidence was very great, and it was based on the knowledge of an actual Republican majority of 5,000 and the assurance of a peaceful vote. The result in Florida is precisely what the National Committee expected, as it is in Louisiana and South Carolina. All should have gone for Hayes, as they have.

Before leaving New-Orleans for Washington, Senator West requested a gentleman to inform him from time to time of the progress of the election affairs in that State. This gentleman, Senator West says, is very timid and conservative, and is naturally disposed to underrate rather than exaggerate the election returns. Although a Republican, this gentleman has never been sanguine of Republican success, believing that the enormous frauds perpetrated by the Democrats would defeat the legitimate Republican majority. Senator West selected this gentleman as a correspondent because of these qualities and because he knows him to be a man of good judgment and thoroughly trustworthy. During the journey to Washington he addressed Senator West several dispatches stating he was unable to see how the Republicans could win in the face of the notorious frauds committed in Feliciana and some other parishes. This morning, however, he telegraphed that additional returns now make it certain that Hayes has carried the State, regardless of the "bull-dozed" counties. Senator West says he has the fullest confidence in the judgment, intelligence, and fairness of his correspondent, and this dispatch gives him additional confidence in the belief that Hayes has carried the State. Mr. West says Pinchback openly opposed the election of Packard and voted against him. The fact that Pinckback admits the election of Packard as Governor furnishes further confirmation of the election of Hayes, who ran many votes ahead of the State ticket.

Attorney General Taft, to-day, received letters from United States District Attorney Beckwith, of New-Orleans, explaining in detail the operations of the Democrats on the day of election, and describing the situation of affairs in Louisiana. He says if the parishes are thrown out in which fraud and intimidation were practised, the Republican State and national tickets will show a large majority; but even admitting all the Democrats claim in the parishes to which objection is made on account of the most conspicuous frauds, the Republicans still have a majority which cannot be overcome.

It is reported here to-night, very privately, that the Secretary of the Navy telegraphed today to Admiral Trenchard, commanding the North Atlantic squadron, to come at once to Washington. No explanation is offered, and no intimation is given whether the cause of the order is important or connected with the pending situation of political affairs.

Everything possible seems to have been done to secure a peaceful announcement of the returns, but there is no doubt, from private information, that the most incendiary advice has been given by Democratic leades, on the theory that there is now a large party in the North to sustain the South in every action to elect Tilden, and that the clear meaning of the present talk is to secure his majority by force, if other means fail. That such a thing would be done, moderate men scout as ridiculous, but it cannot be concealed that such talk is abundant.

CASTING THE ELECTORAL VOTE.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AND STATUTORY PROVISION ON THE SUBJECT OF FILLING VACANCIES AND OF VOTING.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—In view of the possibility of the Presidential election turning upon one vote there is some discussion here as to whether the full electoral vote of a State would necessarily be diminished by reason of the death, or absence from any other cause, of one of its Presidential Electors when the time arrives for them to meet and cast their votes. It appears from an examination of the Revised Statutes that in case of such an absence on the first Wednesday of December, the time prescribed for the meeting of the respective Electoral Colleges, there is no provision of United States law empowering the colleagues of the absent member to cast his vote, as the Statutes merely say in regard to the manner of voting, that "the Electors shall vote for President and Vice President in the manner directed by the Constitution," namely: By separate ballots for President and Vice President. Section 134 of the Revised Statues, however, provides that "each State may by law provide for the filling of any vacancy which may occur in its College of Electors when such College of Electors meets to give its electoral vote." It therefore appears that the absence of a duly qualified Elector will not diminish a State's full vote, unless said State shall have failed to provide by law for the filling of such a vacancy; and, as section 134, above quoted, is only a repetition of the law enacted Jan. 23, 1845, it is believed that all of the States have already made some provision on the subject under its authority.

RESIGNATION OF UNITED STATES OFFICIALS WHO WERE CHOSEN ELECTORS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The Postmaster to-day received the resignation of John W. Watts, Postmaster at Lafayette City, Oregon, and of H. N. Solace, the Postmaster at Bridport, Vt., both of whom were chosen as Presidential Electors at the late election. Their resignations were accepted, and in the Oregon case the Post Office was, by telegraphic orders, put in charge of Special Mail Agent Underwood, of that State; and in the Vermont case the appointment of D. H. Bennett as Postmaster was ordered.

A STRAW.

The Hartford Courant of Monday says: "A citizen of Providence, now a resident of London, telegraphed to a friend at home that in consequence of the reported election of Tilden, Confederate bonds were again quoted on the London exchange."

EASTERN COMPLICATIONS.

WAR PREPARATIONS ON BOTH SIDES.

MOBILIZATION OF PART OF THE RUSSIAN ARMY ORDERED—EXPLANATION OF THE ORDER—MILITARY STORES ORDERED IN BERLIN—ENGLISH ENGINEERS IN TURKEY—EFFECT OF THE WARLIKE APPEARANCES ON BUSINESS.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—A Reuter dispatch from St. Petersburg says: "The Czar has ordered the mobilization of part of the Russian Army. A circular of Prince Gortschakoff, the Russian Premier, to Russian representatives abroad, explaining this measure, says: 'The Czar does not wish war, and will, if possible, avoid it. He is, however, determined that the principles of justice which have been recognized as necessary by the whole of Europe shall be carried out in Turkey under efficacious guarantees.'"

A special dispatch from Berlin to the Pall Mall Gazette says, Russia has given large orders to Berlin houses for military exports. Should Russia persist in her warlike policy, there is reason to believe she will be perfectly isolated. Germany is understood to be pledged to observant neutrality as against Austria, with an engagement to watch the Polish provinces, presumably to assist in repressing any Polish rising.

On the Stock Exchange, Russian securities are greatly depressed, almost to the extent of a panic. They have fallen four per cent. from this morning's highest point.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 14.—Several English officers of the Corps of Royal Engineers, have arrived here.

The third million Turkish pounds of the new paper currency is about to be issued.

BELGRADE, Nov. 14.—The Russian Consul General here has informed Gen. Tchernayeff that the Czar forbids his return to Russia. Gen. Tchernayeff will go on leave of absence to Vienna to-morrow.

PRINCE GORTSCHAKOFF'S CIRCULAR—DETAILS OF THE RUSSIAN MILITARY PREPARATIONS, AND THE COMMANDERS OF THE VARIOUS BODIES.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Reuter's telegram from St. Petersburg contains the following:

Prince Gortschakoff's circular, which is dated Nov. 13, is published in the Official Gazette. It corresponds with the version already telegraphed. It says mobilization has been ordered, in view of acts of violence in Turkey, which still continue to be perpetrated, notwithstanding all the efforts of the Russian Government.

An Imperial ordinance has also been issued sanctioning the formation of six army corps, composed of divisions stationed in the districts of Kiev, Kharkoo and Odessa. The active army will comprise four divisions, and will be under the command of the Czar's brother, Grand Duke Nicolas Nicolaievitch, with Adjutant General Nepokoitschitsky as Chief of Staff; Prince Massalsky, Commander of Artillery, and Major Gen. Depp, Chief of Engineers. The commanders of the various corps are Prince Barklai von Tolli-Weimarn, Lieut. Gen. Radetsky, Baron von Kruedener, Prince Werouzoff, Prince Schackoffski, and Gen. Wannowsky.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—A dispatch from Nisch to the Standard reports that Abdul Kerim Pasha has been ordered to return to Constantinople, and started thither on Monday.

The Standard's Vienna dispatch says quarters for 20,000 men are being prepared at Rustchuk. The fortress of Salistria, Schumla, Rustchuk, and Varna are to be held by 75,000 reserve men from the Asiatic Army Corps. Dervish Pasha has been ordered to send a large force to Constantinople, and steamers have been sent to the Albanian coast to transport them.

The Berlin correspondent of the Standard telegraphs that the Russian Ambassadors at the several courts have been ordered to officially communicate to the foreign Governments the Moscow speech of the Czar and give special explanation of its meaning.

A Standard special from Constantinople declares that the Turks are firmly persuaded that Russia will make inadmissible demands, in order to provoke a rupture. The Turks are vigorously preparing for war. Torpedoes are being placed at the eastern entrance of the Bosphorus, and forts have been strengthened. The people in Constantinople and elsewhere are forming a National Guard.

The Golos announces that the Grand Duke Nicholas will establish his head-quarters at Kisienew, in Bessarabia.

THE DEMANDS OF RUSSIA.

THE MEETING OF THE CONFERENCE CONSIDERED WELL ASSURED—THE APPOINTMENT OF GOVERNORS FOR FIXED TERMS, AND THE APPOINTMENT OF CHRISTIAN OFFICIALS.

LONDON, Nov. 15—The Times correspondent at Vienna thinks the meeting of the Conference is tolerably well assured. The Porte, although putting forward objections, has intimated that it would leave the decision to the British Government. From indications of the Russian demands, which Gen. Ignatieff has given in the pourparlers, it appears that Russia will require the appointment of Governors for fixed periods, the employment of Christian officials whenever practicable, reform of taxation, of local police, &c.; also that the reforms should not be limited to the province called Bulgaria, but extended to all districts inhabited by Bulgarians. If these, as it appears possible, are all Russia's demands, and if Russia shows moderation in regard to guarantees, there will not be much need for the Czar to take an independent course.

The Berlin correspondent of the Times reports that in obedience to Russian demands Persia has placed some troops on her Turkish frontier.

The New Free Press of Vienna says, England possesses the clearest proofs of Russia's ulterior designs. She has communicated these to Count Von Beust, the Austrian Ambassador in London. A complete agreement is established between England and Austria.

THE POSITION IN GREAT BRITAIN.

THE SUBJECT AS DISCUSSED BY LONDON JOURNALS—OPPOSING VIEWS OF THE TIMES AND THE PALL MALL GAZETTE—A RUSSIAN VIEW OF THE ENGLISH PROPOSITION.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The Times to-day has a strong pro-Russian leading editorial article on the Eastern question. It first notices the slow progress toward an agreement about a conference and its basis, facts which are clearly not promising for its success, but declares that the worst symptom is a disposition to prescribe beforehand conditions incompatible with ideas of negotiation and compromise. It cites as thus inconsistent with the idea of a conference, the stipulation that there must be no limitation of the Sultan's soverign will. But those who labor for peace, it says, will not lose heart because the prospect is not perfectly clear. The Times condemns past British policy, and says: "If Austria and Great Britain had known their interests last year, they would have arrested any extension of this difficulty by promoting what was then a comparatively easy settlement." It then proceeds to forecast the future in this wise: "Supposing the armistice expires without a conference, or the conference fails, the Czar would declare war, disavowing, probably, a desire to add to the Russian dominions, or any other object than securing good government for her Slavonic brethren. Many would say this was mere hypocrisy and falsehood, but it is clear that England could find no pretence for interference until much more had happened than the outbreak of such a war for such an avowed purpose. The time might come when we, declaring to the Sultan our regret at the inevitable partition of his dominions, might be obliged to demand that he should resign Constantinople to a power able to take care of it." The Times says it does not suppose it would come to this. The Czar would stop before he provoked a crisis calling for England's intervention. With Servia aggrandized and independent, and with Roumania independent and aggrandized south of the Danube in exchange for territory ceded to Russia on the north, he would stop well contented with what he had done in a work, the completion whereof must be left for another time. But what a result this would be of a policy having for its first note the maintenance of the independence and integrity of the Ottoman Empire. What we have described is the probable course of events to which we must look forward if the armistice expires without peace being proclaimed. Without saying that under no circumstances could a shot be fired from English cannon, this much may be unhesitatingly declared: that if Russia took up the war from Servia's failing hands, English opinion would no more justify armed opposition to Russia than it did justify armed opposition to Servia, and the diplomacy of Russia would show itself altogether deficient in the sagacity attributed to it if it did not so describe the objects of the war and restrict its operations as to prevent the occurence of any sufficient reason for our interfering.

The Pall Mall Gazette this afternoon, referring to the last paragraph of the foregoing article from the Times says: "With such evidence as this affords of the attitude of England, Russian opinion is only too likely to be content. That it will be utterly and most dangerously mistaken we need not say, but a mistake of this kind has already once in the history of the two nations been detected too late, and in any case it is disquieting to find that Russia is entering upon a difficult and critical negotiation under as profound a delusion as to the temper of this country as that which precipitated the Crimean war."

The Times' article concludes with an argument in favor of a conference not committed to inevitable failure. It believes that guarantees satisfactory to Russia and possibly to Turkey may be arranged. If Russia rejected all attempts at settlement, which the Times does not believe likely, England would be free in the future and have the satisfaction of knowing she was not responsible for the failure. The experiences of the past discredit the suggestion that Turkey might resist proposals recommended by the joint authority of Europe, but should it be realized Russia, would be only too ready to act as the executive office of a confederation of the European Powers.

The Central News states that a messenger from Livadia passed through Dover to-day with dispatches from the Czar to Queen Victoria.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 14.—Le Nord says the English proposals for a conference support the integrity of the Ottoman Empire, not its independence. Le Nord congratulates Lord Derby on having excluded from his proposals a formula which is incompatible with existing facts, and which the decisions of the conference would necessarily set aside. The form of the English proposal give reason to hope that England will not refuse assent to any guarantees really indispensable.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The Daily Telegraph's special from Pera states that Lord Derby has replied to the Turkish objections to the conference in a conciliatory but firm tone. He forcibly points to the necessity for the conference in the interest of Turkey herself, clearly explains his proposal of administrative autonomy as a system of local institutions which should give the population some control over their own affairs, and says there is no question of establishing tributary States. The Turks, who lately adopted a very warlike tone, have been somewhat subdued by the Moscow speech.

The London Times considers England's only course is to proceed with the conference, and not to consider anything as changed by the recent manifestations in Russia. In this course she can only rely on the good wishes of all the powers, not one of which will refuse to aid in the work of securing the peace of Europe. The Times thinks, however, that the possible obstinacy of the Porte is a real danger.

RECENT GALES AT SEA.

WRECK OF A BRITISH SHIP—SIX LIVES LOST—THREE SAILORS OF A STRANDED BRIG DROWNED—OTHER DISASTERS—THE BRITISH SHIP AGNES OSWALD BELIEVED TO BE LOST.

BERWICK, Nov. 14.—The British ship Carolina Agnes, from Shields to New-Orleans, has been wrecked near here. Six persons were drowned.

WEXFORD, Nov. 14.—The British brig Oromocto, yesterday reported ashore in South Bay, is well up on a sandy beach. Three of her crew were drowned.

PORTLAND, Nov. 14.—The British bark Roberto, Capt. Gould, from Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 15, for Hull, has been towed into this harbor after grounding outside the breakwater. The Roberto slipped three anchors and unshipped her rudder. Her bottom is supposed to be badly damaged.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—The British ship Agnes Oswald, Capt. Mitchell, from Glasgow June 9, for San Francisco, before reported spoken Aug. 14 in lat. 44 degrees south, longitude 61 degrees west, is believed to be lost. Sixty guineas percentage has been paid on her at Lloyds.

THE CUBAN INSURRECTION.

PROCLAMATION BY THE CAPTAIN GENERAL AND THE GENERAL IN CHIEF—DESERTERS IN THE REBEL RANKS.

HAVANA, Nov. 14.—The following is a translation of a proclamation issued to-day signed by Captain General Jovellar and Martinez Campos General in Chief:

ARTICLE I. Deserters from our Army who are actually in the ranks of the enemy will be pardoned if they surrender themselves to the proper authorities. They will resume their places in the Army, where they will serve until the legitimate term of their service has expired.

II. All deserters captured after Dec. 31 will be shot.

THE LAST OF THE CENTENNIAL.

REMOVING THE GOODS—PAINTINGS PROPERLY CARED FOR—THE CONDITION OF SOUTH AFRICA—ADJOURNMENT OF THE COMMISSION.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—The work of dismantling the exhibits in the Exhibition is progressing rapidly. In the Main Building many of the aisles are blocked by cordons of ropes, or wire fences. In Memorial Hall the marble tiling of the floor has been compactly covered with boards, so as to prevent damage to it in the removal of heavy casings. Excepting the German, which still remains intact, and the English, which has been closed to visitors, all the sections show more or less progress in the work of dismantling. Nearly all the paintings have been prepared for removal, while many of the principal French exhibits have already been removed, on one wall of the main gallery, but a single painting remaining. In the Austrian section, the large picture of "Venice doing homage to Catherine Cornaro," has been taken down and carefully rolled upon a cylinder. It was stated by a gentlemen temporarily in charge of this picture, that it would be exhibited throughout the country, and would probably first be taken to Washington. Other pictures in the Austrian chamber have been taken from the walls, and the frames of some of them removed. In the annex to the Art Gallery, the Italian section remains almost as before, though preparations for removal are visible; while the French sections are barricaded, boards being nailed across the doorways to prevent intrusion from visitors. Visitors were admitted to the Italian and American galleries.

Hon. William A. B. Cameron, member of the Congress of the South African Republic, will lecture to-morrow at the Massachusetts House, on the grounds, upon the educational, political, and material condition of South Africa, and and his observations in its gold and diamond fields. The Centennial Commission, after revising the business disposed of, and approving a number of awards in the supplemental list reported by the Committee on Appeals, adjourned this afternoon for several months. The cash admissions for to-day were 4,638.

THE CITY WATER SUPPLY.

AN ABUNDANT QUANTITY IN THE CROTON VALLEY.

THE COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WORKS ON THE QUESTION—NO CAUSE FOR APPREHENSION IF SUFFICIENT STORAGE RESERVOIRS BE PROVIDED—THE SOURCES FROM WHICH THE WATER HAS BEEN DRAWN.

The Commissioner of Public Works in his report for the quarter ending Sept. 30, 1876, dwells at great length on the deficient water supply of this City. Much of what he says has already been published. Extracts from the report are herewith given. Commencing, he says:

The unprecedented and continued drought, and the consequent falling off in the water supply, are matters of such great and immediate importance to every member of this community, that I deemed it proper recently to publish a statement as to the present condition of the water supply, the resources yet available, and measures adopted to meet present necessities, as well as these in contemplation to secure an abundant supply for the future even in a contingency like the present. To avoid a repitition of the matters set forth in said statement, I have appended it to this report, and would respectfully refer to it as containing some details of interest upon this most important subject. By a resolution of the Common Council adopted on the 29th ultimo, I have been requested to report upon the feasibility and comparative advantages of different plans for securing and maintaining an abundant supply of water for this City. My views upon this subject will be communicated in a special report, and for the present I shall confine my remarks mainly to the question of the existing scarcity and the inconvenience suffered by the public in consequence of the diminished supply. The extraordinary drought of the present year necessitated an unusually early resort to the reserved water of the artificial reservoir at Boyd's Corners and of the natural lakes in Westchester and Putnam Counties. No appreciable relief having being afforded by the September rain-falls the City reservoirs became much reduced, and the surface of the water in Croton Lake fell to a level of thirty-nine inches below the crest of the dam, so that for some time past only about seventy million gallons per day were passed through the aqueduct, the ordinary supply being about one hundred millions. All the water stored in the reservoir at Boyd's Corners (nearly 3,000,000,000 gallons,) has been drawn off, and large drafts have been made upon the natural lakes at the sources of the Croton. Several lakes, never before resorted to have been acquired, and their sublets cut down, as explained in my communication to the public of Oct. 18.

When such unusual efforts have become necessary to keep up even a diminished supply, and when inconvenience and discomfort are felt by so many people in a matter of such primary necessity, it is not to be wondered at that some severe criticisms should be indulged in, and that the questions are asked: "Where rests the responsibility for such a state of things," and "are we to have a recurence of it in future."

Without entering at this time into unnecessary minutiæ, I shall as briefly as possible reply to the questions thus propounded:

When I entered upon my duties in this department, on the 27th of January last, I found that one artificial reservoir near the sources of the Croton (that at Boyd's Corners) had been brought into use in the year 1873, and that another, which had been put under contract in November, 1874, was in progress but that it would not be completed before the close of 1877. The capacity of these two great reservoirs is as follows: Boyd's Corners, 3,000,000,000 gallons; Middle Branch, 4,000,000,000 gallons. During both of the years 1869 and 1870 such was the severity of the drought that the attention of the then Commissioner of Public Works, and of the Chief Engineer, was called to the necessity of not only completing at the earliest day possible the reservoir at Boyd's Corners, which was in progress, but also of constructing another reservoir.

The question whether a recurrence of the present scarcity is possible, I answer by the assurance that if sufficient additional storage reservoirs are provided in ample time, as the City grows in population, there will be an abundance of water in the Croton Valley for a city of more than double the present population. The assurance of an abundant supply of water from the Croton River district is based upon the following facts: The area drained is about 340 square miles. The annual amount of rain-fall upon this region, as established by daily observation for the past eleven years, is shown in the following table:

	inches.		inches.
1866	51.77	1867	50.77
1868	50.33	1869	48.36
1870	44.63	1871	48.93
1872	40.74	1873	43.87
1874	42.37	1875	43.66
10 months of 1876	35.06

By numerous careful experiments it has been ascertained that at least three-eighths of the yearly rain-fall will find its way to the stream, the remainder being lost by absorption and evaporation.

According to the foregoing table the average annual rain-fall in the Croton district for the past eleven years was 46 inches, the maximum of 51¾ inches having occurred in 1866 and the minimum of 40¾ inches in 1872. In calculating the quantity of water which will run in the stream and may be collected and utilized, the most unfavorable condition must be assumed in order to insure safe and certain results. Three-eighths of the above minimum rain-fall will give an average daily supply of water throughout the year of about two hundred and fifty million gallons. As many springs within this basin are supplied from sources beyond the water-shed, the above amount would be considerably increased.

The rain-fall not being evenly distributed throughout the year, but interrupted by periods of drought in Summer and Autumn, a resort to storage reservoirs becomes necessary. These are filled during the wet season, and drawn off as needed during a drought, and thus a certain and constant supply may be maintained, provided the conduits are of sufficient capacity. As the question of conduits will be discussed in a special report, I will merely state here that the present acqueduct is capable of conveying one hundred and ten million gallons daily, or at the rate of about one hundred gallons per inhabitant, according to the present population. There can be no doubt with proper measures some of the waste of water which has heretofore occurred can be prevented without any injury to any public or private interest; so that the present aqueduct will convey an ample supply for some years to come, and until a new aqueduct or such other conduit as may be found advisable can be planned with all the deliberation which the subject demands, and executed in the most durable and economical manner.

My principal object in the foregoing remarks has been to show that there is no cause for apprehension in regard to an abundant supply from the Croton River district and to quiet the fears which have arisen from the scarcity of the present season—a scarcity not due, as I have explained, to any deficiency at the sources of supply, but to the failure to provide in time the works required to meet a contingency like the extraordinary drought through which we have passed. The reduced supply of this season has called forth many well-meant suggestions by way of remedy, most of which are, however, quite crude and chimerical. With such a reliable source as the Croton River and water-shed within fifty miles of the City, it would hardly be wise, as suggested by some, to tap the Hudson at the Adirondacks, and thence to lead its waters by aqueduct for a distance of 300 miles to this City. Nor would it be necessary or wise, as proposed by others, to raise the brackish water of the Hudson at Poughkeepsie to the summit of the high land which divides the Hudson from the great central valley running through Dutchess and Putnam Counties, thence to be conveyed by aqueduct or pipes and discharged into the Croton basin. When this imperial City shall have doubled or trebled its present population it may become necessary to seek other supplies than those contemplated by the able projectors of the present water system of New-York, or it may then, and even before that time, be found practicable to control the waste and loss which beyond all doubt attends the use of water in this City.

The following table shows the sources from which water has been drawn during the dry season of the present year:

Name of Lake.	Average Area Drawn From. Acres.	Depth Drawn Down. No. ft. at Dam.	Number of Gallons Drawn.
Boyd's Corners Storage reservoir	280	57	2,775,000,000
Lake Mahopac	575	3½	665,000,000
Lake Gleneida	170	3½	195,000,000
Lake Gilead	110	10½	380,000,000
Kirk Lake	80	5	130,000,000
Barrett Pond	60	7½	150,000,000
China Pond	45	8	120,000,000
White Pond	110	3	110,000,000
Pine Pond	75	1	25,000,000
Haines' Pond	40	3	40,000,000
Lake Waccabuc	200	2½	165,000,000
Cross Pond	125	5	205,000,000
Peach Pond	220	..	5,000,000
Long Pond	50	..
Brown's Mill-pond	10	2	5,000,000
Total	2,150		4,970,000,000

In concluding this branch of my report, I would state that without loss of time surveys will be made and plans prepared for another storage reservoir, in addition to that now in course of construction, so as to be in readiness to put it under contract in ample time to meet the increasing demands of the City.

BOARD OF COUNTY CANVASSERS.

The Aldermen met yesterday as a Board of County Canvassers for the purpose of canvassing the returns of the recent election. Alderman Purroy was elected Chairman, after which the following appointments were made:

Assistant Clerks.—George F. Thompson, Joseph G. Adamson, Edwin F. Madden, H. H. McCabe, Alfred G. Sauer, Charles Brookes, John A. Boyle, William B. Ludlow, James A. Hennessy, George A. Lambrecht.

Sergeant at Arms.—Patrick Burns.

Assistant Sergeant at Arms.—Andrew Fitzimons.

Messengers.—Joseph A. Becker and John Ford.

Doorkeepers.—James Dooley and Henry Peters.

Alderman Sauer offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That all ballots containing only the last name of any candidate improperly spelled, or containing the name of a candidate with only a prefix of initials, or of a candidate with an improper first name, be counted for the candidate for which it is intended; provided no similar last name be on the ballot, or there shall not in any given case be two candidates of the same name for the same office.

Alderman Keenan, Sauer, and Billings were appointed a Committe on Protests, and Aldermen Reilly, Seery, and Cudlip a Committee on Returns. The board then commenced work by canvassing the votes cast in the First and Second Assembly Districts, and the official count in each will be announced to-day.

THE HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

VACCINATIONS DURING OCTOBER—THE VENTILATION OF THE NEW COURT-HOUSE—MORTALITY STATISTICS.

At the meeting of the Board of Health yesterday, Sanitary Inspector Hamilton reported that he had inspected the lots at the foot of Forty-fifth and Forty-seventh streets, East River, used as a dumping ground for manure by Kane & Savage, and found that all the manure had been removed, and the locality is now in an excellent condition. Dr. J. B. Taylor, Inspector of Vaccination, reported that during the month of October 5,644 vaccinations were performed by the members of the vaccinating corps, of which 1,146 were primary and 4,498 were revaccinations; 3,964 of the vaccinations were performed in the public schools. The amount received from the sale of vaccine virus was $91 50, and 290 quill-points were furnished gratuitously to charitable institutions. The report of the Riverside Hospital shows that during the past week 9 patients were admitted and 3 were discharged, leaving 15 still in hospital.

Sanitary Inspectors Tracey and Nealis presented the following report in relation to the ventilation of the New Court-house:

"We have reinspected the building known as the 'New Court-house,' and found the following changes had been made since the date of our last inspection, viz.: Air-boxes have been constructed to supply fresh air from the exterior of the building, instead of drawing it, as heretofore, from the cellar; tight doors have been provided for the cellar and engine-room, effectually preventing the air therefrom passing to the rooms above. The flues have been cleaned, but not so thoroughly as they should have been, and the iron coils used for heating the air passed to the court-rooms and offices have also been partly cleaned, but owing to their position and construction this portion of the work is not entirely satisfactory. A cupola is in process of construction over the centre of the building, heretofore tightly inclosed, which when completed will allow a constant current through the building and will remove much of the foul air always present. A change has been made in the means of supplying air to the room used by the Supreme Court Chambers, but this is the only room in the building in which any improvement has been attempted. We have found that, since the date of our last report, nothing further has been done toward improving the sanitary condition of this building, and consider that many changes are still absolutely necessary, for the details of which we beg leave to refer to our report of June 5 of the present year."

Dr. Nagle, Deputy Register, presented a report, from which the following is abstracted:

"There were 413 deaths reported to have occurred in this City during the week ending Nov. 11, 1876, being a decrease of 19 as compared with the previous week, and 73 less than the number reported for the corresponding week of 1875. The actual mortality for the week ending Nov. 4 was 428, which is 44 below the average of the corresponding week of the past five years, and represents an annual death rate of 20.85 per 1,000 persons living, the population estimated at 1,066,954. There were 2,041 births, 735 marriages, 189 still-births, and 1,954 deaths reported in this City during the month of October, against 1,924 births, 580 marriages, 174 still-births, and 2,119 deaths, the number reported the previous month, and 2,175 deaths, 179 still-births, 710 marriages, and 1,996 births which were reported during the month of October, 1875."

THE COLLEGIATE LITERARY CONTEST.

A meeting of the Subcommittee of the Executive Committee of the Intercollegiate Literary Association was held last evening at the College of the City of New-York, Twenty-third street and Lexington avenue, to decide upon the colleges to enter the contest, to fix the prizes, and to transact other business connected with the coming contest. The following is the list of the entries in the different competitions: Greek—First prize, $75; second prize, $50. Entries—North-western University, Cornell, St. John's, of Fordham, College of the City of New-York, and Rutgers, of New-Jersey. Mathematics—Prize, $300. Entries—Cornell and College of the City of New-York. Mental Science—Entries—North-western University, Princeton, St. John's, College of the City of New-York, and New-York University. Oratory—Entries—College of the City of New-York, North-western University, Princeton, Cornell, St. John's, Lafayette, Hamilton, Rutgers, New-York University, and Williams. Latin—Entries—New-York University, Cornell, St. John's, College of the City of New-York, Rutgers, New-York University. Essay—Cornell, St. John's, New-York University, College of the City of New-York, and Princeton. The prizes for mathematics, mental science, oratory, Latin, and essays will be $150 each. The drawing for positions in the oratorical contest resulted as follows: North-western University first, Lafayette second, Cornell third, New-York University fourth, St. John's fifth, Princeton sixth, Williams seventh, Hamilton eighth, Rutgers ninth, New-York College tenth. The latter contest will take place on Jan. 6, 1877, at the Academy of Music, the examinations in the former competitions being fixed for Dec. 6, 1876.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

Almon S. Alfred and Horace A. Shaw assigned their property for a similar purpose to George D. Lent.

Benjamin J. Westervelt, plumber, of No. 507 West Fourteenth street, made a similar assignment to Charles W. Page.

Terence Harren, dry goods, of No. 57 Catharine street, assigned his property for the benefit of creditors to Thomas D. Adams yesterday.

A petition in bankruptcy has been filed by Britt, Williams & Bulkley, who have liabilities, both partnership and individual, amounting to $50,000. The largest creditors are Winters, Hunt & Co., $9,000; Thomas McGinnis, $3,500; Thomas Maher, $2,792 61; George Stewart, $2,010; Donovan & Sweeney, $2,607 66.

E. L. Snow & Son, metals, at No. 206 Water street, and Nos. 514 and 516 East Twentieth street, have filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities amounting to $167,559 43, and actual assets $53,390 13. The principal creditors are J. Marshall & Co., $19,093 30; Marshall Brothers, $13,084 52; Manning & Squires, $14,345 34; Jones & Loughlin, $10,383 07; H. Lissberger, $10,285 49; Wood Brothers, $9,845 27; H. A. Danner, $8,750 80; Price & McCullough, $8,230; Alvin Wood & Co., $5,919 43; M. Donnelly, $5,000.

THE EAST RIVER BRIDGE.

The principal work on the East River Bridge yesterday consisted in releasing the foot-bridge cable from the carrier to which it had been suspended by pulley-wheels. The work of stretching the cables has been so successfully prosecuted that there seems to be but little doubt that the foot-bridge will be in position early next month. It has been the general impression that when completed this foot-bridge would be open to the public, but this is a mistake. It is made for the use of the workmen while they are stretching the heavier cables which are to support the main bridge.

PUNISHED FOR NOT VOTING FOR TILDEN.

On the day following the election the following notice was published in Sag Harbor, Long Island:

"Hampton and Hand, the great reformers: We, the undersigned, Louis W. Cuffee and Richard Hasbrook, lately working on the farm of Orlando Hand, at Bridgehampton, having been turned out of these situations by said Hand because we would not vote the Tilden and Hendricks ticket, now offer our services to any one wishing good and reliable farm-hands. One of us also, having been turned out of said Hand's tenement-house, after having been told that he might have it all Winter, would like a situation where he could have another tenement."

THE DISPOSITION OF GARBAGE.

In response to a communication received at the last meeting of the Pilot Commissioners, from Mr. W. A Butler, their counsel, referring to the matter of dumping refuse into the harbor, Mr. Sidney P. Nichols, Chairman of the Street-cleaning Committee, has written a letter, in which he says:

"The independent jurisdictions and health authorities of New-Jersey, Staten Island, Long Island, and Westchester County concur in refusing to allow their refuse material of street-cleaning to be deposited within their several jurisdictions. The board which you represent very properly disallows the wasting of such materials within the waters surrounding the City. The Board of Health of the City of New-York rigidly refuses to permit any of such material to be used as filling for overflowed or sunken lands within the City. It follows that the Board of Police have no choice but to transport the material to the deep public sea, outside of the jurisdiction of any State. In making this disposition of the matter, the board hope that they will not be impeded by hostile proceedings, set on foot by local pecuniary interests and prejudices. This method of removing from the City daily the street-cleaning material, though exceedingly expensive, cannot be avoided unless legislation or some modification of the restrictions imposed by the Board of Health shall admit of a more economical plan. With the existing outfit of scows for floating the material, the department is under the necessity of sending twenty to twenty-five laborers with each scow to unload the material at sea. But one voyage can be made per day. It follows that the unloading alone of each scow costs one day's wages of twenty men. It is now certain that with self-dumping scows the work can be accomplished in fifteen to twenty minutes each, saving the large cost of labor referred to. The scows now in use are totally unfit to go to sea, and the board have no self-dumping scows, and are not provided with the funds necessary to procure them. If the Board of Apportionment can be impressed with the importance of providing the needful appropriation, the Board of Police will be for the first time in a position to meet all the requirements of street-cleaning without injury to any adjacent communities, provided they are allowed to proceed out to and return from the public sea with, and not against, the current of the tides. I have no doubt that the Board of Police will join with the Boards of Commissioners of Pilots in measures calculated to secure entire compliance with and enforcement of the laws enacted to protect the bay and harbor of New-York from injurious encroachment."

Reference was made at the last meeting to the propriety of a conference between the Pilot Commissioners and the Street-cleaning Committee, but as yet no reply to the proposal has been received. The Pilot Commissioners held a meeting yesterday, but transacted no business of importance.

THE LOUISIANA FRAUDS.

THE ATTEMPT TO SEIZE THE STATE FOR TILDEN.

HOW THE CONSPIRACY WAS FORMED AND THE MEANS RELIED UPON TO CARRY IT OUT—NEGROES MURDERED AND "CARPET-BAGGERS" RUN OUT OF THE PARISHES.

From the New Orleans Republican, Nov. 9.

The State of Louisiana, since the emancipation and enfranchisement of the blacks, has been as strongly and as solidly Republican as Massachusetts, Illinois or Maine. In 1868, under military auspices, it cast an overwhelming Republican vote for Governor, and the Democracy did not even venture to put in nomination one of their own party, but concentrated their votes upon the late Judge Taliaferro, whose chief claim to prominence was a bold unswerving hostility to secession. In the Presidential election of that year a systematic course of murder and intimidation disfranchised nearly every colored man in the State, and Congress promptly set aside that election, and placed on record a report of facts which should cause a blush of shame to mantle the brow of every son of Louisiana. In 1872 the colored voters were disfranchised by fraud—to what extent the vote cast this year in untrammeled parishes abundantly shows. In 1874, intimidation was again attempted, and was again defeated by the action of Congress and the President.

But it has been left to the centennial year to develop the crowning act of perfidy, cruelty, and fraud on the part of the Louisiana Democracy. The record discloses crimes committed in the name of Democracy and reform which scarcely fall short of the hideous Mountain Meadow massacre perpetrated by the saints of Mormondom, for which one of their chief leaders, after an immunity of nineteen years, has recently been condemned to death.

The census and registration statistics of the State showed a clear majority of colored over whites of over 40,000. It was notorious that the colored men were a unit in favor of the party which had given them freedom and civil and political rights and the means of education. When the Democratic nominating convention met in Baton Rouge on the 27th of June last, a confidential circular, signed by the chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, was circulated among the delegates, which contained, among other insidious advice, these significant paragraphs:

Second—We recommend that in conversations with each other no gloomy forebodings shall be indulged in, and that the result of the coming election shall be spoken of as a foregone conclusion, as we have the means of carrying the election and intend to use them. But be careful to say and do nothing that can be construed into a threat or intimidation of any character. You cannot convince a negro's reason, but you can impress him by positive statements continually repeated.

Third.—We recommend that clubs shall be formed in different sections of the parish, of which there shall be frequent meetings, and as often as may be convenient a central meeting of all the clubs. That occasionally the ward clubs should form at their several places of meeting, and proceed thence on horseback to the central rendezvous. Such meetings would tend to produce harmony, besides being an occasion for amusement and interesting ceremonies. Proceedings of this character would impress the negroes with a sense of your united strength. They have been taught that they greatly outnumber you; such meetings would convince them of their error.

In pursuance of this programme, five strongly Republican parishes which in 1874 gave an aggregate Republican majority of 3,779 for the Republican ticket, and in 1872, even according to the count of the Forman (Democratic) Returning Board, went still more strongly Republican, were deliberately selected for the application of the "means of carrying the election" which the Democratic Party had in their possession. Three of them, East Feliciana, West Feliciana and East Baton Rouge, were close to the Mississippi line. The successful adoption of what is now universally known as the "Missippi plan" in the neighboring State gave an impetus to the projects of the Democratic leaders, and with the ready aid of Mississippi desperadoes rendered their task an easy one. Ouachita and Morehouse Parishes were the stronghold of John McEnery, the representative par excellence of the extreme uncompromising Bourbon sentiment of the Democratic Party and the same time the chosen champion of Gen. Nicholls, the Democratic candidate for Governor. The still unsettled controversy as to whether Mr. McEnery, in a public speech at Monroe, the parish seat of Ouachita, did or did not openly advise, in the presence of Gen. Nicholls, the assassination of Mr. Packard and other prominent Republicans will be fresh in recollection. These facts, at least, are undisputed. Within a few weeks of Mr. McEnery's speech Dr. W. H. Dinkgrave, the most active white Republican of the parish, was assassinated in broad daylight, in the presence of at least one prominent Democrat of the parish, and the whole Democratic community tacitly concurred in shielding the murderer from arrest. Still later, two prominent colored leaders were shot down on their own thresholds by disguised white men under circumstances recently so graphically narrated by the United States Army officer commanding the post. The shooting of the United States deputy marshal, while conveying a ballot box to one of the strongest Republican precincts of the parish, and the consequent prevention of any vote at that poll, was recorded in our dispatches of yesterday.

In Morehouse, the adjoining parish, the proceedings under the Democratic circular were equally direct and effective. Mr. Laws, the leading colored Republican of the parish, was shot dead only a few days since, "not for political reasons," as one of the New-Orleans Democratic papers said, "though he was a prominent Radical." About the same time a Bastrop (Morehouse) special to the New-Orleans Bulletin announced "the trouble near the Ouachita line has been settled by the killing of three negroes and the wounding of several others. All quiet."

The course of events in the Felicianas and East Baton Rouge is described below. It is, perhaps, necessary to add for the information of readers outside the State of Louisiana that these five parishes, so brutally overridden and terrorized by the Democracy, which claims to be the negro's "best friend," were the only parishes in which, at the last election, any appreciable "colored Democratic" vote was cast. Gen. Nicholls did not command twenty colored votes in his own parish. The statistics of registration and previous votes cast in these parishes are appended. They will probably be needed for reference in the halls of Congress, and before the great tribunal of the people. The Democracy claim a majority in each parish. In East Feliciana they claim a unanimous vote.

OUACHITA.

	Whites.	Colored.
Registration in 1872 under Democratic auspices	970	2,311
Registration in 1874	826	1,819
	McEnery.	Kellogg.
Vote for Governor in 1872	758	1,606
	Moncure.	Dubuclet.
Vote for Treasurer in 1874	766	1,694

MOREHOUSE.

	White.	Colored.
Registration in 1872 under Democratic auspices	694	1,339
Registration in 1874	659	1,221
	McEnery.	Kellogg.
Vote for Governor in 1872	673	655
	Moncure.	Dubuclet.
Vote for Treasurer in 1874	654	1,017

EAST FELICIANA.

	White.	Colored.
Registration of 1872 taken under Democratic auspices	1 100	2,351
Registration of 1874	855	1,891
	McEnery.	Kellogg.
Vote for Governor in 1872, as returned by Democratic Returning Board	653	1,690
	Moncure.	Dubuclet.
Vote for Treasurer in 1874	847	1,688

A year ago John Gair, the leading colored Republican of this parish, was taken away from a Sheriff's posse which had arrested him on a trumped-up charge of poisoning a man still living, and was foully murdered, his body being "filled full of bullets." He lies buried on the roadside where he fell. His sister, Babe Mathews, (for the colored women are active Republicans,) was hanged in the Court-house yard for participation in the alleged crime. The Sheriff and other parish officers were subsequently driven out of the parish by armed bodies of the White League, aided by bands from Mississippi. Since which time a score of colored men have been murdered and hundreds of others whipped, until every vestige of Republican organization was stamped out and the colored people reduced to a state of terrorized subserviency for which even their former condition of slavery affords no parallel.

The few white Republicans left in the parish attempted to put a ticket in the field this year, but were waited upon by prominent Democrats and informed that no Republican ticket would be permitted. The Supervisor of Registration, whose fairness and integrity is indorsed by the entire Democratic press, was run off, and an election was held in violation of all the forms of law. At that election, as far as heard from, not one Republican vote was permitted to be cast.

WEST FELICIANA.

	White.	Colored.
Registration of 1872, under Democratic auspices	521	2084
Registration of 1874	422	1620
	McEnery.	Kellogg.
Vote for Governor, 1872, as returned by Democratic Returning Board	320	1477
	Moncure.	Dubuclet.
Vote for Treasurer, 1874	501	1338

Simultaneously with the successful inauguration of the "Mississippi plan" in its sister parish, did a reign of terror visit death and desolation upon the hearthstones of Republicans in West Feliciana. Under the pretext that negroes were stealing cotton from the fields and selling it to the country storekeepers, a dozen of stores, where colored people congregated and exchanged their political views, were burned, and in some instances their owners hanged. Bodies of White League cavalry, calling themselves Regulators, having thus scattered or destroyed their leadership, visited the colored people in their cabins and hesitated not at murder, with the most fiendish accessories, in order to strike a lasting terror to this entire population of Republican non-combatants. The fearful array of victims of these bloody raids, with the names of perpetrators, have already appeared in our columns.

EAST BATON ROUGE.

	White.	Colored.
Registration under Democratic auspices in 1872	1,478	1,559
Registration in 1874	1,595	2,879
	McEnery.	Kellogg.
Vote for Governor in 1872, as returned by the Democratic Returning Board	1,644	1,168
	Moncure.	Dubuclet.
Vote for Treasurer in 1874	1,556	2,546

After the Mississippi victory in 1875, the parish of East Baton Rouge promptly put in its claims for the championship as the best "nigger-killing" community, and right well the "bulldozers," as they call themselves, strove for pre-eminence. A leading Conservative of the parish, three months ago—and new martyrs to Republicanism have since been added to the score—estimated the number of slain colored men and women at over one hundred, while no estimate was ventured as to the number who had been half-strangled by hanging or brutally whipped with rawhides. Prominent and wealthy planters have testified under oath to the innocence of the victims; to the criminality of their white persecutors; to their efforts to enlist the aid of the more respectable whites for suppressing the horrid cruelties, and to their failure because of the underlying political motives. On the day the Democratic Convention assembled it was openly boasted that "the last remaining carpet-bagger had been run out of the parish"—this last representative of Northern civilization being Major Histed—a gallant soldier and cultivated gentleman, against whose good name no breath of suspicion had blown, and whom the Democrats themselves had supported for Parish Judge, before the hope of a solid South seemed to them a realizable fact. Hon. W. G. Lane, Republican Representative, had but a few days before been assailed in his hotel bedroom by an armed band, but successfully repelled his would-be assassins, killing one and wounding others. On the killed man no inquest was held, the Coroner being warned that the attempt to make a process verbal would cost him his life. A few weeks anterior, five negroes were hanged to their own gateposts, and although they were subsequently buried under official supervision, the public has yet to learn that he dared to disobey the bulldozers mandate to make no record of the fearful tragedy, And these are but specimens of the crimes which punctuate the political history of this parish for the past year.

With this hastily prepared, but easily verified history of the Democratic plot for conquering a victory in Louisiana, we leave the subject for the present.

SOME FALSE REPORT SWEPT ASIDE—LETTER FROM GOV. KELLOGG.

STATE OF LOUISIANA, EXEC. DEP'T,
New Orleans, Nov. 10, 1876.

To the Editor of the New Orleans Picayune:

In your morning issue of this date I read with surprise the following statement:

"Dispatches were exchanged last night by Kellogg and Chamberlain, also by Kellogg and Senator Conover, (Rad.) of Florida. The Chamberlain correspondence amounted to this: 'I will carry South Carolina for Hayes if you carry Louisiana.' The Governors of Louisiana and of South Carolina, when it was thought that the election of Tilden depended on the States, entered into a mutual agreement to return their States for Hayes by any means."

The above contains a grave charge, and seems to have been made with deliberation. It is in every word untrue. I have sent no dispatch to Gov. Chamberlain or to Senator Conover. I have received no dispatches from them. I have neither written nor telegraphed to the gentlemen named, nor to any other person in the State of South Carolina or Florida during the past six months, nor have I received either letter or telegram from them or from any one else in those States bearing upon the election.

Much more is said in the same issue of the Picayune regarding myself and the Returning Board. I am not a member of the Returning Board; I do not appoint the members of that board; I am not responsible to them for my action, nor are they to me. Except that my name has been placed on the Republican ticket as Presidential Elector, I am not a candidate for any office at this election. I have endeavored to be fair and just in the discharge of my official duties, and I think the record will show that I have been so. I do claim the right, however, as an American citizen, to express my opinion. I have said, and I repeat, that the majorities claimed by the Democrats in the heavy Republican Parishes of Ouachita and East and West Feliciana have not been fairly obtained. The registered vote of those three parishes is white 2,103, black 5,330. They gave me a majority for Governor in 1872 of 2,922, even according to the count of the Forman Fusion Board. They gave the Republican candidates in 1874 a majority of 2,621, as conceded by the Democratic State Committee. They are said to have gone Democratic this year by over three thousand majority, while in nearly every other parish of the State the colored vote has been cast solidly for the Republican ticket, and the Republicans have gained largely. I assert, and the proofs, which cannot be hidden, will abundantly bear out the assertion, that this change has been effected by a systematic course of intimidation, violence, and murder, disgraceful to the State and to civilization. Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

WILLIAM P. KELLOGG.

TWENTY-FOUR NEGROES MURDERED.

The New-Orleans Republican of Friday says: "A prominent planter of Concordia Parish gives us the information that twenty-four negroes were slain at Fayette, just east of Natchez, Miss., on election night. His information is that this horrible atrocity was committed without provocation, and to simply gratify the lust for blood which has prevailed since the inauguration of the 'Mississippi plan.' The Jackson Clarion, published under the inspiration and patronage of the usurping Governor of Mississippi, advised that 'in this campaign the enthusiasm of the young men must not be restrained.' The proof is contained in these twenty-four fresh bloody shirts that it has found full vent. Our informant concludes his statement—he being direct from the vicinity: 'The telegraph wires were first cut, as a precaution that the fun of the boys might not produce an unfavorable effect on the country.' We learn from a gentleman just from St. Martinsville that a leading colored supporter of Hon. Louis E. Latoire was murdered at Breaux Bridge last Sunday evening for expressing his Republican sentiments."

REBEL AMUSEMENTS.

The Nashville (Tenn.) American of Saturday says: "A good deal of indignation was expressed among the Democratic citizens generally yesterday upon learning that some parties, unknown, had torn away some of the flags and decorations from the Republican head-quarters, on Summer street, the night previous during the general jubilee of the Democrats. Other parties, supposed to be half-grown boys are said, in their excessive zeal to procure fuel for a bonfire, to have removed a door from its hinges on the premises of the New Era printing establishment, in Printers' alley. The Chairman of the Democratic Committee and influential Democratic citizens generally rupudiate the action of these officious persons, if they were persons claiming to be Democrats, and repudiate and indignantly condemn all such indecencies and discourtesies and disregard of the rights of others. The young men who perpetrated the wanton mischief should be heartily ashamed of themselves, no matter to what party they claim allegiance. The truth is that in their wild frolic several wanton things were done which demand severe reprobation. For instance, coffins were taken from open undertakers' stores and burned, and a crate of queensware rolled on the fire. If they thought this was fun, it was a sad mistake—such as cannot be tolerated."

A REBEL BATTLE-FLAG

Recently the flag of the First Tennessee (Confederate) Regiment, was presented to the Tennessee State Historical Society. The following letter describes it:

TULFORD HALL, SEWANEE, Tenn., Oct. 27, 1876.

My Dear Dr. Lindsley:

I beg to present, through you, to the Tennessee Historical Society the battle-flag of the First Tennessee Regiment, of which I was chaplain during the late war. It was borne most gallantly in the field of Perryville, where Col. John Patterson, John Curtin, and many brave Nashville boys laid down their lives. It was borne as gallantly in the battle of Chickamauga, and was after that battle presented to me. The recollections which cluster around it are very sad, but very sacred. I am, my dear Doctor, yours very faithfully

CHARLES TODD QUINTARD,
Bishop of Tennessee.

AFFAIRS IN KENTUCKY.

A letter from Mount Sterling, Ky., 9th inst., to the Chicago Journal says: "An affray occurred at Stanton, Powell County, on the evening of the election, resulting in the wounding of seven persons, three fatally, one of whom is missing. The wounded are: Gen. Anderson, William Wills, Jim Pettitt, George Derrickson, Cay Dougan, James Hall, and Hammonds. Pettitt and Wills are fatally wounded, and Gen. Anderson, after receiving two balls through his body, fled, and has not since been found. The difficulty grew out of an old feud, and was started, it is said, by Bill Hardwick, who was a leading actor in a fatal affray last Spring, in which several parties were shot. This information is from Hoskin, Sheriff of the county. Young John Hoskin, who was dangerously stabbed last week by two negroes in Powell, is recovering. Hoskin is a very delicate young man, and the negroes were stout, burly fellows, who have made their escape."

MR. SAYLER'S OPINION.

Hon. Milton Saylor, of Ohio, has been interviewed by a reporter of the Cincinnati Commercial, and in reply to a question whether he apprehended any danger to the country in view of the present close contest, replied: "I do not. I have too much faith in the sober second thought of the American people. There are too many people who have property, own bonds, and are the fathers of children. We cannot afford to convert the United States into a second Mexico. In my judgment, whoever is fairly elected, without taint or fraud, will be inaugurated peacefully, by the common consent of both parties."

LAW REPORTS.

THE RAILWAY WARFARE.

THE BICKERINGS BETWEEN THE RIVAL RAILWAY TRUNK LINES BROUGHT UP IN COURT—THE MESSRS. VANDERBILT AND OTHER DIRECTORS OF THE LAKE SHORE ASKED TO SHOW THE TRANSFER-BOOK TO RUFUS HATCH.

The warfare between the trunk lines of railroad on the question of freights, was brought up in the Supreme Court, before Judge Lawrence, yesterday, on an application by Russell Sage, Rufus Hatch, Cammann & Co., P. W. Gallaudet, White, Morris & Co., S. W. Boocock & Co., S. M. Mills & Co., A. S. Peabody, and Towar & Learned, against the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company; the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway Company; Cornelius and William H. Vanderbilt, and other Directors of the latter company. Judge Lawrence issued an order directing the respondents to show cause, on November 20, why they should not be compelled to exhibit to Rufus Hatch the transfer-book of the Lake Shore Company and the list of stockholders, or why an alternative mandamus should not issue, requiring the respondents to do these things, or show cause to the contrary. The bearing of this move on the railway warfare is well shown by the affidavit of Rufus Hatch, on which the application was based. He says the Lake Shore road is a foreign corporation, being composed of a consolidation of about ten different roads, owning a continuous line of 500 miles in length, and owns and leases an aggregate railroad line 1,175 miles long, only 68 of which is within the territory of this State. An inspection of the transfer-book having been refused, the following letter, dated Sept. 28, was sent to Mr. William H. Vanderbilt:

DEAR SIR: As shareholders in this company, we are anxious to obtain a list of the stockholders, as registered on the books of the company. We have applied to Mr. R. G. Rolston, of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, transfer agent, who has referred us to you, and declines to exhibit the books without a written order from you. We are acting in the interests of the shareholders, a large number of whom we represent. A serious depreciation of our securities, arising, as we believe, from the ruinous railroad war now being prosecuted in direct violation of the rights and interests of the shareholders, makes it proper that the stockholders themselves should have an opportunity of expressing their views on the subject, and of cooperating together in some movement to arrest a course of action so suicidal, and which must result in a ruin of the property. Briefly, it is with a view of communicating with each and all of said stockholders that we have made the above request of you, the official head of the company. Will you be good enough to instruct the transfer agent to give us access to the books or furnish us with a list of the stockholders. We respectfully ask for an answer to the above.

Mr. Vanderbilt replied on Sept. 30, as follows:

I am ready at all times to perform any official act which is legal and proper. While you ask for an inspection of the transfer-books for the purposes you state, a very large number of stockholders object to their names being generally known or published. Under the circumstances my duty seems clearly defined by the statute.

These gentlemen replied on Oct. 4, saying that they represented $4,000,000 of stock, and asking Mr. Vanderbilt to lay before the Executive Committee their request, and ask them to give the required authority to the transfer agent; adding that they had no intention of making the names of the stockholders generally known, or publishing them.

On Oct. 9 Mr. Vanderbilt wrote back that the list could only be given by order of the Executive Committee, and again referred to the statute.

Mr. Hatch's affidavit then says that Mr. Vanderbilt "occupies a like position in the New-York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company, the interests of which corporation (as at present managed) are in conflict with and adverse to those of the Lake Shore road; that Mr. Vanderbilt owns nearly two-thirds or seventy per cent. of New-York Central stock; that he owns but a small interest in the Lake Shore road. The Lake Shore can in no event derive any advantage from maintaining this war, but, on the contrary, it is suffering, and must suffer irreparable damage therefrom. That Mr. Vanderbilt, notwithstanding, is carrying the through freight and passengers, transferred from the New-York Central, upon the Lake Shore at disproportionate and losing rates in order to encourage and secure the through passengers and freight over the New-York Central road at proportionately high rates. The New-York Central, by reason of this unequal and unjust discrimination in its favor, receives more than its proportion of the through rates for freight and passengers, while the receipts for the through rates on the Lake Shore are correspondingly diminished. From the profits arising from this unjust division, New-York Central is enabled to maintain and pay its regular eight per cent. annual dividend, but the Lake Shore has been forced to cease to pay more than an occasional nominal dividend. If furnished with the names of the stockholders, such measures will be taken as will prevent a further depreciation of the property and force the Directors so to manage the company's affairs as to make the stock once more an eight per cent. dividend paying one."

DUNCAN, SHERMAN & CO.'S AFFAIRS.

The examination of Duncan, Sherman & Co., in bankruptcy, was continued yesterday before Register Ketcham. Judge Shipman, the Receiver of the firm, being called upon by subpœna to produce various books, papers, documents, &c., of which he is the custodian, testified that he did not receive the summons until Monday, and that it was impossible for him to produce all the papers required on so brief a notice. He did not think he was obliged to produce the documents for general inspection. His Cashier made a hasty examination yesterday morning with the subpœna to guide him, showing that the number of books called for exceeded one hundred, many of them large and heavy and containing transactions with great numbers of persons. With leave of the Register, witness stated that he is the Assignee of Duncan, Sherman & Co., and that he is under bonds of $500,000 for the execution of his trust; that, as such assignee, he is involved, from no fault of his own, as plaintiff or defendant in numerous litigations involving large sums of money, and for that reason he declines to produce the books for the general inspection of anybody. He also declined to answer any further questions, unless he can have the benefit of counsel. Mr. Edward F. Brown, (counsel for creditors,) who was ready to proceed, asked that the matter be certified into court immediately, and that further examination stand adjourned. The case was adjourned to Monday next, at 10 A. M.

LAWRENCE JEROME'S STOLEN WATCH.

On the night of Oct. 12, it will be remembered, Lawrence R. Jerome, of No. 33 West Nineteenth street, was robbed of his gold watch and chain, valued at $350, by pickpockets while looking at the Tammany torchlight procession, and reported his loss to the Police. The case was given in charge of Detective Dorsey, of the Twelfth Precinct, and O'Connor, of the Eleventh Precinct, who arrested Frank Kruse, a peddler, of No. 56 Pitt street, and John Schafer, a laborer, of No. 105 Sheriff street. After his arrest Kruse admitted that he had stolen Mr. Jerome's watch, and gave it to Schafer, who sold it to Nathan J. Israel, a watchmaker, of No. 105 Division street, for $80—$10 less than the sum he had asked for it. The stolen property was found in Israel's possession, and he also was arrested. The three prisoners were jointly indicted—Kruse for grand larceny and Schafer and Israel for receiving stolen goods—and called up for trial by Assistant District Attorney Rollins yesterday in Part II. of the Court of General Sessions. Mr. William F. Kintzing, counsel for the prisoners, pleaded guilty to the indictment, and restored to Mr. Jerome the works of the stolen watch. Judge Sutherland sentenced Kruse to five years in the State Prison, Israel to two years, and Schafer to eighteen months in the same institution.

THE FARRELL MURDER CASE.

The trial of John Taeffe, a teamster, for the murder of his employer, John Farrell, a contractor, living at No. 519 West Twenty-eighth street, on Sunday morning, April 16 last, was resumed before Recorder Hackett yesterday, in Part I. of the Court of General Sessions. A jury having been impaneled, Assistant District Attorney Bell opened the case for the prosecution, stating the facts of the case substantially as printed in yesterday's TIMES. The quarrel which preceded the murder, and the circumstances attending that unfortunate event were testified to by Thomas and John J. Farrell, sons of the murdered man, with whom Taeffe had exchanged blows before the shooting. Dr. Henry Griswold testified to the nature and locality of the fatal wound. The witnesses were cross-examined by Richard Busteed and District Attorney Downing, of Queens County, counsel for the defense. The case will be continued to-day.

SELLING LIQUORS IN THEATRES.

Judge Donohue in Supreme Court Chambers yesterday rendered a decision in the case of the People ex rel Meyer H. Goldschmidt against the Board of Police Commissioners, which was argued several months ago. Goldschmidt is the successor of the late Paul Falk to the ownership of the Tivoli Theatre and beer-garden on St. Mark's place. The police entered his establishment and prevented the sale of beer and spirituous liquors in the auditorium of the theatre in accordance with the law. Goldschmidt claimed that the Police had no right to do this, and that he had been greatly damaged by their action. He sought an injunction to restrain further action of the kind on their part. Judge Donohue denied the application.

THE POWERS OF A COMMON PLEAS JUDGE.

A novel point was raised in the case of George Slocovich against William Ryan, which was recently heard before Judge Lawrence in the Supreme Court, Chambers. It appears that Judge Larremore, while recently presiding in Supreme Court, Chambers, granted an order for the examination of a witness before the trial of the case. The matter was brought up before Judge Lawrence on the ground that the order granted by Judge Larremore was void, the latter not being a Judge of the Supreme Court, but only a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas assigned to duty in the Supreme Court. It was claimed that Judge Larremore had consequently no power to grant an ex parte order such as the one in question. Judge Lawrence, in deciding the matter yesterday, overlooked this question, but showed that Judge Larremore as a Judge of the Common Pleas, this court being the County Court of this County, has the power to grant such an order.

AN ADROIT SWINDLER SENTENCED.

HOW A CLERGYMAN WAS VICTIMIZED—THE SWINDLER SENTENCED TO FOUR YEARS' IMPRISONMENT.

"Bring Jacob Gibbs Conrad to the bar," said Assistant District Rollins yesterday, in Part II. of the Court of General Sessions, and the officers brought from the prisoner's box a man of gentlemanly appearance, who is pretty well known to the Police of this City. Conrad was indicted for grand larceny, and the history of his crime, as told by the complainant, Rev. John A. Edmonds, Pastor of the Asbury Methodist Episcopal Church, Washington square, residing at No. 168 Spring street, is as follows: "The prisoner came to my house and introduced himself as Mr. Conrad, formerly of Chicago, but then of No. 36 Clinton street, New-York. His personal appearance and conversation impressed me favorably, and I lent a willing ear to his representations. He said he had been a prosperous banker in Chicago, worth at one time $170,000. He had invested heavily in real estate in the City of Chicago, and had lost all in the great fire except a few thousand that he had saved by insurance. He was a member of the Wabash Avenue M. E. Church, Chicago, to which church in his days of prosperity he had given $10,000. He needed money very much until he could get something from Chicago, and I lent him $2. A few days afterward this amount was increased to $10, and in about three weeks I had lent him $19. During this time he was entertained as a guest in my house, and given a room in which were stored several trunks containing our winter clothing. One day I asked my wife for my winter overcoat. She went to Mr. Conrad's room to get it, but to her surprise it was missing, as were also a fine set of Russian furs worth $150, and other clothing amounting altogether to about $250."

Mr. Edmonds informed Capt. McDonnell, of the Eighth Precinct, of his loss, and Detective Murphy, who was detailed by the Captain to work up the case, found the stolen property in the pawn office of Morris Davis, No. 3 Sullivan street, where Conrad, under the name of Jacob Greene, had pawned it for $19. Conrad was identified by the pawnbroker at the residence of Rev. Mr. Edmonds, and committed for trial by Justice Kasmire. On being brought to the bar in General Sessions yesterday, Conrad admitted his guilt, and expressed contrition for his crime. The swindler was sentenced by Judge Sutherland to four years in the State Prison. Conrad was arrested in this City last Winter for petit larceny, and received a sentence of thirty days on the island. After his release he succeeded in victimizing several persons, among whom were L. R. Treat, publisher of the Methodist Book Concern, from whom he obtained $40 upon a worthless check, and Mrs. Reilly, of No. 36 Clinton street, whom he swindled out of $70 in board.

THE TRIAL OF COMMISSIONER FOWLER.

The trial of Commissioner William A. Fowler on the charges preferred against him by Mayor Schroeder was resumed yesterday by the Brooklyn Board of Aldermen. The greater part of the session was consumed in the reading of documentary evidence by the Corporation Counsel and his assistants. A Message of Mayor Schroeder to the Aldermen, dated May 3, 1875, calling attention to the incomplete state of the Hempstead Reservoir, and to the change of the plans without the consent of the Common Council, was placed in evidence, as was also a recommendation from the Mayor, contained in the same Message, that the dam be completed without touching the $500,000 authorized to be appropriated by the Legislature of 1875. Another Message to the Aldermen, dated Jan. 24, 1876, recommending the early completion of the reservoir, was also placed in evidence. A number of resolutions passed by the Board of Aldermen relative to completing the reservoir, and by the Board of City Works concerning the same, during the Presidency of Gen. Slocum, were also offered by Mr. De Witt and admitted. Ex-Commissioner R. M. Whiting, Jr., testified that he was Commissioner of City Works from 1872 to 1875, and that during that period his associate Commissioners were Loria Palmer and William A. Fowler. Witness moved for the dismissal of Chief Engineer Adams on Feb. 11, 1874. The resolution was referred to President Palmer, who exonerated Adams. Fowler seemed to be more anxious, in the case of Adams, to guard the interests of that official than he was to guard the city's interests. The witness said that Fowler had been a diligent city official, and did not betray undue regard for the interests of contractors Kingsley and Keeney. At the conclusion of Mr. Whiting's testimony a large amount of documentary evidence, in connection with the mandamus granted by Judge Barnard directing the Board of City Works to complete the dam of the reservoir, was submitted. The trial will be continued to-day.

BEQUESTS FOR CHARITABLE PURPOSES.

An interesting suit involving the construction of will is now on trial before Judge Van Vorst, in the Special Term of the Supreme Court, yesterday. The action is brought by Henriette B. Power, as Executrix of John H. Power, deceased, and in her own right as widow, against Hugh Cassidy, the surviving Executor, and Peter Rice, the legatee heir and next of kin of the deceased. It appears that Mr. Power died in May, 1875, leaving a very large estate and a will. By the terms of the latter he gave his widow $8,000 per annum in lieu of dower. He gave his nephew a substantial legacy and left a large number of specific legacies for various charitable purposes. Of the residue of his estate one-third was given to his widow and one-third to his nephew, Peter Rice. The remaining one-third was bequeathed according to the following clause: "The balance I give to my Executors, to be divided by them among such Roman Catholic charities, institutions, schools, or churches in the City of New-York as my Executrix and a majority of my Executors shall decide and in such proportions as they may think proper." The widow of the deceased claims that this clause is of doubtful signification, and asks the decision of the court on it, alleging that, in case it is set aside, she is entitled to one-half of the amount there named, and Peter Rice is entitled to the other half. The amount in dispute is about $200,000. About ten Roman Catholic institutions were named by the Executors, before the death of one of the latter, as proper ones to take under the will. The question now turns on the point as to whether the beneficiaries, under the clause referred to are sufficiently defined to make the legacy good. A minor point arises also as to whether the widow of the deceased can take any advantage of the defeasance of this clause, or whether all the property therein bequeathed should go to Rice. James W. Gerard appears for the widow, Benjamin F. Dunning for Rice, and Develin, Miller & Trull for the ten Roman Catholic institutions.

VAGARIES OF LUNATICS.

Judge McAdam, in Marine Court, Chambers, yesterday, signed a number of certificates of lunacy on affidavits made by Drs. Breke and Smith, of the City Prison. The cases of some of the unfortunates thereby consigned to the Lunatic Asylum were rather interesting as showing the vagaries of diseased minds. One of them was that of Cornelius Murray, whose particular hallucination was that the East River was about to overflow its banks and overwhelm the City and its inhabitants. He was completely overcome by the idea of the terrible devastation that would be wrought, and sought to prevent the sacrifice of human life by all manner of means. Among other things he stopped people from going near the river's bank by praying and entreaties, and gathered about him numbers of auditors in the streets. Another delusion he possesses is that people are talking to him through pipes. A second unfortunate was Alexander Finley, who stood on the Battery, talking at Governor's Island, and imagining that the island was holding a conversation with him. He believes also that he had a cavity in his head which healed up, and that he is wrongly accused of killing a child before its birth.

Fannie Hetherington was possessed of the delusion that she had been married last Monday, and that her husband is only two years old.

A man, calling himself indiscriminately either Albert Ritter or William H. Cooper, was of the impression that Peter Cooper had sent him to Bellevue Hospital. He also talked about seeing signs in heaven and on walls.

IMPORTANT TO IMPORTERS.

A revenue suit of much importance to importers is now on trial in the United States Circuit Court, before Judge Shipman. It is that of Phelps, Dodge & Co. against Collector Arthur, to recover $25,000 duties paid under protest upon importations of tin plate. This suit is made a test case, and the amount involved is a very large one, similar suits having been begun by Messrs. Coddington & Co., Bruce & Cook, Naylor & Co., and others. Whatever may be the conclusion in this court, it is understood that the cases will be carried to the United States Supreme Court. Prior to the Revised Statutes of June 22, 1874, duties were paid on these importations at fifteen per cent. ad valorem, but by that statute a reduction was made of ten per cent. on all metals, "not herein otherwise provided for." The importers claim that the word "herein" refers to the section and not the whole act, and that they are entitled to this reduction of ten per cent., and should only have paid thirteen and one-half per cent. duty ad valorem. The Government claims that the revised statute was not intended to change the existing law. On July 28, 1874, the Secretary of the Treasury gave a decision in favor of the importers, and revoked the same Aug. 21, 1874, and from that date the importers paid duty at fifteen per cent. until Feb. 8, 1875, when the duty was made specific. They now bring suit to recover the allegedexcess of one and one-half per cent. paid from the time the revised statute went into effect until the duty was made specific. The greater part of the day was spent in the argument of legal points raised, the jury being dismissed until this morning. Hon. William M. Evarts and John E. Parsons appear for the plaintiffs, and Assistant United States Attorney Tremain for the Collector.

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The following business was up in the United States Supreme Court to-day: No. 87.—Homor vs. Henning et al.—Error to the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. This was an action against the defendants as Trustees of the Washington City Savings Bank, to make them personally liable for the sum of $4,000, the allegation being that the liabilities of the bank exceeded the amount of the capital stock, and that under the act of 1870, as amended, the Trustees became personally liable when such a state of things existed. The court below sustained a demurrer to the bill, raising the point that this personal or individual liability did not apply to the indebtedness of a savings bank to its depositors; and averring that if it did, the bill did not allege that the debt claimed by the plaintiff was contracted in excess of the amount of capital stock; and also raising the question whether the liability of the Trustees was to all the creditors or to each. It is here contended that the act speaks of creditors generally, and hence it applies to depositors as well as others; and that it holds the stockholders liable to each creditor who may sue. It is also urged that the bill was sufficiently explicit. F. P. Coffy for plaintiff in error; W. D. Davidge for defendant.

Counsel for Madison Dorn, now in jail in Augusta County, Virginia, under a sentence of the District Court of the United States for a violation of the Civil Rights Act of March, 1875, submitted a motion for leave to file a petition for habeas corpus in his case for the purpose of having it determined whether he is legally in custody. The offence charged was that he excluded one Annie Smith, colored, from the reception room of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, in the City of Staunton, "for reasons not applicable to persons of every race and color, and regardless of previous condition of servitude." Annexed to the petition is a statement of the points upon which the prisoner relies for his liberation, namely: 1st. That the District Court was without jurisdiction to try him for the offense chargde; Second—That the act of Congress does not in terms define that as an offense for which which he was tried; Third—That if the act is broad enough to cover such a case it comprehends other offenses not within the cognizance of Congress, and that hence the act is unconstitutional and void; Fourth—That if the act be held to provide punishment for denying the accommodations and privileges enumerated in its first section "on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude," and nothing more, then it is not authorized by the fourteenth amendment of the Constitution, and is null and void. The motion is made by Messrs. Sheffey and Robertson, of Virginia.

On motion of J. A. Wells, Esq., W. E. Scofield, of Marion, Ohio, was admitted to practice as an attorney and counsellor of this Court. On motion of J. S. Black, Malcolm Hay, of Pittsburg, Pa., was admitted to practice as an attorney and counsellor of this Court.

No. 95.—Leonard T. Smith, plaintiff in error, vs. Joseph R. Payson, Assignee, &c.—On motion of T. H. N. McPherson, of counsel for the plaintiff in error, dismissed with costs.

No. 87.—Charles W. Hornor, plaintiff in error, vs. George C. Henning et al.—The argument of this case was continued by Mr. F. P. Cuppy, of counsel for the plaintiff in error, and by W. D. Davidge for the defendants in error, and concluded by Mr. F. P. Cuppy for the plaintiff in error.

No. 86. (Substituted for No. 88.) Henry A. Grant, Collector, &c., plaintiff in error, vs. The Hartford and New-Haven Railroad Company.—This case was argued by Assistant Attorney General Smith, of counsel for the plaintiff in error, and by Mr. D. R. Hubbard for the defendant in error.

No. 89.—F. H. Fisher, appellant, vs. R. R. and Joseph Craig.—This cause was submitted on printed arguments by A. H. Evans, of counsel for the appellant, no counsel appearing for the appellee.

No. 91.—The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New-York, plaintiff in error, vs. Lewis W. Snyder.—The argument of this cause was commenced by W. A. Porter, of counsel for the plaintiff in error.

The court then adjourned until to-morrow.

THE COURT OF APPEALS.

PROCEEDINGS OF YESTERDAY—DECISIONS HANDED DOWN.

ALBANY, Nov. 14.—In the Court of Appeals to-day, the following business was transacted: Motion for reargument—Lake vs. Nathans; Duffamy vs. Ferguson. Appeals from orders—No. 400, The People ex rel. Van Tassel vs. The Supervisors, &c., argued by C. P. Collier for appellants, and R. E. Andrews for respondents. No. 82, The People ex rel. Demorest vs. Wickham, argued by W. S. Wolf for appellants, and Charles S. Fairchild for respondents. No. 403, In re Prospect Park, &c., vs. Monahan; argued by B. G. Hitchings for appellants, and John H. Bergen for respondents. General Calendar—No. 10, Baldwin vs. Tallmadge; passed. No. 17, Wilson vs. Randall; submitted. No. 15, Bailey vs. Bergen; argued by John H. Bergen for appellant, and George Bowen for respondent. No. 26, Ireland vs. Corse; argued by Ira D. Warren for appellant, and Charles E. Miller for respondent.

Decisions handed down as follows: Motion denied, without costs—Risley vs. Brown. Judgment of General Term reversed and judgment of Special Term affirmed, with costs—Young vs. Hill. Order affirmed, with costs, without prejudice to the company, to move the court for leave to abandon the proceedings, or as it may be advised—In re Rhinebeck, &c., Railroad Company vs. Radcliff. Judgment affirmed, with costs—Read vs. Decker; Byrnes vs. Cohoes; Morgan vs. Russell, &c., Manufacturing Company; Wilson vs. Edwards; Kip vs. New-York and Harlem Railroad Company; Schuyler vs. Hayward; Cook vs. Wardens, &c., of St. Paul's Church; Bennett vs. Lycoming Insurance Company; Mitchell vs. Vermont Copper Mining Company; Maher vs. Hibernia Insurance Company; Phœnix Warehousing Company vs. Badger; Barney vs. Oyster Bay, &c., Railroad Company; Baker vs. Lever. Judgment reversed and new trial granted, costs to abide event—Edington vs. Mutual Life Insurance Company; Redburn vs. Seneca Lake Grape Company; Booth vs. Boston and Albany Railroad Company; Cummins vs. Agricultural Insurance Company; Jutie vs. Hughes. Judgment reversed and judgment for defendant on demurrer, with costs—Estes vs. Wilcox. Appeal dismissed, with costs—Holmes vs. Farmers' Joint Stock Insurance Company; Produce Bank vs. Morton; Wheeler vs. Scofield. Order affirmed with costs—In re Mary Elizabeth Price. Appeal dismissed without costs to either party as against the other—People vs. Continental Life Insurance Company. Order of General Term reversed and entered on verdict affirmed with costs—Sloman vs. Great Western Railroad Company. Order of General Term reversed and order of Special Term affirmed with costs—Lyon vs. Lyon. Judgment affirmed—Thomas vs. The People. Order affirmed and judgment absolute for defendants on stipulation with costs—Bruce vs. Burr.

The following is the day calendar of the Court of Appeals for Wednesday, Nov. 15: Nos. 11, 28, 30, 33, 35, 36, 41, 42.

DECISIONS.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

By Judge Donohue.

Goldschmidt vs. Smith et al.—Motion denied.
Butler vs. Howes.—Motion denied, without costs.
Orders Granted.—Koehler vs. Adler, and Amerman vs. Bartone.

By Judge Davis.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company vs. Craighead.—Granted.
Ungrich vs. Mears.—Order granted.

By Judge Lawrence.

Granted.—The East River National Bank vs. Schenck; Same vs. Same; Same vs. Same; Matter of Bolse & Co.; Bruce vs. Miller; Matter of Nostrand; Ranney vs. Fisher; Stevens vs. McDonell; The Excelsior Petroleum Company vs. Fowler; Vanderhoef vs. Baldwin; Bates vs. Ryckman; Mortter vs. Mildeberger; Overhiser vs. Stark; Halliday vs. Kilpatrick; Day vs. The New-York and Fort Lee Railroad Company, and Cowan vs. The Mayor, &c.
Slocuch vs. Ryan.—Opinion.
Orders Granted.—The Ulster Knife Company vs. Rowe; The East River National Bank vs. Schenck; Sussfield vs. Moore; Teller vs. The Dry Dock Savings Institution, and Matthews vs. Leddell et al.
Gilbert vs. Gilbert.—Order of reference granted.
Connor vs. Griffith.—Refused.
Roller vs. Goldfinger.—Explanation required.
Sullivan vs. Ryer.—There must be a reference ordered here.
Joly vs. Lacombe.—Mr. Reynolds' affidavit must be verified. Decree signed.
The Hercules Mutual Life Insurance Company vs. Brinker.—An allowance of $87 50 granted to the plaintiff.
Anderson, &c., vs. Anieta.—I do not regard this as a case in which a ne-exeat should issue. Memorandum.
Parker vs. Gano.—See memorandum for counsel.
Tucker vs. Livingston.—See memorandum for counsel.

SUPREME COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

By Judge Van Vorst.

Carpenter vs. Benoliel and Chapney vs. Benoliel.—Judgments for defendants on the demurrer.
Brown vs. Crawford.—Orders signed.
Church, &c., vs. Dowling.—I think the complaint is sufficient. The defendant, if he has a defense may set it up by answer. Demurrer overruled.

SUPREME COURT—CIRCUIT—PART I.

By Judge Van Vorst.

Richardson et al. vs. O'Brien, &c.—Case and amendments settled.

COMMON PLEAS—SPECIAL TERM.

By Judge Robinson.

Holyoke vs. Brown.—Order signed.
The People et al. vs. Jones.—Bailable attachment ordered.

By Judge Van Brunt.

Scott vs. Cassin.—Motion granted on payment of $10 costs.

By Judge J. F. Daly.

Coffin vs. Loses.—Exceptions overruled and report confirmed.
Wheeler vs. Murray.—Findings settled.
Mott vs. Consumers' Ice Company.—Motion denied. Opinion.
Levy vs. Kleystenber.—Receiver discharged.
Braunhold vs. Roessler.—Receiver appointed.
McKinney vs. McCloskey et al.—Motion for security for costs denied without costs.
Whitlock & Co. vs. Orpheus.—Mechanics' lien discharged.
Stoppani vs. Gottsberger.—Motion to open default granted on payment of $10 costs and disbursements.
Hunt vs. Hamilton.—If defendant appears in court Nov. 16 at 10 A. M. to submit to examination, motion denied, otherwise granted.

Trautman vs. Langbein.—Motion denied, without costs.

Schloss vs. Meara.—Proof insufficient.

Bauer vs. Rogers.—Order granted.

Hepburn vs. Hepburn.—Case sent back to Referee. See memorandum.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

By Chief Justice Curtis.

Lowenstein vs. De Leyer et al.—Findings signed.

Same vs. Same.—Allowance to defendants of five per cent.

By Judge Speir.

Randell vs. Bremer.—Extra allowance of five per cent. granted plaintiff.

The Health Department of New-York vs. Smith et al.—Order overruling demurrer.

The Bowery Savings Bank vs. Smith et al.—Motion granted with costs.

Rooney, adm'r &c., vs. The Third Avenue R. R. Company.—Demurrer sustained with costs and with usual leave.

Kohler, ex'r, &c., vs. Chapman.—Order denying motion for an allowance.

Kiely, &c., vs. Dusenbury.—Order denying motion.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company vs. Dixon et al.—Ordered that the application to fix fees of referee be dismissed.

Rooney, &c., vs. The Third Avenue R. R. Company—Order sustaining demurrer.

MARINE COURT—CHAMBERS.

By Justice McAdam.

Drake vs. Driscoll.—Opinion filed.

Motions Granted.—McCahill vs. Conner, Maxwell vs. Slaght, Hyatt vs. King, Baxter vs. Andrews.

Tinnelli vs. Hill.—Plaintiff defaulted.

Driscoll vs. Mahoney.—Reference ordered.

Smith vs. Newton.—Arrest vacated.

Hoffman vs. Murphy.—Amendment allowed.

Sonneborn vs. Leipzinger.—Sureties examined, found sufficient, and bond approved.

Greene vs. Buckman.—Attachment ordered against the Sheriff.

Orders Granted.—Nash vs. Schultz, Baker vs Gibbons, Smith vs. Douglas, Wubbenhorst vs. Fahing, Hoffman vs. Murphy, Smith vs. Norton, Collender vs. Doyle, Wade vs. Amier, Kraemer vs. Criner, Creeling vs. Jardin, Herbermann vs. Moore.

Wells vs Boyer.—Commission granted.

COURT NOTES.

Charles Johnson, a colored steward of the United States steamer Richmond, was sentenced, in the Court of Special Sessions, yesterday, to three months in the Penitentiary for stealing clothes from a Chatham street clothes-dealer.

Patrick Murphy, aged eighteen, of the Newsboys' Home, was arraigned yesterday in the Court of Special Sessions, on the charge of picking pockets, having been caught in the act by Detective Slevin. He was sentenced to the Penitentiary for six months.

John Magee, alias Rhody Th was committed for examination at the Fifty-seventh Street Police Court yesterday, on a charge of having, on the 13th of September, entered the residence of Isabella Gleason, of No. 28 West Sixtieth street, and stolen $100 worth of jewelry.

John H. Jacobus, who was arraigned in the Washington Place Police Court on Monday upon a charge preferred by his sister-in-law, Sara Jacobus, that he had drugged her and then violated her, was honorably acquitted yesterday by Judge Kasmire. The evidence failed to sustain the charge.

William Farrell of No. 20 Laight street, snatched a pocket-book containing $79.10 from Thomas F. Meehan of No. 141 Ninth Avenue, on the 30th of October. In Part II. of the Court of General Sessions yesterday. Farrell pleaded guilty, and Judge Sutherland sentenced him to four years in State Prison.

James O'Neill, aged eighteen, of No. 415 Cherry street, who snatched a gold watch valued at $150 from George H. Moller, of No. 13 West Twenty-fourth street, on the 3d inst., pleaded guilty yesterday in Part II. of the Court of General Sessions. Judge Sutherland sentenced him to four years in State Prison.

John Barnard, of No. 346 East Twentieth street, who snatched a gold watch valued at $200 from John C. Maben, of No. 30 Broad street, while that gentleman stood talking in front of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, was called up in Part II. of the Court of General Sessions yesterday, and pleaded guilty. Judge Sutherland sentenced the thief to two years in State Prison.

Henry Weston, of No. 244 Monroe street, was arraigned before Judge Morgan, at the Tombs, yesterday, on the charge of stealing a diamond pin, valued at $125, from William Donnelly, of No. 5 Vandam street, while the latter was in a drunken sleep on the stoop of the New-Amsterdam Bank, corner of the Bowery and Rivington street. Weston was held for trial in default of $1,000 bail, and Donnelly was sent to the House of Detention.

The suit of the United States against one case of valuable silks claimed by C. A. Auffin, Ords & Co., agents of Messrs. Budner, Hurliman & Co., Zurich, Switzerland, seized for alleged undervaluation, was tried yesterday in the United States District Court. United States Attorney Bliss appeared for the Government and Ethan Allen for the claimants. The jury, without leaving their seats, returned a verdict acquitting the goods of seizure.

Joseph Brunner, of No. 127 West street, was held in $1,500 bail yesterday, at the Essex Market Police Court, on the charge of picking William Cundlach's pocket of $210. Cundlach had recently arrived from Germany, and was drinking with Brunner at the St. Lawrence Hotel, when he felt the hand of the latter at his inside pocket and immediately missed his money. Brunner was arrested by Officer Heron, and on being searched at the Tenth Precinct Police Station, the money was recovered.

The suit of Andrew Cowen against the Mayor, &c., was brought up before Judge Lawrence in Supreme Court Chambers, yesterday. The action is brought to recover $20,000 damages arising from injuries received by the plaintiff on Sept. 23, 1867, in being thrown out of a carriage which was overturned by an alleged obstruction in Tenth street. The City sets up in answer a general denial. In order to discover the facts of the case, these being particularly within the plaintiff's knowledge, the City moved to have Cowen examined as a witness before trial. This Judge Lawrence granted, setting the examination down for Nov. 24.

Judge Joseph F. Daly, in the Special Term of the Court of Common Pleas, rendered a decision yesterday in the case of Alexander B. Mott against the Consumers' Ice Company, which came up on a motion by the latter to examine the plaintiff's books and papers before trial. The plaintiff is a physician, and sues to recover for injuries received in being thrown from his buggy by a collision with one of the defendant's carts. The defendants by their motion desired to examine the Doctor's books and papers in order to see what his income was and what loss he sustained. Judge Daly thinks the motion is a "fishing expedition," and denies it.

A CREDITOR'S COMPROMISE NOT AVOIDED.

The suit of Smith against Solomon and Morel was brought to trial before Judge Joseph F. Daly in the Court of Common Pleas yesterday. It appears that in November, 1875, the defendants, leather merchants, failed, and made a settlement of fifty cents on the dollar. The compromise was paid by the notes of the defendants, indorsed by David Morel, and further secured by a mortgage on the latter's property. The defendants, to secure their indorser, transferred to him, with the consent of the creditors, all their stock and assets. The notes were paid as they matured. The plaintiff, one of the creditors, brought this action on the balance of his claim, and, to avoid the composition deed, which was pleaded in bar, he claimed and attempted to prove that he was induced to sign the instrument by a representation made to him that the debtors could not pay more than fifty cents, which he claimed was false, and also that the debtors, at the time, concealed assets and kept fictitious books The defendants made a motion for a non-suit, on the ground that before the plaintiffs could avoid the composition for frauds they must rescind the contract and return the fifty per cent. which they had received under it. They could not receive and keep the extra security they obtained by reason of a settlement and at the same time seek to avoid the compromise for fraud. The Court so held and dismissed the complaint. H. F. Averill and Mr. Milliken appeared for plaintiff; Blumenstiel and Ascher for the defendants.

BURGLARS DISPOSED OF.

In Part II. of the Court of General Sessions yesterday the following burglars were disposed of by Assistant District Attorney Rollins: John Thierfelo and August Maier, of No. 153 Leonard street, who broke into the grocery store of Frederick Mayer, No. 39 Monroe street, and stole property valued at $18 10, were each sentenced by Judge Sutherland to two years and six months in State Prison; William Smith, aged eighteen, who broke into the premises of William F. May, No. 323 West Forty-eighth street, and stole scarfs and other property valued at $82, was sent to State Prison for three years; James White, alias Burns, aged twenty-two, of No. 141 Washington street, a notorious thief, who broke into the apartments of Patrick Fallon, No. 17 Albany street, and stole a suit of clothes and other property, was sentenced to six years in State Prison for burglary in the first degree.

COURT CALENDARS—THIS DAY.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

Held by Lawrence, J.

Nos.	Nos.
27—The Bowery Nat. Bk. vs. Fraser.	260—The First Nat. Loan, &c., Ass. vs. Bandman.
104—Alden vs. Robinson.	262—McStea vs. Matthews.
117—Wehle vs. The Great Southern R. Co.	264—Phillips vs. Mawson.
118—Brewster vs. Cole.	281—Hubbard vs. Sweet.
144—Decker vs. Decker.	284—Hawley vs. Rowe.
171—Sperber vs. Sperber.	310—Rosenthal vs. Dessau.
178—Hilier vs. Linquest.	319—Smith vs. Green.
237—White vs. Rowe.	322—Hubbard vs. Sweet.
242—Kopper vs. Close.	326—Matter of Downing.
252—The Bowery Nat. Bk. vs. Fraser.	347—Schiffer vs. Diets.
256—Brennan vs. The L. & L. Globe Ins. Co.	352—Uhl, &c., vs. Neumann.
	355—Harwickell vs. Parker
	357—Taylor vs. Thomas.

SUPREME COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

Held by Van Vorst, J.

Nos.	Nos.
474—Uhl, &c., vs. Millhauser.	261—Veiller vs. The Kings County Manuf. Co.
506—Uhl, &c., vs. Scharnberg et al.	314—Earl vs. Kieley.
529—Cagney vs. Mears et al.	315—Vanderhoef vs. Tucker.
629—Uhl, &c., vs. Huszner, &c.	350—Fowler vs. Mehrbach et al.
632—Knowlson vs. Betts et al.	587—Mosback vs. Amend et al.
278—Langdon vs. Gray.	420—Mittnacht vs. Stauf et al.
279—Same vs. Same.	421—Ellis vs. Andrews.
235—Alden vs. Diossy.	739—Clancy vs. O'Gara et al.
147—Ebert vs. Montgomery et al.	366—Reilly vs. Dillon et al.
503—Newell et al. vs. Ridgway et al.	419—Ford vs. Conner, &c.
*754—The Hebrew Ben. Society vs. The Mayor, &c.	426—The Mayor, &c., vs. Goodman et al.
71—The Lawton G. M. Co. vs. Ocean Steamer Coaling Co.	122—Castro et al. vs. Brett et al.
96—Blatchford, &c., vs. Kidd, &c.	376—Herriot vs. Herriot.
198—Ward vs. Krumm et al.	402—Grivet vs. Earle et al.
	435—Bergh et al. vs. Busteed et al.
	436—Bradhurst vs. Floyd.

SUPREME COURT—CIRCUIT—PART I.

Adjourned for the Term.

SUPREME COURT—CIRCUIT—PART II.

Held by Barrett, J.

Case on—No. 1318—Hoag vs. Conner. No Day Calendar.

SUPREME COURT—CIRCUIT—PART III.

Held by Donohue, J.

Case on—No. 2243—Martinez vs. Del Valle. No Day Calendar.

SUPERIOR COURT—GENERAL TERM.

Adjourned until Monday, Nov. 20.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

Held by Speir, J.

Nos.	Nos.
Demurrer.	57—Vandenburgh vs. N. Y. Elevated R. R. Co.
13—Schuyler vs. Dettinger et al.	59—Westerman vs. Remington, Jr.
Issues of Fact.	70—Winn et al. vs. Crosby, Assignee, &c.
20—Gans vs. Ridgely.	19—Arnold et al. vs. Morris.
39—Hande vs. Bromer et al.	66—Meid vs. Meid.
47—Wardrop vs. Howell et al.

SUPERIOR COURT—TRIAL TERM—PART I.

Held by Curtis, C. J.

Nos.	Nos.
6—Warner vs. Western Trans. Co.	862—Fairfax vs. The N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R. Co.
329—Demuth vs. The Am. Institute.	252—Marshall Horse Collar Co. vs. Williams.
144—Algie vs. Wood.	281—Wilkesbarre Savings Bank vs. Wing et al.
216—Stevenson vs. Hinds.	322—Costello vs. Archer.
333—Bohonnon vs. Barlow et al.	331—Boyce, &c., vs. Wight.
282—Zimmerman et al. vs. The Nat. S. S. Co.	328—Young vs. Ransom.
652—Knapp, Receiver, vs. Roche.	323—National Steam-ship Co. vs. Caylus et al.
	327—Phillips vs. Ruger et al.

SUPERIOR COURT—TRIAL TERM.—PART II.

Held by Sedgwick, J.

Nos.	Nos.
305—Crawford et al. vs. Pappenheimer.	313—Whomington vs. The 42d St. & Grand St. Ferry R. R. Co.
340—Husted, et al. vs. Rathbone.	129—Kelly et al. vs. Garrison et al.
341—Husted vs. Rathbone et al.	336—The R hway Glue Co. vs. Hewitt et al.
221—Beach vs. Walker.	359—Borchardt vs. U. S. Fire Ins. Co.
350—Adolph vs. C. P., N & E. R. R. R. Co.	311—Winfield vs. Klein et al.
192—Kerrigan vs. The Broadway & Seventh Av. R. R. Co.	244—Jenkins vs. Central Park, N. & E. R. R. R. Co.
303—Dodd vs. Deane.	283—Robison vs. White.
363—Dodge vs. Burton.	385—Halstead vs. Hastings
171—Byrne vs. Brennan, &c.	380—Kelly vs. West et al.
845—Benner et al. vs. Duclos et al.	387—Stewart vs. James et al.
309—Higgins et al. versus Young.	388—Lacy vs. Cox et al.
179—Moore vs. Tower.	389—Holmes vs. Bleecker.
	390—McBride vs. The Sec. Av. R. R. Co.

COMMON PLEAS—EQUITY TERM.

No Day Calendar.

COMMON PLEAS—TRIAL TERM—PART I.

Held by Robinson, J.

Nos.	Nos.
873—Ketchley vs. Van Tassel.	851—Dethless vs. Tamsen.
556—Krawitsky vs. Koening.	492—Gomer, &c., vs. Mut. Life Ins. Co.
557—Same vs. Same.	838—Wagner vs. Whitney.
906—McCarthy vs. Third Univ. Society.	392—Ketcham vs. Stevens.
799—Guidet vs. The Mayor, &c.	711—Huebner vs. Roosevelt.
828—Epstein vs. Second Avenue R. R. Co.	827—Heldick vs. Boyd.
905—Dexter vs. Starin.	453—Johnson vs. Perine.
974—Powers vs. Connor, &c.	731—Thomson vs. Gamble.
892—Snandley vs. The Mayor, &c.	816—Smith vs. Kerns.
960—Goldstein vs. The Mayor, &c.	826—Wakeman vs. Phyffe.
801—Zeimler vs. Levy.	586—Wilkes vs. Simmons.
393—Engell vs. Grant.	714—Farley vs. N.Y. Cen. & H. R. R. R. Co.
907—Schermerhorn vs. Devlin.	751—Hammel vs. Waitzfelder.
895—Ritchie vs. Lesser.	583—Howard, Jr., vs. McDonough.
969—Mangam vs. Downs.	877—Willson vs. Pine.
806—Merrill vs. Beyer.	384—White vs. Hoyt et al.
371—Booth et al. vs. Ferguson.	1014—Hall vs. Corrigan.
565—Wood vs. Bloodgood.	339—Friedlander vs. The Mayor, &c.
1125—Connell vs. Smith.	144—Weld vs. Kane.

COMMON PLEAS—TRIAL TERM—PART II.

Adjourned for the Term.

COMMON PLEAS—GENERAL TERM.

Held by C. P. Daly, C. J., J. F. Daly and Van Hoesen, JJ.

Nos.	Nos.
9—Wallach vs. Raynor, &c.	106—O'Connell vs. Floyd.
16—Dolan vs. Thesen et al.	49—Daff et al. vs. The Bank of New-York.
48—Lynch vs. Rinaldo.	5—Alleo vs. Ætna Ins. Co.
48—Bauer vs. Lorillard Steam-ship Co.	36—Miller vs. The Mayor, &c.
56—Worster vs. The Grand and 42d St. R. R. Co.	38—Coffin vs. Loughran et al.
60—Southard, Ass'ee, vs. Benner et al.	30—Abraham vs. Boyce.
63—Lanigan vs. The Mayor, &c.	71—Browning vs. Home Ins. Co. of Ohio.
64—Kavanagh vs. Wilson et al., &c.	76—Waters, &c., vs. Crawford.
88—Storey vs. Solomon.	77—Leutz vs. Butterfield.
89—Griffin vs. Solomon.	78—Rosen vs. Nichols.
85—Gathman vs. Kline.	79 (a)—Johnson vs. Chappell.
4—Ayre vs. Rushton.
90—Way vs. Crofutt.
86—Hazard vs. Conklin.

MARINE COURT—TRIAL TERM—PART I.

Held by Sinnott, J.

Nos.	Nos.
5219—Wilmerding et al. vs. Keep.	5043—Goston vs. Capen et al.
5009—Miller vs. Cunningham.	5091—Salisbury vs. Hardcastle.
3123—Winans vs. Clark.	5213—McGuire vs. Frank et al.
4762—Hogan vs. Filan.	5003—Schaefer vs. Gaff et al.
5291—Nuenhofer vs. Bleuler.	4390—New-York College of Veterinary Surgeons vs. Dickel.
5310—Moore vs. Tower.	416—Long vs. Lynch.
4883—Genard vs. Galway.	5336—Anderson vs. Kean.
4884—Smith vs. Tunbridge et al.

MARINE COURT—TRIAL TERM—PART II.

Held by Alker, J.

Nos.	Nos.
8029—Fuller vs. Sternfels et al.	5319—McTeague vs. Brett et al.
4601—Valentine versus France.	5321—Spiers versus McNaught et al.
4965—Marquis vs. The D. D., E. Broadway & B. R. R. Co.	5323—McHugh vs. Paton et al.
4753—Brennan vs. Fitzpatrick.	5331—Crawford vs. Goodsell et al.
5067—Connor vs. Fisher.	5332—Thompson vs. Clapp et al.
5045—Hartman vs. Koster.	5334—Regan et al. vs. Cosine.
3862—Postler vs. Burke.	5335—Otten vs. Rugen.
7056—Grote et al. versus Whiting.

MARINE COURT—TRIAL TERM—PART III.

Held by Shea, C. J.

Nos.	Nos.
8596—Wertheimer vs. Stevens.	2025—Ulman et al. vs. Freidenreich.
8663—Krekler vs. Conner, Sheriff, &c.	7356—Wells vs. Boyer et al.
5923—Spring et al. vs. Murray, &c.	7357—Same vs. Same.
5924—Davis et al. vs. Murray, &c.	7189—Seligman vs. Rhind.
8472—Gillis et al. vs. O'Sullivan.	7166—Center vs. Smith.
8672—Bernecke vs. Conner, &c.	7252—White vs. Meyer.
8673—Same vs. Same.	6284—Strange vs. Fisher et al.
926—McGowan vs. Dawson.	8762—Pixlee vs. Skinner et al.

MARINE COURT—TRIAL TERM—PART IV.

Held by Goepp, J.

Nos.	Nos.
5147—Ryan vs. Safeguard Fire Ins. Co.	5151—Ballard vs. Reade.
5116—Friedberg vs. Rosenthal.	5171—Spiegel vs. Hacker et al.
5198—Byrne vs. Robinson.	5184—Moss et al. vs. Robbins et al.
5104½—Abbott vs. Pirssons.	5193—Thompson vs. Miller.
5275—Andrews et al. vs. Ryan.	5142—Ostrander vs. Goldmark.
5096—Schutt vs. Muller.	5143—Ostrander vs. Reno et al.
5097—Bernhard vs. Wronkow et al.	5149—Worth vs. Reynolds.
5112—Arns vs. Wilson et al.	5236—Rohn vs. Kapff.
5128—Argall vs. Sullivan.	5237—Thielhorn vs. Kapff.
5132—Mathes vs. Gridley.	5238—Thielhorn vs. Kapff et al.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS—PART II.

Held by Sutherland, J.

Emanuel Manheimer, James F. Hines, John O'Shaughnessy, grand larceny.	William Walker, perjury.
Robert S. Arndt, forgery.	Charles McLaughlin, sodomy.
Frank Walton, seduction.	Helen B. Dexter, misdemean.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS—PART I.

Held by Hackett, Recorder.

John Taffe, homicide.

NEW YORK OYER AND TERMINER.

Held by Brady, J.

James McGuire, homicide.

DEER-HUNTING IN VIRGINIA.

The Charlottesville (Va.) Jeffersonian of the 9th inst. says: "The Camp Armistead Deer-hunting Company, of Albemarle, assembled at their grounds ready for the annual hunt, 27th of October. The party consisted of twenty hunters, forty-two dogs, eighteen horses, and eight servants. It was organized by the election of that veteran hunter and former President, as President of the hunt, P. S. Coles, Esq. The party hunted five days and succeeded in killing thirteen deer; also, a large quantity of small game, such as turkeys, pheasants, partridges, squirrels, 'time,' &c. The successful shots were: Capt. C. L. Fowler, 1 buck and 1 doe; S. G. White, Esq., 2 does; Isaac Coles, 1 buck; P. S. Coles, Jr., 1 doe; Charles S. White, 1 buck; W. B. Tilman, 1 doe; J. J. Gleason, 1 buck; Joshua, (colored servant,) 1 buck; by citizens before the dogs, 3; total, 13. Six hounds were killed by poison."

FINANCIAL AFFAIRS.

SALES AT THE STOCK EXCHANGE—NOV. 14.

SALES BEFORE THE CALL—10 A. M.

100 Del. & Hudson	68¼	500 Lake Shore	54⅛
100 do. c.	68	1000 do.	54¼
100 do.	67⅞	600 do.	54⅜
100 do.	68	500 do. s3.	54⅜
300 Pac. Mail	24	2900 do.	54½
100 Cen. of N. J. b3.	32¾	1000 do.	54⅝
100 do.	32⅞	300 do. c.	54⅝
100 do.	33	700 do. b3.	54¾
100 West. Union	72¼	1100 do.	54¾
1600 do.	72⅛	220 Del. Lack. & W.	70¼
600 do. s3.	72	100 do.	70⅜
1400 do.	72	200 do.	70¼
300 do.	72⅛	200 do.	70⅛
900 do.	72¼	100 do. s3.	70
500 Rock Island	99⅝	200 do.	70⅛
100 do. b3.	99⅞	400 do.	70¼
1000 Michigan Cen.	41¾	950 do.	70⅜
100 do. c.	41¾	700 do.	70½
200 do.	41⅝	100 do. c.	70⅝
1000 do.	41½	100 do. c.	70¾
100 do.	41⅝	200 do.	70¾
400 do.	41¾	200 do.	70⅞
200 do.	41⅞	500 do.	70¾
100 do. c.	42	100 do. c.	70⅞
500 do.	42	1000 do.	70¾
100 do.	42⅛	300 St. Paul	21
500 do.	42¼	100 do.	21¼
200 do. b3.	42¼	300 St. Paul Pf.	52¾
10 Erie Railway	10	350 do.	52⅞
200 North-west. Pref.	59	130 Illinois Cen.	75
300 do.	58¾	300 Ohio & Miss.	6⅞
400 Tol. & Wab.	6¾	100 do. c.	7
200 do.	6¾	300 do.	7

GOVERNMENT STOCKS—10:15 AND 11:30 A. M.

$5,000 U.S. 6s R.'81 116¾	$11,000 U. S. 5-20 R., '65, N. 12.112¾
100,000 U. S. 5-20 R., '65 12.109⅞	10,000 U. S. 4½ R., '91 111
1,000 U. S. 5-20 C., '65 12.110	20,000 U. S. 5s, '81, C. b.c.112⅝

FIRST BOARD—10:30 A. M.

$5,000 La. 7s, con.	59¾	40 P., F.W.&C.gd.b.c.	101⅞
2,000 Mo. 6s, '77	102	600 L.S.&M.S. b.c.b3.	54¾
3,000 Mo. 6s, f'g. b.bc.	106	1000 do.	54¾
5,000 do. b.c.	106¼	300 do. s3.	54⅝
9,000 D. of C. 3.65s	67	900 do.	54⅝
3,000 Jersey C'y 6s, W. L. b.c.	103¼	1200 do. s3.	54½
		300 do.	54½
1,000 Alb. & Sus. 1st.	110	400 do. b3.	54⅝
7,000 N. J. C. 1st, con.	85	2500 do.	54½
3,000 Erie 3d	100¾	1700 do.	54⅝
1,000 Mich. So. S.F.	109	400 do. b3.	54¾
2,000 Mich. Cen. 7s.	102	800 do.	54¾
4,000 N. Y. C. 6s, '83.	102¾	200 do. b3.	54⅞
10,000 North Mo. 1st.	96	5200 do.	54⅞
2,000 C. & N.W. con.	103	400 do. s3.	54⅞
1,000 Ohio & M. c.s.f.	80	1000 do.	54¾
6,000 Ohio & M. 2d.	44	100 do. b3.	54¾
5,000 do. b.c.	44	200 do.	54⅝
10,000 Ohio & M. con.	75	100 T., W. & W. b.c. b3	6¾
5,000 do. b.c.	77	300 do.	6¾
10,000 Un. Pac. 1st.	105⅝	100 C., M. & St. P. b.c.	20⅞
5,000 do.	105¾	100 do.	21
5,000 Cen. Pac. 1st, San J. Br.	93½	500 do.	20¾
		300 do.	20⅝
5,000 do.	93¾	100 do. b3.	21
20,000 do.	94	100 do.	21
7,000 U. P. 7s, l. g.	101	200 C., M. & St. P. Pf. b.c.	52¼
1,000 Tol. & W. 1st.	99½	100 do. b3.	52⅜
2,000 do.	99	200 do.	52¼
4,000 T. & W. 1st, St. L. div.	72	200 do.	52½
		100 do.	52⅝
5,000 T.&W.C.Conv.	50	200 do.	52½
2,000 Gt. West. 2d.	65	220 Mor. & Es. b.c.	93
1,000 Ca. S. 1st, c. on	57	400 do. s30.	91
5,000 D. & H. R.'84.	105	300 Atl. & Pac. Pf. b.c.	2½
7 Am. Exch. Bank	106¼	200 do.	2⅝
69 Merch. Bank	118	100 H. & St. Jo. b.c.	12⅞
100 W. U. Tel. b.c. b3.	72⅜	500 Ohio & M. b.c. s3.	7
200 do.	72¼	100 do. b3.	7
400 do. s3.	72⅛	200 do.	6½
100 do.	72⅛	50 do.	6⅞
500 do.	72⅜	500 do.	6⅝
100 do. b3.	72⅜	100 do.	6¼
100 Pacific Mail b.c.	24⅛	500 do.	6
300 do.	24	300 do.	6¼
200 do.	24⅛	300 do.	6⅛
200 do. b3.	24⅛	500 C., C. & I. C. b.c.	3½
100 do. s3.	24	100 D., L. & W. b.c. s3.	70⅝
100 Wells Fargo b.c.	85	200 do.	70¾
100 Erie Railway b.c.	10⅛	100 do.	71
250 Illinois Cen. b.c.	74½	100 do. s3.	70⅞
100 Mich. Cen. b.c.	42⅛	400 do.	70⅞
600 do.	42	100 do. s3.	71
400 do. b3.	42	300 do.	71⅛
200 do. s3.	41⅞	100 do.	70⅞
200 do.	41⅞	400 do. s3.	71
300 do. b3.	41⅞	200 do.	71¼
100 do. s3.	41¾	100 do. s3.	71¼
100 do.	42	100 do. s3.	71⅜
300 do.	42⅛	300 do.	71½
200 do.	42¼	300 do.	71⅝
100 do. c.	42⅜	300 do.	71¾
300 do.	42⅜	200 do. s3.	71⅝
700 do.	42¼	100 do.	71⅞
700 do.	42⅜	500 do.	71¾
700 do.	42½	500 do.	71⅝
500 do.	42⅜	200 do.	71⅜
200 C.& N.W.Pf.b.c.s3	59⅛	100 do. c.	71½
400 do.	59	500 do.	71½
100 Cen. of N. J. b.c.	33⅛	100 do. c.	71⅝
900 do.	33¼	800 do.	71⅝
200 do.	33½	1000 do.	71½
25 C. & R. I. b.c.	99¾

SALES BEFORE THE CALL—12:30 P. M.

$104,000 U. S. 5-20 C. '65	110	300 Mich. Cen.	42
10,000 U. S. 5-20 C., '67 c.	115⅞	100 do.	42⅛
4,000 D. of C. 3.65s.	66½	700 do. b3.	42¼
2,000 Ohio & Mss. C.	76	300 do.	42
3,000 Ohio & M. 2d.	44	200 do.	42⅛
20,000 do. b.3.	44	1300 Lake Shore	54¾
4,000 St. L., J.&C. 1st	104⅛	200 do. b3.	54⅞
6,000 Union P. 1st	105¾	400 do.	54¾
3,000 U. Pac. S. F.	90½	100 Ill. Cent. b3.	75
2,000 D. & H. R., '91.	107¾	100 Del., L. & W. s3.	71⅜
5,000 D. & H. R., '84.	105	200 do.	71½
3,000 Mor. & E. 1st.	115¼	400 do.	71⅜
2,000 L. & W. B. con.	65	500 do.	71⅝
5,000 T. & W. 2d	66	100 St. Paul	20½
100 Del. & Hudson c.	68⅝	200 do.	20¼
100 N. Y. Cen. & Hud.	101⅜	500 do.	20⅛
500 Erie Railway	10¼	300 do.	20¼
100 do. b3.	10¼	400 do.	20⅜
200 Pacific Mail	24¼	200 St. Paul Pf.	52⅜
500 do.	24¼	700 do. s3.	52¼
500 do.	24½	100 do.	52
700 do.	24¾	100 do.	51⅞
700 do. s3.	24¾	1200 do.	52
1800 do.	24⅞	100 do.	52⅛
1000 do. b3.	25	100 do.	52
600 do.	24⅞	300 Tol. & Wabash	6½
100 Rock Island c.	100¼	50 Ohio & Miss.	7
100 do.	100¼	100 do.	6¼
100 Han. & St. Jo. Pf.	24⅝	100 do. s3.	6⅛
100 Mor. & Es.	93	200 do. s3.	6⅜

GOVERNMENT STOCKS—2 P. M.

$20,000 U. S. 6s, R. '81 116⅞	$10,000 U. S. 5-20 C., '68 116⅞
9,000 U. S. 6s, C., '81 b. c. 117¼	20,000 U. S. 5s, C. '81 112½

SECOND BOARD—1 P. M.

$8,000 N. J. C. Conv.	81	300 Cen. of N.J. b.c.	34
1,000 M. & St. P., C. & M. Div.	99	100 do. s30.	33
		300 do.	34¼
1,000 Mor. & E. 1st.	115⅛	100 do.	34⅜
500 Mor. & E. 2d.	106	2100 L. S. & M.S. b.c.	54⅞
5,000 Chic. & Mil. 1st. s15.	106	1800 do.	55
		1600 do.	55⅛
3,000 Erie 3d.	101	2850 do.	55¼
2,000 O. & M. C.S.F.	78	1000 do. s3.	55¼
5,000 Ohio & M. C. B.	78	300 do.	55⅜
1,000 Cen. Pac. 1st, San J. B'h	94¼	2000 do.	55½
		3001 do.	55⅝
21,000 do.	94	1500 do.	55¾
100 Del. & H. Can.	68⅞	3500 do.	55⅞
100 do.	68	100 do. s3.	55¾
100 do.	68⅝	50 C. & R. I. b.c.	100¼
100 do. b.c.	69	22 do.	100½
100 do.	69	6 P., Ft. W. & C. G. bc.	101½
100 West. Un. b.c.	72	50 Chic. M. & St. P. b.c.	20½
800 do. b3.	72	100 do.	20⅝
200 do.	72	100 C.M.&S.P.Pf. b.c.	52
15 Amer. Ex. b.c.	60	300 do.	52¼
19 U. S. Express b.c.	58½	100 do.	52⅜
100 Pacific Mail b.c.	24¾	400 do.	52½
800 do. b3.	24⅞	100 D., L. & W. b.c.	71⅝
1600 do.	24⅞	700 do.	71¾
200 do.	24¾	200 do.	71⅝
50 N. Y. C. & H. b.c.	101½	1100 do.	72
10 do.	102¼	400 do.	71¾
300 do. s3.	102¼	200 do.	71⅞
100 Mich. Cen. b.c.	42¼	200 Ohio & M. b.c.	6¾
100 do. c.	42¼	300 do.	6¼
500 do.	42½	200 do.	6⅜
100 do.	42⅝	60 do.	6⅛
200 do.	42¾	100 do.	6⅜
300 do.	42⅞	500 do.	6¼
300 do.	43	100 do. s10.	6⅛
500 do.	43⅛	400 do.	6¼
800 do.	43	100 Ohio & M. Pf. b.c.	12
500 do.	42⅞	200 Han. & St. Jo. b.c.	12⅝
800 do.	43	100 do.	12¼
100 C. & N. W. Pf. b.c.	59⅛	100 H. & St. Jo. Pf. b.c	24¼
100 do.	59½	200 T., W. & W. b.c.	6½

SALES FROM 2:30 TO 3 P. M.

$5,000 Tenn. 6s, New.	45¼	100 N.Y.C. & Hud.	102
10,000 Tenn. 6s Old.	45⅝	200 Mich. Central	43⅛
10,000 Cen. Pac., San Joaq. Br.	94½	100 do.	43
		500 do.	43¼
5,000 Cen. Pac., C. & O. B'h.	94½	1100 do.	43⅜
		1000 do.	43¼
100 Pacific Mail	24¾	300 do.	43⅛
100 do. b3.	24¾	400 do.	43
100 Quicksilver Pref.	17	700 do.	42⅞
200 West. Union b3.	72⅝	400 do. s3.	42¾
300 do.	72½	200 do.	42¾
100 do. s3.	72⅜	200 do.	42⅞
600 do.	72¼	200 North-west. Pf.	59¼
100 Erie Railway	10⅜	200 Cen. of N. J.	34¼
200 do. s3.	10¼	230 do.	34
300 do.	10¼	100 do.	34¼
600 Lake Shore	55¾	400 do.	33½
900 do.	55⅝	100 Rock Island	100¾
300 do.	55¾	100 St. Paul	20½
1600 do.	55⅞	100 do.	20⅜
800 do.	56	100 St. Paul Pref.	52⅝
1700 do.	56⅛	200 do.	52¾
2500 do.	56¼	100 do.	52⅝
1100 do.	56⅜	100 do.	52½
1000 do.	56¼	100 do.	52⅜
1500 do.	56⅛	100 do.	52¼
1000 do.	56	100 do. s30.	52
500 do. s3.	55⅞	400 Ohio & Miss.	6¼
800 do.	56	100 do.	6⅜
500 do.	55⅞	6 Chic. & Alton	99
1000 do.	55¾	200 Del., Lack. & W.	71¾
500 do. s3.	55⅝	400 do.	72
1200 do.	55⅝	200 do.	72⅛
1300 do. s3.	55½	1000 do.	72¼
200 do. b3.	55⅝	200 do.	72⅛
4400 do.	55½	100 do.	71¾
100 do.	55⅝	100 do. s3.	71⅝
100 do. s3.	55½	100 Han. & St. Jo.	12½
600 do.	55¾	100 do.	12⅝
300 do.	55⅜	100 Mor. & Es.	92⅝
300 do.	55⅞

TUESDAY, Nov. 14—P. M.

Speculation on the Stock Exchange to-day was to a certain extent influenced by the rather warlike character of the European dispatches, but much more so by a report that the representatives of the trunk lines were about to hold another conference and that the prospects were favorable for a satisfactory settlement of their differences. Both causes combined to impart strength to values, but the improvement in prices was partially lost when the report in regard to the proposed railroad conference was authoritatively denied. The advance ranged from ⅜@2¼ ℘ cent. on the active stocks, Lake Shore making the greatest improvement. Delaware, Lackawanna and Western advanced 1¾ ℘ cent. Michigan Central and New-Jersey Central each 1⅝, and New-York Central, Pacific Mail, and Rock Island, each ⅞ ℘ cent. The reaction from the highest prices was ¼@⅞ ℘ cent. The St. Paul shares, Ohio and Mississippi, and Toledo and Wabash, did not share in the advance in the general list, but on the contrary were noticeably weak. The transactions aggregated about 166,000 shares, of which 76,550 were in Lake Shore, 19,900 in Michigan Central, 19,270 in Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, 10,000 in Milwaukee and St. Paul, 93,000 in Pacific Mail, 91,000 in Western Union, 7,000 in Ohios, and 4,100 in New-Jersey Central.

Some of the shareholders of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad Company, who are prominently identified with speculation in Wall street, applied to-day to Judge Lawrence for an order to compel the Directors to afford the stockholders an opportunity to examine the transfer-books. The movement is generally regarded on the street as directed against the Central interest, and, if so, may be looked upon as indicative that the parties to it do not expect a termination of the railroad war by means of negotiation.

The money market has been easy throughout the day, the rate for call loans being 3@3½ ℘ cent. during the greater portion of the day and 2 ℘ cent. at the close. The national bank notes received for redemption to-day amounted to $300,000. The following were the rates of exchange on New-York at the under-mentioned cities to-day: Savannah, buying, ⅜ off; selling, par@¼ off; Charleston scarce, nominal, 5-16@par; Cincinnati dull, 100 discount; New-Orleans, commercial, ⅜; bank, ¼: St. Louis, par to 100 discount, and Chicago, 25 to 50 premium.

The foreign advices reported further depression in the European markets in consequence of the menacing attitude assumed by Russia. At London to-day a dispatch was received from St. Petersburg announcing that the Czar had mobilized a portion of the Russian Army, and that Prince Gortschakoff had sent a circular to the powers stating that, while Russia did not want war, and would, if possible, avoid it, the Czar was determined that justice should be carried out in Turkey under guarantees. On the Stock Exchange at London Russian securities tumbled 4 ℘ cent., and Consols and Rentes at Paris fell off ½ ℘ cent., Consols closing at 95 5-16 for both money and the account, and Rentes at 104f. 25c. United States bonds at London were about steady and closed at 103¼ for 1865s, (old,) 109 for 1867s, 108⅛ for 10-40s, and 106¼ for new 5s. Erie closed at 9⅝. At Frankfort our new 5s sold down to 102⅛. Bullion to the amount of £39,000 was withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance to-day. This is "ticket day" and to-morrow "fortnighly settling day" at the London Stock Exchange. From Constantinople it is announced that the third million Turkish pounds of the new paper currency is about to be issued.

The sterling exchange market was quiet and steady, actual business being at $4 81¾@$4 82 for bankers' 60-day bills, and $4 83¾@$4 84 for demand. The nominal asking rates remain at $4 82 for long and $4 84 for sight drafts.

The gold speculation was firm, the war-like character of the European dispatches failing to have any material effect upon the price. The extremes of the day were 109⅝@109⅞, the closing sales being at 109¾. On gold loans, 1 to 3 ℘ cent. was paid for carrying.

Government bonds were steady throughout the day on moderate transactions. In railroad bonds, Ohio and Mississippi Consolidated sinking funds fell off to 78, a decline of 2 ℘ cent. since the forenoon, and 12 ℘ cent. since the 10th instant, when the bonds were last offered at 90. Ohio and Mississippi Consols fell off from 86 to 75, and recovered to 78 in the late dealings; do. seconds declined 1 ℘ cent., to 44; Great Western seconds, 2 ℘ cent., to 65; New-Jersey Central Convertible, ½ ℘ cent., to 81; and Morris and Essex seconds, ½ ℘ cent., to 106. Toledo and Wabash firsts advanced to 99; do. St. Louis division to 72; Central Pacific firsts, San Joaquin branch, to 94¼; and Union Pacific firsts, to 105¾. In State bonds, District of Columbia 3-65s declined to 66½; Louisiana 7s, Consolidated, sold at 59¾; Missouri 6s at 102, Long 6s at 106; Tennessee, new at 45¼, and old at 45⅝.

The exports of domestic produce from the port of New-York to foreign ports for the week ending this date were $5,431,408, against $4,832,890 for the corresponding week in 1875, and $5,365,249 in 1874. The total exports of produce from the port since Jan. 1, this year, were $234,588,272, against $222,144,117 for the corresponding period in 1875, and $256,118,088 in 1874.

UNITED STATES TREASURY, NEW-YORK, Nov. 14, 1876.

Gold receipts	$714,082 07
Gold payments	732,443 38
Gold balance	52,151,319 01
Currency receipts	714,877 05
Currency payments	346,789 24
Currency balance	43,308,720 63
Customs	370,000 00

CLOSING QUOTATIONS—NOV. 14.

	Monday.	Tuesday.
American gold	109¾	109¾
United States 4½s, 1891, coup	111	111
United States 5s, 1881, coup	112⅞	112⅝
United States 5-20s, 1867, coup	115⅞	115⅞
Bills on London	$4 82	$4 81¾@$4 82
New-York Central	101	102¼
Rock Island	99⅝	100⅝
Pacific Mail	23⅞	24¾
Milwaukee and St. Paul	20⅞	20½
Milwaukee and St. Paul Pref	52½	52⅜
Lake Shore	54⅛	55⅞
Chicago and North-western	36⅜	36⅜
Chicago and North-western Pref	59	59¼
Western Union	72⅛	72¼
Union Pacific	59¼	59¼
Delaware, Lack. and Western	70⅝	71¾
New-Jersey Central	32⅞	33½
Delaware and Hudson Canal	69	69¼
Morris and Essex	93¾	93
Panama	125	125
Erie	9¾	10¼
Ohio and Mississippi	6⅞	6¼
Harlem	135⅜	135⅜
Hannibal and St. Joseph	12⅞	12⅝
Hannibal and St. Joseph Pref	24¼	24¼
Michigan Central	41⅝	42⅞
Illinois Central	76½	74

The extreme range of prices in stocks to-day and the number of shares sold are as follows:

	Highest.	Lowest.	No. of Shares.
New-York Central	102¼	101⅜	550
Erie	10⅜	10⅛	1,300
Lake Shore	56	54⅛	76,550
Wabash	7	6	1,500
North-western Preferred	59½	58¾	1,500
Rock Island	100¾	99⅝	995
Milwaukee and St. Paul	21¼	20⅛	3,400
Mil. and St. Paul Pref	52⅞	51⅞	6,550
Delaware, Lack. and West.	72¼	70	19,270
New-Jersey Central	34⅜	32¾	4,130
Del. & Hudson Canal	69¼	67⅞	700
Morris and Essex	93	92½	800
Michigan Central	43⅜	41½	19,900
Illinois Central	75	74½	530
C., C. and I. C.	3½	3½	500
Hannibal and St. Joseph	12⅞	12¼	600
Hannibal and St. Joseph Pf.	24⅝	24¼	200
Ohio and Mississippi	7	6¼	7,060
Ohio & Mississippi Pref.	12	12	100
Western Union	72⅝	72	9,100
Pacific Mail	25	24	9,300
A. & P. Preferred	2⅝	2½	500
Quicksilver Pref.	17	17	100
Wells, Fargo & Co.	85	85	100
Total sales			166,235

The following were the closing quotations of Government bonds:

	Bid.	Asked.
United States currency 6s	123⅜	123⅝
United States 6s, 1881, registered	116¾	117
United States 6s, 1881, coupons	117¼	117½
United States 5-20s, 1865, registered	110	110¼
United States 5-20s, 1865, coupons	110⅛	110⅜
United States 5-20s, 1865, new, reg	112¾	113
United States 5-20s, 1865, new, coup	112¾	113
United States 5-20s, 1867, registered	115¾	116
United States 5-20s, 1867, coupons	115¾	116
United States 5-20s, 1868, registered	116¾	117¼
United States 5-20s, 1868, coupons	116¾	117¼
United States 10-40s, registered	113¾	114¼
United States 10-40s, coupons	114½	115
United States 5s, 1881, registered	112⅜	112⅝
United States 5s, 1881, coupons	112⅜	112⅝
United States 4½	110½	111

The following table shows the transactions at the Gold Exchange Bank to-day:

Gold cleared	$16,449,000
Gold balances	1,127,567
Currency balances	1,239,122

The Sub-Treasurer disbursed in gold coin $114,000 for interest, $16,000 for called bonds, and $11,800 silver coin in exchange for fractional currency.

The following is the Clearing-house statement to-day:

Currency exchanges	$66,904,425
Currency balances	3,261,353
Gold exchanges	4,328,448
Gold balances	609,365

The following were the bids for the various State securities:

Alabama 5s, 1883	34	N. C. 6's, old, J. & J.	19
Alabama 5s, 1886	34	N. C. 6s, o., A. & O.	19
Alabama 8s, 1886	35	N. C. 6s, N.C.R., J&J.	62
Alabama 8s, 1888	35	N. C. 6s, N.C.R. A&O.	62
Arkansas 6s, F'd	32¼	N. C. N.C.R., c.off, J&J	41
Ark. 7s, M. O. & R.R.	5	N.C. N.C.R., o.off A&O.	42
Ark. 7s, A. C. R.	5	N.C. Fund. Act, '66.	9
Connecticut 6s	113	N.C. Fund. Act. '68.	9½
Georgia 6s	93	N. C. N. bs., J. & J.	7½
Ga. 7s, new bonds	105	N. C. S. Tax, class 1.	2¼
Ga. 7s, indorsed	102	N. C. S. Tax, class 2.	2
Ga. 7s, Gold bonds	106¼	N. C. S. Tax, class 3.	2¼
Illinois c. 6s, '77	103	Ohio 6s, '86	112½
Illinois c. 6s, '79	103	Rhode Island 6s	110
Illinois War Loan	103½	South Carolina 6s	40
Kentucky 6s	103½	S. C. 6s, J. & J.	37
Louisiana 6s	41	S. C. 6s, A. & O.	37
La. 6s, new bonds	41	S. C. 6s, F. A., '66	40
La. 6s, new Fl. Dbt.	41	S. C. L. C. '89, J.&J.	50
La. 7s, Penitentiary	41	S. C. L. C. '89, A.&O.	50
La. 6s, Levee bonds	41	S. C. 7s, of '88	35
La. 8s, Levee bonds	41	S. C. N. F. bs	2¼
La. 8s, L. B. of '75	41	Tennessee 6s, old	45½
Mo. 6s, due in '77	102	Tenn. 6s, new bds	45½
Mo. 6s, due in '78	102¼	Tenn. 6s, n. bs. n. s.	45
Long bs, due '82-90 in	106	Virginia 6s, old	30
F'dg bds., due '94-95	105	Virginia 6s, n. bs., '66.	30
H. & St. Jo., due '87	105	Virginia 6s, n. bs., '67.	30
N. Y. Reg. B. L.	103	Virginia 6s, Con. bs.	79½
N. Y. Coup B. L.	103	Va. 6s, ex mat. coup.	68⅜
N. Y. 6s, G. R., 1887	116	Va. 6s, Def. bds.	6½
N. Y. 6s, G. L., 1891	120	Dis. of Col. 3.65s, 1924	66¼
N. Y. 6s, G. L., 1892	120

And the following for railway mortgages:

Alb. & Sus. 1st bs	110	Clev. & T. new bds.	105
Alb. & Sus. 2d bs	100	C., P. & A., old bds.	107½
Ches. & Ohio 6s, 1st.	30	C. P. & A., new bds.	106
Chic. & Alt. 1st	116	Buf. & Erie, new bds.	106
Chicago & Alton ln.	103	Buf. & S. L. 7s	106
Joliet & Chic. 1st	110	Kal. & W. Pig. 1st	80
La. & Mo. 1st guar.	87½	L. S. Div. bonds	105
St. L. J. & Chic. 1st.	103	L. S. Con. R. 1st	104
C., B. & Q. 8 p. c. 1st.	116½	Mar. & Cin. 1st	107
C.R.I.& P. 1st 7's	110½	Mich. C. C. 7s, 1902	102
C.R. of N.J. 1st, new	110⅛	Mich. C. 1st. 8s, '82 S.F.	112
C.R. of N.J. 1st Con.	84½	N. Y. C. 6s, 1883	102½
C.R. of N.J. Conv.	81	N. Y. C. 6s, 1887	104½
M.&S.P. 1st 8s. P.D.	116	N. Y. Cen. 6s, R.E.	100¼
M.&S.P. 2d, 73-10 P.D.	98¼	N. Y. Cen. 6s, Sub.	100¼
M.&S.P. 1st 7⅛g. R.D.	102	N.Y.C.& H. 1st, coup.	119½
M.&St.P. 1st. La.C.D.	103	N.Y.C. & H. 1st reg.	119½
M.&S.P. 1s. C.& M.	97	Hud. R. 7s, 2d, S.F. '85	112
M. & St. P. C. S. F.	86¼	Har. 1st, 7s, coup.	115¼
M. & St. Paul 2d	91	N. Missouri 1st	96¼
C. & N. W. S. F.	109	Ohio & M. Cons. S. F.	78
C. & N.W. Int. bds.	103	Ohio & Miss Cons.	75
C. & N. W. Ex. bs.	100	Ohio & Miss. 2d Cons.	44⅛
C. & N. W. 1st	106¼	Cen. Pac. G. bds.	110½
C. & N. W. C. G. B.	95⅞	Cen. Pac., Cal. & O. 1st.	94
Galena & Chic. Ext'd	106	Western Pac. bds.	102¼
Penins. 1st Conver.	103	Un. Pac. 1st bds.	105¾
Chicago & Mil. 1st	106	Un. Pac., L. G. 7s	100⅞
C.C.C.&I. 1st 7's. S.F.	108¼	Union Pac. S. F.	90
Del. L. & W. 2d	107½	Pac. R. of Mo., 1st	94½
Mor. & Es. 1st	115	Pac. R. of Mo. 2d	83
Mor. & Es. 2d	106	P., Ft. W. & Chic. 1st.	121
Mor. & Es. Const.	93	C. & P. C. S. F.	108½
M. & E. 7s of '71	101	C. & P. 4th S. F.	105¾
M. & E. 1st. C. G.	101	St. Louis & I. M. 1st.	100
Erie 1st, Ext.	108	A. & T. H. 2d pref.	90
Erie 4th 7s, '80	98	T., P. & W. E.D.	88
Erie 5th 7s, '88	100½	T., P. & W. 2d	27
Long Dock Bonds	105	T., P. & W. Con., 7s.	28
Buf., N.Y.& E. 1st, '77.	91½	Tol. & Wab. 1st, Ex.	99
B., N. Y. & E., L. B.	93	Tol. & W. 1st, St. L. D.	71
Han. & St. J. 8s, Conv.	81¼	Tol. & W. 2d.	66
Dub. & S. City 1st	106	Tol. & W. Con., Conv.	48
Dub. & S. C. 2d Div.	106	Gt. West. 1st '88	95
Ced. F. & Min. 1st	86	Gt. West. 2d, '93	63
Ind., Blm. & W. 1st	22	Q. & Tol. 1st, 1890	55
M. S. 7 ℘ cent. 2d	101½	W. Un. bs., 1900, C.	101¼
M.S.N.I.S.F. 7 ℘ ct.	109	W. Un. bs. 1900, R.	101¼
Clev. & Tol. S. F.	109

And the following for City bank shares:

American Exchange	106½	Importers' & Trad'rs'	186
Central National	101½	Manhattan	129
Commerce	108	Merchants'	117
Continental	88	Metropolitan	123½
Corn Exchange	126	New-York	119
First National	200	Park	110
Fourth National	93	Phenix	85
Fifth Avenue	212	State of N.Y., New	103
Hanover	87

PHILADELPHIA STOCK PRICES—NOV. 14.

	Bid.	Asked.
City 6s, New	113¼	113½
United Railroads of New-Jersey	136	136½
Pennsylvania Railroad	46¼	46⅜
Reading Railroad	22⅝	22¾
Lehigh Valley Railroad	49⅞	50
Catawissa Railroad Preferred	38	39
Philadelphia and Erie Railroad	13¼	14
Schuylkill Navigation Preferred	10½	11
Northern Central Railroad	27¼	28
Lehigh Navigation	30⅛	30¼
Oil Creek and Allegheny Railroad	8⅜	8½
Hestonville Railway	22⅛	22¼

CALIFORNIA MINING STOCKS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The following are the closing prices of mining stocks to-day:

Alpha	32½	Justice	22
Belcher	13¾	Kossuth	1¼
Best and Belcher	42¼	Kentuck	10½
Bullion	28	Leopard	7
Consolidated Virginia	45	Mexican	23
California	53¼	Northern Belle	31
Cholar	68	Overman	74
Confidence	12	Ophir	43
Caledonia	8½	Raymond and Ely	5
Crown Point	9	Silver Hill	7½
Exchequer	12	Savage	11¼
Gould and Curry	12¼	Segregated Belcher	62
Hale and Norcross	7	Sierra Nevada	11
Imperial	2½	Union Consolidated	11½
Julia Consolidated	6¼	Yellow Jacket	15¼

COMMERCIAL AFFAIRS.

NEW-YORK, Nov. 14, 1876.

The receipts of the principal kinds of Produce since our last have been as follows:

Ashes, pks.	14	Leather, sides	18,958
Broom-corn, bales	88	Lead, pigs	1,290
Beans, bbls	526	Oil, bbls	110
Cotton, bales	5,706	Spirits Turp., bbls.	369
Cotn.-seed, m'l bgs.	532	Resin, bbls	1,799
Copper, bbls	18	Oil-cake, pks	863
Copper, cakes	712	Pork, pks	1,270
Dried Fruit, pks	1,343	Beef, pks	1,169
Eggs, bbls	2,041	Cut-meats, pks	3,124
Flour, bbls	9,836	Grease, pks	103
Wheat, bushels	48,831	Lard, pks	1,175
Corn, bushels	34,832	Stearine, pks	22
Oats, bushels	73,726	Butter, pks	5,598
Malt, bushels	1,237	Cheese, pks	7,062
Barley, bushels	46,444	Tallow, pks	414
Peas, bushels	4,640	Lard-oil, bbls	10
Grass-seed, bags	1,576	Dressed Hogs, No.	11
Flax-seed, bags	740	Spelter, pks	2,463
Corn-meal, bbls	100	Starch, bxs	436
Corn-meal, bags	185	Silk, pks	156
Buckwht Flour, pks	56	Tobacco, hhds	275
Hemp, bales	42	Tobacco, bxs. & cs.	188
Hops, bales	280	Whisky, bbls	917
Hides, No.	40	Wool, bales	114
Hides, bales	624

ASHES—Have been quoted about steady, on, however, a slow movement....Pots are quoted at $4 75@$5, and Pearls at $6 75@$7 ℘ 100 ℔.

BEES-WAX—Yellow continues in slack demand at from 30½c.@32c. ℘ ℔.

CANDLES—Have been in generally limited request, with Adamantine quoted at 12c.@16c.; Paraffine, 19c.@20c.; Sperm, plain, 28c.; Sperm, patent, 38c.; Stearic, 27c.@28c. ℘ ℔.

COAL—A very slow movement has been noted in this line with prices quoted about as before....Liverpool House Cannel quoted at $15@$17; Liverpool Gas Cannel, $10@$11; Newcastle Gas, $5 50; Scotch Gas, $5@$7; Provincial Gas, $4 50@$5 50; American Gas, $5 75@$6 25; Cumberland and Clearfield, $5@$5 25; and Anthracite, $4@$5, for cargoes.

COFFEE—Quoted firm, on the basis of the figures given in our last, but inactive.

COTTON—Has been moderately dealt in for early delivery, at a reduction of ⅛c. ℘ ℔. The foreign advices were deemed unfavorable to this interest.... Ordinary quoted at 10 1-16c.; Low Middling, 11 7-16c.@11 11-16c.; Middling, 12c.@12 3-16c. ℘ ℔....Sales were officially reported for prompt delivery of 1,527 bales, (of which 861 bales were on last evening,) including 175 bales to shippers, 1,252 bales to spinners, and 100 bales to speculators....And for forward delivery stock has been freely purchased, but at lower prices, under more liberal and urgent offerings, closing weak and feverish....Sales have been reported since our last of 45,900 bales, of which 8,600 bales were on last evening, and 37,300 bales to-day, with 4,700 bales on the calls, on the basis of Middling, with November options closing at 11¾c.@11 25-32c.; December, 11 25-32c.; January, 11 29-32c.@11 15-16c.; February, 12 1-16c.@12 3-32c.; March, 12 7-32c.@12¼c.; April, 12 13-32c.@12 7-16c.; May, 12 19-32c.; June, 12 25-32c.@12 13-16c.; July, 12 15-16c.@12 31-32c.; August, 13c.@13 1-32c. ℘ ℔., showing a decline of 3-16c.@9-32c. ℘ ℔., closing irregular, unsettled, and weak....The receipts at this port to-day were 5,706 bales, and at the shipping ports 28,108 bales, against 36,347 bales same day last week, and thus far this week, 108,236 bales, against 105,992 bales last week....The receipts at the shipping ports since Sept. 1, 1876, have been 1,332,755 bales, against 1,116,191 bales for the corresponding time in the preceding Cotton year....Consolidated exports (three days) for Great Britain from all shipping ports, 20,478 bales; to the Continent, 10,674 bales....Stock in New-York to-day, 157,252 bales; consolidated stock at the ports, 759,856 bales.

Closing Prices of Cotton in New-York.

New Cotton.	Uplands.	Alabama.	N. O.	Texas
Ordinary	10 1-16	10 1-16	10 1-16	10 1-16
Strict Ordinary	10 7-16	10 7-16	10 7-16	10 7-16
Good Ordinary	10 15-16	10 15-16	10 15-16	10 15-16
Strict Good Ord.	11 3-16	11 3-16	11¼	11¼
Low Middling	11 7-16	11 9-16	11 11-16	11 11-16
Strict Low Mid.	11¾	11⅞	12	12
Middling	12	12⅛	12 3-16	12 3-16
Good Middling	12 3-16	12 5-16	12 7-16	12 7-16
Strict Good Mid.	12 7-16	12 9-16	12 11-16	12 11-16
Middling Fair	12 13-16	12 15-16	13 1-16	13 1-16
Fair	13½	13 11-16	13 13-16	13 13-16

Stained.

Good Ordinary	9 13-16	Low Middling	10 13-16
Strict Good Ord	10 7-16	Middling	11 5-16

FIRE-CRACKERS—A light call has been noted since our last on the basis of $2@$2 05 ℘ box.

FISH—There has been a fairly active inquiry noted for the leading kinds on a generally firmer basis as to values, though in the instance of Herrings prices show considerable irregularity....We quote: Dry Cod, $5@$6 ℘ cwt.; Dry Cod, in drums, $5 50@$6 50; Mackerel quoted at $17 50@$20 for No. 1; $8@$12 for No. 2, and $6@$10 for No. 3 ℘ bbl; Pickled Herring, $3 50@$6; Smoked Herring at 18c.@22c. for Scaled, and 15c. for No. 1 ℘ box; Dutch Herring, $1 30@$1 35 ℘ box.

FLOUR AND MEAL—A fairly active business has been reported to-day in State and Western Flour, prices of desirable lots of which, especially of low grade stock, have favored sellers, on restricted offerings. Export inquiry good. Minnesota Extras quite freely purchased. ....Sales have been reported, since our last, of 22,200 bbls., of all grades, including unsound Flour at $3 50@$5 50, chiefly Western Extras, at $4 75@$5; Sour Flour at $3 50@$5 75, mainly Extras, at $4 25@$5; very poor to fancy No. 2 at $3 40@$4 [illegible] mostly at $3 65@$4 25; very poor to very choice Superfine Western, $4 40@$5 10, mostly at $4 65@$5; poor to very good Extra State, $5 15@$5 40, mainly at $5 25@$5 35; very good to strictly choice do. at $5 40@$5 75; City Mill Extras, shipping grades, $5 25@$6 35, mainly at $6 10@$6 25, for the West Indies, with very fancy quoted higher; and at $5 25 for the English market; inferior to very good shipping Extra Western, $5 10@$5 40; very good to very choice do., $5 40@$5 75; round-hoop Ohio shipping at $5 15@$5 75, mainly at $5 25@$5 40; good to very choice Western Trade and Family Extras, Spring Wheat stock, $5 60@$7 50; very poor to very choice do., do., Red and Amber Winter Wheat stock at $5 60@$7 50; ordinary to very choice White Wheat, do., do., $5 75@$8 25; poor to very choice St. Louis Extras, $5 75@$8 25; Extra Genesee at $5 75@$6 75; poor to fancy Minnesota straight Extras, $5 60@$7 25, chiefly at $6 25@$7 for fair to choice; Minnesota Patent Extras, inferior to very choice, at $7 25@$9 50, mainly at $7 40@$8 50.... Included in the sales have been, 8,000 bbls. shipping Extras, of which 8,000 bbls. City Mills, 4,700 bbls. Minnesota straight Extras, 1,900 bbls. do. patent do., 1,850 bbls. Winter Wheat Extras, (for shipment: these at $5 75@$6 25, mostly at $6@$6 25;) 950 bbls. Superfine, 700 bbls. No. 2, and 650 bbls. unsound Extras at quoted rates....Southern Flour has been moderately inquired for and has been quoted steady....Sales have been reported here of 1,700 bbls., in lots, at $4 40@$5 10 for very poor to very choice Superfine; $5 25@$6 35 for poor to very choice shipping Extras; $6 40@$8 50 for fair to choice trade and family, the latter an extreme....Rye Flour has been quoted barely steady, on a moderate business, in the jobbing line ....We quote from $4 35@$5 05 for poor Western to fancy State Superfine, and $2 50@$3 50 for poor to choice fine....Sales, 530 bbls., in lots, mainly at $4 75@$5 for fair to choice Superfine.... Corn-meal has been in fair request, and quoted essentially unaltered as to values....We quote at $2 70@$3 10 for ordinary to very choice Yellow Western; $2 70@$3 10 for Yellow Jersey, and $3 35 for Brandywine....Sales have been reported of 970 bbls., including Yellow Western, about fair to choice, at $2 80@$3; and since our last 400 bbls. Brandywine at $3 35....Corn-meal, in bags, has been sold to the extent of 2,800 bags within the range of 90c.@$1 35 for ordinary to very choice, ℘ 100 ℔.; most of the sales have been of coarse lots at 90c.@$1 09....Oat-meal continues dull throughout within the range of $6@$6 50; very choice held much higher ℘ bbl....Buckwheat Flour has been lightly dealt in, within the range of $3@$3 25 for good choice State, Jersey, and Pennsylvania.

FRUITS—Rather more demand was noted for the leading kinds, at steadier rates....Sales included 4,000 bxs. layer Raisins at $2 05@$2 07½; 3,500 bxs. Loose Muscatel at $2 05@$2 20; 1,800 half bxs. Valencia Raisins 9¼c.@9⅜c.; 35 casks Turkey Prunes at 9c. for New, and 5¾c.@6c. for Old.

GRAIN—Unusually liberal dealings were reported to-day in Spring Wheat, mainly for shipment, at a further rise of fully 2c. a bushel, Greek buyers operating freely. Cable reports were deemed warlike, which served to quicken the export inquiry. The business was in part to arrive. And Winter Wheat was also more sought after at an improvement of 1c.@2c. a bushel, the general market closing strong and buoyant....Sales have been reported to-day of 297,000 bushels, including new White Michigan graded, New-York No. 2 White, at $1 39, (8,000 bushels for milling;) new red Western, ordinary to choice, at $1 15@$1 30, (of which 8,000 bushels at $1 28, and sundry car lots within the range;) new No. 1 Chicago Spring, 10,000 bushels, to arrive, at $1 30; new No. 1 Minnesota do., 16,000 bushels, at $1 32; new No. 2 Milwaukee Spring, strictly prime, at $1 31; new No. 2 Sheboygan do., at $1 30; No. 2 Chicago Spring at $1 27@$1 28 for new, and $1 23@$1 25 for old and new (mixed;) new No. 3 Milwaukee Spring, part to arrive, at $1 23; new No. 2 and 3 Chicago do. at $1 23; old and new No. 3 Spring, in store, at $1 20; old No. 2 and 3 Milwaukee do. at $1 18@$1 20; ungraded Spring at $1 11@$1 32, (chiefly new Chicago, in store, at $1 25;) and No. 1 Canada Spring, in bond, at $1 32 ℘ bushel. Other sales were rumored, but without confirmation....Corn has been quoted rather higher again to-day, on a somewhat freer movement, partly for shipment....Sales have been reported, since our last, of 85,000 bushels, including ungraded sailing vessel Mixed Western, prime to choice, 60c.@61c; No. 2 Chicago quoted at 60c.; Kansas do., at 60½c.@61c., mainly at 60½c.; ungraded steamer Mixed do., 58¾c.@59½c.; New-York No. 2 White at 58½c.@59c.; New-York Mixed at 60c.; New-York steamer Mixed at 59c.@59¼c., mostly at 59c.; New-York Low Mixed quoted at 59c.@59½c.; New-York No. 1 at 60½c.; New-York no grade at 56c. for new; new crop Mixed Western, car lots, at 55c.@57c., mainly at 55½c.; Yellow Western at 61c.@61½c.; White Western at 60c.@61c.; and old Mixed Western, poor to very good, at 55c.@60c.; of which 15,000 bushels poor, for distilling, at 55c....And for forward delivery, prime sailing vessel Mixed Western, for November, quoted nominal, at 60c. ....Rye has been more active and quoted higher; fair to choice Western quoted at 75c.@80c.; good to prime State at 88c.@90c.; good to very choice Canada, in bond, afloat, at 88c.@92c., car lots and afloat....Sales reported of about 25,000 bushels at 88c.@90c. for State and 76c.@79c. for Western....Barley has been in fair request and held firmly. Sales reported of 10,000 bushels No. 2 Canada at $1 10; 10,000 bushels ungraded do. at $1; and rumored, 10,000 bushels do. at $1 05, and a boat-load of No. 1 Canada on private terms, these without confirmation....Barley-malt has been in some request, with fair to very choice Canada West quoted about steady at $1 10@1 30, cash and time; six-rowed State, fair to very choice, at 95c.@$1 05....Buckwheat has been quiet; new State, quoted at 80c.@85c....Canada Peas have been in some demand at 93c.@93½c., in bond....Oats have been quite strong in price, on a fairly active inquiry....Sales reported of 51,000 bushels, including new White Western, in lots, at 30c.@47c., as to quality, mostly at 37½c.@42½c.; new White State, ordinary to very choice, at 48c.@52c., chiefly at 50c. afloat; new Mixed Western, 32c.@44c., as to quality, mostly at 33c.@38c.; New-York No. 2 White at 42c.@43c.; New-York No. 3 White at 33c.@38½c.; New-York Rejected at 32½c.@33c.; new Mixed State at 47c.@50c. for poor to prime, chiefly at 49c.@50c....The business was again mostly in State stock....Old Oats dull at former figures....Feed in active request and firmer at from $13 50@$24.... Hay and Straw as last quoted....Clover-seed in more demand and quoted within the advanced range of 15¼c.@15½c. for fair to strictly choice. Sales reported of about 500 bags, part to arrive, at 15½c.@15¼c....Other Seeds as last quoted.

HEMP—Quiet but steady; sales include 250 bales Jute Butts at 3 1-16c.@3⅛c., currency.

METALS—Ingot Copper strong and more sought after; sales of 250,000 ℔. Lake at 20¼c.@20⅜c., and 150,000 ℔. Tennessee on private terms. Pig-iron is very quiet and unchanged as to prices. Pig-tin strong on an advance in England; the quotations are 20c., gold, for Banca; 17⅝c.@18c., do., for Straits; 17⅜c., do., for English Refined, and 17½c.@17¾c., do., for L. and F. Tin Plates steady, but quiet; sales of 1,000 bxs. Coke on private terms.

MOLASSES—An extensive movement, chiefly on refining account, and at advancing prices; sales within a week, not before reported, reaching 3,520 hhds., 282 tcs., and 71 bbls., (leaving only about 500 hhds. unsold,) including 1,390 hhds., 85 tcs., and 71 bbls. Port Spain, 1,563 hhds. and 156 hhds. Cardenas, 342 hhds. and 41 tcs. Sagua, 135 hhds. Matanzas, and 100 hhds. St. Kitts, all on private terms. Of New-Orleans, small sales at 60c.@63c.

NAILS—Have been selling to a fair extent, in a jobbing way, on the steady basis of $3 10 for Common Fence and Sheathing, and $4 60@$5 35 for Clinch, ℘ keg.

NAVAL STORES—Resin has been in limited supply and good request at former rates....We quote at $2 15 for Strained, $2 20 for good Strained, $2 25@$2 40 for No. 2, $2 45 @$3 75 for No. 1, $4 25@$6 75 for Pale to extra Pale and Window Glass, ℘ 280 ℔. Sales, 200 bbls. No. 1, at $2 50@$2 62½, and 100 bbls. Pale at $4 25....A moderate inquiry prevails for Tar at $2 50@$2 75 ℘ bbl....City Pitch in demand at $2 25 ℘ bbl....Spirits Turpentine has been in rather more request, with merchantable, for prompt delivery, quoted at the close at 39c. ℘ gallon.

OILS—Whale and Sperm have been moderately sought after and held with firmness. Linseed, Lard, Red, Tallow, and Cotton-seed Oils in less request within our range. A fair demand has been noted for Resin, Menhaden, Olive, and Tanners' Oils, at generally steady figures....We quote: Crude Whale, 65c.@70c.; Unbleached Whale, 70c.@72½c.; Bleached do., 72½c.@75c.; Crude Sperm, $1 40@$1 45; Unbleached Sperm, $1 65; Bleached Sperm, $1 70; Lard-oil 85c.@90c. for prime, 67½c.@75c. for No. 1, and 60c.@65c. for No. 2; Red-oil, 54c.@56c.; Saponified do., 57c.@58c.; Linseed-oil, 60c.@62½c., in cks. and bbls.; Olive-oil, $1 25@$1 30, in cks. and bbls.; Menhaden, 40c.@45c.; Bleached do., 50c.@52c.; Crude Cotton-seed, 38c.@40c.; Refined Yellow do., 48c.@53c.; White do., 53c.@56c.; Parffine, 27½c.@30c.; Palm-oil, 8c.@8½c.; Resin-oil, 15c.@25c.; Tallow-oil, 72c.@80c.; Cod, 55c.@60c.; Mustard-seed Oil, 75c.; Rape-seed Oil, 95c.@$1 15; Neatsfoot, 80c.@$1 10; Cocoa-nut, 10¼c.@12¾c.; Tanners'-oil, 44c.@46c.; Lubricating-oil, 25c.@40c....At New Bedford, sales were reported of 1,430 bbls. Crude Sperm at $1 40@$1 45, mostly at $1 40. A late sale here was of 1,000 bbls. Humpback at about 65c. ℘ gallon.

PETROLEUM—Crude has been in more request since our last, and quoted at 12c. in bulk, and 15½c. in shipping order....Refined has been actively sought after for shipment; quoted by refiners at 26⅛c. Sales of 5,000 bbls. high test at 27¼c....Refined, in cases wanted and quoted at 30c. for Standard....Naphtha at 14c....At Philadelphia, Refined Petroleum, for early delivery, quoted at 26c....At Baltimore, early delivery at 26c.

PROVISIONS—Cable reports as to the warlike drift in Europe stimulated business in this line....Mess Pork has been moderately inquired for for early delivery, at former rates....Sales, reported since our last for early delivery, 205 bbls. Western Mess, for shipment, at $17; 160 bbls. do., late inspection, at $17 25.... Other kinds dull. Sales, 70 bbls. Extra Prime, for Milwaukee delivery, on private terms....And for forward delivery here, Western Mess was in light demand; quoted for November at $17; December, $16 05@$16 10; January, $16 05@$16 10; February, $16 15; March, $16 20; no sales reported....Dressed Hogs have been in moderate request, with City quoted down to 6⅞c.@7⅛c., business mostly at 7¼c.@7½c.... Cut-meats have been in fair demand but at rather easier figures. Sales include 29,000 ℔. Pickled Bellies, in bulk, part 17 to 10 ℔. at 8¾c.@10c., and sundry small lots of City bulk within our range; also 100 bxs. Rib Bellies, part 12 ℔. at 10c.; and a small lot of Western Dry-salted Short cut Hams, 15 ℔., at 11¾c....We quote: City Pickled Shoulders, in bulk, at 6⅞c.@7c.; Pickled Hams at 12c.; Shoulders at 8c.@8¼c.; Smoked Hams at 14c. ....Bacon has been in more demand here at firmer rates....Long Clear quoted here at 8⅝c.@8¾c. Sales, 100 bxs. at 8c.; 75 bxs. Short Clear at 9¼c.; 100 bxs. Long and Short Clear, next week delivery at 9c.; 25 bxs. Short Rib, last half of January at 9⅛c. ....And for Western delivery, Long and Short Clear; for November, quoted at 8⅜c.@8½c.; December, 8⅜c....Sales reported of 140 bxs. Long Clear at 8⅛c.@8¼c. .... Western Steam Lard has been in decidedly more active demand and again quoted much firmer....Of Western Steam for early delivery here, sales have been reported of 975 tcs. prime at $10 60@$11, closing for prompt delivery at $11....And for forward delivery Western Steam was actively sought after and quoted at the close, for November, at $10 25; December, $10 02½, seller the remainder of the year at $10 02½; January at $10 02½@$10 05, and seller February at $10 02½@$10 15....Sales were reported of Western Steam to the extent of 500 tcs. November, at $10 12½@$10 25; 1,750 tcs., December, at $10 02½@$10 05; 1,500 tcs., seller the remainder of the year, $10 02½@$10 05; 4,500 tcs. January, at $10 02½@$10 05; 750 tcs. February, at $10 10@$10 12½@$10 15....City Steam and Kettle Lard has been in more request; quoted at $10 50@$10 62½; sales, 350 tcs....And No. 1 quoted at $10 25 and scarce....Refined Lard in better demand; quoted for the Continent at $11 50 for prompt delivery; and for the West Indies at $10 25, showing a sharp advance. ....Sales have been reported of 100 tcs. for the West Indies on private terms; 300 tcs. for the Continent, December option, on private terms; 1,000 tcs. do., February, at $10 75....Beef has been moderately inquired for since our last within the previous range as to value....We quote barrel Beef at $10@$11 for Extra Mess, $8@$10 for Plain Mess, and $13 50@$14 for Packet ℘ bbl. Sales, 75 bbls....Tierce Beef quoted thus: Prime Mess, new, at $21@$23; India Mess, new, at $21@$23; City Extra India Mess, $27; Philadelphia at $23@$25....Beef Hams have been in moderate request, with choice Western, here, quoted at $20 ℘ bbl. Sales, 30 bbls....Rather more inquiry has been noted for Butter, almost wholly for the better qualities of State and Western products, prices of which have varied little. Poorer qualities in slack request generally, and quoted unsettled....We quote State, fair to choice pails, at 28c.@36c.; do. tubs, fair to fancy, at 25c.@35c.; do. Welsh tubs, 23c.@32c.; [illegible] 25c.@33c.; State Butter, whole dairies, good to very choice, 27c.@32c.; Western pails, fair to strictly choice, at 25c.@35c.; do., tubs, common to strictly choice, 16c.@25c.; do., fair to strictly prime Yellow, in firkins, 15c.@22c.; Western Rolls, good to very choice, 22c.@27c....Cheese has been also in somewhat better request, particularly strictly fine to fancy makes, which have been quoted firm, and offered with reserve.... We quote State Factory at from 11c.@14c. for fine to strictly fancy, the latter an extreme; 14c.@14½c. for fair to fine, and 6c.@8c. for skimmed; and Western Factory at 10c.@13c. for fair to strictly choice; State, dairy-made, fair to choice, 7c.@11¼c.... Eggs have been in fair demand, and quoted firm on the more desirable marks, which have been offered sparingly....We quote fresh Eggs within the range of 26c.@30c. for fair ordinary to strictly fancy. The main dealings have been in round lots of good to choice at from 27c.@29c....Tallow continues in fair demand at steady rates; sales, 75,000 ℔. very good to strictly prime at 8¼c.@8⅞c....Stearine has been more active, with Western in tcs., prime to very choice, quoted at $10 75@$11; sales reported 80,000 ℔. choice Western and City at $11.

SALT—Has been offered with less urgency, and quoted firm, though not active....Liverpool Ground quoted at 80c.@90c.; Liverpool Fine at $1 15@$2 50, from store; Turk's Island, in bulk, 28c.@30c.; Martin's, 30c.@35c.

SALTPETRE—Continues inactive, with Crude quoted at 5⅞c.@6¼c., gold, ℘ ℔.

SOAP—A restricted movement has been reported since our last, with prices quoted essentially as before....Castile quoted at 8½c.@8⅝c., gold; Colgate's Family, 8c., currency; and Sterling and other brands at proportionate figures, less usual discount.

SPICES—The demand for supplies has been fair, but less request, with Mace quoted at 80c.@95c.; No. 1 Nutmegs, 85c.@87½c., as to size; Cassia, 20c.@22c.; Cloves, 33c.@36c.; East India Pepper, 14c.@14½c.; White Pepper, 22½c.@33c.; Pimento, 12½c.@13¼c.; Ginger, 6¾c.@7½c., gold, ℘ ℔.

STARCH—Has been quoted about steady on a moderate demand, with Potato quoted at 5¼c.@6c.; Western Corn, 3¾c.@4¼c. ℘ ℔.

SUGARS—Raw have been strong and wanted....We now quote fair to good Refining Cuba at 9⅞c.@10⅛c.; prime do., 10¼c. Sales, 230 hhds. and 150 bags Centrifugal at 10⅝c.@10¾c....Refined in very good request at generally buoyant rates; Granulated at 12¾c.@13c.; Powdered at 12½c.; Crushed at 13¼c.; Cut Loaf, 14c.; Soft White at 11⅞c.@12c.; Soft Yellow at 10c.@11¼c. ℘ ℔.

SUMAC—Has been inactive since our last, with Sicily quoted at from $60@$122 50 for inferior to very choice, afloat and from store, and Virginia at from $62 50@$65 ℘ ton.

TEAS—Quiet at former figures. Sales, 1,200 half chests green on private terms.

TOBACCO—The recent dealings in this line have been comparatively limited. The export movement has been less satisfactory. The offerings of desirable qualities of domestic product have been moderate, and the principal holders have been quite firm in their views as to values. Sales have been reported of 300 hhds. Kentucky Leaf at 6c.@16c.; 100 cases Seed Leaf, sundry lots, 7c.@30c.; 154 cases 1873 crop New-England, 6⅜c.; 164 cases 1875 crop do., 30c.@35c.; 15 cases 1874 crop State, 4½c.; 125 cases 1874 and 1875 crops Ohio, 6¼c.; 14 cases 1875 crop Pennsylvania, on private terms, and 200 bales Havana, 88c.@$1 15.

WHISKY—Sold to the extent of 135 bbls. at $1 09@$1 09½; market dull.

WOOL—Some increase of demand has been noted, but thus far in the week without leading to free purchases, in any instance. The light offerings of desirable grades of domestic product, and the very confident views of holders have tended to limit the operations, especially on manufacturing account. Foreign Wool inactive....Sales have been reported, since our last, of 38,000 bushels domestic Fleece, chiefly at 47½c.@50c.; 125 pks. Domestic Pulled, part Super, at 35c.; 4,000 ℔. Combing at 50c.; 64,000 ℔. Texas, part at 23c.@27½c.; 75 bales and 3,000 ℔. California Fall at 17c.@22½c. ℘ ℔.

FREIGHTS—Ship-owners were generally firmer in their views to-day, and accommodation on berth and charter was offered less freely, thus checking business, though a fairly active inquiry was reported from the more important sources of demand. Room for Grain and Provisions was in somewhat better request....For Liverpool, the engagements reported, since our last, have been, by sail, 400 bales Cotton at 5-16d. ℘ ℔.; and, by steam, 1,300 bales Cotton (of through freight) on private terms, quoted here as 13-32d.@7-16d. ℘ ℔.; 16,000 bushels Grain at 7¼d. ℘ bushel; 6,500 bbls. Apples, mainly at 5s. ℘ bbl.; 6,000 bxs. Cheese at 50s.; 650 bxs. Bacon at 40s.; 290 pks. Leather on private terms, quoted at 85s. ℘ ton. And, by steam, from Philadelphia, 1,300 bales Cotton, reported at ⅜d. ℘ ℔.; 175 tons Provisions and Tallow at 40s., and 50 hhds. Bark at 50s. Also, a British ship, 1,022 tons, with Cotton from Norfolk, reported at 35s. 6d. ℘ register ton; a German ship, 776 tons, hence, with about 5,000 bbls. Refined Petroleum at 4s. 3d. (with option of Bristol.) From San Francisco, the telegraphic advices are of a break in Grain rates thence to the United Kingdom, the latest quotation having been given as 45s....For London, by steam, 8,000 bushels Grain at 7d. ℘ bushel; 500 bbls. Apples on private terms; 4,000 bxs. Cheese at 40s. ℘ ton; also a German bark, hence, with about 5,500 bbls. Refined Petroleum, at 4s. 6d. (with option of Liverpool or Bristol at the same rate, or Antwerp or Bremen at 4s. 9d.) ℘ bbl....For Glasgow, by sail, 1,250 bbls. Flour at 3s. ℘ bbl....For Dublin or Belfast, a British bark, 779 tons, with about 5,500 quarters Grain, from Philadelphia, at 5s. 9d. ℘ quarter....For Cork and orders, an Italian bark, 469 tons, with about 3,300 quarters Grain, from Philadelphia, at 6s.; a Norwegian bark, with 2,500 quarters do. from Baltimore, reported at 6s. per quarter; a Norwegian bark, 460 tons, hence, with about 2,500 bbls. Refined Petroleum at 5s., with option of a direct port, at 4s. 9d. per bbl.; and an Italian bark, 330 tons, hence, with Syrup, at 28s. 9d....For the United Kingdom, direct, a Norwegian bark, 488 tons, with about 2,500 bbls. Refined Petroleum, from Baltimore, at 4s. 6d., with option of the Continent at 4s. 9d. ℘ bbl....For Havre, by steam, 1,000 bags Clover-seed at 9-16c. ℘ ℔....For Antwerp, by steam, 450 tons Provisions, in lots, part reported at 50s.@52s. 6d. ℘ ton....For Bremen, a German bark, 526 tons, with about 3,800 bbls. Refined Petroleum, from Philadelphia, at 4s. 4½d. ℘ bbl.... For Hamburg, two British barks, with respectively 7,000 and 6,000 quarters Rye, from Philadelphia, reported at 6s. 6d. ℘ quarter....For Trieste, an Austrian bark, 522 tons, with about 3,500 bbls. Refined Petroleum, from Philadelphia, at 5s. 3d. ℘ bbl....For the Mediterranean, and back, an American brig, 616 tons, with general cargo, at $5,000, taking out Tobacco, for a Spanish port (sub-contract) on private terms....For the south side of Cuba and back, an American schooner, reported on private terms....For Gonaives, an American schooner, 146 tons, hence, with general cargo, at 80c. ℘ bbl.... For Port au Prince and back, an American brig, 260 tons, with general cargo, at $2,100.

THE COTTON MARKETS.

NEW-ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—Cotton easy; Middling, 11⅝c.; Low Middling, 11¼c.; Good Ordinary, 10⅝c.; net receipts, 4,024 bales; gross, 5,160 bales; exports to France, 3,797 bales; sales, 5,000 bales; stock, 201,673 bales.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 14.—Cotton active and lower; Middling, 11⅝c.; Low Middling, 11¼c.; Good Ordinary, 10½c.@10⅝c.; net receipts, 5,294 bales; exports, coastwise, 910 bales; sales, 3,500 bales; stock, 107,242 bales.

GALVESTON, Nov. 14.—Cotton weak; Middling, 11⅝c.; Low Middling, 11⅛c.; Good Ordinary, 10⅛c.; net receipts, 1,886 bales; exports coastwise, 150 bales; sales, 3,759 bales; stock, 82,641 bales.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 14.—Cotton quiet; Middling, 11½c.; Low Middling, 11⅛c.; Good Ordinary, 10¼c.; net receipts, 3,982 bales; exports, coastwise, 1,445 bales; sales, 1,200 bales; stock, 81,292 bales.

MOBILE, Nov. 14.—Cotton weak; Middling, 11⅛c.; Low Middling, 11c.; Good Ordinary, 10⅜c.; net receipts, 3,523 bales; exports, coastwise, 1,252 bales; sales, 1,200 bales; stock, 58,682 bales.

AUGUSTA, Nov. 14.—Cotton easier and lower; Middling, 11c.; Low Middling, 10⅝c.; Good Ordinary, 10c.; receipts, 1,618 bales; sales, 1,288 bales.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

LONDON, Nov. 14—12:15 P. M.—Consols 95 11-16 for both money and the account. United States bonds, new 5s, 106⅜. Erie Railway shares, 9⅝; do. preferred, 16.

4 P. M.—Consols 95 3-16 for both money and the account. United States bonds, new 5s, 106¼. Erie Railway shares, 9½. Paris advices quote 5 ℘ cent. Rentes at 104f. 25c. for the account.

5:30 P. M.—Consols 95 5-16 for both money and the account.

Evening.—Calcutta Linseed, 55s.

FRANKFORT, Nov. 13.—United States bonds, new 5s, closed easier at 102⅛.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—Exchange on London, 25f. 15c. for short sight.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 14.—Pork—Eastern dull at 80s.; Western dull at 71s. Bacon—Cumberland Cut dull at 45s.; Short Rib dull at 44s.; Long Clear dull at 43s.; Short Clear dull at 44s. Hams—Long Cut dull at 52s. Shoulders dull at 35s. 6d. Beef—India Mess steady at 100s.; Extra dull at 110s.; Prime do. steady at 90s.; Lard—Prime Western steady at 50s. 6d. Tallow—Prime City dull at 43s. 3d. Spirits Turpentine firmer at 27s 6d. Resin—Common dull at 5s. 9d.; do. fine dull at 10s. 6d. Cheese—American, choice firmer at 60s. Lard-oil dull at 54s. Flour—Extra State dull at 25s. Wheat—Spring No. 1 steady at 10s.; do. No. 2 steady at 9s. 4d.; Winter Western, dull at 9s. 7d.; Southern steady at 10s. 4d. Corn—Mixed Sort dull at 26s.

12:15 P. M.—Cotton—Futures opened dull and depressed and ⅛d. cheaper; but have since improved 1-32: Uplands, Low Middling clause, November delivery, 6⅜d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, November and December delivery, 6⅜d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause shipped November and December, sail, 6⅜d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, shipped December and January, sail, 6⅜d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, shipped January and February sail, 6 7-16d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, January and February, delivery, 6¼d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, January and February delivery, 6 11-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, February and March delivery, 6⅜d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, March and April delivery, 6 7-16d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, March and April delivery, 6 15-32d. The receipts of Cotton to-day were 7,900 bales, of which 3,700 bales were American. Breadstuffs—The receipts of Wheat for the past three days were 17,000 quarters, of which 7,000 quarters were American.

2:30 P. M.—Breadstuffs—The market is firm; Corn, 26s.@26s. 3d. ℘ quarter for new Mixed Western. Wheat, 10s. 3d.@10s. 5d. ℘ cental for average California White; 10s. 5d.@10s. 8d. for Club do., and 9s.@9s. 11d. for Red Western Spring. Provisions—Beef, 89s. ℘ tierce for new Winter cured. Lard, 50s. 6d. ℘ cwt. for American. Pork, 71s. ℘ bbl. for prime Mess. Bacon, 44s. 6d. ℘ cwt. for Short Clear Middles.

4 P. M.—Cotton—Uplands, Low Middling clause, March and April delivery, 6 13-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, new crop, shipped November, sail, 6⅜d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, new crop, shipped November and December, sail, 6 11-32d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, new crop, shipped February and March, 6½d.

5 P. M.—Trade Report—The market for Yarns and Fabrics at Manchester is steady. Cotton—Futures flat; Uplands, Low Middling clause, February and March delivery, 6 5-16d.; Uplands, Low Middling clause, March and April delivery, 6⅜d.

LONDON, Nov. 14—3:30 P. M.—Provisions—Sugar, 30s.@31s. ℘ cwt. for No. 12 Dutch Standard, on the spot, and 30s.@31s. for do., afloat.

HAVANA, Nov. 14.—Spanish Gold, 219¼@219½. Exchange—On the United States, 60 days, gold, 3½@4 premium; Short sight do., 5@5½ premium; on London, 15@15½ premium; on Paris, 2@2½ premium.

PHILADELPHIA WOOL MARKET.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—In consequence of the election excitement the Wool trade is at a stand-still; prices are nominally unchanged, supply light, and holders firm. Ohio, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia XX and above, 44c.@47c.; X, 43c.@45c.; medium, 48c.@50c.; coarse, 40c.@42c. New-York, Michigan, Indiana, and Western, fine, 38c.@40c.; medium, 43c.@45c.; coarse, 40c.@42c.; Combing, washed, 50c.@52c.; fine unwashed, 27c.@33c.; Canada, Combing, 50c.; fine unwashed, 27c.@30c.; coarse and medium, washed 30c.@35c.; tub washed, 42c.@46c. Colorado, washed, 22c.@30c.; unwashed, 18c.@20c.; extra and merino Pulled, 32c.@35c.; No. 1 and Super Pulled, 29c.@33c. Texas, fine and medium, 18c.@20c.; coarse, 18c.@[illegible]

The New York Times.

NEW-YORK, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 15, 1876.

AMUSEMENTS THIS EVENING.

FIFTH AVENUE THEATRE.—Life—Mr. C. F. Coghlan, Mr. Charles Fisher, Miss Amy Fawcitt.

WALLACK'S THEATRE.—The Shaughraun—Mr. Dion Boucicault, Mr. H. J. Montague, Miss Ada Dyas.

NIBLO'S GARDEN.—Baba—Mr. W. A. Crane, Mr. V. Bowers, Miss Eliza Weathersby, Miss Ainsell.

BOOTH'S THEATRE.—Sardanapalus—Mr. F. C. Bangs, Mrs. Agnes Booth, grand ballet and chorus.

UNION SQUARE THEATRE—The Two Orphans—Mr. C. Thorne, Jr., Mr. J. O'Neill, Miss Kate Claxton.

NEW-YORK AQUARIUM.—Rare and Curious Fish and Mammalia, Statuary, &c.

GILMORE'S GARDEN.—P. T. Barnum's Museum, Circus, and Menagerie.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE HALL—Annual Exhibition of Art, Science, and Mechanics.

EAGLE THEATRE—Minstrelsy, Comedy, Burlesque.

OLYMPIC THEATRE.—Grand Novelty and Variety Entertainment.

SAN FRANCISCO MINSTRELS—Minstrelsy, Farces, and Negro Comicalities.

STEINWAY HALL.—Concert—Mme. Annette Essipoff, Mr. Alfred Vivien.

KELLY & LEON'S HALL.—Minstrelsy and Comicalities.

SIXTEENTH STREET BAPTIST CHURCH.—Lecture by Mr. Frederick Douglass.

CHICKERING HALL—Readings by Miss Lizzie L. Clark.

THE NEW-YORK TIMES.

The New-York Times is the best family paper published; it contains the latest news and correspondence. It is free from all objectionable advertisements and reports, and may be safely admitted to every domestic circle. The disgraceful announcements of quacks and medical pretenders, which pollute so many newspapers of the day, are not admitted into the columns of The Times on any terms. Terms, cash in advance.

TERMS TO MAIL SUBSCRIBERS.

Postage will be prepaid by the Publishers on all Editions of The Times sent to Subscribers in the United States.

The Daily Times, per annum, including the Sunday Edition.....$12 00
The Daily Times, per annum, exclusive of the Sunday Edition..... 10 00
The Sunday Edition, per annum..... 2 00
The Semi-Weekly Times, per annum..... 3 00
The Weekly Times, per annum..... 1 20

These prices are invariable. We have no traveling agents. Remit in drafts on New-York or Post Office Money Orders, if possible, and where neither of these can be procured send the money in a registered letter.

Address THE NEW-YORK TIMES,
New-York City

NOTICE.

We cannot notice anonymous communications. In all cases we require the writer's name and address, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

We cannot, under any circumstances, return rejected communications, nor can we undertake to preserve manuscripts.

It is hardly necessary to direct attention to the fact that to-day's dispatches tell the same story as those which have preceded them. "Hayes and Wheeler have carried Florida beyond all question" is the language of our careful special correspondent in Tallahassee; South Carolina has gone for Hayes, whatever may be the fate of Gov. Chamberlain, say the dispatches from that State, and Louisiana has elected the Republican ticket, without any reference to the five disputed parishes, about whose returns we have heard so much silly vaporing. The fact becomes more and more apparent as the returns come in, that Tilden runs hopelessly behind the ticket for State officers in all the three States miscalled "doubtful," and that the only point of dispute remaining open in any of them is in regard to the fate of the candidates for Governor and other local offices.

It cannot be too frequently impressed on the public mind, that if the conduct of elections in the South is to be made the subject of complaint, the only party which has a right to complain is the Republican. The sixteen Southern States owe almost solely to negro enfranchisement the possession of the 21 votes added to their representation in the Electoral College by the apportionment of 1871. In most of these States the Democracy weild this additional power, while virtually disfranchising the element to whose admission to the franchise it was due. But even this does not cover the full results of the legalized terrorism which sustains Southern Democracy, since the electoral vote of the South, as settled before reconstruction, was based upon an allowance for three-fifths of the population held in bondage, and the negro vote of the entire South thus accounts for at least one-third of its weight in the councils of the nation. When the Democrats exclaim against the "injustice" of throwing out the votes of Louisiana parishes tainted by fraud or violence, they simply try to conceal flagrant wrong by transparent sophistry. The injustice is all on the other side. A deliberate attempt was made to cheat the Republicans both directly and indirectly out of the benefit of their legitimate majorities in these parishes. Had the State been closer than it is, the necessity imposed on the Returning Board of casting out the vote of the five parishes which have been notoriously the scene of violence and fraud, would have suited the Democrats just as well as the acceptance of their fabricated majorities in these parishes. The board has no power to restore to the Republicans the 6,000 majority out of which they have been cheated, and therein the wrong done to the Republican candidates is irreparable, and might easily have served the Democratic conspirators quite as well as the positive gain of their false majorities.

The communication of the representative Democrats assembled at New-Orleans shows traces of the hand of a somewhat shallow pettifogger. They invite the Republicans who have gone at the call of the President, to meet and confer with them in regard to the best means of accomplishing the ends which both sides profess to have in view. But, in defining the chief end of their mission, they beg the main point at issue. It hardly needed so imposing an array of legal and political talent to see that the Returning Board make "a fair count of the vote actually cast," though it may be a matter of some delicacy and difficulty to determine whether they make a fair count of the vote legally cast. Unfortunately for the honesty, or intelligence of the Democratic scrutators, it is not true that the functions of the Returning Board begin and end with the counting of the vote "actually cast." The law forbids them to accept returns which have been obtained by allowing one set of voters to take possession of the polls to drive away another. If Northern Democrats in New Orleans can only co-operate with representative Republicans on the basis laid down in their letter, they may as well abandon their idea of conference altogether. A slight inspection of the election law of Louisiana may, however, save them from the misfortune of having their mission end in a hopeless farce.

We said yesterday that the mischievous threatening, which at this moment forms a conspicuous feature in the Democratic programme, was confined mainly to the Northern Democratic press. Southern papers received yesterday show that the supporters of Tilden in that section are not behind their Northern brethren. The New-Orleans Picayune is especially violent. Its opinion is, "that it is the intention of Gen. Grant to override the expressed will of these States by force of arms," because, forsooth, he sends troops to uphold the authority of law. "If he does," the Picayune proceeds to say, "he will precipitate the country into another civil war." "A war so begun," it adds, "would be brief, bloody, and decisive," and it warns "the carpet-bag conspirators" that they will be the first to feel its consequences. Rather than submit to the action of the Returning Board, if its effect be to prevent Tilden's election, this specimen journal of Louisiana would prefer "that the State should be remanded to a territorial condition." The Mobile Register also scents coming strife. "The air of these North American States," it asserts, "is fuller of revolution to-day than it was when Patrick Henry and James Otis spoke against the Stamp act, and"—sublime antithesis!—"when John Brown made his attack upon Harper's Ferry." Of course, the Baltimore Democratic sheets give aid and comfort to the disloyal factionists. The Gazette speaks of "the iron determination of the outraged masses not to be juggled with or swindled out of their inalienable rights,"—of "the appalling consciousness rooted in every breast that there is something even worse and more to be deplored than war or death." The Baltimorean suggests to the President that unless he allow the Louisiana ballot-box burners and Democratic ruffians of every degree free course, "he may die in a manner that has been not unfrequently the fate of tyrants." All this because the patriotic Tilden has been rejected by the majority of the people in three Southern States!

After floundering about for a week in search of the vote necessary to secure Tilden's election, and claiming first Ohio, then Wisconsin, then Illinois, and then Oregon, the Democrats have finally fallen back on Vermont, a State that was never known to elect a Democrat ticket since it was founded. The World wades through a column to prove that Vermont has chosen one Democratic Elector, whose vote will be just enough to elect Tilden. The basis on which this claim is made—that one of the Republican candidates on the Electoral ticket in that State was ineligible because of holding the office of Post Master, is cut away by a telegram published in another column, from which it appears that the candidate resigned his office as Post Master the day before the election. But the fact that the Democrats should seriously make such a claim shows how little they care for the wishes of the people of a State so long as they can get an advantage through a technical quibble. They have just as much reason, however, so far as the real preference of the voters is concerned, to claim Vermont for Tilden, as they have to claim Louisiana, South Carolina, or Florida.

As a good deal of feeling has been excited by the action of the Board of Aldermen in passing over the Mayor's veto, a resolution ordering the City to pay for making the sewer connections justly chargeable to the new Roman Catholic Cathedral, we give elsewhere a brief history of the job. Considering that the ground on which the cathedral stands was, virtually, a gift from the City, it may seem rather absurd to complain of a fresh donation of $700 to the same institution. But it happens that public sentiment is a good deal more sensitive on these subjects than it was in the days of Tweed, and as one church has quite as much right to claim this kind of exemption as another, the precedent may prove a somewhat costly one. It will be observed that the resolution was passed without distinction of religious tenets. Roman Catholics, Protestants, and Jews voted for it, apparently on the assumption that the privilege could be suitably accorded to churches of all denominations. We would remind Messrs. Howland, Billings, and Morris that Protestant churches do not desire to make sewer or other connections at the expense of the taxpayers, and we know that a very strong feeling exists among our Hebrew fellow-citizens against the employment of public money for sectarian purposes.

FALSE PRETENSES ABOUT HONESTY.

The Democrats pretend to desire "an honest count." The sense in which they use the phrase is, however, peculiar. It means a count that shall sustain the claims and satisfy the requirements of their case. Thus, the Democratic "honest count" is only another term for a count that elects Tilden. Any other count, as applied to the three disputed States, is "fraudulent," "despotic," "revolutionary," and "not to be endured." To carry out this view, Democratic politicians and lawyers, great and small, have gone to Columbia, Tallahassee, and New-Orleans, to watch the proceedings of the Returning Boards. Their guiding purpose is to prevent any scrutiny by the State Board, of the returns received from the County Canvassers. This has been made plain enough at Columbia, where the lawyers retained in behalf of Tilden and Hampton contest the right of the State Board to act in any other than a clerical capacity. Its authority to investigate facts underlying the returns is denied, and a rule has been obtained from the Supreme Court of the State requiring the board to show why it should not be restrained from the exercise of judicial functions. It is to be compelled to count votes returned to it, whether they be honest or fraudulent. We have, therefore, the spectacle of the Democratic Party, shouting itself hoarse at the North in favor of "an honest count," threatening to rise in rebellion on the ground that "an honest count" is endangered, and sending its emissaries to the South to frustrate the essential conditions of honesty and to secure the success of frauds that would render the election worthless as an expression of popular opinion.

What was at first partially disguised is now openly avowed. The principal Democratic journal in this city, defining "the meaning of an honest count," so interprets the duties of the Returning Boards as to render them agencies for registering returns transmitted from the counties, irrespective of the character of the returns themselves. "By what possible rule of determination is the verity of the returns to be tried?" asks the Sun. "Is there any rule that can be applied, excepting that which assumes the actual verity of the certificates sent up in the form of law by the local officers?" Our contemporary answers its own queries. "An honest count," it says, "means simply an enumeration of the votes that are certified in the manner in which the law requires them to be certified; and if our Democratic friends who have gone to New-Orleans consent to any other meaning, or lend their countenance to any investigations going behind the local certificates, they might better have stayed at home." Mr. Tilden's Albany mouthpiece, the Argus, propounds the same doctrine, though in more frantic fashion. "Popular government perishes from the earth," it exclaims, "if the Returning Boards or State Canvassers undertake to set aside the verdict of the ballot-box." As if this were not sufficiently explicit, the Argus further declares that if State Boards disregard "the certificates of the local canvassers, free institutions perish from the earth."

A more preposterous assumption, or one more fatal to "an honest count" in South Carolina, Louisiana, and Florida, we cannot imagine. The law enacted in each of these States clearly implies the possession by the Returning Board of more than ordinary ministerial functions. The South Carolina law provides that the members of the State Board "shall have power, and it is made their duty, to decide all cases under protest or contest, that may arise, when the power to do so does not, by the Constitution, reside in some other body." The jurisdiction of the board over the election of Governor is certainly doubtful. Article III of the Constitution, section 4, vests control over returns relating to the Governor in the House of Representatives. Beyond this, there seems to be no exception to the jurisdiction of the board, whose power and duty, as defined in the passage we have cited from the Revised Statutes of the State, would be meaningless on any other hypothesis than that which imputes to them judicial functions. The Florida law leaves no room for doubt as to its intent upon this point. It provides, among other things, that if any of the returns brought before the board "shall be shown, or shall appear, to be so irregular, false, or fraudulent that the board shall be unable to determine the true vote," "they shall so certify, and shall not include such return in their determination and declaration." What does this mean, if not the discharge of duties which the Sun and Argus unite in saying do not and cannot pertain to a State Board of Canvassers? The members of the board are required to entertain any protest or complaint affecting the validity of a return, and to subject such return to all possible scrutiny. They may, and must, "go behind it" in any manner that may be necessary to determine whether the votes counted were honestly cast, whether any irregularity impaired their legality, and generally, whether the return is vitiated by fraud or irregularity in any essential particular. The Louisiana law, again, invests the Returning Board of that State with authority which fully meets the present emergency. The board is bound to receive the statements of competent parties respecting "any riot, tumult, acts of violence, intimidation, armed disturbance, bribery, or corrupt influences, which prevented, or tended to prevent, a fair, free, and peaceable vote of all qualified electors entitled to vote." The board must then investigate these statements, and if satisfied that they are true, it is bound to exclude from the canvass the specific returns which have been thus invalidated. Clearly, then, in each of these States, the law governing the action of the Returning Board exacts from its members much more than the mere "enumeration of the votes that are certified," as prescribed by the Sun. The whole question comes up before the board, which may inquire into all the facts purporting to be covered by the county certificates, and may set those certificates aside if, on inquiry, the returns shall not set forth the honest vote, or if from causes we need not enumerate, the vote in the county be nullified by fraud, intimidation, or violence in connection with the election.

In no other way can justice be done. We of the North give to the proceedings of Returning Boards narrower scope. Suppose, however, that by fraud and force the legitimate votes of certain counties in this State were overcome. Suppose that certain of our counties, with registered Republicans numbering many thousands, were returned by local officers without a single Republican vote. Or suppose that the ballot-boxes in certain counties were seized by Democratic ruffians, and the ballots destroyed. How long would it be before some means were found of frustrating these tactics? And would the Sun insist that the returns must be counted though the whole country knew that they were false and fraudulent? Yet this condition of things is precisely what the Democrats are now upholding in Louisiana. The difference in the two cases is this: The people of Louisiana, familiarized by experience with partisan methods which are, happily, unknown in rural New-York, gave to their Returning Board authority sufficient to check the wrong. The board cannot, indeed, give to the disfranchised Republican majority in the five disputed parishes the influence in the result which they ought to have exercised, but it can so far counteract fraud and violence as to reject returns obtained by these means. The Democratic outcry that injustice will thereby be done to the four or five thousand Democrats who are returned as having voted in these parishes is nonsense. The real outrage is in the virtual disfranchisement of the eleven thousand colored voters who were not allowed to cast Republican ballots. The case illustrates the necessity for judicial functions on the part of the Returning Board, and the imperfection which after all attends its administration of justice. At the best, it will fail to secure to the Republican majority in the State the full vote to which it was entitled. What it may be expected to do is to prevent the success of the frauds on which the Democrats rely for the election of Tilden; and in the anger which this prospect has aroused, we have a suggestive commentary on the sincerity of the Democratic professions in regard to "an honest count."

THE DEMOCRATIC CHECK IN CONGRESS.

In the present House of Representatives the Democrats have a trustworthy majority of at least 73 votes. This majority they held during one long session, in which they claimed that they had won the confidence of the people, and since the recent election they are continually boasting of their "popular majority." But judging by the complexion of the next Congress, the degree of popular confidence in the Democrtic Party is not such as to justify much boasting. Their great majority is cut down till it cannot exceed a round dozen, and may be less. Indeed, so close was the vote in some of the districts now conceded to them that it was for some time doubtful if there was a Democratic majority in the House at all. Their first losses were in the October elections when they lost 4 in Indiana and 5 in Ohio. These were followed in November by the loss of 2 in California, 1 in Florida, 6 in Illinois, 1 in Iowa, 1 in Kansas, 4 in Massachusetts, 2 in Michigan, 4 in Missouri, 1 in New Jersey, 1 in Oregon, 7 in Pennsylvania, and 1 in Tennessee.

These results would be accepted by any party not infatuated with pride and obstinacy as a stinging rebuke. The country could not readily tell a party in a more convincing fashion that they had not met its expectations than by reducing a majority such as the Democrats have in the current Congress, to the pitiful margin which it will have in the next one. Nothing could bear more directly on the judgment of the people regarding the conduct of the majority last session than this remarkable change in its proportions. Nor is the result surprising when we remember what the last House was and what it did. It was in the worst sense a partisan body, and its majority did whatever seemed likely to advance the interests of its party. The first weeks of the session were spent in attempts to parcel out the committees in such a manner as to influence the Democratic Presidential nomination. The organization once effected, the work of manufacturing political capital under the guise of investigations was commenced, the sole outcome of which was the impeachment of Secretary Belknap. Next in order was the reduction of the appropriations, and this was carried on in such a bungling, reckless, and partisan fashion, that it brought about a dead-lock, which was only settled by the House receding from the ground which the Senate could not, without betraying its own trust, allow it to occupy. This dead-lock was maintained for weeks, in the sole hope of forcing the repeal of the law allowing Federal supervision of elections in places where the Democrats expected to carry forward their most extensive frauds. Next came the repudiation of the Resumption act. Finally there was the absurd raking over the embers of the war, by Mr. Randall's attempt to bestow unconditional amnesty on a small number of rebels who would not ask for it. It is not singular that such conduct on the part of a party who was making its bid for the National Government, should have discouraged and disgusted those voters who had temporarily given it their confidence. The result was that the "tidal wave" of 1874, though not reversed, has been very nearly so, and the Democrats, who swept the country at the last Congressional election, have now barely escaped the loss of their only hold on the National Government.

It must be remembered that the vote on Representatives is really the most direct vote on the conduct of the House. If the last House had done what the country wished and needed, and had done it well, the country would have seen to it that the next House was constituted so as to continue the work. If the Democrats had satisfied the public that they were earnest and skillful in unearthing corruption and could be trusted to provide safeguards against its recurrence, they would have had the Forty-fifth Congress, so far as this year's elections could give it them, for the asking. If they could have shown that they understood the management of the appropriations, and were able to apply the pruning-knife with a firm hand, without touching the essential, living substance of the Administration, they would have been trusted with a similar task without question. Especially if they had given any evidence of capacity for bringing the currency back to a sound and solid basis, if, under their care, the finances had gained in order, in security, and in stability, they would have been welcomed by the business classes to a continuance of the work. But as it was, whatever desire the country had for reform, it had no expectation of gaining it from a Democratic House. It had had enough of the kind of reform it could get from such a source. Hence, while it was not ready to restore the House to the Republican Party, it was not ready to continue it in the unchecked control of the Democracy.

RUMORS OF WAR.

A careful reading of the report of the Czar's speech at Moscow does not show so decidedly a warlike tone as the European press perceive in it. It may be that other information, not conveyed by telegraph, is in the possession of those who see war imminent, but so far as the public are instructed here, the new elements in the problem are merely the speech of Lord Beaconsfield, the Czar's counter-address to the people, and a dispatch in regard to the intentions of the Turkish Government to the London Telegraph. Disraeli's speech certainly conveyed a threat and announced a diplomatic position. But any Russian statesman knowing England knows that neither of them may be supported by the British nation, and both are probably designed to influence the approaching conference. It is true that before the Crimean war the British Ministry permitted the people to drift into war, yet there was a long and gradual process of inflaming public opinion, so that when war was declared, the mass of the nation and Parliament were decidedly in favor of it. Under the old theory in regard to the balance of power and the importance of Constantinople, the British interests seemed at the time on the side of Turkey and strongly against Russia.

But now all this is changed. The public opinion of England is almost universally opposed to war. The idea that Turkey must be upheld and Russia crippled has passed away. In fact, since the outbreak and the Bulgarian massacres, large numbers of people in England believe that Europe would be the better, if Turkish rule in it were swept utterly away. A war to support such a tyranny, and to continue such Mohammedan brutalities over the Christians, must be intolerable to great masses of the British nation. The policy is still cherished, indeed, of the importance of preventing Constantinople becoming Russian. But even this is questioned by high authorities, and it is perfectly credible that opinion should yet change on that question, up at least to the point of permitting Constantinople to become a free city, whose independence was guaranteed. Then it must be remembered that in the event of Turkish defeat and prostration, Russia may accept much less than the possession of the City of the Bosphorus, and may content herself with the breaking down of the Turkish domination in Europe.

Under almost any event, we look upon the prospect of England's carrying out Lord Beaconsfield's threat as very faint, and that she is not likely to be drawn into this war, if war come. The Czar, in his speech, does not claim more than Russian diplomatists have claimed from the beginning, that Turkey must give absolute and satisfactory guarantees that she will carry out the reforms she promises. This is clearly a necessity. The Turkish Government, after the Crimean war, and on severat occasions since, promised on paper radical and sweeping internal reforms, and yet the people and the Christian peasantry have been none the better off. It is notorious that the pledges of the Turkish Government are not like the pledges of civilized Governments. The Porte is unable to keep them. The bigotry and fanaticism of the Mohammedans are so intense, that the Government cannot resist them. As a consequence occur the oppressions of Bosnia, and the massacres of Bulgaria. It is obvious to all Europe, that if the Czar desired merely to secure real protection to the Christians of European Turkey, he could only do so, by a temporary occupation of those districts by the European powers. There must be a power behind the Christians to guard them.

When Disraeli lays down the condition of conference that the Turkish territory must be kept inviolate, he clearly prevents, or seeks to prevent, a final settlement. But though the claim of the Czar may not be in advance of the limit of diplomacy thus far, his address to the Russian people, and their enthusiastic response, reveal a popular excitement which may easily end in war. If the report of the intentions of the Turkish Government sent to London be true, the conference can accomplish little. And here, undoubtedly, lies the danger. Turkish fanaticism may easily burst all the peaceful restraints of diplomacy. The Sultan may reason, and very justly, that war could not cost him more than the permission of a foreign occupation of his territory, and with the spirit which has not utterly died out of the wild race of Bajazet, he may prefer to be driven out of Europe, scimetar in hand, and perish amid the ruins of his seraglio, than to retreat at the word of diplomacy, and live in a petty territory by permission of the Czar. The moment is full of perils, but we think it not unlikely yet that Turkey will yield, England be neutral, and the countries on the Danube be pacified without a general war.

"THE ERA OF GOOD FEELING."

One of the pleasantest features of the campaign which has just closed was the brotherly forbearance which prevailed among the Democratic editors. It is a well-known ethnological fact that the Democratic editor, as a distinct species, is not usually a self-composed, urbane, and suave person. He is given to profanity, fire-arms and bluster. Even the gentle soul who presides over the destinies of the World has been known to so far forget himself as to put cayenne pepper into his daily meringue, or to derange an entire bill of fare by an excess of vinegar. But, during the late canvass, we are pleased to say, the fraternity have turned their abuse against a common foe with touching concert. We are persuaded that the little unpleasantness between the editor of the Sun and his compeer of the World, which marked the closing days of the campaign was purely a joke. When the World seemed willing to damage the political standing of its brother of the Sun by copying a scurrilous paragraph, one's faith in newspaper goodnature might have been shaken. And when the editor of the Sun demanded to know if his contemporary "sought a personal controversy," and then warned him of dread consequences, expectation held its breath for a season. But it was only for a season. The promptness with which the World hoisted the white flag was proof of its playful intention.

After the election, we rejoice to say, this cordial understanding continued. The compliments which have been passing between the editors of the leading Democratic newspapers convince us that the celebrated and long-delayed era of good feeling has come at last. When editors strive, with generous self-sacrifice, to give each other the highest meed of praise for what they have done to "bring this glorious triumph," the public has gazed on the touching spectacle with moistened eyes and with thoughts of birds who in their little nests agree. We notice, however, with profound regret, that the World is the very first to sound a note of discord. Now that the Democrats have persuaded themselves that Tilden is elected, and we may add, now that Tilden has almost persuaded himself to the same effect, we perceive symptoms of a sudden end to the era of good feeling. Since election day, doubtless, Mr. Tilden has suffered alternations of hope and despair. To some reporters he has expressed himself in tones of gloom; to others he has remarked, playfully clapping his hands to his sides, chanticleer-like, "I feel like a bird—like a bird!" He has exhibited tokens of the admiration of his supporters with the fond pride of a great statesman. There was a floral shield sent him, bearing the suggestive inscription of "Tilden—Gortschakoff—Bismarck," meaning, one must suppose, that the "President-elect" is these three eminent persons rolled into one. And the additional legend of "Veni, vidi, vici," which adorned this gift, was a fragrant allusion to election day. A chair, adorned with stars of "royal purple violets," was another proudly-received present, whose royal emblems suggest the imperial bees of Napoleon and the possible "man on horseback."

Into all these airs penetrated a World reporter, with pencil and note-book, and swelling with the consciousness that he had helped to make Tilden the man he is. The report of his interview, published next day, showed Tilden in the attitude of returning thanks to the World. He was represented as saying that it was "the only truly great Democratic paper of New-York." Fancy the feelings of the editor of the Sun when he read that! Then Tilden was put down as saying: "I have very great reason to be thankful to the World for the many favors shown me;" and he added, or was said to have added, that the Democracy ought to feel about the World just as he did. As soon as Gov. Tilden could lay hands on another reporter, he exclaimed, "Why, the World of a few days ago contained a report of a conversation with me that was absolutely fictitious." This is a dreadful statement. Did the leading Democratic organ put compliments about itself into the mouth of "the President-elect," and attempt to pass this counterfeit coin upon a long-suffering public? If it did not, is the organ to have its bellows slit open by the man who calls its report "absolutely fictitious." In any case, what is to become of the era of good feeling?

If any one desires an explanation of these semi-hostile movements, he will find it in the single word—offices. Although the Sun says that "the President-elect," on Saturday last, "re-read Paradise Lost" with renewed interest, all of the editors who have made Tilden (as they say) are put down for nice appointments. The editor of the World, as the chief of the only truly great Democratic newspaper, (according to the "absolutely fictitious" interview,) is expecting the English mission. Surely, nothing less than this could display the shining qualities of one who knows so many royal people, and is on such intimate terms with the nobility and gentry of England. His contemporary who shines for all, more modest and patriotic, aims no higher than the Naval Office of the New-York Custom-house. Since it was long since agreed that John Kelly should have general disposal of the Custom-house patronage, the Naval Office is the next best thing. The gifted Watterson, it is well-known, asks for the mission to France. He has taken a copy of French without a Master to New-Orleans with him; and he has promised "good places" to two "independent journalists" of New-York and New-England. But Mr. Belmont also wants the French mission: and it is said that Mr. Ingersoll, just re-elected in Connecticut, is promised the same place; and it is not certain whether Manton Marble will get into the Cabinet or be one of the several candidates for France. When we consider the rest of the army in New-York, New-England, and the West to whom places have been promised, we should pity "the President-elect" if we supposed he were elected. But, worse than all, there is a solid South—solid in wanting office, solid in holding it, and never divided in asking for it. One can hear the angry hum of the coming horde. The editors who have been so swift to run where they were not sent have already begun to throw stones at each other and call names. On the whole, Mr. Tilden will be glad that he was not elected.

ONCE TOO OFTEN.

We are a patient and long-suffering people, but it is a mistake to suppose that we can be cheated forever without finally becoming indignant. The American citizen may be trodden upon for a few years with impunity, but at last there comes a time when he turns upon the oppressor. There are many facts in our history which substantiate this assertion, and yet men who have made it a practice to oppress their fellow-citizens coolly ignore it. For nearly half a century Mr. George Ticknor Curtis has assaulted the public with his political essays, and instead of dreading a righteous retribution, he keeps on in the same path and heartlessly repeats the words of Giant Pope, "You will never mend till more of you be bored;" and for at least one hundred and fifty years Mr. G. W. Blunt has written a daily letter to the press without fearing the slow vengeance of an outraged people. And now the astronomers, who ought to know better, since they are comparatively intelligent men, have begun a systematic trifling with public expectation, and an habitual violation of their solemn promises, which will ultimately provoke a storm of popular indignation before which their telescopes will bend like reeds and their slates will crumble into fragments.

Last August the astronomers promised to produce on a specified evening a fine display of shooting stars. The public believed them, and laid in quantities of opera-glasses, overcoats, smoked glass, sandwiches, and other astronomical instruments, in preparation for the event. The roofs and back piazzas of our country swarmed with pairs of enthusiastic observers whose assorted hearts beat as one, and who were determined to see these meteors if they had to sit up until every parent in the nation had gone to bed. We all know what happened. Not a meteor was seen, and not a syllable of excuse was put forth by the astronomers. People who wanted their money back would have been laughed to scorn had they ventured to apply to any observatory; and in the few cases where an astronomer was cornered by some indignant person in search of an explanation, insult was added to injury by the declaration that all the returns were not in yet and that it would be impossible to say whether the meteors had or had not made their appearance until official returns from Pekin and Central Africa were received.

Two months later it was announced that Vulcan, a new planet, was about to make its first public transit across any sun, under the management of Prof. Leverrier, assisted by eminent native and foreign astronomical talent. Again the public prepared its smoked glass and sandwiches, and again the lee-side of chimneys and the secluded corners of the back-yard were occupied by earnest young people, for whom the practice of private astronomy has such powerful fascinations. But Vulcan failed to appear, and the astronomers, instead of apologizing to the public and offering such reparation as lay in their power, impudently asserted that they had always doubted Vulcan's existence, and had never expected that he would make the promised transit. What would be said of a theatrical manager who should promise to produce a new tragedian of enormous merit, and who, having totally failed to produce anything of the sort, should calmly assert that for his part he always had doubted whether there was any such tragedian in existence. Yet, this is virtually what the astronomers did a month ago, and to this day they have never condescended to apologize for their conduct.

On Monday evening last we were promised a display of meteors which was to surpass anything of the kind which had been produced for years. It was to be what enthusiastic astronomical managers called a "grand extra gala meteoric night." Once more the deluded public trusted that the promise would be kept, and this time fathers of families, anxious to share the pleasures which their sons and daughters professed to find in attending an astronomical spectacle, sat up with a persistence that was in the highest degree maddening. It is this latter fact that perhaps accounts for the extreme indignation with which the failure of the promised meteoric display was greeted. At any rate, the astronomers may be assured that the indignation displayed at the breakfast table on Tuesday morning was almost universal, and that the young vied with the old in denouncing the shameless way in which the public had been for the third time completely and heartlessly disappointed.

It is probable that the astronomers will now feel compelled to put forth some pretext by way of excusing their conduct. We shall be told that many of them were engaged in trying to discern political majorities in the doubtful States, or in making calculations which will prove that a candidate with a minority of electoral votes is incontestably elected. Or they may tell us that in view of the present feverish and uncertain state of the public mind, they had felt that it would be unwise to venture upon a large and costly display of meteors, which, after all, might fail to attract as much attention as a forged telegram professing to show how Florida had voted. No intelligent man will accept any such excuses. The astronomers have deceived us once too often, and they must be made to comprehend this fact, and to perceive the danger which they are recklessly provoking.

It is noticeable that in this systematic and apparently purely wanton trifling with the most sacred astronomical feelings of the public heart, Prof. Peters and Prof. Olbers have taken no active part. They cannot, however, excuse themselves for not having boldly denounced the outrages perpetrated by their less scrupulous associates. When the November meteors were announced to make their appearance last Monday night, these two astronomers should have frankly warned the people of the fraud which was in contemplation. Instead of so doing they shut themselves up in their observatories, and strove to drown their shame at the conduct of their associates with asteroids and logarithms. This will not do. They must either side with the guilty astronomers or openly repudiate them. In a crisis like the present no neutrality is possible, and if Messrs. Peters and Olbers desire to avoid the threatening indignation of a deceived and outraged public, they must hasten to declare that they have had no part in the frauds in connection with Vulcan and the August and November meteors, and that henceforth they will use all their influence to secure fair and honest calculations as to all future astronomical events.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

A CARD FROM FATHER YOUNG.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Your correspondent "An American." in your issue of Nov. 14, makes an assertion that "the officiating priest in the Church of St. Paul, on Fifty-ninth street, commanded all the men to vote for Tilden and Hendricks." I must insist that this "American" shall repeat the assertion over his real signature, and give to the public his authority for making it. ALFRED YOUNG, C. S. P., Rector.
NEW-YORK, Tuesday, Nov. 14, 1876.

THE VOTE OF CONNECTICUT.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

In view of the fact that the State of Connecticut cast some 24,000 votes more than at any previous election, is it not well to have an investigation and review of the vote. It is a State where, in important elections, nearly every vote is polled and certainly its population has not increased during the last few years. If there is any legal method of doing so, certainly its vote should be investigated. In this State of New-Jersey we feel certain that at least 15,000 fraudulent Democratic votes were cast in the Counties of Hudson, Monmouth Essex, Bergen, and Warren. Many fair-minded men here doubt if the vote of Connecticut is correct. We believe that the fraudulent votes in New Haven and Hartford alone, if thrown out, would elect the Republican ticket. J. L. T.
CAMDEN, N. J., Monday, Nov. 13, 1876.

"FAIR" COUNTING AND FOUL PLAY.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

If the five parishes of Louisiana referred to in your editorial of to-day are entitled to a Republican majority of 5,726, (more likely 7,000, on a fair election,) how can the ends of justice be served by throwing these parishes out on account of fraud? This would deprive the Republicans of 5,726 votes to which they are entitled, and be equivalent to giving the 5,726 votes they would counterbalance to the opposite party. Are Democrats to be rewarded for their frauds, by counting out Republican votes? Justice can be done only in one way—by a new election, under such safeguards as shall bring out a free expression of the popular will. Von name two Democrats sent to supervise the count who publicly declare in advance of investigation, accompanied by violent and incendiary expressions, their intention to endeavor to nullify the popular will. Does not this show the folly of sending down politicians to influence the result, which, so far as it may be successful, will be to defeat the ends of justice? Is it not time that we had an end of this species of "fair play" that always ends foul, and always plays into the hands of fraud and violence, and which has already struck justice dumb in this boasted land of freedom and law, and made us the mock of the nations of the earth? I am disgusted with this way of selling out the liberties of the people and tampering with crime and fraud. CITIZEN.
NEW-YORK, Tuesday, Nov. 14, 1876.

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

MEETING OF THE CHURCH CONGRESS AT BOSTON.

THE TRUE PLACE OF ART IN CHRISTIANITY—AN EARNEST LOOK FOR THE BEAUTIFUL—A PAPER BY REV. DR. OSGOOD—FOREIGN MISSIONS AND CHRISTIAN WORK.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

BOSTON, Nov. 14.—The third Church Congress of the Protestant Episcopal Church began its session this morning. After brief devotions in the hall, and the singing of a hymn, the Bishops and Vice Presidents were invited to seats on the platform, and after a few announcements by the Secretary, the welcoming address was made by Right Rev. Benjamin H. Paddock, Bishop of the Diocese of Massachusetts.

After requesting the members to observe the few rules adopted by the congress, he introduced the first speaker in the discussion of the "True Place of Art in Christianity." This was Rev. Dr. Osgood, of New-York, who opened the discussion at the first subject before the Congress by reading a paper upon the "Ethics of Art," which he regarded as proper for him to treat, because it did not require peculiar critical knowledge on his part, and it moreover laid down fundamental principles for consideration. He undertook to show that Christians are bound to see the good of art with their best judgment, and to do the good of art with their best ability. He defined art as good work of a certain kind, or as the way to do good work. It is the way to put things in a telling form, so that they will stay put and keep telling. It is work with soul as well as body to it—work with a sensible form and an animating spirit. Art is expression, whether by the hand or the voice, whether for the eye or the ear, whether in space, as the arts of design, or in time, as the vocal arts, or both in space and time, as the drama and landscape gardening, which imply mass and motion in space and time. He traced the idea and origin of art to God, and he recognizes a tendency to beauty, as well as to truth and righteousness, in God's word and works. He illustrated the good of art as a part of nature under the mind of God, and as having its consummation in the best work of man, whose characteristic and enduring mark upon the ages is in the monuments of beautiful art. In Christianity art finds peculiar and, in some respects, its crowning opportunities, since Christianity rests upon historical events and persons more rich in subjects of illustration than merely ideal inventions, and the fact of the union of the divine and the human nature in Christ lifts Christianity out of the region of fancy and gives to its history personal form without loss of ideal grandeur. He illustrated the good use of art to Christianity by considering particularly three aspects of its riches—which he called its Epos, or its historical cycle of events and persons as presented in the Christian year—its Ethos, or its order of habitual virtue and duty as presented in the round of Christian worship and instruction, and its characteristic life or culture, with all its lights and shades, form and color, pathos and joy, earthly care and heavenly communion. He showed that Christianity in these relations has had great help from art, whether from architecture, sculpture, painting or poetry, music and eloquence, a help which the new science, with all its marvelous discoveries and inventions, can never give; while art also has gained depth and power by drawing from motives altogether beyond the range of our present materialistic tendencies, and our craving for luxury and wealth.

Dr. Osgood closed his paper with presenting the duty of Christians in doing the good of art in service of their religion by a fresh, earnest love for the beautiful in its highest and most serious forms, and by bringing out all the various talents for art that abound among us. He made much account of the importance of making our art speak the language of our own age, the mother-tongue of our own culture and national life, instead of being content with the old precedents. As with the Word of God, so with the art that should express its truth and love, it does not lose, but gains power, by being translated into the mother tongues of living ages and nations. He thought the Gothic architecture the most suited to our times, but did not favor any servile conformity to mediæval forms of it. We need to use its inwardness and height without forgetting the Greek outwardness and breadth. As Greek and Hebrew meet in our Bible, so they must meet in our culture, and the new art, like the old religion, must grow by living earnestly and devoutly under the influences of our time and the providence of God. All the arts must come together, and the truant muses must come home to sacred memory, their mother, and help us build up a nobler practical life in our homes, and towns, and churches. True art is a blessed gift, full of motive as well as of comfort. It spreads its banquet for rich and for poor, and the feast of beauty remains after the guests have feasted and gone. God Himself leads on the triumph of true art in His call to Zion to put on her beautiful garments.

Mr. C. C. Perkins, of Boston, read the next paper. He began by tracing the antagonism which early grew up toward art out of the iconoclastic controversy, as if art were opposed to Christianity. These people destroyed the works of their ancestors to escape their influence. There was the growth of a different spirit in the mediæval Church. This was the period of the cathedral-builders. Mr. Perkins traced the historical connection between art and Christianity, and defined the true place of art in the Christian religion.

Rev. Dr. Hopkins, of Plattsburg, N. Y., said that the question of the relation of art to Christianity came to its climax in the iconoclastic controversy, and the decrees of the second Council of Nice, which were accepted by the East and West, though rejected at Frankfort, and therefore not accepted by us as truly Ecumenical. But did we sympathize with the iconoclasts? Did we break to pieces and cast out of churches, books, and private houses all representations of Christ and the Saints? By no means! Then look candidly at the other side. The Oriental etiquette had been introduced by the Emperor Diocletian, by which the Emperor was saluted and adored by prostration, as a god, and divine honors were paid to his statues. Constantine did not change this, but the old etiquette was kept up for a long while. Christians were compelled to make obeisance to the Emperor's statues, or be accused of "disloyalty." And the reverence paid to the images of Christ and the Saints was merely an honest, instructive effort of Christian consciences to keep the reverence shown to Christ and His Saints a little ahead, if possible, of the worship they were compelled to pay to the Emperor and his grandees. This prevailed through the whole Roman Empire. In the Empire of Charlemagne the civilization was Frankish and Teutonic. These free though lately barbarous peoples had recognized their King, not by groveling in the dust at his feet, but by lifting him on their shields on the battle-field. They therefore rejected and "scorned" the servility of the decrees of the second Council of Nice. Our civilization is still further removed from Oriental forms. We do not prostrate ourselves at the feet of President Grant, or salute his images. But we use pictures in churches, in stained glass, and on walls, and this is now done not only by Episcopalians, but by Presbyterians, Methodists, and others. The use of art in illustrating religious books and papers is universal, even with the American Tract Society. And by this universal use, our whole Protestant world—in due proportion with our western civilization—does actually live, move, and have its being in practical accord with the decrees of the second Council of Nice.

The morning service, prolonged to nearly 2 P. M., was then concluded with hymn and benediction.

FOREIGN MISSIONS.

At the evening session, after brief prayers and the singing of a hymn, Rev. Dr. John Cotton Smith, of New-York, was introduced as the first essayist on "Foreign Missions under our Present Knowledge of the Morals and Religion of Non-Christian Nations." He began by describing the relations given to people outside of the original Bible. Christianity took up the religion which had been given alike to the Jews and to these outside nations, and the Oriental religions contain the same aspirations as the Semitic people. Our missionary work will be successful just in proportion as we take beginnings of religion in their corrupt superstitions, and fill them out to the idea of a just and holy God. But none of them are to be set up as the rivals of Christianity. This is the only universal religion possible. But the study of their ideal religious systems is a good counter-influence to the materialism of modern thoughts. We are able to confer on these non-Christian nations the idea of immortality, and of peace within the heart through Christ, and we meet their thought in so doing. We have to work in foreign missions for the brotherhood of nations, and there is every encouragement for this Christian labor.

Rev. Dr. John N. Galleher, Rector of Zion Church, New-York, was then introduced. He began by dwelling upon the superior qualities, in many respects, of Oriental people, but said the Christian religion is essential for every person born into the world. There are persons who do not know how to be catholic without becoming the disciples of indifferentism. We have no right to seek that catholicity. Mission work and Christianity, by its superior power, admits no rival. We have scholarship and faith, intense missionary spirit, and the assurance of past success; the better means of contact with these people, their aspirations for the truth and belief in the Lord Jesus Christ, and within our reach is the revival of the miracle of the Pentecost. The non-Christian world is open to the reception of religious truths more than we think. The movement of thought shows that there exists a desire to know the truth.

The next speaker was E. W. Clarke, Esq., lately a Professor in the Imperial College of Japan—a nephew of Bishop Clark, and the youngest speaker at the Congress. He presented Christian missions from the heathen point of view. The heathen felt that the missions meant the destruction of their political and religious system. The pagan idea is that religion is as diverse as race and nationality, and their feeling toward Christianity is simply that. It is like Buddhism, and must be absorbed into that religion. The obstacles to Christianity in Japan are ten-fold greater to-day than they were before the Jesuits, in the sixteenth century, aroused the fury of the Government and were driven from the country, and it is our duty to look these facts in the face. The speech was excellent, and met with a warm response.

Dr. Isaac Joseph Schereschewski, Bishop elect of China, was then introduced. He said that Christ's idea of changing the world was by missions, but to-day only one-fourth of the world is Christian. If the Aryan race is superior, the inferior races are yet all the children of one man. Even Darwin admits that we are to improve these races by the universal religion. He dwelt at length upon the methods of introducing Christianity in different ages, and then spoke of the methods of bringing it into China. This method is education. This has great influence in that Empire. The Chinese respect learning, and if we are to reach them we must influence the literary class. To do this, the speaker pleaded for a college in China as the best means to lead the people to take Christianity as the national faith.

Bishop Medley, of New-Brunswick, was then introduced. Speaking on the subjects before the congress, he said: "Is there any reason for discouragement in regard to missions? You are all too ready to go at railroad speed, but God is not in such a hurry, and if we ever feel discouraged it is well to see how slowly God has worked in the conversion of the world, and we shall take fresh courage." The services then closed with a hymn and the benediction.

BRIGHTWOOD PARK RACES.

THE FIRST DAY'S SPORT—THREE FLAT RACES AND A STEEPLECHASE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—A four-days' running meeting opened at Brightwood Park to-day. The weather was cloudy and rain fell at intervals. The track was in good condition, but the attendance was small. The first race was a half-mile dash for two-year-olds; purse, $100; $30 to second, and $20 to third horse. Mayflower won; Bosworth second, and Mainbrace third. Time—51½. Mainbrace was the favorite. The second race was a dash of five-eighths of a mile for three-year olds; purse $100; $30 to second and $20 to third horse. The starters were Hobkirk, Libbie L., Pluto, and Hattie F. Hobkirk sold as the favorite. A fair start was made, with Hobkirk leading. Hobkirk came to the finish two lengths ahead of Hattie F., Libbie L. two lengths away, and Pluto well in the rear. Time, 1:06¼.

The third race was a three-quarter-mile dash for all ages; purse $100; $30 to second and $20 to third horse. The following horses started: Jack Trigg, Hatteras, Wateree, Pluto, and Burgoo. The favorite, Burgoo, took the lead, Hatteras second, Pluto third, Wateree fourth, Jack Trigg fifth. Wateree and Pluto changed places, and the horses passed the quarter and half-mile posts in the following order: Burgoo first, Hatteras second, Wateree third, Pluto fourth, Jack Trigg fifth. Coming down the home-stretch Hatteras went to the front, and passed the stand a length ahead of Burgoo; Wateree, third. Time—1:19. The fourth race was a steeplechase of about two miles and 20 leaps over hurdles, ditches, fences and water-jumps. Purse, same as the other races. Bay Rum, Jack Trigg, Culpepper, Capt. Hammer, and Derby started; Derby and Culpepper were the favorites. Derby led at the start, Capt. Hammer second, Culpepper third, Bay Rum fourth, and Jack Trigg last. After making several jumps Bay Rum and Jack Trigg went wrong, got out of the course and were completely out of the race. Derby and Capt. Hammer kept well together and made several jumps in company; Culpepper was several lengths behind. Coming down the home-stretch, Derby went to the front, and came in the winner, a length ahead of Capt. Hammer and Culpepper about eight lengths in the rear. Time—4:11½.

BY MAIL AND TELEGRAPH.

Hon. John Hillyard Cameron died at Toronto, Ontario, at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

A rumor prevailed in Boston on Monday night that ex-Gov. Gaston had been shot in New-Orleans, but Mr. Gaston is still alive and in Boston.

Walter H. Lowrie, Presiding Judge of Crawford County, Penn., died suddenly at his residence in Meadville yesterday morning, of paralysis.

The schooner Medford, Capt. Keller, of and from Banger, lumber-laden, for Boston, went ashore on Monday night near Gloucester, Mass., and is probably a total loss.

Two brothers, named Nugent, and a man named Medcliffe were killed at Betts Cove, Nova Scotia, copper mine, yesterday, by the roof of the shaft falling on them.

Catherine Andrews, of Milford, Penn., aged fifty years, committed suicide with laudanum Monday evening. Domestic trouble is the cause alleged for the commission of the deed.

The body of Stephen Owen, who has been missing from Woonsocket for several days, was found yesterday afternoon in the woods. The Coroner's jury found a verdict of "died from exposure."

A dispatch from Montreal says French Canadians are leaving the eastern townships in large numbers for the Eastern States. The majority of them belong to the working class, such as farm laborers, lumberers, &c.

Max Cohn, aged twenty-two years, who is alleged to be a defaulting employe of the banking firm of Strupp & Co., of Meningen, Saxony, and who arrived at Philadelphia in the steam-ship Indiana, is now in custody in that city, awaiting a requisition from the German Government.

THE WEATHER.

PROBABILITIES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—1 A. M.—For the Middle and Eastern States, increasing north-west winds, rising followed by falling barometer, stationary or lower temperature, with rainy or snowy weather.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Lieut. Commander James G. Green has reported his return home, having been detached from the Ashuelot, Asiatic station, on the 8th of September last, and has been placed on waiting orders.

The receipts from internal revenue to-day were $175,519 20, and from Customs, $439,173 50.

F. K. Bowles was to-day appointed Revenue Gauger for the Third District of Ohio; Julius Noak, for the Fifth District of Iowa, and W. W. Lane, Storekeeper for the Third District of Ohio.

Friends of Ex-Gov. Shepherd say that the prominent business men who met at his residence recently by invitation, to examine into his embarrassed business affairs, will doubtless suggest some practical method by which the large property interests involved will be guarded for the creditors. Mr. Shepherd, in view of the incorrect statements, states his total idebtedness to the banks of the District at less than $75,000, all notes being secured by collateral or endorsers.

A number of ministers and others connected with foreign legations have returned to Washington. Baron De Santa Anna, Minister to Portugal, is among the latest arrivals.

A dispatch to the State Department from the United States Consul at Cadiz, reports that by a decree of the 14th inst., all vessels and effects departed from the Ports of New-York and New-Orleans since the 10th of September, ultimo, have been declared foul. Mr. Adee, the Chargé d'Affaires at Madrid, has made representations to the Spanish Government respecting the vessels arriving from the Port of New-York.

THE KENTUCKY MARSHALSHIP.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 14.—Two months ago the President appointed Thomas E. Burns United States Marshal for Kentucky, vice Gen. E. H. Murray, resigned. Burns had scarcely taken possession of the office when the President, without notice to him, suspended him, under section 1,768 of the Revised Statutes, and appointed Weeden O'Neal to take charge of the office. To-day O'Neal presented a bond to Judge Ballard for approval, when the Judge decided that the power given the President under the aforesaid section to suspend an officer related only to officers who had been approved by and with the consent of the Senate, and that he could not recognize the suspension of Col. Burns. Burns was originally appointed to fill a vacancy during a recess of the Senate. Whether the President could or not have removed Burns outright was not decided. Immediately after the decision of Judge Ballard, Col. Burns sent a telegram to Attorney-General Taft, tendering his resignation to avoid all embarrassment and trouble to litigants, and requested the Attorney General to express to the President his regret that he had seen proper to suspend him without any notice that he was holding office against the wishes of the President.

THE RESULT IN VIRGINIA.

RICHMOND, Nov. 14.—The official returns from ninety-three cities and counties in Virginia show a majority for Tilden of over 40,000. The remaining counties will increase these figures about 2,000; in the Sixth District Tucker's majority for Congress is 5,298; in the Seventh District Harris's majority is 10,895; in the Eighth District Hunton's majority it 6,485. Full returns have not yet been received from the remaining districts, but in the First, Second, Third, Fifth and Ninth Districts the Democrats have equally large majorities. Jorgensen, in the Fourth District, is the only Republican elected; his majority will be between 700 and 800. There is some talk of a contest in this case—a protest, the character of which is not known, having been filed with the returns from one county in this district.

BOLD ROBBERY IN VERMONT.

NEWPORT, Nov. 14.—James Wilder, a cattle dealer, was found insensible near his residence in Lennoxville, Vt., this morning. His head was bruised, and there were several knife wounds on the chest. He revived a little, and stated that he had been attacked and robbed by two men. He cannot recover.

AMUSEMENTS.

MUSICAL.

THE ESSIPOFF CONCERTS.

The first of a series of concerts in which Mme. Annette Essipoff, a Russian pianiste of marked distinction, is to take part occurred at Steinway Hall, yesterday evening. Mme. Essipoff at once established herself in the good graces of the audience. She is undoubtedly the most skilled piano-player of her sex that has ever visited the United States, and, in respect of both technical merit and charm, we are inclined to pronounce her the superior, with a single exception, of every artist who has been here during the past ten years. Mme. Essipoff's playing resembles more closely Dr. Von Bülow's than that of any familiar performer we can name. She lacks, indeed, much of the power of that eccentric, not to say insane, virtuoso, but she is quite as elegant and as correct—often more correct, in truth, for Dr. Von Bülow occasionally lost his precision simultaneously with his self-control—and her work is infused with a sentiment and a warmth the more muscular player very seldom evinces. Mme. Essipoff's execution is wonderfully clean and brilliant; she has a perfect command of tone, and a strength far in excess of any of her feminine rivals. Her style is a happy medium between the old-fashioned school—lately represented here by Mme. Arabella Goddard—and the impassioned and sometimes rather uncertain method typified by M. Rubinstein. Occasionally, and usually at the outset of her task, Mme. Essipoff, if compared to the partisans of the tempo rubato at all times and places, may appear a trifle cold; but the coldness, and it is only relative, does not impress one as the coldness of mechanism, but rather as the outgrowth of a taste somewhat too chaste and severe. No other unfavorable criticism is prompted by a careful hearing of Mme. Essipoff's first performances. A clearer delivery has never been admired; while she avoids, unlike a few later-day pianists, the endeavor to turn the instrument into an orchestra, she also guards against handling it in such a manner as to remind one of a slight improvement on the spinet of antiquity; and, finally, her execution is accomplished with so much grace and apparent ease, that it is well nigh as pleasant to see her as to hear her play. Her success, as we set forth above, was immediate, and her success secured that of the concert, which was wanting in symmetry and variety. Only one soloist appeared with the pianist—M. Alfred Vivien, a violinist of whom we shall speak anon. Hence the burden of the entertainment rested upon the lady. Mme. Essipoff interpreted a concerto, a fantasia, and eight minor pieces. The concerto was Chopin's E minor, a less well-balanced composition than could have been wished for a morceau de début, but one in which some melodious themes and a bizarre and showy peroration afford scope for effective delivery. The pianist reproduced with delightful facility the arabesques overlaying the leading motives in the first parts of the composition; but her powers of expression and beauty of tone were called forth most happily by the andante, the pianist's share of which is occasionally accompanied by the muted violins, and most frequently not accompanied at all, while, in the final allegro, her fanciful and sonorous definition of the theme, and her sparkling and forcible execution of the ornate writing at the close compelled spontaneous and general applause. In the unaccompanied numbers which followed, Mme. Essipoff appealed with still more eloquence to her hearers. The Bach-Tausig Toccata proved to be an exquisite tone-poem as well as an excellent test of the performer's technique; Mozart's menuet was given with infinite playfulness and grace, and Rameau's "Gavotte and Variations" offered renewed evidence of her control of the key-board. To the second half of the concert the débutante contributed a thoughtful and dainty reading of one of Chopin's nocturnes; Schumann's lively and fine-spun "Traumeswirren;" another tone-study, almost imitative in its cunningly-contrived and skillfully-rounded harmonies, called "Guitarre," by Hiller; a florid characteristic piece, entitled "Les Alouettes, by Mme. Essipoff's husband, Prof. Leschetizky, of the St. Petersburg Conservatory of Music, and Rubinstein's well-remembered "Valse." An almost masculine performance of Liszt's "Fantaisie Hongroise," with its quaint motives, and its heavy piano passages accenting the orchestral score and balancing its weight, brought the concert to an end, Mme. Essipoff being recalled thrice, as she was, indeed, at the conclusion of the first half. M. Vivien, who, as recorded already, was listened to for the first time in this country simultaneously with Mme. Essipoff, is a young artist of the Belgian school who plays with commendable brio and facility, and, except when he deals with the highest harmonies, with considerable accuracy. M. Vivien's tone is by no means full, but we should not like to assert, from yesterday's experience, that he had sacrificed tone to left-hand execution, the gentleman's violin being apparently one of the poorest specimens obtainable of the art which immortalized Cremona. The new-comer rendered an exceedingly difficult concerto by Paganini, not faultlessly, but very creditably, and the smallness of his tone was the only drawback to the thorough enjoyment of his interpretation of Vieuxtemps' ever-welcome "Fantaisie Caprice." M. Vivien was much applauded. Both he and Mme. Essipoff appear again this evening, when the second concert of the series may be attended.

MISCELLANEOUS.

MR. HELLER'S "WONDER THEATRE."

Mr. Heller's "Wonder Theatre," which is situated, as the reader may be reminded, in Broadway, opposite the New-York Hotel, will be opened to the public this evening. Mr. Heller has a long-established reputation as a prestidigatateur, a pianist, and a humorist; his triple talent can hardly fail to supply him with the materials for a thoroughly-enjoyable entertainment.

NOTES OF THE ELECTION.

The official vote for member of Congress in the Fourth District of Illinois is as follows: Lathrop, Rep., 13,255; Hurlbut, Ind. Rep., 5,990; Farnsworth, Dem., 8,144.

The Rutland Herald says that it learns from a trustworthy source that Mr. Solace resigned the office of Postmaster of Bridport, Vt., previous to the election; therefore he was not disqualified to be appointed an Elector.

The Republicans of New-Hampshire carried all three of their Congressional districts on the vote for President, the first by 815 majority, the second by 1,339, and the third by 818. The First and Third Districts are now represented by Democrats.

By the official figures Congressman William Walsh, Democrat, has been re-elected to Congress from the Sixth District of Maryland by 14 majority. Two years ago he had 695 majority. The vote on Tuesday was: McComas, Republican, 15,713; Walsh, Democrat, 15,727.

The Louisville Commercial does not quite despair of the election of the Republican candidate for Congress in the Ninth District of Kentucky. Nine counties already heard from give him 3,464 majority; in eight others the Democratic candidate has 2,756 majority. Six counties are to be heard from which in 1874 gave a Democratic majority of 790. In the seventeen counties heard from, as above, the Republican majority is 708.

The official vote in the Philadelphia districts for Members of Congress was as follows:

Dis.	Republican.		Democratic.
1.	Freeman	15,021	Thackray	11,171
2.	O'Neill	15,201	Gibson	11,881
3.	Berry	9 039	Randall	11,751
4.	Kelley	18 820	School	10,432
5.	Harmer	15,652	Duval	11,953

The three amendments to the Constitution of Rhode Island submitted to the vote of the people were all lost, and only one received a majority. The vote was as follows: Article V.—Approve, 9,187; reject, 9,234; Article VI.—Approve, 10,705; reject, 11 489; Article VII.—Approve, 11,039; reject, 10,948. The last was the one extending to foreign-born soldiers and sailors, who fought on the Union side during the rebellion, the right of suffrage. The vote in its favor did not come up to the constitutional requirements.

A GRAND BILLIARD TOURNAMENT.

On Monday evening next a grand billiard tournament will be commenced at Tammany Hall. Albert Garnier, the Dion brothers, Maurice Daly, A. P. Rudolphe, George F. Slosson, and Jacob Schaefer are the contestants. The latter, a young New-Yorker, will, during the tournament, make his début before the public. His play is said to be something marvelous. There are four money prizes, aggregating $1,500, and a handsome Delaney table, valued at $500, which is to be given to the player making the highest general average. The games are to be of 300 points each, French caroms, and will be played on a 5x10 Delaney wire cushion table. The Dion brothers will, as usual, open the tournament on Monday, and after that evening there will be both afternoon and evening séances. The first game of the Fall season will be played to-morrow evening, at Tammany Hall by Joseph Dion, the challenger, and Albert Garnier, for the Delaney emblem, representing the national championship.

OBITUARY.

JOHN S. WILLIAMS.

John S. Williams, senior member of the well-known shipping firm of Williams & Guion, died last evening, at his residence, No. 34 West Seventeenth street, of an acute affection of the intestines, with which he was attacked on last Friday. He was born in this City in October, 1814. His father, Capt. John Williams, commanded the packet-ship Albion, which was lost off the Irish coast, and perished in that calamity. In his youth, Mr. Williams entered in the shipping office of Mr. Jeremiah Thompson, and subsequently engaged in the ship-chandlery business, in copartnership with Mr. William R. Hinman. With Mr. Stephen B. Guion, he organized the old Black Ball Line of Liverpool packets, and the increase of business and ships caused some twenty-five years ago the departure of Mr. Guion for Liverpool, where he remained, superintending the business of the line in England. His brother, William H. Guion, entered the firm, and remained in this City with Mr. Williams. The Black Ball Line was subsequently merged in the Liverpool and Great Western Steam-ship Company, forming the weekly line to Liverpool now known as the Williams & Guion Line. Mr. Williams was prominently identified from his boyhood with the commerce of New-York, and contributed largely to its growth and prosperity. He was a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Produce Exchange, Maritime Exchange, Shipmaster's Association, and other commercial bodies. He leaves a widow, five sons, and two daughters.

A WAIF FROM CHICAGO.

An officer of the Steam-beat Squad, while on duty in West street yesterday, noticed a bright intelligent lad wandering along the river front, apparently not knowing where to go. The officer accosted the lad, who said that his name was Charles Littrell, and that his parents resided in Vine street, between Larrabee and Orchard streets, Chicago. On Friday last he left his home with a sick man, whose name he did not know, and came to this City. On his arrival here the man took him to his residence, somewhere in Avenue B, where he remained until Monday, when the man in whose company he had journeyed from Chicago turned him adrift. The lad was taken to Police Head-quarters and placed in charge of Mrs. Webb, the Matron. His parents have been notified.

THE BAR ASSOCIATION.

The Bar Association held its regular monthly meeting last evening, at No. 7 West Twenty-ninth street. Obituaries of the late Chief Justice Claudius L. Monell, of the Superior Court, and Mr. Augustus F. Smith were read and ordered to be inscribed upon the records of the association. The report of the committee appointed last Winter to study the work of the Commissioners charged with the revision of the Code of Remedial Justice was set down for discussion last night. After considerable debate the consideration of the report was adjourned until the next regular meeting of the association. After this, the amendments to the Code, adopted by the Legislature last Spring, were discussed, and several opposing motions relating to them were made, but no definite action was taken.

RIOT AMONG RAILROAD STRIKERS.

SCRANTON, Nov. 14.—A serious riot occurred here to-day between the mechanics of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company who have been on a strike for the past six weeks, and some of their number who recently resumed work. The fight occurred in the vicinity of the shops as the men were quitting work. Bars of iron, stones, and other missels were used, and some of the participants were severely injured. The men on strike are growing desperate, and unless the dispute is soon settled trouble may be anticipated. The Mayor and Chief of Police have prepared for any emergency which may arise to-morrow.

CENTENNIAL AWARDS.

From the New-York Tribune of Nov. 13.

The newspapers have been lately teeming with ingeniously-worded advertisements regarding the awards. These publications have been skillfully prepared, so as to convey the impression that this or that exhibitor had really received the highest and best award. Thus, instead of informing the public as to the true state of affairs, they have simply confused the reader. Visitors at the Centennial find themselves bewildered by the adverse claims to distinction which they find placarded on every hand, and they do not know which way to turn to discover the truth. In no department has this system of misrepresentation been carried to so great an extent as that devoted to piano-fortes. There has been a "war" between piano exhibitors since the Exhibition opened, and a regular skirmish line of placards since the awards were officially announced. They have vied with each other in the use of extravagant language to prove their respective claims to distinction. The most ingenious methods have been devised; disinterested correspondents, whose sole object was to instruct the ignorant public, have volunteered their services, (for a consideration); ex-judges of awards, in the interest of certain piano manufacturers, have made pretended revelations of the secrets of the jury-room, for the sake of supporting the claims of their particular favorites, and lightning calculators have been appealed to, and have found convenient mathematical rules by which to establish absolutely the supremacy of their clients, on the pretence of the so much abused maxim that figures cannot lie. All these efforts, while ridiculous to those acquainted with the subject, have been attempted to influence the uninitiated. In fact, the piano men have left nothing undone to mislead the public, and by their efforts have caused everything relating to pianos to be looked upon with distrust, and have made themselves the laughing stock of the public. By these means injustice is not only done to the public but to those who are not only entitled to the leading position but who were awarded it by the judges. Your correspondent has taken the trouble to submit all the various reports, which are the basis of awards, to a careful scrutiny and comparison, and the result is that the pianos of William Knabe & Co. are found to head the list. This house, from the commencement of the Exhibition, relied solely upon the merits of their instruments to secure them a just award; and since the official announcement, although they were decreed the highest honors in the Piano Department, they have modestly remained in the background. It is fortunate that the judges, in preparing the Knabe report, so framed it as to leave no doubt about their pre-eminence. They especially commended all their four styles of pianos, concert grand, parlor grand, square, and uprights, and accorded them the praise of unequaled excellence in all the details of perfect instruments. The report is plain, straightforward, and comprehensive, specifying all the elements of merit which it is possible for the best piano-forte to possess—power, richness, and singing quality of tone; ease and elasticity of touch; effectiveness of action; solidity and originality of construction, and excellence of workmanship. By comparing it with the other reports in the same department, even the most skeptical will acknowledge that no stronger language could have been used to express the unanimous approval of the judges.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11 1876.

OBTAINED ALL THE HONORS.

All the honors attainable at the Centennial were awarded to the new "Automatic" sewing-machine of the Willcox & Gibbs Sewing-machine Company. Send postal card for full particulars and list of offices to No. 658 Broadway, New-York. —Exchange.

SCHOOL SUITS.—Large stock at greatly reduced prices. BROKAW BROTHERS, Fourth avenue, opposite Cooper Institute.—Exchange.

WHEN, IN CLASSICAL TIMES, a man had done some great thing, he was honored with a public triumph, a wreath of laurel or of bays. Now he is at all events honored with the esteem and regard of others. We are right in honoring the inventor of B. T. BABBITT'S BABY SOAP, whose past achievements have reached a fitting complement in the new toilet soap, which is simply the greatest luxury and comfort possible to man. Pure and honest, it can be absolutely trusted as the best thing in use.—Advertisement.

Leland's Sturtevant House.

Rooms, with board, $3, $3 50, and $4. Desirable suites and entire floors for families for the Winter.—Advertisement.

FOR A WORRYING COUGH, or any throat or lung trouble, use at once DR. JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT.—Advertisement.

CURE YOUR COUGH by using MME. PORTER'S COUGH BALSAM. Price, 25, 50, and 75 cents.—Advertisement.

THE HIGHEST AWARD granted any exhibitor by Centennial Exposition is given the ELASTIC TRUSS CO. for SILK ELASTIC TRUSSES. Sold only at 683 Broadway.—Advertisement.

Use Brummell's Celebrated Cough Drops. The genuine have F. H. B. on each drop.

You are not old but have Gray Hair. Why don't you use PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM? You certainly prefer the natural color and vigor, to the baldness that follows neglect.

Speedy Relief from the Nausea of pregnancy is insured by the use of that delightful pacifier of the stomach, Milk of Magnesia.

Everdell's, 302 Broadway, Elegant Wedding and Ball Cards, Orders of Dancing, Foreign Note Papers, Monograms. Established 1840.

To Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays all pain, and cures wind colic.

MARRIED.

HASCALL—KING.—On Wednesday evening, Nov. 8, 1876, at the Church of the Divine Paternity, by Rev. E. B. Chapin, D. D., THEODORE F. HASCALL to VIRGIE, daughter of Hon. Vincent C. King, all of this City.

HARTT—WIDDEMER.—In this City, Nov. 14, 1876, by Rev. E. Soliday Widdemer, his daughter IRENE to HENRY LE BARON HARTT, M. D., all of New-York. No cards.

DIED.

BADGER.—Suddenly, in Brooklyn, Sunday, Nov. 12, AUGUSTUS H. BADGER, aged 66 years.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral, Wednesday, Nov. 15, at 2 o'clock P. M., from his late residence, No. 468 Franklin av., corner Jefferson st.

BLAIR.—On the 14th inst., at the residence of Mrs. Isaac Townsend, No. 9 West 25th st., SUSAN BLAIR, aged 73 years.

Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend her funeral from the First Reformed Presbyterian Church, 12th st., near 6th av., on Thursday, at 11 o'clock A. M., without further invitation. Her remains will be taken to Green-Wood for interment.

COBB.—At St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 9, WILLIAM HAZARD, youngest son of Sarah M. and the late Capt. Jacob A. Cobb, aged 20 years and 11 months.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend the funeral from his late residence, No. 15 Willoughby av., Brooklyn, on Wednesday, Nov. 15, at 11 A. M. Interment at the Moravian Cemetery, Staten Island.

FORRESTER.—On Tuesday morning, Nov. 14, 1876, ANNA V., eldest daughter of the late John Sutphen and wife of James C. Forrester, M. D., in the 62d year of her age.

The relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend funeral service at her late residence, No. 202 Bleecker st., on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 16, at 3 o'clock. The remains will be interred in Green-Wood Friday morning.

HOPKINS.—At Geneva, N. Y., on Sunday morning, the 12th inst., WILLIAM ROGERS HOPKINS, in the 72d year of his age.

LORD.—On Sunday, Nov. 12, after a short illness, at Morristown, N. J., CORNELIA LIVINGSTON LORD, only child of Edward C. and Emily M. Lord.

Funeral services at the Church of the Redeemer, Morristown, on Wednesday, Nov. 15 at 2:30 o'clock. Trains leave Hoboken ferries at noon.

LYON.—On Tuesday, Nov. 14, 1876, Mrs. MARY LYON, in the 85th year of her age.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

NICOLL.—Nov. 12, at New-Windsor, Orange County, N. Y., ETHELBERT B. NICOLL.

Funeral from his late residence, Wednesday, at 2 P. M.

TRIPP.—On Monday, Nov. 13, AMOS L. TRIPP, in the 34th year of his age.

The relatives and friends, also the members of Putnam Lodge, No. 338, F. and A. M., Putnam Association, Ætna Club, Alaska Club, and Lincoln Club, of the Seventh Assembly District, are respectfully invited to attend his funeral on Wednesday, Nov. 15, at 12:30 P. M., from the Baptist Church in 16th st., near 8th av.

ÆTNA CLUB.—Members are requested to meet at the club rooms, No. 157 8th av., on Wednesday, Nov. 15, at 12 o'clock sharp, for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late member, AMOS L. TRIPP.

GEORGE M. GARDNER, President.

JAS. A. CRYAN, Secretary.

At a meeting of the Thirteenth Assembly District Republican Association held on Monday evening, Nov. 13, 1876, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, Our late member, AMOS L. TRIPP, having by an inscrutable Providence been suddenly removed from among us, therefore be it

Resolved, That we tender our earnest sympathy to his relatives, while recognizing the loss to ourselves of an active, truthful, and worthy member of our association.

Resolved, That the members of the association be requested to attend the funeral.

WEEDEN.—On Monday, at No. 23 Lafayette place, Mrs. CATHARINE WEEDEN, aged 70 years, widow of Daniel S. Weeden.

Funeral services at the residence of her nephew, George F. Johnson, No. 220 East 11th st., on Wednesday, at 12 o'clock.

WINDLE.—At Stamford, Conn., Nov. 12, ELIZABETH KING WINDLE, daughter of the late Henry Windle, in the 16th year of her age.

Funeral services will be held at St. John's Church, Stamford, on Wednesday, the 15th, at 2 o'clock P. M.

WILLIAMS.—At his late residence, No. 34 West 17th st., on Tuesday evening, Nov. 14, JOHN S. WILLIAMS, of the firm of Williams & Guion.

YUNG.—EMMA F., wife of Frederick W., in the 26th year of her age.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

UNDERSHIRTS

AND DRAWERS

AT LOW PRICES.

WARD'S,

381 BROADWAY, CORNER WHITE ST.

862 BROADWAY, CORNER 14TH ST.

1,121 BROADWAY, CORNER 25TH ST.

THE MESSRS. LEAVITT, AUCTIONEERS.

THIS DAY, (TUESDAY) at 3:30 o'clock P.M.

THIS DAY, (TUESDAY) at 7:30 o'clock P.M.

Also WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY, and SATURDAY, at CLINTON HALL, At same hour each day.

MR. MENZIES' LIBRARY.

An unparalleled collection of rare, unique, and elegant books.

Books on exhibition each day until 2 o'clock P. M.

THE MESSRS. LEAVITT, AUCTIONEERS.

PEREMPTORY SALE.

SPANAISH and FRENCH ART.

Thursday and Friday evenings, Nov. 16 and 17, at the Art Rooms, No. 817 Broadway, at 8 o'clock.

THE TOLOSA COLLECTION.

Now on exhibition, free, at the Art Rooms, No. 817 Broadway, the entire collection of Oil Paintings, Water Colors—Antique Furniture—Arms and Armor—Tapestries—Costumes—Bric-a-Brac Studio Furniture, &c., collected by

T. TOLOSA, Esq.

The Paintings in this Collection are almost entirely new to the public, and well worthy the special attention of lovers of fine art.

Among the artists represented in this choice collection will be found Fortuny, Pradilla, Domingo, Plazencia, Peralta, Jiminez, Casado, Moreia, Garland, Madon, Plassan, Baron, Weber, Pinchart, De Jonghe, Goupil, and many others of note.

METROPOLITAN SAVINGS BANK, NEW-YORK, Nov. 14, 1876.

AT A STATED MEETING OF THE Trustees of this institution held this day, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted, viz.:

Resolved, That the Trustees of this institution have learned with profound sorrow of the death of Mr. Elisha Brooks, one of their number. Mr. Brooks was sincere and reliable in friendship, kind and urbane in manner, of excellent judgment in business affairs, and warmly interested in the prosperity of this institution, and the board feel that it has lost a most estimable and valuable member.

Resolved, That we tender to his family our heartfelt sympathy in their deep affliction, and that this minute of esteem and respect for his memory be entered on the record of this bank, and a transcript of the same be sent to the family. ISAAC T. SMITH, President.

J. W. LILLIE, Secretary.

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

The foreign mails for the week ending Saturday, Nov. 18, 1876, will close at this office on Tuesday at 12 M. for Europe, per steam-ship Wyoming, via Queenstown; on Wednesday at 11:30 A. M. for Europe, per steam-ship Bothnia, via Queenstown; on Thursday at 11:30 A. M. for Europe, per steam-ship Suevia, via Plymouth, Cherbourg, and Hamburg; on Saturday at 4 A. M. for Europe, per steam-ship City of Berlin, via Queenstown—correspondence for Scotland, and Germany to be forwarded by this steamer must be specially addressed—and at 4 A. M. for Scotland direct, per steam-ship Bolivia, via Glasgow, and at 11:30 A. M. for Europe, per steam-ship Oder, via Southampton and Bremen. The steam-ships Wyoming, Bothnia, and City of Berlin do not take mails for Denmark, Sweden, and Norway. The mails for the West Indies, via Bermuda and St. Thomas, will leave New-York Nov. 23. The mails for China, &c., will leave San Francisco Dec. 1. The mails for Australia, &c., will leave San Francisco Dec. 6. T. L. JAMES, Postmaster.

LEFT HER HOME ON SATURDAY, NOV. 11, a young lady, aged fifteen, about five feet one inch high, dark brown eyes, very dark brown hair, dark complexion; generally of a pleasing appearance. When she left home she was dressed in a dark brown woolen dress, with a faint white check; plain black cloth sack, round turban brown straw hat trimmed with plain brown velvet. Any information concerning her given to the Superintendent of the Police will be thankfully received by her friends.

LAMPS A SPECIALTY AT BARTLETT'S.—The CITY STREET AND BOULEVARD Lamp Depot, No. 619 Broadway, New-York. THE BEST LAMPS OF EACH KIND for the STREET, HOUSE, &c., burning GAS, GASOLINE, or OIL. All styles of STUDENTS' Lamps at prices from $2 upward, including Shade.

TO INVALIDS.

A gentleman who, for ten years, has read to invalids, has three hours daily to spare, for which he would like to make engagements. Address READER, Times Office, Box No. 140.

R. STUART WILLIS, ATTORNEY AND Counselor at Law, Notary Public, No. 182 Broadway, Room No. 4 New-York.

N. B.—Special attention paid to settling "estates," conveyancing, and city and country collection.

GOLD PENS.

FOLEY'S CELEBRATED GOLD PENS, NO. 2 ASTOR HOUSE, Opposite Herald Office.

COKE $3 PER CHALDRON.

Best and most economical fuel in use; suitable for household and manufacturing purposes. Manhattan Gas Works, Avenue C and 15th st. J. SMITH.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

CONSTITUTIONAL DISEASES FROM BLOOD poisons, pollution, taint, or absorption of infectious diseases, all treated upon in Dr. HEATH'S book, free to any address. Offices No. 200 Broadway, New-York.

KEEP'S PARTLY-MADE DRESS SHIRTS.—The very best, six for $6; can be finished as easily as hemming a handkerchief. No. 571 Broadway and No. 921 Arch st., Philadelphia.

DR. T. G. WAIT, NO. 45 EAST 23D ST., near Madison av.—First-class dentistry of every description at low, popular prices. Call and examine.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

AN UNRIVALED ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINE.

When SCRIBNER issued its famous Midsummer Holiday Number in July, a friendly critic said of it: "We are not sure but that SCRIBNER has touched highwater mark. We do not see what worlds are left to it to conquer." But the publishers do not consider that they have reached the ultima thule of excellence—they believe "there are other worlds to conquer, and they propose to conquer them."

THE PROSPECTUS FOR 1877.

Which gives the titles of more than fifty illustrated papers, by writers of the highest merit, grouped under the head of FOREIGN TRAVEL AND ADVENTURE, HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL, POPULAR SCIENCE, HOUSE AND HOME DECORATION, AMERICAN SPORTS, WIT AND HUMOR, indicates an advance upon preceding years.

THREE SERIAL STORIES are announced:

"NICHOLAS MINTURN,"

By Dr. HOLLAND, the Editor;

"His Inheritance," by Miss TRAFTON; "That Lass o' Lowrie's" by Mrs. HODGSON BURNETT, besides shorter stories, sketches, &c., &c.

Mr. BARNARD'S articles on various industries of Great Britain, begun in November, and which include the history of "Some Experiments in Co-operation," will be found of great practical value to business men.

There will be, also, practical suggestions as to town and country life, village improvements, &c., by well-known specialists.

A new feature will be a series of letters on literary matters, from London, by Mr. WELFORD.

These are but a few of the many attractions for the coming year. Buy the December number and read the prospectus.

SCRIBNER FOR DECEMBER,

Now ready, contains the opening chapters of "Nicholas Minturn," which will be read with eager curiosity and interest. It contains, also, an article on "Bay Shooting," by T. ROBINSON WARREN; "Lafayette College," by DONALD G. MITCHELL; "Our Diplomates and Consuls," by ALBERT RHODES; "Constantinople," by CHARLES DUDLEY WARNER; "Turkistan," &c., &c.

FIFTEEN MONTHS FOR $4.

SCRIBNER for August, September, and October, containing the opening chapters of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," will be given to every new subscriber who requests them, and whose subscription begins with the November number.

Subscription price, $4 a year—thirty-five cents a number. Subscribe with the nearest book-seller, or send a check or Post Office money order to

SCRIBNER & CO.,
No. 743 Broadway, New-York.

IMPORTANT NEW BOOKS.

SHORTER ENGLISH POEMS.
By Prof. HENRY MORLEY.

Containing all the leading characteristic shorter poems of English literature, from the EARLIEST PERIOD TO THE PRESENT TIME; also nearly two hundred illustrations, including engravings and ornaments taken from original MSS. and other sources, authentic portraits of the leading writers, and numerous views of places of interest historically connected with their lives. 512 pages, extra crown 4to, cloth, $5.

The above volume, although forming the First Section of Cassell's Library of English Literature, is complete in itself.

THE RACES OF MANKIND.
BEING A DESCRIPTION OF THE CHARACTERISTICS, MANNERS, AND CUSTOMS OF THE PRINCIPAL VARIETIES OF THE HUMAN FAMILY.
By ROBERT BROWN, M. A. Ph. D., F. L. S., F. R. G. S.

Handsomely printed, and with over 500 illustrations, many full page. 4 vols., cloth, $12, or 2 vols., cloth, $10; half calf, $18.

THE HISTORY OF PROTESTANTISM,
FROM THE EARLIEST PERIOD TO THE PRESENT TIME.
By Rev. J. A. WYLIE, LL. D.

To be completed in three volumes. Vols. 1 and 2 now ready, each containing about 200 Illustrations and over 600 pages. Extra crown quarto, cloth; per vol., $5.

The Evangelist says: "The author is well up in the extensive controversial literature and general history of his theme."

The Christian Advocate says: "The author is thoroughly qualified for his work, which is written in a style characterized by naturalness, simplicity, and vigor of thought."

CASSELL, PETTER & GALPIN,
No. 596 Broadway, New-York.

Send for complete catalogue.

THIS DAY PUBLISHED.

"HERE SHE IS, LITTLE FOLKS!"

FLAXIE FRIZZLE.

By SOPHIE MAY. Price, 75 cents.

She is the youngest and cunningest of "Little Prudy," "Dotty Dimple," and "Flyaway" families, of whom a well-known literary lady says: "The critic who wrote years ago, 'Genius comes in with "Little Prudy,"' will have to own that it remains with 'Flaxie Frizzle.'"

"ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S FAVORITE."

THE POETIC GEM.

OH! WHY SHOULD THE SPIRIT OF MORTAL BE PROUD?

By WILLIAM KNOX. With full-page and initial illustrations. 4to. Elegantly bound. Price $2.

A Western bookseller writes: "You have made a hit with this book. The beauty of the poem, and its association with the lamented Lincoln, make it a gift-book of real value." Uniform in size, style, and price with the success of last season, "Nearer, my God, to Thee," which still continues to be one of the most popular books in the market.

A BOOK FOR "OUR GIRLS."

DAISY TRAVERS,
OR, THE GIRLS OF HIVE HALL.

By Miss ADELAIDE F. SAMUELS. 12mo. Illustrated Price, 1 50.

This is the concluding volume of "The Maidenhood Series."

THE BOY WHO "DID NOT THINK."

WINWOOD CLIFF,
OR, THE SAILOR'S SON.

By Rev. DANIEL WISE, D. D., author of "The Glen Morris Stories," etc. 16mo. Illustrated. Price, $1 25.

This is the first volume of "The Winwood Cliff Series."

HERE'S "THE YOUNG DODGE CLUB" AGAIN.

THE WINGED LION.
OR, STORIES OF VENICE.

By Prof. JAMES DEMILLE. 16mo, cloth. Illustrated. Price, $1 50.

As humorous and instructive as the celebrated elder "Dodge Club."

SOLD BY ALL BOOKSELLERS AND NEWSDEALERS.
LEE & SHEPARD, Publishers, Boston
No. 678 Broadway, New York.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

Beginning of the 54th Volume.

HARPER'S
NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE
FOR DECEMBER, 1876.

CONTAINS:

THE HOME OF COLUMBUS.

ILLUSTRATIONS.—Christopher Columbus.—View of Genoa from the Heights above the City.—Caravels of the Fifteenth Century.—Reputed Birth-Place of Columbus.—Room where Columbus is said to have been born.—A Genoese Wool-Comber.—Cogoleto.—Monument to Columbus.—Bust, Autograph Letters, and Portfolio of Columbus.—Paganini's Violin.—Nicolo Paganini.—Banquet Hall, King's Palace.—View in the Pallavicini Gardens.—The Campo Santo.—An Upper Gallery, Campo Santo.—An Inner Gallery, Campo Santo.—Mazzini's Birth-Place.—Giuseppe Mazzini.—Tomb of Mazzini.—Giuseppe Verdi.—Ernesto Camillo Sivori.—A Palace Entrance.—Coat of Arms of Columbus.

CLOUDS. A Poem.

BOYS AND GIRLS. ILLUSTRATED BY PORTE CRAYON.

ILLUSTRATIONS.—Science versus Mother Goose.—Queen Petticoat.—Little Mother.—The Queen of Society.—The Little Housewife.—The Rescue.—The Miner's Picciola.—The First Love.—Boots.—Curiosity.—Too Fast.—The Little Man.—The Chub.—The Brat.—Gymnastics.—"Done stung hisself wid a Bumbly-Bee."—The Drum-Major.—The Whelps.—Mountaineers.—The Artist's Son.

LOVE'S SOVEREIGNTY. A Poem. By JOHN G. SAXE.

THE KNICKERBOCKERS OF NEW-YORK TWO CENTURIES AGO.

ILLUSTRATIONS.—The old Knickerbocker Homestead, Schaghticoke.—The Main Hall of the old Knickerbocker Homestead.—Mementoes in the East-room.—Haunted Chamber.—The Onondaga Council.—The old Side-board.—Slaves' Quarters in the Cellar of the old Knickerbocker Mansion.—Old Chest of Drawers.—"Dar goes aundder."—Col. Johannes Knickerbocker and his Wife.—The Knickerbocker Coat of Arms.

THE SO-CALLED PYGMY GRAVES IN TENNESSEE.

ILLUSTRATIONS.—Ossuary of Auvernier, Switzerland, with the Dirt cleared away.—View of the Ossuary of Auvernier with the Bones inclosed.—Mound Burial Ground on the Big Harpeth River, Tennessee.—Navajo Cradle.—Asymmetrical Skull from Abiquiu, New-Mexico.—Copper Cross from Tennessee.—Copper Bobbin from Tennessee.—Vessels from the Stone Graves of Tennessee.—Stone and Pottery Images from Tennessee.

ERēMA; OR, MY FATHER'S SIN. By R. D. BLACKMORE, author of "Lorna Doone," "Alice Lorraine," &c.

CHAPTER I. A Lost Landmark.
CHAPTER II. A Pacific Sunset.
CHAPTER III. A Sturdy Colonist.
CHAPTER IV. The "King of the Mountains."
CHAPTER V. Uncle Sam.
CHAPTER VI. A Britisher.

MY NEIGHBOR IN PORTUGAL. A Story.

THE PIN GHOST.

LILLIAN'S DYING. A Poem.

THE BOOK OF GOLD. A Christmas Story. By J. T. TROWBRIDGE.

ILLUSTRATIONS.—"Over the Counter, Spectacles on Nose, old Richard stooped."—"'Hope evermore! love evermore!' they sing."—"His own good Mother from her Easy-Chair watches the Baby Maurice on the Floor."—"'Art thou the Christ?' he cries."—Tail-Piece.

THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

ILLUSTRATIONS.—Life in the Water.—Map of the Philippine Islands.—Tagals.—A Manila Barge and House with Balcony, on the passig.—An Indian Girl.—A Manila Dandy.—A Tagal Girl.—A Village Clock.—Constable and Alcalde.—A Pavava.—An Ygorrote Woman weaving.

AT TWOSCORE. A Poem. By THOMAS BAILEY ALDRICH.

ILLUSTRATIONS.—"And you are sitting, as of old, beside my Hearth-Stone, heavenly Maid!"

A WOMAN-HATER.—Part VI.

SYMPATHY. A Poem.

THE FREIGHT OF THE SCHOONER "DOLPHIN." A Story.

IN FUTURO. A Poem.

LETTER OF MR. GLADSTONE.—[Explaining His Attitude Toward America in the Late War.]

ENGLAND AND AMERICA. A Poem. By Bishop CLEVELAND COXE.

GARTH. A Novel. By JULIAN HAWTHORNE.

THANKSGIVING TURKEY. A Poem. By G. P. LATHROP.

THE CAPTAIN'S SACRIFICE. A Story.

MUSCADINES. A Poem. By PAUL HAYNE.

PEAT-FIELDS. By Miss THACKERAY.

EDITOR'S EASY CHAIR.

EDITOR'S LITERARY RECORD.

EDITOR'S SCIENTIFIC RECORD.

EDITOR'S HISTORICAL RECORD.

EDITOR'S DRAWER.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, AND BAZAR.

Postage free to Subscribers in the United States and Canada.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE, HARPER'S WEEKLY, or HARPER'S BAZAR, will be sent for one year to any Subscriber in the United States or Canada, POSTAGE PREPAID by the Publishers, on receipt of Four Dollars.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE, HARPER'S WEEKLY, and HARPER'S BAZAR, for one year, $10; or any two for $7; Postage free.

A Complete Analytical Index to the first Fifty Volumes of HARPER'S MAGAZINE has just been published, rendering available for reference the vast and varied wealth of information which makes this periodical a perfect illustrated literary cyclopedia. 8vo, Cloth, $3; Half Calf, $5 25. Sent Postage prepaid.

Address HARPER & BROTHERS, New-York.

APPLETONS' JOURNAL FOR DECEMBER. Completion First Volume of New Series. Price 25 cents per number; $3 per annum.

APPLETONS' JOURNAL FOR DECEMBER contains a richly-illustrated article on our Game-Birds. Price 25 cents.

APPLETONS' JOURNAL FOR DECEMBER contains a brilliant story, complete, by Mrs. MACQUOID, author of "Patty." Price 25 cents.

APPLETONS' JOURNAL FOR DECEMBER contains a capital, illustrated paper on "Pleasures and Pastimes in Old-Time France." Price 25 cents.

APPLETONS' JOURNAL FOR DECEMBER contains an excellent Florida story, by LIZZIE W. CHAMPNEY, Price 25 cents.

APPLETONS' JOURNAL FOR DECEMBER contains first installment of the last novelette written by GEORGE SAND, called "The Tower of Percemont," Price 25 cents.

APPLETONS' JOURNAL FOR DECEMBER contains second and concluding part of "His Double," a brilliant novelette. Price 25 cents.

APPLETONS' JOURNAL FOR DECEMBER contains a third paper of Mr. FREEMAN'S "Reminiscences of Authors and Artists." Price 25 cents.

APPLETONS' JOURNAL FOR DECEMBER contains a sweeping assault on municipal and other affairs in New-York. Price 25 cents.

APPLETONS' JOURNAL FOR DECEMBER contains Poems by STODDARD, Miss WOOLSON, and various papers and sketches by other popular writers Price 25 cents.

APPLETONS' JOURNAL.—THE CHEAPEST of the high-class magazines.

"Full of excellent literary variety."—Hartford Times. "One of the best of the monthlies."—The Scotsman. "Contains delightful fiction."—N. Y. Mail. "Articles, many of them, brilliant and sparkling."—N. Y. Tribune. "Worthy of a wide reading."—Troy Times. "In the front rank of current magazine literature."—Boston Post.

25 cents per number; $3 00 per annum.

D. APPLETON & CO., Publishers, New-York.

CHEAPEST BOOKSTORE IN THE WORLD.
167,892 NEW BOOKS ALMOST GIVEN AWAY
CATALOGUE 46, FREE. SEND STAMP
LEGGAT BROS., 3 Beekman st., opp. new Post Office

POLITICAL.

FIFTH ASSEMBLY DISTRICT REPUBLICAN ASSOCIATION will meet on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Nov. 15, at No. 185 Spring st., at 8 o'clock
AUSTIN LEAKE, President.
EDWARD HALLOCK, Secretary.

THE UP-TOWN OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

No. 1,257 Broadway, bet. 31st and 32d sts. Open daily, Sundays included, from 4 A. M. to 9 P. M. ADVERTISEMENTS RECEIVED UNTIL 9 P. M.

THE LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

BUFFALO, Nov. 14.—Cattle—Receipts to-day, 350 head, making the total receipts for the week thus far 6,028 head, against 4,828 head for the same time last week; the market has ruled active at an advance on last week's prices of from 10 to 25c. ₱ cwt., the best grades showing the strongest advance; the attendance of buyers of all classes was good; general quality of offerings good; 180 cars disposed of; good proportion of best stock for shipment east; sales of shippers' Steers at $4 75@$5 70; butchers' grades at $4 25@$4 62½; stockers at $3@$3 95. Cows and Heifers for butchers' use at $3 25@$4. Sheep and Lambs; receipts to-day, 1,200 head, making the total receipts for the week thus far 9,600 head, against 11,000 head for the same time last week; the market was moderately active, and about all good quality of offerings was disposed of; prices for best grades at ¼c.@¼c. advance on last week's average quotations. Common grades at strong last week's prices; sales of 19 cars of Western Sheep and 10 cars of Canada stock, mainly to supply the Eastern trade demand; 8 cars of medium to common Sheep unsold; supply of best stock equal to the demand; sales of Western Sheep, fair to best, at $4 62½@$5; medium lots at $4 25@$4 50; a few common lots at $3 75@$4; Canada Lambs at $5 62½@$6 12½; Canada Sheep at $5. Hogs—Receipts to-day, 500 head, making the total supply for the week thus far 22,900 head, against 7,400 head for the same time last week; the market yesterday (Monday) ruled dull and slow; of the few lots disposed of prices ranged as follows: Yorkers, $5 30@$5 50; few heavy Hogs at $5 75; this morning the transactions were more active, but prices lower, the receipts being far in excess of the demand. We quote from sales made to-day: Yorkers, $5 25@$5 40 for medium to best; heavy Hogs at $5 45@$5 65; the yards are nearly full of unsold stock.

WATERTOWN, Mass., Nov. 14.—The receipts of Cattle to-day were 1,547 head; the market was more active, with prices a shade better for owners; quoted: Choice, $8; extra, $7 50@$7 75; first quality, $6 75@$7 25; second do., $6@$6 50; third do., $4 50@$5 50. The receipts of Sheep and Lambs were 5,768 head; there was a general feeling of improvement, with prices from ⅛c.@¼c. better; quoted, in lots: Common, $1 50, $2, and $2 50; extra, $3@$4 50, or from 3c.@6c. ₱ ℔.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Cattle—Receipts 4,500 head; shipments, 480; market quiet, firm and unchanged; sales of good to extra shipping at $4 35@$4 90. ...Hogs—receipts, 18,000 head; shipments, 2,400; market active and firm; sales of common to choice, light at $5 50@$5 80; good to choice, heavy assorted, $5 65@$6; all were sold. Sheep—receipts, 180 head; prices unchanged.

EAST LIBERTY, Nov. 14.—Cattle—Receipts to-day, 1,360 head, or 17 cars, through stock, and 63 cars for sale here; supply good and market active at the following prices: Best, $5 25; medium to good, $4 75@$5; common to fair, $4@$4 25. Hogs—Receipts to-day, 3,420 head; sales of Yorkers at $5 25@$5 35; Philadelphias, $5 60@$5 75. Sheep—Receipts to-day, 1,400 head; selling, $3@$4 50.

THE STATE OF TRADE

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Flour steady and unchanged; Wheat active, firm, and higher; No. 2 Chicago Spring, $1 12 cash; $1 13¾@$1 13⅞ December; $1 14¾@$1 14⅞ January; No 3 Chicago Spring, $1 02; rejected, 90c.@92c. Corn fairly active and a shade higher; 43⅜c. cash, 43⅜c. all the year; rejected, 42c. Oats quiet and weak; 32¼c. cash; 32½c. December. Rye firmer at 61c. Barley easier at 77c. cash; 78½c. December. Pork fairly active, and a shade higher; $16 cash; $15 57½ November; $15 47½@$15 50 all the year. Lard active, firm, and higher; $9 90 cash; $9 60 December, and all the year. Bulk-meats moderately active and higher; Shoulders, 6⅜c.@6½c.; Short Rib Sides, 8⅜c.@8½c. Bacon—Shoulders, 8⅜c.@8¾c. Whisky, $1 07. Receipts—Flour, 17,000 bbls.; Wheat, 141,000 bushels; Corn, 76,000 bushels; Oats, 32,000 bushels; Rye, 7,000 bushels; Barley, 37,000 bushels. Shipments—Flour, 12,000 bbls.; Wheat, 48,000 bushels; Corn, 92,000 bushels; Oats, 35,000 bushels; Rye, 3,100 bushels; Barley, 48,000 bushels. At the afternoon call of the board: Wheat easier; $1 13⅜ cash; $1 14⅝@$1 14¾ January. Corn and Oats unchanged. Provisions nominal.

BUFFALO, Nov. 14.—Lake Receipts—Flour, 700 bbls.; Corn, 200,423 bushels; Wheat, 77,500 bushels; Barley, 9,990 bushels. Railroad Receipts—Flour, 4,000 bbls.; Corn, 18,400 bushels; Wheat, 13,000 bushels; Oats, 14,700 bushels; Barley, 2,400 bushels; Rye, 3,200 bushels. Shipments—Canal to Tide-water—Corn, 91,111 bushels; Wheat, 7,844 bushels; Barley, 3,900 bushels; Barley-malt, 12,159 bushels. Interior Points—Corn, 3,000 bushels. Railroad Shipments—Flour, 3,760 bbls.; Corn, 53,300 bushels; Wheat, 69,800 bushels; Oats, 14,700 bushels; Barley, 2,400 bushels. Flour quiet; sales, 900 bbls. Wheat in light inquiry; sales, 8,000 bushels No. 2 Milwaukee at private terms; four cars No. 1 White Michigan at $1 38. Corn in fair demand; sales early of 15,000 bushels No. 2 Western at 52c.; later, 18,500 bushels do. at 52½c.; 4,000 bushels sample at 51c.@51½c.; 23,000 bushels Low Mixed Toledo at 53c.; 3,000 bushels No. 2 Western, in lots, at 53c. Oats, Rye, and Barley—No sales reported. Malt in fair trade inquiry; prices nominally unchanged. Seeds inactive. Pork and Lard quiet and unchanged. Highwines nominally unchanged and quiet. Canal Freights—Boatmen holding for higher rates; no charters to-day. Railroad Freights quiet and unchanged.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 14.—Flour—An advance is asked, but none established; little business done. Wheat moderately active and higher; No. 2 Red-fall, $1 22¼; No. 3 do., $1 14¼ cash; $1 15 December. Corn firmer; 41½c. cash; 40½c. all the year. Oats firmer; 31½c. cash and bid November. Rye strong and higher at 58c.@58½c. Barley steady and unchanged. Whisky dull and lower at $1 06. Pork dull and unchanged. Lard higher at $9 75@$9 80, the latter price for the week. Bulk-meats firmer at a fraction better for sides; Shoulders, 6⅛c.; clear rib Sides, 8⅛c.; Clear Sides, 8⅜c. Bacon steady, with a fair demand; Shoulders, 7⅛c.@7⅜c.; Clear Rib Sides, 8⅞c.@9c.; Clear Sides, 9⅛c.@9¼c. Hogs higher for packing grades; Yorkers, $5 25@$5 50; Bacon, $5 60@$5 80; Butchers' $5 75@$5 90. Cattle quiet and unchanged; only moderate demand. Receipts—Flour, 3,700 bbls.; Wheat, 27,000 bushels; Corn, 38,000 bushels; Oats, 12,000 bushels; Rye, 3,000 bushels; Barley, 18,000 bushels; Hogs, 3,200 head; Cattle, 900 head.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 14.—Flour firmer, but not quotably higher. Wheat quiet but steady; Red, $1 15@$1 25. Corn active and firm for new at 42c.@44c.; old steady at 52c.@53c. Oats steady at 30c.@38c. Rye quiet but steady at 68c. Barley dull and nominal. Pork firm; new, $16@$16 25. Lard higher; Steam-Rendered, $9 85@$9 87½; Kettle do., $10 25@$10 50. Bulk-meats in fair demand; Shoulders 6¼c.@6⅜c; Clear Rib Sides, 8⅛c.; Clear Sides, 8⅜c.@8½c., all loose; sales of boxed Short Rib Sides at 8¼c., December; Long and Short Clear Sides, 8⅞c., December. Bacon scarce and firm; Shoulders, 7½c.@7⅝c.; Clear Rib Sides, 9⅛c.@9¼c.; Clear Sides, 9½c.@9⅝c. Whisky steady and firm at $1 06. Butter firm and unchanged; good demand for choice. Hogs active and firm; common, $5@$5 50; fair to good light and packing, $5 35@$5 50; choice Butchers, $5 55@$5 60; receipts, 3,124 head; shipments, 1,100 head.

OSWEGO, Nov. 14.—Flour unchanged; sales, 1,200 bbls. Wheat dull; sales of 1,000 bushels No. 1 Milwaukee Club at $1 32; new held at $1 35; No. 1 White Michigan held at $1 40; Extra do., $1 45. Corn dull; sales of 1,000 bushels at 57c. Barley unchanged; sales, 10,000 bushels No. 1 Canada at $1 09; 10,000 bushels by sample at 99c. Corn-meal unchanged. Mill-feed unchanged. Canal Freights—Wheat, 5¼c.; Corn, 5½c.; Barley, 5c. to New-York; Barley, 4½c. to Albany; 7½c. to Philadelphia; Lumber, $2 50 to Albany; $3 25 to New-York. Lake Receipts—Wheat, 16,000 bushels; Barley, 23,000 bushels. Canal Shipments—Barley, 98,000 bushels; Lumber, 1,137,000 feet. Railroad Shipments—Flour, 1,600 bbls. Grain on the canal from Buffalo and Oswego for tide-water yesterday noon—Wheat, 1,339,000 bushels; Corn, 786,000 bushels; Barley, 664,000 bushels; Rye, 30,000.

TOLEDO, Nov. 14.—Flour steady. Wheat steady; No. 2 White Wabash, $1 35½; No. 3 do. held at $1 27, $1 26 bid; No. 1 White Michigan, $1 33; Extra do., $1 38½; Amber Michigan, $1 25; December, $1 25½; No. 2 do., $1 15; No. 1 Red Winter, $1 31½; No. 2 Red Winter, $1 21; December, $1 22½; No. 3 Red, $1 14; rejected, $1 10; Dayton and Michigan, $1 08; No. 2 Amber Illinois, $1 31. Corn steady; High Mixed, 53c.; new, 52c.; No. 2 at 53c.; new, 50c.; No 2 White, 51c.; no grade, 51c.; rejected, 51c.; new, 46c. Oats quiet; No. 2 at 32¼c.; Michigan, 33½c.; rejected, 25c. Clover-seed, $8 75. Receipts—Wheat, 41,000 bushels; Corn, 36,000 bushels; Oats, 2,500 bushels. Shipments—Flour, 900 bbls.; Wheat, 36,000 bushels; Corn, 28,000 bushels; Oats, 5,000 bushels.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 14.—Flour in good demand at full prices; Extra, $4 25@$4 50; Family, $5@$5 25; A No. 1, $6@$6 25; Fancy, $6 75@$7 25. Wheat firm; Red, $1 15@$1 22; Amber, $1 22@$1 28; White, $1 20@$1 30. Corn steady; White, 44c.; Mixed, 43c. Rye in fair demand at 65c. Oats dull; White, 35c.; Mixed, 32c. Provisions scarce and firm. Pork, nominal. Bulk Shoulders, none here; Clear Rib Sides, $8 60; Clear Sides, 8⅞c. Bacon scarce and firm; Shoulders, 7½c.; Clear Rib Sides, 9⅛c.; Clear Sides, 9⅝c. Sugar-cured Hams, 15½c. Lard scarce and wanted; tierce, 11¼c.; keg, 11¾c. Whisky steady and unchanged.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 14.—Flour quiet and neglected. Wheat opened firm; closed active and firm; No. 1 Milwaukee, $1 20; No. 2 do., $1 14½; December, $1 15⅞; January, $1 17¼. No. 3 do., $1 05½. Corn quiet and easier; No. 2 at 48c. Oats nominally unchanged. Rye steady with a fair demand; No. 1 at 63½c. Barley less firm; No. 2 Spring, 78¼c.@78½c.; No. 3 do., 43½c. Provisions quiet and nominal. Mess Pork, $15 75. Prime Steam Lard, $9 85. Freights steady but dull; Wheat to Buffalo, 4c.; do. to Oswego, 8½c. Receipts—Flour, 9,500 bbls.; Wheat, 103,400 bushels. Shipments—Flour, 21,000 bbls.; Wheat, 45,000 bushels.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 14.—Spirits of Turpentine quoted at 35c. Resin strong at $1 75 for strained. Tar strong at $1 75.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The following business was transacted at the Exchange yesterday, (Tuesday,) Nov. 14:

D. M. Seaman, by order of the Supreme Court, in foreclosure, Philo T. Ruggles, Esq., Referee, sold one four-story brick warehouse, with lot 23.11 by 91.9 by 24.2 by 91.1, on John st., south side, 72.6 feet east of William st., for $25,600, to Felix Campbell.

A. H. Muller & Son, under a Supreme Court foreclosure order, W. A. Boyd, Esq., Referee, sold a four-story and basement brown-stone-front house, with lot 20 by 98.9, on West 38th st., south side, 225 feet east of 6th av., for $27,500, to John R. Flanigan.

Winans & Davies, also under a Supreme Court foreclosure decree, George P. Smith, Esq., Referee, sold a five-story brick tenement house, with lot 22.3 by 100, on East 3d st., south side, 408.11 feet west of Avenue D, for $12,277, to C. H. Meyer, plaintiff in the legal action.

R. V. Harnett, by order of C. Norwood, Esq., Receiver, sold the three-story and basement frame house, with lot 18.9 by 99.11, No. 57 West 132d st., north side, 135 feet east of 6th av. Boulevard, for $6,250, to C. F. Crook.

D. M. Clarkson, by order of the Supreme Court, in foreclosure. John Frankenheimer, Esq., Referee, sold a portion of the building known as the "Knickerbocker Hotel," with lot 25 by 100.5, on East 59th st., south side, 100 feet east of 5th av., for $19,000, to C. R. Roberts, Jr., plaintiff in the legal action.

The foreclosure sale by H. N. Camp, of a plot of land on Boston road, 23d Ward, was adjourned to Nov. 21.

V. K. Stevenson, Jr., reports at private sale the four-story and basement brown-stone front house, with lot 16.8 by 100, No. 23 East 48th st., for $20,000, to William H. Libby.

TO-DAY'S AUCTIONS.

To-day's sales, all at the Exchange, are as follows:

By Scott & Myers, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, F. Thompson, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 25 by 75, on East 29th st., south side, 150 feet east of 2d av. Also, similar sale, at the Court-house, White Plains, at 11 A. M., of eighty-five acres, with buildings, on Mamaroneck av., in the town of White Plains; also, six and one-half acres adjoining above; also forty acres adjoining above.

By Peter F. Meyer, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, John N. Lewis, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 25 by 75, on East 39th st., south side, 290 feet east of 2d av. Also, similar sale, same Referee, of a house, with lot 17 by 100.5, on East 65th st., north side, 117 feet west of 4th av. Also, similar sale, same Referee, of a house, with lot 21.8 by 100, on Crosby st., east side, 92.4 feet south of Spring st.

By E. A. Lawrence & Co., Supreme Court foreclosure sale, William Boswell, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 18.9 by 70.5, on East 51st st., south side, 200 feet east of 2d av.

By R. V. Harnett, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, H. A. Braun, Esq., Referee, of a house, with lot 15.7 by 100.5, on East 114th st., north side, 489.4 feet east of 4th av. Also, similar sale, R. M. Henry, Esq., Referee, of eight lots, each 25 by 100, on 10th av., west side, block front between 157th and 158th sts. Also, one lot, 25 by 100, on West 157th st., north side, 100 feet west of 10th av.

By A. J. Bleecker & Son, Supreme Court foreclosure sale, Philo T. Ruggles, Esq., Referee, of a plot of land, 75 by — on 131st st., south side, 125 feet east of Morris av., Morrisania.

EXCHANGE SALES—TUESDAY, NOV. 14.

NEW-YORK.

By D. M. Seaman.

1 four-story brick warehouse, with lot, John st., s. s., 72.6 ft. e. of William st., lot 23.11x91.9x24.2x91.1 .... $25,600

By A. H. Muller & Son.

1 four-story and basement brown-stone front house, with lot, West 38th st., s. s., 225 ft. e. of 6th av., lot 20x98.9 .... $27,500

By Winans & Davies.

1 five-story brick tenement house, with lot, East 3d st., s. s., 408.11 ft. w. of Avenue D, lot 22.3x100 .... $12,277

By R. V. Harnett.

1 three-story and basement frame house, with lot, No. 57 West 132d st., n. s., 135 ft. e. of 6th av., lot 18.9x99.11 .... $6,250

By D. M. Clarkson.

A portion of the building known as "Knickerbocker Hotel" and one lot, East 59th st., s. s., 100 ft. e. of 5th av., lot 25x100.5 .... $19,000

RECORDED REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

NEW-YORK.

Monday, Nov. 13.

56th st., s. s., 225 ft. w. of 6th av., 25x100.5; A. H. Barney and wife to O. Harniman	$15,500
35th st., 250 ft. e. of 8th av., 25x93.9; A. Brennan to F. K. Keller	7,400
112th st., s. s., 182 ft. w. of Avenue A, 19.6x100.11; C. T. Barnes to J. H. Albert	12,000
105th st., s. s., 283.4 ft. e. of 4th av., 16.8x100.11; E. Dunn and husband to J. L. R. Wood	100
Walker st., s. s., No. 25, 25x100; W. L. Heermance and wife to S. B. Hutchings	25,000
5th st., s. s., No. 324, 20x96.2½; J. Hemlin and wife to G. Weiss	9,000
88th st., n. s., 100 ft. e. of 8th av., 20.6x98.9; H. Levy and wife to S. Marks	nom.
82d st., s. s., 231.4 ft. w. of Avenue B, 13.4x102.2; E. Kilpatrick and wife to G. L. Kilmer	4,250
Madison av., s. w. corner 66th st., 20.5x80; C. E. Cornish to J. Ziegler	nom.
Madison av., same property, M. Daly to J. Zeigler	nom.
82d st., s. s., 111.4 ft. w. of Avenue B, 13.4x102.2; E. Kilpatrick and wife to A. Purdy	4,200
10th av., n. e. corner 145th st., 225x99.11; A. Ogden and wife to H. Travers	27,000
98th st., s. s., 230 ft. w. of 4th av., 175x100.10; A. H. Quackenbush to C. Freeman	nom.
Delancey st., s. s., 63 ft. e. of Essex st., 19x75; W. Rabold and wife to K. Vonhof	14,000
22d st., s. s., 175 ft. w. of 1st av., 20x97.6; E. Sturtzkober to J. Schuchmann	nom.
116th st., n. s., 100x100.2; also Broad st., No. 50, 15x118.4; J. S. Underhill to A. C. Corbitt	12,000
104th st., s. s., 100 ft. e. of 4th av., 20x100.11; P. Van Alstyne to J. Mathews	8,000
Public Drive, e. s., 28.6¾ ft. s. of 67th st., 15.8x25; also 72d st., s. s., 420 ft. w. of 11th av., 171 x irregular; C. A. Weaver to J. Braden	nom.
Broadway, s. e. corner of 67th st., 48.9½x50.5; C. A. Weaver to A. H. Quackenbush	nom.
4th av., n. e. corner of 90th st., 39.4x100.8; J. H. Watson and wife to W. M. Purdy	24,000
Union av., w. s., 125 ft. n. of Glen av., 25x200, 24th Ward; J. L. Woodley and wife to J. W. Knapp	500
60th st., n. s., 300 ft. e. of 11th av., 25x100.5; James P. Ledwith, Referee, to J. S. R. Wood	1,000
60th st., n. s., 275 ft. e. of 11th av., 25x100.5; same to same	1,000
60th st., n. s., 325 ft. e. of 11th av., 20x100.5; same to same	1,000
64th st., n. s., 75 ft. e. of 5th av., 25x100.5; same to same	13,250
5th av., e. s., 29.9 ft. n. of 61st st., 25.1x100; W. S. Kieley, Referee, to New-York Life Insurance Company	36,000
Greene st., w. s., 95 ft. s. of Houston st., 25x100; L. W. Emerson, Referee, to A. Van Deusen	4,000
26th st., s. s., 300 ft. w. of 6th av., 25x98.9; J. Frankenheimer, Referee, to M. B. Park	7,030
134th st., s. s., 125 ft. e. of 12th av., 50x99.11; H. D. Purroy, Referee, to C. L. Beekman	1,950
5th av., e. s., 50.5 ft. s. of 59th st., 25x100; H. Andrews, Referee, to W. Clarkson	27,100
Union av., w. s., 25 ft. n. of Cedar st., 75x114.1, 24th Ward; George A. Halsey, Referee, to United States Trust Company	1,500
Cedar st., n. s., 95 ft. w. of Tinton av., 75x100, 24th Ward; same to same	2,400
Cedar st., n. w. corner Union av., 25x114; Cedar st., n. s., 100 ft. e. of Tinton av., 52.1x100; same to same	1,200
Tinton av., e. s., 125 ft. n. of Cedar st., 75x134.1; same to same	900
Tinton av., s. w. corner Cedar st., 95x100; John A. Goodlett, Referee, to United States Trust Company	300
Concord av., e. s., 125 ft. n. of Cedar st., 115x111.4; same to same	500

LEASE RECORDED.

Union place, n. w. corner 15th st., 9 years; G. E. Beers to Bank of Metropolis $7,000

CITY REAL ESTATE.

NOS. 51, 53, 57, 59, AND 61 EAST 55TH ST. AT PRIVATE SALE, BY ORDER OF TRUSTEES.

These new and very desirable houses 16.6 and 20x52, with dining-room extensions; built and finished in the best manner; lots 100.5. Prices, $22,000 and $24,000, respectively. For further particulars and keys apply to E. H. LUDLOW & CO., No. 3 Pine st.

A WONDERFUL BARGAIN.—SUBSTANTIAL house, twelve rooms, superior cellar, piazza, well, cistern, fruit, fine lot, terraced; near depot; fifty minutes in New-Jersey; desirable location; gas, water, sidewalks; forced sale; only $2,500, half cash; no misrepresentations. STANLEY FERGUSON, No. 161 Broadway.

AN UNUSUALLY COMMANDING BROADWAY property, near 23d st., 40 or 80 feet front by 115 feet. Will lease or sell low, and rebuild with handsome elevation, to suit either piano-forte, gas fixtures, crockery, carpet, furniture, publisher, sewing-machine, or clothier's business. V. K. STEVENSON, JR., 4 Pine and 33 East 17th st.

NO. 178 MADISON AV.

For Sale.—This 25 by 65 feet four-story high-stoop brown-stone house to be sold at auction, Nov. 24, if not previously disposed of at private sale. Apply to E. H. LUDLOW & CO., No. 3 Pine st.

LEXINGTON AV., NEAR 61ST ST.—SUPERB medium-size modern brown-stone dwelling for sale or to rent, furnished or unfurnished, low. Permits at 4 Pine or 33 East 17th st. V. K. STEVENSON, JR.

FOR SALE—A VERY DESIRABLE FIRST-CLASS 37.6-foot brown-stone house, south side of 40th st., just west 5th av.; built by the late owner for his own use. Apply to E. H. LUDLOW & CO., No. 3 Pine st.

FOR SALE—ON 5TH AV. NEAR 26TH ST.—A FOUR-story, English basement, brown-stone house; price, $40,000; possession May 1, 1877. Address HOMER MORGAN, No. 2 Pine st.

FOR SALE AT A BARGAIN—AN ELEGANT full-sized house in West 58th st., close to 5th av.; location elegant. Apply to HOMER MORGAN, No. 2 Pine st.

COUNTRY REAL ESTATE.

ORANGE, N. J.—COUNTRY HOUSES, LANDS, and village lots for sale, a great variety. Also, furnished and unfurnished houses to let for season or year, by WALTER E. SMITH, formerly Blackwell & Smith, Orange, corner of Main and Cone sts.

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.

HUGH N. CAMP, Auctioneer,
WILL SELL AT AUCTION ON THURSDAY, Dec. 7, 1876,
At 12 o'clock M., at the Exchange Sales-room, No. 111 Broadway, by order of The Assignee of WILLIAM MOLLER,
FARM AT GREENWICH, CONN.

Consisting of house and twenty-two acres as follows: All that certain tract of land situated in Greenwich, Conn., separate from each other by a highway, one tract in quantity twelve acres, more or less, with buildings thereon, bounded north by lands of Daniel Ferris; east and south by highways, and west by highways and land of said Daniel Ferris. The other tract in quantity ten acres, more or less, bounded south by lands of Beal B. Lockwood, and on all other sides by highways.

V. K. STEVENSON, JR., Auctioneer—Office No. 4 Pine st.
THE VALUABLE IMPROVED PROPERTY on north-west corner of Broome and Mulberry sts. will be sold at auction on TUESDAY, Nov. 21, 1876, at 12 M., at Exchange Sales-room, No. 111 Broadway, in following parcels: Corner parcel, 50.6 on Broome st., 116 feet on Mulberry st., with four brick buildings thereon; lot on Mulberry st., adjoining above, 25x75, with brick building thereon; lot on Broome st., adjoining same, 25.3x98.9 and 104.6, with brick building thereon.

DWELLINGS TO LET.

TO LET—FULLY FURNISHED, WITH FINE BILliard room, on west side, above the Park, forty minutes from Wall st., a double house; if agreeable the owners (two in number) would board with party; an economical arrangement will be made with horses, &c. Address WEST SIDE, Box No. 136 Times Office.

TO LET—TO A PRIVATE FAMILY ONLY, THE desirable four-story and attic English basement house, No. 249 West 23d st.; just painted, and thoroughly repaired. Apply to P. HARMONY'S NEPHEWS & CO., No. 63 Broadway, or A. LEAMAN, No. 217 West 23d st.

TO LET, FURNISHED—TO A PRIVATE FAMILY—An elegant and handsomely furnished, English basement house, on 5th av. near 32d st. The house and furniture have just been put in perfect order, and renovated; rent, $5,000 per annum. Particulars from HOMER MORGAN, No. 2 Pine st.

TO LET—FIRST-CLASS FOUR-STORY HOUSE, No. 47 East 2?th st., near Madison av. Rent $2 500. Apply on the premises or to JAMES G. KING'S SONS, No. 52 William st.

DWELLINGS TO LET.

TO LET—HOUSE NO. 214 EAST 11TH ST.; RENT low; all improvements. Apply to M. ECHEVERRIA & CO., No. 20 Beaver st.

STORES, &C., TO LET.

TO LET—AN OFFICE IN THE TIMES BUILDING, second floor, 23 feet by 23 feet, in good condition, suitable for a lawyer's office. Apply to GEORGE JONES, Times Office.

REAL ESTATE WANTED.

WANTED—ONE OR TWO HOUSES ADJOINING; location, 19th, 20th, 21st, or 22d sts., between Broadway and 4th av.; cash; no agents. Address C. A. P., Post Office Box No. 612, New-York.

SITUATIONS WANTED.

FEMALES.

THE UP-TOWN OFFICE OF THE TIMES.

The up-town office of THE TIMES is located at No. 1,257 Broadway, bet. 31st and 32d sts. Open daily, Sundays included, from 4 A. M. to 9 P. M. Subscriptions received, and copies of THE TIMES for sale.

ADVERTISEMENTS RECEIVED UNTIL 9 P. M.

COMPANION.—A YOUNG PROTESTANT LADY wishes a place as companion; is a good reader; would assist in house-keeping, care of young children; and sewing; New-York City preferred; good references; can be seen at No. 3 West 47th st., afternoons of Tuesday 14th, Wednesday 15th, and Thursday 16th inst.

COMPANION.—BY A LADY OF REFINEMENT, offering highest references, as companion to a lady or as assistant cashier. Address for one week Culture, Box No. 324 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

CHAMBER-MAID, &c.—BY A PROTESTANT girl as chamber-maid and waitress; is capable of assisting with any other work in a private family; no objection to the country; best references. Call at No. 313 East 27th st.

CHAMBER-MAID AND LAUNDRESS.—BY a colored girl; competent for either positions; City reference. Address J. F., Box No. 258 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A YOUNG PROTESTANT girl as chamber-maid and fine washing or sewing; can operate on three machines; best City reference. Call at No. 742 3d av.

CHAMBER-MAID AND WAITRESS.—BY A young girl; member of the English Church; good City reference. Address S. T., Box No. 328 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

CHAMBER-MAID AND WAITRESS.—BY A young girl, or chamber-maid and assist with the washing; best City reference. Can be seen at No. 32 West 44th st.

CHAMBER-MAID AND SEAMSTRESS.—BY an American woman; would wait on young ladies or grown children. Can be seen at her present employer's, No. 1 East 35th st.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A REGULAR CHAMBER-maid; will assist with the washing or parlor work; excellent City references. Address C. M., Box No. 301 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

CHAMBER-MAID AND WAITRESS.—BY A respectable girl as chamber-maid and waitress; best City reference. Call at present employer's. No. 158 East 70th st.

CHAMBER-MAID AND LAUNDRESS.—BY a young woman; or will do chamber-work and fine washing; best City reference. Call at No. 130 West 20th st.

CHAMBER-MAID AND SEWING, OR Waitress Alone.—By a Swedish girl in a private family; City reference. Address A. N., Box No. 317 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A RESPECTABLE COLored girl, as chamber-maid or lady's maid; good City reference. Apply for two days, from 10 till 2, at No. 161 West 48th st.

CHAMBER-MAID AND WAITRESS.—BY A respectable girl as chamber-maid and waitress; is willing and obliging; good City reference. Call at No. 127 West 52d st.

CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A YOUNG GIRL AS chamber-maid and to do fine washing; has the best City reference. Call at No. 158 East 30th st., second floor.

CHAMBER-MAID AND NURSE.—BY A YOUNG Scotch girl; no objection to the country; good reference. Call at No. 218 West 17th st.

CHAMBER-MAID AND WAITRESS.—BY A Protestant young woman; no objections to the country. Call for two days at 125 West 16th st., rear.

CHAMBER-MAID AND NURSE.—BY A REspectable Danish girl; willing and obliging. Call at No. 117 East 77th st.

CHAMBER-MAID AND WAITRESS.—BY A young girl, or will assist with washing and ironing; best City reference. Call at No. 130 West 20th st.

CHAMBER-MAID OR WAITRESS.—BY A respectable young girl; will do plain sewing; good reference. Call at No. 79 West 43d st.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN AS FIRST-class cook: understands all kinds of fine cooking, French and English soups, fish, meats, pastry, creams, and desserts of all kinds; full charge of kitchen required; splendid baker of bread, cake, and biscuit; City reference. Call for two days at No. 124 West 33d st., between 6th and 7th avs.

COOK.—BY A FIRST-CLASS COOK; UNDERstands English and American cooking; soups, jellies, pastry, and game, and is a good baker; eight years' reference. Call at No. 157 West 27th st., second floor, back.

COOK, &c.—CHAMBER-MAID, &c.—BY two sisters together in a private family; one as good plain cook, washer, and ironer; the other as chamber-maid and waitress; good City reference. Call for two days at No. 363 1st av., in the bakery.

COOK.—BY A FIRST-CLASS COOK IN A PRIVATE family; is a good baker and understands all kinds of cooking; is willing to assist with the washing; best City references from her last place. Call at No. 42 East 32d st.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN; UNDERstands her business thoroughly; good references for capability and honesty; City or country. Address C. C., Box No. 325 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COOK.—BY A YOUNG WOMAN, WHO HAS LIVED out in England several years and in this country, as cook in a private family; is a good baker and a first-rate cook; five years' City reference. Call at No. 275 West 19th st., near 8th av.

COOK—CHAMBER-MAID.—BY AN ENGLISH woman as cook; also a chamber-maid; both willing to do the work of a small family between them; best City references. Call at No. 313 7th av., near 28th st.

COOK.—FIRST-CLASS; UNDERSTANDS ENGLISH and American cooking in all its branches; meats, soups, games, and jellies; first-class baker; five years' reference from last place. Call at 311 West 25th st.

COOK, WASHER AND IRONER.—BY A Protestant woman in a small private family; understands all kinds of cooking; best City reference. Call at No. 130 West 25th st., in the store.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE GIRL AS GOOD cook; understands her business in all its branches; is willing and obliging; good City reference. Call at No. 127 West 52d st.

COOK.—BY A COMPETENT COOK, IN A PRIVATE family; City or country; understands all kinds of cooking; first-class reference. Call at No. 692 Third av., in millinery store.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN AS FIRST-class cook; best City reference from last place, where she has lived for several years. Call at No. 115 West 19th st.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG GIRL AS first-class cook and baker; would do the coarse washing; three years' reference from last place. Call at No. 208 East 45th st.

COOK.—AS FIRST-CLASS COOK; WILLING TO assist in the ironing and washing; lived in last place eight years; best of City reference. Call at No. 911 6th av.

COOK.—BY A PROTESTANT WOMAN AS GOOD plain cook; willing to assist with washing and ironing; reference in Madison av. Call at bakery, No. 730 2d av., near 39th st.

COOK.—BY A FIRST-CLASS ENGLISH COOK IN a private family; can take entire charge; do marketing if required; five years' City reference. Call at No. 471 6th av., fancy store.

COOK.—AS FIRST-CLASS GERMAN COOK; UNDERstands French and English cooking thoroughly; best of City reference. Address Marie, Box No. 311 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, No. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COOK.—BY A PROTESTANT WOMAN AS GOOD cook; would assist in washing, if required; no objection to the country; best reference. Call on or address No. 111 West 18th st.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE PROTESTANT WOman as excellent plain cook; would do coarse washing; best City reference. Call at No. 224 West 31st st.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG ENGLISH woman as first-class cook who thoroughly understands her duty in all its branches; best of reference. Call at No. 674 3d av., in store.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG WOMAN as first-class cook; understands her business; excellent baker; will assist with washing; City reference. Call at No. 205 East 38th st., near 3d av.

COOK, WASHER, AND IRONER.—BY A young American woman; has a child six years old, whom she wishes to take with her; good references. Apply at No. 218 West 17th st.

COOK.—BY A FIRST-CLASS COOK; UNDERstands soups, meats, pastry, and jelly; excellent baker; best City reference. Call at No. 132 West 19th st., first flight.

COOK.—BY A GOOD PLAIN COOK, WASHER, AND ironer; willing and obliging; two years' reference; would go as laundress and assist with chamber-work. Call at No. 571 3d av.

COOK.—BY A FIRST-CLASS COOK AND EXCELlent baker; understands all kinds of desserts; no objections to the country; best reference. Call at No. 563 3d av., near 37th st., millinery store.

COOK.—BY A FIRST-CLASS FAMILY COOK, with best City references. Seen by addressing First-Class Cook, Box No. 283 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COOK.—FIRST-CLASS; UNDERSTANDS FRENCH and English cooking in all its branches. Call at No. 431 7th av., top floor, first room.

COOK, WASHER AND IRONER—CHAMBER-maid and Waitress—By two Protestant girls together; best City reference. Call at 444 East 19th st.

COOK.—BY A PROTESTANT WOMAN; THOROughly understands her business; City reference. Call at No. 156 West 28th st., first floor.

COOK.—BY A LADY LEAVING HOME FOR THE Winter a place for a first-class cook. Can be seen at present employer's, No. 104 East 30th st.

SITUATIONS WANTED.

FEMALES.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE COLORED WOMAN in a private family as first-class cook; thoroughly understands her business; can give the best of City reference. Call or address A. B., No. 136 West 17th st., front house, first floor.

COOK.—BY A FIRST-CLASS ENGLISH COOK OR working housekeeper; good reference. Address G. L., No. 52 East 33d st.

COOK.—BY AN ENGLISH PROTESTANT GIRL AS cook, washer, and ironer; good City reference. Call at No. 274 6th st., Jersey City, first floor, for two days.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE PROTESTANT WOMan as first-class cook in a private family; good City reference. Call at 221 East 21st st., third floor.

COOK.—FIRST-CLASS, IN A PRIVATE FAMILY; understands English and American cooking; best City reference. Call at No. 763 6th av.; ring 3d bell.

COOK.—BY A PROTESTANT WOMAN, AS FIRST-class family cook and baker; City or country; five years' City reference. Call at No. 134 West 17th st.

COOK.—BY A FIRST-CLASS COOK, IN PRIVATE family; good City reference. Call at No. 10 West 44th st.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE WOMAN AS FIRST-class cook; City or country; good City reference. Call for two days at No. 315 East 31st st.

COOK.—BY A MIDDLE-AGED WOMAN TO COOK and assist with light washing, and take care of a furnace. Call on or address Mrs. Lewis, 213 6th st.

COOK.—IN A PRIVATE FAMILY; BEST CITY REFerence. Address M. O., Box No. 284 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COOK.—BY A SWEDISH WOMAN IN A PRIVATE family; thoroughly understands cooking. Call at No. 234 East 41st st.

COOK.—BY A RESPECTABLE PROTESTANT woman as first-class cook. Can be seen for two days at No. 502 West 56th st.

COOK.—BY A PROTESTANT GIRL AS COOK AND to assist with washing and ironing; private family; City reference. Call at No. 225 East 26th st.

COOK.—BY A GOOD COOK AND EXCELLENT laundress; nine years' City reference. Call at No. 244 East 44th st.

DRESS-MAKER.—BY A PERFECT CUTTER, fitter, and trimmer, by day or week; country not objected to; operates on Wheeler & Wilson machine; highest references. Call on Mrs. J., No. 715 6th av., near 41st st., in millinery store.

DRESS-MAKER.—BY A FIRST-CLASS DRESS-maker, a few engagements by the day or week; has her own machine. Call or address No. 203 East 52d st., third floor.

DRESS-MAKER.—BY A FIRST-CLASS DRESS and cloak-maker; a few more engagements to go out by the day; can cut and fit in the latest French styles. Call on E. C., No. 623 3d av., first floor.

DRESS-MAKER.—BY A FIRST-CLASS CUTTER and fitter, to work by the day or at home. Call at No. 252 West 15th st.

HOUSEKEEPER.—BY A CAPABLE NEW-ENGland woman to assist in household duties, teach children, or the care of an invalid; no compensation except a home required. Address N. H., Box No. 301 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

HOUSEKEEPER.—BY A LADY FOLLY COMPEtent as housekeeper. Address or apply at No. 45 5th av.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A YOUNG PROTESTANT girl who has never lived out, in any capacity of light work; a good place preferable to high wages; aged 14. Call or address No. 347 East 35th st., top floor, front Room No. 13.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY AN AMERICAN PROTestant to do house-work in a small family; understands all kinds of cakes and pies; can make good bread and biscuit; has good City reference. Call for two days at No. 221 East 38th st., in the rear.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A RESPECTABLE PROTestant girl for general house-work in a small private family; good City references. Call at No. 118 Jane st.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A YOUNG AMERICAN girl that never lived out to do light house-work or chamber-work and waiting. Call at No. 334 East 47th st., between 1st and 2d avs.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY A RESPECTABLE GIRL to do house-work; best City references; good plain cook, washer, and ironer. Call at No. 161 West 48th st.

HOUSE-WORK.—BY AN EXCELLENT LAUNdress and good plain cook; twelve years' reference. Call at No. 288 3d av.

LADY'S MAID.—BY A PROTESTANT GERMAN person as lady's maid to one or two ladies; can assist in housekeeping if required; best City reference. Address Mrs. Horan, No. 44 1st av.

LADY'S MAID.—BY A FRENCH GIRL AS first-class lady's maid; no objection to the country. Address Miss V. C., Box No. 280 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

LAUNDRESS.—FIRST-CLASS; UNDERSTANDS fluting, polishing, and all kinds of gentlemen's wear; in a private family; best City reference. Call at No. 70 West 43d st.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A FIRST-CLASS WELSH Protestant laundress, with good City reference. Address Welsh Laundress, Box No. 287 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A RESPECTABLE WELSH woman, as first-class laundress in a private family; best City reference. Address R. S., Box No. 261 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, No. 1,257 BROADWAY.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A PROTESTANT GIRL AS laundress; willing to assist with chamber-work; competent in both capacities; highest testimonials. Call at No. 18 West 33d st., present employer's.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A RELIABLE YOUNG WOMAN as first-class laundress in a private family; understands French fluting. Call at present employer's, No. 125 East 21st st., Gramercy Park.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A RESPECTABLE GIRL AS laundress and to assist with chamber-work; good City reference. Call at No. 127 West 52d st.

LAUNDRESS.—AS FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS; would assist with chamber-work; best City reference from last place. Call at No. 201 Lexington av.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A PROTESTANT WOMAN AS first-class laundress; very best City reference. Can be seen at her present employer's, No. 267 5th av.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A SWEDISH LAUNDRESS, with good references, in a good family. Call for two days at No. 211 East 40th st., third floor.

LAUNDRESS.—BY A RESPECTABLE PROTESTANT young woman as laundress; good City reference. Call at present employer's, No. 204 5th av.

MAID.—BY A NURSERY-MAID, SPEAKING French and English, with good City references; wages no object, but a good home; for grown children; refined. Address French Nursery-maid, Box No. 267 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

NURSE.—BY AN ENGLISH PROTESTANT WOMAN as experienced infant's nurse; thoroughly understands bringing it up by the bottle; good City reference given; no objection to the country; willing to be generally useful. Can be seen at No. 252 West 22d st., rear house.

NURSE.—BY A FRENCH PROTESTANT MIDDLE aged woman as nurse; can take entire charge of a young child, and sew, in a private family; has good references. Address C. S., Box No. 302 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

NURSE.—BY A FRENCH WOMAN, AS NURSE AND first-class seamstress; would like to have her daughter, of fourteen, with her, to assist; excellent reference. Apply at present employer's, No. 48 West 37th st.

NURSE AND SEAMSTRESS.—BY A GERMAN Protestant nurse and seamstress; can cut and fit for young children; prefers the entire care of a baby; City references; no objection to the country. Call at No. 211 West 29th st., front basement.

NURSE OR CHAMBER-MAID.—GOOD SEAMstress; operates on Wheeler & Wilson and Willcox machines; can take care of invalids; good City reference. Address A. K., Box No. 265 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

NURSE OR CHAMBER-MAID.—BY A REspectable young girl as child's nurse or chamber-maid; the best of City reference. Call at No. 204 East 38th st.

NURSE.—FOR AN INVALID OR CHILDREN, BY an American; twelve years' City reference. Address H. D., Box No. 279 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

NURSE.—BY AN EXPERIENCED, COMPETENT Protestant woman as invalid's nurse; best of testimonials. Can be seen until engaged at No. 103 West 20th st.

NURSE AND SEAMSTRESS.—BY A GERMAN Protestant; four years' City reference. Address E. S., Box No. 324 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

NURSE.—BY A YOUNG WOMAN; CAN TAKE entire charge of an infant; good City reference. Call or address No. 109 West 46th st., second bell to the left.

NURSE.—BY A RESPECTABLE GERMAN WOMAN, middle age, as nurse in a private family; is fond of children, and make herself generally useful; good references. Call or address Mrs. Held, No. 796 9th av.

NURSE, &c.—AS INVALID CHILDREN'S NURSE or ladies' maid, by a Protestant woman accustomed to travel and having best City reference. Call for two days at No. 222 East 51st st.

NURSE.—BY A YOUNG WOMAN; CAPABLE OF taking entire charge of an infant or small children; no objections to the country; City reference. Call at No. 122 East 51st st.

NURSE.—BY A PROTESTANT WOMAN AS INVAlid or baby nurse; best reference. Call or address for two days No. 50 East 41st st.

NURSE AND SEAMSTRESS.—BY A RESPECTable American woman; will do chamber-work; best City reference. Apply at No. 354 East 62d st.

NURSE.—BY A LADY FOR A NURSE; CAN RECommend her very highly. Apply at No. 10 West 33d st.

NURSE.—BY AN EXPERIENCED INFANT'S NURSE; good seamstress; first-class City reference. Call at No. 557 3d av.

NURSE, &c.—BY A PROTESTANT YOUNG GIRL, as nurse and chamber-maid; City reference. Call for two days at No. 212 East 28th st.

NURSE.—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG GIRL AS nurse and light chamber-work. Call for two days No. 117 West 46th st.

SEAMSTRESS OR OTHER LIGHT EMployment.—By day or week; understands all kinds of family and fine sewing; can operate on several machines; has a knowledge of upholstery; terms very moderate. Address M. B., Box No. 318 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

SEAMSTRESS.—AS GENERAL FAMILY SEAMstress; dress and cloak-maker; by the day or month; on ladies' and children's suits; also boys' clothes; terms low. Address Dress-maker, No. 495 Broome st.

SEAMSTRESS.—FIRST-CLASS CITY REFERENCE from last employer; can cut and fit; work by week or month; can operate on several machines. Apply at No. 218 East 38th st.

SITUATIONS WANTED.

FEMALES.

SEAMSTRESS.—FOR WINTER, IN FIRST-CLASS family; good home considered before high wages; has her own machine. Can be seen at present employer's, No. 308 Lexington av.

SEAMSTRESS AND CHAMBER-MAID.—BY a Swedish girl; in private family or hotel. Call or address No. 883 3d av., top floor.

WET NURSE.—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG German married woman; full breast of milk; the best of references from doctor. Address Mrs. Kern, Port Richmond, Staten Island.

WAITRESS.—FIRST-CLASS; UNDERSTANDS making all kinds of salads, care of silver, waiting in all its branches; best City reference. Call at No. 488 7th av.

WAITRESS OR CHAMBER-MAID.—FIRST-class; is fully competent to fill either situation; best City reference. Call at No. 101 West 14th st.; ring bell No. 3.

WAITRESS.—BY A YOUNG WOMAN AS FIRST-class waitress; understands her business thoroughly; good City reference. Call at No. 108 West 28th st.

WAITRESS.—BY A YOUNG GIRL AS WAITRESS or chamber-maid; can do plain sewing. Can be seen at present employer's, No. 28 West 21st st.

WAITRESS. BY A FIRST-CLASS WAITRESS IN a private family; best City reference. Call at No. 490 6th av., first floor, Room No. 2.

WAITRESS.—BY A YOUNG GIRL TO WAIT ON table in a private family or to make herself useful. Call at present employer's, No. 33 West 42d st.

WASHING.—A RESPECTABLE COLORED WOman wishes to get washing and ironing to do at home; families or gentlemen. Call or address No. 182 West 27th st.

WASHING.—A RESPECTABLE WIDOW WOMAN wishes ladies' and gentlemen's washing at her own home; fluting and polishing, seventy-five cents a dozen. Call at No. 420 East 15th st., top floor, back.

WASHING.—BY A RESPECTABLE PROTESTANT woman to take home or go out by the day; first-class laundress and house-cleaner; good reference. Call for Mrs. Morrison, No. 488 6th av., rear, top floor.

WASHING.—BY A THOROUGH ENGLISH LAUNdress; large or small family's washing; cuffs collars, French puffing, and fluting a specialty; distance no objection. Call or address No. 235 6th av.

WASHING.—BY A FIRST-CLASS LAUNDRESS; washing at her home; best reference. Apply at No. 626 3d av.

WASHING.—BY A COLORED WIDOW; A FEW families' washing. Call or address Johnson, No. 338 West 38th st.

MALES.

ACCOUNTANT, OR CONFIDENTIAL Clerk.—By a middle-aged gentleman, of refinement, capacity, and unflinching integrity. Address, for three days, Franklin, No. 39 Nassau st., Room No. 24.

BUTLER.—BY A YOUNG COLORED MAN, WHO has good references for capacity; is willing, obliging, and agreeable; none but first class and strictly private address LIGHT COMPLEXION, Box No. 254 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, No. 1,257 BROADWAY.

BY A LAD, AGED SEVENTEEN, IN SOME wholesale or commission business; writes a good hand and quick at figures; references unexceptionable. Address B. M., Box No. 174 Times Office.

BOOK-KEEPER OR CORRESPONDENT.—By a young man; competent and trustworthy. Address C. F., Box No. 134 Times Office.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A RESPECTable single man; strictly temperate; capable to take care of horses and carriages; willing and obliging; will do general work on a gentleman's place; wages no object; country preferred; nine years' reference given. Call or address P. L., No. 11 East 37th st., employer's stable.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A SINGLE young man; first-class City and country reference; will be found sober, willing and obliging; no objections to the country; can milk, care furnace; found generally useful. Address D. K., Box No. 317 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A YOUNG single man; perfectly acquainted with his duties; willing and obliging; no objection to country; seven years' City reference from last employer. Call or address L., No. 1,452 Broadway, between 41st and 42d sts., harness store.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A RESPECTable young man; thoroughly understands his business; willing, obliging, temperate, and honest, as former or last employer will certify; careful City driver; six years' best City reference. Address O. E., care J. B. Brewster, No. 145 5th av.

COACHMAN.—BY A COLORED MAN; THOROughly understands his business; knows well what coach business calls for; willing to make himself useful; good City references. Address L. J., Box No. 310 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A SINGLE young man; thoroughly understands his business in all its branches; is a careful City driver, which reference will certify. Address M., Box No. 327 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN AND GARDENER.—WITH SOME private family; not long from Europe; thoroughly trained to drive, ride, and break to perfection; in or out door servant; will hire at moderate terms. Address J. Byrne, Box No. 241 Times Office.

COACHMAN OR GROOM.—BY A HIGHLY respectable young man of long experience; willing and obliging; town or country; three years' reference from last employer. Call or address for two days W. M. C., No. 213 East 28th st.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A SOBER, steady man, with five years' reference; is willing and obliging. Address, William, No. 109 West 17th st., private stable.

COACHMAN.—BY A YOUNG MAN; CITY OR country; thoroughly understands his business; first-class reference. Call or address F. C., No. 165 West 19th st.

COACHMAN.—BY A YOUNG SWEDE, IN A PRIvate family, or for a doctor; good driver; best City reference. Address A. N., Box No. 316 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, No. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN.—BY A SOBER, INDUSTRIOUS Englishman who thoroughly understands his business; good groom; careful City driver; has livery; City references. Address A. A., No. 322 East 66th st.

COACHMAN.—BY A MARRIED MAN; NO INCUMbrance; is a careful driver; seven years' City reference from last employer. Call or address P. N., No. 713 6th av., James Madden's harness store.

COACHMAN AND GROOM.—BY A MAN WHO thoroughly understands his business. Apply at the office of his present employer, No. 55 Broad st., between 12 and 3 o'clock.

COACHMAN.—BY A YOUNG COLORED MAN; best City reference. Address H., Box No. 302 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

COACHMAN.—BY AN ENGLISHMAN; GOOD CITY references. Address S. F., No. 1,178 Broadway.

COACHMAN.—FIRST-CLASS CITY REFERENCE. Call at or address No. 3 East 52d st.

FOOTMAN OR VALET.—BY A SWEDE; HIGHLY recommended; speaks English, German, and French; is a good waiter. Address Swede, Box No. 284 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

GARDENER—COOK.—BY A MIDDLE AGED married couple; no family; man as gardener; ten years in this country; understands his business thoroughly; also, green-house and the general work of a gentleman's place; wife as good cook in a small family; good reference; will be disengaged 27th this month or 15th next month. Address, A., Box No. 14, Tompkinsville, Staten Island.

GARDENER.—A CONSERVATORY TO KEEP IN order, by an experienced gardener. Address D. Scott, No. 247 East 19th st.

GROOM.—BY A SINGLE YOUNG MAN; UNDERstands the care of fine horses, harness, and carriages; can milk and tend furnaces; good waiter if required; not afraid of hard work; terms moderate; good City references. Address J. M., Box No. 212 Times Office.

NURSE.—BY A COMPETENT MAN AS NURSE OR attendant to a sick or invalid gentleman; no objection to travel. Address H. B. B., No. 328 West 34th st.

TRAVELING SERVANT AND COURIER, for Italy, Egypt, and Palestine.—A competent man, thirty-two, who has served great families in that capacity, from whom highly recommended. For further particulars, apply to T. M., care of Capt. Anfrye, French Commission, Main Building, Philadelphia Exhibition.

USEFUL MAN.—BY AN ENGLISHMAN, IN A boarding or private house, to take charge of furnace and be useful; can wait on table. Address English, Box No. 226 Times Office.

USEFUL MAN.—BY A COLORED MAN TO MAKE himself useful around a house. Call or address No. 103 West 38th st.

WANTED—BY A STUDENT FROM YALE, A POSItion as private secretary or companion of a gentleman who is traveling; or as instructor in a family; best references. Address J. M., No. 96 York st., New-Haven, Conn.

WAITER.—BY A RESPECTABLE COLORED MAN in a private family; understands his business thoroughly; has reference from the best of families in this City. Address C. R. L., Box No. 320 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITER.—BY A RESPECTABLE COLORED young man, aged thirty-two, as first-class waiter in a private family or boarding-house; thoroughly understands his business; good reference. Address S. Robinson, No. 17 Cornelia st.

WAITER.—BY A RESPECTABLE YOUNG MAN (German) as first-class waiter in a private family; understands his business thoroughly; best City references. Address M., Box No. 285 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITER.—BY AN ACTIVE MAN WHO THORoughly understands the duties of a first-class situation. Address Walter, Box No. 327 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITER.—BY A FRENCH WAITER IN A PRIvate family; City or country; best references from last place. Call or address A. V., No. 133 West 25th st.

WAITER.—BY A YOUNG COLORED MAN AS waiter in a private family; has good City reference. Address B. B., Box No. 260 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITER.—BY A FRENCHMAN IN A PRIVATE family or first-class boarding-house; references. Address Eugene, Box No. 303 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

WAITER.—BY A RESPECTABLE COLORED young man; is a splendid waiter; first-class reference. Call or address W. A. F., No. 119 West 24th st., top floor, back room.

WAITER.—BY A YOUNG COLORED MAN AS waiter in a private family or boarding-house; good reference; wages $20 per month; is willing and obliging. Call at No. 14 West 3d st.

WAITER.—BY A FIRST-CLASS COLORED waiter; can show good reference. Address No. 145 West 50th st.

WAITER OR DRIVER.—BY A COLORED MAN a place to drive for a Doctor, or as waiter. Call or address C. H. D., No. 133 West 27th st.

SITUATIONS WANTED.

MALES.

WAITER.—BY A FIRST-CLASS WAITER; BOARDing-house, or tend furnace. Address E. Kelon, No. 225 West 27th st.

HELP WANTED.

WANTED—A MAN TO TRAVEL AND SELL MAchinery; must thoroughly understand his business, and furnish the best of references as to capacity and reliability. Address, by letter, C. W. C., Station D, New-York Post Office.

WANTED—USEFUL SINGLE MAN; PROTESTANT; must be young, active, and willing; a good milker; service long with last employer; character unblemished; wages, $15 monthly and board. Address COUNTRY, Box No. 2,805 New-York Post Office.

WANTED—IN A WHOLESALE UMBRELLA HOUSE, salesman who controls a large trade. None but those who have the above qualification, and have best references need apply at No. 404 Broadway.

WANTED—A LADY'S MAID; MUST BE A GOOD hair-dresser and seamstress, and have good reference. Apply before 2 o'clock at No. 24 West 17th st.

WANTED—A PROTESTANT WOMAN AS GOOD cook, with City reference. Call at No. 168 5th av., between 9 and 11.

BANKRUPT NOTICES.

IN BANKRUPTCY.—IN THE DISTRICT COURT of the United States for the Southern District of New-York.—In the matter of MARK M. POMEROY, bankrupt.—Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed in said court by Mark M. Pomeroy, of the City of New-York, in said district, duly declared a bankrupt under the Revised Statutes of the United States, title Bankruptcy, for a discharge and certificate thereof from all his debts and other claims provable under said act, and that the 11th day of December, 1876, at 11 o'clock A. M., at the office of Henry Wilder Allen, Esq., Register in Bankruptcy, No. 152 Broadway, in the City of New-York, is assigned for the adjourned hearing of the same, when and where all creditors who have proved their debts, and other persons in interest may attend and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the said petition should not be granted.—Dated New-York, on the 14th day of November, 1876.
n15-law3wW* GEO. F. BETTS, Clerk.

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE—THAT ON THE 28th day of October, A.D. 1876, a warrant in bankruptcy was issued against the estate of EPHRAIM L. SNOW and GEORGE W. SNOW, of New-York, in the County of New-York, and State of New-York, who have been adjudged bankrupts on their own petition; that the payment of any debts and delivery of any property belonging to such bankrupts, or either of them, to them or either of them, or for their use or the use of either of them, and the transfer of any property by them or either of them, are forbidden by law; that a meeting of the creditors of the said bankrupts, and of each of them individually, to prove their debts, and to choose one or more Assignees of their estate, and of the separate estate of each of them, will be held at a court of Bankruptcy, to be holden at No. 152 Broadway, in the City of New-York, before Mr. Henry Wilder Allen, Register, on the 28th day of November, A. D. 1876, at twelve o'clock M. OLIVER FISKE,
U. S. Marshal, as Messenger, Southern District of New-York.

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE—THAT ON THE 13th day of November, A. D. 1876, a warrant in bankruptcy was issued against the estate of WILLIAM P. C. FRAICHEL, of New-York City, in the County of New-York, and State of New-York, who has been adjudged a bankrupt on his own petition; that the payment of any debts and delivery of any property belonging to such bankrupt, to him or for his use, and the transfer of any property by him are forbidden by law; that a meeting of the creditors of the said bankrupt to prove their debts, and to choose one or more Assignees of his estate, will be held at a Court of Bankruptcy, to be holden at No. 7 Beekman street, New-York City, before James F. Dwight, Register, on the 29th day of November, A. D. 1876, at two o'clock P. M.
OLIVER FISKE,
U. S. Marshal, as Messenger, Southern District of New-York.

NO. 5,375.—IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF the United States for the Southern District of New-York.—In the matter of ADELE LOUIS, formerly Adele Newmann, bankrupt.—In Bankruptcy.—To whom it may concern: The undersigned hereby gives notice of their appointment as Assignees of Adele Louis, formerly Adele Newmann, of the City of New-York, in the County of New-York, and State of New-York, within said district, who has been adjudged a bankrupt upon her own petition by the District Court of said district.—Dated at New-York, the 14th day of November, A. D. 1876.
DAVID STONE, of No. 416 Broadway,
SIMON STERN, No. 53 Murray st.,
n15-law3wW* New-York City, Assignees.

NOTICE OF ASSIGNMENT.—NOTICE IS hereby given that THOMAS ELLSON, of the City of Newark, County of Essex, and State of New-Jersey, hath this day made an assignment to the subscriber of his estate, for the equal benefit of his creditors, and that the said creditors must present their respective claims, under oath or affirmation, within three months.—Dated Nov. 11, A. D. 1876.
JOHN C. BROOKS, Assignee.
S. V. HULSE, Attorney, 800 Broad st., Newark, N. J.
n15-law3wW

IN BANKRUPTCY.—SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF New-York, ss.—At the City of New-York, the 27th day of July, A. D. 1876.—The undersigned hereby gives notice of his appointment as Assignee of JOHN McMULLEN, of the City of New-York, in the County and State of New-York, within said district, who has been adjudged a bankrupt upon his own petition by the District Court of said district.
JOHN G. CAMERON, Assignee,
n15-law3wW* No. 76 Chambers st., New-York.

PROPOSALS.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received by the School Trustees of the Twenty-fourth Ward, at the Hall of the Board of Education, corner of Grand and Elm sts., until Tuesday, the 28th day of November, 1876, and until 4 o'clock P. M. on said day, for altering and enlarging Grammar School No. 63, on 3d av., near 173d st.

Plans and specifications may be seen and blanks for proposals obtained at the office of the Superintendent of School Buildings, No. 146 Grand st., third floor.

Proposals must state the estimate for each branch of the work separately, and be indorsed "Proposal for Mason Work," "Proposal for Carpenter Work," "Proposal for Painting."

Two responsible and approved sureties, residents of this City, will be required from each successful bidder.

The party submitting a proposal and the parties proposing to become sureties must each write his name and place of residence on said proposal.

The Trustees reserve the right to reject any or all of the proposals submitted.

MARK K. HAMILTON, Jr.,
FRANKLIN EDSON,
JAMES C. HULL,
GEORGE H. MOLLER,
FERDINAND MEYER,
Board of School Trustees Twenty-fourth Ward.
Dated New-York, Nov. 14, 1876.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Board of Education, corner of Grand and Elm sts., until Wednesday, the 29th day of November, 1876, at 4 o'clock P. M., for printing required by the said board for the year 1877. Samples of the various documents, &c., required to be printed may be seen at the office of the Clerk of the board, where blank forms or proposals may also be obtained. Each proposal must be addressed to the Committee on Supplies, and indorsed "Proposals for Printing." Two sureties, satisfactory to said committee, will be required for the faithful performance of the contract.

The committee reserve the right to reject any bid if deemed for the public interest.

Dated New-York, Nov. 14, 1876.
RUFUS G. BEARDSLEE,
JAMES M. HALSTED,
DAVID WETMORE,
CHARLES PLACE,
HENRY P. WEST,
Committee on Supplies.

COPARTNERSHIP NOTICES.

THE COPARTNERSHIP HERETOFORE existing under the firm name of C. ROGERS & CO., for the manufacture and sale of pianos, at No. 226 East 42d st., is this day dissolved by mutual consent. All debts due the late firm will be collected by C. ROGERS alone, who assumes all liabilities.
C. ROGERS.
C. BORST.
NEW-YORK, Aug. 2, 1876.

The business will be continued at the same place by the undersigned, under the same firm name of C. ROGERS & CO.
C. ROGERS.
C. K. ROGERS.
NEW-YORK, Aug. 2, 1876.

MARBLE MANTELS.

GRATES AND FENDERS.

The largest assortment of Grates and Fenders ever offered in this market, finished in every style. Low and Half Low Down Grates, with dumping attachment, a specialty. A large variety of Gas Logs, fancy nickel-plated Andirons, Fire Irons, Coal Vases, Folding Screens, &c. Liberal discount to the trade. Old grates altered to low or half low down. CONOVER, WOOLLEY & CO., No. 368 Canal st., New-York.

MARBLE and MARBLEIZED MANTELS at greatly reduced prices; also, monuments, head-stones, plumbers' and furniture slabs, marble counters, and tiling. A. KLABER, 134 & 136 East 18th st., near 3d av.

SURROGATE NOTICES.

PURSUANT TO AN ORDER OF OWEN T. Coffin, Surrogate of the County of Westchester, notice is hereby given, according to law, to all persons having claims against the estate of ISAAC M. SINGER, late of the town of Yonkers, in said County, deceased, to present the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the undersigned, executor of the last will and testament of the said deceased, at his office, No. 206 Broadway, New-York City, Room No. 25, on or before the 27th day of January, A. D. 1877.—Dated this 17th day of July, A. D. 1876. DAVID HAWLEY, Executor.
jy19-law6mW*

DANCING.

ALLEN DODWORTH'S DANCING SCHOOL REMOVED TO NO. 681 5TH AV.
Now open for the reception of pupils.
For particulars send for circular.

DE GARMO'S PRIVATE DANCING ACADEMY, No. 7 West 32d st., two doors from 5th av. Particulars in circulars.

LECTURES.

A LECTURE ON "SCIENCE IN AMERICA" will be delivered by Prof. JOHN W. DRAPER, before the American Chemical Society at Chickering Hall, on THURSDAY, Nov. 16, at 8 P. M. The public are invited to attend.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

EMPIRE WOOD-SPLITTER FOR SALE.—Out-split any machine in the United States; fine oak and hickory knots and curls. WILLIAM L. WILLIAMS, No. 154 East 25th st.

DRY GOODS.

CLOTH DEPARTMENT.

ARNOLD, CONSTABLE & CO.,
Broadway, corner 19th st.,
Are now offering
TO THE RETAIL TRADE
A large and magnificent stock of
CHOICE NOVELTIES
IN PLAIN AND FANCY CLOTHS, of ENGLISH, FRENCH, AND SCOTCH MANUFACTURE COMPRISING
CASSIMERES, MELTONS, SUITINGS, OVERCOATINGS, MATELASSE, AMAZON, ASTRACHAN, and SEALSKIN CLOTHS, IMPORTED and DOMESTIC WATERPROOFS,
"ENGLISH BOX CLOTHS."
All colors, for LIVERY OVERCOATS, &c., &c.
The above goods cut in any length to suit purchasers.

UPHOLSTERY DEPARTMENT.

ARNOLD, CONSTABLE & CO.
Are offering the finest selection of NOVELTIES, in "NOEL" TAPESTRIES,
CHINESE AND MUMMY CLOTHS,
SATIN DAMASKS, SILK BROCADES,
PLAIN SATINS, COTELINES,
LAMPASADES, &c.
ALSO,
THREAD LACE, GUIPURE, SWISS,
AND NOTTINGHAM LACE CURTAINS
in great variety and AT VERY LOW PRICES.
N. B.—HOLLAND AND GILT-BORDERED SHADES, MATTRESSES, &c., made and put up at short notice.
BROADWAY, CORNER 19TH ST.

R. H. MACY & CO.
14TH ST. AND 6TH AV., NEW-YORK.
UNLIKE any other establishment in the country.
FOREIGN DRY GOODS, FANCY GOODS, and NOVELTIES by every EUROPEAN STEAMER.
ORDERS BY MAIL RECEIVE SPECIAL CARE.
CATALOGUES FREE.

BLACK DRESS SILKS
AT POPULAR PRICES.
R. H. MACY & CO.,
14TH ST. AND 6TH AV.

FLANNELS, BLANKETS, SHAWLS, WATER-PROOF Cloths, Cassimeres, Table Linens, Napkins, &c., from the recent auction sales. Also, a large quantity of heavy unbleached muslin, slightly damaged by water, for sale cheap. WM. MATTHEWS, No. 54 Catharine st.

WANTED.—LARGE ORDERS FOR EMBROIDERY by a competent person; work done in a superior manner, and at lower rates than stores; samples of work shown. Address V., Box No. 268 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, No. 1,257 BROADWAY.

MILLINERY.

MARIE TILMANN, OF PARIS; IMPORTER finest Paris millinery; uniquely elegant; from all the best makers; new goods to-day. No. 423 6th av., near 26th st.

MUSICAL.

A FINE ASSORTMENT OF FIRST-CLASS piano-fortes for sale at very moderate prices on easy and reasonable terms at HAINES BROTHERS, corner of 2d av. and 21st sts. A few pianos that have been used a little very low.

CHICKERING, STEINWAY, WEBER, AND other first-class new and second-hand pianos, for sale or rent, and rent applied to purchase. POND'S MUSIC STORE, No. 547 Broadway.

AUCTION SALES.

EDWARD SCHENCK, Auctioneer.

THIRD LARGE AND PEREMPTORY SALE OF ELEGANT DECORATED FRENCH CHINA DINNER SETS, TEA SETS, FRUIT SETS, AND TOILET SETS, RICH ENGRAVED CRYSTAL CUT TABLE GLASSWARE.
Elegant Vases, Real Bronze and other Clocks, Statuettes, and a large and beautiful assortment of every variety of China, Majolica, Faience, and Dresden Porcelain, and Fancy Ware,
TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION, AT No. 60 LIBERTY STREET,
ON THURSDAY AND FRIDAY, NOV. 16 AND 17,
At 11 o'clock Each Day.
The above will be on exhibition on TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY. Ladies and the Public are invited to examine them.
The Sale will be POSITIVE and PEREMPTORY. Experienced Packers will be in attendance.

MAYER KATZENBERG, Auctioneer.
BY F. H. NAZRO.
WILL BE SOLD BY AUCTION,
on THURSDAY, Nov. 16, 1876,
at No. 29 Murray st., commencing at 10:30 o'clock, A. M., 12,000 Cases of
RUBBER BOOTS AND SHOES, consisting of
DAMAGED, INFERIOR, AND OUT OF STYLE GOODS.

GUNS. SPECIAL
BARKER & CO., AUCTIONEERS,
Nos. 47 and 49 Liberty st.
The important sale of Elegant English Breech and Muzzle loading Shot-guns will take place TO-DAY, Nov. 15, at 12 o'clock.

By JOHN H. DRAPER & Co., Auctioneers.
THE DELAWARE, LACKAWANNA AND Western Railroad Company will sell
100,000 TONS SCRANTON COAL
at public auction, on WEDNESDAY, Nov. 22, at 12 o'clock noon, at No. 26 Exchange place.
SAMUEL SLOAN, President.

LEGAL NOTICES.

SUPREME COURT, CITY AND COUNTY of New-York.—AUGUST BELMONT, sole acting Executor of the last will and testament of Commodore Matthew C. Perry, late of said City of New-York, deceased, plaintiff, against JACOB VOORHIS, Junior, and Rachel T. Voorhis, his wife; James E. Kelly, as President of the Bull's Head Bank of the City of New-York; the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of New-York; Robert Pettigrew and Richard O. Downing, as administrators of the estate of John W. Pettigrew, deceased; William C. Bryant, Isaac Henderson, Henry A. Mott, Chauncey Smith, William J. Higgins, William T. Horn, Henry Hilton, William Libbey, Caleb S. Bliss, Justin E. Arnold, George Ehret, defendants.—Summons for relief, (Com. not served.)—To the defendants: You are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint in this action, which will be filed in the office of the Clerk of the City and County of New-York, at the new Court-house in said City, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint on the subscriber, at his office, Number 153 Broadway, (2d floor,) in said City, within twenty days after the service of this summons on you, exclusive of the day of such service, and if you fail to answer the said complaint within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff in this action will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.—Dated New-York, October 11, 1876.
JOHN HONE, Plaintiff's Attorney.
The complaint in this action was filed in the office of the Clerk of the City and County of New-York on the 11th day of October, 1876.
o18-law6wW* JOHN HONE, Plaintiff's Attorney.

SUPREME COURT, NEW-YORK COUNTY.—HENRY L. BARBEY, plaintiff, against JACOB VOORHIS, Jr., Rachel T. Voorhis, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of New-York, Robert Pettigrew and Richard O. Downing, as Administrators of John W. Pettigrew, deceased, William C. Bryant, Isaac Henderson, Henry A. Mott, Chauncey Smith, William J. Higgins, William T. Horn, Henry Hilton, William Libbey, Caleb S. Bliss, Justin E. Arnold, the Globe Mutual Life Insurance Company, Abel Wheaton, Edward Gillalan, William A. Hadden, James E. Kelly, as President of the Bull's Head Bank, defendants.—Summons for relief.—(Com. not served.)—To the defendants: You are hereby summoned and required to answer the complaint in this action, which will be filed in the office of the Clerk of the City and County of New-York, at the new Court-house in New-York City, and to serve a copy of your answer to the said complaint on the subscribers, at their office, No. 52 William street, New-York City, within twenty days after the service of this summons on you, exclusive of the day of such service; and if you fail to answer the said complaint within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff in this action will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.—Dated October 3d, 1876.
ISELIN & WARNER, Plaintiff's Attorneys.
The complaint in this action was filed in the office of the Clerk of the City and County of New-York on the 3d day of October, 1876. ISELIN & WARNER, o25-law6wW Plaintiff's Attorney.

ICE-CREAM.

HORTON'S ICE-CREAM.
Made from PURE ORANGE COUNTY CREAM, appreciated for its purity, richness, and certainty of being delivered in good order.
Charlotte Russe and Jelly, delicious and cheap.
Nos. 305 4th av., 1,284 Broadway, and 75 Chatham st.

FUSSELL'S ICE-CREAM.—CHURCHES AND fairs, 25 cents per quart. Charlotte Russe by the dozen or quart. Special attention to out-of-town orders.

SHIPPING.

WHITE STAR LINE.
FOR QUEENSTOWN AND LIVERPOOL, CARRYING UNITED STATES MAIL.

The steamers of this line take the Lane Routes recommended by Lieut. Maury, U. S. N., going south of the Banks on the passage to Queenstown all the year round.
BALTIC..............SATURDAY, Nov. 25, at noon
ADRIATIC..............SATURDAY, Dec. 2, at 5:30 A. M.
BRITANNIC..............SATURDAY, Dec. 16, 5:30 A. M.
CELTIC..............SATURDAY, Dec. 30, at 3 P. M.
From White Star Dock, Pier No. 52 North River.
These steamers are uniform in size and unsurpassed in appointments. The saloon, staterooms, smoking and bath rooms are amidships, where the noise and motion are least felt, affording a degree of comfort hitherto unattainable at sea.
Rates—Saloon $80 and $100, gold; return tickets on favorable terms; steerage, $28.
For inspection of plans and other information apply at the Company's offices, No. 37 Broadway, New-York.
R. J. CORTIS, Agent.

LIVERPOOL AND GREAT WESTERN STEAM COMPANY. (LIMITED.)
LIVERPOOL, (Via Queenstown,)
CARRYING THE UNITED STATES MAIL.
TUESDAY.
Leaving Pier No. 46 North River as follows:
DAKOTA..............Nov. 21, at 9 A. M.
IDAHO..............Nov. 28, at 2:30 P. M.
MONTANA..............Dec. 5, at 8:30 A. M.
NEVADA..............Dec. 12, at 2:30 P. M.
WISCONSIN..............Dec. 19, at 7:30 A. M.
RATES FOR PASSENGERS REDUCED.
Steerage, $26; intermediate, $40; cabin, $55 to $80, according to state-room. Offices, No. 29 Broadway.
WILLIAMS & GUION.

ATLAS MAIL LINE.
BI-MONTHLY SERVICE TO JAMAICA, HAYTI, COLOMBIA, and ASPINWALL, and to PANAMA and SOUTH PACIFIC PORTS (via Aspinwall.) First-class, full-powered iron screw steamers, from Pier No. 51 North River:
For KINGSTON (Jam.) and HAYTI.
CLARIBEL..............Nov. 18
ATLAS..............Dec. 6
For HAYTI, COLOMBIA, ISTHMUS OF PANAMA, and SOUTH PACIFIC PORTS (via Aspinwall.)
ALPS..............Nov. 21
ETNA..............Dec. 9
Superior first-class passenger accommodation.
PIM, FORWOOD & CO., Agents, No. 56 Wall st.

GREAT SOUTHERN FREIGHT AND PASSENGER LINE.
SAILING FROM PIER NO. 29 NORTH RIVER, WEDNESDAYS and SATURDAYS at 3 P. M.,
FOR CHARLESTON, S. C., FLORIDA, THE SOUTH, AND SOUTH-WEST.
GEO. W. CLYDE..............WEDNESDAY....Nov. 15
CITY OF ATLANTA..............SATURDAY....Nov. 18
SUPERIOR PASSENGER ACCOMMODATIONS.
Insurance to destination one-half of one per cent.
Goods forwarded free of commission. Passenger tickets and bills of lading issued and signed at the office of
JAMES W. QUINTARD & CO., Agents, No. 177 West st., corner Warren.
Or W. P. CLYDE & CO., No. 6 Bowling Green.
Or BENTLEY D. HASELL, General Agent Great Southern Freight Line, 317 Broadway.

ONLY DIRECT LINE TO FRANCE.
THE GENERAL TRANSATLANTIC COMPANY'S MAIL STEAMERS BETWEEN NEW-YORK AND HAVRE. Calling at PLYMOUTH (G. B.) for the landing of Passengers.
Cabins provided with electric bells. Sailing from Pier No. 43 North River, foot of Barrow st., as follows:
CANADA, Frangeul........Saturday, Nov. 18, at 7 A. M.
AMERIQUE, Pouzolz........Saturday, Dec. 2, at 6 A. M.
FRANCE, Trudelle........Saturday, Dec. 16, at 6 A. M.
PRICE OF PASSAGE IN GOLD (including wine,) first cabin, $110 to $120, according to accommodation; second cabin, $72; third cabin, $40. Return tickets at reduced rates. Steerage, $26, with superior accommodation, including wine, bedding, and utensils without extra charge.

STATE LINE.
NEW-YORK TO GLASGOW, LIVERPOOL, DUBLIN, BELFAST, AND LONDONDERRY.
These first-class full-powered steamers will sail from Pier No. 42 North River, foot of Canal st.
STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA..............Thursday, Nov. 16
STATE OF VIRGINIA..............Thursday, Nov. 30
STATE OF NEVADA..............Thursday, Dec. 7
STATE OF INDIANA..............Thursday, Dec. 14
And every alternate Thursday thereafter. First cabin, $60, $65, and $70, according to accommodations; return tickets, $110, $125. Second cabin, $45; return tickets, $80. Steerage at lowest rates. Apply to
AUSTIN BALDWIN & CO., Agents, No. 72 Broadway, New-York.
STEERAGE tickets at No. 45 Broadway, and at the company's pier, foot of Canal st., North River.

ANCHOR LINE U. S. MAIL STEAMERS.
NEW-YORK AND GLASGOW.
Bolivia....Nov. 18, 7 A. M. | Anchoria....Dec. 2, 6 A. M.
Alsatia....Nov. 25, noon | California....Dec. 9, noon
TO GLASGOW, LIVERPOOL, OR DERRY,
Cabins $65 to $80, according to accommodations; Intermediate, $35; Steerage, $28.
NEW-YORK AND LONDON.
Anglia, Nov. 18, 7 A. M. | Utopia, Dec. 2, 7 A. M.
Cabins, $55 to $70. Steerage, $28. Cabin excursion tickets at reduced rates. Drafts issued for any amount at current rates. Company's Pier Nos. 20 and 21, North River, N. Y. HENDERSON BROTHERS, Agents, No. 7 Bowling Green.

NATIONAL LINE. Piers Nos. 44 and 47 N. River.
FOR LONDON.
DENMARK..............Saturday, Nov. 18, at 7 A. M.
FOR QUEENSTOWN AND LIVERPOOL.
Egypt....Nov. 18, 7 A. M. | Italy........Dec. 2, 3 P. M.
Helvetia..Nov. 25, 11 A. M. | The Queen Dec. 9, 11 A. M.
Cabin passage, $55 to $70. Return tickets, $100 to $120, currency.
Steerage passage, $26, currency. Drafts issued from £1 upward at current rates. Company's office, No. 69 Broadway. F. W. J. HURST, Manager.

NORTH GERMAN LLOYD.
STEAM-SHIP LINE BETWEEN NEW-YORK, SOUTHAMPTON, AND BREMEN.
Company's Pier, foot of 2d st., Hoboken.
ODER....Sat., Nov. 18 | NECKAR........Sat., Dec. 2
HERMANN...Sat., Nov. 25 | AMERICA........Sat., Dec. 9
RATES OF PASSAGE FROM NEW-YORK TO SOUTHAMPTON, HAVRE, OR BREMEN:
First cabin..............$100 gold
Second cabin..............60 gold
Steerage..............30 currency
Return tickets at reduced rates. Prepaid steerage certificates, $32 currency. For freight or passage apply to OELRICHS & CO., No. 2 Bowling Green.

INMAN LINE.—MAIL STEAMERS.
FOR QUEENSTOWN AND LIVERPOOL.
CITY OF BERLIN, Saturday, Nov. 18, at 7 A. M.
CITY OF CHESTER, Saturday, Dec. 2, at 6 A. M.
CITY OF RICHMOND, Saturday, Dec. 9, at 12 noon.
From Pier 45 North River.
CABIN, $80 and $100, Gold. Return tickets on favorable terms. STEERAGE, $28, Currency. Drafts issued at lowest rates.
Saloons, State-rooms, Smoking, and Bath-rooms amidships. JOHN G. DALE, Agent, Nos. 15 and 33 Broadway, N. Y.

FOR SAVANNAH, GA.,
THE FLORIDA PORTS, AND THE SOUTH AND SOUTH-WEST.
GREAT SOUTHERN FREIGHT AND PASSENGER LINE, CENTRAL RAILROAD OF GEORGIA, AND ATLANTIC AND GULF RAILROAD.
THREE SHIPS PER WEEK.
TUESDAY, THURSDAY, AND SATURDAY.
RAPIDAN, Capt. KEMPTON, THURSDAY, Nov. 16, from Pier No. 16 East River, at 3 P. M.
MURRAY, FERRIS & CO., Agents, No. 62 South st.
SAN JACINTO, Capt. HAZARD, SATURDAY, Nov. 18, from Pier No. 43 North River, at 3 P. M.
GEO. YONGE, Agent, No. 409 Broadway.
H. LIVINGSTON, Capt. MALLORY, TUESDAY, Nov. 21, from Pier No. 43 North River, at 3 P. M.
GEO. YONGE, Agent, No. 409 Broadway.
Insurance on this line ONE-HALF PER CENT. Superior accommodations for passengers.
Through rates and bills of lading in connection with Central Railroad of Georgia, to all points.
Through rates and bills of lading in connection with the Atlantic and Gulf Railroad and Florida steamers.
C. D. OWENS, Agent A. & G. R. R., No. 315 Broadway. GEORGE YONGE, Agent C. R. R. of Ga., No. 409 Broadway.

PANAMA TRANSIT AND PACIFIC MAIL
STEAM-SHIP LINES.
FOR CALIFORNIA, JAPAN, CHINA, AUSTRALIA, NEW-ZEALAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, OREGON, &c.
Sailing from Pier No. 42 North River.
For SAN FRANCISCO, via ISTHMUS OF PANAMA
Steam-ship CRESCENT CITY......Wednesday, Nov. 15
connecting for Central America and South Pacific ports.
From SAN FRANCISCO to JAPAN and CHINA.
Steam-ship CITY OF TOKIO..............Friday, Dec. 1
From San Francisco to Sandwich Islands, Australia, and New-Zealand.
Steam-ship AUSTRALIA..............Wednesday, Dec. 6
For freight or passage apply to
WM. P. CLYDE & CO., or H. J. BULLAY, Superintendent, No. 6 Bowling Green, Pier 42, N. R., foot Canal st.

NEW-YORK AND HAVANA DIRECT MAIL LINE.
These first-class steamships sail regularly at 3 P. M., from Pier No. 13 North River, as follows:
CUBA..............SATURDAY, Nov. 18
COLUMBUS..............WEDNESDAY, Nov. 22
Accommodations unsurpassed. For freight or passage apply to WM. P. CLYDE & CO., No. 6 Bowling Green. McKELLER, LULING & CO., Agents in Havana.

HAMBURG American Packet Company's Line, for PLYMOUTH, CHERBOURG, and HAMBURG.
SUEVIA......Nov. 16 | WIELAND..............Nov. 30
LESSING......Nov. 23 | HERDER..............Dec. 7
Rates of passage to Plymouth, London, Cherbourg, Hamburg, and all points in England: First Cabin, $100 gold; Second Cabin, $60 gold; Steerage, $30, currency.
KUNHARDT & CO., General Agents, 61 Broad st., N. Y. C. B. RICHARD & BOAS, General Passenger Agents, 61 Broadway, N. Y.

NEW-YORK, HAVANA, AND MEXICAN MAIL S. S. LINE.
Steamers leave Pier No. 3 North River at 3 P. M.
FOR HAVANA DIRECT.
CITY OF NEW-YORK..............Wednesday, Nov. 15
CITY OF HAVANA..............Saturday, Nov. 25
CITY OF VERA CRUZ..............Wednesday, Nov. 29
FOR VERA CRUZ AND NEW-ORLEANS.
Via Havana, Progreso, Campeachy, Tuxpan, and Tampico.
CITY OF HAVANA..............Saturday, Nov. 25
For freight or passage apply to F. ALEXANDRE & SONS, Nos. 31 and 33 Broadway.
Steamers will leave New-Orleans Nov. 12 and Dec. 1 for Vera Cruz and all the above ports.

WILSON LINE FOR SOUTHAMPTON AND HULL.
Sailing from Pier No. 53 North River, as follows:
OTHELLO........Nov. 25 | NAVARINO........Dec. 23
HIDALGO........Dec. 9 | COLOMBO........Jan. 6
First cabin, $70, currency; second cabin, $40, currency; excursion tickets on very favorable terms. Through tickets issued to Continental and Baltic ports. Apply for full particulars to CHARLES L. WRIGHT & CO., No. 58 South st.

SHIPPING.

CUNARD LINE B. & N. A. R. M. S. P. CO.
NOTICE.
With the view of diminishing the chances of collision the steamers of this line take a specified course for all seasons of the year.
On the outward passage from Queenstown to New-York or Boston, crossing meridian of 50 at 43 latitude, or nothing to the north of 43.
On the homeward passage, crossing the meridian of 50 at 42, or nothing to the north of 42.
FROM NEW-YORK FOR LIVERPOOL AND QUEENSTOWN.
BOTHNIA....WED., Nov. 15 | *RUSSIA....WED., Nov. 29
*ABYSSINIA.WED., Nov. 22 | PARTHIA....WED., Dec. 6
Steamers marked * do not carry steerage passengers.
Cabin passage, $80, $100, and $130, gold, according to accommodation. Return tickets on favorable terms.
Steerage tickets to and from all parts of Europe at very low rates. Freight and passage office, No. 4 Bowling-green. CHAS. G. FRANCKLYN, Agent.

PASSENGERS PER STEAM-SHIP BOTHNIA embark from the Cunard wharf, foot of Grand st., Jersey City, at 2:30 P. M. on WEDNESDAY, 15th November, 1876. CHAS. G. FRANCKLYN, No. 4 Bowling Green, New-York.

RED STAR STEAM-SHIP LINE.
Appointed to carry the Belgian and United States mails. The following steamers are appointed to sail TO ANTWERP:
From Philadelphia. | From New-York.
NEDERLAND........Dec. 5 | SWITZERLAND....Nov. 23
VADERLAND........Dec. 29 | KENILWORTH....Dec. 16
Rates of passage in currency:
First Cabin, $90; Second Cabin, $60; Steerage, $26.
PETER WRIGHT & SONS, General Agents, Philad'a. No. 42 Broad st., New-York.
JOHN McDONALD, No. 8 Battery place, New-York.

RAILROADS.

CENTRAL RAILROAD OF NEW-JERSEY —ALLENTOWN LINE.—Ferry stations in New-York, foot of Liberty st. and foot of Clarkson st., up town. Freight station, foot of Liberty st.
Commencing Oct. 2, 1876—Leave New-York, foot of Liberty st., as follows:
5:40 A. M.—MAIL TRAIN for Easton, Belvidere, Bethlehem, Bath, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Tamanend, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Carbondale, &c.; connects at Bound Brook for Trenton and Philadelphia at Junction with Del., Lack. and West. Railroad.
7:15 A. M.—For Somerville and Flemington.
8:45 A. M.—MORNING EXPRESS, daily, (except Sundays,) for High Bridge Branch, Easton, Allentown, Harrisburg, and the West. Connects at Easton for Mauch Chunk, Tamaqua, Towanda, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Danville, Williamsport, &c.
*1:00 P. M.—EXPRESS for Flemington, Easton, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Tamaqua, Mahanoy City, Hazleton, Reading, Columbia, Lancaster, Ephrata, Pottsville, Harrisburg, &c.
4:00 P. M.—For High Bridge Branch, Easton, Belvidere, Allentown, and Mauch Chunk; connects at Junction with Del., Lack. and West. Railroad.
*4:30 P. M.—For Somerville and Flemington.
5:15 P. M.—For Bound Brook.
*5:30 P. M.—EVENING EXPRESS, daily, for Easton, Belvidere, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre, Towanda, Reading, Harrisburg, and the West.
*8:30 P. M.—For Easton.
Boats leave foot of Clarkson st., up-town, at 6:35, 7:35, 9:05, 10:05, 11:35 A. M.; 12:50, 1:50, 3:20, 4:20, 5:20, 6:20, 7:20, 8:20, 10:05, 11:50 P. M.
Connection is made by Clarkson Street Ferry at Jersey City with all trains marked *.
For trains to local points see time-table at stations.

NEW-YORK AND LONG BRANCH DIVISION.
ALL-RAIL LINE BETWEEN NEW-YORK, LONG BRANCH, OCEAN GROVE, SEA GIRT, AND SQUAN.
Time-table of Nov. 15, 1876: Trains leave New-York from foot of Liberty st., North River, at 8:15, 11:45 A. M., 4:15, 5:15 P. M.
From foot of Clarkson st. at 11:35 A. M.
Stages to and from Keyport connect at Matawan Station with all trains.

NEW-YORK AND PHILADELPHIA NEW LINE.
BOUND BROOK ROUTE.
For Trenton and Philadelphia.
Leave New-York, foot of Liberty st., at 5:40, 8:45, 7:45, 9:15 A. M., 1:30, 5, 6:30 P. M.
Leave foot of Clarkson st. at 6:35, 7:35, 9:05 A. M., 12:50, 4:20, 6:20 P. M.
Leave Philadelphia from station North Pennsylvania Railroad, 3d and Berks sts., at 7:30, 9:30 A. M., 1:30, 3:20, 5, 6:30 P. M. Leave Centennial Grounds at 7:15, 9:15 A. M., 1:15, 3, 4:50, 6:10 P. M.
PULLMAN DRAWING ROOM CARS are attached to the 7:45 and 9:15 A. M. trains from New-York, and to trains leaving 3d and Berks sts. at 5:00 and 6:30 P. M.
All trains connect at Trenton Junction to and from Trenton.
Leave Trenton for New-York at 5:45, 8:15, 10:20 A. M., 2:10, 3:45, 5:45, 7:20 P. M.
Rates for passengers and freight as low as by other routes. H. P. BALDWIN, Gen. Pass. Agent.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT TRUNK LINE AND UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE.
Trains leave New-York, via Desbrosses and Cortlandt Street Ferries, as follows:
Express for Harrisburg, Pittsburg, the West and South, with Pullman Palace Cars attached, 9:30 A. M., 6 and 8:30 P. M. Sunday, 6 and 8:30 P. M.
For Williamsport, Lock Haven, Corry, and Erie at 9:40 and 8:30 P. M., connecting at Corry for Titusville, Petroleum Centre, and the Oil Regions.
For Baltimore, Washington, and the South, "Limited Washington Express" of Pullman Parlor Cars daily, except Sunday, 9:30 A. M.; arrive Washington, 4:15 P. M. Regular at 8:40 A. M., 2:40, and 9 P. M. Sunday 9 P. M.
Express for Philadelphia, 7:30, 8:40, 9:30 A. M., 12:30, 2:40, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8:30, 9 P. M., and 12 night. Accommodation 7 A. M. and 4:10 P. M. Sunday 8 A. M., 5, 6, 7, 8:30, and 9 P. M. Emigrant and second class 7 P. M.
For Centennial Depot at 8 A. M. daily. Returning, leave Centennial Depot at 4:45 and 5:30 P. M.
For trains to Newark, Elizabeth, Rahway, Princeton, Trenton, Perth Amboy, Flemington, Belvidere, and other points, see local schedules at all Ticket Offices.
Trains arrive: From Pittsburg, 6:20 and 10:30 A. M., and 10:20 P. M. daily; 10:10 A. M. and 6:50 P. M., daily, except Monday. From Washington and Baltimore, 6:30, 9:40 A. M., 4:10, 5:10, and 10:20 P. M. Sunday 6:30, 9:40 A. M. From Philadelphia, 5:05, 6:20, 6:30, 9:40, 10:10, 11:20, 11:50 A. M., 2:10, 3:50, 4:10, 5:10, 6:10, 6:50, 7:35, 7:40, 8:40, and 10:20 P. M. Sunday, 5:05, 6:20, 6:30, 9:40, 10:10, 11:50 A. M., 6:50 and 10:20 P. M.
Ticket Offices—Nos. 526 and 944 Broadway, No. 1 Astor House, and foot of Desbrosses and Cortlandt sts.; No. 4 Court st., Brooklyn; Nos. 114, 116, and 118 Hudson st., Hoboken; Depot, Jersey City. Emigrant Ticket Office, No. 8 Battery place.
D. M. BOYD, JR., General Passenger Agent.
FRANK THOMSON, General Manager.

NEW-YORK CENTRAL AND HUDSON RIVER RAILROAD.—After Sept. 18, 1876, through trains will leave Grand Central Depot:
8:00 A. M., Chicago and Northern Express, with drawing-room cars through to Rochester and St. Albans, Vt.
10:30 A. M., special Chicago Express, with drawing-room cars to Rochester, Buffalo, and Niagara Falls.
11:00 A. M., Northern and Western Express.
3:30 P. M., special Albany, Troy, and Western Express. Connects at East Albany with night express for the West.
4:00 P. M., Montreal Express, with sleeping cars from New-York to Montreal.
6:00 P. M., Express, with sleeping cars, for Watertown and Canandaigua. Also for Montreal via Plattsburg.
8:30 P. M., Pacific Express, daily, with sleeping cars, for Rochester, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cleveland, Louisville, and St. Louis. Also for Chicago, via both L. S. and M. C. Railroads.
11:00 P. M., Express, with sleeping cars, for Albany and Troy. Way trains as per local Time Table.
Tickets for sale at Nos. 252 and 413 Broadway, and at Westcott Express Company's offices, Nos. 7 Park place, 785 and 942 Broadway, New-York, and 333 Washington st., Brooklyn.
C. B. MEEKER, General Passenger Agent.

LEHIGH VALLEY RAILROAD.
ARRANGEMENT OF PASSENGER TRAINS, April 16, 1876.
Leave depots foot of Cortlandt and Desbrosses sts., at 7 A. M.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Hazleton, Beaver Meadows, Mahanoy City, Shenandoah, Mount Carmel, Shamokin, Wilkesbarre, Pittston, Sayre, Elmira, &c., connecting with trains for Ithaca, Auburn, Rochester, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, and the West.
1 P. M.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Hazleton, Mahanoy City, Shenandoah, Wilkesbarre, Pittston, &c., making close connection for Reading, Pottsville, and Harrisburg.
4 P. M.—For Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, and Mauch Chunk, stopping at all stations.
6:30 P. M.—Night Express, daily, for Easton, Bethlehem, Allentown, Mauch Chunk, Wilkesbarre, Pittston, Sayre, Elmira, Ithaca, Auburn, Rochester, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, and the West. Pullman's sleeping coaches attached.
General Eastern office corner Church and Cortlandt sts. CHARLES H. CUMMINGS, Agent.
ROBERT H. SAYRE, Superintendent and Engineer.

ERIE RAILWAY.
Summer Arrangement of through trains, 1876. From Chambers Street Depot. (For 23d st. see note below.)
9:00 A. M., daily, except Sundays, Cincinnati and Chicago Day Express. Drawing-room coaches to Buffalo and sleeping coaches to Cincinnati and Detroit. Sleeping coaches to Chicago.
10:45 A. M., daily, except Sundays, Express Mail for Buffalo and the West. Sleeping coach to Buffalo.
7:00 P. M., daily, Pacific Express to the West. Sleeping coaches through to Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Cincinnati, and Chicago, without change. Hotel dining coaches to Cleveland and Chicago.
7:00 P. M., except Sundays, Western Emigrant train.
Above trains leave Twenty-third Street Ferry at 8:45 and 10:15 A. M., and 6:45 P. M.
For local trains see time-tables and cards in hotels and depots.
JNO. N. ABBOTT, General Passenger Agent.

NEW-YORK, NEW-HAVEN, AND HARTFORD RAILROAD.
After June 11, 1876, trains leave Grand Central Depot (42d st.) for New-Canaan Railroad at 8:05 A. M., 1, 4:40, and 5:45 P. M.; Danbury and Norwalk Railroad at 8:05 A. M., 1, 3:15, and 4:40 P. M.; Naugatuck Railroad at 8:05 A. M. and 3 P. M.; Housatonic Railroad at 8:05 A. M. and 3 P. M.; New-Haven and Northampton Railroad at 8:05 A. M. and 3 P. M.; for Newport at 8:05 A. M. and 1 P. M.; Boston and Albany Railroad at 8:05 and 11 A. M., 3 and 9 P. M., (9 P. M. on Sunday;) Boston (via Shore Line) at 1 and 10 P. M., (10 P. M. on Sundays.)
Way trains as per local time tables.
J. T. MOODY, Superintendent New-York Division.
E. M. REED, Vice President, New-York.

WICKFORD RAILROAD ROUTE TO NEWPORT, R. I.—Passengers for this line take 8:05 A. M. and 1 P. M. express trains from Grand Central Depot, arriving at 4:18 and 8 P. M. at Newport.
THEODORE WARREN, Superintendent.

FINE ARTS.

ART SALE.
Owing to the recent fire which took place on the evening of election day, Nov. 7, at the photographic gallery, adjoining MINER'S ART GALLERIES NO. 845 BROADWAY, the sale of the private collection of valuable Paintings and Water-colors belonging to MR. CHARLES KNAP,
which was announced for the 13th and 14th insts., was necessarily withdrawn. The galleries having been in the meantime repaired, and the paintings (which were not injured in the least) being rehung, will again be open for exhibition, free, THIS MORNING, and the sale take place
TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY EVENINGS, Nov. 21 and 22, at 7:30 o'clock.
To this fine and valuable collection of Works of Art the attention of connoisseurs and amateurs is specially invited, as it embraces a number of representative pictures by our leading native artists, as well as choice and important examples of distinguished modern European painters. H. D. MINER, Auctioneer.
Office and Art Galleries, No. 845 Broadway.

FINANCIAL.

VERMILYE & CO., BANKERS

16 and 18 Nassau st., New-York,
DEALERS IN ALL ISSUES OF GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.
NEW-YORK CITY AND BROOKLYN BONDS.
BUY AND SELL ON COMMISSION RAILWAY STOCKS, BONDS, AND GOLD.
INTEREST ON DEPOSITS.
WASH'N R. VERMILYE, DONALD MACKAY
JAS. A. TROWBRIDGE, LATHAM A. FISH

FOURTH DRAWING.
OFFICE CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND AND PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY, No. 13 WILLIAM ST., NEW-YORK, Nov. 1, 1876.
The holders of the Mortgage Sinking Fund Bonds of this Company are hereby notified that, by virtue of a clause therein, upon presentation at this office the following described Bonds will be paid off and retired on the first day of January, 1877, and interest on the same will cease from and after that date. The Bonds so designated are numbered as follows:

93	1.104	2.071	3.293	4.400	5.218	6.700	7.501
298	1.184	2.099	3.293	4.595	5.300	6.714	7.604
397	1.200	2.207	3.592	4.600	5.403	6.803	7.609
497	1.290	2.210	3.595	4.753	5.495	6.874	7.695
596	1.293	2.272	3.685	4.754	5.510	6.895	7.895
598	1.392	2.400	3.694	4.785	5.706	6.902	7.906
600	1.506	2.593	3.891	4.807	5.793	6.906	7.998
639	1.595	2.695	4.089	4.890	5.853	6.953	8.008
691	1.598	2.696	4.196	4.895	5.876	7.093	8.216
700	1.603	2.700	4.203	4.985	5.907	7.110	8.301
792	1.792	2.797	4.291	4.995	5.980	7.250	8.304
793	1.799	2.798	4.293	5.003	6.209	7.297	8.306
869	1.869	2.808	4.296	5.037	6.406	7.372	8.398
906	1.897	2.898	4.299	5.099	6.456	7.393	8.420
999	1.899	3.098	4.300	5.197	6.672	7.491	8.899
1.092	1.995	3.191	4.392	5.210

In all cases where the Bonds are registered, they must be accompanied by an assignment in legal form to the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, blanks for which will be furnished on application at this office. The company are prepared to pay any or all of said Bonds, according to their tenor, together with accrued interest to date of payment prior to first January next. FRANCIS H. TOWS, Treasurer.

NEW-YORK, Nov. 11, 1876.
THE UNDERSIGNED, THE SURVIVING Trustees under the mortgage deed of the ILLINOIS AND ST. LOUIS BRIDGE COMPANY, dated March 15, 1870, to secure FOUR MILLIONS FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, in accordance with the provisions of the said mortgage relating to the SINKING FUND, have this day, in the presence of H. F. VAIL, Esq., CASHIER of the NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE IN NEW-YORK, at the said bank in New-York, drawn from the THIRTY-EIGHT HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FOUR numbers remaining of the FOUR THOUSAND NUMBERS representing the above bonds, the following SIXTY-EIGHT NUMBERS in the following order, viz:

576	414	2,973	2,213	554	3,820	1,645
3,765	1,768	1,781	3,847	1,839	670	879
2,513	211	159	1,107	1,465	354	2,315
242	1,779	3,607	3,728	3,353	995	3,669
2,389	578	157	1,085	3,686	1,980	3,738
951	2,358	2,621	3,018	279	3,030	1,035
1,506	203	1,276	3,018	1,448	2,456	108
930	3,452	3,802	2,175	2,546	3,261	2,416
1,636	140	2,110	3,402	156	3,931
917	1,773	3,530	2,708	3,232	1,163

SOLON HUMPHREYS, JOHN A. STEWART, Trustees.
I certify to the above.
H. F. VAIL, Cashier.

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY
OMAHA BRIDGE BONDS.
In accordance with the provisions of the above bonds, we, the undersigned, hereby give notice that the following numbers, viz.:

1,960	197	1,631	705	1,349	1,635
1,622	2,012	1,746	1,525	958	164
1,345	952	279	1,259	2,842	245
348	2,460	1,813	114	2,134	975
2,031	2,280	320	1,305	239	1,210
1,607	208	2,393	338	2,073	1,296
287	333	1,402	461	2,071	292
402	411	92	1,358	471	751
260	2,256	1,262	43	654	2,151

were this day designated by lot, in our presence, to be redeemed, together with the premium thereon as provided in said bonds, at the London and San Francisco Bank, limited, No. 22 Old Broad st., London, E. C., England, or at the office of Drexel, Morgan & Co., in the City of New-York, on the 1st day of April, 1877.
NEW-YORK, Nov. 4, 1876.
E. ATKINS, Trustee.
J. HOOD WRIGHT, of Drexel, Morgan & Co.
Attest: DAVID W. PRICE, Notary Public.

KOUNTZE BROTHERS, Bankers, 12 Wall St., New-York, draw Bills on England, France and Germany; issue Letters of Credit available throughout the United States and Europe, and make transfers of money by telegraph and cable. Investment orders executed in the Exchanges of New York, Philadelphia, Boston and San Francisco. Approved Securities for sale.

ATLANTIC, MISSISSIPPI AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY.—Holders of mortgage bonds of the
NORFOLK AND PETERSBURG RAILROAD COMPANY,
SOUTH-SIDE RAILROAD COMPANY,
VIRGINIA AND TENNESSEE RAILROAD COMPANY, and holders of interest funding bonds of the VIRGINIA AND TENNESSEE RAILROAD COMPANY, which were issued for interest on bonds, will please present to the undersigned, on and after the 15th inst., at the office of PERKINS, LIVINGSTON, POST & CO., No. 23 Nassau st., New-York, for payment, the interest coupon which fell due July 1, 1876.
The undersigned will also pay, at the same place and date, the interest which fell due July 1, 1876, on the interest funding notes of the Atlantic, Mississippi and Ohio Railroad Company.
C. L. PERKINS, HENRY FINK, Receivers.
LYNCHBURG, Va., Nov. 10, 1876.

HANNIBAL AND ST. JOSEPH RAILROAD COMPANY.
Sealed proposals addressed to William H. Swift, Esq., at Messrs. Ward, Campbell & Co.'s, No. 56 Wall st., New-York, or to the undersigned Trustees, care of Charles Merriam, Agent, No. 26 Sears Building, Boston, will be received until Friday, Nov. 17, 1876, at noon, for the sale of $50,000 of the Land Bonds of said company, in accordance with the provisions of the Indenture of Mortgage dated April 1, 1863.
The bids will be opened in Boston, on Saturday, Nov. 18, 1876, and the accepted bids declared.
WM. H. SWIFT, SIDNEY BARTLETT, NATH'L THAYER, Trustees.
BOSTON, Nov. 6, 1876.

$50, $100, $200, $500, $1,000.
ALEX. FROTHINGHAM & CO., Bankers and Brokers, No. 12 Wall st., make for customers desirable investments of large or small amounts in stocks of a legitimate character, which frequently pay from five to twenty times the amount invested every thirty days. Reliable stock privileges negotiated at favorable rates. Stocks bought and carried as long as desired on deposit of three to five per cent. Circulars and weekly reports sent free.

ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY, No. 59 BROADWAY, NEW-YORK, Nov. 9, 1876.
THE TRANSFER-BOOKS OF THIS COMPANY will be closed from 2 o'clock P. M., Nov. 15, to the morning of Dec. 2.
I. C. BABCOCK, Treasurer.

UNITED STATES EXPRESS COMPANY. TREASURER'S OFFICE NO. 82 BROADWAY, NEW-YORK, Oct. 28, 1876.
THE TRANSFER BOOKS OF THIS COMPANY will be closed Nov. 4 at 2 P. M., and reopened Nov. 16. THEO. F. WOOD, Treasurer.

A PARTY WOULD LIKE TO FIND A purchaser for twenty-five shares of the stock of the Knickerbocker Ice Company of New-York City. Address E. G. P., Box No. 2,252 New-York Post Office.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO., NO. 59 WALL ST., ISSUE COMMERCIAL and TRAVELERS' CREDITS AVAILABLE in all PARTS of the WORLD.

FURNISHED ROOMS.

A STRICTLY PRIVATE FAMILY WILL let a nicely-furnished front room and hall bedroom, without board, to one or two single gentlemen; location 22d st., west of 6th av. Address B., Post Office Box No. 2,678.

MRS. M. B. SUMNER, NO. 2 WEST 39TH ST., has one elegant front suite and one single room to offer; a party of gentlemen could be accommodated at moderate prices.

A THIRD STORY FRONT ROOM, WITH private bath, to let to a gentleman, without meals. Location near Union Club. Apply at No. 943 Broadway.

TO GENTLEMEN IN A REFINED FAMILY an elegantly furnished extension parlor; hot and cold water; grate and register; references exchanged. Call at No. 53 East 21st st.

NO. 107 EAST 44TH ST., NEAR GRAND Central depot.—Furnished rooms to let, with every convenience for house-keeping, for small, respectable families.

NO. 388 4TH AV.—SEVERAL HANDSOMELY- furnished rooms en suite or singly, with all modern conveniences; private house, central location, convenient to restaurants; references.

NO. 47 WEST 29TH ST.—PRIVATE house, extra large furnished hall room, southern exposure; house and appointments first-class.

HANDSOMELY-FURNISHED ROOMS FOR gentlemen, in private house. No. 131 East 17th st., near Union square.

UNFURNISHED ROOMS.

LENOX, 5th av., corner 13th st.
Unfurnished apartments, suitable for large and small families, unsurpassed for convenience and elegance by any in the City. Meals at the option of tenant.

WINTER RESORTS.

THE ROYAL VICTORIA HOTEL, NASSAU, Bahama Islands, now open; T. J. PORTER, Proprietor. Steamers leave New-York Oct. 28 and Nov. 20. For full information, apply to James Liddgerwood & Co., No. 758 Broadway, New-York.

BOARDING AND LODGING.

THE UP-TOWN OFFICE OF THE TIMES.
The up-town office of THE TIMES is located at No. 1,257 Broadway, bet. 31st and 32d sts. Open daily, Sundays included, from 4 A. M. to 9 P. M. Subscriptions received, and copies of THE TIMES for sale.
ADVERTISEMENTS RECEIVED UNTIL 9 P. M.

NOS. 51 AND 53 WEST 25TH ST., NEAR MADISON SQUARE.—Elegantly-furnished rooms or entire second floor, with private table if desired; also, pleasant rooms for gentlemen; house and table strictly first-class.

NO. 70 IRVING PLACE, (GRAMERCY PARK.)—Entire second floor, en suite or singly, with or without private table; also, extra-large hall rooms, with fires; location, house, and table first-class; moderate terms.

NO. 105 WEST 47TH ST.—AN AMERICAN family, strictly private; own their house, have one elegant front room on second floor, with good board, for gentleman and wife; a comfortable, cozy home; reference.

FIFTH AV., NO. 224, OPPOSITE HOTEL Brunswick, suite of parlor and bed-room for gentleman; also, single rooms, with breakfast if desired; references exchanged.

THIRTY-FOURTH ST. NO. 158, EAST.—A handsomely furnished large, and hall room; southern exposure; with unexceptionable board; family private.

FIFTH AV., NO. 81, FIRST DOOR BELOW 16TH ST.—A front parlor and connecting bedroom, third floor; two rooms on fourth floor, with board; references exchanged.

NO. 28 WEST 12TH ST., WEST OF 5TH AV.—With board, handsomely-furnished rooms, large and small, suited for a family or party of gentlemen; house and table first class.

NO. 258 WEST 12TH ST.—LARGE FRONT room, third floor, furnished, for a gentleman, with or without board, between 7th and 8th avs.; terms moderate; references exchanged.

A RESPECTABLE YOUNG WIDOW WISHES two children to take care of and board; they will have a good home and a mother's care. Mrs. McNAMARA, No. 37 Spring st.

SECOND-STORY FRONT ROOM, WITH board, to a gentleman and wife or single gentleman, in an American family; a few boarders taken. No. 236 West 37th st.

NO. 34 WEST 26TH ST.—SECOND FLOOR, front room, with board, to gentleman and wife, or two gentlemen; also, room on fourth floor, for gentlemen; reference.

NO. 33 EAST 18TH ST., NEAR BROADWAY.—Handsomely furnished front room on second floor, to two gentlemen with full or partial board; terms very moderate.

NO. 74 WEST 35TH ST.—FRONT ROOM, third floor; also smaller room, adjoining; also single room, fourth floor; excellent board; terms moderate; references.

NO. 118 WEST 34TH ST.—TO LET, WITH board, a suite of rooms, separately or together, in a private family; also rooms for a single gentleman; terms moderate; references required.

TWENTY-THIRD-ST., NO. 120, EAST, near 4th av.—Handsomely furnished rooms on second and third floor; also hall rooms with superior board; references exchanged.

NO. 30 EAST 22D ST.—TWO HANDSOMELY- furnished connecting rooms, sunny exposure, with board; hall room; references.

NO. 33 WEST 27TH ST., NEAR BROADWAY.—Front sunny room en suite, or otherwise, with board.

NO. 49 WEST 16TH ST.—HANDSOMELY- furnished room and bed-room with board; also, other large and small rooms; table board.

NO. 4 EAST 10TH ST., ONE DOOR FROM 5th av.; first floor, three rooms, furnished, with private table.

A SUITE OF VERY DESIRABLE SECOND- story rooms, with board. No. 153 Madison av., corner 32d st.

NO. 10 EAST 33D ST.—PARLOR AND TWO bedrooms on third floor, also rooms on fourth floor, with board.

A NICELY-FURNISHED ALCOVE ROOM on the second floor, with or without board; private family. No. 124 East 22d st.

NO. 39 WEST 26TH ST.—ROOMS, WITH BOARD, single or en suite; an elegantly-furnished second floor; table first class; terms reasonable.

NO. 53 WEST 33D ST.—ELEGANTLY AND newly furnished rooms on second floor for gentleman and wife; table first-class; references.

NO. 175 WEST 45TH ST.—ROOMS, WITH EX- cellent board, upon reasonable terms to desirable people with references.

NO. 25 EAST 21ST ST.—ELEGANTLY-FUR- nished rooms to let to gentlemen, with or without breakfast; references.

NO. 47 WEST 38TH ST.—NICELY-FURNISHED rooms, with first-class table; references given and required.

NO. 19 EAST 46TH ST.—SECOND STORY room and one other room, furnished, with board. References exchanged.

NO. 68 WEST 46TH ST.—DOUBLE AND SIN- gle rooms; families or single gentlemen; unexceptionable table; terms moderate; private family.

A SUITE OF ROOMS ON PARLOR FLOOR; also second-story back room, to let with board, No. 106 Madison av.

THIRD-STORY FRONT ROOMS, BACK PAR- lor, and fourth-floor large room to rent, with board; references exchanged. Nos. 106 and 108 East 23d st.

FIFTH AV., NO. 273.—HANDSOME PARLOR suite, with first-class private table; also, rooms on fourth floor.

NO. 6 EAST 32D ST.—SUNNY PARLOR, BED- room, parlor floor; also two upper rooms, with board.

NO. 250 MADISON AV.—DESIRABLE SUITE OF front rooms to let, with or without private table; also single room.

WITH PRIVATE TABLE, TO LET—HAND- some second or upper floor in first-class house, No. 67 West 38th st., between 5th and 6th avs.

NO. 23 WAVERLEY PLACE.—A HANDSOME- ly-furnished front parlor to rent, with or without private table, and other rooms.

FIFTH AV., NO. 73, NORTH-EAST CORNER 15TH ST.—Suite of rooms on second floor; also, other rooms, with board.

NO. 434 5TH AV.—A VERY CHOICE SUITE OF apartments, with private table; also, a small suite of three rooms.

TWENTY-THIRD ST., NO. 116 EAST.— Parlor and bed-room on second floor front, with board; also, hall-room; references.

NO. 29 WEST 26TH ST.—DESIRABLE SUNNY rooms, for families and gentlemen, with superior table.

TO LET.—FURNISHED, WITH BOARD, SITTING- room and bed-room, on second and third floors; house first-class; references. No. 235 West 38th st.

NICELY-FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET, with board, to a gentleman and wife, or a party of gentlemen. No. 244 East 19th st.

ONE DOOR FROM MADISON SQUARE.— No. 33 East 23d st., elegantly furnished floors with private tables.

NO. 33 WEST 42D ST., FRONTING RESER- VOIR PARK.—House new; elegantly-furnished handsome rooms, with excellent board.

NO. 109 WEST 28TH ST.—VERY NICE FUR- nished rooms, with or without board; private family.

NO. 28 WEST 31ST ST.—HANDSOMELY FUR- nished floor and single rooms with board; private table if desired; references.

NO. 4 EAST 29TH ST., BETWEEN 5TH AND MADISON AVS.—Handsomely-furnished rooms; first-class board; table boarders taken.

NO. 9 WEST 21ST ST.—DESIRABLE ROOMS; unsurpassed locality; pleasant appointments, with board; terms reasonable; references exchanged.

NO. 18 EAST 32D ST.—ELEGANT SECOND floor; also other rooms; table first-class; private if desired.

NO. 260 4TH AV., MRS. WILLIAMS.—TWO desirable suites; private table.

NO. 14 5TH AV.—A SUITE OF ROOMS ON THIRD floor, with board; also, rooms on fourth floor.

FIFTH AV., NO. 341.—MRS. SEAVER WILL rent apartments with private table.

NO. 18 WEST 21ST ST.—THREE CONNECTED rooms, front, to let with board; references.

NO. 225 EAST 12TH ST.—WELL FURNISHED rooms with liberal board; references.

NO. 32 WEST 32D ST.—ROOMS FOR THREE or four gentlemen and board; references required.

NO. 25 WEST 16TH ST.—ROOMS ON SECOND and third floors, with board, for first-class parties.

NO. 114 EAST 27TH ST.—PARLOR AND second floor to let, with board.

TO RENT, WITH BOARD, ROOMS ON SECOND and fourth floors; reference. No. 10 East 32d st.

NO. 29 WEST 21ST ST.—HANDSOMELY-FUR- nished rooms, with board; references.

NO. 54 WEST 38TH ST.; FRONT ROOM, on third floor, to let with board; references.

NINTH ST., NO. 37, WEST.—DESIRABLE rooms, with superior board.

BOARD WANTED.

BOARD WANTED—BY A GENTLEMAN AND wife in a first-class private family, where no other boarders are taken; pleasant rooms and good table required; location on west side of town, between 14th and 34th sts.; references given and required. Address, stating terms, J., Post Office Box No. 4,831.

BOARD WANTED.—FOR A GENTLEMAN, wife, and daughter; a parlor and two bed-rooms, with private table; best of references. Address, with lowest terms, and full particulars, W. G. A., Box No. 4364, Post Office.

A LADY WILL GIVE THREE HOURS' DAILY tuition in return for a comfortable home. Address C. B., Box No. 139 Times Office.

A LADY WISHES BOARD IN A FAMILY where only German is spoken. Address F. W., Box 280 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

BOOTS AND SHOES.

"IRONCLADS,"
A STRONG, SERVICEABLE SHOE FOR BOYS AND YOUTHS.
"WAUKENPHAST,"
These popular English SHOES can always be found at CANTRELL'S, No. 241 4th av.

AMUSEMENTS.

LYCEUM THEATRE, 14TH ST. AND 6TH AV.
J. H. McVicker, Man'g'r; D. W. Waller, Stage Man'g'r.
The Manager respectfully notifies the public that on MONDAY, NOV. 20, he will commence a brief season at the Lyceum Theatre for the purpose of presenting EDWIN BOOTH
in a series of his characters supported by a dramatic company selected with special reference to the proper rendition of the standard works in which EDWIN BOOTH appears. The first production will be the principal characters being assumed by the following artists:
HAMLET,
FRED. ROBINSON, as the Ghost; MILNES LEVICK, as the King; J. M. HARDIE, as Laertes; HART CONWAY, as Horatio; F. PIERCE, as Polonius; J. H. McVICKER, as the Grave-digger; CLARA JENNINGS, as Ophelia; JENNIE CARROLL, as the Queen.
SCENERY, COSTUMES, AND APPOINTMENTS ALL NEW!
The sale of tickets will commence at the office of the Lyceum Theatre THIS MORNING, Nov. 15, at 9 A. M. and continue till 6 P. M. daily. The Manager notifies the public that no tickets will be placed in the hands of speculators, and no speculation will be allowed at this theatre. When the ticket office opens the diagram will be clear, with the exception of a limited number of seats placed at No. 111 Broadway, Marten's music store, No. 1,164 Broadway, and at the principal hotels, (in all not exceeding 200 tickets.) and they will be withdrawn from these places if an exorbitant advance is demanded. The Manager receives no share of the advance, and hence it can be made liberal and pay well for the accommodation rendered. Every facility will be offered the public to purchase tickets at the theatre at the REGULAR RATES, $1 50 FOR SECURED SEATS, and the Manager hopes to receive the aid of his patrons in protecting their interest. Remember
NOV. 20, AND DURING THE WEEK, LYCEUM THEATRE,
EDWIN BOOTH..............as..............HAMLET
SATURDAY MATINEE, 1:30, LADY OF LYONS.
EDWIN BOOTH..........as..........CLAUDE MELNOTTE
The next production, THE FOOL'S REVENGE.

NIBLO'S GARDEN.
CHARLES E. ARNOLD..............Lessee and Manager
BENSEN SHERWOOD..............Director
Third month of
BABA,
Written expressly for this theatre by Mr. John A. Mack.
UNABATED SUCCESS OF
Miss ELIZA WEATHERSBY..........as..........AMORET
Mr. W. H. CRANE..........as..........BABA
Continued triumph of
Mlles. ELIZABETA and HELENE MENZELI.
The most artistic premieres assolutas ever seen in this country.
MR. BENSEN SHERWOOD'S MARVELOUS TRANSFORMATIONS,
THE SHIP CHANGE, THE THREE GROTTOS, THE CRUMBLING PALACE,
THE GRANDEST BALLETS IN THE WORLD,
MAX MARETZEK'S SWEET MUSIC.
DEVERNA'S ARTISTIC PROPERTIES.
RICHEST COSTUMES. EXQUISITE SCENERY.
JOLLIEST PLAY.
THE BEST ENTERTAINMENT IN THE CITY.
Box office open daily from 8 A. M. to 10 P. M., where seats may be secured one week in advance.
MATINEE SATURDAY AT 1:30.

ESSIPOFF. STEINWAY HALL.
SECOND ESSIPOFF CONCERT.
Mme. ANNETTE ESSIPOFF.
THIS (Wednesday) EVENING, Nov. 15,
on which occasion Mme. ESSIPOFF will be assisted by M. ALFRED VIVIEN, violin virtuoso of the Conservatory of Brussels, expressly engaged for the Essipoff Concert, and a very select orchestra from the PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.
Conductor, Mr. REINHARD SCHMELZ.
Friday Evening, Nov. 17, THIRD ESSIPOFF CONCERT.
Saturday, at 2 o'clock, FIRST ESSIPOFF MATINEE.
Admission, $1; reserved seats, $2. Seats at Schuberth's music store and Steinway Hall.

CENTENNIAL BAZAAR.
NOV. 15, 16, AND 17,
WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, AND FRIDAY,
At No. 113 East 40th st., near Park av.
OPEN FROM 12 TO 10 P. M.
Admission, 10 cents.

Chickering Hall. Monday, Nov. 20.
REV. DR. R. S. STORRS.
"THE OLD AND THE NEW IN EUROPE."
Tickets at Pond's, No. 39 Union square.

KELLY & LEON'S MINSTRELS. Opera-house.
The Fashionable Minstrel Temple | 23d st., and 6th av.
Every evening | Ching Chow Hi | Matinée at 2,
Houses crowded | Ching Chow Hi | Thanksgiving Day.
Flight of Leon from the Dome of the Theatre.

OLYMPIC NOVELTY THEATRE. 624 B'WAY.
Matinées WEDNESDAY, SATURDAY. 15c., 25c., 50c. | Admission, 15c., 35c., 50c., 75c., & $1. NOVELTY COMPANY NO. 8. 15 new specialty stars, and drama entitled AGAINST THE STREAM.

INSTRUCTION.

MOUNT WASHINGTON
Collegiate Institute,
No. 40 WASHINGTON SQUARE, NEW-YORK CITY,
GEO. W. CLARKE, Ph. D., Principal.
Prepares pupils of all ages for business or college, and opens its thirty-fourth year Sept. 13. Circulars at book stores and at the institute.

VAN NORMAN INSTITUTE, (Founded 1857.)
English, classical, French, and German family and day school for young ladies, (also primary,) No. 212 West 59th st., New-York, facing Central Park; unequaled for beauty and healthfulness; will reopen Sept. 21, 1876. Its circular, giving full information, furnished on application. Rev. D. C. VAN NORMAN, LL. D., Mme. VEILLER VAN NORMAN, Principals.

ANTHON GRAMMAR SCHOOL,
No. 252 Madison av.,
Between 38th and 39th sts.
School hours, 9:30 A. M. to 2:30 P. M.
The rates of tuition have been reduced.

A CLASS FOR BOYS.—THE DESIGN OF THIS class is to prepare boys thoroughly for our best colleges; number of pupils limited to twelve.
References: President Eliot, of Harvard University; Theodore Roosevelt, Esq., and William H. Osborn, Esq., New-York City. For circulars apply to ARTHUR H. CUTLER, at Class Rooms, No. 713 6th av.

LYON'S COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.
NO. 5 EAST 22D ST., CORNER OF BROADWAY.
The Principal gladly teaches the whole time.
Able associates of long connection assist.
Many good boys have entered. Only such received.

ST. JOHN'S SCHOOL.
BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES AND CHILDREN.
Rev. THEODORE IRVING, LL. D., Rector, No. 21 West 32d st.

C. A. MILES,
ENGLISH AND CLASSICAL SCHOOL FOR BOYS,
No. 100 West 43d st., corner 6th av.
School hours, 9:30 A. M. to 2:30 P. M.

MISS DU VERNET, ASSISTED BY COMPETENT masters, will reopen her Boarding and Day School for boys under fifteen, at No. 102 West 29th st., one door from 6th av., on MONDAY, Sept. 25; day boarders are taken to the Park after an early dinner.

A GREAT REDUCTION TO THOSE ENTERING THOMPSON'S COLLEGE, No. 20 4th av., before Dec. 1; bookkeeping, writing, arithmetic, $5 each, three months, day or evening; telegraphy taught practically. A demand for operators.

UNIVERSITY GRAMMAR SCHOOL, NO. 1 Winthrop place, (one block from New-York University,) begins its fortieth year Sept. 18. Classical, commercial, and primary departments.
M. M. HOBBY, B. S. LASSITER, Principals.

BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL, MANSFIELD, Conn.—Beautiful and healthful location; second term begins Jan. 4, 1877; applications received immediately. Address SEMINARY.

ST. PAUL'S SCHOOL, LEWISBORO,' WEST CHESTER COUNTY, N. Y.—A small home-school for children; terms moderate. Address Principals, Rev. and Mrs. ROBERT BOLTON.

MRS. ROBERTS AND MISS WALKER'S English and French School, No. 148 Madison av.; advanced classes from Nov. 1; three young ladies will be received into the family.

PRIVATE CLASS FOR YOUNG CHILDREN.—A few vacancies in a class taught by a competent lady in 61st st., west of the park. Apply by letter to Rev. Dr. TYNG, JR., No. 46 East 43d st.

CHESTER VALLEY ACADEMY—A Boarding School for Boys, Downington, Pa.; limited in number; boys have home comforts and careful training; easy of access; $200 to $260 a year. F. DONLEAVY LONG, A. M., Prin.

MRS. AND MISS STEER'S SCHOOLS, No. 12 East 47th st., and No. 62 West 12th st. Kindergarten attached to each school. School omnibus from No. 12 East 47th st.

IRVING'S SCHOOL OF ART.
Drawing, Water Colors, and Oil Painting.
No. 67 University place, (Society Library Building.)

MRS. J. T. BENEDICT'S BOARDING AND Day School for young ladies and children, No. 7 East 42d st., N. Y., will reopen Sept. 28. Send for circular.

MRS. SYLVANUS REED'S BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL for young ladies, 6 and 8 East 53d st.

MISS WARREN'S School for Boys, 6th av., opposite Reservoir Park; pupils of all ages improve here.

A CLASS FOR YOUNG GENTLEMAN AND private instruction. Thos. R. Ash, 103 West 40th st.

TEACHERS.

WANTED—A COMPETENT TEACHER TO TAKE charge of a school in a charitable institution in the City: she must understand the rudiments of music and singing, and be capable of teaching the ordinary English branches. Address P. O. Box No. 3,496.

A GRADUATE OF COLUMBIA DESIRES a limited number of private pupils, preparing for college, in classics or mathematics; best of references. Address J., Box No. 141 Times Office.

A GRADUATE OF YALE, WITH HIGHEST testimonials and City reference, desires private pupils; fitting for college a specialty. Address YALE, Box No. 156 Times Office.

BOYS PREPARED FOR COLLEGE BY a graduate of Harvard; experienced in teaching. Address Harvard, Box No. 293 TIMES UP-TOWN OFFICE, NO. 1,257 BROADWAY.

AN EDUCATED CLERGYMAN WILL DE- vote part of his time to giving private instruction upon almost every subject; also culture. Address CLERGYMAN, Box No. 134 Times Office.

MRS. MITCHELL, (DIPLOMEE,) SUP- PLIES families without charge with competent and reliable governesses, tutors, professors of music and languages. TEACHERS' BUREAU, No. 67 West 35th st.

FRENCH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE by an experienced Parisian lady diplomée. Mlle. VERREL, No. 1,257 Broadway, Room No. 25.

AMUSEMENTS.

WALLACK'S. BOUCICAULT.
Mr. LESTER WALLACK........Proprietor and Manager
Mr. Wallack is gratified to announce the engagement of the eminent dramatist and comedian, who inaugurated his present season with the comedy FORBIDDEN FRUIT as a brilliant prelude to his appearance as CONN,
in his celebrated Irish drama, the
SHAUGHRAUN.
The engagement of
Mr. BOUCICAULT
being necessarily limited to a few weeks, the comedy FORBIDDEN FRUIT, suspended during the run of THE SHAUGHRAUN, will be resumed after his engagement, after which a new drama, entitled ALL FOR HER, will be produced.
EVERY NIGHT at 8,
EVERY SATURDAY AFTERNOON at 1:30,
will be performed
THE SHAUGHRAUN,
with the original cast, including Mr. John Gilbert, Mr. H. J. Montague, Mr. Harry Beckett, Mr. E. Arnott, Mr. C. A. Stevenson, Mr. E. Holland, Mr. Edwin, Mr. Leonard, Mr. Peck, Mr. Eytinge, Mr. Atkins, Miss Dyas, Mme. Ponisi, Miss Rose Wood, Miss Josephine Baker, Mrs. Sefton, and Miss Blaisdell, as originally represented at Wallack's Theatre in 1874.
Box office open daily from 8 to 4. Places may be secured four weeks in advance.

THE GREAT NEW-YORK AQUARIUM,
BROADWAY AND 35TH ST.
OPEN DAILY FROM 9 A. M. TILL 10 P. M.
GREAT JAPANESE CURIOSITY,
THE "KIUGIYO" OR TRIPLE-TAILED FISH.
AMERICAN ANGLER! WHITE BASS!
LIVING WHITE WHALE!
SEALS AND SEA-HORSES.
170,000 GALLONS CRYSTAL WATER
IN CONSTANT MOTION.
THOUSANDS OF OTHER CURIOSITIES.
MARVELS OF MARINE LIFE.
ELEGANT PROMENADE CONCERTS.
EVERY AFTERNOON AND EVENING (SUNDAYS EXCEPTED.)
HARVEY B. DODWORTH, Director.

FIFTH AVENUE THEATRE.
LAST NIGHT BUT THREE OF
LIFE!
LAST OF THE SNOW BALLET!
LAST OF BONFANTI!
FAREWELL MATINEE OF LIFE
SATURDAY NEXT AT 2.
BRING THE CHILDREN!
SATURDAY NIGHT, NOV. 18,
MISS DAVENPORT AS ROSALIND.

THE BEST RESERVED SEATS FOR ALL THEATRES six days in advance, at TYSON'S NEW THEATRE TICKET OFFICE, WINDSOR HOTEL.

CENTRAL PARK GARDEN, 59th st. and 7th av.
GREAT EXCITEMENT, GREAT EXCITEMENT, GREAT EXCITEMENT FOR THREE DAYS, FOR THREE DAYS, FOR THREE DAYS, FOR THREE DAYS,
THURSDAY, FRIDAY, AND SATURDAY EVENING.
LADY PEDESTRIAN AGAINST A GENTLEMAN,
commencing at 7 o'clock each evening.
Admission, 25 cents; reserved seats, 50 cents.
Miss MARY MARSHALL, who walked six days and nights during the last week, has challenged Mr. PETER VAN NESS for $500 to walk twenty miles each evening, best two out of three, the winner of any two nights in succession to return half the money. See below certificate of Doctor, Nov. 14, 1876: "I have thoroughly examined Miss Marshall and can say she is in good condition to walk the match."

CHICKERING HALL. FANNY DANZIGER.
First Grand Concert of
Miss FANNY DANZIGER,
The young American pianiste,
From the Royal Conservatory of Music at Leipsic,
FRIDAY EVENING, Nov. 17, at 8,
AT CHICKERING HALL,
with the assistance of the following eminent artists: Miss Henrietta Beebe, soprano; Mr. Chs. Fritsch, tenor; Mr. S. B. Mills, pianist; Mr. F. F. Muller organist.
Tickets, with reserved seats, $1, to be had at Schuberth's, 23 Union square, and Ruliman's, 111 Broadway.

SIXTEENTH BAPTIST CHURCH,
16th st., near 8th av.
YOUNG PEOPLE'S ASSOCIATION COURSE.
Frederick Douglass.
Subject—"SELF-MADE MEN."
WEDNESDAY EVENING, Nov. 15, at 8 o'clock.
Tickets, 50 cents.
Mr. DOUGLASS will positively lecture.

WILL CLOSE SATURDAY EVENING, NOV. 18.
AMERICAN INSTITUTE,
2D AND 3D AVS., BETWEEN 63D AND 64TH STS.
LAST DAYS OF THE
FORTY-FIFTH GRAND NATIONAL EXHIBITION.
Adults 25 cents; Children 15 cents.

CHICKERING HALL.
WEDNESDAY EVENING, Nov. 15, 1876.
READINGS
by
Miss LIZZIE L. CLARK,
Under the direction of J. E. FROBISHER.
Music by ISOTTA REBECCHINI, Mlle. TOMOSELLI, and Mr. MORTIMER WOODCOCK.
Tickets 50 cents, to be obtained at Blume's music store, No. 861 Broadway, or at the hall.

VICTORIA CLAFLIN WOODHULL will deliver her farewell lecture at Chickering Hall, Nov. 21. Tickets now on sale at No. 111 Broadway, Nos. 23 and 33 Union square, and Chickering Hall.

FAIR OF THE WOMAN'S AID SOCIETY.—The annual fair of this society will be held at the "Home," No. 41 7th av., Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this week from 11 A. M. to 10 P. M. each day.

STEAMBOATS.

STONINGTON LINE
FOR BOSTON AND ALL POINTS EAST.
REDUCED FARE.
TO BOSTON, FIRST CLASS, $4.
TO PROVIDENCE, FIRST CLASS, $3.
Elegant steamers leave Pier No. 33 North River, foot of Jay st., at 4:30 P. M.
Tickets for sale at all principal ticket offices. State-rooms secured at offices of Westcott Express Company, and at No. 363 Broadway.
PROVIDENCE LINE.
Steam-ships Electra and Galatea leave Pier No. 27 North River, foot of Park place, at 4 P. M. Freights via either line taken at lowest rates.
D. S. BABCOCK, Pres. L. W. FILKINS, G. P. Agent.

REDUCTION OF FARE
TO BOSTON,
VIA THE
FALL RIVER LINE.
$4 FIRST CLASS.
STEAMERS BRISTOL AND PROVIDENCE.
4:30 P. M.—Leave Pier No. 28 North River, foot of Murray street, daily, Sundays excepted.

SEA BIRD,
Capt. H. B. PARKER, will run between New-York (foot of Franklin st., Pier No. 35) and Red Bank, as follows:

LEAVE NEW-YORK.	LEAVE RED BANK.
Tuesday, 14....2:30 P. M.	Tuesday, 14....6:45 A. M.
Wednesday, 15..3:00 P. M.	Wednesday, 15..7:00 A. M.
Thursday, 16...3:30 P. M.	Thursday, 16...7:00 A. M.
Saturday, 18...9:00 A. M.	Friday, 17.......8:00 A. M.
Tuesday, 21....11:00 A. M.	Monday, 20......8:30 A. M.
Thursday, 23....12:00 M.	Wednesday, 22..10:00 A. M.

OLD-ESTABLISHED LINE FOR STUYVESANT, CATSKILL, AND INTERMEDIATE LANDINGS.—Steamer ANDREW HARDER, from Franklin st., Pier 35, Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday. Steamer MONITOR, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, 5 P. M.

ALBANY.—PEOPLE'S LINE.—SPLENDID STEAM- boats leave Pier No. 41 North River, foot of Canal st., daily, Sundays excepted, at 6 P. M., for Albany and all points North and West. N. B.—State-rooms heated by steam pipes. Meals on European plan.

FOR NEW-HAVEN, HARTFORD, &C. Fare $1; steamers leave Peck slip for New-Haven at 3 and 11 P. M., connecting with road.

FOR BRIDGEPORT AND ALL POINTS ON Housatonic and Naugatuck Railroad.—Fare $1. Steamers leave Catharine slip at 11:30 A. M.

MISCELLANEOUS.

PERFECTION!
BOKER'S BITTERS.
No. 78 John st., New-York. Post Office Box No. 1,029.
L. FUNKE, Jr., SOLE AGENT.

BAKERS' AND CONFECTIONERS' TOOLS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
Bread Troughs, Peels, New Year's Cake Prints and Rollers, Springerle's Forms, Moulds, &c. Every tool necessary for bakers and confectioners. WILLIAM HART, Manufacturer, 34 Catharine st., New-York City.

SKIN DISEASES A SPECIALTY FOR YEARS.—20,000 cases cured. Dr. VAN DYKE has studied and analyzed every form of skin disease in existence until he is almost perfect in their treatment. If you have any skin disease, Dr. VAN DYKE can permanently cure you so the disease will never return. Office, No. 6 West 16th st., Philadelphia, Penn.

EPPS' COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING; each packet is labeled, JAMES EPPS & CO., Homeopathic Chemists, No. 48 Threadneedle st. and No. 170 Piccadilly, London, England. New-York Depot, SMITH & VANDERBEEK, Park place.

TAMAR INDIEN.—A LAXATIVE FRUIT LO- zenge; agreeable to take; specific for constipation and its consequences. E. Grillon, No. 27 Rue Rambuteau, Paris depot. CASWELL, HAZARD & CO., N. Y.

CANCER.—NEW TREATISE; HOW CURED WITH- out knife or poisonous minerals. Dr. STODDARD, No. 8 West 14th st., New-York.

"PILES CURED."—RECEIPT SENT TO ANY address. Inclose $1 to Dr. B., Station G, New-York Post Office.

AMUSEMENTS.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.
Mr. JAMES W. MORRISSEY..............Manager
GRAND MUSICAL CONGRESS
and
CENTENNIAL THANKSGIVING FESTIVAL of the most distinguished
LYRIC AND INSTRUMENTAL ARTISTS AND MUSICAL CELEBRITIES
IN THE UNITED STATES.
Mr. JAMES W. MORRISSEY has the honor to announce that he has made arrangements with the following UNPRECEDENTED ENSEMBLE of renowned MUSICIANS and COMPOSERS for the COMPLETE and PROPER production of a series of GRAND MUSICAL FESTIVALS
and OPERATIC PERFORMANCES, which for MAGNITUDE and MERIT has heretofore not been attempted in this City.
BEGINNING MONDAY, NOV. 27,
THANKSGIVING WEEK.
FIRST—THE RETURN TO NEW-YORK OF MR. THEODORE THOMAS and his UNRIVALED GRAND ORCHESTRA OF EMINENT SOLOISTS.
SECOND—The engagement IN CONJUNCTION with THOMAS' GRAND ORCHESTRA of the following celebrated LYRIC STARS:
Miss EMMA THURSBY,
The American Representative Prima Donna.
Miss ANNA DRASDIL,
Prima Donna Contralto.
Mrs. PHILIP GULAGER,
Prima Donna Soprano.
Signor BRIGNOLI,
Prima Tenor.
(his first appearance with Thomas' Grand Orchestra.)
Mr. CHAS. FRITSCH,
Tenor de Gracia.
Signor FERRANTI,
The famous Baritone Comique.
AND FINALLY—in order to give additional brilliancy to this extraordinary gathering of renowned artists—
Mme. MADELINE SCHILLER,
Mme. CARENO SAURET,
Dr. GUSTAVE SATTER and Mr. S. B. MILLS,
THE FOUR GREATEST PIANISTS IN AMERICA.
In addition to the grand orchestral works of BEETHOVEN, MENDELSSOHN, SCHUBERT, CHOPIN, BACH, LISZT, and WAGNER, will also be given the operatic chef d'oeuvres of VERDI, MOZART, GOUNOD, MEYERBEER, FLOTOW, BALFE, and WALLACE, by this powerful company of OPERATIC CELEBRITIES and THOMAS' GRAND ORCHESRA, and will embrace the gems of "FAUST," "TROVATORE," "MARTHA," "RIGOLETTO," "FAVORITA," "WILLIAM TELL," and the "BOHEMIAN GIRL," in which BRIGNOLI will be heard IN ENGLISH FOR THE FIRST TIME.
THE THANKSGIVING FESTIVAL will be divided into THREE GRAND PERFORMANCES,
MONDAY, NOV. 27,
WEDNESDAY, NOV. 29,
(Thanksgiving eve,) and
FRIDAY, DEC. 1.
The SALE of SUBSCRIPTION TICKETS for the three performances will begin on MONDAY next, Nov. 20, at DECKER BROS.' PIANO WAREROOMS, No. 33 Union square.
The SALE for SINGLE NIGHTS will begin on the THURSDAY following at the Academy.
THE PRICES—Notwithstanding the self-evident expense of this combination, will be: Subscription tickets, with choice of reserved seats for the series, $4 50.
BOXES, $6, $8, and $10 each.
PRICES FOR SINGLE NIGHTS:
Admission, $1; reserved seats, 50 cents, and $1 extra, according to location.
FAMILY CIRCLE, 50 CENTS.

UNION SQUARE THEATRE.
Mr. SHERIDAN SHOOK..............Proprietor
Mr. A. M. PALMER..............Manager
LAST TIMES OF
LAST TIMES OF
LAST TIMES OF
THE
TWO ORPHANS.
LAST TIMES OF
LAST TIMES OF
LAST TIMES OF
Monday evening, Nov. 20, will be produced for the first time in America, Messrs. Nus & Belot's powerful drama in five acts, entitled
MISS MULTON.
In which Miss CLARA MORRIS, Miss SARA JEWETT, Mrs. MARIE WILKINS, Miss BIJOU HERON, Miss LOUISE SYLVESTER, Miss MABEL LEONARD, Mr. JAMES O'NIEL, Mr. J. H. STODDART, and Mr. JOHN PARSELLE will appear.
The play will be presented with entirely new and beautiful scenery from the brush of Mr. RICHARD MARSTON, with new furniture and appointments, and with new music by Mr. TISSINGTON.
The sale of seats for the first representation of MISS MULTON will commence on THURSDAY MORNING next at 8 o'clock.

BOOTH'S THEATRE. GRANDEUR.
JARRETT & PALMER..............Lessees and Managers
NEW — "THE GLORY OF THE STAGE." FOURTEENTH WEEK of the triumphant production of LORD BYRON'S exquisite romantic play,
SARDANAPALUS.
GRAND — MARVELOUSLY MAGNIFICENT Scenery, costumes, regalia, weapons, banners, &c.
THE GREAT CAST INCLUDING MR. F. C. BANGS and AGNES BOOTH.
ITALIAN — THE NEW GRAND BALLET, introducing the renowned BARTOLETTI, premiere danseuse assoluta, of the Grand Opera, Paris, and La Scala, Milan; Sig. MASCAGNO, principal dancer of La Scala, Milan, and San Carlo, Naples.
BALLET.
MATINEE EVERY SATURDAY AT 1:30.
NEXT FRIDAY EVENING, BENEFIT of Mr. BANGS. Seats can now be secured.
Dec. 4, LAWRENCE BARRETT as "King Lear."

P. T. BARNUM'S, P. T. BARNUM'S.
NEW AND GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH,
AT GILMORE'S GARDEN.
GRAND MATINEE EVERY AFTERNOON.
TWO EXHIBITIONS DAILY.
MENAGERIE, MUSEUM, AND CIRCUS.
OBSERVE THE TALENT.
Re-engagement of Miss JENNIE WATSON and MARTINHO LOWANDI, the Brazilian rider, who will appear MONDAY, Nov. 20.
FISH, SEBASTIAN, CARLO FAMILY, (TWELVE IN NUMBER,) HAWLEY AND VICTORIA, JAMES COOK, Mlle. DE BERG, LA FEVRE, Miss HANSON, SATSUMA, WHITAKER, ALL RIGHT, WATERMAN, KERLER, COOK, CLARK, ALMONTE, ROLLAND, SMITH, GAFFNEY, AND MANY OTHERS.
THE TATTOOED GREEK NOBLEMAN, ADMIRAL DOT.
Admission, 50 cents; children under nine years, 25 cents; orchestra seats, 25 cents extra.
Doors open at 1 and 5:30. Performance at 2 and 8.

HELLER'S WONDER THEATRE,
LATE GLOBE, OPPOSITE NEW-YORK HOTEL.
ROBERT HELLER. ROBERT HELLER.
THE WORLD-FAMED PRESTIDIGITATEUR, PIANIST, and HUMORIST,
In his series of entertainments entitled
HELLER'S WONDERS,
at this entirely remodeled and redecorated theatre,
THIS AND EVERY EVENING AT 8 O'CLOCK.
"The most astounding Necromancy of the 19th century."
"The cleverest tricks ever attempted."
FIRST APPEARANCE IN AMERICA OF MISS HELLER,
who will make her début in the famous phenomenal wonder entitled
SUPERNATURAL VISION.
GRAND MATINEE ON SATURDAY at 2 o'clock.
Prices of admission—Reserved orchestra chairs, $1; balcony reserved seats, 75 cents; family circle, 50 cents; amphitheatre, limited, 25 cents.

EAGLE THEATRE. BROADWAY AND 33D ST.
Proprietor and Manager..............Mr. JOSH HART.
Unbounded success of the burlesque on SARDANAPALUS.
THE MODERN SCHOOL OF ACTING.
SARAH'S YOUNG MAN.
Return of Mr. Pat Rooney.
The entire company will appear in the Burlesque on Sardanapalus.
Matinée Wednesday and Saturday.

SAN FRANCISCO MINSTRELS.
OPERA HOUSE, BROADWAY & 29TH ST. | THE MINSTREL PALACE. BIRCH, WAMBOLD, BACKUS, and THIRTY BRILLIANT ARTISTS. The créme de la créme of minstrelsy. MATINEE, SATURDAY at 2. Seats secured.

HORSES AND CARRIAGES.

THE UP-TOWN OFFICE OF THE TIMES.
The up-town office of THE TIMES is located at No. 1,257 Broadway, bet. 31st and 32d sts. Open daily, Sundays included, from 4 A. M. to 9 P. M. Subscriptions received, and copies of THE TIMES for sale.
ADVERTISEMENTS RECEIVED UNTIL 9 P. M.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE.
BY WILLIAM VAN TASSELL, AUCTIONEER, OFFICE, NOS. 110, 112 EAST 13TH ST., NEAR 4TH AV.
Messrs. VAN TASSELL & KEARNEY will sell at PUBLIC AUCTION THIS DAY, (WEDNESDAY,) Nov. 15, at 11 o'clock,
AT NO. 740 BROADWAY, NEAR ASTOR PLACE, FINE STOCK OF ELEGANT CARRIAGES, which will be sold to close the estate of BRADLEY, PRAY & CO. and WILLIAM H. BRADLEY & CO.
THE STOCK COMPRISES STRAIGHT - FRONT BROUGHAM COUPE, full-sized Peters Brougham, landaulet, very fine Berlin coach, round-front coupé, ¾ octagon landaulet, two very handsome light Brougham coupés, full sized; full swept 5-glass landau, full-sized octagon-front landaulet, very fine full-sized Peters coupé, fine 3-bowed top cabriolet, very fine large size top phaeton, large size straight-front coupé, fine 5-glass London box landau, fine octagon coupé, and a very stylish loop Victoria, with rumble and dickey seat.
THESE CARRIAGES ARE ALL OF THE FINEST QUALITY, and have been finished within a few weeks by the assignee, under the direction of Mr. WILLIAM H. BRADLEY.
WE DESIRE to CALL the ATTENTION of the FORMER CUSTOMERS of JOHN R. LAWRENCE & CO., and BRADLEY, PRAY & CO. to this stock of carriages; they are equal to any ever manufactured, and a rare opportunity is offered to those in want of a fine carriage.
BY ORDER.
S. E. MERWIN, JR., ASSIGNEE.

FOR SALE—A SPLENDID FRENCH LANDAU but little used, built by Bindin, Paris; C springs back and front; in perfect order; will be sold very cheap or exchanged for a modern Brougham. Apply at private stable, No. 34 Lexington av.

HORSE BLANKETS, CARRIAGE, AND TRAVELING ROBES in quantities and grades to suit buyers. Prices largely reduced.
HARMER, HAYS & CO., No. 72 Beekman st.

FOR SALE—A FIRST-CLASS COUPE HARNESS; will be sold less than cost. Call at No. 109 West 21st st.

MISS MARTINEZ'S SUIT.

THE OUTLINE OF THE DEFENSE.

GREAT CROWDS FILLING THE COURT-ROOM—THE MORBID AND PRURIENT CURIOSITY OF THE SPECTATORS REPROBATED BY MR. CHOATE—THE PLAINTIFF'S TESTIMONY ON CROSS-EXAMINATION—HER SISTER AS A WITNESS—CLOSE OF THE PLAINTIFF'S CASE—THE OPENING FOR THE DEFENDANT.

A rather astonishing sight was presented in Part III. of the Supreme Court all day yesterday in the enormous crowd of persons who were wedged together almost as closely as it was possible for human beings to be packed. Though some of those present were the usual court-room loungers, still the majority were persons who had been attracted to the place in the hope of hearing or seeing something salacious in the trial of the $50,000 suit for seduction under promise of marriage brought by Eugenie Martinez, or Henriques, against Juan del Valle. These persons hardly left the court-room at all during the day, but remained the whole time—in a sitting or standing posture, as luck favored them or not—with eyes intent on every motion of the parties to the controversy, and ears directed toward every syllable let fall from the lips of witnesses. It was on the whole a disgusting sight to see so many gray polls and bald pates scattered about the auditors, and still worse to observe that the possessors of them were most alert in securing the favorable positions from which to ogle the parties. Large numbers, too, sought to gain admittance, but had to be turned away, and some of these made most frantic efforts to browbeat the court attendants, who refused to allow them to get into the court-room. The brutal sneers and sensual smirks of some of the spectators brought down on them some wholesome and deserved reprobation from Mr. Choate in his opening speech for the defense in the afternoon. Judge Donohue also gave notice that on and after to-day no persons who cannot be accommodated with seats will be admitted to the court-room, and no persons will, as hitherto, be suffered to oust the reporters from their table, as has been done during the past two days. The parties to the action were in court all day yesterday. The plaintiff sat between her mother and sister, and seemed not at all nonplussed by her singular situation. The defendant sat impassively behind his counsel, Mr. Choate.

The proceedings were begun with the cross-examination of the plaintiff by Mr. Choate. She said, in answer to questions: "I never made any inquiries about Mr. Del Valle's character personally; my father died in August; he inquired of Mr. Cervallas; I don't know what Mr. Cervallas it was; the ring I received I wore sometimes; I was obliged to take it off in my father's presence; on my arrival at Poughkeepsie I was not introduced to Mr. Alvarez; I became acquainted with him; in the latter part of July we went on a journey of about two weeks; Mr. Alvarez accompanied us; at home generally on Sundays I used to lie down after breakfast; it was not my custom in Poughkeepsie; I did so on June 6; I remember that date, because the events that happened then were such as in a woman's life she never forgets." The witness then, in response to further questions, described, somewhat more in detail than on the former day, the story of her alleged seduction, and went on to give an account of a trip to Niagara Falls and Washington which she took in company with Del Valle and his children. She then, continuing, said: "My father had been informed of my project of marriage and of my living at Poughkeepsie; he came up to visit us; he did not attempt to shoot Mr. Del Valle nor me; he came in August; everything was pleasant; I think if we had been married he would have carried out his threat and shot us both; my father suspected that I had been offered marriage by Mr. Louis Cramer, and this brought out a renewal of his threats; I had been offered marriage by Mr. Cramer; before this second offer I continued to teach; my income was about twenty-five dollars a week; I taught the children of Mr. Orville G. Barnett and others; Mr. del Valle gave me money to buy a saddle with; Mr. del Valle never objected to my morning rides; he never intimated to me that if they were continued I would have to leave his house; I never had any difficulty in getting out of the house in the early morning, because the keys were left in the door; my habit is to rise at 5:30 o'clock."

A letter was here shown the witness, and she was asked if she could identify it as hers; she said she could not do so positively. Another letter was then shown her, and she said that it might have been written by her; the letter had been written on Sept. 8, 1875; in it the writer called on God to reward Del Valle as he deserved. The witness said she did not mean anything by the expression; another expression in the letter, thanking the defendant for his kindness while she was in his house, the witness said she had meant partly and had not meant in part. Another letter was then passed up to the witness by Mr. Choate, and was identified as having been written by her on Oct. 3, 1875. She admitted having sent a telegram to Del Valle on Oct. 2, which was the first communication between them after she left his house in Poughkeepsie, on Sept. 8: the witness did not remember what she had said in the telegram; she was in want at the time; she might have asked for the $100 which Del Valle still owed her for the month of August. Mr. Choate then read the telegram, which was addressed to Del Valle and was as follows:

Owing to sickness in my family I am left without a cent, and despair drives me to ask you for assistance. MRS. E. HENRIQUES.

The witness, with reference to this, said: I wrote the telegram and signed my mother's name; I was sick at the time; the reason I did not ask for the $100 due me was that I could not afford to send so many words; I supposed that the telegram would bring me the money—$100. Mr. Choate here read another letter from the witness to Del Valle, which began: "If you hope for mercy on your dying day, do not send my sister away without the necessary assistance. It is all I want." In answer to further questions the witness said she meant to sue Del Valle if she did not get the money due her. She meant to sue him for justice. The examination was then continued as follows:

Q.—What did you mean, then, by saying you meant to sue him if you did not get the money? A.—I meant to press him for justice to me, but I had no clear idea of such a suit as this; immediately after receiving the letter in which Mr. Del Valle accused me of being unworthy I went to see Mr. George C. Blank, an attorney; Mr. Del Valle's letter contained the $100; my letter, therefore, brought what I wrote for; it was soon afterward I went to see Mr. Blank; then I determined to begin the suit; in our meetings at home and in the rooms at Solaris' Mr. Del Valle used to kiss me; I never objected—of course not. [Laughter.] We used to be at Solaris', sometimes two hours; we ate all the time.

Q.—What, all the time? A.—You may be in the habit of eating faster than I do, or than Mr. Del Valle does; [laughter;] we ate in a leisurely manner; there was always a digression of perhaps twenty-five minutes before we called for dessert, during which we conversed; I never, while at Poughkeepsie, talked with Mr. Del Valle about securing a position as governess; I never had in my hand there an advertisement cut from the Herald in reference to such a situation; I did not have an interview with any person who called at the house on the night I left Poughkeepsie.

TESTIMONY OF ADELE MARTINEZ.

The redirect examination of the plaintiff was then had, but nothing important or interesting was elicited. A recess was then taken, and at the reassembling of the court Miss Adele Martinez, a sister of the plaintiff, was called to the witness stand and sworn. She, like her sister, was dressed in deep mourning. She is only about eighteen years old, is handsomer than her sister, and told her story in a piquant and rather sprightly though apparently artless manner. She testified to being present on Jan. 14, 1875, when Del Valle brought her sister home in the carriage, and admitted both into the house; she then went and told her mother of it; she did not see Del Valle any more that day, but did see him afterward at their house; he used to come two or three times a week until the plaintiff went away; the witness' sister had sprained her ankle on Jan. 14, and was confined to her room for three or four days; witness was present at the conversation between her mother and Del Valle, when the former told the latter: "I see you have given Eugenie a ring, is it to be considered an engagement ring?" and Del Valle had answered "Yes, it is, and it remains for her to fix the day;" the witness called on her sister, while the latter was at the Hotel Royal, nearly every day, and took lunch with her; Eugenie was at the hotel from April 28 to June 1; witness visited her sister at Poughkeepsie four or five times, and on some occasions remained there for two or three days.

On cross-examination the witness said she was four or five years younger than her sister, and had not attended school since she was twelve years old, though she had read books under her father's direction. She had been always living with her mother. Some testimony was then given tending to fix the dates at which the family had removed from one house to another. The witness said she had been giving music lessons for the past year. Recurring to the first meeting with Del Valle, the witness said her sister's ankle had been so badly sprained by the fall that it had to be bandaged; after Jan. 14 the witness did not see Del Valle until two days afterward, though she knew he had called at the house in the meantime; when the witness saw him he was with her sister in the sitting-room; witness had about five minutes' conversation with them; witness saw Del Valle at the house the week following. The witness was here shown an American District messenger ticket signed "E. Henriques," which she said looked something like her mother's writing, though she was not sure it was hers. The witness was then shown the ring given to her sister, and said she first saw it on her sister's finger at their house in Fifty-sixth street about the middle of February, 1875; the witness had then handed to her an affidavit made by her in November, 1875, in which she says she first saw the ring in the latter part of February, and she was asked to reconcile the conflicting statements; she admitted that she did not know whether it was in the middle of February or in the latter part; she was sure it was in February, and about six weeks from the time she first saw Mr. Del Valle; witness was sometimes present when Del Valle called, but did not remain with them; never saw anything improper; at the time of the witness' visit to Poughkeepsie Del Valle was there; witness' sister appeared to be happy in looks and manner, and witness did not suspect that she was suffering any concealed unhappiness. The witness was then shown by Mr. Choate some letters written to her sister. In regard to the first she thought it might be her handwriting, but might not be. The letter was put in evidence and read. In it the writer speaks of her sorrow at not being able to get to Poughkeepsie, and tells the plaintiff not to let that mar her happiness. The writer adds, "You must be as happy as a queen," and speaks of a kind and good friend raised up by God. Mr. Choate then asked the witness whom she meant as this kind and good friend, and she responded by saying, "Mr. Del Valle." The letter had no date, but the writer spoke of a journey, and Mr. Choate tried to fix its date accurately in vain. Another letter was then shown the witness, and identified by her as having been written to her sister. In it she says: "We are paying for the dinner every day. Papa never once asked where the money came from. * * * It is awful. If it was not for you I don't know what we would do. M. [mama] says she would die. It is, no doubt, a terrible existence to think that every few months he is out of work, and, besides, living on your money. But it must not always be so, please God. But nevertheless, we thank you with all our hearts for the help you give us, and will never forget your kindness." When questioned as to the date of this letter, the witness said it must have been written after the return of her sister to Poughkeepsie from her Washington trip with Del Valle. The family, she continued, had been living off her sister's money from the time of Del Valle's return. The witness' father was a book-keeper; she visited her sister only twice before the journey to Washington; when at the Hotel Royal witness saw her sister in her room there; never saw her going out of the house with any one; witness took the lunches with her sister in the latter's room; after the return of her sister from Poughkeepsie, the witness was sent by her sister with a letter to Del Valle; the witness did not know whether it contained a demand for money or not; Del Valle was then stopping at the Hotel Brunswick, and the witness was unable to see him the first time she called; this was in the early part of October, 1875; she sent up her card, but Del Valle refused to come down; the witness went again with her mother to the hotel, but could not see him; there was no further correspondence afterward; neither the witness nor her family went to church on Sundays, or were connected with any church at any time; the family passes Sunday just like any other day; they take breakfast at about 7 or 8 o'clock; the plaintiff had a habit of lying down on the bed sometimes after breakfast.

THE PLAINTIFF RECALLED.

The plaintiff was then recalled, and testified that the family had lived at Judge Murray's house in 1873, and had returned before January, 1875, to No. 435 West Fifty-sixth street; the witness said her step-father was a book-keeper, and had been employed for nine years prior to 1871 by Marshall & Co., at Nos. 40 and 42 Broadway, and was afterward employed by Powers & Co. and by Baez & Co.; between 1871 and 1875 he was frequently out of employment; the witness was engaged in teaching, and assisted in supporting the family; she gave to them every cent of her earnings, forwarding the money every month from Poughkeepsie. Here the plaintiff's testimony was closed, and Mr. Choate began his opening speech for the defense, which will be resumed this morning.

MR. CHOATE'S SPEECH FOR THE DEFENSE.

Mr. Choate said: Gentlemen, it is always an embarrassing, and I should say dangerous, position for any man, whatever his standing and record, to be attacked by a woman with such charges and under such circumstances as appear to make up the case now before you. Probably there is no man in this court-room—no man in this jury-box—who would not sooner suffer from any other ordeal than that through which this defendant is passing. For, as human nature is constituted, so difficult is it to make direct disproof of charges which in their nature consist of allegations and occurrences solely between one man and one woman, apart from all other persons; so easy is it for a calumny to work its way into the common mind, and the suspicion to fasten itself upon every mind from the mere making of the charges, that in nine cases out of ten, when a charge is made in the shape in which it is made here—when it is followed up and made in the form of an attack in a court of justice, which is to arraign the party charged in the presence of the public, always represented, as you see them now, by a curious and eager, greedy crowd of spectators, [turning toward the audience,] coming certainly from no good purpose—that the man charged always feels as if every lustful and indecent eye in the community was fastened upon him; [hisses from the spectators,] as if he were being subjected to the scrutiny and observation of the most questionable portion of the community. There is no one man, no matter what his character and standing, whatever his history, that would not rather and did not rather prefer to pay and settle rather than stand the brunt of the attack and stand up like a man and assert his manhood and his rights in a court of justice. So when this threatening letter of the 3d of October was written to my client, Mr. Del Valle, giving him express notice, if the letter did not bring money, a lawsuit would follow, he was put to his decision to pay them and to begin paying them or to stand upon his manhood * * * and let the matter take the course of law." Mr. Choate then, after hinting at the question of black-mail, went on to give the history of the matter from the defendant's stand point. At the time Del Valle made the plaintiff's acquaintance he was living in Twenty-eighth street with two of his daughters, the other two being in a convent at Manhattanville. He had married a wealthy lady who had left her property to their children; he himself had a competency, but was not wealthy; he spoke English only with great difficulty; he was going up Broadway and saw the plaintiff slip and fall on the sidewalk; he helped her up; she was not badly injured and he called no carriage; they simply walked up the street together; he did not go to her house at all, but they exchanged cards while walking. There was no three weeks' interval between the time of their first meeting and the giving of the ring, and there had been no engagement; the ring was given her by him the day after their first meeting; he made an appointment to meet her on the day in question on Broadway, opposite Stewart's store, at 1 o'clock; they met there and went to Solaris' restaurant on University place; after that they walked up Sixth avenue and stopped at a jeweler's, where he bought the ring, not as an engagement ring, but simply as a friendly gift; the jeweler had a record of the date of purchase; the ring did not fit, and it was left with the jeweler to be made smaller; the parties were to meet by appointment on Jan. 19, to go together for the ring, but Del Valle did not keep the appointment; she went to the jeweler's on that date and obtained the ring and left a card making another appointment with Del Valle; the appointment was for the following Friday, but the day proved to be stormy, and they did not meet; they wrote letters to each other, and met again on the 26th; between Jan. 15 and Jan. 26 they had not met at all; in her letter the plaintiff told Del Valle to address her letters directed to Miss Ward, at No. 1,060 Second avenue; on Jan. 26 the parties met at Solaris' restaurant. They met there frequently afterward. Miss Martinez proposed to make herself useful to Del Valle in an honorable way—to teach him English. Their conversations were accordingly had in English. At one of their meetings she gave him a letter telling him not to read it until after he left her. In the letter she told him about her unhappiness at home, which she had hinted at before. The letter was quite a revelation to Mr. Del Valle.

A DETERMINED VOTER.

Mr. Robert Colston, of Jersey City Heights, gave an example on last election day of his high appreciation of the right of suffrage, which is certainly worthy of more than passing notice in these days when men allow the most trivial obstacles to keep them from the polls. He was working in this City a few days prior to election, and met with an accident which rendered the amputation of his left arm necessary. The operation of amputation had scarcely been performed before Colston began to display the most intense anxiety lest he should not be allowed to go over to Jersey City and vote for Hayes and Wheeler. He repeatedly gave expression to his anxiety, and at length the attending physician promised that if he would be quiet until election day he should be taken to his voting place and allowed to cast his ballot. From the moment that this promise was made, Colston was the quietest man in St. Luke's Hospital. On election morning he was placed in a carriage and carefully driven to his home in Jersey City. He cast his vote, and then returned to the hospital, where he is still confined—fortunately, none the worse for his trip across the river.

A BATCH OF INQUESTS.

Verdicts of suicide were rendered yesterday in the following cases by a jury summoned by Coroner Ellinger: Joseph Tremdall, a Canadian, who drowned himself in the North River, off Pier No. 1, on Oct. 23; August Ritcher, who was found hanging in his room at No. 50 Stanton street, on Nov. 5, and Frederick Dietrich, whose inability to procure employment prompted him to hang himself on Oct. 29, at his residence, No. 446 West Fifty-third street. Verdicts of accidental death were returned in the following cases: George A. Horn, a child, who was drowned in a well near the residence of his parents, at Woodlawn Heights, on Oct. 25; Peter Meyer, a child, scalded on the 6th inst., by falling into a tub of hot water at No. 519 East Fourteenth street, and George McCoppin, who, while in the employ of the Empire Cotton Press Company, was injured by the fall of a bale of cotton at the factory foot of West Eleventh street, on Oct. 26. The evidence in the last-mentioned case showed that McCoppin had been in the habit of taking laudanum at the rate of at least a half gallon every month for several years, a practice which the jury believed had been the cause of accelerating his death.

LOCAL MISCELLANY.

THE GREAT BOOK SALE.

A LARGE ATTENDANCE AND KEEN COMPETITION—SOME RARE OLD BOOKS DISPOSED OF—LARGE PRICES OBTAINED.

Mr. Joseph Sabin, acting for Messrs. Leavitt & Co., continued the sale of the Menzies library yesterday at Clinton Hall. The attendance was larger than on the previous day, and for works of rare value illustrative of American history the bidding was much keener. The following is a list of a few of the more valable books sold, together with the prices they brought:

"Cabeça de Vaca," the narrative translated by Smith, and printed at Washington in 1851, $13; The New-York (1871) edition of the same book, $1; Calef, (R.) "More Wonders of the Invisible World," &c., London, 1700—Woodward's copy of this scarce work sold in 1869 for $130—at this sale it brought $145; Callender (I.) on "Historical Discourse," &c., Boston, 1739, $17; Campanius, (T.,) fine original copy of his "Kort Beskrifning," &c., printed at Stockholm in 1702, $37 50; "Carolina; the extremely rare (1666) first description of Carolina in 1664, printed for Robert Horne, was warmly bid for; this copy being an exceptionally fine one, sold for $70; Carpenter's very scarce and valuable "Memoirs of Hon. Thomas Jefferson," "printed in two volumes for the Purchasers" in 1809, an obscure work which was never published because it contained "on the average a libel to every page," was knocked down for $7 50; Carter's (W.) "Campaigns of 1775-1776," printed in London in 1784, $27; Caruther's (E. W.) fine "Revolutionary Biography of Rev. David Caldwell, D. D.," near sixty years Pastor of the churches of Buffalo and Almance, a scarce copy of the edition of 1842, $7 25; Casas, (B de) a fine copy of the "Regionium Indicarum per Hispanos," &c., printed at Heidelberg in 1564, $7 50; Casas, "Popery Truly Displayed in its Bloody Colors," &c.; a very large and finely preserved copy of this rare pamphlet, printed in London 1689, $16; Casas, "A Relation of the West Voyages and Discoveries Made by the Spaniards in America," &c., London, 1699, $27 50; Case, [J] "The Angelic Guide," &c., one of the most extraordinary works on astrology in print, and now most difficult to obtain, printed in London in 1697, $50; Cassin (J.) "Birds of California," &c. The Lippincott edition of 1865, a splendid book uniform with Audubon's Birds, in half green morocco, uncut, $18; Castell (W.) His "Short Discoverie of the Coasts and Continent of America," &c.; printed in London in 1644. In the catalogue it is noted that a copy of this almost unobtainable little work was priced in England at $225 in gold—the copy sold was not perfect, but still a book of great value—it was sold for $57 50; Catlin, (G.) a fine copy of the ninth edition of the "Illustrations of the Manners, &c., of the North American Indians," in two volumes, $24; Champlain. A remarkably fine copy of "Les Voyages," &c., printed (avec privilege du Roy) at Paris in 1613, $56. This work was very warmly bid for; Chrysostomi. "Liber beati Joannis Chrisostomi," and printed at Cologne by the famous Ulric Zell in 1467. This magnificent specimen of early typography, the work of a disciple of Schoiffer and a teacher of Caxton, was very much coveted. It was finally sold for $85. Cicero's "Discourse of Old Age." This magnificent (perhaps the finest in existence) specimen of Benjamin Franklin's printing (1774) was "clean, fresh, and crisp as it came from the press." Only three other uncut copies are known to be in existence. The price brought yesterday was $168; a nice copy of "The Travels of Peter de Cieza," London, 1719, fetched $11 25. Clark's (J.) "Ill News from New-England," &c., the 1652 edition, uncut and in fine condition, fetched $105; Clarke's "Impartial and Authentic Narrative of the Battle of Bunker's Hill," (1775 edition,) $34; William Clarke's "Repertorium Biblio Graphicum," royal 8vo, in splendid binding and condition, $22; Coddington's "Demonstration of True Love," &c., a now very scarce tract of seventeenth century, $36; the author's edition (1794) of the "Memoirs of the Notorious Mrs. Coghlan," $16. Quite a sensation was created over the bidding for a unique copy of Colden's "History of the Five Indian Nations," &c., printed by Bradford, New-York, in 1727. J. Sabin, Jr., started with a $20 bid, and from all parts of the room the competition went on briskly, when it finished at $210, Mr. Sabin being the purchaser for a client; the London edition only fetched $9 50, and the late New-York edition, edited by Shea, $5 50. This indicates the great value now placed on the earliest specimens of American printing; there was also some very keen bidding for the Columbus, "De Insulis Nuper Inuentis," &c., (Basle, 1494,) and it was finally knocked down for $100; a very charming 12mo edition of Condie's "Memoirs of Washington," now very scarce, fetched $13 50; the Boston (1680) famous "Confession of Faith" brought $38, and the first book ever printed in Connecticut, also, "A Confession of Faith," New-London, in New-England, printed by Thomas Short in 1710, went for $60; Cook's (E.) "Sot Weed," &c., London, 1708, a fine copy of the original edition, the only one known to be in the country, brought $70; Bradford's (New-York, 1703,) edition of W. Corbin's "Sermon Preached at Kingstown, Jamaica, &c., $18; Cotton's "Way of the Churches," (London, 1645,) $30; the same writers, "Bloudy Tenent," &c., (London, 1647,) fetched $6[illegible]; Davenport (John.) "A Discourse About Civil Government," &c., printed at Cambridge in 1663, brought $45; the many very fine editions of the various works compiled by Henry B. Dawson brought fair prices, but it was the more obscure specimens of scarce books which touched what may be considered the "fancy" figures; "The Paris Papers of Silas Deane," $24; De Brahm's "History of the Province of Georgia," $52; D. Denton's "A Brief Description of New-York," [London 1670] the first book of the kind in the English language, $220; the magnificent and unequaled collection of Dibdin's "Bibliographical Works," in fifty-two volumes, spendidly illustrated and bound uniform, were purchased by Mr. H. B. Drexel for $39 per volume; a separate volume, bound differently, sold for $26; Donck's (1666) "New Netherlands" fetched $90; Dunlap's "History of Arts in the United States" brought $53 per volume. The great book of the collection, Eliot's Indian Bible, which is in fine condition and splendidly bound, was started by Mr. Cooke, of Providence, with a bid of $650. It ran up to $900, at which price Mr. Cooke secured it, amid applause. The sale will be resumed to-day at 3:30.

ELIZABETH'S MISSING MERCHANT.

Throughout yesterday but little else was talked of in Elizabeth, N. J., but the sudden disappearance from that city of E. P. Williams, a leading merchant, who, with Jeremiah T. Fairbanks, late Assistant Cashier of the State National Bank, are awaiting the sentence of the United States Court for embezzling $39,000 of the funds of the bank. Both men were arrested last Summer by Chief of Police Reson, of Elizabeth, at the instigation of the bank officials. During the preliminary examination held before United States Commissioner Whitehead, of Newark, the defaulting merchant acknowledged that he had drawn checks on the bank, and that both he and Fairbanks knew that he had no funds to meet them. Their trial was set down for Wednesday of last week, and when arraigned before the United States Court in Trenton, both pleaded guilty to the charge. At the earnest solicitation of their counsel, the presiding Judge postponed sentence for two weeks, increasing their bail from $7,000 to $10,000. Williams' friends, still relying on his integrity, stuck by him and became his bondsmen, but Fairbanks preferred to go to jail, where he is now. Williams, after leaving Trenton, returned to Elizabeth and attended to the business of his large dry-goods store as usual until Saturday. At 10 o'clock in the morning of that day he put on his overcoat and went away, and has not been seen in Elizabeth since that time.

A WOMAN IN MAN'S ATTIRE.

An exciting scene took place in Bayonne, N. J., on Monday night at a very late hour. Mr. Skane, a resident of Avenue D, was about to fold up his tent and silently steal away to New-York to avoid his creditors, and for that purpose had procured the assistance of his brother-in-law, William Blanc, of New-York. Mr. Blanc came over with a truck accompanied by what seemed to be a young man. Skane's furniture was being packed on the truck when Constable Shaefer, armed with an attachment, put in an appearance and ordered proceedings stopped. Skane and Blanc refused to obey his mandate, and a scuffle ensued. In the midst of it the seeming young man, who had remained on the truck came down and was rushing to the assistance of his friends when Officer Van Horn arrived and took him into custody. The whole party was taken to the station-house where it was discovered that the young man was a woman, and a very pretty one. She proved to be Blanc's wife. She said she was attired in that fashion because she wanted to come over with her husband, and he refused to let her come unless she wore a suit of his clothes. The party was detained all night and brought before the Recorder yesterday morning. Mrs. Blanc had her own clothes with her, but the Police refused to allow her to put them on. She felt very much mortified when brought before the crowd of idlers and curiosity-seekers who filled the court-room. Upon hearing all the particulars, Recorder Meyers decided to discharge her, and she retired into a private room, where she changed her attire. The case created intense excitement from the fact that Mrs. Blanc formerly resided in Bayonne and is well known there.

THE NATIONAL RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

An adjourned meeting of the Board of Directors of the National Rifle Association was held yesterday afternoon, Major Gen. Shaler, the President, in the chair. A proposition was made to reopen the case of the protest of the Seventh Regiment against the Forty-eighth Regiment of Oswego, the particulars of which have been previously published in THE TIMES, and on motion it was decided to do so at the State Arsenal on Thursday, the 23d inst., at 8 P. M. The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Executive Committee be requested to consider and determine, after obtaining the views of the American team and the foreign representative riflemen, the propriety of making any changes in the [illegible] of the international competitions for the Centennial trophy, in matches to take place hereafter.

After some further routine business the Board adjourned.

ST. PATRICK'S CATHEDRAL.

THE FREE PRIVILEGES GRANTED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL TO MAKE SEWER CONNECTIONS—MUCH DISSATISFACTION AT THE ACTION OF THE BOARD.

The action of the Board of Aldermen in granting to the Trustees of St. Patrick's Cathedral on Fifth avenue the privilege of making connections with the main sewer free of cost has created a good deal of unfavorable comment, especially in view of the fact that it has established a precedent by which other churches and institutions may claim like favors. The amount involved in the present case is only $700, but the principle at stake is regarded as a vital one by a large portion of the community, and may at any time form one of the great disturbing issues on which the people will be called upon to pass. The first successful attempt to exempt the Trustees of the Cathedral from the fee required by the Department of Public Works for making sewer connections was made on Oct. 21. At a meeting of the Board of Aldermen on that day, Mr. Guntzer, one of the members, called up the following resolution on the subject:

"Resolved, That permission be and is hereby given to the Trustees of St. Patrick's Cathedral to connect the cathedral building and other buildings in use for church or asylum purposes, in Fifty-first street, with the sewer about to be built at the expense of said Trustees, by authority of the Common Council, in said Fifty-first street, between Fourth and Fifth avenues, without the payment of the fees usually charged for making connections with sewers."

At the instance of Alderman McCarthy, this resolution was amended by asserting after the word "avenues," the words, "also with sewer in Fiftieth street," and was then adopted by the following vote:

Affirmative—The President, Samuel A Lewis, Aldermen Billings, Cudlipp, Guntzer, Hess, Howland, Keenan, McCarthy, Morris, Pinckney, Purroy, J. Reilly, B. Reilly, Sauer, Seery, Sheils, Slavin and Tuomey—18.

The resolution was sent to the Mayor for his approval, and he vetoed it in the following communication, which was received by the Board of Aldermen on the day on which it was written:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, CITY HALL, NEW-YORK, Oct. 27, 1876.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN: I herewith return to you, without my signature or approval, General Order No. 388.

The rule under which charges for sewer connections are made by the Department of Public Works has been rigidly adhered to for now more than twenty years, and for very good reasons. During all that time the practice has had no exceptions in favor of any church, religious institution, charitable institution, or private person or enterprise. Even the public schools and departments of the City Government themselves have almost invariably been required to pay for their sewer connections under the same rule; and the one or two exceptions which have been made in favor of a public school or other public building belonging to the City, have been made under peculiar circumstances and for exceptional reasons.

The fees in this case presented by this resolution and proposed ordinance would amount to some seven hundred dollars, and I cannot perceive any reason which can be adduced to granting the privilege which would be conferred in this case, which would not apply with at least equal force to the case of every church, hospital, and other building in the City used for religious observances and charitable purposes, and exception made now would lead to endless embarrassments and numberless solicitations for others, which could not be denied if this were granted.

I respectfully suggest that the Mayor and Common Council would not be justified in giving effect to this measure, even for the benefit of the very deserving objects for which it has been sought.

WILLIAM H. WICKHAM, Mayor.

On last Thursday—being the regular meeting day of the Aldermen—the President, Mr. Samuel A. Lewis, called up the communication of the Mayor, and a brief debate ensued, in the course of which Alderman Purroy stated that the Mayor had approved of resolutions allowing the St. Joseph's Asylum and other institutions to make sewer connections free of cost, and he cited the minutes in support of his assertions. The question was subsequently put, and the resolution was passed over the Mayor's veto by the following vote:

Affirmative—The President, Aldermen Billings, Cole, Cudlipp, Gross, Guntzer, Hess, Howland, Keenan, McCarthy, Morris, Purroy, J. Reilly, B. Reilly, Sauer, Seery, Sheils, Slevin, Tuomey, and Wade—20.

Negative—Alderman Pinckney—1.

The resolution has, therefore, become a law. It is said that neither the Trustees nor any person officially connected with the Cathedral ever asked the favor from the Common Council, and that it was solicited by persons without their authority.

The Municipal law fixing the fees to be paid for making sewer connections is contained in section 7 of the Ordinances of the Common Council, as revised in 1866. It reads:

"Ten dollars shall be paid to the said board (Croton Aqueduct Board—now the Department of Public Works) for permission to connect from each house, store, or building, with any sewer or drain. Each hotel, boarding-house, or public building covering more ground than twenty-five feet by fifty shall pay proportionately for such additional space of ground covered by each respectively."

It is held by the Department of Public Works that the Cathedral comes under the head of a "public building," as described in the latter clause of the section, and should therefore be assessed for making sewer connections at the rate of $10 for every lot on which the building stands. At this rate, the cost of making the sewer connections required would be about $700. On the other hand, some of the Aldermen who voted for the resolution assert that, under their interpretation of the ordinance of 1866, the Trustees of the cathedral should not be charged more than $10 for the privilege they sought, because the edifice might come under the words "or building," as set forth in the first part of the ordinance, which required only that amount for making one sewer connection. The Department of Public Works, however, has not adopted this interpretation of the ordinance. On the contrary, it has been the practice of the department to assess all the lots occupied by churches at the rate of $10 each for the privilege of making sewer connections.

CANVASSING THE BROOKLYN VOTE.

ALDERMAN ROWLEY'S PROTEST AGAINST COUNTING THE RETURNS OF THE SEVENTH WARD FOR ALDERMAN.

The Brooklyn Board of Aldermen met yesterday, President French in the chair, for the purpose of canvassing the vote for city officers, as required by law. After the roll had been called, Alderman Fisher moved that a committee of two be appointed to wait on the Board of Elections and receive the returns. The motion prevailed, and Aldermen Fisher and Murtha were appointed such committee. The returns having been placed before the Board, Alderman Rowley handed in the following protest against the election of Mr. Phillips, the Democratic candidate in the Seventh Ward.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 14, 1876.

To the Honorable the Board of Canvassers of the City of Brooklyn:

GENTLEMEN: I do hereby most earnestly protest against the canvassing of the returns of the Seventh Ward for Alderman, on the ground that they do not express the will of the honest voters of the Seventh Ward, but are the results of glaring frauds, produced by the importation of some two hundred men, more or less, from other wards of the city, the Fifth, Second, Sixth, Ninth, and Twenty-second Wards contributing their quota to this false result. I believe that these men were brought into the ward for the sole purpose of voting in the recent election, and departed to their homes outside the ward immediately after depositing their ballots.

If the system of carrying elections by the importation of outside voters is once established as a precedent, our elections become a farce. By the means above noted I believe the result as presented in the returns to be directly in conflict with the expressed will of the legal voters of the Seventh Ward. Yours respectfully, A. STEWART ROWLEY.

On motion of Alderman Burnett, a committee of five was appointed to canvass the returns. The committee appointed is made up as follows: Aldermen Griswold, Fritz, and Williams, Republicans, and Aldermen Murtha and Carr, Democrats. Alderman Rowley's protest was referred to the committee, after which the board adjourned. The committee will probably commence the work of canvassing the returns to-day.

THE COUNTY VOTE.

The Kings County Board of Supervisors met as a Board of Canvassers at the County Clerk's office a few minutes after noon yesterday. Supervisor Stillwell was chosen Chairman. After the canvassers had been sworn the board adjourned to the Supervisors' room. Only four wards were canvassed when the board adjourned until noon to-day.

TWO YOUNG RUNAWAYS CAPTURED.

Last evening, Detectives Dilks and Healy, of the Broadway Squad, brought to the Central Office two young girls, well dressed and of remarkably prepossessing appearance, who had run away from their homes in Albany. The girls, who are both pretty and intelligent, were found in a restaurant in Tenth street, near Broadway, the proprietor of the restaurant having called the attention of the officers to the fugitives, their manner while in the place having aroused his suspicions. The girls, after reaching Police Head-quarters, confessed that they had been induced to leave their homes by a wealthy resident of Albany, under whose escort they came to this City. On arriving here their escort left them, after arranging to meet them again last evening at an appointed place. The girls then took a carriage and spent the day in riding about the City, and finally stopped at the restaurant referred to for supper. They did not realize the unfortunate position in which they had placed themselves until they were brought before Inspector Speight, when they burst into tears and sobbed most piteously. The runaways were detained at Police Head-quarters and their friends notified by telegraph. They are connected with highly respectable people, and out of consideration for their relatives their names are withheld by the Police. The person who it is alleged decoyed the girls from their homes, doubtless for an immoral purpose, is known, but his name is for obvious reasons withheld.

CITY AND SUBURBAN NEWS.

NEW-YORK.

Hon. W. H. Robertson, left Katonah last evening for Tallahassee, Fla., upon the request of the President.

The Post Office Department gives notice that an extra mail for France will be dispatched from this City on the 18th inst., per steamer Canada, for Havre via Plymouth.

Among the additions to the curiosities of the New-York Aquarium yesterday, were a strange-looking creature known as the American angler and a white bass from Lake Ontario.

John Sullivan, a laborer, aged thirty, died yesterday at No. 122 Worth street, of injuries received by falling at the corner of Baxter and Bayard streets, while intoxicated, on Oct. 24.

Gen. Francis C. Barlow and Daniel G. Rollins, Assistant District Attorney, left this City yesterday afternoon for Tallahassee, Fla., at the request of President Grant, to be present at the count of that State.

Increased accommodations being required in the Tax Receiver's office, workmen were engaged yesterday in extending the building by the addition of a small wing. The office is on the second floor of the old brown-stone building facing the new Court-house.

Mr. J. B. McClain, of No. 1,726 Girard avenue, Philadelphia, while asleep in his berth on board the steamer Northam, on her trip from New-Haven to this City, was robbed of a gold watch valued at $80, his pocket-book containing $30, and a ticket to Philadelphia.

The great event at Barnum's on Saturday evening next will be the contest for the championship of the world between the celebrated bareback riders, Charles Fish and Romeo Sebastian. The challenge was given by Fish. A committee of newspaper men will decide the contest.

While John Anderson, of No. 550 Hicks street, Brooklyn, was at work in the elevator at Pier No. 3 North River, yesterday, he was caught in the belting and his left leg so badly crushed that amputation was found to be necessary. The operation was performed at the New-York Hospital.

Carl Bremer, a Dane, who was recently discharged from Sing Sing, was arrested yesterday by Detective Hagan, of the Fifth Precinct, on suspicion of having been engaged in several bold robberies which have occurred lately, and in which the victims have been bound, gagged, and robbed. He is held for identification.

Charles Linderstaedt complained to the Police Board yesterday that Capt. McDonnell, of the Eighth Precinct, and one of his Sergeants had treated him rudely on the occasion of his making some inquiries at the station-house concerning a railroad ticket. The charge was referred to the Committee on Rules and Discipline for investigation.

The Police authorities refused yesterday to divulge the name of the young lady who disappeared from her home in this City on Saturday last, though they admitted that they had been unsuccessful in tracing her. She is a very prepossessing miss, about fifteen years of age, and it is feared that she has been induced to leave her home by false promises.

The work of renovation on Castle Garden has progressed so far that the rotunda will be open to-morrow for the reception of immigrants. In the centre of the rotunda desks have been placed for the accommodation of registering clerks, ticket agents, and telegraph operators, and are so arranged as to facilitate the transaction of business. The building is light and airy, and is a great improvement on the old one.

At the annual meeting of the Nassau Boat Club, held at its rooms on Monday evening, Nov. 13, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Gen. Charles Roome; Vice President, Robert L. Reade; Secretary, Walter S. Wilson; Treasurer, James Wills; Captain, Christian G. Petersen; Coxswain, Charles Badgley; Trustees, Daniel Appleton, John H. Abeel, Jr., William Brookfield, Charles D. Belden.

BROOKLYN.

There is a balance in the City Treasury of $111,981 79.

During the past year the Supreme Court, Special Term, adjudicated on 10,000 orders.

Stewart C. Gamble, a bar-tender, died suddenly yesterday at No. 25 Bridge street. The Coroner's jury found that death was caused by a congestive chill.

At a meeting of the Board of Health yesterday, the President was authorized to confer with the Building Committee of the Board of Aldermen in reference to the provision made for the Sanitary Bureau in the plans for the new Municipal building. The present arrangement does not suit the Health Board.

Theodore F. Odell, a grocer at Nyack, on the Hudson, brought an action yesterday in the Supreme Court for malicious prosecution against F. P. Felts and R. F. Austin, wholesale merchants, doing business on Reade street, New-York, laying his damages at $10,000. The plaintiff alleges that the defendants maliciously filed a petition in bankruptcy against him, thereby causing him great expense and injuring his credit.

Peter Nowlan, a stone-cutter, was brought before Justice Walsh yesterday, on a charge of embezzlement preferred by Mr. Benjamin Lewis, of No. 179 Montague street. Nowlan becoming bankrupt some time ago, Mr. Lewis was made his Assignee. Among other payments received by Nowlan was some seven hundred dollars from Typographical Union No. 6 for the stonework of the proposed monument in Green-Wood to Horace Greeley. When the money was demanded from Nowlan by the Assignee, the former refused to give it up. His arrest followed. Judge Walsh admitted the accused to bail in the sum of $1,000.

NEW-JERSEY.

William and Casper Bloomberg, of Paterson, who were arrested for arson, have been released on bail to the amount of $4,000 each.

John B. Gough will lecture this evening before the Young Men's Christian Association of Elizabeth, on the subject of "Eloquence and Orators."

In the Essex County Court of Special Sessions, yesterday, John Younge was sentenced to three years in the State Prison for burglary, and William Taylor to one year in the same institution for a similar offense.

The Newark Orphan Asylum Society celebrated their twenty-ninth anniversary on Monday evening. The managers reported ninety-one children in the asylum, and that the institution was $1,700 in debt, with no funds to carry it through the Winter.

The Chancellor yesterday at Trenton, in the case of Irwing M. Avery et al. against the Blees Manufacturing Company of Bordentown, Garrett S. Cannon trustee, on a bill for the appointment of a receiver, declared the company insolvent. A receiver will be appointed.

John Shanaphy, the man who attempted to assault Gov. Bedle, at his residence in Jersey City, on Sunday morning, has been adjudged insane by County Physican Converse, and will be detained in the Hudson County Lunatic Asylum until he can be removed to Middlesex County, whence he came.

The three-year-old son of J. A. Van Winkle, a hardware dealer of Paterson, was bitten through the finger on Monday afternoon by a large Newfoundland dog owned by Mr. Chiswell. The child was taken to a physician's residence, where the wound was cauterized. The dog did not appear to have hydrophobia.

Edwin W. Mockridge, residing at No. 222 Plane street, Newark, was bitten by his dog, a large Newfoundland, on Monday, and it was afterward discovered that the animal was suffering from rabies. Mr. Mockridge had the wound, which was in his hand, promptly cauterized, but notwithstanding that he feels considerably alarmed. The animal was shot.

Thomas O'Reilly, Captain of the canal-boat Ellen Ryan, has been missing since Oct. 28. At that time his boat was lying at the Port Johnson coal docks, Bayonne, and the last time he was seen alive was when he went to a grocery store in the city to procure supplies. On Sunday his body was found floating near the dock so much decomposed as to be almost unrecognizable.

The new constitution of the State requires that Sheriffs shall hold office three years instead of one, but that they shall renew their bonds every year. Sheriff Laverty, of Hudson County, was sworn in yesterday, in the presence of Judges Hoffman, Wiggins, and Quaile. His bondsmen are Charles H. O'Neill, Samuel Hotherington, William Stuhr, Ferdinand Heintze, and M. Mullone.

George Moore, a resident of Weehawken, procured a warrant from Justice Leonard yesterday for the arrest of John Frost on a charge of false imprisonment. Frost caused the arrest of Moore last Spring on a charge of illegal voting, and the latter has been imprisoned since that time until a day or two ago, when he was honorably acquitted. Frost is wealthy, and it is probable a suit for damages will be brought against him.

At a regular meeting of the Jersey City Board of Public Works yesterday morning the petition of the New-Jersey Central Railroad Company for the extension of Washington street to the railroad depot was referred to the Corporation Counsel for his opinion. The question of opening the street has been agitated for some time, and the city authorities took the necessary preliminary steps, but were stopped by an injunction from Matthiessen & Co., the sugar-refiners.

The Bloomsberg brothers, who are accused of having set fire to their store on Main street, Paterson, on Monday morning, are still confined in the County Jail, having been unable to procure the necessary bondsmen. A number of experts examined the store yesterday, and pronounced the opinion that all the stock which could have been crowded into the store would not be worth one-half the amount of insurance—$11,000. The amount of bail will probably be fixed at $10,000.

Agnes Meyer, a resident of Hoboken, went to the First Precinct Station-house in Jersey City yesterday, and asked assistance in finding her husband. She said that a few weeks ago a man named Schroeder and his wife came to board with her, and an intimacy at once sprung up between her husband and Mrs. Schroeder. One day last week Mrs. Schroeder caused the arrest of her own husband on some charge, and then declared that she could not live in the house in his absence. She made preparations to move, and Mr. Meyer volunteered his assistance. He went away with her and her furniture, and has not since been seen.

THE ELIZABETH (N. J.) ELECTION.

At the official canvass of the vote of Elizabeth, N. J., by the Council last night, the Democrats entered a protest against canvassing for Mayor; and Gen. J. A. Fay, Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee, asked for a recount. The first returns, unofficial, gave William E. Hoy, Democratic candidate for Mayor, 75 majority, but the official returns, received three days after, gave Robert W. Townley, the Republican candidate, 9 majority. Application is to be made to the courts to order a new count, on the grounds of errors and illegal votes. The Council proceeded to canvass the vote, notwithstanding the protest, and declared Mr. Townley elected.

NEW JERSEY ODD-FELLOWS.

The Grand Encampment of Odd Fellows met in Trenton, N. J., yesterday, and elected the following-named officers for the ensuing year: M. W. G. P., Charles Carpenter, of No. 5; M. E. G. H. P., F. R. Blackwell, of No. 39; G. S. W., E. G. Ford, of No. 1; G. J. W., J. E. Saumer, of No. 12; W. G. S., Lewis Parker, Jr., of No. 2; W. G. T., Oliver Pierce, of No. 28; Grand Representative to Grand Lodge United States, William L. Nutt, of No. 2; W. G. S., James A. Wells, of No. 5; G. G. O. S., Amos Howell, of No. 2; W. G. M., John W. Wood, of No. 3. The Grand Lodge of Odd-fellows of New-Jersey will meet to-morrow.

THE VOTE IN WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

The County Board of Canvassers of Westchester County met yesterday morning in the County Court-house at White Plains. The board assembled for the purpose of canvassing the vote of the county. Mr. Samuel N. Johnson, of Rye, who had been elected Chairman on Monday, presided, and Mr. J. O. Miller, of Mount Pleasant, acted as clerk. The first work undertaken by the board was the canvassing of the official returns of the Electoral vote of the county. The following was the result: Tilden, 12,053; Hayes, 9,573; Cooper, 14. Tilden's majority being 2,480. The board will canvass the State returns to-day.

BOLD ROBBERY IN YORKVILLE.

On Saturday evening, while the family of Mr. Joseph Zuckerman were at dinner in the basement of his residence, No. 109 East Seventy-eighth street, the house was entered by thieves and robbed of silverware and jewelry valued at upward of fifteen hundred dollars. The thieves unlocked the front door with a false key, and ransacked the parlor floor without attracting the attention of the inmates of the house. No clue to the thieves or the property has been obtained.

ARRIVALS AT THE HOTELS.

Secretary of State John Bigelow is at the Westminster Hotel.

Prof. O. C. Marsh, of Yale College, is at the Hoffman House.

Ex-Senator Charles Stanford, of Schenectady, is at the Metropolitan Hotel.

Anthony J. Drexel, of Philadelphia, and Nathaniel Wheeler, of Connecticut, are at the Fifth Avenue Hotel.

Rev. Dr. C. S. Vedder, of Charleston, S. C., and Hon. Roswell A. Parmenter, of Troy, are at the St. Denis Hotel.

Congressman Frank H. Hurd and ex-Congressman William H. Upson, of Ohio, and Congressman Scott Lord, of Utica, are at the St. Nicholas Hotel.

Gen. John N. Knapp and William H. Seward, of Auburn, N. Y.; George M. Pullman, of Chicago, and E. B. Judson, of Syracuse, are at the Windsor Hotel.

A Soft Thing.

Like a candidate indorsed by both parties, JOHN. A. DOUGAN, the Hatter, at No. 102 Nassau st., feels perfectly safe on the result of the election, as far as the betting of hats is concerned, with the slight variation, while he congratulates the lucky winner, he condoles the loser.—Advertisement.

PASSENGERS SAILED.

In steam-ship General Barnes, for Savannah.—H. McAlpin, A. Champion, L. G. Armstrong, John Williamson, Michael Shehan, Miss E. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Taylor, J. M. Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. C. Huntly, John Stanwood, A. Vanmere.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.

In steam-ship Tybee, from San Domingo, &c.—Ernesto Munson and wife, C. A. Fraser, Thomas G. Rahming, Juan Capote, Mrs. Capote, Mrs. E. P. Lithgow, and two children, D. M. Frito, R. T. Lowe, Capt. G. Bedell, wife, and son, Miss Bascount, J. W. Darrell.

In steam-ship Alexandria, from Messina, &c.—Major and Mrs. George Butler, George Butler, Jr., Mrs. Batcheller, Harry Batcheller, William Morris, Robert Rayne, Miss McKendy, C. de Mielackusky.

MINIATURE ALMANAC—THIS DAY.

Sun rises.....6:47 | Sun sets.....4:42 | Moon rises...4:16

HIGH WATER—THIS DAY.

Sandy Hook...6:59 | Gov. Island..7:48 | Hell Gate 9:10

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

NEW-YORK..........TUESDAY, Nov. 14.

CLEARED.

Steam-ships Wyoming, (Br.,) Jones, Liverpool, via Queenstown, Williams & Guion; General Barnes, Cheeseman, Savannah, Murray, Ferris & Co.; Regulator, Doane, Wilmington and Morehead City, N. C., Wm. P. Clyde & Co.; Montgomery, Chester, Port Royal and Fernandina, Fla., C. H. Mallory & Co.; Richmond, Kelley, Norfolk, &c., Old Dominion Steam-ship Co.

Ships Josephine, (Norw.,) Smith, London, Eng., C. Tobias & Co.; Whittington, (Br.,) Ruthven, Liverpool, Eng., Barclay & Livingston.

Barks Sappho, (Br.,) Davis, Penarth Roads, Eng., G. F. Bulley; St. Nicholas, (Br.,) Saunders, Cork for orders, C. W. Bertaux.

Brigs Louisa Price, (Hayti,) Brown, Port au Prince, R. Murray, Jr.; Myrtle, (Br.,) Roberts, St. John's, N. F., R. P. Currie, R. W. Messer, Herrett, Marseilles, Snow & Burgess; Centaur, Stanley, Port au Prince, Hayti, M. Hunter & Co.

ARRIVED.

Steam-ship Hatteras, Swift, Richmond and Norfolk, with mdse. and passengers to Old Dominion Steam-ship Co.

Steam-ship Agnes, Burdick, Philadelphia, with mdse. and passengers to C. A. Whitney & Co.

Steam-ship Glaucus, Bearse, Boston, with mdse. and passengers to Metropolitan Steam-ship Co.

Steam-ship Tybee, Kuehl, San Domingo Oct. 31, Samana Nov. 1, Cape Haytien 2d, Porto Plate 3d, and Turk's Island 5th, with mdse. and passengers to Wm. P. Clyde & Co.

Steam-ship City of Woodhull, Charleston Nov. 11, with mdse. and passengers to James W. Quintard & Co.

Steam-ship Alexandria, (Br.,) Mackay, Naples Oct. 9, Messina 15th, Palermo 19th, Malaga 27th, and St. Michel's Nov. 2, with fruit, &c., to Henderson Brothers.

Bark Vero, (Ital.,) Cilentino, Lisbon 63 ds., with salt, &c., to J. P. & G. C. Robinson—vessel to Lauro, Storey & Co.

Bark Holtingten, (Norw.,) Evenson, Antwerp 60 ds., in ballast to C. Tobias & Co.

Brig Omer, (of Turk's Island,) Perkins, Fajardo 28 ds., with sugar and molasses to J. de Rivera & Co.—vessel to Miller & Houghton.

Brig Rosalia, Starita, (Ital.,) Cappecitto, London 70 ds., with sugar to Gossler & Co.—vessel to master. Came a southern passage, and been 12 ds. N. of Hatteras.

Brig Ella, (of London,) Johnston, Parahiba 42 ds., in ballast to master.

Brig Genoa, (of Windsor, N. S.,) Priest, Galway 44 ds., in ballast to J. F. Whitney & Co. Came a southern passage, and been 7 ds. N. of Hatteras.

Brig Clara and Agnes, (of Arichat,) Guion, Grand Turk, T. I., 20 ds., with salt to Woodruff & McLean—vessel to Hatton, Watson & Co. Has been 14 ds. N. of Hatteras.

Brig J. F. Merry, (of Damariscotta,) Bradley, Greenock 80 ds., in ballast to J. E. Ward & Co.

Brig O. C. Clary, Delano, St. Pierre, Mart., 24 ds., with sugar to Dwight & Platte. Has been 10 ds. N. of Hatteras.

Brig Redete, (Dutch,) Sturt, Rio Grande do Sul 65 ds., with hides and wool to order—vessel to Funch, Edye & Co.

Schr. Promenader, (of Halifax,) Beattie, Charlottetown, P. E. I., 8 ds., with potatoes to Lunt Brothers—vessel to J. Borland & Co.

Schr. Welcome R. Beebe, Lozier, Dunkirk 59 ds., in ballast to Evans, Ball & Co.

Schr. N. Hand, Doherty, Para Oct. 15, with rubber and skins to F. Moran—vessel to N. Hand. Was 7 ds. N. of Hatteras.

Schr. Governor Burton, Rich, Boston, for Port Johnson.

Schr. J. S. Baker, Farrow, Somerset.

Schr. William D. Cargill, Rich, Fall River, for Port Johnson.

Schr. Ann Dole, Bunce, Warren, for Port Johnson.

Schr. F. Nelson, Howes, Norwich, for Port Johnson.

Schr. S. S. Scranton, Rogers, Portland, Conn.

Schr. George Lillum, Hacon, Portland, Conn.

Schr. Freestone, Hall, Portland, Conn.

Schr. Henrietta, Lewis, Portland, Conn.

Schr. Joseph Rogers, Williams, Portland, Conn.

Schr. Highland, Sprague, New-Haven.

Schr. Waterline, Kelly, Cedar Keys, Fla., 12 ds., with lumber to Isaac Eppinger—vessel to John S. Ingraham & Co.

Schr. John R. Kirkman, Eaton, Richmond.

Schr. Addie S. Schlaefer, Decker, Richmond.

Schr. Addie P. Avery, Ryan, Georgetown, D. C.

Schr. Emma Aery, Hall, Alexandria.

Schr. Eva Holmes, Vannott, Virginia.

WIND—Sunset, fresh, N.; cloudy and raining.

SAILED.

Steam-ship Wyoming, for Liverpool; Montgomery, for Fernandina; General Barnes, for Savannah; Ashland, for Wilmington, N. C.; Richmond and Thetis, for Norfolk; Agnes, for Philadelphia. Also, via Long Island Sound, steam-ships George Cromwell, for St. John's, N. F.; Neptune, for Boston; schrs. Caledonia, for Huntsport, N. S.; Lizzie Dakers, for St. John, N. B.; James Warren, for Lynn; Pushaw, for Salem; Stephen J. Watts and Madagascar, for Boston; Memento, for New-Bedford; Ring Dove, for Fall River.

SPOKEN.

By steam-ship Alexandria, lat. 42 lon. 54, steam-ship Sidonian, hence, for Glasgow.

By steam-ship Tybee, bark Hornet, from Malaga, for Philadelphia.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The bark Melbourne, (of Yarmouth, N. S.,) Rogers, Liverpool Sept. 27, in ballast to Boyd & Hincken, arr. and anchored at Sandy Hook for orders.

FOREIGN PORTS.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—Sld 2d inst., Union, Capt. Phelan; 11th inst., Georgie, Parepa, Nonantown, Calcutta; 14th inst., La Plata, Rockwood, Wave King, Freeman, Dennis, Nile, Ardehlea; Matilda Kraus.

Arr. out on the 8th inst., Arabella; 14th inst., steamers Alice, Carolina, and Nio, the latter passed Dover; Star of Brunswick, and Freddie C. Ebbett; Lepanto.

BY CABLE.

GLASGOW, Nov. 14.—The State Line steamer State of Indiana, Capt. Sadle, from New-York Nov. 2, for Glasgow, has arr. here.

QUEENSTOWN, Nov. 14.—The National Line steamer Spain, Capt. Grace, from New-York Nov. 4, for this port and Liverpool, arr. off Fastnet at 10 o'clock A. M. to-day.

PLYMOUTH, Nov. 14.—The General Transatlantic Co.'s steamer Labrador, Capt. Sanglier, from New-York Nov. 4 for this port and Havre, was off the Lizard at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

LARNE, Nov. 14.—The State Line steamer State of Virginia, sld. from here Saturday at 7 o'clock P. M. for New-York.

HAVANA, Nov. 14.—The steam-ship City of Vera Cruz, Capt. Deaken, from New-York Nov. 8, arr. here this morning.

SOUTHAMPTON, Nov. 14.—The North German Lloyd's steamship Weser, Capt. Von Bulow, from New-York Nov. 4, arr. here to-day.

TO

WHOLESALE BUYERS.

Trade Sale of Clothing.

Prior to Removal to our New Store, cor. Broadway and Grand St., November 25th, we are now offering to the Trade our entire Stock of Clothing, manufactured for this Season's Business, for Net Cash, 30 days, at less than cost of production.

Owing to the interest manifested by Buyers yesterday we will continue the sale of our stock for the entire week unless sooner disposed of. Prices are marked plainly on each lot.

NAUMBURG, KRAUS, LAUER & CO.,

COR. CHURCH & WHITE STS., NEW YORK.

E. A. NEWELL.

FULL LINES OF REALLY RELIABLE

UNDERSHIRTS & DRAWERS,

FOR MEN'S WEAR, FROM

$1 25

UP, INCLUDING POPULAR NUMBERS OF DOMESTIC MANUFACTURE, AND ALL GRADES OF CARTWRIGHT & WARNER'S.

Orders by mail promptly filled and sent C. O. D.

727 BROADWAY, CORNER WAVERLEY PLACE.

REMOVAL. Having removed to our NEW, ELEGANT, and EXTENSIVE warerooms, No. 40 East 14th st., offer the largest stock of first-class Organs, with chime of bells, and grand, square, and upright Pianos, of superior tone and finish, to be found on this continent, and at extraordinary low prices for cash, on instalments, or to let, until paid for. Second-hand instruments at great bargains; 7-octave Pianos for $165; 7 1-3 octave Piano, $175, not used a year; 2-stop Organs, $6[illegible]; 4-stop Organs, $70; 6-stop, $80; 8-stop, $90; 10-stop, $100 and $110, cash; not used a year, but in perfect order.

HORACE WATERS & SONS, Manufacturers and Dealers, No. 40 East 14th st., Union square, New-York.

The New-York Weekly Times,

WILL BE SENT POSTAGE PAID TO INDIVIDUAL SUBSCRIBERS AT

One Dollar and Twenty Cents

PER ANNUM.

IN CLUBS OF THIRTY OR MORE AT

ONE DOLLAR PER ANNUM

CRANDALL & CO., Manufacturers of Baby and Doll Carriages, Velocipedes, Propellers, Boys' Wagons, Carts, &c., No. 569 3d av., near 37th st., and No. 281 Greenwich st., near Warren. Premium at American Institute Fair, 1875, for best goods. Carriages exchanged and repaired.

FURNITURE

New & Elegant Styles.

FURNITURE COVERINGS.

A Magnificent Assortment of ENTIRELY NEW GOODS.

Estimates and Designs Furnished for Furniture, Draperies and House Decorations.

B. L. SOLOMON & SONS

657 & 659 Broadway.

Opposite Bond Street.

The United States Life Ins. Co.

IN THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

261, 262, and 263 BROADWAY, COR. WARREN ST., NEW-YORK, Nov. 10, 1876.

Believing there is a conspiracy to black-mail and otherwise injure the business and property of this Company, those policy-holders, or any other persons who have, in response to certain anonymous advertisements, or any letter from any one requesting the same, sent their names and the number of their policies as requested, will confer a favor upon the Company and aid it in obtaining evidence to enable it to punish these persons so conspiring, as well as assist in sustaining and protecting the value of their own property, if they will immediately send us the autograph letters which they have received, if any, from said parties.

JAMES BUELL, President of the United States Life Insurance Company.